Dr. Garwood Is Appointed Acting Dean At Stetson

DELAND, Aug. 2—(Special)—Dr. H. C. Garwood, member of long standing of the faculty of Stetson University, has been appointed to the position of acting dean of the institution, it was announced today by President W. S. Allen. Dr. Garwood fills the vacancy left by Dean Benson W. Davis, who resigned Tuesday to accept a position at Meredith College.

The new dean, whose appointment will be effective on Sept. 1, is an alumnus of Stetson, having received the bachelor of arts degree here in 1913. He attended the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary to obtain the masters degree in 1917, and graduated from Yale University in 1924 with the Ph. D. recognition.

After serving as pastor of the Hinton Memorial Baptist Church for three years, he began his long career as a member of the Stetson faculty. He has been head of the Department of Bible since 1931, and last Spring was appointed by President Allen to the chairmanship of the division of religion.

In addition to his duties as acting dean for the coming year, Dr. Garwood will serve as professor of religion, the announcement indicated.

2 Canadians Killed In Crash Of Bomber

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Capt. Alfred J. Williams, of Winnipeg, pilot and radio operator of a Canadian bomber, was killed Sunday night by the crash of his plane on the city's outskirts.

An Upset Schedule

It may be too early yet to say that the German war machine has bogged down on the steppes of Russia, or that the Red army has delivered any decisive blow against Hitler, or that the war will be over by Christmas, but it is fairly clear by now that at least the Nazi timetable has been radically and dangerously upset and that the Allied forces for the first time since the war began have had a real break in their favor.

It was variously announced at the beginning of the attack on Russia that Hitler would be in Moscow in three weeks and that the vast stretches of the entire Union of Soviet Socialist Republics would be under German domination by the first of August. Even the most optimistic of the neutral military experts could not see where the Russians could hold out until Fall.

And yet after six weeks of furious fighting in which the assertions from both sides have rivaled each other in the exaggeration of their claims and in their obvious falsity and where even today the Russians claim as many successes for themselves as the Germans, one fact stands out above all others, proving that this is no shadow boxing, the fight is still going on, the Germans are not yet in Moscow, and Russian resistance, rather than breaking, is stiffening all along the line.

This is better news than we realize for the British and indeed for all the democracies fighting aggression everywhere. Every German soldier killed on the Russian front is one German less for the British to contend with when and if an invasion of England is attempted. Every plane and every tank destroyed on the road to Moscow is as good as another plane or tank built in American factories. Every gallon of oil burned on the eastern front brings Germany one step nearer to final exhaustion of her oil reserves.

And so there is cause for real rejoicing in Britain and America. The war may not be won in Russia but it will be made vastly easier to win in the months and years that lie immediately ahead.

Next Winter

Although the nation as a whole may not expect "business as usual" throughout the period of the emergency, there is no reason as far as we can see why next winter should not bring its usual quota of tourists to Florida or why Florida concerns, which keep abreast of the times, should not reap as rich a harvest from our annual visitors as ever before.

All indications point to a more general expenditure of vacation money this summer than is usual at this time of year. "Testimony of resort keepers and the representatives of transportation agencies," writes Charles F. Spears for the North American Newspaper Alliance, "is that the American people are vacationing more extensively this year than before."

Employees in defense industries, as well as the stockholders in big corporations which have rich defense contracts, are making more money now than they have for many years. With the curtailment in the production of automobiles, radios, fridges and other manufactured articles for civilian use, they are hard put to it to find something to buy with their new found wealth. There is no reason to believe a sizeable number of them will not invest in travel.

And so for this, and other reasons, the large number of mothers' sons from other states stationed in Florida camps, the need for a few days of rest from the arduous labors of the defense program, and all the usual reasons which have been bringing tourists to Florida for years, we believe Florida is going to have the biggest season ever next winter, and that those resort areas will be rewarded which go after the tourists.

WHATEVER THE MERITS to the proposal to extend the service term of army selectees beyond the year of enlistment, Gen. George C. Marshall is right in his contention that "we cannot build an army if it is to be used as a political club." The chief of staff was alluding to a movement for petitions to congress, apparently inspired in Washington, from selectees urging that they be released at the end of the year. You surely can't build an army that way. These young men are soldiers. The politicians should leave them alone, instead of undermining discipline, morale and attention to the duty at hand.—Miami Herald.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Federal Communications Commission, the Home Owners Loan Corporation (which has less than a thousand of its 7,800 employees here), the Bureau of Census, a half a dozen agencies in Agriculture and Interior, and the Securities and Exchange Commission are just a few that have been singled out by congressmen or other officials for removal to other cities.

But decentralization by transferring agencies and bureaus to the hinterlands isn't the only scheme that has been advanced. Several years ago, the National Resources Council made out with a plan to scatter 13 "regional capitals" over the United States, locating them roughly at the same points where the Federal Reserve banks are located.

Even President Roosevelt's recent conference has heard the first rumblings of a skirmish. It came out of the talk of moving the Interstate Commerce Commission to Chicago—a move for which the ICC has no stomach—but which has been suggested on the floor of Congress with the argument that the ICC should keep just as close an eye, if not a closer one, on the railroads and ease from Chicago as from Washington. Asked to comment, the President only replied with another query: Why pick on the poor old ICC?

Just what the something that has to be done to relieve the Washington situation will be is not clear. Aside from pushing decentralization of non-governmental offices to suburban Virginia and Maryland and announcing that the regional forestry offices will be moved out of here, the President has taken no definite action. He has, however, indicated that he is leaning toward the latter plan.

THE HEMISPHERE DEFENSE

Breach Of Faith In Draft Act Charged

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Chairman Walsh, (D., Mass.) of the powerful Senate Naval Affairs Committee, charged Sunday that the selective service act was adopted under false pretenses and that President Roosevelt's foreign policy is operated "to lead us by day into the war." He directed his blast against the Administration as the Senate prepared to resume consideration today of a compromise bill which would extend the service of selectees, National Guardsmen and reservists for 18 months. The War Department had asked that the trainees be kept in service for the duration, but the Senate Military Affairs Committee rebuffed.

German Losses Are Listed In Newspaper

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Moscow radio said Sunday a four-page tabloid German-language newspaper, issued by the Red Army and describing German losses as more than 1,500,000 in the first month of the war, is being dropped by Soviet planes on Nazi positions. The paper has given German tank losses about the same. The radio, heard here by CBS, said the paper was liberally illustrated to persuade German soldiers to abandon Hitler and come over to the Soviets lest they perish.

Smolensk Cleanup In Final Stages

Encirclement, Destruction Of Reds Near Kiev Claimed

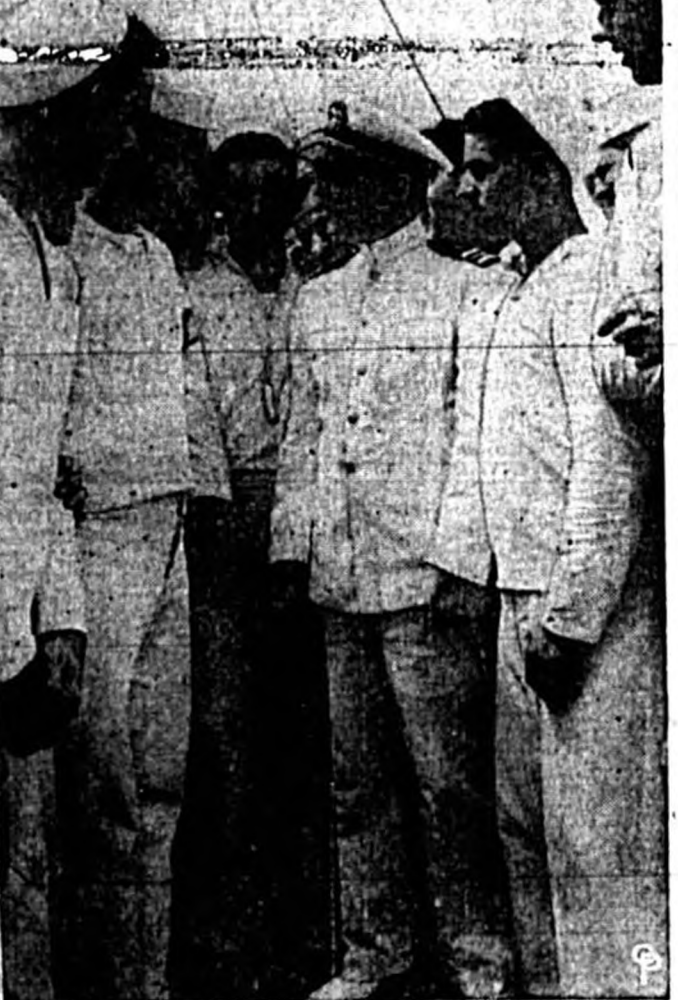

German panzer forces have driven a new 70-mile deep salient into the heart of the Soviet defense system between Moscow and Leningrad, the Russians acknowledged today, and Berlin reported the 45-day-old conflict now had developed into two vast battles of annihilation.

Nazi military dispatches said the encirclement and destruction of large Red Army forces south of Kiev, Ukraine capital, was well under way and indicated the clean-up in the bloody Smolensk sector was in the final stages.

The German offensive into the Ukraine, parallel drives directed at the encirclement of Kiev appeared yesterday to be giving the Russians some concern, but they were indications that the invaders' pressure had been relaxed somewhat in other theaters.

This was suggested by the Nazis themselves in making it clear that the conquest of the Ukraine was for the moment objective, apparently taking precedence over the thus far successful campaign at the Moscow approaches about Smolensk, and by their hints that an assault of extraordinary violence was in preparation in the south.

Sea Island Cotton To Be Offered As Silk Substitute

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 5 (Special).—Florida Sea Island cotton will be offered to the federal government as a substitute for silk, according to instructions issued today by Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo to William L. Wilson, director of the Sea Island Cotton Bureau.

Reports of a shortage of silk and of women ridding department stores all over the country for supplies of silk stockings and other wardrobe items prompted Commissioner Mayo to take immediate action. He instructed Director Wilson to get in touch with the proper federal authorities, advise them of the present Sea Island cotton crop in Florida and offer the government this crop as a substitute for silk wherever it is possible to use it.

Nation Faces New Highs In Living Costs

Henderson Testifies Government Curb On Inflation To Be Tremendous Job

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Leon Henderson, head of the office of price administration today, told Congress the nation faces the "most serious and most pronounced increase in the cost of living" even if the administration's price-control bill becomes law.

Testifying before the House banking committee, Henderson asserted that even with the powers the bill would confer, the government would have a "tremendous job" in trying to prevent the country's economy from entering an inflationary stage.

The steepest tax bill in the nation's history, designed to raise about $3,200,000,000 to help finance the defense program, was passed by the House yesterday after an overwhelming majority after being stripped of a provision requiring marriage persons to file joint income tax returns.

Elimination of the joint return provision lopped about $323,000,000 from the bill's originally estimated yield. (By filing separate returns, married couples sometimes pay lower taxes.)

President Roosevelt had appealed for modification of the joint return provision to exempt earned income from such returns.

Members of the ways and means committee and other legislators warned the house that elimination of the joint return provision would inevitably mean higher individual income taxes to compensate for the loss.

On the other hand, opponents of the provision contended it was a blow at women's rights, that it was unconstitutional and unfair.
