Dies Group To Push Inquiry In Colleges

Former Member Of Communists To Be Called As Witness In Investigation

Three Professors Are To Testify

Mrs. Roosevelt May Take Stand Should Request Be Made

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.

(AP)—The Dies committee today turned its investigation of un-American activities toward charges of Communist infiltration of American colleges, universities, and public schools.

Resuming hearings after a long recess, the committee called as its first witness, William Newell, who Dies said was a Detroit negro laborer, and former member of the Communist party.

Mrs. Roosevelt said she was willing to be a Dies committee witness if she had any information that might be helpful.

She made the remarks at a press conference about the same time Maj. Hampden Wilson, committee investigator was testifying that the American Student Union was spreading Communism among students.

The first lady, who has addressed the American Youth Congress, said repeatedly she did not believe it was Communist-controlled.

Wilson said the report submitted was based on an eight-month tour of 50 colleges, universities and discussions with school board members.

He read into the record what was said to be excerpts from the Communist party magazine which declared "how important" it was to "build the American Federation of teachers."

He said this article also named the American Student Union and Young Communist League agencies to be utilized to spread Communism in schools.

Army Board Hears Merits Of Canal Co-Operation For To East Coast Buy At Home Plan

Group Cites Benefits To Be Derived From Proposed Channel Mayor Says $500,000 More In Goods Should Be Bought

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Colonel Gilbert A. Youngberg, of Jacksonville, and Florida business men urged the Army Engineer Board today to approve the project to provide a channel from Sanford to the Indian River near Titusville, connecting the St. Johns and Indian Rivers.

Youngberg, former district army engineer of Jacksonville, said the benefits to navigation, commerce, and recreational interests greatly exceeded the estimates made in reports to the board.

The Division Engineer made an unfavorable report on the project, holding it would benefit mainly truck farmers and cattle raisers, rather than the general public.

The merits of the proposed St. Johns-Indian River canal were weighed before the War Department's Rivers and Harbors Board in Washington today as delegates of those interested in the St. Johns River valley presented their appeal from the unfavorable decision of the division engineer.

Armed with a voluminous report in which they hope to prove to the board that the project is not only of "drainage with local benefits" as was the decision of the Division Engineer, the delegates are making a final effort to secure the War Department's approval of the project which received its initial impetus more than half a century ago.

Robert A. Youngberg, consulting engineer of Jacksonville, and former U. S. Army district engineer, was commissioned by the St. Johns River Improvement Association, sponsor of the project, to present the brief on the benefits of the proposed waterway at the hearing's hearing.

Visitors at today's luncheon included Fred Treacher of Daytona Beach, and Charles Goodman and Kendrick Guernsey of Orlando.

Russia Warns 'Ten Days Enough To Conquer Poland'

Chamberlain States English Naval Superiority Remains

By Associated Press

The Russian-Finnish dispute flared to grave proportions today as troops of Russia's big Red Army staged mass meetings and called for "atrocious measures," warning Finland that "ten days were enough to conquer Poland."

Demonstrations followed the "border incident" yesterday in which the Russians charged the Finns with killing four and wounding nine Red soldiers.

Moscow sent an ultimatum-like note to Finland demanding the withdrawal of Finnish border garrisons. Finland denied there had been any shooting from the Finnish side, and appeared ready to refuse the Russian demand.

It was said the government would regard the demand calling for withdrawal "without delay" but containing no time limit, as a "friendly proposal."

Naval warfare continued to be the most active phase of the European conflict.

New sinking by mines were reported as King George steamed on his way to the north of sea of all German exports, regardless of whether carried by neutral ships. The order was expected to be made effective in a few days, giving Britain an opportunity to give further explanations to protesting neutrals.

Shipy losses reported included the 8,859-ton Netherlands freighter Spaarndam, the 5,144-ton British freighter Royston Grange, the 3,760-ton German freighter Berghum and a 300-ton German tugboat.

The new sinkings came after a disastrous Sunday in which the 14,194-ton Polish liner Pilsudski, chartered by Britain, and the 16,097-ton British merchant cruiser Hawalindi went to the bottom.

In the midst of new mine warfare, Chamberlain declared "none of the losses affects our overwhelming naval superiority. He added that the British already know the secrets of the magnetic mine.

MOSCOW, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Soviet Russia charged Finland with spilling the blood of Red soldiers on Soviet soil last night and demanded that concentrations of Finnish troops be withdrawn without delay from the border north of Leningrad.

A Russian note handed to the Finnish minister, Baron Yrjo Koskunen, last night was couched in ultimatum-like language, but it added that Russia was not inclined to "magnify this abominable act of attack on the part of Finnish troops, probably badly managed by the Finnish command."

However, withdrawal of the Finnish troops a distance of 12 to 16 miles from the border, as demanded by Russia, would mean Finland's abandonment of her frontier fortifications and possibly the granting of one of Russia's most insistent demands in her long dispute with Finland over frontiers and naval bases.
