PRESIDENT DELIVERS HIS ANNUAL MESSAGE

IRISH REPUBLICANS ISSUE STATEMENT ON GOVERNOR LIFE LONG ENEMY STATE

AND SAY THE FIGHT WILL CONTINUE AS LONG AS MAN IN IRELAND

WAR TO DEATH

Irish Rebels Are Executed Today at Mount Joy Prison As Reprisal

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Dec. 8.—The Irish Republicans, says a dispatch to the Evening Standard from Dublin, have issued a manifesto describing Timothy Healy, governor general as a life long enemy of the nation. The manifesto adds "Fight will go on as long as there is a man in Ireland. It is war to the death."

DUBLIN, Dec. 8.—Rory O'Connor and Liam Mellows, together with two other Irish rebels, were executed in Mount Joy prison this morning as was officially announced and two other men named Conroy and Barrett, both prominent Republicans. Official reports state that the four were executed as reprisal for the assassination of Sean Hales, a deputy shot yesterday and solemn warning to those associated with them "in conspiracy of assassination against the representatives of the Irish people."

DUBLIN, Dec. 8.—Sean Hales, deputy of the Irish parliament, was shot and killed yesterday as he was leaving the Ormond hotel for parliament accompanied by Brigadier General Patrick O'Mail, who had been sworn in as deputy of the house Wednesday. General O'Mail was seriously wounded, being shot in the head and arm.

A lorry load of British soldiers, arriving on the scene, opened fire on the deputy's assailants, who were scattered and pursued. It is not known whether any were injured.

When the shooting began, Hales and O'Mail entered a car ordering the driver to take them to a hospital. Hales died almost at the moment of entering the hospital.

General O'Mail underwent an immediate operation and last night was reported as doing as well as could be expected. An official statement from Army headquarters at Porto-bello barracks said his condition was not critical.

The shooting of the deputies is in fulfillment of a constant threat. The names not only of the ministers who ordered the recent executions, but of all of the members of the Dail Eiran were voted in favor of repressing measures were published in a black list, and the men were warned that they would be held responsible. Hence some of the ministers and several of the members of the Dail Eiran have for some time past taken up their residence in the Government offices. But some were willing to risk their lives by residing outside.

Hales was a prominent supporter of the government, and has been a strenuous fighter against the English. He was one of Michael Collins' closest personal friends.

Sean Hales' brother Tom is one of the chief irregular leaders, and is still fighting against the Government. Tom Hales is the man who is reported to have accepted the responsibility for the ambush in which Michael Collins met his death. There was a report also, that after the killing of Collins, Tom Hales offered to throw down his arms and join the national forces, but he never did so.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The Dublin correspondent of the Evening Standard reports a party entered mercers hospital and shot free state soldiers lying in one bed in reprisal for executions of Rory O'Connor and Liam Mellows.

ULSTER SECEDES FROM THE UNION FREE STATE

IRELAND WILL HAVE WAR IN SPITE OF ALL PEACEFUL MEASURES

(By The Associated Press) BELFAST, Dec. 8.—Premier Sir James Craig, accompanied by the Marquis of Londonderry, leader of the Senate, and Col. Spencer, Secretary to the Ulster cabinet, started for London last night, bearing an address to the King contracting Ulster out of the Irish free state.

The address was voted unanimously by both houses of the Ulster Parliament yesterday, and so rapid were the proceedings that the entire business occupied less than half an hour.

In the course of his explanatory speech, in the House of Commons, Premier Craig, declared it was useless to hold out any present hopes that Ulster would go under the Dublin parliament, and added the moment such a question arose he would refuse to remain premier.

The only possible course to secure happiness in Ireland was for the North and South each to go its own way.

The premier's whole attitude was against any accommodation with the South. He said the Northern parliament would have nothing whatever to do with the Boundary commission provided for under an agreement which he described as a bargain entered into by the wrong people behind the back of the Northern government.

He admitted that if the representatives in the Northern Parliament of the Border counties could arrive at an agreement that something could be done here and there in the matter of the border arrangements, he would not stand in the way of approving such an agreement.

He insisted, however, that nothing could be done in the way of bringing an amending act through the British House of Commons, because "thanks largely to the Ulster delegation, which went through the British constituencies, prior to the elections, they had secured a majority for Ulster in the British House of Commons, which would refuse to carry such an act."

Detectives Make Sworn Statement that Wife Hired Gunmen

(By The Associated Press) DETROIT, Dec. 8.—Mrs. May Blenn Ford solicited services of a gunman to kill her wealthy husband, Ney J. Ford, offered gunman $20,000 for the job and gave him a photograph of her husband to make sure the right man was slain, according to a sworn statement of four detectives whose investigation resulted in Mrs. Ford's detention on a charge of attempting to commit murder. Denying the charge Mrs. Ford declared the victim of a "frame up" growing out of domestic differences which include a suit for divorce.

SEMINOLE AND VOLUSIA COMMISSIONERS MET YESTERDAY FOR PURPOSE OF CO-OPERATION

In the Building of This New Bridge and Making it a Free Bridge

The Seminole County Board of County Commissioners and their attorney, Geo. A. DeCottes went over to DeLand yesterday and attended the meeting of the Volusia County board of county commissioners and arranged for the Volusia board to pay half the expenses of the Osteen bridge. This is one of the most important acts that the Seminole and Volusia boards have ever accomplished and will redound to their credit for many years to come.

For many years the subject of ferry and toll bridges across the St. Johns river have agitated the minds of the Seminole County commissioners and the Volusia county commissioners. Several years ago the ferry boat at Monroe was done away with and a private corporation built a toll bridge at that point. This was a step in advance of the ferry boat but was not a step forward for the best interests of the people and the toll bridge has been saddled on the people ever since and all efforts to abolish it by purchase or otherwise have been defeated. The franchise on this bridge will be out in a few years at which time the two counties can purchase it and with the present feeling that exists there is no doubt about the people being willing that it should be bought and made a free bridge. The question of a bridge at the Osteen ferry where Volusia and Seminole meet again has been a mooted question for some time and the Seminole county commissioners being unable to get a response from the Volusia County commissioners about the bridge finally decided to build it themselves and voted bonds for the expense. It was thought to make it a toll bridge until it was paid for and then make it a free bridge but meantime the Volusia county commissioners have seen the light and hearkened to the voice of the people and have decided to join the Seminole county pay for half of the cost of the bridge and half of the maintenance cost and make it a free bridge.

This will be one of the biggest assets to both counties. It means progress and economy and with an eye to the future growth of both counties. Now if Volusia will come across and build a good road to New Smyrna you will see that part of the county come as strong as the central and eastern parts have done in the past ten years and it will also open up a big coast resort over at Coronado and give the people an exit out of the two counties over a bridge that is free. And by and bye it will bring down the toll of the Monroe bridge and this will be worth all the worry and toil the commissioners have gone through to build the free bridge.

The day of toll bridges is over. They have been the curse of Volusia county for many years and it is thought the new move on the part of the county commissioners will be a starting point in abolishing all the toll bridges in the great county of Volusia.

"THE BAT" WILL BE ATTRACTION AT THE PRINCESS MONDAY, DEC. 11

There are always people who like to know the whys and wherefores of things. For example, there undoubtedly are many who wonder at the unusual success of "The Bat," the greatest dramatic hit of many years which Wagenhals and Kemper will present at the Princess Theatre on Monday, December 11th.

"The Bat" was written by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood. It played for more than two years in New York. It has a record of over one entire year in Chicago, to its credit, something, incidentally, never before achieved by any dramatic play in that city. And still there are people who may be heard to wonder why.

There are always many causes to assign for the success of a popular play but probably the one factor which has more to do with it than anything else is whether or no, it has a universal appeal. In the case of "The Bat" this is most emphatically the case.

Tickets are now on sale at Roumillat & Anderson's drug store.

U BUY EVERYTHING IN SANFORD?

d will never be the city it all the habit of buying out is discontinued. If all the hat is now spent in other cite spent in Sanford this city ouble in population in five y the sum of money that is diverted to local channels his sounds big but the amount y sent out of Sanford every or supplies of all kinds is big s bear people who are not ena business here say they can they buying out of town and isolated cases they can. These have no interest here especially they are not in touch with where they please to trade. They find a few bargains here and there that might be profitable to purchase but in the main they will find prices in Sanford as reasonable as any city in the country.

But the Sanford business man who is making his money here has no excuse whatsoever to allow his wife and family to go himself to some other city to buy goods that he can buy here in Sanford and if this matter were investigated you would find that much of the money spent out of this city is spent by SANFORD BUSINESS MEN and their families. Sad but none the less true and you can ask some of your own merchants if it is not true. They would rather buy out of Sanford because they think they can get a different material for a dress or a hat or a suit and one that will not be worn here. A mistaken idea perhaps; but one that has taken root in the minds of many people.

The Herald intends to put on a campaign for a trade at home movement and this paper will bring this question home to the people as they have never had it brought home before and some of the business men who are doing the most talking about the people buying out of town and are the worst offenders will be brought up to answer for the offense before the campaign is over. The City of Sanford has suffered in the past from this buying but there will be a difference when this campaign is over.

FIGHTING THE TICK

We find this encouraging item in the Oklawaha News, which is published in the heart of the cattle country: "Ed Alderman, foreman of the Southern cattle branch, says that they never stop dipping. They have just rounded up 6,000 head of cattle and not half through yet, and by the time they get through with them all it is time to start all over again. I know this to be the case for I have spent weeks in their camps, and the cattle-men of South Florida mean to rid the cattle of the tick. They are a loyal bunch of fellows."—Tampa Times.

JUDGE DISMISSES GRAND JURY

Judge Perkins dismissed the grand jury in Volusia one day this week before they had adjourned because they were not working fast enough and had failed to bring in any indictments. The DeLand News has the following to say regarding the incident: "A grand jury is not necessary in Volusia county, so it would seem. Judge Perkins may have been legal in dismissing the grand jury without allowing them to close up their session and make a presentment the action certainly was one that disregarded the people from whom the grand jury was drawn.

"While the News does not know, it has heard that the grand jury, during its sessions at this term of court has been investigating the charges that were made a month or so ago against Sheriff Lee Morris and which were sent to the governor with petition making for the sheriff's removal. The governor has failed to take any action in the matter as far as can be learned as it seems to be his policy not to remove officers in any part of the state. If the grand jury found nothing to substantiate these charges they would say so in their presentment and give Sheriff Morris a clear bill of health. If on the other hand some of the charges were found to be true then the shoe would fit on an other foot.

"The ever-existing split among the citizens of DeLand and the county which keeps politics paramount over the more important issues of working harmoniously together for the more rapid development of our section, alone is benefited by this ruling of our circuit judge.

NEWSPAPER FAILURES

"Business Index" says that more newspaper failures have occurred during the past two years proportionately than any other line. But it assigns reasons for these failures, familiar to us all. Mismanagement and lack of a field.

It is often the case that a man thinks he knows exactly how a newspaper should be run. He persuades a few others to believe that he does. What they get in return for that faith is failure. Then there are men who conceive the idea that because a newspaper, or the newspapers in a city are prosperous that there is room for another. They too, get experience that is costly and comes at the end of failure.

Not every man possesses that peculiar quality that enables him to how good, would succeed as the business manager of a newspaper. It is different and difficult. No other institution serves such a wide range of people and opinion as the newspaper.

The newspaper is a quasi public utility. While it is privately owned, it serves the entire public just as certainly as the electric light, the water company or the street railway or telephone. So much of individual and community success and prosperity; so much of the individual and community enjoyment, and so much of the individual and community safety and protection depends upon the newspaper that it is more than a private business venture for the purpose of making money for those who engage in it.

The newspaper organized and launched upon the public for no better nor higher purpose than serving some ambitious politician, or some political faction, serves no useful purpose and is therefore doomed to failure. No man is fit to pick up the editorial quill who does not look beyond the editorial room and see the interests of the community he serves, and feels the weight of the responsibility that is his. And, if he values the citizenry of his community, as he ought, he has a right to feel proud of his position in that community and regard it as an honor to serve it. Service must precede success always.—Reporter-Star.

AWAY WITH TOLL BRIDGES

The time has come in Florida when toll bridges are taboo. We have one in this county that will soon be disposed of to the counties of Volusia and Seminole and then there will be no toll bridges in Seminole county. Toll bridges and toll gates are the signs of the medieval ages and the time when counties could not build roads or bridges except by levying a toll from the passerby. In other words when you see toll roads and toll bridges you see a county whose people say they have no money for roads or bridges and are dependent upon the public traffic to give them the money for these improvements. In a few years the toll bridges of Volusia county will begin to take on a new appearance when these toll bridges go and it will also make a difference in politics for in the years past politics have played an important part in toll roads and toll bridges.

It is with much pleasure then that we are able to chronicle today the glad tidings that Volusia county yesterday agreed to come in and to help Seminole build a bridge at the DeLand ferry and that it will be made a free bridge. This is one of the most progressive steps that Volusia county ever took. It means the end of the toll bridge regime and it means that all of Volusia county will soon be united in the idea of helping the entire county to get what they need—bridges and roads instead of putting it all in one or two places. It means that at last New Smyrna and Granada will get their share of improvements (if the people of New Smyrna will wake up) and this end of the county will blossom like a rose. It will mean that the toll bridge at Monroe will have to reduce the toll or there will be no travel that way when they can go via New Smyrna and a new bridge free. It will mean that at last DeLand is alive to her opportunity of bringing the whole county together and free bridges all over the county will result.

Honor to our county commissioners who have fought for years to get this bridge and finally decided to build it themselves and the county of Seminole was bonded for enough money to build it when Volusia came into the game yesterday and decided that the honor of old Volusia demanded that she do her share.

Seminole county commissioners have always wanted free bridges and they have shown their progressive-ness by demanding that our county have free bridges. They went ahead and started the bridge from their end and now they will be assisted by Volusia and we shall join hands across the St. Johns for a bigger and better Seminole and a bigger and better Volusia.

Good work, Mr. Commissioners, good work!

LEST WE FORGET

By MOSES FOLSOM

"That loyalty to one's town and state is concentrated patriotism that makes a man a good citizen of the republic. This style of patriot is a voter, takes a part in all local affairs, buys at home and supports home papers, schools and churches.

That well kept parks add to the attractiveness of a town. Florida is a resort state and with its wonderful variety of trees, shrubs, vines and and hold visitors for a longer stay with us.

That the expression "From A to Ampersand" is figuratively used in the sense of "from beginning to end." Ampersand is the name of the sign &. That the word is an adaptation of "and per se" meaning "and by itself." That Florida comes under the expression of "From A to Ampersand."

That many of the ills of mankind result from a disobeying of rules. Automobile accidents occur because of speeding, of driving on the wrong side of the street or road, or disobeying traffic regulations in the city streets, and of children driving. Many accidents to pedestrians occur because they do not stay on the sidewalks and when they cross the streets they do not do so at the crossings. That many lives start from carelessness.

That to make your town or farm more beautiful, any man can set an example by doing his share of the work. Encouragement that consists of good example is better than mere advice. Hence when the question involves attractive lawns, flower gardens or other means of beautification about residence property, the quickest and surest way to create civic good looks is for everyone to fall in line and do his bit. Write to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and ask for Farmers' Bulletin No. 185, "Beautifying Home Grounds," and Farmers' Bulletin No. 1087, "Beautifying the Farmstead."

That accidents occur every day to people who are thrown down by stepping on fruit rinds dropped to the sidewalks by adults who ought to know better and children who ought to be better taught. That some of these accidents could be prevented if persons observing them would kick the rinds off the walk. The report of a recent Accident Prevention Convention held at Worcester, Mass., said that America had killed 50,000 men in Europe during the 19 months we were in the world war, but that during the same period at home more than that number of persons were killed by accidents and several hundred minor injuries. Carelessness is one of the great crimes of the day.

That the following sentences from a story in a magazine blazes with truth: "Those who believe in their ancestors' excellence are apt to feel it incumbent upon themselves to act in kind." That good blood is a fine thing to inherit and believe in, but isn't good living example better? That man like to think of their fathers as being strong and just and capable, and of their mothers as gentle and pious and lovable, is an ever present truth. Then set an example to your children, taking as a guide the lines by James Russell Lowell: "The longer on this earth we live And weigh the various qualities of men,

The more we feel the high, stern-faced beauty Of plain devotedness to do Steadfast and still, not paid with mortal praise, But finding amplest recompense, For life's ungarlanded expense, In work done squarely, and unwaited days."

DIFFER IN THEIR MERRIMENT

Boys giggle, and the incident is closed, but Girls Will Giggle for Days Afterward.

The question often arises, "Do girls giggle more often than boys?" They do, for the reason that boys do not giggle. They snicker. The giggle is of nervous or hysterical origin, a condition largely given over to femininity. The boy sees something that appeals to his reasoning as funny and under circumstances that the hearty laugh is not entirely in place, he snickers. Having snickered, that is the end of it. But the giggle goes on forever or nearly so. A class of schoolgirls sees something which arouses their risible faculties, and for hours or perhaps days afterward, they continue to giggle. The incident itself may have passed into obscurity, but at odd or unexpected moments there will be outbreaks of giggling.

The boy's reason snickers at the incident, whereas the girl's instincts giggle at the memory. It must be said, however, in behalf of giggling, that it is an unselfish pastime, for the giggle alone is next to impossible. It takes at least two to make a giggle.—Exchange.

"Mugwump."

In a Boston Transcript's "Notes and Queries" is a definition of the word "Mugwump" that perhaps never got into print during the political period when it was used. The contributor says: "I suppose what your correspondent wants to know is why 'Mugwump' was applied to the Independents in the Blaine-Cleveland campaign. It was because the name (originally) the head of an Indian tent-group next under the sachem, and pronounced with equal accent on both syllables, like 'barn-door' had come in eastern Connecticut, at least, to mean 'boss' or effective controller of any business. It was as familiar in my boyhood as 'boss' is now. Do you want a job in the mill? Go and see Jim Walters—he's the mugwump of the concern. So the sun used it jeeringly of the Independents as 'self-constituted bosses' of the Republican party, detailing who

The race of the aboriginal blackfellow of Australia is rapidly disappearing. Numbering about two hundred thousand a hundred years ago, less than one-hundredth of this number are today to be found. And like all passing races the blackfellow for many years has been more and more dropping the festival and war costumes of ancient times.

The blackfellow is an ethnological problem, but the weight of research seems to point to the race having a Caucasian origin. Yet though they are of the highest civilized races, they are still rated as one of the lowest of human races, unable to comprehend higher than the figure three, and when found by the white men possessed of little more skill in survival than a wild animal.

Yet at the same time they rank in physique as one of the finest of races. The men have been noted in the past for their wonderful tracking abilities. Some, besides having exceptionally keen eyesight, have been found to be possessed with an almost animal keenness of scent.

MOTOR "GYPSIES" ARE MANY

Traveler in Southern California Impressed by the Number of Tourists on the Road.

Describing a tour through California in Harper's Magazine, Arthur Hohl writes:

"Everywhere you go, of course, you run into our new motor gypsies. The dusty car, with father and mother, in the same style khaki breeches and O. D. shirt, on the front seat; bareheaded youngsters of all ages in the rear; the family dog squeezed on the running board or into some astonishing corner behind the lamps, and all about, tents, wash-tubs, and possibly a canoe or two—this is today's prairie schooner.

"Sometimes—as in southern California, for instance, where there has been plenty of building and work for casual laborers and carpenters—these motor pilgrimages suggest a considerable shifting of the industrial population. But wherever wild country, and trout, and possibly bear or deer, are within easy motoring distance, nearly everybody falls into the habit of loading up the old bus and starting out for anything from a few days to a few months. Practically every town along the main highways has its municipal camping ground.—In Colorado Springs one upgrading I thought a movie company must be 'on location' in the neighborhood, so exotic seemed the number of young women in riding breeches, sunbraces and flannel shirts with bandanna neckerchiefs, but was told by an unimpressed native that they were 'only tourists.'"

Die-Cast Wood Horns.

The demand for loud speakers has brought about the development of all kinds of horns, some of metals, others of fiber, and still others of pressed wood. It is the last-mentioned type with which we are momentarily interested. These are made of selected wood which is reduced to its original fiber and cast in steel dies under a pressure of 12 tons and subjected to 800 degrees of heat. This is claimed to form an artificial wood many times denser than natural wood. Its acoustic properties are remarkable. The vibrations received through the phone at the base of the horn are amplified by the rich, resonant vibrations of the material itself. The metallic sound which is so annoying in many types of loud speakers equipped with metal horns is said to be entirely eliminated.—Scientific American.

Had Some Apprehension.

Jokes on St. Peter are pretty stale, and, generally speaking, all of the changes have been rung on the heavenly gates, but Hollywood seems to be an exception to all known rules. St. Peter had a solemn welcome to three white-robed men as they approached. "Where are you from?" he asked the first. "Chicago," the man replied. "You may go in." "Where are you from?" he asked the second. "From New York?" he replied. "You may go in." "And where are you from?" he asked the third. "I'm from Hollywood," said the man. "You may go in, but I'm afraid you won't like it," said the saintly guard.

Canada's Canal Systems.

There are six canal systems under the control of the Dominion government, the most important of which is that between Fort William and Montreal. The other systems are between Montreal and the International boundary near Lake Champlain; Montreal and Ottawa, Ottawa and Kingston, the St. Peter's canal from the Atlantic ocean to the Bras d'Or lakes, Cape Breton and the uncompleted canal from Trenton to Lake Huron.

The Homecoming Turtle.

For several years a turtle, although owing to damage done it was removed several miles from Millard, N. J., had been coming back to a tomato patch in that city. Scientists became interested and it was taken several miles beyond the Delaware river. After four years it was again found among the tomato plants.

BIRD SONGS ON THE PIANO

Interesting Experiments Conducted by Eastern Woman Give Rise to Immense Possibilities.

Bird songs may become basic themes for more music than folk songs. This is the prediction of Mrs. H. H. A. Beach, a composer who has been making experiments along this line at Peterborough, N. H. Mrs. Beach's explanation of her theory and her experiments is unique and interesting.

"My studio at Peterborough was surrounded on three sides by beautiful birch trees, the front facing a wide view of the valley and mountains. In the deep woods nearby the hermit thrushes sang all day long, so close to me that I could not only hear their songs and even amuse myself by imitating them on the piano and having them answer. The songs were so very lovely and so consonant with our senses that I could weave them into piano pieces as easily as I could have used folk songs. It was a labor of love, indeed, and I only hope that I have succeeded in giving at least a slight impression of their exquisite rhythm and melodic beauty."

If bird song can be incorporated successfully into piano music, there is an infinite field of beauty and variety from which the themes may be drawn. It is to be hoped that Mrs. Beach and her fellow-artists will go on with their work. Jazz will never entirely rule the musical universe, while this sort of delicate artistry is being carried on.—From the Brockton (Mass.) Times.

Many matters of importance came before the club, among these were the remodeling of the club house. Mr. Moughton appeared before the club with a rough plan of the remodeled building. These plans were accepted and it was voted that the building committee proceed with plans and arrangements for remodeling.

It was also voted to invite the state board for their February meeting. Interesting reports from the State Federation held at Green Cove Springs were read by Mrs. Tolar. A witty postal from Mrs. W. F. Blackman was also read.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Next Wednesday, Dec. 13th, the regular monthly program of the Music Department of the Woman's club will be given in the club house at 3:30 p. m.

The programs arranged for this season are novel, interesting and instructive. If the music department is given the support by its members and other musical people that it deserves, it cannot fail to do a great work in Sanford's musical field.

Club members interested in having a fine club chorus are requested to be present Wednesday in order to organize and begin the choral work.

At the last meeting the rue that guests be admitted to the monthly programs for the nominal sum of ten cents, was renewed.

FOR VISITOR

A delightful event of yesterday afternoon was the bridge party given by Mrs. W. Morton Thigpen at her home on Magnolia avenue, in honor of her charming house guest, Mrs. W. H. Pritchett of Lakeland.

The holiday colors of red and green were artistically emphasized in the decorations on this occasion, a profusion of lovely red roses being effectively arranged in baskets and vases about the rooms.

Upon the arrival of the guests, several interesting games of bridge were enjoyed, the high score prize, a hand painted bridge set, was won by Mrs. J. C. Bennett, while the entree, table markers, went to Mrs. Braxton Perkins, the honoree, Mrs. Pritchett, was presented with dainty hand painted pencils with markers.

Delicious refreshments consisting of chicken a la king in timbals, saltines, sandwiches, watermelon pickles and coffee were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. C. D. Marlowe and Mrs. B. L. Perkins, at the conclusion of the game. Favors of nil cups decorated with suggestions of the season, were given.

Mrs. Pritchett was attired in a becoming frock of blue panne velvet. The affair was one of greatest pleasure for the guests, and was a charming compliment to the attractive honoree.

The invited guests were Mrs. T. I. Dumas, Mrs. Raymond Phillips, Mrs. Hawkins Connolly, Mrs. Ben Caswell, Mrs. F. E. Roundell, Mrs. M. S. Wiggins, Mrs. Fred Daiger, Mrs. Braxton Perkins, Mrs. D. C. TRAPNELL-PATTISHALL

A wedding marked by beauty and elegant simplicity was that of Miss Blanche Pattishall and Captain Tom Trapnell which was solemnized Tuesday evening, December 8th, at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pattishall of Geneva, Fla.

The ring ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. Wright of the Methodist Episcopal church of Oviedo. The spacious rooms were opened en suite and festooned with trailing southern smilax and apparatus, plumose, and beautiful pink roses in baskets tied with pink tulle were used artistically carrying out the color motif of pink and green. The ceremony was performed in the living room before an improvised altar of feathery bamboo and ferns forming a background for an arch interwoven with southern smilax and pink roses, which marked the path of the bridal party.

Prior to the ceremony "At Dawning" and "Rebecca" were beautifully sung by Miss Hermina Lehman of Sanford, Fla., accompanied by Mrs. E. R. Tolar, aunt of the bride. Lohengrin's wedding march was used as a processional while "Traumeri" was softly played during the ceremony. A miniature bride and groom, Martha and Harold Jr. Pattishall, niece and nephew of the bride, preceded the bridal party. The tiny bride scattered roses while the tiny groom bore the ring in the heart of a rose.

The bride presented a picture of girlish loveliness in her wedding gown of white Canton crepe with oriental lace draperies over which fell in soft translucent folds the dainty bridal veil pendling from a wreath of orange blossoms. The bride's roses and valley lilies showed with strands of narrow white ribbon knotted at the ends.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. After congratulations and best wishes the guests were ushered into the dining room where delicious pink and green block ice cream with angel food and white cake and coffee were served. The lace covered dining table had as a center piece a basket of lovely pink roses.

Unshaded pink tapers in silver holders and the bride's cake, beautifully embossed in pink roses, provided further adornment.

Seated at the table pouring coffee was Mrs. Stella P. Arrington.

The young girls serving were Misses Georgia Pattishall and Mary Elizabeth Tolar.

The bride's going away suit was a smart model of midnight blue tricot with accessories to match.

The happy couple left for points of interest in Florida after which they will return to Washington, D. C. where they will make their future home.

The bride is the older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pattishall and is a young woman of great personal charm. To know her is to love her. She attended school at State College for Women at Tallahassee and has scores of friends throughout the state and in other states.

The groom is a young man of splendid character and comes from a prominent and influential family of Virginia.

Before the war he was engaged in the practice of law but now holds a responsible government position.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Mary Puleston, Mrs. Stella P. Arrington, Mrs. Maule C. Tolar, Mrs. M. D. Barber and Mrs. R. E. Tolar and little daughter Mary Elizabeth; Misses Hermina Lehman, Ethel Moughton, Mr. Swartz, Mr. W. E. Gradick, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Pattishall and children of Jacksonville, Ben and Mrs. Wright and children of Oviedo, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pattishall of Orlando.

METHODIST REVIVAL

The services during this week have thus far have been reaching many people.

Last night Dr. Walker gave a most earnest appeal to the unawakened and deep conviction was over the entire audience, many of whom requested prayer. The text was taken from Proverbs 1:26, "Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded; but ye have set at naught all my counsel, and would none of my reproof; I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh."

Dr. Walker emphasized God's patience and love, in calling again and again, giving every chance, to the sinner to accept Him, but that after he has pleaded so long and earnestly with a soul, the time will come when that pleading will cease and it will be too late, the soul will have no hope. We continually say "I will"—but we put it off and many put it off until it is too late—and are lost forever.

Dr. Walker is a great evangelistic preacher and those who have not heard him this week are losing much that would help them to reach the only hope of every man and woman, sign and sinners—that is Heaven and Life Eternal.

Service tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Prayer service in the class room at 7:15.

Everybody urged to come who is interested in his own salvation or in that of another.

NEGRO EXPECTED TO RECOVER FROM CRUDE SURGICAL OPERATION
 MIAMI, Dec. 6.—Carl Branning, a negro bell boy in a local hotel who underwent an involuntary operation last night at the hands of three men who kidnapped him in an automobile, is recovering from his wounds.

Branning said the men accused him of familiarity with a white woman. About midnight Tuesday, two men entered the hotel and told Branning they were deputy sheriffs and that he was under arrest. At the sidewalk when they attempted to place him in an automobile, the negro let out a cry for help which brought the proprietor of the hotel, located on one of the main downtown streets, to the car. When the latter remonstrated with the men, he was shoved aside and the car whisked away.

Early this morning Branning was returned to the city suffering from a crudely performed surgical operation and dumped in the street of colored town. He could give no clue to his abductors.—Tampa Tribune.

"THE BAT" AT THE PRINCESS THEATRE, MONDAY, DEC. 11

It is a peculiar thing but true, none less, than persons intimately connected with enterprises of various sorts are often—very often—the poorest sort of prophets so far as their own particular enterprise is concerned. This is true of more than one thing.

Just for example, it is a well known fact that men born, bred and brought up virtually alongside a race course, usually go broke trying to back their judgment of the abilities of horses to run. It has been a standing joke, too, among those followers of boxing that the most noted experts in that line prove the most dismal of failures when it comes to predicting the winners of contests.

In the theatre all this is remarkably true. One of the most striking instances of it is to be found in the case of "The Bat," probably the most successful play produced in the last twenty years and which, incidentally, will be presented by Wagenhals and Kemper at the Princess Theatre on Monday, December 11th.

Not so long ago there was a play produced in New York that was worse than bad—it was awful. Not a few wondered, and put their wonder into words in commenting on the play, how it was that trained actors, supposedly well versed in the affairs of the theatre could have gone through the rehearsals of the play, spoken the lines over and over and failed to realize just how bad it was.

As a matter of fact, few actors know what will make a good play. And most of them admit it.

Take, for illustration, the case of this play, "The Bat" soon to be seen here.

"The Bat" ran for more than two years in New York. In addition "The Bat" broke every existing record for Chicago with a run of over one solid year.

There will be corn bread, light bread, butter, pickles, coffee and cake. The proceeds to go on the community Christmas tree. Supper to be served from 5:30 until 8. Prices will be attractive. Public invited.

"THE BAT" WILL BE ATTRACTION AT THE PRINCESS MONDAY, DEC. 11

"Something rare in combination," might well be the headline for one of the most interesting stories that could be told of "The Bat," the smashing big dramatic hit by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood which Wagenhals and Kemper will present at the Princess Theatre on Monday, December 11th.

In Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood, the authors of "The Bat" and Lincoln A. Wagenhals and Collin Kemper, the producers, there exists a theatrical combination of such rare qualities that in all their mutual efforts there has been only success. These four persons realized fortunes out of "Seven Days" some years back and today they are realizing fortunes out of "The Bat" coming here next week and "Spanish Love," now playing a triumphant tour of the country.

The story of the success of "Seven Days" is known even to those adolescent playgoers who still believe that chorus girls have jewels which are actually stolen and that some actress once took a Saturday night plunge in a tub of milk. The story of the success of "The Bat" is well known to every playgoer, or at least to every playgoer who during the past two years and more has tried to purchase seats to see it, either in New York or in Chicago.

The story of the Rinehart-Hopwood-Wagenhals and Kemper "Big Four" is perhaps not so well known, however, and it is that story which follows for those readers who like their dramatic news straight and without any saccharine chaser concocted from press agent adjectives.

Ten years ago Mary Roberts Rinehart was known in various editorial offices as one of those new authors who were "coming" and with express train speed. She had not, at that time, however, arrived at the enviable position she occupies today when editors and theatrical managers figuratively park themselves on her doorstep and buy the moon with pitiful cries for more works from her magically successful Rinehart pen.

Ten years ago Mrs. Rinehart had begun to see faint glimmerings of the golden ore that existed in her ink well, but it was not until she wrote a short story for Scribner's Magazine called "Seven Days" that she struck the real pay dirt in her priceless mine of imagination and invention.

Ten years ago Avery Hopwood was one of those New York playwrights who are generally known as "struggling." Mr. Hopwood is a graduate of the University of Michigan. According to his own testimony he was hauled through that institution by fond parents and infuriated professors. As indicative of the old saying that "a college man by any other name would be as dumb," it is interesting to record that the Michigan Comedy Club rejected his "clothes" for presentation by the college players. "Clothes," in later years when Hopwood was to associate with those who have to be intellectual enough to make their own living, was his first New York success, with Grace George supplying the carbon copies for the title role at each performance.

Graduating from Michigan, Hopwood passed a year in Cleveland as a reporter on a daily paper. After this journalistic experience Hopwood packed his other chest in with about fifty play manuscripts and entrained for New York with the sole idea of taking Broadway to pieces and finding out what made the darn thing tick.

Ten years ago Avery Hopwood had progressed favorably in this absorbing study, but he had not yet read Mrs. Rinehart's "Seven Days" story in Scribner's.

Ten years ago Lincoln Wagenhals and Collin Kemper were rated as successful in their chosen profession of theatrical production. They had been partners for 20 years during which time they had managed such well known Shakespearean studies as Fred erick Ward, Katherine Kidder and Madame Modjeska. In their production of modern plays, "Paid in Full" had been their greatest success. And they were lessees of the Astor Theatre in New York. But ten years ago "Seven Days" had not been read in the Wagenhals and Kemper office.

The "Seven Days" story in Scribner's was the agency needed to bring this remarkable dramatic quartette together. Mr. Wagenhals read the story first and showed it to Mr. Kemper. The latter became enthusiastic over its dramatic possibilities and called in Hopwood. With Hopwood's enthusiasm for the comic worth of the story, Mrs. Rinehart was sent for and work on the play of "Seven Days" started. What follows is theatrical history.

"The Bat" according to the word of those who are supposed to know, is the biggest hit of all dramatic plays in at least seven years. And the same authorities unhesitatingly declare "The Bat" to be the best play of its kind ever produced.

There are more thrills, to be anatomical, to the square inch of backbone in "The Bat" than in any other American melodrama. A shot in the dark, a bloody arm thrust through a win-—that bakes with Calumet—and there are millions of them—has learned three important baking facts.

First; that she never has any failures, which means no loss of time and material.

Second; that her bakings are always pure and wholesome, which goes a long way toward perfect health.

Third; that the greater than usual leavening strength of Calumet stands for economy because she uses less.

DIDN'T FOOL THE CONDUCTOR

Train Official Seldom Deceived by Travelers Who Imagined They Appeared Used to Luxuries.

The woman had never been in a compartment on a train before. She must confess this bit of luxurious ignorance. She was seated comfortably, reading and looking out of the window alternately, and greatly enjoying the privacy when she heard a buzzing sound. Again and again it sounded. Doubtless the people in the next compartment ringing for the porter.

And then came a knock at the door. "I hope I didn't disturb you," the conductor said as he asked for the woman's ticket.

"Oh, no, I was just sitting here reading and admiring the scenery."

"Oh," the conductor said, "I wonder if the bell doesn't ring."

"The bell? Then the woman understood that that had been the buzzing she had heard."

"I'm afraid I'm very ignorant," she admitted. "I've never been in a compartment before, and I didn't know you rang to come in."

But the conductor was not horrified at the smallness of her knowledge.

"I'm glad to hear you admit it, lady," he said. "There's lots who have never been in a compartment, but they wouldn't admit it for worlds. We know when they're not used to 'em. They can't fool us, but you're the first I've met who hasn't foolish pride."

PROSAIC REASON FOR SERVICE

Could It Be Possible the Preacher Was Giving the Deacon a Delicate Hint?

The Middleville church had a new preacher, and Deacon Sturgeon was entertaining him at Sunday dinner. At least that was the way the Weekly Blade would report the occasion, but as a matter of fact, the deacon was feeding the preacher at Sunday dinner, while as for entertainment, the preacher was entertaining the deacon.

"And so you saw service in the great European war?" the deacon asked.

"Yes, I served nearly two years as chaplain," the preacher replied.

"Get across?"

"Oh, yes, I was in France nearly a year."

"Well, I don't believe in war," the deacon declared. "But I suppose you heard the call of duty and couldn't hold back."

"Well, I can't say that was it altogether," the preacher answered. "There were several other things to be considered."

"For instance?" demanded the deacon, who did not shy at questioning.

"Well," and the preacher smiled quietly, "I went into the army for one thing, because I got my pay regularly."

Mary Anderson Lauds Booth.

A portrait of Edwin Booth by many considered America's greatest tragedian, was presented lately to the Memorial Art gallery in the Shakespeare memorial at Stratford-on-Avon by an American friend of the drama and his colleagues.

The most striking feature of the ceremony was the voice of Mme. de Navarro, once the idol of American dramatic audiences as Mary Anderson, says the New York Sun. Her personal reminiscences of Edwin Booth reached their climax in her recitation of an apostrophe in verse to the great actor.

A voice from out the past, indeed, and its magical effect upon the audience gathered at Stratford is ample testimony to the truth that the great backgrounds in art and human life are not blotted out by the intense preoccupation in things of the present which seem to fill the picture.

New Motion Picture Idea.

A motion picture projector which can be used by anybody, anywhere, making possible the projection of moving pictures under all conditions, is in use in France. The lantern and film reels of the projector are supported above an upright triangular frame, at right angles to which is a second triangular frame supporting a seat and a large pulley driven by pedals. Behind the large pulley is a dynamo which supplies current for a high-powered incandescent lamp. By means of belts the pedaled pulley operates the dynamo, the projector and the film reels all simultaneously.

His Viewpoint.

"Father!"

The weeping girl pleaded piteously. "Father! Why don't you let me marry George, and take him into the firm? Why, O why?"

The business man raised her head tenderly.

"I feel for you, darling," he said. "I do need George in my business—I could use him, and will, if he says the word, but daughter, I think I can hire him cheaper than I can support him."

And with a gesture of pitiless finality, he dropped the subject.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

"Shocking!"

"Walter! Walter!" shouted a young fellow, who for the last half hour had been wrestling with a steak, but failed to get his knife through it.

"Yes, sir," said the waiter, coming forward.

"How do you cook your food in this place?" asked the young man.

"Well, sir, all our food is cooked by electricity," answered the waiter.

"Then—here," said the young man, "take this back and give it another 'shock.'"

STAGE ALL SET FOR BASKET BALL GAME BETWEEN SANFORD AND THE WINTER PARK GIRLS

Game Will Be Played on Grammar School Court and Cora Lee Tillis and Her Outfit Expect to "Treat 'Em Rough"

The Sanford High School girls will appear tonight in their brand new uniforms, which, by the way, are loud yellow, and proceed to annex another victory by defeating the fast team from Winter Park.

The Winter Park High School is turning out a real classy girls' basket ball team and although Miss Tillis is confident her girls will win she admits that they will have to battle all the way through.

The game will be played tonight on the Grammar School Court and will start promptly at eight o'clock. The officials have been selected to have charge of this game and they are good ones that know their business and this coupled with the fact that two of Florida's fastest teams hobbs the courts—assures the fans of one real basket ball game.

The small sum of 35c admission will be charged and a large crowd is expected as the Sanford fans intend to back up this basket ball team and help them win their games by their presence just as they helped the Sanford football team during the season just past.

The girls will play Ocala High school girls on the same court at the same hour tomorrow night. Ocala is another team that is turning out some real athletes amongst their girls and another good game can be seen when Sanford meets these visitors.

The line-up for tonight's game finds two of Sanford's fastest players in the role of forwards, Miss Mildred Holly and Miss Emma Spencer are making a name for themselves by the unusual amount of speed exhibited and their ability at shooting that "old ball" through the basket. These girls also have a real team behind them in Miss "Bill" Hand and Miss Lucille Echols as centers and Miss Jean Maxwell and Miss Maude Caraway as guards. This sextet, in Miss Tillis' estimation; have anything in the way of basket ball teams for the year past, beat six ways to one.

Miss Dorothy Cameron and Miss Olive Newman, two more good players, will be on hand tonight as substitutes to take the place of any of the other girls that may weaken.

If you want to see a real game of basket ball between two real teams, make it your business to turn out tonight at the Grammar School court, and it goes without saying, that if you see tonight's game you will be sure to be back to the game tomorrow night between Sanford and Ocala.

MERCHANTS RUN MEN'S CLUB MERRY CHASE BUT LOSE IN THE LAST GAME

Game Was Very Close and Exciting and for While Looked Like a Victory for Counter Jumpers

In the past of this week's matches on the bowling alleys last night, the Men's Club won over the Merchants by the close margin of 55 pins. It was nobody's guess up until the last frame of the last game.

The Counter-jumpers left the first game but came from behind enough in the second to put them two pins in the lead but were unable to hold their lead in the last game as their entire team fell down at the last rebuffs and the men's Club won. The Men's Club defeated the Rarley's team of the night before, by bowing an even 2,000 pins. Henry Purdon rolled high score of the evening, bowling 291 pins with Betts as his closest rival at 183.

The schedule for next week will find the Rotes and Champs battling on Monday night, Men's Club vs. Chase on Wednesday and the Farmers' and Merchants on Thursday. Last night's scores were as follows:

PRINCETON'S COMEBACK
RECALLS PENN-MICH GAME

(By The Associated Press)
PRINCETON, Dec. 8.—Princeton's sensational comeback in the Chicago game recalls the famous uphill fight of Pennsylvania with Michigan, back in 1912.

In that battle the Maize and Blue was leading the Quaker platform, 21 to 7, at the end of the first half. And as the score indicates, the Yost warriors had completely outplayed the Red and Blue. Obviously, therefore, it looked all over but the shouting.

Penn, though, was not through, but fact, hadn't got started. But with the opening of the third period a different tale was unfolded. The Quakers, fighting desperately, put on a great offensive, carrying the battle to the foe.

Michigan's eleven was played practically to a standstill, and slowly but surely Penn overhauled the big Ann Arbor advantage. Two touchdowns were scored during those last two quarters, but one goal missed. Thus the count stood 21 to 20 Michigan, with but a few minutes left to play.

And then—with but 30 seconds remaining—it happened, and Michigan saw apparent victory snatched from it. The fast tiring Wolverines were forced to punt. The boot was a good one.

But Dick Marshall, standing on his own 45-yard stripe, grabbed the spinning pigskin as it sailed through the air and dashed through the entire Yost machine, 55 precious yards, for the winning tally. Then the final whistle chirped.

Thus, Michigan, 11 points ahead at half-time, and with the embargo apparently "in"; was beaten out by a fighting Pennsylvania unit plus that scintillating center of little Dick Marshall in the ebbing moments of the struggle.
