Pope Near Death; Last Rites Given

CASTEL GANDELEO, Italy (UPI)—Pope Pius XII, in the winter of his 82nd year, suffered an apparent cerebral thrombosis, or stroke, early today, and the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church were administered. There were grave fears for his life. Vatican sources said the Pope suffered periods of unconsciousness. Vatican sources said the administering of last rites was "a precaution" and that the Pope was rallying. But there was no minimizing the gravity of his condition. An official medical bulletin signed by three doctors who were urgently called in the Pope's bedside at his summer residence here in the Alban Hills said that the pontiff was stricken by "cerebral circulatory disturbances" at 8:30 a. m.

Sanford Occupies New Fire Station

Sanford's Fire Station No. 2 on French Ave. near 14th St. is occupied. The $37,830.34 structure, a part of the city's capital improvements, was completed early in the summer. Due to final furnishings and vacation schedules, actual occupation was delayed. The station will be manned by three or four men. It is equipped with a new American LaFrance 750-gallon pumper, a Dodge Powerwagon, for fighting grass and shrub fires, and also with an old American LaFrance truck which is suitable as an auxiliary unit. The station is tied in with Station No. 1 both by radio and telephone. The communication system provides alarms simultaneously at both stations. In addition, the stations are equipped with a private phone line. Fire-fighting equipment will be discharged according to location of the fire. Equipment remaining at Station No. 1 is downtown Sanford consists of a new American LaFrance 750-gallon pumper, a Seagraves aerial ladder truck, an international pumper, capable of pumping 600 gallons per minute, and the second old American LaFrance as an auxiliary unit. Fire Chief Mack Cleveland will maintain his office at the downtown station.

Clinton School Is Bombed; Little Rock Standing Firm

Building Wrecked, Students Shifted; Clues Are Sought

Frankfurter Hits Arkansas Action

Appeals Court Told 'No High Schools' Unless Segregated

CLINTON, Tenn. (UPI)—The Atomic Energy Commission turned an abandoned elementary school at nearby Oak Ridge over to the bombed-out students of racially integrated Clinton High School today.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court opened its 1958-59 term today and Justice Felix Frankfurter blasted Arkansas for interfering with school integration.

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The U.S. Court of Appeals was warned today that "there will be no high school opened in Little Rock unless the schools are leased" as the court took under advisement a request for an injunction to halt that leasing.

Federal and state investigators, meanwhile, sifted for clues in the shell of Clinton High, torn by three rapid-fire explosions early Sunday. Segregationists were blamed for the bombing.

Immediately after the "troubling" brief formal opening ceremonies Frankfurter issued a "stipulative" opinion on the Little Rock school case which was decided in a special summer term.

Richard Butler, attorney for the Little Rock School Board, told the court that the board is neither arguing for nor against the injunction requested by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

School Principal W. D. Human told some 500 school students including some of the 14 Negro children enrolled there, that they would attend classes in the abandoned Linden school at Oak Ridge. The 26-classroom building is owned by the AEC which operates the vast atomic energy research and production center six miles west of here. Oak Ridge schools, federally operated, are integrated.

The court has barred any delay in carrying out its integration orders at Little Rock's Central High School and unanimously reaffirmed its historic 1954 decision that racial segregation in public schools is unconstitutional.

But he said press statements by Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas indicate the schools will not open "under present conditions" unless they are leased as private, segregated institutions.

The explosion, timed off at three-minute intervals in fog and darkness, fanned the interior of the 20-classroom Clinton school into a shambles of collapsed walls, twisted lockers and buckled floors and roof. Human estimated the damage at $300,000.

Washington (UPI)—The United States will make its second attempt to send a rocket to the moon next week, the scientific publication Washington Science Trends said today.

Wiley Branton, representing a private Negro Little Rock group, pressed for the injunction, but asked the court to consider allowing Negro students to enroll in the private schools if the restraining order is lifted.

About 12 hours after the blast, FBI agents entered the investigation of the vandalism which authorities unanimously blamed on segregationist forces. Many school officials blamed the explosion on "outsiders."

The first try to put a picture-taking satellite in orbit around the moon failed on Aug. 17 when the multi-stage rocket blew up after 27 seconds of flight.

Branton also contended that, if the Little Rock schools were leased, the court should pass on the lease itself.

Clinton High students gathered for an assembly in the adjacent gymnasium at 8:30 a. m. where Human told them Linden school would be used for classroom work Thursday. He said regular classes would be resumed in makeshift facilities at the gym.

The moon is in a favorable position for such a launching only a few days each month. Next weekend will be the favorable period for October. The Air Force did not try to launch a moon rocket during the favorable days of September.

The court adjourned without indicating when it would reconvene. U.S. Atty. Gen. J. Edgar Hoover also supported the request for an injunction to halt a plan of private, segregated schools in Little Rock.

Major Warner was scheduled to sign his name to the "Emergency Women's Week" proclamation, issued to emphasize the importance of first aid. He was too busy proving what a "proclamation sign" emergency doesn't wait.

Such continuation, the board said, would interfere with the study of the natural state of the bodies.

As Proclamation Said-- Mayor Proved The Point

Judged by its beginning, this is going to be a busy week. It is Fire Prevention Week and National Business Women's Week, both of which are being observed in Sanford. Gov. LeRoy Collins proclaimed National Fish and Seafood Week in Florida and Georgia. Marion Griffin both designated this as Corn Bread Week. Mayor Warner was scheduled to sign his name to the "Emergency Women's Week" proclamation, issued to emphasize the importance of first aid. He was too busy proving what a "proclamation sign" emergency doesn't wait.

United Fund Sets Tuesday Luncheon

Seminole Reports Increase In Sales

Sales in Seminole County were higher last month than in September a year ago, according to figures released on sales tax collections by Ray F. Hiron, sales tax comptroller. In September, 1957, sales tax collections in Seminole County totaled $49,315.79. Last month, collections totaled $42,674.47. Despite this climb of $14,002.82, the most Florida counties, however, are still below the state collections higher in August than in September, but higher last month than September a year ago. Figures released by Green revealed that the seven-count gasoline tax produced $69,125.71 last month, compared to $64,650.00 in August and $61,729.78 in September, 1957. In gallons, sales of gasoline last month in Seminole County totaled 987,854.

Sanford To Get Produce Pre-Cooler

Sanford soon will have a vacuum pre-cooling plant for vegetables. The plant, officials said, will bring greater farm diversification to this area and higher prices for vegetables. The "near-miss" on the proclamation really can't be blamed on the B&PW or Acting Mayor Wilson. Plans had been made to have the paper signed by Mayor Warner. A sudden appendectomy took Warner out of the picture. The B&PW and the Jaycees had an appointment with Mayor Warner at the same time, 2:30 p. m. Friday, for the signings. Since Warner was in the hospital, an acting mayor was needed. Not just to sign the petitions, however. The city payroll had to have signatures, too. Someone had to push for time. B&PW members "just proclaimed the week" themselves while standing beside Mayor Warner's empty chair. Their working warden, a prerequisite for membership in the B&PW, and had to return to their jobs.

Burglary Reported

Clay Williams' Pool Room, East First St., was broken into over the weekend and approximately $4 in pennies stolen. According to Police, the thief entered by breaking a window. The money was hidden in the cash drawer. Two cartons of cigarettes were the only other items reported missing.

Reservations must be made by Saturday.

Quemoy Shelling Halted; Red Conditions Rejected

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—The Communists began their 300,000-shell bombardment of Quemoy six weeks ago arrived there today under the escort of the U.S. Navy. It met no Red fire although Communist gunners watched the tons of supplies being unloaded on the beaches. Marshal Peng Teh-hau, Chinese Communist minister of defense who led the Chinese "volunteers" in North Korea, said he was ordering a halt in the Quemoy shelling "for humanitarian reasons." Nationalist sources said the Reds acted because their blockade had failed. Taiwan authorities may ship as much military supplies to the offshore islands as they wish but on one condition — no U. S. escort. Peng said. If this condition is not observed, the above-mentioned premises will not be kept.

Chamber Directors To Meet Thursday

This will be the first meeting with the new Chamber president, Mack Cleveland Jr., presiding.

Battle Continues For Bowling Lead

Wednesday night will see a continuation of the first for first place between New York Life Insurance and Burnett Painters in the Sanford City Bowling League.

Bukur Music Shop will attempt to regain its position as it takes on New York Life in the 100 battle of the night. Celery City Printing will try to sidetrack the leaders and pull itself into contention on alleys five and six, while Gene's Seminole Dry Cleaners and Mather of Sanford tangle on alleys three and four.

All the teams in the league will be shooting for the team high set by New York Life last week when they bowled an 858-2470 with four hot bowlers. The individual bowlers will be shooting for the mark set by Al DePalma two weeks ago when he rolled a 237-579. While the 237 appears to be fairly safe, the 579 should go down the drain before too long. Both of the team scores should also be beaten in future action.

As a group, the bowlers in the league have been having trouble finding their spots on the alleys this year. However, averages are gradually coming up from the bottom, while they are still going down from the top. The top averages should stay about where they are (they hope), while the rest are still struggling for the "big" game to bring up a decent score. Last week, Celery City Printing once again was hit by hard luck, as it outbowled its opponents but could win only one game. However, the one win was a big one as it dropped Bukur Music from its first place into sole possession of third place. First place honors were still claimed by two teams however, as both New York Life and Burnett took sweeps from their opposition.

Celery City Printing, led by Carl Von Herbulis with a 691, lost its first two games by five pins each, while Bukur Music, led by George Swann's 501, was swamped in the third game. The one win gave the Printers sole possession of fifth place in the league standings, however.

Burnett, led by Ted Burnett's 690 series, and Dick Richards' 513-493, took three from Gene's Seminole Dry Cleaners, who were handicapped by having a missing bowler. Hal Gistrap led the Cleaners with a 508. Gene's team remained in fourth place.

New York Life set a couple of season highs in shutting out the team sponsored by Mather of Sanford. They rolled a 2470 scratch series, and an 858 game. George Keris led the Insurers with a 539 for the night. Al DePalma led the Furnituremen with a 489.

DePalma still leads the race for individual awards with his 237-579, while New York Life leads the race for team awards with 858-2470.

Tom Brown led the "split-shrinkers" for the night by virtue of picking two splits, a 5-10 and a more difficult 47-9-10. Others in the select circle included Ed Wheeler's making a 5-7, and Sonny Estridge with a 4-10.

Averages are: DePalma—110, Von Herbulis—165, Penold—142, Richards—161, Kazee—169, Swann—159, Cooke, Steele, and Maloney at 158, Gilstrap, Kenis, and Bukur at 157, and Ferguson and Wheeler at 156. Also, Fox—153, Kretzer and Brown at 153, Proctor and Ring at 152, Piver, Heller, and Platt at 151, Callan and Gentry at 150, and Huhn and Burnett at 149. Also, Kirchoff at 148, Herbst—146, Estridge—141, C. Piercy—133, Harrison—132, H. Piercy and Gordie at 125, and Perry at 121.

Sanford Is Selected As Site By Industry

Sanford has a new industry, the Allied Chemical and Dye Co. The Herald joins the rest of the community in saying "welcome."

Allied Chemical deals in liquid fertilizer, used throughout this area by farmers and grove owners.

The decision to locate in Sanford was based, among other things, on the ideal location. Here, a firm is assured of good water, rail and highway transportation facilities.

Allied Chemical obtained a building permit which called for an outlay of some $310,000 for its facilities. This is no small investment. This area is growing rapidly and we believe it is a wise investment.

Florida is noted for its favorable climate. In Sanford, the "industrial climate" is favorable, too. Sanford and Seminole County have a great deal to offer industry.

We especially like the manner in which Allied moved into Sanford. Company officials wanted none of the concessions usually requested by industry. Allied asked no tax concessions, no special favors. News of the move came as a surprise. Allied wasn't interested in a "big show."

Negotiations with city officials were conducted by H. P. Bill, assistant general superintendent of the company, Hopewell, Va.

When negotiations had been completed, Allied moved in quietly and started to work. A pumping station and storage tanks have been erected. A pipe line from the tanks to the St. Johns will allow transportation of chemicals to Sanford by barge.

The expenditure to locate a plant here is a fine testimonial to Allied's faith in Sanford's future. We think that faith is well-placed.

Lot Of Paper Work

The Defense Department has announced the declassification of millions of secret documents, some of them as old as 50 years. This action, the Defense Department said, will save a lot of money.

The order affects defense documents issued prior to Jan. 1, 1946, and becomes effective in two months.

The order affects 325,000 cubic feet of space and totals 650 million sheets of paper. The Defense Department said it costs an average of only 80 cents a cubic foot to store non-secret documents. To store secret materials, the cost ranges from $2 to $7.28 per cubic foot.

Although the order should result in a substantial saving to U. S. taxpayers, the public shouldn't get too enthusiastic. The Defense Department said the total of all government documents, secret and non-secret, is estimated at 25 million cubic feet and 50 billion sheets of paper.

Even at the rate of 80 cents per cubic foot, the lowest cost for storage of non-secret papers, it would cost U. S. taxpayers more than $20 million each year for storage of documents. Since many of the documents are "top secret," and cost $7.28 per cubic foot, rather than 80 cents, actual cost is much higher. That's a lot of paper work.

King Re-Trial Set For Early January

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI)—County Solicitor Charles A. Nugent said today he hopes to have the re-trial of former state Sen. Harry E. King and others accused of perjury set for early January.

Gov. LeRoy Collins appointed Nugent to retry the case after Pelk County Criminal Court Judge Roy H. Amidon said he could find no one locally who would handle it.

King, of Winter Haven, and others were convicted of perjury in a trial stemming from the sensational Polk County political payoff scandal, but the state Supreme Court overturned the conviction on a technicality and a new trial was ordered.

Nugent said chances of getting the re-trial underway before Christmas are slim, but said he would aim for an early 1959 trial date.

Washington See-Saw

A BIT OF TRUTH

— We don't like to see pressure of special influence used in Washington any more than you do. But, the story last week trying to link Senator Smathers to an influence peddling deal in the Philadelphia TV Channel 4 case is enough to make us laugh. Strong hints were made that Dave Lawrence, major of Philadelphia, together with Senator Smathers, had used some sort of political power to influence the awarding of a television channel to Dick Berlin, head of the Hearst newspapers.

This is what really happened. Mr. Berlin asked Senator Smathers' office to make an appointment with FCC Commissioner Richard Mack. Members of Smathers' staff phoned Mack's secretary and made the appointment. Smathers' says he didn't even know about it. He says Berlin never spoke to him about the case at all.

This is understandable if you know Washington. The town has strange customs. If you are coming here from Florida to see about any sort of business, you must likely will get Smathers or Holland or your congressman to set up an appointment for you. In most cases you could have made the appointment yourself by writing a letter. Or, even better, you could have done your business by letter and saved yourself a trip to Washington. But people don't do that. They like to come to Washington. They like to walk into a government office and say their appointment was made by a United States Senator. Sometimes it does help. Sometimes it doesn't. But it's the custom. From time to time, people even ask us to make appointments for them. We don't mind. We don't think it would do you any good and we certainly don't presume to be competing with members of congress, but

MONEY FOR 1960

— How much money will the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Board receive here October 10th when officials of the Board will meet with officials of the Bureau of the Budget. Senators Holland and Smathers and Congressman Rogers set up the meeting and will be represented there. On the 10th, the same group will meet with Major General E. C. Ischner, Chief of the Corps of Army Engineers. Purpose: to lay the ground work for the budget hearing next day.

UNUSUAL COURT PROCEDURE

— An almost unprecedented action will be taken here when Senator Spessard Holland will appear before the U. S. Supreme Court to help argue a case. The appearance of a member of the U. S. Senate before the Supreme Court in the role of a lawyer is described by a staff member of the Court as "extremely rare." Holland is doing this at the special request of Florida Attorney General Richard W. Evans.

The case covers technical points in the Tideland Oil Bill, written by Holland and passed by the Senate in 1953. The question to be settled is whether or not the United States will recognize the historic boundaries of Florida which extend the "three league" (10.4 mile) limit into the Gulf of Mexico, or force Florida to recognize the three mile limit set by the Federal Government.

Holland is expected to base his case on the provisions of the State Constitution of 1837 which sets the limits at three leagues. When Florida became a state, this constitution was ratified and accepted by the Congress. Other states that are raised up in the case are: Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

Churches Use TV To Teach Bible

By LOUIS CABELE

United Press International

Churches in the nation's capital are using television in a bold new way to tackle one of America's most serious religious problems.

The problem is the widespread "Biblical illiteracy" of the present adult generation.

The solution now being tried in Washington is a college-level Bible course, conducted over a commercial TV station, on "The Life and Teachings of Jesus."

The 11-week course is sponsored jointly by American University and the National Capital Council of Churches. Broadcast time and production facilities are contributed free by station WJAL-TV, operated by the Washington Evening Star.

Credits Offered

Bible courses have been offered previously on educational television stations. But, so far as the sponsors can determine, this is the first time a fully accredited college course in religion has been made available over commercial TV facilities.

American University is offering two college credits to students who successfully complete the course, including a final examination on the university campus. Many others have enrolled, however, to take the course on a "non-credit" basis, purely for its educational value.

Public response has exceeded the sponsors' hopes. Within a week after the course was launched, nearly 1,000 adults had sent in orders for textbooks and course outlines. And new enrollments are still pouring in. Several churches and other organizations are sponsoring groups which meet weekly to watch the TV course which is on the air for one hour each Saturday.

Interest Spreads

Officials of the National Council of Churches are keeping a close watch on the experiment. They believe it may offer a pattern for nationwide use. Local church councils in several other cities already have written to the Washington sponsors asking for details.

One thing that distinguishes the new course from many religious programs on TV is that it does not attempt to masquerade as entertainment. It is education—serious education at an adult intellectual level.

The teacher is youthful Dr. Edward W. Bauman, assistant professor of religion at American University. He makes skillful use of student panels, guest speakers, film clips and other television teaching techniques. But he also hands out stiff reading assignments, calls for written homework, sends his students on "field trips" and otherwise conducts the course just as he would in a college classroom.

Uses Other Sources

Although the New Testament Gospels are thoroughly examined in the course, Dr. Bauman makes free use of other materials—such as ancient Jewish and Roman histories, and the Dead Sea Scrolls—as sources of information about the world in which Jesus lived.

This approach has brought some protests, as sponsors of the course anticipated, from church members who subscribe to a fundamentalist view of the Bible. But it has been warmly endorsed by ministers of many denominations, who share Dr. Bauman's conviction that religious faith in Jesus "becomes more meaningful when it rests upon a solid foundation of historical and literary scholarship."

Seminoles Held To Tie In Mud

By JERRY COVINGTON
APOPKA—It wasn't a matter of which school had the best football team. It was a matter of which had the best "swimming" team as the Sanford Seminoles and Apopka Blue Darters fought to a mud-covered 0-0 tie here Friday night.

Five inches of rain descended upon the playing field during this Orange Belt Conference clash, making a one-yard gain somewhat like a brilliant run on a dry field. Offense was out of the question as the teams "dog-paddled" back and forth.

Not a drop of rain fell until after the opening kickoff. Then the bottom fell out. It probably was the first game in the history of either school in which referees needed water wings. At times, rain came down in such sheets that it was difficult to see the playing field.

It was impossible to tell which team made the best showing because the ball was so wet that the Seminoles and Darters just took turns fumbling. One of the most amusing sights of the game came in the third period when center Duke Schirard was attempting to snap the ball to Cecil Burdette for a punt. Schirard snapped the ball but the only thing that moved was Schirard's hand. The ball was stuck in a big mud puddle.

The die-hard squads put up with this all evening. During the last period the field was completely covered with water and when the ball carrier hit the ground he usually slid about 20 feet.

Sanford opened the contest by kicking to the Darters. On the first play they fumbled and the Seminoles recovered. In turn, the locals followed with the same play, and this was the story of the game. In the second period the Seminoles managed to hold on to the ball long enough to move it inside the Apopka 10, but they were unable to move it over the goal line.

In desperation, the Seminoles attempted a field goal, but the pigskin was so slippery that it slid off of Big Don Carter's toe. The kick ended on this play.

The only phase of the game that had a chance to make a showing was the strong defense of the Seminoles. They really bit hard and took the ball from the Darters all evening. Dave Stanley, Carter, Kelly Lake, Walter Middleton and Allan Swain did a great defensive job. So did the rest of the Sanford squad. Senade Stone and Schirard did outstanding jobs at the linebacker spots and helped to hold the Darters all evening.

In the second half, all the Seminoles had to do was bring quarterback Jerome Shaw to a halt. Knowing that it was useless to attempt to run the ball off, Shaw took the snap from center and ran the ball on every play for the remainder of the evening.

The Darters made one good drive at the first of the last period and Shaw carried the ball 40 straight times. They moved inside the Sanford 20 but the stubborn Seminoles played hard to completely stop the threat.

After several unsuccessful attempts to run the ball, the Seminoles decided to punt and stay out of danger. If the Seminoles had had a good back stroke artist they may have had a chance to move the ball, but every effort was in vain. The contest ended with neither team seriously threatening.

It was anything but a ball game. With a little dry weather, however, it would have been a good let for the Seminoles would have come out on top. They completely outplayed the Darters offensively and really looked good.

Coach Jim Pigott summed up the evening with this statement: "I was awfully disappointed that we lost this game. It was a real let for us. The Sanford record now reads 1-1-1."

Majors Lifts Tennessee Over Mississippi State

ATLANTA (UPI)—Tennessee's sophomore, making more rapidly than expected, may have found the offensive punch they need to survive the Southeastern Conference's toughest schedule in the arm of tailback Billy Majors.

Billy, younger brother of former Tennessee All-American John Majors, added luster to the team name Saturday by pitching underdog Tennessee to a 38-0 come-from-behind win over Mississippi State. He was personally responsible for the entire 13 yards covered in the last-minute victory march.

This coming Saturday Tennessee gets a chance to find out if this apparent swift improvement is steady. Tennessee will be at Atlanta to tangle with the pitiless Georgia Tech, fresh from a defensive 14-0 win over Tulane.

Tech's hard-charging line bottled up Tulane's vaunted pass attack so completely that Green Wave never threatened. Tech got its touchdowns by capitalizing on defensive play. The only real drive in the game was a 65-yard march by Tech which carried it to the Tulane one, then died in the face of a dogged goal line stand.

Two other intra-conference games are scheduled in the SEC. Auburn, which posted a three-touchdown, fourth period outburst to subdue stubborn Chattanooga 20-0, will be at Kentucky; Mississippi, 21-0 winner over Trinity of Texas, will be host to Tulane which has lost three straight.

Although all 12 SEC teams see action in the other games, all non-conference contests. They include Florida vs. UCLA at the West Coast and Louisiana State at Miami, both on Friday night; Alabama host to Furman, Georgia at Florida State and Mississippi State host to Memphis State Saturday afternoon; and Vanderbilt host to Clemson on Saturday night.

Alabama surprised

Vanderbilt to a 0-0 draw. Alabama's offense remained practically nonexistent but the defense, effectively stopping the passes of Vanderbilt quarterback Boyce Smith, was outstanding.

Louisiana State, with halfback Billy Cannon the big gun for the third straight week, swept to a 20-6 win over Hardin-Simmons to tie LSU with Mississippi at 3-0 in their overall records.

The Georgia Bulldogs were the only losers to an outside foe last weekend, going down 24-14 before South Carolina for third straight loss.

Just Carbon Copy Of First Victory

By WARREN SPAHN
NEW YORK (UPI) — Only one more now, and I think my roommate, Lew Burdette, can get it tomorrow.

I heard a lot of comments about all the fast balls I threw today. It seems somebody got the impression that I can't throw anything but junk. Well, somebody is grossly misinformed.

Actually, I pitched the same type of game today as I did on opening day in Milwaukee. The chief difference was my control was much sharper than it was in the first game.

Off the two hits the Yankees got off me, one came on a fast ball and the other on a change-up. Mickey Mantle hit the fast ball for a triple in the fourth inning and Bill Skowron, on picked, on a change for his single in the seventh.

After Mantle hit his triple, I worked particularly carefully on the next hitter, Skowron, because there was only one out and still no score in the game. I got Skowron to hit back to me with a change. Then Red Schoendienst got up out of the inning with his great play on Yogi Berra.

That might have been the turning point of the ball game right there. I'll say one thing, I sure was glad to see Red come up with that ball. That Schoendienst is a damn!

There was no special reason why I threw as many fast balls as I did today. Through the first few innings, I was relying most heavily on my change but as the game went along, I used the fast ball quite a bit.

Spahn Won Duel, Sun Beat Siebern

NEW YORK (UPI)—Warren Spahn won his duel with Whitey Ford and Norm Siebern, lost his duel with the sun.

That's the story of Sunday's 3-0 victory in which the Milwaukee Braves took a 4-1 game lead over the New York Yankees and virtually clinched their second straight world championship.

Spain, the 37-year-old left pitcher who is the only left-hander in baseball history to win 20 games in one season, enjoyed perhaps the greatest day of his career. And Siebern, a 23-year-old native of Wellston, Mo., solved what Casey Stengel likes to call the "left field problem" suffered through what undoubtedly will be the worst day of his still-building career.

"Spahn was absolutely tremendous," said Milwaukee manager Fred Haney. "He had his fast ball and his control was perfect."

"I blew three fly balls and that was the game," said the disconsolate Siebern. "I lost the game for good."

Pitts Two Hitter

Spahn who won last Wednesday's 10-0 inning opener, 4-3, pitched a magnificent two-hitter and faced only 31 batters in fashioning his second win over the Yankees of this series at Yankee Stadium.

Spahn's career series record is 4-2. The only hit off him were a fourth-inning 450-foot triple by Mickey Mantle and a seventh-inning single to center field by Bill Skowron.

"Mickey hit a fast ball and Skowron hit a change-up," said Spahn.

Mantle's triple produced the only threat against Spahn because it came with one out in the fourth and forced the Milwaukee southpaw to face Skowron and Yogi Berra with the "lead" run on third and only one out. He retired Skowron on an easy tap to the mound and got past the inning when second baseman Red Schoendienst made a great play on Berra's line drive hit for a hit.

Berra Shows Down

Berra connected sharply with one of Spahn's deliveries and drove it on a line toward right field. Schoendienst, one of the

Colts, Browns Atop Pro Standings

By EARL WRIGHT
 United Press International

The Baltimore Colts and Cleveland Browns, the National Football League's top exponents of classroom study, grabbed the division leads during the weekend by producing a shower of touchdowns during their "examinations" on the field.

The Colts, who hit the books in a study session under Coach Weeb Ewbank before every workout, became early-season Western Division favorites by clobbering the Chicago Bears Saturday night, 51-38. A sellout Baltimore crowd of 61,922 watched Lenny Moore score four times for the Colts during the biggest regular season scoring spree since their 56-21 triumph over the Los Angeles Rams in 1956.

Brown's Clobber Steelers

Coach Paul Brown's Browns, who probably do even more classroom studying than the Colts, laid waste to the Browns who loves his notebook, took their usual spot at the top of the Eastern race by swamping the Pittsburgh Steelers, 45-12.

Baltimore and Cleveland (both 2-0) emerged as the only undefeated clubs and took one game lead because of vital assists from the Rams, Philadelphia Eagles and Chicago Cardinals. Cleveland was the only favorite able to win as five underdogs whipped or tied their weekend opponents.

Los Angeles left Baltimore alone in the Western race when it handed the San Francisco Forty-Niners one of their worst defeats Sunday, 33-7. Jay Perry of the Forty-Niners gained 44 yards and became the league's all-time rushing champion with 5,877 yards. Steve Van Buren of the Eagles previously held the record with 5,869.

The result of the game left the Bears, Forty-Niners and Rams (each 1-1) tied for second behind the Colts.

Cards Surprise Redskins

The Cardinals surprised the Washington Redskins Saturday night, 31-10, and the Eagles scored a 27-24 Sunday upset triumph over the New York Giants. These scores left the Giants, Cardinals, Eagles and Redskins (each

1-1) tied for second behind the Browns.

The Detroit Lions, defending league and Western Division champions, fumbled and booted away several scoring chances and were held to a 19-13 tie by the Green Bay Packers. They share the Western cellar with a loss and a tie apiece. Pittsburgh (2-1) is last in the East.

Braves Counting Money; Burdette Seeks Clincher

NEW YORK (UPI)—It looked like World Series money in the bank for the Milwaukee Braves today.

Leading the New York Yankees, three games to one, after Warren Spahn's 3-0 victory Sunday, the defending world champions sent "Yankee killer" Lew Burdette to the mound in an effort to wrap up the 1958 series in five games. Burdette, who beat the Yankees, 13-3, in the second game was trying for his fifth straight win over them.

A victory by the Braves today would make the first time since 1921-22 that the Yankees had suffered two straight World Series losses. It would also mark the first time the National League had two straight series winners since the Giants won in 1954 and the Dodgers beat the Yankees in 1955. Haring Burdette's path was a grim and determined band of Yankees, led by 67-year-old Manager Casey Stengel, who growled: "This ain't over yet."

Stengel Picks Turley

Stengel, with his back to the wall, chose Bullet Bob Turley, a 21-game winner during the regular season who was knocked out in a cautious first inning of the second game when the Braves scored seven runs to make it a 1-0 for Burdette.

"He's gonna do it," Stengel predicted. "We've been down before but when there's a tomorrow there's always hope."

Stengel referred to the 1956 World Series in which the Yankees lost the first two games to the Dodgers but came on to win with the help of Don Larsen's historic perfect game. The only difference is that the 1956 Yankees were all square at 2-2 after four games and took a 3-2 lead on Larsen's no-hitter in the fifth game.

In fact the only precedent for a Yankee victory goes back to 1925 series when the Pittsburgh Pirates led behind to the Washington Senators, three games to one, but won the series by winning the last three games.

Stengel was expected to bench left-hander Norm Siebern, whose three furling lapses led to all three Milwaukee runs Sunday, in favor of 42-year-old Enos Slaughter, in an effort to get more punch into a Yankee lineup that has produced only six hits, three by Hank Bauer, in the last 18 innings. He also was expected to start Jerry Lumpe at third base and put Elton Howard somewhere in the lineup.

Manager Fred Haney, still refusing to say his Braves have the series clinched, said he would go with the same lineup that routed Turley in the second game. This means that Bill Brunton will be in center field and Frank Torre at first base.

Once-Useful Basement Leaving Today's Home

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The basement, which evolved from a place to store food for the winter in a gadgeted recreation—and even sleeping—area, is slowly disappearing from the American house.

Government statistics reveal that in 1940 about 8 per cent of all new, single-family houses had a full or partial basement. By 1956 the proportion had dropped to 43 per cent.

Experts say the drop reflects:—A decrease in the proportion of nationwide housing starts accounted for by the Northeast, where basements are more popular than in other sections of the country.

—A long-term shift in housing fashions which is gradually relegating the basement to the past.

Figures on Basements

Latest government figures, based on a 1956 survey, show the following proportions of houses with full or partial basements for different parts of the nation:

- Northwest 61 per cent.
- North central 69 per cent.
- West 18 per cent.
- South 27 per cent.

According to officials of the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB), housing professionals applaud the swing away from basements on grounds of common sense, comfort and economy.

"People don't make full use of their basements," NAHB housing engineer Milton W. Smithman told United Press International. "They also clutter them up with a lot of stuff they don't need. As for things that should be saved, they still have the attic for storage."

Basements Cause Problems

As for habitation, Smithman said, "people are not accustomed to living in holes in the ground. Living below ground causes problems of moisture, heating and lighting. Basement apartments are obviously considered less desirable because the rent on them is less."

For the few items—such as the heating plant and the water heater—which many people associate with basements, Smithman continued, space can be provided above ground at less cost.

"One obvious advantage of eliminating the basement is the saving in stair-climbing," Smithman noted.

If land is so expensive as to require having the house on more than one level, Smithman continued, it is generally cheaper to build up than to dig down.

Inventor Leaves Hobo Jungle For Home

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Hidden Elmer Meukel, 41-year-old inventor who left home to escape his creditors and lived in a hobo jungle, was on the threshold of possible fame and fortune today.

An electronics firm, Polaris Engineering Co., wanted to discuss with Meukel as soon as possible his idea for a device to prevent airplane collisions.

If everything works out, the self-educated inventor could receive as much as $15,000 a year in royalties for his electronics device, plus a salary as consulting engineer for its development.

Polaris said the government had expressed interest in spending millions on Meukel's concept for preventing aerial collisions of a working prototype could be developed.

The lanky, hawk-nosed "dreamer" returned home Sunday after three months of a life as a hobo, hitchhiking and hopping freight trains on a journey that ended at a hobo jungle near Reno, Nevada.

Waiting for Meukel was his wife, who had taken a job to hold the family together, and their three children, Christine, 11; Eric, 9; and James, 3.

"Bill was piling up," he said in explaining his decision to leave home last June 23. "I guess I was just in a mental funk."

Before he left, Meukel had tried to interest Polaris in his invention.

Detectives Seeking Terrorist Leader

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard today ordered its "terror twins" to fly to Cyprus to "get" the elusive Colonel Grivas, leader of the anti-British EOKA terrorist organization.

Chief Detective Inspector Thomas Butler and Detective Inspector Peter Vibart, two of the Yard's top detectives, were sent to Cyprus police to find Grivas and smash EOKA.

"Both these men have unparalleled experience in the art of interrogation," a spokesman for Scotland Yard said. "They know when a man is lying. They know the tricks which put criminals off their guard. If they are successful, it could be that one or more Yard men might join them."

The order sending the two men to Cyprus followed a plea by Cyprus Governor Sir Hugh Foot, who blamed EOKA for the death last week of a British Army sergeant's wife—the mother of five children.

The murder outside a food market in Famagusta raised an angry outcry in Britain and a declaration of vengeance among British soldiers on Cyprus.

A government announcement said two Greek Cypriots died, 250 were injured and 750 more were arrested in the roundup of suspects.

HENRY G. JOHNSON JR.

Former Lieutenant Likes Sanford; To Make It His Home

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — Gov. Averell Harriman's counsel announced today that he will conduct an extradition hearing Wednesday for Frank Peterson, wanted by the state of Florida on a first degree murder indictment.

Daniel Gutman said he would hold the hearing at Harriman's request, in New York City.

Peterson, a Negro ex-convict formerly of Bonifay, was charged with the ax-slaying of sharecropper Ira Gene Carley in Holmes County, last June 11. He was picked up in western New York and has been held in Erie County jail at Buffalo.

Florida asked for his extradition, and Gutman said notification of the hearing has been sent to Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida and Peterson's attorney, William Sims of Buffalo.

Johnson lives with his wife, Joan, and two-year-old son, Grady, at 101 Onora Road.

'Binge' Causes Slaying, Rape, Suicide

PARAGOULD, Ark. (UPI) — A pretty, 17-year-old farmwife told today how a young Missouri farmhand on a "Saturday night beer binge," kidnaped her and her husband as they emerged from a midnight movie, slew her husband, raped her and then took his own life in a fit of remorse.

Sheriff William F. Hyde said Mrs. Betty Henson of Black Oak Ark., is five months pregnant. He quoted Mrs. Henson as saying she and her husband Clarence, were apparently "picked at random" by Jerry Truelove of Hornersville, Mo. She said they had never seen him before.

Truelove pulled a .22 caliber target pistol and ordered the couple to get into his truck. He drove them nine miles from Paragould and down into a gravel pit.

Hyde quoted Mrs. Henson as saying Truelove ordered her husband to get into the truck. "They argued," she said, "then he started shooting Clarence, even after he fell to the ground."

Hyde said Truelove then raped Mrs. Henson.

"She said Truelove told her he would kill her the minute she resisted him," said Hyde. After that, he picked up her husband's body and put it in the back of the truck.

"He told Mrs. Henson to drive

Person Wearing Glasses More Immune To Colds

BY DELOS SMITH, UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — As the big season for the common cold approaches, it is of interest to know a person who wears glasses may be less likely to catch one than a person who doesn't.

That goes for influenza, too, and for any other illness caused by viruses or bacteria.

This comes up because a famous medical scholar pointedly has reminded scientists of existing evidence that the conjunctiva is an easy "route of entry" for illness-causing micro-organisms. Anyone who has ever had pink-eye doesn't have to be told what the conjunctiva is, since pink-eye is conjunctivitis or inflammation of the conjunctiva.

Work As Shields

The conjunctiva is a mucous membrane which forms the outermost layer of the eye, and so we all go about with our conjunctivas exposed to whatever micro-organisms are in the air. Thus, the person who wears glasses has protective shields, and a heavily fogged person would have that "route of entry" completely closed.

Dr. H. Stanley Banks, writing in the International Journal of Ophthalmology, seemed surprised "the mounting evidence" against the conjunctiva had attracted so little attention among the scientists investigating all the ins and outs of human illnesses.

For one thing, it is equipped with a fine surface network of capillaries which drain into a deep network of rather large veins, while the capillary network of the membrane lining the nasal passages is much coarser. This means that, theoretically at least, the conjunctiva is more likely to absorb viruses and bacteria and pass them on to the body interior than the nose.

Recalls Experiments

Banks recalled little publicized recent experiments which backed this theory. One scientist put saliva from persons newly erupted with measles into the conjunctivas of six children and five came

Council 'Netted' By Flora Request

ANDOVER, Eng. (UPI) — The somewhat nettled Hampshire County Council said today businessman Eric Neate could keep his old weeds for all they cared.

The trouble is Neate may be stuck with a border of such weeds as stinging nettles, deadly nightshade and dandelions around his factory where he manufactures power pylons.

The trouble began when Neate wrote to the county council submitting a plan for a floral border around the new plant. He merely said he wanted to set out shrubs and the council told him to be specific.

So he told them he would plant such things as urtic dioica (stinging nettles), taraxacum officinale (dandelions), which he described as a perennial with yellow flowers, and centaurium sepium (bindweed).

He also threw in such things as Galium aparine, a charming shrub with white flowers and red berries.

Black came the letter stamped approved.

"I suppose it was naughty of me, but they needed the mickney taken out of them," Neate said today.

County Planning Officer T. F. Thompson defended his clerks for not knowing that a weed by another name is still a weed.

"My staff, dealing with 11,000 planning cases a year, cannot have a book of British flora by their elbows," he said.

Integration At-A-Glance

By AL KIETTNER
United Press International
Temporary but still integrated classes were being set up today for students of Clinton, Tenn., high school. But officials expressed fear that school bombing might be repeated elsewhere in the county.

The blast that shattered the new historic school building at Clinton Sunday prompted school officials to seek an emergency conference with President Eisenhower. The Anderson County School Board authorized a delegation to request the meeting "at the earliest possible date."

Officials planned to open classes for the 89 bused-out students at a vacant elementary school building in the nearby "atomic city" of Oak Ridge, made available by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation helped local authorities comb through the rubble of Clinton High in search of clues. They are seeking evidence that the bombing may have been a direct violation of the injunction against interference with integration at the school.

Federal Crackdown
In Washington, the blast touched off a new move for legislation that would permit the federal government to crack down on the destruction of public property with explosives.

The NAACP went ahead with legal efforts to have nine Virginia schools reopened on an integrated basis. Hearings are scheduled later this week on petitions concerning schools in Norfolk, Charlottesville and Warren County.

Transfer Denied
Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond turned down the request of a 16-year-old white boy who had requested assignment to a Negro school at Norfolk. The youth argued that his admittance would automatically close the school under state law and persuade Negroes to withdraw applications to white schools.

Negro attorneys at Memphis said they would request "as soon as possible" an injunction that would allow Negroes to enter Memphis State University, a state-supported school.

Little Rock Says It Has Teachers, Money And Rooms

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—A member of the Little Rock Private School Corp. said today the corporation has the money, classrooms and teachers to start completely independent private schools for white high school students.

"I think if parents will be willing to relax and wait out the week," he said, "we will have a school for their children."

The corporation member asked not to be identified because, he said, the corporation had agreed that its president, Dr. T. J. Haney, would act as spokesman.

Haney said the corporation will open privately supported high schools "as soon as we can get things rolling."

He said he did not expect to be able to detail plans for opening the private schools for a day or two.

By deciding to go ahead and try to operate classrooms in churches, office buildings and rumpus rooms, the corporation indicated it does not expect a favorable ruling.

Clarence A. Laws, southwest field secretary of the NAACP, indicated that the Negroes are still putting their faith in a white movement to force the schools to open on an integrated basis.

"This is the sixth week that the schools have been closed," he said. "The opening of the schools is of major importance now, since it will permit the more than 3,000 high school students to return to their classes," he said.

'Blue Chips' Found At Municipal Dump

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—Jessie Carwell, a 43-year-old Oakland, Calif., secretary, spotted an old greeting-card box in the municipal dumps here Monday and jumped for joy.

The box, tossed away with "some other stuff" by two young boys who stole her car, contained $25,000 in blue-chip stocks.

The boys, 14 and 15, stole Miss Carwell's car Friday night to visit some friends in Sacramento. They threw out the "stuff" as they passed the municipal dump.

The boys were picked up Saturday night and confessed their crime. Miss Carwell called Oakland Mayor Clifford Bissell early Monday, asking him to use his influence to get the Sacramento officials to hold up burning of rubbish for a day.

Mayor Bissell got the support of Sacramento Mayor Clarence Arvedo. Miss Carwell rushed here with two police officers and one of the young auto thieves—who quickly pointed out the box, complete with stocks.

Janice No Threat To U. S. Mainland

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Force built up to 90 miles an hour late today some 100 miles east of Daytona Beach but continued to remain distant, away from the mainland.

Squalls from the big storm's fringes were expected to take the South Atlantic coast with 15-mile an hour winds and high tides. The weather bureau emphasized that "there are no indications that damaging winds will occur anywhere along the South Atlantic coast."

State warnings from Cape Hatteras, N. C., to Vero Beach, Fla., and small craft were advised to stay in port.

The weather bureau explained, "These gale warnings are displayed because of the strong pressure gradient existing between the area of high pressure north and west of the coast and the hurricane center, resulting in strong gales a very short distance offshore. . . and not because the hurricane center is expected to approach the coast."

Janice was expected to continue on its present course for the next 12 hours with no marked intensification.

Dade Officials Rule Out Gambling Casinos, Slots

MIAMI (UPI)—Dade county's metro commissioners today quickly killed by a 4-0 vote an ordinance that would have legalized gambling casinos and slot machines here.

The same commission only one week ago passed the gambling ordinance on first reading and set a hearing for it Oct. 21. Former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey appeared before the commission that day to outline his plan for setting up the casinos here.

The surprise move created such a storm of protest that the three commissioners who voted for it quickly announced they would vote against it when it came up for a second reading after the hearing. However, they did not wait for that date and killed it on a motion today by Commissioner Ralph Fossey.

Commissioner John McLeod,

Pope Regains Faculties; Still On Brink Of Death

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (UPI)—Pope Pius XII regained his full mental powers and his power of speech today in another surprising comeback from the brink of death but a high Vatican official cautioned that the frail 82-year-old pontiff remained "gravely ill."

A medical bulletin this morning said the Pope passed a generally good night, despite a brief recurrence of ileus, regained use of his senses, took some food and continued to improve. There were no signs of paralysis.

But it still was an unpredictable battle between life and death for the spiritual leader of Roman Catholics. He suffered a stroke and a "kidney crisis" Monday morning.

Four doctors who have attended him since Monday appeared to be willing cautiously to see if the Pope's remarkable recovery was a genuine improvement or the result of his own formidable stamina and will power.

Fear Second Stroke
Prof. Antonio Gasbarri, one of the doctors, said no prognosis forecast of the course of a disease and the outlook afforded by this could be made for another two or three days. Medical reports feared a second stroke might be fatal.

Millions of persons around the world, praying for the Pope's recovery, drew encouragement from the wording of this morning's medical bulletin.

It said that his condition "on the whole continues to improve," that he has held following periods of unconsciousness Monday, and that his temperature, pulse and respiration were normal.

Reds Set Sunday Punch, Reports Say; U.S. 'Silent'

TAIPEI (UPI)—The Communists silenced their blockade batteries only to give them time to move about 12 more guns into place opposite the Quemoy and Matsu Islands, intelligence reports indicated today.

The Communists have so far kept their promise to suspend the bombardment of the Quemoy for a week despite the refusal of their Chinese Nationalist to meet their terms.

The Defense Ministry announced however, that observation posts in the island chain saw "large Communist troop and vehicle movements" around the island chain guns Monday.

Sources on Quemoy said UPI Correspondent Robert L. Miller, the only foreign newsman on the scene, said Russia has delivered highly-esteemed, long-range 12-inch guns to the Red-held coast.

Such guns, half again as large as the 8-inchers that had furnished the Communist "Sunday punch," could pound the Quemoy at what amounts to point-blank range. They also could range it not believed to be sufficient to carry to the mainland from the bases being prepared for them on Formosa. They are primarily anti-aircraft rockets.

Dade Jury Awards Officer $550,000

MIAMI (UPI)—A Dade County Circuit Court jury Monday awarded a Miami Beach policeman $550,000 in damages for injuries received when a cab ran into his motorcycle.

It was the largest verdict of its kind against an individual ever approved in this county.

The policeman, Carlton Fromm, was crippled in the accident July 1957. His legs were paralyzed because of a spinal injury.

Anderson Johnson, the operator of the Mack City and Harlem Taxi companies, had claimed the driver of the cab, Nolan Green, and not himself, was liable for damages. But the policeman's attorney successfully argued that Anderson was "vicariously liable" since the cab was operating under his franchise.

ON THE TRAIL OF THE ADMONABLE WOODSMAN—Road construction worker Gerald Crew holds a plaster cast of a giant footprint made in the remote wilderness area near Eureka, Calif., on a new logging access road being cut by a logging company. The track is just one of many found in the last few weeks in "the fresh dirt of the new road. It measures some 10 inches long, about six inches deep, and the tracks were set at 140 inches deep in the dirt."

TAIPEI (UPI)—The Communists silenced their blockade batteries only to give them time to move about 12 more guns into place opposite the Quemoy and Matsu Islands, intelligence reports indicated today.

State Asks Chair In Poison Deaths Of Four In Family

MADISON, Ga. (UPI)—A jury painstakingly extracted from the largest cache in local history was to begin hearing evidence today against Annie Donovan Lyles, charged with the mysterious murder of her 9-year-old daughter.

Capital punishment has been inflicted on female defendants only three times in Georgia history. None has been sentenced to death since the electric chair replaced hanging more than 100 years ago.

"Death is the only answer as punishment for this brutal and terrible crime," said prosecutor Charles Adams. "We expect to prove beyond any doubt that Mrs. Lyles committed this awful act. We will demand that the jury return a verdict of guilty without mercy."

Mrs. Lyles, 31-year-old former operator of a popular downtown restaurant, also is charged with poisoning two husbands and a mother-in-law by spicing their food and drink with an arsenic-based rat poison. Only the case involving the elder of her two daughters was expected to be laid before the jury, although prosecutors indicated they would use evidence in solving the other deaths.

Although not a rather amply proportioned woman, the defendant's handsome face and neat appearance caught the eye. She dressed in a small, white, high-collared dress and she seemed a woman who might be called upon to judge her fate.

Good Years Loom For Minute Maid

ORLANDO (UPI)—The Minute Maid Corporation's less damaged citrus groves should generate handsome earnings for the firm in the next two years of citrus shortages, it was predicted Monday.

President John M. Fox said the company's groves were only slightly damaged in last winter's freeze, and that near-capacity production this season would benefit from high prices due to the over all citrus shortage.

"Our own grove holdings should generate handsome earnings for the firm in the next two years of citrus shortages, it was predicted Monday."

Minute Maid's increased earnings during the current fiscal year, Fox added, will bring on "dramatic changes" in the firm's books. He estimated 1958 earnings of $2.65 per share on the 1,394,504 shares outstanding, compared with a net loss of $2,542,903 in the previous fiscal year.

The current fiscal year ends Oct. 31 of that time. Fox said total liabilities will be reduced from $18,331,846 at last Oct. 31 to about $12,200,000.

Killing Of Officer Ruled 'Justifiable'

TARZON SPRINGS (UPI)—Justice of the Peace J. S. Register Monday ruled as "justifiable homicide" the shooting of an off-duty Florida Highway patrolman by a fellow trooper last month.

Register made the ruling after the state attorney's office, the sheriff's office and Highway Patrol Lt. Jack Dancy reported that a week-long investigation of the slaying showed it was done in the line of duty.

Patrolman Claude Todd, 22, was fatally wounded Sept. 27 in suburban Pleasant Valley by Trooper Harold Dandy, who was called to investigate a disturbance at the Todd home. Dandy said he ordered Todd to surrender and fired a warning shot. He shot Todd when the patrolman attempted to flee.

Three of the victim's brothers and his father were arrested for being drunk and resisting arrest.

Register said and no coroner's inquest would be called in the slaying.

Officials Resolved To Say Nothing To Provoke Commies

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States was resolved today to do or say nothing that would provoke the Chinese Communists to resume their bombardment of Quemoy.

American officials said the United States was without formally announcing it — was complying already with the cease-fire terms laid down by Red China.

The Chinese Communists stopped firing at Quemoy Sunday. They said their cease-fire would continue for one week if the United States stopped escorting Nationalist Chinese convoys from Formosa to its beleaguered outpost.

"You can bet there'll be no more U. S. escorts until or unless the bombardment resumes," one American official said.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, said however that withdrawal of U. S. support from the Nationalists defending Quemoy would be "subject submission to the Communist use of force."

No Boat Rocking
Officials, cautiously hopeful the cease-fire might continue beyond a week or perhaps become permanent, were anxious to say nothing that would rock the boat in the Formosa Strait.

Ironically this appeared to put the administration in a position where it could claim no credit for the new development without danger of stirring up a fresh batch of trouble.

Red Official Warns U. S. To Withdraw

LONDON (UPI)—Communist Chinese Vice Premier Chen Yi warned the United States today not to mistake the Red's temporary Formosa cease-fire for "weakness."

Chen, in a statement broadcast by Peking, declared that the Red Chinese were as determined as ever "to liberate" the offshore islands including Formosa.

"No foreign interference will be tolerated at all" in the passage of this aim, he said.

"If the United States should interpret the temporary suspension of our bombardment of Quemoy as a sign of weakness, or misinterpret this action as meaning its demand for a cease-fire, it will have totally miscalculated," Chen said.

Speaking at an East German embassy reception, he reiterated the demand that the United States "stop interfering in China's internal affairs and withdraw all its military and air force assistance forces from Taiwan and the Taiwan Strait."
