

Chesna Of Sanford Meets Heavy Welch In Orlando Bout Monday

Tony Chesna, Sanford bather, will meet Ralph Welch of Orlando in the opening four rounder Monday night at the new American Legion Annex in Orlando at 8:15 o'clock, according to word received here today from Promoter Ernie Stephens.

Chesna, weighing 195 pounds, although he hasn't fought recently, bids fair to give Welch a scrappy fight. Welch weighs 190 pounds, and is also an amateur but reputedly full of ring spirit. There will be 66 rounds of top flight bouts in all.

The two heavies will open the fight program, first to be promoted by Stephens. Legion high school boys heavy weight title go between Frank Lumpkin and Elmer Ray.

Ray, who ranks among the South's finest negro fighters, will meet Lumpkin, out for the first time in big-time competition, have been working out nightly at the Pioneer Athletic Club, on West Pine Street, in preparation for their headline engagement.

The two eight-round fights that will precede the main event have already been announced. A six-rounder, to be wedged in between the opener and the two eight-round semi-final bouts, will be announced later.

Dick Hernandez of Tampa and Kid Williams of Savannah, Ga., welterweights, hook up in the main semi-final feature in an eight-round affair. Woodrow Chancey of Palatka schedules to meet Tony Chesna in the first semi-final bout. They too are welterweights.

Both Hernandez and Chancey are well known to local boxing fans and they were paired off in the main event of the Payne Lumpkin fight in the best of the program.

Fed Basketball Team Meets Eustis Tonight At Seminole Gym At 8:30

Sanford's Celery Fed basketball squad engage the Eustis quintet here tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the Seminole High School gymnasium. Sanford will attempt to rack up their second victory of the season. They won their opener from Tavares, then lost to Winter Park and DeLand.

The opening lineup tonight probably will find Billy George on Bobby Newman at guard, Jim Blair at center, Arthur Dunn and Danny Altman, or Dub Epps at forwards.

The Feds lack height and experience but before the season is over, they give promise of being a formidable outfit, able to cope with the best in the northeast conference.

A "B" squad game may be held prior to the feature tilt.

Glenford Red Goes To Post Favored In Feature Event

ORLANDO, Jan. 18.—Glenford Red, Ed Willard's two-year old fawn-brindle, who wrote her name among the list of better greyhounds at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club with a record-equaling performance Tuesday night, goes to the post again tonight in the feature race at the Longwood oval.

Running the 5-16th's mile distance in 82 seconds flat, Willard's dog equalled her four year old record, established by Ann Hope and matched the time hung up by Lester Cole's Lucky Dot this season. Glenford Red outdistanced Lucky Dot Tuesday night.

It marked the fourth time this season that records for the feature and 5-16th's mile distances have either almost been broken or equalled.

Glenford Red is entered in tonight's feature 5-16th's, the ninth race, against Big Question, the dog who placed second to the Willard greyhound in Tuesday night's thriller, and Balmey Bender, another of the field who ran the feature heat Tuesday.

Meeting Secretary Pat Meets, in an effort to thoroughly extend Glenford Red's possibilities as a track champion in tonight's race, has added the names of W. C. Groves' Sand Baby, Lester Cole's Lady at Arms, the Blackwell Kennel's Emil Rex, Gerald Pasley's Smoky Ranger and Merry Ida to the feature race entrants.

With a fast track and even breaks, track railbirds are pretty evenly divided as to whether Glenford Red will step out as a record breaker or be beaten by one of the several top-flight entries in this feature 5-16th's hook-up.

THE VERSE FOR TODAY
 NOW WE START BUT WE END, But the path of life is the shining light, through more and more unto perfect day.—Prov. 4:18.
LITTLE STREAMS OF ENGLAND
 The little streams of England have no voices, they sing songs of the opal croquet of the new moon above them, and the glittering galaxies of stars, and blue and white swaths of the heavens in their hearts, the green water meadows, brushed with the light gold of buttercups, the of the lark's song ripple in their bosoms, the crimson of willows stains their quiet waters, whispering the papers that brush the encompassing sky, the little streams of England have no voices, they sing songs.—E. V. R.

WILD HARYET
 This was a life forgot by men, live, gone wild near a wood, she danced when bluebirds brought the Spring, she trusted with a seasonal discipline, she sang sweet apples that no one would eat, she sang of the fruit, she sang of the "forgotten" branch, she sang of the red her cups, and the wild haryet from near winter ground.
 JESSIE M. DOWLIN

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN
 BY GEORGE TUCKER
 NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(AP)—I kept seeing his face through a veil of smoke, with white lights beaming down on it, but I couldn't place him. There was plenty of smoke in this room, in this pentagonal room on 52nd street, but there were no white glances, no dim aura of glow, no more, and Woody Herman's orchestra was threading its way through the nostalgic, rhythmic sweeps of a long since forgotten blues song. Try as I might, as persistently as I searched the corners of my memory, this man with the broad shoulders and the strange, intense, yet pleasant face eluded me.
 So I said to Howard Richmond, "who is that fellow?" and he replied, "Why, that's Mike Vetrano, he's Woody's manager. You ought to know him. He was Golden Glove champion."
 So that's where I had seen him—fighting in those best and most thrilling of all fights—the Golden Gloves. Mike fought at 170 pounds—the light-heavy division—and he was crowned champ of that division in a hectic bout as you will remember. It ended with Mike standing under the glare of those white lights, and the other fellow a still, beaten, sodden figure on the canvas.
 After that Mike and the New York Golden Glove fought the Chicago Gloves, and Mike won his bout there too, thereby becoming inter-city champion. Before that he had played football with Cardinals at St. Vrain high school, and also at prep school, before Frankie Curcio went on to become the most famous of all kinds of football—all American football—Mike had followed that up with a year of wrestling at South Oyster. It was a hard job, but he did it, and he was a champion.

The Cost Of A Printed Word

Newspaper efficiency experts have figured it out that every word published in a newspaper costs its publisher five cents. This is not our figure. It is a figure arrived at by experts who have based it on average operating costs of all the newspapers in the United States.
 We do not know what it costs us to publish a single word. It may be more than five cents, or it may be a little less. But we do know it costs us something. We know that well enough so that we are very jealous of every unnecessary word which finds its way into our columns.
 We know too that when we have one word too much for six pages, and absolutely have to publish that word, and cannot leave out any other word in order to get it in, it does not mean just the cost of publishing one additional word, not just five cents. It means the cost of publishing two whole pages of words.
 You cannot publish six pages and six inches. You cannot publish six and a half pages. You cannot even publish seven pages. If you have too much for six pages, you have to publish eight pages. And sometimes those extra two pages of linotype composition, make-up work, newsprint, and so forth, are made necessary by a single story which just has to get in.
 For that reason newspaper editors habitually make a great effort to eliminate superfluous words. The essence of a farmer's success is to make two ears of corn grow where one grew before. The essence of a newspaperman's success is to make one word do where two, or perhaps a dozen, were used before.
 In a Social Calendar the other day, we saw where "The regular business and social meeting of Circle Number Three of the Methodist Church will be held Monday afternoon." That "regular business and social meeting" was repeated for every circle of that church in that day's calendar. We wondered if "Methodist Circle Number Three will meet Monday afternoon" would not have done just as well.
 We sometimes get requests to print poetry. We sometimes get requests to reprint stories which have already run in the paper. We sometimes get requests to print unnewsworthy articles several thousand words in length. We wonder if the persons who make those requests realize they may be crowding something else out of the paper which has real news value.
 The Herald like every other newspaper wants news, all it can get, and it appreciates the co-operation of its friends and readers in tipping us off to things that are happening and in turning in items of social interest concerning our local people, but the limitations of time and space make it absolutely essential that all items be edited more or less in the interest of clarity and brevity.

A New Attraction

Praise for the new Mead Botanical Garden, named for Dr. Theodore L. Mead of Oviedo, and located near Winter Park, comes from the Tampa Tribune which calls it another beauty spot which Floridians and visitors alike should place on their "must" list of attractions.
 "Among plantings of palms lining the winding canals with miniature waterfalls," says the Tribune, "are scattered 15,000 azaleas, 16,000 magnolias direct from Holland, some 3,000 orchids, many of rare varieties, and a beautiful collection of Japanese."
 "Mead Garden, aside from being a beautiful paradise of flowers and plants, is outstanding because of what it replaces. It was built on the side of a swamp, a city dump and a clay pit. In four short years, with WPA assistance and donations from citizens of Orlando and Winter Park, the waste land was transformed into a garden of beauty.
 "New improvements already are underway to include every kind of tree and bush from all over the world that will thrive there. But there is no need to wait. The Garden is open and it is worth seeing."

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN
 BY GEORGE TUCKER
 NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(AP)—throwing punks out of the ring on their heads, and getting thrown out by those same punks, about why didn't somebody tell me about dance bands earlier. This is the life for me."
 That's Mike. Now a word on Woody Herman. A quiet, almost serious boy from Milwaukee, he used to be with Iaham Jones. They have a 14-piece band now, run on a cooperative basis—mostly by medium tempo, occasionally swung, but with a decided talent for deep, strange blues. Look for him on the air. Give him a hearing. Hear him a couple of times and see what you think. Listen to his "Wood-Choppers' Ball."
 Listen to all those blues songs he plays, with emphasis on his introductory theme and his wild, high-stepping "Blues On Parade" as a sign-off. Get the name straight: Woody Herman. Plays a little clarinet—plays a little sax—a little of this and the other. About five-eight. I should say, maybe seven. Bright. Good strong voice. Baritone.
 The last I saw of him he was shaking hands with Jack Robby, the music publisher, and waving his hand to a couple of song pluggers who had just come in.

YOUR DOCTOR SAYS
 BY DR. DANIEL H. KRESS, M. D.

Air, food and exercise are three of the great essentials of health. The most important one of these is air. For it is possible to live without food for days, and without exercise for months, but to attempt to do without air for only a few minutes would result in death. Fortunately, air is free to all; it can be obtained without money and without price. There is, therefore, no excuse for air starvation, and yet the majority of people deny themselves unconsciously of this blessing. I mean by this that few really appreciate the importance of air sufficiently to appropriate the quantity and quality they are entitled to and must have to keep in health.

Even the food we eat is valueless without air. Of what value is a furnace filled with the fuel of food without the admission of air? Without air oxidation cannot take place; there can be no fire, there can be no heat and there can be no energy liberated. The fuel remains a dead mass. If the drafts are only partially open, and an insufficient amount of air is admitted to the fuel in the furnace, the fire burns low and much less heat is produced. The human body is really a furnace, living furnace. Food is its fuel, but the good derived from the food depends upon the amount of air admitted to it. Without air in the human body, there can be no heat, no energy and no life.

When God made man at the beginning, he breathed into him the breath of life, and man began to live. He became a living being. But man had to continue to breathe in this God-given breath of life in order to continue to live. For the body without the breath is dead.
 Air must be pure to be of the greatest value. The most effective way of introducing poisons into the blood through the lungs, or through the patient becomes irresponsible for what he may say or do, and then he becomes unconscious and ready for the operating room and the knife of the surgeon. It is possible to inhale a sufficient amount of poison that may be in the air that surrounds us to produce irresponsibility or partial unconsciousness of one's surroundings. Just a little more would, as in the inhalation of chloroform, cause death.
 Living as we do in cities and in closed offices and sleeping rooms in these cities, it is impossible to obtain air that is free from poisons. Indoor air always contains poisons. These poisons are just as real as chloroform, ether, and their effect, if inhaled in sufficient amounts, would be similar. Fortunately this is difficult, impossible but they are frequently inhaled in sufficient amounts to produce drowsiness and sleep. This interferes with thought. Man cannot be at his best physically, mentally, and spiritually when he is continually inhaling poisons.

Duplications Not To Be Tolerated In Compensations

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 18.—Florida residents who are receiving Old Age and Survivors' Insurance benefits are not entitled to State Unemployment Compensation benefits unless the Federal benefits are less than the State benefits. Fred Bradshaw, director of the Unemployment Compensation Division explained today.
 If the benefits are less than the amount allowed by the State, the amount of the Federal compensation is deducted from the State Unemployment Compensation benefit amount and the worker is paid the difference by the State.
 The Florida law provides that benefits shall not be paid for any week with respect to which the claimant is receiving or has received remuneration in the form of Old Age Benefits under Title I of the Social Security Act, as amended, or similar payments under any Act of Congress. Provided that if such remuneration is less than the benefits which would otherwise be due under the State law, he shall be entitled to receive for such week, if otherwise eligible, benefits reduced by the amount of such remuneration.
 Monthly Old Age payments under the Federal program started Jan. 1, 1940 and applications for payments are handled by the local offices of the Social Security Board.

Italians Vote For Biggest Military Budget Since 1918

Soviet Bombers Roar Over Helsinki In Raids While Western Front Flares

Death Of Borah Draws Attention

Swedish Airmen Report Destruction Of Six Russian Planes

Italy today bitwarked its off-proclaimed determination to be ready for all eventualities with the largest military budget since the World War. The cabinet approved an expenditure of half a billion for next year.

Soviet bombers roared over the south of Finland in a series of intense raids while the Western Front was a flare-up of activity with French penetration of German territory on a serious expedition.

The death of Borah drew international attention. He had led fights against the United States participation in the League of Nations, and the World Court.

The Russian army said it had "annihilated" a Finnish battalion on the Eastern Front, and had killed numerous casualties in the Karelian isthmus.

Russian bombers passed over Helsinki, but raids appeared to be confined to nearby cities.

The Pope, in a message to President Roosevelt, saw "light" in the possibility of immediate success for peace efforts.

Swedish airmen serving as volunteers in Finland reported they had destroyed at least six Russian bombers up to today.

German and British announcements agreed that the northwest of Germany had been scouted by air during the night.

The foreign ministers of Rumania and Yugoslavia conferred in Rumania on Balkan policy. Japan had two main concerns as Chinese reported two victories over the invaders, killing 8,000, and a Tokyo newspaper said Japan would levy no additional duties on United States imports when the 1911 treaty expires Friday.

Senator Pittman said Japan will have to abandon its goal of a new Asiatic order if the United States gets its due rights in China.

Soviet Russia reported Saturday morning that Red Army troops had "annihilated" a Finnish battalion Friday in fighting north of Lake Ladoga, and that Finland suffered "numerous casualties" in clashes on the Karelian isthmus.

The Russian communiqué, reporting important action for the first time in days, failed, however, to give the number of casualties in both battles.

The torpedoing of two Scandinavian steamers was reported. The 6,000-ton Falala was sent to the bottom Thursday off Iceland. These ships—numbering 385—were reported and taken to a Scottish harbor. The signal was on route to Sweden.

The 1,500-ton Swedish steamer Gustavus, bound from Los Angeles to the Mediterranean, was torpedoed off Spain Thursday. Her crew of 28 was saved.

Japan's reversal by Japan against the United States was reported. The Japanese government announced that it had broken off relations with the United States. The Japanese government announced that it had broken off relations with the United States.

Secretary Alan Messer reported that a number of members of the House of Representatives had been elected to the post office in the House of Representatives.

Plans Completed For Salesmanship Course For Clerks

Free Classes To Be Held Weekly For 10-Week Period

Beginning on Wednesday, Jan. 31, free classes in general salesmanship will be held in the Chamber of Commerce building weekly for 10 consecutive weeks, according to an announcement today by officials of the Business and Professional Men's Association and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce who said that arrangements for the school have been completed.

The course is being made available to the retailer in Sanford through the co-operation of the Florida State Department of Trade and Industrial Education, a division of the State's school system and similar in its operations to the vocational school now maintained here.

There will be no tuition fees or other costs to local participants except the cost of providing a meeting place.

A trained and experienced instructor will be sent to Sanford to conduct classes each Wednesday beginning at 7:30 P. M. The sessions will last approximately two hours.

Miss Evelyn Seal, state coordinator for this area, has held several conferences with officers and directors of the Business and Professional Men's Association and is leading every cooperation toward local plans. Miss Seal will personally organize the Sanford class and is expected to arrive Jan. 24 for that purpose.

R. D. Dalley, supervisor of the State Department of Trade and Industrial Education, which is conducting the course, said Public Instruction of which Collins English is superintendent.

Former GOP House Leader Is In Favor Of Building Canal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(AP)—John Q. Tilson, of Connecticut, a former House majority leader and leader of the House, urged his party yesterday to support legislation seeking authorization for the Florida ship canal.

In a letter to Representative Martin, of Massachusetts, the present Republican leader, Tilson said the $200,000,000 Florida waterway had the misfortune to be included with numerous "bonding" enterprises advocated by the present Administration.

A project of early New Deal days, the canal has been almost solidly by Republican members of the House and Senate. Started with $5,000,000 of relief funds, work was halted in 1934 when Congress refused to appropriate for it.

Tilson, Republican leader in the 69th, 70th and 71st congresses, now practices law in Washington. He said his interest in military preparedness. He termed the canal an important "link in any adequate system of national defense."

"Upon this record as to this canal," he wrote, "let us not now add any opposition be placed in the position of having prevented the carrying out of a far-sighted proposition first visualized and supported by distinguished representatives of our own party."

He declared there was a question about the commercial value of the canal, adding he was reliably informed a system of locks would make it self-liquidating.

Secretary Alan Messer reported that a number of members of the House of Representatives had been elected to the post office in the House of Representatives.

CANDIDATE

E. F. Housholder, County Attorney and for many years active in politics in Seminole County, is candidate for election to the Florida Senate from the 37th Senatorial district.

Nazis Would Halt Aid To Finland, DeWolski States

Speaker Says Italy Is Open For Proposition From Allies

Europe's latest aggression scare by Nazi legions causing an almost general mobilization of Belgian and Dutch resources and armies, is for the present at least, merely a move by Stalin's collaborator to prevent the Allies from giving effective assistance to the hard-pressed Finns in their fight against the invading Communist hordes, Capt. Constantine deWolski told listeners in the Parish House of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church Thursday night during one of his weekly discourses on the latest developments in World War No. 2.

Faced with the possibility of a flanking movement through the Persian Gulf, British and France will be forced to curtail their assistance to Finland in the fighting in the far north, according to the German viewpoint, he declared.

He asserted that Norway and Sweden have been slow in lending active support to their neighbor because these Scandinavian countries, too, lack sufficient planes to protect their cities and civilians from the horrors of attacks from the air, he predicted, however, that these nations will not let Finland stand alone in her efforts to stem the Communist invasion for he said from all indications, these nations are talking more and more of taking an active part in the war.

He commended the Finns for their staunch resistance and expressed a belief that if they had 500 fast pursuit planes the little nation would be able to halt the only successes the Russians can claim against them, the air bombardment of their cities.

He interpreted Italy's latest action as an invitation to the Allies. Italy desires to know what the Allies will offer for defense of the Balkan nations against Stalin's ostensible ambitions, he said.

The people of England and France are no longer talking of peace, he said, but are talking of a treaty with Germany when the Allies win this war that would make Germany's 1917 treaty with Russia and Rumania look like a mere toy in comparison. These nations desire to end forever war as a means for settlement of Germany's difficulties and thereby prevent the recurrence of bloodshed and armed camps in Europe because of over-ambitious rulers, he said.

The Rev. A. A. Haggard, also of Plant City, was another speaker of the evening and he said in enthusiastic terms of the new plan. A visitor from Lake Mary was also on the program, and officials of the club expressed the hope of having the same speakers return again.

Borah Rites Planned By U.S. Senate

President, Cabinet, Supreme Court, Diplomatic Corps To Be Present At Funeral

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Senate leaders today arranged to hold a state funeral Monday for Senator Borah. The President, the cabinet, the Supreme Court, and diplomatic corps will attend. His body will be taken to his home state of Idaho for burial in Boise.

Eight senators will be chosen to escort the bier west. Borah left, unfinished, a speech he intended to deliver Monday opposing British interference with American mails, suggesting the denial of port facilities on British ships if continued.

Senator Borah, dean of the United States Senate, died at 8:45 o'clock last night. He was 74 years old.

His death followed a cerebral hemorrhage, with which the veteran statesman was stricken about the time he suffered a fall at his apartment here Tuesday morning. It was not known whether the hemorrhage caused the fall or resulted from it.

The Senator was unconscious when Mrs. Borah found him lying on the floor of his bathroom. He regained consciousness only rarely thereafter, sometimes calling for Mary, his wife, who was con-

Chinese Report Jap Defenses At Canton Failing

HONGKONG, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Japanese outer defenses of Canton, south China's largest metropolis, were reported by the Chinese to be crumbling yesterday following one of the most serious setbacks inflicted on the invaders in the two and one-half year war.

The Chinese said a ring of steel virtually had been completed around Canton, normally a city of 1,500,000 population which fell to the Japanese in October, 1938, and which has since been used as a base for extensive operations in south China.

The Japanese have been pushed back 50 miles since a series of retreats in Kwangtung province forced them to begin a retreat from Yingkat, important communication center on the Canton-Hankow railway 80 miles north of Canton, the Chinese declared.

The pursuing Chinese were said to have established lines forming an arc, with their right, or western flank, only 18 miles from Canton and their center and left flanks only 25 miles away.

The Japanese for several days have maintained silence on their Kwangtung campaign. They acknowledged a week ago that some of their forces were withdrawing from the northern area of the province after completing what they said was merely a drive to mop up remnants of the Chinese army there.

High Chinese sources in Hongkong admitted their successes were achieved only by great casualties numbering between 15,000 and 20,000 Chinese troops. They said a moderate estimate of Japanese losses would be about 5,000 men.

Neutral observers said the Chinese admission of such a great population of losses over those of the Japanese and the silence of the part of the invaders gave considerable credence to the Chinese reports.

The Chinese declared the heavy toll they paid was well worth it because of losses of prestige suffered by the Japanese and because the Nipponese war machine could ill afford to lose 5,000 soldiers at this time.

These sources said the Japanese troops involved included the eighth and 10th divisions and one brigade of the imperial guards, a total of 50,000 men, while they estimated about twice that many Chinese were engaged—a much smaller preponderance than usual.

O.P. Herndon Will Begin Taking Applications For Auctions On Monday

Beginning on Monday, O. P. Herndon, as agent for the trustees of the International Improvement Fund, will begin accepting applications for the sale of land in Seminole County, title to which passed to the State through the reversion clause of the Murphy Act.

Although various other phases of the Murphy Act are still involved in litigation, the Florida Supreme Court has rendered a decision upholding the legality of the reversion clause of the Act and later the judges unanimously reaffirmed their stand in a case testing the validity of municipal liens, thereby leaving no obstacles to the sale of this property.

Mr. Herndon said that any person purchasing this property can be given a clear title since the tax liens of the City, county and district were automatically wiped out when the fee simple title reverted to the State.

No property will be sold except upon written application. In making application for the sale, a deposit must be made amounting to 25 percent of the 1932 valuation, the minimum amount that can be bid, together with a

Swede Volunteer Airmen Bombard Red Armed Forces

HELSINKI, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The Finnish high command announced last night, after three enemy aerial bombardments of Helsinki's outskirts, that Swedish volunteer airmen are raining bombs on Russian troop columns and bases along the eastern frontier where new victories over the invaders were reported.

The Russia air force, said to have sent 480 planes over Finland in mass attacks, dropped bombs in the city during the afternoon, but the planes were driven off before reaching the central part of the city.

The noise of bursting bombs was heard in Helsinki at 2:25 P. M., driving people to air raid shelters. Throughout the day they heard what the air raid alarm became clear weather conditions that the enemy planes would be driven off.

Along the eastern frontier above Lake Ladoga the Finns announced the capture of enemy positions in the wiping out of a Russian detachment of 50 men near Ilomantsi and the destruction of two Russian tanks in fighting in the Kuluva sector.

The battle of Lake Marka, where the Finns yesterday announced a 28-mile advance, continued with the Russians struggling to cling to a new fortified line thrown up at Markajarvi, 48 miles from the frontier.

After driving 60 miles into Finland at one of the nation's most vulnerable points, the Russians narrowly escaped being drawn into another "death trap" such as wiped out the Red army's 163rd and 44th Infantry divisions at Lake Kianta.

By a swift retreat from Lake Joutai, about 18 miles from the Semijarvi railroad and highway terminus that is a gateway to Kemel on the Gulf of Bothnia, the Russians escaped entrapment, according to advices from the Sella front where the war is being fought in temperatures as low as 48 degrees below zero.

Describing heavy aerial attacks yesterday in which 450 Russian planes carried out bombing and machine-gunning attacks—300 of them inland from the fighting front—last night, communiqué reported three enemy planes were shot down. There were reported only five casualties—one dead and four wounded.

"Swedish volunteer airmen have participated with success during the past week in bombing enemy camps and columns," the communiqué said.

Experiments With Flowers Outlined By David Burpee On Sanford Visit

By GLENN GOVOCER
Nature has done a fine job in supplying man with beauty as well as food for his existence but even Nature cannot keep pace with the demands of a modern civilization without assistance. Rendering this assistance is the work of the horticulturist. And David Burpee, official of the Burpee Seed Company and botanist of note, who has been a visitor in Sanford this week, has aided Nature in no small way in supplying the growing demands of man.

Mr. Burpee said that the horticulturist makes no effort to change the rules Nature has established for the reproduction of species but merely assists in making new applications of these rules.

A cousin of Luther Burbank, one of the greatest of all botanists, Mr. Burpee said that some of his accomplishments have been a mutation of the efforts of his predecessor whose research and experiments Mr. Burpee has continued.

The visitor said he considers as some of his greatest accomplishments the work he has done toward making the flowers that can grow in everybody's garden more beautiful.

"Why are flowers beautiful?" Mr. Burpee asked, because they desire to attract bees and other insects which are necessary to the fertilization of the flower with pollen and the reproduction of the species.

Flowers are merely Nature's way of advertising, he said. As an example of the importance of this advertising, Mr. Burpee told of one of his experiments with the development of a double nasturtium of varied colors.

More than 50,000 double nasturtiums had been fertilized by hand with the pollen of the varicolored single variety and it was necessary to prevent the bees from undoing the work so the petals were stripped from the flowers, and although part of the flowers containing the nectar remained, there wasn't a bee to visit the field throughout the experiment, he said.

The number of generations rather than time is the important thing in the crossing of plants, he said, pointing out that it requires three generations to purify the strain after it is first produced. Because of the location of Burpee's seed farms often these three generations are grown in a single year, he said.

The work of the horticulturist is not always successful, he said, because on the average, only one of every 1,000 experiments proves successful.

In plant breeding, he said, the first important step is to select two plants with characteristics which are desired in the offspring. He cited as an example his work with the double nasturtium, which heretofore produced only one color. A double flower with the variety of colors that are in the single was desired. The male parts of the double flowers were removed and the flowers hand pollinated from the single variety. This was done for three generations and the result was a hybrid flower in a variety of colors.

"There has never been a time in the history of the world when there was as much interest in flowers as there is at present," Mr. Burpee said. "A large amount of credit for this increase in interest goes to the women, who have promoted the growing of flowers through garden clubs and other groups."

'Johnnie' Of Radio Fame, Is Visitor Here

"Johnnie" as he is known to radio listeners all over the country was a visitor in Sanford yesterday.

Johnnie Morris Jr., his full name, is the call boy on the Philip Morris program. Traveling in a small car especially built for his use, Johnnie and the district supervisor of the tobacco company, W. N. Bennett spent yesterday morning on local merchants.

Continued Cold Is Prediction

Icebergs Are Seen At Daytona Beach And At State University

LAKELAND, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Freezing temperatures extending to the edge of the coves and was predicted for tonight. The mercury will fall steadily, and the coldest will be at 8:00 A. M. The northern portion of the state will have frost again Monday. Predictions: New Smyrna 25; Sanford-Orlando 26.

Sanford and Seminole County have weathered the latest cold wave without appreciable damage, according to reports received today from local growers and shippers but with the weatherman's prediction of continued cold, citrus men are holding their breath and preparing for another night watching beside the smudge pots.

Temperatures as low as 20 degrees in the Sanford District and 27 degrees in the Oviedo district were reported but it is the consensus of opinion that no damage to the vegetable crops has been done, according to Allan Wilson, area manager for the American Fruit Growers, Inc. which receives weather reports from all over Florida.

Randall Chase, of Chase and Company, stated that if all crops they kept a close watch upon, the grove owners built fires in their grove smudge pots and that the damage reported to Florida's citrus was little, if any.

Mr. Chase said that the mercury reached its lowest ebb between 6:00 and 7:00 A. M. today when a temperature of 20 degrees for Seminole County's citrus section was reported. The temperature must stay below 27 degrees for several hours to do any appreciable damage to the

Hitler Could Have Become European Boss, Halifax Says

LEEDS, Eng. Jan. 20.—(AP)—Lord Halifax, British secretary of Foreign Affairs, today expressed belief Hitler would have become dictator of all Europe if England had been lulled into a false sense of security after Munich.

"I have no doubt he was disillusioned that we were not lulled after Munich into relaxing our own determination to rearm," he said.

He said the Munich agreement gave Germany all she "immediately wanted" and set every contentious matter "in Germany's favor."

"Yet it became apparent at once that Herr Hitler was disappointed. In private he inveighed against England and against his advice, 'the favored peace.'"
