Democrats Refuse To Hear Testimony On GOP Tax Motion

House Committee Declines To Consider GOP Substitute For Excess Profits Tax

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—House Ways and Means Committee Democrats refused today to hear testimony on a Republican-proposed substitute for the Administration's $4,000,000,000 excess profits tax plan.

By vote of 15 to 10—the party division on the committee—the group rejected a motion by Rep. Reed of New York that business witnesses be allowed to give their views on alternative proposals.

Reed, top Republican on the committee, has proposed a substitute plan that would be a taxpayer compute his excess profits tax by applying a 27 per cent rate on normal net income and a 28 per cent surtax on excess income over $25,000.

The Administration proposes a 75 per cent tax on profits determined to be excessive when compared with 1946-1949 earnings. Today's committee vote reiterated a previous ruling that witnesses must confine their testimony to excess profits taxation.

Within that limitation, business spokesmen opposing an excess profits tax have confined their testimony to suggestions on how such a tax should be framed if there must be one.

Reed made his motion at Charles J. Sligh, Jr., chairman of the taxation committee of the National Association of Manufacturers, testified.

Phone Strike Ends In Compromise As Employees Return

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—More than 33,000 telephone employees return to work across the country today under compromise settlements that ended their 11-day strike against the Bell Telephone System.

The agreements were reached yesterday in New York and Detroit, where federal mediators had been seeking peace in the pay and contract dispute.

The big break came here at the end of a 25-hour marathon bargaining session between Bell's telephone employees and Division 6 of the CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA), representing 11,000 equipment installers.

Within a few hours, parallel settlements were announced here between Western Electric and 6,000 Maintenance and Warehousemen in Division 18; in Detroit between the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and 17,000 members of CWA division 15; and in Haverhill, Mass., between Western Electric and 700 division 6 plant workers.

The companies both are subsidiaries of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., the parent Bell corporation.

AT&T said that aside from some local interruptions, it maintained nearly normal service throughout the strike.

The Union claimed a strike victory. The companies called the settlements "fair—11 to 9 to the workers" in the Michigan dispute.

In the compromise, both sides actually receded from their hard-and-fast strike positions.

In the key Western Electric dispute, the union had demanded a 15-cent hourly raise, but accepted a 12-cent raise.

RUSSIAN TREACHERY
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—British charged today the Soviet Union actually does not want the Chinese Communists seated in the United Nations, where they would have wide contacts with the non-Communist world.

Addressing the General Assembly, British minister of state Kenneth Younger said many governments now share Britain's view of Soviet motives. He said Soviet moves, presumably designed to give the Chinese Reds representation in the U. N., are made in such a form as to assure majority opposition.

STANDING ON WATER
LEONARDO, N. J., Nov. 20.—(AP)—A man standing up to his waist in 18 feet of water two miles away waved at Nick Tortorella Saturday.

Tortorella waved back as the fishing cruiser he was on charged past. Nick let out a yell.

The boat stopped and a line was thrown to Albert Piek. He told his rescuers his boat was swamped and he had been standing on the floating raft for three hours waiting for help.

Machine Gunned His Wife's Family

After killing five and wounding four members of his estranged wife's family, former GI Ernest Ingento, 26, poses in police custody at Vineland, New Jersey. The World War veteran, crazed by domestic troubles, tried to wipe out the relatives of his wife, Tessie, 23, who was critically wounded in a machine gun rampage of her husband. Murderer Of Five Father Nachtrab Eats 1st Meal To End Hunger Strike

WOODBURY, N. J., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Ernest Ingento, dark-haired young appliance salesman who killed five persons and wounded four in a savage effort to wipe out his estranged wife's family, ended today the hunger strike he began Saturday in a prison cell.

Warden William Molineaux of the Gloucester County Prison said Ingento, 26, ate breakfast this morning and appeared in a "very good mood." The breakfast, Molineaux added, included prunes, fruit juice, coffee and toast.

Ingento, steadily chain-smoking cigarettes, was talking freely with guards, but has not discussed the killings, the warden said. The conversation is mostly about his work as a television salesman and repairman, and about other jobs.

Ingento, a World War Two veteran, is not permitted to see any visitors, and has not asked to see an attorney.

The prisoner had refused food since he was jailed after the 20-minute massacre Friday night. The hunger strike, however, had not endangered his health, Molineaux said, and Ingento has made no further suicide attempts.

The slim young gunman has been under the constant surveillance of two guards at all times, the warden said, partly because of an attempt he made to take his own life with a razor a few moments before he was seized by state police after an automobile chase. The wounds he inflicted in his left wrist were superficial.

Father Nachtrab Leaves Sanford To Become Pastor In Lake Wales

The Rev. Father William Nachtrab, pastor of All Souls Catholic Church since 1941, will leave Friday to assume his new duties as pastor of the Church of the Holy Spirit, Lake Wales.

He received the appointment Tuesday in St. Augustine from Bishop Thomas McDonough, and was one of 25 pastors moved in the diocese.

The move came out of consideration for his health, age, and service in the diocese, he declared. Born in Toledo, Ohio, July 2, 1883, he was ordained there as a priest 34 years ago, and came to Florida for his health. He had attended St. Johns University at Toledo, and received a degree in biology at St. Mary's College in Baltimore, Md.

His successor will be the Rev. Father Anthony McGowan, chaplain of St. Mary's Hospital at West Palm Beach.

Father Nachtrab, who has lived at the rectory at 217 West Seventeenth Street for the past nine years, came to Sanford from Lake Worth and previously had served at Loretta, Fla., Jacksonville and Fernandina.

During his pastorate here, All Souls Church has practically doubled its membership which is between 900 and 1,000 he revealed. The church at Lake Wales has a smaller membership, with not so much work to do, he pointed out, has a new rectory and is free of debt.

Father Nachtrab termed Sanford a town of friendly people, told of his enjoyment in living here, and added, "I hate to leave, but my health demands it."

McCloy Warns Soviet About Plane Flights

Commissioner Denies Soviet Accusation That U. S. Fighters Hit Red Transport

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 20.—(AP)—U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy threatened today to restrict flights by Soviet aircraft over West Germany.

The threat came in a rejection of the Soviet charge that an American jet patrol had "attacked" a Soviet aircraft carrying French Communist leader Maurice Thorez to Moscow.

That plane, said McCloy, had violated virtually all usual flight procedures. He added:

"I must advise you that if such violations of the rules of the air recur, I shall be forced to reconsider conditions under which flights of this nature are authorized."

McCloy described the Soviet charge as "completely unjustified."

The Russians had charged that an American jet on Nov. 11 came within 10 yards of the plane taking Thorez to Moscow for medical treatment. A U. S. Air Force spokesman said later that the Russian plane had not identified itself to the Frankfurt airport and the American plane had approached the craft, but no closer than 500 feet, to identify it.

McCloy's sharply worded letter to General Vasily Chulov, Soviet ambassador in Germany, also recommended that you take immediate steps to prevent the recurrence of such gross negligence or incompetence on the part of Soviet pilots overflying the U. S. Zone.

The U. S. official also expressed "surprise that this ineffectual performance on the part of the Soviet pilot had been the occasion for a formal complaint on your part."

McCloy said the Soviet pilot "by his irresponsible conduct in flying over the zone through one of the most thickly populated air spaces in all Europe endangered the lives not only of the passengers on his own plane—but also of the lives of hundreds of people on board other aircraft."

Meanwhile, West German Socialists—former opponents of the state of Hesse and Westphalia—boasted Western defense won a thumping weekend election victory in the American occupation zone.

Voters in two states snubbed the powerful Christian Democrats, who dominate the federal West German government and have urged German reunification.

Seven Houses Go Up In Flames In Midway Section

Disaster Is Avoided By Quick Action Of Fire Department

Seven closely grouped one-story frame houses were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin last night at 6:30 o'clock near Bradford Avenue in a densely populated section of Midway, two miles east of Sanford.

Only the prompt action of Chief M. N. Cleveland, who sent firemen and two booster trucks to the scene, prevented a major fire disaster in the Midway area, where the water supply comes from small wells.

The hot flames had already set fire to a number of small houses across the street, but the fire gained but little headway there and the firemen were able to put it out.

Also menaced by the hot blaze of the burning units, was the nearby two-story home of Hattie Ashley, elderly Negroes and owner of the properties where she had rented tenants. About 40 feet from the fire was the back of Veino's Grocery, a two-story building facing on Bradford Avenue. The paint on the building was blistered by the heat.

A hundred feet from the fire, other buildings, including the Sanctified Church, and a Tavern were endangered by the blaze. The church service light fell on to the heat of flames and sparks, and the Tavern remained crowded with pleasure seekers, while but a short distance away, men were hurrying with buckets of water from a slowly trickling well to refill the tanks of the booster trucks.

About all firemen could do, with the small supplies of water available, was to prevent the spread of the fire, which had been ignited a telephone pole. Luckily there was but little breeze at the time.

The nearby area was jammed with parked automobiles, and almost the entire population of Midway was present to see the fire.

7th Division Advances Rapidly On Border Town Of Hyesanjin

Tanks Terrific Red

SEOUL, Nov. 20.—(AP)—American infantry pushed by tanks surged down a snow-covered North Korean valley late today within two miles of the Manchurian border.

A 10th Corps spokesman said leading units of the U. S. Seventh Division were only two miles from their goal, the border town of Hyesanjin at 4 P. M.

He said the troops probably would wait until Tuesday before pressing into the town.

Red resistance, sporadic to light earlier, dwindled to "practically none" by late afternoon, the officer said.

Monday's push carried the troops 11 air miles closer to the border. The advance represented a "challenging march of more than 15 miles over the winding road through Korea's northeastern mountains.

British commandos moved up to join U. S. Marines in a push through the central mountains.

Simultaneously the commander of the Philippines battalion in the U. N. force asked that his outfit be returned home because it was not fighting as a unit. The Filipinos are guarding a vital supply line with the U. S. 18th Airborne regiment.

U. S. Ambassador John J. Muccio just returned from Washington, said "The New Menace" (Red China) would not check the determination of U. N. commanders "to see the thing through." He added, "Korea's freedom is on the line." (Continued on Page Three)

Conference Told Nation's Industry Disperses Rapidly

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Industry is dispersing itself over the country "at a tremendous rate" and the atom bomb menace has nothing to do with it, a businessmen's conference was told today.

Roland R. Randall of Philadelphia, former president of the Society of Industrial Realtors, cautioned that it would be unwise to halt industrial growth in any section because of a bomb threat.

The opening session of a two-day convention was held at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel here for the three day meet.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The big march on the battle front was by the Seventh Division spearhead toward the border.

Advances also were reported in three other sectors:

U. S. Marines moved two miles up the east shore of the great Changjin reservoir of central Korea. South Koreans fought up the northeast coast under cover of American naval guns. And the ROK (Republic of Korea) Second Corps advanced up to three miles unopposed on the right flank of the northwest front, where Reds fought stubbornly until Sunday.

Chairman Willy Knuth of Heise, Fritz Heine, general secretary of the Socialist Party, claimed the elections show the German public has lost confidence in the federal government, especially because of its attitude on rearmament.

Hints To Housewives

How much money to put in new kitchen pots and pans depends on whether they're slated for regular duty. Utensils to be used daily and lay out need to be good quality, but it's sheer extravagance to pay for top quality in seldom used pans, says Elizabeth Beveridge, specialist of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A NEW POLIO CENTER at the Schenectady, N. Y., City Hospital has an iron lung ready for Christopher F. Trager, 22, of Glenmont, N. Y. Mrs. Trager watches anxiously as attendants place the infantile paralysis victim in the apparatus. Since he can live only a limited time outside the lung, Trager was rushed the 17 miles from Albany to Schenectady in a record time of about 15 minutes. (International Soundphoto)

"Pots and Pans in Your Kitchen" may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C., for 10 cents (not stamps).

To those equipping a kitchen for the first time, the specialist suggest a set of general use pots and pans which she lists along with basic kitchen tools in the new publication. Other pieces, which round out a more desirable set, can be added later on. For long-term economy, she recommends, let this early set of essentials have good quality and lasting wear even if the cost is more.

Whether to buy pots and pans in aluminum, copper, cast iron, dark sheet metal, stainless steel, tinware, enameledware, or glass depends on use and personal preference. But there are pointers to know on all these materials. In buying aluminum oven ware, for instance, consider that brightly polished aluminum reflects heat and produces a browner crust.

For practically indestructible utensils, although expensive, look for stainless steel. Tinware may be your choice for oven ware but it's not suitable for top-of-stove use. Enamelware has the advantage of being easy to clean and here good quality really pays. It shows more resistance to shipping and a surface not easily scratched by food acids or metal spoons. One advantage of glass utensils is that you can see cooking progress without removing the cover.

Santa Claus

It wouldn't be home by Christmas. Chairman of the shopping organization set by the American women in Japan is Mrs. Anthony F. Story of Los Angeles. She's the wife of General MacArthur's personal pilot.

Operations began in Tokyo and its great port city of Yokohama. About 100 orders a day are being handled. In most of Korea soldiers were given a list of gifts available. All they had to do was fill out an order blank.

It was impossible, however, to get order blanks to some forward units. They were advised to write "Operation Santa Claus," enclosing whatever they wished to send and description of the person who would receive the gifts.

In Japan the women volunteers make out customs declarations, complete out necessary formalities and send the shops to find what the soldiers ordered. Troops are remembering each other through "Operation Santa Claus" too. Two buddies had the same idea for each other—send them directed this message: "This will sure taste good wherever you are." The other and Merry Christmas, psst. Try this with your beans and sausage.

Make a habit of saving information tags that come attached to household articles and from Write on each tag or label just what merchandise it refers to. Then when that item needs washing, you won't have to try to remember you'll have information on hand.

Don't wait until Christmas rush to bring the season's decorations out of hiding. Pick up wreaths, ribbons and tree ornaments now and save yourself from a chore later. Even furnished "dressed" spread up the gain after a soap and water bath. Switch it in a basin of lively warm soda, rinse and spread on a towel to dry.

Liver, heart, and kidney have high value as food because they supply us with iron and vitamins. The mother of a family is responsible for seeing that these foods at least once every week.

Childhood Hints

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE, AP Education Writer

One of the finest methods of safeguarding the health of the nation's children is the school lunch program, says Martha E. Hollings, associate nutritional Department of Agriculture, Child and Adolescent, Agricultural Experiment Station, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, La.

Speaking in St. Louis before the 75th annual meeting of the American Public Health Association, she pointed out that "one concept of the school lunch have rapidly expanded from consideration of the purely nutritional phases to include protection of numerous educational values of the food offered and eaten. The school lunch room is no longer a mere low cost eating station. It is an integral part of the health program of the school."

The school lunch period can be a time for teachers to check progress of children. It is a time to check on the child's health, to see if the child is eating properly, to see if the child is getting enough rest, to see if the child is getting enough exercise, to see if the child is getting enough information.

Success of food habits, he said, showed that the most frequently encountered dietetic pattern leaned toward meat and cereals, a limited variety of vegetables and fruits and a limited number of servings of these foods. "Few families use a quart of milk per child per day. Most sources of a healthy diet appear rarely on many diet records while whole grain cereals and bread almost never appear. Butter and eggs are seldom used in substantial quantities. Many school children eat little or no breakfast. Such surveys have shown the need for protective

TODAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

Christ's business on earth was to make good men out of bad men.

The re-election of Senator Taft cost $315,000. And it would be interesting to know how much was spent trying to defeat him.

We hope the people of Michigan will be able to decide who their next governor is going to be by the time he takes office Jan. 2.

President Truman insists that he will not drop Secretary Acheson from the State Department.

The infantile Paralysis Foundation will conduct a drive next winter for $50 million dollars.

Legalizing gambling does not solve the problem of crime so often connected with it.

There must be something unhealthy about the New Jersey climate when another Utah goes on a shooting spree and kills five persons.

At Sanford of Orlando has completed planting his 30 acre citrus grove north of Mimsville.

Lame Duck Project

Congress came as near as it could to pledging itself, before its pre-election adjournment, to enactment of an excess profits tax in the lame-duck session after election.

Although there appears to be general agreement within Congress that there should be an excess profits tax, its form and extent are points of sharp controversy.

It may be concluded that a plan adopted by the lame-duck Congress would hit corporations harder than one drafted by the next Congress, which will be more conservative.

Fixing The Blame

A trucker was convicted in a Midwestern village of driving an overloaded truck and fined $350. Having no money, he was ordered to jail to serve out the fine.

The driver's union, too, had nothing helpful to offer. It did not propose to support the driver's family while he is in jail, and did not put up much of a fight with the company on the question.

Evidently this trucker is out of luck. Yet he is the one sure point of attack in the campaign to keep overloaded trucks off the roads.

If a company's trucks were repeatedly found overloaded, its plans of ignorance of what its drivers were doing would sound pretty thin.

Prison Graduates

Prison, whether for ordinary crime or, as in the Russian case, for conspiracy against the government, leaves an indelible mark on a man.

Congressman Herlong Reports

The election is over and every-where people are appraising the results. My first thought is one of warmest gratitude to the people of the Fifth District for their expression of confidence in the job we are attempting to do here in Congress.

Republicans gained seats in the House and Senate, they didn't gain any more, or in fact as many seats in the House as they usually gain in "off-year" elections.

With this situation the only way the Democrats can effectively control Congress is through complete party harmony.

But now, because of this country's military alliance with most of the OEEC countries and the joint defense programs, the aid may have to be continued past 1952.

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—The countries of Western Europe are now trying to undo some of their devices, built up over many years, for protecting themselves against one another's competition.

For example, country AAA not only placed tariffs, or taxes, on the goods of other countries BBB, but even set limits, or quotas, on the amount of goods that could come in from BBB.

Now the countries of Western Europe are trying to undo some of their devices, built up over many years, for protecting themselves against one another's competition.

The first step in this direction were taken during the war when because the Germans occupied their homelands—the heads of the Benelux government—Belgium, Netherlands, Luxembourg—were called in London.

They agreed when the war was over they'd form an economic union of their own; the three would wipe out all trade barriers between themselves and set up a common tariff on goods from all other nations.

For one reason or another—this story can only give such simple examples as those above—they weren't able to put this agreement into effect until Jan. 1, 1948. It's still far from perfect.

But before their agreement went into effect, other wheels had started rolling. The winter of 1947-48 was so harsh in Europe there was danger of collapse unless Europe got help.

And on June 6, 1947, George C. Marshall, then Secretary of State, said to the country would help Europe showed signs of ability and willingness to help themselves.

Almost at once 16 nations met in Paris to draw up a blueprint showing what they needed from this country and what, because of cooperation among themselves, they could do without.

Then this country started its Marshall Plan aid program. This 16-nation meeting blossomed into a group, still going strong, for European Economic Cooperation. The name means just what it says.

There are now 18 nations in the OEEC: Britain, France, Belgium, Netherlands, Luxembourg, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Ireland, Iceland, Greece, Turkey, the Western German Republic, the American and British Zones of Trieste, Austria and Switzerland which is a member of OEEC through the Marshall Plan.

Out of OEEC, with OEEC nations as members, grew the European Payments Union, which was suggested by Paul Hoffman, former head of the Marshall Plan.

The EPU was set up to make trade easier among the OEEC members. It's a money plan for helping the members pay one another, and a credit payment for a permanent fund of the Marshall Plan.

The OEEC, like the Benelux agreement, is still far from perfect. And Hoffman had to have out their feet as soon as possible so eventually they could get along without U. S. aid.

This OEEC is the biggest movement toward economic unity in Europe. Original plans had expected Marshall program aid to Europe could be ended by June 30, 1952.

But now, because of this country's military alliance with most of the OEEC countries and the joint defense programs, the aid may have to be continued past 1952.

ONE-TRACK MINDS

Sanford Forum

Mr. Holland Dean Sanford Herald Sanford, Florida Dear Mr. Dean:

Each year the high school sponsors a magazine sale through the Curtis Publishing Company. This project gives our boys and girls training in salesmanship as well as helps them financially. The school receives 50% of all Curtis Sales and 30% of all others sold and the friends and patrons who subscribe through the students receive their magazines at regular subscription prices.

The faculty and students of Seminole High School wish to thank the Sanford Herald, Mr. Marion Harmon of WTR and the people of Sanford for their support of this worthwhile project.

It is something deeper, and more far-reaching. It is the new and rather terrifying attitude of the modern child. His lack of respect for all forms of authority, his egotistic assurance that he has his "rights" and "doesn't have to take anything off anybody," least of all his teacher, coupled with this is the lack of daring spirit of setting by with all forms of improper conduct, from cheating in a history test, on down—or up—to crueller crimes.

It isn't the fault of the children themselves. It is due rather to the mistaken notions of parents who are trying to raise their children along "modern" lines. Don't thwart their personalities, say the psychology books. Let them grow up free and independent. Don't spank your children. You may dwarf their ego. Let them make their own decisions. Let them live as adults in an adult world.

Booh! When a twelve-year-old boy murders his sixteen-year-old sister because he wasn't going to have her "telling him to bring in the coal" and a high school boy, in front of his classmates, curses and claws a teacher who has corrected him for some misdemeanor, and a pretty little baby-sitter beats her mother to death with a hammer because she was not allowed to go with a certain boy—when all these things happen as a result of modern child training, then it's time their egos had a little dwarfing!

Children are not adults, and no amount of applied psychology can make them so. They lack the wisdom, the experience, and the emotional stability of an adult. It isn't fair to the poor child to treat him like one. He needs years of guidance, with a firm hand on the reins, before he is able to take his place in the adult world. And it is cheating him of his proper inheritance in society not to give it to him.

George Washington never scolded his mother with such remarks as "I love these old folk and I thought for a minute they were being mistreated I would be one of the first to make a complaint I don't have membership in church neither am I trying to start one of my own."

Instead of trying to kick our fellow man down if he makes a mistake, let's try to help her correct it.

Years for a clearer walk with God.

Teachers Don't Want Money

BY LUCILE MAXFIELD BOGUE In Kiviana Magazine

Today teachers are walking out of schoolrooms by the thousands, never to return. And money has nothing to do with it. Oh, of course they let you think so. Partly because they hate to admit the real reason. And partly because not even a teacher will turn down a proffered raise in pay. Do you know anyone who will? These present higher salaries are even bringing many retired teachers back into the profession. But the money is only a bribe to soothe their aches. Lack of it is not the reason for thousands of teachers leaving the field.

It is something deeper, and more far-reaching. It is the new and rather terrifying attitude of the modern child. His lack of respect for all forms of authority, his egotistic assurance that he has his "rights" and "doesn't have to take anything off anybody," least of all his teacher, coupled with this is the lack of daring spirit of setting by with all forms of improper conduct, from cheating in a history test, on down—or up—to crueller crimes.

It isn't the fault of the children themselves. It is due rather to the mistaken notions of parents who are trying to raise their children along "modern" lines. Don't thwart their personalities, say the psychology books. Let them grow up free and independent. Don't spank your children. You may dwarf their ego. Let them make their own decisions. Let them live as adults in an adult world.

Booh! When a twelve-year-old boy murders his sixteen-year-old sister because he wasn't going to have her "telling him to bring in the coal" and a high school boy, in front of his classmates, curses and claws a teacher who has corrected him for some misdemeanor, and a pretty little baby-sitter beats her mother to death with a hammer because she was not allowed to go with a certain boy—when all these things happen as a result of modern child training, then it's time their egos had a little dwarfing!

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MacKENZIE AF Foreign Affairs Analyst

India's second protest to Peiping regarding Communist China's military invasion of little Tibet has brought a verbal snub in the face which one would think might impel Prime Minister Nehru to reconsider his policy of neutrality in East-West affairs.

According to a Peiping broadcast the Chinese government declares that it "will not tolerate foreign interference" since Tibet belongs to China. And that is tough talk in any language.

The big question of course now is, what will Premier Nehru's next move be?

Appropos of this situation it is of course interesting to remind that Nehru yesterday told parliament the government had decided to maintain a highly efficient and mobile army in view of central Asia's unsettled conditions. He added that the army will be maintained in strength.

The argument about Tibet is a complicated one. India's interest in the matter presumably is based mainly on two points: first, the border on India's northern frontier and a most uncomfortable position would be created if an unfriendly power occupied the little country.

India presumably feels that she has inherited the obligations which Great Britain assumed regarding Tibet during England's rule in India. Britain recognized Chinese suzerainty over Tibet as the understanding with China recognized Tibet's autonomy.

But what further can India do now, in view of the Chinese snub? She would seem to have none as far as she can on her own responsibility Tibet has appealed to the United Nations for aid, but there appears to be small chance at the moment that the U. N. will intervene.

However, China's sharp rejection of the protest is bound to remind India that a middle of the road policy doesn't work with Communism. There is no give and take. You can't do business with them except on Communist lines.

Moreover India can't escape the certainty that if the Communist steam roller keeps on moving in Asia, it will hit India sooner or later—probably sooner. Thus we have a situation in which it will be most difficult, if not impossible, for India to maintain a position of neutrality.

Many observers have been looking on Nehru as coming under the banner of the Democratic forces in Asia. He is a dynamic personality and a man of great capabilities who has spent his life fighting for Indian independence. But most observers venture the opinion that if he is to become the Asiatic leader it will call for a "positive stand" in the great battle of the lands.

Since the beginning of the Occupation 2,248 Christian missionaries have been cleared to enter Japan.

Minds Can Stay Young

By W. V. Hitting Touchton Drug Co.

Although your body will change and grow older with advancing years, your mind can stay as young and active as it was at 25. In fact many of the greatest contributions made to the arts and sciences came from people who had passed sixty. Wisdom and judgment come usually from long experience in living.

Therefore, your mind has a better chance to grow and be active if it is free from the worries of physical illness. So as your body grows older protect it from diseases of age by regular medical care.

Teen Talk

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you've ever been before an audience—in a play or to make a speech or to debate or for any other reason—you know that awful butterfly in the middle feeling when you sense the audience is restless. Why people will take it upon themselves to be part of an audience for any function, and then not give it the attention it deserves, is hard to understand. But it happens.

One excellent idea performers should welcome is a course developed by a speech teacher and a band-orchestra teacher at South Side Junior High School in St. Petersburg, Fla. They've instituted an audience-students program to teach students how to be members of a good audience. Their "ten commandments" of good audience participation goes like this:

The Lamplighter

By TOM DOYLE

Daphne Connely, one of the many Sanfordites who attended the Ringo Bros. Band and Bailey Chorus last Thursday evening in Orlando, was greatly impressed; she bubbled over with enthusiasm as she related some of the thrilling incidents of the "Big Top".

The highlight of the evening, to quote Daphne, was "The Man who balanced himself on his thumb in mid-air." She added, "I can't understand how he did it. It was wonderful."

Well, we don't understand it either, but it's a safe bet some lesser de main to leave de thumb! She also thrilled to the act that featured a man leaping five vaults from a spring-board start and landing upright. Nothing like a circus!

Speaking of circuses, I wonder how many of you have ever witnessed a reciting of the tent's? Of course, for it requires that you get up at an unearthly hour in the morning, but it's well worth it if it comes second only to the big top itself in the spectacle it presents. Watching that unending line of those burly, heavy-headed fellows, lashing their massive shoulders and hulk backs to the back-breaking task of raising the tent's afternoons machine, is something that shouldn't be missed. It's a system of teamwork that will amaze you.

Main Street Muff
Have you noticed the stores in Sanford? The past week has witnessed a great change from the usual merchandise windows to the more colorful and decorative Christmas displays. For me the month of November marks the onset of Sanford's winter season. The streets are more crowded and there is a sense of aliveness which seems absent at any other time of the year. Thanksgiving and Christmas are right around the corner and people are busting out making ready for the arrival of relatives, friends, or perhaps sons and daughters home from college. Sun-burned faces separate the tourists from the natives, and there are more unfamiliar faces on the streets. A well-kept 1937 Packard from Massachusetts, a small Hillman Mini from Ohio—these are just a few of the automobiles which line the streets as our Sanford's winter season begins anew.

Sunset Feature
Very soon a picture is coming to Sanford which you should see. It is "Sunset Boulevard" which casts Gloria Swanson and William Holden in a superbly realistic film which pulls no punches in portraying a side of Hollywood. Recently mentioned in this column was Rudolph Valentino's new look "The Decadent" which like "Sunset Boulevard" sheds a penetrating light on the fabulous world. "Sunset Boulevard" is in music, "The Decadent" is in book. Norma Desmond, a child star, days ago, has delusions of grandeur. She won't give up on the stage, she still has great faith in it. But Norma Desmond is strictly sane. A great star in her time, she now has to experience what many artists have to go through—the realization of being a "has been."

Norma Desmond is a psychological study. There are many Norma Desmonds in the world. People who can't reconcile the present with the past which in retrospect seems so much brighter and alive. Norma Desmond couldn't and a result a once lustrous life deteriorates into an abyss of dark delusion.

There are so many run-of-the-mill pictures these days that we are apt to overlook many a picture of genuine merit. "Sunset Boulevard" has genuine merit.

It is a good idea to ripen squash and pumpkins in a warm place for a week or two after picking and before storing.

Thanksgiving Story League Entertained For Children

By Mrs. Harold Herbst

The Junior Choir of the First Methodist Church is preparing the story of the First Thanksgiving by the regular meeting of the Junior Women's League of the Episcopal Church.

The story will be told by the children, Mrs. Wilbur Keeling, president, conducted the business session. Plans were formulated for a family night paper and movie to be held at the Park's House on Nov. 21. At the conclusion of the program, the group made plans to go to a luncheon at the home of one of their members.

Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies to the following: Mrs. Ralph Lanning, Mrs. James Evans, Mrs. Edward Simpson, Mrs. John Duff, Mrs. H. K. Evans, Mrs. Keeling, Miss Helen White and Mrs. Mary Robinson.

The children will be dressed in Hebrew costumes and Ted Williams has made a Sockab to use for the play. Mrs. Rex Herron's Sunday School class will be in charge of decorating the Sockab. Music will be furnished by the junior choir and the Helen Chant will be taken from the book of Psalms.

The Junior Church is the church service for children of the First Methodist Church, under the direction of Mrs. P. E. Stephenson, D.R.E. and her associate is Mrs. E. H. McAlexander.

The public is cordially invited to attend the play.

Texas Clinches Cotton Bowl Bid; Illinois, California, Army Win

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Texas is in the Cotton Bowl. Illinois and California are near enough to Pasadena to smell the roses.

A dozen other teams are afraid they may miss a ring from one of the big post-season promoters. Right now the list of unpicked eligibles is headed by Oklahoma and Kentucky, with Tennessee, Miami (Fla.) and Clemson just a shade behind.

Other prospects include Wyoming, Loyola of Los Angeles, Alabama, Southern Methodist, Nebraska, and Tulane—their desirability being largely on the outcome of the remaining few games.

Rose at Pasadena—Illinois, vs. California.
Sugar at New Orleans—Kentucky vs. Oklahoma or SMU.
Cotton at Dallas—Texas vs. Oklahoma or Tennessee.

Orange at Miami—Miami vs. Tennessee, Clemson or Wyoming.
The game with the most important bowl bearing Saturday is at Knoxville, Tenn., where unbeatens and untied Kentucky takes on once-defeated Tennessee, a team that perennially gives the Wildcats trouble.

Here briefly were other week-end developments:
Kentucky clinched the Southeastern Conference crown as Alabama smashed Georgia Tech, 51-19. Tulsa smothered Wichita, 48-0, to win the Missouri Valley crown. The Tulane have a 7-4 record.

Clemson and Miami, tied but not defeated, bettered bowl chances with victories. Clemson thumped Furman, 57-2, and Miami beat Florida, 20-14.
Harvard and Minnesota scored their first victories of the year. Harvard beat Brown, 14-13, and Minnesota topped Purdue, 27-14. Iowa tied Notre Dame, 14-14.

Dallas is almost certain to make a strong bid for a return game between Texas and Oklahoma. The Sooners handed the Longhorns their one defeat this year in a thriller, 14-13.

Texas clinched the Southwest Championship and Cotton Bowl role Saturday by besting Texas Christian, 21-7, while Rice was cooling off the only remaining challenger, Texas A. & M., 21-13. Texas and the Aggies taught Illinois can clinch the Rose Bowl assignment by turning back Northwestern, which is beaten, at Evanston, Ill. Failure to do this would toss the trip to Wisconsin or Michigan. Wisconsin closes with Minnesota in the conference championship. Checked on the ground, the fighting Illini stabled for two touchdowns through the air to prevail, 14-7, and thereby, shock a majority of the experts.

Ohio State's defeat, its second this year, opened up anew the wild battle for the top position in the Associated Press poll, with Oklahoma, Army, California, Kentucky and Princeton all making menacing gestures.

Oklahoma, No. 2 behind Ohio State last week, made its bid for the main berth by overwhelming Missouri, 41-7.

Princeton rings down the Ivy League curtain against Dartmouth, Wyoming meets Denver and Loyola plays Santa Clara next Sunday.

Army doesn't play again until its Dec. 2 clash with Navy, which will play Columbia Saturday, 29-7.

Advice notices had almost convinced this writer that most if not all the players on the Florida and Miami squads were more suitable candidates for a hospital ward than a football team.

The Hurricanes, minus little Jack "Hatchet" Hackett, in a convincing exhibition of offensive Georgia used the same strength defeated the Gators fairly decisively. The game was considerably more one-sided than the score would indicate.

Florida faces the Crimson Tide which romped on Georgia Tech 54-19 this week—and Miami meets Iowa Saturday. The Gators could top off a so-so season with a win against Red Drew's strong team.

Two were dumped over the weekend—Xavier (Ohio) and Xavier, 23-20, and Southern University tied Florida A. & M. 0-0.

Kentucky Battles Tennessee In Southeastern's Game Of The Week

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kentucky has stocked its trophy room with most of the honors in the offering by Southeastern Conference football but the 1930 season can't be completely happy without a victory—and a big one—over Tennessee.

The chance for that victory comes Saturday in Knoxville in the Southeastern's game of the season, the nation's game of the week, and the favorite battle of bowl scouts.

Senior Bryant's Kentucky Wildcats have clinched their first Southeastern football championship. They have broken almost a dozen offensive records and they're seriously challenging for the all-time high scoring team record in the conference.

Kentucky has two great All-America candidates—quarterback Hale Parilli and tackle Bob Gain. Presently the Wildcats rank fourth in the nation and probably will go to about third place in this week's Associated Press poll.

Seven points—55—have been scored against Kentucky than any other SEC team this year. Last Saturday's 35-0 stomping of North Dakota was the season's greatest victory margin.

And of major importance, Kentucky is about a 100-to-one choice to play in a bowl game New Year's day. Even should Kentucky lose to Tennessee, the Wildcats will not die as a bowl possibility.

The undefeated Wildcats have won 10 straight games. Kentucky already has won another great one may come this week. There's a possibility that one of the major bowls may sign Kentucky before the Tennessee game. Bowl usually wait until the season ends.

Tennessee and Kentucky have played 45 times and 27 games have gone to Tennessee. Eleven were won by Kentucky and seven ended in ties. Not since 1925 has Kentucky won from the Vols. The

The state outfit moved down Manhattan while Army was barely able to squeeze past the Jaspers, 2-0. The relative strength of the two teams in a sport that usually follows form.

Warren Dewitzler, who spent a successful summer campaigning in Europe, seemed to be most likely to put up a tussle against Shen. He is a pretty good two mile runner in the first three miles of the race, and probably has learned his lesson.

Only two others who finished in the first ten the last time around Walter Soltow, Seventh, and Bill Lucas, ninth, both of Manhattan will be on hand to give it another whirl.

Penn State, which hasn't won the team championship since 1930, was the favorite to take the title. Fifth in 1929, the Nittany Lions had all seven of their last sea-

Carl Taseff Takes Scoring Lead With Total of 138 Points

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Carl Taseff, a 22-year-old fullback on the John Carroll University team of Cleveland, today led college football's individual scorers with 138 points.

Taseff, a 5 foot 9 inch 185-pounder, took the lead from Nebraska's Bobby Reynolds Saturday by blaring to four touchdowns as John Carroll defeated Baldwin-Wallace, 33-25. That gave Carl TD for his team's 10-game season, now completed.

Reynolds, who previously had seemed pretty certain of holding the lead, got one touchdown and two conversions Saturday when Nebraska trimmed Iowa State, 20-13. The charging halfback is now second with 134 points and gets one more chance to overhaul Taseff when Nebraska winds up against powerful Oklahoma next Saturday.

Tied for third place with 114 points each and with their regular campaigns ended are Bob Courtney, Canterbury, and Bob Miller, Emory and Henry.

City Authorizes Sale Of Bonds For Terminal Project

Hillyer Report Says Minimum Tonnage On Lines Would Assure Operating Profit

Group Appointed To Probe County Home Conditions

Commission Delays Action Until After New Investigation

A new milestone in the progress of the City of Sanford was reached last night when the City Commission by a vote of 3 to 2, approved the sale of $350,000 worth of bonds for the construction of a waterfront terminal and municipal docks to the Knoxville, Tenn. bond firms of L. H. Ghormley and Fisher Hayes.

A committee of five citizens of Seminole County was appointed last night by the County Commission to make a thorough investigation of the health and physical condition of residents at the County Home and to report on this at the next meeting.

On the committee are Dr. W. P. Brooks, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church; Mrs. B. B. Crumley, president of the Sanford Women's Club; Dr. Frank L. Quillman, county health officer; Ben Jones of Ouedes and Mrs. S. R. Bradford of Altamonte Springs.

The Commission met in special session in order to make a further investigation of alleged slapping and beating of a resident at the Home, Mrs. J. O. Larson.

Authorization of the bond sale followed a week of study on the report on the proposed terminal by F. C. Hillyer and Associates, industrial engineers of Jacksonville.

All of the commissioners thought that the report was complete, fair and impartial, said Clifford McKibbin, City Manager, this morning, "and a month ago the Commission unanimously authorized that the survey be made."

It was the opinion of the engineers that the conservative minimum tonnage of freight specified in the reports, together with moderate schedule of terminal handling fees would result in a net operating profit for the project.

"Perhaps the greatest indirect benefit of municipal docks to a city, such as Sanford, is the ability to attract new industry," the report stated.

"An experienced industrial traffic manager would hesitate a long long time before recommending that a plant be located in a city or town without available water and without facilities for use of low cost water transportation."

James Gut, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, presented a written statement to the Commission pointing out his support of the project.

He stated "that a city either grows or dies but it cannot stay stationary, that all of the City Commission as well as the residents of the City of Sanford desire our city to grow."

In recognition of his 25 years of service, J. A. Young, superintendent of Florida Power & Light Company's large generating station here, has been awarded a diamond set service pin by the utility, Division Manager H. H. Coleman announced today.

Mr. Young's career has been particularly outstanding. Mr. Coleman said, "He not only is considered one of the best plant superintendents in our company but he also is unique in having spent all of the past 25 years in the same plant."

The started in 1925 at our plant on Lake Monroe and he has operated it so well that the company has kept him there for a quarter century.

Mr. Young came here with a background of valuable training and experience. A graduate of Hays School of Combustion Engineering, he went to Omaha and was an efficiency engineer for the Nebraska Power Company before coming to Florida.

Manager Coleman said he will present the jeweled service pin to Sept. Young at a meeting of company personnel scheduled for the near future. At the same time he will present ten-year service pins to Jack Burney and C. L. Scudler, firemen at the generating plant.

Other local employees of the power company who will receive service pins this month include: E. J. Martin, 5-year pin; W. A. Peck and C. S. Johns, 2-year pins. They are employed in the power company's transmission department.

Miss Lila Hilch, of the Atlanta office of the Red Cross, presided at the meeting which was attended by delegates from the New Smyrna, Cocoa, DeLand, Eustis and Sanford chapters.

Many gifts made by children for veterans in military hospitals were shown, and included writing, fishing trays, cross word puzzles and Christmas holiday menu covers.

Watercolor scenes revealed the work of children from many sections of the United States, and are designed to acquaint the children of foreign countries with life in this country and to promote international good will.

"The main purpose of the program," said Miss Hilch, "is to train American boys and girls to be better citizens by thinking more of the children of other nations and rendering service to them."

The regional Red Cross office in Atlanta, Ga., is sending a representative to Sanford in order to help rehabilitate the seven Negro families who were forced from their quarters by the fire in Midway Sunday night, E. J. Moughton, Jr. announced today.

A big mass of cold air spawned in the northwestern part of the United States is bringing in the chilly weather today. The air mass is centered over Alabama and northern Mississippi.

Forecasters Powell said the coldest weather would occur in the northern part of the Gainesville region. There is little vegetable truck being grown there.

Predicted long periods of calm will bring on the chilliest weather, explaining Russell, that is when frosts gather quickest providing the temperatures are right.

The Glades will not get too much of a visit from jackfrost. Generally, the temperatures there are expected to run from 37-40 degrees except 34 in cold low spots.

Up to 2 1/2 inches of rain fell on metropolitan Boston which apparently took the brunt of the New England blow.

Sweeping in from the southwest, the gale suddenly shifted to the northeast and rain changed to snow flurries.

Nearly 1,700 telephones were knocked out in nine towns in central Massachusetts.

Col. Emory J. Close recalls old days

Col. Emory J. Close of Ft. Pierce who lived in Sanford 19 years ago spent the day here yesterday renewing old acquaintances and talking about the old days. He was particularly impressed, he said, over the progress he noted throughout the city though he missed the street car tracks which used to run down First Street and out through the Celery Delta.

Col. Close came here as a youngster with his family in 1907. His father, Charles J. Close, was for a short time in business with W. A. Ginn and purchased property with him on Sanford Avenue, part of which is the estate now owned by Mrs. C. E. Ginn.

In 1917 Col. Close joined the Army and has been in it ever since until he was retired last year, fighting through two World Wars, and living in almost every country in the world. In 1919 he was required with the rank of colonel and decided to settle down in Eustis.

Among those whom he recalled as having known were Gene Reumillat, R. W. Deane, W. A. Leffer and Bob Holly, who was then editor of The Herald.

He said he was particularly impressed over the progress he noted throughout the city though he missed the street car tracks which used to run down First Street and out through the Celery Delta.
