Sanford's County School Supt. Roger Harris said today he was "cautiously optimistic" about indications from the state that the school system would receive an additional $2.34 million in 1975-76 fund allocations.

State Education Commissioner Ralph Turington announced the allocations yesterday.

The distribution of state funds is determined by a complicated formula in the Florida Educational Finance program used on full-time equivalent students (FTE). Special programs, such as exceptional education and vocational-technical training, increase FTE's.

Harris welcomed the state figures which showed Seminole funding going from $21.18 million in 1974-75 to $23.52 million for next term, but noted that the state used a six per cent growth figure for the county school system "and we used three per cent."

"This is a good chance we will not reach that level of growth," Harris said, "and if we don't we won't get all of the money."

Harris also said another factor enters into the funding picture—special education and vocational-technical programs. "You have to have the students in order to have the programs and you have to have the programs in order to get the money," Harris said.

He said the school administration didn't want to commit itself to a larger growth expectancy and wanted to "hold part of the budget in reserve."

Harris said the administration prepared two budgets, one calculated on the slower growth estimate and the other including generation of the additional funds.

"If the extra money does materialize," he added, "we will be able to hire additional services and purchase more materials than we could without it."

"If the state says we are to get $23.52 million, that doesn't mean we are going to get it unless we generate the programs for use of the money," Harris said. "These figures are really only estimates. They are not guaranteed."

Harris said the administration won't know for sure if the funds are forthcoming until completion of the October FTE count, since figures released yesterday are

Animals Move Tomorrow

Faced with a facility "that's falling down around us," Sanford's Central Florida Zoo will begin an all-out animal moving day at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

The first resident to be transferred from the old zoo at Seminole Boulevard and Park Avenue, to the new Central Florida Zoo complex on U.S. 17-92, three miles west of the city, will be the Bald Eagle— "America's Freedom."

Jack Hanna, director of the zoo, said the big bird would be transferred in a single action that will mark the big animal lift to the zoo's new headquarters.

"Once we start the moving, we're going to stay with it—even if it's a seven-day-a-week project—until we're done," Amick, who contracted with Thomas to view the paving project, said he would contact several members of the Central Florida Road Builders Association and see if the group would become involved in a joint project to finish the road.

The zoo is some $40,000 short of the needed funds to pay for the paving project, according to Zoological Society executive director Al Rozon, who joined with Thomas, Amick and Hanna in inspecting the road.

Hubbard Construction Co. of Orlando has already donated an estimated $10,000 worth of work earlier this year at the zoo, so placing drainage pipes under the road, then filling and grading a finished dirt surface ready for paving.

The steady rains of this past month and through yesterday have damaged and washed away much of the roadway.

The paving project—no matter who does the work—won't be finished by the July 4 opening target, Rozon indicated. However, the road won't delay the big day for the zoo.

Amick said that if materials, such as concrete and asphalt, are not contributed to the project, he hoped to be able to allocate $10,000 for purchase of building material.

Thomas, who helped raise $10,000 from Orange County, said he felt the zoo wasn't confined as a Sanford or Seminole County operation.

"It's a Central Florida zoo, so let's let Central Florida be involved," he declared.

As the road paving project study continued, Hanna said he did not plan to "let any grass grow under our feet" in moving the animals to the new site.

Grand Jury Given '74 Probe Records

A Seminole County Grand Jury probing last week's county jail fire that killed 11 men has recessed until Tuesday after hearing four hours of testimony from a defense attorney who assisted in a six-month probe of jail conditions last year.

After exiting the grand jury meeting room late yesterday Gerald Rutberg said he couldn't disclose his testimony but commented, "I'm impressed. I think this grand jury is taking the ball by the horns."

Before entering the grand jury room shortly after lunch, Rutberg said the two large briefcases he was carrying contained "all the newspaper clippings for the last four years about the county jail."

Rutberg, who represented inmates in the probe, said he now regrets that he didn't push for a federal court injunction last year "to close it (jail) down."

"Who's to say after $40,000 in repairs that it (fatal fire) can't happen again?" Rutberg asked. He cited the design of the 14-year-old jail on the second-floor of the Sheriff's Department building adjacent to the courthouse and the fact that there is no master system to open all cell doors at the same time and that jailers must unlock cell doors separately.

Officials said the circuit judges made statements of findings after several hearings last year on county jail conditions but apparently never issued a final report.

Of the report that she had armed the Vietnamese with a .22-caliber rifle to protect themselves from intruders, she said today, "I was not trying to start a war by arming them."

"They were given the rifle to kill snakes. In the country snakes are seen often. I kill them with a hoe, but these people were frightened."

"At no time did I ever intend to charge them rent."

We're Not Ready Yet' Downtown Plan Hits Snag

By RICK PANTRIDGE
Herald Staff Writer

Tomorrow's meeting of a newly-created downtown redevelopment steering committee has been called off, according to committee chairman and Sanford City Commissioner John Morris.

Pizza maker Jeno Paulucci, part-time Sanford resident and a prime backer of redevelopment of Sanford's decaying core, was to fly down from his firm's home office in Duluth, Minn., to present detailed ideas for a project here similar to the project he helped put over to rejuvenate the Duluth downtown area.

Paulucci was to meet with members of the Sanford Downtown Businessmen's Association (DBA) and representatives of property owners in the center of the city. The session was planned when Paulucci spoke to the DBA on May 15. The steering committee was created at that time.

"We just haven't been able to get all of our people together this month," Morris told the Herald yesterday.

"We're not ready and we didn't want to get Mr. Paulucci down here for nothing," he added.

Morris said it was his hope that the steering committee, which met twice since the May 15 meeting at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, would be able to meet again and agree on enough of the basics of a redevelopment plan to reschedule the meeting with Paulucci sometime late in July.

"I sent Mr. Paulucci a telegram yesterday telling him we weren't ready and that he need not come," Morris added.

Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Jack Horner, who was an enthusiastic supporter at the May meeting, said he was "disappointed" that tomorrow's session was postponed, though he echoed Morris' reasoning that a Paulucci trip here from Duluth would serve no purpose at this time if the steering committee wasn't ready to begin work on plans for the actual redevelopment.

Despite the postponement, Horner said he remains "optimistic. This is as far as we've come on this thing yet."

It was at the May 15 DBA meeting that Paulucci accepted the invitation to return to Sanford, perhaps with one or two members of his staff to offer the help of his organization to the plans being developed here.

Paulucci said last month that "it's a damn disgrace to see the downtown area looking the way it does now. We've got to get the merchants and the property owners together on this."

He suggested to the merchants and landowners at that meeting that the way to go about revitalizing the area would be to set up a special taxing district, assessing each property owner in the district according to the extent of his holdings.

Paulucci envisioned using the funds to hire planning and architectural services and to pay off any bonds that might be issued to finance the actual rebuilding.

After listening to Paulucci's ideas, Mayor Lee P. Moore offered the services of the city's planning and engineering departments and noted that he hoped the newest effort to improve the downtown area wouldn't suffer the same fate as other plans he had heard discussed before.

"There have been 15 or more meetings just like this one during the past seven years," Moore said.

"Everyone at these meetings seems to be agreed that something has to be done. But I was at one just like this seven years ago and everyone there was agreed too. But the meeting adjourned and that was the end of it," Moore said.

Property owner Dr. Vince Roberts indicated at the May meeting that he wasn't too keen on the idea of new taxes.

"Taxes right now are running 25 to 30 per cent of gross income on these properties," Roberts said. "It's pretty rough for some of the merchants to meet the expenses now."

NATION IN BRIEF

Nationwide Rail Strike Threatened by Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration says "everything must be done" to prevent a nationwide railroad strike threatened to begin at midnight Sunday.

The administration called the prospect of a strike "a matter of deepest concern" after the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks announced Wednesday that contract talks were deadlocked and that strike preparations were under way.

But beyond further efforts by federal officials to mediate the dispute, there is little the administration can do. All legal delays have been exhausted and only enactment of emergency legislation by Congress could block the strike.

Union President Dennis blamed the impasse on railroad management and said "nothing in the picture at this time suggests we will be able to avert a strike." He scheduled a news conference for today to discuss his union's position.

Dennis earlier had rejected an agreement signed by seven other railway unions providing for wage and benefit increases totaling 40.7 per cent over three years. A union spokesman said the agreement failed to deal with special problems and needs of the railway clerks.

Senate Grain Probe Opens

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department officials are among the first witnesses as the Senate opens its investigation of alleged corruption in the foreign grain trade amid allegations that exported wheat and other commodities are being mixed with dirt and debris.

The Senate subcommittee on foreign agriculture policy joins at least four other investigations looking into the foreign commodity trade, focusing on alleged bribery among federally licensed inspectors. Some of these inspectors allegedly have approved the shipment of low-quality grain from U.S. ports.

Under Secretary of Agriculture J. Phil Campbell was expected to testify today about inspection procedures on the docks and about Agriculture Department attempts to solve the problems that have led to complaints from overseas buyers of U.S. grain.

Campbell substituted for Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, who is in South America this week.

Soviet Monitoring Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Intelligence Committee plans to question FBI and CIA officials about Communist capabilities to monitor long-distance phone calls within the United States, an informed source says.

Communist ability to intercept U.S. phone calls was first mentioned in the Rockefeller commission's report and later amplified by news accounts describing how long-distance phone calls were monitored and recorded by satellites and antennas atop the Soviet embassy in Washington.

The source, who described the Senate panel's intentions to investigate the reports, spoke in anticipation of a remark made Wednesday by Chairman Frank Church that his committee would look into "the problem of penetration by the KGB and the necessary protection we need to invoke." The KGB is the Soviet spy agency.

Murder-Suicide Ruled In Deaths

Sheriff's investigators today listed the deaths yesterday at Altamonte Springs of a man and his estranged wife as murder-suicide.

Capt. L.J. Kriz identified the victims as Ralph Edward Lile, 42, 42, and Nelda Lovelady Lile, 42, of 2915 Sprague Drive, Orlando.

He said autopsies indicated Mrs. Lile had been shot one time in the back and three or four times in the head. Lile had been shot one time in the head. The bodies were found at 8:30 a.m. yesterday just inside a locked fence at a private plant nursery in an Altamonte Springs residential area at Hillcrest St. and Raymond Ave.

Arson Suspected In Payton Realty Fire

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford Fire Department officials and investigators from the state Fire Marshal's office this morning were conducting a probe for possible arson in a fire that damaged the Payton Realty building at 2540 Hawthorne Ave. early today.

Sanford police said the blaze in a storage room was reported when sheriff's deputies D.R. Smith and Ron Morton passed by and saw smoke pouring from the building at 2:09 a.m.

Patrolman Gordon C. Reid arrived one minute later, according to police, and said the deputy had broken a glass in a rear door of the building seeking to gain entry to extinguish the fire.

Sanford fire department units arrived moments later and extinguished the fire, of undetermined origin.

Police today reported that the blaze damaged the roof and other businesses in the building suffered smoke damage. A dollar estimate of the damage wasn't immediately available.

Two Ex-Policemen Appeal Sentences

Attorneys for two former Sanford policemen sentenced this week to prison for burglaries have filed notices that the prison sentences will be appealed to the Fourth District Court of Appeals at West Palm Beach.

Defense attorney Norman Brock filed notice of appeal for Raymond Bennett, 30, 113 Country Club Circle, Sanford. Bennett was sentenced to seven years in prison and eight years probation Tuesday by Circuit Court Judge Clarence T. Johnson Jr. Bennett had pleaded guilty to breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony in connection with a series of nighttime break-ins in December.

When Bennett was sentenced, Brock, a former prosecutor, charged that "the people want blood" and said the Florida penal system is "horrendous." He said when word gets out that Bennett "is a former policeman there'll be an explosive situation."

Defense attorney Gerald Rutberg has filed notices of appeal for Hiram Lyle Hamlin, 29, 2831 Magnolia Ave. Hamlin, a former city police patrolman, received five years in prison and five years probation on his negotiated plea of guilty to breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony.

Maximum sentence on both pleas could have been 15 years in prison.

Rutberg also filed with the circuit court yesterday a motion to have Hamlin released on appeal bond pending hearing on his case by the Fourth District Court of Appeals.

Rutberg said no date was set for the appeal.

Crippled Eastern Jet Lands Safely On Runway

MIAMI (AP) — Eastern Airlines pilot B.S. Fischer "did a beautiful job landing that thing," says one policeman who watched the pilot gently land a crippled jet carrying 99 passengers.

The passengers on Flight 757 from Kennedy International Airport bound for Fort Lauderdale, were removed safely after the Boeing 727 made the emergency landing late Wednesday at Miami International.

The flight was rerouted to Miami after the crew discovered that the plane's nosewheel would not lower into place, officials said.

Eastern spokesman Bill Wooten said that upon touching down, Fischer managed to keep the nose of the huge jet raised "about the plane came to almost a complete stop, then gently lowered" the nose to the ground.

The plane was going so slow by time the nose-wheel touched down that it was practically stopped," Wooten said. "You can do that with this sort of plane."

Teacher Sues Over Job Loss

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — A Lake County school teacher who says he lost his job because he wrote a letter to a newspaper is suing county school officials for $100,000.

Charles R. Goldstein filed the suit against school board members, county school Supt. Bernard J. McCabe and Umatilla High School Principal Robert C. Reagan in U.S. District Court this week.

He said Reagan and McCabe had recommended him for reappointment as a teacher at Umatilla for the 1975-76 year.

But after his letter was printed April 17 in the Leesburg Commercial, Goldstein said, McCabe and Reagan reversed their recommendations, he was transferred to a non-teaching job for the rest of the 1974-75 school year and the board refused to renew his contract.

Pollution Chief To Remain

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — William D. Frederick Jr. will remain as the central figure in state decisions on how much air and water pollution will be allowed.

Gov. Reubin Askew announced Wednesday the appointment of Frederick of Orlando as chairman of the new Environmental Regulation Commission. On July 1, the agency will succeed the Pollution Control Board now headed by Frederick.

Askew announced last week his appointment of Jay Landers, Internal Improvement Trust Fund director, as secretary of the Environmental Regulation Department being created in the reorganization of state environmental agencies.

Daisy Ann Campbell, widow of Ernest Campbell Jr., 28, Dunbar St., Lake Monroe, is seeking "in excess of $1 million" damages in the lawsuit filed yesterday afternoon in circuit court against Polk individually and as Seminole County Sheriff.

The lawsuit, filed by Miami attorney Joel H. Brown, seeks the damages for Mrs. Campbell, mother of three children, ages seven and eight years, and 20 months.

Vihlen's Leadership Rapped

By MICK LOCHRIDGE
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County Commissioner John Kimbrough has chided Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. for Vihlen's lack of leadership in coordinating the Board of County Commissioners (BCC) handling of preparations for any upcoming union dealings.

In a June 13 memo to Vihlen, Kimbrough states "there appears to be no leadership action coming from you relative to the union activities or the labor attorney's efforts."

The BCC has retained labor attorney Granville Alley of Tampa for $50-per hour to represent the county in labor negotiations.

Zoo Animals To Move

"We are scheduled to open July 4 and that's when we'll get the doors open," he said today. In addition to moving the Bald Eagle, Hanna said he hoped to transfer the otters, monkeys, smaller animals and birds in a continuous operation.

"We will have to be careful since both the health and safety of the animals and foul are our chief concern," Hanna said. "But once started, the people of Sanford will see the largest single animal move in Florida. We're not talking about just one or two animals — but an entire zoo."

Meanwhile, Hanna said he was concerned over attendance at the old zoo, pointing out that "people are slowing down in visiting the zoo."

"What they don't recall is the fact through their admissions and visits, we keep the animals fed and housed," Hanna said. "We don't want the people to quit coming to the present zoo, simply because we're moving. It hasn't been closed as yet."

Even as Hanna conferred with zoo employees about moving the present number of animals, the zoo population grew by four — with more "new" arrivals expected.

"They're doing swell," Hanna said. "I'm very pleased."

Ford Was Correct
On Probe Of CIA

President Ford obviously was confronted with a perplexing problem when the Rockefeller Commission was preparing its report on the Central Intelligence Agency. While the commission had been authorized to investigate charges that the CIA had violated its charter by spying on American citizens in their own country, it had also received evidence touching on a quite different subject—allegations that the CIA was involved in plotting foreign assassinations.

The course reported by Mr. Ford at his recent news conference is a responsible one. He has separated the investigation of domestic CIA activities from allegations relating to the agency's international conduct. They should be separated, and we can hope that the members of two congressional committees and officials of the Justice Department who receive material relating to the two subjects will also keep that distinction in mind.

The commission headed by Vice President Rockefeller saw no reason to avoid public disclosure of its findings in the investigation of CIA activities that involved domestic surveillance. While any findings tying the CIA to domestic surveillance might be embarrassing to the agency, it could survive the shock of having those infractions revealed and coming under tighter scrutiny to make sure they do not happen in the future. However, the commission no doubt recognized that it would be intolerable for a commission of citizens compiling a public report on alleged domestic surveillance to be pursuing the internationally sensitive issues.

The latter question cannot be dropped, to be sure, and Mr. Ford is recognizing that the responsibility for further investigation should be shared by both the legislative and executive branches, and in an atmosphere that can be expected to preserve whatever secrecy is necessary. It goes without saying that it is not to protect the CIA or any individuals who may have been involved in discussions of assassinations that the utmost discretion is required. Disclosure of this aspect of secret intelligence operations could be damaging to the United States of America.

The CIA, as Mr. Ford reminded the nation, has a highly important task to perform in our national security. The agency has received body blows from the probing which has taken place already into events of the past. We have reached a point where the public interest in finding out exactly to what extent the agency may have exceeded its legal authority in the past must be carefully balanced with the national interest in keeping any irregularities in the category of state secrets. The caution with which Mr. Ford has handled the issue so far should be the watchword in the handling of all materials now going to Congress and the Justice Department.

Say No, Canada

The problems that the government of Canada faces with respect to the Palestinian Liberation Organization have a familiar ring.

Toronto, Canada is the host this fall to "The Fifth United Nations Congress on the Prevention of Crime and the Treatment of Offenders." The United Nations, which sponsors the international meetings on crime, has invited the P.L.O. to attend the conference, ignoring Canada's immigration rules for the entry of terrorists into the country. Canadian regulations list the P.L.O. as a terrorist organization.

The P.L.O. undoubtedly is confident that Mr. Trudeau must admit its delegates and thus support the drive that the Palestinian terrorists are making for recognition among legitimate nations of the world.

Canada could do the entire Western world a service by having the gumption to say no to the legions of Yasser Arafat.

BERRY'S WORLD

Confidential cables from the U.S. embassy in Taiwan report that South Vietnam's deposed President Nguyen Van Thieu wants to settle permanently in the United States. American diplomats have done their best, however, to discourage the idea. They fear that the Vietnam issue is still too hot and that Thieu's arrival might touch off demonstrations. But they fully expect Thieu will eventually move to the United States. As one source put it: "It's not a question of if, it is a question of when."

They left office on April 21 with a withering blast at the U.S. He charged that the U.S. failure to support his regime was the major cause of its disintegration.

He fled Saigon shortly before the victorious Communists moved in and he secured refuge in Taiwan. He is now ensconced in a five-bedroom house in a residential compound outside Taipei.

Behind the high walls are a swimming pool and a garden, where Thieu lolls in seeming tranquility. But the embassy cables indicate that Thieu is unhappy in Taipei and would like to join the South Vietnamese community in America.

Footnote: The Chinese Nationalists, who respect Thieu as an "anti-Communist leader," provide him with police protection. Their main function, apparently, is to keep the grass at bay. Thieu has refused to give out interviews.

TELEPHONE MONITORING: The Central Intelligence Agency monitored all telephone calls between the United States and Latin America for three months, apparently without the knowledge of the telephone company.

Fred Wilson of the Altamonte Springs Animal Control Center says he'd be most happy if persons wishing to claim a dog would get in touch with him at 200 Lorrain Drive.

Seems Fred's got 10 dogs, mostly of the large variety, i.e., German Shepherds and the like, that he'd like to see adopted. All are clean dogs, according to Wilson, and anyone may have the pet of his choice on a first-come, first-served basis.

All that required is a $5 reimbursement for those expenses the animal control center feels it has incurred in keeping the animals over the past few weeks.

So, if you're interested in having a new pet, here's your chance.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The gerrymandering battle of the century, Ford vs. Rockefeller for the heavyweight championship of the White House, has turned out to be a surprisingly even contest.

The vice president, in the gold trunks, has landed few blows. Six months after assuming an office widely thought to be merely a stepping stone to ultimate power, Nelson Rockefeller has retreated to his stool — or been ordered to it — where he sits almost quietly and almost resignedly as second best.

He is in no way so comatose as most of his predecessors, in fact or fiction. Not for Rockefeller, the woe of Alexander Trolubottom, the fictional veep in "Of Thee I Sing" who couldn't get a library card for lack of references. But if Rockefeller still remains Rockefeller — no small title — he nevertheless is gaining no ground on his boss.

Actually, Rockefeller has in recent months dropped far behind the President in whatever race they may have had going. While Ford has grown in office, Rockefeller may fairly be said to have shrunk — at least competitively. No longer is he seriously thought to be a major Ford worry for the campaigns of 1976, no longer do many observers see him as a potential backslide White House prime minister. In fact, increasingly, Rockefeller is being described as an aging man (he's 67), a man losing his vigor and perhaps some of his ambitions.

It should be said here that there are those who feel the vice president is merely resting for future wars, convinced that now is not the time, politically or promotionally, for one unelected office holder to be pecking away at another. Several White House staffers hold this suspicion, thus continually feed news reporters with denigrating Rockefeller quotes against the day the money man makes his move and aides can thereby feel his sin.

Yet if Rockefeller is not yet retired to subservience by the President, he falls over himself with praise for the President, calling him "brilliant" one hour, and, gup, comparing him with Churchill the next.

Beyond this, Rockefeller has given up interest or participation in a number of enterprises designed to promote his own fortunes. He has resigned from the Commission on Critical Choices, a group he created. It's thought, to foreshadow his bid for the presidency. He has also retreated somewhat from the brass opinions of his earlier days in office, as when one day he rapped Congress for failing to save Vietnam and the next day suggested it was too late for help anyway. If this diminished his one status as a statesman, it also did no good for the administration, thus it's believed Rockefeller did not alone decide to reduce the rhetoric.

And so it is that Rockefeller may have learned his place. Not long ago while calling the President, Rockefeller introduced himself as "Governor Rockefeller," then said, uh, well, "you know who I am."

JACK ANDERSON

It's easy to win kudos when you have such pleasant people to work with and get such fine cooperation as we've received from the Winter Springs VFW Post in helping to present and publicize the various events.

Certainly there must be a reason for it, but we don't understand why the Seminole County School Board, at last week's meeting, accepted the higher of two bids for the school system's gasoline contract.

The contract went to Standard Oil, present supplier, at a cost of 42.7 cents per gallon. Mobil Oil had a bid of 41.6 cents per gallon.

We fall to see the reason for purchasing gasoline at the higher of the two prices, especially when an organization uses so much petrol as does the school system with its huge fleet of vehicles.

A savings of 1.1 cents per gallon might not sound like much, but when you use hundreds of thousands of gallons each year, it adds up in a hurry.

Maybe someone on the school board will come forth with an explanation as to why the contract was awarded to Standard Oil instead of Mobil.

As we said, there must be a logic to it, but it remains hidden to the general public who pays for the gasoline out of its school tax dollars.

According to unimpeachable sources, enrollment of Vietnamese refugee children in free English courses has not reached expectations and the federally-funded program is in danger of losing out.

And, the youngsters who attend our Seminole County schools for the first time this fall will be real losers as they'll have trouble keeping up with all their English-speaking classmates.

So, we've been asked once again to remind all sponsors of Vietnamese refugee families to contact Fred Ganas, who is in charge of the program, immediately as the courses are due to start Monday. If at least 25 children aren't enrolled the program will be dropped.

The classes will be taught at Longwood Elementary School and is for children between the ages of five and 18 and will run from 8 a.m. until noon.

Ganas may be reached at 323-4220.

Oil Crisis
Readies For Round Two

The world is moving almost leisurely toward another oil crisis that could make the last one look like the proverbial picnic, and nobody in the West seems to be really concerned about it, even as some observers forecast the direct possibilities.

Because inflation has cut into oil profits by as much as 35 per cent, OPEC, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, threatens to launch another round of price hikes in September, when its self-imposed freeze expires.

According to President Albert-Bernard Bongo of Gabon, keynoting OPEC's recent meeting in his country, the largely oil-inspired inflation developed and undeveloped countries alike have been suffering from in some kind of plot by the West to undermine the oil producers' new-found prosperity.

This is like the fox complaining that the residents of the henhouse are not as plump as they used to be. If the oil producers had not been so greedy the first place, if perhaps they had merely doubled their prices instead of quadrupling them, the resulting inflation would have been far more moderate and they might be enjoying as great a return at a price level around $8 a barrel as they are presently realizing from $10 a barrel.

The idea now is to "index" the price of oil to inflation — to link it to the rate of increase in the price of goods which OPEC members import from the West.

Thus the fox will simply be chasing its own tail in an ever more furious circle.

Western capitalists in the meantime are bereft of a common strategy to deal with the challenge. Europe is still at the first place, if perhaps they had merely doubled their prices instead of quadrupling them, the resulting inflation would have been far more moderate and they might be enjoying as great a return at a price level around $8 a barrel as they are presently realizing from $10 a barrel.

The United States, which produces 70 per cent of its own petroleum consumption, is in a somewhat better position. But Americans are also more dependent upon the automobile and more accustomed to reasonable gasoline prices, as well as greater users of energy in all its forms.

President Ford's raising of the import tariff on foreign oil by 42 a barrel has made not a dent in U.S. consumption. Neither is any appreciable rise in the cost of gasoline likely to, whatever OPEC decrees in September. It would, however, have other consequences.

The economy is only now emerging from the recession and beginning to quell the worst fires of inflation. Though it may pain people like Ralph Nader, Americans are firmly wedded to the automobile, and will even if gasoline goes to 70 cents a gallon or higher, as we are told it could after September.

But September is only weeks away, and the days dwindle down to a precarious few.

Letters To The Editor

Editor's note: The following is a copy of a letter to Mr. Thomas C. Kelly, Volusia County Manager, County Courthouse Annex, DeLand, Fla., 32720.

Dear Tom: I have just been appointed as Legislative Committee Chairman for the Deltona Civic Association.

The first meeting of this Committee was held on June 10th, 1975. One of the topics of very grave concern to us is the loss of the "Dial A Bus" service to Deltona. We can very readily understand the reasoning that prevailed behind this decision. However, the transportation problem that existed here is still very much with us.

About one year ago, a study was made by the County in regards to the West Volusia Transportation problems. What has happened to this study? At about the same time, the Dial A Bus System was inaugurated, we no longer heard about the study. It is possible the County Council to reopen the discussion of our transportation problems in West Volusia? We are threatened with a possible raise in gasoline prices, no bus system, and many residents that will have no way to stop or go to the Doctor's office.

Will you please convey our concern to the Council as a whole. We would appreciate any answers you may have to our problems.

Let me know if we can help in any way. Thank you for your consideration.

Ford Sees Mideast
'Drift' Toward War

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The Mideast "drift" is toward war, President Ford is quoted as saying in an exclusive interview with the Minneapolis Tribune.

Unless the "drift" is halted, the conflict that will ensue will be more dangerous than any before it and will include a paralyzing oil embargo, Ford is quoted as saying in a story by Richard Wilson, former chief of the Tribune's Washington bureau.

The interview was also carried in today's editions of the Des Moines Register, the Tribune a Cowles publication.

Wilson said Ford's emphasis on the "drift" in the Mideast came somewhat as a surprise after his discussions with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat earlier this month in Salzburg, Austria, and more recent discussions in Washington with Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin.

County Population Tops
120,000, Survey Shows

There are more than 120,000 people now residing in Seminole County, according to figures released by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

In 1970, Seminole's population was about 84,000 and the estimated figure for the year 1973 was more than 120,000, making the area one of the fastest growing in the state.

The figures also show that Altamonte Springs was the fastest growing municipality in the county, increasing in population from 4,400 in 1970 to 9,000 by 1973, a growth factor of 107 per cent in the three-year span.

According to the Commerce Department's figures, Orange County grew from 344,000 to 394,000 over the same period, a growth of 14.5 per cent, while the city of Orlando increased its population from 111,000 to 120,000.

Volusia County population increased by 14.3 per cent, jumping from 169,000 to nearly 194,000.

Osceola County increased from 25,000 to 34,000, or 36 per cent, according to the Census Bureau of the Commerce Department, Councilman Martin Bacon Sr. said.

"They (the county) want $120,000 in material money for a road that is not in the city," he said.

Three months ago, the county, because of the condition of Lake Mary Road, made a commitment to resurface and there has been talk of the state taking it over in the future when four-laning is accomplished, Councilman Martin Bacon Sr. said.

Lake Mary Vetoes
County Paving Idea

LAKE MARY — The City Council agreed unanimously last night the city is not interested in participating with the county in paying the costs of paving Lake Mary Boulevard at Rinehart Road.

"Inform the county we are not interested in participating at this time," the motion endorsed by all councilmen said.

It is well known, Councilman Harry Terry said, that most of the traffic using the boulevard neither originates nor ends in Lake Mary, adding the south side of the road is in the city and the east side of Rinehart Road is a state road.

Terry also said before the city could give any serious consideration to the county proposal to pay the lion's share of material costs, an accurate, more precise estimate would have to be submitted.

Terry said he has seen county cost estimates of a paving project double overnight in the past with the added expectation by the county that the city would deposit the estimated costs with the county in advance of work commencing on a project.

City Studies Water Action

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Lake Mary... "In my section of the city (around Lake Mary Boulevard), I have told the fire department they can use water from my wells. I have two big wells. One is hooked directly with a big nozzle. I have told them if they need water to switch on the pump, turn a valve and fill the truck up."

She began today gathering cost estimates and studying the feasibility of opening nine rights-of-way into Crystal Lake requested by the fire department.

"I don't know how many Lake Mary has had a volunteer fire department, but it seems funny that the city buys the waterworks that the fire department wanted to buy, that they come up with the idea of opening these rights-of-way."

"To open some of the streets would cost several thousands of dollars. Some others are not feasible to open up," she said.

"The city is trying to live within a budget and not go into debt and not raise taxes," Mrs. Griffin said.

"We are trying to consider not only the fire department, but all departments."

"The city did have one house fire in Lake Mary last year that was a total loss. The house was sitting right under the firehouse."

"The budget was made up before I ever took office and there is no money in it for opening up these streets," she said.

One thing for certain, something has to be done on the funding by December, because a large — about $40,000 — sum is due to Southern Gulf Utilities to pay off the purchase.

"We have everything lined up to go as soon as the funding is approved," she noted, pointing out the city has already arranged for local interim financing.

And once the approval is given, fire hydrants will be installed. Until that time, the fire department, she said, can obtain water from city lakes, via a public park on Grand Bend and another on Park

Seminole Man Set For New Kidney

Charles Gaster of Winter Springs might be a patient in the hospital over the July 4 holiday, but this is one holiday he won't mind missing.

He's tentatively scheduled to receive a new kidney in a transplant at Florida Hospital in Orlando on July 2.

Gaster moved to Winter Springs about two years ago from DeLand, where he operated a service station from 1965 until two years ago. He moved so he could be closer to Florida Hospital where he has been undergoing treatment on a kidney dialysis machine.

Two of Gaster's sisters, Vera Jeffer and Audrey Taffee, both of London, England, will be arriving in Orlando tomorrow to aid their brother. And both are prepared to donate a kidney to Gaster, who has been undergoing treatment on the dialysis machine three times a week for the past two years.

Both sisters have been tested in England and physicians there have told them either is capable of donating a kidney to the brother who emigrated from his homeland in 1957.

Upon arriving in Florida in '57, Gaster worked for the British Motor Corp. in Pensacola and later moved to New York City. He remained there for two years.

The kidney ailment forced him to close his DeLand service station in 1973.

When told that his sisters were on their way and that he would be the recipient of a new kidney, Gaster said, "I've been looking forward to this for years."

As to being hospitalized over the July 4 weekend, Gaster said, "It will be easy to miss a holiday this time."

Police, Fire Dispatching Alternatives To Be Mulled

LAKE MARY — A workshop session with the City Council, fire commissioners, "Fire Chief Chuck Smith and Police Chief Harry Benston has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday to discuss the alternatives available in providing police and fire emergency dispatch.

Another workshop will be held at 7:30 next Thursday night on the budget for the 1975-76 fiscal year.

Mayor Walter Sorenson had requested that all department heads turn in budget requests for the new year by last Sunday.

The Council discussed the alternatives last night for an emergency communications system for local public safety departments and Police Commissioner Bert Perinich listed alternatives available. Need for uniformed section, Perinich noted, was emphasized by a possible drawing emergency three weeks ago.

The city's current arrangement with Sheriff John Polk's countywide communication system would continue, but for emergencies consideration is being given to a modified or full-blown emergency dispatch.

Perinich said the countywide system is good and it "dispatches with dispatch" when callers can get through to the Sanford-based headquarters and when the callers are not put on hold.

The alternatives available, he said, are: — A radio base station and dispatcher to operate 24 hours daily seven days a week. This would be costly, he said. — Use of city hall staff during the daytime hours city hall is open and placing a dispatcher on duty at night. — Permitting dispatch from a private home by a retired person. — A professional answering service. — An agreement with another city for dispatch services. — Perinich said in any event telephone slithers denoting the county emergency number, identical to those distributed to residents some months ago, should be made available again. — "It is time-consuming to leaf through the telephone book in an emergency," Perinich said.

Grand Jury Given '74 Probe Report

Also before the jurors for apparently lengthy testimony was Jack R. Fulewider, chief investigator for State Attorney Abbott Herring. Fulewider is known to have assembled a large number of documents from public records about jail conditions and Sheriff John Polk's efforts to get money for repairs, plus several tape recordings of county commission meetings in which Polk's request was discussed.

Other witnesses seen going into the grand jury room yesterday included jail inmates Elvis Webster, 27, and Rommie Dunn, 20, who escaped the fire.

The grand jury will meet again tomorrow to hear testimony from other witnesses and to consider the report of the grand jury.

Evening Herald, Sanferd, FL Thursday, June 19, 1975—7A

Theme Is Equality Conference Draws Top Women

The highlight of International Women's Year begins today as the IWY World conference convenes in Mexico City with as many as 10,000 women expected to attend this largest global gathering of its kind.

Two or three women chiefs of state; the wives of seven presidents or prime ministers; Fidel Castro's sister-in-law and the Shah of Iran's sister (rumored to be the financial "angel" who made a secret donation of $50,000 toward the conference) will be among some of the world's best-known names attending.

Women's Lib personalities Betty Friedan and Gloria Steinem and U.S. political activists Angela Davis and Jane Fonda are also expected.

Sponsored by the United Nations on a $1.7 million bankroll as the highlight of IWY, the aim of the conference is to advance women's rights and equality with men in furthering world economic development and strengthening peace.

However, it is expected that the meeting may stray from the theme of women's rights to another sharp confrontation between industrial and third world nations over demands by the latter for a "new economic order."

Mexican Attorney General Pedro Ojeda Paulilla is coordinator for the convention which will be opened by U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim and addressed by Mexican President Luis Echeverria.

Argentine President Maria Estela Peron will probably not attend.

However, confirmed participants are Prime Minister S.D. Bandaranaike of Sri Lanka (Ceylon) and wives of the presidents of the Philippines and Egypt, Mrs. Imelda Marcos and Mrs. Ghani Sadat. Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi said confirmed Prime

Hot Embrace Burns Her Up

DEAR ABBY: I must make a comment about the woman whose husband tickles her until she is hysterical, even though she begs him to stop.

I had a husband like that. He used to shadowbox around me, occasionally landing a genuinely painful blow here and there. He would dance around, prizefighter-style, saying, "Let's mix it up a little." He would pretend it was all in fun, but I knew he was sadistic when I begged him to stop and he wouldn't. I even told him that if he'd quit that little shadowboxing game for good, I would accept as my Christmas present. Even that didn't work.

Then I casually asked a friend of mine in the presence of her husband and mine if her husband ever played such games. Of course he hadn't. And then knowing I had lied, he never played that game again.

A psychiatrist later told me that when I exposed his cruelty to our friends, he saw himself as others saw him, and he stopped voluntarily.

So maybe this poor "tickled" woman should try the same approach.

Family Togetherness Builds Capri's Success

By JAN MOHAIAN
Herald Staff Writer

Figuring that opening a new business in these tough economic times isn't any bigger a gamble than getting up every morning or crossing a street, the McEACHERNS plunged headlong into Sue-Ann's Capri restaurant.

That was Jan. 21 of this year and the McEACHERNS are still betting on their recipe for success: "good food at a price everyone can afford."

But the Leesburg couple aren't novice restaurateurs anyway. When Tom's parents "mom and pop" type motel was squeezed out by the "motel boom," they embarked upon turning it back into a profitable business by remodeling it room by room into the "Pewter Pig" restaurant.

That experience also helped when it came to remodeling the former Otto's Hauthaus Haus to the Capri. The couple did the carpentry work and decorating themselves including laying the slate floor.

Specializing in Western beef, fresh vegetables, and tableside carving, many of the Capri's recipes were garnered from Tom's earlier travels in the textile business where six out of seven dinners were in restaurants.

Though much more sophisticated, Sue-Ann's Capri is still a "mom and pop" kind of business with the added bonus of three helpful daughters ages 11, 12 and 13. They help in the kitchen and as bus girls while Tom and Sue Ann's paths cross as she does the book work and the lunch hours shift—9 a.m. to 2 p.m. — and he takes the late afternoon and evening shift. All commute the 45 minute drive from Leesburg.

"We all do whatever needs to be done — washing dishes — scrubbing floors, cooking — and we don't ask our employees to do anything we haven't done," says McEACHERN.

The McEACHERNS feel that all this togetherness is an advantage rather than a disadvantage. "It's very demanding, but good for your personal life," says Tom. "We enjoy meeting people and many of our customers become good friends."

"Everyone pulling his own load" is also the spirit that helps get things done around the McEACHERN household in the little time that's left after business hours.

But because they feel some leisure family time is important too, Sue Ann's Capri is closed on Sundays and holidays. Then together they enjoy camping and bicycle riding.

FRED LYNN:

Three HRs, Triple, Single, 10 RBI

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fred Lynn had a 20-game hitting streak stopped Monday, so the Boston Red Sox rookie center fielder decided to do something about it.

"I came to the ballpark early for extra batting practice," Lynn said after leading Boston to a 15-1 wallop of the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night. "I wasn't satisfied with the way I'd been swinging."

He was satisfied after Wednesday's game. He smashed three home runs, a triple and a single, driving in 10 runs and missing the American League RBI record by one, a mark set by Tony Lazzeri of the New York Yankees in 1936. The major league record is 12, set by James Bottomley of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1924.

Lynn wasn't the only bat on target Wednesday in the American League. In other games, Baltimore clobbered Cleveland 13-6, Kansas City crushed California 13-4, Texas clubbed Chicago 10-3, Milwaukee edged New York 5-3 and Oakland ripped Minnesota 7-6.

With his 5-for-6 effort, Lynn moved in the league lead in runs with 42 and RBIs with 50. He increased his home run total to 14, only one behind the leaders, is third in batting with a .352 average and tied for fifth in doubles with 13.

Lynn began his carnage with a two-run homer in the first inning off starter Joe Coleman. He also tagged Coleman for a three-run blast in the second, slamming the ball off the right field roof at Tiger Stadium.

In the third he slashed a two-run triple off Bob Reynolds, beat out an infield single in the eighth off Tom Walker, then concluded the evening with a three-run homer off Walker in the ninth.

Orleans 13, Indians 6
Lee May, Tommy Davis and Paul Blair combined to bat in 10 runs as Baltimore pounded out 19 hits. May and Ken Singleton homered for the winners while Boog Powell and Buddy Bell had round-trippers for Cleveland.

Royals 13, Angels 0
Cookie Rojas' double scored Tony Solaita with the fourth run of the first inning as Kansas City belted starter Nolan Ryan and three other California hurlers. Ryan, who pitched the fourth no-hitter of his career June 1, was forced from the game in the third inning with a groin injury.

Rangers 10, White Sox 3
A grand slam homer by Roy Smalley in the eighth was the big hit as Texas dumped the Chicago White Sox. Ferguson Jenkins gave up three home runs, all solo shots, as he increased his season record to 8-6.

Brewers 5, Yankees 3
Bill Traversa, staked to an early 4-0 lead, scattered six hits and had last-out relief help from Ed Rodriguez as Milwaukee stopped the New York Yankees. Sixto Lezcano homered, his fifth, for the Brewers in the seventh as Milwaukee routed Yankee starter Doc Medich.

A's 7, Twins 6
Two home runs by Joe Rudi — one coming with the bases full in the seventh — gave Oakland enough runs to withstand a late Minnesota surge. Down 4-1, the A's scored six runs on just two hits in the seventh.

George's Captures Crown; Knocks Off Prosser Ford

George's won the Sanford Continental Little League championship Wednesday, edging Jack Prosser Ford 4-2.

In addition, Apex defeated United Transportation Union 13-8. George's lifted its record to 16-3 with one make-up game to play. Prosser Ford ended its season with a 15-5 slate.

George's scored three runs in the bottom of the fourth inning for the victory. It opened with a solo tally in the first. Ford scored one run each in the third and fifth innings.

Walt Pace and Tony Littles of George's combined for a one-hitter.

Pace hurled five innings, gave up one hit, struck out four and walked five. Littles pitched one inning and did not give up a hit or run. He struck out one.

Littles and Pace also poked singles. Walter Law fired a two-hitter for Prosser Ford. He struck out nine and walked two. Law also collected a single.

Ford committed six errors and George's misused four times. Apex scored three runs in the first inning and then tallied 10 runs in the final three innings to knock off United Transportation Union.

Charles Lloyd of Apex singled for the game's only hit.

Dean Debose, Jerry Farina and Jeff Kipp of UTU gave up only one hit, but walked 15 Apex batters.

Jeff Webb, Ken Perkins and Bill Cosgrave of Chase did not allow any hits. They permitted eight runs and walked eight.

Cosgrave pitched the final two innings for Chase and did not give up a hit, struck out three and did not issue a walk.

Webster: Signs With ABA Nuggets

DENVER (AP) — Marvin Webster, "The Human Eraser" from Morgan State, says he's signed a five-year contract with the Denver Nuggets and hopes to help the Nuggets win the American Basketball Association championship next season.

Webster refused Wednesday night to disclose the contract's monetary arrangements, but published reports put them at $1.2 million to $1.5 million. Bob King, the Nuggets' assistant general manager, said earlier that those figures were "good ballpark" estimates.

"I think I made the right decision," Webster said in a telephone interview from his hotel room. "I think Atlanta is a very good place, but here was where I wanted to play. I feel like it's the place for me."

The Nuggets drafted Webster, whose colorful nickname derives from his shot-blocking prowess, in the first round of the ABA draft.

Baker: No Wait And See U.S. Open

DAYTONA BEACH (AP) — With competition tougher than ever, Buddy Baker says the only way he can approach the July 4 Firecracker 400 stock car race is with a strategy of all-out speed.

"You can't afford to sit back and wait," he said Wednesday. "You have to run flat out all the way and hope your pit stops are quick enough to keep you up front."

Baker has won nine Grand National races, but hasn't cracked the winner's circle at Daytona International Speedway. He was leading the Daytona 500 in 1973 with seven laps to go when his engine blew.

In his 14 years of stock car racing, he has led almost every big race here at some point. He will drive the Bud Moore Ford in which he won the Talladega 500 this season and says "if we just finish races, we can win."

Baker predicted it will take a speed of 185 miles an hour or better to win the pole in July 2 qualifying.

JOHNNY BENCH:

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Johnny Bench hit an umpire, but it was nothing personal.

"The Cincinnati catcher rattled a freak hit off Lee Weyer's shoe at third base and it hurt the Atlanta Braves more than the man in blue.

Two runs scored on the bizarre double in the third inning, leading the Reds to a 6-1 decision over the Braves Wednesday.

"It's just unbelievable," said Bench, thinking more about the RBI title than the ricochet his hit took into left field.

The two runs batted in gave Bench 57 for the season and the major league lead in that department. That means that Bench is in good shape to pull off a baseball oddity — four RBI titles.

Only Rogers Hornsby and Hank Aaron have done it and Bench — at 27 — says he has his sights set on it.

"I started off thinking it would even out after a while, but it hasn't so far," says Bench.

In the other National League games, the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Cincinnati Reds 9-7; the San Francisco Giants routed the San Diego Padres 8-1; the Pittsburgh Pirates walloped the St. Louis Cardinals 9-3; the Montreal Expos nipped the New York Mets 7-6 in 10 innings and the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the Houston Astros 4-0.

Bench's latest binge gave him 19 RBIs in the last 14 games, propelling him to a wide lead over his National League challengers. Both teammates Tony Perez and Greg Luzinski of Philadelphia are tied for second in the RBI race with 44.

The Reds overcame steamy humidity and wore out Blue Moon Odom early for their 22nd victory in their last 29 games.

Phillies 9, Cubs 7
Reserve infielder Tommy Hutton, a .171 hitter, slammed a two-run pinch home run in the ninth inning to carry Philadelphia over Chicago. Dick

Allen, who had homered and doubled twice earlier, got his fourth hit of the day, a single, with one out in the top of the ninth. Then Hutton was inserted for Mike Anderson and responded with a blast off reliever and loser Bob Locker, 6-1.

Giants 8, Padres 1
Derrel Thomas doubled and scored in a three-run first inning, belted a two-run single in the fourth and singled and scored in the sixth, leading San Francisco over San Diego.

Pirates 9, Cardinals 3
Pittsburgh scored four runs in the first inning and held on behind the six-hit pitching of Jim Rooker to defeat St. Louis. The Pirates backed Rooker with 17 hits, including two by Bill Robinson.

Expos 7, Mets 6
Nate Colbert led off the 10th inning with a double and scored on Pete Mackanin's single, giving Montreal its victory over New York.

Dodgers 4, Astros 0
Ron Cey slammed a first-inning grand slam home run and Burt Hooton hurled a three-hitter to lead Los Angeles past Houston. Cey's homer was his 10th of the season and second in as many games. It was the first grand slam of his career.

The Seaboard-Outcasts game Wednesday was a see-saw affair.

Seaboard Explodes For Eight Runs in the Bottom of the Seventh Inning to Keep the Game Tied at 15-15 and Then to Win with a Solo Run in the Eighth.

Seaboard exploded for eight runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to keep the game tied at 15-15 and then to win with a solo run in the eighth.

Terry Cooper smashed a double and three singles and Mike Richeard slammed four singles for Seaboard. Teammate Rico Peterson ripped a triple and single.

Fred Westington smacked two doubles for the Outcasts. Eddie Jackson cracked three singles, and Cubi Malone, Bernard Hudley, Reginald Alexander, Charles Smith and Larry Quinn poked two singles apiece.

Both teams smashed 17 hits in the game. Lake Monroe Inn clubbed 16 hits in its lopsided win over Famous Recipe.

Domy Anderson and Roger Beathard led the charge with three hits apiece, and Bob Hood, Larry Helman and Andy Rufas slammed a double and single apiece.

Jerry Dillard, who is turning into slow pitch softball's Nolan Ryan, allowed Famous Recipe only five hits.

Auto Train continued to blaze its second-half winning trail with its win over Eldridge Standard.

Auto Train is 4-5 in the second half and 6-18 overall.

Don Marple, Dave Barnosky and Gary Brown led Auto Train with three singles apiece, Dave Bach and Bob Lavender added two singles apiece.

Jim Edmon, Bob Sanchargan and John Lovin poked two singles apiece for Eldridge Standard.

VCS Drivers Involved in Controversy

It is a shame that some of the best drivers in the nation also are the roughest drivers.

There are plenty of top drivers winning feature after feature, who never put a fender on another car. Sure, it happens on a short track with a field of 20 or more cars running together at over 80 m.p.h.

This is different than when a car deliberately hits another. Such was the case on last week's program at Volusia County Speedway, when the top-feature winner of the race, Ray Gardner, put David Rodgers out of the race on the last lap of the first heat.

Pit Stop By CARL VANZURA

Sides were taken — some saying Rodgers had the groove and had the right to turn. Others thought Gardner had enough of his car beside Rodgers and had the right to fight for the position in the turn.

Track officials felt that Gardner, who was fined earlier in the year for rough driving, was driving in an unsportsmanlike manner and suspended him from racing the rest of the night.

A written complaint also was sent to NASCAR by another driver complaining of Gardner's driving. It seems VCS might lose one of its top drivers to a NASCAR suspension.

Local boys were back in force at VCS with misfortune hitting most of them before the night was over.

Lake Mary Firemen, County In 'Agreement'

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Volunteer firemen thrashed out differences with County Fire Administrator Gary Kaiser last night, agreeing to vote at a Tuesday night meeting on whether to appoint a committee to work with Kaiser on a mutual aid agreement.

GARY KAISER

Mrs. Barbara Smith, speaking on behalf of her fire chief husband, said the county has nothing to offer the city in mutual aid and the county is not in a position to provide the volunteers with like services.

While details of the formal agreement are being worked out, the volunteers, with the blessing of elected city officials, offered informal mutual aid to the county "to see if we can work together."

Seminole County Bar Steps In With Legal Aid For Poor

By MICK LOCHRIDGE Herald Staff Writer

Indigent families in Seminole County probably have tougher legal problems than anybody else. They have no money to have their legal problems taken to court.

Funded by an $8,000 state grant and an estimated $4,000 to $5,000 from filing fees from the circuit court, the society will operate on free time donated by the more than 90 practicing attorneys in the county.

"The attorneys in the Seminole County Bar Association are donating their time absolutely free of charge for indigent persons who truly deserve legal help and cannot afford it."

Bar members Moncrief said in the past, free legal aid has been handled by volunteer lawyers, but also coordinated by the president. "But, there are so many people in Seminole County we can't do it any more. We've got to have an organization to do it."

An additional $26,722 in federal money has been appropriated for Seminole County's summer job program which will provide jobs up to 300 youths from economically disadvantaged families.

The money, released by the U.S. Department of Labor following Congressional legislation, is in addition to already approved $175,000. The 10-week program was implemented Monday with 200 students between the ages of 14-

"We're trying to offer a little bit of everything," Smith said today. "We're trying to cut out the custodial jobs." Smith also said he is still looking for some college students for working as recreational director assistants in recreational facilities.
