Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—"On a short-term basis the market has once again become overvalued enough to launch a decent rally," the Dimes Letter says. However, the letter warns that this has happened before in this bear market and "the market nevertheless plunged so that it became even more overvalued and the subsequent rallies even more violent." It says, "you will see a resumption of the latter wave and...chances are there will be a test of the 1962 lows."

"A good sized advance is indicated for the market with earnings prospects more favorable for later in the year," according to the International Statistical Bureau Inc.

Span Funds May Be In 1971-72 Budget

Hope Expressed For New Osteen Bridge

By CHARNER LEONE
"We were most encouraged by the expressions of support from officials and civic leaders," said Douglas Stenstrom, long-time advocate of a new Osteen bridge over the St. Johns River on SR-411. He spoke of the reaction of leaders from Orange, Volusia and Seminole Counties at a meeting to discuss the immediate future of the bridge.

"I was especially pleased at the understanding and attitude of Ed Mueller, the secretary of the Department of Transportation, has shown towards our problem," said Stenstrom. "Mr. Mueller has amended the 1970-71 fiscal year budget to put $2 million for the preliminary engineering of the bridge." He noted that the money for the engineering was not in the budget as it was announced in April, but has since been added.

"There is hope of getting the money for that actual construction of the bridge in the 1971-72 budget," he stated. Stenstrom gave a brief history of the efforts to rebuild the "mule trail" bridge. He noted how, in the early days of the canal program, almost 30 years ago, they couldn't get funds for the reconstruction of the bridge in the state budget.

RiCharde To Speak

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Ninth Region, Florida Water and Pollution Control Operators Association will be held in Leesburg, Friday, at 6:30 p.m. at Boulevard Buffet, 9900 West North Boulevard.

The cocktail hour will be at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m., the regular business meeting will follow the dinner.

John Mercer, a banker and a member of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, noted that there have been 82 accidents between the eastern city limits of Sanford and the bridge. The distance is two and a half miles. "The majority of the accidents occurred at the bridge, I'll bet," said Mercer.

"Nodes of agreement greeted the remark."

PASS IT ON by L.M. Boyd

IF SOPHIA LOREN had not already made public knowledge of it, I would report the fact she has the biggest feet along all the ladies of the world... HIGH-PITCHED SOUNDS can extinguish a flame. Knowing this, the inventors are trying to come up with a noise box that fire departments can use instead of water hoses.

MORALS — Ohio State University researchers conducted a study about how our morals change with age. The older we get, they concluded, the more tolerant we become about reports of extramarital affairs, but the less tolerant we become about reports of mercy killings. That makes sense, to quote the little old lady on taxatives.

PERSONAL NOTE — It was just 100 years ago that the first rubber nursing nipple was put on a baby's bottle. Long time back that. As a lad on the farm I once found a box of old cow horns in the attic. They had been used as baby's bottles, it was said, before the unnatural nipple came along.

RAPID REPLY — Yes, sir, the town of Liberty, Texas, was founded by Frenchmen who intended it to be the military headquarters from which Napoleon was to conquer Mexico.

A-Bomb Chief Relates The Account

World's 1st Nuclear Blast 25 Years Ago

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a first-person account of the world's first nuclear explosion, set off at Alamogordo, N.M., July 16, 1945. Dr. George B. Kistiakowsky, 75, now the Abbot and James Lawrence Professor of Chemistry at Harvard University, was chief of the explosives division of the Los Alamos Laboratory of the Manhattan Project which developed the first atomic bomb. Years later he became science adviser to President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Summit Conference to provide (President Harry S.) Truman with a possibly very important negotiating instrument. The spring of 1945 was a period of enormously intense activity and hard work at Los Alamos, and I would say, the division I headed. We were responsible for the actuating mechanism of the bomb; that is, everything inside the nuclear casing and down to the nuclear components at the center of the implosion bomb, something over 8,000 pounds together, mostly explosives. We completed assembly of the test bomb at Los Alamos some time on Thursday, July 12, and shortly after midnight on Friday the 13th which I chose deliberately for good luck — spent the night in the tower; I led a convoy which took the body of the bomb to the test site at Alamogordo, where we arrived early Friday morning. The bomb was hoisted to the top of the tower and its final assembly was completed. It was now about 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning. We proceeded very systematically to close a sequence of electrical switches which made the bomb safe from accidental detonation. Dr. (Donald) Horning (now president of Brown University), suddenly got the message it had been decided to carry out the test. There was tremendous pressure, because the Potsdam Conference was already under way, to get the test done before the conference was over. It was now about 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning. In a beautiful ritual setting at the Imperial House, Winter Park, Mrs. W. A. Kratzert, and daughters, Evie Park and Rose Kratzert, were hostesses July 11, to a luncheon honoring Miss Merritt Philips, daughter-in-law of Charles Lane.

Enhancing her chic ensemble was a Cartiers orchid corsage, a gift from the hostesses, who also presented her with a gift of crystal in her registered pattern.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My brother asked me to write to you to see if you can help him get any closer to marriage with his girl friend of 10 years — I'll call her "Zelda."

Zelda loves the big city and my brother likes the quiet of the countryside. Zelda doesn't come alive until 10 p.m., and at that hour my brother is ready for bed.

Even though they live 300 miles apart, they see each other on week-ends and holidays. (My brother files his own plane.)

Zelda is jealous of anyone who looks at him twice, but she doesn't care for sex herself. (She was in a concentration camp when she was young.)

My brother would like a family, but since he is 40 and Zelda is 43 and they aren't married yet, that looks doubtful. What do you think, Abby?

HIS SISTER

DEAR SISTER: I think if your brother wants marriage, he should look for someone who likes the quiet of the countryside, sex, and won't take 10 years to make up her mind. A 40-year-old man who files his own plane should have no trouble landing a girl.

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged professional woman. Several months ago a person whom I considered to be a legal friend accused me of repeating some confidential information she told me about another person. I did not repeat the information, but I know who did, and if I were to tell my friend who repeated it, she would be terribly upset.

My friend just assumes that I am the guilty one, and she refuses to believe otherwise. This has hurt me deeply.

It is impossible to communicate with someone who has a closed mind. Is there any way I can reach this friend? I want to set her straight to clear myself, but in so doing she will be put someone else on the spot.

A SINCERE FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Too bad your friend with the "closed mind" doesn't have a mouth to match. If she passed on "confidential information" which created trouble (which appears to be the case) — shame on her. To you, I say, in the future don't listen to that kind of "information."

My brother would like a family, but since he is 40 and Zelda is 43 and they aren't married yet, that looks doubtful. What do you think, Abby?

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

What is the one? If it is West, he can develop a simple squeeze against him by cashing the top spade and the ace and king of clubs. Everyone will be down to four cards and West will have to throw away his heart guard to keep the diamond jack.

It is more likely that East is in lead in hearts. Not very entertaining, but joyfully make it worth-while to see what can be done about that.

A double squeeze can be developed in this case. South runs off his top hearts and goes to dummy with the king of clubs. Then he leads dummy's last spade. East must go down to one club to keep the heart jack. Now South discards his little heart and West must also go down to one club to keep a diamond. South's ace and nine of clubs will be the last two tricks.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. Crane

(1) The first step is to take a preliminary deep breath, then hold it and float face downward in the water, with hands no longer supporting the child's weight on the chest and breast.

This teaches the child the feel of buoyancy that the water offers.

(2) You can then combine this with the first two steps.

(3) The next step is to have the youngster stand upright in water that is at least knee deep.

After it takes a deep breath and holds it, let it raise its hands high over head, as if to take a dive, and then merely fall face forward into the water.

If you wish to add more excitement out of this step, suggest that you are playing "Cowboys and Indians" and go "howay" as the child is ready to fall.

He can then drop, like a log, but face downward.

Since he has already learned by this time to hold his breath for possibly 10 seconds, he can strike the water, go completely underneath, and then let the buoyancy of the water bring him back to the surface, after which he may immediately stand upright and again wipe the surplus water from his hair and face.

You may wish to stagger these steps over a few days, but often you can get a child to complete all four steps in one afternoon.

(4) The fifth step consists of repeating number four, but while in the water, let it take a few strokes with its hands and feet, with eyes open or closed as it prefers at this early stage.

You parents can call out the strokes, as "One-Two, Three-Two, and then let it stand up."

(5) The final step is to let it repeat number five but try to take a breath or two while paddling and before it stands up.

Then it is dog-paddling, which is the best start for later star swimming.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Old Friendships Are Renewed With Former Students

Lack Of 'American Strain' Is Noted In Norway And Denmark

(Editor's Note: Following is the fourth in a series of articles concerning the recent trip to Russia and the Scandinavian countries by R. H. and A. N. Haskell.)

It had been seven years since we had been in Europe and nine years since we visited Scandinavia when we left New York for Oslo on May 1.

New York is one of the places I like best. The contrast between the noise and rush of the city and the quiet of a quarter hour later, was as relaxing, smiling and healthy by comparison as the quiet of the country was a blessed relief. Of course, we had come from a city of more than seven million to one of 500,000, but the difference was more marked than between New York and a city of 500,000 in the United States.

The apparent lack of strain was something we would not have over and over again as we traveled through Norway and Denmark. One explanation given by our friends was that the Scandinavians, being citizens of small countries, didn't play a major part in world affairs and hence had no serious fighting in South Viet Nam or Cambodia. Another was that, being citizens of socialist countries, the Scandinavians didn't worry about things like medical bills, educational expenses and financing their retirement to the same extent Americans did. I didn't know the answer, but the Scandinavians do appear to be getting more fun out of life than most Americans, and they do it in a very simple way. They have fewer washing machines and smaller automobiles.

When we were in Norway in 1961, rooms and meals were so cheap it was almost embarrassing. This was no longer true. Rooms for two, with bath, in Oslo's best hotels ran from $20 to $30. A good dinner at one of the better restaurants was around $10 a person.

There was a sharp difference between prices in smaller cities. In Bergen, a city of 200,000, prices were about two-thirds of Oslo's, in small towns and country establishments prices were still lower. In some rural areas you could have a fine dinner for two, a room with bath and breakfast for about $10. Breakfast of fish, cheese, eggs, salads, varieties of breads, jam, sweet rolls, coffee, milk and juice with the bill coming to about $10, including taxes and service.

One of the reasons we were anxious to visit Norway was that we had had a number of parents and were not allowed to do it. Strolling they had done on their own.

After a few days in Oslo, we went on to Bergen, which is celebrating its 900th birthday to attend part of the annual musical festival there. The Bergen symphony is in its 50th year. The music was superb.

Bergen is a major port on the coast above the Arctic Circle in Norway—east of the Norwegian south of the circle claiming there are no morals above it almost to the border between Norway and Russia.

We were in the Arctic for a week. During this time the sun never set. It is a strange feeling to have it all daylight all the time. It makes you think how awful it must be in mid-winter with no daylight and the temperature below zero. While we were there in the never-ending daylight, the temperature was just about zero. The thermometer was just above zero. We were just so much scenery you felt like asking someone to turn it off and give it to you an hour or so at a time so you could drink it all in.

We landed our stay in Norway with a five day automobile trip from Oslo around the southern tip of Norway to Hogsund and back across the mountains to Oslo. This is the part of Norway least frequented by American tourists, which is too bad because it is truly beautiful. It offers everything from dense woods to barren rock mountains to fine farmlands and ancient buildings to fine modern factories.

It is obvious we both added a "Bergen mark" to our collection. One day we had a flat tire in a mountain village. The event took place in front of a combination filling station-general store. Unfortunately the man in the "family" was away and the lady was equipped to pump gasoline but not to change tires. This establishment was next door to another gasoline station-general store. This one was run by a man, probably in his 70's. When he saw our problem he came over and changed our tire in his competitor's establishment, using his competitor's tools. He didn't want any pay. I don't know where this could have happened.

There is another moral to the story. That is, never take a rental car without checking to see you have the tools necessary to change a tire.

A final Norwegian note concerns one of the funniest things I've ever seen. There was a Norwegian hippie girl, long haired and dirty, sitting with her back braced against her boyfriend's back on the lawn of a Bergen park. She was doing needlepoint by the illumination of a street lamp.

Big Fight Seen On Cooper-Church

WASHINGTON (AP) — A dozen members of Congress will be in the city for a session marked by parliamentary confusion and Democratic charges that the White House twisted arms of doubtful members.

Indications point to a tough fight in conference, with House members against curbing presidential power in Cambodia, but the Senate representatives overwhelmingly in support of the amendment.

The Senate members line up 1 to 1 in favor of Cooper-Church and also have little use for the military sales bill which both the Nixon administration and House conferees want extended.

"My impression is that the Senate is going to hang tough," said Rep. Donald M. Fraser, D-Minn., who described the Thursday scene as "a typical narrow

S. Viets Kick Off Major New Operation

By RICHARD PYLE Associated Press Writer SAIGON (AP) — Nearly 5,000 South Vietnamese troops launched a major new sweep today, seeking to destroy North Vietnamese base camps in rugged jungle country west of Da Nang.

Kicking off one of the biggest operations in months in the northern provinces, waves of U.S. Marine helicopters landed the assault troops and their American advisers shortly after daylight in an area 25 to 40 miles east of the Laotian frontier. No major allied operations have taken place there in years.

Only light contact was reported in the early hours of the operation.

The attack force included three battalions of South Vietnamese marines recently withdrawn from Cambodia and two battalions of Vietnamese special forces troops, the mercenaries paid by the United States and trained and led by U.S. Green Berets.

Their primary targets were two North Vietnamese base areas west and southwest of Thung Duc. It is the site of a Special Forces camp which was under sporadic rocket and mortar fire until about two weeks ago.

Col. Nguyen Van Thien, the commander of the operation, said his force was taking advantage of good weather to spoil potential enemy buildings for large ground attacks such as they have almost always made in August.

South Vietnamese officers also took the wraps off another push, a three-battalion operation that began Sunday west of Hiep Duc, which is 32 miles south of Da Nang. A district town, Hiep Duc has been attacked repeatedly since the first of the year and during May was partially occupied for five days by North Vietnamese troops.

Nix's contact with the enemy was reported in this operation. Spokenmen in Saigon reported that enemy activity across the country was the lightest in several months, with the only sharp fighting involving U.S. forces in four contacts, one American and 20 of the enemy were killed, and 13 Americans were wounded, the U.S. Command said.

Schools Will Accept U. S. Plan For Mixing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — An Appalachian governor has urged President Nixon to adopt a new regional concept of funding federal money to the states, a proposal that says will boost his chances of getting his revenue-sharing plan through Congress.

Nixon was reported impressed with the governors' plan during a private three-hour conference Tuesday, but made no commitment.

Gov. Albert Brewer of Alabama, co-chairman of the Appalachian Regional Commission, said the regional approach would complement Nixon's revenue sharing proposals now tied up in the House Ways and Means Committee.

He indicated the governors wanted Nixon to expand the concept behind their five-year old regional commission to a nationwide network of similar agencies.

Brewer said the key advantage of the Appalachian program is its emphasis on planning and setting priorities, forcing local governments to band together to seek federal funds.

Nixon put in plugs for both his revenue-sharing and family assistance programs at the session with the governors.

Bombings May Open New Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, opening hearings into the 2,000 bombings reported across the nation in the past 18 months, says the violence may mark the beginning of domestic guerrilla action.

"These are criminal acts," the Arkansas Democrat said in an interview. "But they are indicators for profit. These are crimes committed out of an attitude of rebellion against society and against all constituted authority."

"They are intended to instill terror into the people and the community. And they are reaching proportions requiring us to put the pattern together, to learn if they are connected to detect an organized conspiracy, and to learn if additional laws will be helpful to stop this wave of senseless violence."

Since Jan. 1, 1968, McClellan's investigators said, there have been more than 1,000 bombings involving the use of high-explosive and more than 4,000 involving incendiary devices, an average of more than nine bomb incidents a day.

The result, they say, has been an up to 60 deaths, about 300 injuries and more than $23 million in property damage.

Her shoulder length veil of silk tulle fell from a headpiece of a cluster of silk orchids embellished with seed pearls. Her bouquet was of white carnation and baby's breath.

Miss Barbara Ann Walden attended her sister as maid of honor. Serving as bridesmaid was Karen Evans, sister of the groom.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids were dressed identically in yellow and white floor length gowns and carried bouquets of yellow mums.

Budget Approved

A tentative $22.6 million budget for 1970-71 school year, all time high for Seminole County schools, was approved yesterday afternoon at a board meeting.

Including a proposed $14.5 million operating budget, the amount will require a 15 mill property tax levy, an increase from the 12.97 mill levied a year ago.

Bids were taken from four companies to construct the grandstand facility to Lyman High School new athletic field, but were tabled by board action until later in the week.

The apparent low bidder appeared to be Manuel Builders of Orlando with a bid of $75,600 and $55,444 alternate, but no awards were made.

Marine Resources, of Fern Park, is building an underwater construction assistance vehicle for the Navy.

"The CAV costs around $30,000 to build, whereas, similar underwater vehicles used in research have cost in the millions of dollars."

"The CAV is designed to help solve divers' problems by hauling underwater. At the present time there is no available equipment to do this particular type of work. The CAV is capable of delivering up to 2,000 pounds of cargo, equipment and divers to an area under water construction site."

The vehicle is electrically powered. The power source consists of two 60-volt batteries which drive a motor capable of developing six horsepower and reaching a top speed of 2 1/2 knots submerged.

The conference will be held Aug. 11-18 in Kyoto, Japan.

5,000 Troops Sweep West of Da Nang

S. Viets Kick Off Major New Operation

By RICHARD PYLE Associated Press Writer SAIGON (AP) — Nearly 5,000 South Vietnamese troops launched a major new sweep today, seeking to destroy North Vietnamese base camps in rugged jungle country west of Da Nang.

Kicking off one of the biggest operations in months in the northern provinces, waves of U.S. Marine helicopters landed the assault troops and their American advisers shortly after daylight in an area 25 to 40 miles east of the Laotian frontier. No major allied operations have taken place there in years.

Only light contact was reported in the early hours of the operation.

The attack force included three battalions of South Vietnamese marines recently withdrawn from Cambodia and two battalions of Vietnamese special forces troops, the mercenaries paid by the United States and trained and led by U.S. Green Berets.

Their primary targets were two North Vietnamese base areas west and southwest of Thung Duc. It is the site of a Special Forces camp which was under sporadic rocket and mortar fire until about two weeks ago.

Col. Nguyen Van Thien, the commander of the operation, said his force was taking advantage of good weather to spoil potential enemy buildings for large ground attacks such as they have almost always made in August.

South Vietnamese officers also took the wraps off another push, a three-battalion operation that began Sunday west of Hiep Duc, which is 32 miles south of Da Nang. A district town, Hiep Duc has been attacked repeatedly since the first of the year and during May was partially occupied for five days by North Vietnamese troops.

Nix's contact with the enemy was reported in this operation. Spokenmen in Saigon reported that enemy activity across the country was the lightest in several months, with the only sharp fighting involving U.S. forces in four contacts, one American and 20 of the enemy were killed, and 13 Americans were wounded, the U.S. Command said.

Bombings May Open New Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, opening hearings into the 2,000 bombings reported across the nation in the past 18 months, says the violence may mark the beginning of domestic guerrilla action.

"These are criminal acts," the Arkansas Democrat said in an interview. "But they are indicators for profit. These are crimes committed out of an attitude of rebellion against society and against all constituted authority."

"They are intended to instill terror into the people and the community. And they are reaching proportions requiring us to put the pattern together, to learn if they are connected to detect an organized conspiracy, and to learn if additional laws will be helpful to stop this wave of senseless violence."

Since Jan. 1, 1968, McClellan's investigators said, there have been more than 1,000 bombings involving the use of high-explosive and more than 4,000 involving incendiary devices, an average of more than nine bomb incidents a day.

The result, they say, has been an up to 60 deaths, about 300 injuries and more than $23 million in property damage.

Fondue For Fun!

Here's a change of pace that will surely become a family favorite. Or it's great for parties! Just a minimum of work for you, too. Each person cooks his own—and you get all the praise.

Select Swift's Premium Pro-Ten sirloin tip—amount according to number of guests—and cut into one-inch cubes. Marinate for about 15 minutes in your favorite sauce. Several quick and easy packaged marinades are available.

Heat one quart of peanut oil on stove until it just begins to smoke. Transfer it to your fondue cooker, and keep hot with canned heat. Each guest gets a fondue fork and a generous serving of sirloin cubes, and the fun begins!

Several tasty dips are made simply. Sour cream and dried onion soup mix is popular. Horseradish and ketchup cocktail sauce is another favorite.

All you need to serve with your fondue is a large Caesar salad and garlic-toasted French bread. Some folks like a piping hot baked potato, too.

Everything you'll need for an evening of fondue fun is at PUBLIX. Lots of other ideas, too, for simple summer menus—so you'll have more time for fun in the Florida sun.

Cookout Hot Potato Salad Is Enjoyable

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
For your next cookout, you might enjoy serving a Hot Potato Salad. It goes beautifully with frankfurters and hamburgers and it's good, too, with steak or grilled chicken.

This salad uses one of the best of the convenient frozen products — whole small parboiled potatoes. All you have to do is to cook the potatoes according to package directions before slicing and mixing them with the other ingredients. And it's a made-ahead salad — always good news.

When you want to serve the salad indoors, you can warm it in a large skillet or turn it into a baking dish and heat in the oven. The recipe gives directions for both outdoor and indoor use.

COOKOUT HOT POTATO SALAD
1 package (1 1/2 pounds) frozen whole small potatoes
6 slices (1/4 pound) bacon
1/4 cup cider or white vinegar
2 teaspoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
1 cup sliced (medium-fine) celery
2 medium scallions (green onions) with most of green top included, thinly sliced (about 1/2 cup)
1/4 cup mayonnaise

Cook potatoes in boiling salted water according to package directions. Drain and cool slightly; cut into 1/4-inch slices; turn into a medium mixing bowl.

In a 10-inch skillet cook bacon until brown; drain on paper toweling; crumble.

From the skillet drain the bacon fat; return 2 tablespoons of the fat to the skillet. To bacon fat in skillet add the vinegar, sugar, mustard and bring to a boil; pour over potatoes. Add celery, scallions, mayonnaise and bacon; toss lightly; cover and refrigerate.

When ready to warm the potato salad outdoors, transfer it to a 10-inch skillet with a heat-proof handle; or wrap in heavy-weight foil. To use foil, tear off a 28-inch piece of 18-inch foil, then fold to 14 by 18 inches. Place potato salad in center of doubled foil. Bring opposite ends of foil together and close with a double (drugstore) fold; close remaining opposite ends with a double fold.

Place skillet, covered, or foil-wrapped salad at edge of grill, about 3 inches from hot coals, until warm through — about 30 minutes for the foil-wrapped salad; occasionally stir potato mixture in skillet or turn foil package several times.

Note: This salad should be served only warm, so don't over-heat it. To serve the salad indoors, warm it in a large skillet over low heat, stirring occasionally. Or turn the salad into an oblong glass baking dish (10 by 6 by 1 1/2 inches) or similar utensil; cover with foil (if utensil has no cover) and place in a preheated 350-degree oven until warm through — about 30 minutes.

Makes 6 cups salad or 8 servings, 2/3 cup each.

2 tablespoons sugar
4 slices seeded rye bread
Sliced Swiss cheese
Sliced cooked corned beef
Prepared mustard

Into a 6-inch skillet turn the undrained sauerkraut and the sugar; heat; drain thoroughly. Cover 4 of the bread slices with the sauerkraut; add a layer of sauerkraut; then one of corned beef. Spread the beef with the mustard and top with the remaining bread. Toast under the broiler; turn and toast the other side. Cheese should partly melt. Cut each sandwich in half and serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

SOVEREIGN DATE CAKE
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts
1/2 cup (1 quarter-pound stick) butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
Grated rind of 1 medium orange (1 tablespoon)
2 large eggs
1 container (8 ounces) commercial sour cream

Topping, see below
Grease and flour a 9-inch angel-food cake pan with a removable bottom. On wax paper sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt; add dates and walnuts, separating date pieces. In large mixing bowl, cream butter, sugar and grated rind; thoroughly beat in eggs, one at a time; stir in flour mixture, alternately with sour cream, in 4 additions just until batter is smooth each time. Turn into prepared pan. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—about 1 hour and 15 minutes. Slowly spoon Topping over cake, letting cake absorb it before adding next amount. Let cake stand on wire rack for 5 minutes; with a small spatula loosen tube and edges; turn out on rack; with another rack, turn rightside up. Cool completely. Wrap in transparent plastic wrap and store in tightly covered tin box.

TOPPING: Stir together the strained juice of 1 medium orange (1/4 to 1/2 cup) and 1/4 cup sugar until sugar dissolves.
