City hosts Town Hall meeting on strong mayor

The city of Sanford will host a Town Hall meeting Tuesday, Jan. 7, to discuss the upcoming referendum regarding the adoption of a strong mayor form of government.

Sanford Mayor Brady Lessard, as well as city commissioners, will be on hand to discuss the referendum and answer questions from the public.

"This will be the first of several events we're scheduling on the issue," Lessard said. "We will have additional Town Hall meetings, as well as time during our regularly scheduled commission meetings."

Tuesday's event begins at 7 p.m. in the City Commission Chambers. Lessard said he will provide an overview of the referendum, which asks voters whether they want to adopt a strong mayor form of government in which the mayor is responsible for day-to-day operations of the city, or continue with the current form of government in which a city manager holds those responsibilities.

The discussion will center on how to notify voters about the referendum, what salary a strong mayor would receive, and the role and salary of a city administrator.

The public is encouraged to attend. For more information, residents may call 407-330-5605.

VanDerworp resigns from city

By Dan Ping
Editor

City manager's leaving comes as voters ponder change in government

SANFORD — City Manager Tony VanDerworp resigned Thursday, just over a week after the city commission scheduled a referendum to determine whether the city should keep its current form of government.

In a letter dated Jan. 2, VanDerworp informed the mayor and commissioners that he will resign effective Feb. 11. He provided no reason for the resignation. Commissioners indicated VanDerworp told them he had contemplated a change prior to the adoption of a March 4 referendum asking voters to change to a strong mayor form of government. If approved, the referendum would greatly diminish the role of the city manager by transferring responsibility of day-to-day operations to the mayor.

"In my talks with the city manager, I'm convinced the referendum is not the deciding factor," said Velma Williams, commissioner from District 2. "It was a factor, but not the deciding factor. When Tony first came here he said he only wanted to be here for about five years."

VanDerworp was tight-lipped about his future. Williams, along with Mayor Brady Lessard and District 4 Commissioner Whitey Eckstein, indicated that VanDerworp was pursuing opportunities with Seminole County and in his native Michigan.

"Tony's not really saying much," Eckstein said, "but I understand there may be an opportunity at Seminole County."

District 1 Commissioner Art Woodruff said he regretted seeing VanDerworp leave. With the Riverwalk, conference center, and a proposal by Suncor Properties Inc. to build lakefront condos in the planning or early stages — the city could be in jeopardy of losing traction on key projects, Woodruff said.

"I guess it gives us a chance to see how the city works without a city manager," Woodruff said but noted that the three weeks between VanDerworp's last day

Authorities apprehend New Year's Eve attacker

From Staff Reports

The suspect, who was wanted for the New Year's Eve kidnapping and sexual battery of a Seminole County woman, has been arrested.

Brian Joseph Huffman, 25, was taken into custody by Orange County Authorities at 4426 Rossmore Drive around 1:30pm Thursday. Authorities apparently had information that Huffman might be in the area.

Huffman is accused of breaking into a home on Woodcrest Drive in unincorporated Winter Park around midnight on New Year's Eve. Huffman knows the victim's family.

The 56-year-old victim reported that sometime around midnight on New Year's Eve, she was attacked while sleeping in her home. After being sexually battered, the 56-year-old victim was forced into her vehicle and taken to various ATMs to withdraw money from her account (robbery).

The suspect then drove to several known drug areas, where he purchased drugs. Around 6 a.m. on New Year's Day, the suspect then got out of the victim's vehicle in the area of Interstate 4 and Fairbanks Avenue and fled on foot, leaving the victim behind.

The victim drove to a Cumberland Farms convenience store at 4355 Edgewater Drive in Orlando. A clerk at the store called for help and the victim was transported to Florida Hospital in Orlando. The victim suffered severe bruising and black eyes, as well as other injuries that were considered non-life threatening.

Huffman will be held, for the time being, at the Orange County Jail and was expected to make first appearance in Orange County, Friday. He will be transferred, eventually, to Seminole County.

Officers of the Sanford Police Department are turning heads. It's not the uniforms, but the car. After more than two years, the department has completed the restoration efforts on a fully-automatic 1962 Chevy Impala patrol car.

The car, which looks as if it were pulled straight out of a re-run of The Andy Griffith Show, has more than 98,000 miles and replicates what a police vehicle during that era would look like.

"Everybody loves it," said Lt. Darrell L. Brewer of the Sanford Police Department. "Just driving down the road it's interesting to watch heads turn."

Brewer along with Sgt. Greg Smith and Officer Chris Woher led the restoration effort of the classic car. Other officers, as well as several local businesses, also donated their time to refurbishing the car.

"Very little money was paid by the city," said Smith. "Nearly 99 percent of the time, parts and labor were donated by officers and people in the community."

All-women built home ready for residency

From Staff Reports

OVIEDO — The best Christmas present is yet to come for "Betty Smith" and her family.

Sunday, Jan. 5, at 3 p.m., Smith and her children will welcome the entire community of volunteers and friends to celebrate the completion of a home built especially for her in Oviedo.

"When I cut that ribbon and let everybody in, it'll be just like unwrapping the best Christmas present I ever got" said Smith. "This house means the world to me and I can't believe something this good is happening to me."

Smith is an assumed name for the home buyer because she and her family have suffered immeasurably as victims of spousal abuse so destructive it left Smith permanently disabled. She and her family see the home as a safe haven and a fresh start for them all. Though not a normal part of Habitat construction, the home has been specially equipped with a complete security system donated by ADT Security Services, Inc.

This is Habitat for Humanity in Seminole County's third all-women-built home. Nationally, more than 350 of Habitat's 100,000 homes have been built by women crews since 1991.

Diane Parker, president of the Seminole County-Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce chaired the development and construction of the home, at 353 Daisy Avenue in Oviedo. She will be on hand to emcee the afternoon festivities which will be attended by invited city and county officials, representatives from the many sponsors, and numerous Habitat supporters.

Among sponsors were Habitat for Humanity International, Royal Neighbors of America, representing their Women Building a Legacy program, and Ford Motor Credit Company, Central Florida Regional Hospital, the employees of Seminole County Government, AmSouth Bank, Home Depot of Oviedo, Seminole Community College, U.S. Tool & Fastener, Morrison Homes, Homes by Carmen Dominguez, The Financial Farmer, Inc., Rotary Club of Longwood, She-Can Canisters, Window Interiors and MCH and Associates/Lake Mary Cabinets.

Synagogue finds home in Sanford community

By Michelle Jeria

SANFORD — In a small 1900s house on 17/92, Rabbi Gary Fernandez has finally found a home for his congregation.

In an unassuming building located across from a Thai restaurant and down the road from an insurance agency, the Beth Israel Messianic Synagogue of Sanford now attracts more than 20 people to its services. It is the home of the city's first organized Sefardic congregation.

Finding a place to call home has taken some time for Fernandez and his congregation. "Like most ministries, we started in my home on March 1, 2002," Fernandez said. "But, we quickly outgrew the space."

The group found other locations to meet, including hotel conference rooms, but Fernandez wanted a more permanent location in Sanford for his congregation. The problem was finding the right building in an area that was easily accessible to people.

"When we were at the Holiday Inn, many people didn't even know we were there," Fernandez said. "I started to pray that we would find a new location."

The rabbi's prayers were answered when he discovered a building for rent near the intersection of Park Drive and 17/92. Large enough to accommodate 50 people during services, Fernandez said the early 1900s house is now the perfect location for the synagogue.

Like other Jewish congregations, one goal at the Sanford synagogue is to create a ministry that helps people know the lord in a deeper way, Fernandez said. However, as a member of the International Federation of Messianic Jews (IFMJ), another Rabbi Gary Fernandez began ministering in his home in March. He now leads the Beth Israel Messianic Synagogue in its new Sanford home.

Florida Power and CP&L become Progress Energy

Progress Energy [NYSE: PGN] announced today that its two major electric utility companies, CP&L and Florida Power, have officially been re-branded Progress Energy. The two companies began using the legal names Progress Energy Carolinas, Inc. and Progress Energy Florida, Inc., respectively, as of January 1, 2003. This re-brand for CP&L and Florida Power will be phased in over two years.

Customers will not see the names on their electric bill change until March 2003, but the company has already re-branded most company facilities, signs, vehicles, attire, advertising and community sponsorships with the Progress Energy name and logo.

"Since the 2000 merger, we've been working toward the goal of creating a seamless operation under the Progress Energy banner," said William Cavanaugh, chairman and CEO, Progress Energy. "We have made a great deal of progress toward that goal and, today, stand as a highly integrated, dynamic, diverse energy company."

Progress Energy was created in December 2000 following the completion of CP&L's acquisition of Florida Progress, the parent company of Florida Power. Since the merger, the process of re-branding into the single Progress Energy name has been ongoing. Progress Energy is the name of the holding company created to serve as the parent company of CP&L and Florida Power, but until now the two utility companies have maintained their pre-merger brand names.

"We want to reassure Progress Energy customers, both in Florida and the Carolinas, that while the name has changed, the people they count on to provide reliable electric service have not changed. The people you talk to in customer service and the line and servicemen that you see in your neighborhood are the same folks we have all come to depend on," Cavanaugh said. "That said, no company continuously demands more of itself when it comes to serving our customers than Progress Energy."

"The name change will not only eliminate confusion between Florida Power and Florida Power & Light, but we hope it will also serve as a sign of our renewed commitment to deliver affordable and reliable service to our valued customers," said Bill Habermeyer, president, Florida Power. "The 2000 merger was a positive turning point for Florida Power. We have made significant strides since then and look forward to continued improvement and innovation as Progress Energy Florida."

Customer service phone numbers for Progress Energy Carolinas and Progress Energy Florida will be unaffected. Phone books and directory assistance will begin using dual listings for both CP&L/Florida Power and Progress Energy Carolinas/Progress Energy Florida.

Progress Energy Carolinas provides electricity and related services to more than 1.3 million customers in North Carolina and South Carolina. The company is headquartered in Raleigh, N.C., and serves a territory encompassing over 33,000 miles, including the cities of Raleigh, Wilmington, Fayetteville and Asheville in North Carolina and Florence and Sumter in South Carolina.

Progress Energy Florida provides electricity and related services to more than 1.4 million customers in Florida. The company is headquartered in St. Petersburg, Fla., and serves a territory encompassing over 20,000 square miles, including the cities of St. Petersburg, Clearwater, as well as the central Florida area surrounding Orlando.

Progress Energy (NYSE: PGN), headquartered in Raleigh, N.C., is a Fortune 250 diversified energy company with more than 21,800 megawatts of generation capacity and $8 billion in annual revenues. The company's holdings include two electric utilities, Progress Energy Carolinas and Progress Energy Florida, serving more than 2.7 million customers.

Progress Energy also includes non-regulated operations (Progress Energy Ventures) covering merchant generation, energy marketing and trading; fuel extraction (Progress Energy Fuels); rail services (Progress Rail); and broadband capacity (Progress Telecom). For more information, go to www.progress-energy.com.

YMCA: It's more than just a fun song

There is a new plethora (always wanted to use that word) of public service announcements on television these days. People are repeating "I-Y" to indicate they are not only members of a YMCA but are actively participating in the many programs offered.

The YMCA (Young Men's Christian Association) was formed in the United States on Dec. 29, 1851, modeled after an organization started in London in 1844. The first YMCA was organized in Boston, Mass.

Today, there are approximately 3,000 YMCA's in 12,000 communities in all 50 states. Programs serve more than 17 million people each year, including more than 10 million children. The organization is also expanding to cover 120 nations under the World Alliance of YMCA's.

Nick Pfeifauf

Why mention this now? It's because of the new year, and resolutions many people have probably made.

Probably the most common resolution is to exercise more and lose weight. New Year's resolutions may also go so far as to want to learn how to operate their computers, (to be better than their children at it).

Programs offered at the Y's often depend on the size of the facility. Some have swimming pools, others may not. Some have gymnasiums, others have none.

Yet all of them offer a variety of programs. To find out, it is best to physically visit the Y, and either discuss programs or obtain a brochure. Locally, the Seminole Family YMCA is located at 665 Longwood-Lake Mary Road, in Lake Mary. There are others in the area as well, depending on where one lives and how far it may be to drive.

The Seminole Family Y does have a pool and as such, offers swimming lessons for the youngsters — certainly a needed skill in this fun center of the South.

Among many opportunities at the Seminole Family YMCA are personal training, youth soccer, basketball, roller hockey, teen programs, saunas in men's and women's locker rooms, Tae Kwon Do, playshops and creative kids classes, and child care while you work out (up to two hours).

Incidentally, the Seminole Family YMCA is celebrating its 60th anniversary this year.

For adults who hesitate to join because they don't want to leave their children home, keep in mind, the Y has many programs for all ages, and by proper planning, the whole family can spend time at the Y. It is best to obtain a family rather than an individual membership.

You can become involved in programs that will indeed help you to tone up and probably lose weight. Then, perhaps on a weekend, you can take the whole family to the pool and have a fun day.

It's time to inject sense in the war on drugs

Eight months after he started a dangerous journey from Nigeria out of desperate longing for his mother, 13-year-old Prince Nnaedozie Umegbolu still has not been reunited with her. He remains incarcerated in a juvenile facility in New York City.

Convicted last month on a charge of juvenile narcotics possession, Prince awaits his sentence. If the family court judge has any compassion, he will send the boy home to his mother in Norcross, Ga., an Atlanta suburb.

Prince ended up in this predicament because he was miserable after 2 1/2 years in Abuja, Nigeria's capital, where his mother, American-born Alissa Walden, had sent him to live with his paternal grandparents. But despite Prince's serious case of homesickness, his mother didn't have the cash for an airplane ticket to bring him back home.

That left Prince vulnerable to Nigerian drug dealers, who promised him a ticket home and $1,900 in cash if he acted as a courier. So, apparently without his mother's knowledge, Prince swallowed 87 plastic packets of heroin, some of which burst; by the time he landed in New York, the boy was ill. After he was treated at a hospital, New York authorities took him into custody, where he has remained since April.

Cynthia Tucker

The boy is no criminal, no drug kingpin. His case should have been resolved long ago. But Prince became a victim of the nation's overzealous war on drugs. For decades, American law enforcement authorities have waged a Prohibition-like campaign against illegal narcotics; that crusade has fostered one of the world's highest rates of incarceration while having no discernible effect on the flow of illegal drugs.

It's high time to admit the obvious: This isn't working. A different approach is called for — more drug treatment and more alternatives to incarceration, such as strict supervision for repeat drug offenders who have not committed violent crimes.

The fledgling movement to reshape the war on drugs is receiving help from an unlikely source: the current economic downturn. Because many states are facing budget crises, governors around the nation are releasing prison inmates early. Few states have the money to continue to incarcerate felons who pose little threat to their communities. The cost of incarceration is usually tens of thousands of dollars per inmate per year.

The same budget pressures have led some states to rewrite the stiff laws they passed during the last two decades. In Michigan, for example, the legislature recently repealed its strict mandatory minimum sentencing laws for drug-related crimes. And the Kansas Sentencing Commission has recommended to its legislature that offenders convicted of simple drug possession, with no record of violent crimes or drug trafficking be sentenced to treatment

American pre-emption and a scared world

Do not be shocked to read or see in a week, a year or five years, a declaration by Japan that it has decided, as a matter of self-defense, to build nuclear weapons and missile systems to deliver them. Or perhaps it will be Brazil. Or South Korea. Or Turkey. Or Egypt. Or Saudi Arabia. Or Mexico.

In just two years, the Bush administration has managed to undo the decades of work all over the world to try to prevent the proliferation of "the bomb." In talking of pre-emptive strikes against "evil" regimes — evil, of course, being in the red-white-and-blue eye of the beholder — the United States is forcing other countries and their leaders, sane and insane, to re-evaluate long-ago decisions to trust a few rich nations that already had nuclear technology.

The Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty, which took effect in 1970, obligated the five acknowledged nuclear weapon states (the United States, Soviet Union, Great Britain, France and China) not to transfer weapons or technology to other countries. One hundred and eighty-seven non-nuclear countries signed the treaty, pledging not to seek weapons or technology. (Cuba, Israel, India and Pakistan are the only non-signers.) There has been cheating, of course — North Korea and South Africa are believed to have nuclear capability, along with non-signers Israel, India and Pakistan — but the treaty has been considered successful for more than 30 years. No nuclear weapons have been used since the United States dropped two atomic bombs on Japan during World War II.

Richard Reeves

Among the many dirty little secrets in the concept of non-proliferation was that the nuclear countries, led by the United States, were institutionalizing their military advantage over the rest of the world. But the smaller and poorer nations, generally, were willing to accept that. They signed partly out of altruism, partly to spend their money on more pressing needs than nuclear security — if their neighbors did not have bombs, they did not need them — and a belief that they would never become targets of the nuclear countries.

That consensus is cracking now, and the Bush administration is a significant part of the reason. There are countries, such as Israel, India and Pakistan, that developed weapons because they had reason to fear their neighbors. Now there are countries, or their "evil" leaders, beginning with Iraq and North Korea, and ending we know not where, who seem determined to defend themselves against the United States.

President Bush has, in fact, dramatized another of the dirty little secrets. The non-proliferation treaty divided the world into "haves" and "have-nots." Or, to put it another way, the world is divided into adult countries and child countries. The grown-ups are the ones who have the bomb.

For all the talk these days, Saddam Hussein's Iraq, a dreadful place under his dictatorship, does not have nuclear weapons. The United States is preparing to invade it. Kim Jong Il's North Korea, a far worse place, perhaps the worst on the planet, does have the bomb (at least the Central Intelligence Agency believes it does), and the White House is debating whether to talk or not to talk. Attacking or bombing North Korea is not being discussed by this most bellicose of administrations. Well, maybe Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld is thinking about it, but he seems to be thinking about fighting most everyone.

The bomb is the immoral equivalent of a non-aggression treaty. Ironically, such a treaty, and some money, seems to be what Kim wants from the United States. He is said to believe that the United States is determined to wipe out his regime and country. We would like to, but we can't, because he may have nuclear capability and missiles aimed at South Korea or Japan. North Korea also has a million-man army and enough long-range artillery to hit Seoul with 500,000 rounds in the first hour of a war.

And it is not only Kim and Saddam Hussein who perceive the need for self-defense against the Americans. Certainly the clerical leaders of Iran, who are now trying to build or buy nuclear weapons, want the means to defend themselves against the Americans. Bush and Rumsfeld, and their advisers, are scaring the hell out of many people around the world. The smarter of those folks, in places like Seoul, Tokyo, Brasilia and the rest, probably think the Americans don't know what they're doing — and must be beginning to think about taking care of their own defense.

For our part, we cite Sept. 11 and certain surly dictators as the reason for our new belligerence. As always, we mean well, or think we do, but that does not make us any less dangerous to the foreigners beholding us and hearing our threats.

SPOTLIGHT ON BUSINESS

A True Counselor Of Law, In Spirit And In The Courts

During the past 21 years, Maher Guilley & Maher has been privileged to have John Jones "of counsel" to the law firm. Mr. Jones opened his law office in Seminole County 30 years ago and has strong ties throughout the Central Florida community.

Senior partner Michael Maher and Mr. Jones both attended Stetson University College of Law. When Mr. Maher was in his last year, Mr. Jones was in his first. Mr. Jones says that, in 1980 "Mike became my mentor. I decided to focus my law practice. I changed from a shotgun approach in law, doing the whole spectrum of cases, to using a targeted approach, helping injured people."

Outside of his law office, John has two commitments: his family and his church. He has a long history of involvement and leadership at Calvary Assembly of God. As vice-chairman of the board at Calvary Assembly, he is part of the leadership that serves 5,000 parishioners. He is extremely proud of the successful campaign that eliminated the church's debt of $15 million in 2000.

Mr. Maher says that Mr. Jones is a great asset to the law firm for many reasons. "John has the best reputation of any lawyer that I've ever known. He has developed deep friendships in the community. His empathy for people and his ability to communicate with everyone is exceptionally strong and sincere."

Mr. Maher adds, "John is truly every man." Mr. Jones has a broad range of experience from working as a professional football scout for the Kansas City Chiefs to four years' active duty in the Navy during Vietnam and 18 additional years in the Navy Reserves through Desert Storm during which he obtained the rank of Lieutenant Commander.

He also serves on the board of directors for Calvary Towers, a HUD project for lower income elderly people and persons with handicaps. Through this involvement, Mr. Jones became aware of medical problems faced by the elderly. For example, he learned early on of defects with Sulzer hip replacements.

On a personal level, Mr. Jones and his wife Carolyn, like many families, help to care for an elderly parent. They have been with Carolyn's mother through her transition from an assisted living facility into a nursing home, where they visit her daily. As a lawyer, he is particularly astute regarding nursing homes and other difficulties the elderly face.

As a child, Mr. Jones lost his father who was killed by a drunk driver, and he was raised by a single mother who faced the struggles that usually occur in those situations. At the same time, she instilled values in him that he lives by today. Knowing this helps with an understanding of Mr. Jones' personal devotion to helping people.

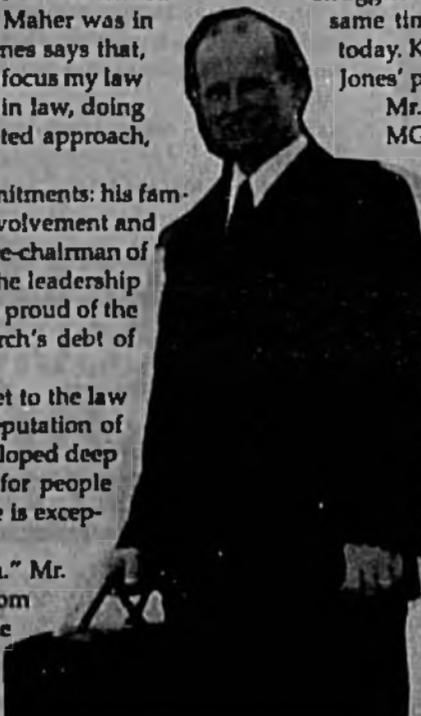

Mr. Jones works with the partners and associates at MG&M on significant medical negligence, wrongful death and automobile accident cases. In his 30 years as a lawyer, Mr. Jones has exhibited an outspoken respect for the legal system and developed tremendous credibility with the judges in the Central Florida area. According to Mr. Maher, "John's professional manner has influenced the younger members of our firm with their professional development as lawyers. He stresses the ethics that he has demonstrated so strongly throughout his career."

The mutual respect between Mr. Maher and Mr. Jones is obvious and extends to their personal friendship. Mr. Jones says, "I see much of Mike's strength of character in his son, Steve. I will work with them as long as I practice law."

Mr. Jones' ties to the community have been further strengthened through his three children. His son, Randy, is a city commissioner in Sanford and is dedicated to planning for the future and improving the lives of his constituents. His daughter, Julie, has given Mr. Jones and his wife three grandchildren. Their younger son, Andrew, is in his first year of law school at FAMU.

In his church community, Mr. Jones has counseled people from all walks of life who face problems and tragedies in their lives. As a lawyer, he is able to conduct both his personal life and career by his own moral standards, while at the same time accepting people in a completely non-judgmental manner. This is an invaluable characteristic when helping people solve problems and change their lives for the better. John Jones is truly a "counselor" of law.

Originally published in "News from Maher Guilley and Maher, P.A."

Central Florida Blood Bank in critical need of donors

Central Florida Blood Bank has issued a critical appeal for blood to ensure that there is enough blood to meet surgical demands of local hospitals. All types of blood are needed. Central Florida Blood Bank has not been able to fill hospital orders due to the lack of blood. According to Anne Chinoda, COO of Central Florida Blood Bank, "We have been shorting hospital requests for blood for over a week. For example, a local hospital requested 80 units of blood today, and we only had 15. We do not have enough blood to meet the local demand."

Traditionally the blood supply dips during the holiday season, however it is compounded by the fact that blood usage is up. According to Chinoda, "There have been several motor vehicle accidents during this holiday season. One ORMC patient has used over 24 units of blood in the last few days." Blood utilization always increases after the first of the year. There are more travelers on the road resulting in more accidents. In addition, many people postpone elective surgeries until after the holidays. According to Chinoda, "It's easier to plan for the scheduled surgeries, however it is much more difficult to have an adequate blood supply for unexpected traumas. Motor vehicle accidents, on average, utilize four to five times the amount of blood compared to an open heart surgical patient."

Those interested in donating may do so at:

- Main branch at 32 West Gore Street will be open for extended hours: Saturday (1/4/03) 9am - 3pm and Sunday (1/5/03) 12pm - 4pm
- Apopka, 131 N. Park Ave 9am - 5pm
- Florida Orlando, 500 E. Rollins St. #101 9am - 5pm
- Winter Park, 5201 Raymond St. Building 3126 9am - 5pm
- Altamonte Springs, 661 E.

Altamonte Dr, #327 9am - 5pm

- Winter Springs, 268 East SR434 7am - 3pm

Donors are encouraged to call 1-888-9-DONATE to find the closest donation site.

To donate blood, you must be in good health, 17 years of age or older and weigh a minimum of 110 pounds.

As a benefit to the donor, a mini health check, which includes evaluations of blood pressure, iron level and cholesterol, is performed to help the donor maintain his or her good health.

The entire procedure, from completing a short medical history to drawing the blood and resting afterward with refreshments, takes approximately 30 to 45 minutes. Blood donation is safe and healthy people can donate every 56 days.

For more information, call Susan Meeske-Williams at 407-835-5535.

Capt. John Galloway succeeded E.C. Harper, Sr. as commander of Company C, Florida Defense Force.

Mrs. Roby Ling was named site administrator for gas rationing registration on July 13, with 28 assistants.

The school Board limited sports activities to intramural games and heavily slashed the grid schedule.

Local persons visiting Daytona Beach reported seeing a convoy of ships off shore.

Although 500 were expected from around the county, only 75 men, age 18-20 had registered for the Draft.

Farming

Sanford/Oviedo Truck growers manager Walter Mewing said that FOB shipments during the 1941 season brought $2.196 average for all sizes for a net of $1.046 per crate. Reported sales were up 14 percent over the 1940 season.

Randall Chase was re-elected Vice President of the Growers Shippers League.

City Projects

On April 14, the State Road

Department engineers began surveying Park Avenue from 10th to 23rd streets for possible widening. On April 25, the city commission condemned the parkway portion of Park Avenue between 10th and 20th streets. A few weeks later, the commission reported that the SRD was halting all road projects because of an asphalt and oil shortage.

The Chamber of Commerce Secretary Ed Higgins urged the city commission to build a dance-recreation area for teenagers near the lakefront shuffleboard courts.

The city commission supplied men and trucks to move the District Office of the State Welfare Board from Titusville to Sanford.

priority is to bring back into the Jewish fold, the millions of Sephardic Jews who may not be aware of their own history.

According to IFMJ President Rabbi Haim Levi, Sephardic Jews trace their roots, culture, traditions and liturgy to Jews who once lived in Spain and Portugal. The name is directly connected to the Hebrew name for Spain, which is Sefarad.

One thousand years before the Messiah walked the earth, a group of Jews migrated to the peninsula of Sefarad, Levi said. The group flourished and was a very established community until they were once again expelled from their home.

In 1481, the Vatican established the Holy Inquisition in Spain, and for the next decade, thousands of Spanish Jews were forced to convert to the Catholic religion, Levi said. Others were tortured and killed. In 1492, King Ferdinand ordered the total and final expulsion of the Jews from Spain, and a few years later, King Manoel of Portugal ordered their expulsion from his own kingdom.

The Sephardic Jews were forced into exile, with many migrating to the Balkans, the Middle East and North Africa. Hundreds of years later, however, the Sephardic communities in the Balkans were decimated during the holocaust.

Today, the largest number of surviving Sephardic Jews can be found in parts of the old Spanish and Portuguese empires of the New World, including South and Central America, Mexico and the southwestern United States. According to Levi, the numbers of Sefardim in Latin America is estimated to be in excess of 20 million.

In 1978, the IFMJ was established in Tampa. Since then, numerous Messianic Jewish Synagogues have been formed in Florida throughout the United States and the world.

"The IFMJ has a very clear understanding that we, as Jews, have been called to minister to all tribes of Israel scattered in the farthest corners of the earth," Levi stated.

Levi said many people of Latin descent may not even realize their Jewish roots. That's why he encourages people to visit numerous websites, including www.ifmj.org, which offer information about the Sephardic Jews and help people discover, through their surnames, their own Jewish genealogy.

At the Sanford synagogue, Rabbi Fernandez is helping people recognize the Sephardic revival. Services are conducted in English, Hebrew and Spanish, and anyone interested is invited to attend.

"We want to help those who are Christian understand the Jewishness of the Gospel," Fernandez said. "We don't require membership papers, and anybody is welcome to join us."

Eventually, Fernandez foresees the congregation outgrowing its current location. Until then, services will continue to be held at the 2597 S. French Ave., location. For service times and more information, people can call the rabbi at 407-330-6170.

Rabbi Gary Fernandez, left, and Rabbi Haim Levi get ready for services at Sanford's Beth Israel Messianic Synagogue of Sanford.

VanDerworp

and the March 4 referendum would not provide a full picture. "Since when do people look at the big picture, though?"

VanDerworp was hired as city manager in 1998. Prior to that he worked in various capacities in Seminole County government, serving as director of planning and director of public works before taking the Sanford job.

During VanDerworp's tenure as city manager, Sanford saw tremendous change. Retail, residential and commercial development popped up along State Road 46 and Rinehart Road. Downtown revitalization projects such as the Riverwalk, conference center and 1st Street renovation either began or are close to beginning. And the police department — once described by an organizational consultant as the most dysfunctional department in the nation — is now considered one of Central Florida's best law enforcement agencies.

"The leadership of former mayor Larry Dale was instrumental in a lot of the progress Sanford has made," Williams said. "But all of us, Tony, the commission and Larry, played a role. This wasn't done by one person. Tony was an important part of Sanford's success in the last few years."

"Tony brought a cerebral type of management to the city," Eckstein said. "I use to kid him that he used the University of Michigan approach. (VanDerworp graduated from the university.) I think Tony did a good job for the city. I don't think he anticipated problems as well as he should have and sometimes he took too simplistic of an approach. Overall, the city benefited from his leadership."

Commissioners will decide Jan. 13 how to fill VanDerworp's position after Feb. 11. Beyond naming an interim, most likely Deputy City Manager Roger Dixon, there is not much the commission can make progress on. Normally, advertisements would go out immediately and the first review of resumes would begin within four weeks.

Foundation offering scholarship

The Simon Youth Foundation Community Scholarship Program, a not-for-profit organization dedicated to providing educational and career development opportunities to youth, will award a one-time monetary scholarship of $1,500 to a select number of high school seniors who plan to enroll in any accredited college, university or vocational-technical school, and who meet the program's eligibility requirements.

Last year, a total of $237,000 was distributed to 158 scholarship recipients nationwide.

To be considered for the program, Sanford area students can obtain an application form at the Simon Marketplace at Seminole Towne Center. Students must complete the application and submit it along with their official school transcripts and parent's most recently filed tax form to Citizens' Scholarship Foundation of America, Inc. by Feb. 15, 2003.

For additional information contact Shelley Price-Sloan, Marketing Director at the Seminole Towne Center Mall in Sanford, 407-323-1843.

CALNO to meet in Altamonte this Wednesday

The Council of Local Governments in Seminole County (CALNO) will meet Wednesday, Jan. 8, at the city hall in Altamonte Springs, 225 Newburyport Ave. Among presentations is a report on the Central Florida Zoo, and appointments to the Seminole County Expressway Authority, Seminole Community Alliance for Children and the Tourist Development Council.

However a search would be unnecessary should voters elect to transfer the city manager's duties to the mayor.

"I think it would be ridiculous for us to advertise for a city manager at this point," Eckstein said. "Tony will be here through Feb. 11 and that's less than a month before the referendum. If it passes, there will be no need to hire a city manager."

Eckstein has served on the commission since 1986 and has participated in two city manager searches. He said one replacement was found within the city's own ranks and the other was hire following a national search.

Both options are available to commissioners. Dixon has been VanDerworp's No. 2 man since April 2000 and is expected to fill the position in the interim between either mayor Lessard taking over the duties May 5 should the referendum pass or the hiring of a new city manager should it fail.

Eckstein said if the referendum fails, he would suggest doing a national search.

"If you do it the right way, you're looking at two to three months of work," Eckstein said. "It could be longer, because if you hire someone from outside, they would need time to give proper notice. You could be looking at up to six months."

Regardless of what happens during the first quarter of 2003, Lessard said he is confident the gains the city has made in the past will not be lost.

"Sanford has a good commission and a good staff of department heads," Lessard said. "We have some work ahead of us, but I have no doubt the it can be done."

Lessard praised VanDerworp for his work with the city and said he has had a close relationship with the city manager. When VanDerworp first took the Sanford job, his next-door neighbor and landlord was Lessard.

"This issue with a strong mayor form of government has never been about Tony VanDerworp," Lessard said. "Tony has contributed greatly to the city, and I consider him a personal friend."

Classic

During the two-year restoration project, the car was stored at Mid Florida Motor Sports in Oviedo. Officers first dismantled the car, labeled the parts and placed them in bags. They then transported the items to local businesses to refurbish the pieces. When the officers pulled out the old carpet to replace it, they found the original shipping order from 1962. Once the pieces were returned, the officers reassembled the parts.

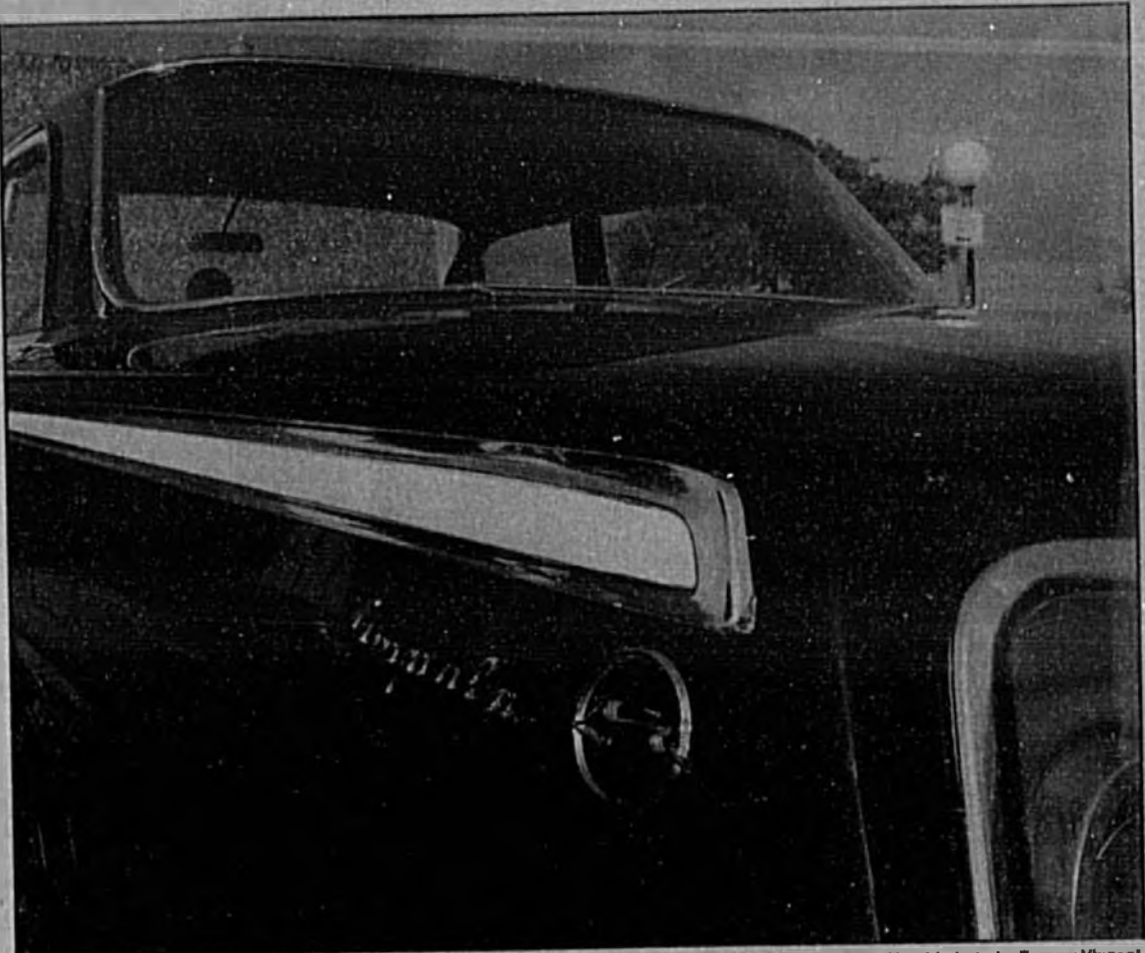

"It's been a fun experience, but at times nerve racking," said Brewer, who, along with Smith and the other officers, thank their wives for being patient when they spent long hours away from home restoring the car. "My dad was a paint and body man for years. When we were working on this car, I regretted not learning more from him when I had the opportunity."

The car, worth approximately $8,000 before restoration, was donated to the police department by Oviedo resident Bill Campbell. He also donated a fully-restored vehicle to the Seminole County Sheriff's Department.

"Bill Campbell has a love affair with Impalas," said Brewer. "You don't turn a car like that down when it's being donated."

Using photos of patrol cars from the 1960s, the department took great care in locating hard-to-find original 1962 parts for the car.

The restored car is complete with the Sanford Police Department 1962 logo and patrol lights on the inside dashboard, instead of on the roof as they are today.

"The car is done exactly the way it would have been in 1962, right down to the nuts and bolts," said Campbell, who has restored five cars in as many years.

After two years of work, the restored Impala made its debut in the Sanford Christmas Parade on Dec. 14.

"Less than 12 hours before the parade the decals were being put on," said Smith. "We spent the remaining 12 hours polishing and waxing it for the event."

The officers plan to showcase the car in parades, special events and car shows in the area.

"It's our PR machine," said Smith. "We can't go anywhere without people staring. Everybody wants to know about it. Because it gets so much attention, we plan to take it any place there may be a recruitment drive."

Although the car is complete, according to Brewer and Smith they will be fine tuning certain aspects of the vehicle. Since the classic doesn't have air conditioning, power steering or power brakes, they say those items will be the first ones considered for further work.

Give your children the gift of independence

QUESTION: My 16-year-old son wants to go on a supervised, three-week outing in a nearby national forest. It scares me to think of him being out there somewhere beyond my ability to help him if he got in difficulty. Am I right to turn him down?

James Dobson 'Focus on Family'

DR. DOBSON: I'm sure you know that within a couple of years, your son will be off to college or to some other pursuit, perhaps the military, and he will be entirely beyond your reach. Why not give him a taste of that independence now, while he is still under your care? It will be better for him to ease away from your influence than to have it come to a sudden end.

My mother was very reluctant to grant permission because she understood that there could be dangers out there in the Gulf of Mexico for four days. She was about to say no when I said, "How long are you going to keep me as your little boy? I'm growing up, and I want to go." With that, she relented. It turned out to be a good experience, during which I learned what it is like to work whether or not I felt like it, and I began to understand better how the adult world works. I came back grumpy and tired but feeling very good about myself. My mother later acknowledged that she had done the right thing, even though she worried the entire time. Yes, I think you should let your boy go to the wilderness, especially since it is a supervised trip. Letting go works best as a gradual process. It's time to get started.

QUESTION: Our family lives an exhausting lifestyle - we just can't seem to find a way to slow down! It gets depressing at times. Do you have any words of advice for us? DR. DOBSON: Let me share something that may help you and your husband make the tough choices on which a slower lifestyle could depend. Do you remember Vince Foster, who committed suicide during the early days of the Clinton administration? He was deputy counsel to the president before that tragic night of his death on July 20, 1993. Just eight weeks earlier, Foster had been asked to speak to students graduating from the University of Arkansas School of Law. This is what he told the students on that occasion:

A word about family. You have amply demonstrated that you are achievers willing to work hard, long hours and set aside your personal lives. But it reminds me of that observation that no one was ever heard to say on a deathbed, I wish I had spent more time at the office. Balance wisely your professional life and your family life. If you are fortunate to have children, your parents will warn you that your children will grow up and be gone before you know it. I can testify that it is true. God only allows us so many opportunities with our children to read a story, go fishing, play catch and say our prayers together. Try not to miss a one of them.

Religious Notes

Choir Rehearsals Singers are invited to join the Martin Luther King, Jr. Celebration Choir. Rehearsals are already under way, and will continue Jan. 9, and 16 at St. John Metropolitan Baptist Church, Cypress Avenue at East 10th Street in Sanford.

Gloria Williams is Choir Director with Mary Liggins DeBose and Sylvia Stallworth as Assistant Directors. Bernard D. Mitchell is Chairman of the MLK Steering Committee. For additional information, call 407-322-5418.

Video Series Several events are scheduled to get under way on Wednesday, Jan. 8, at Community United Methodist Church, 4921 S. U.S. Highway 17-92 in Casselberry. A video series entitled "Bringing Up Boys" by Dr. James Dobson will be presented at the church. The class will run for eight weeks from 6:30 until 8 p.m. Reservations are required. There will be a $10 fee to cover materials.

Also on Jan. 8, "Boundaries" classes will begin on how to say "No" and "Yes" under certain circumstances. Classes will run for eight weeks on Wednesday nights from 6:30 until 7:30 p.m. A nursery and classes for children will be provided.

For information or registration for "Bringing Up Boys," call the church office at 407-831-3777.

Scholarships Offered

The Central Florida Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa is again sponsoring scholarships for high school seniors who intend to go to college to become teachers. The National PDK organization offers scholarships ranging from one to five thousand dollars. Applications for these scholarships can be obtained from Dave Scott at Idyllwilde Elementary School, 407-320-3750. Deadline for applications is January 15, 2003, with the scholarships to be announced April 28.

Pickin' Time

A Blue Grass Pickin' event will be held Saturday, Jan. 18 beginning at 6 p.m. at the Longwood Community Building, 200 W. Warren Avenue. Bring your instruments and chairs.

Wheelchairs Available

The Independent Seniors program makes available power (electric) wheelchairs to Senior Citizens, 65 and older, and to others permanently disabled, at no out-of-pocket cost, if they qualify. The wheelchairs can be provided to those who cannot walk or self propel a manual wheelchair, can walk only 10 feet or less and at risk of falling, or who meet the additional guidelines of the program.

If your need is for use in the home, call for more information. No nursing homes or HMO insurances. Phone toll free at 1-800-383-8435.

Nar-Anon Meeting

If there is a drug problem in your home, the Nar-Anon Family Group may be able to help solve the problem. Nar-Anon meets at 8 p.m. each Wednesday at Orlando Regional South Seminole Hospital, Behavioral Health Department, 555 W. SR-434 in Longwood. Users, friends and relatives are urged to attend. For more information phone 407-834-7495 or 407-333-9204.

Anti-Smoking &amp; Weight Reduction

Central Florida Regional Hospital will sponsor a Wellness Seminar for smoking cessation Tuesday, Jan. 21, from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. and a Wellness Seminar for weight reduction on Wednesday, Jan. 22, also from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. In both seminars, participants will receive a 45 minute session to determine if they wish to sign up. Cost for the remainder of the classes is $55.

For additional information, phone 1-800-848-2822.

Volunteers Needed

The Seminole County Guardian Ad Litem Program is in need of volunteers to advocate for the best interest of abused, neglected and abandoned children in a court proceeding. To become a Guardian Ad Litem volunteer, you must be 21 years old or older, possession good judgement, common sense and be capable of helping a child in crisis. You must present favorable references, consent to have your background checked, and complete 24 hours of training.

Guardian Ad Litem training will be held at the Juvenile Justice Center, 190 Bush Blvd., Sanford, on Feb. 21, 22 and 28. Contact Tina at 407-665-5376 or visit the web site at www.galseminolecounty.org

Host Families Needed

Wife counts the ways her ex-husband decided to cheat

DEAR ABBY: I loved, loved, loved the column about signs that indicate a spouse is cheating. I sent it to my former husband with red "x's" next to every point that reminded me of him. Since our divorce 22 years ago, he has remarried twice.

You hit the nail on the head when you listed "changes in grooming." My 55-year-old Romeo went out and bought hair dye and began to blow-dry his hair every morning to hide his large bald spot.

He had taken his wedding ring off years before, saying he couldn't wear it around the machines at work. But he didn't work seven days a week, and he was a supervisor. His men did all the work. (His company later demoted him for sexual harassment.)

The "emergency errands" you mentioned were hilarious. One night my ex said he had to get oil for the car immediately. When I casually-on-purpose suggested I accompany him, he went to the garage to pretend to take another look, then came back and said he didn't need the oil after all.

At the time of our divorce, I found a package of condoms in his fishing tackle box. I kept the package and stomped on all his lures and other fishing equipment. It was a few days before fishing season opened in Wisconsin.

A day or two later, I discovered another package of the same brand in my daughter's dresser drawer. She had been away at college for six months. (I had wanted to launder things in her underwear drawer when I came upon the package.) When I confronted my husband, who thought he'd had a sure bet with that hiding place, he said, "Don't tell 'Joanie' you found them in case they're hers." I screamed at him, "In case they're HERS, you creep!" Only the Lord must have kept me from getting a knife from the kitchen that night to use on a man who'd accuse his own daughter to get himself off the hook. It was the last straw.

So, Abby, if you think that you have heard it all, trust me — you haven't. I don't miss him. And I will never remarry because of the alimony. My only regret is that I didn't throw him out sooner.

HELL HATH NO FURY
IN MILWAUKEE

DEAR H.H.N.E.: Just when I think I HAVE heard it all, a letter like yours comes along!

I don't blame you for being angry. But please don't make it a career. Hate corrodes the vessel that carries it.

DEAR ABBY: My high school friends have invited me to a party that's coming up soon. I know there's going to be beer, drugs and sex. I was thinking about not showing up, but I don't want to let my friends down. Maybe I'll tell them an emergency came up and I had to go to the hospital. I don't like making up lies, but I don't know what else to do. What do you think?

TEXAS DUDE

DEAR DUDE: I'm impressed that you are not giving into peer pressure. You deserve to be commended.

Make other plans so you won't have to lie. Then tell your friends you have another commitment. That way, you'll be telling the truth.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think I am selfish because I want to go on a ski vacation without my pregnant wife? At the time of the trip, she'll be eight months along. She says I'm being inconsiderate. Am I?

SKI BUMMED

DEAR SKI BUMMED: I think so. Babies have been known to arrive early. And while you're on the slopes, your wife may need "a lift" to the hospital.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, "Jenny," is engaged to marry a nice young physician. It's going to be an elaborate "black tie" affair in a castle in Europe. The young man's family is enormously wealthy, and his siblings are all doctors or lawyers. Some of the wealthiest people in the world will attend the wedding.

On the other hand, our combined income is less than $30,000 a year. We pay our bills on time, but we have nothing extra at the end of the month. The good news is that the groom-to-be's family has contributed a lot of money toward the wedding. The bad news is that they're asking me why we haven't contributed any. Our daughter mentioned that some of her friends' parents have taken out a second mortgage on their homes so they can give their daughters their dream weddings. (We live in an apartment.) Jenny hasn't lived at home for 12 years and makes more money than I ever will.

Abby, what is expected of me and my family? How can we explain to Jenny that we are happy for her and love her, but cannot and will not use our small retirement savings to pay for her elaborate extravaganza? As it is, we will all have to travel to her castle, and pay for hotel rooms, tuxes, plus give them a lovely gift. We need your expert advice — and fast!

NOT EVEN CLOSE IN UPSTATE NEW YORK

DEAR NOT EVEN CLOSE: Do not allow yourself to be stampeded. I've said it before and I'll say it again: Under no circumstances should you mortgage your future to pay for a wedding. A wedding is a gift, not an obligation. Your daughter has chosen something that's beyond your means.

If the groom's family is unaware of this fact of life, please waste no time in explaining it to them. There should be no shame in doing so. It's really.

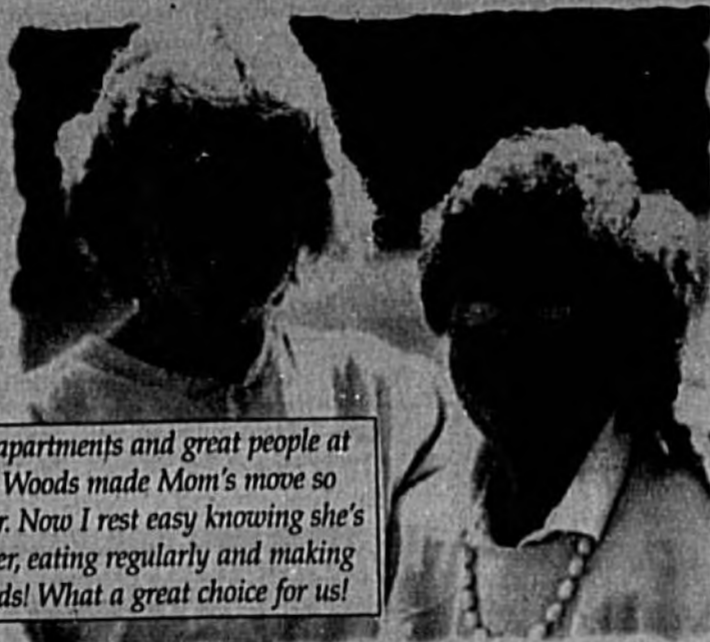

Dear Abby is written by Abigail Van Buren, also known as Jeanne Phillips, and was founded by her mother, Pauline Phillips. Write Dear Abby at www.DearAbby.com or P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, CA 90069.

Class of '64 preserves legacy of rich heritage

"Preserving the Legacy and Rich Heritage" was the theme of the 38th class reunion of Crooms High School class of 1964. The celebration, during the holidays, made for a four-day reacquaintance for classmates and friends.

The first activity was the get-acquainted hour at Crooms Academy of Information Technology. Reunion attendees were entertained with songs, praise dance, and of course the tour of the new Crooms. The fun continued on Friday with a picnic and victorious softball game held with the class of 1969 and old friends at the Lee P. Moore Park. There was plenty of delicious food for all.

Saturday evening, classmates and friends boarded the Rivership Romance for dinner, dancing and fun as they cruised down the beautiful St. Johns River.

Sunday morning worship and praise services were held at the New Bethel Missionary Baptist Church, where Rev. William "Bill" Lewis is the pastor.

The 11 a.m. service was presided over by Elder Eva Scott Phillips. Classes of 1964 marched in the processional. The devotion was led by Robin Barnett, Idella Barkley Pauldo and Coppelia Williams. The spirit of worship continued with the reading of the word, Psalm 91, led by Bernadette Dixon Merthie. Greetings from the Crooms classes of 1963, 65, 66 and 69. With the class of 1964's response to all of the greetings by classmate Victoria Nathan Murphy. Minister Joseph Smith led the Altar Call.

Musical renditions by the choir, with Pearlie Seward and Arkeshi Graham.

Bettye Black Dorman introduced her classmate for the reunion message.

The speaker was the renowned Sanford native Rev. Reginald A. McGill, pastor of the New Life Ministries of Rochester, N.Y. After graduating from Florida A&M college/university where he received a Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1969, Pastor McGill accepted the call in 1984 and became a full-time pastor in 1992. He is founder and Senior Pastor of New Life

Marva Hawkins

Ministries, with a flourishing ministry of over 18 years and a congregation of over 1,000 members.

Pastor McGill desires to see God and bring about reconciliation in families, neighborhoods, races and ministers in the city of Rochester. His calling gives him a heart for the disenfranchised, homeless and those who are hurting. Pastor McGill's greatest joy is seeing lives changed through a life submitted to Jesus. He has witnessed some great things in his ministry. He is a leader, role model for men who desire to be strong men of God and who endeavor to live their wives as Christ loved the church.

The morning's message of inspiration was indeed spiritually rewarding.

Pastor McGill has a lovely wife, Dr. Cynthia McGill and daughters Adjua, Maia and Adrienne. He is the son of the late Therkil McGill.

To close out the service of praise, the class sang the Crooms High Alma Mater and departed to have dinner at the Best Western Restaurant, where classmates enjoyed a great meal and last minute conversations, hugs, best wishes, and good byes.

Reunion Chairman Sammie

The Rev. Reginald McGill and classmate Bernadette Dixon Merthie enjoy the festivities at the Class of '64 reunion.

Harkness of the class of '64 and the reunion committee indeed have preserved its legacy and rich heritage. They extend their thanks to all for the success of the 2002 class reunion they shared during the four day celebration.

The City of Sanford Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. 18th annual observance will be held January 17 through 20, 2003. Friday, Jan. 17, at 6 p.m., posters from elementary and middle school students will be on display.

In the annual Oratorical Scholarship Contest, youth vie for scholarship funds by giving orations on three chosen topics. Candidates from local high schools seniors who plan to attend a college or university are participants in the oratorical contest. The speech must be memorized and will be judged on content, originality and presentation.

This event will be Jan. 17 at 6 p.m. at the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, 400 E. First Street at Sanford Avenue.

Saturday, Jan. 18 at 8:30 a.m., the third annual MLK Golf Tournament will be held with a shotgun start at the Sable Point Golf Course in Longwood. If it's your sport, call 407-322-8945 to register and play. Prizes will be given to the winners.

Saturday, Jan. 18, at 6 p.m. it's the 18th annual Commemorative Banquet at the Sanford Civic Center. Entertainment and dinner tickets are $20 per person and are available from MLK Committee members or by calling 407-322-2099.

Sunday, Jan. 19 at 2:30 p.m. the Inter-Faith Religious service will be held at the Sanford Civic Center.

The message of the hour will be given and the MLK Celebration Choir will perform. All churches, citizens and the community are invited to attend all of these events.

Monday, Jan. 20, the Dr. M.L. King, Jr. parade and rally will be at 10 a.m. The parade will begin at Crooms Academy of Information Technology, proceed east on West 13th Street to the Fort Mellon Park on the lake front on East First Street where the rally will be held.

For parade and rally information, phone 407-322-5489.

Seminole Community College's African American Cultural Forum presents Heritage Jubilee, a celebration of Black achievement honoring Mrs. Thelma Nathan Mike and Dr. Calvin Collins, Jr.

Entertainment featuring the Inspirational Singers, Laura Adams (violinist) and Shirley Range, (soloist) will be featured.

The event will be Friday, Jan. 10 at 8 p.m. at the Fine Arts Concert Hall, Sanford/Lake Mary campus. Come early. Free admission.

Araucarias: Pines from the South

The Norfolk-Island pine and the Monkey-Puzzle tree are only two of a small group of pine trees whose origin is the southern hemisphere, where pines are rare. Some retail garden stores sometimes offer one of these pine trees in containers during the Christmas season. These pines belong to the genus Araucaria, a name derived from the word Arauca, a name given to a region in Chile, South America. Other pines in this group, the Hoop pine and the Bunya Bunya tree, are native to Australia.

The Monkey Puzzle tree, native to Chile, is the hardest of all Araucarias. The Norfolk Island pine, native to that island in the South Pacific Ocean and Australia, is by far the most popular of these trees in Florida. This tree is sometimes called the Star pine because of the regular star shapes formed by its horizontal layered branches. The Norfolk Island pine is somewhat hardy but will freeze at about 24 °F.

The Trees

The trees can grow up to 80 ft tall and could grow taller, but lightning frequently limits the height growth. The evergreen trees develop a single trunk and have a pyramidal crown shape. Leaves are dark green and modified into overlapping scales, needle-like in appearance, less than 2 inches long, arranged in a spiral around the branches. The flowers are small and not showy.

The fruits are oval cones that look like a pineapple, green in color, about 6-12 inches in diameter, and can weigh between 10 to 15 pounds. Fruits are not considered edibles but Australian aborigines eat the scarlet seeds of the Bunya Bunya tree which they consider a great delicacy. Fruits are rarely found in cultivation.

Landscape Uses
These trees can be used as a strong, single accent trees. They can be an attractive, novelty specimen for a large, open yard or commercial landscape. Small trees are admired as urn subjects for patios, terraces, and Florida rooms. They can live for a long time as a house plant if not over-watered or overfertilized.

Culture
Trees grow well in full sun but can also grow indoors. Plants tolerate a wide range of soil types and pH with good drainage. An acid, fertile mixture should be used during transplanting. Mulch can be used to reduce water loss around the root area. Pruning is not required except to keep one central leader. Young plants should be watered well, especially during periods of drought.

Because of their salt tolerance they are ideal for planting along beachfront properties. Trees are medium to fast growers and should be fertilized at least twice a year. Potted plants should be fertilized at normal strength once every two weeks. Potted plants may drop the lower foliage if overwatered or from excessive dry air caused by indoor central heating. Same symptoms may be present in outdoor-grown plants due to the same factors.

Repotting
Do not plant the trees too deeply, otherwise the plants will develop root or stem rots. Use a mixture of vermiculite and potting soil to grow the plants. Repot every two or three years to prevent the plant from growing too rapidly.

Pests and Diseases
Scale insects are considered to be the main pests of these trees. Leaf spots and mushroom root rot are the main diseases of these trees, which usually do not have any pest or disease problems of major concern.

Al Ferrer is Seminole County Urban Horticulturist. Inquiries may be directed to him at the Cooperative Extension Service, 250 W. County Home Road, Sanford, FL 32773 or phone 668-6558. All Seminole County Cooperative Extension services are open to all regardless of race, color, sex, handicap or national origin.

Zoo searching for volunteers

If you love animals and enjoy the great outdoors, the Central Florida Zoo is looking for you!

The Zoo is seeking dedicated people to participate in the Docent Training Program. Volunteer teachers, referred to as docents, are an integral part of the Zoo staff. Providing exceptional education for children and adults about conservation of animals and the environment, docents participate in an array of activities.

In 2001, docents served over 12,500 hours, reaching thousands of people through tours, animal encounters and community outreach programs.

A docent training course is being offered with two classes running concurrently on Wednesday, March 5, and Saturday, March 8, 2003 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Anyone 18 or older is eligible to participate in the seven-week program. The cost is $40, which includes class materials and a Central Florida Zoo shirt.

If you are an animal and nature enthusiast, become a member of the Zoo Crew. For additional information on the program or applications, please call 407-323-4450, extension 120 or visit the Zoo's website at www.centralfloridazoo.org

Incident leads to charges of BUI

Special to the Herald

OCALA — A Malabar man is facing felony charges today of boating under the influence (BUI) involving an accident with serious bodily injuries. He is also charged with misdemeanor violation of navigation rules that resulted in a boating accident, which occurred in November in the Indian River.

Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) law enforcement officers picked up Stephen E. Lundy, (DOB 4-24-64), of 2525 Malabar Road, today on a warrant issued Friday by the Indian River County State Attorney's office. He was booked into Brevard County Jail on $3,000 bond.

Lundy and four friends were boating in his 17-foot Baker outboard motor boat in the Indian River near Sebastian sometime after dark on Nov. 3, when the boat struck channel marker 66A and broke it off. Lundy and two of his passengers were injured, and two passengers were ejected into the water.

Witnesses reported the accident to the Sebastian Police Department after they heard the boat crash into the marker. After the crash, the two ejected passengers got back into the boat and Lundy drove it to the Main Street boat ramp in Sebastian where he and another passenger were transported by Indian River County Fire Rescue to the Sebastian River Medical Center. A third passenger, who was also injured but left the scene with two other passengers before FWC officers arrived, transported himself to the hospital later that night.

BOAT.U.S. FOUNDATION GRANTS HELP SPREAD THE WORD ABOUT CLEAN BOATING

Put into the hands of able and enthusiastic volunteers, a small amount of money can go a long way in helping boaters spread the word about protecting our water resources.

The Boat.U.S. Foundation is looking to award Clean Water Grants of up to $2,000 to nonprofit groups. These grants fund projects that educate boaters about how to be cleaner and greener while enjoying their local lakes, rivers, and coastal areas. The application deadline for the grants program is February 1, 2003.

"Boaters really listen to each other, which is part of what makes these community-based outreach campaigns so effective," said Margaret Podlich, environmental director for the Boat.U.S. Foundation.

With past awards, funds have been used to produce bilingual brochures about sustainable fishing practices, posters to help explain local environmental laws and educational materials about small fuel spill prevention.

The grant application, including guidelines and instructions, can be downloaded from <http://www.BoatUS.com/fo> undation, or by calling Joni Turken at 410-897-0514. Grants will be awarded in April 2003.

Lake Mary just misses sweep

LAKE MARY — If the early season tournament results are any indication, this could be a big year for the Lake Mary basketball program. The Lake Mary girls finished off a sweep of its two holiday tournaments by winning their own Christmas Classic, while the boys followed up their championship in the Greyhound Invitational with a runner-up finish this past week. Coach Carl Brown's girls had won the championship in the Great Florida Shootout in Kismet with relative ease, but were put to a stern test on their own hardwood.

The Rams opened the tournament with a crushing 62-37 victory over Titusville and were joined in the Championship Game by Edgewater, which rolled over Dr. Phillips, 76-54, leading most to believe that the final would be a high-scoring shootout.

Major title to Titans

SANFORD — Perseverance does pay off.

When the Titans dropped an 18-6 decision to the Packers on the opening day of the season, few probably gave them a chance of winning the championship.

But displaying the never give up attitude it takes to win in sports, the Titans rebounded to win their final six games, including a 25-13 victory in a playoff game, to claim the Championship in the Major Division of the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Youth Flag Football League.

The victory was the second of the day for the Titans (6-1), who had handed the Packers (5-2) their first loss of the season, 25-12, in a make-up game earlier in the day.

Following the opening game drubbing, the Packers seemed well on the way to an undefeated season and the division championship.

The Packers rolled to impressive victories in the four of their five wins, the only blip being a 20-13 victory over the winless Dolphins in Week 5.

The opening game loss seemed to inspire the Titans as they rumbled to four straight See Flag, Page 14

SANFORD — Matt's Team pulled off a double-double in the A League, but the B League turned into a real battle when the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Fall Recreational Volleyball League wrapped up its season recently.

Matt's Team closed out the regular season with another perfect night, coasting past S & S Fence (15-3) and Sanford Church of God (15-0), but having to withstand the Shoestrings (15-13) in the A League.

The Shoestrings also finished the regular season on a strong note, going 2-1 with wins over S & S Fence (15-12) and Sanford Church of God (15-).

S & S Fence won the other game by a 15-0 whitewashing of Sanford Church of God.

The B League also saw its champions, the Saints, finish the regular season on a strong note, going 3-0, to win the title by four wins over the Hawks, which struggled to a 1-2 record on the final night.

The Saints left no doubt on this night as they whipped the Unknowns (15-3), the Hawks (15-5) and Idyllwild Elementary (15-0).

Idyllwild Elementary had its best night in weeks, going 2-1 with wins over the Hawks (15-6) and the Unknowns (15-12) See Volleyball, Page 14

UCF men leash the Bulldogs

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — Ray Abellard scored 26 points for the third time this season and eclipsed the 20-point plateau for the fifth time in 12 games in leading UCF (8-4) to a 64-55 win over The Citadel (4-5) at UCF Arena Monday evening.

The game also featured a homecoming for the Bulldogs' Max Mombollet, who played his prep basketball at Oviedo High School.

The 6-foot-8 junior grew up in Bangui, Central Africa, but made a name for himself while a member of coach Ed Kershner's 1999-2000 team, making all-conference, all-area and honorable mention all-state after averaging 15.9 points, 9.1 rebounds and 2.8 blocked shots per game for the Lions as they went 21-7 and reached the Regional Semifinals.

Abellard, who scored 15 of his 26 points in the first half, hit three 3-point baskets in the first half including two in a span of 32 seconds just six minutes into the game giving UCF a five-point lead at 14-9.

The inside-outside game of Abellard and Ed Dotson combined for 27 points in the first half and led a Golden Knights squad that shot over 52 percent in the first stanza. In a first half that saw 14 lead changes, Josh Bodden gave UCF its biggest lead of the half after canning a three pointer with only 12 seconds remaining as the Knights led 36-30 at the break.

The two teams traded baskets to start the second half, making the score 38-32. After a pair of free throws by Michael Joseph cut the lead to four, 38-34, Mombollet helped the Bulldogs erase the deficit by scoring four straight points including a traditional three-point play to tie the game at 38.

The Knights were able to break a 40-40 tie after a steal by Marius Boyd, who then hit Al Miller on a breakaway lay-up for the go-ahead bucket. A tip-in by Will Bakanowsky the next trip down the floor pushed the UCF lead to four at 44-40. The Citadel would not go away however as the Knights watched a six-point lead evaporate and Bulldog guard Kevin Hammack's jumper with 7:05 remaining gave The Citadel its first lead since the 4:16 mark of the first half at 48-47. Abellard answered back with his fourth three pointer of the game putting UCF up 50-48 as they maintained the lead for the remainder of the game and pushed it to as many as 10 late in the contest.

In addition to hitting 6-of-14 from the field, Abellard connected on 10-of-12 from the free throw line to lead all scorers with 26. Dotson rounded out the double-digit scoring finishing with 16. Dexter Lyons led UCF on the glass grabbing a season high 10 boards. The Knights finished the game shooting 44 percent from the floor, but just 29 percent from beyond the arc.

Joseph led a trio of players in double figures with 17, while Clyde Wormley and Gregg Jones scored 12 and 10 respectively. Mombollet, who scored five points, led the Bulldogs with eight boards and tied for the team lead in steals with two. The Citadel connected on 17-of-49 shots from the floor (34 percent) and hit just four shots from long range.

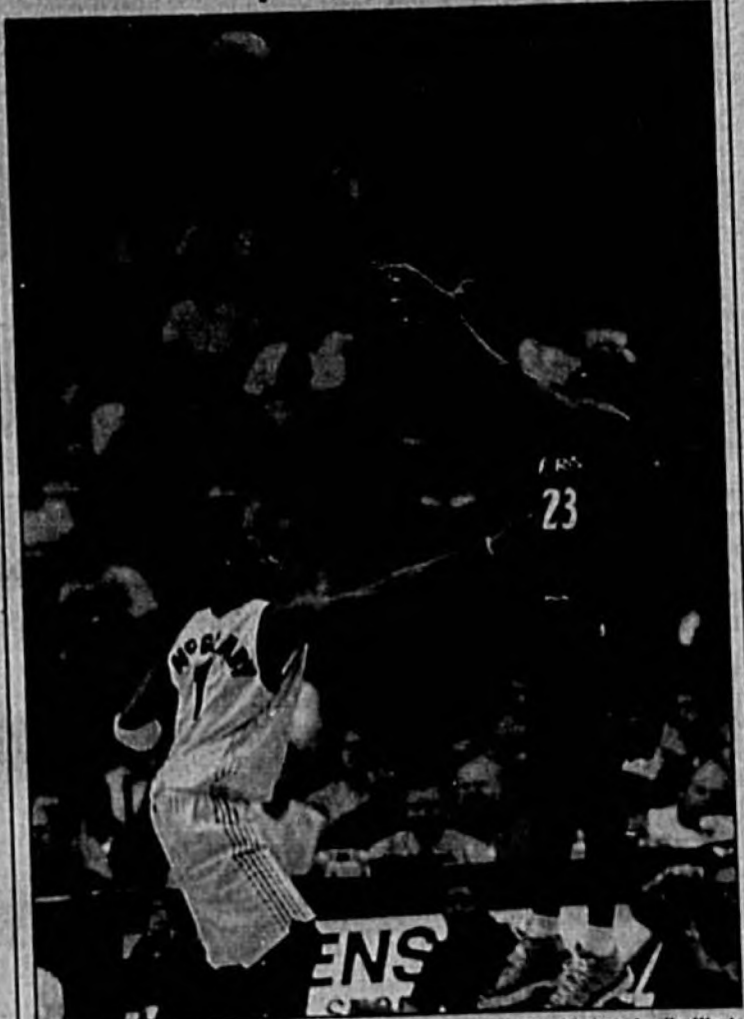

The Bulldogs held a decided advantage on the glass outrebounding UCF 40-30.

The Golden Knights will conclude their four-game homestand today (Saturday, Jan. 4) when they open up Atlantic Sun play against FAU. Tip-off for the game is set for 2 p.m. The A-Sun opener will also be UCF's first televised game of the season as it will be carried live by Sunshine Network.

GOLDEN KNIGHT FANS

Due to ongoing renovations to the second floor lobby entrance of UCF Arena, fans attending today's men's basketball game are asked to please enter the arena on the ground level underneath the stairwells. Construction is expected to be completed in the next few days and should have no bearing on future events. Building officials appreciate your cooperation See UCF, Page 14

Pre-season testing begins at Daytona

Special to the Herald

DAYTONA BEACH — The world's top road racers will kick off 2003 with pre-season testing at Daytona International Speedway this weekend, Jan. 3-5.

Teams and drivers from around the world will converge on Daytona to hone their skills on the Speedway's 3.56-mile road course in preparation for the 41st Rolex 24 At Daytona, Feb. 1-2.

Some new Daytona Prototypes will make their first appearance at the Speedway during testing. The Daytona Prototypes are the new premier class of the Rolex Sports Car Series and will make their racing debut at the 2003 Rolex 24 At Daytona.

The #88 Ford Focus Daytona Prototype is expected to take its first turns on Daytona's high banks during this weekend's testing, will an all-star lineup of road racers at the wheel.

Canadians Scott Maxwell and David Empringham will partner with Australian David Brabham in the Ford Daytona Prototype. Maxwell captured the 2002 Grand-Am Cup driver championship, while Empringham is a past Toyota Atlantic and Indy Lights champion.

Their teammate from down under, who now resides in Florida, is one of the most noted sports car racers in the world, racing both prototypes and GT cars in the U.S., Europe, Asia and Australia, in addition to his two stints in Formula 1 racing.

The G&W Motorsports #8 BMW-powered Picchio is also scheduled to make its first on-track public appearance at Daytona. The Picchio was unveiled to the public during the Rolex Series Finale at Daytona in November, and it is scheduled to return for testing with Austrian Dieter Quester, Italian Luca Riccicelli and Americans Darren Law and Boris Said at the controls of the Red Bull-sponsored machine.

Brumos Racing will be back at Daytona after completing a successful 28-straight hours of testing at the Speedway in early December. This time the team is expected to have both their Porsche-powered FABCAR Daytona Prototypes on hand.

The #59 Daytona Prototype will carry the traditional Brumos livery, with Hurley Haywood, J.C. France, David Donohue and Mike Borkowski sharing driving duties, while the #58 Porsche-powered car will have IRL standouts Scott Sharp and Scott Goodyear, as well as Chris Bye and Wayne Jackson, at the wheel of the Daytona Prototype, also sponsored by Red Bull.

NASCAR Winston Cup driver Kyle Petty will prepare for his third-straight Rolex 24 At Daytona, co-piloting Orbit Racing's #43 Porsche GT3 R with Leo Hindery, Peter Baron and Porsche factory driver Marc Lieb. NASCAR's Kevin Lepage will also get ready for his first Rolex 24 appearance as he partners with David Machavern and Tommy Riggins in the Heritage Motorsports #48 Mustang.

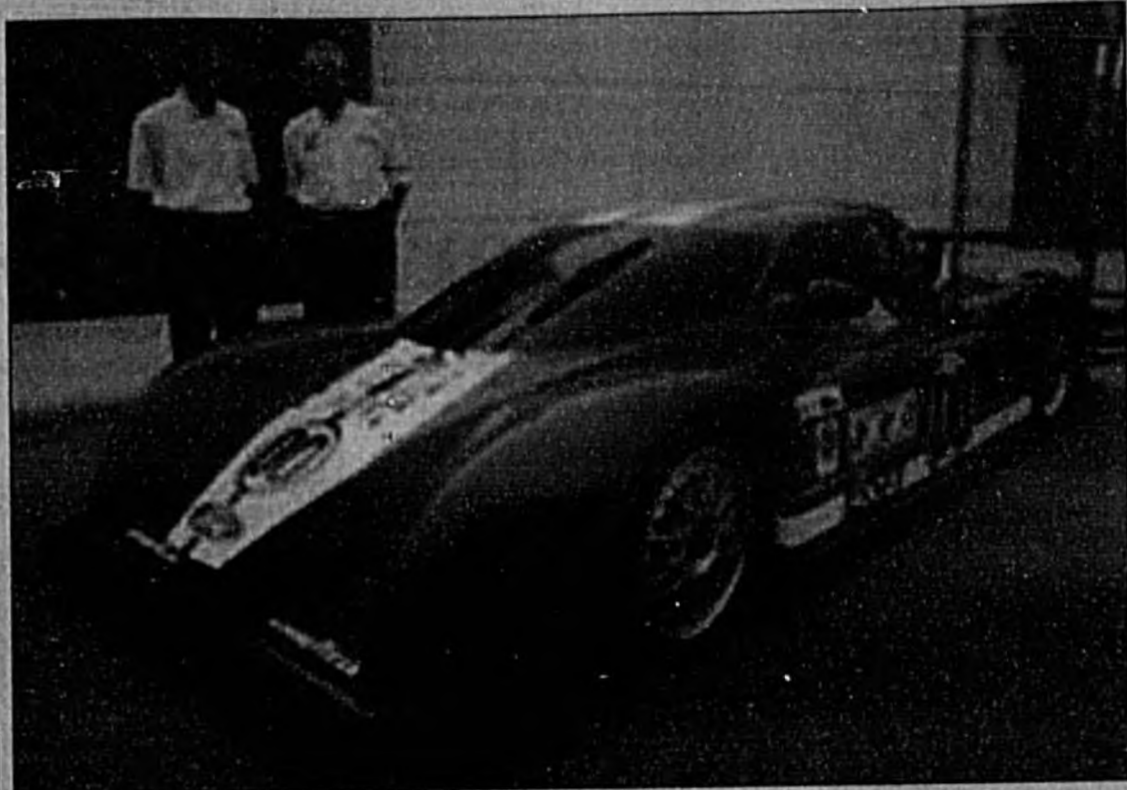

Porsche Cup champion Kevin Buckler, who won the GT class at both the Rolex 24 and LeMans in 2002, will begin his quest to defend his title by testing The Racer's Group #66 Porsche GT3 R with Michael Schrom and Porsche factory drivers Timo Bernhard and Jorg Bergmeister.

Testing at Daytona International Speedway will get underway on Friday and will conclude on Sunday, Jan. 5. A portion of the Oldfield grandstands will be free and open to the public for viewing of the test

LIPSCOMB SNEAKS BY UCF WOMEN'S HOOPS

Kendra Ramsey sank a jumper with six seconds remaining as Lipscomb University sneaked by UCF, 54-53, in women's basketball action on Tuesday afternoon at UCF Arena.

The two teams played tight back-and-forth on the scoreboard for the first two minutes of play until a steal from senior Erin Paige sparked a 13-6 run. During that span, the Golden Knights' defense kept the Bisons without a field goal for over six minutes before Katie Beth Pate scored at 12:15. Lipscomb's Kari Campbell sank a three-pointer at 8:15 that cut the UCF (4-6) lead to 19-14 and another try by Monica Blake brought the Bisons (4-8) within four (21-17) at 7:14.

Neither team mustered any offense for just over six minutes until senior Jessica Scala hit a three-pointer with 25 seconds remaining. A layup by Campbell at the buzzer saw the score read 26-21 at intermission.

Lipscomb opened up the second half on a 7-2 run to knot the score at 28 with 16:64 remaining in regulation. The visitors came back to tie the score two more times and stayed within five points.

With 56 seconds left on the clock and the score in favor of UCF 53-50, Pate made two foul shots to bring the Bisons within one. Golden Knight freshman Shayla Smith missed a one-and-one opportunity at the foul line and a subsequent put-back by sophomore Takira Allen fell short with 23 seconds remaining. Campbell grabbed the rebound which set Ramsey's game-winning shot in motion.

Pate led Lipscomb with 14 points while Monica Blake also added 12. Allen led all players with 19 points, one shy of tying her career-high.

Despite a lackluster effort on the boards in the first half, when they grabbed only two offensive rebounds, the Golden Knights outrebounded the Bisons by a 43-40 margin overall. They also outshot their opponent 34.3% to 33.9% from the field. Lipscomb hit 12 of 13 free throw chances, while UCF was 5-for-8.

UCF returns to action tomorrow (Sunday, Jan. 5) when the team travels to Florida State for a 3 p.m. tipoff. The game will be broadcast live on Sunshine Network.

victories, winning by at least eight points in each and winning two by shutout.

The Packers took the initial lead in the make-up game when Roger Leon returned an interception for a touchdown.

But the Titans came back with three unanswered touchdowns to take control of the game.

The Titans tied the game on a 19-yard scoring pass from Tim Brown to Luke Favelchak and then took the lead for good when Leon Carter ran 46-yards to paydirt. Carter also added the extra point to make the score 13-6.

Carter added another score moments later on a 20-yard run and the rout was on.

The Packers cut the margin to 19-12 when Zach Brownley ran for a six-yard touchdown, but the Titans sealed the victory when Brown ran 29-yards for the final score of the game, giving the Titans a 25-12 victory.

After a short rest, the two teams took the field again for a winner-take-all battle, but it ended up being nearly a carbon copy of the make-up contest.

The Packers took the lead when Brownley ran for a four-yard touchdown and when Brownley also ran for the conversion, the score was 7-0.

The Titans answered with a 36-yard run by Carter to make the score 7-6, but unlike the first game, the Packers extended their lead to 13-6 when Eric Anderson ran 65-yards for a touchdown.

That would be the final score for the Packers as the Titans went to work.

Carter tied the game with a 35-yard touchdown run and an extra point run and then put his squad ahead for good with a 45-yard run.

The Titans star then put a caper on the title when he ran 20-yards for his fourth touchdown of the game, making the final score 25-13.

Following the Titans (6-1) and Packers (5-2) in the standings were the Steelers (2-4) and the Dolphins (0-6), who played very well over the final three weeks of the season but could not get that elusive victory.

The Steelers (5-1) won the highly competitive Minor Division (7-to-9 year olds) by a misleading two games over the Dolphins (3-3). The Jaguars and the Cornhuskers (both 2-4) finished tied for third.

give the Saints some breathing room.

The Hawks did salvage something from the evening, outscoring the Unknowns, 15-9.

The Tournament was an exact copy of the final regular season standings in the A League as Matt's Team went 3-0 to pace the Shoestrings (2-1), Sanford Church of God (1-2) and S & S Fence (0-3).

Matt's Team had little trouble in finishing off the double, easing past S & S Fence (15-6), the Shoestrings (15-5) and Sanford Church of God (15-3).

The Shoestrings finished second by besting Sanford Church of God (15-8) and S & S Fence (15-11), while Sanford Church of God won an extra-point battle, 16-14, with S & S Fence for third place.

The B League Tournament was a monumental battle as the Unknowns, the Saints and the Hawks all went 2-1.

All three bested Idyllwilde Elementary (0-3), while the Unknowns topped the Saints (15-6), the Saints edged the Hawks (15-12) and the Hawks stopped the Unknowns (15-6).

That forced a three-way playoff with the Unknowns winning the final game, 15-11, over an unidentified foe.

The results for the past two weeks were:

Week 8

A League: Matt's Team (3-0), Shoestrings (2-1), S & S Fence (1-2) and Sanford Church of God (0-3).

B League: The Saints (3-0), Idyllwilde Elementary (2-1), the Hawks (1-2) and the Unknowns (0-3).

TOURNAMENT

A League: Matt's Team (3-0), Shoestrings (2-1), Sanford Church of God (1-2) and S & S Fence (0-3).

B League: The Unknowns, the Saints and the Hawks (all 2-1), and Idyllwilde Elementary (2-1), the Hawks (0-3). The Unknowns win title in playoff.

The final regular season standings were:

A League — Matt's Team (22-2), Shoestrings (16-8), S & S Fence (7-17) and Sanford Church of God (3-21).

B League — The Saints (18-6), the Hawks (14-10), the Unknowns (9-15), and Idyllwilde Elementary (6-18).

The final season standings were:

A League — Matt's Team (25-2), Shoestrings (18-9), S & S Fence (7-20) and Sanford Church of God (4-23).

B League — The Saints (20-7), the Hawks (16-11), the Unknowns (11-16), and Idyllwilde Elementary (6-21).

The Polar Bear League will begin soon and plays on Monday nights at the Salvation Army Gymnasium on West 24th Street behind Badcock Furniture. For more information please call the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department at 407-330-5697.

allow the other to get their respective running game going.

Lake Mary (14-1) survived the slowdown tactics, however, holding off the Eagles' upset bid, 22-21.

Dr. Phillips romped in the Third Place Game, routing the Terriers, 77-34.

The boys' tournament opened on Thursday (Dec. 26th) with Ryan Exter scoring 15 points as Winter Springs downed Winter Park, 59-48. Phil Warrick (eight rebounds) and Ryan Fischer (six assists) also had big days for the Bears.

In the other results, Apopka tripped Seminole, Holy Cross from Louisiana upended Lake Brantley, and the host Rams bested Cypress Creek.

The semifinals saw the Blue Darters put the scare into everyone with an awesome 101-56 thumping of Winter Springs.

Senior Reed Nelson led a balanced Apopka scoring attack with 21 points, while Vladimir Voyard-Tadal pulled down 15 rebounds and Dwayne Foreman handed out 15 assists.

Lake Mary would provide the opposition for the Blue Darters as they eased past Holy Cross, 62-45.

In the other games, Winter Park and Lake Brantley picked up their first victories of the tournament, the Wildcats edging Seminole, 59-54, and the Patriots nipping Cypress Creek, 50-47.

The final day of the tournament found the Seminole Athletic Conference going 2-2.

Cypress Creek topped Seminole, 64-56, in the Seventh Place Game, but Lake Brantley grabbed fifth place with a 63-48 triumph over Winter Park and Winter Springs wound up an impressive third with a 75-62 runaway over Holy Cross.

The Championship Game turned out to be a nail-biter with Apopka holding off the Rams, 50-45.

Foreman, a four-year starter for the Blue Darters, had another big game with 16 points and five assists, while Voyard-Tadal again dominated the backboards with 15 rebounds despite being only 6-foot-2.

On other tournament action, the rebuilding Winter Springs girls continued to improve as they finished an impressive third in the Midnight Basketball Invitational at Boone High School.

The Bears of coach Betsy Register suffered a heartbreaking 50-49 defeat at the hands of Haines City in the opening game but came back with a 56-52 victory over Central Florida Christian Academy from Ocoee to finish third.

Junior Sara Nuxol, the sister of Seminole Community College head coach Lisa Nuxol, led the Bears with 18 points.

Haines City wound up winning the tournament by beating highly-regarded host Boone, 48-39. The Braves had beaten CFCA, 61-56, to reach the final.
