Special children need your help this week

SANFORD — Donations of toys to a program for abused children are very low, according to the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, and organizers urgently need donations to be prepared for the Dec. 9 event.

The program is called "Seminole County United Christmas Village" for children who are victims and subjects of child abuse and domestic violence. The village will take place Friday at the Sanford Civic Center. It is sponsored by the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, division of Child Protective Services, and Community-Based Care of Seminole.

There are more than 3,500 cases of child abuse reported each year in Seminole County, according to the Sheriff's Office. Many of the children attending the village are in foster care and/or in protective services in Seminole County.

The goal is to provide happy memories for these children. More than 500 children will be present at the party. This is all made possible through collaboration of community donations and volunteers.

Organizers are in great need of toys by Dec. 9 to fill "Santa's Toy Shop" at the party, a place where gifts can be chosen to brighten up young lives.

Attorney: State can't prosecute DUI cases

By Steve Paradis
Herald Staff

SANFORD — Frustrated by county judges dismissing evidence from breathalyzer machines in Seminole DUI cases, the state attorney's office has turned to Tallahassee for answers that public defenders say would circumvent the sixth amendment.

County judges have regularly disallowed evidence from the Intoxilyzer 5000 machine approved for use by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement to measure alcohol levels.

On Nov. 29, however, County Judge Ralph E. Eriksson ordered that the state of Florida cannot use the intoxilyzer results, but also said the state cannot enter into evidence field sobriety tests and observations of officers about the sobriety of a defendant.

Assistant State Attorney Chris White held a news conference Monday afternoon at the Criminal Justice Center to say that this leaves prosecutors with no way to prosecute DUI cases. White added that the State Attorney's Office has appealed Eriksson's ruling to the 5th District Court of Appeals.

The Nov. 29 case involved Nicholas Andrew Wilks, who had been arrested for DUI. The intoxilyzer readings on Wilks, according to White, were .282 and .283, more than three

Airport authority to curb spending

SANFORD — Former Sanford commissioner and current board member and treasurer of the Sanford Airport Authority Whitey Eckstein told other board members Tuesday to pinch their pennies.

"We need to be concerned with how we spend our money," Eckstein said.

Eckstein said that with the New Year coming up and with plans to expand the Orlando Sanford International Airport, the SAA's bottom line is very important.

He told board members that they needed to concentrate on increasing cash flow and reducing indebtedness.

Looking for love in just the right place

By Liane Edixon
Herald Staff

SANFORD — Do you feel like you are looking for love, or just a relationship, in all the wrong places?

So did three local residents, Diane, Karen, and Tommy. Until they found out about a nearby singles club that catered to their needs, they said.

Dinner Dates, the creation of Valerie Patterson, is a Central Florida dinner and travel group formed 14 years ago.

After a visit to London, where Valerie went to a singles event that she eventually catered after her own Dinner Dates, she set out determined to meet the man of her dreams. In addition, she decided to help other single people meet their perfect match.

Unlike most dating services, Valerie wanted to tailor her company after the event she had attended in London.

There were an equal number of

males and females in several age brackets. It was set in a Ritz Hotel and was an elegant event with a several course meal and dancing until midnight.

After each course, the women moved chairs, and were introduced to several new single men. Valerie said she liked the idea of professional, eligible, people all meeting together for a fun night out in a nice atmosphere, with a no-strings attached vibe.

Fourteen years after starting Dinner Dates, there have been 218 people who met and married, including Valerie. It also boasts 500 successful relationships.

Valerie said a lot of people who belong to her group have been married and divorced, and who have recently re-entered the dating life and are now interested in having a successful relationship.

"We are a relationship-oriented group. You have to be interested in relationships," Valerie said.

Once a month, Dinner Dates holds a Gala at places such as Sweetwater and Timacuan Country Clubs. They also have outings during the months such as private parties, theater outings, comedy clubs, and wine tastings.

"Whatever is fun to do in Central Florida," Valerie explained. "It's a way to get out and meet people and do fun things."

Diane's Story

Diane, 49, of Lake Mary, is an administrative assistant who lost her husband 11 years ago to a pulmonary embolism.

She said that her twins, one boy and one girl, who are in college now, decided it was time for their mother to start dating again. Diane was looking for a place to be a single person, and she wanted to meet other single people.

Diane had married friends, but she said she felt like the third wheel, and was tired of going out to meet people unsuccessfully. In addition to meeting

Theft

• Irma Leal-Shea, 36, of Deltona was arrested by Sanford police Dec. 2 following a call for shoplifting at McRae's Department Store in the Seminole Towne Center mall. A loss prevention officer for the store told police that Leal-Shea told her unidentified daughter to pick up a number of the store's plastic bags and conceal them in her jacket. Then Leal-Shea entered a fitting room with merchandise and exited with full bags. The two people then left the store after purchasing some accessories. After reviewing the tape, the prevention officer found Leal-Shea and her daughter on the second floor of JC Penney's. The items taken added up to $250. Both females were arrested with the daughter taken to juvenile and the mother to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility. Leal-Shea was charged with larceny first degree and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

• Samantha Rativia Rumph, 19, of Cardinal Cove Circle in Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Dec. 2 when a loss prevention officer from Macy's in Seminole Towne Center apprehended her. The officer told police that Rumph walked through the store with a brown shirt with the price tag attached. Rumph removed the tag and left the store. Rumph was charged with petty larceny first offense.

• Kira Collins, 20, of Altamonte Springs Bay Club in Altamonte Springs, was arrested by Sanford police Saturday following a shoplifting incident at Claire's Boutique in the Seminole Towne Center mall. A sales associate told police she saw Collins place four pairs of earrings totaling $20.87 into a small bag, which she put in a larger bag. Collins was charged with petty larceny first offense.

Burglary

• Juan Lunas Santos, 22, of West 25th Street in Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Sunday following a suspicious incident call at the same apartments. Police met with the victim, Mario Camas, who said everything was fine. Another officer out back saw two other subjects, Jose Giron and Santos break the back window of the residence. Giron and Santos ran away and entered another apartment and threw the sliding door shut. A canine officer joined the pursuit. Giron would not allow police to handcuff him, but they finally did. Both men were charged with burglary of an unoccupied dwelling, resisting an officer with violence, property damage, disturbing the peace and loitering.

Drugs

• Edward Blake, 24, of Hartwell Avenue in Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Saturday morning behind the Georgia Arms apartments. Police noticed Blake in a green Ford Thunderbird with an expired tag. The car stopped and Blake exited when police approached and asked about the tag. Blake told police he did not have a driver's license and his ID card had expired. Police found a small bag of marijuana inside a small pocket near the bottom of Blake's pants and a piece of crack cocaine next to the driver's seat. Blake was charged with drug possession, possession of marijuana and operating a license without a driver's license.

Battery

• John Doe, a Hispanic male about 5-feet, 5-inches weighing about 130 pounds, was arrested by Sanford police Sunday night on West 25th Street. Police responded to a reported stabbing and ordered two suspects to the ground, when a man identified only as John Doe approached the officers from behind and began yelling. He was ordered to stand back, but continued to approach the officers. The orders were repeated once in English and once in Spanish, but he continued to approach and pushed a sergeant in the back. As the man was being placed under arrest, he struggled and the officer and the defendant fell to the ground. Doe punched the sergeant and a canine was deployed. Officers tried to handcuff Doe, but he again pulled away and officers used a tazer and firefighters came to treat Doe's injuries. Doe was charged with battery on an officer and resisting an officer with violence and transported to the county jail after a stop at Central Florida Regional Hospital.

• Enrique Rodriguez, 25, of Third Street in Lake Mary, was arrested by Sanford police Saturday night for going 57 mph in a 35 mph zone on Airport Boulevard. The driver passed over the double line in heavy traffic. Rodriguez was charged with operating a motor vehicle without a license and five other citations.

• Leon Morales-Rey, 20, of Wyndham Crest Boulevard in Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Sunday night following a traffic for a broken tag light. The Ford van had a tag that belonged to a Dodge van. Police said a bag containing cocaine was thrown from the van before it stopped at State Road 46 and Sanford Avenue. Rey was charged with operating a motor vehicle without a license, no tag light, attaching a license plate not assigned to the vehicle, failure to display registration, and operating a motor vehicle with an expired registration.

• Eljoyri Johnson, 23, of Willner Circle in Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Dec. 2 after a woman reported her vehicle was stolen by her husband, Johnson. The woman also said Johnson took her cell phone and resident keys as well as pulled her hair and pushed her. Johnson drove by as the officer spoke to the victim, who identified Johnson. Johnson said he had a verbal disturbance with his wife. He does not have a Florida driver's license and would not give a written account of what happened. Johnson was charged with battery — touch or strike (domestic violence) and operating a motor vehicle without a valid license.

Traffic

• John Doe, 18, of Tropicana Apartments in Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Sunday following a traffic stop. The vehicle did not make a complete stop at a stop sign at Florida Street and Georgia Avenue. The car hit the curb several times. The vehicle stopped at the Valero gas station at 25th Street and Georgia Avenue. The officer said he could smell alcohol and when he asked the driver his name, he replied Bersain, but could not spell it. The person also said he was born in 1997, but Sunday was actually his birthday. The driver was charged with operating a motor vehicle without a valid license.

• Enrique Rodriguez, 25, of Third Street in Lake Mary, was arrested by Sanford police Saturday night for going 57 mph in a 35 mph zone on Airport Boulevard. times the legal limit. A tape of field sobriety tests showed an obviously impaired Wilks failing to walk a straight line and poking himself in the eye while trying to touch his nose.

"I don't feel that there is any evidence left in which we can prove impairment," White told reporters Monday. "In essence, this leaves us with no evidence to go forward."

White originally said he did not know where Wilks was and that his license had not been suspended, but he called The Herald later to say that the state Department of Motor Vehicles and Highway Safety had suspended Wilks' license.

At the heart of the issue is the intoxilyzer's source code software that operates the breathalyzer. Owensboro, Ky.-based CMI Inc., manufactures the Intoxilyzer 5000. White said the state attorney does not have the source code and CMI will not divulge it saying that the code is proprietary to its business.

State Attorney Norman Wolfinger sent a letter Dec. 2 to Gov. Jeb Bush's legal office following Judge Eriksson's suppressing of evidence in the Wilks' case. Wolfinger called this an "urgent public safety need in Seminole County."

Wolfinger requested that the matter be brought before the state Legislature, which is meeting this week in special session.

"Without changes in Florida Statutes ... as I have proposed, we are now seeing the worst of the results," Wolfinger wrote. "Bottom line, this judge is suppressing the breathalyzer, the roadside physical test, and his latest order is even suppressing the testimony from the arresting officers that would support their opinion of the defendant's intoxication."

If a drunk driver requests a breathalyzer test, the state will not be able to prosecute the person, Wolfinger concluded.

For defense attorneys and judges, the intoxilyzer represents a witness against the defendant. The sixth amendment guarantees the accused person be confronted with the witnesses against him.

"This intoxilyzer is a witness against the person being

"This absolutely and unequivocally is not the way this law is intended to work."

Judge Ralph Eriksson in State versus Lentz accused," said Andrea Armas, assistant public defender for the 18th Judicial Court in Sanford. She questioned how to cross-examine a breathalyzer's reading without knowing how it works.

Essentially the state is saying use this test and no one has to show that it is scientifically reliable as required for decades by case law, Armas said. She noted that her engineer-attorney husband, Rigo, has tried to get the state to forward the source code since 2000. This is not a new issue, she said.

Andrea understands the trade secret concerns, but no one is asking to make the information public. State law allows disclosure of such information in a criminal proceeding without violating the trade secrets exemption from the public records law.

She suggested the state tell CMI to either disclose the code so it can prosecute people or risk losing the contract with the state. The company may change its mind about complying, she said. If not, there are eight or so other manufacturers, she added.

Circuit Judge Marlene Alva said in an order that she had not choice but to suppress the Intoxilyzer 5000 evidence because "a manufacturer's intellectual property rights cannot trump a defendant's due process rights."

Eriksson said in a separate case, State versus Allison Taylor Lentz, that defendants have a basic right to challenge the government's evidence against them. He noted that the Florida Department of Law Enforcement claims it cannot disclose the source code because the agreement with CMI prohibits the disclosure of the code.

"To determine if the machine was in compliance it seems obvious that the defendant should be able to inspect all aspects of the machine," Eriksson wrote in the Lentz case. Case law says a defendant can challenge the state's evidence: "How can she do this if she cannot be certain there is approved software in the machine?"

He continues to say the state's argument that it does not possess the source code software is not a legal basis for not disclosing the code.

"As this court has ruled previously on many occasions, there does not appear to be any authority in the law of Florida for a state agency (FDLE) to enter into an agreement with a private company (CMI) to provide breathalyzer machines ... and at the same time keep the inner workings of the machine secret," Eriksson wrote. He suggested FDLE consider using another vendor.

In the DUI case of State versus Adams, tried in Seminole County, Eriksson noted that the arresting officer said Adams' "normal faculties were significantly impaired by alcoholic beverages and she should not have been driving a car." The same officer also testified that he took Adams to jail and her breathalyzer results read .00 percent.

In an April DUI case before Judge Eriksson, the state did not offer breathalyzer evidence even though a test had been taken and read .02, under the limit. In that case, State versus Barney, the assistant state attorney asks the arresting officer if test procedures were done in accordance with FDLE rules. The officer did not know.

The assistant state attorney then asks the officer whether he knows if the software that operates the machine was working properly. The officer did not know.

In the Adams' case, Eriksson said the breathalyzer directly refuted the officer's opinion that the motorist was significantly impaired. In the Barney case, showed the state calling into question whether the software in the machine meets the requirements of Florida's own administrative code.

The state itself is unsure whether the breathalyzer was operating correctly, Eriksson said. The attorney for the state tries to discredit the same breath test that Florida law guarantees FDLE will provide.

"This absolutely and unequivocally is not the way this law is intended to work," Eriksson wrote in the Lentz case, which he cites as his reasons for the order to suppress evidence in the Wilks case.

Right now Florida law only requires "full information" shall be made to the person accused. State Attorney Wolfinger's office wants the Legislature to limit the "full information" from the results of the breath test to: the type of test and procedures followed; the time of collection; the numerical results of the test; the permit issued by the state to the person performing the test; and the date of the most recent required maintenance of the breath testing machine.

In the proposed legislation, full information about the machine would not include manuals, schematics or software of the instrument used in the test. It also adds: "Additionally, full information does not include information in the possession of the manufacturer of the test instrument."

If the state attorney's office cannot get a legislative answer this week, it will have to wait until March when the regular legislative session begins.

"I don't like to think that people are out there driving around as drunk as Mr. Wilks," White said in the Monday press conference.

Armas of the public defender's office said the state is asking to put a company's financial gain over someone's freedom, and she said the county's judges and the Constitution are being unfairly attacked. The CMI source code can be sealed from public disclosure, she said.

"For this to be labeled as just a technicality is offensive because the Constitution is not a technicality," Armas said.

Volunteers construct hands-on project at Heathrow Elementary

LAKE MARY — Volunteers from several civic organizations began building a hands-on environmental education project at Heathrow Elementary on Sunday, Dec. 4.

Some 50 people — including parents, children and other volunteers — labored for four hours to lay the groundwork for the Heathrow Environmental Learning Program (HELP). When complete, HELP will allow students to walk interpretative trails, explore swamp and gopher tortoise habitats, and visit a number of environmental "learning stations" on the site. The project is located on the grounds of Heathrow Elementary in Lake Mary which makes it widely accessible for use by teachers and students there, according to Lisa Donihoo, committee chair for HELP.

"Today's work has been extensive enough to let us immediately begin using the site as a working outdoor classroom," says Donihoo. "Overall, volunteer help and donations will let us complete the project in two years — rather than the projected five."

Wooden picnic tables were built, a master trail was charted and excavated, and a teacher's workshop table was installed. Landscaping around the entrance to the school was also accomplished. The trail leads beyond active gopher tortoise burrows and a pond edged with a natural wetland.

Volunteers were from several different organizations, including the HELP committee of the Heathrow Elementary PTA, Seminole Soil and Water Conservation District (SSWCD), and the Lake Mary Rotary. "We've chosen this program as a way for our club to commemorate Rotary's 100 year anniversary — as a special 'Centennial Project,'" says Bill Burke, president of the Lake Mary Rotary club.

Says David Underwood, a parent from Lake Mary, "I grew up in a rural area and the outdoors taught me a lot. I feel it's important for the kids to get out in the woods and have that experience, too."

Beatriz Andrekovich, a parent of children in the school, said: "We're all so busy as parents — especially at this time of the year. But it's important to volunteer because that's how communities integrate."

Funding for the materials came from the Rotary Club, SSWCD, David Underwood State Farm Insurance, G.F. Young Surveyors, RBC Bank, Seminole Youth Soccer, and a local pack of the Cub Scouts.

"There's a sign on the school grounds that reads: 'It takes a Village to Raise a Child,'" says Michelle Thatcher, Executive Director of the SSWCD. "I think today's effort is a perfect example of how that spirit can be realized in the real world. The idea of using an outdoor classroom to teach the values of ecology is a brilliant — and nurturing — educational concept."

"Being frugal does work," Eckstein said.

Eckstein pointed to a recent news article about the Orlando Utility Commission, which is owned by the city of Orlando. He said they are having problems with their bond rating, and he doesn't want to see that happen with the airport.

"Our bond rating is important," Eckstein said. He also said a good bond rating would give the airport the ability to borrow money with low interest.

Currently the airport does not have a bond rating, C.E.O. and President Larry Dale said. But, with the need to expand airport facilities and other amenities at the airport, they might have one in the future.

Legal counsel for the board, Ken Wright, of Shuttles and Bowman said "Whitey's correct."

He said having a bond rating is similar to going to a banker. They will want to know where you spent your money and why you spent it.

"It's like a loan committee," Wright said.

Eckstein stood his ground later in the meeting when St. John's River Alliance executive director Mindy Matthews asked for a sponsorship from the airport for her ARTYgators project.

ARTYgators is a community art project, and upon completion, Matthews hopes to have 60 to 100, 6-foot tall artistically sculptured gator statues lining the St. John's River, with most of the statues lining the Sanford RiverWalk.

BAA board member John Williams, CFO and President of Wayne Densch Inc., Sanford's Budweiser distributor, has already sponsored two ARTYgators. Although he was absent at Tuesday's BAA board meeting he asked that Matthews be put on the agenda.

Matthews told board members that if the airport sponsored a statue it could be placed at the airport for one year, and then it would get auctioned off. Proceeds from the auction would go to support outdoor art for downtown Sanford, potable water from the St. John's River, and it would also support the Central Florida Zoological Park.

"If we're going to have discipline, let's have discipline."

"I'm opposed to it," Eckstein said.

He claimed that the city had already agreed to sponsor $25,000 in-kind services for the project, and he felt it was a duplication of community service, if the board sponsored it as well.

Wright offered Shuttles and Bowman to be the sponsor for the other half of the project on behalf of the airport. OSI, Inc. already agreed to pay half of the $5,600 for the sponsorship.

"It's as close to a free lunch as you'll get," Wright joked.

Administrative Vice President of the authority, Diane Crews, presented two other community sponsorship requests Tuesday morning. One was a $500 sponsorship for the annual Martin Luther King Jr. Steering Committee Banquet. She said the BAA has traditionally sponsored the event, and it includes a full-page advertisement and eight seats at the banquet.

"It promotes a lot of good will for the community," Crews said.

She also asked board members to sponsor a show at the Helen Stairs Theatre, which she sits on the board for. She said the board has never sponsored a show with them before. OSI, Inc. offered to co-sponsor the show, which would bring the cost of sponsorship from $2,000 to $1,000.

Eckstein said he wasn't insensitive to community sponsorships, as he had donated left over campaign money to provide the first scholarship for the Martin Luther King Jr. Steering Committee. But, he said, the BAA is a business and it doesn't need to be duplicating services.

"This is city stuff," Eckstein said. "We're acting like we're two different entities and we're not."

The board approved the sponsorships with Eckstein and Robbie Robertson voting no. They did, however, discuss the need to look at all of the events they sponsor to figure out which ones they should continue.

They also discussed doing their own event, such as an air show or a golf tournament, with proceeds being used to sponsor community events.

Robertson said he wasn't opposed to sponsoring local organizations, but he is interested in research of past events they've sponsored to see what kind of participation they've had. The board wants to know what the airport is getting in terms of goodwill sponsorships and marketing sponsorships.

"I think we can eliminate some of these events," Robertson said.

Staff will work on researching past sponsorships and it will be placed on the January board agenda.

"If we're going to have discipline, let's have discipline," Eckstein said.

The Sanford Airport Authority meets again on Tuesday, Jan. 3, 2006, at 8:30 a.m. at the Sanford Airport Authority Executive Offices board room at 1208 Red Cleveland Blvd.

men, she was also interested in developing friendships with other single women who she could go out on the weekends with.

Diane teamed up with a friend who had been divorced for 11 years to join the group with her.

"I didn't think I'd find anyone," Diane said.

But, after meeting several people who developed into close friendships, and close to the end of her membership with Dinner Dates, she met the man of her dreams, she said.

"Jump in and take the risk," Diane said. "If you don't take the risk you never gain anything."

Karen's Story

Karen, 49, of Longwood, is a retired teacher with three children who recently divorced.

She said that on the weekends her children would go with their father, and her friends were all married with their own children.

"Nobody wants to do things on the weekend," she recalled.

She went online and looked through numerous Web sites promising to find her perfect mate. Karen did not like any of the online dating she was coming across, until she found

"I'm just enjoying the time we spend together."

Dinner Dates

"It really suited me," she said.

She liked that with Dinner Dates it wasn't a one on one match up. She said it was also a lot safer than chatting with strangers online. After she met with a representative from Dinner Dates she got even more excited, she said.

"I signed up right away. I feel like a kid again — a school girl," Karen said.

Now that she has been going to Dinner Dates she said not only has she found other single women to go out dancing or shopping with, she also has met many people with a similar background.

"You almost feel like you're in college again," she said.

Tom's Story

Tom, 60, of Sanford, owns a restaurant equipment company and divorced several years ago.

He met a Dinner Dates representative at a hockey game in Orlando and he never knew what she did. Then, he met her at a single's social and when he told her he was divorced, she gave him a business card.

Tom said he was hesitant about going, because his social life was not hindered in any way.

He said what eventually brought him to Dinner Dates was a need for a relationship close to home, after a long distance relationship didn't work out, because he was so busy with his business.

"I call it drive by dating," Tom said. "If you like her you stop, if you don't you keep going."

The second function he attended he met someone that he is now in a relationship with.

"She's fun. She's great. She's nearby," Tom said. "I'm just enjoying the time we spend together."

Flightfest will be annual airport event

SANFORD — Orlando Sanford International Airport's recent Flightfest 2005, which drew more than 3,500 local residents to Orlando Sanford International Airport, is now annual event.

Diane Crews, vice president of administration at the airport, said Airport Authority Board members were happy with the turnout.

Flightfest 2005 participants were inquisitive about airport services, especially the new passenger service to Europe. Icelandair will begin flights to Europe and Scandinavia from the Sanford Airport in March 2006. "We fielded literally hundreds of questions about international flight services, destinations, regular charter services and airport accommodations," Crew added.

Crews said November weather was perfect, and she's already planning Flightfest 2006.

Clubs throw Christmas parties

Local civic and service clubs are hustling and bustling this holiday season to help make merry the lives of others in our community.

From ringing bells for the Salvation Army, to throwing a party for foster kids, to selling poinsettias, you can find men and women from various non-profit organizations working like Santa's little elves.

Charles Jackson

Here's a quick look at what three of the six Sanford-area clubs are doing:

Sanford Noon Kiwanis Club members have been beating the streets ringing bells for the Salvation Army for a couple of weeks. The club's official day of bell-ringing is Saturday, Dec. 17, in front of Wal-Mart, Publix, and Sam's. That's when about 25 Kiwanians will don the red apron and shake the gold bell, hoping generous people will drop a few bucks in the kettle to help those in need.

Key Club members from Lake Mary High School will also assist in bell-ringing.

Kiwanians also will help the Salvation Army distribute food and other packages on Dec. 22 and 23 at the Army's main office on 22nd Street in Sanford.

Besides their Salvation Army work, the Kiwanis group has donated 78 turkeys to Seminole County Schools for underprivileged children and their families.

The Sanford Optimist Club is throwing a party for about foster children and their families on Dec. 16 at Airport Lanes. About 60 people are expected to bowl, receive prizes and have great fun and fellowship as they partake of refreshments.

Last year, the event was a huge success, so Optimist members decided to do it again.

For more information on Optimist, call 407-323-3589.

The Lakeside Lions Club also is throwing a party. Students of three Seminole County pre-kindergarten classes will enjoy refreshments, prizes and gifts from the Lions Club. The club will conduct two parties at Pinecrest Elementary and one at Seminole High School.

The Lions are also selling poinsettias as a fundraiser. You can purchase them at Granny's Antiques at First Street and Magnolia Square in Historic Downtown.

One of the year-round service projects for the Lions Club is eye-care. This year, the club has supplied 10 people with free eyeglasses. They were awarded this week an additional three eyeglasses to serve those in need.

For more information on the Lions Club, contact president Charles Matthew Hammeck at 407-330-7458.

As this report uncovers most homesellers make 7 deadly mistakes that cost them literally thousands of dollars.

The good news is that each and every one of these mistakes is entirely preventable.

In answer to this issue, industry insiders have prepared a free special report entitled "The 9 Step System to Get Your Home Sold Fast and For Top Dollar."

Christmas symbol makes inexpensive decorations

By Al Ferrer
Seminole County
Urban Horticulturist

The poinsettia, first introduced from Mexico in 1825, has become one of the most popular symbols of the Christmas season. It makes a great gift and is an inexpensive way to add festive color to your holiday decorations. After the holiday season, it can be used as a houseplant or placed in the landscape to be enjoyed for many more years.

Flowers: The poinsettia became a popular Christmas holiday plant because it naturally blooms at this time of year displaying two popular Christmas colors, red and green. However, the showy red parts, often mistaken for flowers, are not parts of the flower; instead, they are highly modified leaves formed below each flower. These specialized leaves are called bracts, and they can be red, salmon pink, or white. The true flowers are nothing to get excited about, they are very small, green and yellow in color, and barely visible among the colored bracts.

Care: Once you get your poinsettia home it is important to care for it properly so you can enjoy it as long as possible. The poinsettia is especially sensitive to chilling temperatures. Prolonged exposure to cold temperatures will cause the plant to drop its lower leaves. Excessive heat can have the same effect. The poinsettia should be placed in a cool place in your home away from extreme heat or cold drafts. This means placing it away from radiators, fireplaces and other heat sources. The ideal night temperature is between 60-70 degrees.

Watering: Watering practices are equally important and can determine the life expectancy of your poinsettia. Proper watering involves applying water in sufficient quantities to thoroughly soak the soil until it runs out of the bottom and adding no more water until the soil feels dry to the touch. Your finger stuck in the soil a few inches is the best indicator of soil moisture. If your poinsettia is in a plastic sleeve, make sure the water does not accumulate in the bottom. Standing water, in a sleeve or drain tray, can cause root rot and should be emptied-out after each watering. Plants placed in the home can dry out quickly so check for moisture frequently. If your poinsettia suffers from lack of water, some of the lower foliage will yellow and die producing a leggy plant.

Cutting flowers: Poinsettia flowers can also be used as cut flowers. To have the cut flower stems last as long as possible, first you must seal the cut end of the stem to coagulate the milky sap and reduce wilting. This can be done by immersing the cut end of the stem in very hot water for about one minute, and then immediately into cool water. The poinsettia flowers should be cut at least 24 hours before they are to be used in arrangements and stored in a cool place after sealing them.

Culture: Poinsettias can be placed into your landscape after the holiday season. Cut off the faded blooms to about a 6-8 inch height and place them in a sunny area of your landscape about the end of February or when all danger of frost has passed. Keep in mind that Poinsettias are sensitive to cold and may be frozen back in some years. Poinsettias naturally bloom when the days are short (long nights) and flowering may be inhibited or prevented by artificially extending the day length. Because of this, plant them in areas that receive little or no night lighting from windows, doors or streetlights.

Poinsettias grow well in a wide range of soils with good drainage. Fertilize poinsettias as you would other landscape plants. A complete fertilizer such as a 6-6-6 will work fine applied in three applications (spring, summer and fall) at the rate of 1 1/2 pounds per 100 square feet, per application.

To produce a compact plant with many colorful bracts, prune several times during the growing season. The new growth, after it is 12 inches long, should be cut back, leaving four leaves per shoot. Repeat this procedure each time new growth develops until about Sept. 10. Pruning after Sept. 10 may interfere with flowering, because these plants usually set their buds around Oct. 1.

Dedicated to children.
And veterinarians.

Our vision for a children's hospital adds a lot more than beds. It adds a new level of highly advanced pediatric services currently not offered by other area hospitals. That's good for our community. And more importantly, good for our children.

Christmas in the Square 2005

Herald photos by Tommy Vincent

Day turned into night and the carolers, top photo, sang on First Street during the annual Christmas in the Square held Saturday in Sanford. Thousands came out to first street, far right, and heard live entertainment, but the big event of the day was the morning parade and two big men anchored it with Grand Marshall Hardy Rawls, better known as the Maytag Repairman. Sanford-resident Rawls was a big hit, but no one topped the action float ridden by the man from the North Pole, Santa Claus, above. Right, Gus the camel sneaks a kiss during the annual holiday parade. Actually, he is snatching a carrot as no parade is complete without Shriners, especially with Gus. Everyone showed up downtown, even Goofy left the Magic Kingdom to visit historic downtown Sanford.

Golden Knights to play in Sheraton Hawaii Bowl

Special to the Herald

The UCF football team has officially accepted an invitation to play in the Sheraton Hawaii Bowl December 24 vs. Nevada from the Western Athletic Conference. UCF will make its first appearance in school history in a bowl game.

Nevada (8-4) clinched a share of the WAC Championship with a 38-35 victory over Fresno State in its season finale. The Golden Knights and Wolf Pack will meet for the first time in series history in Honolulu.

ESPN will televise the 2005 game at 8:30 p.m. ET (3:30 p.m. Hawaii time) from Aloha Stadium in Honolulu.

Howell wins as champs battle

By Dean Smith

It may have been just a fluke in the scheduling, but it was interesting that the boys' basketball teams from Lake Howell and Lyman squared off on the court on Monday.

The two Seminole County powers were coming off championship winning efforts in the two big tournaments played last week with the Silver Hawks claiming the title in the prestigious Rotary Tip-Off Classic at Winter Park High School and the Greyhounds rallying to take their own Greyhound Invitational, setting up a "Battle of the Champions."

As has been the case all season, however, unbeaten Lake Howell proved to be just too strong as junior standout guard Nick Calathes poured in a game-high 27 points as the hosts posted a 74-54 triumph over Lyman.

Lyman's David Muniz (left) and Lake Brantley's Bryan Bearden (right) were the top two rushers in the Seminole Athletic Conference this past season as Bearden ran for 1,112 yards and Muniz 784 yards in the regular season to lead their respective clubs into the playoffs. The duo will join efforts and team with 10 other senior standouts from the SAC on the 44-man East squad that will be coached by Lyman's Bill Caughell and assistant George Clayton from Lake Brantley this Saturday evening at 7 p.m. at Larry Gergley Stadium in Showater Field in Winter Park when they battle the West in the 7th annual Central Florida All-Star Football Game. Benefits from the game go to Special Olympics Florida. The game will be taped for later broadcast on Sun Sports and will be aired live on 740-AM The Team starting with the pregame show at 6:45 p.m. Admission to the game is normally $5. Both the East and West squads are training from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium.

Football

 for football players and cheerleaders which are chosen from 70 high schools covering eight counties (Brevard, Flagler, Volusia, Seminole, Osceola, Orange, Sumter and Lake) from the Central Florida area. Since its inception in 1999 the event has raised over $50,000 and heightened awareness for the many programs Special Olympics Florida offers its 16,000 athletes.

The day also features a Bar-B-Que for the All-Stars, Special Olympic athletes, coaches and their families that allows the groups to interact and break down stereotypes, barriers and misperceptions of athletes with mental retardation.

The game is also produced by Bright House Networks and televised at a later date on Sun Sports. The game will be carried live on 740-AM The Team beginning with the pregame show at 6:45 p.m.

Lyman's Bill Caughell will be the head coach of the East squad, made up of players from Brevard, Flagler, Seminole and Volusia county schools, with Lake Brantley's George Clayton, DeLand's Dean Fabrizio and Spruce Creek's Jared Zito serving as assistant coaches.

East Ridge's Bud O'Hara will head the West team with West Orange's Tim Smith serving as an assistant.

The top three offensive performers in Seminole County will headline Caughell's East Team.

Lake Brantley quarterback Bryan Bearden, who ran for 1,112 yards and threw for 716 yards in the regular season, Lyman running back David Muniz, who ran for 784 yards and scored 10 touchdowns in the regular season, and Lake Mary running back Kashif Vallot, who ran for 559 yards and nine touchdowns in the Rams' pass-oriented attack, give Caughell a good base to begin with.

Another standout for the East will be Seminole's Travis Goodine, who will replace teammate Bud Thacker, who is committed to playing in another All-Star game.

Goodine began the season as the Tribe's quarterback, but during the year, in which he ran for 475 yards, also played running back, wide receiver and defensive back, making him an invaluable all-around player.

Another all-around standout will be Winter Springs' Ashua Richardson, who can play wide receiver, defensive back and also return kicks.

Defensively, Lake Howell linebacker Robert Wolfe is the East leader after recording 88, solo tackles and 35 assists to finish the season with a second best in Central Florida 123 total tackles.

Another top defensive performer will be Winter Springs defensive lineman Zach Hillery.

The East team will also have several two-way performers from Seminole County on the 44-man squad including Lake Brantley linebacker/tight end Kyle Kirby, Winter Springs offensive/defensive lineman Chris Krack and the Oviedo tri-umvirate of linebacker-fulback Jordan Dalrymple, defensive tackle/fulback Andy Lark and linebacker/fulback Josh Miller.

Other members of the East team will be from Astronaut High School: Eddie Battle, Courtney Edmonson; Atlantic High School: Doug Brazill; Bayside High School: Kherryl O'Brien; Cocoa Beach High School: Danny McCormack; Cocoa High School: Tyler Cox, Sean Ellis, Floyd Joiner; DeLand High School: Reggie Odom, Johnny Patrick, Dontae "Will" Smith; Deltona High School: Taylor Whitaker; Eau Gallie High School: Chad Brown; Father Lopez High School: Tony Porto; Flagler Palm Coast High School: Marlon Moore; Florida Air Academy: Jeramie Harley.

Also, Melbourne High School: Brian Wischniask; Merritt Island High School: Kevin Chapert; New Smyrna Beach High School: Joe McCauley, Jamal Rouse; Palm Bay High School: Quinton Brooks, Chris Cook, Jared Goodson; Pine Ridge High School: Jason Coleman; Rockledge High School: Lorenzo McDowell; Satellite High School: Jake McNichols; Seabreeze High School: A.J. Marasco; Space Coast High School: Kyle Baker; Spruce Creek High School: Jeremy Campbell; and Titusville High School: Maurice Harvey.

Making up the West Team will be from Apopka High School: Jared Brooks, Gary Gregory; Bishop Moore High School: Ryan Aldrin, Bryan Mrozka; Boone High School: Dennis Bowling, Gerald Pote; Colonial High School: Marcus Myers; Cypress Creek High School: D.J. Gill, Tracy Williams; Dr. Phillips High School: Ricardo Wright; East Ridge High School: Stephen Batman, Chlmdt Chekwa, Richard Jackson; Edgewater High School: Greg Mathews, Mike Parker, Bobby Rauh; Eustis High School: Justin Brown; Evans High School: Dontae Jones; Freedom High School: Matt Hillman, Mike Murdock, James Poe; Jones High School: Kwame Akkebala II, Jarvis Williams.

Also, Lake Highland Prep; Jake Mervis; Leesburg High

School: Tory Harrison; Mount Dora High School: Calvin Bryant; Oak Ridge High School: Antonio Henry; Olympia High School: Brandon Jackson; Pine Castle Christian Academy: Eddie Washington; South Sumter High School: Carlos Everett, Jarrod Fleming, Brandon Ward; St. Cloud High School: Butch Abshire; Tavara High School: Mike Willis; The First Academy: Dalton Draper, Tony Patti; The Villages Charter High School: Ricardo Gillard; Timber Creek High School: Jackie Ewing; West Orange High School: Andrew Motes; and Winter Park High School: Travis Harris, Cory Rabazinski, Jacob Sims.

Both teams are practicing nightly at Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The price of admission has not been announced, but in the past the game was $5 for everyone.

handed out 10 assists and center Alex Castillo had 10 rebounds and seven steals as the Silver Hawks improved to 6-0 on the season.

Senior standout Sanchez, Hughley led the Greyhounds, who fell to 4-2, with 19 points. Calathes had capped off and MVP winning effort in the Tip-Off Classic by scoring 25 points in a 74-61 triumph over host Winter Park in the Championship Game Saturday night.

It was the third time Lake Howell has won the title, but it was the first in the event for the Silver Hawks since 1997.

Lake Howell actually got a scare in this one as after breaking an 18-18 tie after the first quarter with a 17-5 scoring advantage in the second period to lead 35-23 at halftime, the Wildcats (4-1) closed to within four points, 58-54, with 3:38 remaining.

But Mike Coppinger made one of two free throws to start an 8-0 run and the Silver Hawks closed the game on a 16-7 run to pull away.

All told, five players scored in double figures for the winner's, with Chandler Parsons (15), Castillo (11), Rodriguez (10) and Brett Chance (10) joining Calathes.

Winter Park forward Jordan Bolton, who plays on the same team with Calathes and Parsons in AAU, scored 14 of his team-high 22 points in the final two quarters.

In Friday's semifinals, Calathes had scored 34 points and Parsons 16 as Lake Howell rallied to defeat Edgewater, 72-66.

The Eagles, who defeated the Silver Hawks by a single point in last year's championship game, led 64-63 with three minutes to go, but Calathes hit 5-of-6 free throws down the stretch as the locals finished the game on a 9-2 run.

Oviedo came up short in its bid to make it an all Seminole Athletic Conference final as the Lions fell to Winter Park, 61-52, in the semifinals despite 15 points from Matt Stillwell and 12 points from Demitric Thomas.

Jon Liranzo then scored 10 points on Saturday, but Oviedo fell 59-39 to Edgewater in the Third Place Game.

Hughley was outstanding as he claimed the MVP honors at the Greyhound Classic, scoring 33 points as Lyman rallied from a 14-point halftime deficit to defeat Vero Beach, 60-57, in the Championship Game.

The Greyhounds still trailed late in the game when Hughley buried a pair of three-pointers to put the hosts ahead to stay. All-Tournament picks Jared Reiner, 17 points, and Brandon East, eight points, combined with Hughley to net 58 of Lyman's 60 points.

The Greyhounds had advanced to the final by handing Lake Mary its first loss of the season, 56-51, with Hughley recording 24 points and 11 rebounds. Josh Ingram was the leading scorer for the Rams with 17 points.

Vero Beach had moved on by edging Orlando Christian Prep, 49-46.

OCF finished third by nipping Lake Mary (3-2), 54-52. Ingram was the leading scorer for the Rams for the fifth straight time with 12 points.

-downs, two of them rushing, and Tulsa's defense shut UCF out in the second half as the Golden Hurricane claimed their first league title in 20 years with a 44-27 victory in the inaugural Conference USA championship game before 51,978 at the Citrus Bowl.

Kevin Smith ran for 108 yards and a touchdown for UCF, which snapped a 17-game losing streak earlier this season and will play in a bowl for the first time in the school's 10-year football history. Steven Moffett threw for 190 yards and a touchdown, but had two interceptions and lost two fumbles - with three of those turnovers coming in the second half.

UCF had a chance to cut a 14-point deficit in half early in the fourth, but Dontavius Wilcox - with no defenders in front of him - stumbled and fell at the Tulsa 10.

The Golden Knights, who'd never drawn more than 50,220 to a home game, eventually turned the ball over on downs, and Tulsa ran 7 1/2 minutes off the clock before Brad DeVault kicked his third field goal with 2:24 left to cap the scoring.

UCF head coach George O'Leary, Conference USA's Coach of the Year, has engineered one of the best turnarounds in college football history. UCF finished 0-11 in 2004 before an 8-4 campaign this season, including C-USA's Eastern Division Championship. The Golden Knights are currently tied for third in NCAA history with a 7.5 game turnaround.

"The Sheraton Hawaii Bowl is a great opportunity for our players to close out a successful season," stated O'Leary. "After coaching in the Aloha Bowl in 1991, I know how great of an experience this is for our players and coaches. I look forward to the trip to Hawaii and the bowl game."

O'Leary will be coaching in a bowl as a head coach for the fifth time in his career. He led Georgia Tech to five bowl appearances and coached the Yellow Jackets in four bowl games during his tenure in Atlanta. As defensive coordinator for the Yellow Jackets in 1991, O'Leary was part of a Georgia Tech team that defeated Stanford 18-17 in the Aloha Bowl Christmas Day. In all, O'Leary has coached in eight bowl games during his coaching career.

"This bowl is an excellent reward for our student-athletes and the coaching staff on a championship season," stated UCF director of athletics Steve Orsini. "This is a trip of a lifetime for our players and we are excited to represent UCF and Conference USA in the Sheraton Hawaii Bowl."

UCF is just the fourth team in NCAA history to play seven away games in a season (11-game schedule) and participate in a bowl game.

The Golden Knights will make their fifth appearance of the season on national television. The game will be UCF's third of the season on ESPN.

Ticket information and travel package information are available on UCF's official athletics website, www.UCFathletics.com.
