An alligator, seven feet long, was killed yesterday afternoon just inside the city limits on Wynnewood Dr.

It had been seen on several occasions by children playing near the water just off Geneva Ave. and on one instance had been seen by the parents of the children. Mrs. L. M. Dyess Jr., at 1405 Wynnewood Dr., said that local police officers had been searching the area after the alligator was reported.

She said "it hadn't been chasing the children but the children say that the alligator had chased one of the pet dogs of the neighborhood."

"We were afraid that children playing in the vicinity of the water where the alligator had been seen would be hurt if they encountered it," Mrs. Dyess said.

A Sanford Police Department officer shot the alligator through the head.

Caldwell Predicts 3rd Major Political Party May Arise
TALLAHASSEE (UP)—Former Gov. Willard F. Caldwell predicted Tuesday a third major political party may arise unless Republicans and Democrats leaders make drastic changes.

"We have two political parties, neither worthy of the name it bears," Caldwell told a local civic club. Unless there is a change, he said, "other parties will take their place."

"Today the Democratic Party has advanced 'new deal' ideas. The Democratic Party says it can outbid the Democrats, outstep and out-tax the 'new dealers.'"

"Both are dedicated to attracting the gullible voter," said Caldwell, also a former federal civil defense administrator. "Neither is looking to the future, or beyond the next election."

Rearranged Service Revealed By ACL
The Coast Line has worked out a plan for utilizing its cover-the-road trucks to provide adequate mail and express service at all points now served by local trains 50 and 59 between Jacksonville and Tampa, according to L. A. Anderson. Practically no passengers use these local trains, he said. The operation of these trains costs Coast Line $198,000 per year to operate over and above the revenues taken in by these trains, explained the ACL Superintendent. Therefore, the Coast Line is planning to file at an early date with the Railroad Commission an application to discontinue their operation, according to an announcement made today.

Anderson stated this rearranged service in no way affects the passenger service of the Champion Trains nor the Havana Special.

War Is Said Only Squeeze Of Trigger Away On Korean Front

By ERNEST ROBERG
United Press Staff Correspondent
ON THE KOREAN FRONT
(UP)—War is only the squeeze of a trigger away here.

On the one side of the 2 1/2 mile no-man's land are the United Nations troops. On the other are the Communists.

American boys and their Korean allies dug in on the scarred hills are ready for action. They know why they are here. They feel the pressure and the suspense. Here, you can look across and see the enemy. You can hear enemy artillery practicing in the hills just across the way.

The small death has blown away in the past five years. The determined men who stand firm on these barren slopes scarcely would recognize the line today.

But a thing that has not changed is the determination never again to be caught by a surprise attack such as that launched by the Communists in June 1950. These are trained troops ready with the newest weapons for instant use.

"If the Communists come," U. N. Commander-in-Chief Gen. G. H. Decker told me, "I feel confident we could adequately defend Korea."

He added, however, that after the initial blow help would be needed from the outside. At present, the general said, there is no exchange of fire between the opposing armies. There are very few incidents.

"Both are in defensive attitudes," he explained. Decker estimated the Communist forces number about 700,000 men. The figure includes troops the Chinese claim to be pulling out. The experts believe that if the Chinese do pull out they won't go far—probably no farther than just across the Yalu River in Manchuria, ready to return quickly.

Decker said the Communists have approximately 700 planes in North Korea, including 300 jets brought there in violation of the armistice agreement. Besides two American divisions and the Republic of Korea forces, U. N. units also include the Turkish brigade, a Thai company and other U. N. Liaison detachments.

Governor Says 1959 Legislature's Duty To Reapportion State

TALLAHASSEE (UP)—Gov. LeRoy Collins said today he will keep the 1959 Legislature in session until it reapportions the state whether the people accept the new constitution or not.

"I'm going to regard it as the duty of the next Legislature to reapportion whether the constitution is adopted or not," said Collins who in 1955 kept the Legislature in session 63 extra days in an abortive attempt to force a new apportionment.

Today Is Home Ownership-Public Information Day

Because of the thorough and fair manner in which the newspapers and radio stations of the Sanford-Seminole County area cover real estate news and stimulate home ownership, all of the media are being honored today by the Seminole County Real Estate Board.

Collins told his weekly press conference, however, that he considers reapportionment a legislative responsibility. He said there is not one word in the present constitution about the governor "stimulating" the Legislature to reapportion, except a provision giving him the power to hold it in session until the state is reapportioned.

Former Boy Friend Shoots Young Girl In Crowded Subway

NEW YORK (UP)—A former boy friend shot and critically wounded an 18-year-old girl at a crowded subway entrance during the morning rush hour today, police reported.

The victim, Diane Mercandetti of Manhattan, was rushed to St. Clara's Hospital.

William Combe, 23, of Roselle Park, N. J., was arrested after he called police from a bar near the scene of the shooting.

"I tried to forget her but I couldn't," Combe told police. Officers said Combe admitted he purchased a rifle and went to a subway entrance at 44th Street and Eighth Avenue that he knew Miss Mercandetti used to go to work.

He waited at the bottom of the stairs, police said, and opened fire when the girl was four feet away. Then he threw the rifle away and ran to a tavern where he called police.

Interest In All DeBary Day Picnic Apr. 22 Growing

Arrangements for a reduced admission have been made, and it is expected that hundreds of DeBaryites will participate. Also interested business people from surrounding communities will be present.

Two Brothers Drown While Skipping School

CHARLOTTE (UP)—Two young brothers, who skipped school because one had a stomach ache and the other wouldn't go without him, were drowned Wednesday when they stepped off a ledge while wading in a muddy water-hole.

A passerby, attracted by the barking of their dog, rescued the boys' younger sister. Another brother was found standing at the edge of the water in shocked, terrified silence.

Tommy Gardner, 9, and Charlie David Shepard, 7, were dead when they were pulled from the water.

Leonard Tucker, attracted by the barking of the little black and white dog, snatched 4-year-old Joe Shepard back from the water's edge and pulled Alice Elaine Shepard, 8, from the water.

The girl was rushed to a hospital where she was reported "cold and wet but all right." The youngest boy was terrified and could not give a coherent account of the accident.

Authorities Say Old People Should Stay In Own Homes

WASHINGTON — Similar circumstances. A great many of them have adult sons and daughters who are wondering, in a half-guilty, half-anxious way, "Should we ask mother or father to move in with us?"

The answer from all leading authorities on aging, is an emphatic no.

Several million widows and widowers in the United States are in Old people, these authorities say, should stay in their own homes as long as they possibly can.

"Although sentiment and tradition demand that children provide a home for their aging parents, adults of different generations don't survive well in the same household," says Dr. Edward J. Steiglitz, noted Washington gerontologist.

"The ideal arrangement is for elderly people to live near, but not with, their middle-aged children.

Ingredients of Happiness

Other authorities say that living apart from their children gives old folks two basic ingredients of happiness—Independence and self esteem. Even if it involves some hardships, the effort to go it alone is likely to be better for their physical and mental health than the "surrender" which is implicit in moving in with the children.

This doesn't mean that children should take a hands-off attitude. On the contrary, a little help with finances, errands or chores may spell the difference for an elderly parent who is trying to maintain his own home.

When there are no children to provide this help, welfare agencies sometimes fill the gap. Many communities have "visiting housekeepers" services. A pioneering law now has a service called "meals on wheels" which delivers hot food to aged people who live alone.

For millions of aged people, who are trying to live on incomes that average less than $50 a month, the big problem is to find separate housing they can afford.

Let Up Programs

Congress took cognizance of this problem in the Housing Law of 1950. This act authorized preferential treatment for elderly people in allocating vacancies in low-cost public housing projects. It also set up two new programs in the federal housing administration to provide more housing for old folks.

Under one of these programs, the FHA will guarantee 30-year mortgages for elderly persons who wish to buy homes for their own occupancy. A relative or friend may furnish the down payment.

The other program offers long-term FHA guarantees to builders of multi-unit rental projects for the elderly. Especially liberal financing terms are available to non-profit organizations, such as churches, lodges or unions, that undertake to sponsor such housing projects.

Registration Deadline Tomorrow

By Angelo Campanella
As you read this, you will find that you have but one more day to register for this year's school elections, that is, unless you are a senior, in which case you are automatically disqualified. You may register either upstairs at the school during any (if we had so many) lunch periods.

Campaigning, including those inevitable speeches, will occur throughout next week and I'm being deadly serious when I say that these speeches you'll be hearing are all-important. No campaigning will be allowed before April 21 or after April 22.

Elections are to be held on the 30th and 31st (which we shall undoubtedly have) on the 30th. The students will be pleased to know that the county election booths will be used in our school elections.

The candidates for offices and the offices to which they aspire are:

- Student Body President—Gary Baker, Wally Phillips, Peggy Westgate
- Vice President—Ronnie Lindsey
- Secretary—Kay Ivy
- Treasurer—Marchetta Campbell, Edith Hanson
- Junior Class President—Audrey Bolger, James Gouley, Henry Schumacher
- Vice President—Jackie Fern, Helen Price

- Junior Class President—Charles Hogan, Jimmy Gracey, Truman Trotter
- Vice President—Jeanie Southward, Frances Strickland

Kiddie Korner

By John Miller
Just got back from "The Gypsy Rover", and was delighted with it. It was well sung, the cast did a wonderful job, and the plot was, in places, uproariously funny. The acting was done beautifully, especially Bruce Holt's, who portrayed brilliantly the English pop, Lord Craven. Teddy Walker, in the lead and title role, headed a fine group of singers, actors, and dancers. He sang his part in a manner that would make one think of exactly what he was portraying: a gypsy wanderer. Miss Whittle and her cast and chorus are to be congratulated on a fine performance.

This is one of the few times that I have been able to go to the social events BEFORE I wrote my column. However, at the Journalism Club's meeting Friday, I turned in a lot of hand-written material, and was therefore duly elected (by Angelo) to be typist. So, I got to turn in my work Saturday morning, after the Glee Club Ball, which everyone enjoyed to the fullest extent. The dresses were all simply beautiful, and one of the prettiest ones there belonged to my date, Deanna Nichols. It was a wonderland of beautiful dresses, and even more beautiful girls. And since I must be loyal to the Freshmen, I shall say this: Every one of the Freshmen there did justice to their class. I was amazed what one afternoon in the beauty salon can do to a girl's hair! The Freshmen girls kept up their reputation for being among the most popular and cutest girls in Seminole High School. Of course, the other three classes also were out of this world. The Sophomore, Junior and Senior couples presented a picture that one wanted to keep forever. I single the Freshmen out mainly because I am more familiar with them. Let no one say I am shirking the other classes because I'm not.

The theme of the ball was, of course, "April Showers", and this was carried through with wheelbarrows filled with plants and other charming decorations. Linda Yeackle was crowned "Bell of the Ball", at the beginning of an entertaining floorshow. The whole ball was simply wonderful.
Before I stop for now, we want to especially thank the accompanists last Thursday, Kay Ivy and Edith Hanson, who did a marvelous job.
Are you hungry? Do you long for fried chicken, cold slaw, baked beans, ice cream and cake? Do you want to have nice comfortable furniture for our school patio? You're free on Friday, May 27! Well, if the answer to all these questions is YES, buddy, you've got it made, because on Friday, May 2, a May Day Carnival Box Supper will take place out on the patio and all the proceeds will go to P-T-A for the purchase of out-door furniture.
There will be booths, dart games, basketball throws and entertainment by some of the kids here in school. The Tri-Hi-Y is going to operate a booth, the Letterman's Club will sponsor the basketball throw, and the Student Council will handle the dart games.
Tickets can be bought from any Pep Club member or cheerleader, and will entitle you to a box supper of the above mentioned "goodies".
The proceeds will benefit everyone because the patio will be used by everyone. Right now basketball stops are being set up and tennis and volleyball boundaries are being painted on the patio. During the warm days, it will be open for kids who want to take their lunch out there to eat. So, you see, the more people that come and buy tickets, the better our patio will be. The P-T-A expects us out there, so let's all go.

The Journalism Club has three members for officer positions, because of the danger involved, we cannot endorse any of these candidates (despite the fact that we are sure that they are as fully capable as their opponents). Their opponents may rest assured that we shall show no partiality whatsoever to ANTONIO, and this shall be the last you will hear of in elections until the results are in (unless any withdrawals occur). We urge the voters to be impartial also and to vote wisely, and to the candidates we extend our best wishes for success in the elections and in their terms of office.

Dear Miss Cry-Shoulder,
I haven't been going to any school dances because I can't dance. I would sure like to take a girl to the May Day Ball, but who wants to go with a wallflower?
B. D.
Dear B. D.,
You would be surprised! If you're enjoyable company, that makes up a lot for the dancing, but it's a lot more fun to get into the swing of things.
If you can't find a private tutor, follow this: Two steps sideways to the right and two back to the left. Simple? Yes. But even a two-step can be very graceful if you relax and move easily. Don't make it obvious that you're following a set pattern. When you step, bend your knees a slight bit so as not to resemble a cardboard figure walking around.
Ask a girl to the ball, and if you start practicing now, you'll be a pro by then. Why not ask some of your buddies for a few pointers?

Guess who was lucky enough to have a date with Bobby Eubanks for the Glee Club Ball? Pat Eastern. She was a mighty happy girl. So was Bobby.
Joyce Cultum was seen last Saturday night at the movie with Bob Clark. There is a really sweet girl for you, Bob.
How did y'all like that handsome green shirt Mr. Hickson was wearing last Thursday?

Could anyone tell me why all of the girls have taken a sudden interest in baseball? It could be because of the muscular Giants that are around. There are some special shirts that the girls are wearing.
Why are the girls wearing those mad socks? We'd like to see some of you fellows running around wearing sack shirts. Just for revenge.
Just received a flash: a couple of Junior girls (and we mean Edith Hanson and Charon Miller) have just taken an interest in Giants.

We're sure everyone by now has seen Elaine Mlin's engagement ring. Isn't it beautiful? We all think so.
All of SHS is tickled pink to hear that the king and queen of the May Day Ball are Peggy Lundquist and Bill Tyre (in reverse order). Those lucky two deserve the honors!
Anyone who has been seeing rehearsals for the senior play has seen that Bill Bernoskey and Ellen Whiten are supposed to be man and wife. Maybe now, Bill will get up enough nerve to ask her for a date. Maybe Bill! That is, if Bill manages to keep his mind away from June Jennings and operettas and so forth.
Henry S. we heard you hate dances. That was real sweet of you to take Dee to the Glee Club Ball anyway.
Pat M. we hear you think Richard Powell is quite a guy!
Congratulations on the "Gypsy Rover", glee club members! It was excellent!

Our annual FFA banquet, a semi-formal affair, was held on Friday, Mar. 28, at 1:30 p. m. We gave honorary degrees to Mr. Bracken and Mr. Harwood and citations to Mrs. Price and Mrs. Winn. In addition, we gave other honors and change degrees. All members and their parents were invited.
The food was prepared by Mrs. Hastings and was served by several of the home economic girls. Our guest speaker, Judge Alexander, presented a very informative speech.
I feel sure that we all had a wonderful time.
This month we have most of our contests which include horse show, pitching, public speaking, tractor driving, Parliamentary procedure, softball, and others.
Our spring crop, corn, which we have just planted and has been growing very well, is being grown to feed the swine and cattle.
Two calves have been born recently and another one is expected this month. The swine are expected very well and are expected to weigh about 100 pounds when they are sold. The swine are fed well, which is inspected every month. We have had a very good year so far with everything.
All of you who wish to come to our meetings are welcome. The meetings are on the first Monday of each month.

Ordinance Prohibiting Handbill Distribution May Help City

Motorists won't be plagued with handbills and other printed matter left in automobiles along the street now, will homeowners find it necessary to conduct cleanup campaigns to get rid of the many printed sheets left on doorsteps, on front porches, and on lawns.

Action by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners at its recent meeting prohibiting the distribution of such literature of various kinds will be a big help in keeping our city clean and in getting rid of the un-asked-for litter that usually finds its way to city streets, parkways, and highways.

Now residents can concentrate on their mail and leave the stacks of second class and third class matter in proper containers either at home, at the office, or at the post office.

Of course, many motorists would like to see the little yellow envelopes left under the windshield on various occasions, included in the matter to be banned.

However, that's another matter—and one asked for by the motorist who parks and forgets that a parking meter is timing his or her stay in proportion to the number of pennies left in the little slot.

One kind of evil has been eliminated; but we have been confronted with another of a serious nature and that is one of continued regimentation.

It is up to the citizens of each community to choose the lesser of the two evils and guide their community leaders accordingly.

Post Office Here Inadequate

Senator George Smathers has taken "the bull by its horns" in regards to a new post office for Sanford.

Under recent date, Senator Smathers wrote to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield pointing out that Sanford's need for more adequate postal facilities "is grave to the point of critical."

Senator Smathers deplored the fact that Sanford was not listed in Release No. 80 of the Post Office Department in which was listed proposed construction plans for post offices in various cities of the country.

He told the Postmaster General "I was disappointed to note that Sanford was not listed on 'List B', and continued 'however, in view of the completely inadequate situation at Sanford, I found it hard to believe that this city was not included on your List C, which covers those federally-owned buildings to be considered immediately for replacement if certain legislation is adopted by Congress."

Senator Smathers called to the Postmaster General's attention many of the facts in the Sanford situation regarding the postal facilities here.

Included in the facts was that the present post office was built 40 years ago when the total area served had a population of only 8,000 and no local carriers were needed.

Senator Smathers cited the fact that Sanford's post office building has not been enlarged or expanded, even though eight local and two rural carriers are now needed to serve an estimated 35,000 persons in the Sanford area.

He also pointed to the fact that the site of the present building is in a highly congested area with very little parking space and no additional area available for expansion.

Senator Smathers has acted as a friend to Sanford and the Sanford area by intervening at this point when so many post office structures are being considered for areas that have not experienced the unprecedented growth seen here.

There needs to be a concerted effort now to back up Senator Smathers in his efforts to see that Sanford is included in the Post Office Department's construction program in the immediate future.

Thank you Senator Smathers!

Letter Reveals Serious Thinking

Two letters have come to our attention that bring to the forefront some of the serious thinking on the part of young people in Sanford Schools.

One letter reads:
Editor
The Sanford Herald,
Sanford, Fla.
Dear Sir:

I am enclosing a copy of a letter that I sent to the Sanford City Commission along with the signatures of some of my classmates, and several adults.

I feel that this issue is of vital importance to all, at this time.

We have never experienced nuclear warfare, nor have we ever been under attack by a foreign power in the United States, since the Revolutionary War.

Do we need another Pearl Harbor to wake us up?

Yours respectfully
Donna Terry Young

Her letter to the Sanford City Commission follows:
City Commission,
Sanford, Fla.
Gentlemen:

We viewed a film on Civil Defense in the Sanford Junior High School this afternoon. After seeing this film the fact was brought home to many of the students that our city is completely unprepared to accommodate its citizens in the event of an atomic attack.

We sincerely believe that the public should be educated, and an underground bomb shelter be provided by the city and-or county.

We are also interested to know if there is an auxiliary communication system set up in this county for use in event of such a disaster.

If such an attack were launched on the United States, comparatively few planes could get through our radar network, but those that did would most certainly carry atomic weapons, and because of our strategic location and missile bases Florida would be a very vulnerable target.

Yours respectfully
Donna Terry Young.

We believe that this young lady, a Sanford Junior High School student 18-years-old, should be commended for her interest in the welfare of the city and its citizens.

Who says our young people spend their time foolishly?

Herlong Reports

In recent weeks, I have been able to announce several extremely worthwhile accomplishments for various parts of our District. It is most gratifying to me to be able to say that I have been successful in working out some of the problems on which you have asked my help.

Almost invariably, after these announcements are made, I get letters from people in other areas which go something like this: "You have helped the people in such and such a place—why don't you do something for us?" Well, I want you to know that I am ready and willing to do any and every thing possible for the people of every part of my District. I do want to remind you, though, that I have no way of knowing what you want unless you tell me.

Also, I am sure you understand that there are limitations on what can be done. Some of the things several have contacted me about simply do not come within the jurisdiction of a Congressman.

For example, one of the items people have written me about is the location of highway rights-of-way. We just do not have any control over them. I know some people think that members of Congress should have something to say about these rights-of-way, but the plain fact is that we do not.

Although our office has been effective to a large extent in helping on local problems and on your personal problems, please don't judge us entirely on the yardstick of these accomplishments.

A Congressman, as you know, is primarily a legislator—and while I am anxious to do as many of these other things for you as I possibly can, I still have to spend most of the day in the House Ways and Means Committee and on the House floor.

My Committee for the most part this session has been holding public hearings on various tax and other matters. This week we have been engaged in the process of writing legislation. This follows the public hearings, when we sit down in a closed session with members of the Committee, the professional staff of the Committee, the representatives of the departments of government which may be affected by the legislation, and the legislative drafting service, or "bill writers", present.

We start from scratch and write the bill based on what we know and what was brought out in the public hearings. The bill is written, sentence by sentence, and paragraph by paragraph. Every member of the Committee has the right and opportunity to express himself as to every word or

Washington See-Saw

Back and Forth—The argument about the historic bottleneck on highway A1A in St. Augustine still goes on. The State wants to make it a four-lane road the old fort, Castillo de San Marcos. The National Park Service and certain historical groups objected on the ground that a wider highway would endanger the beauty of the ancient structure. This week, the Assistant Secretary of the Interior, Roger Krnet, has submitted a compromise plan to the officials of St. Johns County, the City of St. Augustine, and the State Road Department. It is now up to those groups to study the plan and see if it is sound and if it will break the present traffic bottleneck.

Florida Work for Florida, Firms—This is the story of a long distance phone call. From Hensard Holland in Washington to General William O. Senter, Director of Procurement and Production at Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio. Subject: Let's give Florida business to Florida firms. The Air Force is getting ready to build a huge communications network between Eglin Field and Tampa as part of the Gulf Missile Range. Two groups are bidding on it. One is a Florida group (small business). Another is a big corporation from out of the state. Senator Holland feels strongly that if the Florida firm can do the work satisfactorily and their price is right that they should get the job. He lodged his first appeal with the Department of Defense and the Air Force in Washington. But to be sure that the word trickled down to the man who would place the job—he called on the phone and gave it to him personally. Outcome is a question. Major hurdle is the fact that the present administration favors big business over small business. And they have the final say-so.

Old Subject—New Approach—Congressman Charlie Bennett likes to work on his favorite projects while the Congress is in recess. That way, he says, he is able to find department heads with more free time to listen to him. This week he met with Secretary of the Army, Wilbur M. Brucker, and some of his top brass. They talked about the Florida cross state barge canal.

Bennett, champion of the canal in Washington, wants the Army to establish the need for the canal on its military value. Brucker agreed that every cent spent on the canal could be justified from a military standpoint. Just looking back on the losses of oil shipments in the last war would prove his point. Also, the canal would permit oil to be "charged" up the coast instead of being shipped in large seagoing tankers.

The problem is to find a formula for figuring the actual value in dollars to the military so that the proper sort of presentation can be made to the Appropriation Committee. Always before, this has been presented on the basis of its commercial value. Although this formula shows the canal would be a sound project, it has had to stand in line behind others that looked better, or that didn't cost $180 million.

Bennett's new approach was to ask the Army to consider the canal for its military value. He asked Brucker to come up with a definite proposal for beginning work on it. He wants Brucker to make a statement on it before the Appropriations Committee and to ask for half a million for a beginning next year. Bennett said that after his Pentagon meeting Brucker said he favored the idea, and that he like the new approach. He said he would try to have materials ready for the Appropriation hearings that begin next week.

MENTAL HEALTH officials spoke yesterday at the Sanford Woman's Club before a large group. Reid, Mental Director for the Florida State Board of Health, and Mrs. Sidney Ives, Seminole County councillor and sponsor of the program. (Photo by Bergstrom)

Mental Health Officials Speak At Local Woman's Club

Mrs. B. E. Chapman, president of the Seminole County Mental Health Association introduced Miss Margaret Margaves, executive secretary of the National Association for Mental Health and their S. E. Representative at the Sanford Woman's Club Wednesday.

Miss Margaves hurled her challenge, "What can a Woman Do for Mental Health in her Community?" She illustrated some of the things that need to be done.

"In a land of opportunity," she said, "we must realize that there is a great deal of responsibility to each individual. The Citizens movement on Mental Health is marching forward, but we must realize that for many problems nothing is being done. Psychotic children have not one bed in the state of Florida. The public needs to be educated to the needs of each individual community.

"We need to help mental patients rehabilitate; we need to take care that the psychotic children get their beds, we need to know that the emotional problems of children and adults, which can grow to greater problems, can be solved by a counselling service. We need to educate our community away from the fear and stigma that is attached to Mental Illness. We are hit in two places, by not doing these things; the heart and the pocketbook. The heart because we really do not want these things to happen and the pocketbook because as long as we refuse to accept these former mental patients as a part of our community, they are taking up hospital space, badly needed by others and thus our taxes will need to be raised.

Miss Margaves concluded her talk on the note of optimism shown in the feeling of mental patients in the hospitals. She felt that from indications shown they know that people are not looking at them with curiosity, but with sincere hope for recovery.

Dr. Melvin P. Reid, Acting Director of Mental Health with the State Board of Health, was introduced by Mrs. Stanley Piskorski, secretary of the Seminole County Mental Health Association.

Dr. Reid enumerated for the audience some of the things that Florida was doing to combat the problems which Miss Margaves outlined. He said, "An Interlegislative committee was preventing a bill for a 50 bed unit for Psychotic children. We have in Florida 14 Child Guidance Clinics and expect two more within six months.

A Rehabilitation program is underway in the County Health Department. 383 patients recently discharged had enjoyed that service. The State Hospitals are now notifying the County Health Department of each new mental patient. New State Hospitals are in the planning stage and this was in great contrast to a situation 4 years ago, at which time 7500 patients were packed in Chattahoochee."

Dr. Reid suggested that the group visit the state hospitals to see the strides Florida was making, but not to let this lull them into a false sense of security because a good deal needed to be done.

Dr. Reid went on into his subject, "The Origin of Emotional Problems in Children." "We cannot always point the finger of accusation at parents in the emotional problems of children, too much parent criticism is not good, we must give our patients reassurance so the parents will at least want to try to do a better job. It is not so much what parents do or don't do that matters so much, it is the manner in which parents deal and handle a given situation. All human beings have the same emotional needs, to be loved, to feel important and to feel secure. Deprive them of this and naturally there will be problems. Children need to know the security of knowing limits. Today there is too much Mother responsibility with children, not enough authoritative figure in the family. Understand this and we are on the way to better understanding of emotional problems in children."

The audience responded gratefully to the information given by both speakers and left the program a well informed and exhilarated group.

Hostesses for the covered dish luncheon were Mrs. Howard Montello, Mrs. J. N. Gillon, Mrs. John Eick, and Mrs. C. L. Keyes. Receiving guests at the door were Mrs. J. C. Wilson, Mrs. Al Hunt, Mrs. Bill Kirk and Mrs. W. R. Anderson.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Perry Stone. Mrs. Mary Schelberger, accompanied by Mrs. Lulu Bailey, sang "Pale Moon," "The Hills of Home," and "Come Back To Sorrento."

Luncheon guests introduced were Mrs. R. F. Cooper, Mrs. John P. Wilson, and Mrs. Andrew McPherson.

Garden Gate

DRIFTWOOD CIRCLE
By Mrs. T. J. Kiehl

The rains have come to central Florida, and with it headaches for the gardener.

Damping-off is a common complaint. This is the collapse of small herbaceous seedlings caused by infection of soil borne fungi at the soil line. Keeping the soil too wet lowers the plants' resistance. Shaking seeds in a jar with arasin will give seedlings a chance to emerge from the soil. Be sure to plant seeds in sterilized soil.

Now is the time, too, to be on the alert for black spot. Watch the foliage of your roses. Circular black spots 1/2 to 1/4 inch across appear on the upper sides of the leaves. Unless you spray to stop development, the spots will become enlarged. As the spots grow the leaves will turn yellow, die and fall. Often similar spots will turn up on the stems. At the first sign of the disease apply a fungicide. Burn the fallen leaves.

Another garden pest caused by rain and overhead sprinkling is powdery mildew. In which case you can actually see the fungus organism which takes the form of grayish white coating that covers the surface of the leaf. It usually begins on the undersides of the leaf and will distort and deform leaves. It also impedes blossoming. Common victims of powdery mildew are rose, hibiscus, grapefruit, chrysanthemum, marigolds, snapdragons and zinnias. Luckily the disease is easily controlled by sulfur or copper dusts. Dusting with sulfur is the quickest procedure. However, if temperatures run a high 85 degrees in the shade marginal injury to rose leaves could be caused. Mildex is a new and safe control even in hot weather.

SUGGESTIONS FOR APRIL

As soon as the blooming period is over be sure to fertilize your camellias and azaleas.

Be sure to severely cut back your poinsettias and keep them pinched out until fall in order to get bushy plants with full blooms. Plant the cuttings (about 10 inches long) in sandy soil leaving about three inches about the surface.

Fertilize all plants and trim back dead growth to reshape your plant.

Be sure to fertilize your citrus trees with special citrus fertilizer. Prune small trees from the sun with a mulch and remove fruit from very small trees to keep them from being stunted.

Seeds to plant—agertum, sweet alyssum, China aster, balsam, celosia, cosmos, cypress-vine, dahlia, gailardia, gloxiniarath, helichrysum, marigolds, morning glory, portulaca, salvia, sunflower, tibonia, torenia, zinnia.

Bulbs to plant—caladium, gladiolus, haemanthus, lycoris, tuberos.

Memorial Service Held By D.A.R.

A memorial service for Mrs. F. L. Woodruff Sr. was held recently when the Sallie Harrison Chapter of the D. A. R. met at the home of Mrs. C. L. Park Sr. Mrs. W. R. Rupperecht was co-hostess.

Mrs. F. E. Bolz read the eulogy for the recently deceased member. An open Bible and white candle were placed on a table. Mrs. A. Key, regent, set a white calligraphy on the table, and each member in turn placed a red rose to encircle the bible in memory of Mrs. Woodruff. Present for the service were Mrs. F. L. Woodruff II and Mrs. Harry Woodruff.

Mrs. H. W. Rucker read an article written by Mrs. Ray L. Erb, National Defense Committee Chairman, N. S. D. A. H.

Mrs. Erb stated, "The irony of NATO is to be found in the fact that after spending billions of American dollars in Europe to prevent the spread of communism, the countries which have benefited by infection of soil borne fungi at the soil line. Keeping the soil too wet lowers the plants' resistance. Shaking seeds in a jar with arasin will give seedlings a chance to emerge from the soil. Be sure to plant seeds in sterilized soil.

SANFORD, Fla. — The opening day of the season for the Florida State League is under way today. The opening game of the season is being played at 7:30 p. m. at the home of the Sanford Giants, against the Palm Bay Cardinals.

The Giants, who were the champions of the league last year, are looking for a repeat performance. They have a strong lineup and are expected to do well.

The Cardinals, on the other hand, are a new team and are looking to establish themselves in the league. They have a good pitching staff and are expected to be a contender.

The game is expected to be a close one, with both teams having a chance to win. The fans are looking forward to a good game.

The game is being played at the Sanford Stadium, which is one of the best in the league. The fans are expected to be in large numbers.

The game is being broadcast on the radio, so fans who cannot attend can still enjoy the action. The game is expected to be a highlight of the season.

The game is being played at 7:30 p. m. and is expected to last about 90 minutes. The fans are looking forward to a good game.

FSL Season Gets Underway Tonight

By PETER SCHAL
LEAGUE SECRETARY
ORLANDO — New faces at almost every position will greet Florida State League fans who gather at Timber Field here tonight in the single opening game of the circuit's 1938 season of play, and the same situation will hold true around the league tomorrow night as the first half sets out in earnest.

Not in years has there been such a complete change of rosters, including the appearance of four new managers. From the 1937 champion Tampa Tarpons, who'll go with only five of their stars on hand, through the St. Petersburg Saints, who'll have only two, there'll be ample opportunity for fans in the seven league cities to see whether the major league's seeding out process indicates some better than usual teams in each city.

Ray Wilson and his Daytona Beach Islanders, property of the St. Louis Cardinals meet Charlie Grant and his Orlando Flyers, supplied in part by the Toronto team of the International League.

Only four 1937 Islanders will be in uniform for Wilson — Sal Babin, court, Charlie Jennings, Charles Dreifeld and Jerry Lock — while Grant, newcomer to the league, has only two 1937 Flyers in uniform — Ty Brazier and Ted Hobby.

An oddity may spice the activities in that after 17 years of meeting each other, Daytona has won 163 from Orlando while losing 168.

Tonight's single game was brought about because of the league's uniform schedule which finds the clubs having to play 144 games in 136 playing dates. Orlando would have been idle Friday and Saturday except for tonight's tilt.

Tomorrow night will see the first of numerous usual double-bills in that Orlando will play the Cocoa Indians in that city at 6:30 o'clock after which Daytona meets the Indians. Both games will be for seven innings.

New manager Paul O'Dea, handling the Cleveland Indians' charges at Cocoa, will likely have only two 1937 Indians in uniform — big Jerome Webb at first and husky Marty Grossman behind the plate. All the rest are big, strong newcomers who are reportedly the pick of the Cleveland D roster. Game time will be preceded by the usual ceremony.

Two traditional rivals will be meeting in St. Petersburg Friday night at 7:30 when Charlie Gassaway unveils his 1937 Tampa Tarpons against a New York Yankee supplied St. Petersburg team managed by Tom Hamilton, former Texas University star who'll be in his first managerial role.

ENGLISH BOOTERS SET TOUR
NEW YORK (AP) — Manchester City, one of England's top soccer clubs, will make a tour of the United States May 14 through June 8. Side trips also are scheduled for Toronto, Vancouver, B. C., and Montreal.

CLARK'S PLUMBING AND HEATING has first place clinched after taking two games in last week's play putting them four games in the lead with a 2-13 standing. The games tonight will end the season.

The Appliance Mart got a foretelling putting them in second place with 25-17 dropping Powell's Office Supply down to third place. They lost all three games last week giving them a standing of 21-18.

Lou's took three games putting them in fourth place with 20-22 while Hunt's holds fifth with 18-26 and Harvey's team is still on bottom with 12-30.

Coming in for prize awards are Cook, who has high average; Eugene Gill, high series; Ponce Elmore, high game; Ellen Betts, high average; Dot Powell, high series; and Gladys White, high game.

Tonight at 8 p. m. Clark's will bowl against the Appliance Mart; Harvey's Plumbing Co. and Powell's will compete against each other; and Hunt's Tuxedo Feed Store will play Lou's Bar & Grill.

Powell's holds high team three scratch and Harvey's holds high team single scratch.

Young Lake Wales Golfer Men's Tournament Medalist

In spite of the weather yesterday, a 20-year-old Lake Wales golfer turned in a 2 under par qualifying score to become the medalist in the first Annual Men's State Amateur Golf Tournament.

Bruce Houdek braced winds up to 55 miles per hour to record the lowest score of the tournament yesterday. He was also met with rain, heavy clouds, and varying degrees of sun in his first 18 holes.

There were 215 amateur golfers participating in the qualifying round of the tournament. The field will be cut down to 100 participants as it moves into match play which began this morning.

First golfers off in the tournament's match play started at 7:30 this morning with the championship flight starting at 10:30 this morning.

There was competition this morning for the 2nd place in the championship flight. There were nine golfers who turned in 77s yesterday slated to play a sudden death elimination for the one place left in the top flight of the tournament.

There was one element of surprise yesterday when Roy Symes and Ken Torbett, both of Sanford, playing in a foursoms with Ben Cochran and Dr. Gene Liddy, noticed that snow was falling.

The flakes were first thought to be ashes blowing over the course from a fire. But it was discovered that the flakes were cold when rubbed on the hand.

Showers met the field of golfers throughout the day and winds around the Mayfair Country Club course were blowing at speeds of from 15 to 25 miles per hour. Players reported that heavy gusts of wind were predominant on both the No. 12 and No. 13 fairways.

In addition to the Championship Flight, there will be eight flights of 16 golfers competing in today's match play.

Col. S. G. Harriman, director of this year's tournament for the Florida State Golf Association, said that this year's tournament has attracted a "near-record" field.

"Only one other tournament has attracted more than we have playing this year," he said.

Others in the Championship Flight will be Tim Holland of Miami Beach who turned in the second lowest score when he played par golf. He turned in the 70 without competition in his scoregroup.

C. E. Arnold of Winter Park and Dorsey Neversall of Boynton Beach turned in 72s. With 73s were J. H. Sweeney Jr. of DeLand and Ronnie Burnham of Tampa. With scores of 74 were Harry Root Jr., Tampa, Major C. C. Hurt, Orlando, Harry Sargent of New Smyrna Beach, Billy Watts of Fort Lauderdale, and Stanley Knight of Vero Beach.

Those turning in 75s were: H. F. Smith of Orlando, G. B. Herndon of Maitland, Don Biplinghoff of Winter Park, H. H. Russell, Miami, T. Berry, Paul Tarnow Jr., Tampa, T. Bumgarber, Dr. J. D.

McKey, Orlando, George B. Guy, Fort Lauderdale, Harold Rayborn, Orlando, and Howard Warren of St. Petersburg.

There were 23 golfers registered for the tournament from Sanford. Included in the group were: Carl Hubbell, Jim Spencer, Clarence Phillips, Roy Symes, Ken Torbett, Harold Ring, Hugh Grier, Earl Higginbotham, Andrew Caraway, Bol Abramson, R. B. Smith, H. McInnes, Senny Powell, John Ivey, Harry Tooke, Frank Mahane Jr., Harry Cushing, Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and Bill Foult.

Whitney McMullen, formerly of Sanford and now at Gainesville, is playing in the tournament. He turned in a 79 and will possibly play in the first and second flight today.

Frank Strafaci, last year's Florida State Golf Association champion, will not defend his title this year. He is, instead, playing in the North-South Tournament at Pinehurst, N. C.

OLYMPICS INVESTIGATED
DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Louis Miriani is pulling his weight behind a move to get the 1968 Olympic games for Detroit. The mayor has asked city attorneys to investigate the possibility of drafting an ordinance creating a seven-member Olympic Stadium Authority to sell bonds for a $15,000,000 stadium.

Whatever Happened To Fred C. Clarke
By UNITED PRESS
Fred C. Clarke became a major league manager in his fourth season in the big leagues and was a player-pilot for all but the last of his 19 years as field boss. For 12 seasons 1900 through 1911 he managed and played the outfield for the Pittsburgh Pirates, both with outstanding success. His teams won four pennants in that span. As a player, he compiled a 21-year career average of .315 topped by .408 with Louisville's in 1907. Whatever happened to Fred Clarke? Now 62, he lives in retirement in Winfield, Kans.

ARNOLD DOWNS AUBREY CHINGFORD, England's youthful Mimi Arnold of Redwood City, Calif. had to struggle all the way before downing Dawn McCamley of Australia, 5-7, 7-3, 6-2, in the opening round of play in the Connaught Club tennis tournament.

Throughout the history of the United States, the proportion of church membership in the total population has risen.

Town Of Altamonte Springs Is Small But Progressive

By Leslie W. Cady

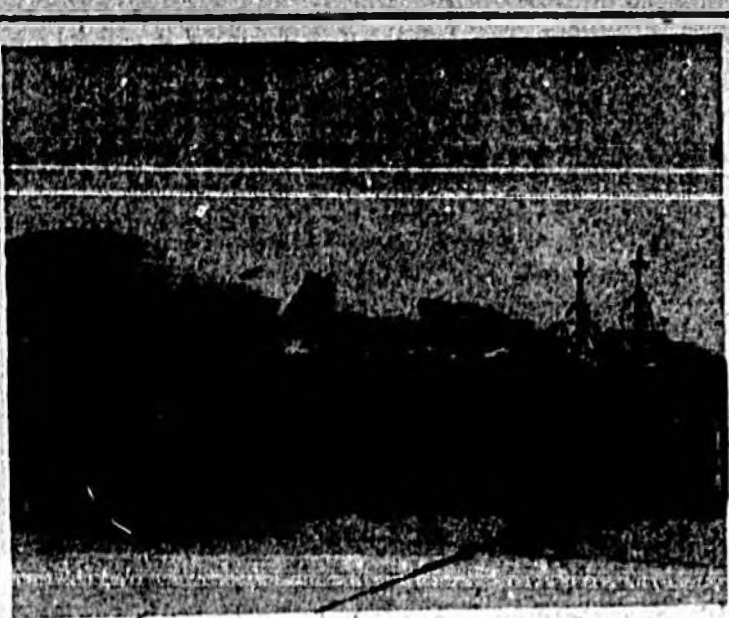

The town of Altamonte Springs is a small municipality, but it is going ahead in big city strides. The town council which is scheduled to meet the second Monday night of each month has been averaging two meetings a month since the first of the year, and each meeting has been jam packed with progressive plans.

Many of these plans have developed into good, stable policies and ordinances. A new and competent Building Inspector, Mr. L. West, has been appointed to see that the Southern Standard Building code is properly followed in all construction.

A giant step toward good zoning has been drafted and accepted. All property in the north section of the town now has up-to-date zoning restrictions, and a special council has been called for April 30 to see that the southern section of the town gains a comparable zoning ordinance.

A beautifully bound, detailed book containing the entire platting of the town is another addition to the growing archives. In addition, a complete appraisal of all the property in the town is now being prepared. It will include all information regarding each piece of property, vacant or improved. There will be maps printed following this appraisal that will be for sale for any interested, and will be obtainable at the Town Hall in the near future.

These are just a few of the actions taken in recent months by Mayor Lawrence Swoford and his council of four, to make Altamonte Springs one of the most progressive little towns in the state as well as in the country. There are those that speak with saddened tones of a nation-wide recession, but in one small town, at best, things are looking up. That town? Altamonte Springs, Florida.

Altamonte Council Adopts Electrical, Plumbing Code

ALTAMONTE SPRING—The regular meeting of the Altamonte Springs Town Council was held Monday night, at the Town Hall. It was a meeting marked by the presence of a large number of the town residents, all intent upon presenting personal civic problems and town problems affecting some of all residents. At one time during the meeting, several county affairs were discussed.

William R. Wigley, as chairman of the Street Naming and Numbering Committee, gave the second report as to the progress of his group. The report, a very complete and concise one, included six recommendations, three of which were accepted by the council and three which could be made as to their acceptability. As soon as these latter points are voted upon the committee will continue its work.

An electrical and plumbing code, modeled closely after the Seminole County codes, was voted upon and accepted by the council to take effect at once.

The council, after considerable deliberation, voted to adopt an ordinance to annex a certain piece of property which lies to the immediate east and south of the town limits.

Some of the many recommendations offered during the meeting were as follows: That a concerted effort be made to have the County Commissioners informed of the desire of the town's people to have the proposed Interstate Highway, RI, 104, laid out at a more westerly point than at this time considered; that a qualified engineer be hired to inspect streets and furnish an estimate as to the cost of repairs or the paving of said streets; that the menace of stray dogs be abolished through the enforcement of strict rules governing licenses, shots, etc.; that plans be formulated for a municipally-owned water works.

The meeting adjourned at 11:30 P. M.

Today

only for home ownership was confined to a relatively small number of families. However, this was shifted to a mass basis with the adoption of modern methods of home purchase finance, stimulated particularly by the program of the Federal Housing Administration.

"I am glad to say that the Realtors of America, through their National Association and their own daily activities, have played a prominent part in this dynamic evolution. Today, we are showing a small measure of our appreciation to the public media who have reported these developments to the American people in clear and interesting terms."

Stemper pointed to the continuing demand for better homes on the part of the public as its response to the information conveyed by the media, as to the opportunities available. He termed the present level of home ownership "one of the healthiest forces contributing to active, participating citizenship" and forecast its even greater expansion.

Farm Operation Loans

This is the time of year when Seminole County farm families plan the steps they need to increase the efficiency of their farming operations during the coming farm season, reports Cuttie J. Green, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor.

The agency advances operating credit primarily to help eligible farm families make improved use of their land and labor resources on family-type farms and make needed changes in their farming systems. Most of the changes call for adopting better farming practices and improving the efficiency of their farming operations. The loans help farmers pay for equipment, livestock, feed, seed, fertilizer, and other farm and home operating needs including refinancing chattel debt. Operating loans run from 1 to 7 years at 5 percent interest. The average operating loan in Seminole county is approximately $4,500.00.

Green said the bulk of the operating loan money in this area is being used for equipment and livestock. Many of the changes in farming systems are resulting in better dairy herds, more dependable pasture, improved machinery and equipment, increased crop yields, and improved living conditions.

Before an operating loan for adjustment purposes is closed, the applicant and the county supervisor agree on the proposed long-time improvement. At the beginning of each farming year while the loan is being repaid, the family with Green's help makes annual plans for the best use of the farm income and to determine additional credit needs. A year-end

THE CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in the Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.

Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as perfectly correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.

There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.

THE "IN MEMORIAM" NOTICE

It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "in Memoriam" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation of selection of a suitable verse brings back to them tender, pleasant recollections. An Eliza Cook, the English poetess has so beautifully expressed it:

"How cruelly sweet are the echoes that start
What memory plays an old tune
Most frequently an In Memoriam is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.

If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heartstrings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.

THE RATE
Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

A HEFTY controversy is going on over the proposal to give the east front of the U. S. Capitol a $10 million face-lifting. The place is now the scene of scrappy debates—outside as well as in.

There's a man to control billboards through a new highway bill. They not only want to see where we're going but where we've been.

Altho Kay adds that these new superhighways call for enough close shaves without reading about them.

A Paris ballet owner and a Russian choreographer are planning to fight a duel to settle their quarrel over the rights to a successful ballet. Their fight should call for lots of fancy footwork.

Washington's cherry blossom festival was postponed because of rain and cold. Rooms everywhere were shipped up but the event of honor - Spring.

Investigations in Washington these days are reminiscent of those home freer probes of the early 1950s. So—no Bill Shakespeare might have asked—what's in a party name?

Elvis Wants Respect

By HARRY N. JOHNSON
Special Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — "I discovered Elvis," said the director of the film "King of Hearts," as he talked to a reporter. "I was tired of laughing at the first time he was asked to direct. I was in a bad mood."
"I needed someone who was really discovered him," Curtis was told by producer Hal Wallis who was then in the initial phase of planning Presley's final pre-Army movie, "King Creole."
"Elvis needs to be discovered as much as Marilyn Monroe, and John Huston did." Curtis said in an attempt to end the conversation. But he gladly did agree to see the starburst king's dramatic 1956.

"After the first few lines Elvis spoke," Curtis said, "I began to sit up and take notice."
"Instead of a gyrating rock-androller, I was watching a natural, mature actor, underplaying his role because he knew none of the tricks of the trade."
Discovered Many Stars
Curtis, credited with the "discovery" of such persons as Doris Day, Errol Flynn, John Garfield, Bing Crosby and Ann Blythe, was convinced.

And that was the beginning of what Curtis said was an attempt to give Elvis what he most wants — respect.
"Elvis knows the trend of his own publicity," Wallis told Curtis, "and he's painfully aware of the fact that not everyone is in his corner. He realizes that he is ridiculed, made the butt of jokes and that the older movie-goers run in the same groove when they see the same old faces. Curtis said Presley was the first one on the set at 7:15 in the morning, his knees learned, and he always stayed within earshot of the camera so he would not have to be called twice.

Sings Without Swag
"When I told him that he would sing three ballads without one single movement, I didn't get the answer you'd expect."
"Instead, he merely nodded and said simply, 'You're the boss, Mr.
Curtis.'"
The director described Presley the actor as an "amazingly respecting young man, pleasant, glowing with a humor

like a rubber ball."
"In my manner of thinking," Curtis said, "he possesses much of the same qualities which Gary Cooper and John Wayne showed when they first started in pictures — with one notable exception.
They capitalized and still capitalize on an element of awkward-ness, while Elvis is agile and resistant with a smoothness that you'd expect in a veteran."
"I guarantee that he'll amaze everyone. He shows a formidable talent. What's more, he'll get the respect he so dearly desires."

Trade Legislation Sought By Firm

NEW YORK — A top textile industry spokesman today called for new reciprocal trade legislation to replace the trade agreement expiring June 30.
W. Ray Bell, president, the Assn. of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York, said an extension of the present agreement would "only perpetuate discrimination against American textiles."
Bell endorsed the Dorn Bill H.
R. 11280 now pending before the House Committee on Ways and Means, and he said the new legislation should be the vehicle of the domestic economy in place of administrative caprice."

Citing "maladministration" of the present foreign trade program, ACTM chief pointed out foreign textile mills have been subsidized with United States cotton furnished them at 25 per cent less than the price U. S. mills must pay.
Besides aids to overseas mills through financing capital equipment and raw material purchases, foreign manufacturers have the added advantage of cheap labor.
This gives European and Asiatic mills unequal privileges in markets overseas, as well as in the United States, under the government's one-sided foreign trade policy, the statement added.

Quotas on textiles and apparel shipments from Japan to the United States are a stop-gap and underline the "need for sound legislation applicable to trade from all countries," Bell continued.
"Triangular deals by American government agencies have favored foreign mills with substantial textile business in non-industrial countries, Bell charged.

Reports Show Benson's Position With Farmers May Improve

WASHINGTON (UP)—The benevolent word from the grass roots today is that things are looking up a bit for Agriculture Secretary Sara T. Benson.

This word comes via Republican channels and could be tainted with wishful thinking. But it reached Washington by sources notably reliable in the past and is minus the kind of emphasis which usually marks suspicion of exaggeration.

Most specifically, the word is that Benson's reduction of dairy support prices from 82 to 75 percent of parity effective April 1 has not hit milk producers as hard as blow as had been forecast.

Specifically also, a related mass meeting summarized this morning in Wisconsin as a forum for attack on Benson's farm policies was a dismal flop. Fewer than 100 of an expected 1,500 or more persons showed up.

The foregoing applies to a single community or, at most, to a single state, but it could be of great political significance.

William Proxmire, Democrat, was elected in August 1957 to the Senate seat vacated by the death of Joseph R. McCarthy, Republican. Proxmire defeated Walter J. Kohler Jr., former Republican governor of Wisconsin and a popular figure in the state. Benson was blamed for that.

Republican members of Congress have been denouncing "tax President Eisenhower fire Benson. Most of them believe privately that their chances on re-election next November depend largely on getting Benson out of the Cabinet. It would be good news for Republican politicians if the heat were getting off Benson.

Stranger things have happened. The Agriculture Department reported about three weeks ago that farm prices rose 4 per cent between mid-February and mid-March, the highest monthly gain since early 1951.

Benson said some of this increase was due to delayed marketing, especially of cotton, but that most of it reflected a real price improvement. Final figures on the first quarter will be out next week, perhaps to improve Benson's position with the farmers and brighten Republican election prospects.

community or, at most, to a single state, but it could be of great political significance.

William Proxmire, Democrat, was elected in August 1957 to the Senate seat vacated by the death of Joseph R. McCarthy, Republican. Proxmire defeated Walter J. Kohler Jr., former Republican governor of Wisconsin and a popular figure in the state. Benson was blamed for that.

Republican members of Congress have been denouncing "tax President Eisenhower fire Benson. Most of them believe privately that their chances on re-election next November depend largely on getting Benson out of the Cabinet. It would be good news for Republican politicians if the heat were getting off Benson.

Stranger things have happened. The Agriculture Department reported about three weeks ago that farm prices rose 4 per cent between mid-February and mid-March, the highest monthly gain since early 1951.

Benson said some of this increase was due to delayed marketing, especially of cotton, but that most of it reflected a real price improvement. Final figures on the first quarter will be out next week, perhaps to improve Benson's position with the farmers and brighten Republican election prospects.

Russia Protests Against U.S. H-Bomb Flights

Local Post Office Needs Are Studied

"I have requested my staff to check into the needs of the Sanford office and to advise you further after final determination is made as to what can be done to improve the postal facilities at this office," Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield told Senator George Smathers in a letter dated April 14.

Senator Smathers recently wrote the Postmaster General requesting information as to why the Sanford Post Office was not included in a list slated for either new buildings or renovations.

Summerfield stated in his reply that "The offices shown in List C of the news release would be a start in our program to rehabilitate 2,500 offices now located in Federally-owned buildings."

"You may be assured," he said, "that the need for adequate postal facilities at Sanford will be given every consideration under the proposed Senate Amendment to the Postal Rate Bill now in House-Senate Conference."

Senator Smathers, in his letter this morning to The Sanford Herald, stated that local interest may be "assured of my continuing interest and efforts toward accomplishing this goal."

MOSCOW (UP)—

Russia announced today it is protesting to the United Nations Security Council against United States H-bomb flights. Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko personally announced the U. N. protest at a Moscow press conference.

Delegation sources at the United Nations headquarters in New York said the United States probably would welcome debate on Russia's charges. This would be in line with American policy of never opposing U. N. discussion of any charge brought against the United States.

In introducing a statement on the subject, Gromyko referred to a "report of the American news agency United Press," which described Strategic Air Command procedure in dealing with suspected radar targets.

Precautionary Action

The dispatch mentioned by Gromyko, detailed Offout Air Force Base, Neb., control center of the Strategic Air Command, was written by Frank H. Hartmann, president of the United Press.

"As it appears from United Press reports, confirmed by representatives of the U. S. Air Force command, these flights are made in each instance as some obscure

Playing With Fire

Gromyko said: "These flights with American bombers constitute playing with fire—a game too dangerous for us to tolerate its continuance."

"This danger is also aggravated by the United States bombers with the same lethal load are known to fly round the clock over the territories of many Western European states."

In his dispatch, Bartholomew reported a hypothetical flight—as pictured by an SAC colonel—of a bomber which took off after objects had been picked up on a radar scope.

"When he finished, he asked if there were questions. The newsmen asked only one question on the H-bomb protest, that is, would it be made 'immediately.' Gromyko said it would be."

Jaycee Speakers Tell Of Curricula, Advantages At Uoff

Two University of Florida students, representing the Florida Blue Key Speakers Bureau, told Sanford-Seminole County Jaycees yesterday of the Uoff's advantages, curricula, and activities of the school.

Norwood Gay of Jacksonville pointed especially to the academic career and extra curricula activities "which make a well rounded citizen adapting him to better citizenship."

Gay spoke particularly of the "course in basic logic to help improve the mind" as well as outlined the various courses available at the Uoff.

He told the Jaycees of the colleges at the University which also offer advance work in the graduate school "to better qualify a citizen for his part in the professional or technical fields."

"There are over 300 organizations on the campus of the University of Florida," Gay said and pointed to the "Gator Growl" as the largest campus variety show in the United States.

Gay also spoke of the inter-mural activities for those who "cannot make the variety."

All of this, he said, "is an incentive for the students to learn to live together to make the whole person a well rounded individual."

Miss Leslie Sanders of Mount Dora spoke of the girls viewpoint at the University of Florida. "We girls are a pretty recent addition to the campus," she said.

Advising Jaycees, she said "It is important for your sons and daughters to figure out how much time to give to their studies and how much time can be devoted to the colorful campus social life."

Miss Sanders told Jaycees that the enrollment at the University at present is 11,000 of which 3,000 are girls.
