Stetson U. Ponders Stenstrom As Head

Sanford Attorney Douglas Stenstrom today reacted to a published account that he had been asked twice to become Stetson University president.

Said the former state senator and last year's unsuccessful candidate for Florida's Fourth District representative post in the U.S. Congress, "It is true that my name has been suggested, along with many others, to the presidential selection committee.

"For this reason I felt it appropriate that I resign from the presidential selection committee, although they know that I have no real feeling that I could be receptive should the position be tendered to me.

"It is also true that a number of citizens around the district have urged me to run for Congress in 1970. I must say again, however, I have no plans to seek office in 1970 or thereafter.

"The simple truth is that I am perfectly happy where I am, that I have no further political aspirations and I hope to be able to continue serving Stetson as a member of the board of trustees."

In effect, Stenstrom is saying he is not seeking the "hot" position but it is "no comment" that nowhere is there a refusal of the office if it is offered.

School $$ Jeopardized

Stenstrom, school attorney, received a long distance call from HEW's Washington office wanting additional information on the county's plan regarding whether the board desired the hearing.

Stenstrom spoke with an attorney who indicated a possibility that some of the federal funds counted on this year by the school system as "protected" might not be forthcoming under the government's decision to defer funds not already allocated under a continuing federal program.

Stenstrom told the woman lawyer that the School Board had received an Aug. 18 letter from Don M. Vernon, southern coordinator, education, branch of Office of Civil Rights, stating the HEW deferral would have no effect on funds already committed before the effective date of the deferral.

Apparently there was some misunderstanding over just what funds are included in this deferral and Stenstrom asked the school officials to determine exactly what federal programs are being continued this year.

It already has been established that a health education program, which had been a pilot program at six county schools, would not be among those federal programs to be funded after this year unless there is an approval of the county's desegregation plan.

Stenstrom explained to the caller that if a possibility exists

Nixon Opens Pornography War

By WILLIAM BARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, responding to public demand for a crackdown, has quietly mounted an extensive campaign against obscene material.

As a result, 20 persons and 22 companies have been indicted or arrested during the past eight months on charges of distributing obscene materials.

A new round of prosecution is expected in the next two weeks, and Justice Department lawyers are evaluating results from 14 investigations to determine if grand jury action should be sought.

The anti-pornography activity is a joint effort by the Justice and Post Office departments, followed two years of little action resulting from broad interpretations of Supreme Court decisions on obscenity.

But Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell differed with the previous administration on interpretation of the opinions and he ordered more vigorous prosecution.

In a letter to Postmaster General Winton M. Blount, Mitchell laid down his views on prosecuting obscenity, emphasizing the main thrust of enforcement should be against interstate distributors.

Department sources said about six new cases are ready for presentation to grand juries, possibly within two weeks.

"The prosecutive efforts of the department . . ." he said, "are aimed at bringing to trial at the earliest possible date the large mail order distributors presently under indictment."

Mitchell presented to Congress earlier this summer two new proposals aimed at protecting minors and stopping obscenity from reaching persons who don't want to get it in the mail.

In deciding to start new test cases, Mitchell particularly emphasized the need for amplification of Supreme Court opinions which banned publications that might be "harmful to children," although not legally obscene for adults.

Department sources said about six new cases are ready for presentation to grand juries, possibly within two weeks.

Among those already being prosecuted or under investigation, the department claims, is "the vast majority of the large-scale dealers in pornographic material." The officials list "about 20 to 25 large corporations" that traffic in pornography.

Chrysler And Ford Tilt GM

By LOWELL MCKRIGAN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler has emulated Ford in a charge against General Motors' superior market position with a proven sales too, lower car prices.

Chrysler announced 1970 model sticker prices Thursday averaging $107 more than for 1969 cars. Ford announced its average hike of $106 the day before and GM posted an average $122 increase last week.

In preparation for the scramble in the market place, the nation's automakers scheduled their highest rate of output since late January. The trade publication Automotive News reported 193,846 new cars were being assembled this week.

All of Chrysler's seven U.S. assembly plants, four of Ford's 16 and one of GM's 23 were put on overtime for Saturday.

The manufacturers computed their average price increases by using a formula which takes into consideration the higher sales of lower priced cars. The new prices include cost of delivery, dealer preparation and taxes.

A year ago Chrysler rolled back from an average increase per car of $80 to $50 after Ford's increase was set at $52, GM's at $52 and American Motors' at $42. Some Chrysler dealers felt the cutback should have been greater for competitive reasons.

American Motors has not announced 1970 prices. It has accounted for about 3 per cent of sales by the four U.S. automakers so far this year.

Chrysler continued its warranty program which calls for power train coverage for five years or 50,000 miles plus coverage for the entire car of one year or 22,000 miles.

Officers Installed By Shrine
By MILDRED HANLEY
The officers for the newly organized All States Shrine Club in Deltona were installed recently at the Deltona Inn. They include Willis L. Jackson, Orange City, president; Herbert S. Johnson, Deltona, first vice president; W. T. (Scotty) Corbett, DelBary, second vice president; Omer L. Robertson, Deltona, secretary; and Alfred Pollock, Orange City, treasurer.

Each officer of the new club was administered his oath of office individually by Illustration Potentate Lloyd Castle in an impressive ceremony. The charge to the officers was made by L. L. (Line) Jacobs, Chief Bahban.

Close to 30 Shriners in their colorful jeweled fezzes, some in evening dress, attended the installation ceremonies of the first officers of the new club. Members are from Shrine Temples of many states including Hawaii, who are now residents of Deltona, DelBary, Orange City and Enterprise.

The club already has 74 of the 75 required members for establishment of the new club. Thirteen new members were inducted at this meeting. It is hoped that membership will exceed 100 by January 1.

The newly formed club was honored by the presence of five members of the Bahia Temple Divan, headed by Illustration Potentate Lloyd A. Castle of Orlando; Chief Bahban L. L. Jacobs of Deland; High Priest Robert S. Voegel of New Smyrna Beach; Oriental Guide J. J. Jordan of Orlando and the Recorder and Past Potentate, George A. Cochrane of Orlando.

In Hopes The Reds Will De-escalate War

Nixon Using B52s In Peace Try

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is preparing to negotiate an end to B52 raids in South Vietnam in return for enemy steps to de-escalate the war, U.S. officials report.

The eight-engine, high-flying bombers are the most dreaded and least costly of American weapons being used in the war, officials say, and some believe the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong might be willing to give a truce to get the attacks stopped.

President Nixon suspended B52 raids for 36 hours last week at the end of a cease-fire called by the enemy to memorialize the late President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam.

White House sources said this week a major reason for the suspension was to make clear to the new leadership in Hanoi that everything in the war is negotiable except the right of self-determination for the South Vietnamese people.

The primary cause of the suspension was military. Nixon felt that if the enemy intended to prolong the cease-fire indefinitely, he wanted to encourage them rather than take the initiative with new bombing raids which could quickly wreck any such attempt at de-escalation.

President Nixon's hopes, however slender, were quickly blasted as enemy troops resumed operations when the cease-fire ended. Last week officials here denied any signal had been directed toward the enemy for which there would be a runoff between the top two.

Opponents charged the 40 per cent provision could lead to a minority president, but Rep. Rosmond Collier, D-N.Y., manager of the bill, countered by pointing out that 15 presidents have been elected with less than 40 per cent of the popular vote. That includes President Nixon, who got slightly more than 43 per cent.

And instead of counting up the electoral votes of the states to determine the president, the winner would be the candidate who got the most individual votes in a nationwide tally.

A candidate would have to get two-thirds majority of the floor vote to win. If none did, there would be a runoff between the top two.

"This is an important step in building the momentum that could assure its passage in the Senate and, hopefully, guarantee acceptance by the state legislatures," he said.

The House vote disclosed solid bipartisan support for the proposal, which would scrap the system used to elect every President since George Washington.

However, Senate prospects for the proposal are uncertain. There is strong opposition in the Judiciary Committee, where the question of electoral reform is now studied.

And several weeks ago Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief supporter of the amendment, said it was "practically dead."

Election Change Detailed

By JOHN BECKER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposed constitutional amendment calling for the direct, popular election of the president has been approved by the House in such an overwhelming fashion that even the measure's supporters are surprised and pleased.

The size of Thursday's vote—439-76—raised backers' hopes that the proposal can win Senate approval, state ratification and become the 25th amendment to the Constitution.

However, Senate prospects for the proposal are uncertain. There is strong opposition in the Judiciary Committee, where the question of electoral reform is now studied.

And several weeks ago Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief supporter of the amendment, said it was "practically dead."

This year, there are 10 new Barracudas. And we've changed the look substantially. (We've packed a 426 Hemi engine under a "Shaker" hood on one of them and called it the Hemi-Cuda.) However you look at it, our Barracuda is all-new. We've moved it two inches closer to the ground. Pulled the wheelbase farther apart on our standard four-door suspension. Put a tough optional bumper on the front that comes in most paint colors. And given the interior the design and comfort of a jet cockpit. If you want a car that makes it . . . Plymouth makes it.

Here's our luxury model. (One of 28 Fury models with a new wide stance.) It's big enough inside to carry six adults in comfort. It's plush. But the price is still Plymouth. With a front seat that has individual adjustments for the driver and passenger, center armrest, and a reclining back on the passenger's side. Air Base Loss To Economic Gain!

Almost every problem that besets Sanford in terms of ability to cope with the demands and capitalize the opportunities which are at hand boils down to the need for more industries to attract more families to increase the income which is thus generated.

which confronted Presque Isle, Maine, when the Air Force Base there was closed, that has confronted Sanford since the Naval Air Base here was vacated.

In other words, no building would be leased for dead storage except on a short-term basis.

When a military installation closes for "reasons of national interest," this can produce tragic loss of jobs for a community or result in a decided economic victory.

Scorecards Away!

"You can't tell the players without a scorecard!" So goes the traditional cry of the hawkers at ballfields where the fans have responded by buying the cards just to be sure that the players are "playing" and where to make their own scorecards!

The arenas where politicians are trying out their skills are, of course, in the natural geographical divisions of nation, state, county and city.

But it is right here in Sanford that the Rahorn bill which provides for a mayoralty election by city-wide popular vote that a scorecard is essential.

Not only is this logical as this experiment in municipal electoral procedure is being made, but the system's confusing possibilities could well fool the observer who lacks accurate scoring of candidates.

The Dec. 2 voting in Sanford is, of course, small numerically when compared to the state and national balloting, but it could well be there that a rehearsal for next year's showdown.

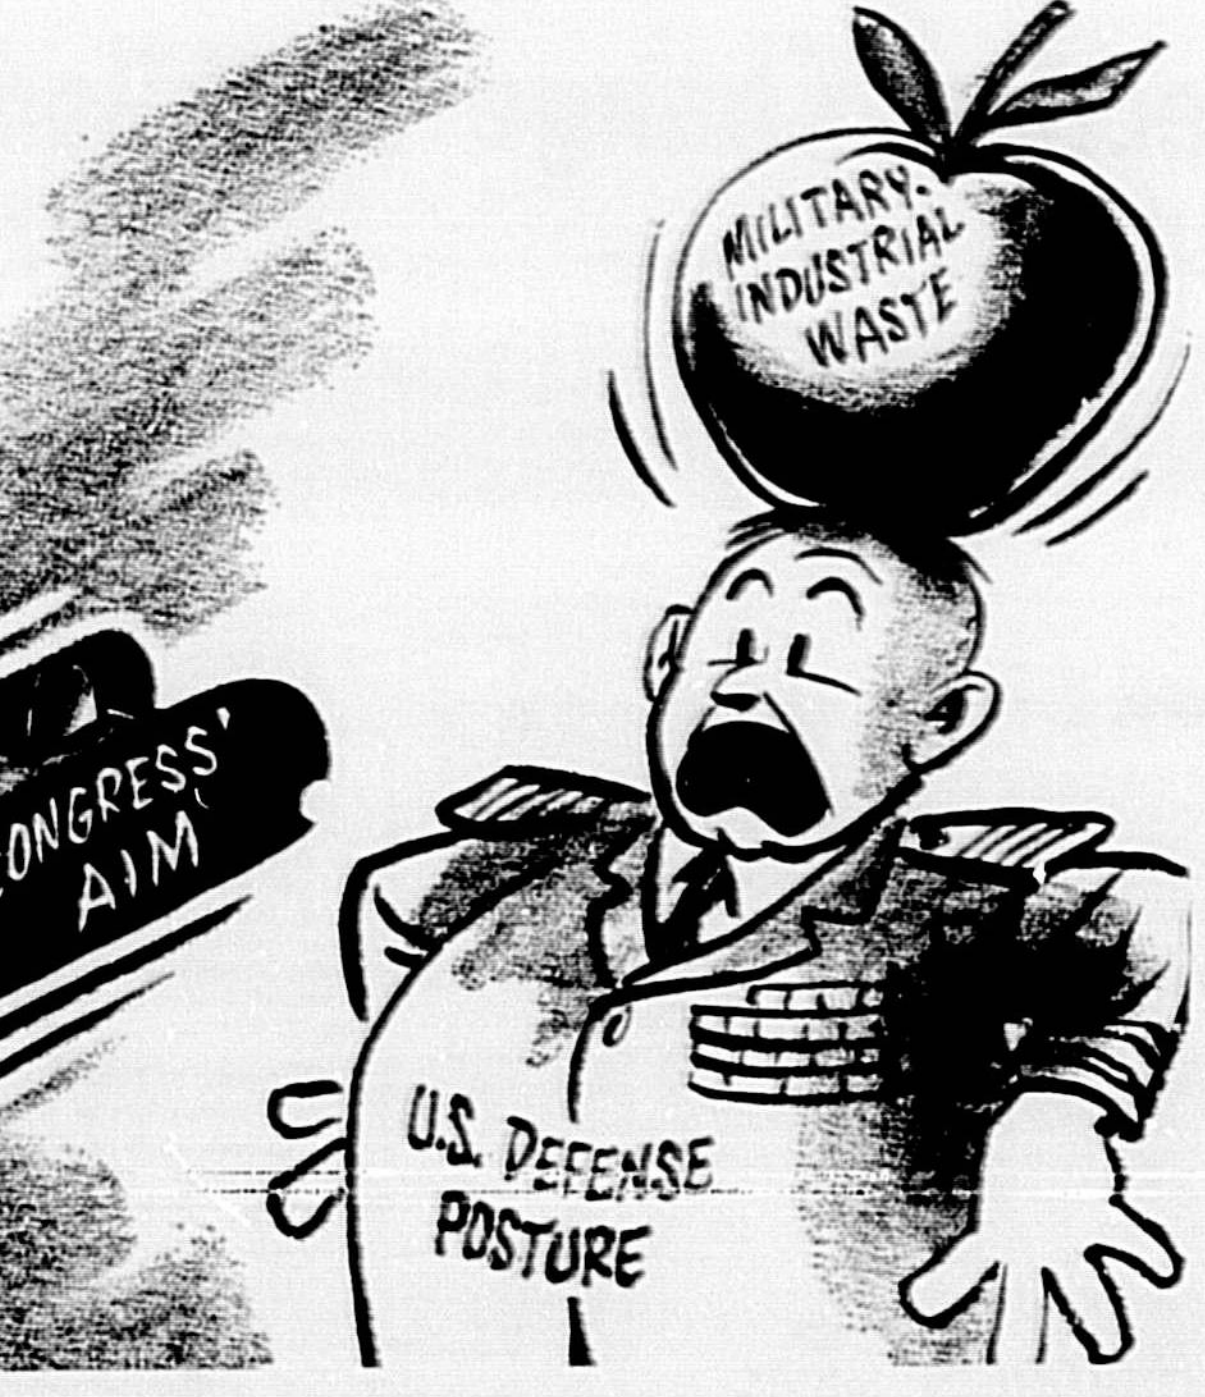

Assuming that a scorecard is being used, the next requirement is some method of keeping track of the players and their positions.

This is where the fun comes in. "This newspaper will continue to provide the hard facts, as supplied by the candidates themselves, and look forward to reporting and commenting on this mayoralty-commissioner election with more than usual zest! How about your scorecard?"

Forest City Group Lists Achievements

By MARYANN MILLS
At the September meeting of the Forest City Community Association, a number of achievements that have been gained over the past two years were reported and they are as follows: first, the traffic signal at the intersection of State Road 436-434 and 435, which has been a long and hard struggle, but after repeated petitions and letters, the members had the satisfaction of seeing a stop light installed, and second, adjustment of telephone rates. At the public hearing before the Florida Public Utilities Commission conducted in Spring, representatives from the association were there to present the necessities of telephone rates being applied by the Winter Park Telephone Company to subscribers in the Forest City area.

Although the members do not take credit for influencing the commission to lower the rates, it is believed the voices heard from the association, and the result in a favorable response from the commission to abolish toll mileage and to low other rates for telephone service.

Swamp Saves Lives In Mexican Air Crash

By STRATFORD C. JONES
Associated Press Writer
MEXICO CITY (AP)—A swampy ground off the end of a runway at Mexico City's International Airport probably saved the lives of many of the passengers who did not catch fire.

The nose section embedded it in the swamp, burying the cockpit crew.

The Boeing 727 was carrying 111 passengers, many of them U.S. tourists bound for Mexico City and Acapulco, and a crew of seven.

The count of the dead and injured varied widely. An Associated Press newsmen saw 35 bodies laid out on a hill 20 yards from the wreckage. Another newsmen said there were nine bodies on the other side of the plane.

Other sources said from 17 to 20 persons were killed, but one spokesman for the airline said more than 40 persons were dead.

Another spokesman for the line said 40 persons had been taken to hospitals. A check of all hospitals turned up only 33 admitted, five of them in critical condition.

One official said the plane apparently hit a railroad embankment that rises about 10 feet above a marsh 3,000 feet west of the runway.

The plane broke into three sections but did not catch fire. The nose section embedded it in the swamp, burying the cockpit crew.

Many passengers in the second section were thrown out by the impact and landed in waist-deep water and mud. Some waded to a wing of the plane and waited for rescuers.

The survivors were Clay Don Alvord, who was thrown clear, said the plane started to vibrate violently as it approached the runway. "Then it fell."

Showerhead Graciela Flores Alvarez, who was thrown clear, said the plane started to vibrate violently as it approached the runway. "Then it fell."

Survivors included his grand children, one great-grandchild, a brother, and four sisters.

Nixon Eyes Meet

By LEWIS GULLIK
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Nixon administration looked to a meeting between Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko tonight for signs of whether the Soviets intend to negotiate seriously on some outstanding East-West issues.

Items for the dinner-talk session on Rogers' Walter said included the 10-point U.S. ultimatum to President Nixon's bid to begin missile talks, the Middle East crisis, European security and Berlin.

It is the first private, high-level U.S.-Soviet parley since Nixon took office with his "negotiation rather than confrontation" posture toward relations with the Communist world.

Moscow's response to the U.S. leadership in Washington opinion, have added up to a mixture of pluses and minuses, and are expected to long silence on the U.S. notice given June 11, of American readiness to begin talks with the Assistant Secretary of State Joseph Sisco and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin scheduled another meeting this morning to discuss some groundwork for tonight's talks, and on Saturday the Soviets agreed to further Big Four power discussions.

Ocean Gets Life For Murder

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—A toothless chaperone for a first-degree murder charge.

The jury recommended mercy, making the life sentence mandatory under Florida law.

After the verdict was announced, the 29-year-old Wright whispered to one of his attorneys, who then told the court.

"All the defendant has to say is that he is not guilty."

Camella 26, a blonde neighbor of Wright's, appeared from her home in Ocoee, in Orange County, last April 16. Her body was found two days later in a shallow grave near the home. Authorities said she had been sexually attacked and her body slashed.

The state based its case primarily on three factors—a scrap of cloth found with the body, a razor blade discovered near the grave, and testimony placing Wright near the burial spot.

Daniel Hasty, a fingerprint expert for the Florida Bureau of Law Enforcement, testified that prints found on the razor blade matched ones taken from Wright.

Another witness, Nancy Waldrop, said the cloth found tucked under the girl's body was part of a dress she had given to Wright's wife.

Wright was placed in the wooded area in which the grave was discovered by a youth, Emmett Hummel Jr., who said he had skipped school that day with his girl friend.

The defense contended that Wright had not been in the area all day. A defense witness testified that he and Wright had used the cloth and razor blade in making repairs to an automobile on Easter Day and that both had been discarded.

Mao Illness Reports Generally Discounted

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS
Associated Press Writer
HONG KONG (AP)—China watchers in Hong Kong today generally discounted new rumors that Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse tung is seriously ill.

Although rumors of Mao's illness have been circulating in this British colony for more than a month, sources here with contacts in China say they have no confirmation of the rumors.

One source noted, however, that some China specialists believe there may be a link between the rumors and reports that few posters of Mao are being put up in Hong Kong in preparation for the celebrations of Red China's National Day Oct. 1.

"They may not want to over glorify him if they believe he really is ill and may die," the source said.
