Boy Questioned In Shooting Death Of Teen

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

"It's terrible. I never expected anything like this to happen to him, to take his life. He's just gone. There's nothing you can do," said the grieving mother of a 19-year-old Osteen man shot to death in Sanford last night.

Ermant Howard, 425 Mayton Road, is dead from a shotgun wound to the chest and Sanford police investigating the shooting, which occurred at about 10:30 p.m. Tuesday in Sanford, had not established by early today whether or not the shooting was intentional.

Howard's mother, Johnnie Mae Howard, said that her oldest son, Ed Howard Jr., was with Ermant when he was killed and transported him to the hospital in his car, but after Ed called her to tell her Ermant died, she couldn't listen.

"I didn't pay that much attention to what he said. I was trying not to listen," she said.

Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett said today that after the shooting of Ermant Howard in the front yard of 105 Sterling

Court, police questioned a 14-year-old boy, who six eyewitnesses reportedly said was at one end of a shotgun which discharged during a struggle over the weapon.

Mrs. Howard said she believes she knows the boy who was questioned. She said Ermant was in Sanford with Ed and Ed's girlfriend, but she doesn't know why they were in Sanford. She said Ermant, who was a construction worker for his uncle in Orlando, didn't come to Sanford often.

Harriett said police don't believe the killing was intentional, but he wouldn't call it an accident because of the presence of firearms at the scene of what was apparently a disturbance and dispute involving 8 to 10 youths.

"We've yet to establish if the shooting was intentional," he said. "There was a gun and possibly a struggle over the shotgun that discharged. The person at the other end of the gun was a 14-year-old male.

Developments Get Kickoff From County

By Kathy Tyrity
Herald Staff Writer

The foothold of development got a forward pass from a split county commission Tuesday night with Commissioners Barbara Christensen and Bob Sturm providing much of the go-power while Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff tried to block some of the action.

Kirchhoff said the primary reason he voted against several of the developments was because he wanted development to "pay its own way."

The board held public hearings on eight developments involving more than 450 acres and gave most of them tentative go-ahead. The action continues tonight with seven more developments involving 775 acres.

The developments are being considered for recommendation to the Department of Community Affairs in Tallahassee as amendments to the Seminole County Comprehensive Plan and, where applicable, for zoning changes that will come again before the board June 9. None of the decisions made after the hearings were final, but this is the way the game went:

• Duda Lands, Inc. asked for an amendment to the comprehensive plan from rural to low density residential for 294 acres located approximately two-thirds of a mile west of State Road 426 between Red Bug Lake Road and the city of Winter Springs.

A representative for Duda said the parcel is under contract for sale and needs the amendment to make the sale. The board said the new owner will probably need to ask for a rezoning later.

One Tuskawilla resident spoke in opposition asking for buffers and low-density urban designation.

With little discussion, Commissioner Sturm moved adoption for a later consent agenda, and Commissioner Christensen seconded the motion. That motion passed unanimously.

• Jeff Garner asked for an amendment to the comprehensive plan from rural to planned unit development and rezoning from agricultural and retail commercial to planned unit development for 92 acres located on the east side of SR 426, adjacent to the north side of the Aloma Bend development. The proposal is for development of a residential/commercial PUD (planned unit development) containing 244 dwelling units (5.2 units per acre) and a nine-acre business park.

Among those voicing objections was Bud Fowler who said "less is better" and that the nearby Aloma Bend density had to be reduced before it was approved. Objectors said there was a nearby swamp that was very low and they were concerned about drainage and a high water table.

Board Chairman Fred Streetman reminded the residents that the board wasn't necessarily approving the PUD in its present form, and Christensen said she agreed the issues of "walls, drainage and access" would be addressed at later stages of consideration. She moved to approve the amendment for the consent agenda, and Sturm seconded her motion, which passed 4-1 with Kirchhoff objecting. The rezoning was placed on the June 9 agenda.

• Keewin Co. asked for an amendment to the comprehensive plan from rural to planned unit development and a rezoning from agricultural to planned unit development for 25 acres on the south side of Red Bug Lake Road, adjacent to the west side of the existing Keewin PUD. The proposal is for a single family development with a net density of 5.3 units per acre.

With little discussion, Christensen moved to put the PUD on the consent agenda and Sturm

Check Charge

Jeff Wall, left, Sanford maintenance worker, checks a water meter for accuracy with the help of water department foreman Gregory McIntyre. Sanford residents will have to pay $10 if they want to question the accuracy of their water meters under a policy change approved Monday. The old charge was $4. The city was losing money on the tests, done at resident request, commissioners were told. There is no charge for a test that shows the meter is overcharging for water service but "very few" meters are found to be inaccurate.

Olden Is Out: No Undergrad LMHS Must Forfeit Games

LMHS Must Forfeit Games

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Gabriella "Gabby" Olden, a Foreign Exchange Student who has been the catalyst of Lake Mary High School's third-ranked girls' basketball team, was ruled ineligible because she is not an undergraduate student, Lake Mary Principal Don Reynolds said today. And, all games in which she played for LMHS will have to be forfeited.

In accordance with Article 19-1-2 of the Florida High School Activities Association bylaws, all games in which the ineligible player participated must be forfeited. Reynolds said Lake Mary also has to pay a $100 fine.

Lake Mary, which has won 22 consecutive games en route to a 24-1 record, will forfeit the 22 victories in which Olden played, and she will be ineligible to participate in future games. The 18-year-old point guard did not play in Thursday's game against Lake Brantley and Monday's game against Oviedo.

Ironically, the undergraduate violation came to light while Fred Rozelle, executive director of the FHSAA, was investigating three other charges against Olden last Thursday at Lake Mary High School.

Rozelle said he could find no fault with recruiting; improper residence change; or out-of-zone participation. However, while questioning Olden concerning the three other charges, she said she had already "received a diploma" from Alfred Dalin secondary school in Sweden.

"It's going to crush Gabby," Reynolds said. "But none of this is her fault. It was our fault for not asking for the official transcript and checking out whether she was an undergraduate.

...declared ineligible

"It's a shame. We find out that we are innocent of all the things we are accused of, but it turns out that she already completed a secondary school," he added.

Olden, who will be 19 in April, was found in violation of Article 19-10-10 of the FHSAA bylaws. "The player must be an undergraduate student," Cecilia Jackson, FHSAA field director, said today. "If a student has graduated from another high school, she is not eligible for competition in Florida."

The 5-foot-8 Olden averaged 8.9 points, 7.6 assists and 6.0 steals while orchestrating Lake Mary's devastating fast-breaking and pressing style. She led Seminole County in assists and was second in steals.

Olden was placed at Lake Mary High through the Education Developmental Resource Trust, a Foreign Exchange Student agency in Los Angeles.

Reynolds, who said he will not appeal the decision, said Olden would finish the school year and "will be our biggest cheerleader."

'Platoon,' 'View' Lead Oscar Picks

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The Vietnam War epic "Platoon" and "A Room With a View," a Victorian comedy-drama, received eight Oscar nominations each, including best picture, to lead the field in the 59th Academy Award nominations announced today.

Also nominated for best picture of 1986 were "Children of a Lesser God," "Hannah and Her Sisters" and "The Mission."

Nominated for best actor were jazz saxophonist Dexter Gordon for his acting debut in "Round Midnight," Bob Hoskins for "Mona Lisa," William Hurt in "Children of a Lesser God," Paul Newman for "Color of Money" and James Woods for "Salvador."

Best actress nominees were Jane Fonda for "The Morning After," Marlee

Malin from "Children of a Lesser God," Sissy Spacek for "Crimes of the Heart," Kathleen Turner in "Peggy Sue Got Married" and Sigourney Weaver for "Aliens."

For best supporting actor the nominees were Tom Berenger and Willem Dafoe from "Platoon," Michael Caine of "Hannah and Her Sisters," Denholm Elliott from "A Room with a View," and Dennis Hopper for "Hoosiers."

Best supporting actress nominations went to Tess Harper for "Crimes of the Heart," Piper Laurie of "Children of a Lesser God," Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio from "Color of Money," Maggie Smith of "A Room with a View" and Diane Wiest for "Hannah

Airport Goes 'Regional'

Sanford's Central Florida Airport has been renamed Sanford Regional Airport in a move to reflect continued efforts to draw industry and carriers to the area, according to airport manager J.S. "Red" Cleveland.

The new designation was adopted Tuesday at a Sanford Airport Authority meeting.

"The airport authority felt the regional designation appropriate because the airport has definite impacts on the Central Florida region," Cleveland said.

"We're continuing to grow and feel the new designation reflects the activity and operations at the airport," he said. "It might assist us in getting a commuter type aircraft in here and maybe a passenger scheduled carrier at a later date."

The 1,795-acre site has more than 500 acres designated for industrial development and "the regional airport designation might induce some major companies to locate here," Cleveland said.

The airport is "very receptive" to frequent inquiries it receives from industrial interests and also works with the Central Florida Industrial Development Commission to attract commercial operations, he said.

Continued on-site improvements are also standard practice, according to Cleveland, who said drainage upgrades will be moved on this spring at the airport's north-south runway.

Chamber's Scholarship Program Grows

By Genie Lindberg
Herald Staff Writer

"I can't sleep. I keep hearing the voices of those students we interviewed who won't receive scholarships," said the president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce after 11 students were selected to divide $3,000 in donated scholarship money in 1984.

To cure his insomnia, Jack Horner went to the telephone and raised another $1,750, enough to provide seven more students $250 each. The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's "Business and Education, Partners for Success" scholarship program had begun.

It has been growing "by leaps and bounds" since, Horner said. In 1985, $12,000 was distributed to 26 students and last year $21,616 divided between 40 students.

Coleman

Horner

The money comes from donations of many local businesses and individuals, but that first year it was Rich Food Plan of Florida President W.E. "Duke" Adamson who shouldered the financial burden. But it was all his idea.

He and Horner had been serving on the Florida Chamber of Commerce's board of directors in 1984 when the statewide chamber discontinued its Star Student Scholarship Program due to administrative overload. Adamson and Horner were disappointed.

Horner said Adamson told him he would put the money in for a scholarship program in Sanford if Horner would start the program.

"Well, he was as good as his word," Horner said. "And the program began."

That first year Adamson contributed the $3,000. That amount in scholarships was awarded to students who were seniors at Seminole and Lake Mary high schools, the two high schools in the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce area, said school district spokesman Karen Coleman.

With contributions from other local businesses, the scholarship fund increased to $12,000 in 1985, she said. Last year, $21,616 was raised and awarded in scholarships in amounts of $250, $400, $500 and $1,000.

The money is to be used by students to attend Florida community colleges, colleges, universities or vocational/technical centers. The only catch is they must be in Florida.

"The Chamber membership feels strongly that this is money that was generated in our local economy and should be returned to Florida's economy," Mrs. Coleman said. The scholarships are given in the name of businesses, both small and large; civic groups, banks, law firms and in memory of individuals.

Horner said he attributes much of

POLICE

IN BRIEF

Wife Calls Police In Dispute, Pot Discovery Brings Charges

A woman who reported to Casselberry police that she and her estranged husband had been in a dispute at his home at about 8 p.m. Sunday returned to the home with police at about 9:40 p.m. where police reported finding marijuana and drug paraphernalia in the suspect's pocket and on a table in the living room.

Police had determined through a records check before arriving that the suspect was wanted on an Orange County warrant for aggravated assault.

After the contraband was reportedly found, Jeffrey Miles Simmons, 26, of 206 Colony Drive, Casselberry, was charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia. He was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

Driving Under Influence Arrests

The following person has been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—John Bert Lancaster, 20, of Cocoa Beach, was arrested at 1:40 a.m. Monday after his weaving pickup truck, traveling at about 70 mph, crossed from a northbound lane into a southbound lane of State Road 434, Altamonte Springs. A bag of marijuana and drug paraphernalia were reportedly found in the car and charges of possession of pot and paraphernalia were added. Bond was set at $500.

Burglaries And Thefts Reported

Sheriff's deputies have the name of a suspect who may have stolen electronics gear and tools, three televisions and other items with a total value of about $3,500 from the T.V. Clinic, 1494 W. State Road 434, Longwood, between Saturday and Monday. Christopher M. Mann of Longwood and Phillip S. Lauder of Lakeland, own the stolen items, a sheriff's report said.

Boat motor parts valued at about $1,200 were stolen from Boat Motor Parts by the boat of Dan C. Beavers, 28, of 425 Sun Lake Circle #105, Lake Mary, a sheriff's report said.

Two radios, a citizen's band radio and a two-way radio with a combined value of about $450 were stolen from a boat in a fenced compound at Killarney Boats, 750 U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, between Saturday and Monday. The radios belong to Charles L. Kilgore, 35, of Winter Park, a sheriff's report said.

From a construction site at 1858 Chatham Court, Maitland, tools with a combined value of about $3,265 and belonging to Greg Boehart, 33, of Winter Park, and Skip L. Gochee, 37, of Sanford, were stolen Monday, a sheriff's report said.

Three sets of closet doors with a combined value of $205 were stolen from a building site at 646 Fellowship Drive, Casselberry, between Saturday and Monday, a sheriff's report said.

A supervisor for Centex Homes, of Orlando, reported to sheriff's deputies that a $1,200 range, a $450 range and a $700 dishwasher were stolen from a construction site at 4162 N. Jodhpur Court, Sanford, between Saturday and Monday.

Lumber and felt paper with a combined value of about $120 was stolen from a Hooker Barnes Homes' construction site at 641 Whittingham Place, Lake Mary, Sunday or Monday, a sheriff's report said.

A representative of Fern Creek Properties, Inc., of Orlando, reported to sheriff's deputies that 10 signs noting instructions, directions and numbers were stolen from the office of Longwood Village Shopping Center, Longwood, between Feb. 6 and Monday. The signs have a total value of $200.

An $800 furnace was stolen from an Okland Homes of Casselberry site at 4636 Creekview Lane, Oviedo, Friday or Saturday, a sheriff's report report said.

The president of Wilkerson Lumber, Co., 400 Springs Hammock Court, Longwood, reported to sheriff's deputies $150 was stolen from that company's petty cash box Jan. 25 or 26.

Robert G. Lynch, 20, and Willie Williams, 23, of 1605 Puritin Way, Winter Park, reported to sheriff's deputies that Saturday from their home a $300 stereo, a $200 equalizer, a $400 television, a $150 television, a $430 video recorder and a $260 stereo receiver were stolen from their home.

An employee of Art Grindle, Inc., 2626 N. Semoran Blvd., Winter Park, reported to sheriff's deputies that a Winter Park man and an Orlando woman drove from that dealership with a 1987 GMC van valued at $24,000 at about 2:30 p.m. Friday. They didn't return with the van and the man's wife reportedly said she hasn't seen him since Feb. 2. She claimed the man also stole a television and a video recorder.

Steven J. Robertson, 44, of 1568 Almond Court, Casselberry, reported to sheriff's deputies a $250 radar detector and a $300 handgun were stolen from his car Saturday.

7 Sentenced For DUI

The following persons have pleaded or been found guilty of driving under the influence.

The first-time offenders have had their driver license suspended for 6 months, been ordered to pay a fine and court costs usually totaling $367.50 and complete 50 hours of community service. When a guilty or no contest plea is entered or if the defendant is found guilty of an alcohol-related charge, other charges are usually either not prosecuted or dismissed. Most of the first-time offenders are allowed to apply for business-only driving permits. In cases where the sentences differ, the actual sentence is reported:

—Gary Scott Golden, 27, of 423 Longwood Drive, Longwood, arrested Feb. 14, 1986, after his car was involved in an accident at State Road 434 and Grant Street in Longwood.

—Phillip Minshall, 26, of 440-A Sharon Drive, Altamonte Springs, arrested Aug. 29 when his vehicle remained parked in an intersection of State Road 436 and Lake Howell Road, Altamonte Springs, after the traffic light had turned green.

—Dianne M. Mischand, 31, of 402 Boxwood Circle, Winter Springs, arrested July 2 after her car failed to maintain a single lane on U.S. Highway 17-92 south of Sanford.

—Richard Wayne Shrum, 33, of 306 Satsuma Drive, Sanford, arrested Sept. 27 after his car failed to maintain a single lane on Airport Boulevard in Sanford.

—Michael Bemish, 25, of 49 E. Second St., Chuluota, arrested Sept. 20 after his truck was seen going east in the westbound lane of State Road 419 in Oviedo.

—Phillip Steven Miller, 33, of 1007 S. Palmetto Ave., Sanford, arrested Sept. 17 after his vehicle was seen traveling erratically and traveling 70 mph on S. Park Ave., Sanford. He was fined a total of $610.

—William Edward Jamison, 48, of Orlando, arrested Nov. 28 after his car failed to maintain a single lane on State Road 436 in Altamonte Springs. He was fined a total of $630.

—Russel John Fowler, 28, of Osteen, arrested Sept. 25 after a westbound sheriff's patrol car on State Road 46 had to swerve to avoid a collision with his eastbound car. He was fined a total of $630 and ordered to spend 10 days in jail. He was given credit for seven days already served. His driver license was suspended for 5 years.

The following persons arrested on a charge of driving under the influence have been judged guilty of the lesser offense of willful and wanton reckless driving:

—James Marshall Heiflin Jr., 23, of 1401 Lakeshore Drive, Casselberry, arrested August 27 after his car allegedly increased speed behind a Sanford police BATmobile, a mobile unit used to breath-test DUI suspects. Heiflin allegedly tailgated the BATmobile almost causing an accident. He was fined a total of $347.50.

—Terry Stephen Vargo, 47, of Apopka, arrested Nov. 21 after his westbound car turned in front of an eastbound car on State Road 436 in Altamonte Springs. He was fined $285.

—David J. Kovalski, 31, of Deltona, arrested July 3 after his car was in an accident on State Road 46. He was given the usual DUI sentence.

SCC Begins New Nursing Program

By Kathy Tyrity
Special Staff Writer

High school graduates who want to become nurses now can plan on going to Seminole Community College for all of their training, whether they want to be licensed practical nurses or registered nurses.

In the past, SCC offered RN associate degree training only to those who already had their LPN certificate, but a grassroots effort by area hospitals which faced severe nursing shortages yielded a $210,000 grant that made the complete course available. You can now get your two-year RN training at SCC with no other nursing background.

The LPN course takes 11 months; the RN associate degree program takes a total of two years, and to upgrade from LPN to RN with an associate degree, will take 11 months.

Gloria Pickar, director of vocational curriculum and special projects at SCC, said the expanded nursing program will be a "point of information" on tonight's board of trustees agenda.

In all, the nursing program will be expanded from a total of 80 students a year to 102 students — and 30 of those will be beginners. Ms. Pickar said recruitment efforts will be started shortly in area high schools, and the first class under the expanded program can begin in August.

Anyone interested in being a nurse or upgrading to RN is asked to call BCC Nursing Education Office at 323-1450.

The Florida State Board of Nursing approved the program Friday, shortly after the hospitals agreed upon the grant. Hospitals participating are: Central Florida Regional Hospital; the three Florida Hospitals including Florida Hospital-Altamonte; South Seminole Community Hospital and West Lake Hospital in Longwood.

"The opportunities today for nurses are greater than they have ever been," Ms. Pickar said. "Nurses work not only in hospitals but in community clinics and in home health care. But unfortunately, women are choosing some of the other fields of interest, when nursing is still a wonderful opportunity."

Nurses can make good money as LPNs. RNs and even go a step further and become nurse practitioners, she added. The nurse practitioner requires a bachelor's degree first, however, and that program is available at the University of Florida.

Since nurses often take jobs in the area where they received their training, Ms. Pickar said, the new SCC program should greatly enhance the area hospitals' nursing staffs. Nurses can expect to make about $20,000 a year to start, she added.

Five-Day Forecast

For Central Florida

West Warmer Than Florida

By United Press International

It was warmer in Montana than in Florida early today on "an odd type of morning" nationwide as residents of Cape Cod dug themselves out from a blizzard that dumped a foot of snow on the resort area.

While the cape emerged from its foot of snow, cold weather descended on Florida, where warnings were posted for frost and freezing temperatures over the northern part of the state, the National Weather Service said.

Temperatures reached the thirties over the region early today.

"This was an odd type of morning where the midnight temperature at Havre, Mont., 35, was warmer than Jacksonville, Fla., 34," the weather service said.

The cold in Florida was not expected to seriously affect citrus crops or leafy vegetables. Elsewhere, gale warnings were in effect along the northern coast of New England, where residents braced for below-zero temperatures. Travelers advisories were posted for snow over the northern Sierra Nevada in California and the mountain passes near Lake Tahoe.

Rain was scattered over the Pacific Northwest and snow was widely scattered from New England across the lower Great Lakes.

Mild temperatures prevailed Tuesday over much of the central and western states with highs in the 50s and 60s. Readings were in the 30s and 40s from southern New England across the upper Ohio Valley and the Dakotas to much of North Dakota.

Eureka, Calif. set a record high of 68 Tuesday, breaking the 66 degree mark set in 1971 and Havre warmed to 61, a degree better than the high in 1928.

National Guardsmen took up shovels to help clear roads of up to 2 feet of snow dumped on Cape Cod by a winter storm that left several thousand residents without electricity for a third day today.

A blizzard with winds gusting to more than 60 mph struck the cape Monday, knocking out power to some 30,000 residents, including all of Provincetown on the tip of the cape, and sweeping snow into drifts as high as 10 feet.

Commonwealth Electric spokesman Dick Moran said power had been restored for all but about 8,000 Cape Cod residents by early today.

Red Cross shelters provided food and a warm place to sleep for hundreds of people left without power or heat.

"No heat, no lights, no nothing. We had to come down here until they come back on," said Felicia Cobbs at a Red Cross shelter in Barnstable.

Gov. Michael Dukakis issued a limited state of emergency Tuesday for the cape and called up 75 National Guard troops to assist in snow removal and emergency operations in four communities.

"Now we're dealing with a very difficult problem. We're getting into the secondary roads, particularly so the utility companies can get in and restore power," said Secretary of Public Safety Charles Barry said. "We'll stay here as long as it takes."

At least 30 guardsmen stayed overnight at Camp Edwards in Falmouth, said Jonathan Robbins, spokesman for the Massachusetts Executive Office of Public Safety.

Public Works Crews To Handle Part Of Streetscape Project

By Karen Talley
 Herald Staff Writer

Sections of First Street in the heart of Sanford's merchant district will be repaved and landscaped starting next month. The city will pay about $62,000 for the roadwork, roughly $10,000 less than originally estimated when plans were drawn up last fall.
 Approved by commissioners in regular session Monday was Engineering and Planning Director Bill Simmons' proposal to have public works crews handle a part of the project that had originally been bid to private contractors. Instead of awarding low bidder Briar Construction a $27,350 contract for the First Street Streetscape work, the city will use public works staffers and some temporary unskilled labor for around $17,000.
 The $17,000 will go for Streetscape replacement of curbs and gradings along First Street from Park to Oak avenues. Unchanged are original plans tagging city crews to install Streetscape brick work and plantings for around $15,000. Commissioners approved the entire $32,000 project package Monday. Local option gas tax accruals will fund the work.

Both Simmons and City Manager Frank Faison said saving $10,000 by using public works crews was felt to outweigh the affects on the road and sidewalk maintenance these workers usually handle for the city. There will be "impacts" on the city's maintenance schedule for these efforts, but they will be "managable," Faison said.

The Streetscape work will begin around the first of March and take about a month to six weeks to complete, Simmons said. Yet to be determined is the number of public works crewmen who will be used for the project, he said.

Once the Streetscape extension is finished the city will move on repaving and leveling First Street from Park to French avenues. A private paving firm will be hired for the project.

Commissioners will be asked later this month to authorize about $30,000 for the paving, which shouldn't take more than a week to finish, Simmons said.

The project will provide a one inch thick overlay that should last at least 10 years, Simmons said. Local option gas tax accruals will be used to cover the expenditure.

Two way traffic will be maintained along First Street during all work by closing one side of the roadway, then the other and prohibiting parking, Simmons said.

Good, Bad News From Germany

The good news is that Chancellor Helmut Kohl's center-right coalition retained its parliamentary majority recently and will continue to govern West Germany during the next four years. The bad news is that the radical Green Party scored a significant gain from its showing in the 1983 election when it entered Parliament for the first time. This in turn could pose problems somewhere down the road if the already weakened, leftist Social Democrats ally themselves with the Greens.

For now, however, the conservative Mr. Kohl seems very much in control. Riding the crest of an economic resurgence, he is the envy of most European leaders. A prosperous West Germany has tamed inflation so that prices are falling at an annual rate of 1.2 percent. Real disposable incomes are higher than at any time since 1974. His Christian Democrat Party has created more than 600,000 new jobs during the last three years. West Germany's low interest rates have spurred increased capital investment. And the nation's stubborn 8.7 percent unemployment rate is drifting downward.

There are potential storm clouds on the horizon. Trade tensions between Washington and the European Community could produce a protectionist war that no one can win. West Germany's biggest trading partner, France, resents Bonn's rigorous antinflationary policy. Paris also is peeved at the strong German mark, which overshadows the French franc. German farmers are restive over the mark's effects on their declining exports. Meantime, Mr. Kohl is criticized at home for his reluctance to privatize state-owned companies or to deregulate the service industries.

Even so, Mr. Kohl's caution is popular among most Germans who are generally averse to risks. His methodical approach to coalition building has produced a greater degree of stability and confidence throughout West Germany than at any time since World War II.

The major threat to that stability is the Green Party, which wants to pull West Germany out of NATO, eliminate the nation's nuclear power plants, and nudge Bonn closer to the Soviet Union and East Germany. Yet so long as Helmut Kohl and his conservative coalition hold sway, West Germany will remain a bulwark in the Western alliance.

Try Host-Guests

Talk shows are a staple of television, and for reasons perhaps best explained by a sociologist, they are proliferating. David Letterman describes himself, with only slight exaggeration, as "one of the hundreds of lucky Americans to have his own talk show."

This inflation of affluence has created a problem: There aren't enough talk-show guests — that's guests — to go around.

A few nights back, David Brenner — he's a host, not a guest and occasionally a guest-host — had to wing it for an entire half-hour (less commercials) because none of his scheduled guests showed up and there were no backup guests available, given the demand for their services elsewhere.

This strikes us as a classic supply-and-demand problem that will correct itself as the shortage of talkers, not to mention interesting talkers, creates a shortage of viewers and a dwindling number of showings. Then people like Brenner can go back to being guests, giving the surviving hosts a better selection of guests and, presumably, more satisfied viewers.

The only alternative — a desperate one — is to have all the hosts double as guests on other hosts' shows. In addition to having guest-hosts, then the industry could also have host-guests.

Oval Office Sign: Photographers Only

WASHINGTON (UPI) — First lady Nancy Reagan is making sure the president does not overexert himself during his recuperation from prostate surgery.

The president has been stepping up his activities in the Oval Office, but his wife and his doctors want him to take the normal six weeks recovery period following his Jan. 5 operation.

Aides indicate that Mrs. Reagan does not want her husband subjected to any "stress" during his recovery, and they said that would include picture takings in the Oval Office with reporters firing questions at him.

As a consequence, only still photographers are allowed in the Oval Office from time to time to make pictures of the president.

He is usually in good spirits on those occasions, but photographers have been warned that they are not to report any of his quips. The penalty of having ears as well as eyes — well, who knows, they could have their cherished passes picked up.

One photographer who happened to see Secretary of State George Shultz and White House chief of staff Donald Regan together turned his camera away from the president and took a picture of the two top advisers. For that he was reprimanded and told that it was embarrassing that he did not keep his camera focused on the president.

The president has been making more ceremonial appearances, but they are so designed to make sure reporters are not within shouting distance, or staged where shouting would be inappropriate.

In his sanitized world, Reagan usually meets only with supporters, although he has been getting some back talk from Democratic leaders who are now in control of Capitol Hill. Speaker Jim Wright has accused Reagan of "fantasizing" on some issues.

There are indications that Marlin Fitzwater, the new White House spokesman, is not comfortable in explaining why there is no access to the president. He has said that Reagan wants to hold a news conference "as soon as possible."

It appears, however, that the president's aides are reluctant to let reporters near him, fearing that they will ask him about the Iran arms scandal and his recollections of how it came about.

Nancy Reagan and conservative columnist George Will have had several luncheon engagements at out-of-way places in Virginia, West Virginia and Chevy Chase, Md.

Invariably they are observed and their lunches are duly reported. Elaine Crispin, the first lady's press secretary, explains Will and Mrs. Reagan are "good friends" and the lunches give Mrs. Reagan a chance to get out of the White House privately from time to time. Of course, Secret Service agents do tag along and keep a discreet distance.

It's rumored the two get together to thresh out problems but it is not known who is giving advice to whom.

So far, Fitzwater is living up to expectations with his low key style laced with snatches of humor. Asked how he liked his job after a harassing morning, he grinned and replied, "Terrific."

Getting The Facts On Iran

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Three months after the scandal developed over arms shipments to Iran and secret funding for Nicaragua's contras, the nation has its first official report on the matter.

Indeed, the 65-page, single-spaced account produced by the Senate Intelligence Committee is a chronicle of deviousness, incompetence and malfeasance at the highest levels of the federal government — and that includes President Reagan.

Throughout November, December and January, almost all the information made public about the scandal came from the news media, a situation that prompted some chronic critics of the press and mindless defenders of the president to suggest that Reagan's problems had been exaggerated if not concocted by malevolent journalists.

Continued reliance upon that specious argument now has been foreclosed by dissemination of a report from a respected congressional committee whose members clearly are disturbed by what they have uncovered.

The report abounds with tales of deviousness and deception. The Central Intelligence Agency withholds crucial information from the National Security Council. The NSC, in turn, misleads the State Department.

Arms merchants, international financiers and assorted other intermediaries of dubious character scurry around the globe on clandestine missions. Banks stretching from Switzerland to the Grand Cayman are used as depositories for millions of dollars in unvouchered funds.

Near the beginning of the saga, in mid-1985, NSC staff members circulated a written proposal that called for weapons sales to Iran as a means of enhancing this country's influence in Iran while simultaneously minimizing the Soviet Union's political leverage there.

Reagan continues to handle the issue as a matter of style rather than substance, apparently convinced that a good public relations strategy implemented in his folksy personal manner will somehow resolve his problems.

Instead, the Senate report is likely to be the first of many official accounts whose devastating detail will document beyond any doubt a shameful series of episodes.

Media Fell For Reagan's 'Mad Dog' Story

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

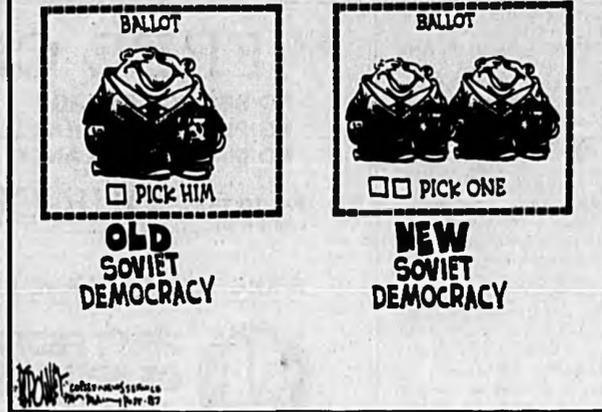

WASHINGTON — As the bizarre plottings of the Iranamuck conspirators were unfolding on the nation's front pages, we cast an ill-considered slur on the competence of certain White House aides. We described their handling of the media as "amateurish." On reflection, we feel an apology is due.

What we forgot in the heat of the moment was their near total success in convincing the media that President Reagan was tough on terrorists — when, in fact, he was secretly siding up to the most abominable terrorist of them all, Iran's Ayatollah Khomeini.

Although their dealings with the Khomeini hierarchy had a Maxwell Smart quality, the Reagan pros cons were deadly efficient in portraying the president as the scourge of terrorism. But they focused media attention errantly on Libya's Moammar Gadhafi, whom Reagan called "this mad dog of the Middle East."

The president's rhetoric positively bristled with righteous outrage. "State-supported terrorism is a form of warfare, and you can't sit by and let somebody else declare war on you and pretend that you're still at peace," he thundered. The pundits

WILLIAM RUSHER

Reagan Didn't Yield

Critics of President Reagan, seeking to fault him in some respect in connection with the arms sales to Iran, are not exactly oversupplied with ammunition. In the absence of anything better, they have zeroed in on the proposition that one must never, ever, bargain with terrorists, and that the president violated his own wise policy in this respect by "trading arms for hostages."

To eliminate any suspicion that I am grinding a partisan or ideological ax in this matter, let me quote the formulation of the notion by my own good friend and colleague, Bill Buckley: "President Reagan declines in his State of the Union speech that the U.S. will not 'yield to terrorist blackmail.' He is absolutely right, leaving unanswered only the question, why has he given in to terrorists?"

Now, Buckley is certainly no foe of Reagan's, so we must assume that he simply sees no other honest way of describing what the president did. But from the very start of this whole controversy I have never thought that that was a fair description of what actually happened. In the first place, note that nobody even accuses President Reagan of actually dealing with the kidnapers of our hostages in Lebanon. No agent of our hostages has sold them so much as a silngshot. Their sole demand, until recent weeks, was for the release of 17 of their fellow terrorists from prison in Kuwait, and all 17 are still in jail. No U.S. government representative has ever asked for their release.

What the president did do was authorize the sale of a limited amount of arms to Iran. His critics concede that this was, at least initially, intended as a friendly gesture to Iranian factions with whom we had made contact, looking toward better relations after Khomeini's death. But they charge that the sales soon became linked to pressures that our contacts were able to bring to bear on the terrorists in Lebanon.

Does that make a difference? "No," reply the president's critics. "It amounts to the same thing." I respectfully disagree. It seems to me to be a very different thing indeed.

Suppose a petty crook found out something discreditable about your son, and blackmailed him. You would, of course, counsel your son that one must never, ever, yield to blackmail. But suppose that you discovered about the same time that a man who was negotiating to buy a small piece of land from you was a big mafioso and, what's more, that he was in a position to bring effective pressures on the crook who was blackmailing your son. Suppose that you sold the Mafia boss the land — and that he, as a reciprocal gesture, succeeded in calling off the blackmailer.

Would you feel that, having advised your son never to "yield to blackmail," you had nonetheless "given in to a blackmailer"? On the contrary, you would congratulate yourself on having found a way to scotch his filthy game. And that, it seems to me, is a much closer analogy to what President Reagan was seeking to accomplish, and in part did accomplish, with respect to the kidnapers of our hostages in Lebanon.

Recurrent Depression Treatment

People with a history of recurrent depression have a much better chance of avoiding relapse if they are treated as if they had strep throat, a Pittsburgh psychiatrist says.

Instead of dropping treatment as soon as symptoms disappear, they should continue therapy — drugs, counseling or combination — for 20 weeks thereafter, says Dr. David Kupfer, professor and chairman of psychiatry at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine.

Similarly, a child with a strep throat may take antibiotics for 10 days even though major symptoms disappear after three days, he says.

Other studies indicate the relapse rate is 20 percent to 40 percent after conventional treatment for depression, but by continuing treatment, the relapse rate can be brought down to 8 percent.

"What we find exciting is that more and more people are beginning to use this [extended therapy] approach," even for patients suffering their first major depression, Kupfer says.

The finding, reported in the American Journal of Psychiatry, is part of a major ongoing study of depression. Patients in the extended treatment study had suffered depression at least three times.

Tiny Particles

Italian physicists in 1954 reported the apparent existence of strange new subatomic particles, and ever since the scientific community has been debating whether they exist.

Yeong E. Kim, a Purdue University physicist, has produced an analysis showing the particles do not exist and were only the result of mistaken interpretation of scientific experiments.

In those experiments, beams of subatomic particles — fragments of the nuclei of atoms — were aimed at other nuclei to produce collisions within a device called a collector.

Minuscule fragments produced in such collisions generally travel a predictable distance, but in some experiments, inexplicably short tracks were seen. These were believed caused by the mysterious particle in question, the anomalous.

Yeong says the error is that the fragments were, in effect, running into walls — the ends of the detectors — and would otherwise have been much longer.

Martinez To Propose ...Grows $17.9 Billion Budget

TAMPA (UPI) — Gov. Bob Martinez' first budget will call for $17.9 billion in state spending next fiscal year, the repeal of sales tax breaks for legal and other professional services and lower tax rates.

He said that under the proposal, the 5-cent sales tax would be reduced to 4.5 cents on the dollar effective in January. The decline would be offset by an expanding state economy plus $517 million to be raised through the repeal of sales tax exemptions for professional services.

The governor also announced plans to boost the state's "rainy day" fund to $500 million, a five-fold increase over the amount set aside for emergencies last year. The figure represents about 5 percent of the total spending package.

Martinez' budget is due Feb. 20. Economic advisor Glenn Robertson said the governor planned to preview aspects of the spending plan in speeches around the state.

The current state budget is $16.5 billion and the "rainy day" account was set at $105 million. About $32 million of the contingency fund was removed last week to see the beleaguered prison system through June 30, the end of the current fiscal year.

The proposed budget would take effect July 1, representing an increase of about 6 percent over current spending. The average yearly increase during the 1980s was about 12 percent.

Virtually every sale tax exemption except the one for groceries is due for self-repeal this year, Martinez said he would recommend preserving $271 million in tax breaks for medical services, $10 million for social services like job training and child care, $14.7 million for agricultural services, $359 million for insurance services and $281 million for interest paid on loans.

Robertson said repealing exemptions on legal services would raise $70 million next year, based on the 4.5 percent tax rate. Martinez proposed repealing exemptions for television, radio and print advertising worth $56 million; for engineering and architectural services, $22.5 million; for real estate, $37 million; for accounting and bookkeeping, $20 million; for employment services, $41 million; and for management consulting, $27 million.

Martinez said he would seek a $167 million increase for the Department of Corrections over the next two years, most of it to build new prisons. He would pump $20 million into community control and other alternatives to incarceration over two years.

Budget analysts said the state would raise $500 million through normal growth in the state economy. But they also feared complications from a possible economic downturn. The current recovery has lasted five years — one year longer than the post-World War II average for economic upturns.

Martinez campaigned on a pledge to eliminate $800 million in waste from the state budget. He has promised to direct that money to other needs without necessarily reducing state spending.

the success of the program to Mrs. Coleman.

"Karen Coleman is the heart of the program and has the kids' interest at heart. All pitch in under Karen's leadership and it's a wonderful thing to be involved in."

The kids are really great, Horner added. "They sit and talk with you, putting their best foot forward, and you really love them all."

Mrs. Coleman said, "Volunteers who interview the students take a great amount of time and give so many hours to these deserving people; it's one of the few programs where 100 percent of the contribution goes to its stated purpose with no overhead costs."

It was she who told of Horner's sleepless nights. She recalled that when some students had to be turned down, Horner called her two days later talking about "hearing the voices" of those promising students who had been selected out. He suggested trying to expand the program.

She said he called Don Bauerle, owner of CODISCO Inc., manufacturer of air conditioning components, and Bauerle agreed to provide for the other seven students at $250 a piece.

Melanie Boyd was a senior at Seminole High School when she received a $500 scholarship from Harcar Aluminum, her scholarship sponsor. She said that the scholarship money really helped.

"Most of it went for books and I was able to complete SCC (Seminole Community College) in a year because I didn't have to work summers."

Miss Boyd is now a junior at the University of Central Florida (UCF) majoring in public relations and advertising.

Another recipient, Rebecca Baker, was also a senior at Seminole High when she received a $500 scholarship from her sponsor, CODISCO. She said the money helped her to get through SCC sooner, too. She is now a junior at UCF majoring in math and said she is hoping to get a doctorate.

Students to be given scholarships receive a letter and a certificate that is presented by their sponsor at a special reception and the Chamber holds the checks until students receive verification of acceptance from the Florida school they will attend, Mrs. Coleman said. The school administration must co-sign for the funds to be delivered, she said.

To be considered eligible for the 1987 awards, applicants must receive a Florida high school diploma in 1987 from Seminole or Lake Mary high schools and be a bonafide resident of Seminole County.

The Education Committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce will serve as the scholarship selection committee. Applications may be obtained in the guidance offices at the two high schools or at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Horner said he hopes a time will come when a scholarship foundation can be established from the interest gained off the scholarship donation funds.

seconded the motion, which passed unanimously. The rezoning was also set for the June 9 hearing.

Jim Huckleba asked for an amendment to the comprehensive plan from rural to medium density residential for 22.50 acres located on the south side of S.R. 428, adjacent to the west side of the Aloma Bend PUD.

Bud Fowler also objected to this plan saying low density would be more appropriate.

But Christensen said she felt the request was "not out of line" and moved to approve the item for the consent agenda. Sturm seconded, and the motion passed 3-2 with Kirchhoff and Streetman opposed.

Alex Greenspoon asked for an amendment to the comprehensive plan from residential to commercial and a rezoning from residential multi-family to retail commercial for 11.24 acres located east of U.S. Highway 17-92, south of the Fern Park Kmart approximately 700 feet west of Oxford Road.

The county staff recommended against these changes due to conflict with plan policies, "inadequate road system" and "incompatibility with adjacent residential land uses."

Greenspan's representative recommended a "compromise" of zoning just the western 815 commercial and leaving the eastern 500 feet alone.

This time Commissioner Sandra Glenn moved approval of the project onto a consent agenda and Christensen seconded. The motion passed unanimously, and the rezoning was also placed on the June 9 agenda.

Edwards/Young asked for an amendment to the plan from urban to commercial and a rezoning from agricultural to commercial for 3.76 acres located on the east side of Longwood-Lake Mary Road, one-half mile north of the intersection of Longwood-Lake Mary Road and County Road

427. The applicant wanted to build an office for a drywall and residential contracting business.

The staff recommended denial saying the project would be incompatible with existing land uses and have an adverse impact on traffic safety and drainage.

But Sturm said it was a "unique" parcel and recommended approval for placement on the consent agenda. Christensen seconded the motion, which passed 3-2, with Kirchhoff and Streetman voting no.

Jeremy Cooper asked for an amendment to the plan from residential to commercial/office and rezoning from residential single family to residential/professional for 3.29 acres described as 18 properties located approximately 600 feet west of 17-92 on O'Brien Road.

Property owners in the area argued that the value of their homes were decreasing. "Our homes will be ruined," said Marie Painter of O'Brien Road.

Glenn said even though she lives nearby she favored the project but said it will have to comply with site plans. She moved approval to place it on the consent agenda, and Sturm seconded. The motion passed unanimously, and the rezoning was also scheduled for the June 9 agenda.

Ken McIntosh asked for an amendment to the plan from urban to commercial for 3.50 acres located approximately 300 feet south of the intersection of State Road 434 and Tuakawilla Road.

The staff recommended denial due to "incompatibility with existing residential land uses, conflict with plan policies, and lack of programmed water and sewer service."

Residents in the area complained "this is not a residential property" and there is enough commercial property in the area without this change.

But Sturm said he would favor it and Christensen tried to second the motion. But it was decided not to pass the project as is but ask the applicant to apply simply for office use if he comes back for rezoning.

and Her Sisters," Denholm Elliott for "A Room with a View," and Dennis Hopper for "Hoosiers."

The nominations for best foreign language film of the year were "The Assault" from The Netherlands, "Betty Blue" from France, "The Decline of the American Empire" from Canada, "My Sweet Little Village" from Czechoslovakia and "38" from Austria.

Newman's nomination was his seventh but he has never won an Oscar. He did, however, receive an honorary Academy Award last year.

It was also the seventh nomination for Fonda, who won for "Klute" in 1971 and "Coming Home" in 1978. Another victory would allow her to join Katharine Hepburn as the only actresses to win three Oscars.

Hurt would make it two consecutive Oscars should he win, having won last year for "Kiss of the Spiderwoman."

Spacek was voted four previous nominations and won the Oscar in 1980 for "Coal Miner's Daughter."

The best original song nominees are "Glory Of Love" from "The Karate Kid II," "Life In A Looking Glass" from "That's Life," "Mean Green Mother From Outer Space" from "Little Shop of Horrors," "Somewhere Out There" from "An American Tale" and "Take My Breath Away" from "Top Gun."

Some police en route to the scene of the shooting after it was reported followed a speeding car from the area to Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford. At the hospital, police, whom Harriett said knew the car was in some way involved in the shooting, found that it was being used to transport Howard to the hospital.

Harriett said Howard was apparently dead on arrival. He had been shot in the chest.

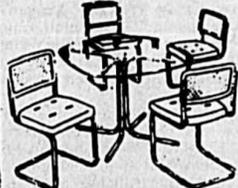

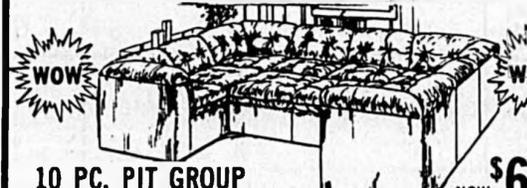

The car, driven by her son Ed according to Mrs. Howard, was seized as evidence and searched. Police found two firearms in the car, Harriett said.

The shotgun was recovered at the scene of the shooting, where the 14-year-old boy was also found. He was taken to the Sanford police station and questioned, but not charged, Harriett said.

The investigation is continuing, Harriett said.

"He was nice and easy going," Mrs. Howard said of her dead son.

She said he attended Lake Mary High School in 1985, during the year when the family, which includes Ermant's three sisters and two brothers, lived in Altamonte Springs.

Republicans See Partisan Delay In Iran-Contra Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Political foot-dragging is behind the sluggish pace of the House probe into the Iran arms-Contra aid scandal, which hit the public eye last fall but will not air in public hearings until spring, Republicans say.

"I think the Democrats are trying to make it a political issue for the 1988 presidential campaign," Rep. William Broomfield, R-Mich., said in an interview Tuesday with United Press International.

Broomfield is a leading GOP member of the select House panel investigating President Reagan's worst political crisis — his covert sale of U.S. arms to Iran and the subsequent scheme to divert profits to Nicaraguan Contra rebels at a time when U.S. military aid to them was banned by law.

When Attorney General Edwin Meese revealed the Iran-Contra link Nov. 25, he said as much as $30 million was diverted to secret Swiss bank accounts for the Contras.

Dozen Indicted In Attack

NEW YORK (UPI) — A dozen whites, including three charged with murder, pleaded innocent in the Howard Beach racial attack — an "American tragedy" whose details are emerging with the help of one of the accused, officials said.

The 12 whites, ages 16 to 19, were charged in indictments unsealed Tuesday with being part of a mob that on Dec. 20 attacked three black men in the all-white section of Queens, chasing one of the blacks, Michael Griffith, 23, onto a highway where he was struck and killed by a car.

State Special Prosecutor Charles Hynes said the indictments resulted from new information provided by an alleged participant in the attack who came forward Jan. 19, the holiday marking the birthday of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.

Panel Urges More Sanctions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A State Department advisory board originally created in opposition to U.S. sanctions against South Africa is pushing for intensified pressure and international sanctions unless reform is shown against apartheid.

The board is also urging President Reagan to assert "strong presidential leadership" in the matter, pressing for talks between South African blacks and the white minority government in Pretoria while expanding U.S. contacts with opposition groups such as the outlawed African National Congress.

The panel of 12 businessmen, former government officials and others was named by Secretary of State George Shultz in December 1985 as part of an effort to dissuade Congress from enacting economic sanctions against Pretoria. Congress nevertheless put the measures into law over President Reagan's veto Oct. 2.

Although the administration is enforcing the law, it has opposed widening the sanctions and has stuck with its "constructive engagement" policy of using quieter diplomatic channels to pressure South Africa into ending its apartheid system of racial segregation.

7.6 Million Clearances Revoked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department, protecting itself in a 16-month campaign against those who "yield to greed," has revoked security clearances for nearly a third of Pentagon and defense contractor employees.

The reductions in security clearances for nearly 1.6 million people were made between June 10, 1985, and Oct. 1, 1986, under orders from Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger a month after the arrest of the John Walker family-and-friend espionage ring that was spying for the Soviets.

Sims announced the results of the campaign almost immediately after the Justice Department said it may indict four Israelis allegedly involved in the spy case of Jonathan Pollard, a former Navy intelligence analyst who admitted selling military secrets to Israel.

Vietnam Vet Study Released

CHICAGO (UPI) — Vietnam veterans hailed as proof of their special health needs a new government study showing their ranks have suffered a much higher death rate than former servicemen who were stationed elsewhere during the unpopular war.

A spokesman for Vietnam veterans said Tuesday the study supports contentions that men and women who served in Indochina suffered more from health problems and early death as the result of their participation in the war and the cold homecoming they received.

However, researchers at the federal Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta who conducted the "Vietnam Experience Study" countered that the post-Vietnam war health problems and death rates were similar to those of combat veterans of other wars, with the exception of drug-related fatalities.

McFarlane Hailed As Patriot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ex-national security adviser Robert McFarlane is described often as a steely figure. In the wake of his apparent suicide attempt, another principal in the Iran-Contra crisis notes, "Steel doesn't bend; it breaks."

McFarlane, who split with the White House in testifying that President Reagan knew from the start and approved of covert U.S. arms sales to Iran, remained in a Washington-area hospital Tuesday to recover from a drug overdose that stunned associates and drew at least one sharp rebuke to the news media.

A spokesman for Bethesda Naval Hospital refused to discuss treatment for the 49-year-old McFarlane, but he was listed in good condition almost 48 hours after taking 20 to 30 Valium pills at his suburban Maryland home early Monday.

Police in Montgomery County, Md., who said the overdose was investigated as a suicide attempt, indicated Tuesday their work was done. "We're satisfied no crime has been committed," said Sgt. Harry Geehreng.

John Henshaw, a McFarlane aide, said he had no indication when the former national security adviser would be released from the hospital. He also said he had no information about a note McFarlane reportedly wrote after swallowing the pills, often prescribed for treatment of anxiety and back pain.

Several news accounts said McFarlane apparently left a note that was not legible and was not shown to anyone outside the family.

McFarlane's wife, Jonda, said in a statement Tuesday: "Bud and the children and I appreciate enormously the great love and support that we are getting from friends and strangers alike."

Indeed, friends and associates of McFarlane lauded him as "an American patriot" and a dedicated public servant who felt great personal responsibility for the foreign policy that erupted into scandal and was anguished in recent weeks over questions raised regarding his testimony in the affair.

Just last week, Senate Intelligence Committee Chairman David Boren, D-Okla., said parts of McFarlane's testimony seemed "strange," and he joined others in pointing out discrepancies between it and the testimony of other key figures.

McFarlane testified to Congress on the matter several times since December, with a major dispute emerging with White House chief of staff Donald Regan on the depth of Reagan's involvement in the early stages of the arms initiative.

McFarlane testified Reagan approved making the first shipment to Iran in August 1985 before it was delivered from Israeli stockpiles in September, but Regan said the president learned of the shipment afterward from McFarlane.

David Kimche, the former director-general of the Israeli Foreign Ministry who worked with McFarlane in arranging the arms deals, defended the former Marine colonel Tuesday in a statement from Israel.

President Submits To Second Round Of Committee Questions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, rejecting a request to force testimony from two former aides in the Iran-Contra scandal, agreed to a second round of questions today from a special review board that has read some of his personal notes.

Reagan scheduled an afternoon session with the three-member Tower Commission he appointed to review operations of his National Security Council. The panel had access to some of his personal notes to prepare for today's meeting, but he refused its request to order testimony from two former NSC aides.

White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said the request, involving Vice Adm. John Poindexter and Lt. Col. Oliver North, was rejected because Reagan was advised that military officers cannot be forced to forfeit constitutional rights.

Both men have invoked Fifth Amendment protection from self-incrimination in refusing to testify about their roles in covert U.S. arms sales to Iran and the subsequent scheme to divert profits to Nicaraguan Contra rebels.

The Tower Commission, led by former Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, sent the White House a request last week asking Reagan to invoke authority as commander in chief to compel Poindexter and North to appear for questioning.

But White House legal counsel Peter Wallison, in a response

Friday, "advised the board that such an order would be unlawful," Fitzwater said, because it would be tantamount to ordering the pair "to testify against themselves."

The counsel noted that North and Poindexter have a constitutional protection against self-incrimination, Fitzwater said Tuesday, "as well as a similar guarantee under Article 31 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice."

Wallison's judgment was supported by a legal opinion from the Pentagon's general counsel, who offered the same advice in December when the issue of forcing testimony from Poindexter and North was raised.

At that time, Reagan had asked the Senate Intelligence Committee for a grant of limited immunity to persuade the pair to talk. The committee refused, and special congressional panels now probing the case have not decided that issue.

Non-government lawyers agreed Reagan lacks the power to compel testimony from Poindexter, his former national security adviser and a vice admiral in the Navy, and North, a former NSC aide and Marine lieutenant colonel.

The White House sought Tuesday to avoid casting the legal issue as a sign of non-cooperation with the Tower Commission on a day already marked by a mixup over the

Gates: CIA Agent Lied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Acting CIA Director Robert Gates told Congress last week that one of his agents lied in telling investigators the agent and Lt. Col. Oliver North had no role in directing arms to Nicaraguan rebels last year, sources say.

The agent, the CIA's station chief in Costa Rica known by the pseudonym Tomas Castillo, is the focus of an internal probe reopened by Gates after questions arose about the operative's candor, the sources said Tuesday. Last week it was disclosed Castillo was recalled to Washington and would be retired early.

Castillo worked closely with North, the former National Security Council aide fired for his role in the Iran arms-Contra aid scandal, in coordinating four shipments of 500,000 tons of ammunition from a private aid network to rebels in southern Nicaragua in April 1986, congressional and rebel sources report.

In that light, Gates told congressional investigators last week that Castillo "lied on the first inspector general report when he said he had no involvement in giving arms to the Contras," a source said.

The inspector general, the CIA's internal watchdog, began an investigation last fall of possible agency involvement in funneling aid to the Contras.

7 Whites Indicted

CUMMING, Ga. (UPI) — A grand jury indicted seven whites arrested during an attack on a small group of "brotherhood" marchers that led to a civil rights rally by 20,000 people in all-white Forsyth County the next week.

The seven were to be arraigned today on charges of battery, carrying a deadly weapon to a public gathering, impersonating a public officer and other offenses.

The attack on the "brotherhood march" honoring the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. sparked the Jan. 24 rally that drew 20,000 protesters, plus several thousand angry white counter-demonstrators.

Fifty-six people were arrested at the second march, which was protected by hundreds of state troopers, Georgia Bureau of Investigation agents and National Guard units activated by Gov. Joe Frank Harris.

The Rev. Horcia Williams, who helped organize the civil rights marches in Cumming, was released Tuesday from jail in Forsyth County, where he and seven others were arrested for picketing outside "The Oprah Winfrey Show."

Williams and the others were protesting the exclusion of blacks from the black television personality's Chicago-based talk show, which was broadcast Monday from the rural county 40 miles north of Atlanta.

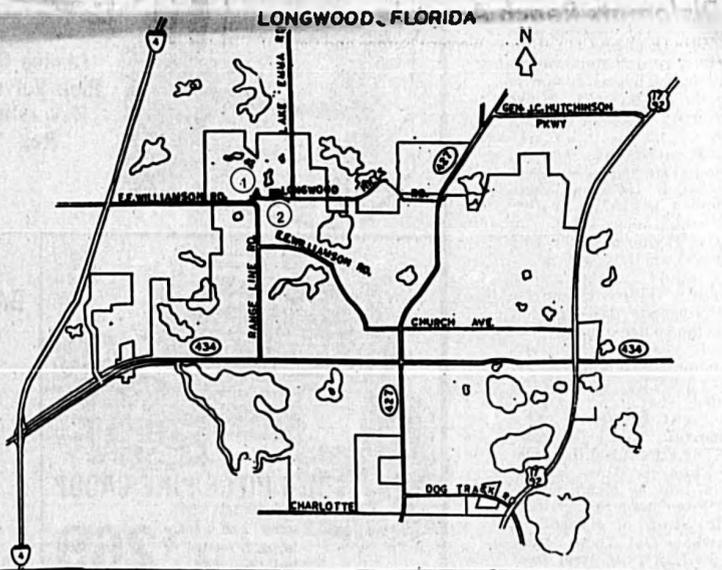

The eight were charged with unlawful assembly. Williams, who threatened to stage a hunger strike, also was charged with obstructing a highway.

Francis Gilbert, a spokesman for Sheriff Wesley Walraven, said Williams and the others were scheduled to appear in court March 23.

IN BRIEF

Shiite Moslems Allow Food Into Palestinian Refugee Camps

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The Shiite Moslem Amal militia agreed to allow food and medicine today into two besieged Palestinian refugee camps in southern Beirut where residents have had to resort to eating dogs and cats.

The first step of the operation involved a total cease-fire in and around the two sprawling refugee camps, but police reported sporadic exchanges of sniper fire that might delay sending in the convoys.

The agreement to allow a convoy of food and medical supplies into Bourj Al Barajneh and Shatila camps was the result of a flurry of Syrian and Libyan-mediated talks Tuesday in the Syrian capital of Damascus.

It was also hoped that the International Committee of the Red Cross would be able to evacuate casualties. Refugees have said that people have died in the streets from wounds because of a lack of treatment.

Fighting around the two beleaguered camps, home for some 33,000 people, eased off overnight with the explosions of rocket-propelled grenades and volleys of machine-gun fire becoming more sporadic.

Jailed Canadian Leaves Iran

TORONTO (UPI) — A Canadian engineer detained for 69 days in Iran on espionage charges said he was treated well by his jailers and whiled away the hours scratching out physics and mathematics problems.

"I am not a spy," said Philip Eng, 29, an employee of Paris-based Schlumberger Ltd., who arrived at Pearson International Airport Tuesday on a flight from Frankfurt, West Germany. "It's simply a misunderstanding."

Eng, who had been in Tehran for about a year, was freed Sunday after spending 69 days in prison for allegedly photographing restricted military installations in Iran.

Eng was first taken into custody by the Iranians in October, questioned about certain photographs, then released. He was arrested again on Dec. 2 and sent to Evin Prison in Tehran after returning from vacation in Canada.

Iranian officials in Canada said they released Eng as a gesture of good will to promote good relations between Canada and Iran. Eng was released in Tehran to Danish Ambassador Ib Andraesen, who acted for Canada because the Canadian Embassy was closed in 1979.

Right-Wing Party Reactivates

PRETORIA, South Africa (UPI) — A dormant white extremist party has been reactivated in a bid to topple President Pieter W. Botha and his policies of limited racial reform and to campaign for a separate white state.

Eugene TerreBlanche, leader of the ultra-rightist Afrikaner Resistance Movement, known by the Afrikaner language acronym AWB, announced the reactivation of the White Nation Party on Tuesday to compete against Botha and his National Party in elections May 6.

The White Nation Party will seek to unite bickering members of the Conservative Party and the Reconstituted National Party in a right-wing front, TerreBlanche said.

Both parties oppose Botha's program of limited racial reform, which brought Asians and mixed-race lawmakers into the Cape Town Parliament. Infighting has prevented them from joining forces for the election.

Diplomats Reach Accord

GUATEMALA CITY (UPI) — Western European and Central American diplomats ended their third annual meeting with an accord over bitter disputes between Nicaragua and U.S. allies in the region.

"We have arrived at a consensus. No one dissented from the economic and political documents," Guatemalan Foreign Minister Mario Quinones, host of the conference, told reporters when it concluded Tuesday.

The two-day meeting between representatives of the 12 members of the European Economic Community, the five Central American nations and four Latin nations of the peace-seeking Contadora Group also signed a 20-point economic agreement Tuesday to promote growth in the area.

The delegates wrangled for four days, including two days of preparatory talks, in the wording of the political document.

Soviets Free 140 Political Prisoners

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union, relaxing its policy against dissent, has freed 140 political prisoners in the past eight days, a Foreign Ministry spokesman said Tuesday.

The spokesman said about 140 more cases are under review and more releases are expected in line with the Kremlin's decision to have "fewer people behind bars and barbed wire" for political crimes.

"This is in line with our policy of more democratization of Soviet life," spokesman Gennady Gerasimov said.

Gerasimov said the prisoners were pardoned under decrees issued by the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, the country's parliament, on Feb. 2 and Feb. 9. Yelena Bonner, the wife of Nobel Peace-prize winning dissident Andrei Sakharov, said she was pleased by the announcement.

"I am very happy and I am waiting, waiting for the day all those 140 people are at home with their families," she said.

Gerasimov said prisoners had to sign a statement promising they will not resume anti-Soviet activities but Bonner said such a document is virtually meaningless.

"They (the documents) do not have significance. All they are asking for is a piece of paper that has no meaning," Bonner said.

In Washington, White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said the administration

Among cases pending is that of dissident psychiatrist Anatoly Koryagin, who was nominated last month for the 1987 Nobel Peace Prize. He was sentenced to seven years in a labor camp and five years of internal exile for criticizing Soviet psychiatric practices.

hopes "the Soviet government will follow up these recent moves by releasing more political prisoners and prisoners of conscience who unjustly remain in confinement or exile without imposing any requirement that they recant their past activities or limit future activities in the area of human rights."

Gerasimov also said a special commission has been established to reform the country's criminal law, including easing the law against dissent.

He admitted the review was opposed by some government factions.

"Some think the law should be stricter. The review is aimed at softening the criminal law so we will have fewer people behind bars and barbed wire," he said.

He said most of those released had been held under a section of the criminal code that provides prison and internal exile terms of up to 12 years for "defaming" the Soviet state.

Most estimates put the number of political prisoners in the Soviet Union between 300 and 700.

About 20 demonstrators staged a second day of protest in downtown Moscow Tuesday demanding total amnesty for political prisoners. Police ripped some of the protesters' signs from their hands but no arrests were reported.

According to dissident sources the prisoners freed represent a cross-section of the dissident movement and includes Jews, Catholics, Russian Orthodox, refuseniks, artists, scientists and clerics.

Gerasimov said that among the cases still pending was that of dissident psychiatrist Anatoly Koryagin, who was nominated last month for the 1987 Nobel Peace Prize.

Koryagin was sentenced to seven years in a labor camp and five years of internal exile for criticizing Soviet psychiatric practices.

"He has not been released yet. He is not on the list yet," Gerasimov said.

He said Josef Begun, probably the most prominent dissident still in prison, is presently not being considered for pardon.

Philippine Military Officers Take Oath

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — President Corazon Aquino signed and declared in force a new constitution today, ending the revolutionary nature of her government and placing the burden of lawmaking on a U.S.-style congress to be elected in May.

In the northern Philippines, communist insurgency escalated with 20 guerrillas killing two policemen and a security guard at the Dendro thermal power plant, 145 miles northwest of Manila, the Philippines News Agency said.

PNA said suspected communist rebels in the southern province of Zamboanga del Sur also killed the leader of a fanatic anti-communist group and a 2-year-old girl and wounded five other people on Tuesday.

The casualty reports pushed to 28 the number of people killed since a 60-day cease-fire between the government and communist rebels ended on Sunday.

The charter, approved last week in a landslide popular vote regarded as Aquino's biggest victory since taking power, restores full democracy for the first time since ousted President Ferdinand Marcos began a reign of authoritarian rule in 1972.

"One political order will now govern the ways we work together to strive toward common goals as a people and to resolve our remaining differences in a peaceful and democratic fashion," Aquino declared in a nationally televised palace ceremony.

Wearing a light pastel dress, Aquino signed several copies of the charter, then placed her left hand on a bible held by her daughter, Maria Elena, and swore allegiance before Chief Justice Claudio Teehankee.

After declaring the constitution "duly ratified by the Filipino people and ... therefore in full force and effect," Aquino led her Cabinet and the entire Supreme Court in taking the oath of allegiance.

Aquino, whose term is set in the charter at six years expiring on June 30, 1992, later traveled to Camp Aguinaldo, the military general headquarters, to administer the oath to 400 officers, including armed forces chief Fidel Ramos.

She said the government will work on regional cease-fires, economic recovery and rehabilitation of rebels, but the military should no longer hesitate to attack the communist insurgents.

"The truce is over. Send this message out to all our troops so that none may be misled to relax their vigilance to their peril and that of the people they are charged to protect," Aquino told the officers.

Defense Minister Rafael Ilto said the 250,000-member armed forces would take similar oaths in nationwide ceremonies no later than Monday. Forty percent of the military voted against the charter, official returns showed.

Ramon Felipe, chairman of the Commission on Elections, presented to Aquino the result of the Feb. 2 constitutional plebiscite, saying they had symbolized "the rededication of our people to justice, freedom and democracy."

Final official results showed 17,059,495 "yes" votes or a 76.37 percent margin against 5,058,714 "no" votes.

'Noles Trim Lyman, Klein Gets 20th Win

Henderson's 20 Points, 14 Rebounds Stop 'Hounds' 16-Game Homecourt Domination

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
LONGWOOD — Coach Bill Klein, junior Andre Whitney and senior Jerry "Stick" Parker each had different reason for a Seminole victory prior to Tuesday night's Seminole Athletic Conference encounter at Lyman's "Dog Pound."

Klein was in search of his 20th victory, Whitney wanted to end Lyman's 16-game homecourt victory streak and Parker was thinking about the upcoming district tournament.

Roderick Henderson, meanwhile, did not have a special motive. But he did not need one. Turning in his best game of '87, Henderson scored 20 points, snatched 14 rebounds and handed out five assists as Seminole tripped Lyman, 82-52, before 402 fans at Lyman High School. The victory clinched at least a share of the SAC title.

"Henderson played a whale of a ballgame," Lyman coach Tom Lawrence said. "He was intense all night out there."

Klein had been unhappy with Henderson's effort against Lake Howell and his senior leader spent more time than usual on the bench last Friday. Henderson got the message. "We wanted to come in here and play hard," the 6-4 swingman said. "I was moving a lot more tonight and things just came my way."

Klein was satisfied with his 20th but not the effort. "It is a nice milestone," he said. "But Lyman has been decimated (by injury and ineligibility). They did an excellent job and we just played well enough to win."

The victory upped the 16th-ranked 'Noles to 20-5 and 7-0 in the SAC. They have won four in succession. Seminole hosts Apopka Thursday before going for the SAC title Friday at home against red-hot Oviedo. The Lions blew away Lake Mary, 79-57, Tuesday. In the other SAC game, Lake Brantley squeaked past Lake Howell, 50-48.

Lyman fell to 10-7 and 4-3. The Greyhounds travel to Lake Brantley Friday.

Whitney said breaking Lyman's 16-game streak was foremost on his mind. "We got tired of reading in the newspaper how they had won 16 games in a row at home," Whitney said. "I knew that we could come in here and beat them."

Parker said the 'Noles are hoping to peak for the Feb. 26-28 district showdown at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium. "We just want to keep winning and winning," he said. "We want to get ready for the district. We're playing for pleasure now."

Henderson was a pleasure the first eight minutes. He hustled six points on offensive rebounds as Seminole jumped to an 11-10 lead. "I was just moving my feet, boxing out well and the ball fell right in my hands," Henderson said.

After Craig Radzak's free throw tied the score, Parker hit a jumper. Whitney found Henderson for a layup and Parker bombed away again for a 17-11 lead after one session.

Lyman shot poorly, missing six of its first seven shots and hitting just 5 of 17 for the quarter.

Robert Thomas, who led the 'Hounds with 12 points and seven assists, dazzled the 'Noles with several pinpoint passes in the second quarter. He found 6-6 Shawn Hester and Radzak for layups on consecutive trips down the floor. Vince Florence, who finished with 11 points, dropped in 3 of 4 free throws to pull Lyman within 23-20 with 4:53 left.

Lawson's Free Throws Hold Off Howell

ALTA MONTE SPRINGS — Lake Brantley held off a late fourth quarter rally by Lake Howell and squeaked away with a 50-48 Seminole Athletic Conference basketball victory before 211 fans at Lake Brantley High Tuesday night.

The triumph upped the Patriots record to 3-4 in the SAC and 7-10 overall. The loss drops Howell to 1-6 and 4-13. Lake Brantley will return to action on Thursday when the Pats will play host to Lyman. Howell will play host to Lake Mary on Friday.

Brantley held a 45-33 lead midway through the final period, but Howell went into a fullcourt press and pulled within one point at 47-46 with one minute to play.

Brantley guard Doug Lawson then nailed a pair of free throws with 36 seconds left to ice the game for Brantley.

Lake Brantley coach Steve Jucker said that he was happy to get a victory any way he could. "We let them get back into the game at the end," Jucker said. "But we played pretty well and we needed a win badly."

Basketball

Lake Howell dug its own grave as the Silver Hawks committed 25 turnovers. "We threw the ball away too often tonight," Lake Howell coach Greg Robinson said. "We even had a chance to win the game at the end, but we threw the ball away."

Brantley forward Brent Bell led the way for the Pats as the 6-1 senior scored a game-high 19 points. Bell, who has been the Patriot leader all season, had a steady game as he hit from in the paint as well as from outside.

"It was a good team effort tonight," Bell said after the game. "I felt as though we played poorly at the start and at the end of the game, but we'll take a win any way we can get one."

Jucker said that he has been pleased with Bell's performance this season. "Brent has really come through for us," Jucker said. "He has really improved and did a good job again tonight."

Brantley forward Darren Leva also had a fine game as the junior scored 16 points with 12 of them coming in the second half. Leva was also solid at the charity stripe as he hit 6 of 8 free throws with 5 of the 6 coming in the final period.

Lake Howell used a balanced scoring attack as forward Phil Clark hit for nine, Steve Johnson netted eight, and C. Gibson added eight. Center Randy Keller chipped in with seven while Alonzo Robinson scored six.

Robinson said that is looking for more production out of his big men. "We need to score more points inside," Robinson said. "Our big guys just didn't put it in tonight."

Lawson complemented Bell and Leva as the guard hit for nine points and had several flashy assists.

The game started out sloppily as the two teams combined for only 15 first-quarter points. Brantley led 11-4 after one period.

Brantley lengthened its lead to 15-8 with 4:30 left to play in the first half, but Howell came back to score seven unanswered points and knot the game at 15 with three minutes left in the first half.

The teams exchanged buckets in the final three minutes and Brantley took a narrow 22-20 lead into the locker room.

Gibson gave Howell its only lead of the game at 26-24 at the start of the third period. Brantley retaliated by outscoring Howell 15-6 and taking a 39-32 lead at the start of the final stanza. With Brantley up 45-33, Howell came back and scored 11 unanswered points to make the score 45-44 with two minutes left to play.

Barri Shirley hit a key basket with 1:10 left to extend the lead to three.

Howell gave the ball up on its next two possessions to give the Pats the win.

"When you have a team down by 10 or 11," Jucker said, "You have to get them down by more. We didn't do that tonight but we still won and that's what counts."

Raiders Begin Crucial Conference Road Tests

By Mark Blythe
Herald Sports Writer
Seminole Community College takes to the road this week in an attempt to secure the host's role for the Mid-Florida Conference post-season tournament. The Raiders trek to Gainesville tonight before journeying to Daytona Beach Saturday as the conference season wraps up.

SCC is 9-3 in the MFC and Daytona is 10-2. The Raiders need a victory tonight over 2-10 Santa Fe and a triumph Saturday over the Scots to earn the host's role. Jacksonville's Florida Community College is 11-1 and pretty much a lock for the title.

"Santa Fe has three really tough players and all of them could give us trouble," SCC coach Bill Payne said. "Rodney Rush is probably one of the best players in the state so we'll have to be aware of him."

Rush scored 29 points in the first meeting at the SCC Health Center, dominating the play in the paint. Forward Brian Jessie and guard Stephen Edelson also came up with nice performances.

Basketball

Seminole was too powerful in that first meeting, though, coming away with a convincing, 106-81, victory. Guard Malcolm Houston led the way with 41 points as point guard Darris Gallagher had 17 assists, both marks were just off SCC records. "They could be one of the best teams in the conference," Payne said. "Rush was ineligible for the first part of the season and now may be used to playing with him."

The Raiders are accustomed to the homecourt advantage and will hope to gain a berth at the state tournament at Central Florida through the help of a talented combination of guards and inside players.

Gallagher is Payne's floor general and is able to get SCC moving on the break while keeping the composure to slow the ball down when necessary.

Shooting guard Houston, though, has been in a slump as of late, although he is one of the best shooters in the conference and is leading the team in three-point goals.

The inside tandem of 6-8 Vance Hall and 6-7 Claude Jackson has done the job in the paint all season for the Raiders. Hall and Jackson have received strong contributions from reserves Barry Dunning and Rob Williams who has come into his own as of late.

James Morris and Holly Keller fill the forward slot for Payne.

Notre Dame, Pitt Nab Top Recruits

Football

United Press International
Notre Dame and Pittsburgh, a pair of independents that failed to better .500 last season, appear on the way to gaining the finest recruiting classes in the nation.

Both Notre Dame and Pittsburgh are coming off of seasons under first-year coaches. The Fighting Irish were 5-6 in Lou Holtz's initial season while the Panthers were 5-5-1 in Mike Gottfried's maiden campaign.

Holtz is likely to remove his reputation as a top field coach who has trouble in recruiting. Holtz is expected to sign at least eight of the nation's top 100 players beginning today, the first day high-school seniors can sign national letters-of-intent.

Gottfried is ready to secure for Pitt three of the 10 best players in the nation, including two that had considered national champion and state rival Penn State.

National recruiting scout Max Emfinger, who selected the top 100 for United Press International, said Notre Dame and a handful of other powers — UCLA, Texas A&M, Oklahoma, Florida and Stanford figure most prominently — should lead the annual recruiting derby.

The destination of the nation's top-ranked schoolboy, running back Randy Simmons of McKinney, Texas, is expected today. Simmons' high school coach, Ron Poe, said Tuesday that Simmons would not decide until at least today between Southwest Conference rivals Texas and Texas A&M.

Recruiters also are awaiting last-minute decisions by about 40 of the top 100. Top-10 picks still undecided are quarterback Mickey Joseph of Marrero, La., running back Tommy Booker of Vista, Calif., and running back Leroy Thompson of Knoxville, Tenn.

In addition to eight players who have given oral commitments, Notre Dame is in the running for at least six more top prospects. Thus, national signing day looms as a particularly triumphant for Holtz.

Hill's 19 Put Hurt On Rams

Football

By Mark Blythe

OVIDO — Oviedo's Dana Hill and Robb Hughes sparked a 15-point third quarter run while dominating play on the inside for 41 points as the Lions hammered Lake Mary, 79-57, Tuesday night in Seminole Athletic Conference play before 153 fans at Oviedo High.

The Lions improved to 14-6 and 3-4 in the SAC. Oviedo hosts Daytona Beach Father Lopez tonight before invading Sanford for a showdown with the SAC-leading Seminoles Friday. The Rams dropped to 8-12 and 3-4. Coach Willie Richardson's club goes to Lake Howell Friday.

"We had our reserves come in and do a really good job for us," Oviedo coach Dale Phillips said. "We didn't lose any strength when we went to them."

Though the bench came through, it was the Lions frontline which put the game away. Hughes scored a game-high 22 points while Hill, turning in the best performance of his career, added a career-high 19. Guard Brian Wilson notched 12.

Hill netted seven first-quarter points as Oviedo came out and built an 18-9 lead.

Lake Mary, though, cut the score to 20-16 with 6:33 left in the half. The Rams would get no closer in as Oviedo went on a run as Terry Campbell put down a layup followed by a pair of free throws by Hughes and a hoop by Wilson to up the lead to 28-20.

The two teams traded baskets with the Lions taking a 33-29 halftime lead following a long jumper from the Rams' Mike Mandeville.

In the second half, Oviedo came out on fire and put Lake Mary out of the game scoring the first 15 points to take a commanding 48-29 lead. Eric Czerniejewski finally scored for the Rams with 2:34 left in the third quarter.

Hill started off the run with a power move followed by a hoop by Campbell. Hill then connected again inside followed by Hughes' three-point play.

Hill connected for another two in the paint and Wilson snared a pass off the press and scored. Hill ended the run with another basket giving Oviedo a large lead.

"I've been working on my shots and rebounding a lot in practice," Hill said. "I was able to concentrate and get free tonight when we ran our new offense."

The new offense also helped Hughes who found he was open much more in his second consecutive strong effort or he was able to get a mismatch if he wasn't. "The guards got the ball inside well tonight," Hughes, who was named Seminole County Burger King Player of the Week Tuesday, said. "I was open a few times but they (Lake Mary) had two smaller players playing down low which also helped."

Phillips said it was all over after the 15-point blitz. "The run in the third quarter kind of took them (Lake Mary) out of the game," Phillips said. "We wanted to stop Eric (Czerniejewski) from scoring inside and make sure that they had to beat us from outside."

The Rams could not come up with any fire power to make up for the Lions run and went to a man-to-man pressing defense to try and get back in the game.

The fourth quarter became an up-and-down game with Lake Mary playing a gambling defense and hurry-up offense.

The hurried Ram offense, though, became a self-destruction factor as Oviedo came up with easy points on the break. The defense also began to slow as starters Matt Napoli and Czerniejewski both fouled out, thwarting any comeback plan.

The Lions Chris Griffith came in and took over in the final period, scoring all nine of his points and grabbing five rebounds keeping Lake Mary off the glass.

"We played good defense and did what we wanted to do," Phillips said.

Serve And Volley Your Way To High-Level Doubles

If you have trouble pacing your serve, if you are insecure at the net, if your overhead is suspect and you have difficulty side-pedaling back for lobs, you may read this article for information only; DO NOT try the serve and volley game.

However, if you have a well-placed deep serve and if your volley is serviceable, you can soon learn to come in regularly in doubles and at least occasionally in singles.

A person who is inexperienced in serve and volley tactics might use the following guidelines to develop his techniques.

● In the beginning, come in behind serve in doubles only (there is less court to cover)

● Choose as your doubles opponents lesser players or players on your own level to practice against. (If you play players who are a lot better than you you will never get to volley because they have so much control that they will hit the ball away from you.)

● Before you start coming in behind second services, make sure you are winning more than 50 percent of the points when you come in behind first serves and that your second serve is forceful and deep.

● When the opponents successfully lob over your partner and come in, keep in mind that the competent serve-and-volleyer can (and often should) go back for the lob that catches his partner cold.

The novice serve and volley player tends to barrel in much too fast, flinging body and racket at the ball as

Larry Castle

SANFORD HERALD TENNIS WRITER

he or she charges in on the dead run. In doubles, the server should try to get to the service line, pause, but don't come to a complete stop. At this slow-down point you can change directions for a wide shot or move in quickly for a set-up. After hitting the first volley, you should move in a few more steps so that you are as close to net as your partner. The uncertain novice will lag three steps behind and can be trapped by a low ball or fail to take advantage of a shoulder high return.

The experienced serve and volley player will always close after the first volley. The goal is to be able to take the second volley well in front of your body and at a much closer position to net.

If the first volley is crisply hit and deep, you must take advantage of the potentially weak return by moving forward. If instead you stay at the service line, your volley cannot be as severe. The only time you don't close in is when you anticipate a lob.

If you are a newcomer to the serve and volley game, you should take most good to average returns and volley back cross-court to the server. Things will often happen very fast at the net and this is the safest volley for the novice.

Be sure to remember, though, to take all volleys out in front of you and moving forward. This will allow you to be able to volley or half-volley even the most difficult return.

You will gradually increase your agility and quickness around the net and with this new experience you will be able to direct your volleys anywhere you want, down the middle, crosscourt, or at your opponent's feet.

Even the player who feels more at home in the backcourt should start to work on a good serve and volley game. It is the only way to ever reach a very high-level in doubles.

Tune-Up: Seminoles Meet Rams

Seminole, Lake Mary and Lyman each get a final tune-up for the District 4A-9 Wrestling Tournament tonight when they wrestle their final matches of the year.

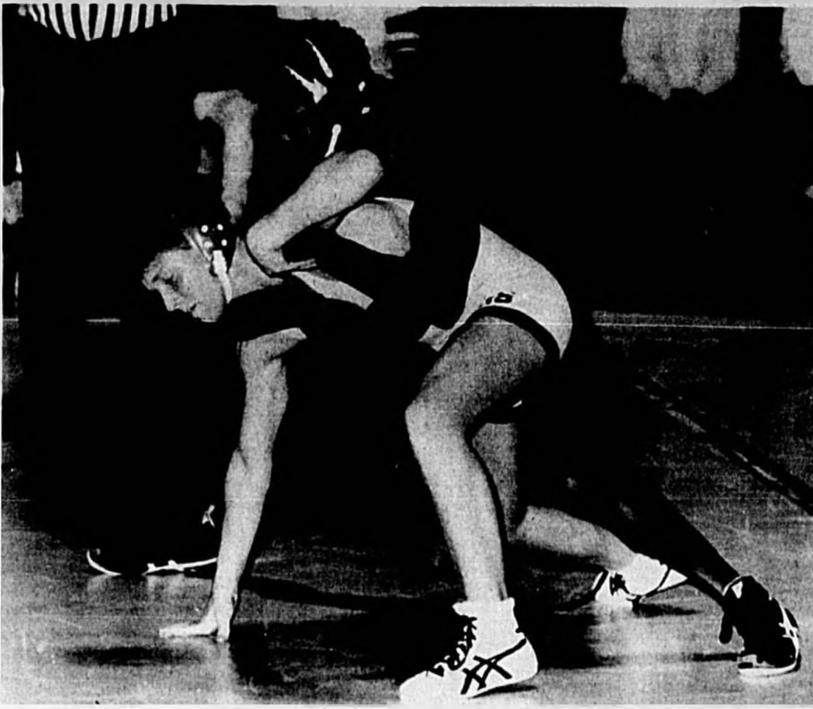

● At Lake Mary, coach Glenn Malolini's Seminoles take on coach Doug Peters' Rams in what is expected to be a spirited battle.

Both teams have posted 10-4 records against rugged dual-meet opponents. Seminole lost to powerful Miami Southridge (57-21) Saturday while the Rams smothered Jacksonville Forrest (75-6) and knocked off Orange Park (47-28).

Seminole's best are Troy and Tracy Turner, Sheralton Mays and Randy "Pork" Bryant. Troy Turner is unbeaten and Tracy Turner has lost just once — to Lake Mary's Bill Richards.

Lake Mary co-captains Troy Jackson and Richards are unbeaten. Rob Richards, Enrique Carbia, Scott Flores and Wayne Clayton are the best of the rest.

● At Longwood, coach Bill Scott sends his Greyhounds against Orlando Oak Ridge. Mike Whitaker and Jimbo Smith are the Greyhounds' best.

Seton Hall (3-9) Makes Progress Despite Losses

United Press International
The Seton Hall Pirates are making progress in the Big East despite what their record indicates.

The Pirates, 3-9 in the league, have already matched their conference victory total of last year. They are playing competitively, even if they are losing. In years past, they would just lose.

"We've played 12 Big East games and 10 have gone to the last minute," Seton Hall Coach P.J. Carlesimo said Tuesday night after the Pirates fell to No. 18 St. John's 60-57 in overtime. "We're a good basketball team but not good enough until we learn to execute when the game is on the line. In that situation we have to play better."

Since the formation of the Big East in 1979, the Pirates have recorded 18 conference victories in all, including three this season. Seton Hall's last eight conference games have been decided by 4 points or less. Seton Hall is 3-5 in those games.

"One night we don't make free throws and the next night we play poor defense," Carlesimo said. "Tonight we couldn't contain Mark Jackson."

Not many teams have been able to contain Jackson. The St.

John's point guard scored 27 points. He has 84 points in his last three games, hitting 29 of 48 shots from the floor and playing every minute.

In other games, No. 5 DePaul topped Marquette 88-76. No. 16 Duke defeated Harvard 98-86. Georgia Tech shaded Maryland 78-74 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game and Yale beat Army 72-64.

At Milwaukee, Rod Strickland scored 24 points and Kevin Edwards hit 10 of his 14 points during the first 4:30 of the second half to lift DePaul, 21-1. Dallas Comegys, the Blue Demons' leading scorer, put in 15 points in the second half after being held to 2 in the first half. Marquette, 13-8, was led by David Boone with 22 points.

McCullough: Good Or Great? Lyman's Pitchers Will Decide

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Good or great? Bob McCullough, Lyman's baseball coach, would like to know which of the two adjectives better describes his team as the Greyhounds prepare for Friday's season opener at home against Winter Park's Wildcats.

Lyman right-hander Sandy Hovis will toss the first pitch at 7 p.m.

McCullough, beginning his 13th season as dean of the Seminole County coaches, returns seven starters from last year's 17-15 team. McCullough has 259 wins and 132 losses in 12 years. Notable losses through graduation were pitcher-first baseman Byron Overstreet (Murray State), pitcher Mark Whittington (Murray State), pitcher-DH Billy Henley and infielder John Bane.

Last year, the Greyhounds finished second in the Seminole Athletic Conference and second in the District 4A-9 behind state runner-up Lake Mary.

"Experience is our strength and we have some bats," McCullough said Tuesday afternoon. "But our pitching is untried. That is our weakness."

"Our middle infielders will have to do a good job," he said about shortstop Darren Boyesen and second baseman Dale Stevens. "And to have a great season, our pitching staff will have to jell quickly."

Craig Wagner hurled hitless ball for six innings and David Friesner added a hitless seventh as Lake Howell no-hit Apopka, 3-0, in the season opener for both teams Tuesday night at Apopka High School.

Wagner, a 6-3, 230-pound right-hander, struck out 12 while walking six.

Lyman's infield and outfield are both solid. Speedy leadoff hitter Boyesen, who hit .253 last year, and Stevens (.263) are seniors with three years of varsity experience.

Another hard-hitting senior — John Burton — moves from catcher to third base. Burton batted .272 last year with two homers, nine doubles and 20 runs batted in. Sophomore left-hander Kenny Jackson takes over at first base.

Lyman's outfield is loaded with speed and line-drive power. Left fielder Chris Brock, a junior, batted .319 last year and should be a much better hitter without the burden of playing shortstop. Chris Radcliff, who batted .317 as a freshman, returns in right field. Radcliff tied for the county lead with three triples and accounted for 24 runs.

Marty Martin, a junior who started in the outfield, will handle the catching chores. Gib Lundquist, a senior who was a part-time starter in the outfield, a year ago with be the designated hitter and play some outfield.

Lyman's pitching is definitely untried. Hovis, a submariner who will also play first base, was effective in relief last year when turned in a 3.50 earned run average with 36 strikeouts in 36 innings last year.

Junior right-hander Ross Urshan, senior lefty Ken Oswald and Lake Brantley senior transfer Zac Maddox complete the starting staff. McCullough said Maddox must first be given a hardship waiver at Saturday's meeting of the Florida High School Activities Association's executive committee to become eligible.

McCullough's relief will come from Stevens and sophomore Jimbo Lucas, a transfer from Seminole.

Orlando Boone's Braves jumped all over Lake Brantley's pitching staff en route to a 16-3 victory in the prep baseball season opener for both teams Tuesday night at Lake Brantley High School.

"We didn't play very well at all," Lake Brantley coach Mike Smith said.

Boone got two-run homers in the second and third innings and added seven runs in the top of the seventh.

The two teams will square off again Friday at Boone at 3:30 p.m.

Seminole Community College grabbed a 4-1 lead after two innings but couldn't hold on as the Raiders dropped a 7-5 decision to Florida Community College-Jacksonville Tuesday afternoon in the Mid-Florida Conference opener for both teams at Jacksonville.

The Raiders fell to 1-6 overall with their fourth consecutive loss. SCC returns home for three games the remainder of this week. SCC hosts Brevard today, Central Florida Thursday and Polk Friday. All games start at 3 p.m.

SCC took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first Tuesday when Pat Papousek drew a one-out walk, moved to second on a groundout and scored on Chris Gage's base hit to right.

FCC-J, 2-0-1, picked up a run in the bottom of the first but the Raiders took a 4-1 lead with three runs in the second. Jeff Fortune led off the frame with a single and went all the way to third when Papousek reached on an error. Oviedo's Frank Torres then laid down a bunt single to drive in Fortune and Papousek took third on another FCC-J error on the play. Papousek scored on Tim Brookes' grounddout and Torres scored on a sacrifice fly by Joe Sims.

FCC-J tied the score with a run in the fourth and two in the fifth but SCC regained the lead in the top of the sixth when Longwood's Kevin Hill smashed a two-out single, took second on an error and scored on Fortune's single to right.

The Stars tied the score in the seventh and took a 7-5 lead with two runs in the bottom of the eighth. Reliever Rick Massicotte blanked SCC in the top of the ninth to preserve the victory for starter Bud Gideumb. Loser Jeff Rood went the distance on the mound for SCC.

Ruling Will Affect Raines

NEW YORK (UPI) — An arbitrator has ruled that major-league teams barred from signing their free agents until May 1 are forbidden to negotiate with those players until then.

Barry Rona, executive director of Player Relations Committee, confirmed Tuesday the decision by arbitrator George Nicolau was released to representatives for baseball's club owners and players' union. The written opinion was not made public.

The decision represents a victory for the Major League Players Association, which claimed in a grievance clubs would be discouraged from talking with players still negotiating with their former teams.

Rona said there are approximately 40 unsigned free agents. The most prominent players and clubs affected by the ruling were Tim Lincecum and Andre Dawson of Montreal, Rich Gedman of Boston, Ron Guitry of the New York Yankees, Bob Horner of Atlanta and Lance Parrish of Detroit.

Sapp, Defense Lead Rams Past Bulldogs

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Possessing the ball on offense makes it look like you are dominating the game, but it doesn't mean diddly if you don't put the ball in the goal. Lake Mary's Rams outshot DeLand's Bulldogs, 31-4, Tuesday night but the Rams lacked the killer instinct to put the 'Dogs away.

Lake Mary got two assists from midfielder Steve Sapp and rode another solid defensive effort to a 2-0 victory Tuesday night in the opening round of the Class 4A-9 District Tournament at Lake Mary High.

The Rams, 18-3-4, advance to the semifinals Thursday night at 7 at home against Lake Brantley. Brantley blanked Spruce Creek, 3-0, Tuesday.

"The defense saved us because we really didn't play very well," Lake Mary coach Larry McCorkle said. "We looked like we were trying not to lose instead of going out and playing to win. We had an opportunity to blow the game open early but we kept DeLand in the game."

Lake Mary took a 1-0 lead in the first half when Frank Baranowski scored on Sapp's first assist.

The Rams could not add to their lead before the half ended but came back in the second half to take a 2-0 lead when Ernie Broennle scored on another Sapp assist.

Defensively, McCorkle said seniors Pete Kinsley and Chris Riske played probably their best games of the season in shutting down DeLand's best offensive players.

BRANTLEY DROWNS CREEK

Lake Brantley's Patriots may have had a rather disappointing season, but this is still the same team that beat Winter Park and Lake Howell and played top-ranked Tampa Leto to a 1-0 game in the Pizza Hut Tournament.

The Patriots proved they are still a team to be reckoned with Tuesday night as they opened the 4A-9 District Tournament with a 3-0 shutout of Spruce Creek's Hawks at Port Orange.

Lake Howell's Silver Hawks didn't waste any time fooling around Tuesday night as they went right for the jugular and went on to rout Seminole High, 7-0, in the opening round of the 4A-9 District Tournament at Lake Howell High.

The Hawks, ranked seventh in the state, improved to 19-2-2 and advance to Thursday's semifinals at home against Lyman's Greyhounds. Lyman downed Daytona Beach Mainland, 3-1, Tuesday night.

"There was no let down at all tonight," Lake Howell coach Glenn Griffin said. "You always worry about a let down in a game like this but the kids came out excited and completely dominated the game."

Jeff Phillips scored three of the seven goals for the Hawks while Chris McCumber, Alejandro Ballaudo, Jeff Shirkey and Kenny Higgins scored one goal apiece. Higgins also had two assists while Ballaudo, Mark Gardberg and Matt Yearick each had one assist.

Lake Howell pounded out 39 shots on the night compared to just one for the Seminoles who finished the season at 4-12-1. Goalkeeper's Joey Schulman and Steve Munnell shared the shutout for the Hawks. Seminole keeper Scott Taylor had a busy night and performed well with 23 saves.

LYMAN UPENDS MAINLAND

Despite a sluggish performance, Lyman's Greyhounds escaped their District 4A-9 first-round game Tuesday night with a 3-1 victory over Daytona Mainland's Bucs at Lyman High.

Lyman improved to 12-5-4 with its fourth consecutive victory. The 'Hounds play at Lake Howell Thursday night.

"I was not too thrilled with the way we played tonight," Lyman coach Ray Sandidge said. "If we were playing Lake Howell, we would have got beaten six or seven to nothing."

Gerard Mitchell scored Lyman's first two goals Tuesday night, the first on an assist from Chris Graham nine minutes into the game. Lyman, though, could not put another goal in until 18 minutes left to play when Mitchell scored on an assist from Tom Sella. Mark Dubin added an insurance goal on George Kourtis' assist for a 3-0 lead. Mainland avoided the shutout on Rick Bodden's goal with four minutes remaining.

OVIDO COASTS, 8-0

Oviedo's Lions opened the 3A-8 District Tournament Tuesday night by bombarding Kissimmee Osceola's Kowboys, 8-0, at Oviedo High.

The Lions, 12-6-3, advance to Thursday's semifinals against the Leesburg-Trinity Prep winner. The semifinals and finals will be played at Orlando Bishop Moore High.

Greg Brick scored four goals for Oviedo Tuesday while Jim Guggenheim dished out four assists. Oviedo outshot the Kowboys, 57-2 and had four corner kicks to Osceola's zero. Goalkeeper Gordon King made two saves in registering the shutout.

Jeff Griffin, Erik Boyle, Tim Walsener and Guggenheim also scored goals for the Lions while Scott Walsener, Mike Moody, Lance Ames and Pasi Kavima also added assists.

Gilchrist Powers Seminole

LONGWOOD — Sophomore Chineta Gilchrist turned in the best game of her brief career with 15 points and 15 rebounds as Seminole ran past Lyman, 53-23, in Seminole Athletic Conference girls basketball Tuesday night at Lyman High School.

Seminole improved to 11-10 overall and 4-4 in the SAC. Lyman dropped to 1-17 and 1-7. The Lady Seminoles travel to Oviedo Thursday while coach Anita Carlson's Lady 'Hounds trek to Lake Brantley Friday.

Seminole jumped to an 18-10 first-quarter lead which it upped to 27-11 at halftime. The Lady Seminoles dominated in the paint against the smaller Lady Greyhounds as Gilchrist, a 5-10 center, and Liz Long, a 6-2 forward, had their own way.

Gilchrist tossed in six points in the first quarter and five more in the second. Long burnt Lyman for eight of her 10 first-half points in the opening quarter.

"Chineta is a big, strong kid," Seminole coach Charles Steele said. "She's still learning and she loves the game. This is only her second year of organized basketball, but she really posts up well inside."

In the second half, Seminole's jet-quick guards — Adrian Hillsman and LaShon Cash — turned on the pressure as the Lady 'Noles outscored Lyman, 16-4, to blow the game wide open.

Hillsman, the county's leading scorer, finished with 13 points, six assists, seven rebounds and five steals. Long contributed 12 points, six boards and three blocks. Cash collected four steals and Laurie Hall had four rebounds. Leticia Strickland chipped in seven points.

Kim Boyle led Lyman with 13 points, seven rebounds and nine steals. Thelec Bouey added four points.

bench three minutes into the third quarter. Seminole ran off the next six points to take a commanding 40-28 advantage.

Midway through the final period, a snazzy drive by Whitney and a rebound bucket by Walter "Tipman" Hopson pushed Seminole out of reach.

Parker finished with 15 points, six rebounds and five assists. Whitney tossed in nine points and handed out seven assists. Walker, who left the game after he suffered a cut to his mouth, had eight boards. Hathaway had seven points and five caroms. Michael "Spud" Edwards supplied four assists.

The Bulls Are Back

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened higher today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which fell 18.70 Tuesday, was up 2.11 to 2160.15 shortly after the market opened.

Advances led declines 479-396 among the 1,345 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 10,048,000 shares.

The stock market finished lower in active trading Tuesday as investors eyed a weak dollar and rising interest rates and decided to cash in on recent gains.

"This was very orderly profit taking in average volume," said Ernie Rudnet, manager of block trading at Mabon Nugent & Co. "The market needs to go through this before it goes higher."

"The bond market was down sharply, but the lower stock prices were technical to a certain extent," said Ricky Harrington of Interstate Securities in Charlotte, N.C. Harrington said when the Dow fell below a support level of 2180, selling accelerated.

Bond prices have been sliding since Monday on fears that the falling dollar will make it difficult for the Federal Reserve Board to encourage lower interest rates. A reduction in U.S. rates, unless coordinated with similar cuts by West Germany and Japan, would further weaken the dollar, at least in the short-term, traders said.

Dollar Turns Mixed; Gold Mostly Lower

By United Press International

The U.S. dollar opened mixed on a major world money exchange today. The price of gold was mostly lower.

The Tokyo foreign exchange market was closed for a national holiday. It will reopen Thursday. In European trading the dollar fell at the opening in Frankfurt to 1.815 German marks, against Tuesday's close of 1.8166.

The dollar also opened lower in Milan at 1,291.50 lire, against a previous close of 1,291.96.

But it strengthened in Zurich, opening at 1.534 Swiss francs, against Tuesday's close of 1.5205; in Paris at 6.0475 French francs, against 5.99; in Brussels at 38.11 Belgian francs, against 37.975; and in Amsterdam at 2.0475 guilders, against 2.034 on Tuesday.

In London, the pound sterling slipped at the opening to $1.526, against Tuesday's close of $1.533.

In early New York trading the dollar was mostly higher against major foreign currencies.

Traders in New York said the foreign currency market was digesting Tuesday's activity, in which the dollar ended firmer after recovering from a sharp drop in reaction to Treasury Secretary James Baker's statement that the dollar's decline had not had an adverse impact on the U.S. budget deficit.

Gold opened 50 cents lower in Zurich at $403 per troy ounce and gained 50 cents in London to $402.75 an ounce.

The morning fixing in London was $402.90, up 65 cents from Tuesday's close.

Silver opened unchanged in Zurich at $5.55 per troy ounce and gained 2 cents in London to $5.55 an ounce.

In earlier trading in the Far East, gold closed at $403 an ounce on the Hong Kong Bullion Exchange, off $1.80 from Tuesday's close.

Eastern To Pay Record Fine

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Eastern Airlines ended almost a year of battle with the government in agreeing to pay the largest federal civil penalty in history — a $9.5 million fine for air safety and record-keeping violations.

The fine was levied March 7 by the Federal Aviation Administration following a special inspection of the nation's third-largest air carrier, Eastern, insuring most of the infractions were "paper violations," refused to pay the penalty and the case was turned over to the Justice Department.

In announcing a settlement Tuesday, FAA and Justice Department officials said Eastern ended its fight by agreeing to pay $1 million immediately and the remaining $8.5 million Dec. 31, 1989.

Officials also said they are satisfied the airline, now owned by Texas Air Corp., is safe.

"This settlement illustrates the government's determination to ensure safety for the flying public," said Deputy Attorney General Arnold Burns.

Expert: Imagination Is The Only Limit When You're Cooking With Ice Cream

What's the best original ice cream recipe in central Florida?

Bobbie Hurst of Ocala thinks she knows. Mrs. Hurst was declared the winner of the "Search For The Best Original Recipe Using Ice Cream" contest co-sponsored by Friendly Restaurants, WESH-TV Channel 2 and the Stouffer Orlando Resort, formerly the Wyndham Hotel Sea World, with her Cranberry Delight Dessert.

Rosemary Catanesi of Longwood, and Blanche Johnston of Altamonte Springs were the runners up. Each received a weekend for two to the Stouffer Orlando Resort and tickets to Sea World plus $200. Their desserts, respectively, were Orlando Orange Blossoms and Cantoneasy Crunch Balls.

The latest research in eating trends indicates more people are entertaining at home, creating a need for easy and unique recipes. Friendly Ice Cream Chef Roger Fickenscher, who judged the 700 entries said, "Imagination is the only limit when you're cooking with ice cream."

The winning recipe combined cranberries and pineapple with vanilla ice cream. Catanesi's recipe used oranges and ice cream. Johnston rolled ice cream scoops with a mixture of peanuts and crispy Chinese noodles.

Chef Fickenscher is a graduate and former Culinary Arts Instructor of the Johnston and Wales College, Providence, R.I.

Here are the winning recipes:

CRANBERRY DELIGHT

2 quarts vanilla ice cream
1 12-ounce bag fresh cranberries
1 20-ounce can drained unsweetened crushed pineapple

Put ice cream in large mixing bowl (let soften a little), grind cranberries in bowl with ice cream, add sugar, drained pineapple and mix with hand mixer on low speed until creamy. Put in individual dessert dishes or a large bowl. Place in freezer until set.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS

6 large naval oranges
1 pint butter pecan ice cream
Chocolate syrup
Wash oranges, cut slit off top, core out pulp leaving 1/2 rim. Cut opening into diagonal cuts to make an interesting design.

Drop a teaspoon of chocolate syrup into orange. Fill with hard ice cream. Pour chocolate over ice cream letting it drop down onto orange.

Freeze immediately. Take out 15 minutes prior to serving. Sprinkle with a dab of whipped cream, cherry and nuts if desired.

CANTONEASY CRUNCH BALLS

1 can (6 3/4 ounces) salted peanuts
1 can (3 ounces) chow-mein noodles
1 pint chocolate fudge ice cream
1 pint French vanilla ice cream
1/4 cup light corn syrup
3 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons butter (or margarine)
1 package (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate bits

Make 4 crunchy ice cream balls from each pint of each flavor. Place the 8 balls in freezer to firm. Chop peanuts and crush noodles. Spread on a shallow baking pan. Toast in 350° oven for 5 minutes. Cool. Roll each ice cream ball in mixture. Return to freezer. Reserve any remaining mixture. Combine corn syrup, water and butter in a saucepan. Bring to a boil. Remove from heat and stir in chocolate bits until melted. Cool. Rewarm it to serve.

At serving time, cut each ball in half and place one half of each flavor in a sundae dish. Spoon on warm sauce and sprinkle with remaining peanut mixture. Makes 8 servings.

Cook Of The Week Teacher Makes A On Pie Crust, C On Biscuits And E For KP Efforts

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

Seated in her cozy Lake Mary home, on a cool Florida morning with a comforting fire crackling in the background, Lois Sloan, our Cook of the Week, gathers her favorite recipes noting that "they're not mine, but I've had them for about ten or so, so I've adopted them all. None of them are hard to make, and I don't like recipes that take forever, but they are all good! I like recipes that are easy and taste good."

Our cook is a Sanford native who remembers riding horses and climbing trees out in the country with her brother, Bill Meriwether, a Ft. Lauderdale veterinarian, and her sister, Carol, the wife of Dr. A.W. Woodall of Sanford. "Mother is 84," says Mrs. Sloan, "and she's a fantastic cook." Wilhelmina Meriwether, affectionally called "Willie" by her friends and family, never did "teach" her daughter to cook, but, says Mrs. Sloan, "she just let me do what I wanted to do in the kitchen. And I always wanted to do desserts, so I was always in the kitchen; foolin' around making pies or cakes or something. But you always learn something from your mother, like Mother always starts off cooking with onions."

When Mrs. Sloan went to college, she decided she was going to be a dietitian. "In my sophomore year I was in a class for cooking," she says, "and I thought the teacher would never let me finish making biscuits. Biscuits were my downfall. I made biscuits like I made biscuits at home — they'd rise and they were fine — but hers had to be perfect or you made a C. I got so frustrated. I made an A on my first pie crust, but a C on my biscuits, and I never really forgave her for that!" After becoming disenchanted with home economics, Mrs. Sloan turned her sights toward a different field and graduated from Florida State College for Lois Sloan likes quick, tasty dishes.

Women in Tallahassee. "The year I graduated, it was changed to Florida State University," she says, "so I have both names on my diploma."

Mrs. Sloan's early career included working for the State Welfare Board in Sanford and substitute teaching from 1956 to 1963 while marriage and a family took precedence. It wasn't until 15 years after graduating from FSU that she and her former college roommate, Jean Jones, of Sanford, decided to return to college together. After attending Stetson University for awhile, they transferred to Rollins College, each earning a master's degree. "So that's how I started teaching," adds Mrs. Sloan, who is an English teacher at Sanford Middle School, Teaching 7th and 8th grades. Mrs. Sloan says, "I like teaching. I like that age, I really enjoy it. That's where I went to school, and I took algebra in the classroom where I'm teaching now. It's a good school — it's an old school, but it's comfortable." Now in her 24th year at Sanford Middle, Mrs. Sloan has a "special attachment" for the school, remembering the subjects she learned in the different rooms.

Although she was "interested" in another boy at the time, a mutual friend urged her to meet her future husband, Rudy, and after a brief courtship, they were married in a lovely ceremony.

February Is Canned Food Month

February is Canned Food Month, a perfect time to celebrate the convenience of canned foods. When you can't find the fresh foods you want, just turn to the cupboard! More than 1,500 different foods are available in cans.

Canned food is better than ever. There are dozens of new products with no-salt-added and reduced sugar to satisfy dieters' needs. Nutrition studies show canned foods are comparable to fresh and frozen foods when prepared for the table. New technology has improved the texture, taste and color of canned products. And the convenience can't be beat — time-consuming preparation is done for you, and foods are even "cooked in the can" during heat processing.

Trendy, Exotic Wedding Foods Look To Hawaii

NEW YORK (UPI) — The scene could be a honeymoon, or it could be a fantasy — island flowers at every turn, a rainbow of tropical fruits bursting with freshness, a buffet rich in exotic foods.

Or it could be the wedding day itself.

Caterers across the nation are discovering Hawaii, both as a cuisine and as a wedding theme. They are mastering delectable items from a menu tangled in ethnic origin and bolstering their culinary efforts with dashes of pure theater.

"Hawaii is the honeymoon capital of the world," said Boyce Brawley of the catering firm New York Parties. "It's a very sensual place. And even though it is in America, it is very exotic in feeling."

Brawley said that in decorating a wedding reception Hawaiian-style, a little can go a long way. The flowers — preferably orchids of many colors — give such a wonderful feeling that a few will suffice, especially when paired with lush oversized green leaves and even whole fruit.

Beyond that, said Brawley, the Hawaiian theme is a natural for weddings, because the Islanders are world-famous for feeding large groups of people while making each feel special.

"Hawaiians are very family-oriented," he said. "When you're having a wedding, what you're doing is inviting your extended family. You're opening your doors and giving them all the flavors you love."

Those flavors form a wonderful collection indeed. The food of Hawaii has developed as a combination of several ethnic cuisines, most notably Chinese, Japanese and Portuguese.

The Chinese introduced the use of flavored oils such as chili and sesame, along with a major contribution of Chinese five-spice powder — a blending of star anise, clove, fennel, cinnamon and Szechuan peppercorns.

From Japan came a heightened awareness of presentation and a flair for serving a variety of dishes at any one sitting. "Rangiri," the Japanese method for cutting up vegetables so they cook evenly, is much in evidence, as is sliced thinly and eaten with shoyu and a horseradish called "wasabi."

The Portuguese are represented by hearty soups and casseroles, red pepper, garlic and spices. Spicy Portuguese sausage ("linguica") is widely enjoyed in the islands, as are the sweet bread called "pao doce" and the donuts called "malassadas."

Here from New York Parties are two Hawaiian recipes that can be adapted to any part of a wedding celebration.

PRAWNS WITH TWO PUREES

6 large tomatoes, chopped
1/3 pound shallots, minced
1/2 pound (2 sticks) salted butter

4 Tbsp granulated sugar
1 pinch freshly ground black pepper
1 1/3 cup Madeira
2 1/2 Tbsp red wine vinegar
4 red peppers
1 1/3 cups olive oil
2 pounds medium shrimp
1/2 cup chili sauce
1 cup bourbon whiskey
1 1/3 cup heavy cream
1/2 bunch fresh cilantro

To prepare the tomato puree, saute the chopped tomatoes and minced shallots for 5 minutes in 1/4 pound (1 stick) of melted butter. Add 2 teaspoons sugar, the pinch of pepper, the Madeira and 1/2 Tbsp vinegar. Simmer for 20 to 30 minutes.

Force the mixture through a chinois (or use a food processor), then place in a clean saucepan. Adjust the seasoning and boil until thick.

To prepare the pepper puree, roast the peppers and remove the skins, seeds and veins. Place in a food processor with the olive oil, the remaining vinegar, the remaining sugar and salt and pepper to taste. Process until smooth, then taste and adjust seasonings.

Melt the remaining butter in a pan large enough to hold all the shrimp. Saute the shrimp until browned, then remove them from the fire and keep them warm. Deglaze the pan with chili sauce and bourbon, then add the cream and boil until thick enough to coat the prawns.

Reheat the prawns in the sauce. To serve, put the hot purees on each side of a plate sprinkled with chopped cilantro and place prawns in the center. Serves 8.

SLICED BEEF AND SNOWPEAS SALAD

2 pounds sirloin tip
2 cups soy sauce
1/4 cup sherry wine
3 1/2 Tbsp fresh ginger, grated
1 Tbsp fresh garlic, minced
10 tsp granulated sugar
1/2 pound snowpeas

1 small can water chestnuts
3/4 cup rice wine vinegar
2 Tbsp sesame oil
1 tsp white pepper
1 package enoki mushrooms
Marinate the beef in 1 cup soy sauce, the sherry, 2 1/2 tablespoons grated ginger, the minced garlic and 1 teaspoon sugar. Blanch the cleaned snow peas, then plunge them into ice water. Drain and slice the water chestnuts.

Remove the beef from the marinade and roast rare to medium rare. Prepare a vinaigrette sauce by mixing the remaining soy sauce, the rice wine vinegar, the sesame oil, the remaining grated ginger, the remaining sugar and the white pepper. Taste and adjust seasonings.

Slice the cooked beef approximately 1 1/2 by 3 inches. Fan the snow peas around the edge of each plate and arrange the beef slices on top, leaving a nest for trimmed enoki bunches. Spoon on the vinaigrette. Serves 8.

mony at the bride's home. "It was leap year, 1948," she laughs. "We had a small, formal wedding with just family and real close friends. It was really nice." Rudy Sloan was a fireman for the Atlantic Coastline Railroad at the time of their marriage, but became an engineer about a year later. "Gosh, when we got married," she exclaims, "he was coal firing, and we had an old washing machine with the awisher and the wringer, and I'd put his clothes through 3 times in clear water just to get the coal dust and cinders out!"

Family portraits tell the story as Mrs. Sloan speaks of children and grandchildren and how special they are. Daughter Kathryn (Mrs. John) Maljub teaches 8th grade English at Tusawilla School and has a little girl, Lindsay, 9. Ellen is married to Charles Musser and has two children, Lauren, 5, and Chase, 2 1/2. She is a speech pathologist and divides her working hours between South Seminole and Casselberry Elementary schools. A son, Frank, is the owner-operator of Frank's Frozen Yogurt at Seminole Centre. Married to Cindy, they have a girl and a boy, Heather, 4, and Lee, 1 1/2. "We're real proud of them all," says Mrs. Sloan. "We are so lucky to have a happy, healthy family."

Lindsay is oriented to the outdoors and is quite a young sports lady. "Living way out in the country," says Mrs. Sloan, "she's very interested in horses and even has one of her own. Lauren likes the outdoors, too, but also likes books, is very school-oriented and likes to learn." Describing Lauren as a "very sweet child," her grandmother says she also has the gift of making people feel better. Her granddaughter, Heather, is "well-rounded" and loves books. "She has more books than any other child her age I have ever seen," exclaims Mrs. Sloan, "and is thrilled to death when she gets a new one." Little Chase is a typical little boy who is "sweet and affectionate," and Lee, who is the youngest just loves being loved. "All the children are easy to love on," says Mrs. Sloan, "and when all 5 are together, they get along real well."

When she leaves her students at the end of the school day, Mrs. Sloan often relaxes with some long standing hobbies. "I love handwork," she says. "I've done quilting, I'm not doing it right now — it's something that you do in spurts. I've finished a quilt for Kathy and she has hers, and I have one in the making for Ellen and one in the making for Cindy and Frank, but it's going to take a while. I like to do things when I feel like doing them. Now, I love to knit — I could knit all the time. I like to make sweaters for the kids. I enjoy that because I can do that with no thought at all. I learned to do that when I was so young that it can be dark and I can knit." Cross-stitching and crewel work are two more favorites that keep our cook's hands busy and creative.

Forethought and good planning provided Rudy Sloan with a goal for his retirement years when he became a real estate broker in the 1950s. "It's something he thought about a long time ago," says Mrs. Sloan, "because he felt that he wanted to do something when he retired. In fact, he opened his own office several years before he retired." At Sloan Realty Associates, Rudy has an active daily schedule and enjoys his diversified business.

According to Mrs. Sloan, her husband is no slouch in the kitchen, either, and he has some of his own specialties. "When we got married, there was something that he really loved, that his mother used to cook," she says. "— tripe. I tried it one time, and I really didn't know what to do with it. So we didn't have it for a long time. But while our kids were growing up, once or twice he worked on tripe, and today, our kids ask, 'Dad, when are you going to cook some tripe?'" Using his own modified recipe, Mr. Sloan now often makes this delicacy for his family. "He also makes delicious fried okra," adds Mrs. Sloan, "and I love his grits and sausage. When I'm tired and he cooks, it's so good." After a busy work week, Mrs. Sloan and her husband like spending time together with friends playing bridge. "We also love antiques," she says, "so we antique and flea market together. We love going to see the Mt. Dora flea market."

Mrs. Sloan is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary teacher's organization, and also the Pilot Club, a group comprised of business women. Together, the Sloans attend the Wekiva Assembly of God in Longwood and she enjoys singing in the choir. Extolling the benefits derived from being a part of the church family, Mrs. Sloan credits Pastor Ron Johnson for his dedicated leadership. "We just feel that we are so blessed. It really brightens your life."

Many people love their jobs and look forward to the daily challenge, and our cook of the week is no exception. "If I didn't like teaching, I wouldn't be doing it," she says. "There's no amount of money you could pay somebody to have them teach if they didn't enjoy it. And our faculty at Sanford Middle — you wouldn't find a better faculty anywhere. We have a good support system and a principal who is always ready to listen, and I feel very fortunate to be teaching with the group of people I'm with."

Listed below are some of our teacher's "pet" recipes, hearty and delicious:

ENGLISH SEED BREAD
4 cups flour
2 cups sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup caraway seed
2 eggs, beaten
Sift dry ingredients together. Add milk and eggs along with caraway seeds. Bake 1 hour in a greased loaf pan at 325°. This can make two loaves. Fantastic toasted!

BREAKFAST CASEROLE
6 eggs
1 pound sausage or 1 pound bacon
2 cups milk
6 slices bread, crumbled
1 1/2 cups medium sharp Cheddar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 medium onion, chopped
1 pound mushrooms, sliced
1 green pepper, chopped (optional)

Fry sausage or bacon and drain. Sauté onion, mushrooms, pepper. Add everything else and allow to set in a 9x13 pan for at least 12 hours in refrigerator. Bake at 350° for 40 minutes.

CHICKEN BREAST SUPREME
8 skinned, boned chicken breasts
8 slices bacon
4 ounces chipped beef
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/2 pint sour cream
Wrap each chicken breast with piece of bacon. Cover bottom of baking dish with chipped beef. Arrange chicken on beef. Mix soup and sour cream. Pour over all. Bake at 275° for 3 hours, or 325° for 2 hours. Serves 8.

QUICK FRIED RICE
2 cups rice
1 stick margarine
2 cans Campbell's onion soup

2 cans Campbell's beef consomme
Melt butter in skillet. Add rice and stir until browned. Add soup straight from can, no dilution. Cook slowly, covered, for about 1 hour. Serves 6.

SPINACH ROYALE
2 packages frozen chopped spinach
1/2 package onion soup mix
1/2 pint sour cream
Defrost spinach and drain. Mix onion soup and sour cream into spinach. Place in casserole and bake for 30 minutes at 350°. Serves 6.

BEEF WITH GREEN PEPPER AND TOMATOES
2 tablespoons oil
Salt and pepper to taste
1 pound round steak, sliced paper thin (easy to do if frozen)
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 cup beef bouillon
2 green peppers
4 small tomatoes
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1/4 cup water
Put oil, salt and pepper in preheated pan. Brown meat in oil. Add onion and bouillon. Cover and cook 30 minutes. Slice peppers, add to beef in pan and cook 5 to 10 minutes more. Cut tomatoes into eighths, add to pan and cook 1 minute more. Blend cornstarch, soy sauce and water. Add to hot mixture, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Cook 1 minute more. Serve with hot rice. Serves 4 to

CHEESE SOUFFLE
4 1/2 slices white bread, cubed
1/4 pound extra sharp N.Y. state cheese, grated
2 cups milk
3 eggs, beaten
Salt to taste
Mix bread, cheese, eggs, salt and milk. Bake in 1 1/2-1 3/4 quart casserole dish for 40-45 minutes at 350°. This is better if bread is soaked in milk a few hours before making. Serves 4.

BUTTERMILK BISCUITS
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup cold shortening
1 cup cold buttermilk
Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening. Blend in milk. Roll out to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut with biscuit cutter. Bake at 450° for 12 minutes.

WHEAT BRAN MUFFINS
2 cups whole wheat flour
1 1/2 cups natural bran
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons baking soda
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup molasses
1 pint plain yogurt
3/4-1 cup raisins (I use white raisins)

Mix together dry ingredients and raisins. Mix remaining ingredients together. Blend wet and dry ingredients until all is moistened. Pour into muffin tins, or papers within muffin tins and bake at 425° for 12 minutes.

VITA Offers Free Tax Help To Qualified

Taxpayers can get free help with basic income tax returns through VITA, Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program, sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service.

VITA provides free assistance to low income, elderly, non-English speaking, and handicapped taxpayers who file Form 1040EZ, Form 1040A, or a basic Form 1040 Federal tax return. VITA volunteers also alert taxpayers to special credits and deductions for which they may be eligible, such as the child care or earned income credit, the tax credit for the elderly, or deductions for certain medical and dental expenses. Taxpayers who visit a VITA center should bring this year's tax package, wage and earnings statements (Form W-2) from all employers, interest statements from banks (Form 1099), a copy of last year's tax return if available, and other relevant information about income and expenses.

VITA volunteers complete an IRS training course in basic income tax return preparation for Forms 1040EZ, 1040A, and 1040 before assisting taxpayers. Please see listing for site in your area, or call our toll free number 1-800-424-1040.

Guess Who's Coming To Lunch?

A record turnout is expected Friday at the Sanford Civic Center when "Have a Heart and Swing Into Spring" makes a dazzling debut. Joining women models showing fashions from Lols' Place in Sanford are the following male models who will show men's fashions from The Store For HIM, Seminole Centre, Sanford: Robbie Robertson, from left, Sheriff John Polk, John Rittenhouse, owner of HIM's, Dr. Thomas Largen, James B. Tesar and Seminole County Tax Collector G. Troy Ray Jr. In addition, Eastern Airlines Silverliners will turn the calendar back to present a history of the airlines' fashions for flight attendants. The event will benefit the American Heart Association. Donation for the catered luncheon and fashion show is $15 a person. The benefit, scheduled from noon to 1:30 p.m., is being sponsored by Central Florida Regional Hospital and the Sanford Campaign Committee for the AHA. For information, call the chairmen, Jean Clontz or Gail Stewart.

...Canned

Time-pressed cooks, spontaneous gourmets and creative cuisine-artists take note. A handbook of 40 recipes, Carefree Cuisine, prepared by the Canned Food Information Council, is yours free by writing to the Canned Food Information Council, 500 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill 60611.

So celebrate Canned Food Month and give cans a try. Try these ideas for a Canny Canned Food Month Celebration.

- Heat up a cold winter day with canned chili or stew. Serve with crackers or bread, or with sandwiches.
- Picnic at your desk with a lunch of canned foods. Try tuna, chicken or pasta for a main dish, and juices, olives and single-serving sizes of vegetable salads and puddings.
- Fill a thermos with your favorite canned soup for a nutritious school lunch or winter sports warm-up.

- Let children make the family dinner. Recipes using canned foods are easy to prepare — and kids love to help.
- Warm someone's heart with a Valentine's Dinner for two. Serve an appetizer of canned smoked oysters with crackers, then have a Hearts of Palm Salad. Serve Lovers' Linguine with Clam Sauce for an entree, and top ice cream with a favorite canned fruit.

Eggs And Cheese Star In Longtime Favorite Recipes

Egg and cheese dishes are good choices for us to include in our weekly meal planning. They are economical, quick and easy to prepare and since eggs and cheese keep well when refrigerated, they're convenient to keep on hand.

Eggs and cheese are also good sources of protein which must be included in a well-balanced daily food plan.

A favorite of most is macaroni and cheese. The first recipe will serve 6-8. The second one will serve one person or ingredients can be doubled to serve two.

MACARONI AND CHEESE
1 package, 8 ounces, macaroni, cooked and drained
2 cups, 8 ounces, grated Cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons chopped onion, optional
1 beaten egg
1 can, 13 ounces, evaporated milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Dash of Paprika

Grease a 2-quart casserole. Layer half the cooked macaroni in bottom. Top with half the onions and half the cheese. Repeat layers. Combine the egg, milk and salt. Pour over the macaroni. Sprinkle with paprika and dot with butter.

Microwave on 50% power for 12-15 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes. Serve. Makes 6-8 servings.

MACARONI & CHEESE
(1 serving)
1/2 cup elbow macaroni, cooked

Midge Mycoff

Home Economist
Seminole
Community College

1 1/2 teaspoons butter or margarine
1 small green onion, chopped
1 1/2 teaspoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1/2 cup milk
4 tablespoons shredded Cheddar cheese

Cook macaroni, set aside. Place butter in a 4-cup measure. Microwave on 100% power 30-45 seconds, or until melted. Stir in onion, flour, salt, and pepper until smooth. Add milk slowly, stirring to blend. Microwave on 100% 1-2 minutes, or until thickened, stirring after 1 minute, then every 30 seconds. Stir drained macaroni into thickened sauce. In a 12-ounce individual casserole layer half the macaroni mixture, half the cheese, remaining macaroni and cheese. Reduce power to 50%. Microwave 2-2 1/2 minutes or until macaroni is heated and cheese melts.

For one serving we'll call it a Mexican Egg Casserole, for a recipe to serve four, call it a Spanish omelet. Both are tasty and economical and the answer for a quick brunch or supper.

SPANISH OMELET
4 large eggs
1/4 teaspoon parsley flakes
1/4 teaspoon oregano
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup chopped green peppers
2 green onions, chopped
1 small tomato, chopped
1/4 cup shredded Mozzarella cheese

Blend eggs and spices. Stir in green pepper, onions and tomato. Pour into a shallow 1 1/2-2 quart container. Microwave 100% 3 1/2-4 minutes, or until soft set, stirring 2 times during cooking.

Stir in Mozzarella cheese. Cover and let stand 1-2 minutes until cheese melts. Serve immediately. Serves 4

MEXICAN EGG CASSEROLE
(Serves 1)

1 egg
1/2 teaspoon all-purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoon mild
1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
1/2 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese
3 tablespoons chopped green chiles
1 tablespoon black olives
1 1/2 teaspoons chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon chili powder

In medium bowl beat egg. Mix in flour and milk. Stir in remaining ingredients. Pour into a 14-ounce individual casserole. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 50% power 7-8 minutes or until egg is set. Let stand 3-5 minutes.

CHEESE STRATA
(Serves 4)

8 slices white bread
4 slices cheese
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon parsley flakes
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper

In 8x8 baking dish, place 4 slices bread. Top each with a slice of cheese and the remaining bread. In 2-cup measure, blend remaining ingredients. Pour over sandwiches. Place plastic wrap over the surface of the sandwiches. Refrigerate 8 hours. Microwave uncovered at 50% power for 6 minutes. Rotate each sandwich 1/2 turn. Microwave 6-10 minutes longer, or until sandwiches are set.

Egg substitutes and low-fat cheese can be used in this recipe.

BROCCOLI AND CHEESE STRATA
(Serves 1)

1 cup frozen chopped broccoli
1 slice white bread
1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese, divided
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon chopped onion
Dash of salt, pepper and Paprika

Place broccoli in a small bowl. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave on 100% power 1-2 minutes or until defrosted. Chop, drain and press out moisture.

Place bread in square individual casserole. Sprinkle with 1/4 cup cheese, then chopped broccoli and remaining cheese. In small bowl combine egg, milk, chopped onion, salt and pepper.

Pour over broccoli and cheese. Cover and refrigerate at least 4 hours. Sprinkle with paprika before microwaving.

To microwave: cover with wax paper. Reduce power to 50%. Microwave 8-12 minutes or until set and liquid is no longer visible. Let stand, covered, 3 minutes.

Pringle-Moran Vows Spoken

Joann Pringle, 509 Cypress Ave., Sanford, and Samuel Moran, 1544 Third Drive, Sanford, were married Jan. 17, at 2 p.m., at Hillhaven Healthcare Center, Sanford. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Alvin Greenlee, grandfather of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Hilton Thomas, 131 Scott Drive, Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Flarria B. Moran, 1544 Third Drive, Sanford, and the late Mr. Henry Moran.

Given in marriage by her brother, Ronald Jones, the bride chose for her vows a white gown with a lace overlay. A white and blue floral headband held her tiered veil of imported illusion and she carried a bridal bouquet of blue roses and white lily of the valley.

Daphne Bender attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a pale blue gown and carried a matching rose bouquet. Louis Brown Sr. served his nephew as best man. Hilda Williams was the flower girl and Phillippe Pringle, son of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Moran

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sheary Lets assisted and music was provided by E.E. Minnett.

The newlyweds are making their home in Sanford where both are employed by Hillhaven Healthcare Center. The bride is a CNA and the bridegroom is floorman.

Eye-Opening Film On AIDS Is Straight Talk

DEAR ABBY: I just saw a 20-minute film at a church that I think should be required viewing for everyone between the ages of 11 and 65. It is titled "Sex, Drugs and AIDS." Afterward, a panel of medical experts answered questions from the audience.

The film is for males, females, straights, gays or bisexuals; also for IV drug users and especially teenagers. It stressed that everyone who is sexually active can be a victim of AIDS. This film really opened my eyes.

I understand that some civic-minded people and Houston citizens interested in public health care were the sponsors of this meeting. It was open to the public and there was no charge. I went out of curiosity because everyone is talking about AIDS, and I just can't say enough about how terrific I thought it was.

SAFE AND ALIVE IN HOUSTON

DEAR SAFE AND ALIVE: The film, "Sex, Drugs and AIDS," was produced by ODN Productions, Suite 304, 74 Varick St., New York, N.Y. 10013. It is available as a videocassette to qualified civic and community organizations for $35 a print. It has been endorsed by the American Foundation for AIDS Research.

I have seen it, and agree it should be seen by everyone between the ages of 10 and 65. It's the kind of plain talk young (and older) people can relate to.

DEAR ABBY: A new club just opened up deep in the heart of Texas. It's a country-western club and is decorated inside and out western style.

The owner asked for sugges-

Dear Abby

a shock to me because I never suspected that my in-laws were having problems.

My husband is aware of what's going on between my father and his mother, and says it's none of his business. It doesn't bother him, and he doesn't care to discuss it.

Well, it bothers me, and I do want to discuss it. I'm afraid if my father breaks up my in-laws' marriage, it might break up our marriage. What should I do?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: You can't force your husband to discuss anything he doesn't care to discuss. However, if you feel that your own marriage is threatened for any reason, it's important for you and your husband to discuss the matter with a professional counselor.

About the affair between your father and your husband's mother: If you want to let them know that you disapprove of their behavior, go ahead, but phillandering parents are no more inclined to accept advice and criticism from their adult children than vice versa.

CONFIDENTIAL TO C.O.W., WATERLOO, IOWA: Heed the words of the wise philosopher Schopenhauer: "It is easy to let the adulation of the Delty make amends for the lack of proper behavior toward men. And so we see that in all times and in all countries, the great majority of mankind find it easier to beg their way into heaven by prayers than to deserve to go there by their actions."

As far as I'm concerned, "helfers" sounds worse than cows. Comments welcomed.

PROUD TEXAN

DEAR TEXAS: Since a helfer is a young cow who has never had a calf, some women may deem the term "helfers" more flattering than "cows" — which I find utterly ridiculous.

What's the matter with "His" and "Hers," "Men" and "Women," or "Ladies" and "Gentlemen"? Or, if a picture is worth 10,000 words, use a picture of a cowboy and a cowgirl on appropriate doors. Foreign tourists who can't read English might appreciate it — and that's no bull.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young, happily married woman with two children. Last year my parents divorced, and I just learned that my father is having an affair with my mother-in-law, who is still married and living with her husband. This came as

Curative Art At SCC

Fred Stevens, a Navajo Indian, created this Sandpainting art form for Ron Libertus, a visiting professor at Seminole Community College, who is exhibiting his collection of Sandpainting and Indian artifacts in the Fine Arts Gallery at SCC, from Monday, Feb. 16 through March 1. The medium is "dry painting", sand on sand, a unique process developed by the Navajos. The figures in the paintings are representations of deities and members of the spirit world. Coupled with songs and chants, these artistic renderings provide a glimpse into the mysterious world of "curative art."

TV Networks Are Criticized For Not Running Condom Ads

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Television networks are withholding lifesaving information from viewers with their "hypocritically priggish" attitude in banning condom advertisements, warns Rep. Henry Waxman, D-Calif.

In a hearing Tuesday, Waxman called the network ban on condom advertisements "media malpractice," likening it to a doctor who would withhold penicillin from a syphilitic patient for fear of encouraging extramarital sex.

"The routine promotion of condoms through advertising has been stopped by networks who are so hypocritically priggish that they refuse to describe disease control as they promote disease transmission," he said, referring to sexually suggestive programming and advertisements for other products.

Surgeon General C. Everett Koop, testifying before Waxman's House Committee on Energy and Commerce, reiterated his stand that barring sexual abstinence, the use of condoms appears to be the most effective way to prevent the transmission of the AIDS virus, which is carried in blood and semen.

"The terrible toll of AIDS is so great it overwhelms other considerations, and advertising would have a positive health benefit," Koop said.

The surgeon general said he was especially concerned about blacks and Hispanics. Although blacks comprise 12 percent of the U.S. population, they make up 25 percent of AIDS cases. Hispanics, only 6 percent of the population, account for 14 percent of cases, Koop said.

Representatives of ABC, CBS and NBC protested that they cover AIDS virus transmission extensively in news and public affairs programming — and in the case of CBS, in public service announcements, but they said they banned condom advertising to avoid offending communities that would object to them on moral or religious grounds.

They said individual stations were free to air condom advertising, though CBS and NBC network-owned and affiliated stations, concentrated in major cities such as New York, Chicago and Los Angeles, are not free to do so. But they added that policy may change.

"Some of our affiliates are convinced that condom advertising would be totally inappropriate in their communities," said George Dessart, CBS vice president of program practices. "At the present time, we are not yet persuaded that a change in our network policy is indicated."

About a dozen television stations have begun broadcasting condom ads in local markets.

Rep. William Dannemeyer, R-Calif., noted that condoms have a 10 percent failure rate, based on birth control figures, and said stronger measures than advertising and education are needed to combat acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

He suggested requiring health care workers to report cases of AIDS virus infection — not just AIDS cases, as is current practice — to the government; making it a crime for someone exposed to the AIDS virus to pass the virus on through sex; and requiring AIDS blood tests in applying for a marriage license.

While the panel members and witnesses argued over what form AIDS warnings should take, the Centers for Disease Control revised its AIDS statistics upward, announcing 30,632 cases had been recorded in the United States as of Feb. 9. Of those, 17,542 have been fatal.

A resolution was introduced in the House Monday to encourage networks to accept condom ads.

'Light Of Day'

Michael J. Fox Wrote Song He Sings In Movie

Michael J. Fox wrote and performed the song "You've Got No Place to Go" for his new rock 'n' roll movie "Light of Day."

But sharp listeners will notice that he sounds considerably different than he did singing "Johnny B. Goode" in the movie "Back to the Future." That's because the Chuck Berry classic was actually performed by Los Angeles club veteran Mark Campbell, lead vocalist for Jack Mack and the Heart Attack.

Singer/songwriter Fox has some heavy-duty competition on the "Light of Day" soundtrack.

Bruce Springsteen provides the title cut and first video (in fact, the whole screenplay was based on Springsteen's music, and was originally titled "Born in the USA"). Joan Jett sings and co-stars, the Fabulous Thunderbirds make an appearance and British rockabilly star Dave Edmunds gets his licks in as well.

Speaking of the Boss, NFL (as in football) Films is almost finished editing down the 100-plus hours of video footage shot during his "Born in the USA" concert tour. A long-awaited live performance tape could be on the market as early as next month.

(BU) Singer Ray Parker Jr., whose video charisma contributed enormously to the success of "Ghostbusters," is getting a chance to prove himself as an actor on the big screen this summer. Parker co-stars with Jan-Michael Vincent in the urban thriller "Enemy Territory." He plays a terrorized target of gang violence. It doesn't seem to offer much opportunity for singing.

Other summer movies starring rock stars includes "Julia and Julia" (working title), which casts Sting as Kathleen Turner's dream lover. Plus: Madonna's much-hyped "Slammer." It features Mrs. Penn as a prison parolee, falsely accused and out to catch the true culprit. Griffin Dunne and a mountain lion named Murray co-star.

(BU) File under "Happy endings." When England's Doctor & the Medics topped the UK charts in '86 with their rendition of Norman Greenbaum's 16-year-old hit "Spirit in the Sky," London's Capitol Radio launched a search for the songwriter himself. Greenbaum, who had never duplicated that one success, was reportedly found selling hamburgers in San Francisco. Capitol says they arranged for Greenbaum to meet the Medics — and pick up a royalty check for a quarter of a million dollars.

(BU) It's true: Pop star Howard "Goody Two Shoes" Jones did spend an afternoon getting fingerprinted at the Gold Street police station in Brooklyn. But it was only to complete a liquor license application for his new East Village restaurant. Nowhere. Due to open in March, the eatery will serve only vegetarian cuisine.

(BU) Rod Stewart's claim to be a direct descendent of the royal Stuart line (as in Mary, Queen of Scots) may be challenged in court by, of all people, fellow musician Dave Stewart. The male half of Eurythmics, ac-ording to the Australian press, is convinced that he's the rightful Duke of Northumberland, and he is considering bringing his claim to trial. Can both Stewarts be Royal Rockers?

Surgical Adhesions Can't Be Prevented

DEAR DR. GOTT — The doctors claim my body forms adhesions for an unknown reason. I've had three operations for them in the last 18 months. What will prevent adhesions? I don't relish the idea of having an operation each year.

A person's blood is actually circulated outside the body, through a machine that cleanses the bloodstream by removing waste products that the kidneys are unable to excrete. Hemodialysis is appropriate for both short-term and chronic control of kidney failure. The machine acts as a substitute for inefficient kidneys. The blood-cleansing process must be repeated at periodic intervals, two or three times a week, because the human body cannot survive in the presence of its own wastes.

DEAR READER — Adhesions are scar tissue that forms internally after surgery. These weblike bands usually cause few, if any, problems. However, some patients tend to form adhesions that can cause intestinal blockage. I am unaware of any method to prevent adhesions. Perhaps your surgeons could give you specific advice.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have used four to six aspirin daily for 30 years because of pain from sports injuries that occurred when I was young. Could the aspirin cause blood to appear in my semen?

DEAR READER — Aspirin tends to encourage bleeding, since it depresses clotting by interfering with the stickiness of platelets (the tiny blood cells that bond together to form a clot). Therefore, aspirin could cause bleeding into the semen. However, you should be examined by a urologist to discover if there is a more serious cause of your problem.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I had kidney failure and am on dialysis. Will you explain how dialysis works?

DEAR READER — Dialysis can be performed in two ways. Peritoneal dialysis involves the introduction of liquid into the peritoneal (abdominal) cavity. The fluid absorbs toxins from the bloodstream and is then removed. This is the simplest form of dialysis and is used for the acute treatment of kidney failure in hospitals that do not operate dialysis units. Hemodialysis is a more sophisticated technique in which

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
This interesting defensive deal was reported by Natarasaja Sarma of Madras, India. Place yourself in the East position and try to defend without looking at the South and West hands. I'll even give a small hint — you win the opening lead with the queen of hearts. Now what?
Of course it is obvious from the one-spade response showing eight points that declarer has at least the ace of spades. Partner's lead of the heart deuce showed only four cards, so you cannot set the hand in that suit. If declarer has the jack of diamonds or the queen of clubs, the defense is helpless in any event, so you must play for the chance that your partner has those key cards. The answer then is to lock declarer in dummy so that he must eventually lead away from the A-K-J of clubs. That must be done carefully.

East should play a low heart back at trick two. West wins the king and plays back a third heart, won by East's ace. Now East plays a diamond. West will put up the jack only if declarer plays the nine. When declarer is eventually forced to play away from the A-K-J of clubs, West takes the club queen and one more heart to set the contract.
If the defenders had carelessly taken the first four heart tricks, West would have been endplayed at the fifth trick. If he led a diamond, declarer would duck to the nine. If he led a club, declarer would duck to the 10, having thrown the club jack from dummy on the fourth heart. If he led a spade, it would go to declarer's ace.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...
YOUR BIRTHDAY FEBRUARY 12, 1987
In the year ahead you may form a very important confidential alliance where your career is concerned. It could well prove to be one of the most constructive arrangements you've ever made.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Unless there is a clear-cut understanding in advance as to who is responsible for what, a partnership arrangement could collapse of its own weight today. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Oh 44101-3428.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A misunderstanding with a co-worker should be resolved as quickly as possible today. If the rift isn't patched up quickly, it could get worse.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Speculative situations could be more chancy than usual today. Lady Luck might be off taking a coffee break just when you need her the most.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) An old domestic issue that you thought was resolved might rear its ugly head today. Be careful that it doesn't cause you and your mate to say unkind things to one another.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your powers of observation are very keen today, but unfortunately you might misuse this gift to focus unduly on the negative aspects of life.
CANCER (June 21-July 22) Even though your prudent instincts will urge you to do otherwise, you could be too extravagant for your own good today. Put a lid on spending.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you're realistic regarding conditions today, it will help minimize your frustrations. Don't insist on having everything done your way.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Important undertakings must be clearly thought out every step of the way today, or else you'll run the risk of painting yourself into a corner.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't be intimidated into going along with something that your friends are doing today if you feel you really can't afford it. It's your money, not theirs.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're not apt to accomplish your objectives today if you get too involved with people who impose too heavily on your time. Keep mobile.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Usually your hunches are reasonably accurate, but this might not be true today. Don't let your instincts overrule your logic.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be cautious where you place your trust today, especially in business matters. Let people about whom you know little first prove themselves.

Democrats Choose Atlanta For 1988 National Meeting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democrats, looking toward the South in hopes of recapturing the White House, voted Tuesday to hold their 1988 national convention in Atlanta.

The party's site selection committee first voted 44-13 to hold the convention in Atlanta rather than in Houston, the other leading contender. A selection committee member, who had spoken in favor of Houston's bid, then asked that Atlanta be named the unanimous choice and the committee agreed.

"If Houston isn't going to be great in '88, I'm sure it will do in '92," said Sam Dawson, the committee member who sought the unanimous vote.

Washington, D.C., and Kansas City also were among the finalists.

"If we are to succeed we have to be competitive in the South and Atlanta is the capital of the South," Paul Kirk, the Democrats' national chairman, said. "The Democratic Party achieved its most important objective in the 1986 election by recapturing control of the United States Senate. It did so by electing five new senators from the South," Kirk said.

Shortly after making the announcement, Kirk placed a telephone call to Georgia Gov. Joe Frank Harris and Atlanta Mayor Andrew Young.

Young told Kirk, "Tell the committee we guarantee you a successful convention and we guarantee the Democrats are going to select a winner in 1988."

Kirk also had words of praise for Houston officials, who he said "gave everything they had."

"They should be proud," Kirk said, "for the great effort they made in this contest."

Houston Mayor Kathy Whitmire, who came to Washington, said she believed her town "probably" had a majority of the site selection committee's vote before Kirk swung the choice to Atlanta, but she refused to criticize him.

"Obviously it is the right of the chairman to make a recommendation to the committee," Whitmire said, "I don't have any quarrel with the process."

Millie Bruner, a slight selection committee member from Dallas, said, "All of us who've been around in politics for a long time know you win some and you lose some."

Texas Gov. Bill Clements, a Republican, said, "I think they should have been in Houston, and they would have been most welcome in Houston. Obviously, I think it was a mistake for them to choose Atlanta."

The South always key in a presidential election, and the Democrats are hoping to end the GOP's recent stranglehold on the Sun Belt in order to win back the White House. The Republican Party has already chosen New Orleans to host its August 1988 convention.

The Democratic convention was held in Houston in 1928. Atlanta has never been host to a convention of either major party. The Democratic convention is scheduled for July 18-21, 1988.

Critics Say Millions In Aviation Safety Funds Being Held Back

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Reagan administration is withholding billions of dollars in aviation taxes earmarked for airport and air traffic control safety improvements, according to critics in Congress and the aviation industry.

These critics contend the administration is letting a huge surplus accumulate in the Aviation Trust Fund to make the federal deficit look smaller.

The trust fund was established by Congress in 1970 to pay for the National Airspace System plan, which was designed to meet future air safety needs such as development of advanced radars as well as airport modernization.

The fund gets its revenues from airline passengers who are taxed 8 percent on each domestic ticket. Lesser amounts come from a $3 departure fee on international travel, 5 percent tax on freight, mail and express shipments and fuel taxes paid by general aviation — private and corporate planes.

The General Accounting Office, the investigative arm of Congress, predicts the fund's surplus will reach $10 billion in 1989 and $12 billion in 1991 unless spending is stepped up.

Rep. Norman Mineta, D-Calif., a leading congressional expert on aviation, says during the past five years the government collected $18.3 billion for the trust fund. He estimates that the fund's surplus will be $5.6 billion on Sept. 30, the end of the current fiscal year — meaning nearly one-third of each collected dollar is not being spent.

The Air Transport Association, a group that represents major U.S. airlines, has called on the administration to spend all these revenues on modernizing airports and improving the nation's air traffic control system.

The association says the money could be used on such vitally needed safety improvement projects as speeding up development of wind shear detecting radar.

The Air Line Pilots Association says withholding the funds hurts safety on the long run.

"Had the funds been released, and we also blame the previous (Carter) administration as well, we would have had a lot more progress in the area of safety," ALPA spokesman John Mazor told UPI.

"What area? You pick them — Doppler wind shear detecting radar, navigation aids at airports, all sorts of things. There are so many things that can be done or should be done to improve the safety of the system."

The Air Transport Association has suggested creation of an independent federal corporation to handle air traffic control, which is currently managed by the government's Federal Aviation Administration.

"This surplus in the fund is not being used fully to provide the new modern facilities and equipment necessary for an expanded airport and airways system, but is deliberately being allowed to accumulate by the federal government to make the deficit look smaller," the association said.

The group said this "deceptive practice" is possible because the fund is considered part of the overall federal budget.

Harlem Becomes N.Y.C.'s Hot Spot

NEW YORK (UPI) — What's the hottest spot in the Big Apple? Forget the Statue of Liberty. Forget the Empire State Building. Head uptown, to Harlem.

The Manhattan neighborhood, which extends north from 90th St. to 168th St., between the Harlem and Hudson Rivers, has been in past decades a section known for its poverty and high crime rate.

It is also, however, home to some legendary historical and cultural sites.

"Harlem has everything — gospel, jazz, and the unique entertainment which is Harlem, as well as the museums which people don't know about," said Bern Rotman, director of communications for the New York department of commerce in Albany. "It's a place that is fresh, that has come back. For food, for museums, there's no place like it."

Entertainment and the arts are showcased at the Apollo Theatre, the National Black Theatre, and Dance Theatre of Harlem. The community is a center for jazz and gospel music. There are also the Museum of the City of New York, The Museum of the American Indian, historic Morris-Jumel Mansion, and Grant's Tomb.

The neighborhood boasts famous churches including the Abyssinian Baptist Church, Riverside Church, Malcolm Shabazz Church, the Eastern headquarters for the Black Moslem faith, and the uncompleted Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine, the largest gothic cathedral in the world.

Originally settled by the Dutch, who named the area after one of their cities, Harlem was the home of prominent colonial families including Alexander Hamilton's. It became the first stop for European immigrants in the 19th century. In the 1920s, Harlem became a magnet for black writers, artists and entertainers, and today the neighborhood is undergoing a second Renaissance.

In recognition of this revival, the New York State department of commerce has designated Harlem the site of the 1987 "I Love New York" fall festival. State officials, encouraged by the popularity of "Harlem Week," an annual festival held in August, are confident that this year's choice will be successful.

Certainly the success of last year's Harlem Week, which was extended to 13 days, bears this prediction out. Organizers estimate that 2.8 million people participated last year, making the celebration the largest annual event in New York City.

They hope the concerts, street fairs and athletic events of the "I Love New York" festival will lure a healthy portion of the over 17 million tourists who invade New York City annually uptown.

While common sense is a good thing to take with you in any section of New York City, officials say the neighborhood's fearsome reputation should not dissuade visitors.

Harlem is only encountering the same obstacles that all of New York City, then facing bankruptcy and an undesirable reputation as a haven for muggers and murderers, met 10 years ago.

"It's the experience of New York City itself. Harlem is a microcosm of this," said Rotman. "The 'I Love New York' campaign was started to offset the very negative press New York City had gotten."

One factor in Harlem's favor is the immense power of name recognition. The community is probably one of the best-known neighborhoods in the United States. Tourists from France, Germany and the Netherlands — which has its own Harlem — have expressed particular interest in the area.

The community has a greater significance for blacks.

"Harlem represents all black Americans," said Jack MacBean, of the New York City Visitors and Convention Bureau. "Harlem is a state of mind. What the Uptown Chamber of Commerce is doing in Harlem (helps) the black community in Bedford-Stuyvesant. It's like Chinatown for the Chinese."

While the public tends to view Harlem as a black community, the residents are far from homogenous. In addition to the southern black American, African, Haitian, and Hispanic population, there are substantial Italian, Irish and Jewish communities.

As more upscale people move to Manhattan, real estate values escalate, and the so-called middle-income population pushes further uptown.

Cooking No Longer Regarded As Housework

By John DeMers
UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — With a nod to the tradition of male chefs, more and more American men are learning to take pleasure in the preparation of meals.

Driven to experimentation by the dual-career nature of many households, men are discovering not only that they can leave behind their image of kitchen incompetence but enjoy a unique avenue to self-expression.

As the country heads into the late 1980s, more than half of the husbands questioned in one

'Men have never been brought up to be nurturers. They are discovering now that nurturing is a 50-50 proposition. Cooking is one of the easiest ways to show that you are caring for someone else.' -Bob Spitz survey said they were routinely involved in cooking — and upwards of 90 percent shopped for groceries.

"Men and women come home from work at the same time," said Bob Spitz, a former rock musician who now writes on food, wine and spirits for several magazines. "It's obsolete for the woman to go into the kitchen and the man to go into the den and watch TV for two hours."

"Women today think a man not able to cook is obsolete. I think they are demanding more and more that men can take care of themselves."

As a bachelor living in New York's Greenwich Village, Spitz has found all sorts of advantages in increasing his abilities in the kitchen — not the least of which is a fine meal's impact on a romantic evening.

He has also parlayed his expertise into an interesting assignment from the people who make Absolut vodka, working up profiles of men who cook and developing new ways of expanding that group.

"Cooking is no longer regarded as housework but as a means of creative expression — and competition," said Spitz.

"As male-female stereotypes dissolve, men are learning that it's okay to display their 'feminine' side, just as women have gotten the nod on career success. And cooking side by side, whether to share work or savor time together, has become a special pleasure of the new leisure-less class."

Despite the statistics, cooking remains intimidating for many a man — and for many a woman wishing her man would cook.

Role models half-remembered from childhood exert a powerful influence on both parties, as do other aspects of the relationship. Confidence and encouragement are necessary at the start, yet these are often the qualities in shortest supply.

Spitz describes some women as "kitchen saboteurs," whose hovering over the novice and criticism of his early efforts serve to gun down inspiration before it gets a foothold.

Equally deadly, he says, are women who talk incessantly about "my kitchen," keep the room frilly or leave it in a numbing state of clutter.

For the male aspirant, Spitz offers the following advice: keep in mind that you're part of a trend, learn to eat more critically, get to know the equipment, watch other people prepare meals, look beyond fancy language and avoid cooking under pressure — especially at the start.

For women who wish their men would cook, Spitz suggests talking about the wish openly, offering options for getting started, ceding the territory, being available without hovering, and savoring the wonderful results.

"Men have never been brought up to be nurturers," said Spitz. "They are discovering now that nurturing is a 50-50 proposition. Cooking is one of the easiest ways to show that you are caring for someone else."

Here is a recipe developed by Spitz that should appeal to many novices, since the finished product is much greater than the sum of its techniques. Not surprisingly, it includes vodka among its ingredients.

SUNDAY FISH SOUP

1 cup chopped onions
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped carrots

6 cloves garlic, minced
4 Tbsp olive oil
2 6-ounce bottles clam juice
¼ cup vodka
1 35-ounce can plum tomatoes plus 1 16-ounce can plum tomatoes
2 bay leaves
½ tsp dried basil
¼ tsp dried thyme

Salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste
1 ½ pound milk fish fillets, such as scrod, haddock, weakfish
1 pound shrimp, peeled and deveined
1 pound bay scallops, washed well
1 pound clams, scrubbed
1 pound mussels, scrubbed

In a heavy stock pot, saute the onions, celery, carrots and garlic in olive oil until the onions are translucent but not brown. Add the clam juice and vodka, then pour in the tomatoes, breaking them apart with a fork.
Add the bay leaf, basil, thyme, salt and pepper and simmer briskly for 12 minutes.

Cut the fillets into bite-sized pieces and add to the soup, cooking for another 5 minutes. Then add the shrimp, scallops, clams and mussels and cook for 3 minutes.
Serve immediately in soup bowls. Accompany with freshly baked crusty bread, an array of cheeses and grapes. Serves 6-8.

Take Boredom Out Of Frozen Beans

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

Dress up frozen green beans when you pop them into your microwave.

Try them with fresh tomato, ripe olives and onion. This dish goes well with fish fillets, shrimp or broiled pork chops.

GREEN BEANS ITALIAN

3 tablespoons sweet cream butter

½ cup (½ medium) onion, cut into ¼-inch rings

1 9-ounce package frozen cut green beans, thawed, drained

2 tablespoons sliced ¼-inch ripe olives

1 teaspoon basil leaves

½ teaspoon salt

½ teaspoon garlic powder

½ cup (½ medium) tomato, cubed into ¼-inch sections

MICROWAVE METHOD: In 1½-quart casserole dish, melt butter on High (40 to 50 seconds). Stir in onion. Cover; cook on High 2½ minutes. Stir in remaining ingredients except tomato. Cover; cook on High, until vegetables are crisp-tender (3 to 4 minutes), stirring after ½ the time. Stir in tomato. Cover; cook on High for 1 minute. Let stand 1 minute.

CONVENTIONAL METHOD: In a 2-quart saucepan, melt butter. Stir in onion. Cook, uncovered, over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until crisp-tender (3 to 5 minutes). Stir in remaining ingredients except tomato. Cover; continue cooking, stirring occasionally, until vegetables are crisp-tender (5 to 7 minutes). Stir in tomato. Cover; continue cooking for 1 minute. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 5 (½ cup) servings.

INDIVIDUAL PRUNE-PLUM COBBLERS

½ cup water

½ cup packed brown sugar

4½ teaspoons cornstarch

¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon

4 cups Italian prune-plums, pitted and quartered

1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Streusel Topping (recipe below)

Combine water, brown sugar, cornstarch and cinnamon in 2-quart microwave-safe mixing bowl. Microcook at High for 3 minutes or until thickened; stir halfway through cooking time. Add prune-plums and butter; microwave at High for about 2 minutes or until prune-plums are thoroughly heated. Place fruit mixture in 4 (11-ounce) individual baking dishes. Sprinkle each with Streusel Topping. Microwave at High for 2 to 4 minutes. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

NOTE: This recipe was developed for a 600- to 700-watt microwave oven.

STREUSEL TOPPING

1 cup crushed vanilla wafers

1/3 cup butter or margarine

½ cup chopped nuts

Combine wafers, butter and nuts.

MIMOSA PUNCH

6 (8-ounce) cups fresh orange juice

6 (8-ounce) cups semi-dry sparkling white wine

3 oranges, thinly sliced

2 pints fresh strawberries, halved

1 ice mold (directions below)

Blend juice and sparkling wine in punch bowl. Add ice mold. Use decorative toothpicks to position straws in center of orange slices. Float orange-strawberry garnish in each cup. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 24 servings.

ICE MOLD: Partly fill a ring mold with cold water and freeze until solid. Arrange canned mandarin orange segments and whole strawberries in a design over surface of ice. Cover with water and freeze. To unmold, dip in warm water until loosened and slip into punch bowl.

CORNISH HENS CHERRIES JUBILEE

4 Young 'n Tender Brand Rock Cornish Hens, thawed, giblets removed, salt and pepper 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine (for basting) 1 cup cherry preserves

1 (16 oz.) can pitted dark sweet cherries 1/2 cup chicken broth 2 tablespoons cornstarch 3 tablespoons brandy (optional)

Wash Cornish Hens, pat dry and season inside and out with salt and pepper; tie legs together. Place breast side up in a shallow baking pan, brush with melted butter and roast at 350° F. for 1-1 1/2 hours, basting occasionally with butter and pan drippings. Drain cherries, reserving 1/3 cup of cherry juice. In saucepan, combine cherries, reserved juice, preserves and chicken broth; bring to a boil, stirring and gradually add to sauce, stirring constantly until thickened. Place hens on serving platter and top with sauce. If desired, just before serving, heat brandy, pour over hens and flame, 4 servings.
