Winter Festival To Get Underway Saturday At Noon

It will be a day for "a rousing good time" Saturday, Nov. 17 when the Fourth Annual Winter Festival of All Soul's Parochial School gets underway at noon to continue until 10 p. m.

The Winter Festival is conducted to raise funds for the All Soul's School expenses.

It is a combination bazaar and carnival where hot dogs, soda pop, and hot coffee are served on the grounds. However, for the folks looking for a tasty meal, real Italian spaghetti will be served from 5 to 8 p. m.

Around the midway will be found a large selection of hand-made needlework of all kinds (crocheted, knitted, embroidered and machine); a parcel post booth with gifts from far-away places a giant array of homemade pastries and candies; beautifully decorated cakes made by some of the county's best cooks. A baby booth with lovely bride doll and handmade doll house to be awarded some lucky participant.

That's not all, according to the committee in charge of this year's annual event. There will be a country store, reminiscent of the good old days with everything from "toothpick to topcoat!" For the kids, there will be a fish pond, pony rides, miniature car ride, and the much loved "40 & 6" locomotive. Contests for the younger set with valuable awards; game booths galore for young, not so young, and old.

A host of awards will be made every half hour, according to the Winter Festival officials. They include $200 in cash; a $150 hand-made quilt; $50 in cash; a $20 electric casserole; 10 Thanksgiving turkeys; and many others.

There will be hundreds of items on display which will make delightfully unique Christmas gifts.

The All Soul's Parochial School 4th Annual Winter Festival is sponsored by the Catholic Women's Society and the Holy Name Society of the All Soul's Parish.

Members of the committee, according to the Jaycee Journal, include: Ed Hunt, Don Crumley, Garfield Willetts, Ralph Pezold, Bill Evans, Herb Stenstrom, Bob Landreth, E. C. Harper Jr., Ronald Flamm, Glenn Lyons, Gordon Frederick, Jack Sewell, Kim Kimbrell, Bob Bennett, Bill Livingston, Jim Grant, Warren E. Knowles, Bill Gramkow, M. L. Raborn Jr., and Jim Jenkins.

Other projects for the Jaycees include the Teen Age Rod-E-O to be held on Dec. 1 in Sanford. The annual rodeo committee is headed by Bill Lockard.

50,000 Reported Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the United States would oppose—probably through the United Nations—any intervention in Egypt by Soviet or Chinese Communist volunteers.

The President left up in the air just what form such opposition might take.

He told a news conference, his first since re-election, that the nature of such opposition would depend upon the specific circumstances of any intervention.

There have been reports that up to 50,000 Soviet volunteers were ready to move into the Middle East if Moscow should give the word.

Dan Schorr, a CBS correspondent in Moscow, said in a broadcast from the Soviet capital today there was reliable information that Egypt had asked for Russian volunteers. Schorr was cut off the air when he started to enumerate details of the volunteer force.

A week ago, the White House issued a statement saying that the introduction of any new armed forces into Egypt "would violate the U. N. charter, and it would be the duty of all U. N. members, including the United States, to oppose any such effort."

In the light of that statement Eisenhower was asked today what form U. S. opposition would take under such circumstances.

He replied it was impossible for him to say at this point.

Then he commented that the U. N. is not restricted, as he put it, in adopting resolutions.

The President added that he was not going to say the United States would make a unilateral determination—that is a decision by itself—about how to handle such intervention. He noted that last week's White House statement said it would be the duty of U. N. member countries to oppose intervention.

Eisenhower said this country certainly would lend support to any U. N. action it was at this point that he added that the action need not be restricted to adoption of resolutions.

The President said there was one case in which the U. N. did more than pass a resolution. Although he did not say so, Eisenhower presumably was referring to U. N. intervention in Korea.

The President expressed hope and confidence that the current crisis in the Middle East and in Slavic with Rev. Stephen N. Tuohy, officiating.

He also said he believes that once those situations have been resolved, U. S. relations with Britain and France will be stronger than ever.

People Should Be Grateful Nation's Freedom Stronger

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower urged the American people in a Thanksgiving Day proclamation, to be grateful for the nation's foundations of freedom grow stronger every year and give "hope to fettered peoples that they may walk as free men unafraid."

The annual proclamation set aside Thursday, Nov. 22, as "a day of national Thanksgiving."

With the completion of the cycle of winter and summer, seed time and harvest, we come to the traditional time of Thanksgiving, when our minds and hearts turn to Almighty God in grateful acknowledgment of His mercies throughout the year.

Let us be grateful that the foundations of freedom in our nation grow stronger with each passing year, giving hope to fettered peoples that they may walk as free men unafraid; that the yield of our soil and the production of our factories have been abundant, enriching our lives and enabling us to share our bounty with less fortunate ones in other lands; and that the forces of nature are being harnessed for peaceful purposes, bringing limitless possibilities of comfort and happiness both to ourselves and to the future generations.

It is also fitting at this season that we should consider our entire history. Let us remember the Pilgrim fathers who, fleeing from religious oppression, landed on a bleak, forbidding shore and began to carve out what became this great republic which it is our happy destiny to love and serve. For their foresight, their courage, and their idealism let us give thanks to the power which has made and preserved us a nation.

Humbly aware that we are a people greatly blessed, both material and spiritual, let us give thanks to God for His mercies.

Walk, Traffic Light Will Be Erected At 1st, Park Ave.

There's a possibility that hated Christmas shoppers may get to cross First Street at Park Ave. just about any way they want.

A modern walk and traffic light is being ordered by City Manager Warren E. Knowles for the busiest Sanford intersection.

The new light was included in the 1956-57 budget for the City of Sanford as a means of improving the traffic congestion as well as improving the pedestrian traffic at this point.

With the installation of the new traffic light, the "no left turn" sign at the intersection will be removed which will allow visitors and local motorists to turn into the First Street shopping area with ease.

No definite date has been set by the City Manager for the installation of the new lights which are to cost in the neighborhood of $400. However, all haste (Continued on Page 9)

First Lady 60 Years Old Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mamie Eisenhower turned 60 today and a family dinner was planned at the White House to celebrate the occasion.

Otherwise, the First Lady's birthday shaped up as a quiet one, although she had a date to pose for pictures with representatives of the National Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon.

The citizens group arranged to present Mrs. Eisenhower with a life-size portrait of herself in the pink Inaugural Ball gown she wore in 1952.

Mary Hutchinson Will Be 1st Concert Guest

All membership cards have been mailed for the forthcoming Seminole Mutual Concert Association series beginning Monday night when Mary Hutchinson appears at Pinecrest School for the first of the season's programs.

The President of the association, Francis E. Roumillat, Jr. said today that "if anyone has not received their card please contact me at once."

When admirers from her audience go backstage to see MARY HUTCHINSON after her program, they almost invariably ask "How did you happen to decide to go into the theatre?" And Miss Hutchinson replies, "I didn't decide, I just grew up in the theatre."

It might even be said that her career began before she was born, for her parents first met when they were both playing in a repertory company in Maryland.

Mary Hutchinson comes by her talent natural. She is a direct descendant of The Hutchinson Family, famous concert singers of the last century who toured this country as well as England, Scotland and Ireland. They were called the "Pioneers of Song" and were perhaps the first of the troupes of family singers.

Miss Hutchinson's father, William S. Hutchinson, was considered one of the finest amateur actors in the country, but claimed he could not afford to be in the theatre because he had a family to support. So, he became a civil engineer by profession and an actor by avocation, with his daughter often playing supporting roles with him, some of the same parts she was later to play in the professional theatre in support of Charles Coburn. As a matter of fact, at one time, Mrs. Coburn coached young Mary for the role of Plum Blossom for the Hutchinson production of "The Yellow Jacket" in Bethlehem, Pa.

Mary started her dancing lessons at the age of four, and soon was the star of her class. Later, during her summer vacations, she studied in New York with such famous ballet masters as Albertini, Chaff, Tarasoff and Kubiak, and attended the School of the American Ballet and the New York School of the Theatre.

After studying for a time at Barnard College, with an eye to becoming a Latin teacher, Mary auditioned as a dancer for Earl (Continued on Page 9)

CofC Teams Calling On Former Members

With a goal of $11,000 and 350 members ahead of them, the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Membership Drive team of Captains and workers started yesterday calling on former members of the county-wide organization to gain their objective.

The one-week drive is expected to climax with complete success as memberships continue to roll in with remarks from membership renewals.

Charles Robinson of the Food Mart said today "I support the Chamber of Commerce because I believe that an effective Chamber of Commerce, dollar for dollar, is my best advertising medium."

Another merchant, R. T. Hunt of Hunt's Tuxedo Feed Store, remarked, "I feel that the Chamber of Commerce represents me in ways that would be impossible for me as an individual, because I have not the time nor the know-how."

Dr. J. N. Tolar, Sanford physician, told the Chamber of Commerce that "I think that the Chamber of Commerce is the most effective organization we have for the promotion of Seminole County, and that it does a very constructive and necessary work."

As more memberships come in to the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce office, additional statements come in with them. A. B. Peterson, Jr., of St. Johns Realty Co., said "We support the Chamber of Commerce because we believe in Seminole County."

we believe that the Chamber of Commerce is the proper instrument to facilitate the further development of our potentials, and that the Chamber is in an advantageous position to bring to the attention of the proper persons our natural and developed resources.

W. A. Kratzer of the firm of DeLew, Cather & Brill said "My firm has joined the Chamber of Commerce because our membership in this organization makes us a real part of the community."

Another merchant of the City, Bernard Jaffe of the Sanford Shoe Center stated "I am a member of the Chamber of Commerce because I believe that it is the duty of every merchant to help those who help him."

Captains of the teams now conducting the membership drive are: Col. S. C. Harriman, Jim Hunt, A. L. Wilson, Jim Grant, Mrs. Harold Appleby, and Art Pleva.

Chairman of the Membership Drive for the local Chamber of Commerce is Don Bates.

A greeting card like this is certain to be enjoyed long after the Christmas season is but a memory.

The Christmas Card That No One Else Can Send

Just take a quick look around—and you'll notice counters and windows are suddenly coming alive with fat Santas, shining snowflakes, tinsel and tree ornaments.

So, you see, it's not a bit too soon to decide on a suitable Christmas card for your special holiday greeting this year.

If you're like most of us, you've probably discovered that shopping for an individual-looking card for you and your family is often a disappointing experience. That's why so many people who feel their holiday message should be expressed in warm, personal, individual terms are turning to photographic greeting cards. Nothing but nothing really puts the "strictly personal" stamp on a Christmas card the way a picture of your own taking does. And that picture may be one now in your album that you've taken some time during the year, or one that you shoot with a holiday theme especially selected for "season's greetings."

Your family picture record for 1956 probably contains a number of snapshots that would lend themselves admirably to the task of saying "Merry Christmas."

If you decide to take a special picture for your Christmas card, there are, of course, endless possibilities awaiting your camera. Several of the photographic cards we received last year might spark your imagination. One that we especially enjoyed was a shot of the little girl of the house all togged out in red flannel pajamas and seated on the family hearth "waiting for Santa." Another was a close-up of shiny Christmas balls strung across the mantel. Each ball bore a large letter—and the whole spelled out "MERRY CHRISTMAS." Still another featured a frosted windowpane—a home-grown Jack Frost job done with a soap spray—showing Junior's finger just completing the words "MERRY XMAS" across it.

Chamber Of Commerce Benefits Entire Community; Join Up Now!

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce membership drive is about half over! Next Tuesday, at noon, Captains and team members will report their success in the short week-long campaign to bring members into the Chamber of Commerce.

News reports stated that the goal is only 111,000 for the financial side of the Chamber of Commerce work, and 350 members for the tally on the personal side of the Chamber's objective for the drive.

It seems to us that these figures are mighty small—especially in comparison to the big task that is ahead of Sanford and Seminole County for the next year.

More than likely it is surprising to some to know what the Chamber of Commerce has set out to do during its present fiscal year. The objectives are wide, and they could include hundreds of individual projects that need to be complete and wrapped up in the forward surge of the county as a whole in growth—populationwise as well as economically.

Certainly the business people, commercial people, industrial people as well as the professional people all realize what the Chamber of Commerce means to the city and county in this day of highly competitive bidding for the various enterprises that would help increase our prosperity.

There should be no necessity for a drive or campaign for the Chamber of Commerce. Each year there should be an automatic response from every one whose interest is centered in Seminole County.

It is our hope—and we know that it is the hope of every civic leader in the community—that this year's membership campaign for Seminole County will zoom over the top by a wide margin.

To do so would give those who are carrying on the work in our Seminole County Chamber of Commerce a leeway with which they could do much to make the reality of the projects and objectives come true.

If you have not become a member of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, then don't hesitate to do so immediately—it is important to have every business, every industry, every profession, represented in the membership roll this year and every year hereafter.

With a wide awake Chamber of Commerce—which we know that we have—much can be accomplished to benefit every community within the limits of Seminole County. Join up now!

Uneasy Armistice

Since 1945 when the Second World War ended, the world has been shaken by crises. The dream of peace in our time has not been truly attained, and it is not likely to be. This does not mean that there is necessarily going to be all-out war. But the world will go on living in what amounts to an uneasy armistice. The irritations and passions, aroused by unresolved problems, will continue to find expression, sometimes violent ones.

One of the basic reasons for this continuing and tragic situation is the fact of stalemate. Problems like that of German disarmament and the division of Korea and Indo-China, for instance, are the result of stalemate.

Neither the United States nor the Soviet Union is powerful enough to impose will and order on the world. The United States does not wish to do this. But in the absence of other forces, there remain the two great powers. There cannot be trust between them. This is emphatically so because Russia is aggressive and totalitarian. We have reason to believe that, if it could, it would destroy us.

In this situation, ideals and ideas have an effect over a long run course of events, but the long run is a matter of decades, a century or centuries. In immediate crises, power and strength count. The essence of civilization is the rule of reason and truth over that force. Progress towards this ideal is slow.

This is all part of the dilemma of our age, a dilemma which certainly may be called tragic. There are no easy solutions. We must adjust ourselves to living in such an age and retain a strong, firm faith. We cannot be weak, and we cannot surrender to despair, cynicism or narrowness. We live in continuing crisis which requires the best thoughts and efforts of many men, and the determined patience to see it through and to work steadily towards enlarging areas of freedom.

When people on the street, and in groups where conversation turns from one topic to another, ask about the Docks and Terminals project—then there must be some interest generated somewhere.

More than likely, those who are asking about the project believe as we do—that it is one of the topmost projects on the list for ultimate completion here at Sanford.

More and more people will begin to talk about the project and wonder why Sanford cannot reap some of the benefits from the lower and more economical water rates that other inland waterway ports are enjoying.

Business people in particular are wondering where they can edge that little margin of profit closer to the realization of investing something in growth, expansion, and improvements so badly need.

Business may be good—all of us are aware of that fact—but the margin of profit keeps many from creating the new and modern which is demanded in present day competition.

The sooner we realize the Docks and Terminals project, the sooner many business people can invest in the building of their individual business concerns.

Farmer's Spending Habits Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—In their competition for the consumer's dollar a number of industries are taking a closer look today at the farm income totals has stopped and that a reversal in the trend is due heartens merchants who even during the slump that followed the end of Korean hostilities found the farm market good for such things as sweaters, stoves, TV sets and wall-to-wall carpeting.

The Department of Agriculture estimates that farmers will spend $50 billion dollars more in the next four years for home appliances. And the Carpet Institute reports that the number of farm families remodeling or redecorating their homes is well above the national average.

The farmer's spending habits appear to be in their third major phase since World War II.

Farm income rose sharply during the war. The first phase was the use of the increased income to pay off old debts. It is estimated that 7 out of 10 farms are clear of mortgage.

Farm income continued high after the war and the farmer put a lot of it into buying new farm equipment. Last year the invest-

Many View Retirement As Curse

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—Curbstone comments of a journalist: Plato: Twenty years ago a middle-aged man had the hope that if he could just keep his ulcer quiet until he was 65 he could retire and live happily ever after.

Today the idea seems to be spreading around that it is work that keeps a fellow young, and retirement that causes him ulcers.

Ever since man first climbed down out of the trees he has dreamed of a day when he could gnaw a twilight bone in peace without having to do battle with a saber-toothed tiger.

He finally has the answer—the old age pension. But many today seem to view retirement as a life-shortening curse instead of a blessing. All they mention about a pension is the tension it supposedly brings—the unhappy lost feeling of uselessness when there is no longer any duty to walk the treadmill of the daily job.

It has taken two centuries of argument, strikes, occasional head-thumping and the growth of social responsibility to win pensions in our machine age. Yet now some corporations are denounced as "heartless" because they do not retire their employees at 65.

You get a mental picture of thousands upon thousands of faithful old employees dying of heartbreak because they no longer have the joyous privilege of keeping their noses to the grindstone until they keel over dead.

Somewhat this picture doesn't square with the facts of the situation as I run across them.

The theory of retirement is like the practice of sex. It may be subject to certain justified criticisms, but nothing will ever make it downright unpopular with the masses.

Quitting at 65 a job held for many years is a sad blow to many men, and it is a major readjustment in living for any man. But the biggest bother made by most coders on "R" for retirement day isn't made because they yearn to go on endlessly laboring. Their real squawk, often justified, is, "My pension check isn't big enough for me to live the way I want to."

Most men in any period of history have been willing—if they could do so without starving—to quit paddling their own canoe at 65 and float quietly along for the rest of their journey, enjoying the

Foreign Aid To Be Ike's Big Problem

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—One of President Eisenhower's biggest problems in 1957 will be foreign aid. How much and for whom? The turmoil in Eastern Europe and the Middle East has heads spinning here.

Congress, increasingly critical, this year chopped a billion dollars off the foreign aid Eisenhower asked. What it does next year depends on the whole uncertain world picture.

It is perhaps the most confused picture faced by an American president since the aid program began.

Since July 1, 1955, this government has shovelled out more than 31 billion dollars, over 14½ billions of it military.

The purpose under Presidents Truman and Eisenhower has been plain enough: to bolster allies, win friends, and help the neutrals and underdeveloped countries for whom the Communists are bidding hard.

But this year the critical mood in Congress showed itself in several ways:

1. Besides cutting a billion dollars off the $1,750,975,000 Eisenhower asked, Congress banned use of the new funds for military aid to Yugoslavia, although aid funds allotted from previous years still could be used.
2. A Senate committee, a House committee and a special committee appointed by Eisenhower are all now busy investigating foreign aid and will be for months.

Both Truman and Eisenhower thought it money well spent to help Yugoslavia which, although still Communist, broke away from Russian control. Congress choked on the idea but still voted economic and military aid until this year.

Then it said no new military aid. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), Senate Republican leader, led this fight. He argued that aid to a Communist dictatorship is "disruptive to our whole foreign policy."

Eisenhower thought otherwise. He, like Truman, felt that helping one satellite which broke with Moscow might encourage others to do the same. He still thinks so.

And Congress may have to wrestle with this idea all over again.

On Oct. 24, after Poland appeared to have broken at least a

Office Problems Might Cause Employee's Ills

By HERMAN H. BUNDESEN, M. D.
ARE you generally tired and irritable after putting in a day's work at the office or factory? If you are, you probably blame it on "overwork" like most people.

In most instances, however, this isn't the real reason.

While some of you undoubtedly do work too hard, the majority of cases of both mental and physical ailments stemming from the working day usually are not related directly to the work itself.

Stem From Conflicts
Rather, they result from conflicts with other employees—usually those doing similar work—disagreements with superiors, especially a new boss, and various unhappy relationships with other personnel.

In short, it's generally other employees, or employers, who are the source of an individual's worktime anxiety, not the work itself.

Deep Concern
For example, you might develop a good case of worrying should an employee doing the same sort of work as you suddenly die of a heart attack. Even if you aren't working in the same office, even if you don't know the victim, you are likely to develop a deep concern simply because he is performing the same general type of duties.

This is especially true if he was about your age.

Fear of being inadequate at a new task also will contribute to your anxiety.

If overwork really is the source of the trouble, you'll probably feel much better after a vacation or even after a good night's rest.

But if you're just as irritable and just as fatigued at the beginning of the day as at the conclusion; if you come back from a vacation and begin griping right away, I doubt it's the work that is bothering you.

See Doctor
If you fit into this category, better see your doctor. He might advise a psychiatric consultation, perhaps it might be advisable to change jobs.

But be sure to check with your doctor before making any such drastic moves.

QUESTION AND ANSWERS
F. O.: I gave birth to a baby by Caesarean section, but the baby died from a bowel obstruction nine days later. Do you think I can have a normal child if I become pregnant again?
Answer: There is no evident reason why you should not have a healthy child even though you had an unfortunate occurrence with your first pregnancy.

FLORENCE Publisher Howard Greenfield told a companion, "I saw the darndest thing from the train window this morning just outside Rome: a lot of actors from 'War and Peace' playing baseball."

"That's not unusual," countered the other. "With so many Americans here now, you're likely to see a ball game in progress most any place in Italy."

"Not like this one," insisted Greenfield. "Napoleon was playing third base."

In Princeton, the University Book Store sold me many books about birds in the past year; the management decided to add a sidewalk on Audubon Blvd. Center. It had delighted the customers, too—all but one, that is, who brought it back in a huff, reporting bitterly, "I have called birds with this blasted thing now for three days straight—and the only answers I got back were from squirrels!"

INITIATED INTO THE RAINBOWS Monday night were Miss Janet Glenn and Miss Jean Southward. (Staff Photo)

Two Initiated Into Rainbows Monday Night

Miss Janet Glenn and Miss Jean Southward were initiated into the Rainbow Girls Monday night when the Sanford Assembly No. 25 held its regular meeting. Miss Margaret Ellison, Worthy Advisor, presided.

After initiation, the Assembly was given a report on the progress of the candy sale by the two team captains. They stated the sale has been very successful and this is the last week for people to get their candy bars from the Rainbow Girls.

A committee was appointed, with one girl from each of the churches represented in the Rainbow Girls selected to serve on the committee, which is to consult with their ministers and other church workers to decide on a worthy project for Christmas. They will give a report on their decision at the next meeting, which will be Nov. 20. Selected to serve on the committee were: Linda Sue Koke, Baptist; Nellie Pickens, Methodist; Kay Ivey, Presbyterian; Nan Cushman, Episcopalian; and Shirley Morgan, Christian.

Joint Covered Dish Supper Is Enjoyed By Three Groups

Mrs. V. G. Hasty, chairman, presided over a short business session of the Elsie Knight Circle of the First Baptist Church on Monday evening, following the mission study book "Japan's New Baptists" which was taught by Mrs. Irving Pryor.

Mrs. Pryor's talk was highlighted by a display of various articles of clothing, china and novelties from Japan. Mrs. Mike Jandula, who had lived in Japan for awhile was dressed in the original Japanese costume, lending an Oriental atmosphere to the meeting.

Proceeding to the study of the mission book, a covered dish supper was enjoyed jointly by members of the Elsie Knight Circle, the Frances Horton Circle and the Y.W.A. An Oriental theme predominated in the table decorations.

A gift was presented to Mrs. C. A. Anderson Jr., in appreciation for her work during the past year as chairman of the circle.

Four new members, Mrs. T. E. Smith, Mrs. S. C. Graham, Mrs. Ruby Groves and Mrs. H. M. Pearce, were welcomed into the circle. The group was invited to meet with Mrs. Anderson for the December meeting. Year books were distributed to the members.

Those present at the circle meeting were Mrs. Hasty, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Pryor, Mrs. Sue S. Stevenson, Mrs. V. C. Messinger, Mrs. F. L. Dampier, Mrs. H. A. Moreland, Mrs. N. C. The devotionals were then conducted by Mrs. Roy Wall, using the book "Adventure of Prayer". She also continued the study of the "Lord's Prayer", commenting on the position "Thy Will Be Done".

Mrs. H. E. Wiggins conducted the study, "Paul's Idea of the Church", after which Mrs. Wall gave the report on missions.

Seminoles Are Trying To Correct Defensive Weakness With Drills

Much Planning, Work Behine Half-Time Show

As many hundred football spectators view the spectacular and precise maneuver of the Seminole High School Band and Pep Club during the half-time presentations, little do they realize all the detailed planning and practice which lies behind a six-minute show.

Each year Bandmaster Ernest Cowley plans the shows for the presentations, dance routines by the majorettes, figure formations by the marching band and musical numbers by the pep club. A pageant using field props and a homecoming show using field lights and Indian regalia.

The number of different shows vary from five or six with eight or nine presentations during a season. The group repeats home shows for the out of town games which gives them a chance to work on a new show for home games during a week when an away is scheduled.

Beginning two weeks ahead of the opening of school, the drum major and his assisting drill masters in the band and pep club starts whipping new members into shape, spending two hours each morning practicing face movements, baton signals, marching in step and the 2 1/4 inch step required for precision drilling. This step is fundamental in that, by using a member takes 8 steps from a yard line and he will be exactly five yards away. Straight lines are no problem when each member takes the 2 1/4 inch step.

For a precision drill such as the show presented for the first home game, each step and turn taken by each member is accounted for in conjunction with each note of music played, as each yard line is passed. This is done by a printed sheet of directions that is passed out to each member.

A typical direction extracted from one of these sheets would read: "No. 23, M23B, RFD34, TT march 3-4c." To interpret this number 23 who is the eighth player in the 2nd rank right flank as the repeat of measure 23 of the music, march forward two eight counts and a four count which takes him 12 1/2 yards at which point he executes to-the rear march and continues to march three more eight counts or 15 yards before he follows the rest of directions.

Usually for a 6 minute presentation show it takes two typewritten pages of legal size paper to explain the full show. For such a show it takes between ten or twelve hours to figure out and place on paper, around a half-hour to type and mimeograph, and from 10 to 15 hours of drill to prepare it; a total of 25 or 30 hours to produce a 6 minute show. The actual make-up of these shows involve the various movements and number of steps being plotted on 10 charts of graph paper.

Assisting Ernest Cowley, the band director, in the make-up planning of the shows are Miss Barbara Robb, the pep club sponsor, Mr. George Dabbs, J. D. Stone, the Captain, Drum Major Leslie Smith and Sgt. Carol Nutt who is the head majorette. In addition to these, Pep Club Drill Captain Mary Ann Hall and her assistant Valerie Kirchoff and band drill master Sgs. Wally Pops and Berry St. John assist the bandmaster in the instruction of the show.

Devices other than instruction sheets used to aid in instruction of a show are blackboard drill showing the group the overall picture, public address system on the field to make corrections during the process of learning the show and clay lines across the field which are laid by a freshman.

An important phase of starting a new show is learning and then memorizing the music to be learned. All show music is memorized. This is done by sectional rehearsals outside of school time, usual

Notes In Passing

By B. Hugh Ansley
SBS Leads Jr. In Uniforms

One of the hardest problems to face a coach in picking 35 boys from a group of 125 enthusiastic, eager youngsters. This has been the problem of the junior high football coaches.

Hugh Carlton, principal of Junior High, and John Angel, asst. principal of Pinecrest School, were quick to point out to the youngsters that even if they didn't get an award of a uniform the first day they could still earn one by a display of the proper spirit.

Then the Seminole High athletic department came to the rescue. They offered the loan of the 30 JV uniforms after the close of the season today. Hugh Carlton took time out from eating his barbecued chicken at last night's Chief Club meeting to utter a sigh of relief when he heard the news.

A. O. Roberts announced this morning the dates on which the junior high teams will make their appearance before the Sanford public.

The first game will be held Nov. 17 under the lights at Memorial Stadium. Then on Nov. 20 the winners and the losers of the first double header will clash.

Proceeds from the games will go toward the payment of the outfitting of the teams.

A capacity crowd will probably be on hand to welcome the new addition to the athletic program of Sanford's schools.

As the first third of competitors for Peanut Bowl Night have turned out on masse in support of football. They have shattered all existing attendance records, they have traveled to the out-of-town games, they have inaugurated a junior high system to give more experience to the future school teams, they have instituted the rerecording of the stadium tax, and they have heaped favors on the team.

Last week this writer witnessed the season's greatest showing by the team. The only exceptions were the halfbacks, fullbacks, and a tackle.

The Sanford Seminoles can beat Leesburg. All it will take is the right attitude and the maximum effort by the players.

Glenn Johnson, who won the Michigan amateur golf crown the last three years, quarterbacked Michigan State football teams in 1941, 1942 and 1943.

ing on for three straight. "We had a lot of things against us this year. We fought lack of experience, lack of depth, the most powerful teams in the state all in a row, and we couldn't gun for a championship because we were still on probation. The boys hit a temporary slump, and that cost them two victories. Now they are back up in spirits and want to take the rest of the schedule. If they want to bad enough, I think they can do it."

But the story doesn't end there. Next year things will look even better for the Panthers. They will field an experienced ball club, they'll be regular members of the Big 9 North Conference, and they'll be up for every game in hopes of winning a title the first time they're eligible.

It all hangs on the remainder of the season. If the boys can take Daytona tomorrow night, they can go for the next game and have something to shoot for next year," Fair said.

Borton Lauds Junior High Football Project

"I was first introduced to football for the first time when I was in the sixth grade," Enn. John Borton told the Barbecue-meeting of the Seminole Chiefs Club at last night's outing at the Elks Club.

He then lauded the present project of the Chiefs Club and said that it was a fine, progressive thing for the city of Sanford.

Borton, All-American captain and quarterback of Ohio State's Rose Bowl champions four years ago, said that he was discouraged the first year of hard-hitting competition and he quit at the beginning of the season, "but," he said, "the game still fascinated me and the next year I went out again; this time I stayed out and learned the game."

Borton said the value of early training in rigorous competitive sports is inestimable for youth.

W. W. Tyre, chairman of the Junior High School Football Project, reported to the huge gathering that the junior high teams, representing the seventh and eighth grades from both Junior High and Pinecrest School, would definitely make a public debut this season in two night games at Memorial Stadium.

Tyre announced several tentative fund-raising drives to be sponsored by the club. He showed the group a handsome nickel plated 35 Smith and Western revolver donated to the fund raising drive by Sheriff J. Luther Hobbs.

The Chiefs Club voted unanimously to donate $300 to Junior High for the initial installment on the cost of the outfitting. Robert magnificent job in obtaining the uniforms for us. He got the uniform here eight days ahead of

Crooms Panthers Re-Shuffling Team Offense, Defense

The Crooms Academy Panthers after a week's layoff from gridiron appearances, have spent considerable time in re-shuffling their offense and their defense.

Tomorrow night they will be settling down in face the pressure of Big 9 competition when they travel to Daytona Beach to take on the third ranking power of the Big 9 North Conference.

Over all, the Panthers have had an exceptionally successful season. They have gone through the roughest of the Florida high school football power and have fine showings for themselves. The Panthers went into a momentary lull for two games, but snapped back two weeks ago for a Homecoming upset victory over Rustle, with two wins, two losses and three ties under their belt they have the surprise team of the conference.

Should the Panthers take the next three games—Daytona, DeLand, and Orlando—they will have established themselves as one of the fastest rising teams in the state. This is the last year of probation in the Big 9 Conference for Crooms.

Joe Fair, head mentor for the Crooms eleven, thinks his team has an excellent chance of marching to the state title this year.

They fought lack of experience, lack of depth, the most powerful teams in the state all in a row, and we couldn't gun for a championship because we were still on probation. The boys hit a temporary slump, and that cost them two victories. Now they are back up in spirits and want to take the rest of the schedule. If they want to bad enough, I think they can do it."

TWO GIRLS, A CHEVY AND A RECORD!

A meaningful achievement in automobile performance

Most automobile performance records are pretty difficult to relate to the kind of day-in, day-out driving most of us do. Running at safe and legal speeds, a '57 Chevrolet recently chalked up an important new coast-to-coast record on the road. And the way it set this record is even more important than the record itself!

A new '57 Chevrolet recently proved it has the qualities most people look for in a car—and proved it on the roads you travel. It set a new record of less than 57 hours for the run from New York to Los Angeles (certified by NASCAR). It was a strictly stock, V8-powered Chevy. It was driven by two young ladies.

When you consider that all the driving was done by 98-pound Betty Skelton and her friend Caroline Russ, the true significance of this record run becomes apparent. It's a tribute to Chevrolet's great-hearted V8 engine and solid road-worthiness that it could travel day and night for 2,913 miles at safe and legal speeds—and better the existing record for the trip by more than three hours.

And when a pair of young ladies step into a car and drive it round the clock to a new transcontinental record, you know that car is easy to drive. Come try a Chevy.

a MILLION layers produce eggs ... saving about 5¢ per dozen

Are you using our cost-cutting service? Many local folks are with very satisfactory results! Here's why we believe we can help you cut the cost of producing eggs and increase profits.

Last fall a check on production of Purina-fed flocks brought out this fact. Records on more than one million layers showed they averaged only 4 1/2 lbs. of feed per dozen eggs.

U. S. Government figures show that most flocks take 6 lbs. to do the job. So... Purina customers saved 1 1/2 lbs. of feed or about 5 cents per dozen.

See or call us now. We'll bring our Poultry Profit Meter to your farm and help you shoot for lower egg production costs. Remember... service is free with the Checkerboard Bag.

Decline Of New Home Construction 'National Tragedy'

ST. PETERSBURG (AP)—A prefabricated home builder has called the decline of new home construction under FHA and VA programs a "national tragedy" but the FHA chief says his agency considers the housing outlook good.

George E. Price of Lafayette, Ind., president of the Prefabricated Home Manufacturers' Institute, blamed the decline of housing starts on the uneven effect of governmental monetary controls.

"In the tight money market that now exists," Price told the institute's fall meeting, families seeking to buy their homes under FHA and VA "are at a great disadvantage because the interest rate they can pay for mortgage money under the FHA or VA is rigidly fixed at 4 1/2 per cent. Such a rate is not at all competitive at a time when the demand for money is great and interest rates are still rising."

He said families cannot obtain financing because of this and the result is that FHA and VA housing fell off 31 per cent during the first seven months of this year compared to 1955.

Norman P. Mason, federal housing administrator, acknowledged that "mortgage money remains tight. This is one aspect of our current state of prosperity. Expansion of the economy in all directions causes heavy demands for financing in competition with mortgage requirements."

He said: "In general, the housing situation as seen by FHA is good. Although the rate of new home production has declined this year, it is still high. It looks now as though the total would be between 1,100,000 and 1,200,000 units."

1956 Could Be Major Crime Year

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—An FBI agent says 1956 may be a major crime year.

John Riley Smith, senior agent in charge of the FBI offices here, told a civic club national crime is up 14 1/2 per cent for the first six months over the similar period last year.

He said included in this are figures showing "rather fabulous and alarming increases in juvenile crime."

Ross (left), 38, are shown as they entered the Navy's "Sky Hook" balloon at Rapid City, S.D., for a flight which set an unofficial world's record altitude of 76,000 feet. They made an emergency landing in the sandhills near Brownlee, Neb., when the aluminum gondola suspended from the balloon began to spin out of control and continued to rise. They were picked up by a Navy helicopter which had tracked the "space laboratory" balloon on its four-hour trip. (International)

Discussion Arises On Bringing-Up Of Prince Charles

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles was 8 today—and there was a renewal of discussion about his bringing up.

The London newspapers, the Daily Express, said to read some of the details of a debate at school in the Epsom district near Buckingham Palace. If the heir to the British throne enters school, it will mean that the Duke of Edinburgh has been veiled over his wife Queen Elizabeth II. He is said to feel that the prince should go to a preparatory school and then attend Eton while the Queen apparently has favored private tutoring.

Reported the Daily Express. "The Queen has now announced on morning and afternoon classes five days a week at the private school."
Charles' engagement book was so full of things to do today that his birthday party was held a day early. The year-old sister, Princess Anne, and about 10 young friends joined him at a party complete with cake and eight candles.

Mary

Carroll's "Vanities". She landed the job and broke farewell to her 1956 career. From the "Vanities", she went into "Lady Be Good" starring Fred and Aileen Astaire. Next, Mary joined "Castles in the Air" where she made her first real hit in a comedy sketch with Bernard Granville, one of the stars of the show and the father of Bonita Granville of the film.

After a feature role in a musical "Honey", Mary had a call from the producers to play Plum Blossom in the Broadway revival of "The Velvet Jacket". This marked her first legitimate role on Broadway and also the beginning of a long association with the Coburns. She toured across the country to California with them, scoring another personal hit on the west coast as Babo in "Follow Thru".

In keeping with the mysterious ways of Hollywood, Mary was signed by Warner Brothers, but appeared only in two reel comedy shorts, and some technical shorts. However, during her stay on the coast she started in the musical "The Vagabond King" at the Alhambra Theatre, and as Anita in "Peer Gynt" at the Pasadena Playhouse. She was called back to Broadway by the Coburns to join them in "Lysistrata", after which she appeared in many lesser known plays in New York and on tour, adding to her rich store of dramatic experience. Popular in the famous eastern summer theatres, she has played Emily in "Our Town" with Frank Craven, Miller in "Light in the Piazza" with Fred Stone, Maria in "A School for Scandal" with Lydia Laughlin in "The Rivals" with Margaret Anglin and many others.

Mary Hutchinson's first real interest in Shakespearean roles began with an engagement as Hermione in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" with the Coburns, followed by appearances as Hermione in "Much Ado About Nothing", Ann Page in "The Merry Wives of Windsor", Maria in "Twelfth Night" and others.

After she was married to Edmund Westland, a New York business man, she found that because of her professional commitments, she saw very little of her husband. So, together with Percival Vivian at his Studio Theatre on Broadway where she had been acting, Mary developed her one-woman show, utilizing her varied talents. After a year of script-writing, rehearsing, making costumes and scenery, she tried her program at her mother's little theatre in Bethlehem before a discriminating invited audience which was informed her constructive criticism would be more welcome than praise. The reactions to her performance were so excellent that Miss Hutchinson presented the program in New York at the Harmon Theatre and the Studio Theatre.

She was immediately signed for a new career in the platform in the field of dramatic monologues. For ten seasons she has toured from coast to coast, appearing in most of the states and in Canada. Her programs cover a wide range of characterizations of famous dramatic personalities, as well as those of her own creation. When Mary Hutchinson appears here on Monday night, Nov. 19, 8 p. m., at Pinecreek School under the auspices of Seminole Mutual Concert Association, her audience will see a unique type of program in the field of dramatic monologues. The country's most talented and versatile young actress-entertainer, her audiences as she sings, acts and dances in a presentation of the one-woman theatre at its best.

Harvey Is Named Brotherhood Head

The Baptist Brotherhood, laymen's organization of the church, named William Harvey of Sanford as their president.

Other officers named included The Rev. Earl Stallings, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Ocala, who was elected president of the Florida Baptist Convention at the opening of its 95th annual meeting yesterday.

He succeeds the Rev. Preston B. Stellers of Pensacola.

The Rev. Fayette Hall of Orlando's College Park Baptist Church was named first vice president; the Rev. Carson Britton of Lake City, second vice president. The Rev. M. D. Jackson of Edgewater Beach was selected secretary.

T. M. Johns of Lakeland named the Baptists will open a second children's home in Florida next year. Construction will begin Jan. 2 on the building in the Allapattah section of Miami, he said.

The church operates a state children's home at Lakeland. The Rev. Stellers reported that Florida Baptists doubled membership in the past 10 years and now number about 400,000 in 1-1/2 churches.

The convention, which continues through tomorrow, is expected to draw a total of 3,000 delegates.

torially and spiritually, let us pray this year not only in the spirit of Thanksgiving but also as supplicants for God's guidance, to the end that we may follow the course of righteousness and be worthy of His favor.

Now, therefore, I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of the United States of America, in accordance with the joint resolution of Congress approved Oct. 28, 1941, which designates the fourth Thursday in November of each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the twenty-second day of November of this year, as a day of national thanksgiving.

On that day let all of us, of whatever creed, forgetful in our respective places of worship to give thanks to God and prayerful contemplation to those eternal truths and universal principles of holy scripture which have inspired such measure of true greatness as this nation has achieved. And let us, as the beneficiaries of this greatness, give a good account of our stewardship by helping those in need and by rendering aid, through other means, to the ill, the destitute, and the oppressed in foreign lands.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this twelfth day of November in the year of Our Lord nineteen hundred fifty-six and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred eighty-first.

WOMAN FALLS IN FIRE
MARIANNA (AP)—Mrs. Eva Davisor, 77, fell into a back yard trash fire and burned to death last night at her home in the nearby Collins Chapel community.

She was apparently trying to keep the fire from spreading when she fell in.

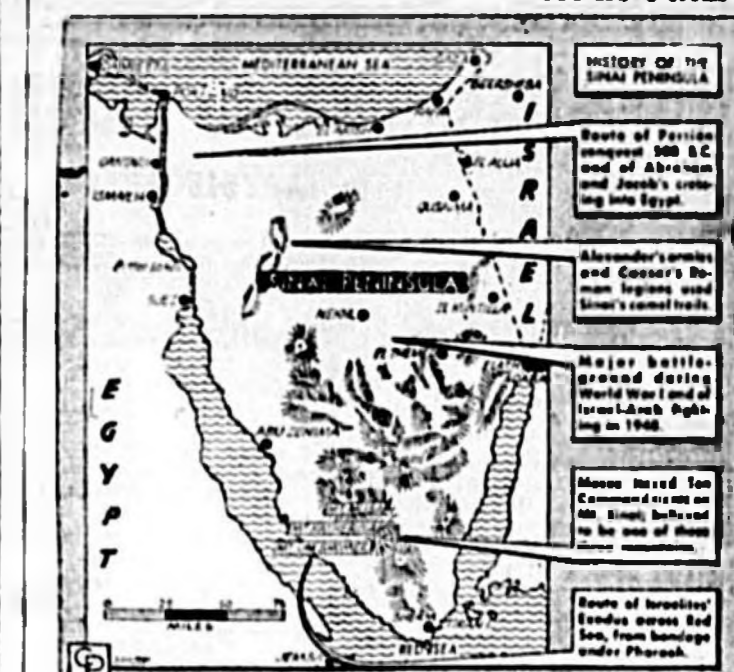

What the answer will be in order to continue the smooth flow of traffic here is yet to be decided. It is believed, however, that a "no left turn" sign will be placed here to prevent traffic "backing up."

A forthcoming plan for Sanford parking, to be prepared by City Manager Warren E. Knowles will, on all probability amount, to some of the wrinkles in congested traffic in downtown areas. The plan, said the City Manager at Monday night's meeting, is not yet completed.

SILVIA HUARTE, of Buenos Aires, Argentina, arrives in San Francisco by bicycle after pedaling 10,032 miles on a tour of the United States that started more than three years ago. Stating she is making the trip "just for fun," Miss Huarte prepared to leave for New York. She expects to spend Christmas in Canada.

SINAI PENINSULA OLD WAR AREA

THE TRIANGULAR, barren Sinai Peninsula, route of Israel's invasion into Egypt, has been a battleground since Biblical times. Smaller in area than New Hampshire and Vermont, it is bounded on the north by the Mediterranean, on the west by the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Suez and on the east by Israel and the Gulf of Aqaba. The boxes on the above map show some of the many historic events that have taken place in this bleak area. (Central Press)

CHAPTER 33

CYNTHIA was again leaning forward talking to Bruce, telling him how her father's scientific work on the subject of tropical diseases, how in the past few years it had taken them to Trinidad and Barbados as well as to Jamaica, where they had been living now for seventeen months.

"It will be wonderful to talk with a colleague about your wide experience, Bruce," she said earnestly. "With Dad's knowledge and your practical experience, the whole of abruptly changing flashed like a lightning bolt across the road, the deep drop on one side down a seemingly impenetrable mountain side. The next moment thunder crashed so loudly it deafened her. The car swerved dangerously as though the vibrations had shaken it, or it may have been that the driver's nerves were shaken badly.

The small colored man turned his head toward Cynthia. "I stop, not safe to drive."

"Oh, nonsense!" Cynthia said crossly. "Keep on driving, man. The worst of the storm hasn't struck yet—and anyhow, there's no point in stopping here. There are no hotels or even any halting-places for miles."

"Had night, wicked night," the driver muttered morosely. "Night when duppies creep through the forests and bushes come alive. Night when the three-legged calf roam."

"For heaven's sake shut up with your pagan nonsense," Cynthia said furiously. "There's no sense in it. I know. Keep the car going."

"Cynthia, if the driver is really afraid," Bruce was beginning when his voice was drowned in a sudden deluge of rain. It was like a cloudburst. Again the car swerved and in the dim headlights Val could see that the road had almost instantly become a sea of mud.

She looked toward Cynthia, trying to look through the windshield, and suddenly she seemed to see something ahead of them. It might have been a palm blown down and brushed across the road by the wind, but it didn't look like a palm.

"I heard like something a storm lantern high over his head.

Bruce stumbled forward through the thick mud to meet him.

"Can you help us?" he shouted. "There's been an accident. A lady is badly hurt. Is there a house near here? A telephone?"

The old man shook his grizzled head slowly. "No house, man. I have but here, but no telephone. No other house for many, many miles. I am a native man. I live here all alone."

Bruce asked eagerly. "Can we carry this young lady to your hut? I'm a doctor and I must attend to her at once."

"You are welcome to my humble abode," the old man said with grave courtesy.

"Good!" Bruce said. "But first I want to get out my case of surgical instruments."

"We'd best get the driver into the hut quickly too. He may be badly injured," Val said urgently. But just then the driver rolled his head from one side to the other and muttered, "The three-legged calf... the three-legged calf..."

The old native nodded his head slowly. "Ah, yes, he see the three-legged calf tonight. I too see the three-legged calf, and then I hear noise of your car falling, falling... But you are not all dead, so the calf is merciful tonight. Very merciful."

"Oh, for heaven's sake stop this gibberish and let's find my instruments," Bruce said sharply and irritably. "I told you it's a matter of life and death for this poor girl."

"If the calf is willing, she will live; if not, she will die," the old man said fatalistically.

Capitol Buzzing With War Talk

WASHINGTON JITTERS? — This town is buzzing with war talk. Will there be one? Will we be able to keep out of it if one does develop? Already around the press club, some of the fellows are talking about overseas assignment. Several have quietly taken off. You soon will begin to read familiar "by lines" and recognize the voice of your favorite radio commentator as he brings you the latest news from the trouble spots of the world.

War clouds are gathering. And the war correspondents are packing their musette bags. As a class, there is no more romantic and adventuresome group. They live the life of a soldier; side by side with him they take his risks, eat his food, share his hardships, put up with the same dangers—but always unarmed. Instead of a gun they carry a typewriter. Instead of worrying about personal safety, they worry about how to get their daily story back to their paper.

Richard Harding Davis, who wrote "Soldier of Fortune" was the first to gain fame—but that was long ago. Before our time.

Our Army assignment during the war in Europe was that of press officer. That was a sort of combination guide and handy man for the correspondents. In our job we rubbed elbows at one time

Gala Fruit Cake

It is not too early to begin making your holiday fruit cakes now for it is best to age the cake properly—at least a month, and six weeks time is better. During this period the flavor mellows and moisture in fruits and cake equalize so that it is easy to cut.

This recipe makes two cakes, a round one and a loaf. The cakes are rich and delicious with lots of candied fruits, dried fruits, nuts, a bit of brandy and a touch of sherry wine.

Here's how we like to store this delicious fruit cake. Remove baking papers from cooled cakes and wrap in cloth moistened in California desert wine. Then wrap again in waxed paper or aluminum foil. Place in covered metal container. Occasionally (about once a week), sprinkle several tablespoons of wine over cloth to keep slightly moist. Before wrapping as a gift, glaze and decorate. To glaze, boil corn syrup a few seconds and brush on the cake. Decorate with dried fruit and almonds.

- GALA FRUIT CAKE
- 1 1/2 cups light or dark raisins
  - 1 cup seeded raisins
  - 1/2 cup syrup from canned pineapple
  - 2 tablespoons California Sherry
  - 1 cup dried apricots
  - 1/2 cups prunes
  - 2 cups sugar for fruit
  - 1 cup water
  - 1 cup butter or margarine
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 4 eggs
  - 2 cups sifted cake flour
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
  - 2 cups roasted blanched almonds
  - 1 cup finely cut candied pineapple
  - 1 pound candied cherries
  - 1 cup broken walnuts

Wash and drain raisins. Combine with pineapple syrup and sherry, cover closely and let stand over night to plump fruit. Remove apricots and prunes, cover with boiling water and cook 15 minutes. Drain. Beat 2 cups sugar with 1 cup water to boiling. Add apricots and cook slowly 20 minutes. Remove apricots to wire rack to drain, reserving syrup. Remove pits from prunes, and cook in same syrup for 10 minutes. Drain on wire rack. Cream shortening and remaining 1 cup sugar together thoroughly. Beat in eggs one at a time. Reserve 1/2 cup flour for fruit. Sift remaining flour with baking powder and salt. Blend into creamed mixture. Stir in blanched raisins. Chop almonds, apricots and prunes; combine with pineapple, candied cherries and walnuts. Mix reserved flour with light nut mixture, pour batter over it and blend well. Turn into 8-inch tube pan and bake about 1 1/4 hours at 350° F. Turn into 8-inch tube pan and bake about 1 1/4 hours at 350° F. Turn into 8-inch tube pan and bake about 1 1/4 hours at 350° F. ### SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Muscle Bath Charms

Back in the 18th Century, when sleeping pills were unknown, an English count ordered some "sleeping music" from Johann Sebastian Bach. The famous composer responded with the "Goldberg Variations." Every evening the compositions were performed in the count's bedchamber—with the desired sleep-inducing effect.

There is even more modern music today. Tunes piped into factories and offices reduce fatigue and improve workers' efficiency. The music is lively, but not distracting, and most employees agree it makes their work less monotonous. Gentle strains relax mothers in childbirth. A survey of 100 mothers at Johns Hopkins and Simon Hospital in Baltimore showed nearly half the women thought music was the first or second most important factor in easing labor.

Study in some operating rooms has replaced heavy doses of morphine and barbiturates for surgery under "light" or "spinal" anesthesia. And Johns Hopkins has become an important tool of therapy in mental hospitals where it penetrates walls of silence and helps draw emotionally-disturbed people back into the world.

The Seventh Lively Art figured prominently in a "Peace of Mind" room at this year's meeting of the American Medical Association in Chicago. J. R. Hoerig and Company, producers of the anti-demon drug Atarax, invited 15,000 doctors touring the convention exhibits to pause in an air-conditioned lounge. The room was designed for relaxation—from quiet-textured upholstery and calm wall colors to Cole Porter compositions.

According to Dr. Max Shoen of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, music's effect is always positive. According to Matthew Green (1696-1737): "Music hath charms, we all may find, ingratiate deeply with the mind."

MAN RESCUED FROM OKEECHOBEE

CLEWISTON (AP)—Jesse Dumire, 73, who fell overboard while fishing, was rescued from Lake Okeechobee yesterday through the teamwork of a plane and a speedboat.

Fishing camp pilot Billy Johnson, 33, spotted Dumire's plight and buzzed the camp, pleading for bystanders to man a boat and follow him. They did, and picked up Dumire.

Plague Case Spotlights Public Health Efficiency

By HERMAN N. BUNDEN, M.D.

BACK in the Middle Ages, a disease called bubonic plague swept Europe and Asia taking hundreds of thousands of lives. You've probably read about it in history books.

So terrible was the disease that it was called the "Black Death." Just recently bubonic plague appeared once again in the United States. However, only one person—a 43-year-old Southern California man—was attacked.

Plague-Infected Flea

Investigation showed that he had gone fishing three days before the symptoms of headache, fever, nausea, vomiting and other general aches and pains appeared. It is believed that he probably was bitten by a plague-infected flea while on the fishing trip.

This is the first human plague case reported in this country since 1951 and the first in California since 1947.

Quickly Suppressed

I mention this to show how quickly such outbreaks are suppressed by United States and local health authorities. Doctors and health officials act so speedily in these cases that it is extremely doubtful that the disease can ever gain a foothold in this country.

It's known, however, that ground squirrels and other wild rodents found in some western states have been infected with the plague from time to time. Public health officials keep a watchful eye on them.

They also maintain careful surveillance of port cities where the disease has occurred in the past. Plague basically is a disease of rodents. It attacks humans only when carried from the rodent by the rat flea.

By keeping continuously on guard, the United States Public Health Service not only controls the disease in this country, but prevents it from being imported from abroad.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. A.: I had a coronary heart attack about six months ago. Are there any known cures for this disease, such as some type of surgical operation?

Answer: You should have adequate rest and eliminate possible contributing factors, such as overweight, high blood pressure, or stress which might have led to your having this coronary heart attack.

STORAGE ELEVATOR COLLAPSES

TAMPA (AP)—A new concrete storage elevator collapsed last night, dumping most of 2,500 tons of phosphate on the ground.

Nobody was injured. Five workmen in a tunnel reported they heard snaps, apparently the breaking of steel binding cables, before the 70-foot tower owned by the Tampa Terminal Co. disintegrated.

More than one-fourth of Florida's industrial employes work in wood-using plants.

PROMINENT ATTORNEY SUCCEDES

SARASOTA (AP)—Pierpont J. E. Wood, 66, prominent Jacksonville Wis., attorney and industrialist died Monday night. He was Wisconsin's Republican national committeeman from 1936 to 1940.

One of the Navy's newest planes is the SEAMASTE. This four-jet, flying boat is in the 600 miles per hour class and is "the lowest-altitude attack aircraft in existence today," according to the Chief of Naval Operations.
