'Twin Lakes' Turnoff Proposal Is Revived

By FRED VAN PELT

The State Department of Transportation soon will be in a position to advertise bids for a contract to improve SR 46 between the Wekiva River (county line) and Interstate 4, it was learned this morning. (The State Department of Transportation continues under a news "blackout" under orders of Gov. Claude Kirk since the State Senate rejected his choice for transportation secretary.)

The Governor's press secretary telephoned The Herald this morning to report that "part of SR 46 will be in a new location." This means that the highway will pass to the north of the community of Paola. The new highway will be two lanes although the state will be acquiring land for a four-lane right-of-way.

A. A. Davis, planning engineer from the Deland district office of DOT, informed a public hearing last Oct. 23 that the SR 46 improvement would be completed by July 1.

Meanwhile, county civic leaders were reviving plans for petitioning the federal bureau of roads for a new intersection at "Twin Lakes" for Interstate 4. This would be the 28th-30th Street extension from Sanford, leading to Hanna Lake.

It was pointed out Orange County is seeking an intersection on I-4 to serve Maitland, "right next door" to the Lee Road interchange. Seminole County has five interchanges, at Hwy. 1742 on the north, First Street, Lake Mary, Longwood and Altamonte Springs. A "Twin Lakes" interchange would serve all of South Sanford and environs.

Airport Decision Due

By BILL SCOTT
Sanford City Commission may decide tonight the future of the city's industrial recruitment in a scheduled discussion of the organizational structure for industrial functions and airport operation.
This subject is one of the prime items on the long agenda which will come before the commissioners for deliberations and an indication of how much additional money the city will give to the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce to replace the $10,000 loss of county funds.
Chamber is seeking additional money for its program of city promotion and exactly how much extra funding city will offer the chamber may be decided at tonight's meeting. At present, city funds $10,000 to the chamber and pays $7,300 additional for advertising. Mayor Lee P. Moore said today a decision on extra city funding of chamber activities may be discussed tonight while the industrial recruitment functions are also defined.

Both Moore and W. E. Knowles, city manager, said the city probably will undertake the task of recruiting industry under either the present Sanford Industrial Commission or another city-sponsored board.
In the past, the chamber also has been involved in the industrial acquisition but, according to Moore and Knowles, the city board will become the sole industrial arm of Sanford.
Three present openings on the industrial board also may be filled during tonight's meeting by commission.
John Krider, manager of chamber, is expected to be added to the board along with two others, if the commissioners decide to continue present SIC operations.

Names of the other two probable appointments to the SIC have not been revealed.
Krider indicated to The Herald today his intention to serve on the SIC if the Chamber board of directors desire him.
Other commission agenda items expected to be included in tonight's session include: Community Antenna Franchise review. Discussion of proposed each side 1971-72 collection.
Discussion of new ruling affecting occupational licenses for banks.
Discussion of proposed lease of Sanford Stadium to schools.
Consideration of steps to implement urban renewal planning grant.

FLOATS for the waterways at Monroe Harbour, which sank to the bottom several months ago, have been salvaged and now are drying out on the seawall along the waterway.

Steals $3,150 And Property 'Cat Burglar' Hits Homes

Approximately $3,150 in cash and personal belongings were stolen from five South Seminole homes Saturday night as a so-called "cat burglar" terrorized residents of Spring Valley, a community located west of Altamonte Springs near I-4.
Ralph and Joyce Kennedy, Lineal Drive, were robbed of $3,000 in cash when the thief rifled the man's pockets and his wife's purse while the couple slept.
Entry to the house was made by prying open a door, and the burglar, in his haste, overlooked a watch and ring valued at $4,000.
The "cat" took $110 and several credit cards from J. R. Clark's pants pocket after breaking into the 108 Campbell Tree Lane residence.
Approximately $180 was removed by the thief from a wallet belonging to Helen Milani in the entry of a 101 Greenleaf Lane home.

Don Plante, 105 Live Oak Lane, listed a $15 loss after the "cat" entered his home through a rear window.
Evelyn Garcia, 2821 Casa Loma Way, woke up while the thief was prowling in her bedroom and screamed.
She told sheriff's officers a young man with a flashlight was lurking near her bed.
Her screams frightened the man away, but a watch and $12.50 cash was taken by the thief handily, who escaped through a sliding glass door.
Sanford Police Chief Ben Butler this morning announced the recovery of a stolen car and the arrest of a Sanford man on a car theft charge.
Butler said William Duane Hickson, 17, of 408 Palmetto Avenue, was arrested by Lt. Michael Rotunda and Detectives Tom Deppen and William Jenkins and charged with taking a car belonging to Charles Tabor, 410 Palmetto Avenue, a neighbor of Hickson.

LT. COL. E. W. BIGGINS JR., a native of Sanford, has received the Bronze Star medal for service in Southeast Asia. From the left: Maj. Gen. Andrew S. Low, director of aerospace programs; Colonel and Mrs. Biggins and their daughter, Carolyn. Colonel Biggins, a 1942 graduate of Seminole High School, has been named to attend the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, starting in August for 10 months. He is a brother of Mrs. Richard Holtzclaw, of Park Ridge, and Mrs. Alton F. Harris, of Deland.

Rec Site Appeal To Be Considered

By MARION BETHEA
The continued appeal against the Board of Adjustments' decision to grant a special exception for a recreational area and trailer site on property south of Lake Mary, east of I-4, and west of Lake Emma Road, will be heard at tomorrow's meeting of the Board of Seminole County Commissioners.
A considerable gathering was present last week, when the matter was continued due to the absence of attorney Mack Cleveland Jr., who represents the developers of the area. Principal objector to the trailer site is Constantine Thermenos, a resident of the area. Thermenos contends the site will not be recreational per se, but will permit transient visitors visiting DisneyWorld to camp overnight.
Thermenos further alleges that residents of the area chose the homesite because the county had planned them for country living in a low density area. Allowing a change in zoning to accommodate the trailer site will allow persons involved in the project to profit at the expense of those living in the area, according to Thermenos. The disgruntled citizens in the neighborhood also maintain that the "campgrounds," if allowed, will cause pollution by the influx of cars and people. Considerable objection and controversy is anticipated in the matter at tomorrow's meeting.
Other matters to be considered are county engineer's reports on Maitland interchange and Wakiva Springs Road; road superintendent's report on Lake Mary Boulevard extension; discussions on apartment zoning and subdivision regulations on septic tanks. The long delayed appointments to the Water Control and Conservation Advisory Committee will be made at the meeting. Delay was caused by the absence of commissioner Robert Parker at last week's meeting, due to illness. Parker was understood to have a recommendation for the committee.

Direct Election Favored

The League of Women Voters of the United States has announced a new national position of the direct popular election of the president and vice president and the abolishment of the present Electoral College system.
The consensus reached by the Seminole County League last spring is almost identical with that announced by the national board, according to Mrs. John Bowers, president. Mrs. Robert Petroe was chairman of the local study committee.
The action taken by the national league's board of directors marks the beginning of a national effort for a Constitutional amendment establishing a direct election method. The League position also includes provisions for a runoff election in the event that no candidate receives more than 40 per cent of the vote cast.
League President Mrs. Bruce B. Benson, Amherst, Mass., reported that of over 1,000 Leagues registering an opinion in the consensus making process, 78 per cent were in support of the direct election method. Only four Leagues favored retaining the present system.

RICHARD W. Keogh has resigned as vice president and cashier of Florida State Bank, effective next Monday, to become associated with the Orlando office of Systems and Software Corporation, a Tampa-based company affiliated with the Marine Bank and Trust Company, of Tampa. Marine Bank and Florida State Bank are members of First Florida Bancorporation.

Use Correct Gasoline In Auto

WASHINGTON (AP) — The machine-gun clattering and popping of an automobile engine during heavy acceleration is more than a nuisance. It is likely to be expensive.

The notes, called "knock" or "ping," mean the car is burning the wrong gasoline. The result can be a battered piston. Signs that a car owner has been using the wrong gasoline can't wait his warranty.

Even if the engine noises don't tip off a driver, he can still be using the wrong gasoline. When the octane is too high, there is no damage, but a driver can be wasting from $30 to $50 in a year of normal driving.

Gasolines bear a vast array of octane-related labels like "regular," "premium," "super," "deluxe." As a result, the commission has proposed—in the face of industry opposition—that a gasoline's octane rating be clearly displayed on filling station pumps.

When a gasoline's octane is too low, the fuel in the combustion chamber explodes prematurely, catching the piston in mid-stroke and sending a severe jolt into the car's power system.

When the octane is too high, there is no damage, but a driver can be wasting from $30 to $50 in a year of normal driving.

The key to a happy marriage of engine and fuel is octane rating—the ability of a gasoline to resist knocking.

How easily a driver can find out the octane rating of a specific gasoline is a point of contention.

Oil companies say the information is furnished to all their dealers. The Federal Trade Commission has a bundle of

Policeman Aids Teen Addicts

By BARRY PARKER

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—A Joseph "Uncle Joe" Romagnano believes whenever possible in sparing the conviction and educating the teen-ager about drugs.

He spends afternoons "tapping" with teen-agers about the effects of marijuana and hard drugs at a one-story frame home called the "Helping Hand Drug Abuse Center."

Romagnano grants drug users immunity from the law when they come to the center and try to kick the habit. The Brooklyn-born officer heads the Mobile police narcotics division. "We don't lecture. We don't moralize. We just place the cards on the table and talk facts," he says. "They know no one is going to get mad."

The center, which opened in January, is staffed by qualified personnel on a volunteer basis. The home, once an officer's residence on Brookley Air Force Base, is stocked with pamphlets about drugs abuse.

Over 250 persons, most of them in their teens or early 20s, have signed the guest ledger. About 90 per cent have admitted to drug use.

Romagnano says most take the 41-year-old Romagnano, that they have experimented with marijuana and hard drugs.

"At first," Romagnano says, "they were paranoid about me. They thought I would arrest them in fact, they were paranoid about all policemen and I wanted to eliminate that."

He says the visitors learned they could take him into their confidence. He keeps the number of uniformed officers at the center to a minimum.

"I want a certain amount of

Because this diet really works. We have testimonials reporting on its success. If you follow it exactly, you could lose up to 10 lbs. in as few as 10 days. Then you will start dropping weight on approximately the 5th day and thereafter until the 10th day. That you will lose very few days until you get down to your proper weight.

Best of ALL there will be no hunger pangs. Revised and enlarged, this diet lets you eat your fill with formerly forbidden foods, such as high-protein foods—meat, eggs, chicken, sea foods, bacon, sausage, eggs and still lose weight. It is the same diet used by famous T.V. and movie stars with such success. The secret behind this "quick weight loss" diet is simple. Fat does not form fat. And the grapefruit factor in this diet acts as a catalyst (the "trigger"), to start the fat burning process. You fill yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan, and still lose weight. You will lose fat and excess body fluids. A copy of this startling successful diet can be obtained by sending $2 to

Annual Art Show Set Feb. 15 At Center

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

Local artists, amateur and professional, are busy preparing their works for the Sanford Art Association's Annual Art Show scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 15, noon to 5:30 p.m., at Sanford Civic Center.

The event is open to beginners as well as those who have been painting for years.

The art association is made up of nearly 15 members from throughout the county, providing an opportunity for them to meet and work together and exchange ideas improving their knowledge and ability in the field of art.

An independent organization it sets its own policies, but is operated in conjunction with the Department of Parks and Recreation of the City of Sanford.

An oil painting valued at $300 has been donated by the artist, Mrs. Judy Maloney, to be given away at the art show. The painting is on display in the window's of local merchants, who are serving as "picture-sitters." Tickets are available for the painting from association members or whenever it is on display. The frame for the painting was donated by Senark Paint and Glass Company.

Editorial Comment Unification Or Fragmentation At Stake!

When Mayor Lee P. Moore of Sanford calls the city commission to order tonight, these gentlemen will be facing an opportunity for action which could give new impetus, new vigor and the needed unification for a drive to bring industry into this area.

At issue is the continuing problem of solving what has now been termed the conflict of interest in this laudable endeavor which has hobbled both the long-term effort of the Greater Sanford (formerly the Seminole County) Chamber of Commerce and the short-term efforts of the Sanford Industrial Commission.

When what SIC has done and at what cost, the city commissioners are dealing with a child of their own creating and one which has been fed from tax moneys. It, too, needs to be looked at in specific terms and not in generalities. Past mistakes do not need to be repeated.

Happily, generalities have been more and more reduced to specifics in two recent meetings when members of the city commission, SIC and the chamber have gathered in the chamber of commerce for luncheon and a frank exchange of views.

Wise Investing

A common fallacy concerning the space program is that landing men on the moon was a costly stunt wholly unrelated to earthly well-being. But, as Robert Anderson, executive vice president of the North American Rockwell Corporation, declared vehemently in an address:

"... space activities are not competing with programs of ecological improvement or social betterment. They are actually complementing them."

"The sweeping scope of space technology will be felt more and more in the vast programs being planned to change the course of rivers and the flow of electricity over thousands of miles."

"It will reach into the purification of our waters and the desalting of the sea. It will have a bearing on the revitalization of our earth transportation system, and it will have a great influence in the field of medicine."

Again in the words of Mr. Anderson: "We are in considerable trouble today. That trouble could be compounded as our technological society advances toward the year 2000 if we do not make use of the extraordinary new tools that are now within our grasp."

These new tools are largely a by-product of the space program. They are the keys of the apparently insoluble riddle of an over-populated earth. The billions of dollars that have been spent on research and development of space technology could one day be recorded as the wisest public investment this nation has ever made.

"I'm Trying to Concentrate on Mail, Phone and Train Service, Airports and the Cities, and You Want Me to FIX A FAUCET?"

Crane's Worry Clinic:

By GEORGE W. CRANE, PH.D., M.D.
CASE M-487: Nina G., aged 28, is in trouble. "Dr. Crane," her husband told me, "Nina is a nagging witch. She constantly keeps picking on me. Nothing I ever do seems to please her. And the more I give in to her, the worse she nags. My friends think I am a perfect fool, that I am a perfect 'doormat' under her feet and I guess they are about right. What makes a wife become such a nagging shrew? The reasons for her irritability, as well as nagging wives. But after the age of 40 many men also become nagging husbands! At the zoo, if a papa lion hasn't been fed, he will let his own cub around and snarl at his mate. But feed him a few pounds of raw beef and what happens? Why, he becomes as docile as a housecat! His cub may then climb over his back and even nip at his ears but he doesn't protest vociferously. In the modern American home, gastric hunger is not very evident. Nina has access to her own kitchen and her husband indulges her with a very liberal allowance for running the house. So she has plenty of food of the dinner table sort. In which case, what is her basic hunger? It is erotic, for her husband had never been instructed in the proper marital technique. "But, Dr. Crane," you may protest, "you tell us that women are not as hungry for erotic stimulation as men." Quite true, but they are hungry for their more limited quota, just as they are for a minimum of gastric calories as men, just they still crave 2,000 dinner table calories daily. After the honeymoon and the first baby has arrived, wives are barely 50 per cent as hungry for complete erotic satisfaction as are their mates.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hey, did you hear about this great discovery made by a couple of Agriculture Department entomologists? Well, they have learned to produce synthetically the chemical sex attractant for the female European corn borer. This by itself is no big deal, of course. In its quest for new methods of pest control, the department previously isolated, identified and duplicated the natural sex lure of a number of other insects, including the pink bollworm, black carpet beetle, cabbage looper, gypsy moth and sugarcane weevilworm. By producing the stuff in the laboratory, the department figured it could enter, large numbers of male insects into traps and thus decimate the population. But the plan hasn't worked out very well. And there is no reason to suppose it would work with corn borers either. With corn borers, however, the department is considering a different approach. Rather than trapping the males, it is thinking in terms of castrating them to become feeble. A fellow who works in a perfume factory is not likely to be turned on by a whiff of Chanel No. 5, right? Okay. This same principle would be applied to corn borers. The idea would be to spray a corn field with an excessive amount of the synthetic attractant and let nature take its course. "Extended exposure of male moths to an atmosphere permeated with the lure might dull their senses, so that they would not respond to the synthetic or the females' natural lure," the department speculated in a press release. It further theorized that "distribution of the lure in fields might also disorient the males, causing them to be unable to find mates." Ah, so something that sort might indeed occur. But I believe another approach would be even more effective. The soaring crime rate in the 1970s can be contained. —FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Shimoda's Signature Valued

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
When Japan's ambassador to the United States, Takeshi Shimoda, affixed his signature to a document making Japan the 85th nation to sign the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, the gesture for him must have had a special ring. Shimoda was Japan's vice foreign minister when the United States and Russia finally reached agreement on the pact more than two years ago and was among its outstanding opponents. "You can't bind the hands and feet of your grandchildren," he said then of the treaty whose term runs 25 years. He was not alone in his misgivings which re-echoed in Japan this week among businessmen, scientists and political opponents of the ruling Liberal Democratic party even as Japanese ambassadors were signing the documents in Washington, London and Moscow. And even though Japan has signed the treaty, realization by the Japanese Parliament will not come soon. A government statement declared that prior to ratification, the government "will pay particular attention to developments in disarmament negotiations."

Governors Carry Battle

School Fight To Congress

By United Press International
Four Southern governors are turning to Congress in their battle against massive public school desegregation in Dixie. Gov. Albert Brewer of Alabama, Lester Maddox of Georgia, John McKeithen of Louisiana and John Bell Williams of Mississippi conferred in Mobile, Ala., for nearly three hours Sunday. The governors expressed their opposition to busing students to achieve racial balance and to the federal "double standard" of enforcing desegregation in the South and ignoring it in the North. "We plan to meet immediately with members of the Congress," Brewer said. "We're going to call on Congress to support us and pass the Stennis amendment requiring the freedom of choice desegregation program." Williams said the governors

Forced Busing Battle Joined By Politicians

By United Press International
Florida politicians, reacting to Dixie's most popular issue of the moment, scrambled today to establish themselves as leaders in the fight against forced busing of students to desegregate schools. U.S. Rep. William C. Cramer, a Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, said he would introduce legislation to change the desegregation cases pending in several Florida counties to "tell the courts to start obeying the law of the land."

State Sen. L. A. "Ship" Balfanz, another Republican who hopes to win the gubernatorial nomination, is flying over the South to organize what he calls the "National Committee to Preserve Neighborhood Schools." And two resolutions will be handed the Florida House Judiciary Committee this week asking Congress to change the federal judicial system. These were developments in the wake of Gov. Claude Kirk's recent challenges of federal court desegregation orders, which won him widespread approval and put Florida in the forefront of the battle against racial integration. Cramer said he would file a bill today in the Dixie County desegregation case to inform Judge C. Clyde Atkins that the 1964 Civil Rights Act specifically prohibits busing of children from one school to another to achieve racial balance.

Wants Three More Wives, More Kids Nonagenarian Eyes Future

UMTATA, Transkei (South Africa) (AP) — "The next two years are going to be good ones. Lots of children are going to be born," says Thabo Sethunya, 88, who reportedly to be one of Africa's richest men.

Sethunya, a multimillionaire whose name as a herbarist has spread far and wide among his people, recently marked his 80th birthday by announcing he will add three more wives to his harem of 20, three of whom were pregnant at the turn of the new year.

Sethunya believes that there's going to be a war and that the South African government will need many soldiers. Over the years, Seta has fathered about 200 children, and he estimates that he has enough sons to form an infantry company.

He runs a fleet of expensive automobiles, and owns 51 farms and 27 town properties.

A few years ago, newspaper publicity about his wealth brought tax men down on his neck. The revenues demanded $10,000. "I paid it from my petty cash," he said.

While South Africans tell you in awe that Seta's guards turn away improperly dressed visitors, "even if they're white men." One newspaper man recently interviewed Seta's man servant who cleaned his shoes with a damp cloth and washed his car. Then Seta, seated in state and holding a ceremonial fly whisk, ordered his 20 wives to sing South Africa's national anthem.

Sethunya told his visitor he was going to live for "at least another hundred years." The reason for his strength and vitality, he said, was "no smoking, no drinking and plenty of medicine called Umungalinga.

"It is a wonderful stuff and the man who takes it can have as many wives as he likes."

Democrats Plan Strategy

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Policy Council was summoned into session today to act on a series of broad domestic and foreign policy statements including a call for total U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam within 18 months.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., saying he did not want to undermine President Nixon's efforts to settle the war, suggested in advance of the meeting the member council delete any specific time limit from the proposal drafted by a subcommittee headed by Averell Harriman.

Meanwhile, antiwar factions on the council were considering a bid to strengthen the Hartman statement.

The all-day council meeting came a day after congressional Democrats presented a nationally televised view of the state of the nation, an equal-time reply to Nixon's State of the Union message.

The Democratic version focused on a troubled citizenry and the issues of this congressional election year. It consisted of interviews and discussions between congressional Democrats and citizens in Washington, Los Angeles, Houston and Detroit.

The string of the Democratic show prompted T. Coleman Andrews Jr. of Richmond, Va., national chairman of the American party, to ask major television networks Sunday night for equal treatment for his organization of three-party groups that backed George C. Wallace's presidential campaign in 1968.

The Democratic Policy Council, headed by former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, was urged in the Hartman subcommittee proposal to reject President Nixon's policy of continuing the U.S. troop withdrawal on the Paris peace talks, the level of violence progress in developing South Vietnamese forces.

The proposal said: "It should depend wholly and exclusively upon the interests and policy of the United States. That interest and that policy require a firm and unequivocal commitment to the American people that all U.S. forces will be withdrawn from Vietnam. We see no reason why this withdrawal should not be completed within 18 months."

In contrast to some of the strains of 1969, efforts for better relations by leading GOP moderate senators and the White House appear to be paying off.

An accompanying factor, GOP politicians say is Nixon's gains in popularity polls, especially his handling of Vietnam.

As a result, last week's renewal of public hearings on Vietnam by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee saw GOP doves at Clifford P. Case of New Jersey and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky take the lead in rejecting suggestions

Medical Cost Slash Need Is Cited

Associated Press Writer
By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will face great pressure to curtail Medicare and Medicaid into some form of national health insurance unless the rapid increase in medical costs is halted, a Senate staff report says.

In a report released Sunday after a year of work, the Finance Committee staff recommends establishing maximum fees for doctors under the two big government programs as one way of slowing health expenses.

"The charges for adequate management health insurance are rising to levels beyond the financial capacity of millions of hardworking Americans," the report said.

If these are not slowed, the staff said, "Congress may reasonably anticipate increased pressures upon it to extend the Medicare and Medicaid programs to encompass large segments of the population not now covered" in other words, some kind of national health insurance.

The committee has not endorsed the report specifically, however, it was praised by Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., and Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican member.

Both said they were confident at least some of the recommendations would be adopted by Congress this year.

The staff proposal included charges by physicians, hospitals and nursing homes, and for insulating far more effective controls by the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

The staff said Medicare, which covers all persons over 65, now costs $8.3 billion a year. Medicaid, designed to aid those on welfare and other poor persons, costs $5 billion yearly.

Both exceed original estimates, the report said.

"Many overpayments and other types of abuses on the part of doctors were found, the staff said.

"It said maximum doctors' fees could be based on amounts obtainable from present monthly payments of $4 each by subscribers to medicare part B and by the government.

The Nixon administration has said these will be raised to $3.30 effective July 1.

The staff plan would keep the $4 rate and eliminate the $50 a year deductible which each subscriber must now pay.

The report skirts the tough question of how many doctors might join such a plan. Now each physician can set his own fee but he is supposed to be reimbursed only on the basis of a reasonable charge.

The report charged insurance firms have not followed the intent of Congress that they pay doctors no more than they would pay for their own subscribers.

Other criticisms included: The government and the insurance companies do not have the procedures to check on physicians who might be abusing the programs.

Nursing homes have been classified as skilled care facilities even though they are below standard.

Blue Cross, the major intermediary under the Medicare hospital program, has poor administrative capacity in too many local areas.

There have been "serious and costly deficiencies in the operation, administration and supervision" of medicare by HEW.

Mail Drive Urged For POWs

By CHARNER LEONE
"Write! Write letters, lots of them. That's the best thing you can do to aid in the release of the prisoners of war in North Vietnam," said Mrs. Karl Niece, who has a brother, a pilot, shot down over North Vietnam last year. He is now on the lists of the missing in action (MIA).

H. Ross Perot, the Texas millionaire, who has elected to aid the families of POWs and MIAs, has spearheaded an organization, "United We Stand." He is attempting to coordinate the efforts of those Americans who are interested in obtaining the release of the POWs. Or at least they hope to obtain a list of POWs to relieve the anxiety of families across the United States.

There are over 1,400 Americans believed captured, as they performed their duty to their country.

Perot's latest approach will be to deliver the letters of the American public to the proper authorities to show the indignation of Americans of the inhuman treatment of the POWs.

Two trucks will cover the United States, one in the east, one in the west, going from city to city to gather the letters of the citizens and rally their enthusiasm.

Mrs. Niece has offered to collect the mail from the Seminole County area to deliver to Perot's men when they come here. She lives at 704 Baywood Drive, Sanford.

The letters should be personally written, not petitions, to officials whose names will be supplied by Mrs. Niece. They should express the writer's indignation at the treatment of prisoners, and their release should be demanded.

Mrs. Niece will be available to assist or provide any information she may have at 323 1567.

Standdown Ended Today 102 Reds Die In Truce

By WALTER WHITEHEAD
SAIGON (UPI) — Military spokesmen said 102 Communist soldiers died in weekend fighting in Vietnam, 14 of them in a skirmish along the Cambodian border in the final hours of the Viet Cong's four-day Tet truce.

The Communist standdown ended at 7 a.m. today and military spokesmen said the planes unloaded 180 tons of bombs.

In Saigon, authorities continued their investigation into Sunday night's terrorist bombing of the South Vietnamese National Press Center in the downtown section. The blast in the unoccupied two-story building destroyed the second floor offices and touched off a brief fire. No injuries were reported.

The guerrillas' truce for Tet ended as elements of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division's 1st Brigade fought a 10-hour battle with a Communist force of an unknown size late Sunday 11 miles from the Cambodian border, and 72 miles northwest of Saigon.

When the guerrillas finally withdrew, they left 14 dead on the battlefield. The U.S. command said there were no American casualties.

Another clash Sunday nine miles from the Cambodian border wounded 10 members of the 1st Air Cavalry Division, communications said. Viet Cong losses in the battle were not known.

Military spokesmen said the Allies killed 32 North Vietnamese soldiers in the area Saturday while other Sunday fighting cost another 50 Communist troops. Allied losses were placed at 13 killed and 19 wounded.

How Far Does Protection Go?

By JAMES JOYCE
EDDYVILLE, Iowa (UPI)—In the summer of 1967, Martin Katko was shot and seriously injured in the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Briney. Katko was hit in the ankle and one leg is 2 1/2 inches shorter than the other. He sued the Brineys and won $30,000 in damages.

The incident would not have made ripples beyond Eddyville if it had not been for the way in which Katko entered the Brineys' home. He broke in, allegedly to steal.

Katko, now 29, was injured by a shotgun blast from a booby trap Edward Briney had set up. Katko first was charged with breaking and entering, a felony, but he pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of larceny in the nighttime, a misdemeanor.

He was fined $50 and released. Then he sued the Brineys for $50,000.

In November, an all-woman Mahaska County District Court jury awarded Katko $30,000—$20,000 in compensatory damages and $10,000 in punitive damages.

The word "punitive" sticks in the craw of many people in this town of 1,000—especially since the Brineys had to sell 80 acres of a 120-acre farm estate belonging to Bertha Briney, 48, owned by Briney and his father, who died in 1957. The property was sold for $10,000 at a forced auction. On it stands the vacant farm home in which Katko was shot.

The property was bought by three-member committee of Briney's neighbors. The committee is holding it in trust until the Iowa Supreme Court rules on the Brineys' appeal. The Brineys are able to farm the 80 acres, along with the 40 other acres and 329 acres owned by Briney and his father.

Some say Katko—a 6-3 1/2, 220-pounder who works at a father's gas station—would have deserved it if he had been in the vacant farm home in which Katko was shot.

Arab King Hosts U. S. Envoy

RABAT, Morocco (UPI)—Secretary of State William P. Rogers wound up the first stop on his 10-nation African good-will tour today in talks with King Hassan II of Morocco.

Rogers' luncheon meeting followed morning sessions with Foreign Minister Abdelhak Boulaboul and Prime Minister Ahmed Laraki.

The U.S. official flies to Tunis tonight.

The Nixon administration is known to be pleased with the skill Morocco's young king has shown in exercising what the United States believes is a moderating influence on Arab extremist elements.

At a dinner hosted by Boulaboul Sunday night, Rogers praised Hassan for his wise and skillful policy.

Rogers disclosed he and the Moroccan foreign minister held a one-hour conference at the Rabat Hilton Saturday night shortly after his arrival from Washington.

The secretary said they had not discussed the Middle East conflict but instead concentrated their talks on the Moroccan economy and North African affairs.

Rezoning To Draw Crowd

A controversial change in zoning is expected to draw a sizeable crowd of interested citizens to the Cassaberry city council meeting this evening.

The land in question is north of Seminola Boulevard on the fringe of Cassaberry. Cassaberry Land Company has requested that this zoning be changed from its present agricultural state to R2, a move that would allow mobile home installation at that area.

Numerous citizens have complained over the recommended zoning change and the council will hear these complaints tonight.

In other action the council will present the final reading of an annexation ordinance that will add an area south of Orange Drive, has been presented the Air Force Meritorious Service Medal at the Air Force Cambridge Research Laboratories, Bedford, Mass.

Champions Battle Tonight

"The Battle of the Champions" will be staged tonight at the Orlando Sports Stadium when the Missouri Mauler, the Southern Heavyweight Champion, challenges Dory Funk, Jr. for the World Heavy-weight title which Funk possesses.

But this won't be the ordinary title fight. It is a NWA specialty-sanctioned one-fall match. This is the same type match in which Funk took the belt from Gene Kiniski.

Thunderbolt (Mr. Jive) Patterson will make his Orlando debut as he tangles with Dale Lewis, Lewis is just back from a tour of Japan and is ready for the tough Florida action.

Sailor Art Thomas will be back again this week as he meets Skull vs. Stroheim. This will be Sailor's biggest opponent so far in the Orlando ring, but Thomas will still be the biggest man in the ring.

In the opener, Hiro Matsuda, winner of the 1970 Thunderbird, offered as first prize of the Thunderbird Tournament completed last week, will battle Jose Betancourt, a new-comer to the ring.

Tickets go on sale at the Sports Stadium at 7 p.m. The Orlando Sports Stadium is located east of Orlando on State Road 50.

With the Racing Queen title settled, the male dogs take to the track this week in search of a King.

Seminoles Like Volusia Tribe Clips Lopez, 'Cudas

By GARY TAYLOR Herald Sports Staff Maybe the Fighting Seminoles should play a few of their home games in Volusia County.

The Seminoles looked as if they would have another "burn-burner" Saturday when they traveled to New Smyrna Beach Saturday night. The final score against the Faber Lopes Green Waves was 45-40, while the Seminoles downed the Barracudas 46-38 in the double-weekend.

With four minutes left in the final period, the Seminoles did something they hadn't done all season, they won a game from the free-throw line. The Seminoles shot 40 percent from the floor, 50-28.

But the Seminoles looked like pros in the third quarter as they outscored the 'Cudas 18-4 and took the lead for good. The final score read 46-38.

The Seminoles led throughout the first three quarters, but blew their lead in the final quarter and four themselves fighting for the win.

Jenkins will be at the wheel of a 1968 Camaro, one of more than 30 Pro Stock machines that will be battling for a starting berth in the 16-car field for that category.

The Pro Stock class is new this year and involves 1968 or later model stock production passenger cars. However, rules of the National Hot Rod Association permit rather liberal modifications which increase performance potential, and cars competing in this class are capable of covering the quarter-mile from a standing start in nine seconds, at speeds of 130 mph.

Jenkins, who waded through an extremely rugged field to win at Pomona last weekend may find the going even tougher at Gainesville, where he will be facing an array of prominent challengers including Don Grobner and Ronnie Sox in Plymouth, Ohio's Arlen Vankin in a Barracuda, Randy Payne in a Ford and Florida's Bo Laws in a '69 Camaro.

Chicago Survival Instinct

By United Press International Give the Chicago Bulls credit for that survival instinct. Inhabitants of the nearby stockyards had a better chance of getting through the day than the Bulls Sunday when Chicago dropped a 142-137 decision to Atlanta in the opener of a National Basketball Association "doubleheader."

The Western Division leading Hawks started the day by winning a protest game carried over from the last second of a Nov. 6 contest by outscoring the Bulls, 181-1, in overtime. Chicago, however, was not demoralized by the defeat and came right back to beat Atlanta, 117-107, to retain fourth place in the West by five percentage points over San Francisco. Bob Love led the attack with 31 points and Clem Haskins tallied 17 for the Bulls. Joe Caldwell had an Atlanta high of 24 points.

Cale Yarbrough Flies Over Daytona Track

By CHARLES S. ALDRINGER
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Cale Yarbrough may buy a jet plane. He says the one he pilots now doesn't fly as fast as his car.
"I flew my twin-engine down here at a top speed of 210 miles an hour from Timmonsville," he said Sunday after winning the pole position for the $100,000 Daytona 500 in his red, white, and gold Mercury Cyclone.
"It was running better than 225 miles an hour on the fastest part of the track," joked the stumpy little South Carolinian. "Maybe I better get a new airplane."
Yarbrough, 30, averaged 184.01 mph around the 2.5-mile, high-banked super-speedway in winning the pole for the world's richest stock car race Feb. 22. He smashed his own qualifying record—here before the Firecracker 400—last year at 180.706 mph.
Yarbrough, who won the Firecracker race in 1967 and 1968, will share the front row for this year's race with big Buddy Baker of Charlotte, N. C., who qualified his 1970 Dodge Charger at 182.824 mph.
"Yarbrough said he felt only brief twinges of pain in his right shoulder bone, which he smashed badly in the Texas 500 and gold Mercury Cyclone.
"Of course you don't see much with only one car on the track at the time. But it gets pretty hairy out here with 40 of us."
Only two starting positions were determined by Sunday's qualifying: to get a crack at the 100-mile sprint races the Thursday before the 500.
But Charlie Glotzbach, Georgetown, Ind., in a Dodge, and Ford drivers David Pearson, Spartanburg, S. C. Donnie Allison, Hayslett, Ala., and J. Foyt, Houston, Tex. all broke the old qualifying record.
Disappointing speeds were turned in by Lee Roy Yarborough of Columbia, S. C. who won the Daytona 500 and the Firecracker race last year, and Richard Petty of Randleman, N. C.
Yarbrough, who blew the engine in his Ford Talladega earlier in the week, managed 190.118 mph during the 100-mile sprint race.
Petty, driving a new 1970 Plymouth Superbird, set a 186.706 and set the car needed work. "It's brand new and we just need to work some bugs out," he added.

KISSIMMEE—21,000 are expected to see the three professional cowboys from through-out the U.S. will be competing for over $13,000, a new record, reports Ham Brown, president of the sponsoring Silver Spurs Riding Club.
Performances are being held at 2:30 p. m. daily, but there will be plenty of attractions at the Kissimmee Valley Live Stock Show and Fair for those who arrive early or stay late.
In addition to the regular rodeo events—steeple chasing, barrel racing, cutting, and roping—there will be a variety of special acts and other features.
A prime one is the Quadrille, or square-dance on horseback, a unique feature at Kissimmee which combines breakneck speed with precision timing and is performed by 16 young riders. There will be a wild cow milking contest, and the barrel race for girls.
Clem McSpadden, the announcer, is a show in himself. He is also nationally known being the producer of the RCA of the National Finals Rodeo held annually in Denver with entries limited to the top ten contestants at rodeos throughout the nation.
