TEXAS CAGEMEN STILL LEADERS IN BIG TOURNEY

Wrestlers Have Choice Chance To Win 2nd U. S. Championship

CHICAGO, Apr. 3.—(AP)—Three teams from way down in Dixie and a flock of fighting cads were still heads up and charging toward hardwood championship, as the trials for the national prep basketball championship swirled into its final stages.

Headed the procession as probable winners were the big Alabama, Texas, Harcum, who have a big chance of establishing a pie in the sky by capturing the title for the second year. Working their path in the semi-finals were the surprising cadets from St. John's Military Academy of Delafield, Wisconsin. Fighting for final position in the upper brackets were two fighting teams from Tenth, Kentucky, and Jacksonville, Fla.

Alabama got into the semi-final round last night with the same unstoppable play that has characterized its machine in the past two seasons of national tournament play in which it has won five straight games. The championship-trimmed Wheatland, Wyoming, 21 to 14 victory.

St. John's won the right to challenge the champions in the semi-final bracket, by fighting a great uphill battle and taking out the pretentious team from Knoxville, Georgia, 20 to 24.

The upper bracket semi-final between St. John's and Kentucky, Ky., two villages with a combined population of but one hundred persons, appears to be one of the most varied. St. John's, coached by the big New York, N. Y., team, is to be defended by the Kentucky, who had advanced by defeating Savannah, Ga., 26 to 11.

The St. John's semi-final is scheduled for 2 P. M. to be followed by the Alabama-St. John's game, with the championship final at 8 P. M.

Four teams remained in the elimination struggle. Chelsea, Mass., which meets Catholic Central of Fort Wayne, Indiana, and Xavier Institute of Chattanooga, Tenn., which battles East St. Va., in the semi-finals.

PUBLIC INTEREST IS IN SPEED SINCE DAYTONA TRIALS

History Of Beach Reveals Advance Of High Power Autos

This year's trials at Daytona Beach again have brought motor car speed into the focus of public attention and again raised the question, "Will such speeds of 200 and 250 miles an hour ever be practical?"

To find an answer, one has but to look over the history of Daytona Beach speed tests and analyze the result attained in the early days of the automobile in relation to the performance of the passenger car. Surprisingly, it will be found that as long ago as 1905, when the motor industry was still in its infancy, speeds of 100 and 120 miles an hour were reached by the cars of Daytona.

In 1906 when two cylinder passenger cars were still prevalent, a Stanley Steamer was driven 127 miles an hour at Daytona and in the same year a Buick was at 122 miles an hour. Harry Oldfield traveled 121 miles an hour at Daytona in 1910 and 130 miles an hour was attained 10 years ago by Miller.

Meanwhile, passenger car engineers have substituted high speed in combustion and flexibility in the development of the dynamic car, and by looking over the Daytona record of the past it is apparent that as far as speed is concerned, the passenger car has not been improved in comparison to the improvement in the racing car. Very simply, the racing car has not been improved in the passenger car.

The Daytona High tests, therefore, are of little practical importance, and merely control, except insofar as they indicate the possible speed possibilities of a passenger car.

The history of the high speed tests developed in this country will be straight right again in the practical use only a short time.

HAWAIIANS SHOW LITTLE FEAR IN VOLCANO ACTIONS

Prediction That Eruption Will Come Soon Brings Joy To Many

HONOLULU, Apr. 3.—New activity in the Kilauea volcano in the island of Hawaii is expected within the next few months by Dr. Thomas A. Jaggar, government volcanologist, who has just completed a series of studies of the Halemaumahu crater.

Dr. Jaggar has planted a seismograph within a hundred yards of the lip of the crater and a comparison of its readings shows a decided increase in the number of subterranean impulses. Steam is issuing in increased quantities from many fissures on the mountain side and several large crevices have formed in land immediately surrounding the pit.

HOOSTING LUTZ

I've sold the sheep here and crossed to the border land. But nothing seems as good to me as Florida's golden sand.

I've seen the mountains high and the plains let out their shout.

But I'm not looking for a fruit roll from other climes and states.

They join us in our labor and toil and make a home in Lutz among the lakes.

And thus we grow from day to day, and as they come they set their stakes.

And could their homes you'd heat them say—'Tis grand, Lutz among the lakes.

A. A. Whitehurst.

Florida's leading business men are availing themselves of the fact that something has got to be done about Florida's tax situation.

In spite of the important local legal business in this state Florida seems to be going along with the report of the prohibition amendment.

Fly Fighting Time

Scarcely a week remains before that period of the year begins when the Mediterranean fruit fly finds conditions most favorable for breeding and rapid multiplying.

The Herald therefore urges all property owners in Sanford and Seminole County to clean up their groves and farms, their vacant lots, fields, and other properties.

The federal appropriation has been exhausted and it is very uncertain when, if ever, other funds will be made available by Uncle Sam.

For, although the government funds for carrying on the fight are not available, government quarantine regulations, preventing the free shipment of fruits and vegetables from Florida to other states, are still in force.

The Department of Agriculture inspectors will be looking for flies all summer. If there are any in Florida, sooner or later they will be found.

The Arms Conference

Declared to be approaching some sort of verdict as to its success or failure in attempting to curtail the sea power of nations, the London naval conference has dragged its weary length along, day by day furnishing for the newspapers many columns of reading matter.

We do not wish to cast any unfair or premature reflections on the activities of the arms conference for we are not prepared to gauge the progress made by it, as we have already inferred.

But having been in the dark as to just what the actual significance is of all that has taken place, we are now holding our ears alert to hear the promised verdict which is scheduled to be rendered some time next week.

In other words, the naval conference next week will be at bat and we hope that you won't find it appropriate to repeat the lines of that famous poem, "Casey at the Bat" which related how the highly touted and mighty Casey stepped up to the bat at a very crucial moment and struck out.

TELLING THE WORLD

President Hoover has come out for common sense in Government. And Herbert has unlimbered a tongue-lash. If he can gain common sense into the Government, he will be the greatest little President we've had since George Washington ran on both tickets.

The trouble with our Government is that it has $29,000,000,000 worth of national debt, and 2 cents worth of common sense. Lincoln came out for Government of, by and for the people. We have gradually expanded Al's platform into high-powered poly-syllables.

Now we get Government of state, unions, departments, agencies, rulings, ultimatums, inter-pretations, amendments and pronouncements. And this term of Government is splendidly administered by bureaucrats, autocrats and high officials.

If enough all members of the Government are public servants. But you know what servant are these days.

A man is a found citizen here into a noble power, he starts using stenogram orders and cranking the Federal whip.

The Government's silly season is, therefore, twelve months long. You wonder, whether the U. S. A. is a Nation or hallucination.

If Mr. Hoover is on the level with his management, he can't shut his common sense out but the demagogue right away.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

By Robert Barry

The National Capital was just about ready today to announce its decision to take the trouble with the Hoover Administration is that it lacks a sense of humor.

The idea originates, among Republican stalwarts in Capitol Hill. They contend that, somehow or other, consciously or otherwise, President Coolidge confined the floor over troublesome problems through every comment or slip of observation.

Old Guardmen assert the trouble of the Hoover Administration could be cut 50 per cent if those advising the President or presuming to speak for him could be made to understand that a sense of humor is worth a 100 per cent efficiency in politics.

At the moment, President Hoover is working his brain for some means of forcing the resignation of Claudius Huston as Chairman of the Republican National Committee. Administration leaders are unable to evolve any more novel ally than to try to smear John J. Raskob, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, as a wet who contributes generously to the discomfiture of Volsteadism.

Having sought to discredit the Senate Lobby Committee, which has plastered Mr. Huston, the Administration strategy is to plaster Mr. Raskob through the same so-called discredited committee.

And Senator Arthur Robinson, of Indiana, is picked for the star role. That in itself is sufficient to give Washington a real guffaw. At the moment many of the wise ones are muttering the words: "Are things really as bad as this?"

Republican Chairman Huston having been exposed so expertly that the White House cannot long ignore his refusal to resign, the Robinson scheme to discredit Democratic Chairman Raskob and thereby exonerate Mr. Huston could not obtain in any sane type of Administration.

In the first place, Raskob's views against the expediency of Volsteadism are rather well known. That Raskob ever made a secret of that and rather took pride in his point of view, appears fairly well established in the mind of all those not so remote from public sentiment as Senator Robinson, of Indiana, or even the editor of the New York Times.

Raskob has kept clear of any and all lobby activities in Washington. Mr. Huston drew on the Union Carbide Company for the sum of $30,000 and covered ninth accounts in a stock brokerage house. He got the coin on the spot, President Hoover or Republican leaders in Congress to grab Muscle Shoals for the American Cyanamid Company.

Raskob is quite ready to tell the Senate or anybody that he thinks Volsteadism is a complete flop. That he is willing to contribute for its modification or that organized lawlessness may be terminated, and that he will go on contributing, although never has he blabbed one way or the other on Prohibition legislation.

To link Chairman Raskob with the wets is a grand scheme to distract public attention from the faithful Huston.

As Robinson, of Indiana, must not be confined with Joe Robinson of Arkansas, has it found the smart way to save Huston to smother Raskob.

The junior Senator from Indiana believes that a well time to begin the Administration from the dollars is, at the present moment all the straw votes current in the Republic are registering against Volsteadism and the existing state of Prohibition affairs.

With numerous polls showing overwhelming popular condemnation of Prohibition, and President Senator Robinson, as the only Administration spokesman, before the Senate Judiciary Committee, before this is a fine time to take the case of Claudius Huston by proxy, that John J. Raskob is a wet, a disorganizer of the Democratic National Committee, and a man who has been a member of the Senate for 12 years.

Washington gets the idea, some of a committee that, if the Hoover Administration could not get the wets out of the Senate, it would have to get the wets out of the Senate.

Sanford, Florida, The "Celery City"

By R. E. O'KELLEY

Atlantic Coast Line News

One of the outstanding developments of the horticulture of Florida is that of celery growing at Sanford. This magnificent achievement stands out as a by-product of the industry which produced the celery.

It is not definitely known just when celery was first planted at Sanford, but for several years past the celery has been grown in some of the home gardens. The first celery plant at Sanford was raised in 1890 during which year four carloads were shipped from that time shipments increased rapidly, until now 5,000 to 7,000 carloads are shipped each year from the Sanford section.

Celery growing at Sanford had its inception in the district of Sanford, Florida, in 1890. It was first introduced by a man from the State of Florida, who had been in the celery business in the State of Florida for many years.

With its progress in a rapid way, the construction of the Sanford-Celery field, to name with activity, present a beautiful and inspiring sight. The stranger who visits Sanford at this season will be struck by the amount of celery growing in the area.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Sunday, on Sunday, April 6.

The Golden Text was from Proverbs 20:8, "Remove far from me vanity and lies; give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me."

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man understands spiritual existence in proportion as his treasures of Truth and Love are increased. Mortals must gravitate toward their affections and sin grow spiritual—they must reach the broader interpretations of being, and vain some proper sense of the infinite—in order that sin and mortality may be put off. The loss of earthly hopes and pleasures brightens the ascending path of many a heart" (p. 255).

Mrs. Pippin Has Party Friday For Daughter

Complimenting her daughter, Elizabeth, who celebrated a recent birthday anniversary, recently Mrs. R. R. Pippin has hosted a birthday party given Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at her home on West First Street.

The party was developed in the various party decorations and appointments. Blue lupins, various colored snapdragons, sweet peas, cyclamen, roses, phlox and iris were arranged in vases and bowls about the party room.

During the afternoon the 10th grade class held in a decorative room for a party wrapped in pastel paper, after which an Easter egg hunt was enjoyed when Mrs. Nell Stewart found the large egg which was filled with candy. Mrs. W. P. Brooks, Jr. then entertained the children with Easter stories after which she gave an Easter picture show, with the aid of an electric machine. This was followed by a number of children's songs conducted by Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, and several readings presented by little Miss Nancy Rosier.

At the tea hour the guests were ushered into the dining room where the refreshment table was centered with a large white table cloth adorned with seven light-colored napkins and candy baskets and Easter eggs. Kites hung from the chandelier in the corners of the table were testaments of crepe paper in pastel shades, further a continuation of a pastel color scheme which was developed by the sweet pastries and grapefruit which were arranged about the table. After the guests were seated the cake was cut by Mrs. Pippin and refreshments were served by Mrs. R. C. Moore, Mrs. M. W. Warren, Mrs. W. P. Brock, Jr., Mrs. J. C. Mock Aerial Drive Will Be Made Upon California Forts

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Apr. 7 (AP)—Crispy Field, at the Presidio of San Francisco, and Fort Winfield Scott, Baker and Barry, overlooking the Golden Gate, were the objectives of an aerial attack today by war planes of the United States army's first operational wing stationed for maneuvers at Walter Field here.

The aerial defense arm of the army turned in victory for the occasion to demonstrate by military officials how an enemy would be met by dropping bombardment planes over Langley, and fighting them to blast them with bombs. Attack planes, swooping close to the ground and anti-aircraft guns, their simulated machine gun and light bomb discharges. The exercise was ordered to "spot" concealed gun emplacements.

A feature of the attack, something military officials desired to be new in the history of aerial combat, centered of the maneuvers by a commanding general flying over the "scene of battle."

Brigadier General William E. Gilmore, commanding the aerial forces, arranged to demonstrate the efficacy of telephone and radio communication by directing the fighting forces from his flagship landing plane.

Husband Is Victim Of Shot Fired By Wife

ATLANTA, Apr. 7 (AP)—J. T. Snipes, 27, of Atlanta, was in a hospital today suffering from two bullet wounds received, county police reported, when he entered the home of his estranged wife and was fired upon by her.

Mrs. Snipes, who had been separated from her husband less than a month, told officers she was awakened early today by the sound of someone walking around in her room at the home of her father, Eugene Gilliam, in Howell Mill Road. She said she turned on the lights and saw her husband standing in the corner of the room with a pistol in his hand. She said she fired five times, aiming all at her husband at the lower part of his "snaps" legs. The husband received two bullet wounds through the legs, Mrs. Snipes told officers, but he became so fearful her own life might be taken.

Part of the loss was upward of a dozen X-ray machines ranging in value from $5,000 to $25,000 each. The only part of the fire was marked by a series of explosion of very little which, however, did not damage any medical equipment or the building.

One Is Killed And 12 Are Hurt By Speeder
NEW YORK, Apr. 7 (AP)—One person was killed and 12 others were injured today by an automobile which police said was driven at a speed of 100 mph through a crowd gathered around two automobiles which a short time before had crashed at Dan Can Hill, Staten Island. The driver of the speeding car did not stop.

A short time before the crash an automobile occupied by James Burke, 39, and his sister, Sarah Burke, 25, of West Freehold, N. J. collided with a car driven by Henry Graham, 23, of Great Hill, Staten Island. They were practically unhurt. The most seriously injured by the speeder were Graham, whose automobile figured in the first accident, and Arnold McKittick, 23, of Dongan Hills.

Doctors Building Is Destroyed By Fire Causing Heavy Loss

ATLANTA, Apr. 7 (AP)—Swooping upward from the elevator shaft through offices filled with expensive medical equipment and records, fire of undetermined origin last night destroyed the doctors' building on Peachtree street and for a time menaced a wide area of the city.

This department official tentatively fixed the damage at not less than a half million dollars. Most of the physicians reached after the fire said they had little or no insurance on their equipment.

Part of the loss was upward of a dozen X-ray machines ranging in value from $5,000 to $25,000 each. The only part of the fire was marked by a series of explosion of very little which, however, did not damage any medical equipment or the building.

Little was rescued from the building. Dr. L. G. Hester II saved some of his records, four being recovered by Mrs. Larned recovered him and he was quickly re-eyed.

New York Paper Prints Story Of City Bond Case

litigation, this action is considered essentially favorable to the bondholders' committee, as it clears the way to the final action.

By its denials and motions, the City of Sanford stated the objection that the defendant showed on their face that the plaintiffs had no legal claim against the city, on the bond and coupons and that the defendant were insufficient for technical reasons. The ruling of the District Court upon such demurrer and motions holds that the defendant does not intend to deny that the plaintiffs have made out a prima facie case against the city. The city is required by the order to answer the declaration on the first Monday in May.

In a statement issued last night the bondholders' committee remarked that it has consistently endeavored to have the city of Sanford conduct business on its own faulted bonds. Any action, if indicated, would place the administration of the city in jeopardy. In the hands of the plaintiff would probably both the bondholders and the taxpayers of Sanford be in a political imbroglio.

The city has not yet admitted its obligation to pay according to the terms of its bonds and coupons. In its statement, however, it is the feeling of the committee that this situation, and to a large extent similar situations in Florida, can only be worked out through judicial administration and consequently that a directing court effect is that end.

The committee is not receiving deposits of bonds, except in those instances where the deposit of any particular bond would not be to the benefit of all depositors. The deposits are the Central Bank and Trust Company of New York and the President Saving Bank, both of which are companies of Connecticut.

Wood Declares He Is Convinced Fly Is Not New To Florida

JULIAHASSEE, Fla., Apr. 7.—(AP)—Chairman William B. Wood, of the House appropriation committee, is convinced that Florida has had the mosquito which carries the malaria for many years. He so expressed himself in a letter received today by Attorney General Fred H. Davis.

Wood wrote Davis to notify him of a statement made by him recently in Washington in which he stated that he was convinced that Florida had the malaria mosquito and that the federal government had not done enough to solve the problem, to which the attorney general had responded in a letter to Wood.

"I am firmly of the opinion that had this mosquito not been introduced here, it would have been a better off country in the fruit fly work, which the attorney general has been doing in a letter to Wood."
