CONCRETE SHIP FAILED IN WAR NOW SUCCESSFUL

One Of Three Built To Assist
Shipping Board During Late
World War Is Now Used As Oil Tanker In Gulf Waters

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 15. (AP)—Alluded to as "it" by seafaring men rather than "she" as befitting any worthy seagoing craft of steel or wood, the concrete ship McKittrick is doing daily duty in the bay of San Francisco that belies the derision of shipping circles.

Although the war was over before the McKittrick took the ways under the coldly official designation of "Concrete Tanker No. 1," the ship was nevertheless a creature of the great conflict. Its genesis was the need of the nation to build boats faster than the enemy's submarines could sink them. Private builders working under the critical eye of the government laid down three concrete vessels of 7,500 tons. The first of these, the "Faith," was at the outset pronounced a success for it made the trial trip in first class fashion. But under more severe conditions it developed a condensing water weakness. Similarly the other two proved failures but profiting by experience, the government had the tanker built.

Changes Made
A lighter mixture was used and improvements were effected in the steel reinforcing. Triple expansion engines of 1,500 horsepower were installed. The tanker went to Mexico on its test and, returning with a load of oil, weathered a tremendous storm in the Caribbean sea. The commanding officer declared it as seaworthy as any ship he had ever handled; but the war was over. There was now a plentiful supply of steel and timber. The boat which had cost about a half million to build was about to be sold by the shipping board for $15,000.

George D. Zeh, traffic manager of the Associated Oil company, thought the tanker was worth more than this to his company. He was deaf to the ridicule of his associates and negotiated the purchase.

Zeh has kept a record of the tanker's performance and the "stone boat" about which he has been loathed, has paid for itself several times. It has never lost time because of storm or needed repair and, although capable of only eight knots an hour, it plods its way across and around the bay, day after day, transporting 20,000 barrels of oil at a time. "I don't suppose there will ever be another concrete boat built," Zeh said. "There is no longer any need for them, but this one is far from being the 'dud' it has been called."

Skunk Runs Rampant In Royal Poinciana; Causes General Panic

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 15. (AP)—Bell-boys and chambermaids of the Hotel Royal Poinciana reported that a skunk had run rampant on the ground floor of the hotel late last night. It seems that the pretty animal with the ugly smell had popped out of a crack in the floor. He chased around a bit, throwing the servants in a panic.

Finally, he saw the stairs leading to the first floor and lobby of the hotel. He started up the stairs at the time when the lobby was thronged with guests listening to a sacred concert by the Orchestra.

Just as the skunk started upstairs, a bell-hop was coming down. Both retreated, the bell-hop heading for the room and the skunk retreating down the crack from which he made his first appearance.

IT BEATS THE TRAIN

It is not at all surprising that so many salesmen use our system of "we rent it and you drive it." In so many cases it beats the train because after reaching a nearby town and selling his customers the salesman can start at once for the next stopping place. He can cover more ground in less time and cut down traveling expenses.

READ THESE TRUTHS ABOUT A "REAL FLORIDA" CITY

(A day-by-day story of a Florida community that we believe will show more comparative progress in the next five years than any other city in the state.)

THIS IS NO. 7

Sanford Is Convenient By Road, Rail or Water

Sanford is one of six cities in South Florida having all-water route to principal Eastern seaboard cities. It is served by Clyde Line and St. Johns River Transportation Co steamers with connections at Jacksonville for Northern points.

Because of this all-water route, Sanford obtains preferential freight rates and is considerably less affected by the existing state embargo. Consignments for neighboring cities are unloaded at Sanford and forwarded by truck within an effective operating radius of 75 miles.

A new municipal pier and municipal bonded warehouse are to be built.

Sanford is an important division point on the main trunk line of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, midway between Jacksonville and Tampa. Through trains operate to Sanford from principal Eastern and Mid-western points in the country and make close connections at Jacksonville with other lines not serving this territory.

Sanford is one of the principal terminals of the Orange Belt Auto Line which operates to all East Coast and Central Florida points.

Seminole County, of which Sanford is the county seat, has more miles of hard road in comparison with its population than any other county in the state. State Road No. 3, known as the St. Johns Seaside Highway, connects Sanford and Jacksonville, a distance of 156 miles. In the city limits are forty-seven miles of paved streets completed, and a seven-mile lakefront boulevard under construction.

At Sanford are inexpensive homes and homesites, farms, acreage, business and industrial locations. Municipally owned utilities, three banks, modern schools and churches of all denominations.

New Forrest Lake Tourist Hotel, eighteen hole golf course, fishing, hunting, water sports, other recreational facilities of the type that has brought renown to other resorts.

Come and See for Yourself

—why Sanford values are undated and undated are strictly income earning and undated. You'll see, for instance, an $8,000.00 record being harvested. You'll see a city fronting on a magnificent bay of navigation on the St. Johns River, affording transportation by all-water route to principal seaboard cities. You'll see a city on the main line of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, midway between Jacksonville and Tampa. Pullman bus service to all Florida. You'll see, too, the new half-million-dollar Tourist Hotel. You'll see property values like those you are used to up North and you will be convinced that Sanford is the city of the future. It has become, that today, Sanford offers the same opportunity as St. Petersburg, Miami, Orlando and Tampa offered ten years ago.

$200 BASEBALL TEAM COURT MAY HAVE HEAD WHITE APPOINTED SOON

President Vance Douglas Has Several Candidates For Job In View and Announcement May Be Made Within Week

Sanford baseball fans are expected to receive the announcement of the signing of a manager to direct the club's efforts this season in the Florida State League within the next two days following correspondence between Vance Douglas, president of the local club, and a number of well known players whom the club has been angling for during the past two weeks.

One of the possibilities for the managerial berth is a former diamond performer around this city and a well known major league ball player. For the past two seasons he has been directing a club in Jacksonville, Tenn.

Following a meeting of the club officers and many interested fans Saturday night, plans have been completed for the opening of a drive for funds with which to assist the club in playing throughout the season and in lining up players for the team.

Wednesday morning a number of fans, formed into a committee, are to begin active solicitation among the business and professional community to raise several thousand dollars to represent Sanford in the league for the entire season. Many have already pledged themselves for various amounts ranging from $100 to $500.

The club is reported to have already won a guarantee and the funds derived from donations and sale of season tickets are expected to carry the team through the season.

Much enthusiasm has been shown by baseball lovers this spring. It has been predicted by a number of them that the coming season will be the most successful season Sanford has ever experienced on the diamond.

The players who are to start the training period the first of next month have not yet been announced but it is known that committee headed by John Russell has been combing the entire south for "ivory" with which it is hoped to make a team that will bring home the pennant.

Uncle Samuel Makes Some Progress In Aviation

First successful use of a gunpowder catapult for launching airplanes was made at Haines Point near Washington, D. C., a few moments after this picture was made. The plane was a 60-foot incline and into the air. Lieut. Com. E. F. Stone was the pilot.

New instruments designed to aid flying through fog and above clouds enabled Army aviators to set a new speed record from Dayton, O., to Boston, Whittaker Engineer Bradley Jones (left) and Lieutenant Lynn M. P. Whittaker averaged 125 miles an hour for the 725 miles. They flew at 6000 feet guided by the new apparatus.

MARKETS

WALL STREET OPENING NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—(AP)—Selling attacks were resumed in the stock market as trading opened today with speculative offerings based partly on the probability of higher money conditions in connection with the day's huge transfer of tax and interest payments.

Initial declines of 1 to 3 points were recorded by American Smelting, Savage Arms, Jordan, Motors and Chesapeake and Ohio. Fractional recessions were general among the motors and other industrial.

Short selling increased in volume when the early decline failed to bring in the customary quota of supporting orders. More than a score of representative issues fell back 1 to 3 points in the first half hour with pressure directed principally against the motor, public utility and food shares.

Allis, Chalmers dropped 3/4 points and early losses of 1 to 2 1/2 points included American Water Works, Ward Baking "B", Postum Cereal, Baldwin, International Paper, United Cigar, Dodge, Chrysler, White and Nash Motors, and American Can.

Real stocks also yielded some of last week's recoveries. Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Railway, Wash and Pure Marquette, sneaking 1 to 3 points. Both the American and the latter recovered 1/2 to 3/4 points.

Shipping point information for Saturday, March 13: Sanford, Fla., Clear, very steady, moderate, market slightly easier feeling. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Mar. 15.—(AP)—Raw Sugar unchanged at 4.04; refined unchanged at 6 to 6 1/2 to 7 1/2 granulated.

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—(AP)—Wheat prices here took a sudden early down turn today, influenced considerably by unexpected weakness of quotations at Liverpool. The critical situation in the League of Nations Council relative to issues concerning Germany's entrance was reported as being largely responsible for the erratic action of the Liverpool market.

On the other hand extreme weakness of contract stocks of wheat in Chicago tended to moderate speculation in selling and to check a radical setback in values. Chicago opening prices, 7 1/2 to 2 1/2 lower, May, new, 164 1/2 and July 142 1/2 to 1 1/2, were followed by numerous minor changes and then by something of a rally.

Corn and oats were affected by the depression of wheat. After opening 1/2 to 3/4 lower, May 78 1/2 and 75 1/2, the corn market recovered a little. Oats started 1/2 to 3/4 higher and held steady to the initial range. Provision supplies here today were as follows:

CHICAGO, Mar. 15.—(AP)—Butter, active steady; receipts 3 cars; 27, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—(AP)—Unsettling incidents in the stock and foreign markets, exerted a depressing influence on bond trading early today and prices drifted irregularly lower. Belgian government obligations reflected uneasiness over the sharp break in the Belgian franc, based on rumors of a devaluation of the franc and certainty over the outcome of the present loan negotiations.

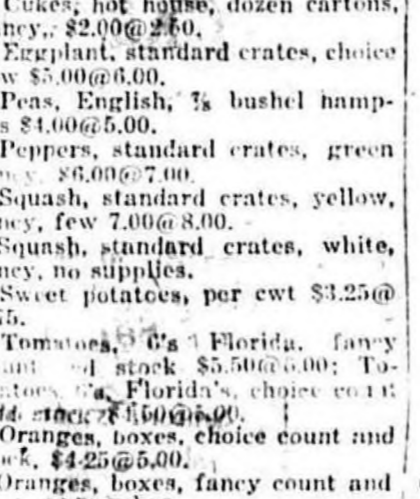

SHREVEPORT, La., Mar. 15.—Shortstop Everett Scott, discarded by the Yankees and Nationals, waived out of the majors and then granted his unconditional release because he is a 10-year man, will open the season at short for the Chicago White Sox.

Alexander the Great conquered the world and a historian tells us that he used his sword with his left hand. Now maybe these parade soldiers will get more encouragement from that.

We have always understood that a newspaper office was supposed to be a bureau of information and we have been glad to supply information, wherever we could, but we can't understand why in the world someone calls us and asks what time a certain train is due here.

Anyone owing this paper is requested to call and pay at once. Anyone not owing is requested to call and subscribe and begin owing us at once. Anyone who is owing is requested to subscribe for this paper in advance to the full amount of the debt and pay us at once year in advance, cash. Any one who is not owing us and will not do so, is requested to move to North Dakota and make room for one who will—Austin Butcher in Altoona (Kan.) Tribune.

Some years ago Professor Cole introduced his famous "day by day in every way" system of character building and moral development by self conviction. Through the butt of a thousand jokes and the subject of numerous parodies and humorous travesties, the practical benefits of Coleism correctly applied soon became evident, and close followers of the Professor's system reported gratifying results.

Coleism, like Mah Jong and other fads, has long since been forgotten by most of us, but the time has come for its revival and community application. There is nothing so well designed to combat the growing tendency to hemoan hard times as community Coleism propounded by a few energetic citizens.

Sanford needs fewer pessimists and more cheerful boosters to impress upon the nation the prosperity that we know is here to stay. We should all talk prosperity, think prosperity, write prosperity if we expect outsiders to appreciate the substantial resources that this community enjoys. Don't gather on the street corners and talk hard times, don't write telling of an impending period of depression, in fact don't cross bridges until you come to them. Sanford today is enjoying better business and more prosperity than ever before in its history, and if its citizens function as loyal citizens should, Sanford will continue to prosper and grow.

It is not enough for us to have faith and confidence in the community. We must express this faith and confidence in terms strong enough to impress outsiders the mere possession of these things will mean little toward constructive growth.

We should talk Sanford on every occasion, in every chance conversation on the streets, at every banquet or luncheon or gathering of any description. Every letter that leaves the city should be bursting with optimism concerning the city's future. By word of mouth, through the mails, over the radio and in every way possible Sanford's prosperity and good business conditions should be broadcast to the nation.

The practical benefits to be expected from community Coleism cannot be overestimated. New people will come here to live, new industries will invade the city, new capital will be attracted and "day by day in every way" Sanford will grow bigger and better.

Riding To School

Time was when boys and girls with thirst for knowledge trudged miles and miles over sandy country roads to make their way to the nearest school house. Time was when Abe Lincoln, out of range of any school house, walked many miles merely to borrow a book. Those were days of hard work and little luxury.

But times have changed. Students now ride to school in high powered automobiles and have their chauffeurs take them home or leave them parked on neighboring streets. During school hours almost any school will boast half a hundred automobiles parked within the radius of a block.

Now comes President Hibben of Princeton University requesting parents of students to forbid their sons the use of automobiles. He declares that the automobile tends to jeopardize the moral, physical and intellectual well-being of the student, as well as violating the democratic principles of the institution.

The question arises whether a man gets any more out of his books whether he rides to school in a Cadillac roadster or walks. The chances are about a hundred to one that he does not. Of course he may save a little time by riding and thus have more time to put on his books, but it is hardly likely that he will.

Ordinarily when a man rides to school he is not trying to put in more studying, but is trying to get in more extra-curricular activities, usually of the later than mid-night variety. There is something about the whirr of a beautifully running motor which inspires one not so much to greater and nobler things of an intellectual character, but rather encourages him in the pursuit of folly.

A man can get as much out of his books if he rides to school, but he usually does not.

THE SOUTH AS A MARKET

The South first commanded national attention because of its achievements as a seller. She now beckons as a buyer to every sort of manufacturer in the United States. In "An Open Letter to Readers" The Manufacturer's Record says on the front cover of its current issue:

The South is becoming an immense consuming market for every variety of manufactured products from pins and needles to locomotives and steamships, products for the home and for the farm, equipment for the factory and the mine, material for the skyscraper office building and hotel, a market for road machinery and for everything else which enters into the work of the great creative, constructive up-building. It is likewise becoming a market for securities of all kinds, for increasing wealth is making the South a buyer of stocks and bonds, as well as a seller of county, municipal and state bonds, railroad securities of business corporations generally.

Without a careful study of this situation no one can rightly measure the possibility of trade offered by this development of the South. Vitality important, therefore, is a genuine mine to which the sellers of the nation come for enrichment.

SOME FASCIST EDICTS

Whiskers are the latest to come under the ban in Fascist Italy. Last week it was jazz music. The week before it was the organ grinder. All are incompatible with the dignity of modern Italy, say the Fascists. Tony and his "mook" will be refused passports to other countries. Melodious importations from America will be barred. Now cab drivers and chauffeurs will no longer be allowed to copy the hirsute adornments of the great Garibaldi or the facial decorations of some of the manufacturers of American patent medicines.

Not content with muzzling free speech, Fascism in its latest decree would allow no evil to be thrown about the spoken word. Men of Italy must come out in the open, be outspoken Fascists, clear-cut, clean-shaven. Dictatorship in Russia may run to whiskers; not so the Italian brand. Governor Cremonesi, mouthpiece of Mussolini, has spoken.

Laughable as these decrees may be, they are none the less significant. Dictatorship has cut a wide swath in Italy. It has almost reached its limits in curtailing rights and privileges. But it cannot stop. One of the psychological reasons for Mussolini's hold to power has been that he has catered to the people's traditional love for novel stunts. Making Roman holidays has been his business, and with his histrionic talents he has shown considerable versatility. He has kept the populace guessing. He has seemed an unquenchable source of political ideas, to be translated into antics. Everywhere he has played to the galleries, while his clingers lead the cheering.

Has he reached the end of his rope? Has he nothing new to offer? Is this decree against the whiskers of the cab drivers and chauffeurs the beginning of the end? The great political impresario is not well, it may be argued. These latest innovations are the work of his lieutenants, who must keep the show going at all costs. When Fascist antics are accepted as clowning, when the decrees of Mussolini are received by the public as tragic comedy that they are, then will come the hope that Italy will free itself of its dictatorial yoke.

Gary's Salesmen. Recently English newspapers told of wonderful "British made" steel rails in Japan. British rails out-classed the American rails three to one, and Japan wants nothing but British rails.

Now Japan orders 5,000 tons of steel rails from Judge Gary's company. Perhaps the difference between American and "British made" was not so great after all.

The Public wants to know what it really thinks about prohibition. Newspapers are asking readers, "Is prohibition a success? Would you modify the Volstead Act, if so, how?"

Prohibition came in the excitement of war, without any popular vote. Now comes the straw vote. Earnest prohibitionists are disturbed, and their delegation will see President Coolidge in the White House today. There they will "map out a campaign to head off the movement for a modification of the Volstead law."

The Federal district attorney in New York, Mr. Buckner, like his predecessor, Colonel Hayward, extraordinarily energetic in prosecuting bootleggers and padlocking bootlegging establishments, advocates a popular vote, not a straw vote, to decide about light wine and other beverages.

Good prohibitionists roar against the suggestion. But Mr. Buckner asks: "Who is it objects to submitting anything of public importance to the people themselves? That question is hard to answer."

IT IS said, not officially, that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., will inherit one of one hundred million dollars.

The Rockefeller plan is not so much to mitigate evils as to make the evils impossible. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., told this writer, long since, that while his father sympathized with individual misfortunes, their scientific foundation was concentrated on wiping out diseases, making them impossible rather than upon curing individual cases.

THE HOUSING problem is like the one in "Public Housing" and bad management. If poverty could vanish and it is rapidly diminishing in this country, with better wages and wider distribution of income, the housing problem would diminish. It would disappear entirely if transportation were managed primarily for public service, rather than for profit, opening up new territory and lowering rates.

HENRY FORD calls the Standard Oil organization, which means Rockefeller, the best managed business concern in the world.

There isn't any doubt that it could spend a hundred millions producing houses for the crowded at low rents and make the business profitable. And to make useful work profitable is to interest other men in it.

BISHOP MANNING says evolution and the Bible go hand in hand, Darwin's teachings not conflicting with gospel truths. "I accept the theory of evolution, and I also believe in revelation given to us in the Bible and in its divine inspiration."

That's a wise attitude, for you can't kill religion and you certainly can't kill science. But it takes a great deal of nerve to have five fingers inherited from the salamander of the carboniferous era, while believing at the same time that a man's hand and the rest of his body was manufactured out of the dust six thousand years ago.

MR. EASTMAN, of Rochester, goes about in Africa, fearing no great luxury where they have so many servants "in the British way." And he is past seventy.

His great photographic organization in Africa will carry on production and distribution of educational moving pictures for use in the schools.

Others, including William Fox, are busy with the problem of educating films, which properly developed, will multiply by ten the value of moving pictures to the world.

JOHN F. Andrus, of Yonkers N. J., spends 20 cents on boiled rice and milk luncheon. Millions of Chinese do the same, without milk and with two cents worth of rice.

Mr. Andrus is eighty-six years old, worth one hundred million dollars. That makes his case and his luncheon interesting.

He has lived to old age and made his hundred millions because in working hours he gives all energy to the brain, does not eat at noon food to make stomach and brain fight the rest of the day. Millions of American business men do that.

TOM SIMS SAYS

THE trouble seems to be that we would like to have things as they are, but we want them instead of as they should be.

We've tried so hard, and yet we can't see how to consider a saxophone a plaything.

Don't worry if you haven't mosh. Think of how little you have to get to improve your situation.

One of the greatest advantages of having a home of your own is you can get some oysters in your oyster stew.

A DEMOCRATIC YEAR

NORFOLK LEDGER-DISPATCH

All signs point to the election of a clear Democratic majority in the United States senate in November, when one-third of the membership is to be chosen. With no outstanding issue on which to go before the country there seems less probability that the Democrats will carry the house of Representatives. The White House has apparently given up hope of passage at this session of important legislation recommended by the President in his message, and looks to early adjournment. Representatives and those senators who face opposition are anxious to get home to rebuild their fences.

The breaks seem to favor the Democrats even though no outstanding issue has been presented. Of thirty-four senate seats to be filled this year twenty-seven are now held by Republicans and seven by Democrats. Forty, a number of the Republicans seeking re-election come from doubtful or normally Democratic states. To secure control of the senate, to organize it with Democratic committee chairmen, more Democrats must be elected.

The party would then be independent of the insurgent Republicans with whom it has at times allied itself.

The trends of this year's elections will have an important bearing on the presidential election two years hence and in the choice of candidates by both parties. Thirty-three governors are to be chosen. In the house, the entire membership of which is to be chosen there are at present 217 Republicans, 183 Democrats, one Independent, two Farmer-Labor and two Socialist members.

The Democratic party can find the right sort of leadership it will carry the country in 1928. There seems little reason to doubt that it will control the senate in November, whether it wins the house or not.

ENCOURAGE DRINKING

LAKELAND LEDGER

Frank D. Skelly, general manager of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., marketing "Blue Goose" products, Orlando, is authority for the assertion that while pure orange juice is on tap in California and in the north, it is difficult to buy it at Florida soda fountains and drink stands. "Orangade," a mixture of juice and water, is the prevailing Florida offering, he says, continuing:

There are more citrus fruit juices being used as beverages than ever before. In the north, they generally serve pure orange juice at soda fountains and rink stands and it has become one of the most popular drinks. However, in most Florida cities it is difficult for tourists and residents to secure the good juice at reasonable prices. We know there is a considerable amount of orangade served in Florida—a small amount of orange juice and the rest water, with a small quantity of coloring and extract at times. Drug stores, ice cream parlors and others who serve soft drinks are making a great mistake in not serving pure Florida orange juice at a fair price. It would be of untold benefit to themselves, the state, and the citrus industry. Tourists coming to Florida naturally expect to have the best of oranges and grapefruit to eat, and an abundance of pure citrus juices to drink. They can buy good, culled fruit at reasonable prices from packing houses, which cannot ship them to northern cities. Culled fruit is inexpensive, and the juice is just as good as in the first grade of oranges and grapefruit. Those serving soft drinks by serving good pure orange juice or grapefruit juice would increase their business materially if they would serve it well and specialize in this drink. A combination of orange juice and grapefruit juice is also another drink that is very palatable, and would bring the vendor good returns and satisfy the customer. Half orange juice and half gingerale is another drink—but save the water. There is no difficulty in securing good, pure orange juice, and there is no reason for it to be as difficult as it is in Florida.

It is easy to tell other people what they ought to do and how to do it; the drink vendors know their business, we do not. But one would think that with a world of citrus fruit at their very doors, they would dispense the pure stuff and plenty of it at a price that would make tourists themselves "save the water" and drink only the citrus juice.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

THERE WOULD BE THREE IN ALL. Out on the Pacific Coast, where the Japanese question and the prospect of a war with Japan are ever-living issues a group of the hands at a cannery factory were spending part of their lunch hour discussing these, to them, vital questions. First one and then another told what he would do in defense of his country when hostilities came. Sitting on a packing case was a lank Oregonian munching the last bits of his sandwich and taking no part in the discussion. The foreman addressed him.

"Look a-here, Jeff," said the foreman. "All these other fellows have been bragging about how brash they'd be to enlist and what branch of the service they'd go into and so forth and so on, but you haven't said a word. How do you feel about it? If the Japs were to land an invading army in this country I suppose you'd go to the front, wouldn't you?"

"Yes, I'd go," said Jeff. "Me and the two others I know of."

"What two others do you mean?" inquired the foreman.

"Why the two that'll drag me there," said Jeff.

"THE WOMAN'S DAY"

By Allene Sumner

My Opinion
Medical charity is permitting the unfit to live and flourish while the middle-class best citizens are dying because they cannot afford the medical charges made upon them, according to Albert E. Wigam, author of "New Deal of Science?"

Wigam has only expressed the disgust of thousands of Americans as they see degenerates and dissolves given the best possible hospital care whereas the life savings of the children's educational fund are grabbed for the same service to folks who own, perchance, a mortgaged home.

There must be a middle course somewhere! Some answer to the great, middle-class question of "what's the premium on decent citizenship?"

Chinese women suffered bound feet century after century, we learn now, so they could not run away from their husbands.

This fact comes out with the ruling of "the Christian General," Feng Yu-hiang, that any woman under 30 with bound feet shall be flogged $3 a month, "as civilization no longer forces a woman to abstain from running away from her husband if he does not deserve being remained with."

The Odd Sandwich
Did you ever grill sardines and place them between the buttered slices of crisp toast with a fleck of parsley over their little tails? Buy the rather large sardines. Roll them in a cracker crumb and egg mixture and put on the grill in the oven. Serve hot! Delicious!

The Best
We recommend that the horde of mothers who complain that "I just don't know what the girls today want, anyway!" read Ruth Suckers' "Dissassy of Miss Girl." It will "get you" with its emotionally stirring picture of what every daughter with true aspirations feels about her home and family.

And, for sheer beauty of writing

Longwood News

There is much excitement in town over the arrival of people and horses preparing for the races to be run the first time on the Seminole race course on Saturday, March 20.

From Toronto, Canada, to Havana, Cuba, more arrivals are coming every day. Among those especially interested in the Seminole Jockey Club are Mr. Charles Buckley, Cleveland, O.; E. T. Fiddler, Chicago, Ill.; George Murphy and Mr. Thornhurst, Cleveland. Among other arrivals at the Orange and Black are Mr. and Mrs. H. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Donnelly, Wheeling, West Va., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baxter, Columbus, O., and J. Leopold, Akron, O.

A car load of running horses from Havana arrived at the A. C. L. station on Thursday, and were immediately taken out to the race course for a tryout.

The bi-monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Library on Monday evening was presided over by an oyster supper prepared under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Mattoon and Mrs. Howard W. Loder, assisted by several members of the Chamber.

The program of business relative to the welfare of the town was interspersed with features of music and entertainment. The Longwood song was recited by five-year-old Fay Roberts Turbow, then all the audience joined in singing the song led by Mr. J. Henry Menick.

Mr. Fred A. Clark, president, presided over the meeting and introduced Mr. H. G. Brisco, representative of the Golf Supply Company, who gave a comprehensive outline of the company's policy, the advantages its coming brings to Longwood, and the prestige given the output of goods bearing the stamp of Walter Hagen, golf champion.

It is expected that the factory will be in running order within 90 days.

Postmaster Charles I. Matthews gave an interesting talk on the increase of volume of business handled during the past few months at the postoffice. The speaker's audience was impressed with his willingness to be at the service of his fellow-citizens at all times.

Mr. Charles W. Entzinger, in a forceful manner, announced the paving program for West Church street and West Church street, and suggested that the town council take up the matter of further widening those streets.

The speaker touched upon the banking situation in Longwood, following which Mayor James E. Walker gave a comprehensive outline of the system employed in the banks formerly established by him in the states of Illinois and South Dakota. Both speakers were generously applauded.

The main speaker of the evening, Mr. W. B. Ballard of Alhambra Springs, spoke eloquently in praise of Longwood and wittily compared the sub-divisions laid out by Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden, with those now being laid out in Florida. The humorous comparisons were received with rounds of applause.

The secretary and treasurer, Mr. Howard W. Loder, gave a report of work accomplished and money received, showing the Chamber of Commerce to be in excellent condition.

The music for the evening was furnished by Mrs. Robert Ayer, pianist, and Mr. John C. Kenyon, violinist, who delighted the audience with the following musical numbers: "March, March, March," "Sunshine, Onward Christian Soldiers, March," "Lave and Flowers, and Graduation March." Approximately 150 guests and members were present.

Mr. Kenyon of the Orange and Black hotel, who has studied at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, Mass., is a violinist accomplished in expression and technique, and has given generously of his talents for evening entertainments and for dancing.

The Boys' Club from the Lyman school went camping with Professor Harding at Palm Springs over Friday night, where they played athletic games and cooked campfire supper.

The Five-Hundred Club had three tables in play at the library on Wednesday afternoon. On next Wednesday the gentlemen will be invited again.

On Wednesday evening nine members from Longwood Chamber of Commerce attended by invitation the meeting of the Altamonte Chamber of Commerce. Several of our number made speeches and enjoyed the program and hospitality furnished by the hosts.

Mrs. A. E. Fraleigh, who has been the charming house guest of Mrs. James G. Sharon for the past two weeks at her home on Tenth street, has returned to her home at Madison, Va.

Upsala & Grapeville

Carl Pierson has been driving a new automobile for some time.

Woodard Bertleson has been taken on as an apprentice at the A. C. L. Shops.

Harvey Swanson has had a number of lots surveyed out, to be called Maplewood, on Grapeville Avenue.

Charles Cramer, now of Miami, where he has a tourist camp and a small store, spent a couple of days with Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Collier, coming out with his sister, Miss Carrie, who is also a visitor from Washington, both of them calling on old friends in Grapeville.

Mrs. Ira Hall and daughter, Jennett, who live in the De Vries house in Grapeville, were both in last week. Drs. Vincent and Tolar attending them.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and children motored to Maitland on Sunday to the home of John Smith. The previous week end they visited the Parlin boys at Boynton.

Archie Swanson is now working for the Yellow-Cab Company.

Alice Vihlen is to receive the prizes she won at the Tampa fair for the best White Wyandotte pullet, cockerel and trio, during a meeting of the Crystal Lake Poultry Club next week.

Willing Workers will meet Friday, after school, with Mrs. Geo. Ballinger. The last meeting was a very enjoyable one and was held at the home of Myrtle Flynn.

Mr. Lind has been at Dr. Roberts' sanitarium, but is reported to be better now.

Mrs. August Swanson has returned from the Gordon home and left Tuesday to nurse at the Schoolfield home in Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. Lougerquist of Lake Mary attended the service of Rev. J. S. Clark in Upsala, who spoke on "The Scriptures, their Unity and Authority."

Next Sunday the Baptist preacher, Rev. Wahlberg, of Groveland, is due at the Lutheran Church at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Volie Williams was out Friday with her little son Charles, who had a bad cut on his forehead from falling and striking his head on the door step.

Miss Florence McKay, who is attending Rollins College, at Winter Park, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. McKay.

Duplicate Bridge Club Is Entertained by Mrs. Roy Symes Saturday

A most enjoyable social affair of the past week was that of Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Roy Symes entertained the members of the Afternoon Tea Duplicate Bridge club, at her lovely new home on Crystal Lake.

The attractive home was adorned with quantities of orange candelabras and panos combined with ferns. In the sun parlor, pastel tinted gladioli and violets were used in charming profusion.

After a most interesting game of duplicate bridge, scores were counted and the prizes at one table, dainty hand made handkerchiefs, were awarded Mrs. Howard Hulick and Mrs. W. J. Thigpen. The holders of high score at the other table, Mrs. W. Theodora Langley and Mrs. G. Irving Loucks, were presented decks of cards.

Refreshments of fruit salad, nut bread, ice cream, cake and coffee were served by the hostess at the conclusion of the game.

Mrs. W. J. Thigpen substituted for a club member. The club members playing were Mrs. G. Irving Loucks, Mrs. Howard Hulick, Mrs. Bloomfield Hulick, Mrs. T. L. Dumas, Mrs. Forrest Lake, Mrs. W. Theodora Langley, and Mrs. Robert J. Holly.

CECILIAN MUSIC RECITAL AT MUNSON STUDIO IS ENJOYED BY MANY

A large and interested audience enjoyed the Cecilian recital held Saturday afternoon at the studios of Mrs. Fannie Stenbridge, Munson on Myrtle Avenue.

The meeting opened with the continued history series, the topic for this afternoon being "Facts from the Life of Clementine." Points emphasized were: his monumental contribution to piano technique in the "Gravitas ad Parrassus," his 100 sonatas, including 60 for the piano. In these Clementine's recital the existing foundation for modern piano playing.

Under current events, mention was made of the passing of Theodore Presser, a benefactor to music and musicians of all America. Several tributes to Theodore Presser, from eminent men and women were read.

In addition to the piano numbers were violin selections by pupils of Miss Eleanor Herrick.

The recital concluded with several much enjoyed readings by Miss Margaret Cowan, talent expression student of Miss Margaret McKline.

The entire program covered: "Sunday from Sonnets in C," Clementine—Pauline Multhead. "Glants," James Rogers—H. C. McMullan.

(a) "Romance" (from Queen of France) Hayden—Opal Peters.

(b) "Allegretto" (String Quartette) Kayden—Opal Peters.

"Transcription" (Rosary) Nevin—William Morrison.

"March" from "Rites of Athens" Beethoven—Byron Fox, Emmett Fox, William Morrison.

Church Meddling Into Politics Is Blamed For Mexican Closing Order

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—(AP)—Church meddling in politics in a seeming effort to obtain political control of Mexico, has been responsible for the recent order in that country resulting in the closing of certain churches and the expulsion of their clergymen, according to Ramon Osona, former ambassador from Mexico, speaking here last night.

Mr. Osona arrived here last night bearing a message to headquarters of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. At least one Methodist church was closed in Mexico. Several years ago the Mexican government sent Mr. Osona to Vanderbilt University here, where he received a degree and became a member of the faculty. On his return to Mexico he became governor of the state of Coahuila.

Mr. Osona declared his purpose here was to dispel the popular idea of religious persecution, as it is branded by the newspapers.

Pastor Burns 800 of His Sermons To Get Into "Current of Youth"

Dr. Edward McShane Waits burning his sermons.

FORT WORTH, Texas, March 15.—"I need to get into the current of youth."

With these words Dr. Edward McShane Waits, president of Texas Christian University and former pastor of Magnolia Avenue Christian church, consigned to the flames 800 of his carefully prepared sermons.

At 21 he began writing and preaching sermons. All of them were copied into notebooks of uniform size until there were 40 volumes with an average of 20 sermons in each.

"A man doesn't think at 50 as he did at 30," the college president contended. "The spiritual truths contained in those sermons are unchanged and unchanging. But the method of presentation must be suited to the modern mind."

"I tried out these accumulated sermons on the student body of the university in chapel periods, and they didn't work."

"I began to ask myself, 'Is there a revolt of youth and why doesn't youth accept our sage counsel?' I realized that I needed to take pains to look at life through the eyes of these students."

Are modern sermons less sentimental? he was asked. Must they be more scientific and more specific in facts? More educational and less dogmatic?

"If I attempted to make over these old sermons I would take all the homiletics out of them," he answered. "An intelligent religious dissertation must have scientific material in it, you can not escape it. Thirty years ago all sermons were without a hint of scientific growth and development of the individual and the world of all life. Today our sermons should be education and evangelism, help and inspiration for everyday life and not just 'Sunday sermons'."

"Religion in mathematics, history, languages, science and art—this is the modern educational method. The old way was to give copious doses every Sunday and try to make it effective for all week. I believe we ministers used to measure a man's spirituality by the patience with which he listened to us Sunday after Sunday. I know I used to use this measure to a great extent."

"A man's spiritual health was endangered in my mind when he refused the doses I was administering. Now that is all wrong. Men and women no longer swallow everything a preacher says without question."

"The appeal of love is as strong today as ever. I don't know but what I would use more love in all sermons if I were preaching in a church today. It is love and not logic that will eventually bring about the great Christian union we hope for."

"There is food for sermons in the Bible—enough to last every man for every year throughout eternity. I would not change the fundamental moralities one iota."

Why not publish the fruit of 30 years work? he was asked.

"Nobody would read them," he smiled. "Sermons are hard enough to listen to and much harder to read. Take the personality of the man out of his sermons and they lose an immense amount of interest. Even the writings of the great Talmage lose some quality after they are written."

Here's Dr. Waits' formula for revamping old sermons:

Take out the homiletics. Make much intelligent use of scientific fact. Use modern nomenclature. And all the love you can put into them.

Sarasota Publicity Man To Accompany Circus This Season

SARASOTA, Mar. 15.—The Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey Circus this season will include among its attaches an official ambassador to the country from the Sarasota Chamber of Commerce as the result of an offer from Charles Ringling to pay all the expenses of a Sarasota publicity man to travel with the show, the Chamber of Commerce to be responsible only for his salary.

Under the plan suggested by Mr. Ringling and adopted by the Chamber of Commerce, the Sarasota representative will have a special desk at the main entrance of the circus for the distribution of Sarasota literature and it will be his duty to call at newspaper offices and Chambers of Commerce everywhere the circus plays.

The circus management for several years has advertised Sarasota extensively with posters and other literature.

Boston 'Slasher' Claims Sixth Victim Sunday As Lady Enters Home

BOSTON, Mass., Mar. 15.—Boston's Sunday "slasher" has claimed another victim. Mrs. Elizabeth Trumley, who was attacked in the Roxbury district last night, was the third woman to be stabbed in two weeks and the sixth to be necrosed on three successive Sundays.

Mrs. Trumley was entering her home late last night when a man stabbed her in the arm and grasped her. She managed to escape. Her description of her assailant tallied, police said, with that given by Mrs. Leverett Safford, a truckerman, society woman, and Mrs. Florence McEnchery, maid, who were stabbed in the Back Bay district on the previous Sunday and by other women who had been necrosed.

Heavy details of police patrolled the fashionable Back Bay section yesterday and two suspects were arrested but both were released.

County Banks Are Aiding Farm Idea

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 15.—Tallahassee's banks have again gone out of their way to encourage the development of agriculture in Leon county, this time offering prizes to club boys through county agent G. C. Hodge. The Capital City Bank has offered $50 to the boy who produces the largest yield of cotton and the Citizen's Bank offers a special prize of $25 to the boy who raises the best breeding pig. One of the Tallahassee banks, sometime ago subscribed for several hundred copies of the Florida Grower for one year for distribution regularly to farmers throughout the county.

There are untold profits for those who invest and initiative to build for the future. You are making their permanent homes. You who have purchased lots for an investment have shared in the rise in values caused by the construction of houses. The demand for homes to effect an immediate sale with a fair profit is a house and lot.

We have explained our financing plan in previous announcements. There are only a few days left to secure this investment opportunity. Just mind that owners of homesites in Loch Arbor required to have a large amount of cash in order to effect an immediate sale with a fair profit house and lot.

Let us urge you to take advantage of this. Sanford needs homes you are the one to build by this construction. Come to the office or representatives, our plans are sure to be both and satisfactory. Remember the time is limited today or Tuesday.

West Coast Booming Golf As Means For Gaining Favor Of Tourist Trade

CHICAGO, Mar. 15.—(AP)—Keen rivalry to possess the winter golfer has grown since it was discovered that golf was as good a drawing card for tourists as seashore bathing, ocean fishing or other semi-tropical attractions.

The rivals are scattered along the warm portions of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, through Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, and up the Pacific shore as far as Victoria, B. C. The latest expansion in golf has been in Florida, where scores of links have been built in the last few years. The boom in this peninsula has set a rapid pace for other semi-tropical regions.

Winter golf is not much newer than the game itself in America, but in earlier days about the only attempt to gain visitors through golf during the frigid months was made by California, although Pinehurst, N. C. was a big center of the South.

California seized on golf as a lure to travelers, and winter golf and California became synonymous. In fact, the influx of players to the Pacific coast congested the links, despite the long journey from snow to grass. The westward rest on these laurels, as there were other things to develop to some extent.

Cuba Found
Then some eastern golfers discovered that there was good golf in Bermuda and Cuba, and sought these places for variety and a sea voyage. The golf coast resorts, falling to increase their business as much as they desired in the country of Ponce de Leon, sought to discover another fountain of youth.

Naturally, they hit on golf and added it to the attractions. Resorts were not particularly gratifying for a time, but with the increase in those who were stung by the golf bug, the sudden enrichment of many men during the war period and the persistent advertising of the nearness of the golf coast to the main centers of northern population, golfers began to flock to Florida and other-golf climate states.

They are still flocking. Florida alone now has upwards of 100 links, mostly for winter visitors. And it was this golf begira, enthusiasts say, that started the real estate boom. The pilgrimages also helped the intermediate golfing centers, such as Pinehurst White Sulphur Springs, French Lick and Hot Springs, where a few golfers held rendezvous with sunshine before they were induced to go further into Dixie.

New Links Planned
These places now form the half-way stations for golfers. Plans are afoot to build a series of links along the popular ways to the golf coast. When these are completed, golfers may play all the way South and then all the way back in one grand marathon of the links.

But all this had its effect on the Pacific Coast. It dawned on the builders of that new land that fruit and nuts, sunshine and warmth, ocean bathing and mountain climbing needed an abettor in the form of more golf. Last month they staged a golf tournament with the largest purse ever given, and courses are planning a plenty. Los Angeles found that while Chicago with 3,000,000 population had only thirty public links on which one could play eight months a year, the metropolitan of southern California, with a third that number of residents, where one could golf 305 days a year, had one lone course open to all comers.

Both, a noted amateur from the East, set about building a fee links. E. C. Tubbs, a pioneer in southern California golf, redoubled his efforts and Scott, Chisholm began a revival in the press.

The allies are spread all the way up the coast from San Diego to Victoria, with San Francisco, Portland, Tacoma, Seattle and Vancouver planning an expansion of golf facilities.

At The Training Camps

Raises For Kelly And Meusel
NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—(AP)—Word comes from Sarasota, Fla. that Emil Meusel and George Kelly have gained an increase in salary. Jacob Rupert, at St. Petersburg, asserts that his Yankees, despite five defeats during the past week, will land in the first division.

Remember the Braves of 1914 and the Reds of 1919, he says. Jim Elliot, 240 pound portlander, has been sent to Saratoga by the Brooklyn officials at Clearwater, and Manager Robinson says that Sterling Striker, right hander, for a time with the Boston Braves.

Connie Mack Is Pleased
PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 15.—(AP)—"Everything is more than satisfactory" to Manager Connie Mack, of the Athletics. At Fort Myers, Fla., he believes the team is much further along than it was at this time last year.

George Harper and "Dutch" Henline, Philly holdouts, face the possibility of being placed on the ineligible list if they do not report for duty soon.

Not Adverse To Golf
WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—(AP)—Bucky Harris, manager of the Washington Senators, has concluded that so far as he is concerned a little golf now and then won't hurt a player's batting. Bucky let the game alone for a year, but upon receiving his record of two hits in five exhibition games thus far he resurrected his clubs.

The first of five games this week will be with the Cuban Stars, at the Senators training camp today.

Western Recruits In Action
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 15.—(AP)—Hal Rhyne and Paul Waner, California recruits at the Paso Robles, Cal., training camp of the Pittsburgh Pirates, displayed some of their ability yesterday when the champions defeated the Paso Robles all-stars 12-0.
Rhyne, besides making the best fielding play, connected for a three-bagger and two singles. Waner connected with one triple.
Eddie Moore sprained his ankle Saturday and has been added to the hot list along with Pie

Traynor out with a similar hurt. In the meantime, Johnny Raylings, converts to second and three at third. Waner was in left field yesterday.

Veterans To Play Rookies
QUINCY, Ill., Mar. 15.—(AP)—A two hour workout in the morning and an exhibition game in the afternoon between vets and rookies was the program scheduled to begin this week. Blue and Tanager are regarded as certain of positions at the first and short, respectively, but places at second, third, in the outfield and on the battery staff are more uncertain.

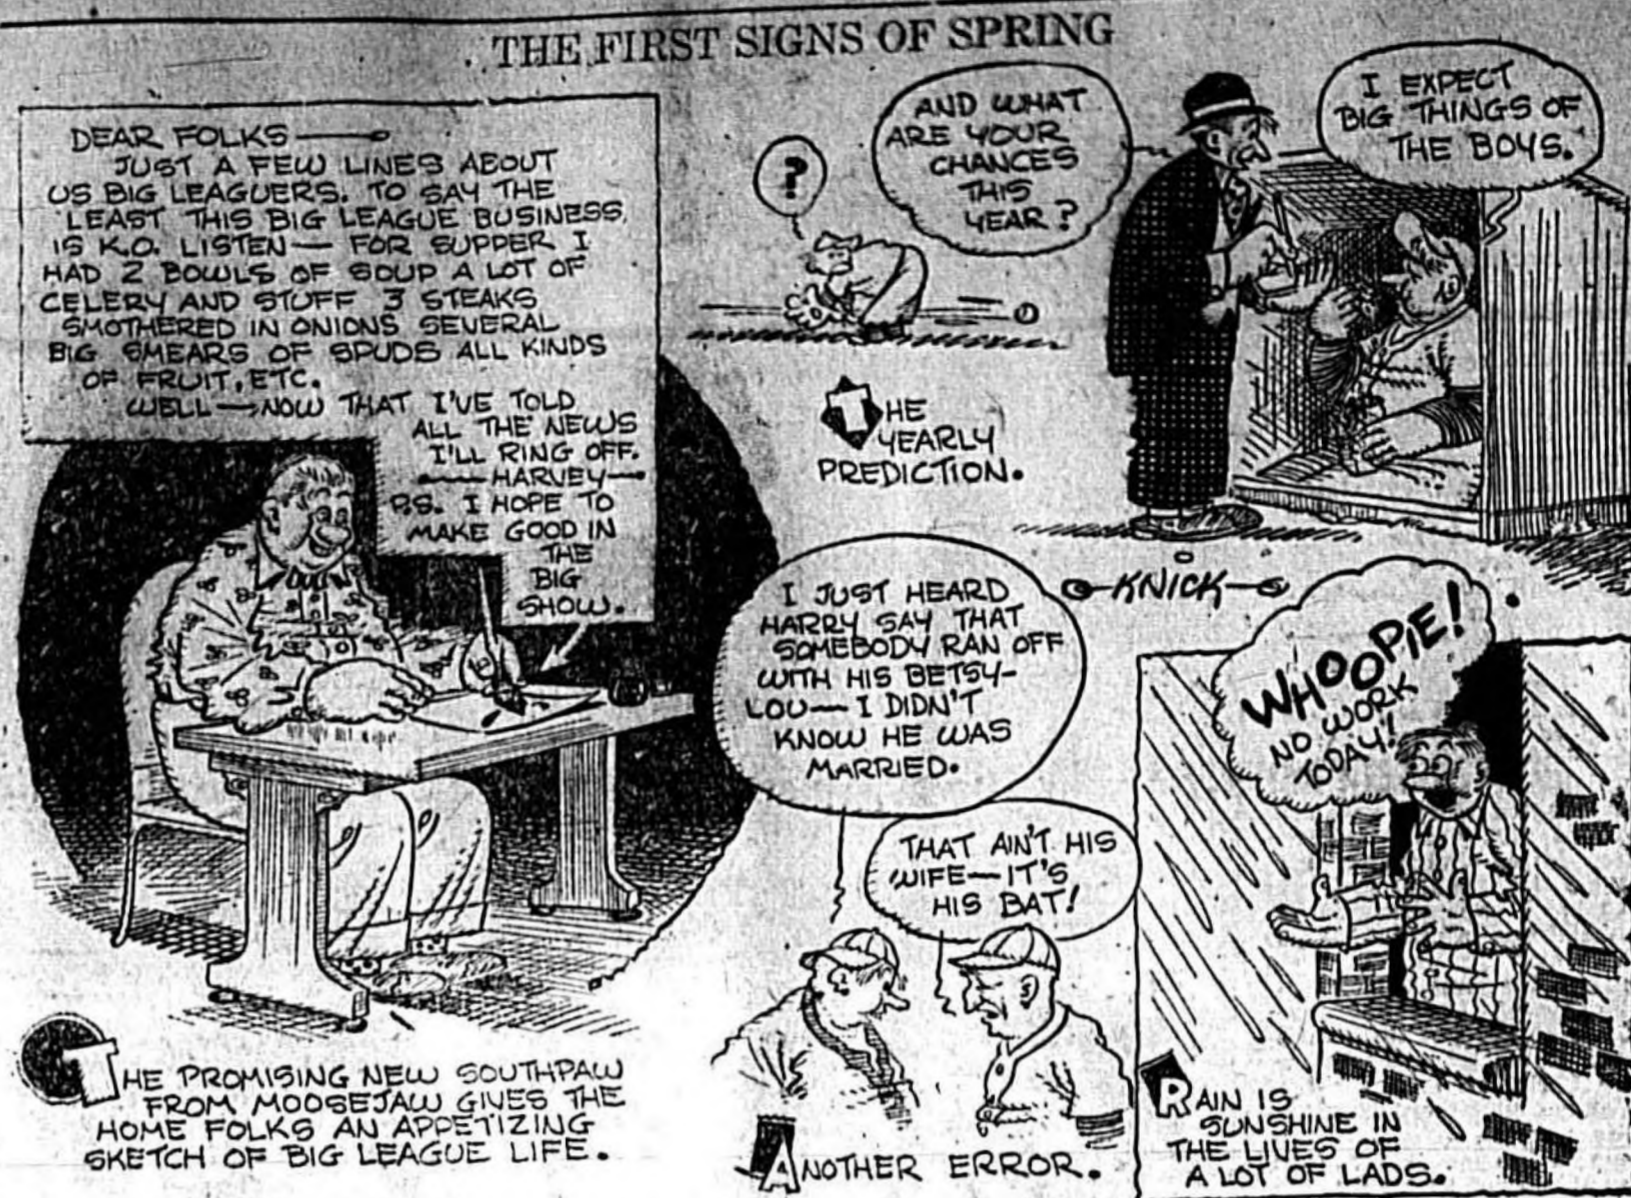

Manager Cobb arrived at Augusta yesterday from Baltimore, where he submitted to an eye operation.

Game Snowed Out
CHICAGO, Mar. 15.—(AP)—Forecast of snow and still more snow, turned to sporting pages today for the result of the Sox-Shreveport opener in the proverbial sunny southland and learned the game had been snowed out.

All in all it was a tough day for Chicago fans as the Sox-Shreveport opener in the proverbial sunny southland and learned the game had been snowed out.

Sisler Pleased With Browns
ST. LOUIS, Mar. 15.—(AP)—After three weeks of spring training, Manager George Sisler is satisfied with his club, despite two defeats by the Brooklyn Dodgers. His reasons are that the players are in good condition, the team spirit is fine and the new men, Melillo, Zachery, Nevers and Bolen are showing up good. The Browne will meet Brooklyn in a third exhibition game today at Tarpon Springs, Florida.

The Cardinals moved all-round form in blanking the Houston, Tex., club at Houston yesterday, 12-0. Effective hitting, hitting and defense featured in the victory. Willie Sherdel pitched in the mid-season form and another team of

Wingo's Star Hitter

Ty Cobb, conceded to be the greatest baseball player of all time, does all things well. Among his many accomplishments is an uncanny ability to solve the offerings of opposing pitchers.

Cobb, for nine successive years, led the American League at bat and has 12 championships to his credit. That makes him an authority on all fields.
On the Detroit club is another outfielder who can hit the pill, Al "Red" Wingo. Like Cobb, Wingo is a left hander and hits 'em hard to all fields.
"He's the greatest, natural hitter in baseball," is Cobb's tribute to Wingo.
"Once he acquires the habit of waiting out the pitcher and picking the ball he likes to hit, he is going to be even tougher to fool. At present content to slyly at any ball delivered close to the plate."
Since Wingo hits well, using only natural ability, Cobb has let well enough alone and not tried to change his style.

Cardinals beat San Antonio.

Emmke Is Disappointment
BOSTON, Mar. 15.—Howard Emmke, one of the Red Sox' mainstays in the box, is proving somewhat of a disappointment. Yesterday his team was beaten 7 to 5 at New Orleans by the Pelicans. He yielded the 7 runs in 5 innings.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

Bobby Jones is undoubtedly the greatest golfer that ever lived but Walter Hagen simply refuses to believe it.

The amateur champion, now knows how it feels to run afoul of a pair of Dempsey fists delivered with Fitzsimmons power and Greb frequency.

None of us imagined we'd ever live long enough to see a great bird like Jones beaten 12 up in a golf match. Not without the aid of a tank of chloroform and an army at any rate.

Nothing can surprise us now. Walter Johnson can become a bullpen pitcher. Earl Sunde can go to training mules. Willie Hoppe can start facking pool balls and Babe Ruth can drop to the sandlots.

If any living golfer—even the great Hagen—can bounce Jones around until he's cross-eyed and knock-kneed, then anything can happen and no doubt will.

Whether Hagen is actually that much better than Jones is a waffle you can fry on your own, grid-die. Maybe he is and maybe he isn't. The important thing is that they paid off on those figures.

One feature about the Haig. He's always been stronger in a pinch than a New Jersey cop.

You can give him the trammeled exit in the assorted cold meats events but when you start serving turkey he's there for a double helping, and gets it.

A lot of the spear-toters in the machine-nibbler ranks don't like him because he carries his chin high and wears his hat high.

That bothers him about as much as a sliver in a nightwatchman's wooden leg.

Alexander the Great had a quartzized ego. Napoleon's vanity cracked a mirror. When Washington put on the Ritz it was becoming.

The inflated onion is gallant most when misplaced. The barnyard cow is an admirable animal but it is admirable only in the barnyard.

We see by the papers Iowa is worried about a surplus corn crop. The matter should be referred to the Blue Jay people.

Incidentally we understand her ladyship was heartened to know

With Yanks

HERB McQUAID

Star right-handed hurler who will be given a trial by the New York Yankees this season. He's considered a promising prospect by Manager Huggins. The Yanks, by the way, could find good use for another capable pitcher. McQuaid was with St. Paul in the American Association last year, hanging up a formidable record.

Mike McTigue was willing to fight for his freedom. . . . Which proves she never saw Mike fight.

"Yes, John just got back from Havana and I tell you my dear he's all agrog over it."

It is pleasing to read the "coal" miners and operators have finally effected a permanent settlement and that there is not be another strike until next fall.

Spain's decision to abolish bull fighting is probably due to one of two things; either they're run out of bulls or matadors.

The Turks have adopted the American alphabet but we don't know whether they intend to use it for words or soup.

Meditations: What does the old fashioned flannel night gown wear when invited to a pajama party?

The concrete evidence of any ball club's failure is frequently found in the region of the players' heads.

Southeastern Tennis Tournament Opens At Jacksonville Today

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Mar. 15.—The Southeastern Tennis Tournament opened here today on the courts of the Florida country club, with William T. Tilden, I. L., national champion, defending the title he won here last year by defeating Vincent Richards in the final match, playing outdoors after a long day off, must face a strong field. Vincent Richards, fresh from two victories down state, and going strong, heads the list of contenders, with a number of other ranking players entered.
T. Harada, diminutive Japanese champion, B. I. C. Norton, of St. Louis, A. H. Chaplin, Jr., of Springfield, Mass., S. Howard Vohell, New Orleans, New York, C. Baggs, New York, George O'Connell, Chicago and Jerry Lang, New York, were among the prominent entries.
First round matches began this morning.

Football Candidates At Florida University Learn to "Charleston"

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Mar. 15.—H. L. (Tom) Sebring, Gator football mentor, has been sending his backfield candidates through vigorous Charleston dances for 15 minutes each afternoon in connection with their spring training.

Coach Sebring believes that the dance helps his runners develop their broken field running.

The training of back field candidates has been closed, but the linemen will have at least two more weeks of intensive drill, with the whole coaching staff on duty instructing the first defensive aspirants.

About 65 candidates for the Gator grid machine have been out for spring training and the longest period has been in vogue than in the history of the school.

Writers Say Newspapers Poison News Finally Poison Only Themselves

Mar. 15.—(AP)—A more afford to than a dairyman get prussic acid in their new book "What's the Matter with the Newspaper?" which poisons nations itself. Superintendent of penitentiaries or self-interest of a death ward in. Of this the newspapers is sufficient to show the newspaper's misdeeds in the description of news as "news" and the newspaper's misdeeds as "news."

Likewise the authors find that comparatively little of available news is printed although the subject of one of wide interest.

Sex News

"Sex will disappear from the news when newspapers are written and read by Robots. Men and women and their problems as such always have been the theme of celebrated literature as of nearly all other sorts."

"But just as in crime, the very abundance of sex news in time forces a process of selection, until a very minute fraction of sex news ever gets into the newspaper and that is usually selected because it carries with it some unusual feature or appeal—exactly as the sex of great literature is always something vastly more than sex."

The relation of advertising to newspapers is commented upon. "It has become conventional to say that a newspaper lives on its by-product, advertising." The authors deny this, saying:

"It probably is true today that the great majority of newspaper advertisers are as dependent on the newspapers as they are on the railroads, the postoffice, or the telephone for their continued existence and functioning."

J. J. PARRISH

Candidate for State Senator

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from the 35th Senatorial District comprised of Brevard and Seminole counties, subject to the primary to be held June 8th, 1926.

I have been elected representative from Brevard County four times and am holding such office and am confident the experience thus gained will enable me to render greater service than heretofore. I am not the candidate of any faction, clique nor ring and if elected will in the future as in the past serve all the people.

Sincerely yours,
J. J. PARRISH

Sales Year's Calls For Expenditures

MAR. 15.—Pro- spective for Lake and summer will be a year of more expenditures of homes in the Florida State Commerce. The Corporation will spend $40,000 in its building, $300,000 for street paving, and $1,000,000 for improvements and will go into building of scores of homes. It is planned for this year every indication of a construction program of any year in the history of the city.

More Energy

PEP is Vitality

will increase your earning ability

It is the red blooded people who win success in this world. Red blood gives men and women the vitality—the energy—the strength and the activity to earn what they deserve!

Nobody can do justice to themselves when they are suffering from want of rich, red blood. It is this impoverished condition of the blood that causes so many failures in life. There's no place at the top for the weaklings—the men and women with poor, weak blood.

Build up your blood! Get in the red-blooded class—and get the rewards you deserve. S. S. S. will do it for you! S. S. S. helps Nature build millions of red-blood cells!

S. S. S. sends rich, red blood tingling to every fibre of your body and every pore of your skin. You are fairly radiant with energy, vim and vitality.

You'll look like success, too! The rich, red blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build for you will clear your skin of any ugly blemishes—your eyes will sparkle with enthusiasm—firm, solid flesh will round out your figure—strength and power will come to weak, flabby muscles. All drug stores sell S. S. S. The larger bottle is more economical.

Now's the Time to Act!

ACTION — BUSINESS — SALES — NOT CONVERSATION
THESE ARE WHAT WILL BUILD SANFORD

We want you, the people of Sanford, to share in this. We are perfectly aware that just now for a few weeks things have been quiet.

We want you to wake it up with us through sales.

For your benefit, as the buying public, we are making an offering at Dreamwold No. 2 and No. 3 which means profits. Good property—real 60-foot homesites at figures that mean profits for YOU.

We have been building Sanford since 1923; we will still be building Sanford five years from now. It will be a wonderful city.

Will you be in on these profits through grasping your present opportunity?

YOURS FOR A GREATER SANFORD

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Come along, old man," he said firmly.

Nancy and Nick and the March Hare stood beside Grubby Groundhog's bed in Grubby's underground house, and watched him as he slept.

What did he care about the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming? He was having a grand time where he was.

Outside the snow was just about gone, there was only a little hand-ful here and there sticking in around fence-corners and stones, the sky was blue and the air was really as warm as pie.

Nancy and Nick and the March Hare were laughing. For Grubby was acting so funny in his sleep. "I'll tell you now why he was acting so funny."

Because the March Hare had cut off the tail apple in two and laid the pieces right under Grubby's nose.

New groundhogs like apples about as well as you like chocolate ice-cream soda, or a salt-bonnet soda, or custard pie.

So it's no wonder Grubby's poor nose was wriggling itself off nearly.

He was dreaming. He was dreaming that it was summer and he was stuffing his sides out with sweet apples in a sweet apple orchard.

"There's a fine one," he would mutter in his sleep. "The big apple over there by the old grindstone. See! It just fell off the tree and never got bruised a bit and there aren't any ants on it. Not that I'd mind an ant or two. Some of them are mighty sweet."

Then Grubby snored twice and turned over.

"Say, where's the nice big sweet apple?" he muttered. "It's gone. It was over by this grindstone and now I can't even so much as smell it."

The March Hare took one of the big pieces of apple he had cut and held it under Grubby's nose. "Come along, old man," he said firmly. "Come along. We'll find it."

Grubby threw back the covers and got slowly out of bed. Then he saw his nose, just follow his nose! "Oh look!" giggled Nancy. "He's still asleep."

"Yes," said Nick. "He thinks he's still in the orchard smelling that big sweet apple."

"Come right along, Grubby," said the March Hare, wagging one ear at the Twins, which is the way rabbits wink at you sometimes. "Come right along, Mister Groundhog."

Then he took a step and Grubby took a step, then he took another step and Grubby took another step, the March Hare always carefully holding the piece of apple just far enough from Grubby's nose for him to smell it.

They went along the crooked hall and out of the front door by the potato patch, the Twins quietly following, and then they came to the little secret bush that is the beginning of Scrub-Up Land. That little place, ruled by Mister Rubadub, where all the meadow folk have to get groomed up so they'll look decent for spring.

Before Grubby so much as opened his eyes, they were tight at Rubadub's house.

And the very first person Grubby saw was that fairyman with a trowel over his arm and a big pair of scissors in his hand.

Grubby tried to bolt, but he was too slow.

They washed him up and trimmed his whiskers and slicked up his tail and combed him and brushed him and I think they put a few drops of brillianine on him. But it was of no use. Grubby just wouldn't shine. But he looked better when at last he waddled off the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming. Oh yes! I forgot! He got the apple after all and so he wasn't mad a bit.

JAIL FOR KISSING ADULTS

TURIN, Mar. 15.—Any adults who kiss each other good night on the door steps will be jailed. The supreme court has so decided in letting off two young lovers with a fine.

PARIS LETTER

PARIS, Mar. 15.—A proposal that all the debates in the Chamber of Deputies be broadcast has aroused much contention in parliamentary circles. The plan is favored by all who would like to have the chamber's discussions shortened by elimination of unnecessary oratorical flights. It is opposed by many legislators who have appreciated the protection afforded by the fact that the stenographic report which now forms the official record of proceedings may be edited, abridged and corrected for the edification of their constituents. The radio would let the public in on the battles of words which often break out, and this, it is feared, might bring disfavor on the participants. If the radio drew aside this curtain, the president of the chamber would no longer be able to suppress seditious utterances or irrelevant reflections on the head of the state, which now are often heard in the chamber but which never appear in the printed debates.

Georges Clemenceau's new book on Demosthenes, which first appeared as a supplement to a weekly paper, has come out in book form. The chief point is that you have not a little point about it has escaped notice. He has not put "member of the French Academy" after his name on the title page. Most authors do so, and they have been elected one of the "Forty Immortals" hasten to add this distinction to their signatures, as it carries great weight in the country and gives them a higher value in the literary market.

But the election of the "Times" to the French Academy in 1918 was exceptional in every respect. The recognized procedure is for every candidate to pay personal visits to the members and solicit their votes. If he is successful, he is "received" by the academy at a ceremonious meeting at which he has to review the life and work of his predecessor, to whose "armchair" he has been elected.

None of these traditions was observed in the case of M. Clemenceau. Instead of soliciting votes, he was solicited by the academy to allow himself to be elected. He never made any visits to members, and since his election he has never taken part in the work of the academy, which includes editing the official dictionary of the French language. As for being "received," he has never made the slightest movement toward having that ceremony performed, and, of course, he has never been measured for that green and gold uniform or tried on the St. Nazaire shipyard's tonrow (March 16). The new ship is not yet named, but will be called either the Verdun or Versailles.

She is larger than the line's present crack boats, the Paris and the France. Her tonnage is 40,500, estimated speed 23 knots an hour, length about 720 feet and beam 84 feet. There will be accommodation for 1,200 first and second class passengers and 600 third class. The crew, including officers, will total about 500.

STRATON REBUKES SOCIETY

WEST PALM BEACH, Mar. 15.—About the warmest thing in shivery Florida at the beginning of the winter was Dr. Straton's sermon denouncing society for "degrading" Palm Beach, especially by having a "dirty girl show" for charity.

BERLIN LETTER

BERLIN, Mar. 15.—Deposed by the revolution as ruler of the Grand Duchy of Oldenburg, which members of his family have governed for 500 years, the forgotten Grand Duke Frederick Augustus has been offered a job as mayor of the village of Rastede, near Bremen.

Frederick Augustus is 74 years old. Like many former ruling princes, he is beloved by his former subjects. It was with difficulty that he was able to make a deputation of citizens feel at home in the parlor of his castle in Rastede. The spokesman almost too moved to speak stammered:

"Your Royal Highness, our mayor is getting old, and under-stand our people. We thought you could guarantee your election. The chief point is that you'd be in the swim again in a modest way."

Frederick Augustus laughingly replied that he was not exactly young any more, but promised to think the matter over.

President Von Hindenburg has sent his congratulations on the 70th wedding anniversary of Casper and Frau Guckel, residents of Barmen, in the Rhineland.

Hale and hearty at 86 and 93, respectively, the couple are the head of a family of five generations. Their eldest daughter aged 70, lives in the United States.

Herr Guckel quit work in a textile factory only five years ago, and still attends a "young men's club" composed of twelve octogenarians who meet weekly to discuss religious topics.

Prof. Lichterfeld, in Brandenburg, Prussia, comes an account of another five-generation family. The fifth generation was reached with the arrival of a baby boy in the family of William Kruger, a laborer, and now under the same roof are a mother of 20 years old, a grandmother of 40, a great-grandmother of 60 and a great-great-grandmother of 84. All four women are in good health.

President Von Hindenburg has set an example to society-mad Berlin by closing his winter's social calendar early. He gave the last of his big dinners when he entertained members of the second Lutheran cabinet, their wives and parliamentary leaders. He has just given his last weekly tea. Only one function of importance remains and that is an informal "bierabend" this month for members of the Reichstag.

The president continues to surprise the people by keeping up numerous social engagements despite his age. He frequently stays out much later than midnight sipping his mug of beer and carrying on an animated conversation.

He accepts invitations with the utmost impartiality. One night he may be found at the home of the socialist president of the Reichstag, Paul Loebe; the next day at a dinner of the virtual head of the Republican army, General Von Seeckt, and the following day at a reunion of officers who fought at his side for the former Kaiser.

HARD ON BROOKLYN

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—All the prohibition agents of the United States could not make Brooklyn dry, in the opinion of Rev. Ernest Johnson. Rev. John Callahan, chaplain of the Tombs, thinks prohibition is a modern miracle and "old King Alcohol" isn't dead; he is likened to Kaiser; he has abdicated and wants to get his throne back.

LONDON LETTER

LONDON, Mar. 15.—The Prince of Wales soon will have a new residence in London, Marlborough House, and he is personally directing the work of its preparation for his occupancy. As soon as the work was begun he went over the plans himself and made several radical changes, insisting on the installation of American style bathrooms to replace the old-fashioned English ones.

The Prince told the contractor that he would visit the place every few days and ordered that he be informed of any changes made in the present plans.

He has asked his mother, Queen Mary, to select the decorations for his new residence, and His Majesty has agreed to do so.

Queen Victoria's fear that England would have war with the United States after the Civil War and might not be able to hold Canada is set forth in an extract from her diary, just published in Buckle's "Letters of Queen Victoria."

An entry on February 12, 1865, written at Osborne, Isle of Wight, tells of a conversation she had just had with Sir C. Wood in which they discussed the danger of losing Canada. "But we must struggle for it," the diary reads. "And far the best would be to let it go as an independent kingdom with an English Prince. But can we stave this off, and who would be chosen? I told Sir C. Wood that Dearest Alfred thought of the colonies for our sons. However, now I feel, knowing the serious reasons put before me, I could not but entertain the thought, though for Alfred it would not do. For Arthur it might be different."

Alfred was the Duke of Edinburgh, later Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, and Arthur was the Duke of Connaught, who still is living and was formerly governor general of Canada.

The Countess of Warwick's decision to live "in the stable yard" after she had turned her beautiful home, Easton Lodge, and 900 acres over to the trades union congress for use as an educational headquarters, was followed by an announcement that the Duchess of Rutland had retired from her Arlington street mansion to make her home in one of the Gate lodges.

The lodge has ten rooms, however, is two stories high with basement and an attic, which the Duchess has fixed up as a studio for her work as a portrait painter and sculptress.

The Duchess decided that the mansion was too large for her small family, and with the difficulties of getting good servants she finally made up her mind to take over the lodge and make herself comfortable there.

The Duchess, like the countess of Warwick was one of the famous beauties in the late Victorian period.

Lady Warwick's new quarters at Easton Lodge are in a wing of the

DAYTONA BEACH—Municipal Judge John Parkinson has been "pulled" for parking wrong. He was fresh from imposing innumerable fines upon offending ones for the same infraction. FORT MYERS—By the aid of a straggler, and after a four-hour struggle, during which 10 bullets from a high-powered rifle were poured into its body, a devilfish, weighing over a ton and a half and measuring 14 feet across, was landed at Capt. P. H. Newton, Johnson and John W. Ellis, Ohio snormen. The devilfish is the first caught since the late Theodore Roosevelt pulled one in 18 feet long in 1916.

LAKELAND—The Florida department of the Grand Army of the Republic and its auxiliaries, the Woman's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Daughters of Union Veterans, will convene in Lakeland on April 13 and 14. About 300 delegates are expected.

KEY WEST—Removal of the old devilfish which has been in the channel at Fleming Key since 1921 will probably be effected as a result of the visit here of Major George E. Brown, of the United States Engineering Department. Major Brown looked over the remains of the ship, which was towed in by the Navy, and stated that dynamite would likely be used to blow it up.

DELAND—When the state-wide meeting of county sheriffs is held at Palm Beach on March 17, Sheriff Edward Stone, of Volusia county, will seek the endorsement of the officers for a proposed change of the law governing the issuance of search warrants. Among the revisions the legislature would be asked to make, would be that making it unnecessary for the filing of a direct affidavit that actual violation had been seen before a warrant to search a questionable house or automobile is legal.

Scores of people visited Sanford Grove Sunday. They saw the tremendous progress that has taken place, the beginning of the first home, and the cleared course of Crescent Boulevard. All along Geneva avenue material has been piled preparatory to the paving on every hand. Its progress is evident, such progress is only made possible through a great amount of energy and activity. Such activity is proof enough that the developers are keeping faith in the growth and expansion of the city. If you have not visited Sanford Grove you are not aware of the progress of the city. For here you will find improvements and developments of such magnitude that assure nothing but prosperity with a background that lend greatly to the substantiality of the city. Make arrangements to see Sanford Grove at once. Our representatives will be pleased to accompany you to the property. We urge you to secure your site before the advance in prices becomes effective.

DRUID PARK

Every development we have fostered has been high-grade in every particular. We have never been called upon to offer apologies for the property we have distributed. Each development has been sold upon its own merits, therefore no apologies were necessary.

Druid Park, our present development, is on State Highway No. 3 (Sanford-Orlando Road), and on the shores of beautiful Lake Jennie. It is in keeping with the high-class developments with which we have been associated previously—Pinehurst, Pinecrest, and others.

Druid Park appeals to the most exacting investor, it embodies all the features that make it the pre-eminent investment opportunity of the Greater Sanford District.

Brazil's Answer County Home Is Awaited With Contract Is Let Much Interest At Board Meet

Swedish and Czechoslovakian Dorsev, Young & Kelly Get Ask to Resign Seats In Council to Permit Poland
To Accept Vacant Places On Site At Elder Springs

GENEVA, Mar. 16.—(AP)—The Senate County Commissioners met this morning at what would be the nature of Brazil's answer to the county's answer to the council of the League of Nations plea, Germany being given a seat
though the mediator of the delegate, Senator Mello-Franco, Brazil should not veto Germany's admission to the League of Nations.

The contracting firm of Dorsev
Howard and Kelly was awarded the contract for the erection of the home for the whites and for the negroes. The home is located at Elder Springs and is to cost $25,000.

The commission rejected the contract for the erection of the home for the negroes at the meeting today was the earliest possible since the advertisement calling for bids was issued a month ago.

It was announced that the buildings are to be fireproof
construction of steel and stone and are to be heated by steam.
This is expected to make it compare favorably with many other structures in the state.

The contract for the road work is expected to amount to approximately $5,500.

Quarters for the negroes at the home are to be erected on the same property but are to be distinctly separate. Practically the same construction is to be used for both buildings.

No road reports were read at the meeting this morning although it was expected that some action might be taken on the question of the toll bridges within the county or on the question of the toll bridges within the county.

The latest developments concerning the bridge are being awaited with much concern by residents of both this and Volusia counties.

4 RUM SELLERS CAUGHT AFTER RUNNING FIGHT

Miami Scene of Chase Early
This Morning When 2 Citizens
Are Hurt By Flying
Glass From One of Autos

Woman Is Member Of Party Of Bootleggers

Chase Begins Near Heart of Business Section And Continues Along Water Front

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 16. (AP)—Two citizens were injured by flying glass and a woman was arrested on a charge of violating the prohibition laws as the result of a running fight between city detectives and alleged rum runners here early this morning.

The woman taken in custody was said by police to be the wife of a member of the alleged rum running crew. Name of the persons arrested were temporarily withheld, pending issuance of warrants for them on federal charges.

J. H. Craig and Robert Millburn were the citizens injured. They received cuts on the face when the windshield of the automobile was shattered by bullets from the runners of the alleged rum runners. The motor car had been commandeered by the city detectives who waged a running fight along the banks of the Miami canal for a distance of 12 miles, starting at a point almost within Miami's throw of the business district of the city of Miami.

City Detective Newarth leaped from a police boat in which the pursuit of the rum runners started to the deck of the rum boat during the progress of fight. He was overpowered and thrown overboard into the canal, as the rum boat sped away from the police craft.

Nazworth was picked up by the police when a barge blocked passage up the canal, whence the rum boat had disappeared. Leaving their boat, the officers continued the automobile driven by Craig and continued the auto
along the road skirting the banks of the canal.

Overtaking the rum runners
they opened fire, which was returned. The rum runner's bullet shattered the glass of the windshield, injuring the owner of the motor car and his companion.

The detectives' ammunition was exhausted and they temporarily abandoned the auto, going to a gasoline filling station a few blocks away, where the auto was re-fueled and more ammunition obtained.

A score of policemen were despatched to the scene and the rum boat was captured. It is almost unbelievable that so much could be done in such a short period of time.

Two depositions to
Against Levi Zeiter

CHICAGO, Mar. 16. (AP)—Two
depositions will figure in the suit
brought by Lady Marguerite Hyde, Countess of Suffolk and Berke, to cancel her brother, Joseph Zeiter,
as trustee of the $30,000,000 estate
of her father, Levi Z. Leiber,
Chicago merchant.

The depositions were made by
Lady Cynthia Mosley of England,
another daughter of the elder Leiber,
and Frank O. Horton, Wyoming
rancher. Efforts to bar the bulk of Lady Cynthia's deposition
before a jury mark a high point in the trial, to start today.

Lady Cynthia's statement, made
during her recent visit here, objects to the possible appointment
of a Mr. Warr as trustee of the estate. The westerner's deposition attacks the management of the Leiber ranch in Wyoming.

Of the members of Parliament
elected last autumn nearly 100 have
still to make their maiden speeches
in the House of Commons.

SEARCH BEGINS FOR ACCUSED IN ALCOHOL PLOT

Government Operatives Are Sent to Widely Separated Cities to Arrest Those Indicted in Big Conspiracy

Further Charges To Be Pushed Shortly

Date of Trial Will Be Set Late in Summer Or Early in Fall, Says Prosecutor

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 16.
(AP)—The task of arresting 41
of the 112 persons indicted here yesterday for alleged conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws, devolved today upon government operatives who have been sent to widely separated cities to take the defendants into custody.

Today nine of those named had been arrested and two are serving life sentences in prison on murder convictions. Twenty-one St. Paul and Minneapolis men remained to be taken into custody last night.

Five Cleveland men, named in the indictment, had not been arrested and the following number were wanted to face charges in the indictment.

San Francisco and San Jose four,
Pittsburgh and Philadelphia three each, Chicago two, Duluth, Detroit and Boston, one each.

Further Charges To Be Pushed
With the reconvicting of the federal grand jury on April 1, further alleged conspiracy charges are to be pushed by District Attorney A.
E. Berstein. Fifty or 60 more persons will be indicted as a result of the inquiry, in April, Berstein said.

In view of expected further developments the trial date in all likelihood will be set for late summer or early fall, according to the district attorney.

The first step on the part of the government in running down these indicted yesterday was taken by Thomas F. Stone, former prohibition enforcement officer in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. Stone made a raid on the plant of the Superior Alcohol Company, Cleveland, August 19, 1925. This was followed by developments that have investigated into many cities and placed many men under indictment.

Sold Below Market Price
The charge was made that the Superior Industrial alcohol people were selling alcohol about 15 cents a gallon below market price. Books of the company were in perfect order and a federal gauger was "probing" all the alcohol made there. Stone was not present.

In addition to the Superior Alcohol Company, the indictment referred to the operation of two other manufacturing plants in Cleveland,
a run ring in Minneapolis and St.
Paul, use of warehouses and transportation in Detroit, Cleveland, Duluth, Boston, St. Paul and Minneapolis, protected by an internal employee in Cleveland; aid of railroad police, police protection in St.
Paul and operation of two other concern supposed to be dealing in perfumes.

Two depositions to
Against Levi Zeiter

CHICAGO, Mar. 16. (AP)—Two
depositions will figure in the suit
brought by Lady Marguerite Hyde,
Countess of Suffolk and Berke, to
cancel her brother, Joseph Zeiter,
as trustee of the $30,000,000 estate
of her father, Levi Z. Leiber,
Chicago merchant.

The depositions were made by
Lady Cynthia Mosley of England,
another daughter of the elder Leiber,
and Frank O. Horton, Wyoming
rancher. Efforts to bar the bulk of Lady Cynthia's deposition
before a jury mark a high point in
the trial, to start today.

Lady Cynthia's statement, made
during her recent visit here, objects to the possible appointment
of a Mr. Warr as trustee of the estate. The westerner's deposition attacks the management of
the Leiber ranch in Wyoming.

Of the members of Parliament
elected last autumn nearly 100 have
still to make their maiden speeches
in the House of Commons.

Police at Daytona stated yesterday that the waters of the ocean
were notified on Sunday after-

4 Powers Demand That China Remove Tientsin Blockade

Impediments Must Be Removed From Port
By Thursday Noon,
Asserts Ultimatum

Protocol Of 1901 Basis Of Demands

Search of Ship Must Discontinue Except
By Customs Heads

PEKING, March 16.—(AP)
The United States and other powers today delivered an ultimatum to Chinese factions demanding that blockade of ports of Tientsin be ended and all impediments to the harbor and river traffic be removed by Thursday noon.

The ultimatum, signed by signatories of the protocol of 1901, was handed to the commanders of the fort at Taku and Chinese vessels
outside of Tientsin. The U. S., Great Britain, Japan and Italy
have a dozen or more naval craft in these waters.

The protocol of 1901 made stipulations concerning the disarmament of forts at the mouth of the Pei River, on which Tientsin is located, and also guaranteed a passage to the sea.

The blockade has been preventing access to Peking from the sea and recently resulted in Chinese troops firing upon two Japanese destroyers.

Toku advised early today were that the Cruiser Hondo had been ordered to the mouth of the Pei river from Port Arthur. A Manila dispatch last night declared the departure of four American destroyers for Tientsin, China.

The action of the powers was made known to the Chinese foreign office in the memorandum forwarded by the Dept. of the diplomacy.

"In order to win the general treaty right to international commerce and particularly the right to free access from the capital to the sea, provided in the protocol of 1901, the powers concerned demand:

On-hostilities in the channel
from the Taku bar to Tientsin must be discontinued; two-mines and other obstructions must be removed; three-navigation signals must be restored and not further molested; four-combatant individuals must remain outside the bar and refrain from interference with foreign ships; five-searches of foreign vessels, except by customs authorities, must be discontinued.

"If satisfactory assurances on these points are not received noon of Thursday, Mar. 18, the naval authorities of the foreign powers will proceed to take such measures as they find necessary for the purpose of removing and suppressing obstructions of free and safe navigation in the channel."

Local Man Believed
To Have Drowned
At Daytona Beach

R. W. Ross, a baker, who lived at 208 Park Avenue, is believed to have been drowned at Daytona Beach Sunday afternoon when attempting to swim in the ocean.
His car and clothing were found on the beach by Daytona police yesterday morning and search failed to disclose the whereabouts of the missing man.

Mrs. K. C. Ross, his wife, who was notified late yesterday afternoon left this morning for Daytona to assist the police of that city in the search.

Ross left here early Sunday morning for Daytona on a beach mission. He carried a bathing suit with him and is said to have expressed his intention of taking a dip in the surf, as was his custom when visiting the beach.

Police at Daytona stated yesterday that the waters of the ocean
were notified on Sunday afternoon and in addition the beach was extremely cold. They believe that it was a dangerous time to attempt swimming any distance from the shore.

FRED R. WILSON OPTIMISTIC OVER STATE'S FUTURE

Sanford Attorney Back From
Visit To Miami Predicts
Gleam Of Business Year
In The History Of Florida

Fred R. Wilson, local attorney, who has just returned from a trip down the east coast, is very enthusiastic over what he describes as being one of the most worthwhile and inspiring trips to be made in the state of Florida. Mr.
Wilson spoke very highly of Miami and of the building boom which is in progress there and in other cities on the lower coast.

In commenting on the rumors that there was a lull in business activities over the state, the attorney pointed to the increase in building and to the program for the year 1926, which, in nearly every city of Florida, is said to exceed that of 1925.

Asked for his opinion of the east coast in general and Miami in particular, Mr. Wilson issued the following statement: "I had not been in Miami for about four and one-half years, and was simply amazed at the development that had taken place in that section of the state. From West Palme Beach south, it is almost unbelievable that so much could be done in such a short period of time."

"My trip down the east coast was on the heel of rumors that a business depression had occurred in Miami, but the activities that I saw there convinced me that there was no depression in construction work going on. The compressed air pump and operation of two other concern supposed to be dealing in perfumes.

coast in general and Miami in particular, Mr. Wilson issued the following statement: "I had not been

ment that had taken place in that

The local Kiwanis Club will observe St. Patrick's Day by holding a "liberate" luncheon meeting at the Country Club tomorrow at noon.
L. C. Rebout, secretary, announced today.

Resolutions and favors suggestive of the day will be in evidence,
and an unusually interesting program including several prominent out-of-town speakers has been arranged, Mr. Rebout stated.

Each member has been asked to wear either green or orange colors, and everything possible will be done to further the St. Patrick's Day atmosphere.

In addition to several high Kiwanis officials who will come to Sanford especially for the occasion, several local speakers of prominence and a variety of entertainment features will be on the program, Mr. Rebout said.

Suicide's Body Sent To Relatives' Home In Nashville, Tenn.

The body of J. C. Stevens, who committed suicide Sunday night in the lobby of the Lincoln Hotel, was shipped to the home of relatives in Nashville, Tenn., this morning by the Miller-Erickson Funeral Company. A brother, also with the initials "J. C.," came from Nashville late last night to take charge of the body.

Stevens killed himself following an attack upon Juanita Morasso, proprietress of a local restaurant.
The young woman is in the Fernald-Laughton Hospital recovering from knife wounds on her neck and breast.
