Joe's Laundry Cleans Up Hunt

Joe's Laundry took a firmer grip on the first place trophy as they made a clean sweep against Hunt Realty in the weeks league play. Anything can happen in four weeks, and in this game of bowling every pin counts.

Stenstrom Realty and Art Brown Peat Control split their points 2-2. The C.P.O. Wives also made a clean sweep against M. & M. Bar. Shoemaker Construction won three points from Cook's Corner. DeBary Debs won three points from the Acey Ducey Wives. We welcome Pat Franks who will take Mary Dougherty's spot in the Acey Ducey Wives team. Pat had only rolled duck pins before joining the league, but it looks as if she is adapting to the heavier ball quickly.

Queens of the split circle are Carolyn Sallee when she converted the 3-7-10, and Sophie Woodson the 3-7-9. Vi Rowberry and Letha Ward topped the 5-10; Marie Clowaki, Gladys Pinter, and Carolyn Sallee the 2-7. Doris Gandy converted the 8-3; Ella Dorman and Sara Terry the 5-8; Beverly Meeks the 4-3 and the 4-5-7. The 3-10 fell for Dot Button, Kathy Gray, Doris Hoek, and Carolyn Sallee. City, County Join In Paving Job

Elimination Of Traffic Hazard Program's Aim

An emergency $120,000 street paving program "to remove a critically dangerous safety problem" was approved by the City and County Commissions in joint session this morning.

The approved paving plan will bring about elimination of traffic hazards on 13th Street and on Southwest Road.

City of Sanford, which previously had announced plans for improving 13th Street, said it will widen, install storm sewers and catch basins, pave the street, install curbing and sidewalks from French Avenue to Crooms High School.

This program will cost an estimated $70,000. City engineers have been instructed to commence drafting plans for the project. This planning and stockpiling of necessary materials is expected to require 60-90 days, when actual construction will be started.

The Southwest Road project will follow, with the County bearing 75 per cent of the cost and the City bearing the other 25 per cent. This project will extend from 13th Street to Country Club Road.

County engineers estimated the cost will run about $50,000 for paving, storm sewers and catch basins, curbing and sidewalks.

The following statement was released at the conclusion of the joint Commissioners' meeting this morning:

"Both Commissions have jointly agreed to remove a critically dangerous safety problem presently existing on West 13th Street, from French Avenue to Crooms Academy and Southwest Road from 13th Street to 46A. The joint Commissioners were in agreement on the vitally needed project.

"It was further agreed that construction would commence at the intersection of 13th Street and French Avenue and proceed from that point to the ultimate completion of the project — the completion date expected to be in the Fall of 1965. Actual construction will not commence for 60 days in order that engineering and planning and stockpiling of materials can be accomplished.

"It was further agreed that portion of the project of 13th Street from French Avenue to Crooms will be constructed by City forces while Southwest Road from 13th to 46A will be constructed by County forces."

FINAL CLOSING in negotiations for the transfer of the Del Mar property on West 20th Street from the Del Mar Corporation, Atlanta, to the Chemical Corporation of America, Tallahassee, was completed this morning. The event was highlighted by exhibits placed on display by some 41 county firms and the initial public appearance of the 19 young Seminole beauties who are competing for the honor of being named Miss Seminole County for 1964.

The beauty pageant, which opened with the initial judging of the girls in bathing suits, will end Saturday night when one of them is crowned the winner.

Tonight's program begins at 8 when the contestants will be judged in evening gowns. During all of the sessions the judges rate the girls on face, poise, figure and personality.

And he told the crowd of 5,000 waiting to hear him in a high school football field "I'm going to tell Congress I wish they could come here in the heartland of America and see what the people of America are doing for themselves."

"I have been stimulated and inspired by what I have seen. I'm here to see what the federal government can do to improve your condition."

U. S. Announces Base Closings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara today announced the shutdown — complete or partial — of 22 military installations and facilities with the elimination of 10,056 jobs.

McNamara told news conference that the shutdowns and reductions plus the sale of two industrial reserve plants, the consolidation of defense contracting offices in 29 U. S. cities and several other economy measures would save $68 million annually in the United States and abroad over the next 3 1/2 years.

Closings in Florida include the seadromes at the Naval Air stations in Jacksonville, Key West and Pensacola, all of which will be inactivated in January, 1965.

He also said that eight economy measures would be taken overseas — in Europe and the Western Hemisphere — but that these would not involve NATO forces. He said these actions would eliminate 3,600 military and civilian jobs and would save $21 million, he said.

The biggest single cutback announced today was at the Army's Watertown, Mass., arsenal where 1,840 jobs are to be eliminated by September 1967 at an estimated saving of $5.3 million.

McNamara said only the Army's materials research agency would be retained at Watertown. He said most of the arsenal's facilities would be sold.

"All career employees whose jobs are eliminated will be offered other job opportunities," McNamara said.

Spark Gone?

Perhaps this article will not "make sense" for those who have lived since the time when the Model T Ford was popular but many of the readers will recall that one lever on the right side of the steering wheel was the accelerator and a lever on the left side controlled the "spark." It was necessary to have gas and spark if the automobile ran well.

In life do you sometimes feel that your "spark" is out of kilter? Perhaps you can manage to get through the day by dragging along yet there is little zest for the road.

destroyed in the hurricane of 1880. Other furnishings of particular interest are the font constructed of several hundred pieces of Florida wood by F. H. Rand, J. B. Clouser and James Arnold and the bell in the tower which was given as a memorial to Rand's Mother.

The Chalice and the Lectern Bible are dated 1879 but identity of the donor is not known. The beautiful stained glass windows were a gift from Mrs. Edward Rand.

For many years Christ Church was in the care of various clergymen from the Orlando area. In 1927 it was placed in the care of rector of Holy Cross among whom were Bishop Louttit and the late Suffragan Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Martin J. Bram. In 1954 Rev. George L. Granger became priest in charge of Christ Church and the Church of the Good Shepherd, Maitland.

Realizing the need of enlarging worship facilities, the Vestry Committee, together with Father Stewart, presented plans drawn by Robert Hammond of Longwood to the congregation in October of last year. Assured of the enthusiastic support of the parish, the contract was let to A. B. Williams of Winter Park to enlarge and rebuild the church.

During the construction period services were held in the Parish House until Palm Sunday when the first services were held in the remodeled sanctuary.

Father Stewart, in announcing the dedication, stated that the church is a growing, vital congregation, interested in the church and in the community. Her doors are open to all who will come and worship there, her total purpose being to worship Almighty God and to spread forth the saving gospel of Jesus Christ. To this end, both the old and new facilities, will be formally dedicated by Bishop Louttit.

PENCIL-SAVING PREACHER GETS HIS POINT ACROSS

Col. Ralph T. Miller, national evangelist for the Salvation Army who is conducting a special series in Sanford this week, has the unusual distinction of being a "pencil-saving preacher" who gets his points across.

Miller who today owns 7,000 pencils, began his collection 26 years ago when a group of Kingston, N. Y. youngsters he had been coaching in basketball presented him with a pen and pencil set as a token of their appreciation. Touched by the gesture he put the set away for fear he might lose it. What thus began as a simple precaution has mushroomed into a grandiose hobby.

With him, as he travels around the country, are 500 of the pencils which are used when he gives talks on his collection. Often these talks are combined with his sermons and when this happens, he quips that he "has more points to his sermon than any other preacher in America."

Miller doesn't just go around picking up pencils—each one of his collection is a novelty in its own right. For example, an FBI agent gave him one eight years ago which had been taken from a dope peddler. This one had a hidden chamber which the peddler used to hide his narcotics supply.

U. S. Steel Corporation presented him with one made from a strand of cable from the George Washington Bridge in New York and he has one from the President which bears the droll inscription, "Stolen from Dwight D. Eisenhower."

One pencil in the collection doubles as a flute and another as a transistor radio. And he is especially fond of two given him by the Cincinnati Redlegs, many years after he was batboy for the club, which are shaped like baseball bats.

Asked if the pencil will ever give way to its recent competitor, the ball point pen, Miller adamantly declares "the pencil is here to stay." However, when asked what he uses, he calmly reaches into coat pocket and brings out—a ball point pen!

Col. Miller will be in Sanford through Sunday evening. With him for the 7:30 p. m. services today will be the Brass Ensemble from the Orlando Salvation Army Corps. His final service, at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, will be on the Second Coming of Christ.

Sunday morning worship services will be conducted at 11 o'clock. Invitation to all meetings is extended to the public by Captain Harry S. Foden of the Sanford headquarters.

McCanna Flays Tax Returns

"Tangible Personal Property Tax Returns for householders are wasteful, distasteful and unnecessary," Richard E. McCanna, Candidate for Seminole Assessor, stated recently. "They are not required in Orange or Volusia Counties and should not be in Seminole. The insistence for filing these returns in Seminole is a direct affront to the Homeowners of the County."

By Frances Wester
The Friendship Class of the First Baptist Church of Lake Mary held a combined business meeting and class party at the home of Mrs. J. A. Varn, hostess for the evening, with Mrs. Harley Wilhelm, co-hostess.

Mrs. Lamar Stokes presided during the meeting. The opening prayer was given by Mrs. W. T. Wansley. Mrs. C. N. North, class teacher, asked the women to help with the church Bible school that is scheduled to start as soon as school is out.

Mrs. Charlotta McQuillin was in charge of the devotional period. The text used was First Peter, Chapter Two.

After routine business was discussed, the meeting was closed with prayer given by Mrs. North.

During the social hour each member took a turn reading words of wisdom from the tea pot. Mrs. Wilhelm won the prize in the game contest.

The hostess served refreshments of punch, homemade cookies and Swiss rolls.

Other members attending than those mentioned above were Mrs. Crawford Shelton, Mrs. Ralph Taylor and Mrs. T. M. Whigham.

This Friday's program, undirection of Jesse Brown and the blue team, will be a skit of the five wise and five foolish virgins.

Last week's program by Robert Adams and the red team was entitled "Shoes" to illustrate the point that shoes must fit the wearer, the occasion and the time.

Florida Lawmaker Links Communism To Bible, Prayer Ban

Sikes Says Aim Is To Make U. S. 'Godless Nation'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes said today he was convinced an attempt is being made to make America "officially a godless nation."

The veteran Florida Democrat, in testimony prepared for House Judiciary Committee hearings on proposals to amend the Constitution to allow worship in schools, connected communism to an effort to "take religion out of public places."

"We know that communism is a godless doctrine. I am convinced that there is an effort in this nation a deadly attempt by a small minority to make our America officially a godless nation."

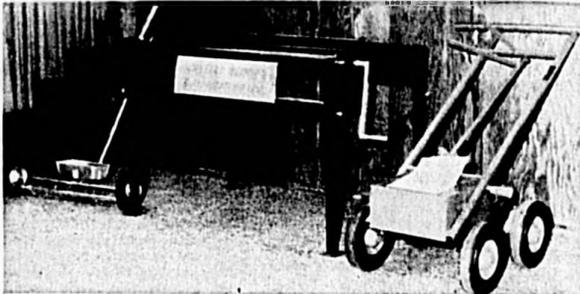

The House group, meeting for the third day on the proposals has thus far heard no opposition testimony. However, several committee members have indicated flat opposition or deep doubt about the wisdom of changing the First Amendment to the Constitution to overcome Supreme Court decisions barring worship as a requirement of public school programs.

Other congressional news: Civil Rights: Senate leaders worked at drawing up in final form a compromise jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill they intend to offer as a substitute for a Southern-sponsored proposal. In general, the compromise probably would extend to all sections of the bill the limited jury trial guarantee embodied in the 1957 civil rights law. At present, that guarantee extends only to two sections of this year's bill.

Insurance: Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., (D-N.J.), will conduct a hearing May 4 on deceptive or misleading practices in the sale of health insurance policies. The hearing will be held by his subcommittee on frauds and misrepresentation affecting the elderly.

Souvanna Restored As Figurehead In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma today accepted conditions restoring his government but leaving power in the hands of the right-wing generals who deposed him Sunday. The agreement was seen as a face-saving compromise.

The coup leaders gave in to Western and Communist pressure to restore Souvanna, but at the same time retained the power to "propose and recommend" cabinet members and to "follow and watch" all government decisions. Gen. Kouprasith Abhay, leader of the military junta, said today the generals want to cooperate with the Communist Pathet Lao faction, one of the three in Souvanna's coalition cabinet. The general described the pro-Communists as "nationalists like us, speaking the same language."

Republican Club Hears Debate

By Jane Cannelberry

Rollins College students, Bob Doerr from California and Lee Minglehoff of Georgia, presented a debate on whether or not the United States should recognize Red China at a meeting of the Seminole County Young Republican Club held Tuesday night in Howell Park.

The two young men, both members of the Rollins Young Republican Club, proved to be skillful debaters. Second Vice President E. Pope Bassett, who conducted the meeting, reminded the audience that the opinions they were expressing were not necessarily their own, as it takes an even more skillful debater to argue a cause in which he does not agree.

Mrs. Marti Cox was elected to fill the vacancy in the office of treasurer left by the resignation of Warren C. Tucker Jr. Mrs. Ann Bassett, chairman of the pancake supper, reported that the club netted $100 from the event and a dinner or picnic is being planned for May with details to be announced later.

OUR GRAVEST THREAT

The gravest threat to the Constitution of the United States, the Bill of Rights, and our personal freedom, which has ever appeared on the American scene is the Civil Rights bill now before the Congress.

This is the most vicious piece of legislation which has ever been offered to a freedom-loving people, and it will destroy our democracy and our way of life if it is passed.

I oppose this bill with every fiber of my being as I have since its inception. I have spoken my views from every platform in this state, and I have become the symbol of opposition in this Governor's race to the Civil Rights bill.

A vote for Scott Kelly serves notice on the Congress that you are opposed to the Civil Rights Bill. Congress is watching this Governor's race. Supporters of this bill in Congress know that the election of Scott Kelly in Florida will seriously weaken their case.

Again I say to you that I oppose this Civil Rights Bill. If similar legislation is presented to the Florida Legislature, I will fight it with every ounce of my strength. If the Legislature adopts any such Bill, I will veto it, and veto it, and veto it.

Roberts Records 38th Shutout In Downing Red Sox

By Joe Gergen
UPI Sports Writer
Robin Roberts, who once specialized in throwing bullets, now is tossing blanks—much to the delight of the Baltimore Orioles.

Roberts, the 37-year-old workhorse righthander who banked on a fine fastball in his prime with the Philadelphia Phillies, has lost some zip from his arm. But opposing batters hardly notice the difference.
The onetime Whiz Kid tossed the 38th shutout of his career at the Boston Red Sox Thursday night to earn the Orioles a 1-0 victory and a split of their twilight doubleheader. Boston won the first game, 3-1.
In the opener, Jack Lamabe, a former relief specialist, won his second straight game in a starting role although he needed help from Dick Radatz in the eighth. In other American League games, Ken McElride hit Woodie Held with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to force in the winning run and give the Cleveland Indians a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Angels, and the Washington Senators edged the Minnesota Twins, 5-1, in the only games scheduled.
In the National League, Ken Johnson pitched a no-hitter for the Houston Colts, but lost to the Cincinnati Reds, 1-0; the Philadelphia Phillies rallied to nip the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-5; the Los Angeles Dodgers stung St. Louis, 7-5; and the Chicago Cubs defeated the New York Mets, 5-1.
McElride also hit three other batters during the evening to equal the modern American League mark. With runners on first and second in the ninth, McElride plunked catcher John Romano for the deciding run. Winning pitcher Dick Donovan accounted for the Tribe's other two runs with a two-run single in the fifth.
Don Blasingame and Bill Skowron punched run-scoring singles in the eighth inning to lift the Senators past the Twins after Minnesota had forged from behind to take a 4-3 lead. Ron Kline preserved the victory for veteran Steve Riddick. Jim King slammed a three-run homer for Washington.

Combining 17 hits with no less than nine Montverde errors for 17 runs, Miller mowed down the opposition one after the other and registered a no-hitter.
He fanned three and the only trio of Montverde batsmen to reach first were issued free tickets.
The Lions will meet St. Cloud for the sub group championship in a contest starting at 2 p. m. today at John Courier Field in Oviedo.

Cox Homer Leads Jacksonville To Win Over Wings

United Press International
Ron Cox, who hit only one home run in 62 International League games last season, matched that figure in his second game with the Jacksonville Suns this year.
The 23-year-old outfielder clubbed a three-run homer in the first inning Thursday night to pace the Suns to a 4-1 victory over the Rochester Red Wings.
Miguel Cuellar, a six-foot-11 left hander allowed just six hits in going the route.
Although Richmond's Felix Elvio Jimenez and Ted Kazanski boy blasted home runs, the Buffalo Bisons came back to squeak out a 6-5 victory over the Virginians. The Columbus Jets defeated Toronto, 6-2.

Evans Leads Crooms To 67 Wins In Past 71 Contests

By Robert Thomas
Crooms baseball coach, Dick Evans, has piloted the Panthers to victory in 67 of the 71 contests his charges have played under his leadership.
This is probably one of the most enviable records of any high school baseball mentor in Florida.
Evans is a 1932 graduate of Crooms. During his high school days he played three seasons on the Panther football team. He quarterbacked the 1931 squad—the only one in Crooms history to go undefeated.
But football was only one of his major sports. He was the Panther receiver and captain of Crooms first baseball team—a squad he led in stolen bases. He would have grabbed the batting title except that he was nosed out by T. V. Davis who before his high school days was a battery for Hal Gruber's Sanford Giants of the Florida State League.
In June 1952, Dick enlisted in the U. S. Army and served in Japan and Korea. When he returned to the United States, he was assigned to

Drake Relays To Start Today With 2,500 Athletes

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—The 65th Drake Relays carnival opens today for some 2,500 athletes in probably rainy weather with the uncertain expectation that Loyola's mile star, Tom O'Hara, may or may not be pushed to a record performance.
O'Hara, who boasts the best mile time in Drake history, 4:02.4, in the anchor leg of the distance medley relay, won by Loyola last year, will get two chances to improve on this mark.
Today he'll run the anchor again for the Rambler relay team attempting to retain its title.

Drake Relays To Start Today With 2,500 Athletes

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—The 65th Drake Relays carnival opens today for some 2,500 athletes in probably rainy weather with the uncertain expectation that Loyola's mile star, Tom O'Hara, may or may not be pushed to a record performance.
O'Hara, who boasts the best mile time in Drake history, 4:02.4, in the anchor leg of the distance medley relay, won by Loyola last year, will get two chances to improve on this mark.
Today he'll run the anchor again for the Rambler relay team attempting to retain its title.

Evans Leads Crooms To 67 Wins In Past 71 Contests

By Robert Thomas
Crooms baseball coach, Dick Evans, has piloted the Panthers to victory in 67 of the 71 contests his charges have played under his leadership.
This is probably one of the most enviable records of any high school baseball mentor in Florida.
Evans is a 1932 graduate of Crooms. During his high school days he played three seasons on the Panther football team. He quarterbacked the 1931 squad—the only one in Crooms history to go undefeated.
But football was only one of his major sports. He was the Panther receiver and captain of Crooms first baseball team—a squad he led in stolen bases. He would have grabbed the batting title except that he was nosed out by T. V. Davis who before his high school days was a battery for Hal Gruber's Sanford Giants of the Florida State League.
In June 1952, Dick enlisted in the U. S. Army and served in Japan and Korea. When he returned to the United States, he was assigned to

In June 1952, Dick enlisted in the U. S. Army and served in Japan and Korea. When he returned to the United States, he was assigned to

DICK EVANS
Rattlers baseball team from 1935-39. In 1939 he was appointed baseball coach at his Alma Mater. Crooms had been without a team for three years. Therefore, he had to reorganize the entire program. This job was accomplished by plenty of hard work and careful planning. Results: 12 wins and one loss for the 1940 season.
Since that time under Evans' efficient leadership, Crooms baseballers have won 58 regular season games and lost only one. The lone defeat came at the hands of Campbell Street High of Daytona Beach by a score of 2-1 in 1950. The Panthers have finished in first place in overall state rating three out of four times.
In 1962 they won the state "A" championship defeating teams out of Tampa, St. Petersburg, and Miami. Last year the Panthers made a strong bid for championship honors but finished in the runnerup spot. Their state tournament record is 8 wins and 3 losses. The Overall record is 63 wins and four losses. Currently, they are undefeated and are on a three game winning streak.
Evans is quick to give all the credit to his players and the efficient help he has gotten from assistant coach, E. Bradley. "Our success lies in the boys having a burning desire to win, and are always eager to learn the fundamentals of the game," he said.
The Kansas City Athletics thought quite a bit of his keen analytical mind and appointed him as a scout for their talent hungry organization.

Nikita Demands Solution To Food Shortage

MOSCOW (UPI) — Top Kremlin officials, under orders of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, took over the urgent task today of finding a cure for Russia's grain and meat shortages.

Khrushchev gave a blue-ribbon committee exactly one month to come up with proposals for improving the country's farm methods, which he said were lagging far behind those of the United States.

The Soviet leader called for an end to bureaucratic bungling in farm management so that production of cattle, pigs and poultry can be boosted.

The executive orders were contained in a memorandum from Khrushchev Thursday night to the ruling Presidium of the Communist Party's Central Committee. The memorandum was accepted and approved by the Central Committee.

Among the party's top leaders named to the farm-improvement group were President Leonid Brezhnev, considered a top contender as Khrushchev's successor, and First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, the premier's principal troubleshooter.

Dixie Demos Angle For Attorney General Post

ATLANTA, (UPI) — A Georgia "grassroots" Democratic group is plotting a trade with national party leaders in hopes of getting Gov. Carl Sanders or some other southerner named U. S. Attorney General.

The strategy calls for offering support to President Johnson and whomever he chooses for a running mate in the forthcoming elections in exchange for a pledge by the newest auto seat cushion cools via forced air circulating through it. It operates on a little electric motor that plugs into the car's cigarette lighter.

Johnson concerning the Cabinet post.

Members of the group feel that after the probable enactment of the currently debated civil rights bill the man who becomes Attorney General will be of more crucial importance to the South than the Vice Presidency.

State Sen. Brooks Pennington, of Madison, was willing to act as spokesman for the plan to the extent of saying he had heard of it.

The idea sprang from a feeling that rank and file Georgia democrats dislike both Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy as potential vice presidential nominees, Pennington said.

They theorize Johnson would ignore southern dislikes in picking the vice presidential nominee but might well promise a southerner the attorney-generalship if that would help keep down southern revolts.

STATE SWINGING TO MATHEWS!

ENDORSE MATHEWS on basis of record and qualification . . .

Mathews Best Choice for Governor

Six men have offered for governor on the Democratic ticket. One of them is virtually certain to occupy the executive mansion in Tallahassee, Sift as you will through these names, match the candidates qualification for qualification and judge them personally by personality. One stands out above all the rest as best fitted, by background, experience, temperament and strength of character to serve as governor of Florida—John E. Mathews.

The first thing that impresses you about John Mathews is that he doesn't talk in curves. His platform isn't filled with gimmicks. He isn't promising pie in the sky. If the voters are looking for someone who will offer a basket of pledges which cannot be fulfilled, John Mathews is not their man.

This applause is not lightly given. Those who draw it are men of honor, intelligence and ability.

A look at some of the legislation Mathews has sponsored provides insight to the man's thought processes. He pushed a bill to guard against land-fraud advertising; a law to make doctors report cases of child abuse; a bill to curb the home improvements racket; legislation to enlarge state schools for mentally retarded children. He pressed for placement of government printing under the state purchasing law—an act which Mathews believes has saved the state some $20 million.

Obviously, Mathews doesn't believe in lulling voters to sleep with fiscal fairy tales. He promises economical government, sound administration — and an honest assessment of what might be necessary to keep Florida moving forward.

We like the frankness of this once-straight-A student, Navy veteran (Bronze Star), Methodist lay minister and devoted family man. We believe he is capable of providing the leadership our state needs, of presenting an attractive image to other parts of the nation and instilling confidence in Florida government.

Florida needs John Mathews and we recommend him as the most outstanding candidate for governor on the May 5 ballot.

He advocates solving racial disputes by keeping lines of communication open between the races and settling issues on a reasonable basis before they are taken into the streets.

OUR OWN CHOICE, after long consideration of the men and their records, is Senator Mathews.

Mr. Mathews has the advantage of having served in both houses. And, over-all, his record for effectiveness in the Legislature is better. He is the only legislator to have been voted in by men "most outstanding member" in both House and Senate. Although he represents a big county, and the urban view, he gets along well with small-county legislators.

His philosophy is middle-road. He is candid in discussion and he has the courage of his convictions. For example, although he is from a North Florida area strongly segregationist in sentiment, he was one of the leaders in the successful fight against bills which would have closed public schools to prevent integration. And he is the only gubernatorial candidate we know who went into Polk County, the phosphate center, and told the people he believed phosphate and mineral mines ought to pay a severance tax.

He believes in sound fiscal policies. He does not engage in the demagogue's game of voting for new appropriations and then voting against new taxes to meet them. After the scandal over extravagant borrowing and spending by the Turnpike Authority, he helped pass legislation tightening control over its activities and limiting fees to bond dealers handling state borrowings. He also pushed through the Legislature bills requiring competitive bids on state printing, at a saving estimated as high as $2 million a year.

Senator Mathews' public record and his personal history lead us to believe that he would, as Governor, give Florida the leadership its problems demand and its opportunities deserve.

Mathews For Governor

The Times strongly endorses Mathews for these reasons:
• Mathews will be a more effective governor than any of the other candidates.
• Mathews has the best record of accomplishments valuable to Florida.
• Mathews is the most knowledgeable candidate on Florida's problems and ways to solve them.
• Mathews has conducted the most forthright campaign.

Mathews is a political "doer," not a "promiser."
MATHEW HAS WON seven awards for effectiveness as a maker of laws, including The Times '61 and '63 citations as a most valuable member of the Legislature. His honors have been voted both by Florida newspaper editors and by legislators with whom he served.
For his outstanding work in the '63 session, Mathews has been called "the floor leader for good government."

This is the kind of leadership Florida needs in the governor's office.
On the critical issue of race relations, Mathews believes the governor's office should be a positive force. We think Mathews could create for Florida a new climate of harmonious racial progress.

Tucker Speaks For Oviedo HD Club

By Evelyn Lundy
County Agent Cecil Tucker was guest speaker for members of the Oviedo Home Demonstration Club at their April meeting held at the canning kitchen.

Tucker spoke on plants and their care and told of diseases most likely to occur at this time of year. He advised that perhaps the best insecticide to use for control of insects on plants around the home is malathion. However, he advised all members to exercise great caution when using this chemical as it can be very dangerous.

Pamphlets on spring gardening tips were distributed so that those not familiar with this section of the country will know what to plant during the month of April. Miss Myrtle Wilson, home demonstration agent, asked members if they would like to continue taking birthday cake to the USO each month and spoke briefly on civil defense preparedness. She suggested that members order a pin for the club president and reminded everyone of the knitting class to be held each Thursday morning in Sanford.

The next meeting of the Oviedo Club will be in Lake Mary when members will be guests of the Lake Mary Home Demonstration group. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish.

New officers of the Oviedo Club are Mrs. W. P. Carter, president; Mrs. Roger Smithson, second vice president; Miss Ruth Davidson, secretary; Mrs. Boyd Clontz, treasurer and Mrs. Lynn Mosier, delegate.

April 30 marks the starting date of Rexall's Original One Cent Sale at Touchton's Rexall Drug Store. This traditional sale, which has been termed "the greatest merchandising event in history," will feature scores of nationally advertised Rexall products, on sale at two for the regular price of one, plus a penny.

Glenn and Ernest, of Touchton's Rexall Drug Store, stated that this year's selection of items is geared to meet the needs of every member of the family. "Particular care has been taken to offer items that are useful during the spring and summer months. . . items for men, women and children, and many products for the home. Besides the many 1 cent Sale features, shoppers will also find plus-values in Surprise Buys which are not on the 1 cent Sale plan, but which were specially purchased for this event, to offer customers big savings!"

For over fifty consecutive years, Rexall 1 cent Sales have offered medicines, toiletries, household goods and personal needs, all at "2 for 1, plus a penny." The sale is being nationally advertised in newspapers and magazines, Sunday newspaper magazine sections, and on radio and television.

"As a special feature of the 1 cent sale, many of our customers will want to use our Advance Shopping Lists. These are now available at our store. Customers may simply check off the items they want and leave the order for us to fill. On the opening day of the sale, or any time during the ten sale days, they can come in and pick up their orders, thus saving time as well as nearly 50 per cent on 1 cent Sale purchases. There is still time for those who prefer to shop this easy way, but they'll have to hurry." The sales starts next Thursday.

WROUGHT IRON LAWN FURNITURE, posts and railings are featured in the Industrial Show Exhibit by the Stine Machine and Supply Company. Also on display are the items of home lawn and garden equipment manufactured by the firm.

Stop Reading Word By Word

A Strong Case For The Nutshell

Written for NEA
Time your reading of this column and compare your speed with that indicated at the end. The expected speed assumes a daily five per cent improvement.

The nastiest questions you can ask someone who doesn't know what he's talking about are:

"Would you outline your position?"
"How would you sum it all up?"

Both methods betray fraud and ignorance, reveal honesty and knowledge. In the final analysis, if you know how to outline, you know how to summarize. There's no substantial difference.

1. When to read summaries? Every chance you get. In assigned course reading, if your text has chapter or section summaries, read all of them before you read the book. Before you read Chapter 1, read its summary first and then again after you've completed the chapter. Do that with all the chapters in the book. Once you've read the whole book, go back and read nothing but summaries.

2. Why read summaries? Reading all summaries before you read the book is pre-reading and you're an expert now on the benefits of pre-reading. Reading the summary of a chapter before you read the chapter is, again, pre-reading. Reading a summary after you've read the chapter and reading all summaries after you've finished the book organizes the essential knowledge for you; if you missed something in your reading, the summaries will tell you.

3. How to read summaries? If the book is assigned, read summaries for pre-reading purposes and for organizing what you've read. If the book is not required, the summary may be enough knowledge; it may tell you the book isn't worth the bother; it may tell you what parts of the book are worth thorough reading.

4. When to write summaries? When you're required to; when the knowledge will serve a present or future purpose; for practice. You may personally never have to write a summary after you leave school, but you'll never escape the need of a neat, summarizing mind.

5. Why write summaries? Summarizing imposes an obligation on you (before you read) to secure thorough knowledge. Summarizing forces you to distinguish essential from incidental. Summarizing (as with taking notes) helps you remember knowledge in your own words. Summarizing saves you time because, when you later refer to your own summary, all that matters of your former reading comes back to you. Summarizing of present reading enriches future reading—and vice versa. Before you read a new book in physics, read your summaries of old reading. You will bring a solid background with you to make the new reading easier, faster, more fruitful. The new reading, in turn, will add depth to old knowledge.

6. How to write summaries? If you've taken notes the way The Reading Laboratory recommends (see "Some Notes on Taking Notes") and have made an outline (see "The Outline — A Simple File for Mind's Knowledge"), all you need do is this. Try, if possible, to devote only one paragraph to each of the outline's main headings and convert your divisions and subdivisions into the sentences of that paragraph. If the volume is fairly thick, you may have to devote a paragraph not only to each main heading of your outline, but also to each of its main divisions.

If the book took 10 large steps (chapters) to make its point, you take no more than 10 very short steps. But make the same point.

You should have read this column in 90 seconds. (NEXT: Test Night: A Review.)

Bear Lake Garden Circle Wins Honor

By Maryann Miles
The Bear Lake Garden Circle won first place for its entry in the recent Orlando Garden Club Table Show.

Theme for the entry was an informal Washington, D. C., table setting. Carrying out the national colors, a red linen cloth was used with blue napkins. A centerpiece arrangement of blue delphinium and white candytuft, in a blue salad bowl container complemented the all white dishes. Low footed crystal glasses were used.

Members in charge of the arrangement were Mrs. Charles Duncan, Mrs. Herschel Chapman, Mrs. Richard Ostrander and Mrs. C. L. Brunk.

Following are the "platforms" of the three "candidates" in their respective bids for your vote:

Ex-Marine Held In LBJ Threat

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A 29-year-old ex-Marine and former mental patient was arrested at San Francisco city prison Thursday on charges of threatening to kill President Johnson during the Democratic National Convention at Atlantic City next August. Secret Service agents said the suspect, Michael Vaughn Cramer, was arrested at the prison where he had been held since March 20 on a variety of charges. Agents said Cramer admitted mailing a four-page, hand-printed letter from Reno on March 12 threatening the President.

An International Flavor Imparted With Navy Beans

Let's take a look at navy beans as they are used in countries other than America. Popular as they are here, hundreds of thousands of pounds of American grown beans go abroad each year.

Miss Isola Williams, assistant nutritionist, Florida Agricultural Extension Service, says no matter where you go, you're likely to find favorite dishes featuring these little white beans.

Here are some recipes with an international flavor you'll enjoy trying at home:

WIENER BARK

From Germany
1 lb. wieners
1 can (1 lb. 12 oz.) baked beans
½ cup applesauce
1.8 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup ketchup
1/4 teaspoon sage

Salt and pepper to taste
Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Cut half the wieners into bite-size pieces, reserving remaining links for garnish. Combine ingredients and pour into 1 1/2 qt. baking dish. Arrange whole wieners on top. Bake 30 minutes. Yield: 4-5 servings.

FALAFEL

1 cup cooked or canned navy beans drained or pureed
1/4 cup fine cracker crumbs
1 tablespoon finely minced onion
1/2 teaspoon mashed garlic
1 egg beaten
3/4 cup cracker crumbs for topping

Salt to taste, only if needed
Combine beans with 1/4 cup crumbs, onion and garlic. Shape into tiny balls. Dip balls in egg, then roll in remaining crumbs. Drop into deep oil at 375 degrees until golden and crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot. Yield: about 30 balls.

JENNIE'S CASSEROLE

From England comes
1 lb navy beans
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon molasses
2 cloves garlic, crushed
2 tablespoons tomato puree
1/2 lb. bacon, cut in 1" slices
2 cups beef bouillon

Casselberry Personals

By Jane Casselberry
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kryder of Lake Drive were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown and Mrs. Valie Knox of Mt. Dora.

Paul Bates and Leonard Casselberry of Casselberry Utilities are attending a short course this week at the University of Florida in Gainesville.

Mrs. Willis Benson, formerly of Casselberry and now living in Kodiak Island, Alaska, has written friends that she and her family survived the devastating earthquakes and tidal waves which struck the island. She finds the after shocks, which are almost a daily occurrence, rather nerve wracking, and has been told that they will probably continue for another two years.

Democratic Women's Club Hosts County Candidates

The Democratic Women's Club of Seminole County was host to the county democratic candidates at a coffee Sunday, April 19, at the Sanford Woman's Club.

Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, retiring president, explained the policy of the Democratic Women's Club and stressed that the club does not endorse any one candidate in the primaries. However, in the general election, where there is party opposition, the members support the Democratic candidate.

Mrs. Reynolds introduced Mrs. Eva Palm, vice president of the Fifth Congressional District, and Mrs. Palm conducted the installation of officers.

Officers installed were Mrs. Catherine Gehr, president; Mrs. Florence Gilmartin, vice president; Mrs. Lillian Sewers, secretary, and Mrs. Dolores Anderson, treasurer.

Ten new members were welcomed to the club and the Democratic candidates were individually introduced.

After the pleasant coffee hour members enjoyed an open discussion with the candidates.

The newest April-shower coats make great use of reversible and double-faced fabrics.

"Lilies Of The Field" At Cinema

Sidney Poitier, who recently won the Academy Award "Oscar" as the best actor in 1963, stars in Ralph Nelson's "Lilies of the Field," which opened Thursday at the Seminole Cinema. It will run through April 29. If you're after authenticity when you're making a picture about a guy beating around the Arizona desert in a jalopy station wagon, get a guy who beats around the Arizona desert in a jalopy station wagon. It's as easy as that, and that's how Nelson did it when he started making his three-award-winner "Lilies of the Field," under the United Artists aegis. Poitier, it so happens, is the guy who beats it around the desert in the jalopy in "Lilies of the Field," heart-warming, often gay and always tender tale of an ex-GI who meets five refugee nuns in the desert and helps them build a chapel. It is from the famous William Barrett novel of the same name.

BETWEEN A WIFE who scorns him for his fish-keeping hobby, and the wife's ex-beau who has come to visit, Mr. Limpet tries to be casual. Scene involving Carole Cook as the wife, Don Knotts as Limpet and Jack Weston as the ex-beau is from "The Incredible Mr. Limpet," new Warner Bros. comedy-with-music in Technicolor now showing at the Ritz Theatre through Monday.

Lesson In Democracy

One of the most outstanding success stories in American history has been written by the Issei—Japanese immigrants who came to America early in the century.

For the first time, a study is being made of these people who have done much to enrich American economic and cultural life. It will probably be the last such study, for most of them are of advanced age.

The University of California, supported by funds from the Carnegie Corp. and the Japanese-American Citizens League, will collect first-hand accounts of Issei experiences in the United States. This will be followed up by a later survey of their children and grandchildren, the Nisei.

Most minority groups have suffered discrimination and injustice upon their arrival in the United States, but none more so than the Issei. They met not only social discrimination, but in many states laws prevented them even from owning property. They could not become citizens, so were barred from occupations and professions requiring citizenship for license or membership.

In a dark page of American history, both Issei and Nisei were uprooted from their homes at the outbreak of World War II and interned behind barbed wire—this when we were fighting against the very idea of concentration camps.

Many Nisei, however, served with valor and distinction in World War II, and later in Korea, winning proportionately more battle decorations than any other ethnic group.

In 1952, with the passage of the McCarran-Walter Immigration and Nationality Act, the Issei were finally admitted to citizenship.

Far from being bitter about their treatment, the Issei have raised their children to be loyal and productive citizens. Juvenile delinquency among the Nisei is virtually nonexistent.

The Issei have taught us all a lesson in democracy.

Thought For Today

What am I to do? I will pray with the spirit and I will pray with the mind also; I will sing with the spirit and I will sing with the mind also.—1 Cor. 14:15.

As a physician, I have seen men, after all other therapy had failed, lifted out of disense and melancholy by the serene effort of prayer.—Dr. Alexis Carrel.

The Last Full Measure of Devotion

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Trends Point Upward

United Press International Government spending, tax collections and the public debt in the current 1964 fiscal year are running well ahead of a year ago.

When the Treasury closed its books on the first nine months of fiscal '64, it reported withdrawals of $94 billion, deposits of $87.1 billion and a public debt of $310 billion. That was as of March 31.

The corresponding figures for the first nine months of fiscal '63 were: withdrawals $89.6 billion; deposits $81.7 billion; public debt $303 billion. Withdrawals approximate government spending. Deposits approximate tax collections. The public debt shows precisely how much beyond its income the government has been living. Interest on the public debt is estimated to be $10.7 billion this year.

Spending and debt trends definitely are upward. This is a Kennedy-Johnson fiscal year for which neither President is wholly responsible. President Johnson holds that he has made big reductions in expenditures originally planned for fiscal 1965. Republican critics contend that this has been achieved more by artistic bookkeeping and by shifting expenditures into the current fiscal year than by true economy.

The outcome of this argument will be determined largely on the final figures for fiscal 1965, which will not be available until after June 30 of that year. Meantime, there is a red-ink flood tide. John F. Kennedy took office as President on Jan. 20, 1962. On Jan. 19 that year—the last day of the second Eisenhower administration—the public debt was approximately $290 billion. The 1961 interest was approximately $8.9 billion.

From the day JFK took office to the day he was shot, the public debt increased to $307.7 billion. From that later day until March 31 of this year, the public debt increased to $310 billion. The Johnson budget estimates that interest on the public debt in the current fiscal year will be $10.7 billion and that it will rise to $11.1 billion next year. This is likely to prove to be an underestimate.

To comprehend the enormity of the cost of the interest burden imposed by the public debt, consider: The average annual expenditure in each of the four years of Franklin D. Roosevelt's first New Deal administration was only $0.5 billion. In fiscal years 1933-34-35-36, FD spent $2.1 billion and he was beginning to be denounced as a spendthrift

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE S-447: Betty M., aged 12, lost her daddy in Korea. Betty doesn't even remember him. But she has a wonderful mother who registered a year ago with our SMF (Scientific Marriage Foundation).

The IBM machine found a congenial man with the same religion, hobbies, ideas, etc. So they were given each other's names and urged to correspond for awhile till they got acquainted by mail.

In three months they met in person, being introduced at church on Sunday by the local pastor, who is one of our 2-500 Clergymen Counselors. Three months later, they were married and Betty for the first time in her life had both a daddy and mother in the home.

A few weeks later, Betty was bubbling over with such joy at the breakfast table that her mother even asked her why she was so happy.

"Oh, Mother," Betty replied, "I just have to pinch myself every morning just to make sure it isn't all a beautiful dream from which I'll wake up!"

Betty referred to her elation in having a normal home with two devoted parents! Before last Christmas holiday, the SMF received a letter from a school principal in a large Illinois city.

He had lost his wife from cancer, leaving him two little girls, now in the 2nd and 4th grades.

The SMF introduced him to a congenial young widow whose husband had lost his life in an auto wreck, leaving her with two daughters now in the 3rd and 5th grades.

When these two young parents met and fell in love, their daughters seemed delighted to be gaining new sisters. "But, Dr. Crane," the principal wrote, "what impresses me most acutely is the extra delight of my wife's two little girls."

"They were toddlers when their daddy was killed so they can't even remember him. So this is the first Christmas season they have ever known where they will have both a daddy and mother together in their home."

"And they are so elated and excited that they are floating on clouds. In fact, I actually think they are more excited at having two parents than at Santa's coming next week."

"Thousands of former half-orphaned youngsters are regaining happiness, thanks to the SMF.

And thousands of new babies are being born to the culture, topnotch type of couples who are marrying for the first time via the Scientific Marriage Foundation.

American newspapers deserve the credit, for they gave me the original publicity needed to start the SMF.

Obviously, not all the members of the SMF get introduced to congenial partners, for there is an excess of men up to the age of 35, but then women begin to outnumber men by as much as 3 to 1.

But the SMF is a non-profit, Interfaith foundation that is valiantly trying to help produce happy marriage. All of our Board Members donate our time and reputations to keep it going.

Send for the "SMF Questionnaire and Booklet," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c, if you want more data.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — In California, hate literature aimed at Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York is beginning to turn up as he battles Sen. Barry Goldwater for the state's 86 convention votes.

Some of it was seen on the UCLA campus in Los Angeles on the occasion of the governor's recent visit there. The dominant theme, a favorite with extremist fringe, is that the liberal Rockefeller is linked with the Communists.

As the campaign waxes, California's many sizable pockets of right-wing extremism can be expected to feed the flow. The net effect will be to color even more darkly the already bitter conservative-liberal struggle for power within the state's GOP forces.

It was not realized at the time, but anti-Rockefeller hate literature was dumped into New Hampshire in the last 10 days or so of that campaign.

Reports from postmasters and others indicate that voters in Concord, Charlestown and Claremont in the Granite State were among the recipients.

Especially ample distribution of this material was noted in Claremont.

A typical exhibit: Soviet Premier Khrushchev extending both arms in a broad, smiling greeting to Rockefeller at a New York hotel on the occasion of the Russian's 1959 U. S. visit. The picture is captioned simply, "Rockefeller Meets Khrushchev."

In a series of crudely drawn sketches assailing the governor, one shows him hitting at a table with such celebrated dictators as Stalin, Hitler and Mussolini.

A single-page document titled "Nelson Rockefeller's Qualifications for the Presidency—of the U.S.S.R." calls him a "dedicated trillionaire Red."

This sheet, written by an Emanuel M. Josephson, asserts that the Rockefeller family launched communism as a Russian movement in order to gain control of oil in Russia's Baku fields.

"The deal that they made with Stalin for that purpose in 1928 still rules the world," says the pamphlet's author. The total catalog of sins assigned to Rockefeller in this indictment compares favorably with the volume of charges assessed against the Catholic church in the huge hate campaign directed at the late President Kennedy in 1960.

Finger any trouble anywhere on earth in this century and, in Josephson's view, you are pointing to a Rockefeller plot.

There appears no limit to the range of these materials. According to another hate piece, the governor eliminated the dating of milk containers in New York to "facilitate the sale of sour milk" and increase the profits of his "family's milk trust."

This same document attempts to cast doubt on the governor's sanity. Fastening on a quoted comment of the first Mrs. Rockefeller that "only Nelson thinks he knows" what a certain abstract painting of his really means, the pamphleteer writes: "Rocky 'nuts,' says wife: Friends of (the first) Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller report that she says . . . that 'he does not know his own mind; he thinks he sees things that no one else sees.'"

The assumption of responsible voters and politicians is that when the stuff is this bad its falls of its own weight. But the unhappy evidence of past campaigns suggest that even some of the weirdest fancies often help to poison the political air seriously.

That danger now confronts the campaigners in the hard California struggle.

Larson Warns Of Mail Order Insurance

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 24.—The Federal Reserve Board today warned that mail order insurance companies are not as reliable as they appear to be. The board's statement, issued in a report on the insurance industry, says that many of these companies are "fly-by-night" operations that have sprung up in the wake of the recent boom in mail order business.

The board's report, which is the first of its kind, says that many of these companies are "fly-by-night" operations that have sprung up in the wake of the recent boom in mail order business. Senkavik Hurts Second Shoutout

Senkavik, the star of the "Senkavik" column, is back in the saddle after a brief absence. The column, which is a satirical take on the life of a professional athlete, returns with a new set of adventures. Senkavik's latest escapade involves a wild game of catch with a hot date, which leads to a hilarious and somewhat painful conclusion.

OUR ANCESTORS

A satirical cartoon strip titled "OUR ANCESTORS" depicts a man in a top hat and formal attire, likely representing a member of the aristocracy, in a conversation with a more common-looking man. The dialogue is filled with witty remarks and social commentary on class differences and the behavior of the upper class.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

The "OUR BOARDING HOUSE" strip features a man and a woman in a domestic setting, possibly a boarding house. The dialogue is humorous and focuses on the quirks of daily life and the relationship between the two characters.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every parent should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Don't forget Tippy's treat!" Even if we're a bit late leaving for church, Susan and Mark must take their paper bag of surprises for Tippy the squirrel. Tippy lives in the park beside the church, and he's one of many happy, heart-warming things that our family looks forward to on Sundays.

We are rearing our children in the Christian faith because we know from our own experience how much it means to young people growing up. Without a right sense of values, youngsters are so likely to get into trouble.

Already Susan and Mark are learning to trust in the loving protection of God, and to turn to Him with their little problems. Through the stories of Jesus they are beginning to understand what it means to follow Him. We pray that this childhood pattern will strengthen and form a steadfast foundation for the whole of their lives. No parents could ask for more.

Sanford saw only the fun side of the two-day visit of the Shriners . . . the serious (and closed to the public) side was Saturday afternoon when 100 candidates "walked the hot sands." In other words, 100 Masons also became Shriners in an initiation at Seminole High School.

On the fun side, some visiting Shriners paraded ducks and donkeys. Among other places they called at Penney's . . . and the ducks left their "trade marks." The donkeys were trick animals . . . trained to buck and throw anyone who tried to ride them.

Cotton Brown was worn to a frazzle Sunday . . . he kept his restaurant open on a 24-hour basis for the convenience of the Shriners.

Capt. Arnold Williams and Lt. Ben Butler, police officers and Shriners, started the shenanigans Friday afternoon by handcuffing John Kader to a pole on West First Street. It wasn't ever learned what John promised to gain his freedom.

Which reminds of an item on the police blotter: Roger Garner called, asked an officer to get his keys from his car at the Florida State Bank parking lot Friday evening and let him out of the bank building. The charwoman had locked him in.

Going back to "Cracker Days," we've just learned that Betty Weber really got into the spirit of the occasion . . . she wore an honest-to-goodness cracker on a string around her neck. Part of that day, that is, because she nibbled on it until it was consumed.

FYI, the "Clock Winder" and "R. E. Porter" are NOT one and the same.

Citizens of Osteen have incorporated their civic association and named Nick Pfeiffauf as president. To raise funds for the construction of a building the group will present a talent show Tuesday at the DeBary Community Center. Chester Hearick is president of the DeBary Civic Association.

The blurb about the automobile sticker with "Blount for County Judge" brought a number of replies about Uriel Blount, of DeLand, running for Volusia County judge. Now Mrs. Marshall Werner telephones that in her home town R. E. (Peppy) Blount is running for county judge of Gregg County, Tex.

The Sanford Garden Club is planting the planter boxes in the downtown section with petunias. Fertilizer is also being added, says club officials. Now, all the merchants have to do, they say, is to keep the plants watered.

Memo to Jim Hardy: Every day and all day the same automobile is parked next to a "no parking" sign in the alley adjacent to the court house.

Some time ago the "Clock" requested the loan of a women's bathing habit of the 1900 vintage. One was brought in but was about four sizes too big for our pretty model. Now Mrs. Katherine Ladd, of Geneva, informs us that in their own days the women made their own bathing costumes . . . and she has a book of patterns.

—The Clock Winders

Gone But Not Forgotten

The hands and noisemakers, the colors and color of the Shriners of the Bahia Temple are gone. But Sanford was well into Sunday morning before the city returned to normal and the majority of some 5,000 Shriners and their ladies had departed. But while they were here Sanford came to life. The whole show was kicked off Friday night with a concert at Magnolia and First Streets. Noisy vehicles of every size, description and shape, bulging with happy Shriners, roamed the city's streets.

But the big show came Saturday morning when the Shrine ceremonial parade was held. Visitors reported they had to park as far away as Sixth and Seventh streets as thousands converged on the downtown section. The Mayfair Inn, ceremonial headquarters, was overflowing most of the time the Shriners were here. So were drug stores and restaurants, all over the city. Some remained open 24 hours to serve the visitors.

Saturday noon a Moslem feast was attended by thousands of the Shriners at the Shrine Club Building. The big event—not open to the public—was the "hot sands" initiation ceremony held at the Seminole High School Saturday afternoon. The entire festivities were closed out at a Temple ball Saturday night at the Mayfair Inn with new nobles and their ladies as the honored guests at the event.

Heading the list of Shrine officials was Harold H. Kastner of Sanford, the Bahia Temple's illustrious Potentate. Monday morning Kastner said, "It couldn't have gone off better." He paid special tribute to the city and county commissions for their cooperation. "I want to especially mention Mayor A. L. Wilson of Sanford for his work and participation in the event and also Roy Williams, Sanford police chief," Williams is president of the Sanford Shrine Club, host to the ceremonial.

In Return, He Pledges Same From Regime

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson called upon the nation's business leaders today to exercise restraint in decisions they make which affect general economic well-being. He pledged in return that the government, too, would offer "restraint and responsibility—a hand that means only to help and never to hinder so long as the public interest is being served."

Johnson's remarks were prepared for delivery to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce at its 32nd annual meeting here. The President, in his call for business restraint, did not specifically mention his previous request for a hold-the-line policy on prices and wages to avoid a new inflationary spiral.

But, in pledging government restraint and responsibility, he told the chamber: "I ask from you only the same-restraint in those decisions you make which affect the general economic well-being, responsibility in choosing to support or not support the policies and proposals of your government which serves all the people."

Johnson took jocular note of what traditionally has been a pro-Republican complexion to the chamber. "I suppose it might not be entirely accurate to greet you as 'my fellow Democrat,'" John said. "But I am proud to welcome you to your city—as, my fellow Americans."

That was Johnson's opening line. And his closing line was that he "must get back to your work at the White House and leave you to go back to work on me."

Drowned Man's Body Sent Home

Body of Graves Howard McElvain, 40, of Orlando, Seminole County's first drowning victim of 1964, was forwarded by Niblack Funeral Home to Dothan, Ala., for funeral services. Sheriff J. L. Hobby reported this morning that McElvain drowned Saturday noon in Lake Orlena when a dredge boat he was operating capsized.

Termites Gnaw At City Fathers

The termites are swarming . . . according to the agenda for tonight's City Commission session. Principal item on the brief agenda is consideration of steps to be taken to control termites at the Civic Center.

Court To Look At Florida Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. Supreme Court agreed today to examine a Florida law which forbids a man and woman not of the same race to "habitually . . . occupy in the nighttime the same room."

The court will hear the case sometime this term and will follow with a written opinion. The Florida Supreme Court upheld validity of the statute on May 1, 1963.

The case arose from the arrest in Miami Beach of Dewey McLaughlin, identified at the trial as a Negro man, and Connie Hoffman, identified as a white woman. McLaughlin, a Spanish-speaking native of Honduras, was a hotel employee. The police came to the apartment where they were staying after the owner, Mrs. Dora Goodnick, reported the situation to authorities.

The case was brought to the supreme court by the legal defense fund of the NAACP. The appeal contended that the constitutional rights of the couple were violated because the law "created a crime expressly defined in terms of race."

A New Miss Seminole Reigns

MISS ANN MAHAN, a Seminole High School senior, was named Miss Seminole County for 1964 during the Saturday night finals of the beauty contest sponsored by the Sanford Civitan Club and held in connection with the County Chamber of Commerce's Industrial Show. Placing the crown on Miss Mahan's head is Miss Seminole County of 1963, Miss Candi Conder.

Miss Seminole County for 1964 is Miss Ann Mahan, 110 pound, 5-foot-5 brunette Seminole High School senior, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mahan of 450 Elliott Avenue, Sanford.

Miss Mahan was crowned after six beautiful young ladies vied for the honor during the Saturday night finals of the contest sponsored by the Sanford Civitan Club and held in connection with the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce's Industrial Show.

The first runner-up was Miss Maria Jones, an 18-year-old Lyman High School senior who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Jones of Altamonte Springs. The second runner-up was Miss Pat Grimley of Sanford, a 17-year-old Seminole High student who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Grimley of Sanford. Other finalists were Miss Sharon Williams, Kathy Butler and Nancy Pincock.

Miss Mahan, whose vital statistics measure 36-23-36, is interested in a nursing career. She is a member of the Candy Stripers at Seminole Memorial Hospital. Her hobbies include modeling, twirling and water skiing.

Miss Mahan, along with Miss Jones and Miss Grimley, will represent Seminole County in the Seaside Fiesta to be held in New Smyrna next Sunday. Miss Mahan will be sponsored by the Civitan Club and Miss Grimley by Dearborn Electronics. Miss Mahan's selection as Miss Seminole County entitles her to an all-expense trip to the New York World's Fair.
