"Shiny Noses" Result When Freshmen Girls Resolve To Forsake Lipstick and Rouge

Lipstick and rouge were officially banned, and the carrying of vanity cases discontinued by the Freshmen co-eds of the Sanford High School today. There will be weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth among local drug stores, proprietors, but local mothers and local dads and most discriminating swains are 100 per cent behind the movement, which is interpreted as a step away from the super-artificiality of the sex today.

Sanford Herald

Diamond Acreage in Sanford

You enjoyed, no doubt, the account by Arthur Brisbane of his ride up Fifth Avenue in New York City with Joseph Pulitzer. That was thirty years ago. The Avenue then, along the east side of Central Park was made of cobblestones. The land was undeveloped, then and could be bought for a song. But Pulitzer would not buy because no one would ever drive up the Avenue over those cobblestones and the property would never amount to much. Other people felt the same way about it, but a few did not. A few bought and became rich.

There were "acres of diamonds" in those days along the sides of Fifth Avenue, that could be bought for a song. And there are "acres of diamonds" in other places selling just as cheaply. The road to riches lies through real estate, no matter where that real estate lies. You don't have to buy land in New York City to make your million on it in thirty years. Millions are being made right here in Florida, and there is just as much real hard money in Sanford dirt.

They told us the other day of a man who two years ago bought ten lots in south-east Sanford. In a year he had sold all of these lots and doubled his money. One of the lots was purchased by a man a year and a half ago for one hundred and fifty dollars. He sold it the other day for eleven hundred and fifty dollars. Two months ago a bungalow on Park Avenue sold for fifty-five hundred. A week ago sixty-five hundred was refused for it. It is being held for seventy-five hundred. These are only a few samples of how diamonds are being dug right here in Sanford.

Are you asleep to your opportunities, or are you digging too? Will you be one of those who ten years from now will say, "Once I could have bought that piece of property for two hundred dollars? Yesterday it sold for five thousand." Will you scratch your head and wonder "why didn't I see that Sanford was moving in that direction, and invest my savings then in lots out there? I would be rich now if I had." Don't be that kind. Be the kind who provides for the future by dropping into the soil odd dollars which will grow and blossom into millions. Don't say that, because you haven't any capital, you can't afford to invest in real estate. If you have a salary of thirty dollars a week, you can afford to invest ten dollars a month in some carefully selected lot. If you have a salary of thirty-five dollars a week, you can buy two lots. You can buy lots in Sanford on any terms you wish. And you can sell them in six months time and make a comfortable profit for yourself. That is the way real money is made today. Buy now and you won't have to worry about old age.

The "Word Game" Could Work Wonders

Eight or ten years ago "Unity", the New Thought magazine, outlined a "Word Game" which could be played to good advantage in many homes and social groups.

The magazine reported that the "Good Words Club" at that time had 4200 members and was figuring that there would be more than a half million members in ten years, at the ratio of growth it was making at that time. The Herald hasn't seen a recent copy of Unity and doesn't know how the "Good Words Club" is prospering, but the idea is a mighty fine one, as any one will agree when he reads the Club's pledge which went in this wise:

I believe in the power of the spoken word, and I realize that I am held accountable for even my lightest words. I also believe that there is power in united effort. Therefore, I desire to become a member of Unity Good Words Club that I may unite in helping others as well as myself to speak only good, true words.

I agree to guard my conversations against all words of gossip anxiety, foolishness, impurity, untruthfulness, crime, fear, nagging, complaining, sickness, poverty and anger, and to turn them toward words of trust, wisdom, goodness, health, prosperity, praise, joy and good will.

In the "Word Game", described in the magazine, the player is asked to pretend that he has two telephones at his command. On his right, when the receiver is placed to his ear, he hears only the good, the true and the beautiful. On his left, if he puts that receiver to his ear, he hears only error, sickness, poverty and woe. With a little discipline, the player is reminded, he can train himself only to contact his mind with the Good Word wire, and to avoid the weed-word wire.

A monitor is appointed to warn players that they are on the weed wire, and in time self-willfulness keeps a person entirely off the wire that carries words, and thoughts, of fear and gloom and unhappiness.

Such a game played every day from waking hour to sleeping time at night could convert many a dreary dwelling place into a happy home.

DOG'S BROKEN HEART

Don't be too skeptical of that story the Providence News published yesterday about the New Jersey juror's dog which died from a broken heart, close upon the death of its owner.

Those who have had experience with dogs, who have hunted with them, who have relied upon them in the bleak Arctic regions, who have had them as pets in the family, will not readily wave aside the Hudson county dispatch, telling how Judge Lazarus's canine companion, Rambo, died away and died when his master himself was called into the Deep.

The dog is the only animal that has a real affection for man like a mother, man's best friend in all the world, he will cleave unto the worst vagabond and scoundrel,

OUTLAWING WAR

The protocol of the League of Nations outlawing war, with the support that has been given to it, is sufficient evidence that the League is living and growing. This "Protocol for the Pacific Settlement of International Disputes" is as strong in its provisions as the famous Article X itself, although there is included in it explanations of what each signatory shall contribute toward preservation of the peace, explanations which are intended to preserve for each member of the League its own independence of action in the joint effort to restrain a country bent upon aggressive war.

As Brisbane Sees It

New Men, New Monuments O'Banion and Napoleon. Harvard's Catholic. "Fellow." Beheading Two Sisters. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1924)

AS MEN change, their monuments change. A pile of drying skulls, five times the height of a man, seemed glorious to one kind of ruler. Then came the great pyramid, with the little body of some Pharaoh lying under it. Then the man on horseback, with letters telling how he had ridden over his enemies. There was the castle on the hill, and the great cathedral monument to religion's power.

Now comes the financial monument, celebrating power of capital which is human labor frozen into money, controlling millions of dollars ready to be released for any kind of work.

YESTERDAY IN Chicago S. W. Straus dedicated to the use of constructive finance a building thirty-two stories high, costing $18,000,000, looking out across Lake Michigan, and creating a new financial centre on Michigan avenue.

WITH HIS "Straus Plan," S. W. Straus has done more building, in the big cities of the United States, than any other individual in America. More than any other he has contributed to the solution of a great problem that followed the war—the shortage of dwellings.

THE HUNTING SEASON

The Straus plan gathers scattered dollars and combines them for safe investment in big building units. Under this plan safe and profitable investments are found for hundreds of millions and employment for tens of thousands of mechanics.

S. W. Straus is able truthfully to boast of the fact that in more than forty years of continuous business no investor has ever lost a dollar through his firm.

He deserves congratulations on his new and gigantic monument to conservative finance.

CLERGYMEN IN Chicago deplore the "grand funeral" given to Dion O'Banion, a professional murderer. They say the ten thousand dollar coffin and expensive flowers set a bad example.

ANOTHER INTERESTING question is this: What will civil and human beings in the future think about the honor we pay to the corpse of Napoleon lying under the magnificent gilt dome of the Invalides?

There was a real wholesale killer, a champion "gun man" when two devils, soldiers of another gunman, were fleeing across the ice on a frozen lake, he said to the gamblers, "Lower your aim, and break the ice." The man was drowned. O'Banion would never have thought of that.

JOHN J. CHAPMAN of New York, protests to William Law, Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, because a Roman Catholic priest, James P. McHugh, elected a "fellow" of Harvard College.

MR. CHAPMAN knows the history of ancient universities. He knows that in France, Spain, Italy, England and elsewhere they were founded directly by the Roman Catholic Church.

If universities in Paris, at Oxford, and elsewhere, would survive the fact that they were drawn to the Roman Catholic Church, it is probable that Harvard will be able to survive the election of one Roman Catholic "fellow."

This is the first time, by the way, that a Roman Catholic has ever been elected one of the seven "fellows" that are supposed to rule Harvard.

IN BERLIN yesterday two young sisters, Elizabeth and Gertrude Alm, twenty three and twenty four years old, were sentenced to have their heads cut off for murder. These young women, educated, studying with a Bohemian artist, murdered his housekeeper and robbed the house.

You know that there is a difference between men and women, when you read that to each day two young MEN had murdered some one who would not shock you much, but SISTERS committing a murder—that seems very strange.

IT IS HARD to imagine two young, educated women committing murder, and hardly still to imagine any human being standing up, broad-ax in hand, to chop off the heads of two girls, one after the other.

The girls will feel nothing. The moment their necks are broken sensation will end. The man that cuts their heads off will feel as little, probably.

THE HUNTING SEASON

ST. PETERSBURG TIMES

The hunting season in Florida opens today. Doubtless there will be many gamblers in Finellas woods today, and when they are back at home late this afternoon their game bags will probably be reasonably well filled.

The time was when Florida was well stocked with wild food and animals. Deer, bears and wild turkeys abounded but these are seldom found now outside the swamps of the Everglades. A fairly good number of quail, doves, rabbits and quails are still found in most parts of the State, but these, too, are fast becoming extinct as the number of hunters using repeating or automatic shot guns increases.

In the days the contents of the game bag is not a very important matter to the true sportsman. In pioneer days the family meat supply rested with the hunter and his flint and steel lantern, and only enough game was killed to supply immediate needs. In those old days the hunter killed through the forest, of leaving to have food. Today, all the game hunting has come to be regarded as a sport which is regarded as the taking of wild life, the sport of a dove or quail, the prize at an added running for its life, plucking away at a squirrel as a sport, or the hunt in the new way of a tree.

Somehow there are many of us who, having thought the matter over, have begun to lose our interest in hunting. At the same time there are many others who have different views and they are as much entitled to those views and to indulge them as some others of us are entitled to have their own views about hunting, considering that it involves the taking of life.

A matter for gratification is that the true sportsman does not kill for the mere sake of springing his bow which game he can live in a day without going beyond the legal limit. He kills only what he wants for his own table, with a few over for distribution to a few friends.

'GATORS' TO MEET UNBEATEN DRAKE ELEVEN NOV. 17

Florida Faces Hard Contest With Undeferred Bulldog Gridders Out For Missouri Valley Championship Title

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 21.—Drake University's undefeated football team which will meet the great Florida eleven at Gainesville on Thanksgiving Day is now being sent through the last series of hard practice before the titanic struggle with the southerners.

The Ames game Saturday afternoon is the last hurdle in the Missouri Valley schedule and if Drake wins she will have an undisputed Missouri Valley championship. The Ames eleven recently tied Minnesota at Minneapolis and last week the Minnesota outfit gave Illinois a terrific drubbing. This would seem to indicate that Drake has a real job on hand to turn back the Ames Cyclones.

Missouri Valley fans assert that the class of football played in their conference is on a plane with the Big Ten football and to prove their claim they point to the defeat of Chicago by Missouri, the Minnesota-Illinois game and that Nebraska held Illinois to a 9-6 score early in the season when Zupke's men seemed to be "hitting on all six."

The Drake eleven is a much traveled outfit, this year. The first game of the season was played against the University of Utah at Salt Lake City. The Bulldog record to date is as follows:

Drake 33, Utah University 14.
Drake 19, Knox 10.
Drake 13, Grinnell 0.
Drake 28, Oklahoma 0.
Drake 6, Kansas U. G.
Drake 7, Kansas Aggies 6.

Swedes May Bring Stripling Issues A Crack Soccer Team Challenge To "Ed" To United States Lewis And Zbyszko

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 21.—A visit to America by a picked team of Sweden's leading soccer players is one of the plans resulting from the almost unprecedented activity and the rising nation-wide interest in athletics now manifested in Sweden, which has gained impetus following the success of the Swedish team during the Olympic Games.

During the past summer the Swedish soccer team won 11 out of 12 international federation matches played. In November the Swedish team will make a southern tour, and expects to meet strong opponents in Austria, Italy and other countries.

The trip to America next summer will be made, providing suitable financial arrangements can be arranged to cover the expense of the players. The Swedes have already had the honor of meeting three different American teams on their own grounds, and now hope to carry the game into the enemy country.

There are at present about 1,200,000 cows kept by people in cities of the United States, while the country cows number more than 25 million.

Babe Tries a Cricket Stick

The boys handed Babe Ruth a cricket stick the other day and the man who made home running an art in this country took a preliminary swing with the chief offensive weapon of England's favorite sport. "It might be all right to use in slap-stick comedy," commented the Babe, "but I'd hate to hit against Walter Johnson, with it."

Fisher Will Quit If Yale Eleven Is Beaten By Harvard

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Bob Fisher is leading his crimson brigade to attack Yale in what may be the last great battle for the mentor who succeeded the late Percy D. Haughton as football coach at Harvard.

Fisher, it is reported, will retire if the Cambridge eleven, which has been pummeled about in all its leading contests this year, fails to overcome the Bulldog in the New Haven Bowl Saturday. He is leading a force wrecked by gridiron warfare and his front will comprise a number of untried recruits, but behind them will be the support of thousands of valiant Harvard rooters.

Yale has trained dutifully for the combat and will present its most powerful combination. Its only weakness appears to be in the outposts where the condition of Gill, schooled in major conflict, remains uncertain. Otherwise the Blue's phalanx is intact.

Tickets for the annual struggle have disappeared. Fourteen special trains will leave New York for New Haven Saturday morning.

Rollins College Is Worth $270,000 To Town Says Dr. Weir

ROLLINS COLLEGE, Winter Park, Fla., Nov. 21.—$270,000 is the figure at which Dr. W. C. Weir, president of Rollins College, estimated the annual commercial value of Rollins to the community when he spoke before the Orlando Chamber of Commerce, appealing for aid in wiping out a college budget.

According to Dr. Weir's estimate Rollins students spend $50,000 every year for clothes, $10,000 for food, $10,000 for laundry and cleaning, and $10,000 for railroad fare to 22 states. These are a few of the figures that Dr. Weir used in backing up his estimate of the value of the college to this community.

A brief outline of the college budget pays the income of the college, endowment funds, property taxes, etc., and the use to which each sum is put. The respective items were: $100,000 for the purchase of land, $100,000 for the purchase of buildings, $100,000 for the purchase of equipment, and $100,000 for the purchase of other property.

After listening to a neighborly but passionate plea for aid, the chamber members voted to contribute $10,000 to the college's budget.

These are a few of the figures that Dr. Weir used in backing up his estimate of the value of the college to this community.

A brief outline of the college budget pays the income of the college, endowment funds, property taxes, etc., and the use to which each sum is put. The respective items were: $100,000 for the purchase of land, $100,000 for the purchase of buildings, $100,000 for the purchase of equipment, and $100,000 for the purchase of other property.

After listening to a neighborly but passionate plea for aid, the chamber members voted to contribute $10,000 to the college's budget.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 21.—W. L. (Cotton) Stripling, sensational light heavyweight boxer, last night issued a challenge to my heavy-weight Ed (Strangler) Lewis or either of the Zbyszko brothers, for a mixed match in Miami the first week in January, through "Doc" Stripling, father manager of the Mason youth.

Wires were dispatched last night to Ed Douglas, Miami promoter, to Lewis and Zbyszko, assuming that challenges.

"I'm standing in announcing the challenge, and that he believed Young Stripling could knock out any of the heavyweights who were in Miami." The young boxer said he was willing to pay $10,000 for a shot at her with a regular but not a prize fight.
