Commander Rodgers Gives Account Of Plane Accident; Says Morale Of Men Good

Commander John Rodgers, U. S. Navy, Commander Seaplane PN-9 No. 1.

Misunderstanding Of Signals
Thought to Have Been Cause
Of Plane Being Lost; Radio

Men Unable to Eat
During Last 2 Days

Men Agree That Expert Navigation
Of Rodgers Saved Them; Fuel Was Exhausted

BY COMMANDER JOHN RODGERS.
U. S. Navy, Commander Seaplane PN-9 No. 1.

HONOLULU, Sept. 12.—(AP)—For the benefit of the interested public, I desire to make at this time a definite statement of facts in regard to the voyage of the PN-9, No. 1, from San Francisco to Hawaii. Other statements heretofore published by the press are unauthorized by me.

The PN-9, No. 1 and No. 3 left San Francisco, apparently about the same time on August 31, No. 3 leading by about 20 minutes. The PN-3 was not sighted by No. 1, after departing. Planes PN-9, numbers, sailing on per instructions, to Kohala.

Wind Was Light.
The wind out of San Francisco was very light from the northwest gradually hauling to the north. The navigation was done entirely by dead reckoning, no attention being paid to radio bearings. We flew through two or four hundred feet below the clouds during the night, the sky being thickly overcast and all destroyers were picked up as expected at a distance easily visible from the PN-9, while at the same time the plane was easily visible from the destroyers.

The engines worked perfectly and there were no signs of leaks or any other trouble. The wind changed to northeast as expected about 600 miles from San Francisco, but was much lighter than had been hoped for. In the morning it became evident that the gasoline was running out and that we would be doubtful if we could reach Hawaii, due to the fact that expected favorable winds were not encountered. About noon we decided that our gasoline supply would carry us about midway between Honolulu and the Tangar, respectively, the next to the last of the last station ship. I therefore decided to land at the Aroostok which is fully equipped with airplane tender.

Gasoline Gives Out.
We still had plenty of gasoline to refuel and take off again for Honolulu. This was in accordance with the pre-arranged plan to meet the situation with which we were afraid of approaching the Aroostok. We received radio bearings from her, and changed our course to approach on these bearings. It became evident that she would not be found on this course. I started to write a message which would give her some clue to our whereabouts, but just then the gasoline gave out. Both engines were cut out simultaneously and we started to glide from about 800 feet.

Lieut. Connel, who had the controls, made a beautiful landing in the heavy swells, both engines being dead, having no power. Due to total expenditure of gasoline, we could not use radio and were therefore out of communication at twilight. I determined our position to be as follows:

INTREPID AIRMEN SLEEP AS WORLD WAITS FOR STORY

Physicians Order Exhausted
Men To Bed To Get Sleep
Decided Then For Nine Days;
Members Silent On Causes

LIHUE, Island of Kauai, T. H., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Five aviators, exhausted by a nine-day mid-ocean battle with fate, rested here Friday while the world waited for the details of an unfinished flight which now is history, the attempted non-stop flight from San Francisco to Honolulu.

The aviators in Hawaii was not the one planned for them. Had they completed their scheduled flight they would have landed on the waters of Pearl Harbor, escorted by airplanes sent out to greet them, and would have received the plaudits of the thousands of Honoluluans who had planned to see the finish of the flight.

Instead, towed by the submarine R-4, the fliers slumbered for only an hour before midnight at Nawiliwili harbor, with only a comparatively few to meet them. Technically the flight was completed, for the five men did not leave their plane until it grounded on the island. They had been aloft 218 hours when rescued.

Ordered to Bed
Rest and undisturbed sleep was their first need. They were taken to the little hotel here, and for an hour kept busy answering questions from the navy physicians who visited, gave them sleeping pills and ordered them to bed. Navy guards were posted outside the hotel, and the aviators were permitted to relax completely for the first time since they left San Francisco August 31.

The five men came through the ordeal in remarkably good shape. Some traces of the tension under which they had lived for ten days were apparent, but physicians who examined them were confident that rest and quiet would bring complete recovery. For that reason the aviators were directed to go at once to the hospital at Pearl Harbor.

The PN-9, No. 1, the seaplane which carried the fliers, 1,800 miles through the air and some 300 miles on the surface of the ocean, probably will be salvaged almost intact. Preliminary examinations by aviators from Pearl Harbor here today indicated that the big ship had not been damaged. The motors stopped only because there was no more fuel for them. One wing was in need of repairs only because the plane's crew had torn off its cloth surface to "rig an impromptu sail."

Alteration Work On Local Country Club Started This Week

City forces, under the direction of City Manager W. B. Williams, commenced this week the work of repairing, redecorating, and renovating the building and grounds of the Country Club, according to announcement made in the City Manager's office this morning. Changes in the club building include enlargement of the dining room, repairs to the refrigeration system, general cleaning and redecoration throughout, it was announced. Mr. Williams stated that the fairways and greens will be put in top condition, and that the grounds adjoining the club house will be cleared of rubbish, and the flower beds and shrubbery touched up.

It is expected that the work will be completed before the advent of the tourist season and the opening of the new Hotel Forrest Lake. Mr. Williams declared that the City Commission plans to make the Country Club one of the most attractive, and the golf course the best conditioned in this section of the state.

New Realty Company Opens Office Here

The Williams-McGraw Realty Company announces the opening of an office in the First National Bank building, where it will carry on a general real estate business, dealing in homesites, building lots and acreage.

Personnel of the company, it is announced, includes A. N. Williams who is connected with the American Fruit Growers, and who will not engage actively in this new venture; W. E. McGraw, who came here recently from Maitland, where he was connected with the Inter-Homes Realty Company; Miss Wilkins, recently with the E. F. Lane Realty Co. of this city will join the new company.

Panel Exhibited In Yowell Window Shows Difference 'Not So Long Ago'

A panel entitled "Not So Long Ago" is arousing considerable interest in Yowell Company's window display, because of its historical features.

Several pages of an advertising venture known as Sanford, The Gate City, Fla., published in November 1910 by R. J. Holly, have been placed on the board, together with contrasting pictures of the city as it is today. Comparison of the two panels, gives some idea of the remarkable growth of Sanford in the fifteen years period.

One photo is of Sheriff C. M. Ham's daughters in one of his "rigs." The sheriff was in the livery business with his brothers at that time.

Another feature of the display is the advertising page of the San-

CAROLINA MAN ACCEPTS CALL LOCAL CHURCH

Rev. Mortimer Glover, Pastor
St. Bartholomew's Church
In Hartsville, S. C. To Be
Rector Holy Cross Church

Will Assume Charge
Before November 1

New Minister Succeeds Rev.
Peck, Resigned Last Year;
Also Active In Civic Work

Rev. Mortimer W. Glover of Hartsville, S. C., has accepted the invitation of the Vestry of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church to become the rector of that church, according to an announcement made today. Rev. Glover's acceptance came after lengthy correspondence with members of the vestry and after a recent visit to Sanford.

Upon his visit here, Rev. Glover was so impressed with the possibilities for growth and development that he finally accepted the call and will formally assume his new charge not later than Nov. 1. He proceeded on per instructions, sailing on a straight course to Kahului.

Rev. Glover is a native of South Carolina, where he has lived practically all his life. He received his education at the University of South at Sewanee, Tenn., and later completed a course at the Theological Seminary at Alexandria, Va.

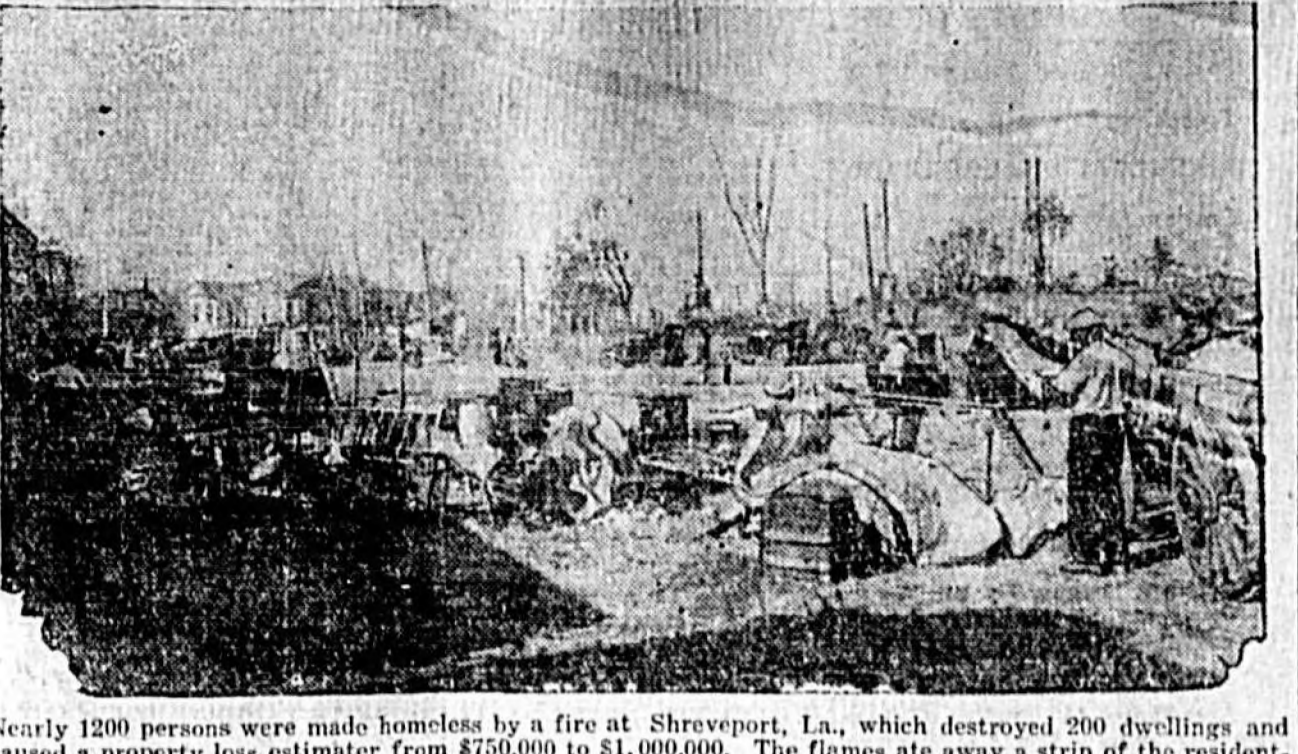

For the past four years, Rev. Glover has been Rector of St. Bartholomew's Church in Hartsville, where he has carried on a vigorous and successful campaign of building and development. While filling the rectorship at Hartsville, Rev. Glover also had charge of several parishes and missions in the vicinity of that city.

Active In Civic Affairs.
Rev. Glover has also been active in the civic affairs of his community as well as his religious development. He was especially prominent in sponsoring work among the young people of his diocese, his activities in this connection bringing him the commendation of his fellow townsmen.

In announcing the call of Rev. Glover, members of the Vestry of the Holy Cross Church have expressed themselves as being highly pleased that they have been able to interest the South Carolina Divine to accept the rectorship. Under his leadership, they feel that there is a period of great growth and usefulness ahead for the parish.

Rev. Glover succeeds Rev. Arthur Searing Peck, who resigned about a year ago, after having been rector here for a number of years. Rev. Peck accepted the rectorship of church in Pennsylvania. Since his departure, the hands of the new Holy Cross Church, replacing the old one destroyed by fire two years ago, has been completed. Services at the church for the past few months have been conducted by Rev. James Glass of Orlando.

Shreveport Fire Makes 1200 Homeless

Nearly 1200 persons were made homeless by a fire at Shreveport, La., which destroyed 200 dwellings and caused a property loss estimated from $50,000 to $1,000,000. The flames ate away a strip of the residential section 200 feet long and 100 feet wide. Six persons were injured fighting the fire. Here is one part of the devastated section.

CALIFORNIA GIRL CROWNED QUEEN AT ATLANTIC CITY

Miss Fay Lamphier Of Santa Cruz Is Crowned As "Miss America" Last Night; Wins
Title Over Sixty-Six Girls

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 12.—Miss Fay Lamphier, of Santa Cruz, Cal., representing "Miss California" was crowned "Miss America" here last night.

She won the title over sixty-six other beautiful girls who competed this week in the Inter-City beauty contest and pageant.

After receiving the crown Miss Lamphier said:

"This is the happiest moment of my life. I am so proud I do not know what to do.

"I am glad California won. I love my beautiful state of golden sunshine.

"I have no plans for the future. The dream of my life has been to become a motion picture star. Perhaps after long study and hard work I shall do justice to that profession.

"I am glad of this honor because of my mother. She has been my greatest friend and booster.

"This is my second appearance in Atlantic City beauty contests. Last year I represented my home town. I have always been treated courteously here and I believe the pageant is a good thing for Atlantic City.

"I am just to full of joy to say more tonight."

Miss Lamphier is nineteen years old. She weighs 138 pounds and is five feet six inches tall. She has blonde hair, hazel eyes and a fair complexion. Here are the measurements of her body which were taken into consideration by the judges: Neck, thirteen and a half inches; bust, thirty four inches; waist, twenty six and a half inches; hips, thirty-seven and a half inches; arm length, twenty-eight inches; calf, twelve and a half inches, ankle eight inches.

NOTED RAILWAY OFFICIAL TALKS TO COMMITTEE

Robert Scott, Atlantic Coast
Line Director of Insurance
And Safety Tells Views

The monthly meeting of the Jacksonville District Safety Committee, Atlantic Coast Line railway safety council in this section, was held in this city yesterday.

An address by Robert Scott, Coast Line director of Insurance and Safety, of Wilmington, N. C., who spoke to the committee on "Safety and Conservation of Life and Limb" featured the meeting. H. S. Corbin, safety director for the Jacksonville district, also addressed the meeting.

Mr. Scott, who is also head of the safety committee of the American Railway Association, told members of the committee present of the increasing number of grade crossing accidents in the country throughout the country. He declared that measures must, and are being, taken by authorities to reduce the appalling loss of life, and injury resultant from the carelessness of drivers in approaching grade crossings. He told of the protective measures employed by the railroads in combatting this evil, and warned motorists of the danger in approaching crossings without the precaution of assuring themselves that the way is clear.

Mr. Corbin spoke of the development of safety measures by the railroads, according to the announcement.

Superintendent T. L. Dumas, chairman of the meeting, reports 98 per cent of the committee members present, and the attendance of a number of local railroad employees.

SPANISH LEADER FORCED TO GIVE UP AJDIR FLIGHT

De Rivera Has To Dig In His Troops At Alhucemas Bay;
Petain With 150,000 Men
Is Moving Along Cautiously

PARIS, Sept. 12.—The battle for possession of Tetuan has forced General Primo De Rivera to dig in his 16,000 troops at Alhucemas bay and renounce for the present the attack on Ajdir. He had left his command to General Saffio and Djebala and Andjera tribesmen under leadership of Abd-el-Krim's brother threaten to force the Spaniards back to the sea.

The Andjeras, a territory leading from Tangier to Tetuan—the portion of Africa nearest Spain—have after many months' neutrality joined the Rifians and put the Spaniards back into the same position as when they were forced to retreat last winter.

The two tribes alone have forced the Spaniards into a general defensive, giving Abd-el-Krim for a moment the advantage. It became known today that the second Spanish landing on Alhucemas bay, which was reported to have occurred at Quilans, was called off at the last moment on account of the seriousness of the attack against Tetuan.

French Offensive Developing
If the Spaniards were alone and Abd-el-Krim were not compelled to keep troops facing the new French offensive he would, with the experience he now has, undoubtedly force the Spaniards entirely out of Morocco, but the French offensive is developing.

Marshal Petain's 150,000 men have opened the offensive north from the Ouergha river. They have advanced to their old positions and are using these as bases for a general offensive up the valleys tributary to the Ouergha into the plateau south of the Rif—into Spanish territory.

Petain is moving cautiously, according to the barometer so as not to have the Germans caught in the mud, but if the Rifians continue to force back the Spaniards before Tetuan he may be forced to hurry the offensive.

Abd-el-Krim has the advantage over Petain in that it does not make any difference in the conduct of the war how many men he kills to attain his ends; while Petain will be obliged to consider public opinion in France and Spain if they begin to have big casualty lists. This makes Petain advance cautiously after thorough bombardment and continual use of airplanes. Chechouan is being constantly bombarded every day.

A slight rain which cooled the air but did not seriously muddy the roads made it possible to push the offensive, which began yesterday.

City Permits Show New Home A Day In City Buildings

Building construction figures available today show that the record established last month, of one new dwelling a day for Sanford is unchanged for the first 12 days of September, according to building permit records made public by City Clerk L. R. Phillips this morning.

Twenty-one permits to the amount of $43,125 have been issued during the month, according to these figures, of which number, 12 were issued for the construction of dwellings, to be erected at an average cost of $3,490 and maintaining the record of last month, when an average of one permit a day was issued through that office for the erection of new homes in the growing "City Substantin."

Figures published it is announced, are slightly lower than the corresponding date in August.

All Homestead Land In State Absorbed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—A rush to Florida in the absorption of all valuable federal public lands there open to homesteads. On July 1924 the Public Domain in Florida amounted to 80,000 acres. Last July 1, it had dwindled to 20,000 acres. Today the interior department announced that none remained open for entry except tracts of little value. Most valuable of the remaining property considered useful for resort purposes has been withdrawn and held in the name of the federal government for future sales at Florida prices.

Mother's Day Hearing Will Be Given Hearing

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Miss Annie Jarvis of Philadelphia, credited with being the founder of Mother's Day, will be given a hearing Monday before a committee as the result of a disagreement with Mrs. Catherine Tolliver Milford, Conn., a delegate to the War Mothers' Convention here. Miss Jarvis objected to the War Mothers adopting the carnation as their national flower on the ground that it is the emblem for Mother's Day and is alleged to have appeared at the convention without invitation.

SCHOOL DAYS START AGAIN NEXT MONDAY

High School To Open
Fall Term Here At
Nine A. M.; To Have Special Exercises

Supt. Names Staff
In Announcement

Says Enrollment Will Set New Record For Local Institution

Monday morning will mark the opening of the Sanford High School for the 1925-26 term, according to an announcement made today by Superintendent of Schools T. W. Lawton. Appropriate exercises for the occasion have been arranged by the authorities, which will begin at 9 o'clock.

School authorities are unanimous in declaring that the coming term will be a record session for the local institution. It is said that the enrollment this fall for outnumbers any previous year, and that the faculty, with many new faces, will be one of the strongest in the state.

For a number of reasons, many of the former members of the faculty who have been secured to replace them are fully qualified in their respective branches, Mr. Lawton declares. He said that Sanford, to retain its present high rating on the accredited list of the state and the south, is compelled to closely examine the educational qualifications of its teachers, and that, with the exception of the Commercial Department, every new instructor at the institution holds a college degree or a standard college requiring four years for graduation. Faculty members for the 1925-26 term are announced as follows:

Principal, G. E. McKay; Latin, Mrs. R. C. Maxwell; English, Miss Mary Cobb; English, Asst., Miss Frances Cherry; Commercial, Mrs. Ollie M. Steel; History, Miss Gladys Morris; Spanish, Miss Caroline Hall; Home Economics, Miss Lillian Corbin; Home Economics, Asst., Miss Mary Hinton; Science, Mrs. W. R. Fort; Mathematics, Miss Ida Mae Gray; Science, Mr. Louis Vancars; Agriculture, Prof. R. F. Cooper; Mathematics, Asst., Miss Elмира Howard; Expression, Miss Margaret McKrae; Football Coach, Hugh Wheeler.

In connection with the opening of school Supt. Lawton took occasion to remark on the growth of Rollins College, at Winter Park, and the number of Sanford students enrolled there this year.

In speaking of the activities at the college this year, he stated that Hamilton Holt, Litt., L. L. D., former editor of Independent, and nationally known statesman has been elected president of the institution.

Mr. Lawton, who is an alumnus of Rollins, a member of the Board of Trustees of Rollins and Executive A. B. alumnus of the institution.

Miss Hannah Gartland, noted New York educator and author has accepted the appointment as dean of women, according to Mr. Lawton and is already in Winter Park getting Cloverleaf and Lakeside Halls ready for the girls. According to latest reports from the college nearly all of the rooms have been reserved.

Last year Rollins attracted students from 22 different states and because of the crush on Florida this season it is expected that more states will be represented.

Miss Florence McKay, honor graduate of the Sanford High School, attended Rollins last year, and will return this year as a sophomore. She is a member of Phi Omega and Phi Beta Sororities. Sanford High will be represented this year by the following graduates in addition to Miss McKay: Miss Thelma Spurling, Miss Sarah Hutchinson, and Mr. Rodman J. Lehman. Oviedo High will be represented at Rollins by Miss Catherine Young, who returns as a senior, and Miss Maxine Young, who will enter as a freshman.

It is gratifying to the school authorities to know that so many of our high school graduates are taking advantage of the excellent opportunities offered by the colleges of our state.

Homes Destroyed Fire Early Today

PALM BEACH, Sept. 12.—Fire believed to be of incendiary nature was raging in the City Black Belt of this city today, having been detected at 11 o'clock. This is third time in this locality in the last month.

STATE UNIVERSIT TO HAVE BANNER YEAR, HEADS SAY

Appropriated Funds Will Provide for Needed Equipment in Laboratories And Enlargement of Library

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 11.—(P)—The session of 1925-26 at the University of Florida will be marked by a considerable increase in the equipment of nearly all the dormitories, museums, libraries, and shops of the institution. Due to the appropriations of the legislature and its interests in the education of the youth of the state, says Dr. C. L. Crow, of the faculty, some of the laboratories for the first time will be made fully equal to any found in the south, while all will be provided with sufficient equipment to meet the demands upon them. The libraries which already have a good selection of books are gradually being improved. Provision has also been made for the administrative offices of the school.

Florida is essentially an agricultural and horticultural state and the interests of the agricultural college has been cared for. Construction on the first unit of the horticulture building will be started soon. This first unit will cost $125,000. An appropriation of $4,000 will be expended on the third floor of the agricultural building; $5,000 will be spent on the college barns; $7,250 will be used for maintenance and further equipment of the various fields of activity of the instructional division.

For the collection and testing of seeds $1,250 will be available. The equipment of the horticultural divisions has also been provided for as well as the laboratories used in the work of dairying, animal husbandry, and veterinary sciences. Appropriation of $95,000 has been made for an addition to buildings of the engineering college. Ample amounts are now available for the additional equipping of the divisions of civil, electrical and mechanical engineering and for office supplies.

Plans are being drawn for the first unit of a chemistry-pharmacy building to cost $220,000 while $46,000 is now ready for the college of pharmacy. The pharmacy college to develop a sub-tropical drug garden.

All the new buildings at the University are to be designed by the new school in architecture which will be directed by Randolph Weaver, who was formerly supervising architect at the University of Idaho.

There will be $33,000 spent during 1925-26 for the improvements in the equipment of the general library, museum and administrative offices. Two thousand dollars additional will go for the increasing of the law library.

The comfort and the health of the students have been kept in mind. Provisions for greatly improving the dormitories is being made, as well as for a more efficient way of heating them. The roads and walks are to be improved and the general aspect of the campus beautified.

A case of twins in Mullusa is very rare but these "twins" are found on the Pacific Coast in the summer.

Says Her Baby Was a Suicide

After being bent by her husband and told her 21-month-old daughter would be taken from her, Mrs. Lucille Haack, 29 Uniontown, Pa., drank poison and gave it to her child. The mother denies she forced her little daughter to drink the poison. She says the child drank it after saying she would rather die than be taken from her mother. The child died, but Mrs. Haack survived and will be tried for the baby's murder.

Youngberg To Hold Hearings On Miami Improvements Soon

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 11.—(P)—The city of Miami has made application to the war department for permission to construct a bridge across the Miami river and a public hearing on the proposal will be held in the city hall at 2:30 p. m. on September 17, according to an announcement made public here.

Colonel Gilbert A. Youngberg, United States District Engineer for Florida with headquarters in Jacksonville, will hold the hearing.

Plans submitted show a draw-bridge with steel girder approach spans and a clearance of 70 feet horizontal and 21 feet vertical above plane of mean low water.

Hearing will also be held on a second application for the construction of a bridge by the city across the river at a point ten blocks distance. Plans for this bridge show a clearance of 75 feet horizontal and 19.75 above the plane of mean low water.

Plans on this project call for the extension of the south and east end of an island to be enlarged under a permit issued to Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Burlingame. The applicant states he has acquired the island and would enlarge it. The island is located between the P. E. C. channel to the east and the Brickell Point on the South.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(P)—The present Senate is so evenly divided that the outcome of the Brookhart-Steck contest for one of the Iowa seats has a lot more importance than such a fight ordinarily has, and they always are pretty important.

Originally Brookhart was supposed to have won by a small majority. The Senate committee's recount, recently finished, wiped out this margin and more too, giving Steck a bigger advantage than Brookhart was thought to have had.

However, this is on the basis of uncontested ballots. There are enough contested ones either to increase Steck's lead or to throw victory Brookhart's way again, depending on how they're counted.

It will be up to the Senate, when Congress reconvenes, to decide about the contested votes. What it does decide will determine whether Smith W. Brookhart or Daniel F. Steck shall represent Iowa in the upper House for the next six years.

A few commentators have been so unsophisticated as to suggest that it's a matter for the "intent" of the Iowans' ballots, not the Senate, to settle. Ah, but the controversy has passed out of the Iowans' hands now and into the Senate's. Little enough the Iowans will have to say about it hereafter.

The Senate, then, will choose between Brookhart and Steck. Normally the Republicans would vote for the Republican candidate and the Democrats for the Democrat, but this contest is peculiar.

Nominally a Republican, Brookhart was so unmanageable in the last Congress that the regular Republicans would prefer the Democrat, Steck—unless Brookhart means to "be good" in future.

Some say he does, if the Republicans will vote to seat him. Doubtless they will, assuming he's tamed. It wasn't because they liked Steck, it was because they hated Brookhart's insubordination; that there was any talk of Republican support of the former.

Treasury Will Seek Reduction In Surtax

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(P)—The Treasury Department's Tax recommendations to congress now are expected to include reduction in surtax rates to maximum 20 per cent repeal of income tax publicity section and the lowering if not an entire elimination of tax on estates.

GERMAN ON POSTCARDS BARRIED

ROME, Sept. 10.—(P)—The perfect of Trent has ordered that no picture postcards with German or bilingual captions be sold. This is another effort to make Upper Adige territory, reconquered by Italy during the World War, an integral part of the nation and to minimize Austrian influence there. Pictures and card albums with German captions may be sold only until the end of 1925.

ER BUSINESS G BEST OF PREDICTED

ing News Given At Bankers' Meeting hville; Boston Man Speaker Thursday

ILLE, Tenn., Sept. 11.—The rest of 1925 will be a business, forecasters in the States agree, was the opinion of the Farm Bankers Association in an address by George W. Brown, independent economist, Boston, Mass. His address: "The business outlook for 1925. Some of them do not caution us that there is no boom." Others warn of a "greedy stocking" of raw materials, but they do not believe that the rest of 1925 will be better than last year's. "Indeed, it is safe to say that the business outlook for the four full months, ended in an unusual summer no-examine, one by one, the reasons behind this optimism, we find as follows: "1925 will be, for the country, the best building experience we have had since the war. I refer to the volume of definitely projected construction of the jobs contracted for will be heavy contribution from the building industry to general building—This factor is large for 1925 as it was for 1924. Withstand this, they have bought heavily and thus contributed a substantial amount to business, which probably affect purchasing throughout 1925. "The mobile business—The early start of the spring and the output of cars will not be realized in the first quarter, however, has been so far overcome by the second quarter's record that more than usual showing up from now on will not reduce the year's total output much, if any, below the total of 1924. From the point of view of those who furnish the material and from that of those who sell to those employed in automobile factories, this is an important factor in business for the rest of the year.

Farm Buying Power.—"Farm buying power. The situation looks good. It is still too early to be cocksure about corn. Govern late frosts, there will be lots of corn. The price will not be high but the quantity will make up. Wheat farmers will be fully as well off as last year, though we shall export little or no wheat. This statement does not apply to winter wheat farmers with no wheat to sell. Cotton bids fair to turn out very well. The high prices of a few years ago are over but cotton farmers should be good purchasers. The farmer, in general, will be a good buyer. "The European situation—is distinctly better. Germany will make every effort to pay reparations. If the security pact goes through, we shall be still further encouraged.

The hull, as navy engineers intended, proved seaworthy. Members Are Reticent. Members of the seaplane crew were reticent over reasons for failure of the big ship to complete the non-stop attempt, merely saying that the actual flight conditions differed from those under which the preliminary tests of the seaplane were held. They admitted that the shortage of gasoline might have resulted from the seaplane traveling at a speed greater than that used in the preliminaries. The four subordinate members of the crew had nothing but the heartiest of praise for Commander John Rodgers. It was his unflagging optimism and good humor, they declared, which kept up their spirit through the long nine days and nights in mid-ocean. An unpleasant feature of their experience, the fliers said, was the hearing of radio messages to the effect that a conference of navy

Students Of Cuba Manifest Interest In Rollins College

WINTER PARK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Since the Spanish-American war, at which time a number of undergraduates of Rollins College enlisted in the army and navy to espouse the cause of the Cuban freedom, there has existed much interest among the young people of Cuba in the institution here, says a statement issued by college officials here. A number of present day leaders of the Cuban republic today are graduates of Rollins College. In order to comply with the many requests for information about Rollins College the authorities of the institution have from time to time been compelled to have printed special bulletins in Spanish outlining the entrance requirements, description of courses offered and details of the school. The official representatives of Rollins College in Cuba today is M. A. Bretos of Cardenas, who is a life member of the Alumni Association. He is chairman of the "Go to College" movement in Cuba which was inaugurated by Rollins alumni. One of the interesting traditions existing at Rollins College is the annual football game between the "Tars and the University of Havana. This series of games began in 1909. Three years ago it was played in Miami before the largest crowd that ever gathered to witness a football game in southern Florida, athletic officials here state. This year it will be played in Havana.

JAPS SUPPRESS COLLEGE ISSUE

TOKYO, Sept. 12.—(AP)—A recent issue of the Waseda University Journal was suppressed by the police on the grounds that some of the articles it contained were dangerous to public peace. The chief article which aroused the authorities was one said to have been written by a member of the faculty criticizing the Shanghai situation. This is declared to be the first time the police have suppressed a Japanese school publication.

BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine, and now he says:

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple of three times, then I would be very constipated. "A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. "It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep and could do twice the work." One cent a dose. NC-161

THE BUILDERS

All are architects of Fate, Working in these walls of time; Some with massive deeds and great...

Nothing useless, is or low; Each thing in its place is best; And what seems but idle show...

For the structure that we raise, Time is with materials filled; Our todays and yesterdays...

Truly shape and fashion these; Leave no yawning gaps between; Think not, because no man sees...

In the elder days of Art, Builders wrought with greatest care; Each minute and unseen part; For the Gods see everywhere...

Let us do our work as well, Both the unseen and the seen; Make the house, where Gods may dwell, Beautiful, entire, and clean...

Else our lives are incomplete, Standing in these walls of time; Broken stairways, where the feet Stumble as they seek to climb...

Build today, then, strong and sure, With a firm and ample base; And ascending and secure, Shall tomorrow find its place...

Thus alone can we attain, To those towers, where the eye Sees the world as one vast plain, And one boundless reach of sky...

There has been mighty little knocking of Florida here in Birmingham. In general there has been a real sporting spirit. It is not knocking to urge our own investments and argue their merits as against those of Florida...

The White Collar Gives Way

Up in Massachusetts a state engineer who has been bossing a two hundred thousand dollar road job on a salary of eighteen hundred dollars a year has resigned and gone to work with a pick and a shovel on the road whose construction he formerly supervised.

For the work he will do in manual labor he is to be paid at the rate of sixty-five cents an hour, and on this, he says, he can save more than he could on the salary that was given him while he was in charge of the road building.

Doubtless many instances of like nature are happening closer to home. With the cost of labor continually mounting and with no proportionate increase in pay to the trained man who has heavy responsibilities, there is little wonder that many are discarding their white collars and their clean clothes to don the overalls in order to get higher wages—and no responsibilities.

"It is becoming more and more difficult for cities and states to secure efficient engineering forces," says the New York Herald-Tribune in an editorial on the subject, "for reason that the pay that was once deemed adequate is no longer sufficient to enable those who receive it to meet expenses. The old idea that a white-collar job at a low salary was better than an overall job at high wages, has been abandoned pretty generally since the cost of food and clothes has advanced. Men, especially those with families, must have money, and they no longer feel that it is necessary to earn it in clean clothes."

While the trained worker, who has expended perhaps years in preparation for his job, always has a better chance of advancement, still it is a frequent fact that advancement means waiting and many times the financial condition of the man will not permit him to wait while he has to work on insufficient pay, to properly support himself and his family.

So the white collar job is giving way to overalls in the efforts of many to keep the wolf from the door.

YOU SHALL NOT press down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns—you shall not critically maul upon a cross of gold.—W. J. Bryan.

As Brisbane Sees It

A Real Land Boom. How Animals Vanish. Cures by Spirits. Santa Fe Value.

BY ARTEUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

FOR REAL land boom excitement go to Queensland, newly discovered diamond field in South Africa.

Think of finding diamonds as heavy as 28 karats apiece, buried only one foot and a half below the top of the earth.

That should be a well-scratched and well dug-up part of Africa, with thousands of diamond seekers leaving their jobs in Johannesburg, pouring into the diamond lands.

The roads are bad, where there are any, and the swiftest runners over rough ground get the first claims.

CHICAGO DISCOVERS with horror that a blind beggar, playing a little fiddle, has earned on an average $19 an hour. He just sits with his hat beside him and every hour $19 drops into his hat.

WHY CRITICISE that beggar? At least he had to sit in one place, look sad and play a dreary little tune on his little fiddle for only $19 an hour.

Thousands of sons of rich Americans don't even fiddle or look sad, but scunter over the earth, making fools of themselves, while ten or a hundred times what the Chicago beggar gets falls into their hats.

He who gets money without earning it is a beggar, no matter how "respectably" he may get it.

IN A BIG ballroom of the McAlpin Hotel in New York you might see the various animals passing off the face of the earth, in the sale of furs at public auction.

All sorts of fur-bearing animals contributed their hides in thousands and ten of thousands to the demand for furs to decorate the furless body of the female human animal.

DEALERS SEEMED most interested in Southern muskrat skins, which brought as high as $1.98 each in large blocks. This offers good profit to owners of muskrat swamps in the South.

After the muskrats came in a "lot" of 497 brown, black and grizzly bears. Next came polar bears. These huge animals brought for their hides only about five times as much each as the small-humped, thick-furred muskrat. Ladies do not wear learkskins to any great extent.

THE KIND hearted may sigh at the "disappearance of our foot-footed fur-bearing friends."

But animals carry and make permanent numerous diseases. The spirit locked up in the animal body is hunted a great part of the time and unhappy.

Humanly speaking all but human life is destined to disappear from the earth, except perhaps the dangerous life so small as to defy the microscope.

SOMETHING OUGHT to be done about the horrible traps in which the animals are caught, to suffer agony until the trapper, going his rounds at leisure, arrives with death.

SPIRITUALISTS GATHERED in Paris among the more orthodox "regular" religions by announcing that spirits cure disease. They specify the case of one young girl cured of hip disease.

THAT IS the usual thing with all religions. And after all, all religious cure is "spiritual cure," performed by spirits or a spirit.

From the beginning it has been necessary for religion, in order to establish a claim on human confidence, first to perform miracles, violating the laws of nature, and, second, to perform miraculous cures.

THE INTERSTATE Commerce Commission fixes the value of the Santa Fe road tentatively at $175,000,000. The Santa Fe is well built, well managed and its value is far above the official estimate.

The stock owners would not sell it for any such price or double that.

THE SANTA FE should add to its value and to the public's appreciation of its good management by cutting the running time from Chicago to the Pacific Coast, which could easily be done.

This Santa Fe should do for its own sake. In the long run, the value of a railroad depends on the value that the public puts up on that railroad's service.

AMUNDSEN is not easily discouraged. Next March he will try another North Pole trip, using an Italian dirigible in place of airplanes that failed last time.

The plan is not as reckless as it seems, for the dirigible is better than the airplane in the Arctic, comparatively free from storms.

HEY! WHAT TH' DING DING?

JUST IN PASSING

BY R. J. HOLLY

Blotters absorb everything and give out nothing. We still have a few blotters left in Sanford.

Don't know whether the hot weather is affecting the proof readers on newspapers or not but some of the articles now are so badly jumbled that it is difficult to read them.

Our dear little postoffice building was a nice building ten years ago when it was constructed and no doubt the government thought they were killing a big one when they built it. But they did not figure on the rapid growth of Sanford and our postoffice now would make a good garage but for a postoffice—six.

And President Coolidge favors a budget of one hundred millions for new federal buildings where they are needed. Since they are not needed in any state but Florida at present we suppose Congressman Sears will get us at least a half million for a real federal building here—one with a wine cellar for the storage of confiscated booze.

Wrote Senator Fletcher the other day about establishing fish hatcheries in Lake Monroe, Lake Jessup and Lake Harney. There is some talk about such establishments in Florida in order to keep enough fish in the rivers and lakes to take care of the millions of people coming here. The Senator thinks we have a good chance to get these hatcheries along with about two thousand other points in the state where they also think they have just what the government bureau wants.

Again I would like to call attention to the fact that our present traffic rules about the right and left hand side of all streets is not clear enough to the average driver to avoid accidents. This week there was an accident that may prove fatal to several people and undoubtedly it was caused by the ignorance of one driver as to whether he had right of way or not. Make certain streets and avenue right of way streets over all traffic and then post signs to STOP at these crossings and local drivers and tourists alike will know what to do.

What Sanford should do is to take in the territory on the Volusia side of Lake Monroe and make it all part of Seaside with two or more free bridges across the lake and river and then have a grand boulevard and white way all around the lake. It would exclude anything in Florida and with one-third of the cost that other communities have put into such development. We have so much here that we could make into something big that we are apt to overlook about nine tenths of it.

Some of the Altamonte folks up here yesterday were of the opinion that Sanford should demand the new state road go through Altamonte. We would like to do all we can to get Altamonte citizens what they desire but this matter was left to a committee appointed from all those precincts affected and this committee voted to allow the road south to go east of Altamonte and Longwood. This is something that will really be left to the judgment of the State Road Department finally and they will be the arbiters.

The burning question of the hour regarding state roads just now is whether these roads should go through the centers of towns and cities or not. This is something that is rather difficult to decide. Taking the position of Orlando for instance I would say that if the Dixie Highway went around Orlando instead of through the center of the city the interstate travel and the city of Orlando would be much better off if the road did not go through the congested district. There is much for discussion in this subject.

Taking your own experience for instance—when you are making a long trip and have no certain objective until you reach your journey's end do you want to stop in every place you reach on the way or do you want to go through as quickly as you can and get to a certain place to camp or stay at the hotel. Unless you want gas which you can obtain at any roadside filling station why should you stop at every city on the way?

The filling is all driven and the work of dredging and filling in at the Forrest Lake Hotel will take place next week and Monroe Hutton thinks the filling can be done in thirty days from the time the dredge starts pumping sand. Two new streets in the hotel section will be covered with asphalt next week and the new hotel property will begin to look like the real thing. The building is ahead of schedule and we can look for Howard Hulick to be down soon and make a magnificent gesture that looks like opening the hotel a month ahead of time if need be.

The Atlantic County News says that all of us have day dreams of eventually retiring from active business sometime. Yes, this is true, but few of us ever get to that point. When you have been in harness for many years, leading an active life you cannot retire no matter how much money you may have. The man who retires at fifty might just as well over his wooden overcoat for he will not live long. We all need something to worry about, something to keep us bustling, something to keep us really busy. And then it is a poor citizen who will not give his time and attention to his city and in part of his time doing something really worth while as a progressive citizen.

Look out for the equinoctial pales in a few days for it is about the schedule time for them to arrive. We are always glad to see the gales even though they might do some damage for it means that the backbone of summer is broken and cooler weather will prevail. To those of us who have been here all summer this is welcome news.

Florida boosters are after President Coolidge to make his winter home in Florida. If he is as nosy as they claim for him I would much rather have him come to Florida in July and August. It would be especially nice for him to make some money on Florida real estate in order to see how the surtax would affect him.

SATURDAY EVENING SERMON

BY REV. R. J. BOWEN

Text Eph. 6:11. "Put on the whole armor of God."

"Paul, while in person in Rome, was thinking of the little band of believers that he had left at Ephesus, and knowing as he did the ability of that city and the trials they would have to bear and the temptations they would meet, wrote them a letter by which he hoped to strengthen their faith, and our postoffice now would make a good garage but for a postoffice—six."

He informed them that their struggle would not be simply with men, but also with unseen forces. Not merely with the prevalent forms of idolatry but "with spiritual wickedness in high places, and knowing that the Roman Soldier used considered the most perfectly equipped for offensive military service Paul chooses him as a comparative symbol for them in their preparation for the struggle against a sin on the powers of darkness."

Their must be a complete equipment. Every boy and girl of you should have some idea which they are strong in, ideal is perfect that is a life with it the purpose of a life as well as making a life.

You are not in the same life, to see what you can get, but what you can put in. You are not living for yourself, but for the good of the world. You are not to be satisfied with the attainment of material things and sensual pleasures, but the deeper spiritual satisfactions which belong to this earth life. For you seek first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness and these things shall be added to you.

As a last word let me say to you, youth of today who are with the greatest opportunities for cooperation for useful life, that have ever been in the history of the world do not neglect to make the days as they are yours. You many not have years to lament the brevity of youth.

Count that gay laughing, depending sun victim to hand no worthy action.

Having your feet clean a preparation of the peace. A willingness to go on in their power to uphold and destroy evil. No one can do their life without a thorough preparation of the peace.

The reason there are no features in the world because men and women are doing things for which they have made a preparation and therefore have prepared their souls for the lines of labor.

STOCK BRIDGE TO WRITE TAMPA TIMES

Frank Parker-Stockbridge, a writer of conceded ability, is now making a survey of conditions in Florida in an effort to determine the why and the wherefore of the extraordinary interest which the people of the whole United States are just now manifesting in this southern state.

The result of his investigations will be published in the Review of Reviews, and will be awaited with much interest. That Florida has an exceptional climate will doubtless be freely conceded by Mr. Stockbridge. The experience of 100 years has established that fact beyond any chance of dispute. The world is at last beginning to realize the fact that our summer climate is an exceptional one in its way as much warm weather here as it is true, something that is appreciably warmer, but when we begin to suffer from one of those excessively heat waves, we look up the records and are surprised to find that on certain days Tampa was from 2 to 10 degrees cooler than some cities many miles to the northward. And in the shade it is always cool. But the climate is not everything. It is highly desirable of course to have a comfortable all the year round climate, it adds appreciably to the joy of living, but it is not absolutely essential to success. Men have lived and thrived and made great fortunes in climates that could not be commended on any grounds.

That Mr. Stockbridge betrays the fact that his investigations have not been in vain when he stresses the fact that the agricultural wealth of Florida lands have been and still are undervalued and under priced. It points to the fact that in the older states of the north land is priced according to the income that may

Delightful Dance Is Given In Honor Of Misses Holly, Puleston

The Sanford Country Club which is so well adapted for entertaining, was the scene of one of the most delightful affairs given during the autumnal season, when Mrs. R. A. Newman and Miss Olive Newman entertained Friday evening at a dance honoring Misses Mary Elizabeth Puleston and Mildred Holly, who leave next week for college. Quantities of pink flowers and ferns, together with many handsome potted palms transformed the large lounge into a veritable floral bower. On the sun porch the punch bowl was placed and here cooling punch was served throughout the evening.

Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour, the music being furnished by the Reinstein orchestra. Favoring of hats, confetti and merry-making devices were given the happy dancers. At 11 o'clock, refreshments of pink and green brick cream and individual cakes embossed in the initials of P. and H. were served.

The chaperons of the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Newman, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly and Forrest Lake.

The guest list included: Misses Mary Elizabeth Puleston, Mildred Holly, Mae Holly, Naomi Scoggans, Louise Saries, Katherine Pittman, Sara Evelyn Williams, Helen Verney, Lena Bell Hagen, Emily Griffin, LeClaire Jones, Ellison White, Georgia Mobley, Olive Newman, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hutton, Messrs Edgerton Patterson, Bob Dodson, Raymond Beardin, Everille Dash, Sam Fiescher, Lloyd Boyle, Frank Markwood, James Sharon, Warner Scoggans, Herbert Messer, Douglas Igou, Robert Thrasher, Johnnie Miesch, G. W. Spencer, Jr., Paul Lake, William DuBoise, Maurice Wimbish, Edward Lake, of Laurens, S. C., Elwin Moore of Laurens, S. C., Robert Dean, Allen Jones, John Brunley, Albert Connelly, Robert Holly, Joe Gonzalez, Jimmie Crawford and Forrest Lake.

Mrs. E. F. Housholder Entertains Members Of The College Set

Complimenting a number of Sanford young society girls who leave next week for Tallahassee where they will enter the Florida State College for Women, Mrs. Ernest Housholder was hostess at bridge Friday afternoon at her handsome new home on Evans Street. There were three tables of players.

In the spacious living room and sun parlor where the card tables were placed, the color scheme of purple and gold was most effectively carried out, with zinnias and summer lilacs.

Of exceptional interest, was the game of bridge played during the afternoon. Scores were kept on tallies done in college girls' designs. The prize for high score, purple silk hose, was awarded to Miss Georgia Mobley. The guests of honor, Misses Olive Newman, Mildred Holly, Mary Elizabeth Puleston, Georgia Mobley, Sara Evelyn Williams and Louise Saries were presented dainty vanities in purple and gold.

Delicious fruit punch was served throughout the afternoon and at the conclusion of the game, refreshments of an ice course was served by the hostess, assisted by her house guest, Mrs. Edmund Gumm of Galesburg, Ill., and Mrs. R. A. Newman.

Those enjoying this charming social courtesy were Misses Olive Newman, Mildred Holly, Naomi Scoggans, LeClaire Jones, Mary Elizabeth Puleston, Georgia Mobley, Louise Saries, Ellison White, Mae Holly, Sara Evelyn Williams, Katherine Pittman, Emily Griffin and Lena Belle Hagen.

Dinner and Slumber Party Given By Miss Sarah Evelyn Williams

Delightful in every way was the dinner and slumber party given Thursday night by Miss Sara Evelyn Williams at her home on Crystal Lake, in compliment to the girls of the college set.

The hospitable home was opened in suite and beautifully decorated with baskets and bowls of vivid-hued field flowers and ferns. The dinner table was laid with an elaborate lunch cloth, the center being graced by a crystal bowl filled with pink autigen and feathery asparagus ferns. On either side were crystal candle sticks holding unshaded pink tapers. The place cards were done in fascinating floral designs.

After dinner a number of young men joined the jolly group of girls and swimming and canoeing were indulged in until a late hour. Later in the evening a sumptuous supper was served by camp fire light, the hostess being assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. Fred T. Williams.

The entire affair was most enjoyable and will be remembered by each and every guest for a long time.

The guests of honor were Misses Olive Newman, Mildred Holly, Mae Holly, Helen Verney, Mary Elizabeth Puleston, Louise Saries, Naomi Scoggans, Ellison White, Georgia Mobley and Carol Stone.

TAMPA CAPTURES 5TH GAME FROM ST. PETERSBURG

Winners of Second Half Go Into Lead in Series When Alvarez Holds Saints To Three Scattered Bingles

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 12.—(P)—The Tampa Smokers jumped to the lead in the race for the Florida State League pennant when they trimmed the Saints today, 5 to 1 in the fifth game of the post-season series.

Caesar Alvarez held the Block men to three hits, one being a double in the fifth inning, when Cox hit a high fly to deep center, advancing to third on a sacrifice and scoring the only tally for St. Petersburg on a squeeze play when Hudgins dropped the ball after Alvarez had thrown Cox out.

Tampa scored in the first inning when Hewitt was touched for two infield hits and a single by Lee over second, Hicks coming home from second.

In the seventh, the Smokers put the game on ice when they tallied three runs from three hits and in the eighth a squeeze play brought in Manager Jimmy Sneed after he had singled to left, stealing second and going to third when the ball was thrown wild by Besse, hitting him, the ball rolling into center-field, Hicks, making the sacrifice.

Many arguments and wrangles delayed the game. Al Allen and Lopez, of the Smokers, being escorted from the field after being ordered from the park by Umpire Pieh for disputing a decision.

Score by innings:
Tampa 100 000 130—5-10-1
St. Pete 000 010 000—1-3-4

Summary: Two base hits, Cox, Stolen base, Sneed. Sacrifices, Doyle, Alvarez, Hicks, Weik. Double plays, Hicks to Sneed to Jesmer. Left on base, St. Petersburg 2; Tampa 11; Base on balls, off Hewitt 4; Alvarez 1. Struck out by Hewitt 8; Alvarez 2. Hit by pitcher, by Hewitt (Weik). Umpires, Pieh, Luther and Connors. Time, 2:30.

Single By Travis In Eighth With Bases Loaded Enables New York to Win; Braves And Phillies Again Split

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(P)—The New York Giants came from behind Friday to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4 to 2. A single by Travis Jackson with the bases filled in the eighth inning won the game for the National League Champions. Barnes and Neff worked on the mound for the Giants, while Osborne went the route for the Dodgers.

Score by innings:
Brooklyn 000 000 020—2-10-0
New York 000 001 03x—4-7-1

DIVIDE HONORS
BOSTON, Sept. 12.—(P)—Boston and Philadelphia again divided honors in a double-header Friday. Although Genewich was hit hard in the opening game, he had sensational support and Boston won 6 to 4. Knight pitched well in the second game and his double off Graham in the second inning scored two runs, Philadelphia winning by that margin, 4 to 2. Between games the Elks took up a collection for the restoration of the historic Frigate Constitution, and placed a wreath on the tablet at Braves field dedicated to the memory of Normand D. Boeckel, formerly third baseman of the team.

FIRST GAME
Philadelphia 010 000 111—4-13-1

Paul Berlenbach Retains His Title By Knocking Out Jimmy Slattery Of Buffalo

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 12.—(P)—Paul Berlenbach, of Astoria, N. Y., world's light-heavyweight champion, successfully defended his title last night when he scored a technical knockout over Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo, N. Y., in the eleventh round of the 15-round encounter at the American League baseball park.

Berlenbach's powerful punches and the long route was too much for the youthful challenger and the end came after one minute and 28 seconds of the eleventh round, after Slattery had been on the canvas for most of the round.

Referee Patsy Haley stopped the fight after it appeared certain that Slattery could not weather Berlenbach's storm of blows.

Round One: Slattery started to dance around the champion with lightning speed. They exchanged light blows. Slattery landed on the champion's jaw and they clinched.

Both landed to the head. The champion staggered Slattery with right to body. Another uppercut rocked Berlenbach. A straight right and left to the jaw backed the champion to the ropes. Slattery was boxing prettily. They were dancing at the bell.

Round two: Slattery led with right to head but took Berlenbach's heavy right in return. Berlenbach chased his challenger half way around the ring. Berlenbach scored to the body at close quarters. He rushed Slattery to the corner and had him groggy with a furious charge. A heavy right sent Slattery back on his heels. They were in a clinch at the bell.

Round three: Slattery crashed to Berlenbach's body. Slattery's left jab was bothering the champion. Berlenbach slowed Slattery with right to the body. There was much wrestling. A smashing left to the face had Slattery groggy and he reeled about the ring, hanging onto the champion whenever possible.

The champion was weakening his opponent with heavy blows. The bell found the challenger in a groggy condition.

Round four: Slattery continued to dance around with Berlenbach right after him. Berlenbach was endeavoring to get over his finishing right. A left to the chin sent Slattery reeling again. Slattery got over a right to the face and followed it with an uppercut and another right. Both missed weak jabs as the gong sounded.

Round five: Slattery staggered Berlenbach with a right to the chin. A right slipped off Slattery's jaw without harm. Slattery started to punch Berlenbach and held his own in an interesting skirmish. A right and left backed Slattery to the ropes but Slattery's jabs were bothering Berlenbach. The crowd was in an uproar as the bell found Berlenbach on the defensive.

Round six: Slattery rocked Berlenbach with a stiff uppercut. The champion sent Slattery's head back with a lunging left. Slattery was boxing cleverly. He put across a straight right which sent Berlenbach back to his heels. They traded body blows. Just as the bell rang Slattery sank his right in Berlenbach's ribs.

Round seven: Berlenbach landed a right but took three lefts to the head. The challenger doubled Berlenbach with a right to the stomach. Another right caught Berlenbach's chin. Slattery landed right to chin and clinched. There was much pulling and hanging on by both. Slattery measured Berlenbach with a right to the head just as the bell stopped the round.

Round eight: Berlenbach turned Slattery half way around with a right to the head. Three times Slattery's gloves found Berlenbach's face without a return. Berlenbach almost floored Slattery with a left to the head. The Buffalo boy staggered half across the ring. Slattery took three for a mixup in the center of the ring. The bell found them clinching.

Round nine: A hard right to the chin greeted Berlenbach as the round opened. Slattery took a right to the body but he was going away. Slattery landed to the head and body and then tied Berlenbach in the clinch. A right to the heart slowed the champion. A crashing left square on the face almost floored the challenger. The bell found them sparring for an opening.

Round ten: A weak left sent Slattery to the ropes. Every other charge ended in a clinch. Three times Berlenbach landed to the head and Slattery's knees sagged. A left staggered Slattery. Another turned him around. They were wrestling and Slattery went down from the force of the charge. He was up at 8, but another push sent him down for nine. The champion bowed in, landing almost at will at the defenseless challenger. He went down, but the bell saved him at the count of four.

Round eleven: A stiff right to the jaw floored Slattery again for a count of nine. The challenger was absorbing terrific punishment. Another lunge sent Slattery down for a count of nine. They wrestled and Slattery went down again and was up at nine. Berlenbach rushed Slattery to the ropes and with powerful rights and lefts poured a furious charge at the utterly defenseless challenger. The referee started to stop the fight, but stopped when Slattery appeared to be weathering the storm. Three times Berlenbach smashed his fist to Slattery's unprotected face and the Buffalo boy started to sink to the canvas. Referee Patsy Haley then stopped the fight and waved Berlenbach to his corner.

ATHLETICS BEAT YANKS PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—(P)—The Athletics nosed out the Yankees Friday afternoon in a pitching duel between Lefty Groves, of Philadelphia, and Urban Shocker, of New York, 3 to 2. A rally in the sixth inning started by Mickey Cochrane's single followed by Lamar's infield out and concluded with a safety by Simmons, won the game for the Mackmen. Groves allowed 11 hits, but kept them fairly scattered. Ben Paschal, of the Yankees, hit on the leg by a batted ball in the second inning, was forced to retire later in the game.

Score by innings:
New York 002 000 000—2-11-0
Philadelphia 002 001 00x—3-10-0

Batteries: Shocker and Bengough; Groves and Cochrane.

TIGERS DEFEAT INDIANS DETROIT, Sept. 12.—(P)—A bad first inning caught Smith, of Cleveland, yesterday, and Detroit won, 5 to 4. Cleveland kept pecking at Hallaway until he was relieved by Whitehill in the eighth, who stopped the hitting.

Score by innings:
Cleveland 010 011 010—4-12-3
Detroit 310 000 10x—5-11-1

Batteries: Smith and Myatt; Whitehill, Hallaway and Bassler.

SENATORS HOLD THEIR BIG LEAD OVER ATHLETICS

Champions Nose Out Red Sox While Mackmen Are Beating Yankees; Detroit Gains In Race by Defeating Indians

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(P)—Boston twice tied the count with the Senators Friday with two-run rallies, the second time in the ninth inning, only to lose, 5 to 4, when Fuhr, who took the mound after the eighth, permitted the bases to become loaded, and then passed Bludge, forcing Goslin home with the winning tally.

This victory merely enabled Washington to maintain its seven-game hold on the American League's top rung, as Philadelphia also won.

Carlyle started the Sox scoring in the sixth by pounding out a homer, while Goslin, in the seventh gave Washington a temporary lead by lifting the ball over the right field fence, scoring S. Harris ahead of him.

Score by innings:
Boston 000 002 002—4-11-1
Washington 100 010 201—5-13-0

Batteries: Ehmke, Fuhr and Pincich; Johnson and Kuel.

Why the One-Profit* Coach

—it is engineered and built complete by one organization—Studebaker—is a perfectly co-ordinated, harmonious unit. This means better performance, greater comfort and increased mileage at an accepted cost.

AN AUTOMOBILE, like any other highly specialized machine, runs more smoothly—lasts longer—gives greater satisfaction—when its thousands of elements are carefully co-ordinated into one harmonious unit.

Obviously, a better car can be produced when all vital parts are designed, engineered and manufactured by one organization.

The Studebaker car is built on this "one-profit" principle. Not only all the engines, but also all the bodies, and all the axles, gear sets, differentials, springs, clutches, steering gears, gray iron castings and drop forgings are manufactured in Studebaker plants. This is not true of any other automobile in the fine car field.

The Studebaker, therefore, being built as a unit—functions as a unit—with all of the advantages of unit over assembled construction.

"Coach" in name—Coupe in quality
The Studebaker Special Six Coach is an outstanding example of the finer quality made possible by this "one-profit" principle of motor car manufacture.

This automobile is really a fine 5-passenger coupe, but is called a "coach" because it carries the lowest price at which an enclosed car has ever been sold on the famous Studebaker Special Six chassis.

In this Coach fine grades of upholstery are used. You'll find the same quality of workmanship and materials in all hidden places that you see out in the open.

Many of the superiorities of this Coach are invisible—and therefore all the more important. But here are some you can easily see and check against competing cars: gasoline gauge on the dash, 8-day clock, automatic rear view mirror, door window curtains, rack, ornamental ventilator, stop light, tire carrier locked by that locks door, and coincidental lock to steering wheel. Light from a switch on which is left free for the spark lever. In all the spark is automatic by the speed of the motor.

In its insistence upon comfort, the Studebaker. There is comfort in the cushions—in the big springs—in the fall for which steering gear, fenders, etc., specially designed—in the ease with which may enter or leave the rear of the car—large windows and windshield.

You can buy all this style, comfort and grace at the price because this is the only coach on the market today.

Buy now—no "yearly model."
You may buy this Coach today—or on any year—with the assurance that there is "annual announcement" to make it another year's model.

For Studebaker has discontinued the presenting a new line of cars every year. Studebakers will be kept up to date all of them.

Therefore you can buy this Coach in
