British Huff At $1.5 Million Price

'Patriot' Snatches Magna Carta

DALLAS (UPI) — One of America's super patriots has purchased the only privately-owned copy of the Magna Carta, the English testament that is the basis for this country's democracy.

H. Ross Perot, the Texas billionaire who recently sold his Electronics Data System computer firm to General Motors for $2.5 billion, paid $1.5 million for the 687-year-old document.

"Typical," huffed one Londoner

Wednesday when told about Perot's purchase.

The Magna Carta was bought from the Brudenell family, whose ancestors obtained it when it was issued in 1297 by King Edward I as confirmation of the original document sealed by King John at Runnymede in 1215.

It will be displayed at the rotunda of the National Archives in Washington alongside the U.S. Constitution, the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights. Perot also plans to take it on a nationwide tour at some point.

Only 17 copies of the Magna Carta are known to exist. One is owned by the Australian government and the others by the British government.

Decherd Turner of the University of Texas, who led the team that authenticated the document, said some officials at the British Library opposed letting Perot take it out of

Midway Charges Neglect

County Fights To Win Federal Block Grants

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

A federal estimate of Seminole County's population, 28 persons short of 200,000, may deny the county some $2 million to improve poor areas despite efforts by the cities to help.

All seven of Seminole's cities adopted resolutions of cooperation to let the county speak with one voice for both the incorporated and unincorporated areas in applying for $2 million in "development block grant" money from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Tony VanDerworp, the county's principal planner, said he believes 200 or so additional people, who may not have been counted by the federal authorities, have been found in group homes here.

The planning office has been keeping in touch by telephone on a daily basis with the U.S. Census Bureau, HUD and the office of U.S. Rep. Bill McCollum, R-Altamonte Springs, seeking word on whether federal authorities have decided the county is qualified for the money.

A major requirement is that the county have a population of 200,000.

VanDerworp said the federal government to arrive at a population estimate averages a 1982 update of the 1980 census, and estimated new residents based on numbers of building permits issued and new customers served by the power companies.

"U.S. Bureau of Economic Business Research estimates and others from the University of Florida also figure in," he said.

VanDerworp said his office got the idea to check populations at group homes in the county from the census bureau.

"We have submitted interlocal resolutions from the cities and all the other documents required for the federal grant," he said, "and we should be hearing something soon."

Meanwhile, a Tuesday night public hearing on the county's $93.9 million budget for fiscal 1984-85, W.C. Cummings, president of the Midway-Canaan Water Association, charged that Midway is "neglected" by county officials.

And county commissioners said if the county gets the federal "community development block grant" money it will be used in the various black communities in the county.

Cummings said when Midway residents complained about the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit on state Road 46, between Brisson and Beardahl avenues, because neighborhood children's lives were endangered by speeding cars there, the state response was to reduce the speed to 50 miles-per-hour.

Midway, a dirt road that provides an access route to the public school in the neighborhood, is graded by the county "once in a while," Cummings said. "What can we do to make Midway a better place to live. We are asking you (the county commission) to disburse some funds where we can see it."

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff instructed staff to see about having a traffic count done on SR 46 again to back up a new request for a reduced speed there.

Storm Comes Ashore

BOCA RATON (UPI) — Tropical storm Isidore, "big, broad and sloppy," churned ashore today with winds up to 50 mph, torrential rain and three-foot tides, but residents found it just another thunderstorm.

Forecasters warned the worst of the storm was still to reach land at midmorning, but said it was still "no cause for alarm." Residents and businesses made only minimal preparations.

Forecaster Bob Case of the National Hurricane Center in Miami said the center of the storm began moving ashore between Boca Raton and Boynton Beach, north of Fort Lauderdale, at 8:45 a.m. EDT.

The greatest concern was voiced by agriculture officials, who feared the storm's winds and rain might spread a highly contagious canker disease plaguing Florida's billion-dollar citrus industry.

Authorities in the area reported little rain and only light winds as the center of the storm arrived. In Miami, a steady rain complicated morning rush hour traffic.

"We're having occasional rain with a few heavy squalls and gusty winds of about 22-25 mph," said Carole Doyle, a civil defense worker at Pompano Beach. "When I came to work this morning there was no water standing on the roads. It was like your usual Florida thunderstorm."

The season's ninth tropical storm was over the coast at latitude 26.3 north, longitude 79.9 west, or about 15 miles northeast of Fort Lauderdale.

"Isidore is moving on a west northwest to northwest course at 10 mph and is expected to continue this motion today," the hurricane center said.

"A portion of the eye is over the coast right now, but you've got to remember that that eye is big, broad and sloppy," Case said. "It has a diameter of 30 or 40 miles."

Gales extended 100 miles from the center of the minimal storm, which lashed the Bahamas with gales and flooding rains Wednesday.

Neil Frank, director of the hurricane center, said Isidore was a minimal storm that posed no great threat in its present state.

"There is no cause for alarm," Frank said. "There

City Seeks To Fill Boards In Wake Of Resignations

Sanford is looking for 14 citizens who would like to give their time to work on advisory committees and be willing to file a financial disclosures, as required by state law.

An unusual number of vacancies on the advisory boards cropped up after members were notified they had to file the disclosures, said Assistant City Manager Steve Harriett.

Meanwhile, state Ethics Commission deputy director Bonnie Williams says the form that must be filed by city officials and advisory board members is "not the full and complete financial disclosure required of constitutional officers" such as legislators, county commissioners, sheriffs and others.

No amounts of money have to be listed on the Form 1 required by state law to be filed by advisory board members, she said. Sources of income which comprise more than 5 percent of income must be reported, but not the amounts. And real property, excluding homesteads and vacation homes must be listed, but again with no values.

Liabilities owed in excess of financial worth must also be listed, if applicable, she said.

Seminole Supervisor of Elections Sandra Gourd said the form requires little or no real information from most people.

Vacancies exist on the following boards:

- Airport Zoning Commission, a five-member board, which handles zoning at the airport. S. Kirby Moncrief has resigned.

- Board of Adjustments and Appeals, a six-member board, which as its name implies handles appeals from zoning laws. Boyd Coleman has resigned.

- Minimum Housing Code Board of Adjustment and Appeals, a five-member board that handles appeals on decisions of the building inspector concerning old houses which may no longer comply with the city's building codes. The vacancy was created when City Commissioner Ned Yancey became an elected official.

- Central Examining Board, a 15-member board which reviews qualifications of building contractors. R.L. Harvey Sr. and Leon Steinmeyer Sr. have resigned.

- General Sanford Memorial Library-Museum Board of Trustees, which governs the facility, making recommendations to the city commission. Seven of the 25 members have resigned. Harriett said, including Jack Horner, Carol Kirchhoff, Janet Johnson, Tommie Peterson, Rosa Wontenay, Kay Bartholomew and Dennis Courson.

- Sanford Public Employees Relations Commission, a five-member board, which mediates disagreements between management and labor in the city. Richard Barnett and Russell Kitter have resigned. Members of this board are appointed by City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles.

More Smoke, More Risk To Non-Smokers

By Gino Dal Guercio
UPI Science Writer

BOSTON (UPI) — Non-smokers risk health problems that increase in proportion to the amount of smoke around them, inhaling the equivalent of almost three cigarettes a day when living around a two-pack-a-day smoker, researchers said today.

They recommended smoking in public places, such as restaurants, public transportation and even sidewalks be "restricted as much as possible."

Scientists at Kyoto University in Japan based their conclusions on tests measuring the levels of cotinine, a byproduct of nicotine, in the urine of 472 non-smokers in Japan, where 78 percent of men smoke.

Their findings are reported in the current issue of the New England Journal of Medicine.

Recent studies have shown "passive smoking" — in which non-smokers inhale others' smoke — may severely aggravate the heart pain of angina, reduce the ability of the lungs to absorb oxygen and increase the risk of lung cancer, although there is still controversy surrounding lung cancer.

The Japanese researchers found:

- Cotinine levels among non-smokers increased almost four times when the number of cigarettes in the home increased from one to two packs, or 20 to 40 cigarettes, a day.

- Non-smokers living with smokers who inhaled a total of more than 40 cigarettes a day had cotinine levels equal to smokers of less than three cigarettes daily.

- Cotinine levels in non-smokers who worked with smokers was more than three times higher than those who worked in a smoke-free environment.

- Cotinine levels tended to be higher in non-smokers who lived in urban areas rather than rural areas.

"We conclude that the deleterious effects of 'passive smoking' may occur in proportion to the exposure of non-smokers to smokers in the home, the work place and the community," the report said.

The Japanese team proposed three steps to reduce the health hazard to non-smokers:

- Family members ought not to smoke in the home in the presence of children or other non-smokers.

- Smokers ought to be discouraged from smoking when working in the same room with non-smokers.

- And smoking in such public places as hospitals, restaurants, transportation facilities, meeting rooms and sidewalks where both smokers and non-smokers mingle should be restricted as much as possible.

IN BRIEF

CIA Wants Retraction Of ABC News Reports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In an unusual move, the CIA is demanding ABC News retract a story in which a man claimed the CIA tried to recruit him to kill a U.S. businessman who once fronted for the agency in secret weapons deals.

The CIA, which rarely issues detailed public statements or responds to allegations other than with a "no comment," Wednesday called the report an "example of irresponsible journalism." ABC News said it stands by the story.

The report, which ran on ABC's "World News Tonight" Sept. 19 and 20, focused on Ronald Rewald, a Honolulu businessman jailed on charges of swindling 400 investors out of $22 million.

Rewald said he was a CIA agent and that his now-bankrupt firm was a front for the agency.

Another person interviewed by the network, Scott Barnes, alleged the CIA had asked him to "take him (Rewald) out ... you know, kill him."

No Hope For A Thaw

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The Soviet news agency Tass ushered in today's long-awaited foreign policy speech by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko by charging the United States uses "rude force" in interfering with the affairs of other nations.

The dispatch Wednesday from New York by the state-run news agency seemed to dash hopes that Gromyko's speech before the U.N. General Assembly would offer a thaw in the icy relations between Moscow and Washington and smooth the way for Gromyko's meeting with President Reagan at the White House Friday.

The stage for Gromyko's address was set Monday with Reagan's call for a constructive dialogue with the Soviets, followed Wednesday by a three-hour meeting between Gromyko and Secretary of State George Shultz which U.S. officials described as "a good start."

Bush To Release Tax Info

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Vice President George Bush, reversing himself in the space of a day, says he will release "essential information" from his tax returns for the past three years to satiate the "insatiable urge of people to know about taxes."

An aide to Bush would not say Wednesday what that information would be, but said it would not be made public until at least next week.

President Reagan and the two Democratic contenders, Walter Mondale and Geraldine Ferraro, have all released recent income tax returns.

But until Wednesday, Bush maintained he was unable to do the same without violating the law governing a blind trust. Bush placed his $2.1 million in assets in the trust when he became vice president.

Bad Carpet, Silicone Implants Center Of Separate Lawsuits

A Seminole County woman and her husband are suing an Illinois company for what they claim were faulty silicone implants. And a Seminole County juror who tripped over a carpet in a courtroom Sept. 7, 1983, is suing the county for negligence.

According to a civil suit filed Tuesday, Pat and Glen Barker have sued American Hospital Supply Corp. for an unspecified amount of damages in excess of $5,000.

Mrs. Barker states in the suit that she had silicon estomer material implanted in Dec. 1976 by Dr. Louis O. Vasconez. She said he used implants from American Hospital Supply Corporation doing business in Florida as Heyer-Schulte Corp.

By Aug. 3, 1982, the implants had deteriorated to the point that they had to be removed, Mrs. Barker said.

She maintains in the suit that the company did not correctly test the product, and did not tell users of reasonable risks involved with the implants.

She states that the company was negligent and careless in the design, testing, and making of the implants and has caused her permanent damage.

Mrs. Barker states she has suffered emotional and mental distress. She states she is unable to work to her full earning capacity, has suffered mental anguish and the loss of the capacity to enjoy life. Her husband is suing for loss of his wife's services, comfort and society.

They are also suing for breach of implied warranty.

They ask to be rewarded damages, court costs, attorney fees and to have a trial by jury.

Former juror Dora Harrell is suing for an unspecified amount of damages in excess of $5,000.

In the suit, Ms. Harrell states that she was called for jury duty at the courthouse and while leaving the jury box in the courtroom of Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor, tripped over a poorly maintained carpet.

She said the county was aware of the carpet's poor condition and should have repaired it.

She states she has suffered pain, mental anguish, the aggravation of a previous physical condition, disfigurement, disability, and the loss of the capacity to enjoy life.

She is asking, besides damages, for court costs and a trial by jury.

Trial dates have not been set in either case.

After Leading Trooper On High-Speed Chase

Ex-Commission Chairman Hit With DUI

A former Seminole County Commission chairman has been charged with driving under the influence and driving with a suspended driver's license after reportedly leading a Florida Highway patrolman on a high-speed chase on Interstate 4 early today.

Sidney L. Vihlen, Jr., 43, of 670 Vihlen Road, Sanford, was arrested at 2:05 a.m. after he attracted the attention of trooper J.L. Mauney who reportedly spotted him traveling east on I-4 at 85 mph. Mauney reported that Vihlen, who was carrying a passenger, Catherine M. Marble of Minnesota, "was passing vehicles using both inside and outside lanes."

As Mauney pursued Vihlen 1 1/2 miles west of Lake Mary Boulevard, Vihlen's car reached a speed of 115 mph, according to the arrest report.

Mauney reported forcing Vihlen to stop by pulling his patrol car in front of Vihlen's vehicle and slowing down, causing the "defendant to put on his brakes hard and stop."

The trooper reported that Vihlen's eyes were "bloodshot and glassy" and that there was a "strong odor of alcoholic beverage on his breath."

Vihlen, who served on the Seminole County Commission from 1970 until 1976 when he unsuccessfully ran for Congress, was also charged with driving with a suspended driver's license. His license reportedly was cancelled in 1982. A spokesman for the district Driver License office said she could not reveal the reason for the suspension.

Florida Highway patrol trooper C.H. Simpson said today that Vihlen was probably also cited for speeding, a charge which would not appear on his arrest report.

Mauney was unavailable to discuss the case today, but Simpson said that a speeding citation, if it was not issued at the scene to Vihlen, would possibly come later along with charges of fleeing and eluding an officer. Those charges may be added after Mauney discusses the case with the state attorney, Simpson said.

Vihlen was released on $500 bond.

Three Nabbed In Cocaine, Pot Bust

Three suspected drug dealers who reportedly flushed most of their cocaine and marijuana stash down the toilet before Seminole County SWAT agents forced their way into their Longwood motel were being held today in the Seminole County jail.

According to sheriff's reports: The special weapons and tactics (SWAT) agents were called to the Village on the Green Motel, U.S. Highway 17-92 at Seminola Boulevard, Longwood, to assist undercover agents in the arrest of the alleged drug dealers.

The bust was made at 2:10 p.m. Wednesday after Seminole County drug task force agents, working with an informant, successfully negotiated a deal to buy three ounces of cocaine from the suspects.

The agents who first made contact with the suspects at a house on Tollgate Trail, Longwood, at 11 a.m. Wednesday, had initially negotiated to buy five ounces of cocaine. They reported showing the suspect $5,700 with which they planned to buy the drugs. But after a second meeting with two of the men, the agents were told they could only be supplied with three ounces of cocaine.

That second meeting took place at Sorrento Apartments #13, Winter Park, as did a third after which the agents followed the suspects to the motel in order to meet with the third suspect who reportedly had the cocaine.

Action Reports

- ★ Fires
- ★ Courts
- ★ Police Beat

At the motel, the agents gave one of the suspects a marked $100 bill for a gram of cocaine to test.

The agents left and called in the SWAT team to make the arrests.

The SWAT agents forced their way into Room 5 at the motel as one of the suspects, who was armed with a handgun and a switchblade knife, tried to escape through a rear window. The suspect reportedly flushed most of the cocaine down the toilet, along with some marijuana. But small quantities of the drugs were still found in their possession along with the marked money.

Paul Prendes, 37, of Miami, has been charged with possession of marijuana and cocaine. Buenaventura Ferro, 34, of Orlando, has been charged with possession of cocaine. Both were being held in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

Steven Marcus Connell, 21, of #5 Village on the Green Motel, Longwood, has been charged with sale of cocaine, possession of marijuana and carrying a concealed weapon. He was being held in lieu of $8,000 bond.

TELL TALE SMELL

An Oviedo policeman who reported smelling marijuana smoke in the car of a man he had stopped for failing to maintain a single lane charged the suspect for possession of marijuana and a concealed weapon in addition to the traffic charge.

The Winter Park man was stopped on state Road 426, Oviedo, at about 3:30 a.m. Wednesday. In addition to smelling the marijuana smoke, the officer reported seeing several pieces of pot scattered in the suspect's car. And under the driver's seat he also found a .22-caliber handgun.

Eugene Dahlem Moseley, 21, of 2080 Fawcett Road, was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

CASH BOX LIFTED

Someone broke into Alcoholics Anonymous and stole $40 from a cash box, according to a Sanford police report.

Between noon and 6:45 p.m. Monday, a thief forced his way into a building at 1201 W. 1st St. by prying open a locked front door, the report said.

FIRE CALLS

The Sanford Fire Department responded to the following calls.

Tuesday
—5:19 p.m., 429 Summerlin Ave., rescue. Workers helped an 88-year-old woman get back into bed after she fell on the floor.

—Barbara Loving Malloy, 43, of 815 Mazurka Drive, Chululota, at 1:02 a.m. Wednesday after her car failed to maintain a single lane on state Road 419, Oviedo. She was also charged with attempting to flee, because an Oviedo officer reported chasing her car for five miles before she stopped.

—William J. Sullivan, 39, of Orlando, at 4:50 a.m. Wednesday after his car failed to maintain a single lane on Edgemon Avenue, Winter Springs. He was also charged with driving with a revoked license.

Woman Suing For $105,000 Over Car Accident Injuries

An Altamonte Springs woman is suing a Cocoa woman for more than $105,000 for injuries received in a car accident Oct. 10.

Denise M. Angelotti, of Altamonte Springs, filed suit Tuesday in Seminole Circuit Court against Jewell P. Smith of 124 Olive St., Cocoa.

Ms. Angelotti is asking for an unspecified amount of compensatory damages in excess of $5,000 and an unspecified amount of punitive damages in excess of $100,000.

According to the suit, Ms. Smith reportedly operated her vehicle in a negligent manner and caused it to collide with Ms.

Angelotti's car at state Road 434 and county Road 427 on Oct. 10. Ms. Angelotti states in the suit that Ms. Smith was intoxicated to the extent that her faculties and abilities were substantially impaired.

Because of the accident, Ms. Angelotti states in the suit that she has suffered permanent injuries including pain, mental anguish, loss of the capacity to enjoy life, reduced work capacity and impaired earning capacity.

She asks for the damages, costs, interest and a trial by jury. No trial date has been set.

Oh, Oui, Oui Reaganomics

Reaganomics may still be a dirty word to Walter Mondale, but the Europeans who once agreed with critics of the president's economic programs are now taking a long second look. The reason? Reaganomics has helped to create nearly 7 million new jobs for Americans during the last two years; an amazing feat to Europeans saddled with double-digit unemployment and stagnant economies.

The goal of full employment has been paramount for Western European governments throughout the postwar era. But the impressive economic growth of the 1950s and 1960s in Western Europe tapered off during the 1970s as welfare statism eroded the work ethic and high taxes diminished incentives for work, savings and investment.

One result is chronically high unemployment. In France, 10 percent of the work force is jobless; up from 7.2 percent when socialist Francois Mitterand was elected president three years ago. Unemployment rates for other Western European countries: Belgium 13.4 percent; Holland 14.6 percent; Italy 12.8 percent; Britain 11.5 percent; Denmark 9.1 percent; and West Germany 10.2 percent.

German economist Wolf Grunner, quoted recently in Business Week magazine, put it succinctly. "The facts speak for themselves. Since 1970, America has created 21 million jobs, while on balance in Europe, we've created none." And inasmuch as almost one-third of those 21 million jobs have been created in just the last two years, the heretofore skeptical Europeans can be forgiven for regarding Reaganomics in a new light.

Ironically perhaps, Mitterand's French socialists seem especially impressed. President Mitterand's new prime minister, Laurent Fabius, announced a new government budget recently that included impressive spending restraints and, voila, Reagan-style cuts in France's income tax rates.

If France's socialists can recognize that cutting marginal tax rates is the way to promote growth and create employment, there is hope for everyone else in Europe, as well. The next question is: Can Mondale learn, too?

Who Should Judge?

Under an old proverb, he who is his own lawyer has a fool for a client. But the Pennsylvania Supreme Court has turned this bit of folk wisdom upside down to suggest that he who is his own judge has a leg up on a favorable decision.

The Philadelphia Inquirer, having been sued twice for libel by Justice James McDermott of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, petitioned the court to disqualify itself from ruling on motions by McDermott asking that the cases be heard by judges from outside Philadelphia. With McDermott and Justice Rolf Larsen, who is also suing the newspaper for libel, refraining from participation in the deliberations, the court decided not to disqualify itself. (At least, Justices McDermott and Larsen had the grace to step aside.)

The action of the other justices still raises the question of whether members of a court can be unbiased in a case involving one of their own colleagues. Citizens would naturally assume that in such a small group a justice would discuss his lawsuit with other members of the court and that, even without ex parte presentation of his own case, other justices would be predisposed to sympathize with his position — unless they are blood enemies, which has not been indicated in this situation.

When a libel case involves public officials — a category to which judges clearly belong — the law as enunciated by the U.S. Supreme Court allows maximum immunity from libel judgments. How effectively can that concept be upheld when judges in effect judge the case of one of their own?

BERRY'S WORLD

The long awaited move of SWOP (Seminole Work Opportunity Program) from 412 S. Sanford Ave. to its new facility on Highway 17-92 took place Aug. 31. Gov. Bob Graham has been invited to speak at the dedication, but the date is still tentative awaiting word on the governor's schedule.

Cramped for space and unable to take additional clients into the sheltered work program for the handicapped, executive director Bill Poe is glad to be in the roomier building. The number of clients is now up to 56. Although SWOP acquired the building from Harcar some time ago, they have been unable to move the operation because the company which was leasing it would not move out until their new building was completed.

Bill was beaming with pride when he accompanied one of his clients, tiny Cindy Carnes, to the United Way of Seminole kick-off breakfast. Cindy is bringing a lot of favorable publicity to the United Way campaign and SWOP as this year's "Heart of Florida" poster girl and honorary spokesperson to the Central Florida's tri-county United Way drive. After the breakfast, they rushed off to Orlando for Cindy's appearance on the "Dialing for Dollars" TV show.

Another organization happy to be getting more elbow room is the Seminole County Historical Commission. The Seminole County Historical Museum is closed this month while exhibits are being moved into the half of the building previously occupied by the county's fleet management department.

The historical commission is planning a Seminole County History Fair for the Spring and hopes to get other organizations to help co-sponsor it and each city is to name a representative to the steering committee, according to Dr. Alexander Dickinson, commission chairman. There is a possibility the fair will be held in conjunction with the Seminole County Schools' Social Studies Festival in April, he said.

Dickinson said he hopes to have many live demonstrations of old farm equipment, pioneer crafts, and music from Seminole's past as well as other exhibits.

Central Florida Regional Hospital has discovered a painless way of having an in-house United Way campaign. Their theme "Fly Sky High" was inspired by the fact that Bob Snow, owner of Church Street Station and pilot of Rosie's Flying Circus, narrated the United Way promotional film this year. Hence, the competing teams have names like the Amelia Earharts, Howard Hughes, Blue Angels, Charles Lindberghs, Flying Nurses, and Red Barons — all vying for the prizes of a free plane ride, dinner for two at 94th Aero Squadron and the Red Baron Award. Their goal this year is $5,000.

VIEWPOINT Trading With The Enemy ...

By Robert Savage

Since the early twenties, American business has traded with the Soviet Union. From Occidental Petroleum to Cargill, many millions of dollars have been made by companies working with our ideological and military enemy. Then, as now, trade with the USSR raises questions of morality and national security.

Only two years ago, the Senate released a report stating that the Soviet Union, through a program of legal and illegal acquisition achieved "giant strides in military strength." The Senate investigation led one official to claim, "The Soviets tap into our research and development establishment so frequently that one must wonder if they regard it as their own national asset." The apex of Soviet acquisition in technology came during detente in the early seventies, when almost all restrictions on trade were lessened.

Behind the Soviets' planned program of gaining American high technology was American business, American science, American universities, and an intricate web of Soviet dupes, clients and spies.

Frequently the Soviets obtain U.S. technology through American companies' trade with intermediary countries, which in turn sell the high technology to the Soviets. The simple fact is that the flow of technology to the Soviets can merely be slowed and never stopped.

A complete embargo of trade with the Soviets probably would not work, as failure of the Carter grain embargo demonstrated. The Soviets can always buy from other sources. These other sources, including our allies, refuse to listen to our national security worries. The American ban on sale of natural gas pipeline equipment to the USSR failed because our allies would not and could not comply with U.S. requests.

The United States can and has taken some measures which do succeed in stemming the flow of strategic scientific information. This year the Congress is considering a bill designed to limit U.S. technological exports to the Soviet Union. The Export Administration Act (S. 979) continues in conference with hot debate. One controversial provision, the right of the President to interrupt long-term contracts in cases of national security, was voted down.

Some measures, like the ban of Soviets from Silicon Valley and other high-tech areas in the country, makes sense and work to slow the rate of Soviet acquisition.

Diplomats Terrorized In Paris

WASHINGTON — Terrorist attacks have left a miasma of fear hanging over our Paris embassy, which used to be American diplomats' favorite post.

The danger for U.S. personnel in Paris is much higher than the public has been told. I sent my associate Lucette Lagnado to check out reports that had filtered back to Washington. Here's what she found:

After a three-year pattern of random attacks, embassy personnel are edgy. The elegant embassy building on the Place de la Concorde has become a fortress reminiscent of U.S. embassies in Saigon or Beirut. Concrete barriers are strategically positioned around the building; parking is strictly forbidden near the embassy and passing vehicles are closely scrutinized.

A heavy presence of French gendarmes and uniformed guards are in evidence around the embassy building, in addition to the Marines stationed at the entrance. Visitors are carefully screened and their belongings examined.

What has turned this Foreign Service plum sour? A mysterious group that styles itself as the "Lebanese Armed Revolutionary Faction."

Since 1981, its members have struck repeatedly at U.S. diplomats in Paris. Then, in a change of pace and place, they began gunning for Americans in neighboring countries.

Other incidents that have cast a chill over the Paris embassy include:

— November 1981: Chris Chapman, the embassy charge d'affaires, was shot at and missed by an unknown assailant as he left his home on the way to work. The gunman was never caught.

— Jan. 18, 1982: Lt. Col. Charles Ray, the military attache, was shot and killed as he left his house to go to the embassy. The Lebanese faction claimed credit; French investigators turned up no suspect.

— April 3, 1982: Yacov Barsamontov, an Israeli diplomat, was killed by what police ballistics tests proved to be the same gun that killed Ray.

— August 1982: A bomb placed under commercial attache Roderick Grant's car fell off as he drove toward the embassy. A French policeman was killed and another badly wounded as they tried to defuse the bomb, which evidently was meant to go off within the embassy grounds.

— March 1983: The same terrorists tried to assassinate Robert Oman, the American consul-general in Strasbourg. He survived and remains at his post.

— February 1984: Leamon Hunt, a retired Foreign Service officer assigned to head the Sinai Peace Keeping Force, was gunned down in Rome. Again, the Lebanese Armed Revolutionary Faction claimed responsibility for his brutal murder, and authorities established a link with the incidents in France.

As for the Lebanese Armed Revolutionary Faction, U.S. intelligence sources are pretty well convinced that it is no ragtag group of fanatics, but an organization orchestrated and controlled by a national government: Syria.

Their reasoning is that only a government would have the resources for the planning and manpower that clearly went into the attacks on American personnel. In each case, it was obvious that the targeted diplomat had been under surveillance for an extended period — long enough to know the smallest details of his working and commuting routines.

Diplomats interviewed confessed that a feeling of anxiety has seriously diluted the heady pleasure they once felt over their assignment in the French capital. Instead of enjoying the lovely city along the lines of the lyrics to "April in Paris," they must be always on guard. When they stroll the famous parks and picturesque boulevards, they keep a sharp eye out for suspicious figures. Assassins may lurk under the chestnut trees.

ROBERT WAGMAN

When A Loss Is A Win

WASHINGTON (NEA) — You know that things are not going well in a campaign when you begin hearing "winning by losing" theories. And you're starting to hear them in some Democratic circles.

Some Democratic strategists are starting to promote the idea that, in the long run, it would be better for the party if Ronald Reagan won a second term.

As the theory goes, the United States is heading for something of an economic disaster over the next four years. Walter Mondale's economic program is about the strongest medicine politically possible. And there is considerable disagreement, even among Mondale's economic advisers, as to whether it is strong enough.

As they see it, deficits will continue even with new taxes and a scaled back defense budget. With no new taxes and with no defense cuts — two things the Reagan administration is pledged to — these Democrats believe deficits will continue to be huge, interest rates will soar, the economy will contract and things will go sharply downhill between now and 1988.

They fear that if Mondale is elected and the economy declines, the Democrats will be blamed. Conversely, if President Reagan wins and things go badly, the voters will know where to place the blame and the GOP will be hurt for years to come.

Thus, the strategists argue, in the long run, four more years of Ronald Reagan and Reaganomics might be better for the party than a Mondale victory in November.

WHEN THE REPUBLICAN platform was approved in Dallas, its New Right authors bragged that it was a political document for the ages — a blueprint to change this country for the next 30 to 50 years.

But the ink was hardly dry before lines of good Republicans formed to disavow all or part of the document — and the line starts in the White House.

The Reagan-Bush Committee estimated that if all of Walter Mondale's promises were enacted into law by 1989, the federal deficit would grow from its present $178 billion a year to about $243 billion. And that there would have to be a tax increase of about $3,000 a year per household.

Democrats fired back that if the GOP platform, with high military spending, were enacted into law, the deficit would soar to more than $400 billion annually by 1989.

Not to worry, says Kevin Hopkins, deputy issues director for Reagan-Bush. He says, "The Republican platform is not Ronald Reagan's policies. Just because the Republicans have endorsed certain policies doesn't mean that he has endorsed them."

In other words Reagan is already disavowing large sections of the platform.

GOP senate candidates are also disavowing the platform right and left. For instance, the three GOP women running for the Senate — incumbent Nancy Kassebaum in Kansas, Mary Mochary in New Jersey and Nancy Hoch in Nebraska — all support the Equal Rights Amendment and oppose both school prayer and a constitutional amendment on abortion.

ROBERT WALTERS Impact Of The Black Vote

ROANOKE, Va. (NEA) — Notwithstanding the flamboyant rhetoric of the Rev. Jesse Jackson and the fervent hopes of the Democratic Party, the impact of black voters in this year's elections may be vastly overstated.

During his unsuccessful bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, Jackson focused nationwide attention on the temporary surge of black participation in the electoral process.

Black, liberal and Democratic organizations have been attempting to capitalize upon the unprecedented degree of black political awareness — inspired by both enthusiasm for Jackson and hostility toward President Reagan. But their efforts are being matched voter-for-voter by white, conservative and Republican groups.

Nowhere are black ballots potentially more influential than here in the South. Although blacks comprise only 10.5 percent of the nation's voting pool, they constitute 16.7 percent of voting-age residents of this region.

The five states with the highest proportion of blacks in their electorate all lie in the South — Mississippi with 31 percent, South Carolina with 27 percent, Louisiana with 27 percent, Georgia with 24 percent and Alabama with 23 percent.

Earlier this year, there were reports of a ground swell of black political activism that held the potential to alter the region's electoral landscape. Prior to the presidential primaries, black voter registration increased 13.4 percent in Louisiana, 12.4 percent in Georgia, 10 percent in Mississippi and 8.1 percent in North Carolina.

But the vast proportion of Southern blacks who participated in the region's Democratic presidential primaries (many of whom supported Jackson) were not new voters.

In Tennessee, for example, turnout in black areas was up a phenomenal 58 percent — but only 4 percent of all blacks casting ballots in the primary were first-time voters. Similarly, black turnout in North Carolina was up 53 percent but only 11 percent of all blacks were first-time voters.

In those and other states, the blacks who were politically energized by Jackson's campaign may not be as enthusiastic about Democratic presidential nominee Walter F. Mondale.

The attention focused on the changes in the black vote this year has obscured the overwhelming difference between black and white voters in the South.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Unitary Tax Replacement Not Just Political: Graham

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham, insisting on dollar-for-dollar replacement of the unitary tax on business profits, says corporate lobbyists are wrong about the state not needing the money.

Questioned by reporters after a cabinet session, Graham conceded Wednesday that the state's surplus fund has grown a little faster than expected. He said, however, repealing the unitary tax without replacement revenue would drain the reserve quickly — leaving the state without money to meet emergencies like the citrus canker fight, hurricane evacuation or improvements in child-care facilities.

A special legislative session is set Dec. 6-7 to repeal the 1983 law allows Florida to consider all corporate profits — not just those on in-state sales — in computing business taxes.

Storm Threatens Citrus Crop

WINTER HAVEN (UPI) — Tropical storm Isidore poses a serious threat to the Florida citrus industry, already beleaguered by deadly citrus canker that has resulted in the burning of more than 2 million citrus tree seedlings.

Canker is a highly contagious bacterial disease which kills trees, but is harmless to humans. There is no known cure for canker and the only way to eradicate it is to burn infected trees.

Officials say moisture and wind are prime carriers of the bacteria.

The state has been burning trees in infested nurseries and Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner urged other nurserymen and grove owners Wednesday to begin burning before the storm hits those seedlings and trees that have been exposed to canker and destined for destruction.

Firm Winds Up In Court

The Old 'Early To Rise' Adage Doesn't Apply To Longwood Garbage Collection

An Oct. 22 trial date has been set in Seminole County Court for a Longwood company charged with collecting garbage during prohibited hours.

Industrial Wastes Services, Inc., of 555 Hope St., has been charged with collecting garbage at times other than between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. when collection is allowed by city ordinance.

The company through its attorney has entered a plea of not guilty.

According to information filed by the State Attorney's Office, it is alleged that on the morning of July 30, Johnny Lee Grubbs, 28, of #12 Lake Monroe Terrace, Sanford, while driving an Industrial Wastes garbage truck picked up refuse at 5:30 and 6:15 a.m. in the city.

Longwood police officer Leonard Dominick said he observed the truck at those times picking up garbage at The Rebel Gun Shop, state Road 434, and The Utter Guy store nearby.

Grubb was arrested, booked, then transported back to his employer, according to court records.

The state attorney also asserts that

Grubbs, again while driving an Industrial Wastes vehicle, picked up garbage prior to 7 a.m. on Aug. 28.

A city ordinance not only prohibits the collection of garbage before 7 a.m. and after 7 p.m., but also bans any collecting on New Years Day, Memorial Day, the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Based on Longwood City Ordinance 1-10, if the company is found guilty it can be fined up to $500 for each infraction, according to the Longwood City Clerk. The ordinance also calls for a possible jail term of not more than 60 days per infraction. —Deane Jordan

...Grants

He also told Cummings of the county's efforts to get community development block grants. "When we become a community development block grant entitlement county and get the money, we can do more," Kirchhoff said.

In response to a question from Cummings, Kirchhoff said there is no money allocated in the new budget for a specific project for Midway.

Commission Chairman Sandra Glenn said once the federal government certifies Seminole as having a population of 200,000 plus, the county will receive $2 million in block grants that can be used in the black areas.

She said the county has not received grants of this sort since 1977, reminding that the funds then were used to build a community center in Midway, to do paving and drainage work in Winwood Park near Altamonte Springs and for other projects.

Cummings said his interest is in Midway not the other areas.

And Commissioner Bob Sturm said Midway for its tax money is getting fire protection from a fire house in their area and also police protection from the Sheriff's Department.

"Midway is getting a bargain for its money," Sturm said.

never has been except for the possibility of some strengthening."

The 2 million residents from Palm Beach to Miami had braced for the storm Wednesday but forecasters said the main threat would come from 5 to 10 inches of rain and tides of 1 to 2 feet above normal.

...Magna Carta

the country, but they were not able to match his bid.

Perot said that properly preserved, the Magna Carta should last another 1,000 years.

Asked if Britons would be concerned about the sale, a London art world source said: "Most of them won't even realize it's gone. They'll think it's in the British Museum or the British Library or somewhere. If there are 17 copies, who cares?"

"My reaction is pretty flat," said one London resident, while another added: "I couldn't give a sod."

Perot, recently named by Forbes magazine as the fourth wealthiest individual in the United States with a minimum net worth of $1.4 billion, said he had been trying to obtain the copy for about two years.

"It's incredible," he said of the well-preserved document. "It's written in longhand in Latin on the skin of an animal. The ink was a vegetable dye ink. I'm looking forward to placing it next to the Declaration and Constitution because it is so much clearer (to read) than documents that are one-third its age."

"We want to put together a fine exhibit to accompany it and explain it — in effect take it to the people. The only real purpose in having this document in this country serves as a reminder that it is the basis for our government," said Perot, an outspoken patriot who 5½ years ago financed a prison breakout in revolution-torn Tehran, Iran, to rescue two imprisoned EDS employees.

'Crafty Katie' Keeps Trinity Streak Intact

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Another chapter in the Polk County-Seminole rivalry was written Thursday at the Lyman Freshman Sophomore Meet at Lyman High as crafty Katie Sams, a sophomore, outlasted Lake Howell's Lisa Samocki for the individual title. It marked the third straight year a Lady Saint runner has won the race. Adrienne Polk, who was a junior at Trinity, won the title the past two years, won the title while Sams, who turned in a time of 12:03.1, kept the individual crown on the Lady Saint mantlepiece. Lake Howell dominated the meet Thursday on both the Silver Hawks boys and girls teams took first place and in the girls meet, Lake Howell had seven runners finish in the top 20. The top four on both teams made up the team score and the Lady Hawks finished with a score of 31 compared to 60 for Seminole, 37 for Bishop Moore, 85 for Lake Brantley, 86 for Trinity Prep, 98 for Lake Mary and 118 for Oviedo for Lake Howell's top four included Samocki (second at 12:06.9), Martha Fonseca (third at 12:26.8), Belinda Laseur (10th at 12:51.7) and Mary Fonseca (11th at 12:52.7). Also finishing in the top 20 for the Lady Hawks were Kim Hammontree (15th at 13:55.2), Brita Du'Aure (18th at 13:58.0) and Gwen Lane (20th at 14:36.1).

Home Field Never Helped Bad News Eagles

This is home field advantage week in the world of football. In 8 of 10 games in this week's Herald-Fister Forecast, the home team is poked to come out on top. In some places, and on some occasions, though, the home field is not necessarily an advantage. Take my high school for instance, please take it. In my three years Spring Hill Springs had never won a home varsity football game and never won a home game. Sometimes you'll hear a sportscaster say, "and 1,000 fans came disguised as empty seats." Well, Spring Hill, home of the Eagles, is where that saying originated. The home field advantage turned to disadvantage after our team's own fans dubbed them "The Bad News Eagles." Fans dubbed "Now for the good news." After a pair of last week's victories by UCF and the All-Region, my prediction is that we will have an impressive 8-3 record to a slightly better than mediocre 6-4. For the year, the forecast stands at 20-14-1. For the year, the forecast here's a look at this week's games:

Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Mainland at Seminole
Mainland's fans are much improved from last year's disastrous season, but they will have to find out a way to penetrate Seminole's devastating defense. The Tribe totally shut down Lake Howell last week, holding it to less than 50 yards total offense. While Seminole's DeBose Brothers' defense will look for another shutout, the Tribe's offense, which has been shut out in both games, will have to score when it gets close. Seminole's defense accounted for all eight of its points last week. Look for some long, time-consuming drives and a low scoring ballgame. Friday night with Seminole and the home team advantage coming out on top. — Seminole by 6

Lake Mary at Lyman
About the only thing the home field advantage means in this one is that some Lyman fans will have a shorter drive home than Lake Mary's. The Greyhounds are hurting this year while the Rams are doing whatever Rams do when they're happy. With all the talent in the Lake Mary backfield (Scott Underwood, Charlie Duardard, Pat Murray and Ray Hartsfield), there might be a touch of late down the middle of the Lyman High field after Friday's game. It could be a long night for Lyman's pass but the Greyhounds will get their first victory in two weeks against Spring Creek. When you consider the immortal words of a former unmentionable Springshead coach who said, "Sure we lose, but we lose good," you know Lyman can't have it that bad. — Lake Mary by 24

Lake Howell at DeLand
After last week's loss to Seminole, Lake Howell quarterback Allan Jack must have been sleeping with visions of Seminole defenders dancing on his head. Jack was sacked five times by the Hawks' loss their first game after two victories. DeLand is looking for its first victory and the home field advantage will give the Bulldogs the edge. — DeLand by 7

Oviedo at Leesburg
Leesburg will have to swarm a lot if they want to shut down Oviedo's Charles "Pop" Bowers. St. Cloud held Bowers to just 25 yards last week and Pop won't be held down two weeks in a row. — Oviedo by 3

UCF at SW Texas State
The Knights finally know offense that had as many holes as theirs last week as UCF won its first game of the season, 35-34. UCF was its first game of the season, 35-34.

over Western Kentucky, Southwest Texas State (a small college power and it wasn't as generous as Western Kentucky) — SW Texas by 14

Texas at Mississippi State at Florida
If the Gators have a chance of losing Charlie Pell and the NCAA violations, then Mississippi State might make up and upset them. If it's as possible to upset the Gators more than they already are, Bill Florida will dedicate this game to Pell but which means a bunch of penalties. Just kidding. — Florida by 20

Temple at Florida State
I thought Temple State might upset Miami but not by that much. Sanford's Isaac Williams was named the South's Lineman of the Week by Associated Press. (His other two jerseys have had seven touchdowns and two sacks. The Seminoles have their heads in the clouds after whipping the Gators but they had better come down to earth because Temple is no passy. Temple upset Pittsburgh last week and is looking to knock off another powerhouse. But the FSU fans will rally behind the Seminoles and Temple will fall short of an upset. — Florida State by 10

Florida State at Miami
Uncle Ben could even help Rice out of this one. — Miami by 50

Packers at Bucs
Last year, the Bucs couldn't even claim the home field advantage but there is hope in 1984. The Packers have had trouble scoring points lately and the Tampa Bay defense is still tough. Two touchdowns and a field goal should be enough to carry the Bucs to their second win of the season. — Tampa Bay by 10

Dolphins at Cardinals
What would the Redskins' Fister Forecast be without at least one major upset? The Dolphins will be grossed out to the "Lomax" come Sunday as Cardinal quarterback Neil Lomax will lead St. Louis over Miami. — St. Louis by 13

Whigham's 2 Grabs Lead Rams Past Seminole For 3rd In A Row

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Shea Whigham's set up a touchdown with a lugging catch of a Shane Lettiero pass and scored another on a interception return to lead Lake Mary's junior varsity football team to a 14-6 victory over Seminole Wednesday night at Seminole High School Wednesday night at Seminole.

The victory gives the JV Rams a 3-0 record while Seminole has 1-1. The Tribe hosts Lyman next Thursday at 7:30. All of the scoring in Wednesday night's game came in the first half. Seminole had one last chance in the waning seconds of the game, but a touchdown pass was called back because of an ineligible receiver penalty because of an ineligible receiver.

After a scoreless first quarter, Seminole took a 6-0 lead with a 48-yard scoring drive early in the second. Key plays in the drive included a 17-yard pass from Darryl Taylor to Sonny Osborn on a 18-yard run by Hebert Hillery and a 10-yard pickup by Stewart Gordon. The touchdown came on a fourth down play at the Lake Mary 7-yard line as Dwayne Willis took a pitchout from Taylor and tossed a option pass to Osborn in the end zone. After a five-yard penalty, the extra point was missed and Seminole had a 6-0 lead with 6:40 left in the first half.

Seminole's luck turned from good to better on the kick as Lake Mary fumbled and Alonzo Gabeir recovered for the Nobles. But Seminole returned the favor two plays later as Taylor's pass was intercepted by Whigham. Taylor's pass was intercepted by Whigham.

Lake Mary then marched 49 yards on nine plays for its first score of the game. Key plays in the drive included a 12-yard run by Ryan Lisle and a pair of eight yard passes from Lettiero to Lisle and the second down Lettiero to Whigham and the second.

The big play of the drive came on a fourth down at the 14-yard line with 1:49 left in the half. Lettiero dropped back to pass but was chased out of the pocket by a group of Seminole defenders. Lettiero scrambled to his left then, on the run, found an open receiver in Whigham, who made a diving catch at the 1-yard line, who made a diving catch at the 1-yard line, who made a diving catch at the 1-yard line.

Lisle then buffered over from the one on the next play and Lisle added the conversion kick as the Rams took a 7-6 lead with 1:15 left in the second quarter. A 7-6 lead with 1:15 left in the second quarter.

Seminole chose to go for the long bomb rather than run out the clock and go in trailing by one point. And Seminole's choice backfired as one a third-down passy Whigham, the son of former Fighting Seminole great Frank, came up with his second interception and returned it 45 yards for a touchdown. Mike Renaud's conversion kick gave Lake Mary a 14-6 lead with seven seconds left in the half. A 14-6 lead with seven seconds left in the half.

Seminole had a first down at the Lake Mary eight with 2:05 left to play but on first down Eddie Banks was dropped for a three-yard loss. Then, on second down, Seminole tried another option pass with Willis but this time Renaud interpreted it for the Rams to run the drive with 1:28 left in the game. All the year with 1:28 left in the game.

J.V. Football

A clipping penalty on the interception return put the Rams back to their own eight-yard line and after two short gains, Renaud kicked a quick kick on third down. The play had worked earlier in the game for the Rams, but this time it only went five yards and Seminole had a first down at the Lake Mary 18 with 52 seconds left to play.

After two short gains, a motion penalty put Seminole back at the 19. Another short gain gave Seminole a fourth down with just one second left to play. Taylor then lit light and Horace Knight over the middle for what looked like a Seminole touchdown. However, one of the Seminole receivers lined up on the wrong side, making the tight end ineligible and the touchdown was called back and Lake Mary came away with a 14-6 victory and Lake Mary came away with a 14-6 victory.

RAM FROSH ROLL, 48-0
Doherty and Nate Stevens scored two touchdowns each as Lake Mary rolled by 43 yards rushing en route to a 48-0 trouncing of St. Cloud in freshman football action Tuesday night at St. Cloud.

The Lake Mary frosh now stand at 3-0 making all three of the Rams' football teams unbeaten (JV is 3-0, varsity is 2-0). Lake Mary returns to action Tuesday at Osceola.

Also scoring touchdowns for Lake Mary's frosh were Terry "The Cat" Miller, Shelton Richardson and Kurt Beachamp. Shelton Richardson led Lake Mary's devastating ground attack with 140 yards while Miller added 100 yards and Beachamp rushed for 90 yards and a touchdown.

Sox Sock Twins, 9-3

United Press International
Baltimore, Md. (UPI) — The White Sox made a habit of making the American League West this season, they've decided to focus their attack on one Minnesota Twins attack on the Minnesota White Sox' dismal season has been well documented after a banner 1983 campaign that saw the club win 96 games. But Chicago continues to play like champions against the Twins, posting a 9-3 triumph Wednesday night that dumped Minnesota's pennant hopes.

The Sox kept the Twins 1 1/2 games behind the front-running Royals by the All-West Kansas City lost 2-0 to the White Sox in California, which is 3 1/2 games behind California and Minnesota each have four games remaining and Kansas City is three games behind the league champion Oakland Athletics in Detroit's championship against Detroit.

Over the last 10 days, Chicago has beaten the White Sox five times in seven games in 1984. Their triumph came on the strength of Greg Walker's 24th homer of the year, a three-run drive that capped a five-run third inning that sent the Sox to a 5-1 victory.

Minnesota manager Billy Gardener said manager Billy Gardener said, "We didn't lose anything," he said. "To be honest, I thought of Cleveland as a big game we have to win. What are your points now? Our guys know what they have to do." With Chicago trailing 2-0, Mark Hill opened the third with a double (Ken Solheim) 5-10, and Scott Fletcher singled Hill to third. First baseman Kent Hrbek then made a diving stop of Julio Cruz's grounder and threw out Hill trying to score. Fletcher advanced to second. Rudy Jarama singled home Fletcher and was out later. Harold Baines singled in Cruz to tie the score. Baines singled Walker followed with the 24th homer of the year, the upper deck right fielder into the upper deck. Baines made some bad pitches and you're the ball up against Walker and he hit it out. Gardner said, "Before we knew it, they had five runs on the board and had five runs on the board."

Randy Bush's two-run double off Richard Dotson (14-15) had given the Twins a 2-0 lead in the first.

Dotson scattered eight hits in his 14th complete game in 32 starts. The White Sox concluded their home season by drawing a club record 2,136,987 fans.

At Kansas City, Mo., Brian Downing and Doug DeCinces slugged run-scoring singles in the sixth inning to help the Angels stave off elimination. Rookie Ron Romo pitched a seven-inning, 1-0 outdueling left hander Bud Black, who allowed just four hits yet left to 17. In the fourth inning, Black's 4th out-pitched but he shouldn't be. Kansas City third baseman George Brett said, "He pitched a fantastic ballgame. So did the other guy, and someone had to lose." ... and someone had to lose.

Indians 3, Mariners 0
At Cleveland, Ben Olyven pitched a seven-inning and Jerry Willard's sacrifice fly in the fourth inning lifted the Indians. Blyleven, 18-7, pitched his 12th complete game and fourth shut out this year.

Yankees 3, Orioles 1
At Baltimore, Ken Griffey's RBI single, Mike Pagliarulo's sacrifice fly and Don Baylor's homer backed the combined three-hit pitching of John Montefusco, 5-3, and Dave Righetti. Dave Winfield (.3477) pulled within percentage points of team ace Don Mattingly (.34184) in the AL batting race. It was his 11th in the AL batting race.

A's 7, Rangers 5
At Arlington, Texas, Dwayne Murphy's three-run homer capped a seven-run second inning and Mike Davis had three hits and two RBIs to lead the A's to a sweep of the three-game series. Danny Darwin, 8-12, was the loser. Danny Darwin, 8-12, was the loser.

Brewers 7, Tigers 5
At Milwaukee, pinch hitter Ben Oglive's two-run double and Robin Yount's RBI single highlighted a four-run eighth that carried the Brewers. Aurelio Lopez suffered his first loss against 10 victories. Ray Seagrave pitched the final two innings to even his record at 11-0. Even his record at 11-0.

Blue Jays 8, Red Sox 4
At Boston, Eric Whitt and George Bell homered and Rubeck Mullins had three hits and drove in three runs to lead Toronto. Doyle Alexander, 17-5, scattered seven hits in his ninth consecutive victory in his ninth consecutive victory.

Clayton Leads Lady Rams To 1st Win Over Trinity

ORLANDO — The Lake Mary Lady Rams whipped Trinity Prep's Lady Saints for the first time in the school's history Wednesday, outdistancing Trinity, 87-81, in prep swimming at Trinity Prep. Trinity's boys topped the Rams, 103-64.

Senior Sheri Clayton was the catalyst for the Lady Rams. She won the 100 fly (1:05.91) and 500 free (5:29.63) along with helping the 200 medley relay team to a first place in 2:06.4. The three other members were Kelly McKeel, Sherry Purkerson and Amy Maher.

Purkerson, a senior, turned in the lone record-breaking performance for the Lady Rams when she shattered the 100 breast mark by over two seconds. Purkerson swam at 1:14.9.

McKeel had the other first place as she won the 200 individual medley

Prep Swimming

Brian Lane: A Force In BMX Racing

Fourteen-year-old Brian Lane of Lake Mary has been involved in Bicycle Motocross for the past nine months.

Brian, a freshman at Lake Mary High School, first heard about BMX from a friend who was already involved in the sport. "John (Poole) talked me into it one day," said Lane.

Of Brian's memories of BMX, the one he remembers the most is a near fall on the canyon. "I jumped it, and hit the dude's back tire in front of me. I made him fall, and almost landed myself in trouble," said Lane.

In the nine months that Brian has been racing, he has proven to just about every 14-novice that he is definitely a force to be reckoned with. The rider has lost very few races. If he's not in first place, you can just about always find him hot on the trail of the leader.

At the races this week, the BMXers were moving hot. Here's how they did:

In the seven-expert class, Darby Brown showed 'em all who was boss by being a perfect number one in his class all night.

Eight-novice Jamie Garner of Sanford brought home a terrific second place for the night. Dusty Cummins was "radical" all night long in the eight-expert class. A second place trophy went to this dude.

This was also Colby Brown's

Christy Davis Herald BMX Writer

In the 11-novice class, Jason Ganas was dealin' out in third place.

The 13-novice class had a main event to make. First place went to Ronnie Brewer.

Also racing 13-novice was Mike Garner and Scott Lucia.

First place in the 14-novice class again went to Brian Lane.

Sherry Cook, J.A. Landry Married In Church Rites

Sherry Noel Cook and Joseph Adrian Landry, both of Camp Smith, Hawaii, were married Sept. 15, at 7 p.m., in the First Baptist Church, Sanford. The Rev. Paul E. Murphy was the officiating clergyman for the candlelight ceremony.

Soloist was Bryan Harden of Casselberry, formerly of Sanford.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Cook, 2408 DeCottes Ave., Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Landry, Colona, Ill.

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride chose for her vows a formal white satin gown fashioned along the slim silhouette. Reembroidered lace and flowers and tear drop pearls accented the Queen Anne collar. The Venetian lace yoke terminated in a low V and the full chiffon sleeves were cuffed in Venetian lace. An insert of lace encircled the waist and was caught in the back with a satin bow and long streamers. The accordin pleated skirt gracefully cascaded into a chapel train bordered with Venetian and embroidered lace.

Her shoulder-length veil, belonging to her matron of honor, was held by a halo of white carnations, yellow centered daisies, blue baby's breath and blue streamers. The bride carried a white Bible, used in her mother's wedding, that was covered with lace by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. A.L. Wilson of Sanford. The Bible was topped with an arrangement of white carnations and blue baby's breath interspersed with blue and white ribbon streamers.

Patti Meyers Johnson of Geneva, attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a slate blue gown styled with a scooped neckline, blouse bodice, natural waistline and full accordin pleated skirt. She carried two white carnations with blue streamers, fern and baby's breath.

Jimette Robinson Cook of Maitland, was the bridesmaid. Her gown and flowers were identical to the honor attendant's.

Don Ledbetter of Moline, Ill., served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Irving Landry, brother of the bridegroom, Silvis, Ill.; and brothers of the bridegroom, David Cook, Maitland, and Dan Cook, Deltona. Tim Wilson, cousin of the bride, was the groomsman.

The reception, directed by Anna Jarine and Millie Landreth, was held in the church fellowship hall. Assistants were Mrs. W. B. R. Charde, Mrs. Robert M. Meyers Sr., Mrs.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Adrian Landry

Fred Wilson, Mrs. Sonja Morris and Mrs. Harry Moore, aunts of the bride, April Morris, Mrs. H.J. Boissenneault and Miss Patty Austin, Mrs. Dan Cook, sister-in-law of the bride, kept the bride's book. Following a wedding trip to New Smyrna Beach, the newlyweds departed for their home in Hawaii. The bride is serving with the Military Police, U.S. Marine Corps on assignment with Hawaiian Armed Services Police, Ft. DeRussey, Honolulu, and the bridegroom serves as training chief, U.S. Marine Corps, Camp Smith.

If You Ask Old-Timer, He's Got It Made At 80

DEAR ABBY: I am 79, soon to be 80. A friend told me that you once printed something funny about the joys of turning 80. Will you please run it again?

LEO THE LION

Dear Abby

DEAR LEO: With pleasure:

DEAR ABBY: We oldsters sure do get away with a lot just because we've managed to keep breathing longer than most folks. I have just celebrated my 80th birthday and I've got it made.

If you forget someone's name or an appointment or what you said yesterday, just explain that you are 80, and you will be forgiven. If you spill soup on your tie, or forgot to shave half your face, or take another man's hat by mistake, or promise to mail a letter and carry it around in your pocket for two weeks, just say, "I'm 80, you know," and nobody will say a thing.

You have a perfect alibi for everything when you're 80. If you act silly, you're in your "second childhood."

Being 80 is much better than being 70. At 70 people are mad at you for everything, but if you make it to 80, you can talk back, argue, disagree and insist on having your own way because everybody things you are getting a little soft in the head.

They say that life begins at 40. Not true. If you ask me, life begins at 80!

Sign me...

GOT IT MADE AT 80

DEAR ABBY: I witnessed something last evening that distressed me greatly.

My aunt and uncle were trying to bribe their 2-year-old daughter with candy to hug and kiss some relatives the child has never seen before. The child was obviously shy and didn't want to put on a phony show of affection to people who were virtually strangers to her.

With all the horror stories about children being sexually abused these days, parents should not encourage their children to hug and kiss people they have never seen before — even if they are relatives. It makes that child all the more vulnerable to sexual abuse should a relative (or a stranger) try to take improper liberties in the future.

All children should be taught that it's OK for them to say no if they don't want to be touched, hugged or kissed.

A CONCERNED NIECE

DEAR CONCERNED: You are concerned with good reason. We've all seen well-intentioned grown-ups encourage reluctant youngsters to "go kiss Uncle

So-and-So" without realizing the danger you point out.

Thanks for caring enough to write. I learned something valuable today.

DEAR ABBY: We received a wedding invitation from a casual acquaintance. What are our obligations? We have never socialized with these people. Must we send a gift even if we decline the invitation? My wife says yes. I disagree. My wife received an invitation to a shower. She declined the invitation. Is it necessary to send a gift anyway? Again, she's not a close friend of the bride or the hostess.

My wife insists that everyone who receives a shower invitation is expected to send a gift whether she attends the shower or not. I submit that no gift is required unless the invitation is accepted.

I realize that this is not exactly an earthshaking problem, but if you say I'm right, my wife will have to buy me a lobster dinner.

PHILIP C. IN WEST HARTFORD

DEAR PHILIP: Tell Mrs. C. she owes you a lobster dinner.

DEAR ABBY: For my birthday, my older sister in Maine just sent me the following: a book on how to knit, three candy dinosaur eggs, and a tanned (slightly odoriferous) skunk pelt. Do you think she was trying to tell me something?

LYS IN GIG HARBOR, WASH.

DEAR LYS: I haven't the foggiest. Please give me a little more information. How old are you? How old is your sister? Do you knit? If not, have you ever expressed a desire to learn how? Do you like candy? If so, were the dinosaur eggs edible? As for the slightly odoriferous skunk pelt: I give up. What did you give her for her last birthday?

Billy Crystal Going Back Home

By Dick Kleiner
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Billy Crystal says seven years is long enough for a vacation. He's decided to return to New York to be a regular this season on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live."

Crystal is from the New York area originally. It is also where he began his career. As a stand-up comedian, he later worked hither, thither and East Yon, and wound up in California seven years ago!

"These past seven years," he says, "have been like being on a perpetual vacation. The life here is too good. In New York, things happen that bring you up short — you keep saying things like 'that damn cab driver' — and it keeps you on your toes. Here, things are too easy."

You probably know Crystal best for his years on "Soap" as Jodie Dallas, the first homosexual character on a regular prime-time show.

"Soap" wasn't fun to do," says Crystal. "The people I worked with were great. But it was, for me, too much of doing the same thing. Besides, playing a gay character was different — it hadn't been done before — and the public wasn't sure what to make of it, so it was always difficult."

So now he'll be back with his friends, doing fun things with fun people.

QUIETLY, JOHNNY CASH has made a lot of friends, and this column had something to do with it. Quite a few readers in the Midwest — Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas — wrote in to say that they had ordered a Cash album ("A Believer Sings the Truth"), but never received the record.

We called this to Cash's attention. Even though he was not involved in the offer, and had no obligation to do so, he arranged for albums to be sent to all the people who had sent money and hadn't received it.

One correspondent says he ordered the album in February 1983, and finally got it — from Cash directly — in May 1984.

MUSIC, TODAY, is not so much musical as it is theatrical.

So says Sam Strain, one of The O'Jays, a group which continues to be among the most popular in the country.

It is, of course, the advent of videos that has accelerated the trend to theatrics in music. So far, The O'Jays have not made any videos. But Strain says he believes it is inevitable. He thinks their next recording deal will include a provision for videos. "I think videos are great," Strain says. "I'm a nostalgia nut myself, and just think of what videos means. Performers will be able to leave behind a visual legacy as well as an audio legacy."

"And for performers, videos will be a very valuable reference tool — they can pull out a video to see what they have done in the past."

The O'Jays trace their history back to Canton, Ohio, where a couple of them began singing together in elementary school. There have been changes in personnel along the way, but the basic group has been together since 1972. In rock music, that's an eternity.

"We'd like to keep on singing together," says Strain, "until people stop coming to see us."

Eight LMHS Scholars Attain Status Of Commended Students

Lake Mary High School has notified that eight of its seniors have been designated Commended Students in the 1985 Merit Program.

Principal Don T. Reynolds said today that Rebecca Durak, Gregory A. Fenick, Lance E. Fox, David W. Gibson, Kristin R. Lauterer, Jeffrey A. Schwartz, James E. Shepherd, and Kasper S. Wang placed in the top five percent of over one million participants in the 30th annual competition and will receive a Letter of Commendation in honor of outstanding promise for future academic success.

An officer of National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), which administers the program, said, "The exceptionally high test performance of young people who are named Commended Students in the extremely competitive Merit Program is deserving of recognition in their communities. To acknowledge the attainments of academically talented students and to credit schools for the part they play in the development of these youth are important in a nation that values excellence.

Participants entered the current Merit Program by taking the PSAT/NMSQT in the fall of 1983 when most of them were juniors. Although the qualifying test scores of the 35,000 Commended Students designated nationwide were very high, they were slightly below the level required for semifinalist standing in the competition for some 5,500 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1985.

Santa's Coming

Growing Old Healthily

NEW YORK (UPI) — The medical profession is nearing its goal of wiping out senility and other diseases associated with old age, so the elderly will be mentally and physically healthy until days before their death.

Dr. David Rogers, president of a nonprofit foundation that monitors medical care, told American Heritage magazine that researchers have been making great strides toward curing senility and other diseases of old age.

Rogers, former dean of Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, said the goal is "a system in which we will have answers to cancer, to the rotting of your arteries, to the aging of your brain and to other mysteries."

The cures would give people "every chance of taking care of yourself and surviving soundly to 85 or so, at which point you can just take to your bed one day and be dead shortly thereafter," he said.
