

Gonorrhea Up 15 Percent In Seminole

By SHARON CARRASCO
 Herald Staff Writer

The number of gonorrhea cases in Seminole County increased 15 percent during the first six months of 1979 or about 14 times higher than the average increase statewide.

Jack Morehead, of the State Venereal Disease Office, said the average gonorrhea increase statewide was less than one percent. For the first six months of 1979, the Seminole County Health Department treated 288 cases of gonorrhea compared with 234 cases treated for the same time period last year, said Dr. Jorge Deju, medical director of the Seminole County Health Department.

"Proportionately, we are a lot better off than Orange County and others," Deju said. "But there still are a significant number of cases."

Ed Carson, regional program director for venereal disease program, said Seminole County ranks 21 out of the 67 counties for gonorrhea cases. He is responsible for a four-county area that includes Seminole, Osceola, Orange and Brevard counties. "People are seeking out treatment more readily today than they were in the past," said Carson as one reason for the increase in gonorrhea cases.

In Central Florida, county health departments offer free treatment for venereal disease and other communicable diseases, Carson said. But other areas in the state charge patients a minimum fee.

"People are a lot more aware of the problem. They are more inclined to admit it and seek help at the public health department instead of through a private physician," he added.

Hospital officials and private physicians are required to report cases of communicable diseases to their local county health department, Carson said.

Consequently, the county health departments are capable of keeping track of gonorrhea cases to determine whether they have increased, he said.

"For every infection we treat, there are about three infections we don't know about," Carson said.

Persons who are treated for venereal diseases of all types are generally between the ages of 15 and 24, Carson said. Those with gonorrhea usually run between 15 and 20 years old, he said.

Another reason for the increase in gonorrhea cases deals with the invention of the various birth control methods, Carson said. "People are participating more frequently with more different people," Carson explained. "There is more casual contact and exposure to different sexual partners."

Carson added: "People use to worry about getting pregnant if they had sex, but with the birth control devices available..."

The number of gonorrhea cases in Duval County, as a comparison, increased 15 percent during the first six months of 1979, or about 16 times higher than the average increase statewide.

Dade County, which generally has one of the highest numbers of gonorrhea cases in the state, reported only a 2.9 percent increase this year, or about 200 more cases than last year.

Councilman Pat Southward of Lake Mary (right) recently explained, outside the city's post office, to Mrs. Sue Churchill of Lake Mary Boulevard, Lake Mary, why the city needs a tax increase. Mrs. Churchill's son only has eyes for the camera.

The Question: Will Lake Mary Live Or Die...?

By DONNA ESTES
 Herald Staff Writer

The question on the ballot in Lake Mary's special election Sept. 11 will read: "Shall the operating millage rate level of $4.25 for the city of Lake Mary be approved?"

The city council is proposing that a $4.25 per $1,000 assessed valuation tax rate be levied in the new fiscal year beginning Oct. 1. The current tax rate is $3 per $1,000. A new state law permits the city government to levy a tax of only $2.84 per $1,000 unless the higher rate is approved by voters in an election.

But the real question the city's existence if the referendum fails," Mrs. Southward said. "Local self-government is the very basis of democracy. I believe the property tax referendum will pass," she said.

Major Walter Sorenson and Councilman Pat Southward, Burt Perinchieff and Cliff Nelson believe the response from the voters of the six-year-old incorporated municipality will be "yes."

To increase the chances of a favorable response, the four elected officials are pounding the pavement and stationing themselves on Saturday mornings at the post office to explain the city's financial quandary to the people.

"We either have to propose increased property taxes or to curtail services," Nelson said. "If we cut the budget anymore we are going to be hurting the people," Perinchieff said.

"I would consider the question of the city's existence if the referendum fails," Mrs. Southward said. "Local self-government is the very basis of democracy. I believe the property tax referendum will pass," she said.

Sanford Man Held

Retarded Girl, 17, Beaten, Raped

A 27-year-old Sanford man, charged with the severe beating of a mentally retarded girl and her grandmother now faces a charge of sexual assault in connection with incident.

Being held in Seminole County Jail without bond is Moses Blakes Jr., 1712 W. 15th St., on charges of burglary, false imprisonment and two counts of aggravated battery.

Sanford police said Saturday, however, lab tests confirm the 17-year-old retarded girl involved was sexually assaulted in the incident. The date's attorney's office is expected to file a direct indictment adding the sexual assault charge against Blakes, police added.

Detective Ray Bronson of

Sanford Police Department gave this account of the incident:

About 10 p.m. Thursday, a young man broke into the Sanford home of the girl and her 78-year-old grandmother through the rear door.

Once inside, the intruder was spotted by the elderly woman, who attempted to get him out of the house but was punched several times about the face, then thrown onto her bed. The intruder, police said, then located the mentally retarded girl in another part of the house and induced her to follow him outdoors.

Police said at this point the incident is sketchy, but information indicates the young intruder rode off on a bicycle and ordered the girl to follow behind him.

Meanwhile, the grandmother had slipped out of the house and to a neighbor's home to telephone police.

When police arrived, they began a search of the area and began questioning neighbors. One of those neighbors, police said, told of seeing the girl walking and someone riding a bicycle in the vicinity of Goldsbury School.

One police sergeant sped to the area in a cruiser and spotted the pair near the school, but because there was no throughway available, had to drive his car completely around the block to get to them. By the time he did, they were gone, police said.

About an hour and a half after the incident was reported and the area searched, authorities returned to the elderly woman's home, and the young girl had returned. Police still are not certain how she knew a young man who fit the description. Police went to the address of the suspect and asked him if he would accompany them to the hospital. When police took him into the room where the grandmother was waiting, she immediately pointed at him and identified him as her assailant, police said.

Jim Pickens, undeterred by injured arm, has served as "trail boss" of "Wheeling Free in the Sun" bicycle travelers.

Traveling On Faith And Muscle-Power

Traveling on faith, fellowship and muscle-power, 32 boys and girls 14 years old and older arrived in Sanford Friday evening after a 1,500 mile bicycle trip which began in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. on July 27.

The young people, led by their "trail bosses," Jim and Louise Pickens of Anderson, Ind., will leave Sanford early Monday morning to complete their journey to Key West.

"We are attempting to show our faith and Christian fellowship," said Jim Pickens, trail boss of the trip, explaining the group spent its nights on the journey in Protestant churches in various communities. In each case the churches were asked for their help just hours before the large group of young people would arrive.

Only two serious incidents marred the journey. At one point a motorist tried to run some of the youngsters, traveling in a single file, off the highway, resulting in some scrapes and bruises.

While spending the weekend at First Baptist Church, Sanford, the church loaned its bus with the bicycle of his wife, Louise, and he received a broken arm. The incident took place in Fargo, Ga., near the Florida line Thursday.

Unable to find a doctor there, Pickens' brother, Joseph of Sanford, drove to Fargo, brought his brother back to Dr. Charles Hardwick's office in Sanford and the arm was

"We have stayed the nights in churches all along the way, from Michigan through Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia and Florida," Pickens said. "We have stayed in Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist and First Christian churches."

Each day, Pickens said, a van which accompanied the group would start out early and go 20 miles ahead, stopping in parks along the road to prepare breakfast. The youths would bicycle to the site, have breakfast and continue on to the next point 20 miles away for lunch.

The couple in the van, after lunch, would drive on to a town, find a church and ask permission for the young people to spend the night there.

While spending the weekend at First Baptist Church, Sanford, the church loaned its bus for a trip to Disney World Saturday. Sunday they are to go to New Smyrna Beach.

From Key West most of the young people will fly home to seven different states and ship their bikes ahead, Pickens said.

The group "Wheeling Free in the Sun" is sponsored by the Churches of God in Michigan.

"We are attempting to show our faith" is the slogan of the group.

If You Must Ask How Much, Don't Call

By DOUGLAS DOWIE

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI)—Rodeo Realty specializes in dream homes — architectural wonders, ornate mansions and hillside villas. But if you have to ask how much, don't bother calling. It's no coincidence the initials and logo of the month-old firm — "RH" — match the initials and initials of a very well-known automobile, the Rodeo Royale. Rodeo Realty handles only homes ranging $1 million and up. Its customers include some of the world's wealthiest people — including many from the oil-rich Middle East nations of Iran and Saudi Arabia. The owners of Rodeo Realty — pronounced "row-day-o," as in Beverly Hills' most exclusive shopping area — say the firm is the first of its type in Southern California, perhaps in the country. "Gas is $3 a gallon in Paris," said Joyce Rey, the firm's vice president and chief salesperson. "Everyone in Paris wants to move to Southern California." The Los Angeles real estate market was obviously ready for a venture aimed exclusively at the carriage trade. During its first month in operation, Rodeo Realty sold 10 homes worth well over $1 million.

Mrs. Rey, 35, also is vice president of Harleigh Sandler Realtors, Rodeo Realty's parent company and one of the largest residential real estate firms in the city.

The wife of actor Alejandro Rey, the cum laude graduate of the University of Southern California has been selling homes for the past six years. She was picked to run the plush office in the heart of Beverly Hills after closing Harleigh Sandler's biggest deal of 1978 — a $4.8 million mansion in the Hollywood Hills section that was once owned by actor Tony Curtis and the entertaining duo of Sonny and Cher. She was conducting an open house Wednesday for an award-winning horse in the city's exclusive Brentwood section. Even with a price tag of $1.5 million, a steady stream of potential customers and other brokers rained through the spacious house inspecting its 10 rooms.

The average American would be more than content with the guest house in the rear, next to the tennis court and behind the swimming pool and jacuzzi.

"Five years ago, when I started selling homes, this house would have gone for about $850,000," Mrs. Rey said. "And for five years people have been asking me how long these prices will keep rising. Frankly, I don't know when it will end."

Eleven huge gnarled avocado trees frame the house. One branch, in fact, snakes through the corner of the 49-foot-long living room that features cedar walls and a soaring ceiling capped by dozens of skylights. Sunset magazines described the five-bedroom room as an "airy garden pavilion."

"There's a certain snob appeal," said Mrs. Rey, explaining why Harleigh Sandler opened the special office. "Even though we are the biggest and most successful firm in the area, we didn't have the appeal to the million-dollar market that we now have."

He's Wild But Inquisitive

By HUGH THOMPSON
Special Staff Writer

A domesticated animal, the llama has been used as a beast of burden in South America and the Andes for centuries. They first were brought to this country by the Spaniards in the 1500s.

Joe Boy is a ruminant, which means he chews his cud. He's also the New World counterpart of the camel, and is a grazing animal. Fosey said Joe Boy's grazing is supplemented with a diet of hay, free choice, vitamins and minerals and a sweet feed mixture.

Joe Boy got his name from Carla Lopez, 8, of St. Croix, Virgin Islands, who was the winner in the "Label the Llama" contest the zoo held recently. Fosey said there were several hundred entries in the contest.

Liz and Dick were donated to the zoo by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ortit of 233 Forrest Drive, Sanford.

Rail System 'No Panacea'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The state decided today to build a $7 billion rail system linking Florida's major cities. It could be completed until the year 2,030, according to Public Transportation Operations Director William W. Miller.

"A high-speed inter-city rail system is not a panacea for today's energy problems," Miller said in a weekend interview. "It would take 40 years to complete, though a good part of it could be used in a decade."

If Gov. Bob Graham sought and got legislative authorization this year to acquire the right-of-way, his administration could only lay the groundwork. If he ran for another four-year term and was elected, he might be able to get plans drawn and the engineering underway.

"It costs $1 million to build another lane on a highway and only a few thousand dollars for parking lots," Rose said. "With the money saved, you could almost afford to buy vans and give them to people."

He said such an area between Fort Lauderdale and Miami and between Cape Canaveral and Merritt Island would be feasible.

Another possibility, he said, is authorization for the Transportation Department to work with private firms to promote and support public transportation systems.

"We could go into a business, find out where people live, whether they would use vans and buses if parking areas were provided adjacent to state roads and then build them," he said.

Any significant program is going to require new revenue of $200 million a year, representing an increase of at least four cents a gallon in the gasoline tax, Rose said.

Regional transportation networks, using a combination of bus, rail and air travel, are more feasible for the near future than a statewide system, he said.

He and Miller are concentrating on less expensive, short-term proposals for Graham to take to a special session in October.

One is to change the specifications for urban road construction to accommodate bicycle paths.

"A lot of working people would ride bicycles if they had a safe route," Rose said. "A path along U. S. 17 from Orange Park to the Naval Air Station would be a good place for a path."

Nigerians Go To Polls

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — Nigerians went to the polls Saturday in presidential elections designed to return black Africa's richest and most populous nation to civilian rule for the first time in 13 years.

Nigeria exports 1.2 million barrels of oil daily to America, second largest supplier of oil to the United States after Saudi Arabia, making a successful outcome of elections leading to a stable Nigeria of vital interest to Washington.

The new Nigerian constitution on which the elections are based is patterned on the American style, with a strong president, a bicameral legislature and an independent judiciary.

Trial End Asked

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — Dr. Jeffrey MacDonald's defense attorney is expected to file a dismissal motion Monday in his client's triple-murder trial, claiming the prosecution produced only circumstantial evidence that proved nothing against MacDonald.

Attorney Bernard Segal said Friday after the prosecution essentially rested its case. "We're not smoking a gun. I will ask (about it) rhetorically."

Segal said government witnesses have speculated about what happened the night of Feb. 17, 1976 when MacDonald's wife Collette, 28, and daughters Kimberly, 6, and Kristina, 2, were murdered in their Fort Bragg apartment. Segal said "All we've heard is 'this could have happened, but we're not saying that it did.'"

Prosecutors Friday read from a magazine article about an incident in California that took the prosecution four weeks to present its case.

Segal said the defense will take two weeks or a little longer to present its evidence. He also said he still plans to call MacDonald to the stand, adding, "I see no reason why not."

AAA Gives Warning

Back To Old Ways On Gas Use?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's motorists, with gasoline still selling at a record price, are reverting to their old ways, which could bring back another tight supply situation, the Automobile Association of America warns.

The average price of premium gasoline rose a penny to $1.01 a gallon, the AAA said this week, but supplies are plentiful around the nation.

The AAA said its survey of 6,000 stations showed most tourists destinations — resorts and national parks — had ample supplies. But the increased availability and shorter service station lines have brought back heavier traffic and faster driving.

"We're already seeing signs that people are beginning to breathe a collective sigh of relief and revert to their old ways," said an AAA spokesman.

"If motorists abandon the prudent driving practices they have been following they could still find themselves back in the willy willy situation many of them were in earlier in the year."

Nationally, 45 percent of service station owners questioned said they would be open Saturday, and 37 percent Sunday; 23 percent said they were open after 8 p.m. on weekdays and 7 percent on open 24 hours.

The AAA said only 3 percent of the stations reported they were limiting individual sales by dollar or gallon amounts.

Full-service prices averaged $1.00 for premium, 99.5 for unleaded and 89.9 for regular. Self-service prices were 98.5 cents for premium, 77.1 for unleaded and 72.9 for regular.

Illinois had the most expensive gas, with full-service premium averaging $1.064 a gallon. Texas had the cheapest gas, 85.3 cents for self-service regular.

A Shoot-Out With One-Liners

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The month-long fourth annual San Francisco International Stand-up Comedy Competition is under way with promising young comics from around the nation practicing their quipdrives for a chance at stardom.

This year's winner gets $2,500 in prize money, but more important, exposure to network television talent scouts and producers looking for another Robin "Mark" Williams.

The contest, sponsored by Anne and Jon Fox and Frank Kidder, began in 1976 as a way to display the laugh-getting skills of young local talents who were pretty much limited to playing North Beach clubs.

Williams, then a relative unknown, finished second that year and went on to become television's hottest comedy star, the irrepressible "Mark" of "Mark and Minky."

Williams is an avid supporter of the contest, presenting awards in the 1977 laugh-out and performing an impromptu 20-minute set in last year's competition, despite a case of bronchitis.

Forty competitors for this year's show were selected from 150 comics around the nation who auditioned for the Foxes and Kidder.

Preliminaries are held at local nightclubs through August with the field narrowed to five for the finals on the first two nights in September. Last year's finals sold out a month in advance.

'I Was Born In A Shack With A Lean-To On My Back'

Songwriter Is 'High On Life'

By HUGH THOMPSON, Herald Staff Writer

She's a songwriter and a promoter. She has been a model and a dance instructor. She is now writing five books and expects to have the first of the five published in January.

Other than that, she's been a mother to 10 children, three of them stepchildren, three of them sons by two marriages and one of them adopted a daughter.

At 48 she is still good-looking and might be considered by some people to be slightly flamboyant. Flamboyant or not, the vitality of Tina Marsh doesn't seem to need replenishing — it seems to be in perpetual motion.

She is also an organizer with a great empathy for other songwriters. She was the founder, coordinator and first president of the Memphis Songwriters Association in 1973. She is also a member of the Songwriters Guild of Orlando.

"I got tired of seeing songwriters having their songs ripped off. They had no organization and something had to be done," Mrs. Marsh said.

"They also needed an organization which would help them sell their material," Mrs. Marsh added.

Tina Marsh is people oriented.

"I'm a door opener," Mrs. Marsh said. "I've been writing songs and stories all my life and I'll stack all my stuff in drawers — like Emily Dickinson did — until I'm 42. Then I'll take the streets and offices in Memphis and Nashville to see if my work was any good. I'd go to an office and leave three or four songs — I didn't necessarily sell them at the time but I did make friends and one thing, and one friend led to another."

"And I've been poor. I know what it is. When I said, 'I was born in a shack, with a lean-to on my back...' it was all true, and not forgotten. When I was 14 I was chopping cotton, getting rid of the carders' weed and the cow tick vines. That will make anybody learn determination," Mrs. Marsh said.

"And I knew the problems songwriters had. I never completed high school but I passed my high school equivalency (GED) tests and went on from there. I persuaded Memphis State College authorities to hold seminars for songwriters and give them college credit. It wasn't easy but I did it. And that was for the help of songwriters, including myself. I have a few credits, but wouldn't have any, otherwise."

Some of the songs Mrs. Marsh has had published include "Walk in Satan's Beat," "The Thinks I'm an Angel," "Camouflage," "Memphis City Blues," "Recycled Woman," "The Soto County Child," "Ramona," "Fay," "I Gave My Little Girl Away" and "Seasons of Time," and many, many others.

One of the songs Mrs. Marsh has written is "Pauline." It was published by the Stay Free Publishing Co. Free Tone Records, Memphis. Mrs. Marsh said it was considered, although not used, for the theme of the movie "Walking Tall." She said it has been scheduled to be re-considered should "Walking Tall" ever be made into a TV series.

She was a cowriter with Chuck Brooks, a black writer and lead guitar player of "Willie Ben," published by Elitina Publishing Co., B.M.I., Nashville. Also, by the same publisher, "Baby, Kiss Me Time," and many, many others.

Elwood and Marvina Lodge tie up at Monroe Harbour.

The St. Johns Vital To Couple's Sailing

By TOM NETSEL, Herald Staff Writer

A couple of tourists came to town the other day.

There's nothing new about that — tourists come through all the time. Some have a couple of kids in the back seat of the car wearing Mickey Mouse hats and pink faces from too much sun. They seem to be in a hurry to see it all before heading back home.

But Elwood Lodge and his wife Marvina are different. They came to Sanford from Jacksonville — not a long journey — but took them five days to get here via the St. Johns River in their sailboat.

The Lodges purchased their 25-foot Hunter about a year and a half ago. "We'd never sailed before," said Lodge as he and his wife sat in the cockpit of his wife sat in the cockpit of the boat tied up at the Monroe Harbour Marina. We'd always wanted one so we bought it. We're really enjoyed it."

The Lodges and their two teen-aged children do most of their sailing around the mouth of the St. Johns near their home in Jacksonville. At that point the river is about four miles wide, Lodge said.

Last year the family took their vacation aboard their boat which can sleep five and sailed up the coast to Brunswick, Ga. But they confessed a preference to the waters of the St. Johns.

"But she's still the housemaid," laughed Lodge referring to his wife Marvina.

"I've even got a little rub board I use for laundry," she added. Stopping at night at marinas along the way, Mrs. Lodge complained, "The laundry was out of order everywhere and I had to do the wash in the sink with my little board." Shortly before landing in Sanford they confessed to pulling laundry off the life lines to make the boat look a little more ship shape before entering port.

"I've really enjoyed the river trip," said Mrs. Lodge. "It's been so peaceful. We walk everywhere — to restaurants and things. But we can't find a laundromat in Downtown Sanford. We haven't spent much money except for tying up since we cook on board."

The boat has an alcohol stove plus an electric skillet and percolator. A battery-powered television is on board should they wish to keep in touch with prime time reruns. A built in ice chest keeps the drinks cool and fruit fresh. "Fruit's real good when you're cruising," said Lodge. "It's sweet and it's an energy pick-me-up."

The Lodges stocked the boat with plenty of canned goods such as beef stew, soups and barbecue pork and usually cooked only for the evening meal. Fresh fish caught in the river supplemented their diet.

"With the fish one night I make some corn bread," said Mrs. Lodge. "But I brought along some unsalted cornmeal. The river is so vital to our sailing," said Lodge. "We decided to see some more of it."

Stacking the boat with enough provisions for a couple of weeks, the Lodges kissed their children goodbye and set sail.

With the river becoming more narrow and with a 22-foot mast on the boat, the Lodges decided Sanford would be their destination. "This is about as far south as we could get in a boat this size," he said.

The search for gasoline was not a problem. There were no traffic jams nor quick meals gupped down in a noisy rest stop on the interstate. Propelled by the breeze, the boat sailed south trailing a gentle wake.

"We enjoyed the river coming down," said Lodge who is a minister of education in a Jacksonville church. "We enjoyed its wildness and animal life. We saw gators, bird life, and we looked for manatees but didn't see any. And we fished."

With the river becoming more narrow and with a 22-foot mast on the boat, the Lodges decided Sanford would be their destination. "This is about as far south as we could get in a boat this size," he said.

The search for gasoline was not a problem. There were no traffic jams nor quick meals gupped down in a noisy rest stop on the interstate. Propelled by the breeze, the boat sailed south trailing a gentle wake.

"We enjoyed the river coming down," said Lodge who is a minister of education in a Jacksonville church. "We enjoyed its wildness and animal life. We saw gators, bird life, and we looked for manatees but didn't see any. And we fished."

"The river is so vital to our sailing," said Lodge. "We decided to see some more of it."

...St. Johns

With sailors, the weather plays an important part in ship-board life and this gentle cruise on the St. Johns was no exception. "We had two real good storms," said Lodge. "Real good! It's not the best time of year to sail. Going into Silver Glen Springs we got caught in the channel. The wind was so strong to make any headway so we just thrashed to anchor. The other caught us at Hontoon Island tied up at the marina."

Funeral Attire A Problem To Wife With Sick Spouse

DEAR ABBY: We've been married 35 years and my husband has been in death's door half a dozen times, but he's always pulled through. Dear Abby

I have a nice black chiffon dress trimmed in lace. Do you think that would be too dressy? Also, how about a small black hat with a black veil? Or would that look too much like I'm dramatizing the role of the weeping widow?

...THE HOPE OF OUR COMMUNITY, OUR NATION!

Why? A butterfly is a fragile thing, so light that it doesn't even ruffle the petals of a flower when it alights. Its life span is short, but its beauty is total. And, butterflies have memories or, at least, such strong instincts that, for example, thousands of monarchs make an annual pilgrimage back to a single bush on the Monterey Peninsula in California.

What makes these insects continue their strange sojourn year after year, through generation after generation of their kind? Scientists discover the answers to some of the countless questions life poses, but we can never know it all. We were never meant to know it all. That's where faith comes in; faith in God. His work, His creature.

If you've been wondering just what life is all about, why not turn to the Church? It's the first step toward finding out.

Contact Point Is The Means To Tap Faith

Question: You talk about things I've never heard of before. Would you explain to me what you mean by "point of contact" and where you get that term. I can't find it in the Bible.
ANSWER: A point of contact is the means of sending your faith to God. All contact is power. Have a point of contact through which they can be reached or tapped. For instance, you flip a light switch and get light. You turn the key in your automobile to start the motor. You turn on a faucet to get water. In each case, whatever you do to start the flow of power becomes your point of contact.

DEAR HELOISE:
 Alas! I'm taking the time to write this hint after the birth of my third baby. I used a milky white, five-gallon plastic bucket with a lid and made an unusual-looking diaper pail. They make great gifts, but you will want one for yourself as well.

(These pails can sometimes be obtained free from restaurants, painting firms, fire extinguisher companies, etc.)

First wash the containers, remove any labels and let dry thoroughly.

I used books with punch-out stickers of comic strip characters, pictures, letters of the alphabet, etc. Attached the backs of the pictures and stuck them onto the bucket.

Words and phrases — anything you like — can be made with the letters. Pictures pertaining to babies can be cut from magazines and calendars. Cartoons can be used, as well as baby product labels. These can be glued on with white household glue.

You can save a small piece of the paper each gift you receive is wrapped in. Write on the paper what each gift was and take it was from and glue those on the pail. Use anything you can think of — just completely cover the pail. Now is all this going to stay protected from repeated washings?

Use liquid, clear plastic "paint," available at any paint store and brush it on the pail over all the decorations. Use about four layers of the coating, letting each application dry completely before adding another coat.

You'll have a deconstructed diaper pail with memories galore, as well as one completely different from any other.

If these are made after the baby is born, the baby's name, birthday, time of arrival and weight, can be written on the pail.

Just for Kids

LET'S PLAY CATCH... INDOORS!

DEAR HELOISE:
 I have a 6-year-old sister and a 2-year-old brother. They like to throw the ball back and forth to each other in the house. The only problem is, sometimes the ball lands off target, so I made them an "indoor" ball.

I used about 10 yards of yarn and wrapped it around a piece of string cardboard. Slipped the yarn off the cardboard and tied a piece of yarn around its middle.

Then I cut the loops, huffed it into a ball and trimmed the uneven edges.

Presto! A soft, cuddly pom-pom that makes a great ball to play catch with in the house.

You can use different colors of yarn to make multi-colored balls or you can use different colors for each child. You can even make "Martians" by gluing cardboard eyes and feet onto the pom-pom and then glue on a pipe cleaner for an antenna.

I have as much fun making them as the little kids have playing with them.

Stacey Zolneru, Age 12

Sounds as if the "little kids" of your house have a wonderful big sister. You're a sweet heart! Thank! Heloise

Seminole Economic Growth Continues; Unemployment Down

Despite increasing reports of an impending recession, the Central Florida area maintains signs of economic growth. The Florida Department of Labor reports that the long-term unemployment trend in Orange, Seminole and Osceola counties has been steadily downward.

Figures released this week from the department indicate that from May 1978 to May 1979, the number of unemployed workers in the three-county area declined by 1,000, from 19,300 the previous year to 18,300 this year.

In addition, figures show that the employed civilian labor force in finance, insurance and real estate sector where employment increased 12.6 percent over May of 1978.

The department reports 2,000 new jobs in the three-county area have been created in finance, real estate and insurance fields. The number of manufacturing jobs increased by 3,500 over 1978, an 11.5 percent increase, according to the department.

In those manufacturing jobs, the average weekly earnings actually dropped by about $3. The department reports an average worker took home $218.94 in April of 1979 compared to a weekly earnings of $213.98 in April of 1978.

A reason cited for the decline was the shorter work week. Statistics provided to the department by employers indicate that the average worker spent 41.4 hours a week on his job last year as compared to an average of 39.7 hours of work per week this year.

Department labor analysts state that figures from June and July have not been calculated yet, but these months are usually high employment months. There is expected to be a slight increase in unemployment by the end of the summer season, according to the analysts.

One negative indicator comes from the federal bankruptcy court, middle Florida division. Court records there reveal that the number of persons filing for bankruptcy during the first seven months of 1979 increased slightly over the same period of 1978. The bankruptcy court reports 477 filings through July of this year as compared to 482 filings last year. The court serves Orange, Osceola, Brevard, Volusia and Seminole counties.

MAGIC AGE FORMULA

There's a way to tell the difference between ages, the greater of which is unknown. Example: Let's say you are 16. Subtract your age from 99. Reveal the difference, 83, to an older person, let's say to your grandpa, who's 78. Ask him to add the 83 to his age; to take away the first digit of the answer and to add 1 to the last digit; then tell the result. Adding 83 to 78, he gets 161; 1 plus 41 gives 62; the figure he reveals.

When you add 62 to 16, you have his age.

Helping Sanford Heart Park Walk-A-Thon At Hospital

By HUGH THOMPSON
Herald Staff Writer

Starting today, and continuing through Friday 15 teams of nurses and one team of doctors will find out how much walking they do on the job. And they will be participating in the Seminole Memorial Hospital Heart Park Walk-A-Thon.

The walk-a-thon is the brainchild of the hospital's public relations director, Kay Bartholomew, and is the hospital's first such activity. The five-day stint, with pedometers strapped around the ankles of participants, will be in a good cause. The working walkers will be taking pledges from the public at the rate of 10 cents per mile for each mile they walk.

The money pledged will be used for the benefit of the public when the Sanford Heart Park one-half mile track is constructed. The park will be located opposite the Sanford Civic Center, on the labfront, and its track will extend to the Sanford Memorial Park.

On the half-mile track will be 20 stations, where such things as chin-up bars and other gymnastic equipment will be installed. Every five stations there will be a heart-monitoring device which will measure the heartbeats of the walkers or runners.

Mrs. Roger (Gayle) Stewart, chairman of the Community Improvement Project for the Junior Women's Club, sponsor of the park project, said Monday the exercise course, called the Vita Course, will be for all age categories.

"The idea of the park is to improve the condition of one's heart by proper exercise. We have $3,500 toward construction of the exercise course and the stations, so far, and we need $300 more to send off for the gymnastic package which includes the heart-monitoring devices. The Heart Park will be for the benefit of all citizens, young and old, and the city has promised to install the equipment when it gets here," Mrs. Stewart said.

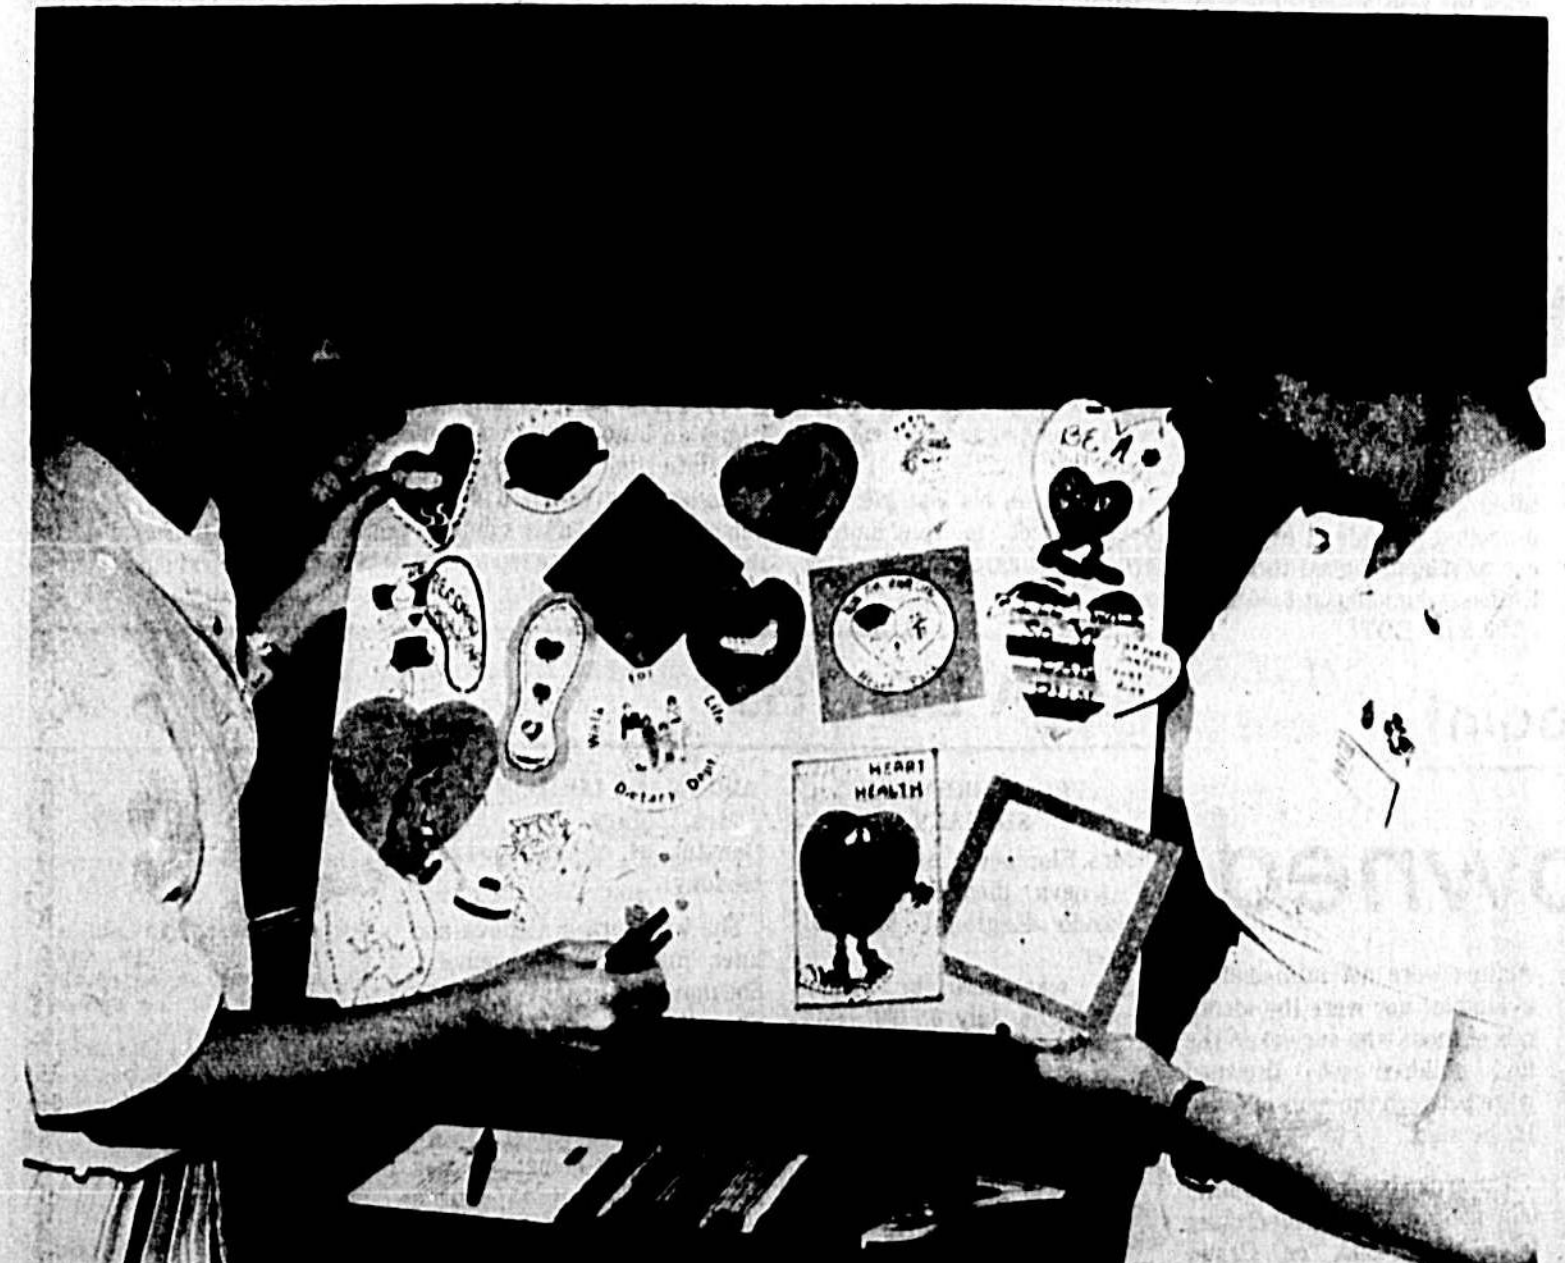

"We hope to have the Heart Park ready for the public by early October. All we need now are more pledges," Mrs. Stewart added.

So, if you visit Seminole Memorial this week and you see name tags on doctors labeled "Medicine Men," they are not members of the Sioux Nation—they are just walkers making their rounds for a good cause. And don't let your imagination run wild when you see the "Pill Pushers"—they're the Pharmacy department commending when it gets here," Mrs. Stewart said.

And, of course, the "Yummy Tummies" will be from the hospital's dietary department. The "Clean Green Machines" of the Housekeeping claim they can beat "The Record Runners" from Medical Records, with the PIPS (Purchasers in Pursuit) and "X-Sports" from X-Ray and Nuclear Medicine in close contention.

But the morning line at the hospital says the "Boomers" from Fiscal Services may take top money with the "Super Strollers" from Social Services in place position and "The Puffing Birds" from Respiratory Therapy pushing the Super Strollers for a photo finish.

Ladies, gentlemen, start your pedometers.

Saxon Co. Ponders Future Of Gasohol In Seminole

The Saxon Petroleum Co. will make a decision in the next four to six weeks on whether to abandon its plans to sell gasohol in the Central Florida area, Bob Cook, comptroller for the Sanford Port Authority based firm said today.

"We've looked into the cost factor of bringing in a 200 proof product from out-of-state," he said.

Cook explained there have been some problems of water separation with the Florida alcohol made from oranges because it is only 190 to 192 proof compared with the 200 proof alcohol used in other states.

"We are continuing to use gasohol in Saxon vehicles and there have been no problems with it," Cook said. "When we put it in the tanks at a station there was some water in those tanks. When the gasohol was pulled 11 inches from the bottom of the filled tank, 8-20 cars were filled and experienced no problem. Some even came back for a second fill-up.

"When it was pulled six inches from the bottom, two cars had trouble with water in the gasohol," Cook said.

"The use of gasohol at the port had been a laboratory controlled type thing. We checked our tanks to eliminate the water problem," he said.

Cook said it is critical to the feasibility of the gasohol operation that a Florida-based product be used.

Cook observed that his Saxon vehicle using regular unleaded gasoline was getting slightly less than 19 miles per gallon. With gasohol it is getting just under 21 miles per gallon.

"The fuel performance has been real good," he said. Gasohol at its first tryout was selling for about four cents per gallon more than unleaded gasoline. — DONNA ESTES

In Sanford Tonight Public Hearing On Budget

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

A public hearing on the city's proposed $7.8 million budget for fiscal 1979-80 is scheduled to open the Sanford City Commission meeting at 7 p.m. today.

The commission has tentatively approved the budget calling for a property tax rate of $7.88 per $1,000 assessed valuation, up 2.6 percent over the current year's $6.90 rate. The increase is 18 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation.

A second public hearing is also scheduled on the federal revenue sharing trust fund of $230,220. The money is proposed for allocation to the general fund for police uniform division salaries.

In other business, Sanford City Attorney C. Vernon Mize Jr. will tell the commission that its settlement offer of $2,500 to Mrs. Bonnie Tucker for injuries she says she received as a result of a fall on a city sidewalk has been rejected.

Mize recommended the commission offer a $5,000 settlement in the lawsuit filed by Mrs. Tucker. She is charging the city with negligence in failing to maintain the sidewalk in a safe condition. Mize is expected to again tell the commission of his growing concern about the possibility of other cases developing as a result of the many areas of the city which have damaged sidewalks.

The attorney recently told the city commission that he is concerned about the possibility of a substantial verdict against the city if the Tucker case goes to trial.

A pre-trial conference has been set for Tuesday and a two-week trial period has been scheduled to begin Sept. 10.
