

TROOPS' DEFEAT BRINGS TO CLOSE CHINA WARFARE

New Administrators Ruling For Peking Government Confident That Future Disturbances May Be Averted

SHANGHAI, Oct. 14.—The new Chinese administrator ruling Shanghai for the Peking government as a result of the defeat of Shengkiang forces, today worked in conjunction with foreign authorities confident that they would be able to avert disturbances incident to local government change. Large numbers of defeated troops are returning without leaders or officers. Foreign observers in the Sunghiang sector reported this (Tuesday) morning that an armistice was arranged at 5 p. m. Monday after which both sides ceased firing. Advance guards of the retreating Chekiang troops arriving this morning from the Hwanctu Kiating and Luho sectors declared similar arrangements had been perfected there.

Apparently Chang Tao-Ping, 60 year old battler, who refused to accept the decision of the other Chekiang chiefs to surrender, was forced to give in after his final brilliant attack, in which his four thousand troops forced some of the hottest fighting of the entire week.

About 1000 Chekiang soldiers from the battle fronts directly west of the city had arrived at Shanghai Monday morning at the north railway station. Forty-three cardinals were reported held at Chenju, five miles west of the city, while 10,000 were said to be awaiting transportation at Nansung, 12 miles west, and at Hwanctu.

All of these Chekiang soldiers stationed at Luho, 30 miles to the northwest of the Yangtze coast, were reported withdrawn. The discipline of the defeated troops was generally good, it was reported, despite their complete ignorance of where they were going or what they were supposed to do.

The city was orderly this morning. Heavy naval, police and volunteer guards patrolled the borders of the foreign settlements, throughout the night and no one was permitted to enter or leave them.

Persistent reports were circulated today that Lu Yun Hsien, commander in chief of the defeated Chekiang armies and Ho Fen-Ling, military commissioner of Shanghai, and General Lu's aide, had fled to Japan, but verification of the report was not obtainable.

SHENANDOAH IS READY FOR ITS FLIGHT TODAY

Giant Dirigible Is Refueled and Repaired Preparatory to Sailing For Camp Lewis

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 14.—Refueled and reprovoked, girders damaged in landing here repaired, and fresh helium waiting in tanks to be injected into her gas bags, the navy dirigible Shenandoah was swinging at her North Island anchor mast last night ready for the start at 7:30 o'clock this morning on her voyage up the Pacific coast.

All day the clank of the hand riveters' hammers in the ship's body, working on the strained girders, view with the exhausts of six cylinder gasoline engines as each of the five and tuned up.

The helium will be taken on the last thing in the morning before the ship sails northwestward. Waiting aboard for all hands from admiral to the lowest rating seaman, are wool and fur lined flying suits and wool lined arctic boots for the upper air, even over southern California, carries a penetrating chill.

Each of the suits is "wired" for connection to electric plugs fixed at intervals in the body of the ship. If the wearer feels cold he may back up to the wall, "plug in" and warm up.

Provisions taken on yesterday consisted mainly of sandwiches, wrapped in oiled paper, and beans. In the forward gondola is the tinest of kitchenettes and here on a gasoline stove the beans are warmed and occasionally eggs are fried. Everything else in the food line except the coffee is cold and, owing to the danger of fire from the stores of the gasoline aboard, smoking is forbidden. There are bunks for each officer on the ship and one for each member of the crew off duty. These are arranged in groups of four and are equipped with wool lined bags.

Rear Admiral William Moffett, chief of the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics, reiterated tonight the impossibility of fixing the route to be followed by the ship after she passed Los Angeles on her voyage northward. After swinging over that city she will head back to the coast if the weather permits and if strong winds are countered on the seaboard she will take the valley route through central California to San Francisco.

NAVY PROBES EXPLOSION

NEWPORTNEWS, Oct. 11.—An army inquiry board is probing the cause of premature explosion of a bomb on Blimp TC-2 yesterday, causing one death and four injuries. Bruce Martin died here at midnight last night.

Rev. E. D. Brownlee Attending Annual Meeting of Synod

Dr. E. D. Brownlee left Monday to attend the Synod of Florida of the Southern Presbyterian Church which will meet today in its 33rd annual meeting at the First Presbyterian Church of Jacksonville with Dr. L. A. McNair, pastor, as host. The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. T. H. McConnell, D. D., retiring moderator, and after the annual roll call a new moderator will be selected. The stated clerk of the Synod is Rec. E. Y. Wilkie, D. D., of Dunedin.

An outstanding feature of the synod, it is said, will be an address by Rev. J. G. Venable, D. D., of Chattanooga, Tenn., of the First Presbyterian Church of that city and vice-chairman of the General Assembly's Stewardship Committee. Dr. Venable will present the Presbyterian Progressive Program speaking on all phases of the work at home and abroad. He will also speak of the assembly's budget of $4,750,000 of which amount the Synod of Florida has been apportioned $145,000. Dr. Venable will also speak of the equipment fund drive for home and foreign missions which will take place this year on Dec. 14 and which has as its definite object $500,000 to be raised this year.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place. Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness. You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.
