Lady Voters Must Play Active Role In Political Game

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON, (AP)—Politics, says the League of Women Voters, is one game in which, whether we like it or not, we're counted in. "The trouble with politics," it adds, "is that too many of us are letting somebody else play our hand for us."
The League, a non-partisan organization was established in 1920 "to encourage citizens' participation in government." It is currently campaigning to impress folks that "politics is everybody's business."
The average citizen, says the League, after making up his mind about the kind of world he wants for himself and his family, must "express it through political action—registering, voting and a lot besides."
The League says that the trouble lies in the low opinion many Americans have of politics. "The result of this attitude," the League points out in a pamphlet "is seen in statistics which show that less than one in every three qualified voters bothers to vote in majority elections; only one in 10 in county elections."
"This is when the machine takes over," warns the League.
"People who neglect their democratic duties, risk losing their democratic rights," it says, adding that the only remedy for what's wrong with American politics is more politics—"acting together to get something done about a common problem."
"The way to make democracy come alive again, as it was in the early days of America," the League suggests, "is for millions of average citizens to wake up and play politics. This doesn't mean that they need run for office. It does mean that they should learn the game and play it hard."
The League stresses the importance of the individual, not as a single voter, but as an active political worker. When he becomes a worker he can multiply his effectiveness many fold, says the League, simply by getting others to go to the polls.
How "pressure groups" serve a ## purpose in democracy is another angle developed in the pamphlet. The idea is to make those groups which are thoroughly representative of the people useful. It warns against those which represent only one special point of view.

In discussing political parties the League says that "machines" can be beaten or can at least be made to serve the average citizen. The pamphlet also describes the mechanics of a political party, how it operates from precinct up to national committee. It suggests that one good way to get into politics is to run for precinct committee man on the party ticket.
This can be achieved by "side-walk-pounding and doorbell-ringing."
The citizen then will learn politics "from the inside and will be in a position to get something done about what looked hopeless from the outside."

Nationalist Drive Slowed By Communists

Reds Launch Offensive Against Rail Line From Tsingtoa Inland To Tsinan

PEIPING, Nov. 6, (AP)—Chinese Communists in fierce counter attacks today are said to have slowed down the Nationalist Army drive through north China's Shantung peninsula. Military observers in Peiping said the Reds have curtailed the government's broad offensive. The Nationalists are said to have lost Yehai—one of the province's four major ports which they had recently captured. Meanwhile, the Chinese Reds launched a drive of their own against the rail line from coastal Tsingtoa inland to Tsinan. However, the Nationalists claimed two more towns in Manchuria's Antung province west of the city of Antung which lies on the border between Manchuria and Korea. Russian troops are said to have been stationed in Antung, on the Manchurian side of the Yalu River boundary. Dispatches to Peiping said the Russians had withdrawn into Korea after so-called negotiations. At last week, Chinese Nationalist and Russian troops were facing each other across the river but the situation is described as satisfactory. Earlier, there had been rumors of friction between the Chinese and Russians in Manchuria. According to press dispatches, Russian planes flying over Manchuria were ordered to land at government bases. The Nationalists called the planes back after receiving a memorandum from the Nationalists.

FBI Nabs Two Men For Bootlegging Sugar Stamps

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 6, (AP)—Two Louisville men were arrested by federal agents today in connection with the operations of a sugar stamp bootlegging syndicate. The ring is said to have been operating in a dozen midwest states. Agents of the federal alcohol tax unit took the men into custody as they stepped from a passenger plane at Bowman Field on a return trip from Chicago.

Agent William Kinnaird said the men had 9,337 sugar stamps in their possession. The men, both former taxi drivers, were identified as Frank E. Bushanan, 34, and H. S. George, 35-year-old. Kinnaird said the stamps were legal ones and were from North Dakota, Nebraska, Illinois, Indiana and other midwest states. The agent said his department has been working on the case for months and that other arrests will follow shortly.

Kinnaird said the stamps were being sold in the black market and to whiskey moonshiners. He said that bringing the alcohol tax unit into the case. He explained that the stamps were evidently obtained from stores or verifications centers in the various states.

Cops Score In Goal Post Scrimmage

MOUNTED POLICE at Philadelphia's Franklin Field down one of Princeton's happy horse on his own ten yard line during a scrimmage between the law and triumphant Tiger rooters who sought to get down the field to tear up the goal posts. Despite a number of spears such as this—and one of them was the upset by which the Tigers took the game from Princeton 14-17—the Princeton lads did yank up the pole.

County Relinquishes Priorities At Air Station In Favor Of City

The Board of County Commissioners yesterday relinquished to the City any priorities they may hold on the Sanford Naval Air Station. This action followed the request of Chamber of Commerce Manager Edward Higgins, who stated that the City had asked that the county and state relinquish their holdings, and to write the War Assets Administration to that effect.

Mr. Higgins pointed out that buildings for schools and hospital are free to users, but that building to be used for private industry must be bought and paid for, and that the City will act as a trading agency for the government. The County has been assured in the transaction that the hospital at the station, will be used as a hospital only said County Clerk O. P. Herndon.

The commissioners heard an outline of the work of the Seminole County Health and Tuberculosis Association by Mrs. Edward Kircher, following which they approved admission to the Central Florida Tuberculosis Sanatorium of Harry A. Greenwood of Lake Monroe, Mrs. Betty Evelyn Reid,

U. S., Britain Confident Russian Offense In U. N. Can Be Headed Off

Clark Says U. S. Wants Austria To Run Own Affairs

VIENNA, Nov. 6, (AP)—General Mark Clark said today that the United States is anxious to leave the affairs of Austria in the hands of Austrians. He added, however, that American occupation troops will stay in Austria until peace treaties have been concluded. At that time the forces of all four occupying powers will be withdrawn.

Clark told his first news conference since his return from the United States that his trip to Austria had three purposes. First, he wanted to get the Austrian ration increased to 1,550 calories a day to equal the German ration. Next, he wanted to insure that the military pipeline from the United States to Austria would be filled by the first of the year to guarantee sufficient food in the American occupation zone. And finally, he discussed a long term loan, or grant, to Austria from the United States, and possibly Britain, for the purpose of rebuilding the whole of Austria.

Clark said the loan to Austria was being considered in terms of 125 million to 150 million dollars, part of which would come from the Export-Import Bank.

Florida Hands Big Majorities To Democrats

Hendricks Has Safe Margin Over Moss; Early Returns Indicated Tight Race

ORLANDO, Nov. 6, (AP)—Orange County will have a Republican representative for the first time in its history. Complete unofficial returns show that incumbent Tyn Cobb, Jr., Democrat, and Republican Alex Akerman, Jr., won the county's two seats. Cobb got 5,106 votes, Akerman 6,093. J. G. Horrell, Democrat, 5,569 and Leland M. Chubb, Republican, 4,861.

By Associated Press
Florida voters joined the rest of the South in speaking their traditional Democratic convictions with heavy majorities against all Republican candidates.

Latest returns also indicated changes in the state government, dealing with financial matters, were decisively defeated. United States Senator Spessard L. Holland of Bartow, now filling the unexpired term of the late Senator Charles O. Andrews, picked up the expected avalanche of votes. With votes counted in about three-fourths of the precincts, Holland has 120,895 ballots to 34,248 for J. Harry Schad of Gainesville, his Republican opponent.

The only sign of a real contest was in the Fifth Congressional District. Early returns indicated Republican M. J. Moss, Jr., of Orlando, might run neck and neck with Democratic Representative Joe Hendricks of DeLand. Hendricks, however, now has a safe margin. With two-thirds of the precincts counted, Hendricks has 12,909 and Moss, 9,097.

In the Fourth District, all 111 precincts gave George A. Smith, Democrat, a big lead over Republican Norman Curtis, a fellow townsman, 96,695 to 14,144.

The Sixth District race saw incumbent Dwight L. Rogers of Fort Lauderdale lead Republican Joseph P. Moe of the same city, 10,611 to 4,476.

Democrats also walked away with two seats on the State Board of Education. The count showed Democrat Jerry W. Carter of Tallahassee, incumbent, 89,431, and Democrat Wilbur C. King of Zolfo Springs, 84,166, and Republican Clinton D. Scott of New Smyrna Beach 29,693.

It appeared a Republican has a chance to be elected to the state House of Representatives in Orange County. GOP candidate Alex Akerman, Jr., is a close second to Democrat Tyn Cobb, Jr. Another Democrat, J. G. Horrell, is also running close in third position.

The leading candidates will be elected. Democrats have swept seats in the state House in Dale and Polk counties.

Two local amendments were passed and two were defeated. Approved were the orange county amendment requiring Assembly approval before the Trusteeship Council can be set up. The United States proposal does not mention Russia directly. But it is understood to have sprung from reports that Russia considered that the five major powers came within the Charter definition of "states directly concerned" and that the refusal of any one of the five to approve the draft agreement would prevent Assembly action.

Also at the meeting held at the Palma and Times, President Gene Tucker presented a financial statement of the organization which revealed that the club operated during the past season with a profit of slightly more than $5,000.

Baby Feds Cop 19-7 Tilt From Baby Cocoa '11'

The Seminoles High School Baby Feds stopped a hard charging Cocoa High Baby team on the local field last night in a well played game that offered all the thrills of any major contest, by a 19 to 7 margin.

The game, a friendly rivalry between two former Seminoles High grid stars who are now coaches, George McMillan of Cocoa and Fred Gandy of Seminoles, was well played and well attended.

Monday, the first period the Fed's roosted the sphere deep in their own territory and with Lloyd Swan, Johnny Alexander, Bob Humphrey and Don Deal carrying moved to the Cocoa one-yard stripe where Deal plunged over for the marker. Richard Haas added the extra point from placement.

Cocoa returned in the third period to knot the contest. In the fourth quarter the Seminoles men went to war. Cocoa, with their backs on the goal kicked to Sanford and David Harrell scampered 30 yards for a touchdown. The try for the extra point was no good.

Moments later Richard Haas took the ball on a double reverse and wormed his way through a host of would be tacklers to go 35 yards for the score. The try for the extra point failed.

Majority In Senate Still May Be Hiked

GOP Sweeps Country In Comeback After 16 Years In Political Background

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 6, (AP)—Senator Claude Pepper commented today on the apparent return of the Republican party to power in Congress. The Florida Democrat said "there are hard days ahead for the people" here and abroad.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6, (AP)—The Republicans have captured control of the United States Senate as well as the House of Representatives. This announcement was flashed over the nation this afternoon by the Associated Press.

Associated Press tabulations at that time indicated that the 29th seat in the House of Representatives, one more than necessary for a majority, had been won by the GOP. They also went over the top in the Senate when Utah's Republican Arthur Watkins took the 60th Republican seat. That majority may be increased still further for five Senate races are yet to be decided.

The Republicans have swamped the nation surging to a political comeback after 16 years in the background. The overall means that the Congress meeting in January will be politically divided from the White House. Tradition pointed a favorable finger also toward GOP capture of the presidency in 1948.

President Truman agreed smiling to the Republican victory and replied, "no comment" to questions about the election. The Chief Executive promised, however, to hold a news conference soon to give his reaction to Democratic setbacks.

In the Republican sweep from coast to coast additional territory was gained that the GOP won governorships in at least 20 states.

As the political clock of the Republicans started this morning and into the afternoon, Wall Street reacted. Today's market opened with an initial uptick but then dipped downward. Experts said apparently the GOP victory had been discounted in advance with the market rise last week and on Monday. That was the explanation for today's up and down.

Duke And Duchess Board Liner For American Visit

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 6, (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor boarded the liner Queen Elizabeth today for the United States. They couple plans to return to England in the spring but otherwise they are uncertain about their future. The former king told newsmen, before motoring to Southampton from the Earl of Dudley's estate, that his position remains the same as he said in his farewell broadcast speech of 1937. He said he quit public affairs then, but is always at the disposal of his country if there is anything useful he can do.

The Duke said he saw the Prime Minister for a short time but it was purely a courtesy call. He denied that he saw Mr. Attlee and a John Lillie and the Duchess said they thoroughly enjoyed their three weeks' visit to England, although it was marred by the theft of the Duchess' jewels. The Duke commented that he thought England was the one country where nothing like that would happen to them.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 6, 1946 BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

HAVE YOU FOUND LIFE STALE, FAT AND UNPROFITABLE? THEN YOU HAVE BEEN DRINKING AT THE WRONG FOUNTAIN: If any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink.—John 7:37.

It looks as if about everything has been decontrolled by the OPA except newspaper. There's more ways than one of curbing the freedom of the press.

The Big Four began meeting in New York yesterday to draft the peace treaties of the world. Just the way things are going before they get through, there won't be anything left of the Big Four but the little one.

Down at Rollins a gift of $500,000 for a new library has been announced, indicating the extent to which books and libraries are regarded there. Seminole High School is asking for $1,500 to improve its library. It is little enough to ask.

Absent-Minded "That absent-minded Professor Schmarz has left his umbrella again. He'd leave his head if it were loose!" observed the waiter. "That's true," said the manager. "I just heard him say he was going to Switzerland for his lungs."—Thesaurus of Anecdotes.

Exception With her hand on the light switch, the little woman interrupted her interminable chatter inquires, "Is everything shut up for the night, dear?"

From out of the darkness came a hubb's distant reply: "Everything else, dear."—Cleveland News.

Senator Pepper reached new heights of eloquence in his pre-election admonition to America's voters to support the Democratic party. "The spiritual eyes of President Roosevelt, our great savior and emancipator, are looking inside your hearts tomorrow to see how you mark your ballots," he warned. "Gone forever, we fear, is the secret ballot!"

The Times-Union says that the trouble with the New Dealers was that they tried to give the country "too much of a good thing." There are some who will argue about the accuracy of that expression "good thing," but be that as it may, it is certain that while many people would tolerate the New Deal, they would not tolerate "Perpetual New Dealers."

Newspapers are not the only ones being crippled by the newsprint shortage. George Walker, Florida textbook director, reports that there are 20,000 more school pupils in Florida this year than last year and that there simply aren't enough school books to go around. "It is impossible to get enough more," he adds, because of the scarcity of materials. Meanwhile, we continue to get enough propaganda from Washington to print thousands of books.

It is a forgone conclusion with most political observers that John L. Lewis has already won his latest argument with the government. He has already got wages so high that the operators can't afford to run them so they have been turned over to the government. Now, we wonder, what will happen when Lewis' demands reach the point where even the government doesn't take a cent from the sale of coal to pay the miners. Will it subsidize them or will it raise the price of coal? Will it stick the consumers, or will it stick the taxpayers?

Democracy in action is illustrated by the U. S. Navy's latest offer of a free college education plus spending money of $500 a month to five thousand high school seniors in the United States. Thus every child in America has an opportunity to get a college education at absolutely no expense to himself and no matter how poor his parents may be. However, of course, only the best will be taken, and that doesn't mean those who come from the best families, but those who have obtained the best grades in school. The Navy doesn't want men who have never learned their mathematics, who still think that three plus two makes six, who can't spell, or can't read. It not only wants men who have graduated from high school; it wants men who have learned the lessons of high school.

Tuesday's Election

Communism, planned economy, bureaucracy, government red tape, inefficiency, high taxes and wasteful extravagance, strikes and shortages were repudiated at the polls by the American people in yesterday's elections. As this is being written, a Republican landslide seems to have swept into office enough Republicans to control the House and possibly even the Senate, with a little Democratic help.

For it should not be forgotten that what happened in the nation yesterday was as much a triumph for those stalwart Southern Democrats who have been opposing radical legislation as it is for the Republicans. Except for the party label, the Southern Democrats have much more in common today with the northern Republicans than they have with the northern Democrats, most of whom are considerably left of center.

Throughout the north from east to west, Democrats who called themselves New Dealers or belonged to the big city machines, even President Truman's personal friend Robert Axtell of Missouri, were swept out of office. Exceptions to this rule were in West Virginia where Senator Kilgore's Republican opponent had the endorsement of the United Mine Workers, and in one New York district where Vitto Marcantonio, New York Communist masquerading as a Democrat, was re-elected.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York improved his chance for the Republican presidential nomination by winning easily in his state and carrying with him the Republican senatorial nominee, Irving Ives. Henry Cabot Lodge defeated Senator Walsh in Massachusetts and Governor Ed Martin won a resounding victory in Pennsylvania. A good Democrat who was re-elected was Harry Byrd of Virginia while Pat Hurley running as a Republican in New Mexico is leading.

We do not view this Republican victory as any threat to labor or triumph for the "economic royalists." Such Republican leaders as Henry Cabot Lodge, Thomas E. Dewey, Senator Vandenberg, Ed Martin and Harold Stassen are just as American as Theodore Roosevelt or Samuel Gompers and it is not recorded that they ever did anything to hurt the American working man.

Such monstrosities as the OPA will certainly go out of the window and prices will be allowed to seek their normal level as dictated by the law of supply and demand. Some legislation will probably be enacted to curb the irresponsible use of the strike weapon, but nobody in our opinion stands to benefit more from sustained production than the little man.

And that, too, seems to have been the view of the majority of the American people.

Competition?

"Competition is the life of trade." While this old-time saying still has its points, its value as a means of restoring the economic balance is much overestimated, according to Prof. Seymour E. Harris of Harvard's economic department.

Writing in the Harvard Alumni Bulletin, Prof. Harris thinks that if many fields free competition simply does not exist. It does not where the labor market is controlled by unions. It does not for the farmer, who found in the 1920's and 1930's that they could not survive perfect competition. Today both parties support monopolistic policies which enable farmers to restrict output and raise prices.

Large numbers of industries have little or no competition. The Temporary National Economic Committee revealed that before the war one company controlled 100 percent of the national aluminum output. Three companies manufacture 85 percent of the country's automobiles; two companies, 47 percent of the beef products; three companies, 90 percent of tin can production; three companies, 80 percent of all cigarettes made; two companies, 95 percent of all plate glass; three companies, 61 percent of all steel, and four companies, 78 percent of all copper.

Perhaps some conventional economic beliefs may have to be revised.

Alaska is larger than the three largest states combined—Total U. S. consumer income rose from $76 billion in 1940 to $160 billion in 1945.

New British Defense Chieftan Was Once Hired As Office Boy

By ED CREAUGH LONDON—Britain's new defense chief, the man who gives orders to admirals and field marshals, is a former office boy—a blacksmith's son with a grade school education.

He is also a veteran diplomat, an orator of almost Churchillian stature and a bona fide sea dog with a near record eight years as first lord of the admiralty. A. V. (for Albert Victor) Alexander is his name. He is a genial, story-telling, piano playing, chaney-singing man of 61. For many years he was a Baptist lay preacher.

Big Job Ahead As minister of defense, a new cabinet post that Parliament is creating, he has the job of coordinating the activities of the army, navy and air force and the scientific research behind them. Thus the clerk who made $5 a week when he was married becomes boss of, among other things, the $120,000,000 atomic research program that Britain is undertaking.

Viscount Wavell viceroy of India, summed up Alexander's career in verse when the new defense chief was in New Delhi as a member of the cabinet's Indian mission:

"When he was young he served his term
"As office boy in a leather firm
"Then he ran co-ops so skillfully
"That now he's ruler of the king's navy."

He got into politics through the co-operative movement, the great groups of organized consumers who make up a large part of the Labor party's strength.

Churchill Retained Him After two years as a co-op official he was elected to Parliament—in 1922—and except for four years has been there ever since. He first became top sea dog at the admiralty in 1929.

Winston Churchill re-named him to the post during the war-time coalition and he continued to hold it when the Labor government came into power last year, but served increasingly as a diplomat as well. At the Paris peace conference he substituted for a man who delivered milk in Bristol at the same time that Alexander was fetching tea for a Bristol office staff.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin. His manner at Paris was Churchillian but his bluntness was Bevin's. A plastic pillow has been marketed for use on autos, trains, buses, and at all sporting events. It folds into the size of a matchbox, inflates like a balloon to 10x13 inches, and is said to stand up under 250 pounds pressure.

Watson and Mrs. John Meisch conducted the business session. Mrs. Bell, chapter chairman of social relations, made an appeal for material to make clothing for the children of Greece and $5 was voted for that purpose.

Mrs. Meisch announced that the collection of the United Thanks Offering would continue through the second and third Sundays in November. She also appointed Mrs. E. D. Mobley, Mrs. A. R. Key and Mrs. J. St. Clair White to assist at the church for the World Day of Prayer on Nov. 11.

The district meeting will be held in Cocoa on Nov. 8 with Mrs. George Shipp representing the St. Agnes Chapter. Plans were made for the Meich's Club supper to be held Nov. 25.

Mrs. Shipp gave a comprehensive outline of the auxiliary's supply work and Mrs. Watson reported on a meeting of the educational committee, outlining the list of speakers and their subjects for the remainder of the year.

The subject of the educational program for the day "Expanding the Church" was presented to the members by Mrs. Watson in a most interesting and helpful manner.

Members present included Mrs. A. Derby, Mrs. W. A. Fitts, Mrs. T. L. Harris, Mrs. Allan Jones, Mrs. G. L. Loucks, Mrs. A. R. Key, Mrs. John Meisch, Jr., Mrs. E. D. Mobley, Mrs. G. M. Shipp, Mrs. W. F. Watson, Mrs. J. St. Clair White, Jr., and Mrs. Fregel Bell.

The news in costume jewelry this season is delicate, expensive looking jewelry which looks like platinum and diamonds but really is aluminum finished silver and rhinestones.

Rhinestones are highly important in keeping with the new off-shoulder necklines, and following the dress trend, they are done in Empire and Directoire period style. There are flexible rhinestone-set necklaces of the choker type, with earrings to match, and also more elaborate ones of small brilliants with pendants of larger stones, in a current collection designed by Castelleiff.

Loop earrings which also can be worn as finger rings are new, as are brooches which can double as hair ornaments. There are a fan-shaped brooch and brilliant surrounding a large central pearl, and two leaf-shaped pins which can be worn either as a unit or either side of a low neckline.

World diamond production in 1945 reached an all-time peak of some 14,250,000 carats.

There are now more than 26,000 diamond cutters widely scattered throughout the world.

During 1945, the United States imported industrial diamonds worth $12,765,973.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Meisch of West First Street are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Angela to William Blair, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Blair of Akron, Ohio. The wedding will be an event of December.

Angela Meisch To Wed William Blair

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Meisch of West First Street announced today the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Angela to William Blair, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Blair of Akron, Ohio. Miss Meisch is the grand daughter of the late John Meisch, Sr. and the late John Meisch, long time residents of Sanford and Seminole County.

Miss Meisch is a graduate of Seminole High School and of Stephens College, Columbia, Mo. She is now attending the University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky. where she is in her senior year. She is president of the Delta Delta Delta social society, president of the Women's Pan-Hellenic Council and has recently been elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Mr. Blair is a graduate of Garfield High School, Akron, Ohio and is now attending the University of Kentucky where he is a senior. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha, social fraternity. During the war he served as a first lieutenant with the Fifteenth Air Force in Italy and flew 39 missions. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and received the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters.

The wedding will be an event of Dec. 21 at the Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

Leader Hints British Plan Would Aid US Parliamentary System

Stalemate Between Public Government

LONDON, Nov. 7 (AP)—Although he made no specific mention of the general election in the United States held last Tuesday, Herbert Morrison, British leader in the House of Commons, recommended today the British parliamentary system as a means of protecting the national will against extremists within the government.

Morrison, was apparently referring to a possible deadlock between the legislative and executive branches of the United States government.

The British constitution, said Morrison, depends upon trust in the majority. It contains safeguards against a deadlock, as pointed out, and it always rests on the basis of the confidence of the House of Commons.

In England, a prime minister who cannot get a vote of confidence must resign and let the majority party elect a new leader.

"This simple, straightforward system," said Morrison, "makes it unnecessary to base government on elaborate and shifting compromises between parties or warring factions outside the nature of the system."

Robson Says Talk Of More Clothing Pure Propaganda

J. N. Robson, Jr., who returned yesterday from a buying trip to New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore to secure display fixtures for the new E. L. Perkins store, reported that he was successful in securing the fixtures, but declared that talk of cheaper or more plentiful clothing was pure propaganda.

At the Home Clothing Mills in Philadelphia, Mr. Robson saw the whole process of manufacture from the shrinking of the wool to completed suits. In one vast room he saw 600 suits for suits, which he thought a large number until he explained that during times of normal output there would be at least 30,000 completed suits. Lack of small items such as pocket material, buttons, etc., often hold up output, he was explained.

Prices are doubling in price what they used to be in New York, and quality of food often poor, said Mr. Robson. With his sister, Miss Pearl Robson, who is night superintendent of the maternity ward of the Roosevelt Center, he saw the Metropolitan Opera House, the Bronx, and was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur, head of a large buying agency.

Red Cross officials, local Red Cross executive secretary, who with Mrs. Frances McDougal, county nurse, attended the Red Cross Institute in Ocala on Nov. 5, reported that the meeting was very interesting and inspiring.

The meeting was held at the American Legion Hall, and discussion centered on problems of the Red Cross in its transition from war to peacetime status. More than 100 chapter representatives and chairman were present, and no counties throughout central Florida were represented, she said.

Vandenberg Says His Re-Election Means Continued Endorsement Of Program

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—President Truman is not going to resign and he has not even seriously considered the suggestion. An Associated Press correspondent in Washington, Ernest Vaccaro, said this can be reported without qualification.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 (AP)—Republican diplomats today rallied to the support of established American foreign policy in an evident effort to quiet speculation abroad that Tuesday's elections may change this country's international relations.

Much of the foreign press is viewing the Republican capture of Congress as marking an end to the policy of the Truman administration, and speculating on new difficulties with Russia.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg, of Michigan, said that his re-election means unmistakable endorsement of the United States' foreign policy. Vandenberg is expected to become foreign relations chairman in the Republican-controlled Senate.

The question of American relations with Russia arising from the facts that during the pre-election campaign, Moscow assailed Vandenberg and his influence, the Republicans made an issue over domestic Communism and how Russia will react to this re-election.

Another Republican diplomat, John Foster Dulles, an alternate member of the UN delegation, said he is confident that a Republican Congress will not throw out foreign policy into confusion, but rather will make it stronger and clearer.

The Big Four sessions will be in recess today because Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov wants to join in a Russian embassy celebration of the Communist revolution in Russia.
