"Edison Light" Gets Set Back In Report By Fort Myers Man

Dispelling persistent rumors that the bright light which appears to the west in the southwest of this city every night is the electric memorial to Thomas A. Edison in the content of the information received by Sanford from the managing editor of a newspaper at Fort Myers at the solicitation of the local chamber of commerce.

There is no such thing as the "Edison Memorial Light." At least no one in Fort Myers knows anything of it except what he has gleaned in "out-of-town papers" from friends and visitors to the city.

The story is that citizens of the "City of Palms," wishing to honor and perpetuate the memory of their late distinguished winter resident, decided that the tribute should relate to electricity.

Someone allegedly hit on the idea of installing a powerful light into the heavens each night at the end of a mile long "cable" which could be hoisted in with the light every morning.

That story spread like wildfire during the past few weeks for the reason that a bright light was reported almost every night toward the southwest. The light is one of the planets in our system have discovered by watching the "light" or planet move slowly under the horizon.

Commissioners Hear Complaints On License

Expecting another large audience today looked toward Monday night when at 7:30 o'clock they will take what has proven to be a vexing problem in that many merchants are protesting against the recently enacted occupational license ordinance.

Last Monday night, over 50 business men appeared at a regular meeting of the Commission to nod their approval of the complaints and suggestions made by H. E. Weekly, L. C. Kinard, and Forrest Gatchel as representative of the Sanford Independent Grocers' Association.

The Commissioners told the group that they would consider the matter next Monday night, and that all persons having a complaint to make must do so in writing. The complaint must include the cost of the protesting merchant's license for the past three years; the amount that has been levied against him for personal taxes; and the value of each type of merchandise he carries in stock.

"As soon as I get them," is the answer which County Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins was giving to a score of persons who called at his Court House office today to ask, "When can I get my 1934 automobile license tag?"

They had not arrived here today, and Mr. Jenkins was in the dark as to their probable appearance. All tags were supposed to go on sale yesterday but for some reason a delay has resulted.

Trade Body Will Stage Dinner For Officials

Believing that many recent accomplishments of the City Commissioners and County Commissioners are worthy of public acclaim, the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will stage a testimonial supper in honor of both groups, the city clerk and county clerk, and their wives next Friday night.

The affair is to be held at the Episcopal Parish House, with Mrs. Pearl Harrell of the Montrose Hotel catering. The public is invited to attend this testimonial supper which will include entertainment. Tickets may be purchased at the City Hall, and it is requested that reservations be made in advance.

A joint committee representing Kiwanis, Rotary, and Lions Club will combine with the Celebrations and Entertainment Committee of the trade body to stage this event. First meeting of the organized committee will be held at the City Hall Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

Mr. Ford's Secrets

The Ford Motor Company has long been one of the mysteries of the business world. Like an old fox, Mr. Ford kept entirely to himself...

For the first time figures have been released by Ford officials through the magazine Fortune which detail some of their more general fiscal secrets...

One of the most amazing statements in the whole article indicated that the Ford company must produce and sell 600,000 cars a year before it can make a profit...

The Ford Company is quoted as saying that labor costs a car are equal to one day's pay for sixteen men and that this amount is 15 per cent of total production costs...

"Fortune" gives the dollar sales of the Ford company since 1927, figures which are said to be official. They follow:

Table with 2 columns: Year (1927-1932) and Sales ($347,201,645.97 to $258,968,053.96)

Figures concerning profits and losses of the Ford Company, the magazine states, are taken from the annual balance sheet, which is filed in Massachusetts...

Table with 3 columns: Item (Ford lost, Ford made), Profit or loss, and Year (1927-1932)

Asking "Is Ford Through?" "Fortune" says "he is not and neither is the Ford Motor Company. They have too much money, too much energy and build too good a car."

Calling it "the most famous hoax since U. S. Industry," the magazine publishes a table of Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth sales since 1926...

Aid For The Schools

"Review of educational conditions," says Dr. Kersey, "emphasizes the necessity of an increased participation by the national government in school financing..."

"Because certain phases of education also have more definite relationship with national rather than local life they should rely more largely upon Federal support..."

It is extremely doubtful if Congress will be able to take any definite action on the school problem which will materially relieve the situation...

1ST MONEY WAR REVOLVED ABOUT YOUNG HAMILTON

1st Treasury Head Was Object Of Attacks By Many Colonists

EDITORIAL NOTE: Colorful controversies have centered about the United States dollar, and overlaid the groups in American history have been a part of them...

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The very first big "money battle" in the U. S. came right after adoption of the constitution...

Colonies which had revolted against King George's tax and stamp act were not disposed to extend themselves in collecting taxes requested by Congress...

But for the enmity of France toward England the credit of the American patriots would have been almost nil in Europe...

There was not enough free capital in America to float large domestic loans although about $60,000,000 in paper money, actually worth about $30,000,000, was secured in such a way...

So, the continental congress and colonies together issued about $450,000,000 in paper money, and some historians believe harassed officials of the congress may have issued even more surreptitiously...

Not made good by any power of the congress to tax, this currency began to depreciate in a few months. Near the end it was used to paper barber shops, and sailors, paid off in bundles of it, made suits of clothes from the tattered bills...

"Not worth a continental" had been a stock expression since and to this day continental currency has been a standard example used by writers on monetary questions...

After the revolution there were still contacts over inflation in several colonies including Massachusetts, where Daniel Shays led his insurrection for credit money...

Into such a situation Hamilton stepped. Regarded as an extreme federalist who perhaps favored monarchy, his policies were viewed with suspicion by zealous "states rights" men who feared even a separate national capital would be a walled city from which would swarm soldiers to oppress the individual states...

His plan to pay holders of depreciated government certificates the full face value plus interest was contrary to popular feeling because it was known speculators...

Liv. Oak have arrived in the city and will make Sanford their future home. Mr. Smoot will have charge of the Western Union Telegraph office, a position recently resigned by Mr. Hoff...

The famous Tampa Bay Hotel will be formally opened in Tampa for the season on Friday, Dec. 8. From now on the streets of Florida's interior metropolises, Gainesville, will be illuminated by current from its new municipal plant, one of the largest and most modern in the south.

The Geneva P. T. A. held its regular meeting for November Wednesday evening with Mrs. D. H. Levy presiding. The meeting opened with a song by the assembly, "America The Beautiful," followed by a Thanksgiving program. After a short business meeting the following program was given by the program chairman, Mrs. Mayme Sieg.

Talk, Daily food requirements for the family—Mrs. Dorothy... were buying up all the government paper they could find from the ignorant and uninformed. But his plan was...

Southern states opposed his plan for the federal government to assume state debts as a means of solidifying national credit. The state debt was largely northern, as the southern states had financed their war expenditures by taxation at the sacrifice of their citizens. But Hamilton won by a "horse trade" which located the national capital well to the South, national capital well to the South, between Maryland and Virginia.

Strict constitutionalists and those afraid of a federal money monopoly, including Jefferson and Madison, opposed his plan for a United States Bank. Hamilton won on that, too, although in the senate there were about three affirmative votes South of Maryland.

Although he preferred the single gold standard, Hamilton recognized that most of the coins in circulation were silver, and so the Mint Act of 1792 provided for a bimetallic standard, with the gold-silver ratio at 15 to 1.

YESTERDAY, Today or Next Week

WHEN an advertiser puts his trade-mark on a product and his money behind it, he wraps his reputation into the package. That is why the purchaser of advertised goods can take an unvarying standard of quality for granted.

Look through the advertising columns of this newspaper and notice the number of established products you see listed there. As you read the name of each one, you form an instant mental picture. Its size, color, shape, flavor and quality are known factors, as staple as wheat. You know that whether you buy the article today or next week, it will be precisely what you want—the same uniformly good product that gave you satisfaction when last you used it.

That is one of the tremendous advantages that advertising has brought you as a consumer. You know before you buy that the maker whose business success is tied up with his product, will see that quality is maintained. You know that many of the advertised articles will be to improve it—to give you even greater value for your money.

You can trust advertising.

MOST DIVORCES ARE CREDITED TO TRIVIAL CAUSES

Judge Sabatti Reiterates 10 Commandments For Wedded Bliss

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Joseph Sabatti, famous divorce judge who has tried 40,000 such cases but is most proud of his record of effecting reconciliation in 2100 instances recently started his 24th year on the bench convinced that most people land in divorce courts because of trivialities.

"There are, of course," he said, "the divorces that are made necessary by drunkenness, the star wanderer, glis marriages, non-support, and just plain mistreatment, but for the most part the persons who come into my court want separation because of trivialities."

Philly statements from the judge:

"Almost everybody in my experience wants to do the decent right thing."

"A lot of folks come into court divorcing they want a separation when what they want is to be shown the way to lead and follow."

"I have learned there are as many causes for separations as there are people."

"A good many divorces have been averted by a wife remembering to wave goodbye to a husband when he leaves for work."

"For marital happiness the judge suggested ten rules:

1. Have patience with each other;
2. Work together, grow up together;
3. In all disputes avoid hot and excited talk;
4. Do not speak little differences until they accumulate to the breaking point, discuss them calmly;
5. Be frank with each other;
6. Sympathy and mutual understanding are the pillars of the home;
7. Good humor in parting in the morning and a cheerful greeting at night;
8. Share responsibility;
9. Establish a home of your own;
10. Make your bedtime prayers a review of the day and never go to sleep without a clean slate, leaving no leftovers for the next day."

New York Woman Wins National Championship for Jelly Making

Mrs. Edith C. Boyd Gets Crown And $50 Fee Single Glass

GRAND Champion Jelly Maker of the United States! That's the title that was captured recently by Mrs. Edith C. Boyd of Danvers, N. Y., when a glass of her "Red Glass Jelly" was selected as the champion's crown and national recognition, Mrs. Boyd was 68.

Although she has been making jelly for her family for a number of years, Mrs. Boyd never before entered samples of it in a competition. She was amazed when leading home contestants, acting as judges, selected her entry as the very best from the standpoint of color, texture, flavor and clearness.

Here is the recipe that the grand champion used:

1 cup of blueberries
1 cup of blackberries
1 cup of raspberries
1 cup of strawberries
1 cup of currants
1 cup of cherries
1 cup of small fruit
1 cup of mixed fruit
1 cup of fruit juice
1 cup of water
1 cup of sugar
1 cup of lemon juice
1 cup of vinegar
1 cup of salt
1 cup of yeast

Huge Supply Of Foreign Liquor Is Ready For U.S.

Plans against American exports will be withdrawn in return for more liberal liquor quotas for succeeding periods.

Nations which did not export distilled liquors or wines to the United States to a large extent before prohibition are being given quotas from an additional allotment.

Extreme care is being taken by the department to prevent a flood of foreign liquor from swamping the American market to the detriment of domestic producers. At the same time it is desired to have plenty to fill the demand.

Government officials say this may be done without violating any "favored nations" treaties and will give a powerful stimulus to America's foreign trade.

Meanwhile, the Postoffice Department announced only 12 states will be free from federal restrictions preventing the use of the mails for advertising or selling orders for intoxicating liquors after Dec. 5.

State and territories in which it will be unlawful to advertise or solicit liquor are Alabama, Alaska, District of Columbia, Michigan, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Maine, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, North and South Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Puerto Rico, Texas, Virgin Islands, and West Virginia.

Theo. Roosevelt Sees Inflation As Confiscation

Sample were debased 50 percent ultimately that would amount to taking $12,000,000,000 from these people.

"The wealthy do not put their money in savings banks. An inflation policy, therefore, strikes directly at those who can least afford to bear it."

"That money represents provision for old age, a back-log in case of sickness or accident in the family, savings toward purchasing a home, money for the education of children. It is that which is confiscated under inflation."

"Next in line come the life insurance policies. They too represent savings, for they are used by the average man as a means of assuring the future of his wife and children should anything happen to him."

"The majority of widows in this country are living on the life insurance policies of their husbands. If currency were debased 50 percent, one-half of the value of their policies would be confiscated."

In their act is Judith Allen, Arthur Johnston and Sam Coslow have written eight new tunes for the picture, including "Thanks," "Buckin' the Wind," "Cradle Me with a Hot-Cha-Lulaby," "Black Moonlight," "Boo-Boo-Boo," "The Day You Came Along," "The Two Aristocrats," and "I Guess It Had to Be That Way."

LeRoy Prinz, dance impresario of the studio, has assembled a permanent Paramount chorus which makes its first appearance in this picture.

Oakie, Gallagher Are Beamed In Milan Film

Jack Oakie and Skirts Gallagher are reunited once more as the foremost comedy team of the films in Paramount's first big musical comedy of the new season, "Too Much Harmony," which comes on Sunday to the Milano Theatre.

They were socialized throughout the country a few years ago after scoring an outstanding success in Paramount's "Close Harmony."

In "Too Much Harmony" they play a pair of dumb vaudevillians, once a great pair of low comedians who have since gone high-brow to their own ruin.

Mrs. Roosevelt Seeks Aid For Jobless Women

"We have had for some time the feeling that nothing but really being planned on a big scale to help unemployed women, whether they were supporting children or dependants of some kind or whether they were all alone in the world. They had to work. They had to live. Naturally the thing that was first thought of was putting the men to work—possibly because it is easier to think of things for men to do."

The thing needed, she said, is for civil works to decide what projects can be followed under the rules of the civil works administration and think up things that are really helpful. "And I think that if the women really do get to work there will be not only the work which the paid workers do, but in organizing that work there will be a great deal of work necessary where voluntary workers can come in and help with the organizing," Mrs. Roosevelt said.

Mrs. Roosevelt had a list of projects that have been helpful in other states and mentioned sewing rooms for the "renewing" of old and worn out things, playground activities, library expansions and public institutional work.

"It reaches out," she said, "and as you do one thing you will find that other things fit in with the project that is being worked out. So if you know who the people are who are directing the work you can obtain help for your friends. The thing is to find the persons who can help them out."

"My mail is filled with appeals for help," Mrs. Roosevelt said, "and if I did not know the departments to send the appeals to I don't know what I would do, because no one person can answer all demands. Many of those letters will go back to the people in charge of the states and I hope it will really mean that most of the people who are now applying for work will have it within a month or six weeks."

"I do not know whether it occurs to many of you how many people are willing to pour out their hearts in a letter to either my husband or me. Perhaps it is

This was a remarkable victory because I had the bill referred to his committee thinking he would support it.

"I am going to educate the people of this state to the necessity of repealing the act prohibiting franchises being granted for a period of more than 30 years." Knight wrote that copies of the letter were going to Electric Bond & Share Company and to Day & Zimmerman interests, but he said, "whether they help or not I intend making the fight if I have to fight alone."

"The legislature is the most conservative that has assembled in 30 years. We have been able up to date to kill every bill of any kind that was objectionable to the public utilities of this state; and numerous such bills have been introduced. In my opinion no burdensome bills will be passed."

GOLD BUYING POLICY ENTERS 6TH FULL WEEK

Price Held At $34.01 An Ounce For 3rd Day; Dollar Shows New Strength In Europe

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—Government gold buying entered its sixth full week today with its peak price of $34.01 an ounce maintained for the third successive day as the dollar showed new strength in all foreign exchanges.

Today's quotation for the RFC purchases was announced shortly after acting secretary Morgan returned to his office from his Thanksgiving holiday, and a little before President Roosevelt reached his desk at the White House.

Less week the RFC boosted its offer for newly mined domestic gold 25 cents. During that time the dollar showed unusual strength abroad, a trend that continued today.

One of the first things Morgan did on taking over the Treasury a fortnight ago was to set a departmental committee to work studying the government's finances, needs and expected revenue with a view to recommending tax legislation to Congress.

One of its principal problems has been that of gauging the amount of revenue that may be received from liquor taxes.

Against this income, the committee has recommended that a tax on corporations of $1 for each $1,000 of capitalization, which expires at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, and a tax of 5 per cent on all corporate income in excess of 1 1/2 per cent of capitalization.

The special taxes are one-half cent per gallon on gasoline and a 5 per cent levy on dividends, both expiring Dec. 31; a tax on corporations of $1 for each $1,000 of capitalization, which expires at the close of the fiscal year, June 30; and a tax of 5 per cent on all corporate income in excess of 1 1/2 per cent of capitalization.

The 1934 levy expires for each corporation at the beginning of the next fiscal year following the report.

The price of domestic newly mined gold has risen 4 1/2 cents higher than a week ago and $2.87 higher than the first quotation less announced when the gold buying program was begun.

RFC Loan To Dawes Bank Still Overdue

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—The $30,000,000 loan by the RFC to the Central Republic Bank and Trust Company of Chicago headed by former vice president Charles Dawes never has been renewed by the corporation. Simultaneous with this disclosure it was learned today however that corporation officials now regard the loan as having the status of a demand note. Although Chairman Jones or other RFC officials declined to discuss the matter publicly it is understood on the highest authority that the note is not considered in default. While considered as a note that could be called at anytime it was pointed out that the corporation has never called any overdue loans. The loan, made in December 1932 and originally for six months has been reduced to slightly more than $22,000,000.

FATE OF IRELAND TO BE DECIDED IN LONDON TUESDAY

LONDON, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—Whether Ireland will remain a British commonwealth or secede and become an independent republic, with thousands of Irish in England subject to deportation unless they choose British citizenship, is expected to be presented to the House of Commons Tuesday as a clear-cut issue.

Jim Thomas, secretary for the Dominions and the Irish president Eamon de Valera, have joined in a battle which it is feared will revive all the bitterness of the ancient Anglo-Irish feud.

If a Free State political crisis is created, it is believed in authoritative quarters that De Valera will call an All-Irish republic, that is, a de jure republic for all Ireland and a de facto republic for the 26 counties of the Irish Free State.

The six countries of Northern Ireland are not a part of the Free State.

As secretary of the dominions, Thomas, by his expected declaration in the House of Commons next Tuesday, has power to make peace or war between Britain and Ireland, according to those in closest touch with Free State opinion.

If De Valera declared outright for a republic after Thomas declared Britain's stand on Tuesday, political observers in London believe the British government will proclaim all Irishmen now living in England aliens, but with the opportunity of taking British citizenship.

DECLINE FROM JULY PEAK HAS LEVELED OFF

Hopes High That Usual December Slump In Industries Is To Be Slight This Year

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—Business and industry have reached the final month of 1933 with most statistical indices indicating a level of activity about halfway between the year's low reached in March, and the peak registered in July.

But most indicators show a volume substantially above December of 1932, and the statistics of the past three weeks indicate that the decline from the July peak has finally flattened out. In fact, the trend has shown an inclination to turn upward.

High hopes have therefore been engendered that the usual December slump in industrial activity will be slight this year. With the start of manufacture of 1934 models, automobile production is

Elmer Carlson Has Returned To Take On Duties At Club

Reporting conditions as greatly improved in the Middle West since the NRA went into effect last August, Elmer Carlson, well known local golfer, and Mrs. Carlson and their child have returned to Sanford to spend the winter.

Mr. Carlson has gained wide prominence in golfing circles of the Middle-West during the past five seasons. Since he left this city in the Spring of 1929, he has been with the Super Golf Club of Minneapolis.

His abilities as a golfer last season brought him into the National Open tournament in New York City after a brilliant qualifying round of play. He also finished fourth in the Minnesota Professional Golfers' League last year, while this year he finished eighth in the money for the Minnesota State Open title, and fourth again in the League.

Twice under a broiling sun yesterday the American fliers were balked in their efforts to hop Westward because of unfavorable winds and a too heavy load of fuel.

PAN-AMERICAN MEETING OPENS WITH PEACE CALL

President Of Uruguay Exhorts Nations To End Chaco Warfare

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—Dr. Jose Pal Casaranga, Mexican foreign minister revealed his nation's intention to sponsor a six to ten year Pan-American moratorium on all public and private debts today when he proposed an amendment to the Pan-American conference agenda. The Mexican diplomat protested that the conference program dealing with debts, silver, and other monetary questions be altered. The steering committee indicated it would decide on the Mexican amendment tomorrow.

Turning to war in the Gran Chaco between Bolivia and Paraguay he said, "The noble American juridical tradition cannot remain buried in the swamps of the Chaco."

Thus was sounded the opening keynote of the conference among the oldest society of nations and the largest except the League of Nations, constituting a third of the world's governments.

NRA OFFICIALS NOT VEXED BY AKERMAN VIEW

Richberg Says Undue Importance Is Being Given To Legality Of Recovery Plans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—NRA officials said yesterday they were not disturbed by the opinion of Federal Judge Akerman at Tampa, that the constitution does not permit enforcement of national code terms on local industries, and proceeded on its course to obtain compliance in every line of business for which a code is in effect.

Donald R. Richberg, general counsel of the recovery administration, said undue importance had been attached to the expressions on constitutionality of the recovery act contained in an opinion handed down yesterday by Judge Akerman. Richberg said the judge's ruling was a minor point and that his opinion on general application of the law did not have the force of a court decision.

In these cases, however, NRA has a further legal weapon. Many of the cleaners complained against have been displaying the blue eagle. The agreement that goes with it is regarded as legally binding its signers to the code for their industry once it is promulgated. They have the right to plead for exemption for its terms, but, failing to do so, are regarded as voluntary subscribers to the code.

Father Coughlin Sees U.S. Facing "Roosevelt Or Ruin"; Hearst Says Smith "All Wet"

DETROIT, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—Asserting that it is either "Roosevelt or ruin," the Rev. Fr. Charles E. Coughlin, pastor of the Shrine of the Little Flower, in a speech yesterday renewed his defense of the administration's monetary policies and reiterated his attack on the administration's foes.

Referring to the Smith statements regarding the controverted Alfred E. Smith-J. P. Morgan incident referred to in his speech of last Sunday, remarking that he believed his statements were "misquoted to him" and that "no one has said that Mr. Smith obtained a loan on the occasion of his reported visit to the office of Mr. Morgan."

He repeated his previous statement that two Catholic bishops accompanied Mr. Smith by automobile to Morgan's office "when there was occasion to arrange a substantial loan to finance the Empire State Building."

He added that the "New newspapers" decided to gamble me for having played even a small part (Continued On Page Three)
