Statesman Is Claimed By Death Being In Ill Health For 2 Years

Political Power and Big Career Represented His Country In U. S. On Financial Missions

Sept. 8.—(AP)—Viviani, former premier and twice his counter representative on missions to the United States, died Monday morning at the Malmoussan sanatorium where he had been for the last two years.

During his extraordinary oratory most of the production of the American audience, Viviani was familiar with his language. He visited the United States in 1912, when he attended the conference in 1921. His end came peacefully after a long period of feebleness.

His wife soon after from Washington in the collapsed while pleading. He had been confined to the sanatorium, suffering from comatose.

Sketch of Career. Viviani, ex-premier of France and internationally famous statesman, was the son of the public men of the French nation by her marriage in Africa. Born Nov. 18, 1853, in the thriving city of Sidi Bel Abbas, Algeria, which was then a part of the brilliant French empire.

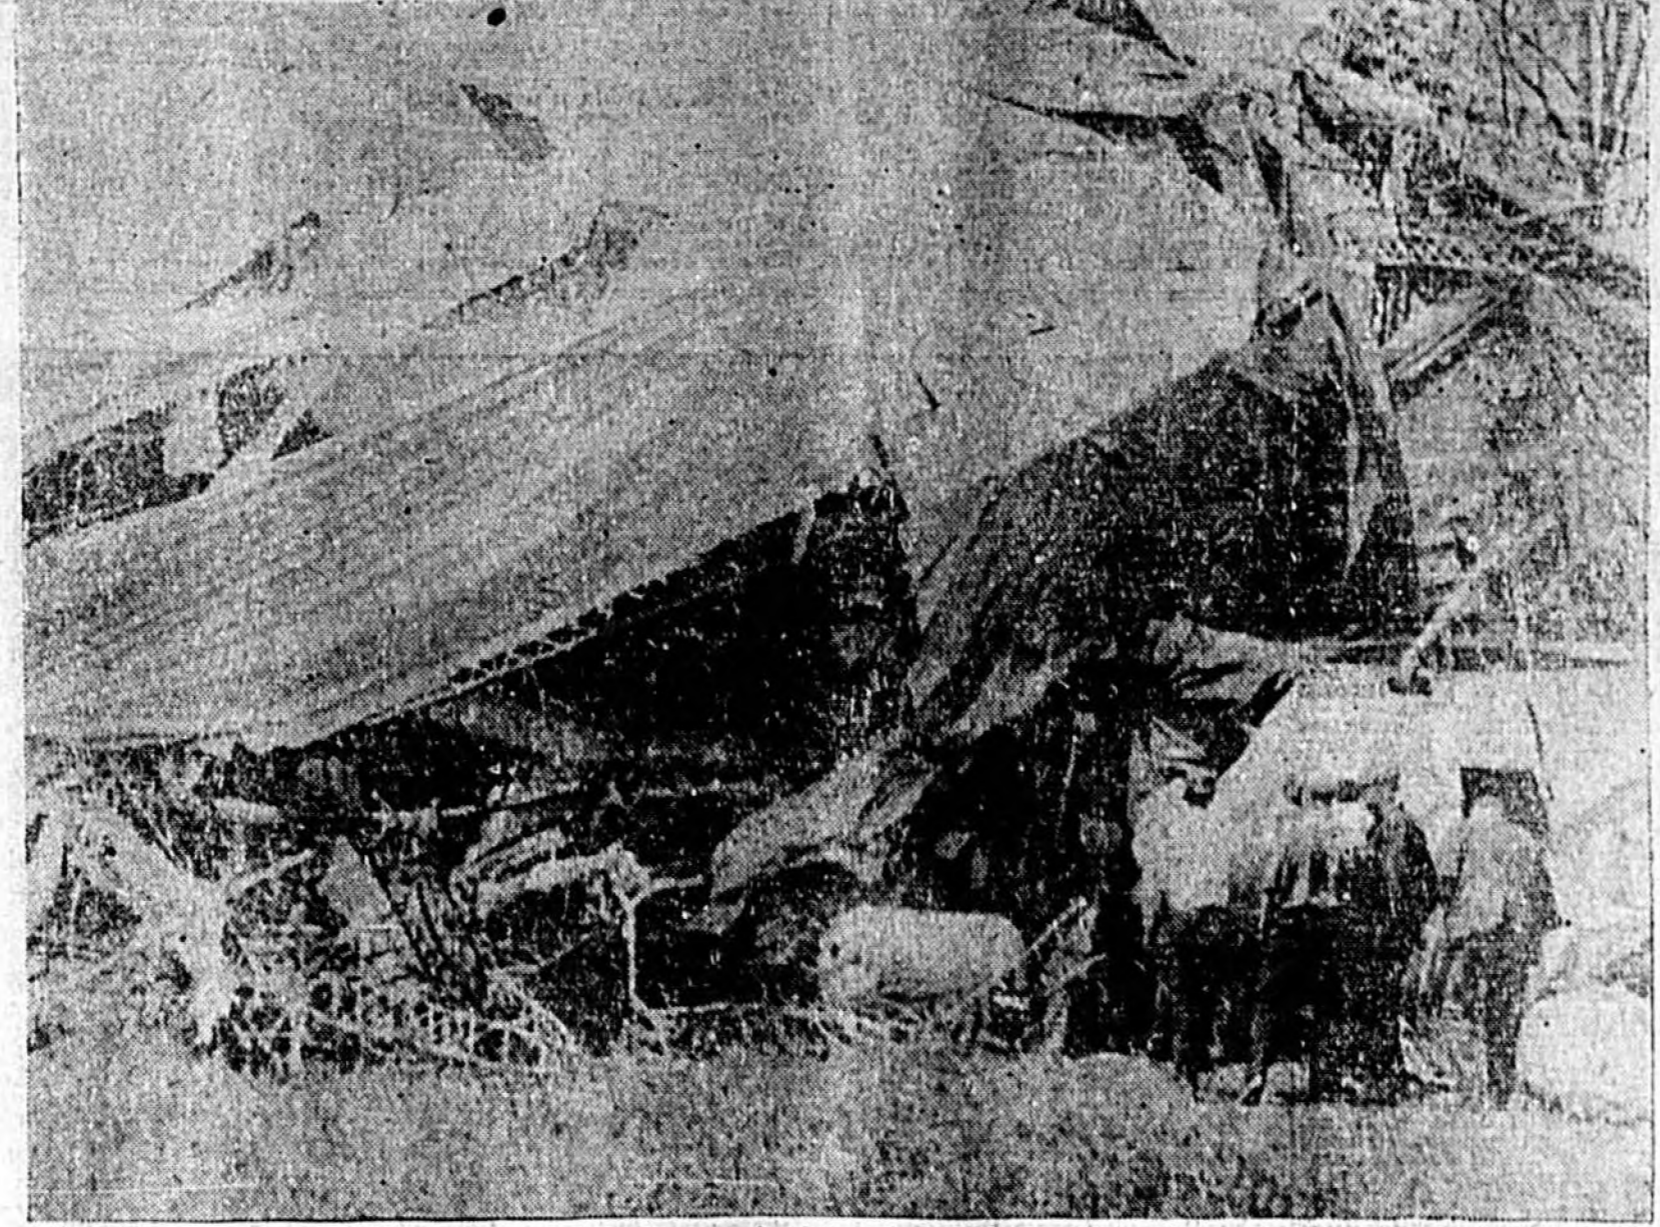

He was elected to the Chamber of Deputies in 1883, when he became the first minister of the interior. He was carried to the high position after he held in the political affairs of the Republic.

This picture is a close-up of the wreckage of the framework of the giant dirigible which collapsed in a storm near Ava, O., last week, killing 14 members of its crew. Comparative size of the men gives an idea of the immense proportions of the craft. The picture was secured by the N.E.A. Service by making a special airplane flight to the scene of the disaster.

GUilty PLEA IN KIDNAPING CASE ENTERED BY NOEL

New Jersey Youth Will Be Arraigned Later For Murder of Little Dady Girl; Boy Denies Killing Negro

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Harrison Noel, 20-year-old son of a prominent Montclair family, Monday pleaded guilty to a charge of kidnaping 6-year-old Mary Daly, whom he told the police he shot to death. He pleaded not guilty to the murder of Raymond Pierce, negro chauffeur, in an earlier confession Noel said he killed Pierce in order to obtain an automobile for the kidnaping. He will be arraigned later for the murder of the child. Noel's plea of the kidnaping charge was entered at Montclair, where the child lived. He was then taken to Cedar Grove, where he said the murder of Pierce occurred for arraignment on the other charge.

Apparently indifferent to the charges against him, Noel was committed to the Essex county jail at Newark.

In Montclair, funeral services were held for Pierce, while the parents of Noel's child victim were making arrangements for her funeral.

The boy's mother, Anne W. Noel, who is said to be prostrated and under a physician's care, issued this statement:

"It is impossible to find words with which to express my grief and sincere sympathy for the bereaved family."

Young Noel, who during the long hours of questioning by the police Saturday night had coldly bargained with them for $4,000 ransom money in cash, maintained his cool composure when arraigned today in police court on the kidnaping charge.

Has Been In Insane Asylum. The youth, who spent several months in an insane asylum after he had been sent home from Harvard, will be arraigned later in West Patterson, Passaic county, for the murder of the girl and for atrocious assault and intent to kill John Sandlin, a chauffeur, who pursued the kidnaping in an attempt to rescue the child.

H. C. Barber, a neighbor, who gave out Mrs. Noel's statement, said the slayer had become thoroughly acquainted with the section.

War Department's Action Regarding Mitchell Awaits Secretary Davis' Return

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Decision as to the action to be taken by the War Department in connection with public charges made by Col. William Mitchell, former assistant chief of the Navy Air Service, against the air service administration of the Navy and War Departments, await the return of the child, Noel's plea of the kidnaping charge was entered at Montclair, where the child lived. He was then taken to Cedar Grove, where he said the murder of Pierce occurred for arraignment on the other charge.

Since in previous cases where the public remarks of Col. Mitchell have been of a nature to indicate disciplinary nature by the War Department, the policy was determined personally by Secretary Weeks, it is regarded as improbable that Acting Secretary Davis will move in the present instance without assuring himself that the course he plans is approved by Mr. Weeks. Every effort has been made to relieve Mr. Weeks of all official cares since his illness in April compelling him to release active charge of his department but the present case involving Col. Mitchell is of such a serious nature, that an exception may be made and a statement forwarded to Mr. Weeks in New Hampshire.

It was known that Maj. Gen. Ernest Hinds, commanding the Eighth Corps Area, on whose staff Col. Mitchell is now assigned, has been instructed to transmit to Washington an official report with any recommendations he might care to make.

To Make Official Record. Col. Mitchell is expected to return to San Antonio tomorrow. As Acting Secretary Davis will also be back at the War Department then, presumably it will be possible for the official record of this new incident involving the colonel to be made up during the week and transmitted for the secretary's attention. Pending receipt of this document and of the requirements of the action which will be expected from Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, chief of staff, and from the Eighth Corps Area commander, it is unlikely that Mr. Davis will take any official cognizance of the matter.

Officials Keep UP SEARCH FOR MISSING PLANE

Pacific Waters Still Being Combed For PN-9 and the Five Members of Its Crew

HONOLULU, Sept. 8.—(AP)—One week ago Commander John Rodgers and four other navy flyers took off from San Francisco in the seaplane PN-9, No. 1 for non-stop flight to Honolulu. They have not been seen since. Despite the increasingly apparent hopeless nature of the search, officers and men of the United States navy in Hawaii waters Monday continued to seek some trace of the missing craft and its intrepid crew. They expressed themselves as determined to save the aviators or find some trace confirming their loss.

By day airplanes and surface ships pursue the hunt in the waters where the seaplane last was reported, while submarines and other ships search the waters to the north and west, where the airship might have drifted had it made a safe landing. By night the searchlights of the navy ships play over the empty waves tracing strange patterns in the clouds.

Meantime, two squadrons of destroyers, on their return from Australia, and New Zealand, are on the last lap of their return journey, and they will reinforce the searchers.

TRAFFIC MEN TO VISIT SANFORD ON SOUTHERN TOUR

110 In Party That Will Arrive by Motor From Orlando Thursday Morning, To Inspect Local Facilities

A party of about 110 Freight Traffic Representatives of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, headed by C. McD. Davis, freight traffic manager of Wilmington, N. C., will arrive in Sanford Thursday afternoon, by automobile from Orlando, and will spend sometime meeting patrons of the Coast Line, studying their needs as regards the handling of freight and getting an idea of the city and the surrounding country.

This announcement was made here today by officials of the railroad, who stated that further announcement will be made later in regard to the personnel of the party and provisions for its entertainment in Sanford.

Following a meeting in Charleston on Sept. 7, the party, which comprises representatives of the Atlantic Coast Line from points far and near is making a short tour of the Coast Line Railroad, to secure by personal observation facts regarding conditions in the section served by the Atlantic Coast Line which will enable them to meet the needs of the patrons of the road. These facts will not only help them to give better service to shippers of freight, but will make it possible for them to talk convincingly to persons in their home territories about opportunities which are to be found along the A. C. L.

Particular attention is being paid to the increased capacity for handling freight afforded the Coast Line by its double track between Jacksonville and Richmond, now rapidly nearing completion. While the construction of this second track, at the cost of many millions of dollars, will not of itself create new business for the road it will give the Coast Line a traffic handling capacity about four times greater than single track lines.

The double track is being equipped with automatic block signals and interlocking plants which greatly increase the safety and prompt handling of freight and passenger trains.

Judge Adamson Acquires Site In Sanford Grove and Will Erect His Home There Soon

W. C. Adamson for 23 years a congressional representative from Georgia, author and backer of the Adamson Railroad Bill during the World War, and whose term on the United States District Court bench, begun during the Wilson Administration, expired this year, will soon become a resident of Sanford, according to an announcement made today by officers of Sanford Grove, Inc., developers of Sanford Grove, the latest addition to Sanford suburban property.

Judge Adamson, it is said, became interested recently in this community, and has acquired property in the Grove with the announced intention of building a home on the site, and establishing in Sanford a permanent residence.

This announcement marks the opening of Sanford Grove development, a 148 acre tract lying one quarter mile east of the city limits, and according to figures secured from the county engineer, is shown to have the highest elevation of any residential district in this vicinity. Geneva Avenue, the main thoroughfare leading through the property, will be among the first roads to be paved under the present program of the county commissioners.

Allies Will Invite Germany To Discuss New Security Pact

German Participation Sought, Spokesman From Britain Says At Geneva Meeting

League Delegates Full Of Optimism Believe World Peace Can Be Placed On Solid Foundation

GENEVA, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The Allies have definitely decided to invite Germany to a conference for consideration of the proposed security pact, a British spokesman announced today.

GENEVA, Sept. 8.—(AP)—With a hopeful start made in settling the supreme problem of European security, the sixth assembly of the League of Nations took up its work Monday in an atmosphere of confidence and with the conviction that world peace can be placed on a solid foundation.

The spirit of optimism dominated the discussions delivered by Paul Painleve, Premier of France, who called the assembly to order and to review the world's affairs.

M. Painleve made one thing clear at the start. This was that when satisfactory security has been achieved by the negotiation between allies and Germany and other desirable regional guarantee pacts have been erected, the council of the League of Nations should invite the powers to a conference looking toward the reduction of armaments. Incidentally the emphasis on security must be maintained, as confidence in the pact of its citizens for its institutions and policies.

Ample Hotel Accommodations. "The hotels are making every effort to care for the tourist rush and are as well appointed as any I have seen in the state. With the completion of the Hotel Forrest Lake, accommodations will be quite adequate to care for a larger number than ever before in this locality.

"Your civic bodies have also taken into consideration the housing situation, which is one of the most serious problems confronting Florida today.

"The spirit of hospitality is another thing which forcibly appealed to me, everywhere this spirit manifested itself, and that's another reason why I like Sanford.

"Yes, your city is well named. "The City Substantial" it has a background to be proud of, you are self sustaining in agriculture, industry, and commerce.

"I am glad to return to Sanford this fall with my family and immediately start the organization of the Sanford branch of our business.

Points Word Picture. Painting a word picture of the United States of sixty years ago, please when he declared that the lease declared that Europe could learn a lesson by the way the United States had found itself and solved its terrific problems.

He received an outburst of applause when he declared that the possibilities of lasting peace are not less strong in Europe today than they were in 1867 on the American continent.

In urged special concentration on the solution of international economic problems, saying that if "economic forms are allowed to break loose in all their brutality, all agreements will collapse and the specter of war will suddenly appear."

M. Painleve's closing message was "hope, venture and perseverance." Senator Dandurand, the new president, joined M. Painleve in hailing the League of Nations as a noble and successful enterprise, dedicated to make the world safe. He expressed confidence that the enlightened collaboration of nations, gathered in an atmosphere of devotion to the well being of humanity will contribute to the establishment of peace founded on justice.

Find Nurse's Body in Marsh

Roger Thomas (left), an 11-year-old boy, found fragments of the body of Mrs. Bessie Loren, Oakland, Calif. nurse, while he and other children were playing in a marsh near El Cerrito, Calif. Above is a group of officers searching for the rest of the body. The nurse mysteriously disappeared from Oakland a short time ago.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Increasing German competition in the export trade field is beginning to make Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce officials look rather thoughtful.

As "The Index," organ of the New York Trust Company, says: "German industries have secured splendid new equipment as a result of building done during the decline and fall of the mark."

The commerce bureau looks for German activity particularly in the orient and Latin America.

Still, her production costs are low, so that she can make favorable prices even if she cannot give her customers quite so much time in which to pay them as formerly.

She excels also in adapting her goods to her trade's requirements instead of trying to educate her markets into a liking for what her own people happen to prefer—the Anglo-Saxon and especially the American system.

In China, Germany, potentially is in a stronger position and far more popular than before the war—probably, of all foreign nationalities, the best liked there.

Beaten, she has grown polite. Except Russia, whose commercial rivalry she has no need to fear, she, of all the world powers, is without either territorial possessions or extraterritorial rights at the expense of the Chinese.

CIVIL SERVICE QUIZ ANSWERS SHOW STARTLING LOGIC, BOARD HEAD AVERS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Ingenious reasoning may at times serve in the absence of accurate information, but it is not always a safe substitute.

Answers found in the examination papers of another class revealed that the motor truck still holds mysteries for some, even in this mechanical age.

"What causes heavy black smoke to come out of the exhaust pipe of a truck?" the class was asked.

"It is the only place it can come out," replied a candidate.

"What was the purpose of a fan on a motor truck?" was another question.

"To supply fresh air to the carburetor," was the answer.

"Give a reason why a motor truck fails to start when cranked," directed the examiner.

"A motor truck will sometimes fail to start if the driver is too weak to crank it," answered one job seeker.

"If you found a man with a severe cut on the head that was bleeding freely, what would you do?" another class was asked.

"I would put a tourniquet on his neck," announced one student of first aid.

The shipping season at Hastings begins around March 20 and extends through June 1.

The Okeechobee section shipments begin around February and lasts through April.

West Florida season follows the Hastings crop.

Sanford Chamber of Commerce will use the state papers liberally in advertising that section. Wise selection, Florida newspapers are great pullers.—Times-Union.

Sanford is an important topic of conversation on the lower east coast. Report those who spent the holiday in that section. Sanford's advertising campaign is beginning to get results.

Perhaps by the time another holiday comes, Sanford's swimming pool and recreational center will be finished, and then it won't be necessary for our people to leave town in order to go swimming.

Judd Lewis in the Houston Post-Dipatch says, "One of the new silk fabrics is called the honey-keeper. This is as far as we go. All off! Salright, but not knowing much about it, we don't understand this 'off' business."

Add fairy tales: Once upon a time there was a boy who obeyed his mother and never went near the creek until he had learned how to swim.

Yesterday, a holiday, three different parties called at The Herald office to get a copy of Saturday's paper in order that they might see what rooms and apartments were for rent. The little want ads are willing workers and should you have rooms or apartments you wish to rent, you can reach those who are interested by listing what you have in the classified columns of The Herald.

Sanford and Alameda

Out in California there is a town by the name of Alameda. This town has just completed a Chamber of Commerce campaign for memberships and funds. While the campaign was successful as compared with previous drives put on in that community, its efforts to raise funds for community promotion "sinks into insignificance" beside the Sanford achievement.

An editorial in the Alameda Star compared the record made in that city which has three and a half times the population of Sanford, with the great campaign conducted here last month. And once more Sanford gets valuable publicity as a result of the great way in which the people of this city responded in the membership drive. This time it is in California, where it is seldom any Florida community is held up as a shining example, and where few good things are ever said about the state which is drawing so heavily on the tourist trade that used to belong to California.

The Alameda Star says: "Alameda has just completed a Chamber of Commerce campaign for membership and funds. The campaign achieved a considerable measure of success, judged by previous efforts of similar nature in Alameda. But as an outstanding feature of community achievement the Alameda effort is not noteworthy in the annals of enterprising American communities, few of which have one tithe of the advantages and immediate promise of this city. California developed community advertising, and showed the rest of the world what could be accomplished. Alameda figured merely in the minor fringe of this California achievement. Florida is now following California's lead and the results reported threaten to place Florida in California's place as the leading community advertiser. Sanford, a Florida town of 10,000 population has just completed a Chamber of Commerce drive. The objective was $50,000. The start was from a $5,000 basis, so the financial start was very similar to Alameda's recent status. But Sanford raised $87,000 in the community at large. Then the city itself voted the Chamber of Commerce another $20,000, bringing the total funds to $107,000. The county of Seminole, in which Sanford is located, swung into line with $15,000. This make $122,000 they will spend for community publicity in Sanford and the county in which it is located by next January 1. It is proposed to follow this work with a second high sum. Alameda's effort to raise funds for community promotion sinks into insignificance beside the Sanford achievement, yet Alameda has three and a half times the Sanford population, is peopled with citizens of comfortable circumstances, and is fairly wrapped round with marvelous opportunities for growth and increased prosperity. Sanford didn't wait to progress through force of circumstances or accident, but went straight at a big proposition and put it over with marvelous success. It will be interesting to note Sanford's growth from the 10,000 town class into a hustling modern American city."

Walk For Your Health

With modern transportation facilities on every hand, few persons walk enough to keep themselves in good physical condition. The automobile makes it so easy to go from one part of town to another part, even though it is only a block away, that almost every individual finds himself riding everywhere and walking very little.

The average man engaged in a sedentary occupation should walk in the open at least three miles a day, is the opinion of Dr. George E. Kanouse of Newark, New Jersey who says that more than three miles is not too much. In a recent press bulletin issued by an insurance company Dr. Kanouse is quoted as saying:

"The manner of walking determines to a large extent its value as an exercise. One should walk briskly, vigorously, and not in a leisurely stroll, if benefit is to be derived from the walk. Cross-country walking is preferable to striding along city pavements, for new scenes engage the attention and remove the sting of drudgery, into which deliberate walking oftentimes descends. The automobile has not been an unmixed blessing. It has made accessible many places hitherto remote; it has promoted social intercourse, and facilitated the transaction of business. But it has also cut heavily into the amount of daily exercise which man had previously obtained on foot. In pre-automobile days man walked to and from his work, about town, to and from the station. Now he uses a car. He saves something in time but loses much healthful exercise. Contrary to a general belief, Dr. Kanouse points out, the man in the city, particularly the youth, does more real walking than his country cousin. Sundays and holidays always witness the exodus of large crowds from the cities, with lunch-kits and hiking trunks, off for a day in the country. On the other hand, the man in the country does not stir about much, except in the course of his work. His idea of an outing is generally a ride in the car to some fix point. Walking will not only save wear and tear on the tires, but it will prolong life, if regularly indulged. It is the simplest and most feasible form of exercise."

Here in Sanford we know of no better method of securing the necessary amount of exercise by walking than can be obtained by golf at the Sanford golf course. Eighteen holes of golf, two or three times a week, will play an important part in keeping any person in good physical condition so that person may keep going at the rapid pace required.

It seems that only a few of Sanford's men realize the facilities offered by the city for recreation at the golf course. Kept in fine condition and considered one of the sportiest courses to be found in Florida, the Sanford course should be crowded every day in the week by the business men from this city as well as by those tourists who come here to play.

Some day the man who says he hasn't time for recreation, the man who works all day and half the night, will wake up to the realization that accumulation of riches to the neglect of physical health, has been one of the greatest mistakes of his life. For what good are great piles of money without the ability to enjoy the good things it brings.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

An American newspaper man correspondent; "but when I was a boy out in the Cincinnati, O. there used to be a whistling whale that lived in the ocean just in front of my father's house. His name was Ponto and he would answer to it—answer by whistling. You see, his blowhole was clogged with barnacles and every time he spotted he made a sound like a siren on a fire boat. "One day there was a freighter coming in from Covington, Ky., and Ponto tried to pass her, headed out. But he got confused and gave the whistle for going to the port side when he meant the starboard, and the freighter ran his own and hit Ponto in four of his compartments, and he sank in nine minutes, whistling for help to the very last."

As Brisbane Sees It

Who Is Responsible? Aircraft Accidents of Course. The President Will Investigate. Dangerous Guessing. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE will be grieved, and expect a clear explanation from the navy, when he reads the following statement by Mrs. Lansdowne, widow of the brave commander: "The night before he left Commander Lansdowne told me that it would be his last trip. He meant that in more ways than one. He was due for sea duty December 15, but he said that it would be his last trip because of unfavorable weather conditions in the Ohio valley. He said he wanted to go on this trip because he wanted to die when the ship crashed."

"Six weeks ago, when the trip was planned, he asked Secretary Wilbur to postpone the trip until October 15, when the weather would be more favorable. The Secretary refused, and said this was the time, because it was the right time for the publicity which would be gained by the ship's flight. Had he known what kind of publicity was to be received by his orders?"

WHAT WILL be the answer of Secretary Wilbur to that grave charge, that a courageous American officer was sent to his death because the flying forces of the United States are ruled by men that know nothing about flying? What Commander Lansdowne said to his wife, concerning the sort of trip upon which he and his men were sent against their judgment, can be confirmed by many. He said the same thing to this writer at Lakewood last June in the presence of half a dozen witnesses. At that time sending a dirigible on an errand like the one that has proved so disastrous.

WHEN COMMANDER Lansdowne made that statement last June there was talk of sending a dirigible on an errand like the one that has proved so disastrous. This writer asked Commander Lansdowne for permission to publish what he had said, for the protection of the ship and crew, or at least permission to write privately to the President, and call his attention to the fact that ignorant men in the navy overruling men that understand flying, were risking airships and men.

COMMANDER LANSDOWNE said, "No; it is my business to obey orders. The fact that my superiors know nothing about flying makes no difference. "For me to explain or allow you to go over the heads of my superior officers to the President would destroy my usefulness in the navy. A man flying must take chances, which include the ignorance of those whose orders he obeys and that know as little about flying as children."

LANSDOWNE is dead because men that know nothing about flying have been allowed, "for political advertising purposes" or through sheer ignorance, to wreck a great ship and destroy lives worth a thousand such ships. In modern warfare, which is science, it is dangerous to put a man ignorant of war in complete control of the army or navy.

It may be necessary to take from his stock ticker a respectable broker and make him Secretary of War. It may be politically wise to make an estimate Judge Secretary of the Navy. But a man thus chosen should not have power to send men to their deaths in the air, against the protests of experienced men.

THIS DISASTER reminds the President and the nation that flying is a special science and should be controlled by men understanding the science. Commander Lansdowne, dead because his superior officers refused to hear his protests, was an experienced flyer.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE will want to know why the protest of the dead Commander Lansdowne was not heard and why it was not REFERRED TO HIM, head of the army and navy. President Coolidge would never have allowed "good political advertising" to overrule the protest of the commander of the Shenandoah.

This nation possesses men that understand flying, having risked their lives repeatedly in gaining the knowledge they possess.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE hereafter will allow such men to speak with some authority in the flying enterprises of the United States. Brigadier General Mitchell, now reduced in rank, tucked away in a corner of Texas, BECAUSE HE TOLD THE TRUTH ABOUT OFFICIAL INCOMPETENCY is the type of man that should HAVE AUTHORITY in the nation's flying force.

"Ponto was a great pet with all the ships that traded in and out of Cincinnati. The pilots got to know him, and when they were entering port and saw Ponto cruising about in the channel they would signal him and he would signal back, always giving the correct number of blasts. But he's dead now—poor old Ponto! After which a silence befell at the purser's table."

A New Phase of Our National Pastime, Uncrowning The King

CONCERNS ALL TAMPA TIMES

Recently the Kansas City Star carried an editorial, under the heading, "Crime Concerns Everybody," in which it is stated that the average person no doubt feels pretty secure from the acts of criminals. He does not expect to be held up, to be murdered, that his home will be robbed or money taken from him by some species of fraud. Yet, as the Fourth Estate comments, directly or indirectly, crime levies a heavy tax upon every individual in the country. It is a constant menace to life and property, and no person can be absolutely sure he is immune from the danger.

The cost of crime in money is seldom considered. Nor is there much consideration of the question of who pays that cost. Estimated totals of the crime bill ought to be published. An authority who has studied crime for nearly 35 years, Mr. William B. Joyce, chairman of the National Surety Company, says two billion dollars is taken from the American people every year by various fraudulent schemes. Burglars and thieves get about two hundred million; embezzlers obtain another one hundred and

THE JUDGE'S JOB TAMPA TIMES

All of us think that our job is the hardest, and many of us can render good reasons why this is true. Really, the judges on the benches of trial courts—from the lowest to the highest—probably have the hardest job of any of us if we will come to think about it a little. The judge's real task is to maintain a safe balance between heart and head, a thing at which many of them fail because it is a tremendously difficult thing to do and because they are distinctly human.

Press accounts of the way Judge William H. Atwell of Texas is conducting the federal court in New York set us thinking along this line. It seems from these that the chilly atmosphere frequently noticeable in federal court rooms doesn't pervade the precincts of justice when Judge Atwell holds forth. According to these newspaper stories his attitude toward defendants is so at variance with what Gotham is used to that the Texas judge has created something like a sensation at the metropolis. Newspaper reporters have found that his court yields snappy copy even when the ordinary run of bootleg cases are on trial.

It seems that Judge Atwell has adopted the novel expedient of treating offenders against the criminal statutes as human beings. When a defendant, say a bootlegger, is convicted, the judge gives him a fatherly lecture on the error of his ways, and then very likely gives him a prison sentence in which to "think it over." For the Texas judge isn't ruled by a soft heart, according to accounts; he doesn't let pity for the erring one lead him into withholding

A KICK RAISES AN OBJECT HIGHER DOTHAN, ALA., EGGLE

People continue to go to Florida. All efforts to stem the tide by jealous communities are unsuccessful. The force of that state's stupendous advertising campaign has reached such momentum that it will carry on for a long period, even if the advertising should stop. But instead of concluding Florida is putting forth still greater efforts and raising still larger sums for advertising. Efforts to discredit Florida to the advantage of one's own community might act as a boomerang. The "kicker" merely boomerangs, or "kicks" for the kick. The kick raises the object of its ire to a greater height.

SIMMONS-CHITTENDEN NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED IN MOUNTSVILLE, S. C.

The following taken from the Mountsville paper will prove of great interest to a large group of friends in Sanford. Mr. Chittenden has made Sanford his home for a number of years and is now prominently known in real estate circles. Mrs. Chittenden is the niece of Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Langley of this city and for several winters has made her home here, making and holding a large group of admiring friends who will welcome her as a resident.

A brilliant wedding of unusual interest was solemnized Thursday evening, Sept. 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Simmons, when their daughter, Mildred became the bride of Edwin Arthur Chittenden of Sanford, Fla.

The entire lower floor of the beautiful home was thrown open in suite. The spacious living room was artistically decorated with garlands of white lilies and pink roses entwined with clinging ivy and lacy ferns, under which was arranged the improvised altar of white, with climbing ivy and hanging tapers of pink and white. Large flower baskets filled with pink and white dahlias completed the setting.

Mrs. Mansell Jabbett presided at the piano. Miss Frances Bryson sang "Thank God for a Garden" and Miss Sara Dunlap sang, "I Love You Truly." The opening chords of the wedding march signaled the approach of the bridal party. The minister, Rev. Lyman Ward, entered from the dining room and took his stand before the altar. The impressive ring ceremony was used. An aisle of garlands was formed from the stair, which the bridal party descended to the altar, by Racheal Simmons and Jessie Teague.

The two groomsmen, Calvin Teague and W. A. Teague, were the first to enter. The bridesmaids, Miss Teague Simmons and Miss Edna Chittenden, wore pink chiffon dresses and carried bouquets of pink roses and asters. The flower girls, little Mercy Wine-brenner and Sara Janet Chittenden, dressed in pink, carried white baskets of pink roses. Miss Olga Simmons, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a yellow chiffon dress and carried an arm bouquet of roses and asters. From the dining room enter the groom with his best man, Frank Woodruff. The bride descended the stairs with her father, who gave her away in marriage.

"The bride was beautiful, in a white satin gown beaded with pearls and crystal beads. Her veil of real lace was fastened with a bandeau of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and valley lilies.

"An informal reception was held immediately after the ceremony at which the happy couple received hearty congratulations from the many friends and relatives.

"The dining room, where the wedding cake was arranged in the center of the table, was decorated with pink roses, ferns and tiny wedding bells. As the bride ascended the stairs, she threw her bouquet from the landing.

"The bride's traveling suit was an ensemble of blonde Elizabeth crepe, elaborately embroidered in silk, with accessories to match.

"The couple left immediately in their car for an extended honeymoon in the mountains of North Carolina, Washington and other points of interest.

"Mrs. Chittenden, who is very popular in all social circles, received her literary education at Tufts College. She was a student of New England Conservatory in Boston, and a graduate of Chicago College of Music. She has taught piano and pipe organ in Sanford, Fla., for the past three years.

Mr. Chittenden is a very popular resident of Sanford and is an old resident and a very successful real estate man there.

"After Sept. 15, Mr. and Mrs. Chittenden will be at home to their many friends in the Welaka Apartments."

Psychology Used By Texas Jurist While Sitting on N.Y. Bench

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Judge William H. Atwell, of Dallas, Texas, now sitting in Federal Court here to relieve an overcrowded calendar, is applying psychology to his cases and has caught the interest of New Yorkers at a time when there is such keen discussion over mild criminal ways.

So successful are his methods that court officials say, he has men thanking him for three year terms at Atlanta, promising to cut off arm and a leg rather than continue drug habit and being led off to jail smiling. Recently in sentencing Samuel Albert 21 years old to Federal Penitentiary for 13 months, Judge Atwell shook hands warmly with him and said, "when you come back out of Atlanta and meet bad company tell them all to go to hell and say I'm going straight. Give me your hand my boy and promise me that you will try what I have told you."

B. J. Starling returned Friday evening from Jamestown, N. Y., where he spent several weeks with his daughter, Mrs. A. B. Peterson, stopping over enroute home at Lafayette, Ga., where he visited his mother, Mrs. Mary Starling.

Robert Holly, Reginald Holly, Glenn Wimbish, Fred Long, Jack McKenon, Maurice Wimbish, Sam Fleischer and Philip Bach formed a congenial party spending the week-end at Daytona Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chittenden and children have returned from a motor trip to Wilkesbarre, Pa. They stopped enroute home in Mountsville, S. C., where little Sara Janet Chittenden was one of the flower girls in the Simmons-Chittenden wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fox, of Ocala were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet McCall. Their many friends will be interested to learn that they have purchased the Hill Bungalow on Magnolia and Hughey Ave., and will make Sanford their home.

TAMPA WINS 1ST FROM SAINTS IN PENNANT SERIES

Early Lead Counts Big As Ninth Inning Drive Falls One Run Short; Slugging On Both Sides Features

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Tampa defeated St. Petersburg 7 to 6 in the opening game of the pennant series between the winners of the first and second divisions of the Florida State League season, here Monday. The Saints' final drive after Tampa gained a four-run lead in the third inning, fell one run short. Extra base hitting featured the contest while remarkable infield work cut off tallies. Triples by Estrada and Weik in the third drove in four runs for the Smokers. Cox tripled to give the Saints a tally in the fifth but Tampa again boosted the lead with two counters on a pair of doubles and a single in the sixth. Cox's second three bagger gave the Saints three more in the sixth. After Tampa got a run on a single and double in the eighth, the Saints rallied in the ninth and counted twice on two singles and a double.

Bob Morris, southpaw pitcher, property of the Augusta club of the South Atlantic League will be returned to that club tomorrow.

'A's' Pennant Hopes Die As Senators Take Both Games Of Labor Day Double Bill

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Any lingering doubt that the banner of American League supremacy would perch atop the Washington stronghold for the second successive year was removed Monday when the Senators dealt two stunning blows to the Athletics, the team which, until its sudden downfall fought a nip and tuck battle with the world's champions for the peak.

Double defeat yesterday by scores of 2 to 1 this morning and 7 and 6 this afternoon virtually eliminated the struggling Mackmen from the race. They are now nine full games behind the title holders. Mathematically they still have a chance to win in the month of campaigning remaining but it will take something moving with the speed and destructive power of a typhoon to dislodge Bucky Harris and his gallant crew from the top.

A vast gathering of close to 70,000 fans saw the home team put up a sensational fight for both games only to make costly mistakes at vital moments that tossed the last trace of Connie Mack's dream of his first pennant in eleven years.

Today's setbacks were the eleventh and twelfth straight sustained by the Athletics since they started crumpling in their last western invasion. They not only appear hopelessly out of the race but face a strenuous tussle to retain their hold on second position in the face of Chicago's challenge.

The Senators were forced to employ all the strategy at their command as well as much of their reserve material to down their opponents yesterday but they left a convincing impression of superiority and an ability to seize opportunities in the same fashion that marked their world championship fight last year.

Walter Johnson outpitched Lefty Groves, turned in the morning triumph for the Senators but only after he had withstood a spectacular ninth inning rally which scored one run for the Macks and fell short of tying the score when Bing Miller, overrunning third base, was caught for the third out.

Detroit Winning Streak Ends at Ten Straight; Yankees Drop Solo Game to Red Sox As Ruth Geis Back in Game

BOSTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The Red Sox defeated the Yankees Monday, 5 to 1, bringing to an end the four-game winning streak of the Hugmen. Babe Ruth, who has made his peace with Manager Miller Huggins, was back in the lineup for the first time since his suspension and $5,000 fine. He was loudly cheered throughout the game but failed to distinguish himself, fanning twice and making an error in left field. The best he could get was a single in four times at bat.

Howard Ehmke held the Huggmen to five hits, one of which was Gehrig's tenth home run of the year. Rain caused postponement of the first game of a scheduled double header.

Score by innings:
 Boston 000 000 100-1 5-1
 Boston 010 000 10x-5-13-0
 Batteries: Jones, Johnson and Bengough and Schang; Ehmke and Pielnich.

HEAVY HITTING FEATURES DETROIT, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Detroit divided a holiday double header with St. Louis Monday, winning the first game, 7 to 6, by a ninth inning rally and dropping the afternoon game, 4 to 3, in 11 innings.

Score by innings:
 Detroit 000 100 11-4-12-1
 Detroit 001 000 010 10-3-10-0
 Batteries: Davis and Dixon; Hargrave; Whitehill, Doyle and Bassler.

Grid Practice Starts Sept. 7 At Tennessee Will Face Hard Year

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The University of Tennessee has one of the hardest football schedules in her history for 1925 engagements. The season opens here on Hardee Field with Emory and Henry and ends with Kentucky at Lexington on Thanksgiving day, November 26.

First practice work will begin on September 7 and the field has been equipped with flood lights and resodded to give opportunity for late evening practice. Coach Banks will be assisted by B. F. Cakes, who will coach the line and Professor A. W. Hobb, who train the freshmen, Captain R. M. Nayland, of West Point, who has just been assigned to the University as R. O. T. C. duty, will assist in coaching the backfield and ends, having played quarterback and end during his football career. Captain Neyland is also an All-American baseball pitcher and will assist in coaching the baseball team of Tennessee next spring.

Presenting the new champion of the flyweight division, Fidel La Barba of Los Angeles, who came into the honors the other night by handing Frankie Genaro, New York, a net lacing over the 10-session route. About a year ago, La Barba was only an amateur. He's made rapid strides up the pugilistic ladder.
