SNAS Probes Wreckage Of Vigilante

Sanford Navy officials today investigated wreckage of an A-5A Vigilante attack bomber which both crewmen had been ejected near New Smyrna Beach Thursday while flying a routine training mission.

The bombardier-navigator, Aviation Jet Mechanic First Class Charles Robert Kelsey, 30, was dead on arrival at Fish Memorial Hospital in New Smyrna Beach.

Hospital officials reported the pilot, Lt. Cdr. Robert H. Lovelace, 31, suffered only cuts and bruises.

Both men were assigned to Heavy Attack Squadron 5 at Sanford Naval Air Station.

Captain James O. Mayo, commander of Heavy Attack Wing One, said today accident board members are investigating a hydraulic failure which the pilot reported prior to the ejection.

Lovelace cited the malfunction on a radio transmission to the Naval Air Station control tower shortly before leaving the aircraft.

Captain Mayo said it could not yet be determined during which stage of Kelsey's ejection and subsequent descent to earth the airman suffered his injuries.

Observers at the scene reported seeing both parachutes open after the two left the aircraft at about 24,000 feet.

The plane crashed at 4:50 p.m. in a sparsely populated area southwest of New Smyrna Beach, 1 1/2 miles south of State Road 40 near the Old Spanish Mission memorial.

Kelsey and Lovelace were undergoing transition training in the Vigilante. They were temporarily assigned to VAW-3 Sanford's training squadron.

Kelsey lived at 101 Fairway Drive with his wife, Mrs. Vala Dean Kelsey, and two sons. He is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Kelsey of Columbus, Ohio.

Lovelace lives at 303 Tangerine Drive.

Bandit Robs Fern Park Firm Of $800 Cash

An all-points bulletin was issued this morning by Sheriff J. L. Hobby for an elderly white man who held up and robbed the Fern Park branch of Winter Park Federal Savings and Loan Association of $800.

The bandit approached Teller Doyle Oldham at 9:15 a.m. and handed him an envelope with a note, which read that he was armed and demanded money. He then produced a small caliber revolver.

Following standing instructions by the S&L, Oldham handed the bandit $800 and he fled in a late model white automobile.

Deputy Charles Fagan shortly after discovered the get-away car parked in the Public supermarket parking lot at Casselberry. It bore a St. Petersburg license plate and, Sheriff Hobby said, had been stolen Thursday evening at Orlando.

Also found in the parking lot, but not with the car, Hobby reported, was an overnight bag containing a small caliber gun and some clothing.

The bandit's description was passed by Sheriff Hobby's department to all law enforcement agencies in the East-Central Florida area.

Perplexed About Faith?

Part I
The Apostle Paul was not always a Christian, but when he became one there was no doubt in his mind as to what he believed. He expressed this great faith in many of his writings, one of the most outstanding being I Timothy 1:15 where he writes, "For I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day."
This portion of Scripture was written to Timothy who was one of Paul's closest friends. He was a young man but one who had been chosen to lead the great church at Ephesus, so his pastor, and Paul knew that Timothy would need all of the faith and dedication possible if he was to accomplish such a strenuous task. It was absolutely necessary that a man with such a task be convinced and not confused!

You and I know that it was not only Paul and Timothy who needed certainty in their faith, and God knows this far better than we do.

Sometimes I overheard two of my friends talking. Both of these people were respectable, friendly, intelligent, and reasonably successful in the eyes of most of their acquaintances. Their conversation was of such a nature that a religious conviction was needed. Both were church members, although of different denominations. One said that she simply did not know what she believed, to which the other responded that he did not know what he believed either.

What a tragic thing it is that so many people are so uncertain as to their religious beliefs.
Let me say briefly that one, to be convinced, must know about God.
We need to reflect upon the knowledge that can be gleaned from natural revelation as well as divine revelation.
Certainly the universe speaks of a Supreme Being and the human body of a Creator. Our concepts of time shrink when we try to grasp the realities Being of God's glory as to time and space, and we find ourselves saying with the Psalmist, "Before the mountains were brought forth, or even Thon had formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, Thou art God."

A person does not have to be a Christian to know God as One of might and power and eternal existence! This can be seen in nature, however, it is not enough to satisfy the eternal hunger of man.

The complete knowledge of God comes when we see Him revealed in Jesus Christ. The Bible speaks of Christ being the Word which means an "expression" of God. The words we speak express ideas and "the Word" God spoke expressed Jesus Christ.

If you really want to know about God study your Scriptures concerning Christ. Perhaps it would be best to begin by reading the Gospel of John that to proceed to Matthew, Mark, and Luke. From here you may proceed to a lifetime of study that will constantly enrich your existence.

Next Friday's column will continue with the subject, "Perplexed about your Faith?" We will progress from knowing about God to knowing God.

How To Take Notes

By The Reading Laboratory, Inc.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

We've discussed the relationship between the textbook and the lecture—how you can save time by previewing the text the night before class and then taking class notes only on what is not mentioned in the text. Which brings us to the problem of taking effective notes. Or, more precisely, to the problem of becoming an effective listener.

Most high school teachers and almost all college teachers use the textbook only as a course guide. They expect you to read the text on your own to get background understanding. They use the lecture periods to develop material which is inadequately covered in the text, to provide you with highlights on the topics under discussion and to clear up any questions which the text may have raised. Many times only half of the exam questions will come from the textbook; the other half will come from the lectures.

So you have three choices: buy a tape recorder, learn stenography or learn how to be a good listener.

Your teacher can talk at a rate of about 150-200 words a minute. The very best stenographers can't take dictation that fast, so don't try to write down everything a teacher says. You can't write that fast; you'll get confused and you may even miss an important part of the lecture.

Here's the way a good note taker operates:

He overviews his text the night before. He's on familiar ground during the lecture. He takes notes only on what is not in the textbook.

When he does take notes, he listens; he doesn't just scribble. He assumes that if a teacher wants something taken down exactly (perhaps a definition) he'll say so. The good note taker listens for the main idea of the lecture before he starts writing.

As the teacher introduces each major point, our ideal listener makes a short note to pin down the topic. Then he just listens and tries to understand the teacher. He may write down occasional fine distinctions that the teacher is fond of. When the teacher finishes each major point, our hero makes a short summary of it and starts to listen for the next big point.

The good note taker is always active and questioning; he tries to anticipate what the teacher is going to say. That way, he's able to concentrate; his mind doesn't wander.

You may have noticed that there's a great deal of similarity between our ideal note taker and our ideal reader. They both go after the main idea; they're both active and questioning; they both try to figure out what's coming. And they both have an easy time

Law Library Dedication Set Sept. 18

Dedication ceremony for the Fred R. Wilson Memorial Law Library will be held at 9:30 a.m. Sept. 18 in the circuit court room. It is announced by Judge C. Vernon Mixe, chairman of the board of trustees of the library.

The 1963 Legislature officially changed the library name from Seminole County to honor the late attorney, who practiced here for 50 years and served as counsel for the city and the School Board.

Edwin Shinholser will deliver the dedicatory address. A plaque to the memory of Mr. Wilson will be unveiled. School, city and county dignitaries and the public are invited.

California's famous redwood trees actually belong to two different species of conifers.

The careers of Kohlrusch and Greenwood have run similar courses as they both enlisted in 1951 as seaman recruits, advanced through the enlisted rates to petty officer first class and now to commissioned rank.

They started flying in heavy attack aircraft as third crewman, went through the bombardier-navigator course and for the past several years have been flying as BNs in Heavy Attack Squadron 3.

Kohlrusch will report to Pensacola in November for the officer indoctrination course and upon completion will be transferred to Whidbey Island, Wash., for duty with a heavy attack squadron.

Stock Averages Break Through On Two Indexes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wall Street found itself at a heady new altitude today. By almost any popularly understood average, the market in listed stocks stood at a new high.

The steps by which any stairs are built in this area—earnings and dividends of the companies whose securities are listed on the exchange—had been climbing in this direction for months.

Whether they had climbed to merely a landing, or whether they had led to a solid floor from which further ascent was possible, was almost a secondary consideration. At least overnight, the community which deals in dollar signs could feel that it had accomplished something.

It had seen two indexes—the numerical counterparts of the lines of mercury in clinical thermometers used to measure temperature—break into new high ground in trading on Thursday.

One of these was the venerable and venerated Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks. It closed at 737.98, up 5.06 for the day and 3.07 higher than the 731.91 it reached Dec. 13, 1961.

The other was the younger, but generally regarded as broader-based, Standard & Poor's index of 50 stocks. It had made one new record level on Tuesday, when it closed at 72.06. Thursday, it gained another 0.36 from Wednesday to close at a new high of 73.00.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Sharon, a granddaughter, Mary Sharon, and a grandson, Chandler Sharon, all of Sanford; two sisters, Mrs. Philip Davis of Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Patley Bennett of Carneysville; several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Brisson Funeral Home with Rev. Grover C. Sewell officiating, assisted by Rev. Robert M. Blackburn of Jacksonville. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Male Chorus Sets Rehearsal

Rehearsals for the Sanford Male Chorus will begin Monday at 7:45 p.m. at the Sanford Women's Club, 309 South Oak Avenue.

"I have selected most interesting music with emphasis on the sing-along type, and many other old favorites," he added.

The group has been singing together for the past two years and has given several concerts.

Tryouts for any man with previous singing experience, who would like to join the group, will be held at this first practice session.

The first concert will be held in the latter part of November and a program of Christmas carols has been requested by the DeBarry Civic Association. The group will hold its spring concert in May.

$100 Billion Milestone

The United States is observing this month a celebration of the Savings and Loan industry's having reached the $100 billion milestone in its nation-wide assets. Even in this era of astronomical figures $100 Billion is still a figure commanding recognition, and especially so as it relates to the S&L and home-building sector of our economy.

Established first on the recognition of thrift as a basis of progress as well as of security and second, on the pride of home ownership, the S&L's have been on both the receiving and contributing sides of the growth of these United States.

Although the first "long term" home loan ($375) was an association of two periods of unanticipated demand — the depression of the 1920's and the years of World War II — that gave impetus to the growth of the thrift and installment home buying specialists. In the former, although there was strong demand, there just was not money for savings accounts and certainly none for home buying. During the WW II years people had money galore and much of it went into savings accounts, but labor and material was all going into the war effort, and there was none for home construction.

Following each of these periods of "economic schooling," the S&Ls each year funneled the savings of millions into hundreds of thousands of homes. The value to the national welfare was emphasized by the flood of dollars released for wages, building supplies, real estate, architects' fees, insurance and scores of allied fields.

Growth has continued and the 6,300 S&Ls are ready servants of millions of savers and borrowers throughout the nation. They now celebrate the fact that their assets of over $100 Billion are at the service of the country.

The Sanford representative of this financial complex, First Federal Savings and Loan Assn., has experienced a comparable growth in assets and services. Starting in 1934 with $5,020 in capital, their latest statement shows $16,944,984. Dividends paid to savers during the years have added their stimulation to the local business picture. In just the last five years they have totalled $2,088,364.

Loans in this same span of years amounted to $15,249,700, most of which has gone into local labor and materials. Thus the Sanford S&L has shared in the climb to the nationally important "$100 Billion."

Stanley C. Duane, Executive Vice President of Winter Park Federal, said: "Since the grand opening of our North Branch at Fern Park on Nov. 28, 1961, we are servicing $2,867,000 in mortgages and savings accounts in the amount of $3,566,000. This substantial amount of savings is indicative of the public confidence we have enjoyed in this area and we are most appreciative."

"We are also very pleased to say that in less than two years and including our anticipated September Dividend, the North Branch will have paid a total in excess of $240,000 to savings account holders in dividends."

Significant to all who are interested in our nation's continued growth is the pledge of this vital segment of our economy that the same zeal, business acumen and dedicated service that brought the S&Ls to their present $100 Billion stature will be used as the years roll by to scale even greater heights in their support of improving the business climate of these United States.

The Herald joins the nation in congratulating the $100 Billion Savings and Loan industry and our own First Federal for its achievement and for its pledge of continuing dedication to service to savers and home owners and thus to the nation.

Worry Clinic

Janet now has a much more understanding view of Tommy. For Tommy is really the "elf" in a world of huge giants. Study this carefully and send for the "Hating Scale for Parents," named below. Use them diligently in your own home and PTA meetings, for they will really let you see yourselves through the eyes of the elves!

CASE Q-44: Janet T., aged 28, is the mother of Tommy who was described yesterday.

Before the market cools off, I hope to be able to interest a publisher in a happiness book for Washington. I plan to call it "Happiness is 51 Per Cent of the Votes."

The book I have in mind would be divided into several sections to cover various areas of the capital, something like this:

The Pentagon: Happiness is Phasing in a New Program Before the Old One is Finalized. "Happiness is a Parking Place Within Five Miles of the River Entrance."

Happiness is a Secretary Who is Younger Than Your Wife. The White House: Happiness is Someone Else's Turn to Walk the Dogs. "Happiness is Cancelling a Newspaper Subscription."

Happiness is a Wife who is Younger Than Your Secretary. Republican Presidential Hopefuls: Happiness is Governor Rockefeller getting a divorce.

The Democratic National Committee: Happiness is a Southern Member Who Isn't Unhappy.

The Treasury: Happiness is a Temporary Increase in the Debt Limit.

The Senate: Happiness is Not Being up for Re-election This Year. "Happiness is Being Recognized by the Tourists." "Happiness is a Five-hour Speech."

The House: Happiness is Passing a Tax Cut and a Public Works Appropriation on the Same Day. "Happiness is Being Mistaken for a Senator." "Happiness is a Wife Who is Your Secretary."

preciate this outlook of Tommy, just try to imagine yourself surrounded not only by giants who are 12 feet tall and weighing 80 pounds.

But remember that chairs and tables and beds and window sills should be twice as large for us if we are to visualize Tommy's world.

Suppose we adults sat down to a table where the chairs were thus twice as high. We'd find it a severe athletic task to clamber into our seat.

And when we got ready for bed, the mattress would be twice as high above the floor so we would need to be athletic to climb upon it.

Knives and forks, too, would be twice as long. Cups and glasses would be double their diameter.

And we would not be able to look out the windows, for the sills would be above our heads. The tops of the mantel or the piano would also be unknown territory.

It is any wonder, therefore, that Tommy relishes being carried on his daddy's shoulders?

For that vantage point gives him a new and lofty outlook on his home.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The March on Washington focused world attention on the American civil rights controversy for one day.

But this is not the only place on earth where this issue is dominant. The Washington demonstration really focuses attention on the larger, worldwide issue, as much as the other way around.

Questions of human rights are expected to be principal items on the agenda at the coming United Nations General Assembly which convenes in New York Sept. 17.

The U.N. Commission on Human Rights, created in 1946, held its 19th session at Geneva, Switzerland, last March and April. Its most important act was to draft a covenant on the elimination of all forms of discrimination.

This covenant will be put before the new General Assembly for approval. The background is important.

The U.N. Commission on Human Rights held its first sessions under the chairmanship of the late Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. In 1948 it drafted a Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

Of the 58 U.N. members at that time, Russia and the Communist bloc nations abstained from voting on it because they were violating most of its provisions. But 48 nations approved it.

The 15th anniversary of this declaration will be observed at the U.N. this year on Human Rights Day, Dec. 10.

The first 20 of the 30 articles in this declaration cover much the same ground as the Bill of Rights in the U. S. Constitution.

The remaining articles cover more modern economic, social and cultural developments such as the rights to work, rest and leisure, to social security, education, cultural enjoyment, a standard of living adequate for health and well being.

This document unquestionably has influenced the constitutions and patterns of life in many of the new nations. But in converting its high-minded principles into covenants for individual nations to ratify, the whole concept has run into opposition and delay. The late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles rejected the draft in 1954, while the famous Bricker amendment which would have limited U.S. acceptance of U.N. decisions was under consideration.

Secretary Dulles proposed as alternatives triennial reports on civil rights and the holding of seminars on human relations. Since 1956 there have been about a dozen of these regional seminars and two more are proposed for 1964 and 1965.

In the meantime, the U.N. Commission on Human Rights has drafted covenants on the status of refugees, stateless persons, women, children, abolition of slavery, forced labor and genocide; against discrimination in education and employment and the protection of minorities; freedom of information, freedom from arbitrary arrest and exile.

Some of these have been submitted to every General Assembly since 1955. But ratification has not yet been completed and nothing has been approved.

In 1960, however, the General Assembly passed a Declaration on Granting Independence to Colonial Countries. A year later the Assembly took note of the fact that the resolution was not being carried out and that armed repression of freedom was being exercised in too many parts of the world.

This gave a new impetus to the human rights movement. The African states, at the International Labor Organization meeting, tried to expel South Africa for its racial policies.

A similar effort was made to expel Portugal from a UNESCO international education conference in Geneva. When this move failed, African and Asian delegates walked out.

These are indications of the sentiment boiling up and likely to generate high-pressure steam at the coming General Assembly.

President Kennedy recently sent to the Senate for ratification three U.N. human rights covenants on the abolition of forced labor and slavery and to protect rights of women. U. S. law already guarantees these rights.

This is a beginning. And as the President points out in his letter of transmittal, "American ratification of these covenants will stand as a sharp reminder of world opinion to all who may seek to violate the rights they define."

Parley Carr, Major Stonor of "The Andy Griffith Show," has done 43 movies, over 250 network television shows and 15,000 radio performances.

'Happiness' Explored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If I read the signs and portents correctly, we are on the brink of being inundated by happiness books.

I base this forecast partly on the success of a book called "Happiness is a Warm Puppy."

Illustrated by characters from the comic strip, "Peanuts," it equates happiness with such childhood pleasures as going barefoot, making an "A" in spelling, etc.

But mostly I base the prediction on the success of a book called "Happiness is Not a Flirt."

A parody of the original, it equates happiness with such adult pleasures as seeing your mother-in-law arrested on a narcotics charge and having a pretty neighbor who addresses with the shades up.

There is an old saying in the publishing business that one good lampoon deserves another, so it seems logical to assume that a number of other books of this sort will be forthcoming.

There will, for instance, undoubtedly be a happiness book for teen-agers. "Happiness is a Stolen Hubcap."

"Happiness is a Riot at Ocean City, Md."

And, of course, a happiness book for colleges. "Happiness is 19 Fraternally Brothers in a Telephone Booth."

"Happiness is Cribbing on a Religious Education Test."

I hope to be able to interest a publisher in a happiness book for Washington. I plan to call it "Happiness is 51 Per Cent of the Votes."

The book I have in mind would be divided into several sections to cover various areas of the capital, something like this:

The Pentagon: Happiness is Phasing in a New Program Before the Old One is Finalized. "Happiness is a Parking Place Within Five Miles of the River Entrance."

Happiness is a Secretary Who is Younger Than Your Wife. The White House: Happiness is Someone Else's Turn to Walk the Dogs. "Happiness is Cancelling a Newspaper Subscription."

Happiness is a Wife who is Younger Than Your Secretary. Republican Presidential Hopefuls: Happiness is Governor Rockefeller getting a divorce.

The Democratic National Committee: Happiness is a Southern Member Who Isn't Unhappy.

The Treasury: Happiness is a Temporary Increase in the Debt Limit.

The Senate: Happiness is Not Being up for Re-election This Year. "Happiness is Being Recognized by the Tourists." "Happiness is a Five-hour Speech."

Cards Race Clock

By United Press International
About the only question left in the National League pennant race is whether Curt Simmons and the St. Louis Cardinals can beat the clock.

In one sense, both already have turned back the clock—Simmons with pitching performances that recall his starting days of the 1950s and the Cardinals with a whirlwind finish reminiscent of those which reaped them World Series glory in the days of the old Gashouse Gang.

The key remaining question is whether the clock of the National League schedule will run out on them before their fast finishes can overtake the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers.

It's a day-to-day proposition. The Cardinals can only go on winning and hoping. Winning each game from day to day and hoping that the Dodgers will fade before time runs out and the Redbirds are dead birds.

The Cardinals, doing their part in the tradition of some of their great teams of the past, reached their longest winning streak since 1957 Thursday when they beat the New York Mets, 9-0. They remained five games behind the Dodgers, however, when Los Angeles downed the Chicago Cubs, 4-0.

Simmons pitched a six-hitter for his 13th win—the most he has scored since 1956 when he had a 15-10 record for the Philadelphia Phillies. Curt Ford led the Cardinals' 14-hit attack with five singles and Tim McCarver weighed in with three hits and three runs batted in.

Pete Richert went 7½ innings and Larry Sherry closed out the Dodgers' hypotenused shutout behind a 10-hit attack which included a homer by Jim Gilliam and two hits each by Wally Moon, Bill Skowron and Dick Tracy.

The Houston Colts downed the San Francisco Giants, 5-2, in 10 innings and the Milwaukee Braves shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-0, in other National League action.

Peters Could Be AL's Top Rookie
By United Press International
It's Gary Peters by acclamation when it's time to pick the 1963 rookie of the year in the American League.

A 6-foot, 2-inch, 200-pound left-hander who failed in three previous brief major league trials, the Chicago White Sox seems likely to accomplish two feats that haven't been achieved in more than a decade.

Following his 4-1 victory Thursday over the Kansas City Athletics, Peters needs only three wins to become the first rookie left-hander to win 20 games since Alex Kellner in 1949. And if he maintains his current earned run average leadership, his E.R.A. is now 1.84, the 25-year-old left-hander will be the first rookie to take that title since Saul Rogovin in 1951.

Peters' seven strikeouts also boosted his league-leading figure to 17½ and placed him in a position to be the first rookie strikeout king in the AL since Herb Score in 1955.

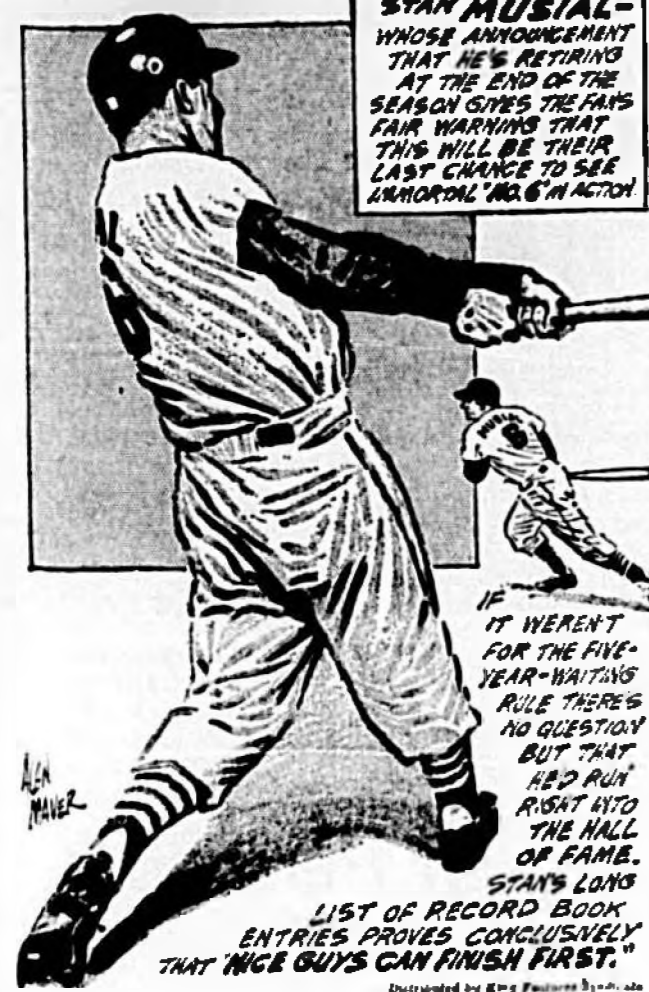

All of which will be of some compensation for the White Sox' dreary season now drawing to a close with Al Lopez' crew 13 games behind the runaway New York Yankees.

The Yankees maintained their huge lead Thursday when they beat the Washington Senators, 3-2, in 12 innings. The Detroit Tigers defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-2, and the Los Angeles Angels scored an 8-5 victory over the Minnesota Twins in other AL games.

The youngster is Peggy Conroy.

St. Louis Vikings In Opener Tonight

United Press International
The St. Louis Cardinals have hot-handed young quarterback Charley Johnson and a sellout crowd tonight to welcome the surprising Minnesota Vikings, but the Big Red aren't crowing.

John David Crow, the Cardinals' leading ground gainer, is out for a month with a damaged ligament in his right knee, and St. Louis will have to put on its Cardinal Glenn Memorial Hospital Benefit Game without him. The Cardinals bring a 2-1 record into the pre-season finale and the Vikings boast a 3-1 exhibition mark.

The expected 32,000 in St. Louis should boost the NFL's pre-season attendance to nearly 930,000. Thus far in 26 dates the NFL has drawn 914,602, an average of 35,176, and should top the record 1,070,723 who witnessed 35 exhibition contests last summer. The rival American Football League averaged only 12,988

Ailing McKinley Facing Koch In Net Semifinals

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. — (UPI) — The moment of truth is approaching for chunky Chuck McKinley and his aching back.

Sooner or later, the ailing Wimbledon champ from San Antonio, Tex., will have to forget about his torn muscle and turn on all the power-like maybe today when he faces 18-year-old Thomas Koch of Brazil in a bid for a semifinal slot in the U. S. tennis championships.

Brazil was famous hereabouts chiefly for coffee and gal tennis ace Maria Bueno, but that thinking changed Thursday when Brazil's Run Barnes flattened third-seeded golden boy Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., in straight sets and gained one semi-final along with lanky Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla.

There are some who think Koch, a movie actor type, is even better than Barnes. Koch is a stylish left-hander who required only four sets earlier in the tournament to knock out seventh-seeded American Davis Cupper Gene Scott of St. James, N. Y.

"I'm erratic," says Koch. "Some days good, some days bad."

First Scrimmage At Lyman Next Week

Lyman High School Head Football Coach Dick Copeland and his squad plan to conduct their first real scrimmage of the young practice period next week as work has started to bear down with the Greyhounds.

Overall, things are still going slow for Copeland. Without the benefit of a spring practice and being new to the school and his ways of practice being much different play an important part in the reasons for not being farther along.

With the opening of school this week, several new boys have reported to the Lyman dressing room. Copeland has high hopes for some and feel that they can be a big asset to the squad.

Thursday's practice marked the first day that the team worked on their kicking game, punting, kicking off and field goals. The team also worked on some dummy plays and defensive assignments.

Copeland feels that the boys will be ready for a real good scrimmage about the latter part of the week and then he can determine who's who. Right now he is trying to smooth out the rough spots and to find the right players for the right positions. Not too many boys returned from last year and a lot of vacancies had to be filled with the young and inexperienced, but Copeland thinks that with a good heavy scrimmage will condition the team for competition.

One more game has been added to the Lyman schedule, bringing its season total up to nine. Auburndale has been added and that game will be played in Auburndale, in Polk County. Ovidio still rests in the number one spot on the schedule. Other games include contests with Oore, Titusville, P. K. Young of Gainesville, Florida Air Academy, Eau Gallie and Mt. Dora.

Second Round Utah Open

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—A trio of golfers known for their consistency teed off today with a one stroke lead in the second round of the $40,000 Utah Open golf tournament.

Spunky Gary Player, the gallery favorite from South Africa, lean Don January and chunky Billy Maxwell fired four-under-par 66½ Thursday to share the opening round lead at the 6,981-yard Salt Lake Country Club course in the shadow of the towering Rockies.

Injuries Put Half Of Gator Squad On Bench

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—The University of Florida Gators, with almost half its first team sidelined by injuries or illness, were to have a light workout today and a full scrimmage Saturday.

Injuries and the flu sidelined four more key players Thursday. A virus attack put star fullback Larry Dupree and end Barry Brown in bed, and a neck and ankle injury put center Roger Petty and veteran end Russ Brown out of action for a while.

The Gators have been ranked as a Southeastern Conference power, but head coach Ray Graves says he has yet to practice with a complete first team lineup. He said injuries have "seriously hurt us."

Joins UFL Club

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI)—Fullback Mel Triplett, who won fame with the New York Giants in the National Football League championship game in 1956, has been signed by the Toledo Tornados of the United Football League.

Triplett was released two weeks ago by the Cleveland Browns after failing to win a berth in training camp.

Bursitis May End Palmer's Career

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — A worried and ailing Arnold Palmer, one of golf's all-time greats, pinned his hopes for the future today on "modern medicine."

He admitted that he could be sighting the end of a glory road which in eight years has made him a millionaire several times over.

It's all because of bursitis in his right shoulder which developed 10 days ago. It wasn't until Thursday, after a practice round for golf's biggest purse of the year — this weekend's $50,000 first-place money in TV's "World Series of Golf" — that Palmer broke down and confessed "I'm really worried."

"I just can't hit the ball," he said. "It doesn't hurt until I swing. Then the pain becomes unbearable."

And staring at the floor of the press tent at Firestone Country Club, he added: "They say modern medicine can do miracles. They can prove it to me now."

and British Open king Bob Charles.
He had to pick up on the 16th hole, a 625-yard back-breaker, "because I just couldn't swing at the ball any more." He had driven a trap and when he tried to explode out of it, the "pain at the top of my backswing was just too much."

Similar programs in 1955 and 1959 also captured this coveted award.

Are we letting it fade away?

Where liberty dies, justice cannot survive. And, unless we protect our precious heritage of freedom, American justice could fade away!

To remain free, we must guard freedom of the individual and freedom of enterprise — the mainstays of America's strength.

America today, is the most prosperous and most progressive country on earth. It is also the world's most powerful electric nation. These things have been accomplished under a capitalistic system that is despised and feared by the Communists. They know that when government controls economic power as well as political power, the individual can no longer defend his basic freedoms. Florida Power & Light is proud to be one of the nation's investor-owned, tax-paying power companies who are keeping America powerful without government interference, persuasion, or coercion. Together with other Florida power companies, we are currently engaged in a program to expand, improve, and strengthen an interconnecting network of transmission lines in order that Florida will have ample power to share — now and in the future. This powerfully important job calls for the greatest expansion program in Florida Power & Light Company's history. Projects now under construction will add 1.3 million kilowatts of generation by 1965 — a 48% increase in two years — to help make Florida ... and America ... more powerful!

Hickman - Flowers Wedding Told

Miss Patricia Joan Hickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hickman, of Jan-Phyl Village became the bride of Clyde Royal Flowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Flowers, of Sanford.

Rev. L. B. Overstreet officiated at the double ring ceremony on Aug. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, of Jan-Phyl Village. A program of nuptial music was presented by Oliver Lindsey Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., brother-in-law of the groom. Mr. Lindsey accompanied by Mrs. Frank Tillis of Winter Park, sang "Prayer Perfect", "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The church was decorated with palms, which formed a background for lighted tapers and tall fan-shaped baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and white gladioli were used on each side of the altar. The windows held arrangements of carnations and lighted tapers. Family pews were marked with white satin bows and lilies-of-the-valley.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin and lace. The scooped neckline was designed with satin piping and the sleeves extended to points over her wrists. The full skirt was deeply pleated and swept into a full train. A small satin bow defined the front waistline. Her fingertip length veil of imported illusion was held by a princess crown of pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade design of white rose buds, stephanotis and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Nancy Hickman was maid of honor for her sister and Miss Linda Phillips, college room-mate, of Pensacola, was bridesmaid. Their sunshiny yellow chiffon gowns over taffeta were fashioned with empire midriffs, round-skirts. Each wore a yellow satin circlet with seed pearl trim and a short veil of yellow tulle. Their colonial bouquets were of yellow chrysanthemums and lace.

Little Beth McEster was flower girl for her aunt and wore a yellow chiffon frock over taffeta and the head piece was identical to the maid of honor and bridesmaid. Little Billy Lindsey of Atlanta, nephew of the groom was ring bearer.

Mrs. Hickman, mother of the bride, wore a cream silk crepe and lace ensemble, matching accessories and orchid corsage. Mrs. Flowers, wore mauve lace with matching accessories and orchids. J. Ray Flowers, cousin of the bridegroom, of Harrisburg, N. C. was best man and ushers were Graham Shaw, of Miami; Paul Flowers of Sanford and Bill Creamer of Winter Haven.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social hall. The bride's table was covered with a linen cutwork cloth over yellow. Fern Park Personals

By Jane Casselberry
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gullickson, 2809 Lakeview Drive, recently returned home from Dallas by jet after an exciting tour of the western states with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hatch and their family.

Some of the interesting things which they saw in their travels through the west were the Petrified Forest, Painted Desert, and Las Vegas. In California they visited Los Angeles, San Francisco, Disneyland, Yosemite National Park and Knott's Berry Farm.

Returning to Dallas they spent a week before coming home.

Sunday, Sept. 1, the Thomas Gullicksons had as their dinner guests their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gullickson, of Winter Park, their children and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Harry McPeck of Longwood.

Traditional uses of the plentiful giant chrysanthemums and pompoms are, respectively, for football games and for corsages for evening social events.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 18, and have been dating a boy 17 up until my parents broke it up. Both my parents work during the day so I stay home alone. I was told I couldn't have my boy friend in the house when no one was home. He came over only three times. I was going to tell my parents, but before I had a chance, he told them they found out from a neighbor. I was told not to let him in the house again. This I told him, but he came over one more time anyway. My parents found out about it and now they won't let me date him at all. I swear if they give me just one more chance it will never happen again. Don't you think I deserve one more chance to prove myself trustworthy?

DEAR WANTS: If you will re-read your own letter you should understand that you've had all the chances you deserve for a while.

DEAR ABBY: I have four boys and four girls and I would rather have eight boys than one girl! My boys play nicely with each other, eat whatever I cook, wear whatever I pick out, and when I tell a boy to do something, he says, "Okay, Mom." (He doesn't always do it, but at least he doesn't give me an argument.) My girls fight with each other, turn up their noses at left-overs, won't wear what I buy for them, and argue when I ask them to do something. And another thing that makes girls a big headache... they try to look sexy at 12, but boys don't even think about girls until they're 18 or 21.

DEAR MOTHER: Four will get you eight that there are other mothers who prefer girls to boys. And for equally good (or bad) reasons. Children reflect the care, love and discipline they get. Personally, I can't see that their sex has much to do with it. P.S. Walt for your "sunset years". Then see who gives you more attention — the boy or the girls.

DEAR ABBY: Just because my husband had a bad experience lending money to a relative, 18 years ago, he made a vow that he would never lend money to another relative as long as he lived. Now his sister's husband is terribly hard up. They are hard-working, honest people who have never spent money foolishly, but they have had a lot of sickness and bills. My husband stubbornly refuses to give them any help. He has helped out many strangers, and has gotten stuck with them, but that doesn't seem to bother him. Do you think he is right to let his sister and her family struggle because of one deadbeat in the family?

DEAR "STONEY'S" WIFE: No. And keep chipping away.

Jack Lemmon Portrays 3 Roles

Veratility is the name for Jack Lemmon who plays opposite Shirley MacLaine in the Mirisch Company's Technicolor-Panavision comedy "Irma La Douce," which will be featured Sunday through Thursday at the Ritz Theatre.

For he plays three—count 'em—three roles in the film treatment of the famous stage comedy which has enjoyed record runs on the stages of London, Paris and New York, and which is still running as a road show.

First he's a cop. A gendarme, rather. As such he undertakes to raid a notorious Paris creep joint where Irma played by Shirley, and a number of other ladies may be found frequenting.

For a number of reasons, notably the presence of the chief-of-police in the joint during the raid, Lemmon gets fired. Somewhere along the line he falls in love with Irma and along comes two more roles for him in the picture. One is as Irma's "business manager," and the other, in order to keep her pure for himself, a rich Englishman who is willing to pay for her companionship.

Under the direction of Billy Wilder, Jack does very well in this new United Artists release, very much on a par, say those who have seen it, with his Milquetoast role as E. E. Baxter in the Academy-Award-Winning "The Apartment" in which he also appeared opposite Mrs. MacLaine and under the direction of Wilder. He received an Academy Award nomination for that role.

All three are assisted in the business of making and winning laughs by a large cast of character actors which includes Broadway's Lou Jacobi, Television's Bruce Yarnell, Herschel Bernardi and Hope Holiday, and Joan Shawlee and Grace Lee Whitney. I. A. L. Diamond, who assisted with the script for "The Apartment," does the same for "Irma La Douce."

SHIRLEY MACLAINE as the Irma La Douce. Mirisch Company's Technicolor-Panavision comedy for United Artists release, opening Sunday at the Ritz Theatre. She shares stellar honors with Jack Lemmon.

TABLE HOPPING

BY JUDY TURNER

Get those big yellow buses rolling down the highways morning and evening are a sight for sore eyes. Not to overwork the theme, but do be careful driving these days, and when it comes time for refreshment, this is for you . . . .

Those 12 new speakers in the Caribe really sound smooth, even sitting in one place. When you move around, you can really hear the professional effect, with only the juke box. Flo says Friday nights are good too when Peggy and Bill Clayton play the cocktail drums and bass respectively, and Bill Wagner plays his instrument. It's one he invented himself, something like a cross between a xylophone and a harpaichord. If you can imagine that, it ought to be good for a trip to the Caribe just out of curiosity.

Tried one of those delicious cold plates for lunch at Rose and Wilk's this week, and can report that it is one of the best tasting and most filling I've ever had. It is served with their good home made garlic toast. On the plate garlic is potato salad, tomato and cottage cheese, and all sorts of cheese and meat, variety enough for anyone. Finished off with whipped cream. The lunch hour there is busy . . . no wonder with that menu of well prepared food.

As usual, "everything" is new at Spencers, according to friend Sam. Actually, a couple things are new, like Doris and Jim being back from their vacation. They get back Tuesday after two weeks time off. Also, Darlene is in the hospital; nothing too serious and she will be out in a couple of days. Other than that, Spencers is just the same old comfortable place to stop in for a drink or dinner.

Did you know that no matter where you stopped to buy a "Whataburger," you'll get the same high quality meat and trimmings. The "Whataburgers" throughout Florida are all furnished with top grades of beef by one supplier, who buys especially for the Whataburger chain. That means that you can depend on a delicious sandwich in one town as well as the next.

Was treated to the charming hospitality of the Swedish styled Painted Horse over the weekend and certainly did enjoy it. The food is superb, especially the items on the salad bar. There are all kinds of foods from green vegetable fests to pink rice. I could have eaten an entire meal right there, but after tasting the Swedish meatballs we glad I hadn't. Could have had another entree, but just couldn't quite hold any more.

Now that school is back in session, the social life of the younger set will be picking up. What better way to have a good time than to spend an evening at the Blue City Roller Rink. It's a small place to meet your friends, or meet new friends. If you're not too sure on your skates, the rink has lessons for beginners; if you want to learn something more advanced, sign up for the advanced lessons. Of course there is a snack bar and skate rentals at the rink too.

Although Freddie's Steak House is known primarily for its steaks, the menu is actually more cosmopolitan. Seafoods are another of their specialties, and the appetizer dishes range from shrimp to chopped chicken liver. You a romantic touch you can finish off a meal in style with Cherrie Jubilee, flaming and all, right at the table.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

East's queen of hearts won the first trick and he returned the eight. West went up with ace and cleared the suit by leading the seven.

The hand looked simple enough at this point, but after South cashed the ace and queen of clubs, East was unkind enough to show out.

At this point most players would have decided that conditions were bad everywhere and just given up but one South, Paul Levitt of Sioux City, Iowa, had other ideas. In spite of the fact that the three of hearts had not appeared, Paul was sure that West had opened a five-card suit and had the ace of diamonds as a sure re-entry. He had also shown up with four clubs so he was likely to be short in spades.

Paul cashed the ace of spades, entered dummy with the king, noting that West had dropped the ten. He led a third spade and finessed his nine. When it held Paul was in clover.

He cashed the queen of spades and watched West drop the nine of hearts. His first discard had been the ten of diamonds.

The three of hearts was still missing, but Paul had already made up his mind where that card was. Hence West was down to a single ace of diamonds. East cashed his ace of diamonds. East cashed his ace of diamonds and that three of hearts, but Paul made the last two tricks with the minor suit of kings.

Jayne Mansfield At Movieland

Buxom Jayne Mansfield — the same who was voluptuously displayed in a recent issue of Playboy magazine — stars in "Playgirl After Dark," Eastman color film showing Sunday through Tuesday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre.

Strictly adult entertainment, this is the first Sanford showing of this film about "girls who rock the night as teen queens."

Co-featured will be "The Chapman Report," in color, starring Jane Fonda.

Wednesday's and Thursday's features will be "Horse from Hell," a color Western starring Audie Murphy, and "The Great Impostor," with Tony Curtis.

A triple horror show is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Sept. 13-14. These include "The Brain That Wouldn't Die," "Hepatitis," in color, and "Black Sunday."

Red Trawlers Hinder Search

BOSTON (UPI)—A helicopter pilot reported early today he was unable to locate two storm-threatened Texas Towers in the Atlantic Ocean with 28 workers aboard because lights aboard Russian trawlers in the area confused him in the darkness.

The workers, however, reported they could withstand the poundings and would ride out the storm. Plans to remove them immediately were abandoned.

Henry Hoffman, project engineer for a private firm demolishing the rust-weakened towers for salvage, talked by radio with the helicopter pilot and with men aboard the two structures.

"All danger is past," Hoffman said. "Everything is safe now."

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

A reader raises the question: Do all marriages go through periods of depression?

The answer is a qualified "yes." All marriages may not have their low periods — but probably most of them do.

It is too much to expect a marriage to stay the same, year in and year out.

The wise wife isn't dismayed when her marriage seems to be less happy and rewarding than it once was, or when she realizes that work and worry and the demands of living seem to be pushing husband and wife a little apart.

When those times come, the wise wife doesn't dramatize her unhappiness or accuse her husband of having changed in his feelings toward her. She goes right on about her job as homemaker, wife and mother, trying to create as much happiness for the whole family as she can.

She makes herself stay cheerful, and to the best of her ability makes home as pleasant for him as possible.

She knows that if she calmly goes about living her life as happily as she can, the period of depression will pass.

Is she happy—or at least content—her happiness will be catching. But no matter how hard a woman tries, she can't make a man happy just by striving to please him.

Vet Affairs Group Urged

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—The national American Legion, which begins its 43th annual convention here today, urged the Senate to create a separate committee on veteran affairs.

Clarence H. Olson, director of the Legion's legislative division, said the organization had been pushing for such a committee for seven years.

"We hope to get a big drive started from this convention," he said.

The Legionnaires, about 15,000 strong, are also expected to reiterate earlier demands to rid the Western Hemisphere and especially Cuba, of communism by any and all means available.

First U. S. president to serve ice cream at White House dinner parties was Thomas Jefferson.

Strange Sound Over Telephone

PITTSBURG, Kan. (UPI)—A teen-aged girl became alarmed when, during a long telephone conversation, she suddenly was unable to get a response from her girl friend on the other end of the line.

She heard what sounded like gasps in the receiver. Police were called and when they reached the home of the second girl, they found her asleep—snoring into the telephone receiver.

200,000 Pack Two Religious Ceremonies

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — More than 200,000 persons packed Memorial Coliseum and the Rose Bowl in neighboring Pasadena Sunday night for the closing sessions of Billy Graham's Southern California Crusade for Christ and the international assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Freeways and thoroughfares to the two famed sports centers were jammed with traffic as motorists headed for the stadiums in the late afternoon and evening hours.

Graham spoke to an estimated 134,000 persons jammed into the Coliseum and another 20,000 outside as he concluded his 21-session campaign. He said it was the largest turnout he has ever witnessed in the United States.

"We have enough people here now to march on Washington," the evangelist said informally before his sermon, alluding jokingly to the recent march on the nation's capital by civil rights adherents. "And if they keep throwing the Bible out of the school, we just might do that."

Another 85,000 persons were at the Rose Bowl for the closing program of the eight-day Jehovah's Witnesses assembly.

French Classes To Organize

Instructor will be Mrs. George Stuhling who advises that those unable to attend the opening meeting may contact her at her home if they are interested in registering for either class.

Only charges for the courses will be a $2 registration fee and cost of textbook.

Boy Quintuplets Progressing At Venezuela

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (UPI) — Venezuela's first quintuplets were reported in excellent condition Sunday night, 44 hours after their birth.

The infants — all boys — were born Saturday to Mrs. Ines Cuervo, 27, wife of an oilfield worker from Ciudad Ojeda.

A spokesman at Maracaibo University Hospital reported all the quintuplets were in incubators but were taking their special milk formula normally. He said they weighed 3.08 to 3.96 pounds each and averaged 14.1 inches in length.

Mrs. Cuervo, the mother of five other children, had been under special observation at the hospital for several months.

The quintuplets were baptized by a Roman Catholic priest Saturday night, and each was given the name of one of the attending physicians. They were named Mario, Otto, Robinson, Fernando and Juan Jose.

Dr. Robinson Suarez Herrera delivered the infants, according to a hospital spokesman.

President Romulo Betancourt sent a telegram of congratulations and promised federal aid to the family.

Mexico's Rafael Osuna and Brazil's Maria Bueno, graceful as panthers and just as dangerous, swept to the national singles championships at Forest Hills Sunday with straight set victories that signaled the end of Australia's domination and at least a temporary setback to a budding American boom.

City Commission haggled for 45 minutes Monday evening on the question of permitting swimming and tennis lessons on R-1AA residential property. At the end of the 45 minutes the members learned any zoning change has to be subject to a public hearing. A request for an amendment for private tutoring in the R-1AA zones was tabled. As was a previous request by a photographer to reside and have his studio in a residential zone.

Parents of Lake Mary Elementary School will have their first meeting of the school year and will get acquainted with the faculty members at 7:30 this evening in the school auditorium.

R. E. Porter put in a plant for his wife over the weekend. Took him an hour to lay the 42 bricks and three hours to straighten up.

Casselberry will come into $2,135.66 as a result of a bookkeeping error by the State on the cigarette tax.

Final day for registration in order to vote in the Nov. 5 election is Oct. 5. Registrar Cami Bruce said today, potential voters must be 21, residents of the state for a year and resident of the county for six months.

Those who looked at the 24-0 score the Varsity ran up against the JVs in Friday's inter-squad football game might get the impression that "offense is the pony to ride for the Indians." Those who looked in on the scrimmage tell us that the lads on defense were the same rough and ready stalwarts for which the Seminoles have gained renown.

Come to think of it, the goal line battles, the tackling down field under punts and the "blocks of granite" (as Fordham once called its line) have been the talk of many of the opponents of the Warriors. Looks like they'll be seeing lots more of the same this season. For instance, Mike Glad, Jim Touhy, Dave Noell, Dale Alexander, who all did so well last year, are hold-over tackles and doing quite well, thank you.

The plaintiffs of just heaps of football fans throughout the county are heard for the drive of the Division I. That hard working group started from scratch last year to get themselves a football field. And did just that. This season they took the bit in their collective teeth and are raising more funds to help handle the debt taken on to get the job done in a hurry a year ago.

That is just a short paragraph on a LONG story. ENTHUSIASM is one word for it. LEADERSHIP is another. And so far this writing has applied only to the football field — fittingly called John Courier Field.

The same hustle has been seen in the TEAM that also started from 1962 and is now armed with a 27 second The Lions get their first test this fall when Coach Jim Palmer's gridsters go to Lynon to take on the Greyhounds. Dick Copeland has the Lynon squad under his wing this year and will see if he can equal their 8-0 record last year under Buck Metts.

Way Found To Clear Up Old Sanford Loan

Federal government has opened the door for the City of Sanford to renew application for a $10,000 loan for a feasibility study for the proposed port terminal, City Manager W. E. Knowles informed the City Commission Monday evening.

Knowles had presented a letter to the Florida Planning Agency demanding repayment of a $7,900 feasibility loan made in the 1940s for a sewage disposal plant. The city contends it never used the plans and, therefore, under the law is not required to repay. The HIFA contends the present sewage plant construction follows the original plans and, therefore, under the law repayment is required.

It is on the basis of this contention that the HIFA has rejected an application for a $10,000 feasibility loan for the port terminal.

However, Knowles informed the City Commission that an official of HIFA at Atlanta, telephoned him Monday morning and outlined a procedure whereby the old loan may be declared null and void.

In a proclamation issued today Mayor McDonald said: "We owe it to ourselves and our loved ones to recognize the wisdom of protecting vision against disease, accident and neglect, and to join fully in the crusade against blindness."

The application was made by Central Florida ETV Inc., comprised of eight county school systems in the Central Florida area, including Seminole County. The application now goes to the Federal Communications Commission.

Kelly Dismissal Move Considered

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Senate voted 38-11 today to consider a defense motion to dismiss impeachment charges against Circuit Court Judge Richard Kelly and gave attorneys two hours to debate the motion.

News Session Set

Guard Taken Over; Five Schools Mixed

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — President Kennedy outmaneuvered a defiant Gov. George C. Wallace for the second time in three months today by federalizing the Alabama National Guard and racial integration came for the first time to schools in the Alabama cities of Birmingham, Mobile and Tuskegee.

A stormy demonstration by flag-waving white students erupted at one Birmingham school, but police kept the screaming students under control and forced back a crowd of angry adults a block from the scene.

Many white parents began removing their children from several other schools in Birmingham and Tuskegee.

When some of the uproar and early morning confusion subsided, 20 Negroes were inside five white schools in the three cities.

Wallace went to his office in Montgomery this morning, met with advisers, and later accepted service of federal court orders restraining him from interfering with school integration.

It was at West End High School in Birmingham where the boisterous demonstration broke out moments after two Negro girls entered the brick building.

City police moved in quickly.

There were at least 15 arrests of adults and youths.

When Kennedy's order put the guardsmen on federal duty, they quickly departed the schools in Mobile and Tuskegee, before any pupils showed up.

"We've been federalized," an officer in Mobile said simply.

Kennedy's order empowered Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to call into federal service "any and all units of the Alabama National Guard and Air National Guard" for an indefinite period.

Castro Admits Sugar Mill Hit

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba's biggest sugar mill was bombed at dawn Sunday but anti-aircraft guns prevented raids on two Cuban cities that night, the Castro government said Monday night.

CO CONG (South Viet Nam) (UPI) — Government forces blasted their way out of a Communist ambush to score their biggest single victory over Viet Cong guerrillas since South Viet Nam's last dispatch flared into the open last May, military sources said today.

The sources said South Vietnamese troops killed an estimated 80 Viet Cong regulars and wounded 200 more in a battle Monday near this little delta town about 20 miles south of Saigon. Government losses were estimated at about 20 dead and 20 wounded.

Phone Strikers Begin Return

TAMPA (UPI) — General Telephone Company employees who had been on strike for two months began reporting back today, but few were put to work.

Electrical workers in six Florida cities voted by a slim margin Monday night to accept a proposed new contract and were instructed by union officials "to report to work to their immediate supervisors in the morning."

Further Cut In Aid Possibility

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House group may chop an additional $700 million from President Kennedy's foreign aid program, already whacked sharply by Congress, according to informed sources.

These sources said that a House appropriations subcommittee headed by Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., hoped to inflict the new cut when it acts on the foreign aid money bill next month.

Any further reduction is sure to heat up the fight between the administration and foreign aid foes in Congress.

Tax Cut Ok'd By House Unit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Overriding solid Republican opposition, the House Ways & Means Committee today approved an $11 billion tax cut, the biggest in the nation's history.

By a straight party-line of 15-10, the committee directed its chairman, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, (D-Ark.), to introduce the bill it spent seven months in drafting.

Married Men To Escape Draft

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today, in effect, exempted married men from the draft in a move that will relieve an estimated 340,000 young husbands from military service.

His executive order provided that husbands of draft age (from 19 through 25) will be called only if the pool of eligible single men is exhausted.

Board Approves County Budget

By juggling off two major items totalling $73,000, the County Commission at noon today approved its 1963-64 budget of $2.1 million while at the same time holding the tax millage at six mills, the same as in the last several years.

The Commission removed a proposed $30,000 from the capital outlay fund for a new county nursing home and $3,000 for a court house annex.

The courthouse annex item was removed when Clerk Arthur H. Beckwith Jr., read a telegram received last night from Attorney General Richard Ervin that the county cannot legally establish a facility outside the county seat. His statement said that there is no enabling legislation permitting such procedure.

Commission Eases Milk Price Rule

ORLANDO (UPI) — The Milk Commission voted today not to challenge distributors who offer milk to schools at prices as low as 6.75 cents per half pint.

The commission's action sets the stage for numerous counties to take new bids for milk for the school lunch program. Several counties had rejected high bids and substituted fruit and vegetable drinks in the program.

The request that the commission not penalize distributors for prices of 6.75 cents was made by Pinellas County School Superintendent Floyd T. Christian as spokesman for the County School Superintendents Association.

"This will break it open," Christian said after the decision. "It will result in bids we can live with. We'll get bids now that will make it possible to get milk back in the schools."

An estimated 300 persons were on hand here for the commission meeting.

The Commission began discussion on a new fair trade proposal after acting on the school milk proposal. The new proposal also could be a big help to schools.

It is approved it would allow a distributor to "sell milk to schools for as low as 5.825 cents per half if he wanted to take the loss.

Christian presented his suggestion on delaying penalties for those distributors who want to meet competition by lowering the prices as part of a proposal taking in several recommendations.

Council Accepts City Tax Roll Of $42,450,000

Congressman A. S. Herlong Jr. early this afternoon telephoned The Herald to advise that the City of Sanford cannot under any circumstance dispose of the old post office building.

He reported disposition of that property was released by the U. S. General Services Administration to the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare which, in turn, released the building to the City for a 20-year period for library utilization only. He said today HEW advised him it will not permit the sale of the property by the city and will permit its only use to be for a public library.

City tax roll of $42,450,000, as submitted by Henry Tamm, finance director, was accepted by the City Commission sitting as the Board of Equalization Monday evening.

Tamm informed the Commission this is an increase of $1,075,000 in property valuation over last year.

James Graham Chapman, saying he represented a group of Sanford businessmen, was given until Oct. 11 to prepare and submit plans for a parking structure at the intersection of Highway 17-92. He also questioned whether the city has an ordinance prohibiting sale of liquor within a certain distance of a school and was apprised by City Attorney William Hutchison there is no such law.

The hotel owner charged that the Commission, in not permitting liquor sales to 2 a.m., is "driving business out of town." He added that "I can see no difference in us (Valdez Hotel and the Mayfair) except in the number of rooms." He also charged that other city bars have been operating until 1 and 2 a.m.

"The bars in this town pay a lot of taxes," Burton said, "more so than those in the county. All city bars pay the same amount and should be granted the same closing privileges."

Stating he was not authorized to speak for any other bar owners, Burton said he was "speaking only personally for all bars when I say I can see no difference between a hotel bar and a bar only."

Commissioners remained silent when Burton concluded. After Burton seated himself, Commissioner Joe Baker directed Capt. Arnold Williams, acting police chief, to instruct all police officers to make certain all city bars abide by the midnight closing law.

Lounge Owner Asks Uniform Bar Closings

City Commission Monday evening turned a deaf ear to a request by John A. Burton IV that all liquor bars in the city be granted the same business hour privileges.

Citing that all city bars except the Mayfair Inn are required by law to close at midnight, Burton, owner of the Caribou Lounge and Valdez Hotel, claimed it is unfair to require other city bars to close two to three hours earlier than the Mayfair Inn and county bars outside the city limits. He also cited the fact that the Shamrock Lounge at the Mayfair Inn is open on Sundays.

Burton presented his request after the Commissioners approved the reading of a new ordinance extending the liquor zone south to include the Pinecrest Shopping Center at 27th Street and Highway 17-92. He also questioned whether the city has an ordinance prohibiting sale of liquor within a certain distance of a school and was apprised by City Attorney William Hutchison there is no such law.

Town Clerk Of Casselberry Resigns

By Jane Casselberry

The town of Casselberry soon will need a new town clerk as a result of the resignation of Mrs. Lillian Henning, effective Sept. 27. She resigned at Monday night's meeting of the town council.

Mayor Fred Heath, who has been looking for someone to act as an assistant clerk for several months must now find a qualified resident to serve temporarily as clerk until the Dec. 2 municipal election.

Mrs. Henning gave as the reason for her resignation the fact that she has earned the maximum allowed under the Social Security Program and will lose her benefits if she fills out her term.

J. D. Self, road chairman, reported the way has been cleared for the paving of the section of Overbrook Drive from Sunset Drive to South Triplet Drive. Amick Construction, Inc., of Orlando, was low bidder for the job at $5,767.38.

The town of Casselberry will meet one-third of the cost or $1,922.46 in return for road rights-of-way needed for the straightening of Winter Park Drive. Ralph Parks, owner of Land O' Lakes Country Club will contribute a $3,444.92 share and the Woman's Club and Recreation Center will each have a $200 share.

Self also read a statement saying he wished to withdraw all previous suggestions for road improvements, particularly in regard to the paving program, as the citizens showed by their action in defeating the proposed charter that they are against progress.

Self was authorized to get estimates of the cost of both a new and used tractor with front-end loader and hydraulic hitch for narrow and mower.

The tractor purchase proposal brought an objection from former mayor, Joseph Laird, who has already protested the parking of city equipment near his home.

The council then voted to buy or lease property for the erection of a storage building and asked Mayor Heath to look into locations and prices.

Nov. 22 was set as deadline for registering to vote in the December election and those who returned their yellow registration cards, but who were not previously registered in the old books, must appear before the clerk to sign the voter's oath.

Renewal of A.B.C.'s garbage collecting franchise, which expires Oct. 1, was discussed. Town Attorney Kenneth McIntosh was instructed to draw up an ordinance and contract to be submitted at a continued session scheduled for Sept. 22.
