

More Snow For Embattled Areas; 21 Dead

United Press International
A foot of new snow was predicted for the snow-crusted city of Oswego, N. Y., today and a bitter sub-zero freeze.

Oswego, already under a state of emergency, was hit by a new storm Tuesday night as it fought to free itself of a record 65 inch snow accumulation and drifts 20 feet high.

More than 40 snow plows were thrown into the battle against the towering snow mounds in and around Oswego. House roofs threatened to crumple under the weight of the snow.

Heavy snow squalls also swirled over the lee shores of Lake Erie where Erie, Pa., was buried under 25 inches of snow and faced the prospect of another 6 to 12 inches today.

State police said roads in northeast Pennsylvania and southwest New York were "terrible" with visibility cut by the heavy snow. All main roads were open, but about 60 per cent of the secondary roads in the area were shut.

The most prolonged cold wave of the season extended from the Continental Divide to the Atlantic.

Sub-zero readings were common during the night from Montana across the northern plains, the Great Lakes, the central Appalachians and into New England. And the official onset of winter still 12 days away.

Below freezing weather drove as far south as Georgia and central Texas.

The snow and cold was blamed for at least 21 deaths. Icy highways claimed nine lives in traffic in Illinois, three in Indiana, two in New Jersey and one each in Iowa and New York state. Two transients rose to death in Chicago, two men suffered fatal heart attacks shoveling snow in Iowa and a Michigan man met the same fate.

Among the latest victims were two persons killed when a bus and truck collided on an icy highway Tuesday night near Somerville, N. J. Twenty persons were injured in the crash.

A Gurnee, Ill., man was killed Tuesday night in a traffic accident while trying to help a neighbor start his stalled car.

Fire Kills Man
Cold weather fires also took a heavy toll of lives. At Champaign, Ill., three little girls, including twins, were killed Tuesday night when flames swept their small frame home.

An overheated wood stove was blamed for a fire which killed two boys at Lawrenceburg, Ind. In Ohio, two fires claimed two lives. Rodney Lee Cade, 18 months, was found burned to death near an open fire when his mother returned to their Dayton home after chopping wood outside. Milton Moreland, 78, was killed when a fire swept his house trailer at Etna in central Ohio.

At Allentown, Pa., a furnace explosion forced 11 persons to flee a wrecked home into wintry weather.

In the Northwest, searchers combed back roads and forested areas near Portland, Ore., for a family of five missing since Sunday when they went out to look for Christmas trees. Missing were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Martin and their three daughters.

Ice Covers Mississippi
The intense cold brought a four-inch thick ice cover to the Mississippi River from Clarksville to Hannibal, Mo., and ice formed on the river as far south as St. Louis, which reported its coldest Dec. 9 in 41 years. Barge traffic continued on the Mississippi despite the ice.

However, three ships were trapped in ice in Lake Erie and seven cargo vessels were ice-bound below Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., in the Lower Saint Mary's River. The Coast Guard cutter Mosquito was enroute to try and clear a path for the ships to Lake Huron.

Another 35 ships were stalled at the Lachine and Soulanges locks in the St. Lawrence River east and west of Montreal. An ice breaking tug was sent to Soulanges.

Other heavy snow amounts included 30 inches at Fulton and 36 inches at Boonville, N. Y.; 48 inches at Houghton, 30 inches at Pellston, and 40 inches at Hancock, Mich., and up to four inches as far south as northern West Virginia and western Maryland.

The coldest weather of the season closed in on the New York metropolitan area where readings dipped into the teens.

A slight warming trend brought a little relief to the Dakotas, eastern Montana, Iowa and Minnesota. Although it was 10 to 20 degrees warmer in this area, most temperatures still were below zero.

Waner Is Selected Honorary Chairman Of '58 Seal Sale

Paul G. Waner of Sarasota, batting instructor for the St. Louis Cardinals and a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, will serve this year as honorary state chairman for the Christmas Seal Sale.

Waner, who only a year ago won a personal victory over TB, expressed eagerness to do anything he could "to help keep my fellow men from being benched by tuberculosis."

A story of his bout with TB, written last year for the Sarasota Herald-Tribune while he was a patient in the Southwest Florida Tuberculosis Hospital, Tampa, has been widely reprinted throughout the country with Waner's "blessing" to all those afflicted with TB.

He urges people everywhere to support the work of their tuberculosis association through the purchase of Christmas Seals.

Admitting that in past years he used to buy Christmas Seals rather grudgingly, Waner said, "If someone had told me then that the money I gave might spare my life and certainly save me years of confinement, I would have laughed. Then I would sit down, sigh, and write out a check. As I did, I might remark, 'I hope this helps some poor fellow.' . . . Well, it did. It helped me."

One of the greatest hitters that ever lived, Waner had a 20-year batting average of .334 in the National League and led the National League twice each in batting, runs, hits, doubles and triples. He was one of only seven men to make 3,000 hits against big league pitching. In 1927 he drove in 131 runs for a Pirate record.

With five National League records to his credit, he was the league's Most Valuable Player in 1927.

Ernest A. Lilley of Lakeland, president of the Florida TB and Health Association, terms Waner "not only a great baseball champion but a great champion in the fight against TB."

Mate Used Strap, Wife Gets Divorce
DETROIT (UPI) — A woman was granted a divorce Tuesday when she charged her husband beat her with a cat-o-nine tails.

Mrs. Lura Tajejowski, 30, said her husband, Casimir, an automotive technical writer, made the whip of leather tongs in a basement workshop and kept the lash hanging in the kitchen between the pots and pans as a lesson in psychology.

She said her husband is working on his master's degree in psychology.

Army Will Remove Marriage Pamphlet

TOKYO (UPI) — U. S. authorities ordered military chapels today to remove from their shelves a controversial pamphlet urging Americans not to marry foreigners.

The pamphlet, which had begun to create ill will in Japan where 30,000 U. S. servicemen have married foreign girls, was written by a chaplain named George W. Thompson.

Titled "If I Marry A Foreigner," it warned Americans against attempting to hurdle the social and religious barriers involved in such a marriage.

Col. Albert C. Schiff Jr., staff chaplain of the 5th Air Force here, ordered the pamphlet removed from chapel shelves.

"This pamphlet should not be on the literature racks of our chapels," he said in an official statement. "This is not an official pamphlet and was distributed inadvertently. Now that it has been brought to our attention it is being withdrawn."

The pamphlet asked Americans to "think a long time" before marrying a foreigner.

More Homes, But They'll Cost More

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There will be more homes started in 1959, but they'll cost more, according to a group of home builders.

About half of the 36 builders at an outlook symposium, sponsored by the National Association of Home Builders, said Tuesday they expect a 5 per cent spurt in housing starts. They also forecast a price increase in 1959 of at least 5 per cent over this year.

Beasley Top Early Bird

The nation's top-ranked golfer bucked double odds—the weather and par—on the Mayfair Inn Country Club course today in an effort to get a good first "leg" toward top prize money in the $15,000 tournament.

A steady drizzle was uncomfortable, but scores were good, according to Jim Gagin, PGA field secretary. The weatherman promised an end to the showers this afternoon, sunny and mild weather for the second round tomorrow.

Leading the "early birds" through the first 18 holes was Halard Beasley, Chattanooga, who posted a 21-33 for a two-under-par 54. He is the only golfer on the circuit who travels in a trailer with his family. Beasley posted a 62 in a practice round yesterday. Only one other has finished in the money this year, in the LaFayette, La., Open. Beasley was among the lesser-known golfers, who get the "privilege" of teeing off early in the morning. He was the only golfer to report a sub-par round among the finishers by noon.

Authorities Check Phenix Confession

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Alabama authorities checked carefully today into the behind-prison confession of a former soldier that he killed state Attorney General Elect Patterson in Phenix City, Ala., in 1954.

The man who bared the latest confession to the mysterious Patterson slaying gave a three-page handwritten statement to a prison chaplain in Richmond, Va., two weeks ago. He was quizzed by Alabama authorities Nov. 20-22, and the story was made public Wednesday night by Gov. James E. Folsom.

Folsom said there "appears to be a degree of truthfulness" to the confession. He asked Atty. Gen. John Patterson, son of the slain vice crusader, to investigate further.

Hillsborough Sued For Integration

TAMPA (UPI)—Five Negro families are seeking to break the color barrier at Hillsborough County's segregated schools.

Negro Attorney Francisco Rodriguez filed suit in U.S. District Court Wednesday to enjoin the Hillsborough County School Board from "the practice of segregation and asks for a declaratory decree which would in effect order the School Board to begin some program of desegregation."

The suit was filed in the court of federal Judge William J. Barker. It was the first of its kind to be filed in Hillsborough County.

There are no integrated public schools in Florida, but several such units are pending elsewhere in the state.

Rodriguez is an attorney for the NAACP, but he said the suit had nothing to do with the Negro organization. He said it was filed by five Negro families who are seeking to enter their children in white schools.

The suit was filed less than 10 weeks after the local branch of the NAACP warned County School Superintendent J. Crockett Farnell that unless the county School Board took some action toward desegregation it would have to face court action.

About a week later, Farnell offered to meet with NAACP officials and discuss the matter. But the NAACP declined, saying it was the obligation of the School Board, not the NAACP, to initiate desegregation under a U.S. Supreme Court order.

Barbecue Shifted To Mayfair Inn

Due to inclement weather, the stag barbecue planned at the Mayfair Country Club tonight at 8:30 will be held instead in the Mayfair ballroom.

The barbecue will draw more than 100 civilian and Naval officers in honor of the bombing derby visitors. Arrangements have been made by the Armed Forces Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Many of the dignitaries are staying at the Mayfair Inn and Motel, which is a ready hosting professional golfer and their wives, here for the Mayfair Open.

Georgia Mix Case Gets Short Recess

ATLANTA (UPI)—Lawyers for three Negro women seeking a federal court order to integrate Georgia State College interrupted their case today and tried to bring in a fourth plaintiff who could meet all entrance requirements.

Federal Judge Floyd S. Shaw called a brief recess to let defense counsel for the State Board of Regents study a motion to bring college graduate Edward Jacob Clemons into the suit. The three women have admitted in earlier testimony they did not comply with all entrance requirements at the state-supported college.

Clemons, an insurance company employee, applied at the college in 1956 but was not originally a party to the current suit.

The suit was filed in 1956 by Barbara Hunt, Iris Mae Welch and Myra Elliott Dismore. A ruling in their favor could result in state funds being denied the college.

Insects Plague Vegetable Producers

The warm sunshine of November and December has been most welcome by Seminole County residents. The insects have been enjoying it, too.

Warm weather encourages insects to multiply faster, according to Cecil Tucker, county agricultural agent. And such is the case with a current pest of local vegetable producers—the cabbage looper.

Dr. John Wilson, entomologist at the Central Florida Experiment Station, said that many growers had complained that insecticides are not as effective as they have been in the past. Dr. Wilson said Experiment Station test plots show good control with basically the same materials.

As to possible causes of poor insect control, Dr. Wilson said that continued warm weather has brought about more insects with which growers must contend. Secondly, the living habits of the cabbage looper are such that insecticides must be applied where the worms are feeding.

Adult cabbage looper moths lay eggs on the underside of cabbage and cauliflower leaves. Newly-hatched worms feed on the underside of the leaves for several days without cutting through the top side, or crawling onto the upper side of leaves.

Spray booms which directed nozzles downward spray only the upper side of leaves. The young cabbage loopers may feed on unprotected parts of the plants. As the loopers become older, they are harder to kill.

Dr. Wilson suggested using booms with three nozzles to the row, one from the top and one from each side. In fields where careful attention has been given to spraying, control of loopers is excellent.

Recommendations for looper control are one pint of endrin emulsifiable concentrate per acre at 10-day intervals before the head begins to form. After heading of cabbage begins, one-third quart of parathion liquid, containing four pounds of technical parathion per gallon, should be used for each acre, applied at seven-day intervals.

Dr. Wilson said experiments prove that looper control is "practically assured" if these suggestions are followed carefully.

Red Radio Reports 'Spies' Liquidated

LONDON (UPI)—Moscow radio today reported the discovery and liquidation of what it called an "American-Chinese-Korean" spy ring in Red China's Kwantung province where an attempted uprising had been reported Wednesday.

A Tass news agency dispatch from Peking said the Kwantung province people court sentenced five agents death, gave prison terms to others and acquitted six who voluntarily surrendered.

Press dispatches Wednesday night from Portuguese Macao, off the Kwantung coast of South China, reported a Hungarian-type uprising had taken place on the Red Chinese island of Lappa early Tuesday.

According to the Macao reports there were sounds of rebellion on the nearby Communist island, followed by heavy troop movements, gunfire and public execution of three men.

Macao residents watched the executions through binoculars and telescopes.

Permission Asked To Lay New Cable

The Florida Power and Light Co. has applied to the Department of the Army to replace an existing submarine electric transmission cable with one larger, about 254 feet upstream from the bridge on State Road 415 over the St. Johns River between Sanford and Osteen.

Double Zero Jet To Be On Display
Among the display of modern jet aircraft at the NAS open house tomorrow will be AD3 number "00" from VAH-8.

This is the Skywarrior representing the U. S. at the Brussels World Fair last summer. It was flown to Belgium from the decks of the USS Saratoga.

A week after thousands from every country had seen the sleek swept wing aircraft, it was back on the job again flying over Lebanon during the crisis last July. The plane is the only Heavy Attack Wing One aircraft numbered "00".

'Navy Week' Celebration To Be Climaxed Saturday

Squadron 9 Holds Bomb Derby Lead; Final Stage Set

A squadron which returned to Sanford two months ago, after nine months in the Mediterranean aboard the USS Saratoga is still ahead in the Heavy Attack Wing One sixth bombing derby.

VAH-8 now leads with 822 points, having placed first in all events except one. Yesterday's event required the select crews to fly a 2,000-mile simulated combat mission terminating with a practice bomb drop on a target ship grounded off Cape Hatteras, N. C.

At 10-minute intervals the bombs plunged toward the target from the swept wing Skywarriors. Observers scored the accuracy of the drops made at a height of seven miles and a speed of 600 miles an hour.

Squadron Eleven remained within striking distance of Nine's "float" with a score of 608. VAH-11 is close behind with 666 points. In fourth place is VAH-7, with 418 points.

Event Five will begin tonight at 7:30 when the Skywarriors rise from the Sanford Naval Air Station (VAH-11 from the USS Roosevelt), for an extended over-water navigation flight. All electronic navigation equipment will be secured, as the crews rely only on the stars to guide their way.

Radar Bomb Site scores tonight will be made on Charlotte, N. C. and Richmond, Va. A crucial total of 700 points and the coveted Trophy hang in the balance tonight. The trophy is awarded to the winning squadron, H. S. and "VAH-8" derby crews include C.C. Floyd Harris, Ensign Dick McKee, B.N., and Walt Carlson, third crewman; Lt. Tom Kilcline, third crewman; Lt. Ralph Matlock, Lt. James Frennell, H.S., and "Mitch" Mitchell, third crewman.

Public Will Tour Station Tomorrow

The gates of Sanford Naval Air Station will be opened to the public tomorrow.

Public Open House will take place from 11 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Capt. Lionel A. Arthur, commanding officer, urged citizens of Central Florida to take advantage of this opportunity to see, first hand, the station, aircraft and personnel who are contributing so much to the mission of the Navy and the defense effort of the nation.

One of the newly-completed hangars at the station will house an interesting aviation exhibit open to the general public. A static display of the Navy's latest carrier jet aircraft from Carrier Air Group Four will be on exhibition.

Notes, Tapes Show Monastery Blast Murder, Suicide

CHATSWORTH, Calif. (UPI)—Tape recordings and notes today showed the bombing of a religious sect's monastery which claimed 11 lives was a carefully planned murder-suicide plot aimed at Krishna-Venta, the cult's leader.

Two hour-long tape recordings and notes left by two disgruntled former members of the Fountain of the World religious colony just west of here disclosed the men were determined to "bring the master (Krishna-Venta) to justice."

"If we don't return, people will know what happened," the recordings which were left for the men's relatives said.

Ralph Hunter, 33, and Peter Hanna Kamenof, 42, both of Joshua Tree, Calif., were identified by authorities as the former members who apparently lost their lives along with Venta and seven other persons, including two children, in the blast which ripped through the sect's monastery Wednesday.

Ventura County Coroner Virgil Payton said the contents of the notes would not be released until later, because they might have an influence on the case.

Payton said the contents of the notes, and other information he had about Hunter and Kamenof deliberately touched off a pack of 20 dynamite sticks they bought earlier to kill themselves and Venta.

U. S. Seeks Probe Of Hungary Terror

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—The United States today urged a reign of terror is still being carried out in Hungary "by Hungarians who are in truth agents of the Soviet Union in the presence of the Soviet occupation army."

Together with 36 other countries, it asked the General Assembly to appoint Sir Leslie Munro, Assembly President last year, as "the watchdog of the United Nations" to report to the world on Soviet repressions in Hungary.

"We cannot now foresee exacted by his tasks must be U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told the Assembly. "We hope his activity and his reporting role will be a sign to the authorities in Hungary that the United Nations is watching to see whether the current repressions do end."

The investment bankers are taking a three day tour of Florida as guests of the Florida Power Corp. After an excursion through the Orlando area, the men left today for Lake Wales and Clearwater.

Rev. Stone Resigns

The Rev. Perry L. Stone has resigned as pastor of the First Christian Church.

Rev. Stone announced his resignation at a congregational meeting last night, and said that he had accepted a call to the Rhett Ave. Christian Church, North Charleston, S. C. He will begin his work there Feb. 1.

Weather

Showers ending this afternoon. Clearing and cooler tonight. Friday sunny and mild. High this afternoon 70 to 77, low tonight 41 to 50. Winds becoming northerly 20 to 30 miles per hour this afternoon, diminishing late tonight and Friday.

Governor To Visit Local Ceremonies; Events Are Listed

Capt. James Ramage, Commander, Heavy Attack Wing One, and Capt. Lionel Arthur, skipper of the Sanford Naval Air Station, will host an estimated 5,000 spectators tomorrow at NAS public open house.

While the open house eliminates the sixth bombing derby, visiting dignitaries should leave Sanford with the same warm feeling of welcome that will fill the hearts of local Navy personnel Saturday during Navy Appreciation Day.

The "togetherness" will begin tonight when local business and professional men meet dignitaries of the Navy and aircraft companies at a stag barbecue, sponsored by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

The barbecue will be held at 6:30 at Mayfair Inn. Simultaneously, Gov. LeRoy Collins will host a dinner at the Orlando Country Club, honoring commanders of every Navy, Army, Air Force and Marine installation in Florida. Attending from Sanford will be both SNAB Captains and Major Merle Warner.

Tomorrow's schedule begins with the open house at the Air Station, where Gov. Collins is expected to be a brief visitor. Spectators will have an opportunity to see the giant F-4 Phantom II maneuver, culminating with presentation of awards by Capt. Robert Elder, Director of Flight Test, Patuxent River, Md. The public is invited to attend the ceremonies from 11 a. m. until 4:00 p. m. Static displays of Navy jet aircraft will be on view.

Douglas Aircraft Co., manufacturers of the Heavy Attack Wing's Skywarriors, will entertain more than 400 officers and their wives Friday night at the Mayfair Inn. Refreshments will be served at 9:47 tonight, and will stay at the Inn during his visit. Parties for enlisted men and their families will be given on a squadron level by the aircraft company. Mayfair party guests will be entertained at the Naval Air Station and visiting dignitaries.

The second annual Navy Appreciation Day will be held Saturday from 12:30 to 3:30 p. m. in Fort Mellon Park. Sponsored by the Jaycees, the day is a fitting end to the week-long activity of local Naval personnel participating in the derby. All Naval personnel and their families will enjoy a free luncheon and entertainment by the Rebels and the Fire Owls.

Many of the visitors will remain for the Navy Appreciation Day, and should watch in awe as 5,000 men, women and children are fed from serving tables manned by civic clubs.

Officers and wives of the winning squadron in the bombing derby will be entertained Saturday night at the Mayfair Inn by North American Aviation Company. A party for enlisted men of the squadron and their wives will be held simultaneously in the Enlisted Men's Club at the Naval Air Station.

The bombing derby is the most comprehensive ever held by the Navy, according to officials. The scheduled events have covered every phase of the Heavy Attack Wing One operations. Results of the derby will be utilized in future plans for the carrier based squadrons.

Judge Asks Board To Transfer Youth

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Leon County Juvenile Court Judge Rufus Jefferson asked the State Pardon Board Wednesday night to send a 12-year-old boy convicted of second degree murder to the Boys School in Marianna instead of Raiford Prison.

The boy, James Frank King, was convicted in Hamilton Circuit Court of second degree murder and sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Jefferson, who said he has no connection with the case, asked that the boy be allowed to serve his time until he is 18 years old at Marianna, away from the hardened criminals of Raiford.

But Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin ruled that under Florida law, a circuit judge cannot sentence a murderer to reform school, regardless of his age.

Gov. LeRoy Collins said the Board will ask Superintendent L. L. Dozier at Marianna for a report. Collins indicated that he thinks Dozier will keep the boy out of Raiford.

Pardon Board Says Slayers Must Die

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Dallas Withers, Panama City electrician convicted of drowning two small brothers after sexually molesting the older one, lost out Wednesday in his final plea to escape the electric chair.

The State Pardon Board, meeting Wednesday, also refused clemency to Jacksonville Negro Willie Horne Jr., 23, condemned to die for raping a white woman after slugging her male companion.

The next steps in the two cases will be taken by Gov. LeRoy Collins who is now free to sign death warrants and to set dates for the electrocutions.

House Speaker designate Thomas D. Beasley argued that Withers was too drunk to know what he was doing when he drowned Douglas Cecil Wilson, 4, and his 7-year-old brother, David, in a lonely Polkcat Lagoon in 1954.

Opposing clemency was State Atty. J. Frank Adams who declared that Withers told him voluntarily that he looked back once after tossing Douglas into the waters and without tremor, gunned his boat and sped away.

Releford MeGriff, Jacksonville attorney for Horne, did not deny that the Negro raped the white woman on an isolated road near Jacksonville in 1956. But he said Horne contended the woman consented.

MeGriff hinted that mercy would have been recommended had the assailant been a white man.

But State Atty. William A. Hallows of Jacksonville said "social order has no part in this case. The indignities to which she was subjected would cause the most callous man to blush with shame." In all, the Board conducted 27 cases.

The Board Refused Clemency to John F. Hernandez, 43, of Tampa, who is serving a life term for the murder of his former wife in 1952.

Governor Collins termed as "shocking" the conviction of Edward Milan of Tampa as a second offender with a 30 year prison term after he had served five years on the two offenses. It was passed over for further consideration after the Parole Commission said Milan had a bad prison record.

Clemency was denied for the third time to Robert Maness, serving a life term for murder in Ocala County in 1953.

Robert Mullins, who shot into his neighbor's home in Tampa, was granted a pardon without serving a single day of his eight year term if he agrees to leave Florida.

Eisenhowers To Honor Supreme Court

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower will open the shortest White House social season on record tonight with a glittering state dinner honoring the Supreme Court.

At tonight's dinner and at the four other dinners scheduled for the 1958-59 season, the Eisenhowers also will be honoring in a smaller way the four military service academies. For the first time, each academy will be represented by a top cadet or midshipman who will join other aides in performing social functions at the traditional affairs.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said that President and Mrs. Eisenhower felt it would be a "nice thing" to have each academy — Army, Navy, Air Force, and Coast Guard—represented at formal White House functions.

While the Supreme Court was moved up from third spot on last year's dinner list to this year's first dinner, the White House said the move did not indicate any special boost in rank for the justices.

Tonight's white tie dinner, as well as the four others, will be followed by musicales, another innovation started by the Eisenhowers to take care of some 200 additional guests each evening. Tonight's extras will be from the judiciary and legal circles.

This year's schedule dropped the special dinner honoring the science and military started last year, a post- Sputnik idea. It also is the tightest schedule since the Eisenhowers began paring down the listing but traditional White House social season.

In their first social season—1952-53 — the Eisenhowers held the traditional program of six dinners and five large receptions. Since then it has been trimmed

Newton, Mass. (UPI) — Edwin F. Melvin, 64, drama and film critic of the Christian Science Monitor, died Tuesday after a short illness.

LONDON (UPI) — Dr. Mont Falkick, 70, a former Laborite member of parliament who lost a life-long fight to make English easier to spell, died Tuesday. Falkick, who carried on a running argument for 30 years with the late Lord Bessborough on how English should be spelled, proposed eliminating the letters C, Q, Y, and Z.

SCARSDALE, N. Y. (UPI) — Clarence K. Whitehill, 56, an executive of the Sun Insurance Co. of New York, died Tuesday after a short illness.

Integration At-A-Glance

United Press International
 Another suit for the integration of public schools has been filed in Florida.

A complaint was filed in federal district court Wednesday on behalf of five Negro families seeking to enter their children in the white schools of Hillsborough County (Tampa).

It was the first suit of its kind filed in the county, although several such suits are pending in other parts of Florida. There are no integrated public schools in the state at present.

The action came as a trial of a day three years ago when college integration suit argued in Atlanta, and as officials at Mississippi Southern College prepared for another enrollment attempt by a Negro—broken farmation at any level in Mississippi.

In the Atlanta case, three Negro women are seeking admittance to state-supported Georgia State College of Business Administration. U. S. District Judge Boyd Sloan was expected to take the case under advisement after closing of the evidence.

Officials at Mississippi Southern in Hattiesburg, Miss., announced they had been informed of the impending application of Clyde Kennard, about 30 Kennard turned down three years ago when he failed to meet application requirements.

To date, no legal action has been taken against school segregation at any level in Mississippi.

Repercussions continued, meanwhile concerning the Civil Rights Commission's futile attempt to look into Alabama's voter registration practices.

Rep. Byron G. Rogers (D-Tenn.) predicted today that if best officials fail to cooperate with such investigations, Congress would be compelled to give the commission greater powers.

President Eisenhower said at his news conference Wednesday that the attitude of Alabama officials were "repulsive." Such attitudes could lead, he said, to deterioration in the quality of government activity.

The Justice Department plans to ask a federal court to back up the commission's next hearing in Alabama. Meanwhile the commission planned to hold hearings in New York, Feb. 23 and 24; Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 25-27.

Woman's Prerogative
 SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — A woman wrote election commissioner Henry A. Flaehlbrand that she decided not to register to vote because the form required that she give her age. The commissioner said the Election Board would be satisfied if she merely recalled "over 21" to the age question.

Each year in the U. S. about 200,000 acres of open range are burned by grass and brush fires.

South Carolina Receives Heavy Snow, Sleet Today

COLUMBIA, S. C. (UPI) — Central South Carolina was hit with its heaviest snowstorm in perhaps 40 years today, which snarled traffic and forced the closing of schools and many pieces of business.

The snow, mixed with occasional sleet, began about 3 a. m. and the weatherman predicted up to eight inches would be on the ground by noon.

However, the forecast called for the snow to turn to rain by afternoon and prospects for the white blanket to turn into a soupy slush.

A storm center tossed rain, snow, freezing rain and sleet into Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina.

The low pressure area caused heavy rains across the southern portions of Alabama, Georgia and northern Florida. A little farther north the rain changed to freezing rain, snow and sleet in a band about 50 miles wide from north-central Alabama eastward through Georgia and the Carolinas.

The weather bureau at Raleigh, N. C., in a special weather bulletin said the snow should continue to fall most of the day. "Accumulations in excess of four inches may fall in parts of the Coastal Plain with one to three inches likely in the central counties," said the bulletin.

Highway patrols warned of hazardous driving conditions and reported a rash of minor accidents as workers attempted to get to their jobs.

Road conditions led school authorities to close most rural schools in eastern North Carolina. Many city schools followed suit. Schools in Richland, Lexington, Saluda, Calhoun and other central South Carolina counties were closed and the University of South Carolina suspended early morning classes.

Quotable Quotes

United Press International
 CHATSWORTH, Calif. — Under Sheriff Volney Cummins, on the dynamite plot by two former cult members which resulted in the death of at least nine persons at the Fountain of the World sect headquarters.

"The two men were unhappy with the matter and said they had tried through authorities to bring him to justice. Unable to do so, they would take care of the matter themselves."

ATLANTA, Ga. — Ralph Casaleberry, jury foreman at the trial of one of the men indicted for dynamiting a Jewish temple, on the reason the jury members did not convict the defendant:

"The consensus was that the bombing was at a time and manner that whoever did it had no intention of taking any lives. Most of the men could not vote for the death penalty."

RENO, Nev. — Harry Bridges, as he paid for a license to marry a Nazi secretary after having to obtain a court ruling overturning Nevada's law barring interracial marriages.

"Is that the regular price or does it include the extras?"

Snark Is Launched On 6,000-Mile Hop

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — An intercontinental Snark angled out over the ocean early today on another 6,000-mile flight down the Atlantic tracking range.

The air-breathing Snark, the nation's only combat-ready intercontinental missile, dropped its two flaming solid-fuel boosters about five seconds after takeoff and sped on under the power of its turbojet engine. It was visible in the dark sky for about 30 seconds, then vanished in a low cloud bank.

Although there have been reports that production of the Snark may be curtailed, the weapon is the only U. S. missile that has repeatedly proved itself capable of flying 6,500 miles. The Atlas ICBM, however, probably will replace the Snark eventually.

The Snark travels at just below the speed of sound and within the earth's atmosphere. The Atlas, in comparison, flies at more than 15,000 miles an hour and climbs some 800 miles above the earth.

Veterans With Pensions To Come Under Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A survey by the House Veterans Committee indicated today that thousands of veterans drawing non-service connected pensions on the basis of need actually enjoy, with their wives either fair incomes or substantial holdings of stocks, bonds and cash.

One such "needy" veteran had, with his wife, a net worth of $42,096, including $31,296 in liquid assets, and an income of $3,318. He had drawn pension checks totaling about $3,400 and on the basis of mortality tables could expect to draw another $9,450. His military service totaled four months, all in the United States.

The survey showed, on the other hand, that many thousands of less fortunate veterans are supporting themselves meagerly in their old age with no income but their veterans' pensions of either $66.15 or $78.75 per month.

Veterans Committee Chairman Olin K. Teague (D-Tex.) proposed to correct both conditions, at least partially. He said legislation is being drafted to pare from the pension rolls some of those who don't need help and to increase payments for those who need it badly.

The White House has hinted it may sponsor legislation in the same field, as part of a drive to cut government spending. Teague's proposals, at least initially, probably would increase initial outlays for veterans' pensions. Pensions are not to be confused with compensation. Compensation is paid, as a matter of right, to veterans with disabilities incurred in military service. Pensions are for disability incurred in civil life and are payable only where the veteran passes a test of need.

No allegation was made that dishonest claims of need were made by the veteran, even in the most extreme cases turned up by the committee. The blame was fixed rather on faulty law and administration.

Looking For Party? This One Needs You

Gateway School is a day school for mentally-retarded children. It is co-sponsored by the Central Florida Association for Retarded Children and the Orange County Board of Public Instruction.

Seminole County now has 12 students in the school, three are on the waiting list. These three will be admitted when room is sufficient.

Although the Orange County school system supplies the basic needs for Gateway, the children are dependent upon private resources for all such items as playground equipment, educational toys and teaching aids.

The program at Gateway is designed to give mentally-retarded children a well-rounded plan for physical, emotional, social, intellectual and spiritual growth.

A story of a child who attended Gateway can best describe the benefits that pupils receive.

A boy who four years ago neither communicated nor socialized with others has become one of the patrol chiefs of Gateway. He also is reading, writing and working simple arithmetic problems. As a patrol chief, the youngster has assumed the responsibility of helping to direct the safety of other pupils.

Seminole County residents will be able to help Gateway students on Dec. 17. The Officers' Wives Club, which long has had Gateway as a project, will hold a fashion show and cocktail party at Mayfair Inn. Proceeds will go to the school. Tickets may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce.

What better Christmas present could one give than a chance for a child to learn?

Local Market Growing

The Sanford State Farmers' Market expects a record business during this fiscal year. According to Leo Hutner, market manager, the total sales well may reach $6 million.

Business at the market during November totaled almost $500,000. The market handled almost 200,000 packages and 80 varieties of produce and fruit.

Many changes now are under way to make the Sanford market the "show place of the South," so far as markets are concerned. A new, modern cafeteria will be added to the facilities. Landscaping will be done on property along French Av.

The market is working at capacity with fruit, now just beginning to arrive in abundance.

This is just another good example of business activity in Sanford and Seminole County.

News Of Men In Service

Army Pvt. Kenneth C. McMurray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick McMurray, Sanford, recently completed eight weeks of basic combat training at Fort Jackson, S. C. McMurray, 17, is a 1958 graduate of Seminole High School.

AS NAPOLEON ONCE SAID, 'AN ARMY TRAVELS ON ITS STOMACH'

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay
 "Magnetic Florida" was the theme of the 42nd annual meeting and business conference of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce held at Ft. Lauderdale Nov. 16-18. It was an appropriate theme for Florida is magnetic and all who attended this interesting and constructive meeting could not help but feel its magnetism as top flight business, civic and political leaders recounted the past and predicted the future.

Keynote speaker was former governor Millard Caldwell. Following a brief review of Florida's amazing growth and progress in which he pointed out that our population is increasing at the rate of 4,000 persons a week, he soon changed his pace and with humor and sarcasm proceeded to tongue lash both state and federal governments for their reckless expenditures, extravagance, waste and mad pursuit of the rose colored Utopia of socialism.

His voice dripping with sarcasm, he pointed out that, "We have repealed old theories of political economy, discounted the law of supply and demand and contended that the statesman who administered as that the best governed were the best governed was just an old Dodo."

As an example he called attention to the fact that while our state population has doubled in the past 20 years our expenditures have increased 43 times and at the rate we are going, by the time we have 12 million people in Florida the legislature will be spending $25,000,000 each session.

With tongue in cheek he said the sun had to be about $100 per capita or $16,000 per family, which meant that we could all get on the state payroll and retire.

Lambasting the merit system he said, "Everyone knows that under this system you won't have to work, all you have to do is live and pass the buck, make no decisions and offend no one." He referred with biting sarcasm to our bleeding heart friends in the North, those upstanding reformers who are laboring to save us Southern sinners. Maybe, he suggested, if we approach their theories in the right spirit, we can find ourselves in the path of harmony and political sanity of such communities as New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, we might be able to create almost as nauseous a mess of our affairs as they have of theirs.

During the two day session other able speakers addressed the gathering, discussing such problems as the future of tourism as viewed by Richard Edgerton, State Hotel Commissioner; Florida's industrial progress was outlined by Charles W. Campbell, vice president of the Prudential Insurance Company; John Appleard told of plans for celebrating Florida's Quadracentennial with seven years of pageantry; F. E. Stanley of the Houston Company told of progress being made in bringing natural gas to Florida; Dr. H. G. Hamilton of the University of Florida told of our agricultural economy and growth; Richard Bowen of Lima, Peru discussed the need for better relations with our neighbors to the South and told of the potential markets that await us there. Van H. Priest of the Florida Retail Federation and John H. Hazen, head, respectively of the state and national retail merchants associations discussed what we may look for from the next Congress.

J. Edwin Larson, State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner, told of the amazing growth of the insurance business in Florida, the selection of this state as headquarters by many companies, and healthy climate provided the industry by sensible laws and just regulation.

The meeting, well attended, was one of the finest ever staged and such credit is due executive vice president Harold Colle and his able staff for staging it so successfully.

Paper Money Joins Coins For Vending

ST. LOUIS — (UPI) — National Vending, Inc., has come up with a currency detector which permits the use of paper money in vending machines.

The company, world's largest manufacturer of coin machine slug rejectors and other coin handling mechanisms, unveiled three machines at the National Automatic Merchandisers Association here.

One enables the customer to buy more than one product at more than one price, with the use of paper money. Another could provide a wide variety of ticket sales services for commuter railroads, theaters and other businesses which dispense tickets.

And the third, called a "communications vender" machine, could be used for sending communications such as telegrams, cablegrams, long distance telephone calls and other messages.

John Gottfried, president of the company, said the devices utilize an "electronic scanning method" to detect paper money, and to accept or reject it. Patents are still pending.

Tabernacle Sets Special Services

Three special services have been scheduled Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Revival Tabernacle, 24th St. and Chase Ave. The services will include prayer for the sick, and will be held at 7:30 p. m.

Fred Othman Says

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
 WASHINGTON — My shoes today are all over mud. Expensive mud. Probably the costliest mud in these times.

I'm talking about Capitol Hill mud, where the lawmakers momentarily are in the midst of spending $121,000,000 to make themselves more comfortable.

This mud is almost two stories high in the park in front of the Capitol, where it was excavated from a new electric car subway ($1,200,000) leading to the new Senate Office Building, complete with signs of the sodic around the ceiling of the Appropriations Committee room ($25,500,000). This new subway will be in addition to the old subway, now hauling Senators and their guests to the old office building.

The front side of the Capitol building, itself, is half torn away in a $10,000,000 job designed to make the dome look better and give the stonemasons a little more room for offices and restaurants. This deal was denounced on aesthetic and historic grounds by numerous experts, but that old architect, Speaker Sam Rayburn, insisted on going ahead.

In the plaza in front of the building eventually will be an underground garage, but work hasn't started on this yet, largely because of so much other construction already in progress.

A third office building ($56,500,000) already is rising on the House Representatives side of Capitol Hill. When that is finished in another couple of years, the boys will remodel the old whit marble of five building, which cost $10,000,000 back in 1910. The remodeling job will be around $20,000,000.

Then they'll tackle the present new office building, which cost $20,000,000. The rejiggering will set the management back another $20,000,000. This is going to take some fancy timing to keep some Congressmen out of the cold.

The gentlemen decided originally that they would have a swimming pool for themselves.

That decision resulted from the fact that some critics said if the fellows built themselves a pool they'd have to install another for Senatorial ladies, who consist at the moment of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R., Me.). Mrs. Smith said thanks much, but she didn't want a swimming pool.

The gentlemen then abandoned their idea. I'm sorry they saw fit to spend so much money on themselves, even without the pool, but since they did, I can only hope now they'll soon get rid of the mud.

to solve this problem by spending $10,000,000 for the Congressional Hotel across the street from the old office building and using it for temporary offices while the other work was in progress.

They bought the hotel, all right, and now they're stuck with it. A number of the members, who lived there for years, didn't like the idea of being evicted. So Congress leased the hotel back to its old operators; the remodeling jobs will proceed piecemeal.

Sole reason for all this office building work is to give the stonemasons more room in which to perform their labors. Some Senators now have only three rooms; they'll soon get five.

The average Representative now has two rooms; eventually—when all the walls and pipes have been torn out and replaced—he'll have three. Sen. H. R. Gross (R., Iowa) one of the few who frowned on the whole expensive idea, said most Congressmen needed extra room—like they did holes in the head.

The building program, of course, is on the austere side. There's plenty of marble in many rooms, wood paneling and terrazzo floors, but in the Senate Office Building, for instance, the gentlemen have decided against installing a swimming pool for themselves.

That decision resulted from the fact that some critics said if the fellows built themselves a pool they'd have to install another for Senatorial ladies, who consist at the moment of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R., Me.). Mrs. Smith said thanks much, but she didn't want a swimming pool.

12 Couples Needed For Dance Classes

At least 12 couples will be needed to start the new beginners lessons in square dancing, sponsored by the Sanford Recreation Department.

Those who wish to join the class may call the Recreation department office. Joe Curtis will be the instructor and caller. Winter visitors who are already members of a square dance club are invited to join the weekly program every Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the Sanford Civic Center.

The beginner's class will start in January.

Beauty Experts Tell Women To Put Better Side Forward

BY DICK DU BROW HOLLYWOOD—UPI—The "better" side of your face is probably the side you don't sleep on, say make-up expert Bud Westmore and photographer James Wong Howe.

"Photogenically speaking, a person definitely has a good side and a bad side," said Westmore. "Generally, the bad side is the side you sleep on. Most people sleep about one-third of their lives, so it's bound to leave an impression."

Most people sleep on their right side, he added.

"About 83 per cent of the actors and actresses I have worked with have a 'better' side, and most of the actresses are very sensitive about it," Westmore said. He described the good side as "full" and the bad side as "shallow."

"You usually don't notice the difference until you take a picture or make a test. Sometimes sleep has pushed the cheekbone a little higher. And birth may have left imprints."

Of the actresses he has made up, Westmore said:

"Linda Darnell and Ava Gardner have almost perfect faces. "Marlene Dietrich knows exactly which side of her face to have in the right place at the right time. She is one of the most clever persons at being photographed."

"Some actresses just fall apart if you photograph their wrong side. There's one star who has to have a set built to fit her face so she can make her exits with her good side facing the camera," said Howe.

To determine the better side of your face for photographs, Howe suggested: "Look for the side that has the best bone structure and the least excesses of your face make your beauty unusual."

Howe didn't notice that Kim Novak's better side was her left "until we were well into shooting the film 'Picnic.' We had to shoot several scenes over, Kim wasn't particular then, but now she's aware that some photographers can make her look better."

Frisly Christmas Tree

Prettiest holiday goodies that ever graced a buffet or dressed a dinner table, this Frisly Cookie Tree is easily homemade with sliced bake cookie rolls from the grocery's dairy case. Use any of the four flavors with these directions:

Cut 2 rolls of Sliced Bake Cookies in thin slices. Arrange slices in circles on ungreased baking sheets to make 8 scalloped edge cookie layers. Use the following guide for diameters of the circles and the number of cookies used to make the outside edge:

- 1" circle—6 cookie edge
 - 2" circle—4 cookies in all
 - 3" circle—2 cookies in all
 - 4" circle—1 cookie in all
- Also bake 11 additional cookie slices.

Bake cookies in moderate oven (375°) 7 to 11 minutes. Remove cookies from oven and immediately cut holes in each circle and center or thumb. Cool cookies 1 minute, then loosen with spatula and leave on baking sheet until thoroughly cooled.

Prepare 1 package Leaf size Creamy Vanilla Frosting Mix as directed on label. Frost the 8 cookie circles, decorate with red cinnamon candies, and silver decorations. Turn slender candle (about 3/8 inch in diameter) to about 9 inch length, place in low candle holder. Slip largest cookie circle over candle, nest add 2 plain cookies, then the 7 inch circle continuing, placing 2 plain cookies between each frosted circle, and ending with frosted 1 inch circle. Light candle for flaming centerpiece.

Welcome Wagon Club Elects New Officers

New officers were elected at the Tuesday night meeting of the Welcome Wagon Club. The group met at the Civic Center with Mrs. Charles Arnet presiding.

Taking office are: president, Mrs. Bobby Debord, vice president, Mrs. Lou Smith, secretary, Mrs. Virginia Dinkins, treasurer, Mrs. Shirley Remberg, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Betty McAllister, assistant to the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Kassie Heister.

A new assistant hostess, Mrs. Irene Weible, will work with the senior hostess, Mrs. Ruth Gallagher. She and her husband, a retired Naval officer, have a home in Loch Arbor.

A chicken barbecue was planned at the meeting. This will be held for members and their husbands on Dec. 21 at the home of Mrs. Ruth Gallagher.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Arnet and Mrs. Doris Decher. Mrs. Dinkins won the dog prize. Following the refreshments, cards were enjoyed.

There were 24 members and guests present.

Career Corner

LOS ANGELES—UPI—When women hunt for jobs in industry, they overlook one field that needs them—consumer relations.

"It's actually the link between consumer and manufacturer. I act as sounding board for engineers and housewives," said Mrs. Sylvia White, director of consumer relations for the Waste Inc. Corp.

Mrs. White, the mother of two sons and wife of a psychiatrist, started 11 years ago demonstrating equipment. Today, she interprets what homemakers want, writes operating instruction booklets for equipment, trains salesmen to use equipment, helps iron out kinks, suggest improvements in appliances, and approves designs.

"Every major appliance manufacturer should have a home economics director to help meet women's needs. But most home economists think in too narrow terms. They are needed in this field as well as in those dealing directly with food and nutrition," Mrs. White said.

She recommended a background in social sciences, engineering, statistics, and home economics in the equipment field. One way to start is as a home demonstrator for an appliance manufacturer. A woman with little experience can earn $50 to $400 a month as a home service worker. From there, it's possible to work up to jobs in the $10,000 a year bracket, Mrs. White said.

Music Slated Sunday

The Celestial, Cherub, and Carol Chorus of the First Baptist Church will present a program of Christmas music at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Mrs. Guy Bishop will direct approximately 50 voices. Mrs. Marvin Milam is the organist. Chaplain William Fuller, SNAS, will speak following the music.

Golf's Top Money-Winners Tackle Mayfair Course

ARNOLD PALMER

Top Money-Winner Seen As 'Man To Beat' Here

Masters champion Arnold Palmer, leading money-winner of 1958, generally is regarded as the "man to beat" in the Mayfair Inn Open golf tournament which started today.

Since going on the PGA tour in 1955, Palmer has won 11 big tournaments. He also has won quite a few which do not carry the "big" tag, but are important. Thus far, he has won more than $40,000 this year. He won more tournaments than anyone else on the 1957 tour—the Houston, Azalea, Rubber City and San Diego Opens—and was the fifth highest money-winner in golf.

One of the longest hitters on the tour, Palmer is a master of the long irons, as demonstrated at the clinic yesterday afternoon. Using a No. 1 iron, the 29-year-old better showed the clinic gallery with his "high" and "low" drives down the middle.

Palmer attributes his success as a tournament player to the experience he gained on the circuit, plus the solid golf foundation he acquired in his youth.

"When I first came on the tour," Palmer said, "I used to get disappointed when I didn't play well. I picked up in some tournaments.

8 Of Top 10 Among 150 In Tournament

A field of 150, including eight of golf's top 10 money-winners, tackled the rain-sprinkled Mayfair Inn Country Club golf course this morning in the opening round of the $15,000 tournament.

In addition to eight of the top 10, Mayfair could boast of 27 of the top 40 money-winning golfers in America. On hand for the 72-hole event, which climaxes Sunday, are winners of America's three largest tournaments—the PGA, U. S. Open and the Masters.

Pros Demonstrate Best Techniques At Golf Clinic

Under a storm-threatened sky, filled intermittently with the roar of jet bombers, professional golfers here for the Mayfair Open demonstrated the finer points of golf in a clinic yesterday afternoon at the Mayfair Country Club.

The talented master of ceremonies was none other than Chick Harbert, who made light sport of his fellow PGA winners as he introduced them to the crowd. Participating in the clinic were Paul Hanes, Don Fairfield, Jay Hebert, Al Balding, Walt Burkemo, Arnold Palmer, Mike Fetcheck, Doug Ford, Dow Finsterwald, Tommy Bolt, Ho Winninger, Ed Oliver and George Bayer.

From the grip to the irons and on through the woods, spectators were treated to precision shots (sometimes). Absent from the clinic was Lionel Hebert, slated for an act with brother, Jay. Lionel arrived late yesterday, and was on the course practicing.

Favorite of all, Ed (Torky) Oliver, arrived just in time for his impersonation of a woman golfer. Oliver adjusted his garments, conferred with instructor (Ho Winninger) and with a powerful swing, completely missed the ball. Oliver was the winter pro at Sanford two years ago. With his usual casual air, he played a quick round yesterday morning, then "fishing."

The clinic wound up with the longest hitter in the world, George Bayer, who used a wood to send the ball out of sight. His long shots may not be hit with the accuracy of many other pros, but spectators agreed that their length was mighty impressive. Bayer's size matches his long shots.

Golfing fans of tender age crowded around the pros after the clinic for autographs. Older fans chatted with the men who have returned to Sanford for four years now to enter the San Francisco Giant's tournament.

A "darkhorse" in the tournament is Bob Goally, outstanding freshman on the PGA tour. The Belleville, Ill., golfer has been picked by PGA members as the fresh man "most likely to succeed, in a big way."

Yesterday, he toured the par 21 Mayfair course in 66. The five-under was just one stroke less than his practice round Tuesday. For the two warm-up rounds, Goally was nine under. This type of play in the tournament would make him a hard man to beat.

Wes Ellis Jr., Alderose, N. J., one of the hottest golfers on the tour, carded a 70. Ellis has played strong rounds in recent tournaments. He is expected to be a player in the finals. He, too, could be regarded a "darkhorse" tag.

Others who have been playing well in practice include Ballard Beasley, Chattanooga, who, with Goally, equalled the course record of 66 yesterday. Since the course was changed in the summer, the 66 by Henry Williams Jr. in the qualifying round was established as the record.

Billy Bowe, Bridgeport, Conn., fired a 67 yesterday. He, too, is conceded an outside chance at the title.

Among the "old pros" any of whom could win it are such steady performers as Ed (Torky) Oliver, former Mayfair touring pro now playing out of Denver; Al Beaslink of Grossinger's, N. Y., who had a 69 yesterday; Don Fairfield, Casey, Ill.; Francis (Bo) Winninger, Odessa, Tex.; Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg; and Marty Furgot, Leamont, Ill.

Trophies will be awarded at the league banquet next week to end this half of the Sandspurs. The teams ended in the following positions: Perfection Dairies 28 1/2, Roundhill & Anderson 24 1/2, Wilson-Maier 23 - 31, Wade's 21 1/2, and Rollins 21 1/2. The last half of this league will begin Jan. 6.

Perfection Dairies emerged victorious by taking three points from ABC Garbage Service. It was a close fought match all the way with but three pins difference in the total pinfall.

With no pressure on them, and no chance at top spot, Wilson-Maier Furniture won all four points from Wade's Market, and high honors for the evening with a scratch series of 1,557, handicap points, 2,374, and high scratch game of 683. Roundhill & Anderson Drugs took the high handicap game honor with 831 pins, as it split with Hobson Sporting Goods, each taking two points.

Margie Woods rolled a 312 scratch series to give her high handicap series with 529. Faye Griffin, her teammate, rolled a 337 handicap series, and came up with the only turkey for the night.

Florida forwards Dick Hoban and Frank Ehrbridge and center Bobby Sherwood led the Gator scoring with 14 points each. Forward Dick Bishop and guard Boys Coffee were high for Rollins with 12 markers apiece.

Aged Archie Wins Rematch Planned

By JACK CUDDY
MONTREAL (UPI)—Promoter Eddie Quinn said today a return performance of the great Archie Moore-Yvon Durelle ring classic is a "must" for Montreal next July.

And Truman Gibson, president of the International Boxing Club, agreed with him.

A classic it was—one of the ring's greatest—as Moore, perhaps, the oldest active champion in boxing annals—climbed off the canvas four times Wednesday night (once from a slip) and became the sport's all-time kayo king by blasting the Canadian champion with four knockdowns for an 11th round knockout.

Three Cage Champs In Action Tonight

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International
Three of last year's champions—Kentucky, West Virginia and Xavier of Ohio—put unbeaten records on the line tonight, and the oddsmakers claim all should come out in "perfect" shape.

Kentucky's NCAA champs are solid favorites to make their record 4-0 in a game against Southern Methodist at Louisville. The third-ranked Wildcats already dined Florida State, Temple and Duke.

West Virginia's defending national title will be on the line for their fifth straight victory when they take on a Duke team which hasn't won a game yet. Currently ranked seventh, the Mountaineers already have hurdled Furman, VMI, Penn State and The Citadel.

Center Wilson Eason hit for 32 points to lead Purdue to an 89-73 win over DePaul of Chicago. Eason scored 19 points in the second half and was assisted by guard Willy Merrittweather, who totaled 22 points.

Maryland overcame an early lead by Virginia to score its first triumph of the season, 63-56. Jerry Bechtel was high man for Maryland with 13 points while Jay McKenzie of Virginia was individual high scorer with 18.

Utah State bottled up a hot shooting West Texas State team, 91-61, as center Bob Ippon of the winners collected 25 points, and Scranton defeated Seton Hall for the first time in 20 years, 61-58.

Dayton registered its fourth victory without a setback by nipping Miami of Ohio, 54-50.

Princeton crushed Temple, 93-54, with guard Jim Brangan scoring 32 points for the Tigers.

In other games Wednesday night, Army defeated Rutgers, 81-60; Providence beat Brown, 72-48; Syracuse trounced Columbia, 90-59; Fordham stopped Yale, 81-59; Harvard humbled Williams, 81-59; Villanova breezed by Siena, 73-47; Brandeis beat Tufts, 72-64; Colgate nipped Alred in overtime, 61-65; Oglethorpe defeated Presbyterian, 59-55; Bucknell topped Lehigh, 74-57; Holy Cross halted Amherst, 63-43; Oklahoma State toyed with Texas, 66-39; Montana State edged Montana, 51-49, and Texas Christian nipped San Francisco, 58-56, on a jump shot by Derrill Nippert with 20 seconds remaining.

Pitcher Released

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves have given veteran relief pitcher Ernie Johnson his unconditional release. Johnson, who had a 36.72 record with Milwaukee, had been assigned to the Braves' Louisville farm club before the winter draft meeting.

Stacy And Heckman Head South Squad

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — Mississippi State quarterback Billy Stacy, a ballhandling wizard grabbed as first draft choice by the Chicago Cardinals, will lead the revenge-seeking South team in the 10th annual Senior Bowl games here, Jan. 2.

Stacy gave up a promising career in baseball, at least at the college level, when he agreed to compete in the post-season play-off pay debut of some of the nation's top college seniors.

The 185-pound Winona, Miss. athlete won honorable mention in the UPI All-America listing, in spite of performing with a disappointing team.

A pair of UPI second All-America team linemen will anchor the line for the 23-man Southern team that was announced today.

The North team, which will be announced later, won last year's contest, 15-13, when a last-minute Heisel field goal attempt missed from short yardage.

Vel Heckman, 229-pound Florida tackle and guard George Deiderich of Vanderbilt, both on the second UPI squad, were chosen for coach Paul Brown of the National Football League's Cleveland Browns.

The South has eight UPI All-America choices and eight players already tabbed in the NFL draft.

Florida Underdog In Gator Contest

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
TOWA, Louisiana State, Oklahoma, Texas Christian and Mississippi were established as early favorites today in the five major bowls whose pairings were completed in Saturday's grand roundup of the college football season.

A national odds-making syndicate made Iowa, champion of the Big Ten, a 12-point choice over California in the Rose Bowl and listed LSU, the only major team which went through the 1958 campaign unbeaten and untied, as a 14-point pick over Clemson in the Sugar Bowl.

Oklahoma was made a strong 14½-point favorite over Syracuse in the Orange Bowl, Texas Christian was listed as an eight-point choice over the astonishing Air Force Academy in the Cotton Bowl and Mississippi was a six-point pick over Florida in the Gator Bowl.

The lineup of the five major bowls with season records in parentheses is as follows:
ROSE: Iowa (7-1) vs. California (7-3-0)
SUGAR: Louisiana State (10-0) vs. Clemson (12-2-0)
COTTON: Texas Christian (12-2-0) vs. Air Force (9-0-1)
ORANGE: Oklahoma (9-1-0) vs. Syracuse (7-1-0)
GATOR: Florida (6-3-1) vs. Mississippi (12-2-0)

Cincinnati Tops Ratings In First UPI Cage Poll

By EARL WRIGHT
NEW YORK (UPI) — The Cincinnati Bearcats today topped the first weekly 1958-59 college basketball ratings of the United Press International Board of Coaches but led the Kansas State Wildcats by only 14 points.

Schooling Ends At Track Tonight

Thirteen races will send 70 greyhounds to the post at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight, starting at 7:30, as the pre-season schooling events, which started last week, terminate.

During the eight nights of schooling most of the 700-plus greyhounds here for the 92-day season have schooled three times, have been reclassified and are ready to run when the track officially opens Saturday night.

Every thing is being readied for the gala opening which promises to bring out the biggest crowd in the history of the popular oval. As always, the highlight will be the running of the Inaugural Handicap, the 10th race on an 11-race program. Racing Secretary R. C. (Dixie) Williamson is trying to pick eight of the fastest greyhounds for the inaugural field. It is a difficult task for he has scores of ace runners to choose from.

First nighters will notice many important improvements at the racing plant. They include the redesigning of the grandstands' west end and a new entrance from the grandstand to the mezzanine has been built. Nine new metal windows have been added on the mezzanine. Under the direction of Track Superintendent David Ward, the entire plant has been refurbished and repainted.

Cage Star Dropped

NEW YORK (UPI) — Johnny Buck, New York University's highest scorer last season, has been dropped from the basketball team by Coach Lou Rossini for "violation of rules laid down for the squad." Buck, a senior, averaged 15.1 points in two games this season.

Player Withdraws

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Tom Koenig, a Southern Methodist guard, has withdrawn from the East-West game in order to catch up on his studies. Teammate Lee Youam, a tackle, replaces Koenig on the West squad.

Grid Series Signed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — UCLA has announced a home-and-home football series with the University of Pittsburgh for 1963 and 1964. Pitt will play at Los Angeles the first year and host the West Coast squad the following season.

Tech And Georgia Meet; Tide Loses

United Press International
If revenge for a football loss can be gained on a basketball court, Georgia Tech has a chance to try it tonight against Georgia.

The two Southeastern Conference entries play the first of their three scheduled 1958-59 games in Atlanta tonight — but on the basis of comparative records, the Bulldogs are rated as slight favorites.

Georgia already has shipped one SEC club, the Florida Gators, and also holds a win over Clemson Tech, on the other hand, has lost to Georgia Teachers and Louisville, its only win so far coming at the expense of Baylor.

SEC members Kentucky and Louisiana State also are to see action, the Wildcats against Southern Methodist and LSU against Louisiana State.

Alabama got its come-uppance Wednesday, night collapsing in the final minutes to hand Memphis State University its third straight win, 59-55. An 81-51 Florida victory over Rollins was the only other game involving a conference member.

Alabama threw up a stout zone defense in the first half and midway into the second, and the shooting of forward Dan Quindazi and guard Jerry Vogel gave the Tide a 27-25 halftime lead.

But Gene Wilfong, a substitute guard, played ballhawk and speedster late in the game to pull Memphis State out of the hole. He got only seven points, but his razzle-dazzle broke up that defense.

St. Augustine, Fla., the oldest permanent settlement in the United States, celebrates its 400th anniversary in 1965.

Dow Finsterwald, Year's Top Golfer

Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles on the outstanding golfers who are in Sanford for the annual $13,000 Mayfair Inn PGA Open golf tournament, Dec. 9-14. This is the story of Dow Finsterwald, Pro of the Year.

When Dow Finsterwald finished in the money in 12 successive tournaments some of his colleagues said this feat actually did him more harm than good.

"Dow has become so conservative he's just shooting for the money," said some.

Finsterwald concedes he's conservative. In fact, the 28-year-old Ohioan now playing out of Tiquessa, Fla., maintains that's why he has come so close to winning so many times in the last two years.

He has been second or tied for second 15 times in the last two years and a half and has won but twice during that period.

"My style of play is based on an honest appraisal of my abilities," says Finsterwald. "I think I know these abilities well.

"Even though I've had monetary success the last two years, winning more than $3,000 each year, I feel I'm only a fair player and by no means a great one.

"I want to win in the worst way but I'm convinced my high finishes are the result of conservative play. I doubt that I'd have won more tournaments had I played boldly."

Finsterwald's putts sometimes fall short because he wants to give the ball every chance to drop in the "hale door."

Off the tee, he'll sometimes hit a spoon rather than a driver when he wants to hook on iron shots, he hits for the green in such a way as to leave himself margin for error.

"I work toward the pin from the fat part of the green," Dow explains. "This necessitates considerable maneuvering of the ball but this isn't too hard for me. I find the straight shot the most difficult to hit."

Force officer first made the tour in the summer of 1953 shortly after his graduation from college.

As an amateur in 1950, Dow started the golf world with a 61 in the St. Louis Open.

In 1953, the quick-thinking son of an Athens, Ohio, attorney finished out of the money in his first five starts and broke the ice by winning $635 for a 12th place tie at Houston. Dow went on to win $16,838 in 1955, placing him 16th on the official PGA money list.

Dow broke into golf in 1944 as clubhouse boy at Athens Country Club in his hometown. He was hired to work in the locker room, assist in the golf shop and keep the concessions going.

Dow's dad, Russ Finsterwald, a Big Ten football official and one-time football coach, advised the 14-year-old youngster to take the job only on condition that he'd promise not to play golf.

Russ loved golf and was a member at the club. However, he realized that the game had hampered his law career in its early stages and hoped Dow would follow in his footsteps.

As far as Russ was concerned, golf and law didn't mix very well. As far as Dow was concerned, golf look over and the law was pushed into the background.

Now, neither Finsterwald has any regrets about Dow's choice of a profession.

Second leading money winner in 1956 and third on the money list in 1957, percentage-playing Dow was in the top 10 so consistently last year that he accumulated enough points to qualify for the Ryder Cup team in only seven months.

Points for selection to the team are accumulated on a two-year basis and Dow didn't become eligible until the second year.

Using an effortless swing, 5-10 Dow addresses the ball on the tee of the club and then, before starting his backswing, slides the club head out until the ball is opposite the neck of the club.

"From there," 155-pound Dow points out, "I concentrate on moving the left side away from the ball at once."

Control of his temper, hard work and the aid given him by his buddy on tour, Doug Ford, have all helped Dow in his surge to the top.

Dow became a professional late in 1951, now has two children, a twin boy and girl, and a home in Jupiter, Fla.

Finsterwald's top finishes early in 1958 were tied for second place at St. Petersburg and Greensboro.

Seminole Cagers Win Third Of Year

Seminole High's basketball team ran up a 14-6 lead in the first quarter here last night and slaved off a last half bid by Lyman High to win its third game of the season, 62-50.

Scoring in the final three quarters was close. The Seminole outscored Lyman, 14-10, in the second, and 18-16 in the fourth. The Greyhounds had the better of it in the third, 18-16.

Leading the way for the victorious Seminoles was Ray Lundquist, all-conference guard, with 18 points. Jim Gracey had 16 for runner-up honors. Cecil Dandridge, Seminole's other all-ORC guard, had 11.

For the Greyhounds, Newell had 18, Goebel 12. They were the only players to hit the double figures, although Lyman was one short at nine.

Stamp Will Honor Teeth, Accordion Loses Its Bid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government has not stamped out by a Senator's suggestion that a special postage stamp be issued to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the advent of the piano accordion in the United States.

But the Post Office Department will issue at least a dozen commemorative stamps in the coming year. They will celebrate a variety of enterprises — from dental health to the admission of Alaska as the 49th state.

Legislators — like outgoing Sen. George W. Malone (R-Nev.), who wanted to honor the squeeze-box — have no more say about subjects for the commemorative issues than do stamp collectors and other private citizens who volunteer suggestions at the rate of 15 to 20 a month.

Subjects for such special stamp issues are selected by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield. In acting on the wide range of suggestions, the postmaster general has—and generally follows—recommendations from a seven-member Citizens Stamp Advisory Committee.

Most of the suggestions are sent by letter to the Post Office Department. Malone made his proposal in a bill introduced in the Senate. Like nearly a hundred other stamp bills offered in the last Congress, however, Malone's proposal died in committee.

His proposal ended up before the citizens advisory group along with similar suggestions for stamps to honor Robert A. Taft, Christopher "Kit" Carson, Amelia Earhart, the young Women's Christian Association, the Knights of Columbus and a long list of anniversaries including the 50th birthday of insurance in the U. S.

Safer In Jungle

WATKINS (GLEN, N. Y. — (UPI) — Taking off from and landing on makeshift airstrips in the jungles of South America, the Rev. Walter Herron, an Australian-born missionary, managed to log 250,000 miles in the air without an accident.

But while on vacation here, Herron was cleaning the wings of his plane when he fell off a ladder and broke his leg.

Keeper's Helper

CAIRO (UPI) — Visitors at the Cairo zoo were startled when the parrot they were looking at about "please get out" several times.

Somebody looked at his watch. It was closing time.

The guard had taught the phrase to the parrot so he could be spared the trouble.

Comforts Of Home

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. — (UPI) — Joe Gerlak, golf pro at the Hollywood Beach Hotel, gives lessons over the telephone to students who call him up from their homes up north during the summer.

New Changes In Social Security Law

(Following is the first of two dispatches telling about forthcoming changes in the Social Security law and what they will mean to you.)

BY LOUIS CASSELLA

WASHINGTON—(UPI)—Virtualy every family in America will be affected by major changes in the Social Security law which will go into effect over the next few weeks.

These changes were voted by Congress at its recent session, and were signed into law by President Eisenhower on Aug. 29.

The Social Security Administration has been working overtime since then to prepare detailed interpretations of the new amendments, and to apply them to the millions of individual cases involved.

Here is a summary of the most important changes, and how they will affect you. Additional information on specific situations may be obtained from local Social Security offices.

Payroll Taxes

The Social Security tax deduction from your paycheck will be bigger, starting Jan. 1. The tax for both employers and employees will go up from 2 1/2 per cent to 3 1/2 per cent. And it will apply to the first $4,800 of annual earnings instead of stopping at $4,200 as it does now. The net effect of these two changes for people who pay the maximum will be to increase the annual bite from $94.50 to $120.

The tax on self-employed persons likewise goes up on Jan. 1, from 3 3/8 to 3 3/4 per cent, and the ceiling goes to $4,800.

The higher taxes will affect 74,000,000 people.

Old Age and Survivors Insurance The 12,300,000 people who receive monthly old age survivors and disability benefits (OASI) will receive bigger checks, starting in February.

The increases will average about seven per cent.

Payments to retired workers aged 65 and over now range from $30 to $108.50. Under the new schedule, they will range from $33 to $118 a month. Benefits for eligible dependents and survivors also will be increased by the same percentage. For example, a retired worker and his wife, both over 65, will be eligible for a maximum monthly benefit of $174 compared with the present $162.90.

The increases in OASI checks will be made automatically. No one has to apply for them.

Bikini Suit Inventor Designs Another

PARIS—(UPI)—The man who invented the bikini bathing suit and gave it its name, dimensions and the sport of girl-watching is at it again.

For anyone who likes midnight swimming, he has come up with a phosphorescent suit which floats. Advantage: it can be taken off, parked on the nearest wall, and easily found even in pitch darkness.

Or also there is one with tacks on the outside to ward off sea-going wolves.

"I'm always experimenting," said swimsuit designer Louis Reard with a dreamy, faraway look in his eyes. "That's the way you make the big, new discoveries."

But for the mild-mannered Parisian, who at 63 is often called the "Bathing Suit King," the biggest success so far is certainly the bikini.

"I created and launched it in June 1946," he said.

"To present it, we picked a model named Bernardini. Her main occupation was dancing in the nude in night clubs."

"We chose her because of her perfect plastic qualities," he said. "When she displayed the bikini the first time she did a sort of striptease in which she took it off, folded it up and put it in a match box."

At the moment the bikini was launched, Reard said, France was heading into an explosion of joy and high living after the grim years of occupation and war.

"People were in the mood for new ways to amuse themselves and enjoy themselves," he said. "The bikini came out just at the right psychological moment."

The phosphorescent bathing suit, as Reard puts it, "swims by itself" because of tiny bits of cork in its seams. It is designed so that it can be peeled off quickly and easily in the water, Reard explained, and it is for girls who like to enjoy the freedom of a midnight swim with no bathing suit at all.

There are not, apparently, too many girls who seek such enjoyment. Reard confesses the suit has not been a tremendous success.

Reard said he tries out all kinds of eccentric bathing suits in his hunt for a first-class innovation. Here are some of the new ideas he has attempted without, alas, producing another "bikini" success:

—A bathing suit made of plywood strips. "It can be waxed," he said.

—A bathing suit of woven gold cloth. While worn it can be hooked up to a radio and used as an antenna.

—A bikini made of supple aluminum bands. "It shines brightly in the sunlight," he said.

—A bikini decorated with strips of formica plastic. "It also shines brightly in the sunlight."

—A bathing suit which has patches of specially treated fabric. When the fabric is damp, matches can be struck on it.

—A bathing suit covered with small squares of mirror glass. "You can look at yourself in your bathing suit."

Then there is the model Reard calls the "flying saucers." On this one the usual swimming halter is replaced by two simple discs or cups without any visible means of support. The secret:

The "saucers" are attached by means of a special adhesive tape that doesn't show.

PTA Is Growing

CHICAGO—(UPI)—The National Congress of Parents and Teachers reports a new trend in which parents whose children are not yet in school are joining the PTA.

"We feel this is further evidence of a growing concern on the part of Americans that their educational system be the very best possible," said Mrs. Milton L. Wiener, national membership chairman.

Canines Take Big Bites Out Of Owners' Purses

PHILADELPHIA—(UPI)—America is going to the dogs to the tune of a half-billion dollars a year.

That's how much it's costing us to let dogs lead a dog's life, said Harry Miller, one of the nation's leading canine connoisseurs and Director of the Gaines Dog Research Center.

Miller pegs the nation's pooch population at 23 million, which includes 113 recognized breeds, one-third of all there are.

"There's no recession in the dog industry," said Miller. "It's thriving, with 40 per cent of the nation's homes having one or more dogs. We figure the total gross last year, including sale of puppies, food, shows, medical expenses and otherwise, was well over $200 million."

Biggest item, he explained, was $325 million for dog food, the likes of which Mother Hubbard's Cupboard never imagined. There are canned foods, meal types, baked goods, frozen foods and special prescription foods. Then there are diets aimed at reducing obese dogs, those in aid the kidneys of aging dogs, other high protein diets for dogs who are under stress, and menus for just about every condition imaginable. Nervous dogs get tranquilizing drugs; listless ones get energy foods.

Former Residents See Derby Action

The Heavy Attack Wing One bombing derby not only has attracted "big wheels" of the Navy, but also former VAH squadron personnel who are continuing their work with nuclear bombers in HatWing Two or research divisions of the Navy.

Among the visiting Naval officers are former Sanford residents, Cdr. Blaine Libby, staff ComHatWing Two, Whiskey Island, Wash.; Cdr. Cy Fitton, Director of Training, HATUPAC; Ldr. L. S. Zak.

N. A. S. Chino Lake, Cal.; Lt. C. H. Kretschmann, AGO School, Jacksonville, La. (Jg) J. M. Cummings, Staff, CincLantflc; Lt. (Jg) J. C. Peterson, Naval Intelligence, Washington, D. C.; and Ldr. M. Yount, Staff, ComNavAirLant.

Four Negroes Face Life In Rape Case

MIAMI (UPI)—Four Negroes faced life imprisonment today for raping a 19-year-old white girl Oct. 4.

A Circuit Judge pronounced sentence Wednesday on Elton Smith, 27, David Alexander Clark, 20, Alfred E. Duncan, 20, and Arthur Lee Farrington, 19.

The four were accused of attacking the girl, a Hialeah bank clerk, when she stopped her car because something was in her eye. The attack occurred while she was driving home in the early morning hours.

The word giraffe means "he who moves swiftly" in native dialect.

Fighter Crashes, Navy Pilot Killed

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—Lt. John S. Patton Jr., 34, was killed when his Navy Demon fighter plane caught fire and crashed here Wednesday.

Authorities said Patton tried to parachute from the burning fighter at about 1,000 feet, but did not survive. He had been practicing ground control landings.

The pilot was married and father of two children.

NAVY APPRECIATION DAY CHICKEN—Cotton Brown prepares a few of the 500 chickens for the plou to be served tomorrow to all naval personnel and their families and perhaps the entire city. The plou is being cooked in the kitchen at the Giant's Dormitory.

Everything Set For 'Navy Day'

The second annual Navy Appreciation Day will be held tomorrow in Fort Mellon Park.

Sponsored by the Sanford-Seminole County Jaycees, the celebration promises to be even bigger than the first one, held March 30, 1937. The first Navy Appreciation Day celebrated a successful campaign to keep the Sanford Naval Air Station open.

All Naval personnel and their families will be admitted free at guests of the Jaycees and the Chamber of Commerce. Master of ceremonies will be Charlie Morrison, public relations director of the Chamber. Morrison will start the ball rolling when he reads the Mayor's proclamation at 12:30.

An estimated 5,000 will dine on chicken plou, prepared in the kitchen of the Giant's Dormitory by former Navy Chief Cotton Brown. The menu will include cold roast, celery, bread, coffee and cold drinks.

The serving table committee is headed by Ralph Wight Jr., serving from 10 tables will be members of the Jaycee Women's Club (head table), Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Elks, W.W.I. Veterans Barracks, Civilians, American Legion, V.F.W. Masons and Shrine.

Mack Cleveland Jr., Chamber president, will give an Appreciation Day address at 2 p. m. He will be answered by Capt. Lionel Arthur, commanding officer of the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Congressman Syd Herlong will attend the ceremonies honoring the Navy and may speak briefly.

Several Still Out Given Good Chance For Lead Or Tie

Tommy Bolt fired a one-under par 70 today to take a one-stroke lead in the $15,000 Mayfair Inn Open golf tournament.

Several golfers who had not reported by 1 p. m. had a chance to beat or tie Bolt's 136 total for the first two rounds.

Doug Sanders, leader after 18 holes, dropped to a six-way tie for fifth with a five-over 76.

To go with his 66 of yesterday, Bolt belted out a 34, two under, on the front side. He was one over on the back nine. The Paradise, Fla., golfer, known for his temper in former years, had everything under control. He had three birdies on the front, eight pars and one bogey on the back.

On the front, he sank birdie puts of four ft. on No. 2, a 30-foot on six and eight feet on No. 7. He had a real chance on No. nine, but "blew" a four-footer. On No. 1, he was in the trap and hit the shoulder of the green on his way out.

On his back side bogey, which came on No. 17, Bolt's drive hit a tree and his approach shot was off.

In second place at 1 p. m. was Art Wall Jr., who had a 69 today, a 68 yesterday for a 36-hole total of 137.

With the sun out, golfers today feed off late had a big advantage today. Jim Gaquin, PGA field secretary, said Bolt's lead had a 50-50 chance of standing up in the second round. Quite a few still out had a chance to tie or overtake him.

Chamber Dinner Honors Derby Visitors

Hungry "sailors" (as the Mayfair Inn chef calls them), consumed barbecued ribs, chicken, corn-on-the-cob and other "man-sized" fare last night at the Chamber of Commerce banquet for visiting Navy dignitaries and local leaders.

Shop talk, the weather and jokes were the main subjects under discussion during the cocktail hour and barbecue. Heading the list of distinguished Navy visitors was Vice-Admiral W. V. Davis, deputy commander-in-chief, U. S. Atlantic Fleet. Also present were Adm. Don Griffin, commander carrier division four, Cdr. Griffin exchanged sea stories with Cdr. Joe Tully, former skipper of VAH-5, who served under him recently.

Representing Vice-Adm. Robert E. Pirie, deputy chief of Naval Operations, was the Navy's newest Rear-Admiral, William Ellis, Chief of the Air Warfare Branch.

Trio From County Enter Dairy Show

Three Seminole dairymen will journey to Orlando tomorrow to represent the county at the area dairy show.

These three dairy farmers, Owen Cammack, Catherine Cammack and Dave Thomas, all of Geneva, won the honor of representing Seminole County at the area show by showing their dairy animals into the blue group at the 4-11 dairy show Dec. 8.

The show, starting at 9:30, will be held at the new Orange County Agriculture Pavilion. A judge contest in which teams from the surrounding counties will be entered will follow the showing and placing of the various classes of cattle.

At 3:50 p. m., Mrs. Laddie Stagner failed to see a Renault sedan as she attempted to cross 17:02 at 27th St. The Renault, driven by Mrs. Carolyn Grimley of Crescent City, was passing a school bus which turned into 27th St. blocking Mrs. Stagner's view. There were no injuries in the accident, which caused considerable damage to both cars, according to Garrett.

Judge Gets Case On Georgia 'Mix'

ATLANTA (UPI)—The trial phase of a suit by three Negro women seeking admission to a white college in Georgia came to a swift close today in federal court.

Judge Floyd Sloan asked both sides to submit written arguments to him by Jan. 1. He promised a decision in the important civil rights case by the second Monday in January.

The case is one of two attacking racial segregation practices in Georgia schools and colleges. A case involving the entire Atlanta public school system also will be heard in 1959 and a settlement is expected before the 1959 fall school term.

Weather

Partly cloudy and cool with high temperatures 55 to 65 this afternoon. Fair and cold tonight, lows 38 to 45, Saturday fair and a little warmer. Northerly winds 10 to 15 miles per hour this afternoon, becoming light and variable tonight and Saturday.

Bridge Closed, Judge 'Trades' Cars

When a head-on collision blocked the Mims bridge on State Road 23 early last night, Judge Willie Williams Jr., caught on the Volusia side of the bridge, traded cars with a Brevard county driver stuck on the Seminole County side.

The Circuit Court Judge had been trying a case in Titusville, and was hurrying home to dress for the Chamber of Commerce barbecue, given last night for visiting Navy dignitaries.

When it became apparent that the vehicles involved in the accident would not be cleared off the one-way bridge for some time, Williams looked for a car going the other way. A Brevard driver agreed to meet him this morning at 9:30 at the Titusville court house and exchange cars again.

Evicted, But Not Cold; She Uses Pistol, Quilts

NORTON, Va. (UPI)—Mrs. Ella Epperson Williams, camped in the yard of the house from which she was evicted, stayed warm today with a col. 12 quilts, a coal stove, a 38 calibre revolver, 40 cases of Indian herb medicine and the conviction she was in the right.

Mrs. Williams, about 35, was moved out along with her voluminous possessions Monday. She said she was carried out bodily. Anyway, she went only 10 feet, let the deputies spread her furniture and odds and ends over half a block of yard, and sat down.

She's still there, despite nightly temperatures of 20 degrees or less. Sightseers don't fascinate her. The sheriff said he doesn't think she's violating any law.

The home's new owner, Oscar Sturgill said he's not sure whether she's actually on his property or a inch or two off it.

Nude In Icy Wilds Survives Sub-Zero

REGENSBURG, Germany (UPI)—A German missionary back from 13 years in Tibet reports the "abominable snowmen" of the Himalayas are really native priests living nude in the icy wilderness of nearly inaccessible mountain ranges.

The missionary, the Rev. Franz Eichinger, reported he had photographed one of the priests. The picture was published today in the official organ of the Roman Catholic episcopate of Regensburg which said it was the first authentic photograph of an "abominable snowman."

Father Eichinger described the priest as a primitive human being living in the nude in the sub-zero temperatures.

"In a way which we cannot understand, they are immune from the influences of nature and the winds of human life," he said.

Registrars Resign

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Two vote registrars who defied the Civil Rights Commission probe of alleged Negro vote discrimination in Alabama have resigned in avoidance of further "intimidation" by the federal agency. It was revealed today.

The Macon County election official resigned Wednesday night, a day before the U. S. district court here ordered registrars of three counties and Circuit Judge George Wallace to appear Dec. 19 with their voter registration records.

E. P. Livingston, chairman of the Macon County board of registrars, said he and his cohort, Grady Rogers, incoming state representative, mailed their resignations to Gov. James E. Folsom.

"We are no longer members of the board of registrars and we have no records to produce... and that's that," declared Livingston.

Aircraft Officials Visiting Sanford

Donald W. Douglas, president of Douglas Aircraft Co. Inc. arrived last night for the sixth bombing derby here.

The Sanford-based squadrons are flying Douglas' A3D Skywarrior, considered the "Sunday punch" of the Navy.

With the 41-year-old aircraft manufacturer is Edward H. Heinemann, chief designer for Douglas Aircraft, under whose direction the A3D twin jet bomber was designed.

Heinemann is credited with the bombing derby arc II G. Hynd, Gen. I. C. Eaker, USAF (Ret.), L. M. Spencer, L. J. Devlin H. A. Nichols, H. Bayer, L. E. Tolleason and R. H. Wilson.

Douglas Aircraft will host more than 400 Naval officers and their wives tonight at the Mayfair Inn from 6 to 9 p. m. Squadron parties for enlisted men and their families will also be guests of Douglas on a squadron level.

United Fund Sets All-Out Campaign

United Fund volunteers have joined in a concerted effort to canvass Seminole County in an attempt to raise the remainder of the $35,000 goal, now only half completed.

Leading the group of volunteers are Mrs. William Harlin and Mrs. Beba Bunner. Workers will report their progress to them within three days.

The present pledges and contributions will enable the seven agencies of the United Fund to operate for only six months. Abolition of the agencies is threatened, unless they have individual campaigns. The United Fund sought to eliminate the necessity of constant solicitations.

"This is a matter of civic conscience," said Howard McNulty, fund raising chairman. "We are terribly disappointed in the response so far, and hope that those who gave no little will reconsider their contributions and their aid with the entire list of agencies in mind."

Canvassing the Seminole County area this week are: Mrs. Laura Pennell, Mrs. Ray Schulte, Mrs. Samuel Levy, Mrs. James Rapp, Miss Linda McCallan, Mrs. Agnes Cranston, Mrs. Eugenia Braun, Mrs. Jerry Kinlaw, Mrs. E. W. Peterson, Mrs. O. K. Goff, Mrs. Jesse Carter, Mrs. Vernon Hardin.
