Pay Increase Offer Made By A. T. and T.

17,000 Strikers In 5 Midwest States Accept Wage Hike Of $3.60 Per Week

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The A. T. and T. today made its striking long distance workers a new offer of a weekly increase. The pay boost offer is described as "somewhere above $3.40" a week.

Federal conciliators said the offer is a complete counter-proposal to the government's own compromise suggestion of $4.50 weekly boost, plus so-called "fringe" increases which would bring the total to about $5.14.

The government has taken steps to bring about a "cease fire" in the strike of 42,000 employees of the Southwestern Bell Company. Negotiations in the Southwestern Bell dispute are being transferred from Washington to St. Louis for intensive bargaining, and a company wage offer is expected.

The company has assured the conciliators that it will present a cash wage offer to the union before the end of this week. Meanwhile, more than 17,000 strikers in five Midwest states have accepted a weekly pay boost averaging $3.60. Governor Luther Youngdahl of Minnesota announced that negotiations between Northwestern Bell and the Northwestern Union of Telephone Workers have been successfully concluded at that figure. Northwestern Bell employs workers in Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and North and South Dakota.

TVA Installations Are Inspected By President Aleman

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 6.—Mexico's President Miguel Aleman today inspected a project he hopes his country will soon be able to copy. The visiting chief of state had his first close-up view of a Tennessee Valley Authority installation, Chickamauga Dam.

Aleman wants to see a similar project well under way in Mexico by the end of his six-year term as his nation's first civilian president in half a century. He is convinced the best way to raise Mexico's standard of living is through a program of extensive irrigation and cheap power such as the TVA's.

The Mexican leader will spend the day looking over Chickamauga and Muscle Shoals, Alabama under the guidance of TVA General Manager Gordon Clap and other of the agency's officials.

Tonight, Aleman will be honored at a dinner which will be held at both the city and the State of Tennessee, will pay their official welcome to the visiting chief executive.

Rolleston Will Address Jaycees As Drive Opens

W. F. Rolleston of St. Augustine, president-elect of the Florida Jaycees, will address the Seminole County Jaycees at the supper and entertainment which will inaugurate their 1947 Membership drive next week. Alvin Odham, membership committee chairman, announced today that the affair will be held at the Municipal Airport Hangar next Monday evening at 7 P. M. The supper will be free to all members and prospective members of the local organization.

Ernest Campbell and Chick Laster, members of the committee, expressed confidence that the program arranged with outstanding with entertainment appeal for both active and associate members. Delegations from the nearby Junior Chambers of Commerce have been invited to attend and other outstanding men in the State organization are expected to pay tribute to the work of the Seminole Jaycees both in local and state activities.

Mr. Rolleston is a familiar figure in the State organization. He headed the St. Augustine chamber in 1946 and made an outstanding (Continued on Page Five)

Home Fire Wipes Out 5 Members Of Family

SANTA ROSA, Calif., May 6.—A Kerosene heater was blamed today for a fire which wiped out five members of a family of six in northern Sonoma county in California.

Burned to death were Frank Brownell, 38-year-old head of the family, and four children. The mother, Mrs. Minnie Brownell, survived the disaster. Mrs. Brownell said she woke up around midnight and found their ranch house a mass of flames. In her night clothes, she ran to the home of a neighbor a quarter of a mile away to get help. By the time help arrived, the Brownell home was leveled.

State House Raises Own Expense Pay

Senate Committee Is Scheduled To Hold Public Hearing On Sales Tax Measure

TALLAHASSEE, May 6.—House bill 141 creating municipality of Oviedo became law today without governor's approval.

TALLAHASSEE, May 6.—Members of the Florida House of Representatives today voted to pay themselves an extra $6 a day for postage stamps and other expenses.

The resolution authorizing the expense money passed by a vote of 50 to 27. The measure does not have to go to the Senate for concurrence.

Rep. Martin of Hillsborough, who introduced the resolution, said that the lawmakers had raised the salaries of everybody in the State but themselves. The legislature already has adopted resolutions raising the salaries of attaches above those of the members. A constitutional amendment proposing increase in legislators' pay has been approved by the House.

Several representatives, including Merritt of Lacumbia and Dunn of Dixie, objected to the resolution. The House also voted to pay $7,500 to the parents of a University of Florida student who died in the university infirmary two years ago.

The Senate committee on aviation and radio approved a bill authorizing the State Aviation Commission to regulate and zone airports.

In another important committee action, the House group on state institutions approved a $2,000 appropriation for construction (Continued on Page Three)

New Facts Are Presented At TB Conference

Many new facts regarding the care and treatment of tuberculosis were presented by eminent doctors at the recent annual conference of the Florida Tuberculosis Association in Miami, it was today announced by Mrs. Edward Kiercher, president of the Seminole County Tuberculosis and Health Association, who attended the meetings. Specialists who spoke included Dr. R. D. Thompson and Dr. C. M. Sharr of the State Board of Tuberculosis control. South American countries were represented, including Dr. Joyce Tate, who is in charge of public health in Jamaica, said Mrs. Kiercher.

Concert Given By Mack Harrell Ends Music Association Series

By WILLARD CONNOLLY
Music lovers of Sanford and Seminole County who attended to concert of Texas born Mack Harrell, Metropolitan Opera baritone at Seminole High School last evening applauded for encores at the conclusion of his regular program. It was the fourth highly successful concert presented by the Civic Music Association.

It was not only the superb, sonorous quality of Mr. Harrell's voice which he modulated from a whisper to a powerful, ringing resonance; it was the kindly, humorous and friendly spirit of the man, totally devoid of any suggestion of austerity or "stuffed shirt" that got across the message to his audience. It was perfectly evident that both the singer, a able accompanist, George Reeves, and his audience were enjoying themselves.

This was clearly evident when after a fine program of classical songs in the German of Franz Schubert, and the French of Maurice Ravel and Henri Duparc, he launched into four robust and western type gambling songs by John Jacob Niles, "The Gambler's Song of the Big Sandy River" and "The Gambler's Prayer" which he will sing next week in the column warning in music, "Gambler Don't You Lose Your Place," followed by "The Gambler's Lament," "The Young Soldier" and a lullaby.

For encores he sang "Going a-Whirlin' Long," "Widow's Hall" by Johnson and finally "Goodbye My Darling" completely with George Reeves' collecting "I Got Plenty o' Nothin'." The accompaniment by Mr. Reeves was adequate but never an obtrusive as to detract from the singing. An Englishman by birth, he declared that he received his naturalization papers one last week. Both artists were handicapped by the stuffy heat of the poorly-ventilated auditorium.

All hands were raised after the performance when H. H. Coleman, president of the Civic Music Association of Sanford, asked if anyone wanted to continue the concert next week. He reported that the concert had been a success from the point of view of patronage, that the auditorium was filled to capacity and that the completely at each concert. He stated that perhaps five or six concerts might be given next year if patronage warranted.

Mr. Coleman thanked members of the Association for their cooperation in making the concert successful. These included: Mrs. J. L. Ingley, secretary; Mrs. E. D. Browder, Mrs. F. E. Roundell, Joe Field, Martin Stinesinger, the Seminole High School faculty and student body, the County School Board and those who arranged the stage setting.

Congress Gets Bill Raising GI Benefits

Taft To Vote Against Labor Bill Amendment Banning Industry Wide Strikes

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Congress received two requests today for higher educational subsistence allowances and job training grants to veterans under the GI Bill of Rights. One plea came from Democratic Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, sponsor of a bill authorizing increases. The other plea came from the Veterans of Foreign Wars, represented by Omar Ferguson at a hearing before a Senate public welfare subcommittee.

Pepper asserted that the desired increases are justified on the basis of higher living costs. His legislation would like subsistence allowances for students to $100 monthly for veterans without dependents, $125 for veterans with one dependent and $150 for veteran with more than one dependent.

Meanwhile GOP Senator Robert Taft of Ohio said today he will vote against proposed amendments to the Senate's labor bill which would outlaw industry wide strikes and the right to work.

Early in the morning, Senator Joseph Ball of Minnesota, GOP, said Taft and Ball are members of the Senate labor committee.

Meanwhile the Senate is likely to resume debate on another labor bill amendment which would substitute the application bill for the Labor Department and the Federal Security Administration.

The pending proposal also would amend the bill to prohibit discharge of a worker for participating in a strike, and to prohibit discharge of a worker for participating in a strike.

Opponents of that provision argue that the labor bill as now drafted provides a method by which a worker could be discharged for participating in a strike.

Under closed shop agreements, the employer must hire only union members. The more common company shop contract permits the employer to hire anyone he chooses, but requires that the employee join a specified union.

With or without the proposed amendments, GOP leaders are expected to vote on the Senate's labor bill Thursday.

House Prepares For Showdown Vote On Greek Aid Bill

Jaycees Appeal To County Group For Expansion Aid

An appeal to the County Commission to earmark some of its public fund of $446 for use by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to aid its expansion program was today made by President Jack Rutigan.

Commission Chairman M. A. Pope replied that the board would consider such a donation, amount yet unspecified, before the budget is made out. He pointed out that such an allocation of funds by the county may be used for publicity purposes.

Mr. Rutigan in turn, said that the board has not yet agreed to that money being used within the county. He said that the board would have little to say outside the county.

Bar Association Protests Measure Abolishing Court

The Seminole County Board of Commissioners, after hearing County Judge R. W. Ware and County Bar Association President John Leonard, today expressed its opposition to the bill abolishing the County Court and substituting a County Judges Court, unanimously.

Under closed shop agreements, the employer must hire only union members. The more common company shop contract permits the employer to hire anyone he chooses, but requires that the employee join a specified union.

With or without the proposed amendments, GOP leaders are expected to vote on the Senate's labor bill Thursday.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THE STORY OF OUR EARTHLY LIFE WILL SOON BE TOLD COMPLETELY. IF IT TO BE WORTH WHILE WE MUST MAKE IT WORTH WHILE NOW. We spend our years as a tale that is told.—Psalm 90:9.

The Gallup Poll recently conducted a straw vote and discovered that Russia is not a democracy.

Governor Caldwell has signed the $2,500,000 tuberculosis sanatorium bill, thus making more adequate provision for those of our citizens who are afflicted with this dread disease. Not all of them even yet will find a bed in a hospital, but more of them will.

A bill to abolish the county court, recently introduced in the State Legislature, has everybody guessing. Judge Ware says that when you abolish a county court, you get a county judge's court, which is interesting but still leaves us just about as much in the dark as most other things in politics.

Merchants and business men have been receiving a lot of good advice lately about the importance of bringing prices down, but one of the chief sources of discontent has been food prices and we haven't heard much said about discontinuing the government's subsidy program to hold up the price of farm products. With wheat bringing $2.67 a bushel (during the depression it sold for 50 cents a bushel), with corn selling at $1.65 a bushel, with live hogs selling at $23.75 a hundred-weight, there's not much that can be done about the cost of living until these prices come down.

A Georgia chemist of considerable note says science has brought mankind to the brink of the bottomless pit of destruction. Yes, and it has been on the brink ever since gunpowder was discovered in 1413. One of the first things we can remember learning in public school back there in the early 1900s was that there would never be another war because the instruments of destruction were so deadly that civilization could never stand the impact of another great conflict. Yet, as far as we can remember, there has never been more than a few days since that time when a war of some sort hasn't been going on somewhere.

In Jacksonville the other day we were impressed with the frightful traffic congestion in spite of the fact that there are not nearly as many automobiles on the streets as there will be when the automobile industry reaches full production. Nowhere does it seem that city officials are looking ahead to the absolute necessity of doing something to relieve congestion. Almost nothing apparently is being done to widen streets, improve worn out pavements, eliminate bottlenecks, construct underpasses or overpasses, or provide adequate parking facilities. We hesitate to contemplate the traffic jams of the future.

On a recent trip around the state visiting some of Florida's smaller newspapers to see how they have been affected by the current newspaper shortage, we were encouraged about our own condition by the fix some of them are in. Bill Pepper in Gainesville showed us the beautiful new $90,000 newspaper in its plant which includes a fine warehouse for newspapers but in which he had only one roll of Kraft and three small stocks of newspaper. In St. Augustine we had some at all, were printed on borrowed paper. Some had as much as a week's supply. But we were optimistic about the future and making plans for better

Two Kinds Of Populists

Older Americans may feel surprised that the Greek conservative banker-supported party is known as the Populists. The American Populists of half a century ago seemed far from conservative to the easily shocked opinion of that day.

Primarily a Western farmers' party, they were thought revolutionary because they wanted government guarantee of bank deposits, election of United States senators by the people instead of by the state legislatures, a postal savings system and many other proposals which seem commonplace today. They profoundly influenced the Square Deal of Theodore Roosevelt and the New Freedom of Woodrow Wilson, though neither president ever admitted this publicly.

After showing great strength in the elections of 1892 and 1894, the Populists merged with the Bryon Democracy in 1896 and disappeared from view. A small wing of dissenters kept the name alive for a few more years. North Dakota's Nonpartisan League, Minnesota's Farmer-Labor party, and the La Follette Progressives in Wisconsin to some extent carried on the Populist tradition. Now it seems dead. Or is it merely sleeping?

Three-Power Unity

Seeking to increase the 8,000,000 steel tonnage negotiated last year for Germany on a four-power basis, American and British authorities are said to be joining to raise industrial levels of that country. The purpose is to increase exportable material in order to cut import costs now being borne by the United States and Britain. Such action will be confined to American and British occupation zones, as well as to French areas should France care to join such a program. It is said those backing this program are willing to add the Russian zone should the USSR wish to cooperate.

Here is evidence that post-war plans in Germany are going ahead without Russia, if Russia continues to counter all steps for German rehabilitation with delaying action. It is in line with the suggestion in Secretary of State Marshall's report on the Moscow Conference.

The three Allies must go forward with Europe's peace set-up by themselves if Russia won't join them, though they are of a mind to leave the door open always for her to enter should she so wish. While it is far from ideal to have a three-power action instead of the four-power one, there seems no other course. Britain and America, and apparently France also, are wearying of carrying the costs of a delayed peace. Three-power agreement is better than none.

More Goods

"More goods for more people" is a slogan emanating from Washington and rapidly spreading around the country. It is a good one. Some enthusiasts are expanding it to "more goods for more people at lower prices" as an American formula for prosperity.

It is amazing how many things people need, after the long war period when there were so many thousand things that they wanted and couldn't buy. More things are wanted than ever before in our history. And we can soon have them if we all stop striking, or stop fiddling lazily around at our tasks, and settle down to vigorous, honest work.

YOU'RE TELLING ME!

JELLY BEANS are now quoted in some communities at $1 per pound. With only a nickel in his knickerbocker pocket, that's something for the thoughtful lad to chew over. A new type weapon for big game hunting emits a horrendous shriek when fired. We get it—just scare the critters to death. Square moth balls are suggested. O. K., just so long as Pops doesn't mistake 'em for ice cubes. A pair of chinchillas stole the limelight at Montreal rabbit show. Reason being, of course, that a woman can stare at a rabbit and not fall into a trance wondering how she would look in a certain kind of out-of-this-world fur coat. To hear people griping about the weather one would naturally assume this is the first April they have ever experienced. Apples and potatoes are closely related—we read. Maybe so, but we don't think we'd ever develop a taste for shoestring apples or potato dumplings. A Turkish mayor called three newsmen for "insulting" him. Perhaps His Honor was right but to us it sounds too much like just one man's opinion against three. In the meantime competitive networks, the press and the public in general had a regular Roman holiday over the affair. No one so unfortunate as to carry the illustrious title of vice-president dared to show his face in public without the possible exception of Henry Wallace, and he probably wouldn't if he had not been in a position to point out that he was an "EX" and not really an active villain. Finally sanity returned to Radio City and NBC regained its sense of humor. Humbling itself,

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

Thanks to Henry Wallace and the National Broadcasting Company vice-presidents stole most of the headlines last week giving newspaper readers and radio listeners something to think about besides Moscow conferences and Texas disasters.

While the administration was wondering just how to put a muzzle on an ex-vice-president, another vice-president, his tender feelings hurt, took it upon himself to muzzle a popular radio comedian. Commenting on the fact that his program had been cut off the air the previous Sunday evening, Allen, Hope and Skelton as vice-presidents. Stripped of their dignity, the vice-presidents were thrown to the wolves and the whole world was invited to tear them to bits.

Referring to die a natural death, the three comedians promptly refused such a doubtful honor or figuring it was difficult enough as radio comedians without being handicapped with such a title. We don't know who was responsible for the "tempest in a teapot" but if we had our way we would sentence the poor dumb cluck to listen regularly to the Henry Morgan show on the American network. When it comes to ribbing radio, Henry can put Allen, Hope and Skelton to shame.

Miss Lee, Mr. Kastner May King And Queen

Seminole High School celebrated May Day on Friday with Caroline Lee reigning as Queen and Harold Kastner as King. Miss Lee and Mr. Kastner were chosen by the student body and their attendants were chosen by their respective classes. Ceremonies started at 7:30 P. M. on the athletic field and was witnessed by a large audience of parents and students.

The May Court entered the grounds to the strains of Meyerbeer's Coronation March played by the school orchestra. They marched to an elaborately decorated stage and took their places in the following order: eighth grade, Dial Boyle and Clarence Crause; ninth grade, Joyce Batts and Donald Ludwig; tenth grade, Marilyn Messler and Don Batten; eleventh grade, Lillian Moran and Johnny Alexander; twelfth grade, Helen Slaughter and Jan Jenkinson, Lillian Boyle and Clarence Crause. Immediately preceding the King and Queen came the flower girl, Judy Ludwig, and Johnny Welchel as crown bearer.

The girl attendants wore pastel evening gowns and carried nosegays of roses with matching streamers. The Queen wore a gown of white eyelet embroidery and her bouquet was of white roses.

Entertainment for the court was provided by the Physical Education classes under the supervision of Mrs. F. C. Wynn, Jr., and Fred Ganas. Folk dances, contests and games were presented for the enjoyment of the court. Kay Shoemaker served as master of ceremonies.

The entire celebration was sponsored by the Student Council under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Smith and Miss Ethel Riser. Miss Olin and Miss White assisted the group.

Following the coronation a May Day ball was held at the Armory with music furnished by an orchestra obtained with the compliments of the Kiwanis Club.

TEEN TALK

The date-Kates are in a swivel over the envious parents eyed recently. Kay said she knew it would happen when the Moms got together at their parents' meeting. . . subject: What to do about juvenile delinquency?

Of course all the parents are apologetic. . . it isn't that they don't trust their own children. . . they want them to set good examples for other kids.

But that doesn't make life any easier for the gang. How can you go to a party and leave before you start? They ask. And, "I've got to be home early" girl got reputation of being a "wet blanket."

What the kids want to know is how late is "too late." On Saturday nights if they tell their parents "who their company is going to be, where they are going, how they expect to get home, why can't they stay out at least until midnight?"

Is this situation spoiling kids' fun in every town or is it just happening here? Any sparkling ideas your crowd has for convincing parents that most teenagers have more common sense than they are given credit for will be
