House Approves All Local Bills

By FRED VAN PELT
 All legislative measures proposed by political subdivisions and individuals in and for Seminole County have been introduced in and approved by the State House of Representatives. It was reported early this afternoon by Rep. E. Pope Bassett in a telephone interview from Tallahassee.

These measures now are before the State Senate for approval before adjournment sine die Friday afternoon.

Bassett said the Legislature will be called into special session by Gov. Claude Kirk within two-three weeks to pass on financial and roads legislation.

Among measures approved by the House this morning, Bassett said, was the controversial Sanford Airport Authority bill. He stated he and Sen. John Tucker and their aides revised the measure because it was submitted by the City of Sanford in conflict to the state Constitution.

Sen. Bill Gunter reported at noon yesterday the airport bill had not been introduced. Bassett explained today the delay was caused in the time needed to re-write the draft and type it in final form. He placed it in the hopper yesterday afternoon.

"If Senator Gunter does not know how to get it passed in the Senate before adjournment," concluded Bassett, "I do know how and I will."

A local pest control worker found four "fifts" at each corner of the house and was astonished by the owner "not to tell me wife about it, either."

Which, in turn, prompted our own Jane Casselberry to comment, "Now, who ever heard of an alcoholic termite?"

Congratulations to Barry Simmons and his spelling accomplishments. Don't feel badly about missing "celat". Not until we checked with Mr. Webster's dictionary did we understand that it means Lakewine Junior High School is a mighty proud of you, as are we all!

Understand that there's an important meeting or two going on today in Atlanta, both revolving around Sanford's interests. One — a regional insurance office and the other in regards to our $1 canal $2.

In observance of Flag Day, Phillips Cleaners Laundry and Fur Storage of Sanford will clean your American Flag free until June 14th. A wonderful gesture, but we're wondering how many of you actually own a flag... or will take the time to fly it on the 14th? Be a proud American!

Capt. and Mrs. Joseph Tully will arrive tonight to attend commencement at Sanford Naval Academy, where their son is a member of the graduating class. While in Sanford the Tullys will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. Vincent Roberts.

When you've had a fascinating conversation with someone, chances are the other party spoke hardly a word.

Probe Of Altamonte Asked Of Kirk, Jury

By DONNA ESTES
 "Immediate, complete and impartial" investigation by the Seminole County grand jury and the Governor's office into the operation of the city government of Altamonte Springs, with emphasis on the actions of three councilmen in ordering a state audit outside an official meeting, was requested by the members of the governing body last night.

Motion to request the grand jury probe passed on a three-to-two vote, with Mayor W. Lawrence Stafford and Councilmen Keith Nison and William Nuckols casting ballots in favor and Councilmen Donald Martin and Albert Sabbarose opposing.

At the same time, the mayor in the record read his written request to Gov. Claude Kirk for the investigation.

In the letter to the state chief executive, Stafford noted the Governor's "concern for law and order and government in the hands of the citizenry."

Meanwhile, Assistant State Attorney Thomas Speer was not available for comment as to whether he will take the matter before the grand jury.

During last night's meeting Robert Melton, who identified himself as an attorney hired by two city residents, attempted to question the city officials concerning the audit request.

Nuckols refused the attorney's questions with the statement, "If you have material that warrants a meeting, you can call me."

Martin admitted, however, he read the letter and he said Sabbarose's office over the signature of the three requesting the audit but remarked that he did not know who composed the letter.

Again under questioning by the attorney concerning a "press site" meeting when the three declared, "I am not under cross-examination by you or anyone else. Take it to court," Martin added, "The same goes for me as all."

"Did you have a meeting of the minds by someone or telephatically?" the attorney asked. "How did you arrive at your decision?"

"No comment," was Martin's answer, Nuckols reply was silence.

Gulf American firm is a subsidiary of GAC as is the General Acceptance Company which acquired property rights in foreclosure action against the old North Orlando company.

The project is expected to require a series of zoning changes before any construction could be undertaken.

Altamonte Springs has been notified it will lose state funds, such as cigarette taxes, if full payment is not made to the state for the audit first completed on municipal records.

This was revealed at the meeting of the City Council last night by Attorney Robert Melton.

Melton asked if payment for the state examination, estimated to cost some $3,000, had been made and was told by Mayor W. Lawrence Stafford that the three city officials who apparently ordered the audit, Councilmen William Nuckols, Albert Sabbarose and Donald Martin, had passed a motion at a recent meeting to instruct the payment be made when the city is billed.

The Orlando attorney pointed to the portion of the charter contained in Article 3, Section 13 which requires the mayor to certify there are available for appropriation revenues in excess of those estimated in the budget before Council may by ordinance make supplemental appropriations.

"No meeting was held," Sabbarose (right) declares, while Martin says, "I don't know who composed it, but I did read it."

"Did you have a meeting of the minds by osmosis or telephatically?" attorney Robert Melton asks.

Silence from Nuckols (right). "I didn't know about the audit until I read it in the newspaper," states Nixon.

Announcement Coming Tonight

By TON ALEXANDER
 South Seminole County will receive another "shot in the arm" this evening when plans are unveiled by Gulf American Corporation for a "complete development" at North Orlando.

A Miami spokesman for the firm, along with North Orlando Mayor Cliff Jordan, confirmed the massive project this morning.

Don Cooper, a spokesman for the huge land company will be on hand at the North Orlando village hall at 8 p.m. to present the projected plans for a development similar to Gulf American's Cape Coral project which included an array of homes, a huge country club and recreational facilities.

Jordan told The Herald this morning that "it's the biggest thing that has ever happened in our area" (North Orlando) and he concluded by saying it is a fantastic program.

Surveying and topographical studies have been going on in the North Orlando vicinity for the past several weeks, in an area between South Edgemon Road and Moss Road.

Special sections on the graduating classes of the four Seminole County high schools — Seminole, Creams, Lyman and Orléans — will be included in tomorrow's edition of The Sanford Herald. The sections done with the co-operation of School Supt. John Angel and his staff will feature individual photographs of the graduates and contain information on each of the schools.

The special sections are published annually as a service by Seminole County's only daily newspaper.

Problems encountered in the raising of $10,000 to fund the filming of a quarter-hour, color-sound movie of Sanford and Seminole County were evident today during the morning meeting of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce's advertising and promotions committee.

Don Parisher of Don Parisher Productions, a Miami based film maker, was again present for the one-hour session to explain to the project would publicize the county and serve as a promotion tool to attract tourists and industry.

Bill Beck, committee chairman, discussed with Jay Warnock, Jacob S. Best and Robert Shoblen, members, ways to raise the necessary funds to finance the $3,300 cost of making the film and another $2,500 for prints at $40 each.

Methods discussed included having local premiere showing with admissions going toward the cost of making the film.

George Touhy, chamber president, explained to the group that a plan for raising money was to raise the necessary funds to finance the film and another $2,500 for prints at $40 each.

The group discussed asking for contributions from civic clubs, utilities, financial firms and various other sources.

Senate Critics Voice Opposition

Nixon Military Policy Is Hit

By JACK HELL, AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics of administration military policy, including at least one Republican, are taking strong issue with what they see as President Nixon's impetuousness in the new escalation of the Vietnam war.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright led the expected outcry from Democratic opponents of the Vietnam war and the proposed safeguard antimissile missile system. Fulbright said in an interview, "What we want to do is to prevent the start of a new nuclear arms race. And I don't think it's too much to ask that we should have a serious discussion to oppose excessive military spending."

Nixon said new isolationists have declared "open season on the armed forces" and were charting a disastrous course, posing a false choice between Vietnam or to disarm alone. "I disagree with the President," Pearson, an ARN critic, said in an interview. "What we want to do is to prevent the start of a new nuclear arms race. And I don't think it's too much to ask that we should have a serious discussion to oppose excessive military spending."

Out of the shadows, it's estimated that more than six million Americans are mentally retarded — nearly 3 per cent of our population. Both the mildly and severely retarded child can be helped to achieve through a good special education program. Such programs include smaller class sizes, individualized instruction, and special curriculum and instructional materials.

Requirements to teach mentally retarded children. In addition to general education courses, a bachelor's degree may include: the psychology of the exceptional child; methods of teaching the mentally retarded; speech and language development; the interpretation of tests and measurements; and practice teaching. All states require a valid teaching certificate. More education is necessary for those who wish to work in research, administration and supervision.

Sanford Founded By Military

By VIRGINIA PETHOSKI
Once the threat of Indian and the more serious threat of volunteer soldiers had been resolved with the stationing of regular troops at Fort Mellon, farming once more became possible in Melville at the end of the 1840s.

The volunteers, during their occupation, had turned the church-schoolhouse which they had turned into officers' quarters, but it was not until 1857 that a new building was erected for a Methodist church and school on land donated by A. J. Vaughn.

Methodist services were conducted there once every three months by the circuit rider, who had a lot of rough road to travel between services at the various settlements in the interior of Florida.

The building was later used for a Union Sabbath school and was used for a school after 1867, and the first Episcopal and Presbyterian services in the community were held there also. Earnest Chapel, as it was named, was located at 2145 Melville Ave.

Though there were no more serious incidents with Indians, the settlers never strayed too far from protection; the Melville settlement grew southward, along the line of forts, rather than east and west along the river. As late as 1857 troops were stationed at Fort Mellon (Orlando), but in 1858 the danger was over and the troops were withdrawn.

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first month-and-a-half of this season, peace, without warning, had broken out on the Minnesota Twins.

This was remarkable on two counts. First, Billy Martin had taken over as manager, and for years Martin has walked around with the word "inflammable" on his back. Second, tranquility has never been a hallmark in the Twins organization. The Twins, since coming to Minnesota from Washington in 1961, have enjoyed the intramural camaraderie of dogs and cats at play.

The Twins started winning right from the start this season — a technique they had studied in the back of their minds and forgotten about last season. They finished seventh.

And an unusual lightness of heart had developed. The Twins' combative Billy Martin blew up. When he wanted to send rookie pitcher Charley Walters to their Denver Triple-A farm team, farm director Sherry Robertson insisted that Walters train for the Twins' Charlotte (N.C.) Class A team.

"I may be old-fashioned," said Martin, "but I thought that when you left the big leagues you go to Triple A. Here's a kid that was almost big to pitch for the Twins, and he's not good enough to play for Denver. How in the hell am I supposed to explain something like that?"

Soon, though, peaceful co-existence was restored. Just as it was in the first season in Minnesota after slugger Bob Allison gave pitching instructions to teammate Camilo Pascual by throwing a bat at his head.

— And, a few seasons ago, after pitching coach John Sain moved out of the coaches' locker room into the players' room because he and Moe stopped talking.

— And then after Sain departed to Detroit and pitching Jim Kaat wrote an open letter in a local newspaper mourning the loss of Sain.

— And after outfielders Ted Uhlander and Tony Oliva squared off.

— And after the players nearly pulled a civil war over their last post-season World Series split.

With this kind of history — rivaled only by the burles of Genchis Khan — the Twins added Martin as their manager. To some, it was like dropping a lit match into a bucket of kerosene.

In New York, recently, Martin came out of the dugout and signaled for a relief pitcher, Bob Miller. Jerry Crider came in instead. Miller, who had not been warming up, now began to throw furiously. The umpire had announced Miller, so Miller had to pitch. Ralph Houk protested that Crider was there and Crider should pitch to at least one man. The umpire said no.

Miller, meanwhile, continued to throw in the bullpen. Finally, Miller came in. Houk said Martin did all this just to give Miller time to loosen up. Martin, wearing his angel's mask, said it was purely accidental.

The Twins' players loved it.

Little League Is For Kids

By TOM ALEXANDER
Herald Sports Editor
Many youngsters are enjoying the "American Game," baseball. It started on the sandlots and many youngsters today in the Central Florida area participate in organized Little League and Pee Wee League action.

But sometimes the older set, known as parents, carry this game of fun, participation, and recreation just a little bit too far. In the final tabulation, any damage that is done results in harm to that participant. One little fellow stepped to bat and out of the stands a parent yelled, "You show 'em, son, knock it out of the park." The little fellow smiled, showing his teeth he had. He was really up there to knock it out of the park. You know what happened next. He will say it anyway, he struck out. He lowered his head, embarrassed to look around, and during the rest of the game the youngster was dejected. It's good to give encouragement, but the parent, probably without realizing, had put his son on the spot.

During the same game another kid came to the plate. He struck out, too, and from out of the stands a woman yelled, "Way to go, that just shows you, we are going to beat you all! If this was a high school team or any other level above the 16-year-old class the remark may have fitted. But to a ten-year-old, just learning the principles of the game and the sociological atmosphere he is going to live in, it was wrong.

Following this scene the same lady's son came to bat. You wouldn't have believed all the things she said. Later during the contest, her son dropped a fly ball and did he ever receive a chewing out from his dear mother. It sounds ridiculous, doesn't it? But it happens every day.

Another gripe that I hear is about kids sitting on the bench, never getting to play unless the team is six to eight runs ahead.

The Little League was set up strictly for participation and to learn baseball, not to sit on the bench. Can you imagine the hurt some of these youngsters go through? In later years society teaches us that this causes rejection from society. Hippies anyone?

PGA's Racial Problem Elder Tells Story

By TOM SEIPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Lee Elder says there are many Negroes who could be successful on the professional golf tour but they can't get the necessary financial backing.

Elder, one of the few Negroes on the pro tour, also says racial taunts at some of the tournaments he's played in California, Tennessee and Florida have persuaded him to consider by-passing those events.

The 32-year-old Washingtonian definitely will not play in the Monsanto Open in Pensacola, Fla., because he says, "The racial bias by the galleries is the worst he has encountered. The Monsanto tournament formerly was called the Pensacola Open."

Elder said the golfers on the All-Negro circuit, which he played for 10 years before joining the PGA tour a little over two years ago, might encounter some minor problems because of the courses.

"They don't get an opportunity to play this kind of course on their tour," he said, pointing out over the plush Bethesda Country Club in suburban Maryland where he is qualified for the U.S. Open.

"They come off the public courses and see a country club like this and have to face shots they didn't have to face. But it's like everything else, with a little practice and they'll come around."

There are now 10 Negroes who are considered regulars on the PGA pro tour, including Charlie Sifford and his nephew, Curtis Sifford; Pete, Cliff and Howard Brown; Tom Weir, and George Johnson.

Elder said he plays about 30 tournaments a year but in our racial taunts from the galleries, he's tired of being called "Nigger" or "Black Boy." He said, "It's just come to a head. I haven't said anything about it until now. I feel I've held it underneath long enough and believe it should come to a head."

"There has been some improvement but some of the places are just as bad as they ever were," he said. "It's really hard for me to play in the South, and California is just as bad as some places."

Monsanto Open officials said Wednesday racial slurs which Elder said he received here in Maryland were called to their attention.

"Nothing ever came to my attention," said Navy Capt. Jim McCurtin, chairman of the March 13-16 Monsanto Open. "If anything had been reported to members of the field staff, they would have come to me."

"We've never had any trouble in Pensacola," said Jack T. Hill, Professional Golfers Association tournament director who lives here.

Giants Seem 10 Feet Tall To Lowly Montreal

By DICK COUCH

Big Giants' little Giants, they're all 10 feet tall to Gene Mauch and his incredible Montreal Expos.

The bottom of the San Francisco bating order fell upon Mauch Wednesday night, leading the Giants to an 8-3 victory over Montreal that ran the Expos' losing streak to 18 games.

Jack Hill, Hal Lanier, pitcher Mike McCormick and Don Mason stroked the big hits off rookie Mike Wegener in a five-run fourth inning explosion that sent the Expos spinning within five losses of the all-time mark — set by Mauch's 1961 Philadelphia Phillies.

The New York Mets, whose 17-game expansion tangle in 1962 was sequestered by Montreal, respected their record by winning a string of seven games by slipping Los Angeles 1-0 in a 15-inning struggle.

Osuna, Mexican Tennis King Killed

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Rafael Osuna, the king of Mexican tennis, was among 79 believed killed Wednesday in the mountain crash of a Mexican jet airplane Thursday.

Osuna, 30, realized one of his greatest ambitions in a colorful tennis career only 10 days ago when he led Mexico to a stunning 3-2 conquest of proud Australia in the North American Zone Davis Cup competition.

The triumph over the Aussies was the first in 12 meetings between the two countries since 1924. It meant the Aussies would not be able to reach the Challenge Round for the first time since 1937.

Tallest Cuban Today

MIAMI (AP) — Al Cuetio, believed to be the tallest Cuban in the world, says he's pondering whether to wear Miami or Seminoles uniforms for a future draft pick.

The 6-foot-8 exile, Fidel Castro's gift to U.S. basketball, returned home this week from the University of Tulsa and immediately began workouts to keep in shape for the pro grind next fall.

Cuetio was Tulsa's regular center, and says he is the tallest Cuban to play U.S. major college basketball. He used his height to advantage in helping the Golden Hurricane to a 10-9 season and a trip to the National Invitational Tournament.

MIDDLTOWN, Ill. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, ranked among the favorites—but didn't want the role—when he set out in defense of his Western Open U.S. Tournament title today.

"I don't think you can really pick one man and make him a favorite," the Ohio strongboy said. "Any one of 40 to 50 players could win it. There's just too many good golfers out there to make a choice."

"Of course," he added, "there always are certain players you have to figure you have to beat."

St. Petersburg's Wayne Dees slugged two home runs and Winsler Haven nudged 300 percentage points ahead of Orlando to first place in the Central Division to highlight play in the Florida State League Wednesday.

Rain wiped out half the schedule in the 13-team circuit, forcing postponement of encounters involving Daytona Beach at Winter Haven, West Palm Beach at Pompano Beach and Miami at Fort Lauderdale.

The showers came as a blessing to Winsler Haven, who passed Orlando when the Twins dropped a 5-2 decision to Tampa. In the only other game, Key West nipped Cocoa, 2-1.

Slugging homers for the night belonged to Dees with his two belts over the fence at St. Petersburg, a rare display of power in the FSL. Cardinal teammate George Greer also slugged a home run as the sudden fence busting power carried St. Petersburg to a 4-4 victory over Cocoa.

Sales Tax Fight Delays Budget OK

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A conference committee has been named to try to save the state's budget by mending the House and Senate versions of a bill to re-enact the fourth cent of the sales tax under pressure of time.

Meanwhile, House Democratic Floor Leader Carey Matthews of Miami indicated Wednesday that a measure may be in the works to provide for roadbuilding before the Legislature adjourns Friday.

Both Democrats and Republicans are trying hard to get a program, he said. "Unfortunately this has been blocked by some indication on the part of the governor."

The differences between the two houses' versions widened Wednesday as tempers flared in the closing hours of the 1969 session and the House insisted on removing exemptions for what members called "sacred cows."

His comments were made on the House floor just before Democrats beat back a Republican effort to take up the proposed 16-year plan for road building, a bill that carries no appropriation and was passed by the Senate.

"Once again you gentlemen are about to be taken by the rear end," he said. "I'm not going to let you do that."

Birds, Bees Are Mixed

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The birds and the bees should be kept out of sex education, a symposium on "Sex and Marriage in the Permissive Society" was told here Monday by speakers at the annual meeting of the Permissive Society.

The House defeated two proposed constitutional amendments—one to reduce the size of the Legislature to 36 senators and 80 representatives and another to provide for nonpartisan election of judges.

'Paper Garbage' Seen

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government has quietly put out new guidelines for medical experiments on humans, but an official concedes the chief result may be to "foster a lot of paper garbage."

Despite debate over greater protection for organ-transplant patients, the new guidelines are almost exactly the same as ones published in 1966, a year and a half before the world's first heart transplant.

They were mailed last month to institutions sharing some $300 million a year for research involving human beings.

A spokesman for The National Institute of Health said a deliberate effort was made to avoid public announcement.

"As you know there was a public debate and we didn't see any need to become more involved in the controversy," an NIH official said.

The guidelines, dated May 1, were sent out just as the debate over heart transplants flared anew with accusations that Dr. Denton A. Cooley had used an artificial heart developed under a federally funded program without permission of the program's director.

Cooley implanted the device at Baylor University medical school in a patient who later died. He first said the device was not developed under the federal program, but a university investigation later disclosed that it was.

5 Wounded Persons Remember Year Ago

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Wounds suffered by the five persons shot with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy a year ago today have healed. But for three of them, pain or occasional numbness remain.

Elizabeth Evans, 43, a housewife, says that sometimes when she brushes her hair she forgets for a moment. The bottles she routinely carries across the Z-shaped scar at her hairline. The 21-year-old son of a doctor, says he has been in and out of the hospital since he was 10.

Irwin Stoll, 18, also has a bullet wound on his stomach. It is a reminder of the night Kennedy was slain just after proclaiming victory in California's Democratic presidential primary.

Paul Schrade, 41, labor union organizer, was hospitalized the longest—six months.

Sirhan Sirhan Sirhan, now on San Quentin's death row, was convicted of shooting them and Kennedy.

Of the group, only Weisel, a newspaperman from Washington, D.C., agrees with the death penalty for Sirhan. "If you do completely destroy your efforts for anything good..."

Candlelight Rites Unite Broken Hearts Can Cause Death

Laura Young Lawler of Sanford and William E. Brennan of Annapolis, Md., were married by the Rev. Virgil L. Bryan in the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford, on Monday, June 2 at 8 p. m.

The bride was given away by her brother, George H. Danleiman Jr., formerly of Sanford, who also acted as best man. Matron of honor was Mrs. Van Eyk Grobler of Maryland. Also participating in the ceremony as ringbearers were Elise Frances and Stephen Young Lawler, children of the bride.

"The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Stanley Brumby accompanied by Mrs. George Touhy, both of Sanford. Mr. and Mrs. Brennan will reside in Annapolis. Mr. Brennan is an administrative trial judge with the Food and Drug Administration in Washington, D. C. The couple has known each other since childhood and both are natives of Rhode Island.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Van Eyk Grobler, and children of Maryland, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Danleiman Jr., and children of Mobile, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turrella of Dallas, Tex.

A reception was held at the home of the bride in Sanford. In C. Murray Parkes and his colleagues followed 4,486 widowers, all 55 years of age and older, for nine years. They called for further research into the effect of bereavement on younger widowers and on widows.

Children's Reading Problems May Be Due To Underdevelopment

By ABILEEN ABRAHAMS
Associated Press Writer

If Johnny can't read properly—and if as a result he is an academic failure or an under-achiever—chances are he never learned to creep, crawl or cross-pattern walk properly. Johnny may be neurologically underdeveloped.

"Although Johnny's neurological underdevelopment may be caused by a birth defect or by his being a premature baby, in the majority of cases it is likely that Johnny is a normal child who is a victim of overprotectiveness on the part of parents who didn't permit him to move about freely on the floor, as nature intended," warns Dr. Robert Morris, whose belief in the "fourth dimension" in educational development—neurological organization—led to his founding the University of Plano (Tex.) in 1962.

"You see," explains the Fordham Law School graduate and past president of the University of Dallas, "each experience a child undergoes—crawling, creeping, cross-pattern walking—helps develop a different layer of the brain. If brain development proceeds in an orderly path the result is a dominantly controlled hemisphere of the brain—a definite one-sidedness."

For example, in a right-handed child, the left side of the brain predominates. Not only will a properly neurological child write with his right hand, but he naturally will be right-footed and when he reads his right eye will lead his left.

"However, if a child misses one stage of development, his complete dominance is a likely result and vision, motor and verbal performance will be visibly affected," says Morris. "Because one eye may move forward while the other takes him backward, the child may reverse words in reading—'saw' for 'was'."

If speech is affected—although vision is usually the prime casualty—hesitation between the two halves of the brain in determining dominance results in stammering or stuttering.

Since reading is the gateway to learning, says Dr. Morris, a neurologically underdeveloped child may miss a great deal and will tend to be a poor student. A child with a good IQ, he contends, may learn to compensate and get by on his wits.

"But in higher grades—particularly high school or college—when heavy reading and cramming are necessary, the original weakness will show up."

Laura Botts Wins UDC Contest Award

By CECILIA FARMER
The Norman DeVore Howard Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met at the home of Mrs. C. E. McKee with Mrs. T. J. Taylor as co-hostess, for the May meeting.

Mrs. Victor Green led the group to the pledge to the American flag and salute to the Confederate flag. Mrs. H. B. McCall, president, presided and gave her annual report. She also thanked members for their co-operation during the year.

A proposal by Mrs. David Caldwell to increase support of annual gift donations to the Handicap Relief Fund was approved. The purpose was to provide more needed financial assistance and attention to those nearest to Confederate veterans in the Florida Division.

Other guests of the group attending with Miss Botts were her mother, Mrs. Thomas B. Botts, and her grandmother, Mrs. Hubert M. Botts, of Abbeville, S. C. who was visiting in the area. Mrs. L. D. Hastings had previously presented the annual UDC medal for the highest achievement in American History to Miss Botts.

Mrs. J. E. Dunwoody presented a similar medal to Phillip James, Altamonte Springs, and Mrs. Troy Jay presented one to Donna Salles, of Sanford Junior High.

Mrs. T. J. Taylor read an impressive poem entitled "A Song for Our Flag," by Margaret Sangster. The meeting which was held on National Memorial Day, May 30, was concluded with silent prayer in tribute to America's war dead.

Temper, Temper!

Shows are in short supply compared to Terri Temper!

Mr. Bangs, Or so an investigation of sugar at Columbia University seems to indicate. The study revealed that the average man loses his temper about twice as frequently as the average woman—about six tantrums a week for him as against only three for her.

While women usually lose their cool because someone has done or said something considered disagreeable, men seem to take personal affronts rather calmly. What infuriates the male sex are things: flat tires, faulty manners, traffic jams, and the general pervasiveness of inanimate objects.

Agnew Asks Report On Land Transfer

BATIMORE, Md. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has denied any implication of wrongdoing or faulty judgment in the transfer of valuable state tidelands to a private developer a month before he left office as Maryland governor.

Burglaries Reported

Seminole county sheriff's department is investigating three burglaries reported in the past 2 hours.

Two working shops, in Forest City and Fern Park, were among those business firms reporting illegal entries.

Charles Schultz, 43, 11st St. Forest, located on SE 436 at Forest City, listed the loss of nearly all tools by burglars who broke a door lock.

E. C. Chapman, Highway 17-82, Fern Park, operator of a screen enclosure business, reported the loss of several tools and other equipment with a total $700 value.

The 1.233 mile Alaska Highway was bought by Canada from the United States in 1964 for $100 million. It was built in 1942-43 at a cost of $130,000,000.

Spokenmen for Treasure Hunters, whose divers made the discovery, said two solid gold coins from the United States in 1964, 1960 in gold coins have been brought to the surface.
