SMITH FAVORS BULKHEAD

M. M. Smith was in the city today looking after his property interests and among other items of interest was asked about the proposed lake front improvement from Sanford to Monroe.

He has owned the bulk of unimproved colony lands on the west side. He has sold hundreds of acres of this land to people on easy terms and these people now have fine farms and are making money from their winter vegetables.

Mr. Smith still owns many hundreds of acres of fine farming lands and while a part of it touches the lake shore, Mr. Smith says that given enough time in which to pay for the bulkheading the owners of the land on Lake Monroe would be able to pay for the improvements and make a good thing out of the enhanced value of the property.

He is heartily in favor of anything that will make the health conditions better, that will eliminate the mosquito and that will beautify the county and the various cities in the county and he is especially keen for the beautification of the highways.

RURAL CLASSIC IS NOW PHOToplay

"Quincy Adams Sawyer," Famous New England Story, to Be Shown at Princess Theatre

One of the most widely heralded of this season's photoplays is announced as coming on Friday and Saturday to the princess theatre. It is "Quincy Adams Sawyer," a Meairo-SL picture based on the famous story of New England life which was a phenomenal "best seller" when it appeared a decade or so ago.

Everybody knows the story of "Quincy Adams Sawyer." Everybody knows and loves its quaint rustic characters. The story of the young lawyer from Boston, Quincy Adams Sawyer; his coming to the small town of Mason's Corner; his experiences in running down a dishonorable scoundrel; his great love affair—all this is part of the attractive novel which is now a screen play. The delightful rural characters are fun propelling to the extreme, and the fresh, clean who matched her conclusion by most amazing and amusing reasoning, were all in hearty sympathy with their parts, and gave a really professional air to the performance.

Miss Roby, associate editor of The House Beautiful, and an interior decorator of note, gave an interesting account of her friendship with Mr. and Mrs. Cook.

After the play, the guests from Sanford had tea with a group of prominent club women of Orlando in the charming tea room of the Sorosis House, which is one of the most beautiful club homes in the state.

Sanford may soon have the opportunity of attending one of these popular play readings which is being arranged by the Welfare Department of the Woman's Club.

DIG HEREAN BROTHERHOOD

It would be difficult to find a more wide awake bunch of young men than the members of the Big Beruan Brotherhood of the First Baptist church. The officers are constantly on the watch to do something worth while for the members.

Those in charge of the social activities of the class are planning a banquet for tomorrow evening at 7:30 which will furnish some surprises for the fellows. The only admission fee is to be present and enjoy the evening.

The menu, the speakers for the evening, and the music which has been planned, combine to make an evening of unusual attraction. Every man who has at any time been to the class is expected to be present, and they are also urged to bring their friends who should be in the class. All who have not sent in their names are asked to call 209-J, and give their names immediately.

"What has Einstein discovered" is the headline in daily paper. We don't know—unless it is humming birds in the new suit of clothes.

Having killed and rounded up the twelve bloodthirsty Piute Indians on the warpath in Utah the newspaper cannot make any more big headlines over this affair and will have to fall back on the "Rhinecland."

The Sanford Herald, speaking of Earman and Biggers, says "if any citizen wants to criticize the court when it is not in session, they are free to do so." Look out, Bob, there's a jail in Sanford.—Tampa Tribune.

The Rotarians are taking St. Pete this week and they will show the folks down there a good time and St. Pete will show the Rotarians a good time and it will be two good ones met. We just could not get there.

"Rum Laden Vessels Off Rhode Island Coast," says headlines in morning papers. It looks like the rum runners were taking the day and unless the government can adopt new methods the present prohibition is a failure.

The meeting of the Florida Press Association at Tallahassee in April promises some real substantial work with some play and all the editors who are figuring on going will see something different from the usual meetings. The legislature in action is worth the price of admission.

The "House of David" scandal in Michigan is following out the usual run of those affairs wherein some sap head sets himself up as a latter day saint and plays upon the superstition and weak minds of a bunch of rattlebrains who give the head squeeze all their money and he proceeds to have a good time on it.

The Orlando American Legion boys are opposed to the idea of giving the veterans a land bonus. They say the boys would have to engage in farming in order to get anything out of the land and many of them do not care for farming. This is very true. We do not favor any land grant unless it is land that could be sold in case the owner did not care to farm.

The two principal corners in Orlando will have a count of the people passing by all day Saturday and find out where the most people pass. Sanford people are invited to visit Orlando tomorrow and pass the corner that offers the most. Here is your chance Yowell & Drew and Dickinson & Ives. We would wear out a pair of shoes passing your corner if you offer a new pair. Next week in Sanford the First National Bank and Puleston & Brumley will offer their new buildings to any one that will pass the corner the most number of times. Frank Woodruff and the People's and the Seminole will offer a million dollars to the one passing first and Magnolia corners the most times and so on down the line.

The government is far above the budget, says dispatch from Washington.

ton, and this is laughable to say the least. That is to be laughable if it were not so serious to all of us for we are the boys who will have to suffer for it. The Republicans made up a budget and now the expenses are above the budget. They are cutting down the postoffice forces everywhere until the postmasters cannot get service and they are losing money at both ends. This is just a sample of the Republican rule and shows the people what they can expect from the Republican administration. How the mighty have fallen. Time was, when the Republican heads were the best financiers in the country. But they are a bunch of tripe now and have showed it in all their actions during the past two years.

FLORIDA HAS THE GOODS

There are so many possibilities in Florida that we are apt to run over some good propositions at our very door looking for something that gives more promise or quicker returns and turn down the real good ones for something not as good. Roger Babson, the well known statistician who has been in Florida several weeks, addressed the Tampa Chamber of Commerce the other night and among other things said:

"Why is it that with the best deposits of kaolin in the world, so attested by the Department of Agriculture at Washington, Florida today does not make a single dish or any other article employing kaolin? This was a staggering question which Mr. Babson shot at his hearers. Few Floridians have given this potential resource a thought. Isn't it about time that Florida realized the value of this unconsidered and unused asset? The best kaolin in the world—and we haven't touched it!

"Paper! Mr. Babson showed his audience a piece of pulp produced at the Leesburg plant. 'The best pulp lever saw' he unequivocally said. Pulp made from ordinary saw grass, and there is enough saw grass in Florida to supply the world. Exhaustion of the pulp producing resources of other sections must make the papermakers look to Florida and its saw grass.

"Grapes and rubber—two other items on the Babson list of Florida possibilities. According to Mr. Babson's investigations this state offers exceptional advantages for producing both grapes and rubber in unlimited quantities. There is some experimenting with grapes, but the rubber possibilities have been ignored. Something else for the Florida developer to think about!

Mr. Babson's talk was full of suggestions such as these. He has been personally convinced of the wonderful resources of Florida. In its combination of the four great essentials—sunshine, phosphate, location and water—Florida leads all the states; why shouldn't it become the foremost agricultural state of the Union?"

NEWSPAPERS CONSOLIDATING

Five big Pittsburgh dailies have bought and suspended two other papers in that metropolitan field, bringing to mind a gain the intense pace that modern journalism is setting and the fact that exacting requirements are forcing reduction instead of expansion in the field. In the same issue of Editor and Publisher, which carries the story of the passing of the Pittsburgh Dispatch and the Pittsburgh Leader, is a list of thirty-one powerful papers that have consolidated, suspended, or gone into bankruptcy during the past six years. This list, headed by the famous New York Sun and the New York Press does not include country weeklies—in which the casualty rate has been much higher—nor the hundreds of "fly-by-night" ventures of the past few years where there was nothing to start with.

Every one of the papers listed had an established reputation and had been a potent factor in journalism. Some of them were more than 100 years old—as for instance, the St. Louis Republic, established in 1808 and merged with the Globe-Democrat in 1922, its competitor for more than a century.

It tells a graphic story of over-production in the newspaper field. The happy-go-lucky days are over. Newspaper publishing is a business in this day and must operate on the business principles of profit and loss. Occasionally there is some man who will operate a paper and pay the bills for the pleasure of owning a paper—but they are few and far between.

And the story isn't half told in this list of thirty-one, for in the same issue of the Editor and Publisher appear ten stories from as many corners of the country, telling of suspensions, consolidations, reorganizations in communities which are over-papered. Many of them are communities of 5,000 to 25,000 people, which have found that two newspapers are too many. They find it too late—and one must go. It gives the community a black eye—for a failure in the newspaper game is generally attributed to the community itself. But investigation will disclose that it is seldom the community. The failure generally dates back to the decision of some colossal egotist that only his bright mind can do the impossible—make a second newspaper thrive where one has barely been able to grow before. It is too bad that communities must suffer because some man erred, and the time will come—it should come—when the public will not lay a newspaper failure at the doors of a community without investigating.

Until that time comes, however, it behooves the journalist to consider well his field before starting and the community to take good stock of itself before encouraging a newcomer to enter the newspaper field. If seven papers are too many for a city, the size of Pittsburgh—which has only a paper for every 75,000 persons—communities of less than 10,000 should certainly rest content with one paper and smaller towns can certainly have no hopes of successfully supporting more than one—without the merchants or the newspapers going broke and which ever one fails there will be unpaid debts to add to the burden.—Highland County Pilot.

FROM OTHER SANCTUMS

A POOR WAY OF SHOWING LOYALTY TO A COMMUNITY

What is about to be written here is based on an occurrence in Lakeland but it is not to be inferred that Lakeland is in a class by itself in being the abiding place of a certain class of people who have not yet seen the light of unselfishness in personal as well as in civic affairs.

The instance is one of more or less common occurrence everywhere. A certain business man decided he would like to own his own home; he was tired of paying rent and became eager to join in the host of home owners in Lakeland. After pondering over the matter with his wife for several weeks, the two decided to make a careful inspection of a number of desirable properties. Finally one was selected that seemed to meet all requirements, possessing most of the modern comforts and conveniences, a real home at a reasonable price. The deal was practically closed except for the signing of the papers and happiness reigned in that family circle over the prospect of soon living in a house that promised to be a home in truth and in fact.

A day or two later this business man confided in a friend that he was about to make the purchase of a new and quite modern home in a street that is one of the most attractive in Lakeland. "Don't you do it; you will not like that neighborhood at all—the people on that street are impossible and the house is not worth the money anyway!"

That was the encouragement given the prospective home owner. It was a poor brand because it was not founded on friendship and was not based on truth. An ulterior motive, lay behind the suggestion, that motive being a desire on the part of the slanderer to sell his friend a piece of property described as being "the nicest lot in the town." "Why not come over on our street, just two blocks distant, buy my lot and build you the right sort of house; then you and your family will be happy?" That was the sort of advice handed out. What effect did it have? The prospective house owner decided his friend was right, that the lot offer was the wise move to accept; that while the house at first decided on as meeting every requirement was satisfactory in its way, yet it was not, after all, just what was wanted.

We hope the man who spoiled a perfectly legitimate real estate deal reads these lines because he has probably never realized that in following such tactics he has injured Lakeland, to say nothing of playing false to a friend. Selfishness of this kind never pays; this is but a sample of what goes on, sad to say, in many communities day after day. Lakeland needs boosters—not knockers.—Lakeland Star-Telegram.

He has a fine chance of getting this contribution. The young man of today has opportunities that our forefathers never dreamt of in their day.

FABLE OF THE JANE WITH THE HOMEY FACE

There was once a Frail who was exceedingly homey. She constantly bewailed the circumstance that she had not been born good looking, as were other Janes in the gang. On account of this lack of physical beauty, the Frail spent many long hours trying to improve her looks. But no matter how she tried her map did not change to any noticeable extent, and she was plunged into the slough of despair.

The Ginks in her set called the other Janes Cute Tricks and other such endearing pet names, but the homey Frail was always addressed by her proper handle. In vain, she aped the antics of the others, but all to no purpose; she was homey and the guys just wouldn't fall for her.

Now this Frail possessed one thing that the other skirts were shy of. She happened to have a full set of brains and her tongue was sharp and effective. The Janes soon found out that they couldn't get away with any bald insinuations concerning the Frail's Ramd-McNally, and they had to be content with snubbing her at every opportunity.

Now the Frail was young, and full of pep. As a consequence she craved a beau, the same as other females at her age.

As a last resort she went to an eminent beauty specialist, and invested all her kale in a course of treatments that were supposed to turn the homey Frail into the Venus of the Venus di Milo.

For hours at a time the Frail sat in the torture chair, while the deft attendants plastered her map over with mud and other foreign substances. They took nicks out of her phiz here, and there, also yonder, but all to no avail. When her sock had been emptied of its roll, she was if possible a little homelier than ever. In despair she gave up.

Now this dame was determined to get by somehow, so she put her think tank to work, and soon had a definite plan of action laid out. She knew that she had it over the average moll when it came to passing the swift rapier, and she practiced upon this art.

Soon she became noted throughout the city for her wit, and the gang soon began to admit that she was the life of the party.

The Sings and the Nitwits crowded around her like the flies on grandfather's bald dome, and the good-looking fluffs were left to their own devices.

The goofs fought among themselves for her favors, and she became queen of the hive. Nor did she forget the time they had all passed her up. Having them all over her hip, so to speak, she took great pleasure in making them feel their neck, but the oftener she snubbed the guys, the more they sought to get in right with her. Then as was to be expected the right sport came along and she settled down to a life of marital bliss, leaving the crowd to fight the game of popularity out among themselves.

Moral—It's a wise Jane that knows enough to make use of the gifts the Gods have bestowed upon her, instead of kicking against the inevitable.

NAGGING WIVES

To my home Bill Spivins came several evenings each week and he'd plank his carcass in a chair that didn't squeak. There before the fire he'd sit, picture of supreme content, while Susannah she would knit, and I'd play "The Last Lament" of the cowboy who would dash o'er the meadows blithe and free till old death had spiked his hash and they tucked him 'neath the lean. Not a word would William say as he sat in restful ease, smiling like an April day, with his hands upon his knees. Then one night I questioned him on the whiciness of his why and his eyes grew strangely dim as to me he made reply. "In my home I find no rest. Sally nags from morn till night; she can scold with ardent zest and her temper is a fright. Peace is not for me at home, Sally wags her jaws too free; that is why I'm prone to roam and here so frequently. I can sit before your fire and be as happy as a coon while you twang your spangled lyre and your wife knits to the tune." Oh, methinks the wivas who nag—ranting, jawing with a will—should be tied up in a bag and then ducked in some deep rill. For a wife with nagging tongue can make home a hell indeed, till her fun'ral knell is rung and they plant her 'neath the mead. —Uncle Dud.

116,080 FORDS FOR FEBRUARY IS THE RECORD

Acute Situation Certain as 6,000 Cars A Day Production Falls to Meet the Demand

DETROIT, Mich., March 23.—With 116,080 Ford cars sold at retail in February, a new record for the shortest month in the year has been established. February sales exceeded those of January by more than 15,000 and marked the eleventh month in which Ford sales have topped the 100,000 line.

This sales record bears out predictions made at the opening of the year that an acute shortage in Ford cars is certain and this shortage is expected to be felt within the next two months with the increased volume of car buying which is always attendant upon the spring months.

Even the high production schedule set at the Ford Motor Company's factory here, which will reach 6,000 cars and trucks a day about April 1, will be unable to meet the apparent demand for Ford products.

Anticipating a great increase in the demand for Ford cars during the present year the factory here laid plans for increasing production to the 6,000 car a day schedule and since January 1st had been constantly speeding up manufacture to reach this figure. Demand so far has been of such great proportions as to absorb nearly all production, and stocks in the hands of dealers are at present the lowest they have been in months.

February sales of 116,080 cars were made in the face of unfavorable weather conditions in many sections of the country which tied up freight traffic and prevented many deliveries. This was particularly true throughout the Northwest, the northern tier of states and in New England. In California, too, cold weather during a part of the month had its effect upon car sales.

Yet, with even these unfavorable conditions, the February sales topped those of January by 15 per cent and set a new high record for mid-winter selling.

With February the eleventh month in which Ford car sales have gone over the 100,000, the total for this period is close to 1,250,000 cars.

Peak car sales usually are reached during the summer months with a drop in the fall and winter. This feature of automobile absorption by the buying public has been completely changed during the last few months through the activities of the Ford dealer organization which has raised the "peak line" to include every month in the year.

WOMAN'S CLUB COLUMN

Mrs. Henry Wight, Reporter
Phone 345-W

There was a call meeting of the Board of the Sanford Woman's Club Monday morning March 19th. As Monday was the last day in which to accept or reject bids for remodeling the club house the meeting was called to see if something could not be done to adjust the matter between the Library and the Club. After discussion the board and building committee agreed that perhaps a solution to the difficulty would be to offer the library the use of the sun parlor. A committee from the board was appointed to confer with Mr. Chase and other trustees of the Library Association. An agreement was reached whereby the Library will have the use of the sun parlor for one year at a rental of ten dollars per month. The Association also agreed to supervise and protect the books from all damage while the sun parlor was in the course of construction. Material is being placed on the grounds and the work will begin in earnest in a few days as the contractor has promised to have the building finished by the 20th of July.

The Welfare Department of the Woman's Club, had a treat on Wednesday afternoon when Karl Lehman addressed the monthly meeting of the department on highway beautification. Mr. Lehman is president of the Orange County Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the Orange County Highway Beautification Commission, and knows his subject thoroughly. He is a speaker of great earnestness and clarity, and gave a most interesting account of the plans for beautification which have been made by our neighboring county; told of the work already accomplished and of the rather expensive lessons which had been learned through various efforts to arrive at the best possible plan for this section of Florida. Mr. Lehman emphasized the wisdom of tree planting, as well as the planting of shrubs and vines and flowering plants. He paid his compliments to the desecration of our highways with unsightly signs, urged co-operation with the county commission, with the county commissioners and county engineer, and made many helpful suggestions along all these lines. His enthusiasm gave fresh impetus to the members of the club present, to take hold of the work of highway beautification which is being planned in our own county—whose possibilities for scenic loveliness are not surpassed in the state.

There will be a regular meeting of the Social Department Tuesday afternoon, March 27th at 3:30 o'clock, Bridge, Mrs. Howard Overlin, hostess. Members expecting to attend should phone the hostess not later than 9:00 o'clock Tuesday morning. This means a great deal to the hostess in preparing to take care of the guests.

There will be a regular meeting of the Literature Department Wednesday afternoon, March 28th at 3:30 o'clock. The department members are studying China this year. As China is a country of 400,000,000 inhabitants, who are just awakening from a long sleep, as it were. The meetings are proving intensely interesting and instructive. Religious of China, with Mrs. E. D. Brownlee, as leader, will be discussed at this meeting. Do not fail to attend. By your presence you acknowledge you are interested in the work of the department and that means more to your chairman than you perhaps realize.

Indians on Warpath Will be Surrounded and Captured Soon

SALT LAKE CITY, March 22.—Four white settlers, members of a posse which left Blanding, San Juan county, last night to trail the Allen Canyon band of warring Plute Indians, failed to return this morning, according to word received here. The fate of the missing posse men is unknown.

At dawn today a new posse of 20 men left Blanding to continue the hunt for the Indians who are said to have taken refuge in the mountains north of the town where they are familiar with every trail and canyon. Upwards of forty Indians are reported to be virtually prisoners of the white residents of Blanding. They have been placed under heavy guard to prevent any possibility of their joining with the renegade band.

Yesterday, there was a running fight between the Indian band—said to number twelve—and white posse men. The Indian youth known as Joe Bishop's boy, was shot and killed and two Indians were wounded. There were no casualties among the whites.

Southern Commercial Secretaries Will Meet in Memphis in May

City Builders Will Discuss Many Matters of Interest

(By The Associated Press) MACON, Ga., March 23.—The annual convention of the Southern Commercial Secretaries Association will be held in Memphis, Tenn., May 21 to 25 inclusive...

Chief among the matters which will be discussed at the convention of "City Builders" are the utilization of raw materials in the manufacture of finished products, methods of scientific research in promoting industrial development...

Mr. Miller also stated that daily sessions will be devoted to the discussion of chamber of commerce methods, covering every phase of civic, commercial and industrial development...

A feature of the convention will be an exhibition and demonstration of chamber of commerce forms, office systems and advertising literature to which every organization in the southern states will be invited to contribute selected specimens.

In connection with a southern products campaign, which is to be launched during 1923, the menu on one day during the convention will embrace southern products exclusively.

"A special committee is now engaged in the compilation of a history of the chamber of commerce movement in the south," Mr. Miller declared.

"The movement originated in Europe in the early part of the fifteenth century and was transplanted to America by the early colonists; who formed the New York chamber of commerce in 1768," he added.

Wholesale Prices Increase Slightly; Living Costs Lower

WASHINGTON, March 23.—A slight rise in the general level of wholesale prices in February compared with January was reported yesterday by the labor department...

Statistics collected by the department, which cover a wide range of commodities, show that the increase in prices of metals and metal products approximated 4 1-2 per cent, "due to advances in iron, steel, copper, lead and tin."

"Farm products, on the contrary," the department declared in a summary, "showed a slight decrease, due to a decline in cattle, hogs, sheep, eggs, hay, hides and milk which more than offset the increases in grains, cotton, potatoes and wool."

Comparing prices in February with those of a year ago, the department said the general level had risen more than 11 per cent.

Harding Prefers Golf to Fishing

HOPE SOUND, March 23.—President Harding again yesterday showed that his heart is more toward golf than toward fishing or other recreational pursuits.

When the president and Mrs. Harding, with other members of their vacation party, left Palm Beach this morning it was understood that the chief executive would spend a portion of the day fishing for Tarpon in the vicinity of Lake Worth inlet.

FOUR YEARS AT COLLEGE IS CONTEST AWARD

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 23.—For the fourth successive year, high school students of the nation are to be given opportunity to win the largest single educational award offered in the United States, according to a statement by the Highway Education Board today.

The award is the H. S. Firestone Four Years University Scholarship, providing not only tuition, but room, board, books and special fees for the student writing the best essay in the annual good roads essay contest.

Announcement of the contest is being made to superintendents of schools and high school principals and students as rapidly as possible, and all available literature is being listed and tabulated for the information of the prospective contestants.

The contest, known to thousands of students throughout the United States and territorial possessions as the "annual good roads essay contest" is the most sustained competition of its kind inaugurated in 1920, it has provided a college education for three students, one boy and two girls, and its maintenance from year to year is assured by the donor of the scholarship, Harvey S. Firestone, Akron, Ohio.

This year the subject is regarded as unique and unusual, bringing up for discussion the relation of increased transportation to the moral tone or the religious life of the community.

Previous winners have been Miss Katharine F. Butterfield, Welser, Idaho, 1920; Miss Garland Johnson, of Bridgeport, West Virginia, 1921; and Karl G. Pearson, Washington, D. C. Miss Butterfield is in college, but Miss Johnson and Mr. Pearson, not being seniors when the scholarship was awarded them, have remained in high school until their courses are completed.

The best three essays from each high school are to be submitted to state headquarters, where the best essay from the commonwealth will be chosen. One essay from each state and territory will then come to the board at Washington, D. C., there to be handed a national committee to be named by Dr. John J. Tigert, U. S. Commissioner of Education.

Inquiries should be addressed to the Highway Education Board, Willard Building, Washington, D. C. For quick results try a want ad.

OUR WEEKLY WEATHER AND CROP BULLETIN

The weather during the week was variable—much colder than usual in the extreme west and warmer than usual over much of the rest of the Section; midday temperatures were well up in the 80's in the south and south-central counties, and about 80 over much of the northern division.

Diseases of Watermelons is the title of Farmers' Bulletin No. 1277, issued free by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. It discusses and gives control measures for wilt, root rot, gummy stem blight, ground rot, anthracnose, stem end rot and minor diseases and contains a convenient descriptive key to all the diseases, by means of which a grower may identify a disease in his field.

Delay in Potato Crop From South Boosting Prices

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, March 23.—Reaction of the fruit and vegetable market to spring, officially arriving today, was indicated by a declining cabbage market and a rising onion market.

While shipments of storage stocks of both products decreased materially in the last week, the report said, quotations on the two products were a direct contrast, the price of onions advancing sharply while cabbage declined.

Only an estimated 1,500 cars of onions remained to supply the old market during the next six weeks, an average of forty cars a day until the end of the season.

Prices in New York for mid-western yellows and eastern stock advanced 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 a hundred pound, respectively. Liberal stocks in St. Louis, Kansas City and Chicago caused a slightly weaker tone on those markets.

At New York, Danish stock dropped from $5 to $4 a ton and closed at $4 1/2 to $5. At Chicago the market for Danish types of last Monday was $4 1/2 to $5 a ton and $50 a ton a week previous to that date.

Delay in movement of the southern crop was believed partly responsible for advancing potato prices. Although the supply was liberal in many leading markets, carlot shipments were 700 cars less than the preceding week.

SAYS THE STATE MARKETING BUREAU

The Bradentown Packing Co., recently shipped 1000 cases of 24 cans to the case of canned grapefruit to San Francisco. California does not allow Florida Grapefruit in its natural condition to be shipped into that state but it cannot keep out the canned goods.

The 1922 report of R. E. Rose, Florida State Chemist, has appeared and contains much information about fertilizers, feed stuffs, and citrus fruit laws.

Production of 1,184,000,000 pounds of cane sugar during the year ended Sept. 30, 1922, is indicated in reports from Hawaiian Sugar mills. This is 13 per cent more than in 1921, and a bigger production than the average for ten years past.

Uncle Joe Cannon of Danville, Ill., retired to private life by the close of the 67th congress on March 4, 1923, after 46 years of service, in which he leads. His career has been notable and the parting with the members on the last day was an event, Democrats and Republicans alike doing him honor.

When the new Mayor of Palm City, Florida, was sworn into office a few days ago the ceremony was preceded by prayer from one of the local preachers.

"If you can retain your hat, your footing and your temper these days you are doing about all that could be expected of a mortal in the month of March." This is a quotation from a paper printed up in Illinois where in March the weather is a very uncertain proposition, full of danger for people exposed to its rigors.

Methods of producing and handling milk so that it will be clean may be taught in schools as well as other features of farm practice.

The citrus fruit shippers of Kissimmee have a pre-cooling plant and the experience is that more fruit gets to market in good condition and it brings more money than that shipped under refrigeration.

English newspapers are severe in denunciation of the invasion of Germany by the French for the reason that it increases the ill-feeling and prevents Europe from getting down to business.

The cotton boll weevil entered the United States in Texas in 1892. It has now completed the conquest of the American cotton belt, and has become an invincible foe by reason of its prolific development, the estimated offspring of a single pair in one season being over 12,000,000. It has so far defied all the ability of man to stop its forward march over the cotton fields.

entirely removed, as few will tamper with the filled bottles. Third, the method of control is much easier, as bottles of milk can be collected by the inspector from lunch counters, soda fountains, etc., doing away with the necessity of ordering a glass of milk in order to get a sample.

The consumer and inspector are not the only ones who are benefited by such requirements; it is possible for the milk distributor to profit through increased business. Confidence in milk is created when a good uniform product is sold, and the consumer is willing to pay what it is worth.

GUISTO'S BONER COST INDIANS TWO RUNS AND REDS TAKE GAME

Many Sanford Fans in Orlando to Witness the Fray and They See a Good Game

In very much the same way as in the old days, the first base line at Exposition Park was lined with hundreds of Sanford fans who motored to Orlando yesterday to see the Reds and Indians in action. They were given a real treat in the exhibition, as the regulars for both teams were in action and a good game, just as good as seen in any of the big league games, was staged, and the fans left with the feeling of having seen their full money's worth.

Guisto, in the early part of the game, cracked one for a circuit ride with a man on base, but missed first by about two inches which resulted in the loss of these two runs, enough to have won the game. Sewell and Bohne also got circuit clouts. The final score was four to three for the Reds.

Bowling League to Continue With at Least Six Clubs

The Rotary Club, giving their reason as being too busy this time of the year, have given up their franchise in the Bowling League, Chase & Co., although not making any official statement as yet, have forfeited several games and may also retire from the league, thereby leaving a six club circuit that will finish the season.

Next week's schedule will be arranged to take care of the remaining clubs as well as the schedule for the balance of the season.

Bentley is at Last Ready to Join Club

Baltimore Star En Route to Giant's Camp

BALTIMORE, Md., March 23.—Jack Bentley will leave Baltimore today for San Antonio to join the Giants.

Announcement that he no longer would hold out for a share of the $72,000 purchase price paid by the Giants to the Orioles was made last night. Bentley said he had capitulated because he did not wish to cause additional grief to Jack Dunn, manager of the Orioles, whose son, Jack Dunn, jr., has just died. Bentley and the Junior Dunn were buddies in the world war. Whether any money went to Bentley is not known.

Bentley ended his hold-out following a conference here at which Chas. Schmidt, vice-president of the Orioles, former first baseman of the Boston Braves, was reported to have been the peacemaker, citing the death of Dunn as a reason for Bentley's capitulation.

SQUARE DANCE AT LAKE MARY-DANCE CASINO TONIGHT. 308-1tc

FOR THE MOVIE FAN

Tonight's the big night. The regular Friday night feature is one of the best this week.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer" is the show and too much can't be said of this fine picture.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. DeCotte, are the honored guest for tonight's show.

This show is one of the most widely heralded plays of the season. It is a Metro S-L picture, based on the famous story of New England life, which was a phenomenal best seller when it appeared a decade ago.

So popular was this look at that time that it was dignified, and in this form it won more favor. The photoplay is even more interesting than either the book or the play.

And to insure the success of this picture the producers are using only stars of the better class and our advice is, be sure to see "Quincy Adams Sawyer" either tonight or tomorrow night, and then get a copy of next week's program.

PAPER MANUFACTURERS HERE

E. R. Lacey, general manager of the Grass Fibre & Pulp Co., and Geo. B. Morgan, in charge of the selling of stock in the company, Gilbert Lench, secretary of the company and Major W. S. McClelland, president of the company, were here yesterday and called at the Herald office. Gilbert Lench, aside from being secretary of the company, is one of the men who has taken a deep interest in the manufacture of pulp from saw grass in Florida and he is a co-editor of the Teesburg Commercial and one of the greatest boosters in the state. Saw food has an opportunity of having a factory here for the manufacture of wrapping paper from the saw grass pulp and if the factory can be located here it will be a big thing in our industrial life. The Chamber of Commerce will investigate the possibility of this city as the site for a wrapping paper factory.

SANFORD TRUCKERS ARE CONVINCED IS PRACTICAL TO CONTROL NEMATODE

Methods Recommended by Prof. Watson of Experiment Station Prove Effective

Sanford truck growers have tried out and are enthusiastic over their attempts to control root knot...

During the last year a number of methods and now a number of them say they are thoroughly convinced...

Professor Watson recently spent several days in and around Sanford observing the results of the truckers' trials...

"Two of the methods, which have been used extensively about Sanford last season are the summer fallow and the legume-growing methods...

"For the growing legumes under constant cultivation, these growers have mostly used the Brabham compea instead of the bunch velvet bean...

"The treating of seed beds with cyanide and ammonium sulphate will also be used extensively this year around Sanford...

Professor Watson's methods take into consideration certain natural conditions. The nematode lays its eggs in the soil...

"If the land is not kept constantly cultivated, air will not enter and the eggs will lie dormant...

Further Trouble With Indians Not Expected in Utah

Unless Ponce and Redskins Meet—Then a Battle to the End Is Promised

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, March 23.—The possibility of a general uprising of the Indians of southeastern Utah against the white settlers as a result of the trouble at Blanding, is believed to be remote...

Reports stated that the renegade Pjutes are camped at Washcombe about 25 miles from the scene of the clash with possemen last Tuesday in which one Indian was killed and two wounded.

Old Hoseney, said to be over 100 years old, is leading the band of renegades. He is known in the southeastern country as a "bad Indian" and he has been mixed up in numerous affairs between the whites and the redskins in former years.

Should the Indians and the possemen meet again in a battle struggle to the death is expected. The Pjutes have always resented the coming of the settlers and the whites are said to be determined to end for once and for all any danger of an Indian attack.

The delegation from Miami who, besides the defendants included Mrs. Pine, former Judge W. H. Price, Ben C. Willard, member of the legislature, A. B. Small, R. O. Watson, and M. H. Wolfe, remained closeted with the governor for more than two hours, and refused in detail, it is understood the charges brought about by the Christian council.

It was learned that charges date back as far as the roundup of the confidence band at Fort Lauderdale last winter, and that they allege flourishing operations by wiretappers in Dade county now. Deputy Sheriff Robert C. Shackelford, who has on two or three occasions, acted as the special representative of the governor who brought about the arrest of the nor in running down wiretappers, and band at Fort Lauderdale, appeared in behalf of the defense and is understood to be a stay witness.

An affidavit made by a man named Roberts it was learned that Shackelford received some money in the Fort Lauderdale affair, although the document of several pages in length is aimed largely at Subeotor Pine. Mr. Shackelford is understood to have branded this charge as false not only as relating to him but in its full detail. Mr. Price, who acted as attorney for the wiretappers, also is understood to have thrown light on the Fort Lauderdale affair, which he said, absolutely exonerated Mr. Pine. It was intimated that Deputy Shackelford who went to South Florida several weeks ago on a secret mission, following a conference with the governor, told the executive that the conditions set forth in the affidavits did not bear out his investigation there. The deputy's trip is understood to have had to do with expected wiretappers during the winter season.

The defense largely consisted on a mass of affidavits, designed to disprove the charges of the council, and counter charges that the council was a Republican political organization trying to obtain control of the county. The Miamians left for their homes shortly after leaving the hearing.

The Governor indicated that he would give his decision in the matter next week, they said.

Mrs. Emma Brown and son have been staying this past week with Mrs. Jack Vaughn. We hear the little boy has been quite sick. Heard the welcome call of the whip-poor-will on Sunday evening, so no more frost this spring, so the darkies say. Jack Frost has touched us but lightly so far as we have had tomatoes, begonias and collins out all winter and not killed. The air is sweet now with orange bloom. We need a speed cop out our way. Last Sunday a big car recklessly driven into a mule driven by a colored man, injuring the poor beast quite badly. Mr. and Mrs. Noah Fry were here again from Isleworth grove last Sunday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Tyner. LAKE MONROE

The Redpath Chautauqua closed an interesting session here Thursday. The program was better than last year and a good crowd came to each performance. The Chautauqua will not be at Monroe next year as a sufficient number of contractors could not be obtained. The citizens feel that the expense is too great for three days entertainment and that it is also best to let such amusements come upon their own initiative. The large, well equipped dredge boat is slowly pushing its way up the St. Johns river towards Sanford. The channel is being deepened nine feet which with the one foot of surface water will be sufficient for the time being. The citizens of Monroe hail with delight the proposed new boulevard along the lake front from Monroe to Sanford. This new way would join our little town with the more prosperous sister town of Sanford in such a manner that our section would gain strength and energy and grow rapidly towards a better and a greater place. The Seminole Athletic Club held a very successful meeting Friday night. Among the different points brought up and decided upon was the lease of part of the school grounds for a baseball park. The local trustees and the county board of education had generously offered the grounds and Mr. Lawton had approved of the Athletic Club and sent his initiation fee out some time before in order to join and encourage the members as much as possible. The grounds will not be used for any kind of sport upon Sunday afternoon. A box party and musical entertainment will be held at the school house Friday evening about 8 o'clock for the benefit of the Seminole Athletic Club. Everybody is invited to come and bring a box and have a good time. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs and Mrs. Buchanan attended the Teachers' Association at Oviedo Friday-afternoon. Mrs. William Brown and two children, of Geneva, visited Mr. and Mrs. A. Merritt and family this week. Miss Daisy Bohannon and Mr. Allie Swaggerty, of Knoxville, Tenn., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Swaggerty and family. Jack Carr returned to his home in Louisville Wednesday after spending the winter here with S. H. Buchanan and wife and other relatives. Mr. Crane, of Springfield, Mass., is a guest of Mr. Murphy. Mr. Crane expresses himself as being delighted with Florida and thinks this state is an up and coming one. Mr. Mengis, of Sanford, spent some time this week with C. W. Reigles, the dairyman. Miss Margaret Bales, the attractive little daughter of Charles Bales, had a severe attack of asthma Wednesday night. She is much better now. Mrs. Albert Hawkins and children visited relatives at DeLand last week.

CITRUS FRUIT FOLKS FACING HEAVY LOSSES

Florida shippers of citrus fruits are being severely handicapped and are facing an inestimable loss because of the shortage of railroad refrigerator cars to move the orange and grapefruit crop remaining in the state under ice, according to E. D. Dow, traffic manager of the Florida Citrus Exchange, who has taken drastic steps in an effort to improve the situation. Complaints of the shortage have been registered with the bureau of service of the interstate commerce commission, with S. A. Stockard, general superintendent of transportation for the A. C. L. and with Senator Duncan U. Fletcher. Assurances have been received from these sources that steps are being taken in an effort to have the shortage relieved. The main fault at present with the refrigerator service is attributed by manager Dow to the failure of the railroads north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers promptly to return empty cars after they have been unloaded. During the months of October, November and December, Florida shippers were deprived of refrigerator cars because they were needed in other sections of the country. Calling on the railroads to relieve the situation, Mr. Dow says that now that the Florida citrus movement is at its peak, this state is again deprived of refrigerator equipment to furnish cars to other sections of the country. Claims of the carriers that the quick return of empty refrigerator cars has been impossible because of weather conditions and heavy snowfall are not taken seriously by Mr. Dow, who says that the service has been slow throughout the entire season, particularly on lines in New England states, even when the weather was favorable. "While we are given some assurances that relief will be accorded within a short time" says Manager Dow, "yet the situation does not look encouraging to us because of the fact that the production of perishables throughout the entire country within the last few years has increased without a corresponding increase in the car supply. Therefore the demand for refrigerator cars to move the present crop simply exceeds the supply of available cars."—Tampa Times.
