Ancient Mummy Undergoing X-ray Tests

DURHAM, England (UPI)—An Egyptian mummy dated about 1,000 B.C. may turn out to be the first man known to have had an artificial limb. P. S. Rawson, the keeper of Durham University's Gubbenkian Museum of Oriental Art, said the mummy would be taken to a hospital within the next few weeks for X-rays of "this appalling misfortune."

A preliminary X-ray has shown the man had six slipped discs, stones in the kidney and had lost a hand.

"We hope to establish whether this man had been fitted with an artificial hand," said Rawson.

"If so, this may prove to be the earliest example of an Egyptian court official appearing in processions. It may have been decided that he should have an artificial hand in order to look normal."

Truck Line Sale Okayed By PUC

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The sale of a North Florida trucking territory by Ryder Truck Lines of Jacksonville Company, of Crestview, was approved by the Public Utilities Commission.

The commission said there had been complaints about inadequate service by Ryder. Ryder retained a large service area between Jacksonville and South Florida but sold a triangular area reaching from Marianna to Lake City to Tampa to M. R. R.

State Pledges Full Support On Waterway

By Paul Brookshire
ORLANDO — The proposed St. Johns-Indian River Canal was one step nearer reality today.

An engineering report, giving rights-of-way data and alignment of the Sanford-to-Indian River waterway, was accepted and approved by the canal district's board of directors Wednesday.

Chairman John Krider called the action a "major step" toward construction of the canal.

"We are proceeding faster than I anticipated," he declared. "I think we will be able to begin construction of the canal within three years."

The board was informed that 70 per cent of the rights of way for the canal's 23 miles have been obtained either by letter or by firm agreements.

The engineer's alignment has the canal proceeding due east from Lake Monroe to the vicinity of Lake Harney, and then directly east to the north end of the Indian River near Oak Hill to join the Intra-coastal Waterway.

The canal will cut through land in some locations, particularly around Lemon Bluff, to avoid damaging abrad fishing areas.

The engineering study, made by Reynolds, Smith & Hills of Orlando, said the probings did not show up any rock and said the route chosen is conducive to easy dredging or drag line operations.

The proposed canal would be 12-feet deep and would cost an estimated $12 million.

The canal board also voted to proceed with a survey to pin down alignment of the proposed Cape Kennedy access road which will flank the north side of the canal.

Willard Peebles, Fifth District Road Board member, attended the meeting and pledged his support on the roadway and canal project.

"We are eager to co-operate in developing your canal," Peebles said. "We will work closely with chambers of commerce and you people in this project."

"I consider this a tremendous project and I have been following it closely," Peebles said.

The road board member said he would keep the canal directors informed on the status of the access road survey.

The proposed road would run from the Orange City interchange on I-4 to U.S. 1 near Oak Hill, following the canal closely part of the way.

The canal board also authorized its attorney, Mack N. Cleveland Jr., to proceed with negotiations with the Florida Canal Authority and the State Board of Conservation for right of eminent domain and the authority to issue revenue certificates, if necessary.

Cost of a title search for rights-of-way also will be investigated by the board.

13 U. S. Airmen Die In Crashes

EASTON, Md. (UPI) — Air Force investigators today sifted through the wreckage of a giant C124 Globemaster which crashed and burned in a wooded area near here, killing all six crew members.

A spokesman said the investigation would probably continue for several days at the scene of the crash, which occurred Wednesday about half an hour after the plane had taken off from Dover AFB, Del., on a training flight.

The four-engine plane, assigned to the 9th Troop Carrier Squadron at Dover, plowed into a wooded area about three miles east of the small shore community of Cordova, Md., strewn fragments over an area of five or six acres. The fuselage burrowed a hole deep in the earth.

The Air Force identified among the victims Lt. Col. William C. McCamy, 44, pilot, of Miami.

The C124, capable of carrying 200 troops or 74,000 pounds of cargo, is the military's largest propeller-driven transport. The planes went out of production 10 years ago.

CDR. JOHN UNDERWOOD Jr. (center) and Cdr. Charles R. Smith (right), commanding officer and executive, respectively, of the newly-assigned Heavy Attack Squadron 6, arrived from Whidbey Island, Wash., Wednesday afternoon and were welcomed to Sanford Naval Air Station by Capt. James O. Mayo, commanding officer of Heavy Attack Wing One.

Sanford Area Production Told Coffee Clubbers

About 4,000 cases of turnip greens are being turned out daily at the H.H. Products plant in Sanford, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Coffee Clubbers were told today.

About 40 chamber members toured the H.H. and Southern Fiber Glass Products plants this morning.

At Southern Fiber Glass, about 60 workers are engaged in turning out an average of 10 Cobia boats daily.

C. L. (Chet) Miller, H.H. plant manager, conducted a tour of turnip canning operations at the Hunt plant.

Approximately 35 persons are employed in the cleaning, cooking and canning of the diced turnips and greens at the Hunt plant.

Miller said when both tomato and spinach canning is underway, approximately 8,000 cases can be produced in a day.

The Chamber group also toured the Hunt warehouse where approximately 300,000 cases of vegetables are stored, ready for delivery to grocery chains east of the Mississippi River.

Earl Smith, vice president of Southern Fiber Glass Corp., took the group through the Cobia plant.

Smith said during the peak boat season, the plant turns out an average of 14 boats a day. Most of the boats are especially ordered and the prices range from $795 to around $1,200.

Wives Kiss Astronauts

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Space twins Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom and John W. Young returned today to the site of their spectacular vault into orbit to receive the accolades of a grateful nation.

The beaming astronauts, greeted with kisses from their wives, landed in separate planes on the Cape's VIP landing strip exactly 48 hours and four minutes after their near-perfect three-orbit space flight began just a short distance away at launch pad 19.

As the astronauts climbed from their planes, an Air Force band struck up the theme song of the musical show "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" in honor of their Gemini 3 spaceflight, affectionately nicknamed "Molly Brown."

Betty Grissom and Barbara Young, flown here Wednesday night with their children to be on hand for today's reunion, ran up to their astronaut husbands and kissed them.

Grissom, smiling and kidding with backup pilot Walter M. Schirra, told a large crowd gathered at the landing strip that it "looks like we've been just about talked out."

"So, if it's all right with you we'll wait until later on this evening to see you."

Grissom, the first man to twice venture into space, then introduced Young to the cheering crowd as "talkative John."

"I'm ready for the next flight," the rookie astronaut said.

The astronauts, both in good health and high spirits, spent about 10 minutes on the sunny VIP landing area before moving to the nearby base medical facility that had been set up to handle any emergencies that might have occurred during Tuesday's launch.

Grissom and Young were scheduled to undergo detailed four-hour physical examinations by the same team of specialists that gave them their pre-launch medical checks.

Next on their busy schedule is a three-hour technical review of their mission—a "debriefing"—at the astronauts' quarters on nearby Merritt Island.

The space pilots were scheduled to report on their successful mission tonight at a televised news conference at 6 p.m. in nearby Cocoa Beach.

Friday, the space heroes will fly to Washington for a meeting with President Johnson and a congressional reception. A traditional ticker tape parade is set for Monday in New York.

Some of the food served by Mrs. Homer Little at the Rotary luncheon at the Experiment Station Monday was grown at the farm. Namely the sweet potatoes, cabbage and rhubarb.

Fred Lawrence will speak at the first monthly Citrus Conference April 20 at the Seminole County Agriculture Center on 17-92 south of Sanford. The conferences, for citrus growers, are designed to bring the latest information in citrus culture.

Retired Naval officers in the Sanford-Seminole area are invited to the Bomb Derby reception and cocktail party Friday evening, April 9. There are many in the area with whom Sanford Naval Air Base officers have no contact. Those interested may telephone Cdr. Donald F. Munday at 322-1330, ext. 455.

Seminole County unit of the American Cancer Society is in dire need of clean, used linen with which to make dressings. Drop them off at E. J. (Bud) Moughton's insurance office across from The Herald office on West First Street.

City commissioners kicked in $500 toward the Bombing Derby and Navy Appreciation Day celebration slated for April 5-10, at the request of Sen. Mack Cleveland Jr., chairman of the armed forces committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. "Couldn't find a better cause," commissioners commented.

Earl Higginbotham is still fighting to get the three-quarters of a block from Park Avenue to Oak Avenue changed to parallel parking, but not getting any support from other city commissioners who say they haven't heard any complaints from the public yet. "That block between those two lights is a mess — someone is going to get killed there," Higginbotham insists.

A proposal by Commissioner M. L. Raborn to make the whole of First Street from Sanford Avenue to Oak Avenue 30 degree angle, also died for lack of a second.

Suggestions for the muck area off Grandview Avenue that has given City Commissioners a lot of trouble: Central Florida Experiment Station officials say rhubarb grows good in muck. Would city consider going into business of growing own rhubarb?

Someone up near Faust's Drugstore has a good idea. Their podocarpus died and they have replaced it with some very attractive artificial plants, always in bloom, always colorful. Idea is worth copying — you don't have to water the fakes.

Next on their busy schedule is a three-hour technical review of their mission—a "debriefing"—at the astronauts' quarters on nearby Merritt Island.

SECOND CRASH

MANILA (UPI) — Two U.S. Air Force planes today crashed in the air near Clark Field, plunged to the ground and killed all seven American airmen aboard both planes.

An Air Force announcement said the accident happened when a T-29 utility passenger and cargo jet rammed into a C-47 propeller-driven cargo plane while practicing takeoffs and landings at the air base 40 miles north of Manila.

The identities of the airmen were withheld pending notification of kin. The victims included five officers and two enlisted men.

Motorcyclist, 71, Hurt In Mishap

Osceola, La., 71-year-old man, was in Seminole Memorial Hospital today recovering from injuries he received Wednesday when in a motorcycle accident.

Leinz was listed in "good condition" at the hospital this morning. He received several leg and foot injuries when his motorcycle went out of control on 14 two miles west of SR 46.

Leinz was headed for Daytona Beach when he lost control of the motorcycle, State Trooper Duane Harrell said.

Orlandoan On Regent Board

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Haydon Burns' new university board of Regents— including a Negro, a woman and representatives of just about every professional field — agreed to study carefully and impartially Florida's thorny "trimester — or — semester" problem before making a decision on it.

The powerful educational board was named Wednesday by the governor. It takes effect Tuesday and will have its first official meeting April 9 under executive director J. Roward Culpepper.

"This is one of the most meticulously selected and highest caliber boards appointed in recent history," Burns said.

He emphasized members were named to represent different professional fields and geographical areas of the state.

There are seven new members on the board. Two are holdovers from the recently resigned board appointed by Gov. Farris Bryant in the waning days of his administration over strong protests from Burns. They are John C. Pace, of Pensacola, a retired lumberman and Ocala dentist Wayne C. McCall.

The new members are Tampa attorney Chester H. Ferguson, Orlando physician Dr. Lolius C. Murray, Pinellas County School Supt. Floyd T. Christian, Jacksonville grocery chain executive Henry Kramer, retired National Broadcasting Company vice president Clarence L. Mensor of Vero Beach, West Palm Beach real estate broker Clifford G. Dyson, 58-year-old Negro and Coral Gables clubwoman Mrs. E. D. Pearce.

Ferguson will serve a nine-year term. Murray, eight years. Christian seven, Kramer six, Mensor five, Pace four, McCall three. Dyson two and Mrs. Pearce one year.

One of the biggest problems immediately facing the board will be a decision on whether to keep year-round operation known commonly as the "trimester system"—in effect, or to revert to the old semester system with set summer vacations for students and faculty, thereby leaving the state's multi-million dollar higher education system idle for three months a year.

Rights Marchers Near Montgomery

MONTGOMERY (UPI) — This Old South city hoped to put on its calmest front today for "the greatest march that has ever been held on a state capital in the South."

Top state and city officials and businessmen appeared determined to have the Selma-to-Montgomery civil rights trek, swollen by thousands, wind up without a hitch.

The bywords were: "Restraint and business as usual."

Montgomery knew rebellion as the first capital of the Confederacy more than 100 years ago.

But Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. promised to give the city a show-it-or-any-other-city-in-the-South-has-ever-seen.

"This will be the greatest march that has ever been held on a state capital in the South," King predicted.

Gov. George Wallace, the legislature, county and city officials, businessmen and local white and Negro leaders have issued numerous appeals for calmness and conduct of normal activity when the marchers parade through the city and to the steps of the white-columned capitol.

Wallace said women who work at the capitol complex would have today off. Other than that, he said, the building would be open and operating as usual.

The legislature promised to convene to continue work on the education program for which a special session was called.

Most businessmen planned to keep their establishments open today, going along with the "activity as usual" policy urged by Wallace, police authorities, Mayor Earl James and the Chamber of Commerce.

Wallace asked all Alabamians to stay away from the march, urging people to remain on their jobs or in their homes. He urged that nothing happen to the marchers that "would play into the hands of the enemies of our state and nation."

University Fund Hearing Today

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The president of the new University of West Florida at Pensacola said today that his institution cannot make a reasonable start in 1967 under limited funds recommended by the Governor and Cabinet for buildings and operation.

Harold Crosby said the recommended $5 million for construction would seriously handicap the facility which is to be located on a beautiful waterfront campus donated by Escambia County at a cost of more than $12 million.

He offered to compromise the difference between the $8.5 million requested and the $5 million recommended to a bare-bones $6.65 million.

Crosby presented his arguments to a subcommittee of the Senate appropriations committee headed by Sen. Ed Price of Bradenton.

Later today the committee was to hear requests for the new University of East-Central Florida at Oviedo.

Florida Sailor Held In Thefts

MILLINGTON, Tenn. (UPI) — The Shelby County Sheriff's office today announced the arrest of three Millington sailors in connection with a series of thefts that "could snowball."

The sheriff's office identified the men as Richard Measley, 19, of LeMoore, Calif.; Steve Taylor, 17, of Punta Gorda, Fla., and Charles W. Gann, 23, of Nashville.

Several stolen cars and at least two burglaries were involved.

Moroccan Riots Claim 8 Lives

CASABLANCA, Morocco (UPI) — Moroccan troops wearing steel helmets and supported by tanks and armored cars guarded government buildings in Casablanca today to prevent a recurrence of rioting which killed at least eight persons and injured approximately 70 others. The city was calm.

Order also was restored in Fez, where an additional 60 persons were injured Wednesday, and in the capital of Rabat, where minor scuffling between police and students broke out.

Scientists Turn To Mars Probe

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — The same men who learned by trial and error to transport Ranger from a space age weakening into one of the nation's greatest scientific achievements looked ahead today to another goal — the first closeup pictures ever taken after sending back almost 6,000 "miraculously" clear pictures — the Mars probe Mariner 4 was hurtling through space toward the red planet on a similar experimental mission.

"The lessons of the Ranger have been applied to the Mariner," said Dr. William Pickering, director of Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL). "At the present time, we are a little more than half way on a long journey to the planet of Mars. By the middle of July, we hope we can show you photographs of the Plain of Mars — not as detailed as today, but good." Pickering said at a news conference.

Distance alone and far more difficult communications problems amplify the preliminary mission of Mariner 4, launched last Nov. 28 from Cape Kennedy. By midnight Wednesday (PST), it had traveled 39,121,231 miles of the 135 million mile journey, although it had to travel an over-all distance in its orbital pursuit of 187,868,240.

On July 14, Mariner 4 should draw within 4,000 miles of Mars for the first television photographs — up to 22 — over taken of the most mysterious of all planets.

No scientists expect miracles nor do they expect Mariner to unlock the secret of whether life exists on Mars.

But, like Ranger, it's a start in a direction both America and Russia realize for its significance. Russia also has a probe barreling through space, but several days to two weeks behind the U. S. probe.

Scientists today began a hardnosed study of lunar terrain photos obtained by three Ranger spacecraft to decide whether the moon's highlands or lowlands provide the best manned landing site.

Rangers 7 and 8 photographed the lunar lowlands — the Sea of Tranquility and Mare Cognitum of Known Sea — snapped Wednesday's Ranger 9 snapped pictures of the highlands — the crater Alphonsus.

The ninth and last of the Rangers was the most successful of the three in the $270 million program from start to finish. It had the most accurate flight path, required little mid-course correction and returned the best photos ever taken of the moon.

Warplanes Rake Commie Positions

SAIGON (UPI) — American and South Vietnamese warplanes raked Communist positions inside South Viet Nam today. No new air strikes against the Communist north were reported.

A spokesman for U. S. military headquarters said American jet fighter planes and bombers flew upwards of 50 combat sorties against Viet Cong concentrations in a 48-hour period ending late today.

Collision Course

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States and Red China today appeared to be on a collision course over Viet Nam which could erupt into a major war — if Peking means what it says.

Still Cheaper LD Phone Calls Loom In State

TALLAHASSEE — Florida telephone subscribers may be able to place "cheap" long distance phone calls within the state an hour earlier in the evening if a new state Public Utilities Commission proposal goes into effect.

The commission, which met here Wednesday, told Florida telephone companies they have until April 1 to go on record opposed to or backing the proposal, a state version of the order which the Federal Communications Commission recently put into effect for interstate calls.

The order provides for cheaper rates on long distance beginning at 8 p. m. instead of 9 p. m. and for all day Sunday.

So far, 30 states have adopted one or more versions of the directive.

PUC Chairman Edwin Mason said Florida phone users would have saved $1 million if the order had been in effect last year.

The commission said phone companies should pass along to customers some of the benefits they got in recent tax law revisions.

Hero's Welcome Awaits Young At Orlando

ORLANDO (UPI) — City leaders huddled today to decide how best to welcome home astronaut John Young, their famous son who orbited the earth three times with Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom on the Gemini-3 space shot.

As plans were being spun here for the uncertain date when Young temporarily will be released for the hometown celebration, the astronaut's parents were at Cape Kennedy to welcome him back.

The local celebration is being planned by the special events committee of the Orlando area Chamber of Commerce. Local merchants are displaying large pictures of the new hero in their windows.

Also at the spaceport Thursday were Young's parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. White of Jacksonville and Young's wife, Barbara. Young's brother, the Rev. Hugh Young, lives in Athens, Ga. He is step-brother to Mrs. Mary Stucky of Kansas City and Lt. (jg) James Mosteller, now stationed in San Diego.

VFW Dinner Is Sellout

By Donna Estes

Commander John McManus issued apology to the public at the regular meeting of South Seminole VFW Post 8207 Tuesday evening for the earlier than usual closing time for the chicken-rib barbecue which took place Sunday at the post home.

McManus explained that the dinner was so successful, foods were completely sold out by 3:30 p.m., resulting in the early closing hour. In the future, provisions will be on hand to serve greater numbers, McManus advised.

The next dinner is scheduled for April 11 from 12:30 until 4:30 p.m.

Fun Night will continue each Monday at 8 p.m. Merle Harris, building chairman, reported that the post kitchen in the post home has been painted and a new sink installed.

Nomination of officers is planned for the next regular meeting to take place April 13.

Desert Mirage: Ship Stranded

Hares, Buzzards 'Bug' Airport

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI) —

An over-abundance of rabbits near the Fresno air terminal resulted in frequent hare and hound chases across the runways so officials authorized a massive hunt last weekend. About 800 rabbits were killed.

Now buzzards looking for rabbit carcasses are converging on the airport and the officials fear they may collide with planes or get sucked into jet engines, causing a crash.

Hero's Welcome Awaits Young At Orlando

ORLANDO (UPI) — City leaders huddled today to decide how best to welcome home astronaut John Young, their famous son who orbited the earth three times with Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom on the Gemini-3 space shot.

As plans were being spun here for the uncertain date when Young temporarily will be released for the hometown celebration, the astronaut's parents were at Cape Kennedy to welcome him back.

The local celebration is being planned by the special events committee of the Orlando area Chamber of Commerce. Local merchants are displaying large pictures of the new hero in their windows.

Also at the spaceport Thursday were Young's parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. White of Jacksonville and Young's wife, Barbara. Young's brother, the Rev. Hugh Young, lives in Athens, Ga. He is step-brother to Mrs. Mary Stucky of Kansas City and Lt. (jg) James Mosteller, now stationed in San Diego.

VFW Dinner Is Sellout

By Donna Estes

Commander John McManus issued apology to the public at the regular meeting of South Seminole VFW Post 8207 Tuesday evening for the earlier than usual closing time for the chicken-rib barbecue which took place Sunday at the post home.

McManus explained that the dinner was so successful, foods were completely sold out by 3:30 p.m., resulting in the early closing hour. In the future, provisions will be on hand to serve greater numbers, McManus advised.

The next dinner is scheduled for April 11 from 12:30 until 4:30 p.m.

Fun Night will continue each Monday at 8 p.m. Merle Harris, building chairman, reported that the post kitchen in the post home has been painted and a new sink installed.

Nomination of officers is planned for the next regular meeting to take place April 13.

Famed Artist Holds Show

Area art enthusiasts have an opportunity now to see the one man show of Mrs. Mary Dean, nationally known artist, which is on display at DeBary Mansion House, headquarters of the Florida Federation of Art.

Arrangements for this fine exhibition were made by Mrs. George Brooks, Federation president, who advises that plans also are being made for Mrs. Dean to take up residence at the mansion for one or two months during the summer during which time she will conduct art classes for both children and adults.

Interested persons are asked to contact the Mansion for further information.

Mrs. Dean, an art teacher in Winter Haven since 1954, at the age of 21 attended the Minneapolis Art Institute where she studied with two German artists, Robert Kohler and Gustave Goetch. At the end of her first year she won awards and a scholarship.

After marriage to William Dean, who comes from Cornwall, England, she continued her painting, at the same time operating a flower and gourd shop for 19 years. Here she made thousands of items from rare and beautiful gourds, many of them grown in her own garden from special seeds. Numerous prizes were received for these articles and a story appearing in Minnesota Magazine named her "Fairy Godmother of the Gourds."

In Winter Haven she has had many one man exhibitions including one in the Deinci Gallery of the Great Masterpiece for three months which brought endless compliments. She has given many demonstrations and eight years ago arranged for the first art school for children, five through 18 years, ever held in Winter Haven. In addition to regular classes, she gave free art instruction for six years at the Winter Haven Girls Club for underprivileged children where scholarships are awarded annually.

In 1960, the Deans visited Cornwall during which time she made 28 sketches of the area and of the Scilly Islands. She was privileged to make many fine contacts with renowned artists, writers and statesmen, who came to see her work. Allison Uttley, a writer of children's books which are among favorites of Queen Elizabeth's youngsters, came to see her and introduced her to Lady Mears, illustrator for the books. She and Mrs. Uttley were invited to be guests of Sir Grimwood and Lady Mears at their home and Mrs. Dean also were invited to many tea parties given in the House of Lords and the House of Commons in London.

Mrs. Dean works in various mediums — oils, pastels, water colors, mixed mediums and enamels. Her home is like a museum where on display, along with her beautiful paintings, are many lovely candle holders, table vases, bird houses, flowers and other articles, all made from gourds.

The exhibition will hang at the Mansion through April 24 and may be viewed by the public from 1 until 5 p.m., Tuesday through Sunday, each week.

Two new members, Mrs. Beulah Anderson and Mrs. Beulah Thomas, were welcomed during the meeting which was conducted by Mrs. Virginia McManus, president.

It was reported that the rummage sale and the plastic wares sale sponsored by the unit were successful projects. Election of officers was scheduled for April 1, next regular meeting date.

U. S. Allies Trading With Reds-Rogers

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rep.

Paul Rogers (D-Ill.), said today America's allies are trading with North Viet Nam despite the fact that U. S. servicemen are engaged in combat with the Viet Cong.

"During the last six months of 1964, a total of 201 ships flying the flags of our allies have hauled cargoes into the ports of North Viet Nam," Rogers said.

He said Great Britain made up 41 per cent of the total.

Other nations trading with North Viet Nam are Japan, Greece, Norway, Lebanon, Italy, West Germany and Panama, he said.

Rogers, a member of the House Interstate and foreign commerce committee, appeared on a radio program, "Washington Report," sponsored by the American Security Council, a Chicago-based non-partisan organization.

He said Britain's trade with North Viet Nam was "strange" because Britain has publicly supported the U. S. position in Viet Nam.

"Of course, the best way England could help us would be to stop their shipping into Viet Cong territory," Rogers said.

"We still are hearing cries for a negotiated settlement of the Vietnamese crisis," he said.

"I think this crisis would not have reached the present peak if it had not been for the shipping done over the years, particularly within the last few years by our allies."

Community Job Agency Probes Work Programs

Phases of pre-school, youth and adult training, re-training, education, self-help services, health services, vocational training and youth job corps training were discussed Wednesday by members of the Community Action Agency of Seminole County meeting in the Civic Center.

Under the leadership of Dr. W. Vincent Roberts, the committee read and adopted the by-laws, heard a report from the applications committee and engaged in a lengthy discussion headed by project committee chairman DeWitt Mathews.

Among the programs suggested by various members of the committee were day nursery programs, family planning counseling, homemaker services, adult education programs, vocational training and re-training, nursing, mechanical trades and remedial reading programs.

Joe Foy, chairman of the applications committee, pointed out that in 1963 some 4,400 persons out of a labor force of 13,000 in Seminole County were engaged in agricultural work, but in 1964, one year later, only 1,900 persons out of a labor force of 16,000 were engaged in agricultural work, indicating a sharp increase in industrial work and a sharp decrease in agricultural employment.

There were 17,095 families in Seminole County in 1960, 6,313 of which earned less than the minimum $3,000 a year, which President Lyndon Johnson has defined as "poverty-stricken."

Lack of communication was blamed for much of the failure of persons who need job training to take advantage of present programs being conducted by the adult vocational department of the county school system.

"The illiterates can't read the newspaper. They don't know what is going on or what help is available," said Mathews.

All the suggested programs will be investigated at length by the committee and prepared for presentation to state representatives of the Economic Opportunities Act committee who will be at the Civic Center at 1:30 p.m. March 31 to meet with the Community Action Agency.

U. S. Confident Furor Will Die

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. officials were confident today that the furor over use of nauseous gas in Viet Nam would soon subside without damaging basic American-British unity on policy in Southeast Asia.

These officials acknowledge, however, that propaganda repercussions probably would continue to echo for some time around the world, spurred by Communist charges that poison gas rather than tear gas had been used.

Waterway Job Is Completed

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — A 13-year project to enlarge the intracoastal Waterway from Jacksonville to Miami has been completed, the Army Corps of Engineers announced.

The 125-foot wide waterway, final link from Trenton, N. J., to Miami, is 12 feet deep from Jacksonville to Fort Pierce and 10 feet deep from there to Miami.

The enlargement project cost $11.3 million.

SHS Faces Edgewater In Conference Contest

Sophomore righthander Ronnie Dudley will be seeking his first decision of the season Friday when he opens for the Seminoles against the Edgewater Eagles in a Metro Conference baseball game.

The contest, to be played in Sanford, will begin at 4 p.m.

Coach Jim McCoy said today that Dudley has shown improvement with each performance.

Eddie Fitzgerald, No. 1 pitcher who won his second game Tuesday against Colonial, will be at first base Friday when the Seminoles face the Eagles.

McCoy said the rest of the lineup for Seminoles will be the same. Danny Lee, who has been out for pitching, will probably see some relief duty in the outfield.

The Seminoles coach said that some of the players have shown signs of breaking out of a batting slump. He said Fitzgerald, Bill Kuykendall and Steve Harris are beginning to hit the ball more effectively.

Shortstop Ronnie Hinson has been the most consistent hitter to date with Chuck Scott and Danny Tillis close behind.

The Seminoles pitching staff now consists of Fitzgerald,

Dudley, Ray Pivec and Hinson. Jim Eldridge, who had been counted on for spring, probably is out for the season.

SHS takes a 2-2 record into the Edgewater game.

Swimmers Meet Leesburg Team

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer

The Seminole High swimming team will travel to Leesburg Friday to face the Leesburg Yellowjackets in a non-Metro Conference swim meet scheduled to get under way at 4 p.m.

The Seminoles boys will be out for their fourth win of the season after beating Colonial and Boone last Tuesday. The girls' team will go after its second win after having two losses at the beginning of the season and then beating the two Metro schools last Tuesday.

The Seminoles have not lost a swim meet in a number of years, but this year they have had in a long time. According to Coach John Colbert, "This is the one we really want to win. If the team wins there will be a big party given at my home."

Colbert has been putting the Tribe through rigid training workouts daily in preparation for Leesburg. The squad has been working especially hard on the relays and the girls have been rounding out their training program.

The Tribe's next meet will be against Edgewater and Winter Park Tuesday March 30.

Black Bass Event Opens

WINTER HAVEN (Special)

— Competition in the third annual U. S. Open Black Bass Championship began across the nation with all non-restricted water eligible in the 50 states.

Both largemouth and smallmouth black bass may be entered in the contest, which is being sponsored by the Winter Haven Chamber of Commerce.

Forty-five prizes will be awarded. The champion will receive a Johnson outboard motor, a Lone Star "Big Fisherman" boat, a Gator trailer and a championship trophy. Runner-up will receive a pair of DeLuxe Cypress Gardens water skis, a spinning reel and tackle box. A pair of Cypress Gardens water skis will go to the entrant, other than the champion and runner-up, who enters the heaviest fish from each of three states. Weight of fish determine which states.

There is no advance registration requirement by anglers and there is no entrance fee. All persons are eligible as long as they use legal tackle.

The current champion is James W. Davis, of Howey-in-the-Hills, Florida, who entered a 16-pound 1-ounce bass last year.

Burke Concert Monday

"The sound of music" from 12 voices—all related in tone and harmony—and blood ties—will be heard at 8 p.m. Monday on stage at the Seminole High School auditorium. A family of 12—father, mother and their 10 children—sing together for the joy of it. They are invariably compared with the famed Trapp family, immortalized by Rodgers and Hammerstein in "Sound of Music," a Broadway musical based on that family and now made into a motion picture.

The Burke family singers' success story started in a simple way. After singing the "Rosary" one evening in their home in Providence, R. I. about four years ago, they sang a hymn in unison. Walter V. Burke, the father, who is organist and choir master at Blessed Sacrament Church in Providence, suggested they try singing in four parts. He then proceeded to write arrangements for several well-known hymns and Christmas carols.

Then in the spring of 1960, the Burkes gave their first public concert which was a tremendous success. Triumphant engagements in New England and New York followed. The next step up came with television appearances on the CBS "Look Up and Live" program. The Burkes, a shining example of family togetherness, came in contact for the first time with millions of people throughout the country, thanks to the medium of the living-room screen. Letters poured into the network from enthusiastic listeners who loved the sound of music as it came from the voices—and the hearts—of the Burke family.

"Music is my life," says Mr. Burke. And as for the children, they have inherited their parents love of music. It's all a natural part of their routine and they resort to it as a pleasant accompaniment to their busy days.

Sen. Kennedy Completes Climb

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory (UPI)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, "feeling fine" after his pilgrimage to the top of the mountain named for his slain brother, hoped today to return to his duties in Washington before the day is over. Kennedy spent his third night on Mt. Kennedy Wednesday night in a three-man tent at the 8,500-foot level base camp.

A Royal Canadian Air Force twin-engine turbo-prop plane was scheduled to take the New York Democrat to Seattle from where he would leave for the nation's capital. Shortly before 1 p.m. Yukon time (5 p.m. EST) Wednesday, Kennedy became the first man to set foot atop the 13,000-foot mountain named by Canada for the late President John F. Kennedy.

The seven expert climbers accompanying Kennedy stood aside a few yards short of the summit and allowed the senator to proceed to the top alone. As he reached the summit, Kennedy knelt and drove into the ice a black flag with the white Kennedy family crest upon it and placed down other personal articles.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently joined a club in town. You have to be a war veteran to get in. You ring a buzzer and they open the door. Well, my husband and I were there one night and it was hard to find a veteran in the crowd. I saw several men who could have joined the service, but they hid behind a cow during the war years. Others I knew left good selling jobs to go to work in a defense plant so they wouldn't have to go. These men were let in just like members. My husband had to pay a big installation fee to join this club. He also has to pay a monthly membership fee. Don't you think he should ask for his money back and quit this club inasmuch as it isn't the kind of club we thought it was?

VETERAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: That's up to your husband. Assuming he joined the club of his own free will, he has no one but himself to blame for not having learned more about the club and its "membership" before joining.

DEAR ABBY: What's the matter with people who move into an expensive house in a beautiful neighborhood and who don't even own a garbage can?

This neighbor lady just sets her garbage and trash out on the pavement in boxes, bags and sacks. By the time it is collected, it has been dragged all over the neighborhood by dogs, or carried by the wind onto everybody else's property. This neighbor wears expensive clothes and drives a high-priced car, so we know she can afford to buy a garbage can. How can we let her know that the next time she goes shopping, the entire neighborhood would appreciate it if she'd buy herself one?

FED UP

DEAR FED: The next time you see her (and you can make it soon by calling on her with a batch of cookies) tell her you've noticed that she hasn't bought a garbage can yet. Then recommend the kind you use, and tell her where she can buy it. If you are really "fed up," offer to "order" one for her. You could solve your problem and hers, too, as she probably keeps forgetting to buy one.

DEAR ABBY: Ron and I have been married for four months and already we have a problem. I can't fall asleep unless I have the radio going. I keep it very low, but my husband says it keeps him awake. He says part of the reason he can't sleep with the radio on is because he keeps thinking of all the electricity we are wasting with the radio going all night long and nobody listening to it. I tried to tell him that it didn't cost any more than if we had an electric clock running, or even a night light, but he doesn't look at it that way. I even told him I would find out how much it cost to run that radio all night for a month, and he could take it out of my allowance. He said no. Should I tell him to go sleep on the couch? Or should I go?

TROUBLES

DEAR TROUBLES: If your husband is kicking about the noise, use an ear-plug receiver until you're ready to sleep yourself. But if he's squawking about the COST, your electric company can estimate it for you. (It will add up to only a few pennies a month.)

DEAR ABBY: Now you've gone and done it! All of us loyal, faithful wives are "agin" you for saying a husband can love two women at the same time. That's like giving them a license to steal! It may be true, but do you have to advertise it? Men get enough ideas without any help from you. Now I am wondering, will my husband come home tonight?

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

When two overbidders get together they are likely to bid in a way that would make strong men cover in fear, but if the overbidder who gets to be declarer happens to be a good card player he will bring home quite a few of these over-optimistic contracts.

South's diamond opening was sound and he was not going to sell out at two diamonds. Hence his two spade rebid. Overbidder North was distinctly worried about his two diamond bid. He had 11 high card points and five diamonds and had really wanted to jump to three diamonds. Therefore, when his partner bid two spades, North felt that he had to take strong action. He ignored the fact that his queen of hearts was just so much waste material and that his partner would probably hold only four spades to ring that there was a play to make it provided that every suit broke perfectly for him and that the one thing he could not afford to do would be to pull trumps.

Therefore, South proceeded to knock out the ace of diamonds. West made his best defensive play by leading a third heart.

South ruffed this in dummy and still could not do anything about the trumps. He had to knock out the ace of clubs first.

East got in with the ace of clubs and led a fourth round of hearts. South ruffed this in dummy also. Then he overtook dummy's king of trumps with the ace and led out his last two trumps. When both opponents had to follow to the third trump lead South was able to claim the rest of the tricks.

We The Women:

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE:—When our college freshman daughter was home two weeks ago, she told me that mothers of several girls she knew had provided them with contraceptives. I asked her if the girls used them and she said, "Of course."

I then changed the subject and have been terribly upset ever since. What did she mean? Was she telling me she is having sex experience? I have not discussed my worry with her father.

ANSWER: Ask her what she meant. I expect that she was inviting your opinion on sex activity. I can't be certain of this but the young sometimes do use tales of their friends' sex adventures to ask indirectly our permission to engage in them, too.

Myself, I do not think parents can grant this permission. After clearly making any such adventures the child's responsibility, we can add, "We can only promise to rally around if you land yourself in trouble."

I feel like a dinosaur in this world where parents provide contraceptives to young daughters, thereby suggesting they include sex activity among other "fun" things.

Dr. Hollis May, the distinguished psychoanalyst, recently charged Americans with placing more emphasis on sex than any society since the Romans, adding, "Where the Victorian person sought to have love without falling in love, the modern person seeks to have sex without falling in love. Patients now talk a great deal about sexual activity but complain of a lack of meaning and passion."

I quote Dr. May because it is to the people of his profession that come the casualties of this "fun" society of ours—the people for whom impersonal sex pleasure has finally added up to despair of any genuine contact with other human beings. We possess capacities other than sexual ones. Without any exercise of them in relationship to other human beings, men and women both are left with a frantically lonely sense of being unknown and unwanted.

After forty some women feel defeated at the lack of beauty and glamour in their lives. This is especially true of women who have had exciting careers, and some, now widowed, whose husbands made their lives happy and exciting and " pampered" them. If you adopt a "defeatist" attitude, you will be miserable. You must go after what you want to make you happy. A charming lady of my acquaintance, who has seen "better days" and who led a wonderful full life, now has to pinch pennies. She lives alone, and walks to and fro on her errands—but with the carfare saved she buys a flower. This is important to her and enriches her life. She places the flower in a vase by her bed and also places it on her tray when eating alone.

Little things are worthwhile if they are important to you. Another lady of once great wealth says that she must have a pair of white gloves occasionally. "If I starve to get them." Some women, well able to have what they wish of beauty and glamour, hesitate. An aunt of a friend tells me that she would love to have beautiful and "foolish" underwear, but cannot force herself to buy it. She can afford it, so she'd better buy it now or she never will.

Make yourself do things, such as inviting a friend to come over on Sunday for "coffee and cake." Your whole day will have a different outlook. Another problem of many after-forty women is when their husbands retire. They do not know what to do with them because they are restless and unhappy at home. Of course a man is restless and unhappy when first he copes with retirement and with nothing to do all day! Make something for him to do—it is up to wives to help.

One woman I know got her husband a "fun" job. He drives groups of neighborhood children to school, on holidays he drives them to the zoo, and they all enjoy it. The husband says he never met so many people, and he numbers not only the young people but their fathers and mothers among his friends. He feels "wanted," and that is good. Don't sit and think—act! Do some of the things you always wanted to do. It's not always easy, but you can try. Do it now, or never!

MRS. ALLEN FORWARD, left, was hostess recently at her Forest City home to a stork shower honoring Mrs. Eugene MacGeen, center. At the right is the honoree's mother-in-law, Mrs. Sally MacGeen.

As she and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Sally MacGeen, entered the spacious Forward home they were greeted by the hostess who had arranged a stork shower honoring Mrs. MacGeen. The coffee table held a miniature bassinet and lovely gifts were displayed around a doll carriage.

The guests participated in appropriate games and contests with prizes awarded Mrs. Richard Lashley, Mrs. William Vieta and Mrs. Robert Clark.

The refreshment table centerpiece was an arrangement of pink blossoms surrounded by baby pins, rattlers, teething rings and other baby items. A pink cake was served with punch, mints and nuts.

Invited guests were the Meses. C. F. Fields, Irma Lundmark, Robert Steiback, Bruce Kierstead, Lewis Stubbs, Gerald Brown, William Vieta, Saul Houston, Gene Norris, Billie Johnson, Luther Miles, A. G. Cooke, Robert Clark and Joseph DeKela.

Also the Meses. H. B. Jones, Roger Moore, Richard Lashley, Robert Bowen, Francis Metcalf, Clinton Gorree, Norman Copeland, Margaret Cunningham, Anne Shaper, Sally MacGeen and Miss Frances Nalley.

Medical News

Before a physician gives a woman a prescription for a contraceptive—and the safest, most reliable contraceptive—she usually must be prescribed—be usually gives her a thorough physical check-up. "This step can do a great deal to safeguard a woman's health and a family's happiness," says Dr. Frank R. Lock, President, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

"In the course of such an examination we may catch defects and illnesses which, untreated," the doctor warns, "might interfere with pregnancy and childbirth. The pre-contraceptive exam adds up to safer pregnancy and delivery, as well as better maternal health, and increases the odds that the baby will be normal."

NEW JEWELRY ENDS OLD TABOOS—Big jewelry makes fashion news for spring, and both short and tall girls can wear it. Looking left to right, the long earring can now be worn even by petite gals as long as they choose a modified design. Tall girls can really go all out with the shoulder-brushing earrings and can add a glamorous pin to the back of a party gown.

When it comes to necklaces, the small girl can be braver than ever this spring. This three-strand "golden wardrobe" carries its own complement in earrings. The necklace divides into one or two strands and the danglers on the earrings are removable. The tall girl can be glamorous in assorted chains and tasseled earrings.

Easter will be here soon, and the kiddies will be looking for something cute and nice to eat. Here are some little "cuties" to make for them.

COCONUT EASTER FLOWERS
1 1/2 cups flaked coconut, tinted pink
1 qt. vanilla ice cream
1 qt. chocolate ice cream
gumdrops candies

Line custard cups with coconut. Spoon vanilla ice cream into the cups and press against bottom and sides with back of spoon. Add more coconut around the edges, if necessary. Fill centers with chocolate ice cream. Freeze several hours or overnight. Meanwhile make a gumdrop flower. For stems and leaves use long gumdrops. Split each one at one end into four sections. Stick toothpick lengthwise through one section and spread out the other three. Cut round gumdrops into petal shapes and stick these into the toothpicks. Unmold the ice cream pots by running a warm spatula around the sides of the custard cups. Insert a gumdrop flower in each pot. Makes about 12 pots (flowers).

to a small gathering for Billy Piland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Piland, of 420 David Street, North Orlando, the youngsters who did attend the party had a fine time.

Most exciting of all was an Easter egg hunt with artificial eggs full of jelly beans—and everyone won!

The decorations were of an Easter motif. There were all kinds of lollipop goodies and marshmallow bunnies and, of course, ice cream and a delicious collection of fudge cupcakes topped with candy rabbits all set out on a bunny rabbit tablecloth along with a raspberry drink.

For that "one to grow on," Billy had a candle on his cupcake.

Jimmy and Susie Mae Turner of Sanford were there, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Turner also.

Medical Mirror Reflects Clearly For Far-sighted

NEW YORK (UPI)—A new mirror containing a hand-ground prescription lens helps far-sighted women to see when they take off their glasses to apply cosmetics.

The mirror-lens is the invention of Nan Grey, motion picture and television star. She was hospitalized about three years ago. During her convalescence her mother visited her almost daily. Miss Grey noticed that her mother's make-up looked pretty awful.

Eye makeup was asked. The rouge was a blob of red on her cheeks. Miss Grey's mother was far-sighted.

When she took off her glasses she felt she could not see to fix her makeup perfectly. Miss Grey thought about the problem and then approached a research ophthalmologist with the idea for mirror-lens.

Through computing various prescriptions, he was able to come up with two basic prescriptions that by slight movement back and forth would correct the vision of more than 90 per cent of the persons who are far-sighted. He called them plus-1 and plus-2 mirrors. The former is most efficient for the age group between 40 to 49. The plus-2 one is for those 50 and over.

Soak plastic shower curtains in a mild solution of liquid bleach and detergent for half an hour to remove soap film and soil. Wash curtains with a brush when soil is loosened and rinse well.

Silver Shortage Poses Puzzle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government faces a dilemma: Should it or shouldn't it take the silver out of its silver money?

The final decision will be up to Congress, but the Treasury Department has to decide whether to ask the lawmakers for authorization to begin making coins out of other metals. The problem probably will be the first big decision for the new Treasury secretary, Henry H. Fowler, who is scheduled to take over next week from Douglas Dillon.

Behind the problem is a shortage of silver in the federal government's vaults at West Point, N. Y. Even if the administration decides to go on using silver for making coins, the percentage in each coin will be sharply cut below the present 90 per cent.

If the government makes up its mind to stop using silver, dimes, quarters and half dollars probably will be made of copper with a coating of shiny copper-nickel, the substance that already is used for nickels. Whatever Fowler decides, he will be sure to check with the White House first. The decision is certain to cause a flurry among silver producers and silver users who can muster votes on Capitol Hill.

LBJ Urged To Enter UN Problem

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) urged President Johnson today to take the lead in solving the United Nations financial problem and "putting the organization back into business."

Aiken, a member of the Senate foreign relations committee and former delegate to the UN General Assembly, said: "I couldn't agree more with those who say that the Vietnamese conflict cries out for United Nations attention."

However, he said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery, "in the present situation, it is an idle dream to suppose that this bankrupt organization could be effective."

"The sad thing, perhaps even the tragedy of the 1960s, is that the United Nations, when it is needed most, is virtually non compos mentis," Aiken said.

"It is unable to act in ways which it might be effective," The United Nations is declining steadily in prestige and influence, he said, despite the "irony" that "at no time since San Francisco (1945) have the United States and Russia been closer to a common understanding of the interests of the great powers in the United Nations."

Aiken said the roots of the current UN financial snarl lay in the 1962 bond issues, backed mainly by the United States, to provide for collective financing of peacekeeping operations.

But he said the dispute over financing UN peace-keeping operations was a "symptom rather than the cause of the deeper malignancy affecting the United Nations."

Alarmed Over Crime?

President Johnson has launched a war on crime.

He'll never win it unless he gets a lot more help from the public than law enforcement is getting now.

Crime is increasing in the United States five times faster than the population.

It is increasing not only in the cities but in the suburbs and rural areas as well.

Drug addiction is zooming to new heights.

Women—and men—are afraid to stroll in the parks or to walk or ride home from work at night for fear not only of being robbed but also brutally and senselessly beaten and even murdered.

Wolfpacks of teen-age punks roam the streets, robbing, raping and perverting acts of savage violence just for "kicks." (Where are their parents?)

National magazines carry ads for a device by which cheaters can defraud the telephone companies of long distance toll fees.

College students are being openly solicited to buy a gadget that makes cheating in exams so easy it's almost boring.

All this is happening in OUR America. And it is happening with a strange and frightening absence of shock and lack of resistance by the public.

It is as if the American people were sitting on the sidelines glumly watching the steady slide of their country into moral decadence and fighting it with a shrug and a yawn.

Who is to actively and militantly enlist in the resistance movement against this creeping—nay, galloping—paralysis of national decency, morality, pride and ethics?

The clergy? Public officials on all levels of government? The media? Civic organizations? Parents?

Of course. And not just one of those groups, but all of them—plus the most powerful force of all, the individual citizen who isn't afraid to speak out in angry protest against what's happening to him, his family and his regard for the American way of life. And back up his words with action.

Now is the time for every man to come to the aid of his country in an all-out war on crime and cheating. But before we can stamp out crime, we must stamp out apathy.

Let's start stamping!

Thought For Today

Many shall purify themselves, and make themselves white, and be refined; but the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand; but those who are wise shall understand.—Daniel 12:10.

Experience keeps a dear school, but fools will learn in no other.—Benjamin Franklin.

TEMPEST IN THE KETTLE

Letters

To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

"The Great American Tragedy" and other colorful terms have been used to describe the civil rights struggle in Alabama and other parts of the nation. Suddenly citizens are outraged and a passionate cry goes up to the federal government to stop man's inhumanity to man. The President calls for "no delay, no hesitation, no compromise of purpose" in the passage of his Civil Rights "Program." Congress springs into action and sets the law making machinery into motion. What American every right now is not another law, but time to catch its breath to reason and to think clearly.

Enclosed is a copy of a letter sent to Senator Holland calling on him and other members of Congress to take the time to closely examine the situation. But, one letter can't do the job alone. Now is the time for all citizens to stand up for their beliefs—to read and write to a prerequisite to sound decision making. True, there have been isolated instances where unscrupulous officials exceeded the intent of the law and discriminated against individuals claiming they did not meet basic literacy requirements. These isolated cases can be remedied through our court system and do not require additional legislation.

Does the Federal Government have the right or duty to control local politics? This could be the end result if federal officials were allowed to act as registrars. Federal registrars could conceivably do the very thing local registrars are accused of doing—discriminating against segments of the population. How terrible it would be for a man, white or black, to be refused the privilege of voting because he did not agree with the policies of the party in power!

Should we eliminate "time consuming" lawsuits relating to civil rights? It would seem that the President should favor due process of law. The lawsuits he proposes to eliminate have done more to advance inter-race relations in the past few years than has been accomplished in the previous one hundred years.

Does the Constitution not already provide that registered voters may vote? Amendment Fifteen, Section One of the Constitution of the United States declares that "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by any state on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude." The law is already written, all that remains is enforcement.

Should we ignore the Constitution? When the President takes the oath of office, he swears to "preserve, protect and defend the constitution of the United States." Nowhere in the Constitution does it grant the Federal Government the power to participate in local politics. The constitution does say that "the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor reserved to the states respectively and to the people." Why should the President choose to ignore the solemn oath of office?

Again I implore you do not let our President "blackjack" you and your fellow members of Congress. Take time to think, to reason, to evaluate, and to determine what is really right. I close with another quote from President Johnson's speech, "Let each of us look in our own hearts in our own community."

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Parents, please read Terry's confession. Then you will realize the unfair emotional load which you quarreling mates impose upon your children. If you really wish to do so, you can regain happiness without using even 50 per cent of your I. Q., for there is a very simple formula for marital happiness.

CASE V-446: Terry L., aged 11, was a problem child. "Dr. Crane," his worried mother began, "I am quite concerned about Terry. He seems to be withdrawing from social life and is avoiding his former playmates."

"For example, they have often invited him to spend the night at their homes. But Terry always refuses and sometimes he has fabricated very bizarre stories to justify why he can't accept their invitations."

"Although I scold him and tell him it is quite O.K. for him to visit his pals for a night, he still will not do so. Dr. Crane, what is wrong with Terry? Am I at fault or what?"

When I had a talk with Terry, he soon laid the cards on the table.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I don't mind visiting my pals in the afternoon but I don't dare spend the night with them."

"For then they'd expect me to invite them to visit at my house for a night."

"But I can't do that." Since Terry's mother was hospitable and would have welcomed the other boys into her home over night, I asked Terry to explain just why he dared not invite them.

"Well, Dr. Crane," he finally confessed, "I like to have them visit our home in the afternoon or even for awhile in the evening. But I don't dare ask them to stay all night."

"For my Daddy and Mother are divorced. He doesn't live with us any more. The boys I play with don't know that. During the afternoon when they are at my home, they don't expect him to be there, for they think he is just at the office."

"And even if they stay for an evening, they figure he is just working late. But if they were to spend the night at my house and then saw that he hadn't come home, they'd begin to suspect."

"And I don't want them to know my parents aren't living together!"

Parents, will you PLEASE use your heads and consider the future unhappiness to your youngsters if you get a divorce?

Don't try to alibi or justify your divorce by saying it is better for kiddies to live with their mother alone, rather than experience the constant fighting and bickering of a feuding family.

Actually, most of the children would vote to have the feuding with both parents under the same roof, than to have quiet but live in a broken home!

And it is not necessary for such bickering to occur if you mature adults will use even 50 per cent of the I. Q. you possess.

For you can change the entire atmosphere of your home within a few weeks just by launching on the "Compliment Club" plan.

Force yourself to look for (and then utter)—bits of praise for merits that your mate possesses.

Remember, nobody is totally devoid of virtues. You may dislike praising your mate, but force your vocal cords to do so.

So send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Let your kiddies join you in this project.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope, plus 20 cents to cover typing and printing cost when you send for one of his booklets.)

Dick West's

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A great deal has been written over the years about the strange wave of euphoria wafting up from Florida each year during the baseball spring training season.

A sore-armed pitcher with a 3-12 record who has been recalled from the minors is suddenly regarded as a potential 20 game winner. A 225 hitter predicts that a new batting stance will add 100 points to his average. And so forth.

As I was reading the sports pages this week, it occurred to me what a time thing it would be if the U. S. government offered some similar relief from the harass realities of life.

The next thing I know I was in the dugout of the State Department's training camp at Sunburn City, Fla., interviewing the manager.

"Mr. Secretary, having just put your diplomats through a strenuous workout how do you think they stack up?"

"With a little luck, we can solve all of the world's problems this year."

"On what do you base that forecast?"

"I think we will be helped a lot by the new deputy assistant undersecretary that we acquired in a mid-winter trade with the Commerce Department."

"This should take care of our troubles in Southeast Asia, where we needed more desk strength. Now all we have to do is persuade the Russians to persuade the Red Chinese to persuade the North Vietnamese to leave South Viet Nam alone."

"That will create the stability we have been seeking in Laos, which in turn will take some of the pressure off Cambodia."

"Then we can concentrate on inducing the Soviet Union to settle its debt at the United Nations and thus set an example for better cooperation from Indonesia."

"The French thereupon will see the light and halt the drain on our gold reserves, making it possible to rebuild the information library that was burned by a mob in Cairo."

"Consequently, Egypt will lead the other Arab nations in to a pact with Israel, and the Hungarian students will stop stomping our embassies in Budapest."

"That will pave the way for establishing tranquility in the Congo and bring about the reunification of Germany, which will end the turmoil in South America."

"The result will be the elimination of friction with Panama, the installation of a domestic government in Cuba, and Unfortunately, I had to break off the interview at this point in order to go accept the Pulitzer prize."

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Johnson is showing no signs of neglecting his congressional fences as the tense Vietnamese situation progresses.

Yet, as these efforts at maintaining sound links involve the committees dealing with foreign affairs, something is missing. There is a loss of vitality, and it seems not to be on the President's side. In fact, this circumstance appears to have had its origins long before he took office.

The easiest thing to say is that the inevitably increasing dominance of the White House in foreign affairs in an age of quick-breaking crises has down-graded both the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

There is more to it than this.

For one thing, the always less influential House committee has had no real claim to distinction for many years. Some presidents have come close to ignoring it. This kind of treatment evoked an outburst in 1950 from the then House foreign affairs chairman, Rep. James Richards of South Carolina. Said he: "I'm not going to have this committee dealt with as if it were a feeble-minded, illegitimate son."

If the House group has since consistently enjoyed somewhat more respectful attention, there has perhaps not been much White House heart in it.

Nor has the present chairman, Rep. Thomas Morgan of Pennsylvania, succeeded in remaking the committee into an instrument greatly to be reckoned with, though some foreign affairs specialists in the capital say he has recently managed some beneficial changes in membership.

Morgan and the committee's ranking Republican, Rep. Frances Bolton of Ohio, have not attended formal White House briefings on Viet Nam. The evidence is a bit fuzzy on the matter of Morgan's personal contacts with the President in such times of crisis. His name was not on the White House datebook during the period of our air strikes against North Viet Nam. But he saw Johnson at a stable White House reception for congressmen.

The Senate story is considerably different. Foreign relations chairman J. William Fulbright evidently saw the President at least three times at the White House during the critical Viet Nam aftermath, and the senator's aides say Viet Nam was discussed more than once.

There appears no measurable substance to the report that Johnson deliberately left Fulbright out of his Viet Nam "leadership briefings" in anger at the senator's refusal this year to take command of the controversial foreign aid bill.

Fulbright's independence of mind often has tended to entangle him in rumors of feuds with the White House. Aides insist they are unfounded.

Nevertheless, Fulbright is said by some at the executive end of town to be given to periods of moody introspection which affect his command of the Foreign Relations Committee.

In one appraiser's view, the committee is "stacked with a lot of people Fulbright didn't want." Some members, this source suggests, seem bent most on charting an individual rather than a committee course. He adds:

"Follows like (Senator) Symington, Smathers and Morse all have foreign policies of their own."

Whatever the state of Fulbright's relationship with the President, and it should not be forgotten that the senator campaigned hard for him last fall, the net effect of the present circumstance is evidently to reduce further the Senate group's voice in White House councils.

This committee, inescapably, is still powerful. But it lacks fire. Some of the flame vanished when the vibrant Hubert Humphrey left its midst. Like its House counterpart, however, it has really been turning gray for a long time.

'Dan Cupid' Gets Rough Time In Soviet Union

By Leon Dennen
NEW YORK (NEA) — What should a nubile Communist girl do when a romantic young Red invites her to a party at a country house and then, after consuming a glass of vodka, tries to kiss her?

According to Komsomolskaya Pravda, Russia's official youth publication, she should slap his face, stalk out of the dacha and report his offense to the newspaper. That is exactly what Comrade Miss Svetlana did after she "innocently" accepted an invitation to a party at a dacha near Moscow. She slapped the young man's face and denounced him in an indignant letter to the Komsomolskaya Pravda.

But did Miss Svetlana's friends appreciate her courageous act? Not at all, reported Pravda's angry editors. In fact, the paper was deluged with letters from "romantic" girls who hardly shared Miss Svetlana's pure Marxist-Leninist view of necking.

What puts them in a dither is that this preoccupation with love between the sexes keeps young men and women from the only thing that counts—working and producing for the Communist state. But physical love, alas, is just too impudent to be regimented, Communist style. And there are no "sacred" Marxist-Leninist texts giving guidance as to how romantic love should be handled in a materialistic collective society.

So, despite strict orders to substitute love of work and love of the Communist party for physical love, romantic capitalist love laughs at traitors, factories and locksmiths. The authorities are forced to admit this, however reluctantly. The director of Communist Poland's Academy of Science—putting the best possible face on the resurgence of romanticism—recently said:

"We are now facing an imbalance in various fields, including love. I venture to say that romanticism is disappearing. However, love cannot exist without sincere courtship and gentlemanliness, because such a lack would deny the very essence of the love union."

The Red leaders are obviously in a quandary. What makes it difficult for them to expound a strict Communist line on sex is that there is none that can serve the Red state on all occasions.

In the early days of the Russian revolution, there were continuous jabs at the family as an outdated institution of the "old capitalist order." Alexandra Kollontai, Lenin's close collaborator and Russia's apostle of "free love," even preached that the family was "ceasing to be a necessity for its members as well as for the Communist state."

A milkman with a British accent? Not only that but he is a British subject.

That's Maurice J. Bullied. How about that for the name of a milkman?

Bullied is Sanford representative for an Orlando dairy and is planning on changing his residence from Orlando to Seminole County.

Bullied also is considering switching his citizenship to America. He took flying training in the U. S. and Canada during World War II and flew 56 operational sorties over Europe as a navigator-bombardier.

He had a milk route in England back in the 30s.

School vandalism in New York City amounts to $12 million a year!

We're happy to say school vandalism in Seminole county is negligible in comparison. Superintendent of Schools R. T. Milwee says it has been very little this year. However, in the past it has cost the school system several hundred dollars a year in broken window panes.

Milwee says steps have been taken—particularly the counseling of students—to eliminate vandalism.

"It would amount to only a few cents per pupil," Superintendent Milwee says.

So far this year there has been no serious vandalism he says.

Burns Seeks Funds

State Canal In Jeopardy

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—If Florida doesn't find a source of funds to purchase right-of-way for the cross-state barge canal, it could lose the federal money paying for construction of the canal.

Gov. Haydon Burns said he will ask the coming session of the Legislature to help provide up to $12 million for this purpose.

Burns announced at the conference that Orlando contractor W. A. McCree had agreed to remain as chairman of the Florida Canal Authority, which he has headed since its organization in 1961. He had offered his resignation but Burns said he was needed to guide the authority during the critical months until his scheduled resignation June 1.

Burns also announced appointment of Joseph F. Marques, of Pensacola, to the authority to replace W. Palmer Van Arsdale of Fort Lauderdale.

The authority at a brief organizational meeting re-elected McCree as its chairman. Sumner Lowry of Tampa was re-named vice chairman; James C. Murrell Jr., of Jacksonville, secretary; Harry H. Saunders, of Port St. Joe, treasurer, and Marques, assistant treasurer.

Joe Livingston, of Jacksonville, who handled public relations for Burns' successful gubernatorial campaign, was picked as a public relations consultant for the authority. "Florida is facing possible embarrassment unless the Legislature makes special progress in finding funds for right-of-way," Burns said. McCree added that there are funds to last the rest of this year but none in sight to pay for right-of-way after that.

President Leads Series Of Tributes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—"Twin" Spacemen Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young flew here today to receive medals, congratulations and thanks from the President and honors from Congress and the Capital.

The astronauts flew with their families from Florida for the first of a series of tributes which will include a ticker-tape parade in New York on Monday and a civic reception in Chicago on Tuesday.

They are being honored for piloting the world's first fully maneuverable manned spacecraft on a nearly flawless three-orbit flight on Tuesday. Their flight inaugurated the two-year Gemini flight program which will lead into Project Apollo to put men on the moon in 1968.

The 38-year-old Grissom and his 34-year-old co-pilot flew from Florida to Andrews Air Force Base, Md., in two twin-engine prop jet planes. The Grissoms were aboard the first plane, the Youngs in the second.

With Grissom were his wife, Betty, and their two sons, Scott, 11, and Mark, 11, and the astronaut's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis D. Grissom of Mitchell, Ind.

Young was accompanied by his wife, Barbara, and their children, Sandra, 7, and John, 4, and Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Young of Orlando.

GRIFFING DAYS
For Grissom and Young, who told a news conference Thursday that their flight was another than they had expected, it shaped up as a grueling but heart-warming day. Only the forecast of no clouds in the threatened to mar the festivities.

President Johnson, who intently watched on television when the two astronauts left their launching pad and later congratulated them by telephone, led off the tributes today.

He invited high-ranking officials to a two-pardon ceremony for his presentation of medals to Grissom and Young, past-time space agency Administrator Robert C. Seamans and Harris H. Schriever, project manager of the Ranger moon shots.

PRESENTATION
The space agency's Exceptional Service Medal was being conferred on Grissom and Young. Grissom also was to get a cluster to the Distinguished Service Medal he was awarded by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for his substantial flight in 1961.

Seamans won the NASA Distinguished Service Medal for his participation in the overall space program and Schriever, got the NASA Exceptional Achievement Award for the successful Ranger probes to photograph the moon.

Swedish Group Tours Air Base

A delegation of seven Swedish Air Force officers and civilians Thursday toured the Sanford Naval Air Station where they received a first hand look at the RA-5C reconnaissance bomber and its intelligence support facilities.

The foreign visitors, touring U. S. Defense and industrial installations, accompanied by U. S. Navy and Air Force personnel, were briefed on the RA-5C and its capabilities by Capt. James O. Mayo, commander of Reconnaissance Attack Wing One. The briefing was followed by a closeup inspection of the aircraft and its reconnaissance equipment.

The group returned to Washington following the tour.

"UNCLE FRED" ENSMINGER

Uncle Fred Sent Ahead

By Julia Wells
Church Editor
"As the time approached . . . He set his face and sent messengers ahead." Luke 9:51-52

This Sunday, Sanford Congregational Christian Church, in observance of its Jubilee Anniversary, will pay highest tribute to its only living charter member who, through the past 61 years of teaching, mission work and ministry, has endeavored to "send messengers ahead" just as Jesus, on his way to Jerusalem, "set his face and sent messengers ahead" to establish God's true foundation of peace.

Sunday, "Uncle Fred's Day" will honor Rev. Dr. Fred Ensminger, who quipped "They call me 'Uncle Fred' because of difficulty in pronouncing my last name."

"Uncle Fred" who was 17 years old when he came to Sanford with his family in 1898 and was a member of the church when it was established here that same year. This Sunday will give an address entitled "I Remember"

A reception will be given by the church in his honor immediately following the 11 a.m. service and everyone old friends and new is invited to attend.

As a youth, Dr. Ensminger attended Rollins Academy for three years and Rollins College for three years, graduating in 1917. From here he studied at Andover on the Hill in Newton Centre, Mass., which later merged to become Andover Newton Baptist Congregational Seminary.

He and his wife, the late Annie Bennett Ensminger, who taught at Piedmont and at Southern Union Colleges, came back to Rollins in 1907 where he taught until 1909.

From here he went to West Tampa (Fla.) to serve for nine years at the church's Latin-American Institute which provided schooling for Cubans and Americans, con-
