

30,000 Soldiers To Take Part In New Guerrilla Exercise

ATLANTA, Apr. 20—(AP)—Some 30,000 soldiers are going to tackle the problem early next month of linking a power-packed guerrilla force backed by a strong fifth column.

The Third Army said the rugged game of make-believe war would take place along the Tennessee-Kentucky border, starting May 8, and would be for the primary purpose of training green troops.

In any event, the Army said that for the purposes at hand it would be assumed that an enemy had established bases in the Caribbean and sneaked in a modern and mobile guerrilla band.

This band, said the Army, will find a strong fifth column already operating and making things tough for U. S. citizens.

The next move is up to the U. S. and herein lies the problem to be known as "exercise assembly." From all points on the map in the southeast troops will converge by motor convoy, train and air upon the troubled area—in this case, Camp Campbell, Ky.—to test coordination and cooperation.

For most of the doughfoot, the maneuver will be their first time in the field, the Army pointing out that the end of the war had robbed the forces of battlewise veterans.

Except for officers below the rank of first lieutenant, however, the force will be commanded by holdovers from World War II. Many of the junior officers are about as green as the men they command.

To lick the enemy, the Army plans to toss in the Third Army's ground forces and their war-time partners in the race across France following the Normandy invasion of the late war, the Ninth Air Force.

The Twelfth Air Force also will be on hand to repel the invaders. The defending troops, known as "Task Force Lucky," will start with seizure of an airhead at Camp Campbell May 8. Spearheading the attack will be the

11 Die, 30 Injured In Mine Explosion

L.I.I.E. France, Apr. 20 (AP)—At least 11 miners died in a dust explosion at a coal mine at Sallaumines last night, officials announced today.

They said the fate of six other persons remains unknown. Two girl workers, who were at the pit-head when the blast occurred, are missing, as are four German prisoners of war, who were at work deep in the pit. Eyewitnesses said they saw the girls enveloped in flames.

Thirty miners were hospitalized for their injuries. Five of them were described as in serious condition. Sallaumines is 15 miles from here.

Officials said 363 men were at work in the mine at the time of the explosion.

DEBATE TOURNAY

GAINESVILLE, Apr. 20 (AP)—Ten Universities of Florida and Alabama, Wake Forest College and the U. S. Naval Academy will represent their six at the West Point National Debate Tournament Apr. 23-May 1.

Dr. Wayne C. Eubank, chairman of the nominating committee, made the announcement here today and said the University of Mississippi and Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn) had been selected as alternates.

BESERK INMATE

COLUMBUS, O., Apr. 20—(AP)—One guard was stabbed fatally and two others wounded seriously last night by a negro convict who ran berserk inside Ohio penitentiary for 20 minutes.

The convict, John Thomas, 34, serving a 1-to-15 year term for a Montgomery county burglary, surrendered without resistance when rifle-carrying guards surrounded him in a dining room. He had escaped from the prison hospital's "strong ward." No shots were fired.

Youth Is Sentenced To 22 Years In Jail

CHICAGO, Apr. 20 (AP)—Howard Lang, 13, youngest murder defendant in Chicago history, was sentenced to 22 years imprisonment today for killing his seven-year-old playmate.

Lang confessed he killed Lonnie Pellet last Oct. 18 in a forest preserve, he stabbed him and crushed his head with a heavy rock, after forcing a third boy to hold the victim's legs.

Lang's mother, Mrs. Alma Lang, who has been married five times, went to court today and passed by Judge Daniel A. Roberts in criminal court.

NORWAY FIRM

OSLO, Norway, Apr. 20—(AP)—Norway's foreign minister says his country never can enter any special military agreement with Russia.

Speaking before the Oslo Military Society last night, the foreign minister, Halvard M. Lange, said the Norwegian government had considered the possibility of a Soviet invitation to enter into a concord such as that now binding Finland and Russia.

He declared that no such invitation has yet been made and that none is expected. But, in the event one should come, he said the answer would be that Norway is part of Western Europe and will remain a European Democracy, whatever happens.

STABLE FIRE

HURRILLVILLE, R. I., Apr. 20 (AP)—At least two men were reported missing by police and an undetermined number of valuable race horses perished in a fire which swept four Pascoos track barns early today.

Two valuable animals were killed—one by a fire truck and the other by an automobile—after they fled from the burning structures.

A number of high-priced horses, which raced out of the burning buildings, were running wild through fields in nearby Pascoos and Chepachet.

POWDERED EGGS

CHICAGO, Apr. 20—(AP)—That powdered egg now is just about as good as fresh eggs, two chemists said today.

Even after a year, the new egg powder tastes so much like fresh eggs that many untrained observers cannot tell the difference, Ralph M. Conrad, director, and John W. Greene of the University of Colorado's Bureau of Industrial Research told the American Chemical Society.

Many criticisms of the war-time powdered eggs were justified, they admitted. The improvement, they said, comes from a slight acidification before drying the eggs.

Dried orange juice has been improved tremendously, and keeps its flavor and vitamin C content well, they added.

Uncle Sam imported 1663 tons of dried figs in 1946-47 and 921 tons of these came from Turkey.

LADIES DAY

Karlyle Housholder, a local candidate for County Judge in the May 4th Primary made the following speech over radio station WTRR Monday morning and he will be heard over that same station again Thursday night at 7:45 P. M.

Good morning folks: This is Karlyle Housholder, your candidate for County Judge. I am sorry my program for Saturday did not come over as scheduled but the ball game got crossed on my time, and I did not want to interfere with the game. My future night hours will be announced soon.

I arranged this morning program, assuming I would have an audience of ladies, but my remarks are for all. This morning I want to briefly speak of your relation with me as your County Judge.

If you drive a car, your first contact with me will likely be securing a driving license, and I want you to know I have a plan to divide up the issuance of the driving license throughout the County so as to relieve congestion at the Court House and save time, delay and annoyance, and I know many of you secure the license for your husband, son or brother, so I'll be right there with sufficient help to see that you get service with a smile.

You next might be interested in hunting or fishing license, for yourself or members of the family and I will always be there to see that you get just what you want when you want it and I will try to make your visit to my office such that you will be glad to return.

And now many of you as time goes on will want to see me about securing a marriage license, this should be the most pleasant for all of us, because it is about one of the happiest moments of our life. You, of course, must make application for your license three days before it can be issued and you must have your medical examination within 30 days before issuance of license. I will be ready to issue your license day or night and complete the ceremony right there if you want and will use a nice short ceremony, such as was used by my grandmother, several thousand times when she worked in that office. I want to look after you so good that you will not go to Georgia to get married. When you get married here there is a permanent record kept in the Judge's office and always easy for reference. And while speaking about marrying, I suppose it might not be out of the way to speak about divorce. The County Judge does not grant divorces. All divorces are granted by Circuit Judge M. B. Smith. If you feel you need a divorce, which I hope you never will, you should see a lawyer, and if proper a case will be filed in Circuit Court.

There are many laws relative to the protection of the rights and privileges of women and children. My office will always be open to you and you will never be turned away without the privilege of a conference and if your problem is not proper to be handled by the Judge I will advise you how to proceed. If you feel you have been invaded, want you to know that you will always be able to get a warrant for your protection from my office and you need never be afraid or have any fear of coming to see me, whether you have a penny or a million. To you, each and every one I will give you my service with a smile and courtesy without a ceiling.

There are other relations you will have with my office but I will talk to you about that next time.

Before closing I want to call to your attention that if any of you expect to be out of the County on election day, you can vote beginning today, by going to the office of the County Judge and taking your certificate of registration and signing an affidavit that you expect to be away.

Yes, your ballot will be absolutely secret. No one can know you voted for me unless you tell them. You have until the 30th to vote this way, but if you know now you will be away, do it now, — do not wait.

In closing I want to say that I am working hard for this office and things are going good all over the County. I will appreciate your support and vote. Thank you very much.

Top Candidates Beat The Bushes All Over Florida

Only 2 More Weeks Of Campaigning Are Left Before Voting

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wherever you live, you won't have to go far to hear a candidate for governor of Florida today. With the election exactly two weeks away, they are scattered all over the state in their quest for votes.

Colin English is in the Jacksonville area, Dan McCarty and Dick Cooper in Central Florida, Fuller Warren in Miami enroute across the Everglades to the west coast, Tom Watson in the northwest.

F. D. Akin, Bernarr MacFadden and Basil H. Pollitt, as usual, are home in Miami. W. A. Shands has suspended his campaign until tomorrow night because of the death of his brother.

Their vote appeals were nearly as varied yesterday as the locales of their campaigning.

In a Miami radio speech, English said water and flood control projects are in the nature of sound investments and the benefits are so great that "in the long view" the costs are self-liquidating. He will speak in Callahan, Hilliard, Fernandina and Jacksonville today.

McCarty, in eight speeches between Maitland and Deland, said water and flood control went hand in hand with soil conservation, which he called the most important single item in the welfare of agriculture. He will wind up a tour of Seminole, Lake, Marion, and Sumter counties today with a speech in Leesburg.

Pollitt, from Miami, advocated a state housing authority with power to condemn property and issue self-liquidating revenue certificates if necessary to wipe out "slums and blighted areas" with modern low-cost rental dwellings.

While Shands attended the funeral of his brother in Green Cove Springs, his friends carried on his campaign in the Orlando area. State Senator Walter G. Walker of Daytona Beach told the Orlando Junior Chamber of Commerce Shands is the only candidate squarely facing the tax issue by proposing measures to meet "a deplorable financial aspect."

Warren, at Key West, said Florida schools need "an adequate long-range financial program" to pay for higher teacher salaries, improved working conditions, renovation, and construction of school buildings. He will address a Collier county rally at Naples tonight.

Many Attractive New Homes Built In Sanford During Year

By WILLARD CONNOLLY

Many attractive homes have been and are now being built in the various, improved subdivisions of Sanford. Not only are residents and those employed here building homes, but outsiders and retired business men are being attracted to this city by its beauty, and the economy offered by reasonably priced lots.

Within Sanford proper are many vacant lots at a very reasonable price, varying from $200 to $500. These are on paved streets, and some are beautifully shaded.

Prospective buyers in Central Florida registered astonishment when they find that they can buy in Sanford fine lots, in good neighborhoods at such unflattering prices, said Grady Duncan, city building inspector.

In company with Mr. Duncan I took a trip yesterday to where various home building activities were going on and was astonished at their extent.

Our first search was for new tourist cabins, and as I had already inspected the fine new Colonial Court built by Carl Myones on Seminole Boulevard, we motored out Park Avenue and in so doing passed new homes under construction at Fourteenth Street and at Twenty-second Street. These are of concrete block construction.

At the Marcella Cabin Court we saw a fine new duplex unit, tinted a green color. A bit further out we noted the Stewart Cabins, two white duplex units with office.

The county has been extending roads in this direction in a rough and unfinished sort of way. These include an extension of French Avenue and of Hiawatha Drive in the Dreamwood Subdivision. In this vicinity, small and neat little homes are springing up on every side. Three homes are being built in a row by M. L. Nickola of West Virginia, who smilingly paused from lifting rafters to assure us that he is now proud to become a "Florida Cracker."

Nearby was Mr. and Mrs. Bob Karne's new and unfinished home, also the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Paille who came here from Quebec. There were five or six other new homes going up outside the city limits which we did not have time to inspect.

Motoring back to Highland Park, we passed the Forrest Gatchel home, completed last year and proceeded to where Joe Moss is completing two new homes for sale purposes. Mr. Moss proudly showed us the interior of one of them. It is of concrete block construction and turquoise blue exterior. The interior appears very pleasant and well ventilated. Lighting fixtures are concealed in the ceiling. The three bedrooms were well located, and Mrs. Moss who did the plans, added a housewife's touch with plenty of closet and cupboard space.

If time had permitted, we would have found many other novel and interesting features in

Convictions Of 2 Big Swindlers Upheld In Court

Men Who Robbed Merchenthaler Company Held In Sing Sing

NEW YORK, Apr. 20 (AP)—The appellate division of the state Supreme Court has upheld the conviction of two men serving prison terms for participation in the $750,000 swindle of the Merchenthaler Linotype Company in Brooklyn.

The two men, Julius Lobel, 44, better known as Jimmy Collins, and Irving (Lizy the Kel) Cohen, 46, were convicted of grand larceny last May and are in Sing Sing Prison.

The conviction of Lobel, serving 20 to 40 years, was upheld yesterday without a written opinion by the appeals court, the conviction of Cohen, serving from 7 1/2 to 2 1/2 years, was upheld by a three-to-two decision.

The minority opinion held that in the case of Cohen the "specific crimes submitted to the jury by the trial judge were not proved beyond a reasonable doubt."

50 Cent Tobacco Is Predicted By Rep. Cooley This Year

WASHINGTON, Apr. 20 (AP)—"Fifty-cent tobacco this year" was predicted today by Rep. Cooley (D-NC).

The average tobacco price in 1948 at least will approach the 50-cent level because of the European Recovery Program in which tobacco is included and because of the approximately 28 percent cut in fluecured acreage," he told a reporter.

"Everything," he said, "would indicate the crop will sell above that of last year." In North Carolina, for example, the average price fell from $47.73 per hundred pounds to $42.43. This time Cooley said he did not expect the average to go below 48 cents a pound.

Today the House Appropriations Committee announced that tentative allotments for the first year of ERP will include $110,200,000 for tobacco. This would buy about 200,000,000 pounds, tobacco men said.

Senator Hoey (D-NC) later told a reporter he hoped this would be "upped."

"Since this is only a tentative figure, I would like to see it increased if at all possible," he said. "Tobacco is the best morale builder. In that respect it's on a par with food. The European folks would take more tobacco than the $10,000,000 worth although some folks in this country think we should confine the aid to absolute essential things like food. The folks over there want tobacco so much I think they will get more than this amount."

Drive Launched To Make Douglas 22 Separate Enterprises Are Now Operating At Former Navy Station

To Make Douglas Demo Candidate Supreme Court Justice Seen As Man To Rescue Party

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Apr. 20 (AP)—A drive to make U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas the Democratic presidential candidate was launched here today.

A group of University of Michigan faculty members and Ann Arbor businessmen named the Justice as their choice last night and laid the groundwork for a nationwide "Democrats for Douglas" organization.

Several hundred local, state and national Democratic leaders will be asked by mail to lend their support to the movement, spokesmen for the group reported.

They said they would send out copies of a speech Douglas delivered at the University of Florida on Mar. 23.

The local Democrats rejected suggestions that they support President Truman, General Douglas A. MacArthur or Henry Wallace for President.

Governor Wright May Use MBI If He Wants

JACKSON, Miss., Apr. 20 (AP)—Governor Fielding L. Wright can summon his defunct "secret police" force into action any time he chooses.

He told newsmen yesterday there was no legal obstacle which could prevent him from doing so.

However, the Governor declined to say whether he would use the unit again in the event of strike violence. Newsmen brought up the subject in mentioning recent violence affecting the Southern Bus Company in Louisiana and Arkansas.

Governor Wright explained that the Mississippi Bureau of Investigation as the "secret police" officially is called, was scheduled for a legal death in the last legislature at his request.

It was created last year after buses and bus stations were fired on in Mississippi during labor unrest.

The House, he explained, in a rush to adjourn, neglected to repeal the MBI.

He said there is approximately $86,000 remaining out of the $100,000 originally appropriated for the MBI.

POLICE TOO SLOW
SPRINGFIELD, O., Apr. 20 (AP)—An excited resident called police headquarters last night saying he had fired a shotgun at a prowler.

Capt. Harry Schuman ordered a radio cruiser to the scene, some eight blocks from the station. He barely had the microphone down when a negro boy burst through the station doors.

"Are you the?" Schuman began.

"Yassuh, I see him," the boy replied. "I just couldn't wait for those slow policemen. This buck-shot hurts something awful."

22 Separate Enterprises Are Now Operating At Former Navy Station

Operating At Former Navy Station

The Sanford Municipal Airport territory, a city within a city, embracing an area roughly one-third the area of Sanford proper, is operating under lease agreements to 22 groups or organizations, it was revealed today by H. N. Saver, city manager.

The West Virginia Training School or Fellowship Front, occupying a number of buildings including the former Administration Building of the Navy, is now painting a number of the barracks white, in contrast to the dull green which the Navy used.

A new shoe repair shop and laundry and dry cleaning plant has been started in one of the corner buildings. In Ships Stores Building, the Gibson Grill is in operation.

The New York Giants farm training system of 15 clubs is a large enterprise. More than 100 men now occupy the 404 building. They also have headquarters for shoemakers and lockers, adjacent to the eight baseball diamonds used for training and laid out during the past year. More than 500 men have been here during training with teams. In addition 350 men trained with the baseball school in February.

Also in the baseball picture is the five weeks training course conducted early in the year by the George Barr Umpire School. The National League Umpire has about 100 men enrolled annually, and this brings much favorable publicity to Sanford.

During the past year, the Sanford School of Aviation, under direction of Roy Browning, has trained 160 men for private and commercial flight and as instructors. At present about 30 are enrolled. Instruction in gliding is conducted by Steve Bond. There are also uncheduled flights for passengers. Florida Airways, Inc. has regular scheduled flights, making five stops a day for passengers and freight. Their freight business is reported to be on

Governor Dewey To Hit The Trail For Oregon Votes

New York Candidate Expected To Make Swing Thru South

ALBANY, N. Y., Apr. 20 (AP)—With seven more presidential delegates about to fall into his lap at home, Governor Dewey made plans today to hit the Oregon trail.

He was expected to announce a cross-country tour climaxed by more than a week of heavy campaigning in Oregon, where he will come to grips again with Harold E. Stassen in the primary May 21.

The trip may be started late next week and include a swing into several Southern states.

Dewey and Stassen are the only candidates in the Oregon balloting, last big test before the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia June 21.

Although only 12 delegate votes are at stake in Oregon, political experts figure Dewey must win there to remain a leading contender for the presidential nomination.

The experts say another defeat at the hands of Stassen, on top of those he dealt Dewey in Wisconsin and Nebraska, could ruin Dewey's chances.

Dewey will go to the convention with all of New York's 97 delegates in his corner. Ninety more—delegates at large—will be chosen here tomorrow by the Republican state committee.

Tampa Bidder For Attorney General Post Fears Apathy

TALLAHASSEE Apr. 20 (AP)—Hugh L. McArthur, Tampa candidate for attorney general, says he is concerned over "public apathy" towards the cabinet position.

The Georgia-born office seeker says mismanagement of the office "can operate to the great detriment of the entire judicial and administrative structure of our state government."

He reported many religious, civic and business leaders with whom he discussed the attorney general race on a campaign tour of 64 counties "have frankly informed me they did not even know the names of the four candidates for attorney general."

McArthur adds "racket politicians" have told him the "controlled vote" will elect Florida's next attorney general.

"The racket politicians assume the businessmen and many honest citizens will not become aroused, and leave their property, money and liberty to the tender protection of the politicians' choice of the attorney general," he declares.

McArthur, 49, was born in Dalton, Ga., when he was five, his family moved to Sarasota. He graduated with honors from the University of Florida law school and later took post-graduate work at Georgetown University in Washington, D. C.

He taught for a while in the Pinellas county schools and at the St. Petersburg junior college. In 1933, he began the practice of law in Tampa. He became attorney for the State Department of Public Safety in 1940 and served as its legal representative until he entered the Navy in 1943.

After three years on active duty, he became assistant to commissioner Edward McCuley of the Maritime Commission. He later returned to the Florida Department of Public Safety.

McArthur is married to the former Lady Weeks Phillips of Bartow. They have a son and three daughters.

Rep. Joe Hendricks Is For Eisenhower

JACKSONVILLE Apr. 20 (AP)—Rep. Joe Hendricks (D-Fla.), candidate for delegate to the Democratic National Convention, said today he will vote for Dwight D. Eisenhower as nominee for President. "If I am elected and if the opportunity presents itself," Hendricks is not offering for re-election as representative.

"After talking to many people who are on the inside in the party, I am not at all convinced that President Truman would not withdraw and that General Eisenhower would not accept the nomination, their statements to the contrary notwithstanding," Hendricks said. "It is quite natural at this period that the President would say he would not withdraw and General Eisenhower would say he does not want the nomination."

"When General Eisenhower will be, I nominated I would not accept and if elected I would not serve. Then I will come to the conclusion that he will not accept the nomination."

"I believe that the general does not want the Republican nomination for two reasons: (1) He does not think as Republicans do; and (2) He would be shut out by the old guard just as Mr. Stassen will be. I frankly feel that General Eisenhower can be nominated on the Democratic ticket and would accept."

"I have reason to believe that Rep. John McCormick of Massachusetts would be an acceptable running-mate for General Eisenhower. Mr. McCormick wrote a platform at the last convention which was acceptable to the Democrats of the South. I think that the combination, General Eisenhower for President and McCormick for vice president, would be a happy solution for the differences between the conservatives and the liberals."

Social Secretaries Need Said Acute In Washington Circles

By JANE HADS

WASHINGTON—Probably the most valuable asset to newcomers who want to get somewhere in this town is the social secretary who teaches them how to meet and influence the right people.

Keen, capable Mrs. Nathan Wyeth, a veteran in this delicate business, says there's a lack of these women in Washington.

Come April she's going to start a training course for would-be social secretaries. She says she's had more than 250 applications. She will only take on 10 at a time.

To qualify, Mrs. Wyeth says, one must naturally, first of all, be a lady. But tact is of supreme importance. Applicants should also have a pleasant voice, good family background, good disposition, charm and good manners. Good looks and a knack for dressing well help.

Among the things which Mrs. Wyeth will teach her pupils will be the use of protocol, filling, answering invitations and so on. Party planning and arranging is left up to the caterers.

Mrs. Wyeth, who is known to friends as "Dodette," is social secretary to the French and the Brazilian embassies. She first came to Washington as secretary to Mrs. William de Witt Mitchell, wife of the Attorney General under President Hoover.

Three Louis XVI armchairs and one low table in the Netherlands embassy have quite a history.

The three pieces belonged to the Ambassador and Mme. van Kleffens before the war. When the Nazis overran Holland they looted the van Kleffens residence.

Shortly after VE Day, Mme. van Kleffens says she was dining with British Major General Clark, chief of the SHAEF mission to the Netherlands. He was billeted at a mansion which the German commander, Seys-Inquhart, had occupied.

"If you don't mind, when I leave I'll just take this chair with me," Mme. van Kleffens remarked to the general, calmly pointing to the chair in which she was sitting.

It was one of the van Kleffens' Louis XVI armchairs, and the old housekeeper at Clingendael verified the fact that it had been brought there by the German commander.

AAA Advises Auto Owners To Save A Pint Of Gas Daily

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON—Save one pint of gasoline every day and you'll help keep a shortage away. The American Automobile Association (AAA) gives that tip to the nation's 30,000,000 owners of passenger autos. Association officials say car drivers stand to profit by voluntary saving of gasoline for two reasons. It would help:

1. Prevent shortages of gasoline next summer or fall.
2. Avert a possible scarcity of heating oil next winter.

Some petroleum authorities have said this winter's cutback in gasoline production in order to boost the heating fuel output may lead to gasoline shortages next summer.

Harvest Menaced

Government oil experts say prospective gasoline shortages may hinder harvests in the mid-west and thus curtail farm production. AAA officials fear that if motorists don't voluntarily conserve gasoline, farm shortages may result in demands for some form of rationing.

If every one of the 30,000,000 passenger car owners saved a pint of gasoline a day, a total of 1,365,000,000 gallons would be saved in 1948. A saving of that size, AAA officials say, would go a long way in easing if not averting a shortage.

How can you save gasoline? One way is to drive slower.

The AAA officials point out that hundreds of millions of gallons of gasoline are wasted every year by car drivers who travel at unnecessarily high speeds. This wastage is indicated by tests of gasoline consumption at various speeds.

Speed Eats Gas

The tests show that a car which gets 18.7 miles to the gallon at 30 miles an hour gets only 15.5 miles to the gallon at 40 miles an hour, 13.3 miles at 50 miles an hour, 11.2 miles at 60 miles an hour and 8.2 miles at 80 miles an hour.

The consumption of gasoline per automobile, as well as the total number of autos in use, has increased considerably since 1940. In that year 23,000,000 passenger cars consumed an average of 519 gallons of gas per car.

In 1941, some 29,500,000 passenger cars consumed an average of 650 gallons per car. In wartime 1945, when gasoline was rationed, the consumption of 25 million passenger autos dropped to 425 gallons per car.

The gas consumption of 28,250,

000 cars in 1946 was 700 gallons per car. Last year close to 50,000,000 passenger cars used an estimated 800 gallons per car.

This year's consumption is figured to go higher unless there is widespread saving of gasoline by pleasure car drivers.

Canada is almost as broad as it is long, being 3,900 air miles east to west and nearly 3,000 north to south.

Hints To Housewives

By Isabelle S. Thursby
Dams Fashion rarely is a good guide to clothes for young children, clothing specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture remind mothers who are outfitting youngsters this spring.

Little girls of pre-school age especially need dresses that are comfortable, durable, simple, and an aid to self-dressing as well as attractive. Dresses also should wash and iron easily and be easy to alter as the child grows.

For comfort, frocks should have straight from well-fitted shoulders, unbelted and loose to allow freedom of movement. Children of this age do not have definite waistlines, so belts and sashes may be unbecoming as well as a nuisance. Belts get lost in play and sashes come untied. Necklines should be simple so that the dress does not bind around the neck or come up so high under the chin that the child has difficulty in managing the top button.

Sleeves and armholes should be cut so that they are easy to get into and do not restrict the movement of arms. Roomy armholes and short sleeves, preferably raglan in style, are recommended. Shoulder ruffles may be used instead of sleeves in dainty dresses. Open cap sleeves, cut above the elbow, may be used for tailored frocks. The puffed, gathered sleeves, often found on little girls' dresses, are binding to the arm and difficult to iron. To aid the child in dressing, front openings long enough so that the dress pulls on easily are recommended. Medium-sized buttons—round, flat, with a slight groove to keep fingers from slipping—generally are easiest for children to manage.

SWEET POTATO PLANTS
Marianna, Fla.—Jackson County negro farmers recently shipped 58,000 copper skin sweet potato plants to farmers in Alachua and Marion counties, according to O. W. Nealy, negro farm agent.

FOR KITCHEN EQUIPMENT
Live Oak, Fla.—Meeting recently with representatives from all home demonstration clubs in the county, the Suwannee County Commissioners appropriated $1,000 for kitchen equipment for a home demonstration kitchen and also leased a building to serve as the kitchen, according to Miss Doris A. Cahoon, home agent. The commissioners are making plans for construction of a county agricultural building which would include a home demonstration center.

Young pasture grass in the spring should not be grazed heavily. The young grass does not contain full food value and heavy grazing weakens the grass.

Public Excitement Over Mihai Not As Great As Mother's

By JANE EADS
 WASHINGTON—The visit of beautiful Queen Marie of Romania to this country created a sensation 22 years ago. The American public was not so accustomed to visiting royalty in those days.

There's not anywhere near the thrill over the current visit of her grandson, 26-year-old Mihai—or Michael, as he is called in English. Nevertheless, the presence here of the handsome young man has stirred the interest and the imagination of the American people.

Headliner in international news because of his recent abdication as king and his whirlwind romance with Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma, Michael is visiting the United States incognito. Any entertaining in his honor will be strictly unofficial.

This is because Michael is actually no longer a ruler, though he says his abdication was forced and that he does not consider it binding.

Michael and his mother, former Queen Helen, accompanied by a retinue of 10, expect to visit factories and industrial plants and sight-see in general. One informant said, however, that Michael and his mother will attempt to raise funds in this country to "help Romanian refugees escape communism."

Queen Marie's trip to this country in 1926 ostensibly was to dedicate a museum of fine arts built near Seattle, Wash., by Samuel Hill, a Red Cross worker in Romania during World War I. Her visit nevertheless was credited with being a factor in bringing American investments in Romania up to more than $25,000,000 by 1930.

Carol, the ex-husband of Queen Helen, is now living in Portugal with Elena Lupescu, whom he married in Brazil this year. It was because of Lupescu that Carol abdicated when Michael was not yet six years old.

Michael succeeded to the throne and a regency took over the government. The young King was more concerned with his toys, his pony and fairy tales.

Carol returned to the throne when Michael was nine, but 10 years later fled from the Nazis. Though Michael again ascended the throne, it was Nazi-dominated Premier Antonescu who ruled the country.

That is—until Aug. 23, 1944, when Michael and a group of young followers overthrew the Premier in a coup d'etat and made Romania Hitler's foe.

The Soviets gave Michael the Order of Victory in 1945 for his "courageous act," and President Truman awarded him the Legion of Merit degree of Chief Commander.

Used Car Dealers Expect Good Season Due To Low Automobile Production

By DAVID J. WILKIE, Associated Press Automotive Editor
DETROIT, Apr. 20 (AP)—The used car business, say the men who live by it, is as seasonal as farm crops.

And, they add, making money in used cars is becoming just about as much as a task as growing farm produce.

Generally this reaction results from one of the poorest winters the second hand car dealers have experienced since before the war. Only a few of them made sizeable profits; a lot of them went out of business. Right now many who vacationed during the winter are reopening their lots; they see profits ahead—at least through the coming summer.

On Detroit's Livernois Avenue, the world's largest used car market is becoming active again. The big lots have plenty of automobiles, including a goodly number of 1948 models; the smaller ones are trying to build up their stocks. The significant thing is that with few exceptions all again are buying cars.

The prices being offered and asked are a little lower than they were a year ago. But they are moving upward. If new car production should be curtailed by materials scarcities during the next two months the used automobile merchandisers are certain to enjoy another boom this summer.

At present the larger dealers are wholesaling a large part of their stock. While this phase of their business yields relatively small profits it affords quick turn-over and an outlet for models in light demand.

A month ago most Detroit dealers would buy no cars in the medium or high priced group—unless they were new. Even then the prices offered were down considerably from those of last September and October.

Coming in to sell cars now, the dealers say, are scores of 1946 and 1947 model owners. Generally they want more than they paid for their cars—and generally they get it. Not a few of these individual sellers, the merchandisers add, have had new car orders on file for many months and expect soon to get delivery of 1948 models.

What is true of Detroit's Livernois Avenue market probably is true also of the used car situation in most other centers. Prices are slightly higher, but they have not zoomed up suddenly; they will go a little higher in the weeks ahead; they could approximate last year's high level if there is any sizeable curtailment in new car assemblies.

Last week the factories, feeling the effects of the coal tie-up and several minor work stoppages on their own assembly lines, turned out an estimated 69,397 passenger cars and 28,423 trucks.

Communists Give Three Women High Posts In Europe

By ADELAIDE KERR, AP Newsfeatures Writer

The Communist Party has given three women posts of great political power in Europe—but all are outside the U.S.S.R. All were strong factors in spreading and strengthening Communism outside Russia.

Most famous today is Anna Pauker, foreign minister of Romania, and the first woman to direct a modern country's foreign policy. The second is dramatic Teola Dragoicheva—once condemned to death—and now minister of posts and telegraphs in Bulgaria. The third is Heritta Kuusinen, lively little member of the Finnish parliament, credited with being a moving spirit behind the proposed Soviet-Finnish treaty.

"Tovarisch Annie," as Pauker is known to Romanian comrades, has fought a steady, relentless fight for Communism of 30 years. Once she was hunted and shot at in drives to liquidate Communists. Today she rides to her office, hung with pictures of Lenin and Stalin, in a bullet-proof automobile accompanied by body guards. Communist crowds whistle, stamp and roar with admiration when she speaks.

Pauker, daughter of a rabbi, is a big-boned, jut-jawed woman with mannishly cropped grey hair who loves beautiful clothes. She came to Communism via the road of poverty when she was a poor medical student. She led demonstrations and became a member of the Central Committee of the Romanian Communist Party. In the days when Romania was under Nazi domination, she was imprisoned and tried but defeated the military court by refusing to answer questions. She continued party organization from prison and finally was freed in a prisoner exchange. She spent the war years in Russia making Communist converts of Romanian prisoners of war. Today she is an international Communist leader ranking with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Teola Dragoicheva—strikingly beautiful in her youth—became a party member at 19 and served her first jail sentence at 23. In 1925 she was again behind bars, sentenced to death, charged with complicity in the bombing of a Sofia church where many lives were lost. But she escaped execution by becoming pregnant within the confines of a prison cell.

Prophets Predict Living Costs Will Continue Soaring

By JOHN L. SPRINGER, AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK—Most business prophets say the high cost of living will be with us for a long time. Some think more inflation may be on the way.

"Making ends meet" will continue indefinitely as a major problem for millions of Americans. Shopping experts say low income groups can offset high prices partially if they take care on how, what, when and where they buy. An alert consumer may save up to 20 per cent on purchases by following a few simple rules.

A survey of spokesmen for leading retailing groups, government agencies and business research organizations suggests it is possible for the average family to buy ordinary necessities at lower than the customary prices. But, these men warn, you may have to spend its equivalent in time, thought or work.

Here are some of the general ways experts say you can cut costs: Carefully compare values of competing products and competing stores. Some stores feature one brand of products at prices much lower than their competitors. Many stores which are high-priced on most things may feature some at cost or less, just to lure new trade. You will have to seek out the facts for yourself, remembering that a store's reputation for backing its claims—and for making good on items that prove unsatisfactory—also is important.

Study specifications and standards. Sometimes high-priced clothes are made to look good, but wear poorly. Plan purchases in advance so that you can act when special rates come. For example, prices of clothing at end-of-season clearances may be as much as 50 per cent lower.

Buy in quantity the goods you later to Sweden and was called a brilliant practitioner of her craft. Now, nearly 80, she is retired.

Rural Common Sense

By Spud Johnson

"It is just good, sound farm management for every farmer to have adequate financial reserves," Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson said recently. And farmers everywhere should realize the wisdom of Mr. Anderson's remark, for the "ups and downs" of farming probably are more pronounced than in any other line of work. Prices for farm products may be very promising, but the farmer has no guarantee that windstorm, a freeze, a drought, or some other unfavorable development over which he has no control may destroy his crop before he harvests it. On the other hand, he may produce a beautiful, quality crop, and the bottom may drop out of the market. Or he may get sick or hurt so that he has heavy medical expenses and is laid up from work for a long period. And there are many other uncertain things about farming, as almost any farmer can tell you.

So Mr. Anderson was emphasizing something that every farmer should consider of great importance to his own and his family's welfare. That "something" is to have a reserve for the day that it will be needed. There's another slant to the matter of having a financial reserve, too. When the farmer has a reserve to fall back on and when he invests it in his government's bonds, he is fortified to ward off depression and also to help his country pay off such debts as those incurred during World War II. The government found it necessary to borrow large sums of money to win the war, and it borrowed the money from the people—through war bonds.

The job of paying off the national debt is not over now, however, and the government must continue to borrow to retire war indebtedness and also to keep America strong. So farmers are being urged to buy Security Bonds from which they will get the same rate of interest as they got from bonds they purchased during the war. Many farmers have continued to buy bonds since the end of the war and they're thus continuing to build up their reserves and also helping the nation. More farmers could buy bonds, and the government is urging all who are not now doing so to buy bonds during the next two and a half months and right on as often as they can.

Buying Security Bonds, the safest investment in the world, will help the nation and prove mighty handy when things may not go right financially.

UNSATISFACTORY SEASON

Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.—Hurricanes, floods and low prices have combined to make the 1947-48 farming season one of the most unsatisfactory for Broward County in 10 years, according to County Agent B. E. Lawton.

Da things yourself. In many cases you may be paying for services you can perform yourself. For instance, unpainted furniture which you can finish at home usually is much cheaper than the same article already painted.

Make things yourself. Often clothes, baked goods and other foods that need processing can be made at home less than their "processed" prices at the store.

The National Better Business Bureau warns price-conscious shoppers to beware of rackets, however. It says that shoddy merchandise bought for a small amount may prove more costly than quality goods for which you pay more. It urges you to suspect "Wholesale houses" with retail showrooms. The Better Business Bureau says "it is impracticable to maintain a policy of selling retail at wholesale prices."

Money Back Guarantee. A guarantee, the bureau says, is only as good as the person who gives it and the promises of a swindler are worthless.

Smuggled goods. Peddlers often give this description to all kinds of trashy stuff which seems cheap but really is greatly overpriced.

Experts Say The Way To Fight High Living Costs Is Buying At Right Shops

By JOHN L. SPRINGER
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK — Experts say one way you can fight the high cost of living is by shopping at the right stores.

These authorities say some stores usually sell goods at lower prices than others, while some merchants have lower prices only on certain items. They recommend "comparison shopping" to consumers who must watch expenditures carefully. On major items where a large amount of money is involved, they say you should explore four or five stores if possible.

According to one study by the Twentieth Century Fund, an independent organization, which does research on economic questions, of every dollar spent at retail only 41 cents covers actual costs of manufacture. The other 59 cents go for distribution. These are all the costs that pile up as the goods move from the factory to your home.

What You Can Do

This study said distribution costs might be trimmed by eliminating these following services: Buying on credit or on time payments; shopping by telephone; shopping at stores which make requent deliveries and readily take back goods consumers have ordered but do not want.

As an indication of how credit may add to costs, one large New York store claims it tries to keep its prices six per cent lower than its competitors just because it sells for cash. The Fund study asserted that a store which saves on bookkeeping and bill-collecting expenses and has no bad debts is in a position to lower its selling costs.

The survey found that stores usually add a "service charge" to the price of goods sold on the installment plan. In the case of one big firm, this charge often equals 20 per cent more than the price for cash.

Deliveries Cost Money

Fund researchers also found that a store's liberal delivery policy can be expensive. Where prices are the same whether the goods are delivered or not, the consumer who takes his purchases with him actually pays for the whim of another who may demand delivery of a trifle.

Returns on unwanted goods also were found to be costly. Often they involve two delivery expenses — from the store and back — without any profit. If the article is soiled or damaged it may have to be resold at a loss.

Department store files bulge with stories of persons like one woman who ordered a grand piano, expensive dresses and new clothes to impress her guests at a party. The next day all the merchandise went back to the store — to be paid for, indirectly, by the regular customers.

The Fund researchers urged consumers "to avoid the cost of credit for this by trading with stores which are strictly cash-and-carry, which charge extra for services, or which give the cash-and-carry customer a lower price."

But Remember Service

Other retail experts agree that prices at cash-and-carry stores should be examined. But they warn that you may miss excellent opportunities if you fail to investigate stores which provide other conveniences.

These authorities say: Many department stores can keep prices low because of the huge business they do. Through intelligent buying, they may make special purchases which they can pass on at a saving. Through efficient management, they may be able to cut costs in other ways so that their prices still are lower than those in "cash-and-carry" stores.

Retail spokesmen admit that customers abuse their right to return goods they find undesirable. But they say that by allowing returns the store is giving the customer an "insurance policy" that he will be satisfied with his purchase. They point out that a consumer who has bought an unsatisfactory item in a store where "all sales are final" may find that instead of getting a bargain he has lost the entire purchase price.

Having Calls For Work

Shopping authorities say you should carefully consider what prices in various stores mean in terms of goods and services. It is important to know exactly what you pay for.

One retail spokesman comments: "In almost all cases you have to pay for what you get. If you want to save on money you will have to spend your time, searching for values, or doing some work, like serving yourself, for which other people are willing to pay."

New Look Is Result Of Market Woman's Garb Plus Elegance

By ROBERT EUNSON
AP Newsfeatures
PARIS — Christian Dior took the common garb of the French market woman, gave it 19th-century elegance and thereby created the new look.

That is the opinion of a lieutenant in the Dior organization. The feeling Dior has for 19th-century art and motif has long been known, but the adaptation of the costume worn by strong-backed French peasant women who hid their coats of vegetable dyes to the wholesale market in Paris every morning is a revelation.

"If you go down to the French market at three o'clock in the morning," the young lieutenant said, "you will see the dress. It is a poor dress of course, hardwearing material, but the lines are there. Its tight bodice buttons down the front and flares into a rummy skirt. She even wears a little thing around her neck."

"What we call the new look is not new to her," he said, "she's always worn it for comfort and utility."

Dior is the boss of the organization he has brought to the front of the Paris fashion picture in 18 months.

He designs every dress himself, taking advice only from Miss Brianne Brialmont, 65-year-old fashion expert who gives him the woman's viewpoint while he is working on a new dress.

Dior's quick thinking has been decidedly in his favor on his upstart vault to the top. The 100 members of his staff are still laughing about the presence of mind he showed when his spring showings opened last month.

It seems the air circulation system in the new showroom hadn't been installed in time and there was no doubt that the show was going to flop if the persons in the packed house had to sit in a stuffy, smoke-filled room for a couple of hours.

The boss himself came up with the answer.

"We'll have fans," said Dior, "nice big black fans with Christian Dior printed on them in gold letters."

The fans not only circulated the air, but circulated the name of Dior in practically every other fashion house in town because they were such a success as souvenirs.

Bands Show Where Chimney Swifts Spend Winters

By JANE EADM
WASHINGTON — Where the chimney swift made its winter home was a puzzling bird mystery for many years. It is a common bird in eastern North America in the summer.

The mystery was solved by marking the birds with numbered bands. There was great excitement in the bird-handling office one day in 1944 when the American embassy at Lima, Peru, reported 15 bands had been received from Indians. Records showed they originally had been placed on chimney swifts.

The banded birds had been killed by the Indians on the River Yanayaco, which forms the boundary between Peru and Colombia.

Bird-handling is considered one of the most important methods of getting accurate information on living birds today. The Fish and Wildlife Service says the number of banded birds reported in the past 28 years totals more than 2,200,000. Of this number more than 375,000 returns, or recovery records, have been reported.

All kinds of native birds are studied by the banding method. Migratory waterfowl have been banded in large numbers at more than 150 stations and have been recovered as far south as the northern part of South America. Small song birds have been banded in still greater numbers, and many interesting facts concerning their movements are being discovered.

Important scientific studies of populations, sex ratio, survival, temperature control, weight changes, plumage, bird psychology, homing instinct and many other subjects have been and are the Fish and Wildlife Service issues Federal permits to unpaid volunteer operators, who do most of the actual banding. There are two kinds of permits. One permits the trapping, for banding purposes, of migratory songbirds. The other covers all migratory game.

Worm Is Called Public Enemy No. 1 By U.S. Department

By A. F. MAHAN
WASHINGTON.—A worm is Public Enemy No. 1 to the Department of Agriculture. It is the European corn borer, which caused an estimated $97,000,000 (m) damage in 28 states last year. Eight years ago damage was only about $7,000,000.

So far the borer has defied all efforts to check its spread, but the Department has mapped a five-point control program which it hopes to see put into operation on a community-by-community basis this year.

The boll weevil, experts say, never posed a greater threat to cotton than the borer to corn. Besides, corn is planted on more acreage, is worth more in dollars and has a greater diversity of by-products than any other two crops combined.

Damage caused by the borer increased in 1947 to $53,000,000 and in 1948 to $37,000,000. Dr. P. N. Annand, chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, says an "intensified effort calling for the all-out cooperation of all farmers with state and federal agencies is necessary if the insect is to be brought under control and its damage checked.

The corn borer first was discovered in the United States in 1917. It caused severe damage that year to sweet corn around Houston.

Annand says evidence indicates the worm was imported from Hungary or Italy between 1903 and 1914, before any quarantining inspection service had been authorized at ports.

Associated Press Hailed In House As Great Service

WASHINGTON, Apr. 20 (AP)—Rep. McCormick of Massachusetts, a Democratic leader, told the House yesterday the Associated Press "has always lived up to its duty of maintaining a free press."

A Republican member, Rep. Bender of Ohio said the Associated Press has been "manifestly fair and uniformly a credit to the United States in the newspaper world."

The tributes were paid to the news gathering organization on its 100th anniversary.

McCormick called the Associated Press "a powerful and constructive influence for good." His remarks followed.

"One of the greatest news services of the world, the Associated Press, holding its annual meeting in New York today, is one hundred years old."

"This great organization in the collection and dissemination of news has been a powerful and constructive influence for good."

"It has always maintained a high character of service. While advanced in years so far as the life of news services in our country are concerned, the Associated Press, by maintaining its fine spirit and policies, has always kept young and vigorous."

"It has always lived up to its duties of maintaining a free press in an honest press."

"The Associated Press enjoys the reputation which could only be earned by constant adherence to the great principles of 'freedom of the press.' Enjoyed as a right here, and only today in a few other countries of the world."

"A right carries with it responsibility, particularly a guarantee to preserve a guarantee."

"The Associated Press has always maintained its responsibility."

"On the occasion of its 100th anniversary, I extend my congratulations to the Associated Press and hope that during the next 100 years of its existence it will continue to serve and render in strengthened manner its outstanding services of the past 100 years."

Florida War Camp Is Sold As Surplus

ATLANTA, Apr. 20 (Special)—Camp Gordon Johnston, surplus army installation located near Carrabelle, Fla., together with railroad trackage to Tallahassee, has been sold by War Assets Administration to the Gordon Land Company, of Carrabelle, for $300,000.

L. D. Strom, WAA's Southwestern regional director, Atlanta, said that the sale was made by the agency's Washington headquarters.

WAA was informed that Gordon Land Company plans to develop several industries on the property. Buildings not needed for the proposed industrial development will be sold for off-site use. Among prospective purchasers of surplus buildings is a veterans' group which plans to establish a housing project at Carrabelle, Florida.

Established in 1942 as an amphibious training center, the camp is composed of some 180 buildings, including a wooden cold storage plant, community building and office, storage buildings and a 50-year-old two-story hotel.

Fifty-four acres at Camp Belle, on the Crooked River, deep water landing point, in addition to the 32 acres of Camp Gordon Johnston proper, were included in the sale.

The railroad trackage to Tallahassee is to remain in place for operation by the purchaser, but it is expected that dockage facilities will be turned over to the Town of Carrabelle.

Burning Oleanders Is Called Dangerous

SARASOTA, Apr. 20 (AP)—A Sarasotan who was stricken while burning oleander cuttings on his property yesterday passed on a warning from the state that fire-released oleander fumes are dangerous and may even be fatal.

He is Burleigh Brooks of the Arcadia, Sarasota. Hospitalized with what was diagnosed as a heart attack, he sent a sample of the wood to the Florida State Board of Health. He received the following reply:

"We have conducted a test and find that the burning of this wood, bark, leaves, etc., liberates an alkaloid known as oleandrin which is similar in action to digitalis, producing vomiting, abdominal pain, dilation of the pupils, vertigo, convulsive movements, nausea and death. In smaller quantities produce a very low pulse."

MENU

- Vegetable Soup
Crisp Croustons
Hot Corn Muffins
Peanut Butter
Pineapple Egg Conserve

For the above easy to get supper menu either homemade or ready-prepared vegetable soup may be used. The croustons may be made from bread that is a day or so old, to prepare them the slices are usually trimmed of crusts and then they are cut in small squares. They are spread out on a cookie sheet or shallow pan, put in a 300 F oven and turned occasionally to brown evenly. This will take about 15 or 20 minutes. Make plenty!

Corn muffins, served with peanut butter and a conserve, may also be homemade or ready-prepared. I find that packaged corn muffins (to which egg and milk are added before baking) are among the best of the mixes on the market and they may be counted on for a reasonably-priced and filling addition to a light meal. Since peanut butter is on the list of plentiful foods this month and is likely to be other months because we have a large peanut crop—it can be used to good advantage in many meals.

Dr. Paul Packard Addresses Florida Democratic Meet

JACKSONVILLE, Apr. 20 (Special)—Rev. Dr. Paul H. Packard, well known minister of Gainesville, addressed a luncheon meeting of the Florida Democratic Club, sponsors of the "Instructed" Candidates for delegate pledged to vote for Fielding W. Wright, or any other true Democrat, held in the Seminole Hotel, on the subject "Did Communists Inspire the Civil-Rights Bill?"

"The Civil-Rights controversy which is now tearing into the entire structure of the Southland and our lives, arises from Communist sources and therefore places the controversy in the field of religion," Packard said. "I am not an alarmist when I say the United States is threatened with prison of Bolshevism citizenship with this so-called Civil-Rights Program."

"The moral foundations of the United States have been shaken by streaming agitators and political crackpots who would pass into law the Civil-Rights Program, thus taking away our American heritage of States' Rights and individual liberties."

"I wonder how much longer it will take for Americans to recognize the Civil-Rights Program as a foreign conspiracy based upon Russian philosophy, designed to take away all civil rights by placing complete power in a dictatorial Federal government."

"It is time for men who have eyes to see and hearts strong enough to rise to the challenge of this Communist promoted program. In the 15 man committee appointed by President Truman to draft a Civil-Rights Program, he managed to include at least 10 men whose ideologies and thoughts are parallel with those of the master-minds of the Kremlin."

"The Civil-Rights Bill is an insult to the American people, re-

U. S. Jewish Zone To Have Passover Bread

FRANKFURT, Germany, Apr. 20 (AP)—The 140,000 Jews still in the U. S. occupation zone of Germany and Berlin will have their traditional matzoth—unleavened bread—for their observance of Passover.

The American Joint Distribution Committee announced yesterday it had distributed 1,200,000 pounds of matzoth, baked in Germany from 1,000 tons of wheat purchased in the United States.

Also distributed were 130,000 bottles of sacramental wine.

Passover, which will begin at sunset Apr. 23, commemorates the sparing of the Hebrews when their Egyptian masters were stricken with a plague some 3,000 years ago.

The committee said it had distributed 4,000,000 pounds of food and clothing to Jewish displaced persons during the first three months this year.

"The South is going steadily ahead in bettering the economic conditions and education for millions of Negroes. The Civil-Rights-Program would reverse all of that and would make the Negro race a tragic pawn of Truman's bold bid to get the Communist and radical votes."

"We must go forward to defeat this Communist bill, and preserve the heritage to which we were born," Packard said.

Radical Trimming Of Food Costs Is Warned Against

By JOHN L. SPRINGER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK—The average consumer can use many weapons to stave off rising food costs, say federal food authorities. But at the same time they warn that careless trimming of purchases may cut out foods needed for health.

Department of Agriculture officials say that before trying to revise your food budgets you should learn what types of food are needed every day.

To get adequate vitamins, minerals, proteins, starches and fats, they say you need a diet balanced with leafy, green and yellow vegetables; citrus fruit or tomatoes; potatoes; fruits; milk cheese and eggs; flours, cereals, meal, fats and oils; dry beans peas and nuts; sugar; meat, poultry and fish.

Substances for the agriculture department and for food chains and consumer groups agree that you can save sizeable sums if you consider how foods will be used before you buy them.

They cite the following as the most important examples:

- 1—Carefully compare prices at different stores. You may find prices at one place lower on most things but higher on some others.
- 2—Stock up during sales. Some stores feature periodic sales of canned or packaged foods and other household needs. You may save considerably if you buy enough then to last six months or a year.
- 3—Try always to buy fresh foods in season. One of the quickest ways to run up food costs is to buy fresh fruits and vegetables when they are scarce. On the other hand, prices are lowest when they are plentiful.
- 4—Buy staples in the lowest priced quantity. For instance, if you buy two cans of goods priced at 2 for 21 cents you pay five per cent less than if you buy only one at 11 cents.

John Howard Lawson Convicted Of Contempt

WASHINGTON, Apr. 20 (AP)—John Howard Lawson, screen writer for such hits as "Smash-up" and "Blockade," was convicted today of contempt of Congress.

His offense: He refused to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities whether he was, or ever had been, a Communist.

No date was set for sentencing. The penalty could be as much as a $1,000 fine and a year in jail.

Lawson, 51, is the first of 10 Hollywood writers and producers to stand trial on the contempt charges. The federal district court jury took two hours and 15 minutes to reach its verdict.

He showed no emotion when the jury foreman announced a finding of guilty, taking it as he stood calmly with his hands clasped.

The other nine Hollywood figures accused of contempt are due to be tried separately in quick succession. The next on the list is Dalton Trumbo, another script writer.

The charges grew out of the House committee's investigation of Communism in Hollywood. Those who refused to answer the question as to Communist membership maintained that this was an improper and unconstitutional invasion of an individual's rights.
