Solons OK Forest City Incorporation

The Sanford Herald

Monday, March 12, 1973—Sanford, Florida 32711
65th Year, No. 163 Price 10 Cents

By DONNA ESTES

CASSELBERRY—Legislation to incorporate Forest City was unanimously approved by the Seminole Legislative Delegation Saturday but "with extremely mixed emotions" from Sen. Lori Wilson.

She said without a master land use plan for the area, "We are drawing a city with a colored crayon. We are playing God without any homework." At the same time, Miss Wilson said she understood the frustration of the people in Forest City.

Attorney Royce Pipkins in submitting the proposed bill pointed out the recommended charter includes initiative, referendum, recall, public notice for the passage of ordinances and allows annexation only in accordance with the laws and constitution of the state.

Sen. Wilson questioned the section which would permit adoption of "emergency" ordinances on vote of only three councilmen and this provision was changed to require the positive vote of four members. Emergency ordinances expire 61 days after adoption.

Pipkins pointed out that the lawyer said $30,000 annually is to be budgeted by the city for police protection and $17,000 for street maintenance with plans to contract with the county for the services. Fire protection will be from the current fire control district, he said.

Various residents on the fringe of the proposed incorporated area opposed the bill and with notice that 131 families in the Lynnwood Subdivision area are in opposition that section of land was deleted from the boundaries.

John Dolins of Forest City insisted the area does not warrant incorporation at this time and the purpose of the effort is to "preserve a name."

Another opponent said at least one of these gathering signatures for the incorporation told people they had the choice of either being included in Forest City or being annexed by Altamonte Springs.

Sen. Wilson asked that in the future, petitions be certified to show the percentage of signatures in relation to residents.

Shevin Asks Supreme Court Ruling On Probe Halt Bid

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin asked the Florida Supreme Court today to rule quickly on Miami Mayor David Kennedy's attempt to halt an investigation of bribery in Dade County courts.

Shevin said the investigation, which has been moved to Volusia County, has been suspended until the court rules. Kennedy and his administrative assistant, Frank Cobo, filed a motion Friday to halt the inquiry on grounds that Supreme Court Justice James Adkins lacked authority to approve writ orders used to develop the case.

Adkins did not sit with the court in today's hearing of oral arguments.

Angus M. Stephens Jr., attorney for Kennedy and Cobo, told the hearing that writs could be approved only by a judge with jurisdiction to try a criminal case and the Florida Constitution gave no such power to the Supreme Court.

Shevin argued that Supreme Court justices have had the power to approve search warrants since 1920 and that writs represented simply an electronic search.

Justice Richard W. Ervin said the Legislature has all powers not denied by the Constitution, and he asked Stephens which portion of the Constitution denied the Legislature the right to approve the law giving writ authorization to state Circuit,

District and Supreme Court judges.

Stephens replied that the constitutional definition of Supreme Court authority did not include the right to try criminal cases.

Shevin pointed out that U.S. District Court Judge Gerald B. Toffat already had ruled that Florida Supreme Court justices had authority to approve writs.

Kennedy and Cobo were among more than 100 persons whose conversations with Miami political insider Frank Martin were overheard in an investigation last summer. The case allegedly involves corruption in court cases and zoning. Volusia County State Atty. Stephen Boyles, who was appointed by Gov. Reubin Askew as a special prosecutor in the case, was scheduled to begin presenting witnesses in a grand jury today but delayed the action in the wake of the writ challenge.

If it's true that "misery loves company" then the other side of the coin should be that "happiness is contagious," especially so if your name happens to be either Rose Ann James, Bobbi Norrington or Linda Tangman.

All of these women are "floating on cloud nine" cause they've received the word that their POW husbands have been released and are on the way home.

We couldn't be happier for you, ladies.

And here again, we'll be guided by your wishes on this matter. We cannot be that presumptuous to infringe on you and your loved ones at this time simply for the sake of a news " scoop" . . .

So, if you readers want to sharpen your pencils and again write your thoughts to these men, we'd be most happy to serve as the coordination center for all cards and letters.

As a matter of fact, in Sunday's column we touched on all those who had previously written to Cmr. Jerry Coffee. Today, we can add a couple more to that list . . . the second graders at Lake Mary Elementary School; another bracelet from Buckingham, W. Virginia; and a personal letter from the United States Senate from Edward J. Gurney. Thank you all for writing.

Perhaps the one which tickled us most came from Washington, D.C., and on the envelope it read... "The Great Cmr. Gerald L. Coffee - Welcome Home! It's a fantastic feeling to know you are here."

Trying right up to the last minute... even with a call to Governor Askew's office hoping that he'd be in a position to tell us exactly how much money this county will be receiving to help alleviate the school building problem.

There's a total of $47,200,000 in the state school financing fund, plus another $54,500,000 from Federal Revenue Sharing... or, a little over $101 million dollars.

Seminole certainly is going to be represented in this windfall.

In view of the fact that voters in various sections of the nation have emphatically turned down requests for school bonds and have in effect said to school authorities "Make better use of the millions you already have at your disposal," who can blame our local officials from using the "vote for continuance" technique? In effect they're saying "Vote to tax yourselves, voters; then you can't blame us for the $4 per $1,000 of property assessment." Yeah, why tax yourself??

Gunter: Drug Solution Local

Congressman William (Bill) Gunter, was guest speaker at the open house and dedication Sunday afternoon of the new headquarters of Seminole County Drug Action Committee at 1100 E. First Street, Sanford. He told the group, "When the problems of drug abuse in Seminole County are solved... as they will be... you are the people who will find the solutions. Washington has a role... Tallahassee will help, but here is where it really is."

The keynote address was given by Rev. Dr. Patrick H. O'Neill, OSA, director of the Catholic Newman Center, Rev. Leroy D. Soper, rector of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, gave the invocation, and Sheriff John Polk, a member of the executive advisory board, gave the welcoming address.

The Drug Action Committee developed through the efforts of Tim Bannick, president of the board of directors, after he accepted a challenge given by Prison Chaplain James Bryan at a PTA meeting in April, 1972 for the audience "to do something about the rising drug abuse." Weekly meetings in various areas of county were held to gain community participation and involvement and many concerned citizens volunteered their services.

The purpose of the educational program is to support, reinforce and assist the educational efforts of the county in its goal of minimizing and eliminating the misuse of drugs within our communities.

The main function of the program will be to provide continually updated factual information on drug, pharmacology and exercises of personal decision making.

Other officers of the organization are Bruce Ferrell, vice president; Miss Connie Snyder, secretary; and Mrs. Diana Kunzig, treasurer. Other directors include Joseph Lewis, program director; Mrs. Sylvia Bartz, Donald Schriener, John Moore, Tom McIntosh; Don Kunzig, and Mrs. Bettie Bannick.

On the executive advisory board are Dr. Luis Perez, Judge Dominick Salfi, Judge Wallace Hall, Rev. William and School Supt. Bryan (Bud) Layer.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Shawnee Airlines, Florida's only statewide commuter airline which suspended operations in December, should be back in business by April 1 under a new owner, spokesmen say.

The first service is to be between Orlando, Fort Lauderdale and Freeport, Bahamas, and between Orlando, West Palm Beach and Freeport.

Those turnovers will constitute the third phase of the POW release, leaving one group of about 150 to be freed by March 28, two months after the Jan. 28 start of the ceasefire. March 28 also is the deadline for the withdrawal of all American and other foreign allied forces.

Lori Wilson Warns Of Annexation Halt

By DONNA ESTES
Sen. Lori Wilson warned the cities of Seminole County Saturday night at the hearing of the local legislative delegation she is willing to place a moratorium on all annexation by all incorporated areas of the county.

And, she continued, if 12 months hence no land use plan is adopted for the area and no evidence of cooperation is shown between the county government and the city father with "all horses pulling in the same direction" she will not be opposed to a mandate in that direction. She said if the present course continues "chaos" will develop in this county.

The state senator's remarks were made in answer to the opposition expressed by city officials to the so-called "Mooney bill" to supplement annexation procedures. Winter Springs City Attorney Thomas Freeman was most vigorous in his objections to the county's attempt to amend the legislation to require a wait of 120 days for annexation of parcels after petitions are received.

Molotov Cocktail Robbers Arrested

By GARY TAYLOR
Two Orange County men were arrested early today after allegedly robbing a car and motel by tossing a burning Molotov cocktail and firing several shots at pursuing officers.

Det. Orlando Squires of the Orlando Police Department said one man scooped up the cash drawer and ran to a waiting car, where another man was waiting. The suspect either dropped or threw the gasoline-filled bottle to the fleeing car, which sped off. Although no description of the getaway car was available, Patrolman Larry Mick noted two people in a Camaro west of the highway on Colonial Avenue acting suspiciously and turned around and stopped them at Colonial and Fern creek.

Mick got identification from one man and was reaching for the other man's identification when one of the suspects grabbed his service revolver and pointed it at the patrolman. The two got in the car, and shot was fired at Mick after one of the suspects said "shoot him."

Mick began chasing the subjects, and they reportedly fired three or four shots at the patrol car before the chase ended less than a mile from where it started when the two abandoned their vehicle. When Mick's gun was recovered, five rounds had been fired. Officers responding to the call for assistance arrested the driver immediately, while the second subject was chased down on foot a block away.

Orlando Police identified the two men as Charles Acree, 35, and Jimmy Kelly, 30, both of Orange County. Additional charges have been placed against six men arrested Friday morning when vice agents raided a Casselberry Apartment.

Paul Joseph Wiser, 26, of Bowling Green, Ky.; Jerry M. Berry, 22, of Bowling Green; Gary Allen Simms, 214, of Apartment 28-A Summit Apartments, Casselberry; James Glen Wood, 22, of Apartment 28-A Summit Apartments, Casselberry; David Bradley Parrish, 23, of 1001 Esplanada Way, Casselberry; and Michael Anthony Glenn, 20, of Franklin, Ky., were all charged with possessing marijuana and narcotic paraphernalia Friday. They face an additional charge for possessing barbiturates.

Total bond is now $9,000. Orlando Police Scott, 17, of 312 Observatory Boulevard, Orlando, was arrested by Lt. Ed Standley for possessing marijuana and a minor. Bond was set at $600.

exorbitant interest to be paid. The report then enumerates the amount of $11,090,872, and it is proposed that these proceeds be used for the air conditioning of 12 schools, ($1,478,264), the construction of seven new schools, ($9,600,000), and the renovation and maintenance of the older schools in the district, all within the next two year period. All older schools will be brought up to good repair, and the older schools will be given priority for maintenance and renovations based on health, safety and educational standards.

The reasons for the new construction sites are set out. The locations of all new schools are approved by and approved by the 1970 State Survey of building needs.

Schools must be where the student enrollment warrants them. There are factors related to the educational, financial and emotional elements that need time for clarification. There is also an apparent lack of unanimity on the Board of Education as to proper courses of action in certain areas.

An important educational element is the present — and continuing increase in the school census. School authorities are painfully aware of this because upon their facilities more economically, the operating costs for three extra months should be compared with the cost of building and other earned Capital Outlay Funds, Seminole County could have approximately $11,090,872 for building and renovation purposes.

By approving the retention of the 4 mills voters would have more control over how their money was being spent. Unless the board uses the money wisely and in an acceptable manner, the voters can cut it off in the next millage referendum.

With a bond, since it is voted in, the voters have no control at all—the full amount is in the hands of the board to use as it sees fit.

It is also important to consider the fact that the millage is a cash vote, a dollar tax for a dollar building. There is no

On Dogs, Refuse Cities To Meet With County

By MARION BETHIA
Area municipalities figure prominently in Tuesday's discussion of the County Commission, being involved from canines to refuse.

During the work session, which begins at 9 a.m., a discussion will be held among the representatives of area cities and the county road superintendent relative to the charge to cities for use of the county landfill at Osceola. Commissioner Greg Drummond has suggested it possible the county could offer a reduced rate to cities for the use of Osceola, pointing out the county is the recipient of state funding for the landfill which the cities do not receive. The issue was precipitated by complaints the City of Longwood is burning trash at the landfill. The commission will consider the issue of stray canines following a report by Drummond relative to the dog control program. The county has proposed assuming control of the county's stray dogs, which has

Frequent Complaints Radio Bid Considered

By MARION BETHIA
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—Two innovations in the city will be considered by City Council at Tuesday's 4:30 p.m. meeting. First upon the agenda is a bid for the fire department.

Presently the fire department operates on a utility frequency, and it wishes to depart from this to handle emergency frequencies. Zoning Director Bud Gemeinhart will propose council enact a dredging ordinance for the city. The city does not have such an ordinance and often receives complaints concerning the destruction of various lakes.

A policy governing use of the community house will be considered by council. Councilman Helen Keyser has proposed there be no more advance reservations for use that all be on a weekly basis with a $25 refundable fee charged for use. Also suggested is that all requests for use of the building be handled through the city clerk's office, who will keep a running log of applicants.

'75 Population Survey Slated

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau is ready to push ahead in 1973 with the nation's first mid-decade sample survey of the population. Congress votes the money to pay for it. Census officials said plans call for surveying about one million households, or about 1.5 percent of the population, to find out how the nation changed socially and economically since the 1970 census.

The Nixon administration's fiscal 1974 budget seeks $6 million to get the process going, and the total cost of the sample survey is estimated at $45 million. The 1970 census cost $220 million. If it comes off as expected, it will be a much-needed updating of economic and social statistics used by governments at all levels, businesses, labor unions, and other segments of the population, Census officials said.

But it would be different from a full-scale census. The bureau said an estimated 15,000 representatives would seek information from each family questioned. During a complete census, most people fill out a short form seeking only basic data. In addition, said Deputy Director Robert Hagan, "We would not contemplate making it a mandatory sample survey." During a full population count, persons who refuse to provide the information to the bureau risk prosecution.

$49,217 Price Set City Opening Bids

By BOB LLOYD
Sanford City Commissioners are scheduled to open bids at their regular 7 p.m. meeting tonight at City Hall on a city-owned lakefront lot and the proposed new police headquarters-security complex.

In February, when calling for bids on the lot on Seminole Boulevard just west of S.W. 4th, the Standard Oil tank farm commissioners set minimum price for the city property at $49,217. Bidders will be required to show plans for development of the lot, construction starting date and approximate valuation of the proposed improvements.

Dollar amount of the bids on the police complex may determine relocation of the project from West 26th Street between Hartwell and Marshall Avenues to the Sanford Airport near the Airport Boulevard Gate.

Last week commissioners were jolted when site preparation bids for the West 25th Street site came in as much as 20 percent higher than estimates. Several commissioners have expressed interest in a move to the airport spot once offered as

Oviedo Student Gets Nomination

By LIZ MATHIEUX
OVIEDO — Nellie Baker, Oviedo High School 11th grader, has been selected for the Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition (STAR) Award, sponsored each year by the Florida State Chamber of Commerce Education Foundation.

The STAR program is designed to recognize junior year high school students who exhibit respect for the free enterprise system. Similar awards are given to teachers, who in the opinion of these outstanding students inspired and contributed to their achievements. Recipients are selected during February by their principals and guidance counselors.

A special committee within each congressional district will review resumes and interview each student to determine the district STAR winner, and a state winner will be chosen from the district winners, and will name the State STAR teacher.

District STAR students and teachers will be honored by district committees and at the annual state banquet. To become a STAR student, a candidate must possess an exemplary attitude toward the business community, engage in extracurricular activities, both in school and the community, hold positions of leadership and maintain grade point average.

In addition, each student must submit a short statement on career and educational objectives and his or her opinion of the free enterprise system.

Israel Claims Secret Meetings With Arabs

TEL AVIV (AP) — A high-ranking member of Premier Golda Meir's Labor party says Israel is holding regular secret talks with leaders of the Arab world.

The statement by Yitzhak Ben-Aharon, secretary-general of the giant Histadrut Labor Federation, followed earlier reports of meetings between Deputy Premier Yigal Alon and King Hussein of Jordan. The government has denied the reports.

Ben-Aharon was quoted today as saying: "There is no doubt that exploratory talks are going on all the time." He called on the government to clarify its "political path" regarding the talks.

In Cairo, meanwhile, an official Egyptian spokesman described as "absolutely untrue" a statement by U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers that Egypt, Israel and Jordan expressed the desire to negotiate a settlement. He accused Rogers of "attempting to plant suspicion between the Arab states."

Foreign Minister Abba Eban scoffed at Ben-Aharon's statement and said: "I wish he would show me a list of these meetings."

Dear Abby

Making her an offer she ought to refuse

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Greg and I have been married for six years (no children) and I thought we were getting along rather well when suddenly, after a trivial argument, he walked out and didn't come home that night. I was frantic. The next day I called him at work and his receptionist said he was busy and would call me back. He never called. And he didn't come home that night either. I phoned his office again and got the same treatment.

Finally I went to his office and waited for him outside. He said he was fed up with married life and was coming for his clothes that night, which he would bring me if I agreed to let him come and go with no questions asked. Also, if he felt like taking me somewhere he would, but I want to ask HIM. Finally, he didn't want to see my face around his place of business.

I have seen a priest and a lawyer. They both said I should either accept Greg on his terms, or let him go. I am 35 but people say I look 25. He's 27. What do you think?

DEAR BEWILDERED: I think your husband's terms are absurd. If I were you I'd say, "bye bye" while I still "looked 25."

DEAR ABBY: I am a school teacher with a serious bronchial condition. The doctor told me I should not even be where others are smoking. Well, I put a sign up in my apartment reading "Thanks for not smoking."

Everyone who has come to visit me has respected that request, and I really appreciated it. Last week I had a few guests who had never visited before. When one of them saw the sign, she said, "That's a nice sign staying here and not smoking. Give me an ashtray!"

When I told her I didn't have any ashtrays she asked for a dish. I refused. I served coffee, and she and the other smoked cigarettes.

Abby, I couldn't believe it. I didn't want to hurt them, but I hurt myself. That night I couldn't sleep, and the next day I couldn't use my voice to speak to my students.

So what can I do about rude, inconsiderate people who smoke regardless? INSULTED IN SOUTHERN BRIDGE

DEAR INSULTED: You can tell them [not me] that you cannot tolerate smoke, so they will have to make a choice between your company and their cigarettes. But say it like you mean it!

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 6790, L. A., Calif. 90028. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Plan how to handle those business matters wisely so you add to present income, then invite congenials to a party in p.m. Make your home more attractive in some way. You may do too hastily now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make those new arrangements during a.m. and improve routines and relationships with associates, who react the p.m. for hobbies like you. Communications are fine in the afternoon. Cut down on expenses.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Getting an early start on financial affairs and getting to achieve a great deal that pleases you. Daytime favors the business world, personal relations, or outside activity, while the evening is for romance and the lighter side of life, such as entertaining, games, sports and other recreations.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have not been able to get some new ideas rolling well, but now can do so and in a different fashion that will prove more successful. Those of different background from yours can be most helpful now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get busy with trading and government matters that have been impossible to handle before. Evening is best time to make those new arrangements with male. Stay on the good and bright side of life.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Sit down in a friendly and serene atmosphere, who react the p.m. for hobbies like you. Make new arrangements that will prove more successful. Get into that civic work that brings you more goodwill and fame. Think sagaciously.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have many tasks to perform and this can prove to be a day of real accomplishment. First coordinate your efforts better with fellow workers and avoid running into snags. Relax tonight as you see fit.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Your happiness comes from being with those people you like, doing the things that please you, so get an early start on each. Get that talent working so you become more successful at it. Don't lose your temper with anyone.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those dynamic and warm young people whose sense of the romantic is very pronounced who will attract the opposite sex very easily. Make sure you give good ethical training early and screen the playmates so your child does not go off the track, and then there can be much success and happiness in life.

DEAR ABBY: Greg and I have been married for six years (no children) and I thought we were getting along rather well when suddenly, after a trivial argument, he walked out and didn't come home that night. I was frantic. The next day I called him at work and his receptionist said he was busy and would call me back. He never called. And he didn't come home that night either. I phoned his office again and got the same treatment.

Finally I went to his office and waited for him outside. He said he was fed up with married life and was coming for his clothes that night, which he would bring me if I agreed to let him come and go with no questions asked. Also, if he felt like taking me somewhere he would, but I want to ask HIM. Finally, he didn't want to see my face around his place of business.

I have seen a priest and a lawyer. They both said I should either accept Greg on his terms, or let him go. I am 35 but people say I look 25. He's 27. What do you think?

DEAR BEWILDERED: I think your husband's terms are absurd. If I were you I'd say, "bye bye" while I still "looked 25."

DEAR ABBY: I am a school teacher with a serious bronchial condition. The doctor told me I should not even be where others are smoking. Well, I put a sign up in my apartment reading "Thanks for not smoking."

Everyone who has come to visit me has respected that request, and I really appreciated it. Last week I had a few guests who had never visited before. When one of them saw the sign, she said, "That's a nice sign staying here and not smoking. Give me an ashtray!"

When I told her I didn't have any ashtrays she asked for a dish. I refused. I served coffee, and she and the other smoked cigarettes.

Abby, I couldn't believe it. I didn't want to hurt them, but I hurt myself. That night I couldn't sleep, and the next day I couldn't use my voice to speak to my students.

So what can I do about rude, inconsiderate people who smoke regardless? INSULTED IN SOUTHERN BRIDGE

DEAR INSULTED: You can tell them [not me] that you cannot tolerate smoke, so they will have to make a choice between your company and their cigarettes. But say it like you mean it!

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 6790, L. A., Calif. 90028. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

The 'Real Me' Is A Changing Thing

By BETTY CANARY

You know how it goes. When a group of women talk about the future, sooner or later, we're talking about the "Real Me."

We refer to the Real Me as if there is someone quite unlike us, a different person entirely, lurking about somewhere inside our left temple.

We imply that she is in there, constant, quietly waiting to break out.

It's as if the Real Me never changes, but was born fully developed one day long ago and is ready to fulfill its destiny.

Just a bit frightening, isn't it? If the Real Me isn't a constantly changing, ever-forming part of me, then, what is she—when was she formed?

If she came into being when I was three years old, then I don't want her out here fulfilling dreams I'd end up knee-deep in jump ropes, red tricycles and doll dishes—because that's the stuff a toddler's dreams are made of.

If the Real Me was formed when I was 15 and hasn't changed since, then I hope she doesn't come out because I'm in no mood for jittersburging this evening.

It's better by far to believe that the Real Me changes even as the outer me has changed through the years. That she is some mystical unknown spirit inside but a living growing part of the outer me—not irrevocably fixed, but in process of being.

The wigs have an every-hair-in-place look that provides easy home care. In the past you often had to know a hairdresser well to get him to style your wig. Big news for spring is short wigs, most agreed, and some wig people saw it as a coup in getting women to wear short wig styles they were about to do what hairdressers had been unable to do. In fact it was pointed out "New York models are all being photographed in short wigs, but their hair underneath is long and straight."

Some people thought the short hair might work to the hairdresser's advantage. What if women like their short wig so much they decide to cut their own hair short, Sylvia was asked. She said she had prepared models for the fashion show.

They will want to acquire many more short styles to wear in different occasions. Wigs are a convenience that women are using now, especially with the new invisible hairline, 28 color shades and built-in styling, she said of her designs. Sylvia was wearing a roaring 36 blonde wig that she expects will have the biggest impact this spring, and she pointed out that new wigs are being cut and shaped in ways that can provide a new look for a woman each time one is worn, if that is her aim.

There are Italian boy cuts, 1800s town and country style with flipped ends, as well as the Lady Godiva-to-the-shoulders or to-the-waist styles flowing from a braided cone or hanging straight, shaggy or deeply waved.

In the show, "Many Faces of Women," television's Julia Meade commented that the short blonde wig she was wearing "is a whole new me." Color makes a big difference. She normally wears red wigs, but not quite so short, she commented. A dark brown wig provided a new look for blondish model, Cathy Lindsey, daughter of New York's mayor.

"Many wig people have been dropping about this year's market," said Schafer, who is one of the first to enter the wig business 12 years ago. Last year the market dropped 40 per cent from its 1970 high.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

8-9 CBS GUNSMOKE (Horn) Matt Dillon starts out in prison in the West. Dillon arrives in time to promise the dying old man he'll take the boy to the mother who abandoned him eight years earlier. Dillon traces the mother to an abandoned mine town, then learns along the trail that she has died. Dillon, Jerry, Steve and Johnnie Whitaker are featured.

8-9 ABC THE UNDERSEA WORLD OF JACQUES COUSTEAU "The Singing Whale" The network goes all-special tonight presenting its regular programming in the curtain-raiser, Cousteau focuses on the life style of humpback whales around the world. The whales in the West Indies. Specifically the crew follows the "singing whales" (their means of communication is a series of whistles) as they migrate from the north polar region to the southern hemisphere, where they breed and raise young whales. Special effects microfilm presenting the regular programming in the curtain-raiser, Cousteau

8-9-30 NET SPECIAL OF THE WEEK "The Advocates: Should the U.S. Exploit Its Oil and Coal Resources on a Crash Basis to Meet the Energy Crisis?" The energy crisis has been very much in the news lately, with threats of rationing. This special 36-minute segment explores the problem, its cause and effect, and whether it's real or not.

9-30 CBS HERE'S LUCY (Horn) This was one of the more memorable moments on television, not so much for its content and dramatic appeal, but mainly because it guest-starred Richard and Elizabeth Taylor. Richard shows up as a plumber (trying to sneak out of the hotel incognito) and runs into Lucy, who desperately needs a plumber. That rag of nomination. The behind-the-scenes maneuvering is especially compelling. The all-star cast turns in magnificent performances. It includes Henry Fonda and Cliff Robertson as top candidates, and Lee Tracy as the ex-president with strong influence. Best of this genre.

9-31 NBC NBC MONDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES "The Best Man" An engaging drama set against the intrigue and excitement of a national political convention as leading contenders go after the nomination. The behind-the-scenes maneuvering is especially compelling. The all-star cast turns in magnificent performances. It includes Henry Fonda and Cliff Robertson as top candidates, and Lee Tracy as the ex-president with strong influence. Best of this genre.

9-31 ABC "OLD FAITHFUL" Special No. 2 is a musical comedy set against the background — and on location — of Yellowstone Park, and stars Zero Mostel, with assistance from Burgess Meredith, Jill St. John, Jason Robards, Bobby Sherman, Jaye Heiberger and Sammy Davis. Everybody's joining, integrating the music into a thin — but pleasant — plot about two old pros, Flanders (Mostel and Meredith) who are under orders to attract a record attendance for a certain weekend, and so the stars are recruited.

10-11 ABC MAKING GOOD IN AMERICA A news special with the all-special kind. Preceded by ABC News, it examines the values set in America for "making good." Howard K. Smith narrates. It is Smith's initial opinion — excited about the first novel he ever wrote. He just finished it.

"I loved writing it," he says. "It was a great experience. I hope I can get it published. And I think it would make a great movie, even though there's no part in it for me."

Something else about Cord which is unusual is his marriage. He and his wife, Joanna Fettel, have a theory about marriage which is, at least, different.

"I think that being apart as much as they are together is a good thing. As Alex says he is 'hopelessly in love' with Joanna but feels that he also needs an equal amount of time by himself.

"I value my privacy," he says. "I don't like to be tied down."

If "Genesis II" has anything of Star Trek's class he has on the threat of something good. It's a story of a scientist of today who is caught underground while working on suspended animation. When he's rescued he finds it is 185 years later and he's in a world wrecked by nuclear wars.

Although Cord has never before been in a movie, he thinks the series has possibilities.

"There's so much interest in science fiction today," he says. "Look how our world has advanced in my own life.

10-11 CBS THE NEW BILL COSBY SHOW Mark Spitz and another former star athlete, Royce Grier, join those fabulous performers, Ike and Tina Turner as Cosby's guests tonight. Among his acting assignments tonight Spitz takes lessons from coach Cosby on how to be an athlete in good shape and a swinger in better shape.

Easy Care Wigs Have A Memory

By VIVIAN BROWN

New fashion wigs for spring "almost have a memory because of the great new fibers used," observed Rowland Schafer as he watched a fashion show of his new wigs that had been designed by his wife Sylvia.

The wigs have an every-hair-in-place look that provides easy home care. In the past you often had to know a hairdresser well to get him to style your wig. Big news for spring is short wigs, most agreed, and some wig people saw it as a coup in getting women to wear short wig styles they were about to do what hairdressers had been unable to do. GAO Probe Based On Spy Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Committee for the Re-election of the President is facing an investigation by the General Accounting Office over indications that it failed to report payments to a student who says he was hired as a spy.

Today's Washington Post reported that Philip S. Hughes, director of GAO's Federal Election Office, will investigate the payments to Theodore F. Brill, 26, a George Washington University student who said he was hired as a Nixon committee spy.

The Post also said that former Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans will be questioned as part of the investigation. Stans left his cabinet post to head Nixon's fundraising campaign.

Brill is chairman of the university's Young Republican organization. Friday he disclosed that he had been paid $138 a week for five weeks to spy on radical groups for the Nixon committee.

Confidant Promises Hanoi Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A confidant Secretary of State, William P. Rogers, says Congress will approve U.S. aid to rebel warlords, North Vietnam and other Southeast Asian nations.

Rogers issued this assessment Sunday on CBS' "Face the Nation," but said that specifics of the aid program would not be proposed for another 40 days.

He also supported the continuation of "most-favored-nation" status for the Soviet Union's trade relations with the United States, and repeated his belief that the Palestinian terrorists who murdered two American diplomats in the Sudan should be executed.

"The civilized community cannot put up with this," Rogers said about the killings. He described the Palestinian terrorists as "savages."

Floating Las Vegas Off Florida?

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A St. Petersburg businessman intends to turn a mysterious ship anchored 25 miles off here in the Gulf of Mexico into "The Vegas of the Sea."

Pasquale or Pasquale, who says he owns a restaurant and bar in this Gulf Coast city, said the ship would be filled with roulette, poker and dice games and be one of the biggest gambling casinos in the northern hemisphere.

"There'll be dining and dancing," said Pasquale, "and floor shows from New York and Las Vegas. And a few entertainers. They're already set up."

He said lawyers are checking out the law to see if such an operation would be allowed. The boat would operate beyond the 12-mile territorial limit, he said.

The 430-foot long, red-and-green trim boat could accommodate 2,000 people, he said.

"It's not a hoax," said Pasquale. "It's a working man with seven beautiful children who's doing something I've always wanted to do."

Pasquale, whose nickname is "Blackie," said the transformation is being financed by local people.

"There are no racketeers involved in this," he said. "We're running this ship according to the law."

The St. Petersburg Times reported the ship was not registered to him after checking some Coast Guard records. But Pasquale said in an interview it didn't have to be registered to him for him to own it.

Peron Man Faces Argentine Runoff

By WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON, Associated Press Writer
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Juan Peron's candidate for president, Hector J. Campora, ran first as expected in the balloting Sunday to end seven years of military rule. But it appeared certain that he would have to face Ricardo Balbin of the Radical Civic Union in a runoff within a month.

Campora, a 55-year-old dentist turned politician, had received 1,011,273 votes, or 46 percent, with nearly half the 55,569 precincts reported. Balbin, 62, was far behind in second place with 802,217 votes, or 22 percent.

Peron's personal representative in Argentina while the 77-year-old former dictator lives in Madrid, Peron was ousted in 1955 after ruling Argentina almost 10 years.

During the campaign, Campora made no secret of who would be in charge should he be elected. "Campora to government, Peron to Power" was his campaign slogan. He said he would be in charge should he be elected. "Campora to government, Peron to Power" was his campaign slogan. He said he would be in charge should he be elected.

Peron was allowed to return briefly to Argentina last November. His followers, particularly among the working class still love him for his populist policies that favored the "deserted," the shirtless ones.

Election day was relatively tranquil as more than 200,000 troops kept watch.

Light that saves HEMPHSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — A radio-controlled "life light" developed by the Design Controls Co. here has been presented to British health authorities as a simple way for the ill and incapacitated, living alone, to signal for help when they require medical care.

Living in cottages in outlying areas of England, many such people have died because they were too weak to call or bring attention to their distress.

The new device is composed of a strobe light and a two-way radio transmitter which can be worn by the patient. The light is placed in the window of the patient's home. If he needs medical help, he pushes a button, which emits a brilliant signal.

"There'll be dining and dancing," said Pasquale, "and floor shows from New York and Las Vegas. And a few entertainers. They're already set up."

Entrance Into New Navy Means 'Beating The Odds'

By FRED S. HOFFMAN, AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — To get into the Navy these days, a recruit has to beat the odds. The Navy recently began requiring its recruits to use something called "Odds For Effectiveness" (OFE) tables to help judge whether a young man would make a good sailor.

Passing score is at least 69 on a scale of 100, computed from such factors as the candidate's school background, mental-test results, and police record, if any.

This approach is part of the Navy's efforts to upgrade the quality of men in its ranks, and has been spurred by a series of shipboard disorders and by congressional allegations that the Navy has been lax in discipline.

Meanwhile, the Navy has extended insistently a special program under which it already has weeded out nearly 5,500 troublemakers and "marginal or nonproductive performers."

The "Odds For Effectiveness" scoring is based on six years of research with about 11,000 enlistees.

"The OFE scores are the chances in 100 that an applicant, if enlisted, will render effective service—that is, complete enlistment and be recommended for re-enlistment," the Navy said.

The formula for calculating a man's score weighs (1) the number of school years he has finished, (2) any suspensions or expulsions from school, (3) his marks in the Navy's standard mental tests, and (4) any non-traffic arrests.

For example, if a man receives 135 out of a possible 220 on his entrance exam, has graduated from high school, was never suspended or expelled from class and had a clean police record, he would be graded as having 80 chances in 100 of becoming an effective sailor.

But if this man, with his entrance-test score of 135, had been suspended from school twice and arrested once, his OFE score would be 71, barely passing. And if he had been arrested twice, his score would be reduced to a below-acceptable 63.

Navy officials said a man who scores lower than the minimum 69 can still be accepted into the Navy, but only if the recruiter's commanding officer or some higher authority grants a written waiver after a re-evaluation.

While the OFE scoring is a critical hurdle, it is not the only one. A would-be sailor also must pass the personal assessment of the recruiter who considers what the Navy refers to as the "whole man."

And after the recruit reaches boot camp, the Navy puts him through additional screening, testing and a possible check for security clearances.

Golf Prophets

"Wait till I get to Florida," said Lee Trevino. "That's when my game starts to get in shape."

And the "Merry Men" has proven to be quite a prophet, as well as a great golfer, for a quick scan of his scores shows that in his first 12 rounds in three Florida based tournaments the popular Mexican has not been over par.

He opened with three straight rounds of 69 in the Jackie Gleason Inverrary Classic and closed with an even par 72, winning the $52,000 top prize. Then came the Citrus Open and he fired rounds of 71-67-69-71 but that was only good enough for a 2-8 playoff and a tie for 13th.

At the outset of the Doral-Eastern Open he fired a course record tying 64 and then came back with a "meager" 70 on Friday and closed with one under par 71's on the final two days.

His winnings in the Doral Eastern bring his total Florida "earnings" to a nice $84,000.

Allin Matches Leo During his first dozen rounds in three Florida tournaments Trevino has averaged 69.4 strokes per round. That total is equalled by the Citrus Open victory, Buddy Allen, who like Trevino, has not been over par in any of his last 12 rounds, all in Florida.

Allen had a string of nine straight sub-par rounds going for him when he bogeyed the final hole in the Doral event Sunday evening. His total strokes over the last 12 rounds is exactly that of Trevino, 833.

The former Viet Nam veteran proved a prophet of sorts himself when he predicted a victory in the Citrus Open. Of course, he did not tell the world (especially his peers) at the outset of the Citrus, but merely mentioned it to his caddy on the car ride from the Gleason Inverrary to the Citrus in Orlando.

Watch The Jones' Boy Another of the super sub-par shooters in the past month or so has been Grier Jones, the fellow who fired a 63 in the Citrus Pro-Am to top low pro honors.

Jones has been over par but only in his last 18 rounds. In his last four tournaments he is averaging a micro shade over 70 strokes per round.

During those last four tournaments he did not compete in the Doral Jones best finish was a four-way tie for second in the Andy Williams San Diego Open but he has won $26,586 in that period.

Follows To Beat Thus, it looks as if Trevino, Allin, Jones and the second leading money winner on the tour, Bruce Crampton will be the fellows to contend with in the remaining Florida Stops, the Greater Jacksonville Open this weekend and the Monsanto Open at Pensacola, April 12-15.

The great start by Crampton, who was just replaced as the top money winner of 1973, lends us to pick him to capture the coveted Masters title come April 8. He was a high finisher in a recent event, won by Jack Nicklaus.

Trevino can not prepare himself, mentally, for the Masters. Although he played in the tourney last year, the Merry Men has stated on numerous occasions that the Augusta National course is not "his kind of golf course."

Trevino, now winter of two tournaments in three weeks, blew a four-stroke lead before staging a dramatic rally for a one-stroke victory over Bruce Crampton and Tom Weiskopf in the Doral-Eastern Open Golf Tournament Sunday.

The $30,000 first prize boosted Trevino's money winnings to $98,543 and vaulted him into the No. 1 money-winning spot this year, ahead of Crampton, the leader since he took consecutive titles at Phoenix and Tucson early this season.

"Yeah, I'm the leading money winner," Trevino agreed, "but I'm taking two weeks off, and I won't be when I get back."

Crampton, an Australian veteran enjoying the best season of his 17-year career on the American tour, agreed, "I'm confident I'll get it back," he said.

He came very close to retaining it. Trevino finished with a 276 total, 2-under-par on the 7,065-yard Blue Monster course at the Doral County Club.

Pitching Dominates Seminole, Broward 'Share' Twinbill

By RICHARD HERRALD Sports Writer
PITCHING dominated the Seminole Junior College-Broward Community College doubleheader battle Saturday at Five Points, as the Raiders split the twin-bill with the pre-season number one team in the state.

The Raiders had to go 12 innings in the scheduled seven game opener to pull out a win, 2-1, but a fourth inning three-run bulge by the Broward pitching staff was the key. Starting pitcher Sam Swanger will also be out to improve on his undefeated mark, 3-0 and leads a fine Seminole pitching staff. Swanger has recorded 13 strike outs in 20 innings and given up only one earned run for a low 0.45 ERA.

"I was very pleased about pitching this weekend against the number one team in the state," Raider Head Coach Jay Bergman said.

"Some people say that pitching still dominated the game, and it was true for us against Broward. It was a good defensive game and a good pitching game," he added.

The Raiders mustered only three hits in their opening marathon with the state powerhouse, who were able to get just five hits in the contest. Starting Seminole pitcher, Frank Cacciatore, the regular Raider center fielder, went eight innings in his mound debut before giving way to three subsequent relievers with Mike Pulling taking the win after going in at the 10th inning marker. Mitch Meyer and Sam Swanger had firmament stints in the eighth to shut off possible Broward threats.

Seminole took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the fifth, but was tied in the next go-around and the score remained knotted until the bottom of the 12th inning when Paul Russo singled Mel Grattis in for the winning run.

In the fifth frame, Raider shortstop Terry Jones reached first via a walk and advanced on Jack Pylkowsky's at-tempted sacrifice bunt that overthrown by a passer catcher, Spooner, at first base. Kerr advanced Ingram on a sacrifice bunt and Russo's single to left scored the Raider runner.

SIC opened up with a run in the bottom of the second and it looked as if the local nine had a double win over the highly rated Broward bunch until three runs crossed in the top of the sixth on three singles, two walks and a wild pitch.

By to rightfield and Brentley's Bebout, who moved to right after his pitching duties had ended, fired a perfect "sinker" back to first doubling the runner off. Storey then got the final Oviedo hitter, Daniel Ferguson, to pop up to short.

The Patriots appear at Trinity Prep today at 4 p.m.

Oviedo's Phil Colbert with into extra innings.

In the top of the eighth, the Lions broke the tie when Colbert was hit by a pitch, Jimmy Meeks was safe on a throwing error by the Brantley catcher that sent runners to second and third. Steve Haynes singled to drive in the go-ahead run.

Brantley showed a great deal of poise coming back in their half of the eighth. After one out, Ryan reached on a walk. A throwing error by Merchant on a bunt allowed Ryan to score all the way from first. Then an errant throw by Davis in an attempt to cut down a Brantley runner at third went into left field and Gibbs easily scored the winning run. And that was it as Brantley won the game by the score of 5-4.

For the Patriots it was their second win of the season. Then an errant throw by Davis in an attempt to cut down a Brantley runner at third went into left field and Gibbs easily scored the winning run. And that was it as Brantley won the game by the score of 5-4.

Storey relieved Pearce in the eighth with one run in, men on second and third and no outs on the field. He struck out Louie Tulp both at the bat and on strikeouts sending the game with Weiskopf for second at 277, left 10 men straggled. Trevino Weiskopf led a 30-foot birdie putt on the hole for a 67.

Paul Johnston and Rod Curly, a pair of non-winning tour regulars, tied for fourth at 290, with 10 men behind. Trevino and another shot back at 281. Hill and Heard each got to within one stroke of Trevino at one stage of the final round before folding.

Jack Nicklaus, the 1972 champion and the pre-tourney favorite, never was in contention. He had a final round 69 for 285 and a 10-rod 169 to place his record finish in the year.

unanimous selection to the AA all-tourney team. His Melbourne Central Catholic teammate, Mike Smith, also made it along with Doby Henry Baker, Everett Brown, Ed Hawthorne and Greg Watson of Clermont.

Frank Fink of Melbourne Central Catholic and Bo Jackson of Baker barely missed all-tourney honors.

Tallahassee FAMU High's second star, Gerald Hinson, led selectors to the Class A all-tourney team. He was a unanimous choice. His teammate on the champion team, Ralph Givins, was also selected along with Evelio Gonzalez of Coral Gables, Deerborne, Elijah Faunale of Bunnell and Lonnie Ray Hicks of Ponce de Leon.

FAMU was easily the class of the smallest school teams, polishing off Deerborne 76-65 in the title game.

Other selections were Gary Parsons of Winter Park and Dan Farrington of Miami Norland.

Stuart of Martin County became Class AAAA champ for the second straight year by edging St. Petersburg Bishop Barry 40-40 and had two unanimous all-tourney selections. Arthur Kitchen, who hit the winning basket from 20 feet, with two seconds to play, and 6-foot-3 Lem Johnson, were unanimous picks and Denny Davis of Stuart also was chosen.

Dan Lyons and Earl Caruthers of runner-up Barry found out the all-tourney five.

ninth, respectively, both on Kawasaki cycles. Gary Nixon was 10th on another Yamaha as 16-21 finishers were all Yamahas.

Karmakers drove his Yamaha to a victory in the first 46-minute heats, and then matched that performance with a second place finish in the second heat, giving him the Open Class win.

Mike Hunyard, driving a CZ, was second in the first heat and third in the second 46-minute battle, for second place overall in that class. One of the pre-race favorites, Brad Lacey of Pinole, Calif. riding a Kawasaki, had some bad breaks in the first heat, finishing seventh, but then came back with a victory in the second heat to give him third place overall.

Merger CC won a 51-50 decision in the Region 19 final, downing perennial powerhouse Robert Morris of Pittsburgh, Pa. Defending JuCo Champ Returns To Kansas

HUTCHINSON, Kan. — The defending National Junior College cage champion will be among the 16 teams vying for the 1973 NJCAA title but the number one ranked team this past season is not in the field.

Vincennes Junior College of Vincennes, Ind. brings a 26-3 record to Hutchinson, seeking its second straight national title. Vincennes earned a berth in the tourney by winning the Region 12 title with a 76-72 decision over Genesee CC of Flint, Mich.

Olney Central Junior College of Olney, Ill. pulled off the upset of the season when they defeated Wright College of Chicago. Wright finished with a 22-2 record. Olney came into the tourney with a 26-4 chart.

Two other games are set for Tuesday, both are lower bracket contests. Dixie College of St. George, Utah with its 25-3 record meets the giant killer, Olney Central. The other game, which ends the first days action, finds Biene JC of Oklahoma 25-5, meeting Paducah JC of Paducah, Kentucky, 24-7 on the year.

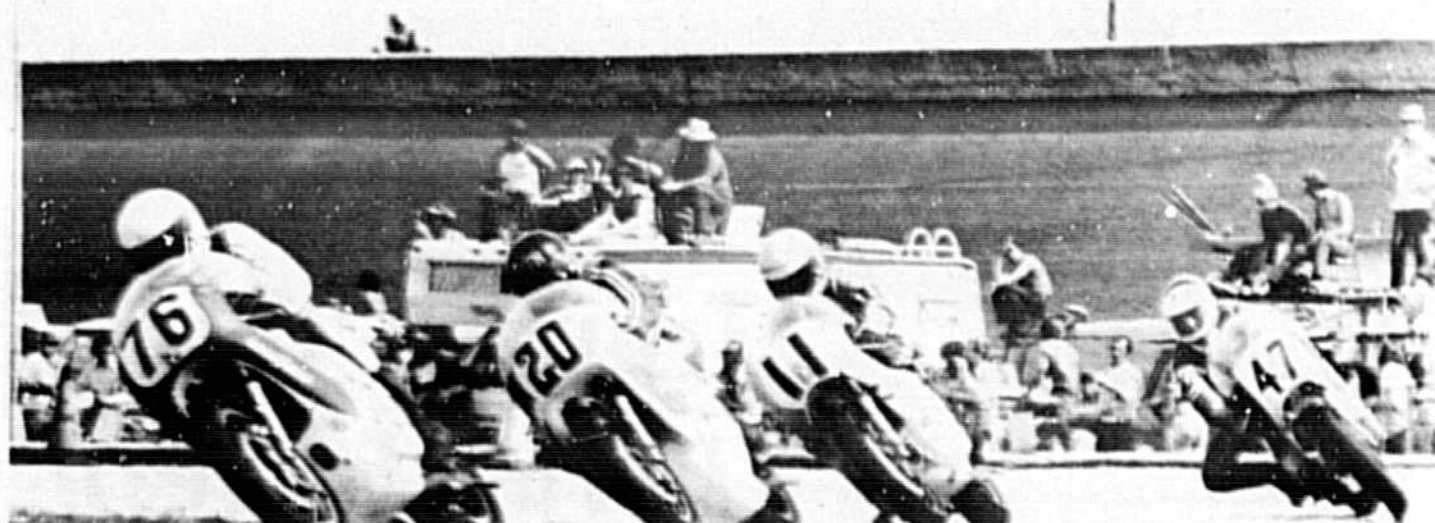

Florida's representative, Brevard Community College plays the final first round game, meeting North Greenville JC of Tugerville, South Carolina, which has a 25-6 mark. Brevard is 22-2.

Over Columbia

FTU 'Closes' With Win

Florida Tech's Knights won the "big one" after losing their Sunday afternoon opener in a doubleheader played by Doug Holmgren's charges.

Early Sunday the Knights were in Dade City and lost a 4-2 decision to St. Leo's. The FTU hurlers gave up a total of 23 bases on hits, leading to the Knights' downfall.

Then upon returning to Orlando's Tinker Field the Knights got a brilliant 17-strikeout effort from pitching ace Pete MacLaughlin as they routed Columbia University, 7-3.

In this game it was the Knights who received the charity as the Columbia nine committed no less than nine playing errors. Leading the Knights at the plate in this outing was Jim Horvath with two hits in five at bats.

Former layman Hugh Star Dan Radovic and ex-Seminole Junior College ace Dick Ferrell helped the Knights to a doubleheader victory over Florida Institute of Technology on Saturday afternoon at Tinker Field.

Radovic was credited with the opening victory as he worked three innings of relief in the Knights' 5-3 win. Although he gave up two runs in the fifth when he relieved starter Dave Freyer, Radovic blanketed the Engineers over the final two frames.

FTU led 5-4 with a pair of runs in the first then came back with three more runs in their half of the fifth. Ferrell was the hitting star with two hits in three trips and two runs scored. Ron Bertr had two rbs and went one for two.

In Saturday's second game Dave Ferrell blanketed the Engineers on a nifty two-hitter. The lone trouble Perth encountered all day was a leadoff double by Tom Plunkert, in the final inning. But the FTU ace retired the next three batters in order, preserving the shutout and victory.

Neither team really displayed much of a hitting game. In the two games FTU was held to six hits while the Knights had only eight.

Season Opener March 24

Oviedo LL Releases Rosters

The Oviedo Little League has announced the Major League rosters and practice schedule for the 1973 season. The league will again have four teams comprised of the Cardinals, Twins, Orioles and Pirates. The Twins are the defending league champions.

Practice Schedule

PRACTICE SCHEDULE
Monday, March 12
Tuesday, March 13
Wednesday, March 14
Thursday, March 15
Friday, March 16
Saturday, March 17

Returning for the Twins are Reggie Barnes, Johnny Cobb, Tony Kasel, Darrell Duda, Gary Palmer and Michael Scott. Newcomers to the team are David Woodman, Stephen Detrick, James Faubert, Mark Todd, Jay Court, James Wiceton and Johnnie Conley. Manager of the Twins this season will be Luther Duda.

The second place finisher in 1972 were the Orioles and they have Victor Blair, Jody Jordan, Calvin Ward, Ricky England, Terry Ferlita and James Wiceton returning from last year. New players on the Orioles team are Richard Anderson, Steve Wilson, Kurt Kowenka, Rick Taylor, Michael Rubie, Robert Anderson and Mark Stewart. Coaching the Orioles this season will be Tom England. The Pirates have six veterans on their team back from last year. The returning players are Neil Golden, Larry Bell, Lance Hillard, Steve Winter, Dave Duda and Steve Buchanan, Tommy Ellis, Ron Norman and Bobby Barnett.

Returning to manage the Pirates after a year's absence is Ned Golden. Richard Painter is the new manager of the Cardinals. He joined returning players from last year James Dike, Gerald McBride, Henry Scher, William Dick, W. E. Scarborough, and Daryl Ely. Newcomers this year are Danny Mossey, Terry Groves, James Pierce, Richard Painter, Tommy Obariski, Keith Grayson and Mark Dismore.

The Major League roster was increased from 12 to 13 this year, allowing more boys to play in the major division.

Practice sessions began Monday with the cut back to the minors coming on the 20th. Scheduled practices with field listed have been established. The regular season will open on March 24 with all four teams seeing action. A field day has been set aside for Saturday, March 17 with all teams taking part.

Sports In Brief

By The Associated Press
MIAMI—Lee Trevino blew a fourstroke lead, then came back to win the Donald Easton Open tourney with a final round 71, 72-hole 276, and a single stroke margin over Bruce Crampton and Tom Weiskopf.

DETROIT — Manhattan's distance team raced to a world record in the muddy relay, clocking 9 minutes 42.8 seconds in the closing session of the NCAA Indoor championships.

HOTTERDAM, The Netherlands — Yordanka Blagova of Bulgaria set a new world record for the high jump with a leap of 6 feet, 5 inches, and countrywoman Yordanka Yordanova established a new standard for the 800-meter run with a clocking of 2 minutes, 28.5 seconds at the European Indoor Athletics Championships.

HORSE RACING
ARCADIA, Calif. — Cougar II, B, nose out Kennedy Road in winning the 30th running of the $170,000 Santa Anita Handicap.

Greyhound Photo Stirs Harness Racing Memory

CASSELBERRY — When Hank Majeski of Longwood presented A. A. Grillo, managing director of the Seminole Turf Club, with an original photo of the immortal trotting horse Casselberry track as a greyhound, it brought back memories of the days when the track was trained at the Seminole Turf Club.

A large blow-up photo of Greyhound, winner of the prestigious Hambletonian in 1932, will adorn the walls of the elegant Clubhouse, along with large pictures of the other five Hambletonian winners who trained at the track.

The five immortals, all trained at Seminole by Ben White, were Louisa's Worthy in 1937, Cary Reynolds in 1933, Royalist in 1935, The Ambassador in 1942, and Volo Song in 1943.

Army, Navy To 'Duel' In Gatornationals

GAINESVILLE — The Army and the Navy are about to square off in a new version of their long-standing sports rivalry, with enough of a twist that outruns their traditional gridiron battle each year.

This time, however, the scene will be contrastingly different. Instead of a 100-yard full-tackle, the combatants will be utilizing 1320 feet of smooth asphalt, more commonly known as a drag strip.

The site will be this weekend's (March 16-18) Gatornationals at Gainesville Dragway, where some 600 of the nation's outstanding quarter mile racing specialists will do battle for $187,000 in prize money and six Gatornationals eliminator championships.

The military involvement with this second of eight championship events sanctioned annually by the National Hot Rod Association is quite simple and natural. Drag racing is a young person's sport, and both the Army and Navy have an avid interest in young people, especially the young male types. Hence the race.

Both branches have chosen formidable means of identifying with the Gatornationals. Each time defending champion and top favorite Dan Garlits pops his parachute brake at the start of a 230 mph run, for example, the following call spell out "Go Navy."

On the other hand, Garlits rival Clayton Harris and the sparkling new rear-engine straggler of Jim and Alison Lee carry a message which flatters the Army on the aerial wing over the rear wheels. A fourth dragger, owned by

DON GARLITS

What happens if a car carrying the Army banner should win? Well, there's always another day, and not at all unlike their football rivalry, there will be another Gatornationals. Action at Gainesville Dragway gets underway at noon Friday with the first of two qualifying days to set the individual fields for Sunday's finals.

Communists Gain Gaullists Triumph In France

By ELIAS ANTAB
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP)—French voters have given the Gaullists another five years in control of the National Assembly, but have reduced the government coalition's majority to less than 60 seats.

Sunday's returns from 483 of the 490 electoral districts gave the Gaullist coalition 271 seats, the Communist-Socialist alliance 181, the centrist Reform Movement 28 and extreme rightists 3.

The Communist Party won 73 seats, compared with 34 in the last election in 1968, and the Socialists moved up from 87 to 89. The other leftist seats went to splinter parties on the extreme left.

The outcome was much more favorable to the Gaullists than had been expected. President Georges Pompidou was so worried by the strong leftist showing in public opinion polls and the first round of voting last Sunday that he made a last-minute television appeal to the voters Saturday. Pompidou himself was not up for re-election.

The economic achievements of the Gaullists over the past 12 years plus the basic conservatism of many Frenchmen pulled the government through.

But the result was a warning that the left's calls for a better deal for the poor and for more equalization of economic gains had sympathetic echoes throughout the country. It is correct that these elections reflect a will for renewal by a large number of voters.

Common Market Nations Banding To Boost Dollar

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer
BRUSSELS (AP)—Six of the Common Market nations agreed early today to a joint, partial float against the dollar, maintaining a schedule of exchange rates among each other but ending obligatory purchases of the dollar to support it. The other three member nations—Britain, Ireland and Italy—are already floating their currencies against all others. They said they would join the joint float as soon as economic conditions permitted them to peg their currencies against the other Common Market monies.

U.S. Dollar Dips Today In Trading

LONDON (AP)—The U.S. dollar dipped sharply at the opening of bank-to-bank trading today but recovered strongly in European financial centers in reaction to the revaluing of the West German mark and the decision by six Common Market nations to float their currencies jointly against the dollar.

Trading was nervous but fairly brisk. Bankers and money operators appeared to have adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

In Frankfurt, the dollar opened at 2.77 marks, down from Friday's 2.79, then climbed to 2.78.

In London, the pound sterling was up sharply at the opening to 2.48 from Friday's 2.4725. Then it dwindled to 2.4625 by midmorning.

Congressional Expenses Described In Reports

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—It costs taxpayers an average of $188,000 a year to keep a representative in Washington and pay for his office staff. Senators come somewhat higher, about $30,000 each.

Those basic costs include the $42,500 annual salary of each of the 100 senators and 438 representatives and delegates, plus staff payrolls.

Each House member is allowed about $185,000 per year to pay up to 10 employees in his Washington and district offices.

A senator's clerical allowance varies according to the size of his state, ranging from $27,000 to $86,000 per year, with no ceiling on the amount of employees but a top of the salary of his No. 1 staffer. Currently the top is $35,000 for the Senate and about $32,000 for the House.

Not all members use their full allowances. The unused balance reverts to the Treasury.

Neither do all members use all of the allowances for fringe benefits, which are not included in the average cost of keeping up a congressional office.

Basic costs in the legislative appropriation bill enacted last year included $62 million for salaries of House members of five staffs and $20.4 million for the salaries and travel allowances of members. The appropriation for senators' office staffs was $54.2 million and $4.7 million for senators' salaries and mileage.

Fringe benefits which add to the over-all cost of running Congress include: —Franked, or free, mail for official correspondence. The estimated cost for fiscal year 1973 was $21.2 million for both branches.

—Stationary allowances of $4,250 per year per member for the purchase of office supplies

Sanford's Old Bandshell Gets Facelift Okay

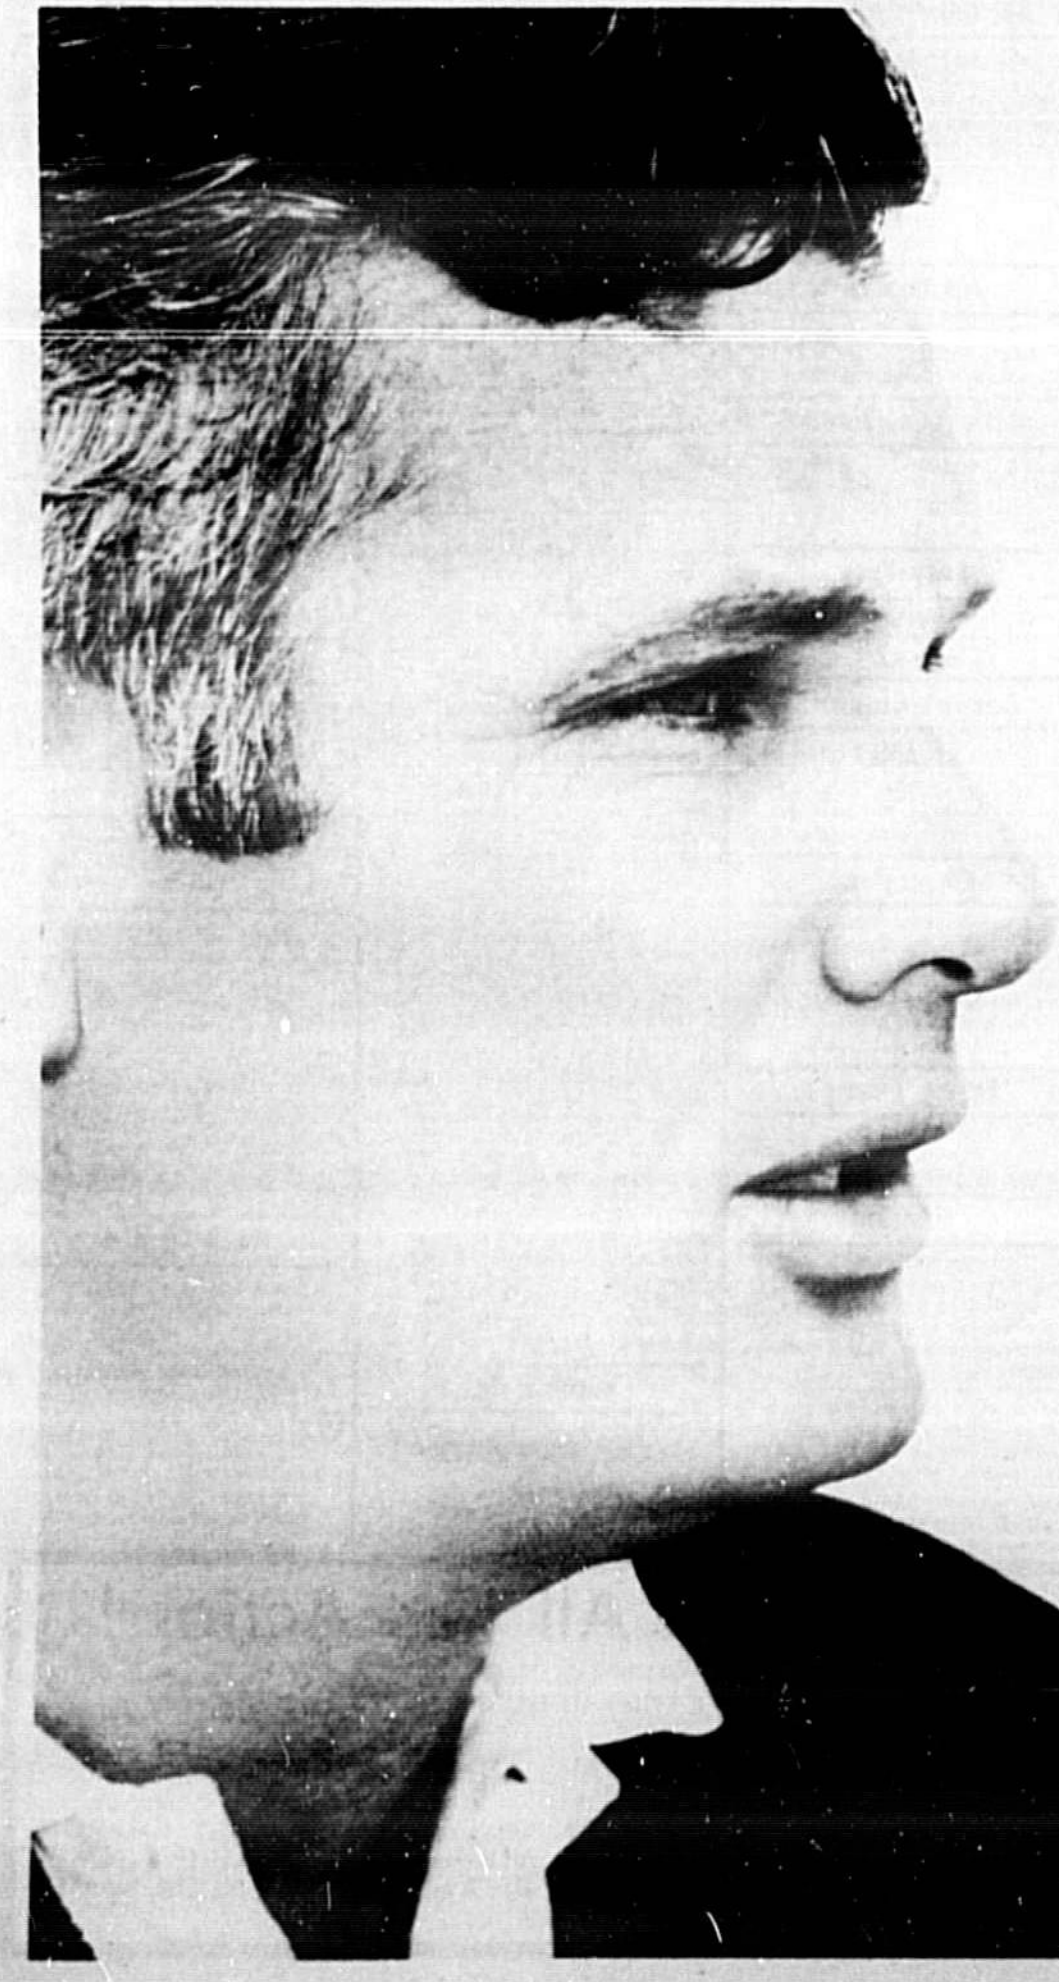

Sanford's old bandshell pier, North Park Avenue at Seminole Boulevard, will get a $17,500 facelift and renovation into an attractive lakeside park. City Commission voted unanimously Monday to do the park as projected two years ago in a five-year long range beautification plan.

Commissioners A. McElanahan and Julian Stenstrom made the motion to do the entire project, complete with palms, shrubs, lighting, irrigation, meandering walkways and remodeled flagpole memorial.

The $11,000 material cost will be paid from the city's capital improvements fund. The $6,500 labor will be done by city crews. No starting date has been set for the work.

Commissioners took the action after the Sanford Women's Club and 15 other local groups and clubs asked the beautification plans be activated. The club and groups represent over 5,000 citizens.

Commissioner Gordon Meyer said he wants beautification of six median islands in West First Street at Persimmon Avenue as a future beautification project. City Manager Warren Knowles said total material costs are estimated at $4,620 plus labor and equipment.

Basically because the total income FPL receives from your electric bill payments isn't nearly enough to pay for the necessary investment toward serving you in the future. You probably know that Florida is the fastest-growing major state. So in order to keep up with your ever-increasing need for electric power, FPL must continually expand. New power plants and lines...sub-stations...they all cost money. Lots of it. More than a million dollars a day. So FPL has to borrow. Last year, out of 380 million dollars spent for construction, more than 260 million had to come from sources other than customers' payments for service.

FPL encourages you to ask questions. About electric service. Rates. Environmental protection. Or anything else. We believe you deserve honest, straightforward answers. And we try to answer your most frequently-asked questions publicly. (All others will receive personal replies.) Address your questions to your local FPL Manager.

Knowing what concerns you helps us do our job better.

"With all the revenue you get from utility bills, why do you need to borrow money?"

You ask. FPL answers.

Auto-Train Strikes Truck; Driver Killed, 10 Injured

HORTENSE, Ga. (AP)—An auto-passenger train operating between Washington, D.C., and Sanford, Fla., with 325 passengers aboard, was derailed here in dense fog today after a collision with a truck loaded with logs.

The truck driver was killed and about ten persons were injured, sources at the scene reported.

Spokesmen for Seaboard Coast Line Railroad, over whose tracks the train is operated, said two locomotives and 21 cars were derailed, including 14 cars which were carrying automobiles shipped by the passengers.

The Herald contacted the Sanford office of Auto-Train to gain additional information on the accident but was referred to the company's Washington headquarters.

Ambulances were sent from several communities near this southeast Georgia town.

Preliminary reports said one of the diesel units and one of the auto-carrying cars caught fire, the railroad said.

The accident happened shortly after 7 a.m., and the train, operated by Auto Train Corp., of Washington, D.C., was ahead of the regularly scheduled Amtrak train, which uses the same tracks.

'Dead, Old' POWs Due Home Friday

SAIGON (AP)—The Viet Cong announced tonight that an American war prisoner held longer than any other U.S. soldier in history is among those being released Friday.

Also among the 32 prisoners being turned over at Hanoi's Gia Lam Airport is the highest-ranking U.S. civilian official captured by the Communists.

A young Marine supposedly killed in Vietnam and buried by his family four years ago but who later turned up alive also is coming out.

The longest held American captive is Maj. Floyd Thompson, now 39. He was captured March 26, 1964, in Quang Tri Province just below the demilitarized zone, where he was serving as a U.S. adviser with South Vietnamese forces.

Thompson was then a captain. When released Friday, he will have spent 3,277 days as a prisoner of war, five months longer than Navy Lt. Cmdr. Everett Alvarez, the first pilot shot down over North Vietnam.

Manhard's wife and three children live at McLean, Va. Also returning home will be Pfc. Ronald L. Ridgeway, who the Communists said was captured Feb. 25, 1968, near a U.S. outpost at Khe Sanh.

What was believed to be the remains of Ridgeway and other members of his patrol caught in a North Vietnamese ambush were recovered, returned to the United States and buried four years ago.

Ridgeway's mother is Mildred A. Ridgeway of Houston, Tex.

The list includes Sgt. Michael Patrick Hoang, a Marine from Ky., whom Radio Hanoi frequently identified as a deserter.

Sanford Mayor Lee Moore says Herald Staffer Bob Lloyd's 32 month and eight day beard with tin snips in shaving ceremony today on restored docks in Sanford Marina west basin.

Lloyd in midst of half hour shaving of beard grown in quiet protest of infamous sunken docks. It took scissors, tin snips, two razors and four blades "to take it all off." Prior to shaving Circuit Judge Dominick Sali signed final judgment in litigation that resulted in docks' restoration.

City Manager Warren Knowles said the building bids opened Monday were "way overpriced."

"I'm startled, disturbed and disgusted," he said.

Gutman, Dragash and Matz Architects Inc. were instructed by commissioners to get an itemized breakdown on the apparent low bid on the police building and jail so the bid tabulation can be better evaluated at a city commission work session next Monday at 4 p.m.

City commissioners have discussed moving the complex site to Sanford Airport near the Airport Boulevard gate—a site recently offered for a state police academy.

Commissioner Gordon Meyer said he has already presented cost figures on detaining city prisoners in county jail.

"Any overload of our present facility can be handled now by the sheriff," he said, noting Poik has agreements with adjoining counties for farming out overflow county prisoners.

Knowles said he'll meet as soon as possible with the city's fiscal agent to see "how much further we can push our borrowing capacity on the electric power franchise."

Earlier, the commission authorized $700,000 in revenue certificates to finance the new police headquarters-security complex. Knowles said with spiraling costs the project could now cost $1 million.

NEWS DIGEST

PRESIDENT NIXON envisions America as a nation where people do more for themselves and the government does less. The vision he intends to pursue in his second term is now being translated into domestic legislative proposals and executive actions.

THE VIET CONG delays its release of 32 American prisoners of war until Friday but delivers the names of the 25 military personnel and seven civilians to be freed.

DESPITE PRESIDENT NIXON'S OBJECTIONS, the Senate Judiciary Committee is expected today to invite White House counsel John W. Dean III to testify about his role during the FBI investigation of the Watergate case.

ARGENTINA'S military government declares Peronist Hector J. Campor the winner of the presidential election even though it is still a little short of the required majority.

THREE MEN who were advisers to President John F. Kennedy have disputed the government's contention that Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo endangered their country by stealing the secret Pentagon Papers.

FOUR NEIGHBORS in Fort Walton Beach find out their husbands will be on the next POW plane out of Hanoi. "I thought this day would never come," said one Air Force wife who has been waiting since January 1968.

FLORIDA must take the lead and look to its sunshine for the ultimate solution to the nation's energy crisis, House Speaker Terrell Sessums says.

Capt. James

What can you say about something you've waited five years for? That at times you believed would never happen? People in this area have been very good to us over the years. I know we need heroes, men looking good and healthy, with all their limbs.

But what about those men who won't be coming home? What about the veterans in V.A. hospitals? Americans owe these men tribute, not one of the lucky ones. I think this is the time to remember those men who won't be coming back.

FOUR DEPARTMENTS FIGHT ALTAMONTE FIRE

Firemen from Altamonte Springs, Casselberry, Longwood and Fern Park battled a blaze that destroyed the old Grove Hotel, corner of North and Marker Streets, Monday night. According to authorities, the building was vacant after having been condemned by the State Board of Health over a year ago. Det. Oscar Redden is investigating and said arson is suspected in the blaze.

Police Building Decision Soon

Warren Knowles says bids are overpriced. "I'm startled, disturbed and disgusted," he said.

By BOB LLOYD

Sanford city commissioners are expected to decide within 30 days on constructing a new police headquarters-security complex or a police administration building only and contracting with Seminole County to house city prisoners.

"We don't have a site now and we must act within 30 days or we'll have no contract and no jail," warned Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore after bids on the new police headquarters-security complex ranged from $70,000 to $292,294 Monday.

Architect John Dragash said once a city jail site is selected and prepared it will take a year to construct the proposed new city facility.

Knowles reminded commissioners he has already presented cost figures on detaining city prisoners in county jail.

"Any overload of our present facility can be handled now by the sheriff," he said, noting Poik has agreements with adjoining counties for farming out overflow county prisoners.

Pain Killers Facing 'Excedrin' Headache

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three of the nation's biggest manufacturers of nonprescription pain killers have a headache of their own: government complaints that the products don't match up with their advertising claims.

Named in the complaints brought by the Federal Trade Commission were the makers of Anacin, Bufferin, Excedrin, Excedrin PM, Bayer Aspirin, Bayer Children's Aspirin, Cope, Vanquash and Midol.

The FTC said Monday it could find no proof of advertising claims made for the pain killers and that 11 months of negotiations with the three companies involved have failed to result in agreement to alter the advertising.

In the absence of this agreement, the FTC said it was turning the complaints over to an administrative law judge within the commission. That judge will rule on the fairness and validity of the advertising, after which the five FTC commissioners may be asked to handle the case on an appeal.

The three companies are American Home Products Corp., makers of Anacin and Arthritis Pain Formula; Bristol-Myers Co., which manufactures Bufferin, Excedrin and Excedrin PM; and Sterling Drug Inc., makers of Bayer Aspirin, Bayer Children's Aspirin, Cope, Vanquash and Midol.

BULLETIN

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Florida food inspectors are searching the state for canned mushrooms which the U.S. Food and Drug Administration says may contain food poisoning. Agri-culture Commissioner Dewey Conner has announced.

He urged persons who find the products made under several brand names by an Ohio firm to return them to the stores where they bought them, rather than throw them away or eating them.

The federal agency ordered a recall of the products after botulism type B spores were found in one can and suspected in others, Conner said.

The mushrooms recalled were those by Fred Meadmore Products Co. of South Lebanon, Ohio, under the brand names Fame, Sentry, Deerwood, Diapole and Fred's.
