October Brings Snow, Rain and Cold to West

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(P)—October's reputation as a month of indolent sunshine and placid autumn beauty has gone by the boards this year. Instead of an intermezzo, the season's discordant notes of the tempest driving snow and rain and cold into a shivering, unrelenting, heavy west. Death even has lurked in the swirling snow flurries, harbingers of bleak winter days.

SECURITY PACT IS HAILED WITH JOY BY NATIONS

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—(P)—The German delegation headed by Dr. Hans Luther, the chancellor, and Guayac Stresemann, the foreign minister, reached Berlin from Loarn Sunday. The ambassadors of Great Britain and France, the Belgian minister and other diplomats, as well as the members of the cabinet, greeted the returning delegations at the station. Since it was not known generally when the train would arrive, there was no public manifestation.

OPERATORS WILL WALK OUT AT 4 THIS AFTERNOON

In connection with the walk-out of 2,000 telegraphers employed by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, scheduled to become effective at 4 o'clock this afternoon, local officers of the company stated late today that little effect, other than the general inconvenience experienced over the entire system, will be felt in Sanford.

Lobster Pirates Are Active in New Jersey

HIGHLANDS, N. J., Oct. 19.—(P)—Lobster bootleggers are active off the New Jersey coast. Laying outside the three-mile limit of state jurisdiction, they buy "shorts" and smuggle their contraband ashore to resorts and even to the larger cities. A "short" is a lobster weighing less than four and one-eighth inches from butt of tail to tip of the horn at the head.

Philadelphia Society Matron Found Dead Sunday But Facts Are Withheld

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—(P)—Post-mortem examination of the body of Mrs. Laura Biddle, prominent Philadelphia society matron, and wife of Craig Biddle, wealthy sportsman, led County Autopsy Surgeon A. P. Wagner to announce late Sunday that death was probably due to alcoholism. He said he would not enter that cause officially in records, however, until a chemical analysis of the stomach and vital organs had been completed.

Many Orders Causing Market Prices to Rise

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(P)—Another flood of buying orders swept into the stock market today bringing about a sharp rally today which overcame the collapse in the final hour. Last Saturday's trading again was whipped up to a furious pace with General Motors resuming leadership of advance among the industrials.

MISSING FROM VESSEL BURNED ON WAY TO N. Y.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 19.—(P)—Clyde Line officials today were bending every effort toward finding some trace of William J. Lawler, Winthrop, Mass., contractor, who is the only person missing in the near disaster, which resulted in the destruction by fire of the Stanshin Comanche off Mayport Saturday night.

Ship Is a Complete Wreck, Says Officials

The crew of the vessel are to be taken on board the liner Cherokee at New York today. The still smouldering hulk of the once beautiful steamer lies anchored in the St. John's just south of this city while fishermen at Mayport and along the Atlantic coast are keeping a watch for possible bodies of persons, who might have lost their lives.

Injured Are Listed

The Clyde Line has furnished the following list injured: Capt. E. E. Curry, strained left leg. An X-ray showed no bones were broken and he was removed to the Cherokee, another Clyde liner in port.

Is Complete Wreck

The Comanche, abandoned between 8 and 9 o'clock when passengers had been removed, started drifting northeast, and by daybreak this morning had drifted 23 miles north to a point near Ferdinandina.

REALETY SALES FOR SATURDAY GO OVER $124,000

SANFORD REALTY COMPANY DISPOSES SEVERAL TRACTS FOR TOTAL OF $40,000; HENLEY BUYS ACREAGE FOR $40,000

While the $500,000 in realty transfers reported in this city during Thursday and Friday of last week still stands out as a record in the local market, sales here totaling more than $124,000 reported Saturday to officials of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce are taken as indicative of the firm character of the increased activity in real estate trading here.

Sanford Avenue Lot Purchased for $12,000

A Chicago organization purchased as part of an intensive buying program of business properties, a 29-foot lot on Sanford Avenue from C. D. Brock for $12,000, and J. E. Jones of Montgomery, Ala., is said to have acquired 164 feet on the same thoroughfare. Contracts Signed For the Construction Of Amusement Center In Western Section

ESTABLISHMENT OF A SWIMMING POOL, CASINO AND AMUSEMENT CENTER IN THIS CITY WAS ASSURED TODAY, WHEN IT BECAME KNOWN THAT R. W. OTTER OF THE OTTER-KELLEY REALTY COMPANY, OF SANFORD AND NEW YORK CITY HAS COMPLETED NEGOTIATIONS WITH A REPRESENTATIVE OF IRVING FINCH AND SON, CONTRACTORS OF CONEY ISLAND, FOR THE CREATION OF THE PLANT.

The pool and casino, which will embrace all the features of an up to date amusement resort, will be erected on First Street, in what is known as St. Gertrude's addition between Avocado and Mangostine Avenues. The pool and casino will be 640 feet long, according to plans submitted by the promoters of the enterprise, who state that the entire development will be fully equipped with modern appliances, and will be comparable to such bathing resorts as Pepp's Pool at Daytona and other beach plants.

The purpose of the meeting Thursday is announced, will be an effort to merge the various recreational enterprises, as pursued by the different agencies in the city, into one concerted effort, for the expedient of the work. It is thought that by broadening the sphere of the various concentrated movements here in this manner, the entire program may be accomplished with greater ease and rapidity.

NOTRE DAME TO MEET TOUGH FOE IN ARMY "MULE"

Soldiers Stand Good Chance To Avenge Defeat of 1924; Yale Meets Pennsylvania In Another Eastern Headliner

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Once again the Army has been called out to defend the eastern seaboard against the invasion of Notre Dame.

Of far reaching interest, the meeting of these inter-sectional football foes at the Yankee Stadium is expected to overshadow the clash between Yale and Pennsylvania at New Haven after two years of separation.

At Baltimore a much improved Navy will pursue an uncertain Tiger from Princeton. Last year the men of "Old Nassau" won by only 17 to 14, and Jack Owsley, formerly assistant to Tad Jones at Yale, expects a different verdict in the fray to come although the Tiger has not been compelled to bare its claws in the early games.

Harvard, a menace to Eastern championship claimants for the first time in several years by its 68-0 conquest of Little Middlebury last week, faces the severe test of its early season in a fighting Holy Cross eleven. Last year the Crimson won, 12 to 0, and in 1923 managed to eke out a conquest by a mere six points.

Eddie Tryon will lead his Colgate warriors against LeFayette. Tryon has amassed an imposing total of points, scoring four touchdowns in 22 minutes a week ago, when Colgate defeated Saint Bonaventure, 49 to 0.

LaFayette's victory on that day was fully as impressive, a 40 to 9 margin over Washington College.

There are several inter-sectional games of calibre, a tussle of great importance being that of Columbia and Ohio State at Columbus. Syracuse University faces Indiana at Indianapolis. Penn State and Marietta lock at State college, Pa., and Georgetown meets Detroit University at Detroit.

Notre Dame's eleven carried and kicked their football across the continent last season for the national championship, if there is such an honor in the gridiron games. They defeated all opponents, the "Four Horsemen," Stuberger, Miller, Crowley and Layden cutting through every manner of defense.

The new Notre Dame backfield has carried on this year, sweeping through Baylor University from Texas, by an overwhelming score, topping Lombard 69 to 0 and outplaying Beloit 19 to 3.

Army's backfield is strong and the soldiers have a solid line. Last season Notre Dame won by 13 to 7, but its green team is facing a hard struggle, a fact which coach Knute Rockne admits freely.

Leading Eastern teams matched for tomorrow and the results of the 1924 contests follow:

- Notre Dame 13, Army 7.
- Yale-Pennsylvania, no game.
- Princeton 17, Navy 14.
- Harvard 15, Holy Cross 6.
- Rutgers 10, Cornell 0.
- Colgate-LaFayette, no game.
- W. and J. 10, Carnegie 0.
- Pittsburgh-Geffysburg, no game.
- Dartmouth-Maine, no game.
- Brown-Bates, no game.

There was fast action at the end of the seventh inning in the fifth world series game when Muddy Ruel peg to Third Baseman Bluege caught Cuyler, Pirate right fielder, at the third sack. Bluege was back in the game after two days of disability with a bump on his skull and a severe headache.

Cadets Drop Game To Rollins Rats By Score of 7 To 0

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 17.—(AP)—In a fairly even game played under torrid conditions the Rollins Rats plunged to victory over the Florida Military Cadets at Fair-Field Park Friday afternoon, the final score being 7-0.

Although the Rats did not show their usual scrappy form due to several mixups in the line up and an injury to their only seasoned center, Draa, they managed to keep the ball in their opponents' section of the field most of the time and made numerous first downs.

Zoller, star halfback, was forced to substitute for Draa and distinguished himself by playing three different positions during the game. Wright, plucky, quarterback, mainly responsible for the touchdown made by Kirshbaum, Rat fullback in the third quarter, through the use of an ingenious sneak play and a recovered fumble by the latter.

White, captain, looted the pignion over the bar for the total of seven points for the Rats.

Coast Teams Will Attempt To Break Tie In Grid Battles

SEATTLE, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The Universities of Washington and California, monarchs of the north and south on the Pacific Coast football field, have each won four games and two have been tied. The dearest wish of the Husky herd this season is to defeat the Golden Bears.

Not since California renewed playing relations with Washington been able to triumph. Enoch W. Bagshaw, Washington coach, who at the Everett high school built a team that won national championship, is in his 6th year of trying to defeat California. Last year his team in the closing minutes made 3, 2 and 7.

Washington reaches farther from home than usual this season, meeting the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, October 17. The Husky, pay Leland Stanford here November 7.

Irish Parents Would Take Language From All School Curriculums

DUBLIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Technical Committee of County Mayo has reduced from 670 to 400 pounds the money provided for the teaching of the Irish language, and forecasts a further reduction next year.

Monsignor D'Alton who introduced the motion said that he knows mothers who threaten to withdraw their children from school if the teaching of Irish is not dropped. He declared that the spoken language is losing ground, even in districts where it was generally spoken till comparatively recently.

The government recognizes this, but thinks it regrettable, and is taking steps in all directions to remedy it. Irish is now made a compulsory subject in the primary schools all over the country, and the government has appointed a Commission which is taking evidence as to the condition of the language in the Irish speaking districts and the reason for its decay. The chief reason is economic.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY
GREAT POWER FROM GOD: Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of an enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you. Luke 10:19.

PRAYER:—O Lord, Most High, we seek to dwell in the secret place where no evil thing can befall us.

The Blind Girl
In darkness, who would answer for the color of a rose, Or the vestments of the May moth and the pilgrimage it goes.
In the darkness who would answer, the darkness who would care, If the odor of the roses and the winged things were there.
In the darkness who would dwell on'er the question of a line, Since the darkness holds all loveliness beyond the mere design.
Oh night, thy nothing prophecies companion all our ways, Until releasing hands let fall the catalogue of days.
In the darkness, who would answer for the color of a rose, Or the vestments of the May moth and the pilgrimage it goes.
In the darkness who would answer, in the darkness who would care, If the odor of roses and the better things were there.

Our office boy remarks that the best way in the world for a member of the Anti-Swearing League to lose his membership, is to make the trip from Sanford to Deland by automobile.

Up in Kentucky there is a law which provides that anyone caught "coasting" is subject to a fine. Guess it's a good thing that Florida doesn't have a similar statute or there would be people in Sanford "brake" all the time from having to pay fines.

The Prince of Wales has returned to London, finishing a twenty-five thousand-mile tour, which took him to all of the British possessions and to several countries in South America. And thus ends one of the greatest advertising campaigns that has ever been conducted.

The Rich Shall Receive Favors

Wesley Westbrook, an official of the Cook County jail, spent a score of years "upholding" the law in Chicago, only to weaken finally and accept bribes from prisoners, a misdemeanor which has put him in jail for four months. Sheriff Hoffman and ten others were given similar sentences for somewhat similar offenses.

It seems that Terry Druggan was the bootleg king of Chicago and his several years of "professional" activity while he was able to elude successful prohibition officials, were sufficient to net him a handsome income and put him in the ranks with millionaires.

Finally, however, Terry slipped, as is wont to be the case with crooks. He got caught selling booze by some cop with "guts" enough to lock him up in spite of all his money. And thus with the change in Terry's luck, he met a judge who sentenced him to a term in jail.

However, Terry still had his money and the lure of it made it very pleasant for him while he was "confined." Almost everyone, it seems, connected with the jail, was only too glad to do "little favors" for Terry. Terry was a good chap and passed out tips of one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, and some times for some exceptional "little favor," he would drop as much as two thousand dollars. Nice fellow. Generous, you know and all that sort of thing.

But one time a newspaper reporter saw Terry on the street when he was supposed to be in jail and of course it made a wonderful story. Unfortunately the grand jury couldn't get the jailer's point of view and so the poor fellow was sentenced to four months in jail and made to pay a fine of $2,500.

There's a moral in this story, if you get it.

Medill's Great-Grand Daughter.
Boiling, Surging Wall Street.
1,000 Rubber Acres.
King George's Chapter.
BY ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright 1925)

ELINOR PATTERSON, of Chicago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Peterson and great-grand-daughter of old Joseph Medill, decided not to sit around, as rich American girls usually do, waiting for some young man to marry her, and thus bestow a career upon her.

She chose to do something in the meanwhile, and has achieved great success playing the part of the nun in "The Miracle."

THREE THINGS, yes, four, women can do better than men—singing, acting dancing, and patiently studying the stars. There is plenty of room for "a career," to say nothing of producing the entire human race in pain and sorrow, a job that would drive many men to suicide, after one experience.

THE FATHER and mother of this ambitious, intelligent girl are congratulated upon their good judgment, allowing their daughter to develop her talent, in spite of the fact that she doesn't "need the money."

HAPPY, BUSY day yesterday, in little old Wall Street. "Boiling and surging" describes the market. Two and a half million shares were bought and sold. Even the little curls market sold more than half a million shares. All records held in 1916 broken. A seat on the big exchange has sold for $125,000. More kinds of stock were sold than ever before, and for two hours after the market opened, stocks sold at the rate of 10,000 shares a minute—what you might call "a market." Even expensive gambling money, 5-1-2 per cent for call loans, couldn't discourage it.

Ask the sooty ghosts that fill the air in New street after the brokers go home.

LITTLE AND big concerns come forward with smiling faces to announce "increases." For the first nine months this year Western Union took in $10,000,000 more than last year. Otis Elevator made $500,000 more than a year ago. And the powerfully managed telephone company took in millions "extra." Telephone receipts are a gauge of national development.

LITTLE THINGS grow into big things. Not long ago, on the other side of the ocean, a man was giving his friends little red lumps of curious substance, saying: "Use this to rub out pencil marks." It was camouche, milky juice from a tropical tree, hardening when exposed to the air. Because it "rubbed out pencil marks" it was called "rubber." And to this day the camouche shoes we make for our feet we call rubbers, although we don't use them to rub out pencil marks.

LITTLE DID the man who gave away little pieces of rubber imagine that nations would struggle for control of earth's rubber supply, or that a quiet little man from Indiana, Harvey Firestone, would buy a million acres of African land in Liberia, to invest a hundred million dollars in a rubber plantation.

That's what Firestone is doing, to make the United States and its manufacturers independent of the British rubber control.

HIS MAJESTY, King George, allows it to be known that every day of his life he reads a chapter of the Bible. When he comes to the twenty-second chapter of St. Matthew he will find material for a whole week's thinking. All the way through he will realize, with carbonable self-complacency, how gentle modern kings are, compared with old kings, and how very temperate in their marriage enterprises.

RECORDS of the eloquent voice of William Jennings Bryan will be preserved "for all time" at the National Museum. How that voice will interest a civilized, educated man 50,000 years hence, if still audible! How the voice of an earnest Cro-Magnon would interest us today, if we could hear and understand it!

THE GOVERNMENT will take a census of "illiterates." Americans can't read or write.

A long list, it will include extremely useful citizens. If you could get a list of human beings that can read and write, but can't think, and of those that can't think and can't read, but DON'T WANT TO WORK, you would have a list of the really spoiled.

SENTIMENTALISTS FEEL that chemical warfare the more eversion that old knights in armor felt against powder and bullets.

When Bayard, the French abolitionist, "without fear and without reproach," captured a soldier with a sword in his hands, the man was immediately put to death. He was considered unfit to be treated as a soldier in arms, because he carried "an abominable, cruel, unsoldierly weapon."

The entire subject is ably discussed by Haldane, a real authority, in the book of "Callinicus," heretofore mentioned, published by Dutton & Co. This writer will send a copy of that book to each of the ninety-six Senators, upon a request to read it before deciding to deprive the United States, by any protocol or other agreement, of the right to do as it thinks best if war is forced upon us, either with chemicals or otherwise.

General Leonard Wood's Political Legacy

OCALA BANNER

The late President Wilson was severely criticized for not sending General Leonard Wood across the waters during our late World War unpleasantness and the general was pronounced a martyr by his partisans while urging him for the presidency.

He failed in obtaining the nomination and left a political legacy that has found its way into the courts.

Speaking of it Mr. Raymond Lorigan, the Washington correspondent of Labor says:

"The inside story of General Leonard Wood's campaign for the Republican nomination for president in 1920 has been told in a Chicago court.

"Colonel" William Cooper Proctor, a Cincinnati soap magnate, formed a syndicate to put the general across. One of the "stockholders," Colonel R. R. Sprague, defected and paid his half of a $500,000 syndicate and "Colonel" Proctor sued to recover.

"The jury found for "Colonel" Proctor and the latter is now preparing to go after the other members of the syndicate. He hopes to gather in about $600,000 from these "scooping" gentlemen.

"Thus the facts of this extremely interesting transaction have been uncovered, but it is significant that they have not been given much space in the daily press. Evidently the editors feel it is not advisable to permit the people to discover how much certain interests are willing to pay to secure control of our government.

"Colonel" Sprague counsel contends that the "syndicate" expended $2,435,000 in Wood's behalf. Other attorneys place the total at $1,750,000.

"It would appear that the "syndicate" was backing the "Old Guard" in the Republican party. The "Old Guard" was financed by the "House of Morgan."

"So the issue before the convention was whether the "syndicate" or the "House of Morgan" should name the Republican candidate.

"Harry Daugherty eventually persuaded the Morgan crowd to concentrate on Harding and the latter was nominated with Calvin Coolidge as his running mate.

"The correspondence produced at the trial shows that for a time after Harding's triumph the members of the "syndicate" sulked. There were intimations that they might open their purses for Cox, the Democratic candidate.

"But Wood" journeyed to Marion, breakfasted with Harding, announced that he had a "satisfactory interview" and the political skies cleared.

"With Harding in the White House, Wood was sent to the Philippines as governor general, a position which enabled him to "take care" of the financial interests which have investments in the islands.

MANNERS AND MOTOR CARS

MIAMI HERALD

It looks very much as if the automobile is about to destroy the last remnant of courtesy in the part of the people of the United States. A situation such as prevails in Miami is especially calculated to create virulent forms of the go-getter spirit, which is rather hard on manners.

It seems a little strange that a person who was taught in his youth to be deferential and obedient of the rights of others, will push ahead along a line of cars, the driver of each of which is just as eager as he is to reach a destination, and will then expect the whole lot to drop back in order that he may go ahead. It is usually the car that this form of activity creates resentment all along the line, and a lot of other people become impatient. The result is that the whole day is spoiled for scores of people.

Such incidents as this may be witnessed any morning by anyone who is trying to drive in Miami. City where there is a traffic congestion. The motor car seems to have a most deleterious influence upon manners.

If there is one place more than any other where courtesy should prevail it is in an automobile. Lack of it not only makes a disagreeable situation for other people, but endangers life and safety. Probably if everyone were as polite as he should be the whole traffic problem would be more easily solved.

It does no harm, even, for the officers to be courteous, although with conditions as they are here at present this is difficult. There is not enough appreciation on the part of the public of the difficult position which the traffic officer holds, and of the quickness of mind which is required. It is not at all strange that traffic officers sometimes become a little cross. At the same time they accomplish their task better if they keep an even temper.

There will be great need of good manners in Miami during the next few months. Everybody will get along better if everyone remembers that courtesy is the lubricant oil that makes the wheels of human progress turn smoothly. When the sand of impoliteness gets in there is bound to be trouble.

Finger Nails

Finger nails are little things. They cover a very small portion of the skin on the ends of the fingers. The fingers turning in, keep the nails out of sight most of the time. Then too, gloves are often worn and some persons carry their hands in their pockets or in muffs or otherwise make them invisible.

But finger nails may be the criterion of a person's character. If you are about to apply for a job, or propose to some beautiful woman, it is always a good idea to look at your finger nails first. A man with dirty finger nails is usually the kind whose accounts never balance. A man who polishes his nails but does not clean them is the kind who shines only the toes of his shoes and lets the heels go dirty. A girl who has questionable nails would doubtless sweep the dirt of a room behind the piano and leave it there for a month.

A certain New York manicurist in a recent interview says she judges much of a man's character by the condition of his nails. She says: "The worst nails belong to machinists and men who drive their own cars. On Monday morning I can usually tell whether a man has been playing golf over the week-end or fixing the engine of his car."

"If he is almost driving, his nails are likely to be badly broken. It is almost impossible to remove grease and machine oil that have got under the nails.

"One of the most unassuming men I ever meet over the manicure table produces Broadway's costliest musical comedies. He is an international authority on beautiful women. He has a manicure once a week. His clothes are always immaculate. But he never talks. In fact, he goes in and out so quietly that you hardly know he has passed.

"During conventions, the manicurist has an opportunity to learn a lot about men while she is filing their nails. When the bankers met recently they preached thrift. They practiced it, too. Only a few of them gave tips. And those who did were economical.

"Automobile salesmen, on the contrary, are generous and good-natured and so are steel men.

"Women's occupations also show in their nails. Stenographers and secretaries are likely to carry carbon stains on their fingers. If they come in for a manicure during the morning their finger tips sometimes show dust spots from typewriter keys.

"I can always tell women who do their own sewing by the peculiar shape of the second finger on the right hand. This comes from wearing a thimble. Milliners have rough fingers. Sometimes, too, I find a bit of feather under their nails.

"Brides and engaged girls are extravagant with manicures. They are particularly concerned about the left hand.

"Scientists have proved that everything you touch during the day leaves some trace in the deposits under the nail. This is why a manicurist could often aid in detecting criminals.

"Gamblers and men who play bridge constantly have the best nails in the world. They are more concerned about the appearance of their hands than actresses or prima donnas. And they give the most amazing tips.

"Traveling men, too, are fastidious about their nails. So are bankers, brokers, lawyer, physicians and musicians."

MORE HELPFUL than all wisdom is one draught of simple human pity that will not forsake us.—George Eliot.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

For some reason or other a good many stories of financial disasters have for their heroes or their central characters colored persons. For instance, there is the time-honored yarn of the mulatto cashier who told a black depositor "Do do trust had done et up dat money!" And one likewise recalls the pathetic narrative of the ancient negro who, on being told by his State bank examiner that banks had burst before and that no doubt in the future banks would continue to burst, sorrowfully replied: "Yas, sah, I reckon you's right! But, boss, dis is de first time I ever had one bust right in my face."

"I think of yet a third. An elderly person of color secured a job as janitor in a national bank in a North Carolina town. He put his savings on deposit in the institution, but after a few weeks withdrew the sum and transferred it to a rival bank across the street. News of this having reached the president's ears he sent for the old man.

"Uncle Ike," he said, "of course your money is your own to do with as you please, but don't you think it looks peculiar for you to be working here for us and keeping your money somewhere else? What's the idea, anyhow?"

"Well, Mist' Blanchard," said Uncle Ike, "I took notice dat you wears yore hat all de time you's in yore office. I ain't never seen your wadout you had yore hat clamped on yore head."

"What has my habit of wearing my hat constantly to do with the case?" asked the puzzled president.

"Mist' Blanchard," said Uncle Ike, "I ain't gwine tell you no lie. If you must know de truth, it's done make me on easy. You look so much like a man dat, 'fixin' to go 'way some-whar' in a hurry!"

Mrs. Langlen's conduct in throwing down her racquet in the middle of the game and leaving the court. The spectators, however, appear to have regarded the matter in a different light. They gave her "sympathetic applause" as she stalked indignantly away. And the next morning "she raised to herself a lasting monument in Australia." Even desperation in tournament play would hardly warrant a step so likely to throw confusion for a partner. In a mere exhibition match one is likely to share Count Salm's feeling of resentment, though his undiplomatic criticisms of her play were ungentle.

MANNERS IN TENNIS

NEW YORK TIMES

The dispatch describing Suzanne Lenglen's "magnanimous conduct" toward a tennis partner whose game was not so efficient as her own is somewhat mystifying. It seems that Count Salm, her partner, had been playing badly, and that Mrs. Lenglen, "ignoring him," covered the whole court herself. Even desperation in tournament play would hardly warrant a step so likely to throw confusion for a partner. In a mere exhibition match one is likely to share Count Salm's feeling of resentment, though his undiplomatic criticisms of her play were ungentle.

Much more to be considered was

It seems a little strange that a person who was taught in his youth to be deferential and obedient of the rights of others, will push ahead along a line of cars, the driver of each of which is just as eager as he is to reach a destination, and will then expect the whole lot to drop back in order that he may go ahead. It is usually the car that this form of activity creates resentment all along the line, and a lot of other people become impatient. The result is that the whole day is spoiled for scores of people.

Such incidents as this may be witnessed any morning by anyone who is trying to drive in Miami. City where there is a traffic congestion. The motor car seems to have a most deleterious influence upon manners.

If there is one place more than any other where courtesy should prevail it is in an automobile. Lack of it not only makes a disagreeable situation for other people, but endangers life and safety. Probably if everyone were as polite as he should be the whole traffic problem would be more easily solved.

It does no harm, even, for the officers to be courteous, although with conditions as they are here at present this is difficult. There is not enough appreciation on the part of the public of the difficult position which the traffic officer holds, and of the quickness of mind which is required. It is not at all strange that traffic officers sometimes become a little cross. At the same time they accomplish their task better if they keep an even temper.

There will be great need of good manners in Miami during the next few months. Everybody will get along better if everyone remembers that courtesy is the lubricant oil that makes the wheels of human progress turn smoothly. When the sand of impoliteness gets in there is bound to be trouble.

THE REAL PLOT AGAINST FLORIDA

NEW YORK WORLD

Gov. Martin of Florida tells a luncheon conference at the Waldorf that his state is grossly abused. It is being pictured as a land of J. Rufus Wallingford, where boobah and come-ons are daily fleeced by astute land-pirates. Ohio bankers have paid for advertisements warning would-be speculators, the Mayor of Indianapolis has held a demonstration to support an investment in Florida, and Illinois papers delight in printing stories of Florida frauds. Gov. Martin wants it stopped.

Unfortunately for the Governor, his own luncheon speakers betrayed an uneasy sense that all was not well. One man reported that 1,200 curbstone brokers had been run out of Florida in a week. Senator du Pont wanted Florida's blighting laws revoked against fraudulent promoters. "I'd bag about four of them," he said, "and give them the limit, to discourage the rest." Authentic reports tell of 500,000 building lots boomed for

This Week At The Woman's Club

When the Program Committee of the Woman's Club began its work for the new year, it was presented to them that many members were unable on account of business to attend afternoon meetings, and were thus practically deprived of much that was implied as their privilege when they became club members. After much thought it was decided to hold a series of evening meetings this winter, hoping not only to meet this situation, but to bring all club members together in a purely social way, with no business features at all to enter in.

The first of these evening affairs will be held in the club house at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening under the direction of the Music Department. All club members of all departments are invited, and each one may invite a gentleman escort. It is clearly understood that these meetings are for club women only. There are many other occasions which are open to lady visitors in the city, but these evening meetings are strictly for members.

On Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a garden circle will be organized at the Woman's club. Members of any and all departments are eligible, but the one necessary qualification must be that of a genuine garden interest, and some evidence of it in the way of a home plot set to a garden.

At 3:30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, the first meeting of the Welfare Department will be held, with Mrs. W. L. Henley, its efficient new chairman presiding. It is most earnestly requested that all club women expecting to work with this department be present promptly at the hour, as definite plans for the coming months will be discussed, a short program given, and a social hour which it is hoped will make for better acquaintance.

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock a Civic Dinner will be served at the Woman's Club by a competent committee of experienced home caterers. It is the object of this occasion to bring together the civic agencies of Sanford, with a view to closer co-ordination in their work, and representatives of all such organizations will be present. The immediate subject for discussion will be the "Recreation Problem in Sanford for this Winter," and the working out of a practical and definite program. The committee is prepared to serve a large number of men and women, and tickets are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce and from Mrs. R. A. Newman. The Chamber of Commerce and Woman's Club are working together, and their speakers will be announced within a day or so.

On Saturday the usual chorus practice will be held at 3:30 o'clock.

Enjoy Eating

If your blood is pure~ You like to eat

REMEMBER how you used to come in from play hungry as a bear? But you could hardly wait until Dad filled your plate!

And didn't everything taste good! Seemed like you never would get enough. Didn't you feel good those days? Yes, they were the red blooded days.

Why isn't your appetite like that now? Why don't you like to eat just the same as you did in those days? Here's the reason—your system is simply starving for the lack of rich, red blood! You've lost your appetite because you've lost your red blood power. No red blood nourishment for the tissues of your body.

Build up your blood to where it is pure and red and rich and watch that appetite come back! S. S. S. is the way to do it! S. S. S. helps Nature build red blood cells—builds them by the millions!

You'll get hungry and you'll enjoy eating when S. S. S. helps Nature build pure red cells in that weak blood of yours. And you'll look better—your skin will be clear and unblemished—your flesh will become firm and solid—strength and power will come to your flabby muscles—you'll be yourself again.

S. S. S. will bring back the joy of eating—the joy of living. It's done it for thousands for generations. It's going to do it for you, too. Get S. S. S. at your druggist. The larger bottle is more economical.

Missionary Society Will Meet Tonight

The Women's Missionary Meeting of the Palatka District will meet at the Sanford Methodist Church at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening. There will also be a business meeting at the Church on Tuesday morning beginning at 9 o'clock.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

Sanford Holds Plant City Three Quarters But Loses Game 13-0

Early Season Deadlock Has Been Established In South By Conference Grid Teams

Adverse Breaks Of Game Are Responsible For Victory of Visitors Who Score Two Times In The Last Period

Entzinger's Work Proves Outstanding

Riles and Green Star For Plant City While Barber, Russell Perform Brilliantly

By HARLAN W. KELLEY

Holding the heavier and superior Plant City football team to a scoreless tie for three periods at Municipal Athletic Field Saturday, Sanford High School finally suffered defeat by the score of 13 to 0, due to two adverse breaks of the game late in the third quarter. The weather was exceedingly hot and not especially conducive to good football, but the fight and spirit displayed by both teams, particularly Sanford's struggle against overwhelming odds, made it a very interesting and exciting contest. The crowd was not as large as the same which witnessed the St. Cloud game, but the loss in attendance was probably due to the unfavorable weather.

The game brought out several outstanding stars, Entzinger, Barber and Russell for Sanford, and Riles and Green for Plant City. Riles time and again crashed through the Sanford line and skirted its ends, and it was only the excellent defensive work of Entzinger in backing up the line that prevented him from scoring four or five touchdowns. Green was wide awake at all times and it was he who intercepted a Sanford forward pass in the last period and raced through a broken field for a touchdown.

The work of Entzinger of Sanford, however, was marvelous. He was an entire team in himself. His offensive game was handicapped considerably by the excellent work of the heavier and better balanced line of Plant City, but in spite of that fact he often crashed through for good gains. It was his defensive game, however, which will not soon be forgotten. He often made five or six tackles in succession, stopping his man when it seemed he had an open field for a touchdown. His fighting spirit and that of his team mate, "Red" Barber, were an inspiration to the team.

Capt. Russell was fighting hard from start to finish and while, like his fellow wingman, Booth, he was slow in getting down the field under punts allowing them to be run back further than was necessary, his hard tackles and breaking up of end runs were very commendable. Barber got away for several beautiful runs, one of which, but for a fumble, might have resulted in a touchdown. His punts were also fairly good, but his ends had under a little faster in getting down under them, they might have gained much yardage late in the fourth period he knocked down a Plant City pass by a marvelous leap into the air. The pass was just about to enter into the arms of a waiting opponent, who had an open field for a touchdown.

Clyde Booth played an excellent game at center until he was injured and replaced by Pope, who played a game much improved over that of last Saturday, getting off his passes in good shape with no cause for fumbling. Whitfield, Grier, and Cottingham played their usual good games in the line, holding when the holding was important.

The Game. Plant City won the toss and Capt. Carter chose to receive. Cottingham kicked off to Spencer who stopped the ball on his 47 yard line. On the first play, McDonnell made 20 yards off left tackle. Donne made two yards. Sparkman made one yard through center. Donne made no gain. Barber again hit the line, but could not gain and the ball was given to Sanford on its 30 yard line.

Thompson was stopped with no gain. Entzinger made five yards through right guard. Thompson made 10 yards off right tackle for first down. Entzinger hit right guard for one yard. Entzinger carried the ball outside on Sanford's 45 yard line. Entzinger lost five yards on a criss play. Barber punted and it was returned by Boone to Plant City's 35 yard line. Riles went in for McDonnell. Sparkman made two yards. Riles made four yards off right tackle. Green made one yard. Sparkman punted out of bounds on Sanford's five yard line.

Entzinger punted to his own 30 yard line and Riles returned it five yards. Clyde Booth was injured on the play and Pope went in to play center. Abbott went in for Boone for Plant City. Riles made two yards. Abbott made one yard. Abbott's pass was incomplete. Green's drop kick from the 30 yard line failed. Sanford's ball on its own 20-yard line.

Barber made four yards off right tackle. Entzinger made one yard. Thompson was stopped for no gain. On Entzinger's punt, Plant City was penalized 15 yards for clubbing and it was first down for Sanford.

End of quarter. Score Sanford 0, Plant City 0.

Second Quarter. Barber no gain, Entzinger also no gain. Thompson made five yards. On Entzinger's fumble on an attempt at a punt, he picked up the ball and ran but lacked two feet of making the distance. It was Plant City's ball. Riles made one yard. Abbott also made one yard. King intercepted Abbott's pass but dropped it and it was declared incomplete. Sparkman punted to Entzinger on Sanford's 13 yard line. Entzinger was hurt and time was taken out, but he resumed play.

On a fake punt, Entzinger made one yard. Strickland went in for Barber. Barber got off a beautiful punt, but Plant City was off side and the ball was brought back and Plant City penalized five yards. Barber's kick was not so good this time and it went to Plant City on Sanford's 26-yard line.

Sparkman made no gain. Abbott made one yard. Strickland went in for Barber. Abbott's pass was incomplete. Pope blocked Green's drop kick and Cottingham fell on it for Sanford on its own 30 yard line. Thompson made one yard. Entzinger made four yards. Barber made a beautiful run of 35 yards to Plant City's 30 yard line. Thompson's pass was incomplete.

Thompson made one yard. Yancey went in for Dutton. Entzinger lost one yard on a criss play. Entzinger's drop kick fell short and it was Plant City's ball on its own 10-yard line. Riles made four yards. Green made one yard at the half ended with the ball in Plant City's possession on the 15 yard line.

Score at end of half, Sanford 0, Plant City 0.

Third Quarter. Plant City kicked to Cottingham on his own 30-yard line. Entzinger fumbled, but recovered for a five yard loss. Plant City was off side on the next play and was penalized five yards. Thompson made four yards. Entzinger made one yard. Barber punted to Abbott on his 30 yard line and he returned it 10 yards. Riles made nine yards. Sparkman made no gain. Green made one yard and first down.

Abbott made five yards. Riles made 14 yards. Riles was stopped on a hard tackle by Russell for one yard. Riles made three yards. Barber went in for Simmons. Riles made one yard. Riles made six yards and first down on Sanford's 34 yard line. Booth was hurt, but he resumed play. Riles made four yards. Cottingham centered RB. Entzinger held Riles to one yard. Entzinger nailed Sparkman for no gain, and it was Sanford's ball.

Barber punted out of bounds to Sanford's 35 yard line. Riles made five yards, being stopped by Entzinger with a clear field ahead of him. Entzinger again held Riles to two yards. Plant City was off-side and was penalized five yards. Barber knocked down Abbott's pass. It was a wonderful play, worthy of any college star.

End of third quarter. Score, Sanford 0, Plant City 0.

Fourth Quarter. Taylor went in for Burney. The ball was on Sanford's 30-yard line. Green's drop kick failed and it was Sanford's ball on its own 20 yard line. Barber made one yard. Entzinger lost two yards left end. Barber punted 25 yards to Riles who returned it to Sanford's two yard line. Abbott made one yard. Riles barely pushed it over for the first score of the game. Green's place kick failed.

Sanford 0, Plant City 6.

Plant City kicked off to Yancey on Sanford's 35 yard line. Green intercepted Thompson's pass and returned 45 yards to a touchdown. Green kicked his own goal.

Sanford 0, Plant City 13.

Lingering Note the Future Defiance Is Indicated by Trend of Pirate Champlains; Veteran Gives Way to Youth

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—There was a lingering note of future defiance in the trend of Bill McKechie's conquering host, as the retreating steps of world's armies echoed faintly night along the corridors of major league baseball.

For Pittsburgh was unwilling to stop in acclaiming its National League heroes as a great club which had been good enough and game enough to beat Walter Johnson and a steadily Washington machine. The Pennsylvania city and Honus Wagner could look beyond the glory of a snubbing triumph and see the beginning of a new dynasty, supplanting the four year National League rule of John McGraw's Giants, swept along on the flying feet of Max Carey, under the propulsion of Hazen Cuyler's powerful stick, and supported by the sturdy defenses of Traynor, Wright, McInnis and Smith.

Youth Rules Diamond. It was no more sentimental vision painted into the imagination by the brush of rampant world's series enthusiasm, but the cool and calculating conclusion of the critic who foresaw that youth, ribbed with the steel of veteran support, in both infield and outfield, had come back to wield the sceptre on the diamond.

In the series just completed, Washington, with a team of rejuvenated castoffs, called back from a glorious past enough of skill and power to check the march of time for a spell. But the hand of fate had merely written a gallant flash to the career of a veteran machine which was compelled to step aside to permit vigorous, ambitious youth to rush by. A new order of things was decreed and Bill McKechie rises to command the baseball decks with a baseball bat-talion which Pittsburgh has every right to expect will continue to rule the base realm in spite of a short challenge from an even younger Giant, a Redland lung well fortified with good pitching, and a threatening Boston Brave and just other prospecting puriners.

Rabbit Ball Game. In spite of the home run hitting which prevailed in the recent series, baseball critics are agreed that the Jack Rabbit ball has come from the game, at least until popular fancy calls for another era of home run clotting. The record-breaking total of circuit-clout this year, coupled with injuries to players, decreed its passing. In the era, decreed its passing, in the change, a Pittsburgh team which combined enough old baseball and enough new baseball to profit by the move at a critical period of the race, appears well equipped to ride the crest of National League competition next summer.

In addition to being one of the youngest teams, in point of average age, to attain the highest pinnacle on the diamond, McGraw's team this year was also the fastest in baseball and the hardest hitting outfit in the National League. The Buccaneers watched home thefts against base hits with a frequency which recalled Giant machine of a few years ago, when McGraw annually obtained a corner on the National League speed market. And, in the end, the speed kings from Pittsburgh substantiated the wildling club so readily that the Pirate clan next spring

New ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—(AP)—An early season deadlock for the leadership of the Southern conference was established by victories for four teams Saturday, while two others were not in a position to leave a position secure for at least a week.

Alabama, Georgia Tech, Tulane and Virginia, by winning increased their standing inside the conference to two games won and none lost. Auburn and North Carolina were already credited with two victories. Auburn's 33 to 0 reverse at the hands of Texas had no effect on its conference standing and North Carolina was idle for the day.

Alabama showed a superiority over Sewanee more pronounced than had been forecast, the Crimson outshining the Purple 27 to 0. Georgia Tech turned Florida back 23 to 7, showing no letup in the drive uncovered against Penn State a week before. These two games set the stage for the game between the conference champions and Volter jackets at Atlanta next Saturday.

Tulane came back to win from the Mississippi A. & M. comaration of Meeks and Holloway after the Aggie were out in front with a field goal in the first few minutes of play. The Greenbacks finished with a score of 25 to 3 and are all set for an assault on a Western stronghold in the person of Northwestern in Chicago Saturday.

Virginia was forced to extend itself to defeat Virginia Military Institute but came through 18 to 10 and remained very much in the running for ultimate honors. Vanderbilt was the favorite over Tennessee but the Commodores' 14 to 0 defeat of the Volunteers was more than railbirds had predicted will hold a big advantage over their field if the jumpy of the railbirds have been sufficiently shortened to bring back baseball to the plane it occupied prior to the circuit smashing epidemic.

Stove League to Talk. The winter league will have plenty of trades and lineup shifts to discuss this winter, and the Pirates will not be altogether left out of round table discussion. The left side of McKechie's infield is expected to be kept intact, with Traynor and Wright at third and McClellan at first, and the right side to do some tall winter bargaining about first and second base.

A number of regular players for both positions will call upon Athletics to decide against youth and ambition on one side and the wisdom of two veterans who served him in the crises of both the National League race and the world's series. Critics, generally, point it was the brazen influence of Stuffy McInnis at first base which enabled the Pirates to pull the shingles together and rescue the series while Johnny Knottling, called hero of bygone days, occasionally saved the club in the closing weeks of the pennant drive when he leaped into a breach at second base during the final drive of the Buccaneers through the center.

Moore and Grantham are younger than Ransinger and Melford. On the other hand, the latter are recognized as great "money players." They came to McKechie's rescue at the crucial hours of the season, but he may decide now that the younger pair should get the call, because he owes it to them and the club to prepare for the future.

For the Information of the Public

Official notice has been served on this company that a strike has been ordered by the general committee of the Orders of Railroad Telegraphers among its members employed by the Atlantic Coast Line to become effective at 4 P. M. October 13. This is the culmination of the refusal of that organization to accept a decision by the United States Railroad Labor Board denying the demands of the organization for a general increase in wages app for annual vacation of two weeks with pay.

Officers of the Atlantic Coast Line appeared as ordered; but the telegraphers' organization declined to appear before the Board in accordance with the Board's instructions and did not appear. This the Labor Board decided three members to the property of the whole situation; one representing the public who chairman of the United States Railroad Labor Board, one representing the telegraphers and one representing the railroads. This section of the conducted hearings at Wilmington, October 12 and 13 prior to the strike ballot had been distributed to the members of the organization, the Wilmington hearing representing the whole situation, informed by Board members that while the Board would co-operate in making the proposed arbitration, such co-operation would not be allowed to interfere with the law which the organization had made for handling the matter on its account.

The Labor Board decided that the demands of the organization for a General Increase of wages and for a vacation rule were not justified. It instructed both parties to look into the question of eliminating inequalities in the pay of some positions. For this purpose conferences were held by the Atlantic Line with representatives of the Telegraphers in an effort to reach an amicable settlement of this issue, remanded by the Labor Board, and the Atlantic Coast Line, after negotiations lasting for a period of five weeks made an offer to adjust the rates of pay of a substantial number of positions involved.

This offer was refused by representatives of the Telegraphers, who, on September 16th broke off negotiations with the statement that they would not further discuss the question of removing inequalities but would demand again a general increase and vacation for all men, both of which demands had been found to be unwarranted by the
