ADDIS ABABA IN REIGN OF TERROR

Registration In County Is Much Heavier

2,800 In Sanford And 1,805 In County Are Qualified To Vote In June 2 Primary

Poll Books Were Closed Saturday

Rush Of Voters Kept Registrar Busy Up To Midnight Hour

Four thousand, six hundred and five residents of Seminole County registered before the books closed at midnight Saturday. County Registrar W. J. Thigpen reports. The number is greater than ever before. Registration in the city precincts (One and Three) is between 200 and 300 greater than for the election two years ago.

Though the books were open for several weeks, there was a rush of voters at the eleventh hour, and the registrar said he was kept busy up to midnight Saturday. Despite widespread advertising of the fact that all voters in the county must re-register this year and that they must do so before midnight on May 2, five residents of the city called at the registrar's office this morning with the request that their names be put on the poll books.

The latest registration is in the two city precincts. The books in these precincts contain the names of 2,805 voters, but as five died after they registered the net total in the city is 2,800. The number registered in the 13 country precincts is 1,805, though as one died the net in those precincts is 1,806.

Registration by precincts is as follows:

Miss Daphne Takach of Sanford won first place in an amateur program broadcast over radio station WJAX in Jacksonville last Friday evening. The Chamber of Commerce was advised today by Harry E. Cummings, master of ceremonies. Miss Marion Haynes of Sanford was accorded third place. Miss Takach is a pianist and Miss Haynes a "blues" singer. Miss Takach was introduced over the radio as "Little Miss Seminole County."

Candidates Must Be On Time Else They Won't Speak

First Rally Will Be Held This Evening In Longwood School

First of a series of political rallies under the auspices of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee will be held this evening, and Secretary Sherman Lloyd of the Committee will preside at the meeting. Candidates who are not there on time will not be allowed to speak.

This evening's meeting is to be held in the Lyman school near Longwood and, Mr. Lloyd said, will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock. "A" group of candidates will speak and they will be called on alphabetically. "If a candidate is not present when his name is called it will not be possible to allow him to speak later should he arrive at a later hour, because that would discourage the entire program," Mr. Lloyd declared. "They must be on time at the evening meetings if they wish to avail themselves of the opportunity of addressing the voters."

The "A" group of candidates who will speak at this evening's rally are those announced for the County commission, for sheriff, for County judge and for superintendent of schools.

There will be another political rally in the Lyman school on Friday evening, May 13, and at that time candidates in "B" group will speak. Candidates for Congress and for the State Senate are invited by the Committee to address one of the two meetings to be held in each precinct before the primary on June 2.

Bentley Will Speak Tomorrow Night

Ed. E. Bentley, of Lakeland, candidate for Attorney General of Florida, will address the voters of Sanford at 8:30 P. M. on Tuesday, May 3, at the corner of First Street and Magnolia Avenue.

Mr. Bentley is making an aggressive campaign covering the entire state, carrying his usual equipment with him. He says he will discuss the Constitution and the justice racket.

Annual Appeal For Salvation Army To Begin

Volunteers To Start Campaign Tuesday For $3,500 Fund For Year's Work

With $245 in advance subscriptions, 40 volunteers started out tomorrow morning to carry the annual appeal of the Salvation Army through the City and County in a campaign to raise $3,500 to finance the work of the religious and charitable organization in this vicinity for the coming year. According to H. J. Lehman, chairman of the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army, and C. E. Dawson, general chairman of the campaign committee, the $3,500 figure is "positively" the lowest amount needed to cover properly necessary expenses.

The campaign this year is to be directed wholly by volunteer workers and therefore prompt response is desired. It is explained they will not have time to call the second or third time, and therefore it is hoped persons called will not put them off. Large subscriptions are wanted, but small gifts will be appreciated. Chairman Dawson stated, those subscribing will be given buttons bearing the Salvation Army crest.

Five more volunteered today to help put the Salvation Army "over the top," bringing the total number of workers to 45. These five are Mrs. A. E. Marlow, Mrs. Sheridan Stewart, Mrs. J. O. Andes, Mrs. W. W. Gostack and O. P. Horndon. All workers were to meet this afternoon in campaign headquarters in the Hill Hardware building.

McRory Says He Will Be Candidate For Committeeman

George W. McRory, former state representative, and for six years a member and secretary of the State Democratic Committee, today announced his candidacy for election as State Democratic Committeeman from Seminole County.

Mr. McRory is a native Floridian, and came to Sanford 15 years ago from Monticello. Since residing here, he has taken an active interest in state and national politics, and has been the recipient of many honors at the hands of the Democratic Party.

In making his announcement, Mr. McRory said, "Although the idea is my own, since it became known that I intended to make the race for State Committeeman, many of my friends all over Seminole County have come to me and tendered their support, which is warmly appreciated."

Young Inventors Are To Be Aided By Light Company

100 From Each State To Be Educated By Edison Foundation

One hundred young men who have outstanding inventive talent are to be selected from schools and industries each year for training as Edison scholars under the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation, it was announced today by H. H. Coleman, manager in Sanford for the Florida Power and Light Company, Seminole County young men will be eligible in the competition, he said, and all those with scientific aptitude are asked to communicate with Mr. Coleman for further particulars of the campaign which will be conducted by a committee of which Owen D. Young of Chicago is chairman.

The plan projected by the Foundation now carries out as a "living memorial" to the great inventor a project conceived by Mr. Edison just before his death, by which, in his own words, he hoped "to bring unusual youth and unusual opportunity together."

Annual competition for Edison Scholar grants are to be drawn from three general classes of applicants. These include young men and women now employed in industry who, though lacking scholastic qualifications for matriculation in scientific schools, nevertheless possess special aptitudes; graduates of colleges and universities who have shown brilliant scientific promise; and finally, those outside industry or the universities chosen on the basis of personal achievement or of unusual ability. Details of the annual competition are to be supervised by regional councils set up in twelve geographical areas, with final selection passed upon by a National Qualification Board. Outlining the plan, the Foundation statement says:

"In general, according to the announcement, it is the plan of the Foundation to reverse the usual order in scholarship, and instead of making the student fit the school, the scholarship will be made to fit the student, in the hope of achieving each one an equality of opportunity of the kind that will best equip the scholar for a certain specified career."

Blum Leading As Dr. Townsend Will Be Questioned In French Elections

Red Landslide Celebrated But There Are No Disorders

PARIS, May 4.—(AP)—A Socialist government for France was in prospect today as the result of yesterday's parliamentary election. Leon Blum, leader of the Socialist party, announced he is ready to take over the power.

The Socialists will be the largest party in the new Chamber of Deputies, with 146 seats, and they claimed the right to head the "people's front" government with Blum considered likely as Premier. People's Front parties, Socialists, radical Socialists and communists swept the polls.

Communist and Socialist joyfully celebrated the red landslide. Nearly a half million members of the popular front were on the streets of Paris and the suburbs at midnight, singing and shouting. There were no disorders. The parades shouted for dissolution of the Fascist Croix De Feu organization and yelled: "Do Le Roque to the gallows." Col. Casimir De La Roque is head of the Croix De Feu.

Unofficial leaders of the victorious reds said their parliamentary representatives will push a program involving reform of the Bank of France and taking the profits out of war by nationalizing the munitions, industries, insurance companies, railroads, power companies and public utilities.

Spanish Mobs Fire Catholic Churches And Institutions

MADRID, May 4.—(AP)—At least four Roman Catholic institutions were fired today by mobs angered by rumors that poisoned candies, cigarettes and sandwiches were being distributed to workers in the Centro Camargo districts. The Ave Maria school, the Sebastian, the Convent of Los Angeles and the Los Angeles chapel were virtually destroyed by flames. Thirty monks tried to prevent firemen from putting out the conflagration. Authorities knew of an actual poisoning case. The mob had heard whispers that some were giving out poison candy.

Body Of Youth Found In A Lake At Orlando

ORLANDO, May 4.—(AP)—The body of Frank Harroldson, 16, of Tampa, who was drowned with his brother, Leroy, in Lake Windermere near here Apr. 27, was recovered Sunday by a dragging crew.

The crew had been searching the water almost a week, and dragging operations were continued last night in the hope of locating the body of Leroy.

The youths were drowned when a boat they were fishing from sank some distance from shore.

Urgent Appeal Made For British Help By U. S. Minister

(By the Associated Press)
Fire, pillage, rioting and wild disorders continued to hold Addis Ababa in their sway today while a small band of Americans bravely held the legation against bandit attacks and sent out a radio appeal for British aid.

With a second-hand machine gun and a mere handful of friends, Cornelius Van H. Eneart, United States minister to Ethiopia, held off the mob attempting to storm and pillage the legation. The fighting diplomat reported by radio "it would be a great pity to be obliged to abandon" the house from which the Stars and Stripes are flying. He asked the state department in Washington to make contact with the well-fortified British legation in Addis Ababa with a view to sending him a few Sikhs, native Indian soldiers on guard at the British compound.

Paul Bodard, French minister to Ethiopia, reported today that Ethiopian soldiers assigned to guard his legation had mutilated and turned their guns on the building. The minister said there still was no word of the Italian advance and that Fascist troops who are expected to relieve the mob-ridden city are not yet in sight. Bodard said the French legation had been under siege all night long. He said several foreigners in the Italian legation had been wounded by shots by the bandits.

After sending his radio appeal for aid from the British, Eneart wireless that the "situation is getting worse. Several direct shots were fired at legation buildings and the radio station since this morning and two native women in our servants' quarters have been seriously wounded."

In response to Eneart's appeal the state department telephoned Robert W. Bingham, ambassador in London, who went to the foreign office to convey the message. British officials assured him they would try to get a message through to Addis Ababa, but so far today nothing had been heard from the British radio station there.

It is estimated that at least 10 Europeans have been killed in Addis Ababa during the last 48 hours, among them one American, Mrs. A. R. Stabin of Loma Linda, Calif., who was struck by a stray bullet while asleep in the Seventh Day Adventist medical center.

Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander-in-chief of the Italian armies in East Africa, advised his government that an advance guard for the motorized column of the Italian main body, were virtually at Addis Ababa. The motorized column itself, he said, has passed a point some 60 miles from the city.

MOTHER'S DAY

Among the days we celebrate one stands above all others. The day we dedicate to her—the dearest of all Mothers.

Though, nestled in your heart and mine, she lives in many places; In age she's young—and still she's old—she wears a million faces.

Upon her countenance a smile her dear 'ove shining through That makes this world a fairer, better place for me and you.

And would we change her if we could? My answer you have guessed, She stands high up above them all—each knows his own is best!

Europe's dictators all preach peace and threaten war. Millions Are Reported Dead in China Famine—headline. And in America things could be worse.

The paragraph in last Thursday night's Herald with reference to Dr. J. H. Terrell was quoted from the Ocala Star. The credit line was inadvertently omitted.

We had rather take a whole waffle than to go to the trouble of eating one in two—Palmetto News. We'd rather have a whole waffle even if it weren't any trouble to eat one in two.

One of the reasons there are so many candidates in the gubernatorial race is because if there weren't enough in there to muddy the waters a good man might get elected.

Some of the best political advice comes from small town weeklies. The Union County Times, for instance, points out that a politician with his ear to the ground is in a small position to get a kick in the pants—Sanford Herald. Which would sometimes act as a boost into the leading position—Clamont Press. That's one way of being kicked into office.

We can understand now why the duPonts early in the depression went into the business of manufacturing cellophane on an extensive scale. They were in hopes that the politicians might use some of it to cover up with and then the duPonts would be able to see through what the politicians were planning to do.

The Daytona Beach Sun Record, after a check up of the entire state, lists J. H. Terrell, F. W. Patterson, and Dan Chappell as the first three gubernatorial candidates in that order.

Some reports put Dan Chappell in there and leave F. W. Patterson out, but all of them list J. H. Terrell as the first three. The Leon County Journal is practically certain to be in the runoff and his opponent may be F. W. Patterson or Chappell.

In an editorial captioned "Exaggeration Galore" the Ocala Star says politicians for "throwing taxpayers' money to the winds" however, no objection was made to dumping it into a hole in the ground—Fort Myers News. If constitutional really were...

The Modern Caesar

With the reports from Ethiopia that Emperor Haile Selassie has fled to French Somaliland, the Italian army in Addis Ababa and that the Italian army is only twenty-five miles away on the verge of completing the subjugation of a free and independent nation, it is apparent that the League of Nations has been brought to an end by means of the old law of the jungle that "might makes right."

The prestige of the League has been almost as completely destroyed as has the ancient empire of Selassie. It was supposed to prevent the war between Paraguay and Bolivia, but the fighting dragged on for three long years. It was supposed to put a stop to just such acts of aggression as resulted in Japan's seizure of Manchuria, and yet the conquest was concluded and has since spread into North China. It was supposed to prohibit fortifications in the Rhineland and Dardanelles and make unnecessary vast military armaments, and yet these fortifications are being built and the armies of the world have reached their highest peace time peak.

One wonders who will be next to fall victim to the greedy god of war. One wonders which nation will be next in line for conquest by some mighty wielder of the sword. Does any one suppose, now that Japan has seized a substantial part of China, now that Italy has taken over many thousands of square miles in Africa, now that Germany has succeeded in throwing off the yoke of the Versailles treaty and establishing its control over the Rhineland, that these military adventures have satisfied their sponsors?

How long will it be before Italy, once it has consolidated its position in Ethiopia, will begin to spread out into Sudan, a British dominated country adjacent to Ethiopia, or into French Somaliland, lying between Ethiopia and the sea, or into Egypt, north of Ethiopia and next to Italy's Libya? And if Italy once gets control of this vast section of Africa, will it not then try to duplicate Caesar's feat in establishing a Mediterranean empire with Arabia, Syria, Turkey, Greece, Yugoslavia, Morocco, Algeria, and perhaps Spain as integral units?

But whether this is Mussolini's insane dream or not, will not Hitler, now that he has seen how successfully Mussolini has defied the League of Nations and how easily he has begun his empire building with the conquest of Ethiopia, commence the expansion of his borders in Europe? There are Austria to the south, 95 per cent German, and Czechoslovakia, a rich and fertile country, and Hungary, the bread basket of Europe, and on the east, Poland, Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia, all easy prey to a greedy monster.

And what will be the outcome of the Japanese militarists' lust for power? How long before they, having taken Manchuria and North China, will encroach upon Russian protected Mongolia, and if they get away with that, begin the conquest of South China, India, and the Malay peninsula, bringing them to the very threshold of the Philippine Islands, or attempt to conquer Siberia, and the islands of the Bering Sea and perhaps even Alaska itself?

That is always the trend of dictatorships. They are never satisfied. Every since the world began, there has been an Alexander the Great, a Caesar or a Pompey, a Charlemagne, a Richard the Lion-Hearted, a Frederick the Great, or a Napoleon. Their fame is written on their swords, and their path leads from one battlefield to another.

Eating Crow

Take it from the newspapers, when Dr. T. W. Stallings, former Oklahoma public health officer, recently proved that crows are delicious to eat by trying them out on an unsuspecting delegation of "gentlemen of the press," he started something. National press associations have heralded the news. Today hunting of the over-abundant and pesky Jim Crow is assuming the proportions of a nationwide boom.

But promoters of crow dinners in many localities have been stymied. The Oklahoma medico's recipe has been a much-mooted question and crow cooking, in its finer aspects, has been found to be almost an unknown culinary art. The More Game Birds Foundation, however, with an eye to abetting the unique move to control the black destroyer of beneficial birds' eggs and the farmer's grain, has now uncovered these recipes:

"First of all, the older crows should be skinned. Use only the breasts and legs. Young birds may be roasted like chicken, but use of butter or bacon is necessary or the meat may be too dry."

"CROW BROTH: Take the breast and legs, brown a little in butter, and then boil with a little celery until tender, using water according to quantity of broth desired."

"CROW SANDWICH SPREAD: Use the hulled meat. Remove bones, run through meat chopper, add some mustard, minced onion, salt, pepper or paprika, and mayonnaise."

"CROW STEW: Breast and legs may be used. Brown some large onions in bacon fat (one large onion to the bird), put in meat, salt, pepper or paprika, another for a few minutes in the onions, add enough water to cover meat and let simmer over slow fire until tender. Stir in some sour cream mixed with a teaspoonful of flour."

Young crows, taken just before flying age, are delicious when prepared similar to squabs. Clean, rub with salt and pepper, also either some lemon or, if the flesh is liked, some finely crushed juniper berries. Stuff with whole mushrooms, if desired. Wrap completely in slices of bacon, tie, and broil or roast like squabs. Breasts of crows squabs may also be dipped in egg and bread crumbs and fried like cutlets."

Canned Foods Held As Not Tax Exempt

TALLAHASSEE, May 4.—(AP)—Circuit Judge J. B. Johnson of Tallahassee ruled yesterday the 1935 gross receipts tax law does not exempt canned or processed agricultural products.

Judge Johnson said exemption applies on receipts from retail sales of bakery products, dairy products, ice, insecticides, fungicides, fertilizer and agricultural or horticultural products and implements. The law, commonly known as the "chain store tax law" provided for graduated occupational licenses according to the number of stores in a chain. In addition to gross receipts taxes of annual percent on retail business, with a few exemptions.

Equally charming and as sweet as the flower baskets they held for the silver offering were Rebecca Stevens, Mildred Holly, Jean Maxwell, and Kitty DuBois.

No Ladies will be ARRESTED for buying Chintz! Here's a funny little item about sales-tax troubles 160 years ago in London. To protect the English weavers of linen and wool cotton chintz was stiffly taxed, and the Lord Mayor was "shocked and grieved" to see three employeemen walking in St. James Park on Sunday dressed in chintz gowns. On Monday morning, the three ladies were haled into court but all promptly hid their faces because chintz was so pretty and so soft. It still is. Crisp little lot and lighter chintz for warm weather frocks. Madras-style chintz for summer blouses. Chintz also serves for dining-room chairs. Chintz blinds when you take the winter draperies down. Now is the time to do your chintz-checking. Do not mistake and buy cheap chintz. Buy at the Sanford store where you can see the fabric and have it made to order. ## Mrs. Scott Honored By New York Artists

Mrs. William Moore Scott has received the high honor of having one of her paintings, "Magnolia Grandiflora," selected as one of the ten oil paintings by Florida artists to be hung in the first national exhibition of American Art at Rockefeller Center in New York City.

Mrs. Scott received her early art training at Sullins College in Bristol, Tenn. Later, she studied with Lyette in Atlanta, and also was a member of the water color class of the Corcoran Art Gallery in Washington. She has done illustrations of fruit and plants for the United States government bulletins and for exhibitions both national and international, and has been given honors by the Florida Federation of Art and the Southern Art League.

The following article from the Florida Times-Union announces the winners of the state-wide competition:

"Selection of the 11 objects of art which will represent the work of Florida painters and sculptors in the first national exhibition of American art, which opens in the International Building, Rockefeller Center, New York City, May 15, has been completed. James B. Everett, director of the Jacksonville Federal Art Gallery, and member of the board of judges, announced yesterday.

"More than 100 oil paintings, pieces of sculpture and craftsmanship, which won at regional exhibitions held here, Miami, and St. Petersburg, were considered by the judges in the final selection in the local Federal Art Gallery.

The fortunate painters and sculptors, whose work will be exhibited in the New York along with that of the best in the United States, together with the title of the painting or object of art follow:

"Christopher Clark, Tampa, 'The Crap Shooters'; Mary Florence Scott, Sanford, 'Magnolia Grandiflora'; Edith S. Harrison, Jacksonville, 'Eventide'; Hilton Leach, Seawalla, 'Upper Lake'; Dorothy Michelson, Jacksonville, 'Portrait'; Lois Tracy, Venice, Florida, 'Jungle'; Tibor Fatay, Orlando, 'Holy Day'; H. S. Hubbell, Miami Beach, 'At the Casa Rosita'; Robert Camp, Ocala, 'Cannas'; Harriet Elin, Cocoa, 'Spanish Bayonet'; Gustav Bohland, Miami, 'Rhythm' (sculpture).

"The New York exhibition is sponsored by the City of New York and by the Municipal Art Committee of New York.

"Director Everett announced that the next show at the federal gallery in the Chamber of Commerce Building here will consist of more than 100 fine paintings sent here from all sections of the state to compete for places in the New York exhibition.

"This next showing," Director Everett promised, "will be the most sensational ever held in Florida and will be hung by May 5."

AMONG "COLLEEN'S" 12 STARS

TOLEDO Hideout Of Outlaws, Say Police Officials

TOLEDO, May 4. (AP)—Police believe Toledo is on the criminals' main highway across the country, and officials say they are going to do something about it. Strategically located from the gangster's point of view on a line between New York and Kansas City, Toledo has made a good hideout for fugitive criminals, Harry Manson, city detective on special assignments points out.

John Dillinger and his machine gunners lived in Toledo three weeks in January, 1933, Manson said he had learned. At various times in pre-repeal days, Detroit's Purple Gang, the Touhy mob of Chicago and Al Capone's henchmen slipped into Toledo hideouts, he added.

The police system, not the police in Toledo, is an underworld hideout, police officials here agree. Records are antiquated, they declare, and local patrolmen are not provided with photographs of criminals.

Between New York and Kansas City, Manson said, were five stations along the "main street" of crime—Buffalo, Cleveland, Toledo, Chicago and St. Louis. Although criminals consider Detroit too "hot," that city nevertheless offers a stepping-off place into Canada.

Toledo's new chief of police, Ray Allen, has indicated a determination to cancel all "stop-over" tickets of voyaging criminals. He has pledged fullest co-

CARDUI

Cardui is a purely vegetable medicine for the relief of functional periodic pain, nervousness and weakness due to poor nourishment. It is successful used by thousands of women.

"I have used Cardui and had good results from its use," writes Mrs. W. E. Barnett of Taylor, S. C. "I suffered with cramping and headache and would have a chilly feeling. Sometimes I would feel miserable and have pain more than a day. I would be nervous. I read of Cardui and decided to try it. After taking one bottle of Cardui, I had no pain and was regulated. I feel much better."

When your suffering can be relieved by taking Cardui, let it be your friend. It does not harm you and it does not cost you a cent more than your trouble.

Week-End Games Lost By Lookouts Who Skid To Last Place

Daytona Wins One In Shutout, Other By 4 To 2 Score

Losing Saturday's game to Daytona Beach there by 4 to 0 and Sunday's game with the same club on the home field by 4 to 2, the Sanford Lookouts tumble again into last place in the Florida State League.

Both games were lost by the starting pitchers for the Lookouts. In Saturday's game at the Beach the first two and one-third innings were pitched by Vele, and in that period the Islanders made all their four runs. McCown was then sent to the box for Sanford, and no more Daytona Beach scores were made.

In Sunday's game on Sanford Field the first two and two-thirds innings were pitched by Buddy Laska and before he was taken out of the box the visitors had scored three runs and had a man on third base who easily scored after Doc Hardin was sent in to pitch. Hardin allowed only two hits during the last six innings and Daytona failed to score again.

The Lookouts-Islanders game in Daytona Beach on Saturday was the first errorless game between any of the clubs in the Florida State League since the season opened. Each team made two errors in Sunday's game. The Lookouts outlasted their rivals here yesterday, but failed to hit in the pinches. However, they threatened to even the score in the last half of the last inning. Pinion was sent in to bat for Walters, singled and advanced to third base when Bluffitt got a double to right field. Norwood got a weak hit, Taylor struck out and Barnes went out second to first, and thus ended the game.

Sunday's game by innings:

First Inning
Daytona Beach: Guerra singles, goes to second on Hosinski's sacrifice hit and scores on single by Anderson who is put out with Hosinski on a double play (Morton singles, Norris flies out).

Sanford: Taylor strikes out; Barnes walks; Swindell flies out; Cates out at first.

Score: Daytona Beach 1, Sanford 0.

Second Inning
Daytona Beach: Mittleman singles on error by Walters, shortstop; Davis fanned, Martin singles. Boles and Guerra fly out.

Sanford: Cooper out at first, McCrone out on ball batted into pitcher's hand, Walters flies out.

Score: Daytona Beach 0, Sanford 0.

Third Inning
Daytona Beach: Hosinski singles, Anderson flies out, Morton singles and makes second on Cates' fumble, Hosinski goes to third; Boris hits a two-bagger and Hosinski scores; Mittleman singles, scores Morton and tries to steal second where he is first called safe by the umpire and then declared out when even the Daytona Beach players protested the first decision. Laska is taken out of the box and Doc Hardin sent in to pitch for Sanford. Davis singles, scoring Boris. Martin flies out.

Sanford: Bluffitt strikes out, Hardin singles on error by Hosinski, Taylor fanned, Barnes singles, Swindell walks and the bases are full. Cates singles on a long drive to left field, and Hardin and Barnes score. Cooper comes to bat, but Swindell steps off the second base bag and is caught out by Davis. Daytona's shortstop, who had held the ball instead of returning it to the pitcher.

Score: Daytona Beach 2, Sanford 2.

Fourth Inning
Daytona Beach: Boles out at first, Guerra singles, Hosinski flies out, Anderson given base when hit by pitched ball, Morton out at first.

Sanford: Cooper singles, McCrone sends a grounder out between first and second base, but it is caught and Cooper is out on a double play. Walters and Bluffitt singles, Barnes flies out.

Score: Daytona Beach 0, Sanford 0.

Fifth Inning
Daytona Beach: Boris flies out, Mittleman singles and is caught out trying to steal second, Davis strikes out.

Sanford: Taylor singles, out of second on Barnes' sacrifice to first, Swindell gets a two-bagger, advancing Barnes to third base. Boris is taken out of the box and McCrone is sent in to pitch for Daytona. Cates and Cooper strike out.

Score: Daytona Beach 0, Sanford 0.

Sixth Inning
Daytona Beach: Taylor fanned, out of second on Barnes' sacrifice to first, Swindell gets a two-bagger, advancing Barnes to third base. Boris is taken out of the box and McCrone is sent in to pitch for Daytona. Cates and Cooper strike out.

Score: Daytona Beach 0, Sanford 0.

SUNDAY'S ATTENDANCE RECORD ONE OF LARGEST THIS SEASON

More than 800 fans paid to see yesterday's game with the Daytona Beach Islanders on Sanford Field, and it was one of the largest baseball crowds at any game in the Florida State League this season. The announcement was made during the game over the loudspeaker system that there were more persons in the grandstand here yesterday than at all games played this season in Daytona Beach.

Another record-breaking attendance is expected for the Thursday half-holiday game here with the Palatka Aztecs.

The Lookouts also pay at home tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, with the Saints from St. Augustine. Manager Stoffy McCrone said that he would probably start Leyfield, though Leyfield pitched only last Saturday when the Daytona Reds were defeated 10 to 3. However, a new southpaw pitcher, Morrison, may be put in the box, Stoffy said. Morrison has not as yet been in the lineup.

G-Men Take Both Week-End Games Break Even Over From The Saints Saturday, Sunday

Gainesville G-Men, the club one step above the Sanford Lookouts, took both week-end games, from the St. Augustine Saints, winning on Gainesville field Saturday by a 9-6 score and in St. Augustine yesterday by a 4-1 score.

Twenty-five hits were collected in Saturday's game, the G-Men getting 14 and the Saints 11. Wise, starting hurler for the Saints, was replaced by Weigle in the third inning after he had allowed seven hits and five runs. Albritton, the Gainesville moundman, was never in serious trouble. He gave up 11 base blows, but was able to coast on the early lead given him by the G-Men batsmen.

Two home runs were slammed out during the game. The first went to Norbert Pfeiffer, G-Men outfielder, when he slugged one in the third inning with two men on bases. Garhouse Parker, janky first baseman, hit his in the ninth inning with none on the base.

Score by innings:
St. Augustine ..... 000 000 002 2
Gainesville ..... 008 103 00x-9

The Saints made four errors in yesterday's game, though John Schneider, their stellar southpaw hurler, pitched his fourth five-hit game in a row. However, his G-Men' support was lacking.

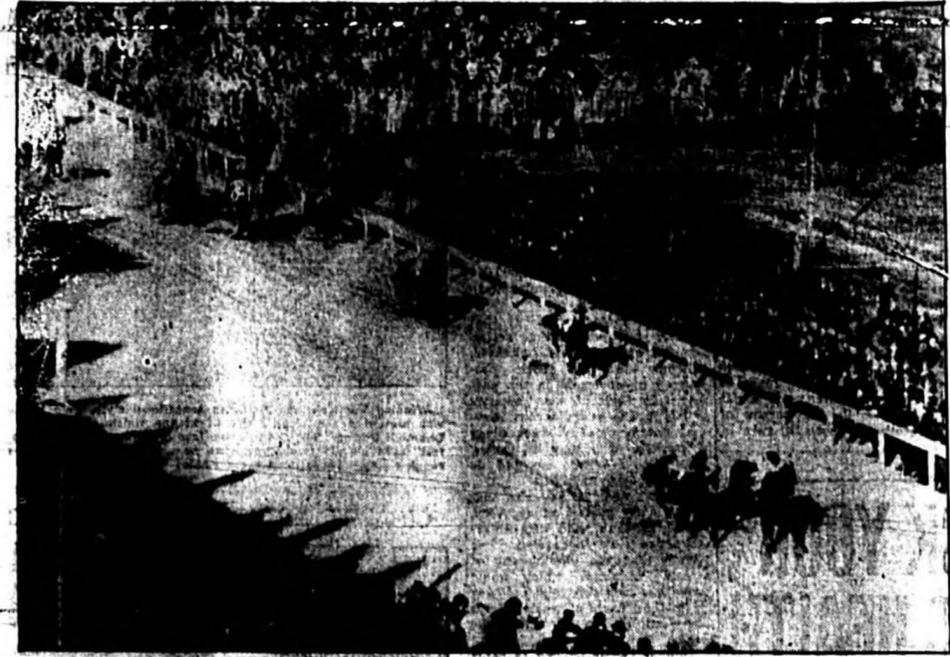

Bill Henderson made his debut on the hill for Gainesville and the former Southern Association hurler gave up seven runs and kept the Saints in check until the ninth when three straight hits accounted for a tally. Mayo Leggett tripled to right and singled on Jerry Fitzgerald's single to center.

Score by innings:
Gainesville ..... 000 001 100-5
St. Augustine ..... 000 000 001-1

Sanford: Cooper out at first, McCrone out on ball batted into pitcher's hand, Walters flies out.

Score: Daytona Beach 0, Sanford 0.

BOLD VENTURE WINS THE KENTUCKY DERBY BY A HEAD

Here's the thrill-packed finish of the Kentucky Derby with Bold Venture shing out a surprise victory over the favorite, Brevity, by the margin of a head. The two horses can be seen fighting hard over those few winning inches while a sports-crazed crowd grips the rails at Louisville. Behind them is Indian Broom in third position, and back of him follows the field. (Associated-Press Photo)

Yanks And Giants Get 2 Cracks At Leading Indians

The leading Seminoles in the Lions League will be opposed by the Yankees in this afternoon's game and by the Giants on Wednesday afternoon. The Yankees are in second place in the league, tied with the Pirates who will meet the Cubs tomorrow and the Red Sox on Friday. The Yankees play again Thursday, also against the Cubs.

The Giants, who play the Seminoles on Wednesday, still safely repose in the cellar with a game won this season.

The Red Sox are only one step above, having won only one game and lost five. The Cubs have won two and lost four.

Jack Finnell is now managing the Giants and John Ivey has taken over the management of the Yankees.

The Lions League is entering its second to the last week of the season as the schedule calls for games only up to and including Friday, May 16. At the close of the season a "world series" will be played.

Bold Venture Is Derby Winner On Churchill Downs

CHURCHILL DOWNS, LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4.—(AP)—Bold Venture, the longest shot winner in 18 years, survived a rough and tumble thoroughbred battle as well as a thrilling stretch drive to capture the sixty-second Kentucky derby before the greatest crowd ever gathered for America's most spectacular horse race.

To the astonishment of 62,000 spectators and confusion of the form players, Bold Venture stood off a terrific stretch challenge from Brevity, the 4 to 5 favorite, and won by a scant head in a hard-driving, whip-lashing climax to the struggle of three-year-olds.

Owned by Morrin L. Schwartz, New York sportsman, Bold Venture paid $43 for each $2 mutual ticket, as well as $11.80 to place and $6.80 to show. The winner's price equivalent to $20.50 on the dollar, was the biggest since "Old Bones" of the turf, flashed home in front in 1918 and paid the equivalent of $29.50 to one.

Bold Venture's victory, worth $37,725 to the colt's owner, out of a total derby purse of $10,150, climaxed a starting sequence of events.

Lookouts To Play 3 Home Games During The Week

Here Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday Afternoons At 4

The Sanford Lookouts will play at home three days this week—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. They and all other clubs in the Florida State League are resting today.

The Saints from St. Augustine play here tomorrow afternoon, the Palatka Aztecs will be here for the Thursday half-holiday game, and the Gainesville G-Men are coming Saturday.

The Lookouts play at St. Augustine on Wednesday, and in Palatka on Friday.

Next Sunday's game will be with the G-Men in Gainesville.

This week's schedule in the Florida State League is as follows:

Tuesday
St. Augustine at Sanford.
DeLand at Daytona Beach.
Palatka at Gainesville.

Wednesday
Sanford at St. Augustine.
Daytona Beach at DeLand.
Gainesville at Palatka.

Thursday
Palatka at Sanford.
Daytona Beach at St. Augustine.
DeLand at Gainesville.

Friday
Sanford at Palatka.
St. Augustine at Daytona Beach.

Saturday
Gainesville at DeLand.
Palatka at Sanford.
Daytona Beach at St. Augustine.

Iowa Coach Calls On Professors To Help

IOWA CITY, May 4.—(AP)—George T. Bresnahan, who has been turning out winning track teams at the University of Iowa for 15 years, conducts his coaching position along highly scientific lines.

He is a frequent consultant with Prof. C. A. Lapp of the physics department and Dr. A. A. Steindler, an authority on orthopedics.

Professor Lapp ascertains the angle at which Mark Panber, Big Ten champion, should throw his javelin to obtain the greatest distance.

Dr. Steindler studies the body and leg movements of Panther and Floyd Duffer, sophomore shot-putter, and tells how to derive the most power with the least effort.

It's a serious business—the production of Big Ten champions—with George Bresnahan.

Texas Bowlers Have Perfect Score

AMARILLO, Tex., May 4.—(AP)—Rarer than golf's holes-in-one are perfect 300 bowling scores—except maybe on the Amarillo alleys.

The Panhandle pin splitters, after going for many years without recording a perfect game here, suddenly went on a spree and eight perfect games were put on the score sheets within exactly two months.

Jim Ayres, a regular league bowler, started it with a perfect game. Eighteen days later he duplicated his feat, Roger Teas, another local ace, sent 12 straight strikes down the alleys on Jan. 28 and exactly 16 days later did it again!

However, Teas' second unbeatable game was clinched somewhat by Miss Maggie Marsh, crack woman bowler, who tallied a perfect score the same evening.

Allen Shifer, Delbert Hughes and Herb Letadie pointed the set group to record out the amazing exhibition.

All of the scores were made on the same alleys.

Wisconsin Sheriff Claims The Credit For Inaugurating The Football Huddle

ELKHORN, Wis., May 4.—(AP)—Ask Sheriff George O'Brien of Elkhorn who originated the football huddle and he'll tell you—with a blush—he did 30 years ago.

The blush isn't one of modesty—it's produced by the thoughts of the 102-0 beating the O'Brien-coached team received that afternoon in 1905 from a St. John's Military academy eleven.

O'Brien says he was called and asked to organize a team when Elkhorn high school team found itself unable to fulfill a scheduled game with the cadets.

After hastily forming a group of former high school players, he recalls they arrived at the scene of the battle without even a football and with nothing but the Academy officials' supplies in clothes on their backs.

The uniforms and the game began.

"Then came the problem of what to do when we had the ball," says O'Brien. "We hadn't practiced and we had no signals."

He says he suggested the players form a huddle before every play to plan their attack. It brought forth gales of laughter from the stands, for until that day no one in that part of the country had ever seen football players gather in a circle on the field to talk things over.

As O'Brien recalls it, Elkhorn had the ball quite often, for the rules then gave it to the opposing team on the kickoff following every touchdown. And the score was 102-0.

Auto Racing Draws The Biggest Crowds

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—Boxing, baseball and football have drawn tremendous crowds, but automobile racing holds top rank as a crowd-gatherer.

A year ago 150,000 persons attended the 500-mile Decoration day sweepstakes at Indianapolis. There were 120,000 at the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Philadelphia and approximately the same number have attended a major college football game. Baseball's top was 85,000 and horse racing's, 56,000.

THINGS TO COME ... From the Alexander Korda Production of the H. G. Wells Screen Play

Millions Lacking Job Despite 50 Pct. Trade Gain

Army of Idle Men Is Estimated As High As Twelve Million

This is the second of a series of six articles on the progress of economic recovery.

By FREDERICK R. GARDNER
WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—While the hammers of American industry beat today at the fastest tempo in six years, they chip away but slowly at the stubborn mass of unemployment. Although no census of the jobs has been taken, latest estimates range from 9,800,000 by the National Industrial Conference Board to 12,550,000 by the American Federation of Labor. Each calculation indicates a pronounced lag between recovery in employment and the sweeping pick-up in industrial production.

The estimates of the National Industrial Conference Board, a statistical organization supported by corporations, show that the huge accumulation of jobless from 1929 to 1933 has been reduced by only about 20 percent. The American Federation of Labor, using a different basis for its computation, figures that less than 25 percent of the extreme increase in idleness has been hammered away.

Most statistical measurements show that about half of the loss in industrial production between 1929 and early 1933 has been recovered. The U. S. bureau of labor statistics shows a similar recovery in factory employment.

What is perplexing to many analysts, however, is the fact that in the later phases of recovery, factory employment has not kept pace with the gains in production.

For instance, for the last two years alone, the federal reserve board figures show a jump in industrial production of about 12 percent, while the bureau of labor statistics shows a gain of only 7 percent. This brings up what is perhaps the most controversial phase of the entire problem, the growing use of labor saving machinery.

How many men have been displaced by machines? How much of the idleness is what is known as "structural unemployment?" Labor leaders say much of it is due to this cause, and demand a shorter work week.

A number of industrialists, on the other hand, assert that labor saving machinery increases employment by adding to the cost of cheap production, making more jobs in distributing, selling and serving the increased output of useful appliances and goods.

Then whence comes this huge army of jobless?

Among the explanations offered is the estimated 8,000,000 added to America's population in the last six years.

Another factor cited is that building and construction activities still are relatively depressed, although there has been pronounced improvement in the past year. Employment also appears to lag in the miscellaneous services, embracing that vast army of workers who wait on tables, shine shoes, deliver ice and do a host of other odd jobs.

Business analysts say also that in the early phases of recovery, capital is timid and new enterprises are slow to develop. They explain that the development of a new industry which would thrive as the automobile industry did in the decade after the World War might greatly alter the scene.

Another factor tending to deter the decrease in the total of unemployed, some point out, is that many workers, in the worst of the depression, were employed only one or two days a week. They now receive faster pay envelopes, but at no time were they listed as unemployed.

In the meantime, the government continues to support millions of families with relief funds. Latest estimates indicate that the number of persons supported, including those able to work and their dependents is around 19,000,000.

(In the third article, Frank I. Weller of the Washington staff of The Associated Press will discuss recovery in agriculture.)

Patient To Turn On Dr. New Deal, Mencken Thinks

Henry L. Mencken, former editor of "The American Mercury," predicts in the May issue of that magazine an early end for the theological philters prescribed for the American public by the Administration in Washington. Soon, he says, the patient on whom political doctors have tried their copious remedies will begin to move a toe then rise from his bed and give the doctors "what, on less exalted levels, would be described graphically as the bum's rush."

Mr. Mencken based his prediction on an analysis of the New Deal as one compounded chiefly of opiates or painkillers, followed by instruments of medicine men and coothesayers, and the beginning of time. He likens them however, to other quack cures offered by Communists and Fascists, and expresses his surprise that even the dumbest yokels have succumbed to them.

"There is no actual newness in the so-called New Deal," he writes. "Its fundamental pretension goes back to the dark abyss of time, and even its most lunatic details are not novel to students of world-saving. If it differs from the other current panaceas—for instance, Communism, Fascism and Naziism—it is only in its greater looseness and orthodoxy, its more reckless hospitality to miscellaneous nonsense."

The social and economic objectives of the New Deal, Mr. Mencken observes, belong in the great tradition of theological humbug. What he calls "its rumble-bumble has its roots, he says in the oldest practices of the magic art of fooling people through theology, magic and mystery.

"The New Deal offers a less potent medicine," he ventures, "but what it offers belongs indubitably to the same category."

It, too, is a kind of religion, though somewhat cheaper and less sophisticated than the variety propagated from Moscow. It is to the latter, roughly speaking, as the Holy Rollers, the Feet-Wash Baptists and the Salvation Army, stand to the elegant arcana of Holy Church.

Added to the theology in the New Deal, Mr. Mencken has found definite traces of the anodyne proffered in the past to the lame and the weary by poetry. The final ingredient, according to his analysis, has been booziness completing the list of man's traditional avenues of escape what he does not want to face.

"The wizards now rampant in Washington, in some of their aspects," he writes, "are far more poets than theologians. At every excess they turn from harsh prose of exegesis to the lascivious measures of hymnody, and sing down the groans of doubt. Moreover, there is about their giddy gladness something that clearly transcends the spiritual; if it were not notorious that they are all extremely abstemious men one might almost call it spiritual."

Before long, he concludes, even the patient and long suffering American public may be expected to turn against its brain

Many Excursionists Spilled Into Water In Ship Collision

NEW YORK, May 4.—(AP)—The man died and five other persons were injured when a 65-foot boat carrying a Sunday fishing party collided off Annapolis lightship with a 4,775-ton freighter.

Most of the 48 persons aboard the fishing boat, the M. J. R. 17d, were thrown into Sheepshead Bay by the impact. They were picked up by several other boats in the vicinity.

Marine police identified the freighter as the Evangeline of the Bull Line inbound from San Juan.

Capt. Frank Polecek of the M. J. R. 17d said he was at anchor when the crash came. He suffered a fracture of the left hand.

An unidentified man died, apparently of a heart attack, after being picked up by a rescue boat.

The fishing boat, slowly sinking, was towed ashore.

General Hagood Will Leave Army And Write Book

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—After serving one full day as commanding officer of the Sixth Army Corps Area at Chicago, Major General Johnson Hagood, who spent seven weeks in military exile after criticizing WPA spending policies, today requested immediate retirement.

In a communication received here at the same time from Chicago, the veteran officer announced he expected to return to his home in Charleston, S. C., to write a book in which "I shall show how the United States can get much better national defense at very much less cost to the taxpayer." Hagood said his friends feel he had been "mishandled."

Granting his retirement request is mandatory since after more than 44 years' active duty he is entitled to retire with the rank of major general and full retirement pay.

Mussolini May Put Puppet On Throne

GENEVA, May 4.—(AP)—Members of the League of Nations generally anticipated that Premier Mussolini would put a puppet emperor upon the throne of Ethiopia upon his own terms.

An Italian spokesman emphasized that Italy always recognized the existence of Ethiopia. From this it was deduced that the Duce will continue to recognize an independent Amharic State, though probably under Italian supervision with the remainder of the country passing to Italy in the form of a colony or mandate.

Maryland Goes To Roosevelt, Ratio 5 To 1

New Deal Critic Is Snowed Under By The President At Monday's Primary

Second Victory Scored By Leader

Pennsylvania Voted Against Breckinridge By 20 To 1

BALTIMORE, May 5.—(AP)—By a ratio of slightly more than five to one, President Roosevelt won Maryland's 16 national convention votes from Colonel Henry Breckinridge, outstanding critic of New Deal policies. Unofficial returns from 1350 of the state's 1434 precincts gave Roosevelt 98,344 and Breckinridge 17,552. Yesterday's primary was the second in which Roosevelt and Breckinridge have contested over New Deal policies in the state. Pennsylvania Democrats swung the President a 20 to 1 ratio.

Auxiliary Will Join In Exercises Next Sunday Eve In Hut

Honoring the mothers of America and particularly the mothers of members of the American Legion and the Sons of the Legion, the American Legion Auxiliary will present a program in the Legion Hut on Lake Front Boulevard next Sunday evening (Mother's Day) at 8 o'clock. Due to the size of the room the attendance will be limited to Legionnaires and their families. The Rev. J. Bernard Root, pastor of the First Congregational Church and chaplain of the Legion Post, in announcing the program to be given here, said that while such programs are mandated by the national department, the Legion and the Auxiliary would doubtless have arranged one irrespective of departmental ruling. The Auxiliary will furnish a speaker on child welfare, and Dr. Ralph Stevens of St. Petersburg will speak for the Legion. Mrs. J. J. Holly, president of the Auxiliary, and Lloyd F. Boyle, commander of the Legion, will also give short addresses.

Small Attendance At Lyman School Discouraging To Members of "A" Group

Declaring that the fourth decisive battle in American history will be that against communism, Louis Griffith, athletic officer for the Department of Florida, told American Legion men last night the responsibility of educating the coming generation to combat the "red wave" rests with the former service men. The speaker said there have been three outstanding decisive moments in the history of this country. The first was when Wolfe raised the English flag in Quebec, for had Montcalm won that day this would be a French-speaking nation. The second was the defeat of the British at Ticonderoga by Benedict Arnold who later turned traitor, and America won the respect of the world. The third was the battle of Gettysburg, he said. "There never were braver men than those who followed Pickett on that July day in 1863, but they were defeated by the power of numbers and the fate of the Confederacy was sealed and the Union was preserved, he said. "There will be other Quebecs, other Gettysburgs, other decisive moments, which confront us in the red wave. The result of that battle will be momentous, but the Red flag will never wave over this country if the Legion teaches the coming generation the meaning of true Americanism, love of God, of country, of fellow man." ## BRITISH LEGATION HAVEN FOR AMERICANS

The heavily fortified British legation (top) in Addis Ababa became the asylum for most Americans and other foreigners in the Ethiopian capital when rioters ran wild following the flight of Emperor Haile Selassie. Because of its unprotected position, the United States legation (below) was deserted save for Minister Cornelius Van H. Engert, his wife and a handful of co-workers who repelled an attack by marauders, but they were forced to evacuate the legation, shortly before the arrival today of the victorious Fascist Legions. ## Selassie Flees With Nation's Treasure On British Cruiser

ROME, May 5.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini declared tonight: "The war is over" and "Ethiopia is Italian." He made the declaration to half the population of Italy gathered in a huge mobilization. The populace was assembled in honor of the fall of Addis Ababa. (By the Associated Press) The British minister to Ethiopia reported that a large force of conquering Italian soldiers entered thousands of foreigners besieged for four days in various legations. This word was wirelessly to London by Sir Sidney Barton, British minister, shortly after the sorely pressed American Legation had been evacuated. The American envoy and his aides, after four days of conspicuous bravery under almost constant fire of rolling Ethiopian planes, evacuated the United States legation, presumably taking refuge in the British embassy. Cornelius Van H. Engert, American minister, with other whites in Addis Ababa had been standing off wild tribesmen bandits hoping the advancing Fascist legions would bring relief. The United States received assurance from the Italian government that lives and property of foreigners would be protected according to the rules of war as soon as Italian forces occupied the city. Sirens and bells sounded in Rome late today summoning citizens to a celebration after the war ministry received information Addis Ababa had fallen. The summons was to the long-expected national mass meeting expected to symbolize Italy's victory over Ethiopia. In response to the tocsin, half the population of Italy sprang to military and semi-military formation, as the former Emperor of Ethiopia moved through the torrid Red Sea, safely aboard a British vessel. Leaders of the southern Ethiopian forces, Ras Nasibu and his Turkish advisor and staff officer, Wehbi Pascha, fled also to Djibouti. London sources, reporting the British government as frankly humiliated by the unexpected easy conquest of Ethiopia, reflected demands of laborites that punishment of Italy through sanctions should be continued and increased. The railway from Addis Ababa to Djibouti, the only modern means to access with the outside world, was cut at Mojo, 30 miles east of the capital. Interruption to the rail traffic presumably delayed the movement of French colonial troops, dispatched to the relief of the French legation at Addis Ababa. Selassie Takes Treasure DJIBOUTI, May 5.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie went into exile laden with rich treasures. His possessions aboard the British cruiser include the imperial family jewels, many cases of gold bullion and gold and silver coins. The emperor was reported to have stopped at Dire Dawa while coming here and removed all cash from the treasury and customs house there. He even took six automobiles with him aboard the ship.

South Dakota Votes Today

SIoux FALLS, S. D., May 5.

Reporters inquired subsequently of that meant advocacy of the re-election of Roosevelt, and Green answered.

Public Asked To Hear Address By Attorney General

According to Forrest Gatchel, district chairman of the Better Business Bureau, the address to be delivered before the bureau in the Court House on Wednesday evening by Attorney General Carey D. Landis will not be a political speech. The attorney general is to discuss business, and the public is invited to hear him. On the program with Mr. Landis are B. M. Tench, mayor of Gainesville, an official of the Better Business Association, and Jas. G. Sharon of Sanford, candidate for Congress. Ralph Cowan, chairman of the Better Business Association in Sanford, will preside. Mr. Gatchel is chairman for the district comprising Seminole and Brevard counties.

Case Against Karpis Called "Air Tight"

ST. PAUL, May 5.—(AP)—Alvin Karpis was subjected to his fourth day of almost continuous questioning today as District Attorney Sullivan announced the government had an airtight case and would ask that bail be set at $400,000 when the trial is arranged on kidnapping charges. In explanation of what he said he believed was an unprecedented bail demand, Sullivan called Karpis "one of the most desperate characters in the history of the nation." He said he was prepared to arrange for a $400,000 bail bond, but he would not accept a questioner's suggestion that a $100,000 bond be accepted. Karpis' conviction was announced here by Attorney Sullivan during the morning of May 4. He was arrested in Chicago on May 3, and was held in St. Paul before a grand jury.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(AP)—The long awaited appearance of Dr. F. E. Townsend before the House committee investigating the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan was today postponed suddenly for two weeks. The gray-haired California physician was ready to proceed when Chairman Bell unexpectedly made announcement of the postponement. Bell told newsmen later some important depositions and other papers vital to the hearing had not arrived.

FNG Officers Asked To Meet In Sanford To Form Association

Commissioned Officers in the Florida National Guard were today invited to meet in Sanford to discuss the formation of the Florida unit of the national association of National Guard officers. Officers of the various militia companies in Sanford stand a good chance of getting the convention because of its central location, and that favorable response were received from officers in other cities before the general invitation was extended. There are about 175 commissioned officers in the Florida National Guard.

Volunteers Out After Funds For Salvation Army

Salvation Army's annual appeal for support funds was being carried to citizens today by 40 men and women who volunteered their time and effort that the campaign to raise $3,500 would prove successful. The drive is to continue through the week if necessary. C. R. Dawson is general chairman. Workers today were restricting their calls to the prospect cards, but this limitation will be lifted later in the week. Some of the workers who failed to call at headquarters yesterday afternoon or this morning for their cards are asked by Mr. Dawson to obtain them as soon as possible. Additional advance gifts reported today by Captain F. S. Fern of the Salvation Army are as follows: Lloyd F. Boyle, $24; Henry White, $5; F. S. Castleberry, $1; V. M. Cussey, $1.

Defense Counsel To Get Evidence Grand Jury Heard

TALLAHASSEE, May 5.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today denied the state's motion to quash an alternative writ of mandamus by which the defense counsel in the Tampa kidnapping trial at Bartow seeks access to a transcript of the testimony two witnesses gave before the Hillsborough county grand jury which returned indictments in the case. Unless there is further procedure the decision becomes final and defense counsel will have access to the record. Pat Whitaker, chief defense counsel for the seven former police officers accused, said the testimony would show that state witnesses who testified at the grand jury trial before the grand jury did not materially differ from their testimony at the trial.

Future Farmers' District Meet To Be Held Saturday

District 7 Future Farmers of America come to Sanford this week Saturday to compete in district contests to choose representatives from this section in a state contest to be held later. Chapter contests were held a week ago, and the competition to be held here the end of the week will be between winners of those meets. String bands, fiddlers, harmonica players and vocalists will compete. Sanford, DeLand and Crescent City Future Farmers are entered in the string band contest; the district fiddling championship; Sanford, St. Cloud, Crescent City and Apopka will enter the harmonica contest; and vocal quartets from the FFA chapters in Ovidio, St. Cloud, DeLand and Apopka will sing. There are no singers in Seminole Chapter of the FFA. In addition to the musical competitions there will be oratorical contests between winners in the chapters at Sanford, St. Cloud, Crescent City, DeLand, Apopka and Hastings. All these events will be in the assembly hall of City Hall on Saturday evening. There will be an admission charge of 25 cents. During the day diamond ball teams from all chapters excepting Sanford will compete for the district championship in that sport.

Theodore L. Mead, Noted Hybridizer Of Orchids, Dies In His 85th Year

Theodore Luqueer Mead, famous hybridizer of orchids and entomologist of Lake Charm, Ovidio, died yesterday afternoon at the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital. He was 84 years old. Mr. Mead's name will live in the scientific world in which he was an important figure because of the two orchids he created and the rare butterfly he discovered. He also did much interesting experimental work with the amaryllis, gladiolus, calladiums, and cactus. He was born at Fishkill, N. Y., Feb. 23, 1852, and was tutored at home until he was 10 years old. After attending a French school in New York City, he was taken to Europe for two years by his parents. He studied at the School of Mines at Columbia University and then entered Cornell where he was graduated in civil engineering in 1890. He did post graduate work in natural history and spent a year at the Columbia Law School. At 16, Mr. Mead was the youngest member of the American Entomological Society, and as a boy he started a collection of butterflies that in his later years ranked third among the collections of North American butterflies.
