PATMAN HITS AT MILLS IN BONUS FIGHT

Says Retroactive Estate Tax Would Be Same As Inside Robbery Of Treasury

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(A.P.)—Representative Patman, Democrat of Texas, charged before the House Ways and Means Committee today that the retroactive estate tax provision of the House tax bill will "be equal to inside burglary of the Treasury" under which Secretary Mills "will profit by many millions of dollars" under a revaluation of his father's estate.

The charges were made while Patman was testifying for the soldier bonus payment. He also declared a flood of "inspired propaganda" has been loosed in the country against the bonus payment.

The Democratic tariff bill giving Congress the last word in matters of import duties was referred by President Hoover to the Senate treasury and commerce departments for study.

A deficit of $2,334,000,000 confronts the government at the conclusion of 10 months of the 1932 fiscal year, the Treasury Department reported today.

The chief cause of the decline in government collections, the department said, was caused by a slump in income taxes.

Huey Long's resignation from Senate committee in a one-man revolt against the leadership of Senator Robinson, Arkansas, was accepted by the Democratic steering committee.

Less a jury disagreement being freed to four men in Honolulu charged with attacking Mrs. Thelma Haines, the United States district judge in Hawaii, today granted a writ of habeas corpus for the four men.

Within five minutes after it was reported by the territorial committee, a bill to prevent two successive jury discharges in Hawaiian criminal cases from operating as an acquittal was passed without debate and with no dissenting voice. It now goes to the House.

Assistant Attorney General Richardson recommended the legislation as a result of his investigation of Hawaiian crime and court conditions which followed the attack and subsequent killing of Joseph Kahahawai, one of 13 accused.

In connection with the Kahahawai killing, four Americans including Lieut. Thomas Masie, husband of the attack victim, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Granville Fortunate, were convicted of manslaughter last week.

A full pardon by act of Congress for the four defendants was proposed in the House yesterday in a resolution by Representative Crisp, Democrat, Georgia.

Hodges, Sanford men, who with four others were lodged in the Volusia County Jail early yesterday morning on an aggravated assault charge preferred by Prince Hugh Baber, copy reader, and George Monser, his assistant, are in Sanford today released on $500 bonds set by Criminal Judge Herb Fish.

Mr. Stoinoff had little to say concerning the case which finds him and his son, George Stoinoff, Marvin Levitt, C. C. English, C. E. King, and Hodges, charged with having administered a severe beating upon Hugh Baber and his assistant some time late Saturday night.

Road Worker Killed In Fall From Truck

Shortly after noon today, Dave Patrick, young negro employee of the State Road Department fell from one of the department trucks being driven across the bridge at Lake Monroe, and fractured his skull. He died within a few minutes. His body was prepared for burial by the Mosely Funeral Parlor, and will be sent to DeLeon Springs, his home. He is survived by his widow. The fall was declared to have been an accident, according to witnesses, and the driver of the truck was absolved from any blame in the fatal accident.

PULITZER PRIZES IN VARIED FIELDS AWARDED FOR '31

Musical Comedy Gets Prize As Best American Play Of Year

NEW YORK, May 3.—(A.P.)—The catchy tunes and unbridled satire of national politics in "Of This I Sing" has made it the first musical comedy ever to win the Pulitzer prize for the best original American play of the year.

In the field of journalism, the $500 gold medal for the most distinguished and meritorious public service by an American newspaper during the year was given to the Indianapolis News. Walter Duranty, of the New York Times and Charles G. Ross of the St. Louis Post Dispatch were given the $500 prize for the best example of correspondence during the year.

These prizes were among 14 in the fields of letters, journalism, music and art announced yesterday by the trustees of Columbia University. They have a total value of $17,000.

Frankly terming the play award unusual, the advisory board gave the $1000 which accompanies it to George S. Kaufman and Morris Coward of New York, who wrote the book, and Ira Gershwin, brother of George Gershwin, the composer, who wrote the lyrics.

The Indianapolis News' award was based on its successful campaign to eliminate waste in city management and to reduce the tax levy. Duranty's award was based on his series of dispatches on Russia especially on the working out of the five-year plan in 1931, and Ross' was based on his discussion of the economic situation of the United States in his article, "The Country's Flight—What Can Be Done About It?" published Nov. 29, 1931.

John T. McCutcheon, Chicago Tribune, won the $500 award for the best cartoon published in an American newspaper.

No winners were announced for two other annual journalism awards. The prize for the best work by a reporter was deferred and none was made for the year's best newspaper editorial.

Gen. John J. Pershing's book, "My Experiences in the World War," won for the commander in chief of the American Expeditionary Force in France the highest single award of the 15. He was given the $2000 prize for the best book of the year upon the history of the United States.

Pearl S. Burs's novel, "The Good Earth," a best seller for months, won for her the $1000 prize for best novel published by an American author.

Henry F. Pringle, a former New York newspaper man, who now writes biographical material for various magazines, won the $1000 award for the best American biography for his book, "Theodore Roosevelt," the board said, "presents a vitalized portrait of an outstanding American."

"The Flowering Stone" by George Dillon was the $1000 prize for the best volume of verse published during the year by an American author.

Ernest Horn, of San Francisco, was awarded the annual $1000 scholarship to the American music academy, deemed most talented and deserving.

Francisco Roggeri, of New York, received the annual $1000 scholarship to the American art academy, deemed as most promising and deserving.

CALIFORNIA IN SPOTLIGHT OF U.S. POLITICS

Destiny Of Democratic Party Seen Lying In Primary Poll Being Staged Today

(By The Associated Press)
A primary vote is today in California which may come near settling the Democratic party's choice for president.

The state which only twice has gone Democratic in a presidential contest since 1896 was given an opportunity to arbitrate between Franklin Roosevelt, by far the leading candidate, and the forces that are out to stop him and throw the nomination into a party convention.

A record Democratic list of voters had to choose between Roosevelt, Al Smith, and John Garner. Supporters of all three claimed victory for the 44 convention votes.

Today also brought the selection of 24 Democratic delegates in Alabama and 10 in South Dakota. The latter is counted on as certain for Roosevelt and at least a majority of Alabama's is also claimed.

President Hoover is unopposed for California's 47 Republican votes and is expected to win most of the 37 more to be chosen in Alabama, South Dakota, and Mississippi.

Smith picked up Rhode Island's 10 delegates in a convention yesterday which also came out for repeal or reestablishment of prohibition, but this delegation had been conceded the 1932 nominee and Roosevelt works were confident California would add her 41 to the New York governor's present total of 279. Smith and Garner forces were equally confident.

The 10 in Rhode Island boosted Smith's delegates to 46 to place him third in the running 13 delegates behind Senator Lewis of Illinois.

Besides Rhode Island, Maryland voters, in a presidential primary, selected delegates to State conventions which in turn will name 19 Republican and 16 Democratic national delegates. The latter have been promised Gov. Albert C. Ritchie. Voters in the Republican preference primary chose between President Hoover and former Senator Joseph I. France.

An Arkansas district meeting named two Hoover delegates yesterday. This brought the Hoover (Continued on Page Two)

Constitution And By-Laws Adopted By Taxpayers Body

Adoption of by-laws and constitution and the appointment of F. L. Miller as an investigating committee to report on reforms which may be effected in the state's fee system, license tag bureau, license bureau, and in the reduction of salaries of state officers, comprised the major matters of business disposed of by several members of the executive committee of the recently organized Seminole County Taxpayers' Association, meeting at the City Hall yesterday.

The by-laws and constitution are practically the same as those in use by the Orlando Taxpayers' Association, with vigilant scrutiny of the affairs of state government given as the primary aim and purpose of the group.

Upon suggestion of Fred H. Wilson, member of the Resolutions Committee, F. L. Miller, chairman of the executive committee, was delegated to look into four matters in which group hopes to effect changes.

Mr. Miller is to report at the general meeting of the group at the City Hall, Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, when the by-laws and constitution will be read and approved or rejected by the members.

FLIER CHARGED WITH DEATH OF HADEN CLARKE

W. N. Lancaster's Held In Slaying Of Young Keith-Miller Lover

MIAMI, May 3.—(A.P.)—W. N. Lancaster, former British flier, was held in Dade county jail last night, charged with the first degree murder of Haden Clarke, 24-year-old writer and fiance of Lancaster's flying partner, Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller.

State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne placed the charge against Lancaster, after the latter's alleged confession that he wrote and signed two suicide notes, purportedly left by Clarke to Lancaster and Mrs. Keith-Miller, Australian flier.

Filing of the murder charge followed 40 days of investigation that started when Clarke was found dying in his bed at the Keith-Miller home the morning of April 21. The shooting reported to police by Lancaster, took place a few hours after the English flier returned hastily to Miami in response to letters from Mrs. Keith-Miller and Clarke.

The letters informed Lancaster, Mrs. Keith-Miller's companion in hazardous flying adventures since their England-to-Australia flight in 1927, that she and Clarke, who was writing the story of her life for publication, loved each other and planned to be married immediately. Mrs. Keith-Miller and Lancaster were arrested by the state attorney, shortly after the shooting and were held during an inquiry. They were released, with Hawthorne asserting his belief that Mrs. Keith-Miller knew nothing about the case.

It was on the report of a hand writing expert of New York City that the state attorney said the notes were forgeries.

Lancaster appeared unworried, but Mrs. Keith-Miller was nervous and wore after the day of questioning.

While Hawthorne quoted Lancaster as denying the murder of Clarke, the state attorney quoted the flier as admitting he wrote and signed the suicide notes.

"He told me that when he was awakened by the shooting, which took place in the room the two men occupied, his first thought was to protect himself and Chubbie (Mrs. Keith-Miller), Hawthorne said last night.

"He said he wrote the two notes, one to himself advising him never again to leave Chubbie, and the other to Chubbie, telling her in effect that he couldn't get through with their plans for marriage, and praising Lancaster."

Hawthorne quoted Lancaster as saying that after he wrote the notes on Clarke's typewriter and in the room they occupied together, he tried to revive Clark, unconscious from a bullet wound in his head.

"Lancaster's purpose, he told me, was to have Clarke sign the suicide notes," the state attorney continued. "He wanted to save his own hide and to shield Mrs. Keith-Miller, and he believed he could get the boy to sign the notes if he became conscious."

When Lancaster was unable to arouse Clarke, Hawthorne quoted the English flier again, he took a pencil and signed one note "Haden." The other was signed "H."

Mr. Dingfelder introduced Scouts James McDaniel, Bevil Higgs, Edwin Boniske, Billy Zachry, and Brian May, and sent them through a rapid series of first-aid methods, first-aid and signaling. Earlier in the program Arthur Branam, chairman of the Seminole County District Committee of the Boy Scouts of America, appeared before the group to assist their support in a drive for funds with which to maintain local scout work.

He briefly discussed the need or awakening in older persons the responsibility they owed to the youth of America, and expressed the hope that each person present at the meeting give more time and thought to the problems of the young.

MILANE THEATER TO STAGE STRAW VOTE FOR MONTH

Another chance for residents of this city to cast a ballot in a straw vote, but this time on all local and district candidates for state and county offices, will be afforded persons who attend the Milane Theater on the next four Wednesday nights. It was announced today.

With the Sanford Herald straw ballot on presidential and gubernatorial candidates having contained wide comment and much interest, Manager Joe L. Marenzette, of the Milane, decided to sponsor a straw ballot that will cover local candidates.

All adults purchasing tickets to a Milane performance tomorrow night will be handed a sample ballot containing the names of all persons who are seeking office from this county or district.

Each person will be asked to vote for his choice in each office during an intermission in the program, at about 8:30 o'clock, when several of the candidates will give two-minute talks on "Citizenship."

Mr. Marenzette declared that speakers will either be those seeking the office of state representative, state senate, circuit judge, or sheriff. Tomorrow night's speakers have not yet been selected, he added, but declared they would be announced later.

Judges will be appointed to count the ballots at the close of the performance, and the results will be tabulated and announced in Thursday's Herald.

This straw vote will continue for the next four Wednesdays, and names of all candidates for local and district offices, from constable to state senator will be carried on the ballot.

Results of each night's voting will be announced as a cumulative total with the final announcement, on May 26, setting forth the total vote each candidate received during the contest.

Another Election Precinct Created By County Board

Petitioned by a delegation of seven residents of Slavia, settlement near the Orange county line in south-eastern Seminole County, the County Commissioners this morning created another voting precinct in this county. It will be known as precinct 12.

Martin Stanko, president of the Slovak-American Political Club comprising some 75 persons living in that community, headed a delegation composed of M. Dinda, Mike Mikler, Joe Mikler, John Duda, and G. Jakubek, all of whom were heard in reasons for the creation of a new precinct.

Previously, residents of that community, of whom over 60 are eligible to vote at the present time, have been voting at Ovidio and Gabriella. With the organization of the club several weeks ago, and with the members turning their attention to American political ways, a desire was raised at a recent meeting to have the arena surrounding a primary and general election reported at Slavia. The request this morning is the result of the desire which was unanimously adopted.

Seminole County now has 14 voting precincts. They are: Precincts 1 and 2, Sanford; Precincts 3, Lake Monroe; precinct 4, Palatka; precinct 5, Ovidio; precinct 6, Genavay; precinct 7, Chulavita; precinct 8, Gabriella; precinct 9, Longwood; precinct 10, Lake Mary; precinct 11, Altamonte Springs; precinct 12, Forest City; precinct 13, Slavia, and precinct 14, Ocala.

Much Local Canned Fruit Sold On Pacific

Seventy five thousand pounds of canned Florida grapefruit hearts and juice left Sanford yesterday afternoon destined to be sold in groceries and markets in and around San Francisco, according to J. H. Kanny, manager of the Eckerston Fruit Canneries, Inc., today.

This is the third shipment of a similar tonnage to have been sent to the California city by the Eckerston. It left by boat, and upon its arrival at Jacksonville will be transferred to another boat and sent from that city to California.

Thieves broke into the Eckerston warehouse at the foot of Myrtle Avenue some time last night and made away with 10 of the 2000 or more cases of grapefruit hearts stored there, Mr. Kanny said. Police are investigating the robbery, and will keep close watch on the warehouse in future, he added.

LAST HOPE OF CAPONE FADES OUT OF SIGHT

Gangster Begins Packing Up Belongings For Trip To Prison; Final Efforts Faint

CHICAGO, May 3.—(A.P.)—The last obstacle to prevent the removal of Al Capone to the federal penitentiary was removed today when the United States Circuit Court of Appeals vacated a writ of superedeas which held the gangster in the county jail while he appealed his conviction for evading income taxes.

The appellate court vacated its writ after it received a certified copy of the Supreme Court's decision yesterday refusing to review Capone's case.

Papers ordering Capone to prison were then made out and authorities arranged to take him to Leavenworth tonight. Capone sitting up hope at last, packed his belongings today.

Which of the three federal penitentiaries would be his destination was not made public. His sentence specified Leavenworth, but officials since then have adopted a policy of scattering the Capone cohorts, avoiding any concentration of his followers in one prison.

No announcement was made by the court of the reasons which actuated it in refusing to review the case. Capone's petition was filed with 10 others in which the court merely announced that reviews had been denied.

Indicted on June 5, 1931, "Scarface Al," was convicted before Judge W. H. Harrison of evading his income tax payments for 1925, 1926, and 1927, and sentenced to 11 years imprisonment. Fines totaling $50,000 were imposed. The conviction and sentence were affirmed by the seventh circuit court of appeals Feb. 27, 1932.

When the circuit court refused a rehearing Mar. 23 last it granted Capone a stay of 30 days in which to take the case to the supreme court.

Capone, who has been in the Chicago jail since his conviction, would in the judgment of some lawyers, have had a better chance of escaping punishment for tax evasion had he challenged the jurisdiction of the government to prosecute him on the ground that the statute of limitations had run on some of the alleged offenses, and the term in which he could have been prosecuted had expired.

By failing to raise that issue in the trial court, he lost the opportunity to present such a defense in his petition for review. The supreme court recently ruled in another case of tax evasion that the government was limited to a three-year time limit for prosecution in such matters, and not to six years as the justice department contended.

In his petition asking review by the supreme court, Capone contended the indictment was defective because general in terms, and the section of the law under which he had been prosecuted applied only to collectors of internal revenue and not to individual tax dodgers.

Officers Elected To Country Club In Poll Last Night

H. M. Watson was elected president; Randall Chase, vice president; Andrew Larrabee, secretary; and H. G. Gray, treasurer of the Sanford Country Club at a meeting of several members held at the City Hall last night.

The group was elected by ballot which contained the names of all persons who had paid their membership fees for at least six months. Directors were also elected. They are: Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Speer, Charles Dunn, Mr. Delany M. Lewis, Fred Holly, A. C. Fort, and Joe L. Marenzette.

By-laws and constitution were also read and adopted, as was an application for charter as an organization as the Sanford Country Club.

Eight additional memberships were reported to being the new membership raised by the group drive to 123 family and individual memberships. A total of $1100 in cash was realized from the group of workers, it was reported.

Cutting Salaries

It is not so easy in governmental offices to cut salaries as in private business. The Miami Herald points out that the head of a corporation or business firm merely has to call in his employees and tell them that he must reduce their wages ten percent. That's all there is to it, except where unions are involved. And even then the same principle applies after more or less prolonged arbitration.

The only way to reduce salaries, or the general cost of government, is to elect men to office who are practical business men, who are independent and cannot be bought or swayed by lobbies, and who are conscientious in their loyalty to the public good. In the coming primary the people have a good chance to show whether they really want governmental economy. After the election, it will be too late to do anything about it.

Advertising Appropriations

Tangible evidence that it pays to advertise comes from the report of Gilbert T. Hodges, president of the Advertising Federation of America, which has recently completed a study of records for the past seventeen years of some 120 corporations. Half of them failed to maintain adequate advertising programs; the other sixty increased their advertising expenditures at the rate of 16 percent a year.

When times were good they plunged heavily. When the going became difficult they tightened their purse strings. But this policy didn't work. Seventeen years ago every one of the 80 firms in this erratic group was an important national business. Today more than half of them have lost that position. Many have perished.

"JOHN MARTIN devoted a good portion of his speech at hammering Carlton." The Sanford Herald remarked, following his recent appearance there, "but we'd like to remind the Jacksonville candidate that Hardee is the man he has got to beat."

DO YOU INHALE?

Why is this vital question so much avoided by other cigarettes?

EVER since Lucky Strike created that special process for purifying fine tobacco and told the full facts about cigarette smoking—the industry has been in an uproar. For Lucky Strike has dared to mention things that were considered "taboo" in the cigarette trade.

You may have noticed a striking avoidance generally of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette. That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it gives you the protection you want... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

The old house, with its thick walls of coquina, is an interesting example of the building of that time in this Spanish colony, and also of the antebellum homes of the Old South.

Better Times are Coming

DON'T BE DISCOURAGED!

Side with the optimists—don't join the pessimists who see naught but disaster ahead—

During a previous depression, the government had to issue paper "Clearing House Certificates" as a substitute for money. Conditions were just as bad, only we have forgotten.

Prosperity has always followed hard times—this is one of the laws of business cycles.

Now is the time to substitute the word "Reconstruction" for "depression."

Don't be discouraged. Lend a hand to reestablish confidence.

America will see this through and emerge victorious.

Better times are coming!

Be the one who, at least, went down fighting.

If your business is not so good as you think it would be made it a point to go out and get more business in today's competitive field, will not come naturally. You've got to go and get it.

ADVANTAGES OF FLORIDA'S FARM PRODUCTS TOLD

State Has a Generous Supply Of Foods Of Healthful Quality

By MARY A. STENNIS
State Agricultural Nutritionist,
State Department of Agriculture

"The essentials in building any optimum diet are fresh fruits and vegetables, fresh milk and eggs," said Dr. Henry Sherman Columbia University during a recent visit to Florida. This statement covers the theme of the agricultural food program conducted this year by the Florida State Department of Agriculture for the increased use of Florida's fresh fruits, vegetables, milk and eggs. Florida is fortunate in being one state where, throughout the winter season, has a generous supply of all the essentials and, furthermore, offers them at reasonable cost.

With Spring, south Florida winter crops become central, north and west Florida's "in season" products and south Florida plants different varieties. Thus it is, that all-year Florida can produce and supply her people with the foods that make for optimum health and growth.

Fresh fruits and vegetables all day in every way! There we have the essentials. Chicken, fish, and meat add sufficient variation. Food selection and food preparation are the only two problems left to Florida menu makers. Variety, abundance, freshness make the possible menu superior.

Combining chicken or eggs with vegetables in some of the following recipes, we have dishes, which with the addition of corn-bread, potato or a glass of milk or fruit juice, make a meal.

West Coast Chicken Chop Suet
1 pound chopped chicken
1 cup raw rice
1 green pepper
1 large onion
1 large bunch of celery
1 pint tomatoes
1 can mushrooms may be added
1/4 cup butter
Salt to taste
Brown chicken and onion slightly in a small amount of butter. Cook rice in sufficient water for about ten minutes. Drain and add rice to other ingredients which have been chopped. Cook until vegetables are tender and the mixture of the proper consistency. Add tobacco, if desired.

Florida Vegetable-Chicken Leaf
a la East Coast
2 cups finely cut cooked chicken
1 cup fine bread crumbs
1 1/2 tablespoons butter or chicken fat
1/2 cup milk
2 eggs
1 cup mashed fresh peas
Salt
Paprika
Onion and green pepper fried in butter or chicken fat
Heat the milk, moisten the crumbs with it, and combine with the other ingredients, adding the beaten eggs last. Place the mixture in a greased baking dish or pan and bake in a moderate oven for one hour, or until firm and brown. Turn out on a platter and serve hot or cold. If served cold, garnish with sliced tomato. If served hot, garnish with Indian River spiced tomatoes.

Florida Stewed Chicken
a la Havana
When the chickens are cleaned and cut in quarters, salt them and fry them together with several slices of cured ham; when half fried add tomatoes, green peppers, parsley, and onions, all cut up fine. Let all fry together and then add a little powdered cinnamon and vinegar, also toasted ground pecans, capers, slices of fried plantains and some water or broth. Let the mixture cook till it thickens sufficiently.

South Florida Chicken Salad
(a la carte)
Take three-fourths cupful of boiled chicken; one-fourth cupful of cubed avocado; one-fourth cupful of finely cut celery; a pinch of salt and white pepper; and a dash of lime juice, enough to marinate chicken. Mix ingredients gently, line salad bowl with crisp lettuce leaves and mold salad in center therein. Cover with a dressing made of equal parts of mayonnaise and un-sweetened whipped cream, and garnish with hard cooked egg-slices of tomato, gherkins, capers, and chopped parsley.

South Florida Plantain Short Cakes
Bake a thin layer of corn bread "biscuits," browned on both sides; cut into suitable pieces, figuring three to each shortcake. Place on one side of fried ham; over with tomato layer; spread slices of chicken over and close with the third layer.

had offered him financial assistance for his education. He made several personal charges against Martin which he claimed covered their friendship a year ago. He indicated that was the reason Martin left New York to come to Florida. He said that Martin had spread reports in New York that injured him socially and prevented him from securing employment and he felt it his duty to kill him.

He said he bought the hammer in New York before coming to Florida. He decided on this mode of attack when he found it impossible for anyone but gangsters to purchase guns there.

Keyes then detailed an account of arriving by train in Winter Park and of his confusion in trying to locate Martin's home in the pouring rain Sunday morning. He related his meeting with the startled professor and how after pondering the matter he arrived at the decision to go through with his prepared plan.

Asserting he knew Prof. Martin for 25 or 30 years, Dr. Holt said he was recognized throughout New York as a brilliant speaker and tireless worker for social reform. A member of the New York school board for nine years Martin was also vice president of the League of Nations Association of New York.

Claiming Martin's attitude was that of an intellectual liberal, Holt said his views were never radical or extremely conservative. He said Martin was wealthy and decided to come to Winter Park following a visit several years ago to Naples. He was listed in the faculty register as a conference leader and consultant on international relations.
