County offers incentives to New York bank

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

Company receives $198,000, promises to provide 430 new jobs in three years

SANFORD — Seminole County Commissioners this week took steps to lure more business and jobs to the area.

By a vote of 4-1, the board approved $198,000 in Economic Development Trust funds as an incentive to Bank of New York, Inc.

The firm plans to create 130 new jobs within the next two years and an additional 200 jobs during a third year. The average annual wage for the newly created Seminole County jobs would be $33,000. The proposed annual payroll for the facility would be $10.9 million including $3 million in employee benefits.

Additionally, Bank of New York, Inc., would make a total capital investment of $8.5 million, including: uninterruptable power supply equipment and generator ($1.5 million); interior office construction ($2.5 million); telecommunications and computer equipment ($3 million); furniture and fixtures ($1.3 million); and security features and equipment ($200,000).

The preferred site the firm proposes to occupy is a 155,000 square foot class "A" office structure located in Colonial TownPark north of Heathrow near CR46A and Interstate 4. New York Bank, Inc., proposes occupying 55,000 square feet of the site.

The county's award represents 20 percent of local participation funds that would be used by New York Bank, Inc., to qualify for the state's Qualified Targeted Industry Tax Refund program.

Board delays decision on charter school

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

SANFORD — Too many questions and not enough answers kept the Seminole County School Board from accepting or denying a charter school application submitted by Milestone Community School Inc.

School board members

Tuesday night delayed making a final decision on Milestones' application even though School Superintendent Paul Hagerly recommended denying the request.

According to the superintendent, the school system's staff has serious concerns regarding management, financial and site location issues.

"Our main concern is finances," said John Pavelchak, the school system's executive director of budget and finance. "Our thought is that there has been some definite improvement, but we would like to look at it another year."

In January, an application submitted by Milestones was denied by the school board due to similar concerns about the charter school's financial stability.

Milestones Community School, based in Palm Bay, has charter schools located in Brevard and Lake counties. The schools operate on the "Success For All" curricula developed by researchers at John Hopkins University and focus on reading and language arts as the core of school success in the elementary grade levels.

Ramsay Educational Services, based in Coral Gables, provides management services to Milestones.

In an analysis presented Thursday to the school board, staff indicated concerns regarding the fiscal management of

"Our main concern is finances. Our thought is that there has been some definite improvement, but we would like to look at it another year."

Closing the gap between generations

Elementary school students met their senior pen pals in a program designed bridge the ages

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

LONGWOOD — Students from Lake Mary Elementary School met their senior pen pals for the first time on Friday following four months of sending letters and notes to their new friends.

The 15 fourth- and fifth-graders made a special trip to St. Stephen's Lutheran Church to give their pen pals gifts and refreshments for Christmas. The event is part of a guidance activity called "Students Spreading Acts of Kindness."

"The children were so anxious to meet their pen pals," Lake Mary Elementary Guidance Counselor Joan Toro said. "Many of them might not have the opportunity to spend a lot of time with their grandparents if they don't live close. I think it is important to have a different generational perspective, and this might help the students develop a sensitivity toward seniors."

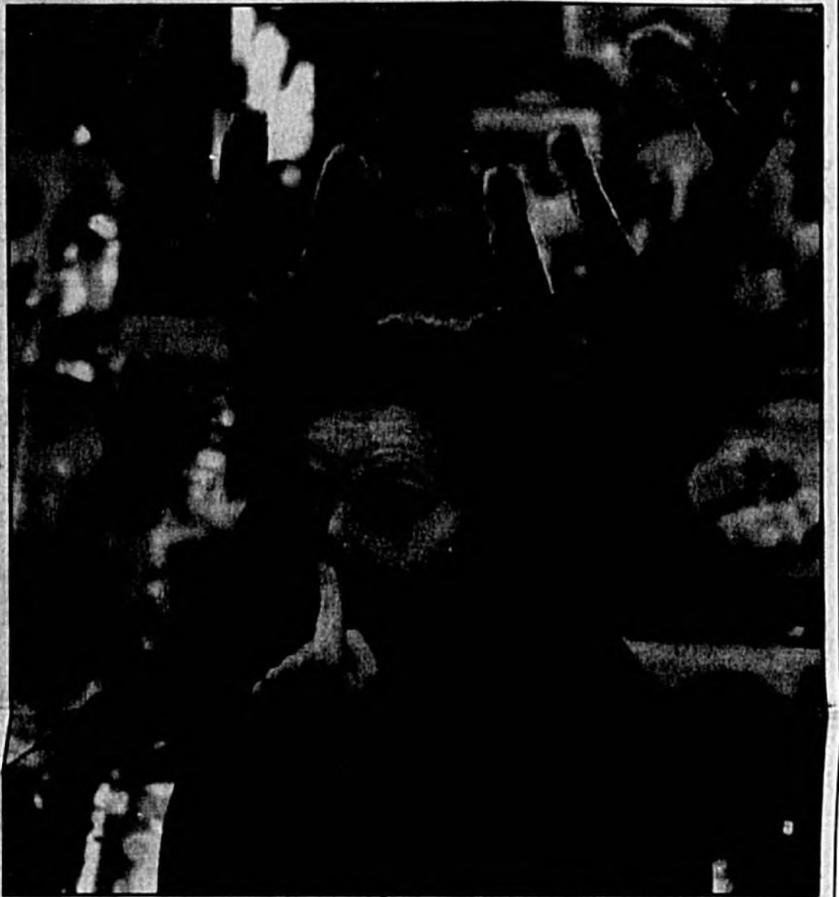

The senior pen pals are participants in the Seminole County Better Living For Seniors Congregate Meal

Sanford hospital opens new ER

Sanford Chamber President Ron Rose, Sanford City Commissioner Velma Williams and Central Florida Regional Hospital CEO Rodney Smith cut the ribbon to open the hospital's new emergency room. The $12 million, 20,500-square-foot expansion more than doubles the size of the ER and includes a new Fast Track system to quickly treat minor injuries and illnesses.

Testing the nose

Shannon Quast makes sure her red reindeer nose is in place before continuing with the Christmas activities. Quast and her fellow employees from CPH Engineering donated about $8,500 worth of toys for the Salvation Army to distribute. The Sanford office of CPH raised $4,000 of the total donation.

Lake Mary Elementary School fifth-grader Sevie Filosofos meets her pen pal, Anjel Ocolon. Filosofos gave Ocolon, who is originally from Puerto Rico, a box of Godiva chocolates and several holiday decorations during their first meeting.

Program, which provides hot lunches, social activities and other services at its six locations in the county, Congregate

Program Coordinator Pat McConnell said. This is the second year. See Generations, Page 5A

Crooms gets health grant

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Crooms Academy has been announced as the recipient of a $20,000 Wellness Grant by the American Heart Association's Youth Fitness and Tobacco Prevention/Education Project.

Plans are underway to establish a "Wellness Center" for the physical education classes, students and staff. Students will develop their own wellness plans and will assimilate heart rate monitors in measuring fitness activity levels.

Equipment to be purchased includes a body fat analyzer, treadmills, recumbent bikes, steppers and stationary bikes. Students will also participate in field day activities and an after-school intramural program.

City approves plan for dog park

By Dan Ping
Editor

SANFORD — Dog owners will soon have a park specifically designed for their four-legged friends.

City Commission approved a layout for the park Monday and agreed to rename the site Paw Park. The park, located on French Avenue between 4th and 5th streets, is currently named Jaycee Park.

Commissioners agreed to the concept of the park four months ago and allocated $15,000 for the project. The park was expected to open in November, but questions were raised after a preliminary site plan for the project provided parking on the right-of-way.

Sanford Mayor Larry Dale noted the city had recently passed a strict ordinance outlawing parking in rights-of-way. He also reminded commissioners of the controversy that occurred when Jean Metts wanted to open her soup kitchen.

"I'm all for Paw Park," Dale said, "but we've got to be sure we provide enough legal parking spaces. Some of the residents who are in favor of (limited parking) are the same ones who were upset because someone else in the neighborhood didn't have any parking."

Commissioners approved a plan that provides 1.23 acres of fenced-in park space and 17 parking spaces.

City staff will work with local residents to create a detailed site plan showing the park's amenities, and the park should open in March.

The genesis of Paw Park began with a group of citizens who provided not only ideas, but have so far raised $7,500 for park amenities

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

It happened in his lifetime

Dec. 17 marks the anniversary of the first manned, powered flight in 1903. First Orville then Wilbur Wright took to the skies at Kitty Hawk, N.C. in a craft made in their bicycle shop. While each flight didn't last longer than a minute, it is considered the first documented successful powered and controlled flight of an airplane. They celebrate the event every year in

Nick Pfeifauf

Kitty Hawk and it was declared Wright Brothers Day by Presidential proclamation in 1963.

The focal point here is Orville Wright. While Wilbur died at the age of 45, Orville lived for 77 years, passing away in 1948. Can you imagine what he saw (or heard about) in his lifetime. Here was a man who sat on a tiny seat in an aircraft practically made of sticks, traveling through the air for less than one minute.

But in his lifetime, he saw the invention of the helicopter (1939), Lindburgh cross the Atlantic (1927), Amelia Earhart cross the Atlantic, (1932), the jet aircraft in use at the end of World War II, and one year before Orville died, Chuck Yeager became the first man to officially break the sound barrier, 660 miles per hour at a height of 30,000 feet.

Every time there was an advance in aviation, we can easily imagine astonished he was. With in-flight refueling, planes can stay in the air for days. Some aircraft weigh many tons, sometimes even doubling their weight with cargo. In his early days, he would have bet they wouldn't have flown. No doubt he was amazed at the progress made in flight in just a few decades.

All of us are in the same situation as Orville Wright. If we stop to think about it, depending on our ages, we can imagine the changes or new inventions that have been made. We are actually living in the midst of history. Hopefully we are aware of it.

Stop and reflect for a moment. How many years have you been alive? What have you seen happen? What has been invented and/or perfected since you gave that first "whaaah" in the delivery room?

While it is often enjoyable to reflect (or sad if one thinks of the wars or disasters), it's often a personal recollection. Unfortunately, few of our offspring care to listen. Recall, immediately after World War II, youngsters used to ask, "What did you do in the war, daddy?" Today, very few care to ask about your past and what you may have seen or been involved with.

As a writer, I would have loved to have had the opportunity (before his death) to ask Orville Wright what he thought about aviation today. I would have found it fascinating. Had I written a story however, I doubt few people would have cared to read more than a paragraph or even a sentence or two.

Oh well, we've all experienced a lack of interest in our lives by others from time to time. The good thing is that we were there, we know what we saw and did, and hopefully, we should be proud of our accomplishments as well as those of others we have encountered during our lifetimes.

Special donation

Goldsboro Elementary School students Leon Oliver, Kevin Saravini, Chamice Medlock, Christina Garcia and Ben Griffin, Sanford Police Chief Brian Tooley, DARE Officer Claudia Webber and Goldsboro Principal Ron Nathan accept a check for more than $3,000 from national baseball All-Star Tim Lincecum. This is the sixth year Lincecum has donated money to the DARE program.

Tighter water restrictions approved

From Staff Reports

The St. Johns River Water Management District (SJRWMD) is expected to place more severe watering restrictions on Seminole, Orange, Volusia, Lake and Marion counties.

The decision was made at the monthly governing board meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 12.

The restrictions, barring any heavy rains, are expected to go into effect in January.

The district has already had a nine-year prohibition on outdoor irrigation between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. daily, as well as the restrictions on watering for odd and evenly numbered addresses.

Now, the SJRWMD is planning to limit outdoor irrigation to two days a week.

The district had previously recommended the reduction in outdoor watering but plans to make it mandatory next month.

Latest figures for the 12-month rainfall in Sanford indicate a total of 33.32 inches have fallen from November 1999 through October 2000, a deficit of 15.49 inches below normal.

Governing Board Chairman Bill Kerr is concerned that the drought is significantly impacting underground water levels. He says the board is urging Central Florida businesses and residents to conserve wherever possible to ensure that there will be adequate water supplies available in the future.

While low levels in lakes and rivers are beneficial for the health of those water bodies, low underground water levels can pose pressure and saltwater intrusion problems for water, and can increase the likelihood for the formation of sink holes.

Last summer, there were 20 sink holes in the area, and this year there were much worse this year.

Seminole team wins Run for the Kids

From Staff Reports

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office team won the PODS Run for the Kids event, held Thursday morning at the Toys 'R Us store at the Florida Mall.

PODS, (Portable On Demand Storage) was the sponsor of the event.

The team consisted of Sheriff Don Eslinger, Lt. Tony Fannin, Sgt. Maryann Clelland and Deputy Dennis Lemma. The members competed against teams from the Orange County Sheriff's Office and the Orlando Police Department. Each agency had seven minutes to dash through the Toys 'R Us store and gather as many toys as possible.

The Seminole County Sheriff's team was able to gather $9,131 worth of toys. Since the team won first place, it also received a check for $2,000. The money was used to buy additional toys.

All of the toys were then delivered to the Seminole County Sheriff's Office for later distribution to needy children, to be handled by the Police Athletic League.

The Orlando Police Department came in second and Orange County placed third. In all, the teams gathered approximately $24,000 worth of toys and will donate them to the charities of their choice.

Home Invasion

Seminole County Sheriff's investigators are seeking information regarding two individuals said to be involved in a home invasion in the Bear Lake area of Seminole County Thursday Night at approximately 7:42 p.m.

The incident occurred in the Royal Estates Subdivision. The victim opened his garage door and was preparing to leave his home when a man appeared in the laundry room and attempted to rob him. He was armed with what appeared to be a firearm, but was later learned it was a BB gun. The suspect struck the victim over the head with the gun, then ran to a car where an accomplice was waiting and the two fled.

The car was described as either tan or beige, an older model compact two-door. The suspect was described as a black male in his early 20s, five feet eleven, and 180 to 190 pounds with closely cropped hair.

Anyone with information is asked to contact Investigator Dan Prast at 407-665-6722, or Crimeline at 1-800-423-TIPS.

Fatality

Altamonte Springs police are seeking anyone who may have seen a vehicle crash involving a pedestrian, on Wednesday, Dec. 13, at SR-436 and Lynchfield Avenue. A Hispanic female in her late 60s was attempting to cross SR-436 from the south side of the street. As she entered the west-bound lanes she was struck by two vehicles. Altamonte Springs Fire Department responded and transported her to Florida Hospital, Altamonte, but the woman was pronounced dead on arrival. All names are being withheld at the time being.

Persons having information regarding the incident are asked to contact Altamonte Springs Police at 407-339-2441.

Traffic Stops

Kaylum Glenr Manuel, 24, of Deltona, was stopped by sheriff's deputies early Friday, on I-4 near a construction zone, when the deputy noticed the pickup truck being driven erratically. Manual was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, fleeing/attempting to elude an officer, reckless driving, and possession of narcotics equipment.

Jeffrey Michael Pelko, 21, of Lake Mary, was stopped by deputies on Lake Mary Boulevard Friday. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol. Officers learned he had been causing a disturbance at a local bar, and was given an additional charge of lewd and lascivious behavior.

Patricia Rockwell, 42, of Myrtle Street, Sanford, was stopped by deputies after she reportedly ran over two mailboxes on Myrtle Avenue in Sanford. She was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.

Lyn Ho Schn, 40, of Orlando, was stopped Thursday by Longwood police on SR-434. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.

Larry Zolton Salmaria, 44, of Reams Street, Longwood, was riding a bike when he was stopped by Longwood police on U.S. Highway 17-92 Friday. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol. After being taken to jail, it was determined he was also wanted on an active warrant for failing to appear on a charge of battery, domestic violence.

Robert Wayne Jolly, 42, Ruskin Street, Lake Mary, was stopped on West Crystal Lake Drive by Lake Mary police Friday. He was charged with driving under the influence.

An off-road motorcycle, driven by Donald A. Tanner, 34, of William Clark Court, Sanford, was stopped by Sanford police on Hartwell Avenue Wednesday. He was charged with having no registration certificate and possession of narcotics equipment.

Family Owned & Serving Central Florida Since 1989

We are alarmed by the decision of some corporate owned funeral homes to remove PreNeed trust funds from the Trust. Florida Law does allow a funeral home to buy a bond in lieu of depositing PreNeed funds in a state approved trust. At the time you pre-arranged your funeral we told you your money would be deposited in a state approved trust fund according to the requirements of Florida Statutes. As promised, the proper deposits have been made to the trust fund. Our promise to provide a loving and respectful funeral according to your wishes will be honored. Your peace of mind is important to us...so we send this assurance that your money will stay in the trust fund until we certify to the trustee that death has occurred and we have provided the services and merchandise.

End Game

United States needs to find a new, simpler way of voting

In the years to come, looking back on the events of this incredible month, Al Gore will no doubt remember the 23 hours beginning at 4 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 8, as the happiest he was to know. For that was when it all came together, and it was possible — all too briefly — to visualize victory at last.

William Rusher

For weeks his spokesmen, and their allies in the media, had been drumming into the public consciousness a gross and cynical falsehood: that there existed, in various Democratic strongholds around the state, 14,000 ballots that had, for some obscure reason, never been counted at all.

These were, in fact, the so-called "under-votes" — ballots on which the voters had voted for other offices, but not for the presidency. They had, in truth, all been counted — indeed, counted twice: once in the original machine count and again during the automatic machine recount. In both cases, the machine had reported that no vote had been cast for president.

But now the Gore forces demanded that they be counted a third time, by hand, in a desperate effort to find on them some indication of the voter's supposed "real" intent — a clue that the machine had missed: a "dimple" on a chad, a scratch of some sort. "Let the votes be counted" went the mantra, and what sounds more reasonable than that?

As predicted in this column, the Gore forces found — for the second time in a row — a friend in the Florida Supreme Court. Four of its seven members, who have never tired or swerved in their devotion to the Democratic party, promptly ordered a manual recount of the undervotes, not only in the specified counties but in every county in the state. The other three justices — as it happens, the three most senior judges on the court — all vigorously dissented, with the chief justice going so far as to say the court's decision "will do substantial damage to ... this court as an institution."

By 8 a.m. the next morning the count was under way. With absolutely no agreed standard for determining the voters' alleged intent, it was easily predictable that enough dimples, pimples and scratches would be found to push Mr. Gore into the lead. Once he was there, the popular demand to hail him as the winner would easily overwhelm any action that might meanwhile have been taken by the Florida legislature, or any subsequent resistance by the Congress.

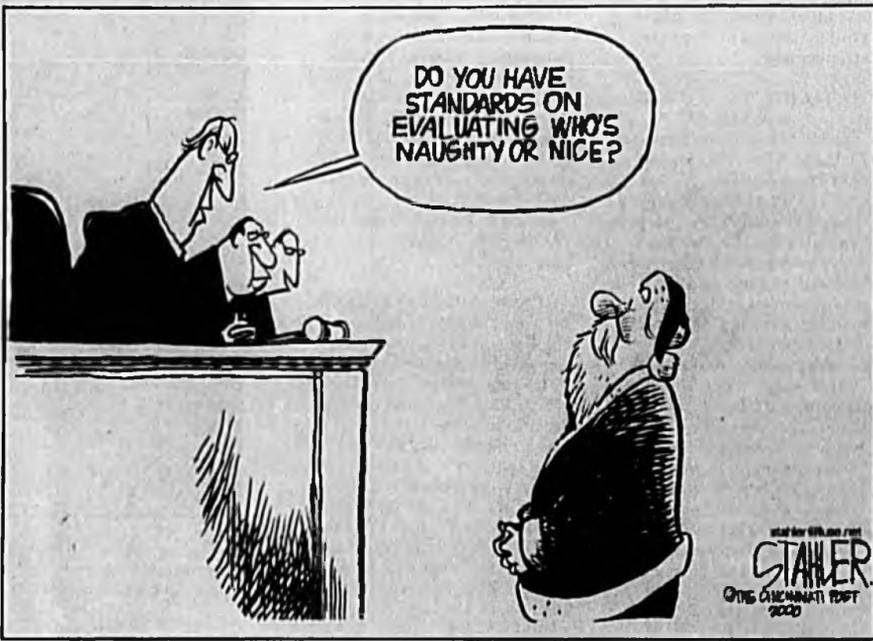

And then, just 23 hours after the Florida Supreme Court's decision, there came — "like a thunderbolt from the hand of God" — the order of the Supreme Court of the United States stopping the manual recount in its tracks and ordering a full review of the Florida court's action. In the history of jurisprudence, there cannot have been many court orders so portentous and so utterly shattering.

Of the many lessons this whole fantastic episode has taught us, surely one of the most important is that we must devise some new and simpler way of voting. I can remember as a child accompanying my mother when she went to register to vote in Illinois. She was required, among other things, to prove that she could read, and I saw (and still see) nothing wrong with that. But literacy tests long ago went out the window, and nowadays systematic "Get Out the Vote" drives are bringing to the polling places many thousands of people who are functionally illiterate. To put such people in private booths and expect them to align a ballot properly and then punch out, with a stylus, tiny squares of cardboard next to the names of the candidates of their choice is to ask, quite simply, the impossible.

One solution might be to have the voter declare his or her desire and then have a vote cast to that effect with the help of an election official, perhaps with Republican and Democratic poll-watchers looking on. But that would eliminate the secrecy of the vote. Another possibility would be to have votes cast at home, as absentee ballots now are, but once again the principle of secrecy would be at risk, and the dangers of improper pressure might be high.

In any case, if we as a nation are absolutely committed to the proposition that everybody is entitled to vote, and I guess we are, we are going to have to figure out some fool-proof way of letting voters register their intent.

Sierra Club wants to keep Ft. Mellon Park

Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to Sanford Mayor Larry Dale from Bruce Hossfield of the Sierra Club on Dec. 12, and was also forwarded to the Seminole Herald as a letter to the editor.

Dear Mayor Dale: As Growth Management Chair of the Central Florida Sierra Club, I am writing to express the Club's opposition to the city of Sanford's proposal to lease Fort Mellon Park for the development of a hotel and convention complex. The Sierra Club believes that great open spaces play a critical part in bringing vitality to cities. Fort Mellon Park is an urban open space that brings the beauty of Lake Monroe to the citizens of Sanford. It is a place for people, not for a hotel.

The Sierra Club is also concerned about the stormwater impact that additional waterfront development will have upon Lake Monroe. We are concerned about the affects of such development on the lake's wildlife, as the lake serves as a habitat for migratory and wading birds. Furthermore, it is our understanding that the promoters of this development plan to include a large fishing or boating pier that could become a source of solid waste and other pollutants.

The Sierra Club does not oppose the concept of a convention center to serve Seminole County. However, we do oppose its proposed location at Fort Mellon Park. We point out that other, superior sites have been suggested for this project, including along the I-4 corridor. We urge that these other sites be given preference in Seminole County's search for a home for its convention center.

Very truly yours,
Bruce Hossfield

Cox questions election actions

To the editor:
It is only Martin and

Seminole counties that illegal activity has become public knowledge.

And, it was done by well-educated people who know the laws.

But, since they are not in prison, nor are they "hand-slapped," I want to now make my reservation for weeks of the election offices, and this includes for my friends and members of the Democratic party, and also the legal president Al Gore.

Since my parents always taught honesty, this corruption of life is new and shocking to me.

Corruption pie is for every one?

People are not all equal in every way

Fredrika Keefe is an 8-year-old girl who likes to dance, just like her mother and grandmother before her. She relishes playing the lead role of Clara in the Pacific Dance Theater's "Petite Nutcracker." So perhaps she is not as shy as many fourth-graders. But I wonder how she feels about her body being a topic of public discussion.

Joan Ryan

Fredrika and her mother filed suit because, as her mother puts it, she "did not have the right body type to be accepted" by the San Francisco Ballet School. "My daughter is very sophisticated, so she understands why we're doing this," Krissy Keefe said. "And the other kids think she's a celebrity."

There is no question Keefe raises a powerful point in her complaint. The values placed on an unnaturally thin body for female performers drives some dancers to potentially fatal eating disorders. But that isn't exactly the issue here. This is: Does the San Francisco Ballet School have the right to give preference to leaner body types in selecting 300 students from this year's 1,400 applicants?

Yes, for the same reason UC Berkeley can reject students based on mental prowess and a fashion modeling school can reject students based on comeliness. Every institution has standards that weed out those who are less likely to succeed. I know this flies in the face of American ideals. But the reality is that all men and women are not created equal.

Like it or not, the ethereal, elongated body that can float on air is part of the look and feel of classical ballet. You and I might think ballet would be just as pleasing with larger bodies. But most of those who practice the art disagree, which is their right. This doesn't mean that women with different body types cannot become professional dancers. They just have to find a different type of dance — jazz, tap, modern — just as athletes have to find sports that fit certain body types. A tall, blocky man, for example, could not be a jockey, but he could play baseball.

Having written extensively about the damaging pressures on young female gymnasts and figure skaters, I understand Keefe's concerns about body type. But for me, the more disturbing issue in this story isn't about weight but age.

The San Francisco Ballet School is very clear and open about the fact it is strictly a training ground for professional dancers. "We are not a recreation department," said a ballet spokeswoman.

In other words, children at age 8 are already training for adult careers. By age 12 or 13, the children are training so much that they either begin homeschooling or attend a school that accommodates the training schedule. The child has thrown all her eggs into this one little basket at an age when most kids can barely decide what to wear to school in the morning. And the child knows the parents are paying lots of money for this great opportunity.

The ballet school usually has a psychologist to counsel the students, but at the moment there is not one on staff. And the parents are given no training by the school on the pitfalls their daughters might encounter as they climb the ballet ladder: weight issues, physical ailments, social isolation, psychological pressure.

Just as in elite gymnastics and figure skating, these children are in legal limbo. They are neither hobbyists nor professionals. There is no safety net for them, no arm of government that makes sure that the adults in their lives watch out for their best interests.

Keefe said she would drop her lawsuit if the school accepted her daughter. The San Francisco Ballet School offers the best training in the Bay Area, she said. Fredrika, however, has said she is quite happy dancing where she is. Still, the mother gets to decide what's best for her daughter's dancing career.

The child is clearly too young to make such a decision. Yet, in the skewed logic of elite athletics and dancing, she is not too young to pay the price for it.

"MIKI KIANG AND TIAN TIAN, IF YOU WERE HIGH-POWERED LAWYERS FOR GORE AND BUSH, YOU'D REALLY BE AN EVEN BIGGER ATTRACTION HERE IN WASHINGTON."

From A to Z

Art Zielinski asks people what they think ...

Finally the nation has a president elect. The roller coaster election of 2000 came to an end with Vice President Gore conceding the election to Gov. Bush Wednesday evening. Speeches by both men were considered excellent and given high marks by Democrats and Republicans. So we asked several people, "Do you think the speeches that Bush and Gore gave set the right mood to unite the country?"

They were forced to by pressure from the public. I thought Bush was genuine, but Gore was forced to say what he did by the Democratic Party to set the mood for him to run for office in 2004.
Jack Klumper,
Winter Park

I didn't watch the speeches. I'm just sick of hearing about it. Neither one was setting a good mood for the country. The country just wants someone to be in office.
Rachel All,
Casselberry

Absolutely, they both did an outstanding job. I was impressed with Gore's speech. Bush was very conciliatory.
Kelvin Averbuch,
Lake Mary

I found there was no cynicism. Both candidates were trying to make amends. There were no last minute "I'll get even" speeches. Both men acted like gentlemen.
Larry Troise,
Lake Mary

Yes, I think the speeches set the right mood. Gore got very emotional, and that was touching. Gore's speech was down to earth and realistic.
Kamillah Perry,
Longwood

Generations

 ond year for the pen pal program.

Students chose their pen pals from a list of names in August and began exchanging letters with the seniors. There were about four or five letter exchanges between the two generations during the four months.

"The seniors really enjoy it because a lot of them don't have contact with young people," McConnell said. "And, as they correspond, they find out they have a lot of things in common, regardless of the generation gap."

"And, both groups really like to talk about their pets."

Fifth-grader Sevie Filosofos gave her pen pal, Anjel Ocolon, a box of Godiva chocolates and several holiday decorations during their first meeting. Ocolon, who is from Puerto Rico and now resides in Lake Mary, was very excited about his gifts and said he really enjoyed his visit with his young pen pal.

"The gifts are just beautiful," he said. "This has really been nice."

During their visit with each other, Ocolon told the fifth-grader about his days in the Navy and living in Chicago.

"I couldn't wait to meet him," Filosofos said. "And, I will probably continue writing him even after the program is finished."

Fourth-grader Thomas O'Day spent his time with Raymond Alogé's talking about family.

"I learned that he has three kids and one is a pediatrician, one is a fireman and that his daughter lives in Coral Springs," O'Day said. "We talked mostly about every day kind of things."

Senior pen pals is just one of many activities in the "Students Spreading Acts of Kindness" program. This year, the group raised more than $1,700 for the Make-A-Wish Foundation and also raised money to purchase Christmas gifts for children in Seminole County who may otherwise not receive one.

Errant golf balls are driving force behind neighbors' anger

By Joe DeBantis
 Staff Writer

SANFORD — Anyway you slice it, residents of the Regal Pointe Apartments and others close to the Lake Mary Golf Driving Range are teed-off over errant golf balls striking their homes and damaging their automobiles.

After numerous letters of complaint were filed with county staff, the Board of County Commissioners this week gave course owners 60 days to install additional safety netting at the facility, located at the corner of Lake Emma Road and Lake Mary Boulevard, or face code violations and possible public nuisance charges.

In 1991 the Board granted a Special Exception to permit a golf driving range to utilize the retention area at the back of the Lake Mary Centre for recreational purposes. The Special Exception was approved with conditions. One condition of approval, and a commitment made by the applicant, Dave Vander Lende, stipulated that if complaints regarding golf balls leaving the property were lodged with the commission, "proper netting" would have to be installed.

Since that time, owners of the driving range have installed 40 foot high netting along the West side in attempts to alleviate the problem. Still complaints persist and with the construction of Regal Pointe Apartments on the range's East side, complaints are mounting, apartment windows are being smashed, and automobiles in the adjacent parking lots are being struck.

Commissioner Randy Morris said he's personally been to the driving range and viewed the problems.

"The owners are good people and they've tried to cooperate. I've been out there when teenagers have purposefully tried to hit balls over the netting. It's a tough problem to deal with, especially with the construction of the new apartment complex."

In their letters to county staff, nearby apartment dwellers have written they've made numerous attempts to discuss the problem with the owners of the driving range to no avail, have been forced to install Plexiglas windows in adjacent apartments, and one wrote that not only has her car been struck twice, but she was recently pinged in the arm by a flying golf ball, resulting in a large black-and-blue bruise. One resident has threatened legal action against the driving range.

In discussing remedies, County Attorney Robert McMillen said the issue could be dealt with by citations for code enforcement or from a public nuisance stand point. Commission Dick Van Der Weide chuckled that it could be years before code enforcement would actually solve the problem.

By unanimous vote the board instructed course owners to mount additional safety netting along the East side of the driving range and repair holes and open areas of the existing West side netting within 60 days.

Seminole County museum offers local history books

From Staff Reports

The Museum of Seminole County History and the Seminole County Historical Society are offering a number of local history books, and suggesting they make excellent Christmas gifts. Two of the books have just recently been released.

"The History of Monroe", new this season, includes the histories of Monroe Station, St. Joseph's Colony, Booker Town and the town of Monroe. The book was researched and written by Charlie Carlson and Christine Kinlaw-Best. "Seminole County; Black America Series" by Altermese Smith Bentley. A local black history pictorial of Seminole County, also new this season.

"The Last Ride" by Patrick Smith and Glen "Pee Wee" Mercer, former bull riding champion.

"I Got My Dress Tail Wet in Soda Creek" by Charlie Carlson, based on diaries of Gladys E. Hawkins.

"Before the Timber was Cut"

by Gilbert Tucker.

The books are now on sale at the Museum of Seminole County History, at Five Points. The museum is open Tuesday through Friday from 9 a.m. until noon, and 1 until 4 p.m. It is also open Saturdays from 1 until 4 p.m.

Incentives

 The total state contribution will be $792,000.

Commissioner Grant Maloy was the lone dissenting vote, maintaining his frequent stance that taxpayer money should not be used for economic incentive programs.

Commissioners Dick Van Der Weide, Carlton Henley, Randy Morris, and Daryl McLain were unified in their support of the program, collectively saying the return on investment was attractive for the county and is another step in diversifying the County's employment base.

"These are the types of jobs we need to be looking to bring to Seminole in addition to the high tech and service sector positions."

Henley added he felt employment diversification was healthy for the County's overall employment picture.

Under the plan the county would disperse $12,000 of the incentive in Fiscal Year (FY) 2001/2002, another $19,500 in FY 2002/2003; $49,500 in FY 2003/2004; $49,500 in FY 2004/2005; $37,500 in FY 2005/2006, and $30,000 in FY 2006/2007.

Projected anticipated return on investment is $38,590 per year to the County's General Fund. The average yearly disbursement is $33,000 per year. The incentive repayment period based on the countywide ad-valorem revenue is 1.5 years. Projected annual School Board tax revenue would be $81,099.

Brisson Funeral Home accepting material for WWII registry

From Staff Reports

Brisson Funeral Home in Sanford has been designated the local registration site for veterans of World War II.

Thousands of funeral homes across the nation have made a commitment to help create a national Registry of Remembrances for the National World War II Memorial. It is to be constructed on the Mall in the Nation's Capital, and will remain on permanent public display. Ground breaking for the memorial was held on Veteran's Day, Nov. 11.

Persons who served in the armed forces during World War II as well as anyone who helped the war effort on the home front is eligible to have his or her name included in this special registry.

There is no cost to enroll.

The registry will honor those Americans who worked in defense-related industries or factories, recycled material needed for the war effort or provided other support that helped create the U.S. arsenal of democracy. Anyone can register his or her own name, family members' or friends' names.

Registry enrollment will be under way through December 31 at Brisson Funeral Home, 905 Laurel Avenue in Sanford between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. For additional information phone 407-322-2131.

SCC issues safety alert for the Dec. 25th solar eclipse

By Laurent Pellerin
Special to the Herald

With the last Solar Eclipse of the Millennium occurring on Christmas Day this year, when children and adults will not be in school or work, we expect many Central Floridians to view it.

But with so many likely to receive binoculars and telescopes for Christmas, the potential for serious and permanent eye injury is correspondingly high.

Solar eclipses are amazing sights to see, but if due care is not exercised, they can be the last sight ever to be seen by an individual. We are therefore asking all Central Florida News Media for assistance in spreading the word about Solar Eclipse Safety.

We at the Seminole Community College Planetarium in Sanford will be holding a free Solar Eclipse Party where the public may safely view this historic event through our professionally filtered telescopes. Our telescopes will be set up from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in front of the SCC Planetarium at 100 Weldon Blvd, Sanford, Florida.

Looking at the Sun without special equipment will result in permanent eye injury.

Every eclipse, rumors spread about using welder's glass, film negatives, Mylar balloons, CDs, etc.. But these methods are not safe. Welder's glass needs to be at least #14, which is hard to come by. #12 welder's glass is not safe and may cause cataracts or other eye problems in the future. And no, you can not put two pieces of #7 welder's glass together to make a #14. It doesn't work that way.

I'm sure you've seen a demonstration of starting a fire with a magnifying glass. Well, telescopes and binoculars are very powerful magnifying glasses. I have held three copies of our planetarium newsletter, NightSights, (12 pages) up to a telescope eyepiece and then removed the special solar filter from the front of the telescope. The focused sunlight burns a hole through all 12 pages, like a laser beam, in less than 3 seconds. The eyepiece lens cracked in less than 4 seconds.

Imagine what would happen to your eye if it were placed where the newsletters were?

Only use special Mylar or glass filters that are specifically made for use with telescopes, and fit over the front end of the telescope, thereby blocking 99.999% of the Sun's light and 100% of the ultraviolet and infrared (heat,) from ever entering the telescope.

Many telescopes come with "solar filters" that fit in the eyepiece. But they sometimes crack under the intense heat of the focused sunlight, and it only takes a split second to do permanent injury to your eye.

Some telescopes come with

"solar projector screens" that work similar to the pinhole projector described below, using the telescope in place of the foil pinhole to get a magnified image.

But remember, the intense heat of the focused sunlight can still burn someone if they get between the eyepiece and the projected image.

Solar filter "glasses" are available in the January issue of Astronomy Magazine on newsstands now. These are safe to use provided that you use them only with your eyes. Do not attempt to use them with binoculars or telescopes.

A simple and inexpensive solar eclipse projector can be made out of two pieces of cardboard or heavy paper. Cut a hole in one piece, cover it with aluminum foil, and then make a neat pin hole in the foil with a straight pin. Hold the second piece of cardboard (preferably white) in the shadow of the one with the pin hole. Move it closer or farther away until you get a nice sharp picture of the Sun projected through the pin hole onto the second piece of cardboard. Always stand with your back to the Sun while doing this.

Of course, the best and safest way to view this Christmas Eclipse is to come to the SCC Planetarium and use our telescopes from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

For further information contact Assistant Director Laurent Pellerin at 407-328-2409.

Decision

The Brevard County Milestones School, which had a negative balance of $178,433 in June 1999. Through debt forgiveness and School Infrastructure Thrift (SIT) Funds, the school is now operating with a positive fund balance. However, staff indicated the school would still be in a deficit position if it had not received the one-time funds.

According to Dan Snowberger, Ramsay Educational Services director of school projects, charter schools, through new legislation, are now granted their share of Capital Outlay funds, allowing for organizers to better budget and plan facility and capital needs. He also indicated the Brevard school has maintained and increased its reserve during the 2000-2001 operational year.

Plans for the Milestones Community School of Seminole include an enrollment estimate of 260 students in kindergarten through sixth grade, with the facility located in the Altamonte Springs area. Leadership is provided by a corporate board and a local charter school board, which is already established and includes H.G. "Butch" Bundy, Ken Jones and Karen Pitt as members.

School staff also indicate d Thursday they are concerned about the lack of a specific site location and the grade structure of the proposed charter school. Staff recommended the school be limited to grades K-5, which is the district's elementary model, and because the school system already has a middle school "at risk" charter school, Rays Of Hope.

In response, Snowberger said Florida law indicates a sponsor, which is the school board, may approve a charter for a charter school before the applicant has secured a potential site if it is necessary for the applicant to raise working capital. As for grade structure, he said local charter school board members believe some sixth graders can benefit from an additional year in the elementary environment. The charter school will also limit its enrollment of sixth graders.

Following presentations by staff members and Snowberger, school board members agreed to submit any questions they had to staff, which will present the questions to Snowberger during an upcoming meeting. Hagerty withdrew his recommendation to deny the application.

"We're wiping the slate clean and starting over," Board Chairman Sandra Robinson said.

Snowberger said Milestones would like to work with the school system. The organization does not want to open a school in Seminole under the authority of the state Department of Education.

According to state law, an applicant may appeal to the state Department of Education any charter denial by a district school board.

"Seminole County's doubts are hurting the reputation of Milestones," Snowberger said. "The counties who have had the most experience working with Milestones, and Ramsay as a contractor, have obviously no concern about the working relationship or the track record of this organization."

"While we accept the fact that each county is different, the existence of a positive relationship in other districts should be considered by the Seminole County School Board."

Sheriff expands Operation Right Track youth program

From Staff Reports

Starting Saturday, Dec. 16, the Seminole County Sheriff's Office Operation Right Track will begin a program exclusively for children age 10 through 12.

Operation Right Track is a boot camp to be offered on Saturdays, to youth who have been ordered to attend by the courts, or are there as part of a crime diversion program, or by parental referral.

According to Operation Right

Track program coordinator C. Ray Vinson, the new program for 10 through 12 year olds has about 30 enrollees. Up until this point, the younger children have been enrolled in the same program as the older youths. This new program will be geared toward the younger participants. Vinson says most of them have been referred to the program by a parent or guardian.

In June, Operation Right Track began an ambitious effort. With the help of school resource deputies and school resource police officers, children at risk were identified. Parental involvement was sought, including participation parenting classes. Through those efforts, the program for the younger children came about.

To date, 3,750 children have taken part in Operation Right Track, which has been conducted by the Seminole County Sheriff's office since April, 1997.

For more information, contact C. Ray Vinson at 407-665-2408.

Dollar Day At The Zoo
Saturday, Dec. 16, will be dollar day at the Central Florida Zoological Park. Admission will be reduced to just one dollar as a holiday gift from the zoo to the citizens. Featured from 11 a.m., 2 p.m. and throughout the afternoon, there will be holiday treats for creatures great and small. The elephants, hippo and sloth will enjoy extra large wreaths decorated with delicious fruit and vegetable slices. Primates may devour colorful fruit kabobs and birds will peck at pine cones sprinkled with seed.

Guests are encouraged to bring a non-perishable food item for the Pets and People Food Drive, with donated items to support three Seminole County charities.

Industrial Facility
Reinvest Partners, Inc. of Maitland, recently negotiated the sale of a 60,000 square foot industrial building and its three acre site at 600 Technological Park in Lake Mary. Michael Heidrich, director of industrial and land at Reinvest, and a partner of the firm, negotiated the transaction on behalf of Smith/Worsnop Partnership, the seller, John H. Talton Enterprises, Inc. of Apopka, acquired the facility for $2.4 million.

Official President
Community National Bank of mid-Florida has named acting president Michael Scures as president and chief executive officer. He was named acting president of the bank in August, pending approval by bank regulators. Bank Chairman Mike Hattaway said the approval has now been received.

Scures joined Community National Bank as senior vice president and named acting president three months ago.

Bill Heard Now Open
Three years after acquiring Ken Rummel Chevrolet on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford, William "Bill" Heard, the world's largest Chevrolet retailer, has opened the nation's largest Chevrolet dealership, a 36-acre facility on Highway 46 at Interstate-4 in Sanford.

The dealership will employ a staff of over 500, ranging from certified childcare specialists to information technology personnel.

The 175,000 square foot luxury showroom is reported to be the nation's largest, and the sales department will be open until midnight. The service and body and parts divisions, capable of servicing 800 cars per day, will be open 18 hours a day. The official opening is December 19.

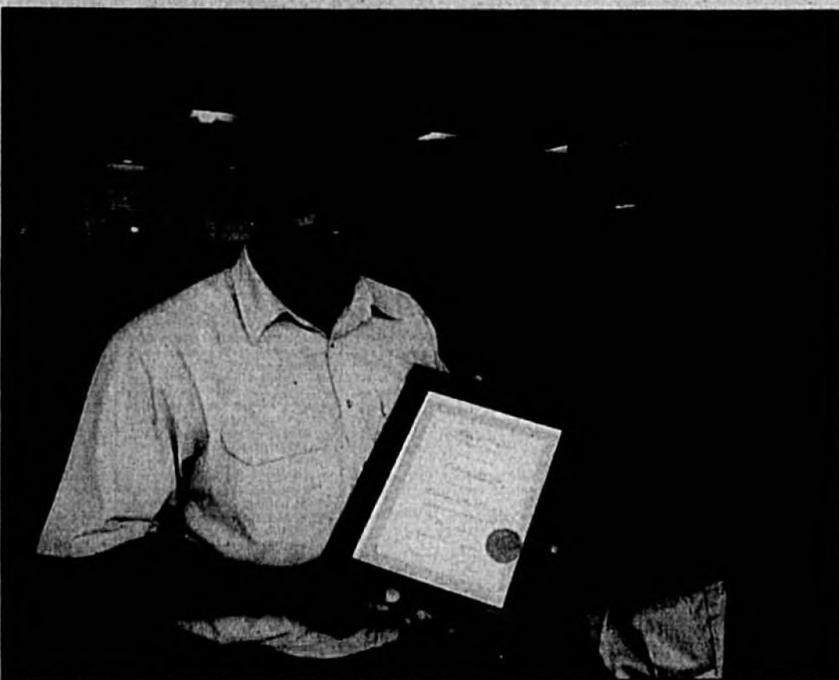

Adoptions
Florida Solar Technology, Inc. of Sanford plans to adopt two needy Seminole County families for Christmas.

Florida Solar Sales and Marketing Coordinator Shirli Goodman said she is busy reviewing letters from more than 1,000 families to select two the company will host for a gift-giving luncheon before Christmas Day.

Goodman said Florida Solar is also serving as a collection point for gift-wrapped toys to be given out in the "Baby Decoy" promotion sponsored by FM radio 106.7.

"We're getting ready for the holidays by looking for ways to serve our community," she said. "It's an annual tradition around her," said Florida Solar President Skip West.

Cheap blenders rise above mix

How many food-preparation appliances does your kitchen really need?

The basic choices consist of blenders (rotating blades in a covered jar), food processors (machines that can chop, slice, shred, puree and knead dough) and mixers (capable of tasks from whipping cream to kneading dough).

Food processors may be the do-it-all darlings of TV cooks, but blenders are the hands-down choice of most consumers, largely on the strength of several activities: pureeing vegetables, making milkshakes and fruit drinks, and crushing ice.

We tested 22 regular blenders, priced from $25 to $170, and two $300-plus models. We included brands like Hamilton Beach and Oster as well as Cuisinart, KitchenAid and Krups, and product pioneer Waring, whose retro-look models are among the most expensive.

the smoothest or the most even mixture rated the highest.

Convenience — including good controls and easy cleanup — also factored into the score.

What we found is that a big price tag and a lot of power don't always track with superior performance. The top-rated Krups 239 ($40) and the Braun MX2050 ($50) did better than blenders costing quite a bit more. And inexpensive blenders like the Braun MX2000 and Black & Decker BL500, both $30, turned out smooth mixtures, while some bigger, fancier models left food lumpy.

When you're shopping for a blender, don't be dazzled by a Lamborghini-like gearbox: Three or five speeds on a blender are adequate. A dozen closely spaced ones are overkill. Also, we prefer a glass jar to a plastic or stainless steel one because it's heavier and generally more stable.

The machines that produced

Rebuilt bowling lanes now operating

Location: Airport Lanes bowling facility is located at 190 East Airport Boulevard in Sanford, east of U.S. Highway 17-92.

Management: The facility is one of three owned by the same company, with all three under the leadership of Ray Koehler. Locally, co-managers are Greg Volper, formerly with Aloma Lanes in Winter Park, and James Higgs, Jr., formerly with Classic Lanes in Tavara.

Construction: Yet unfinished. "We began a massive cleanup of the former bowling alley back in February," Volper said, "and we didn't finish the job until Dec. 7." He said there was a great deal of work to be done, with much of it still being completed.

Completion Date: Volper said bowling alley started with league play on December 7, and bowlers may now stop in, but there won't be an official grand opening until after the first of the year.

FYI: Airport Lanes will have 32 lanes, with the entire interior in a new style Cosmic Package approach, complete with black lighting, laser lights, and lanes and pins that glow in the dark. Facilities include a Pizza Hut Express for food, a 32-foot long bar (liquor license expected any day), six television sets, dart games, pool tables, a juke box, and various video games.

For the actual bowling, Volper said everything is state-of-the-art Brunswick equipment.

Seminole II Santa Toy Drive under way

Florida's Turnpike has kicked off Seminole II Santa Toy Drive. The purpose of this program is to collect 950 toys for the deserving boys and girls at Wicklow Elementary School in Sanford.

Wicklow is located across the street from the Seminole Expressway Project 2 Construction site.

The drive will continue through Dec. 19, with the goodies to be given to the children on Dec. 20.

School Principal Beverly Ferrault said the majority of her students are from very low-income families. This program is a way for those associated with construction of the Seminole Expressway Project 2 to spread joy this holiday season by giving back to the community.

Anyone who wishes can donate a toy for a child between age 5 and 12 at the Seminole Expressway Project 2 Public Information Office, 1221 Rinehart Road, Sanford.

What's Afoot?
The "Nearly-New, Barely-Used Shoe Drive, sponsored by Dr. Barry Levin and his staff in Altamonte Springs and Lake Mary, with the participation of 17 schools in Seminole County and five charities, has passed the 3,000 mark in the total number of shoes donated. The numbers are indicated on Dr. Levin's seven-foot tall shoemeter, outside his Altamonte Springs office at 903 SR-434. The shoe drive will end on Dec. 20, with all shoes to be given to area charities to distribute to the homeless and less-fortunate. Most schools, from elementary to high schools, have been participating.

H.E.A.T. is on The Winter Springs Police Department has placed their annual H.E.A.T. program into operation for the fourth consecutive year. H.E.A.T. stands for Holiday Enforcement Action Team, which consists of extra marked and unmarked patrol cars with extra Police Officers on the streets of the city. The focus is to prevent property crimes that generally rise during the holidays and to ensure the safety of residents and visitors.

The program has been a repeated success and Winter Springs has seen a reduction in crime as a result. The operation will continue through the holidays.

For more information contact Capt. Mike Noland at 407-327-7966.

Graduate scholarships Outstanding Seminole

Community College GED graduates, Kevin Dawson of Orlando, Gwen Grainger and Daphne Trusper of Sanford and Lorayn Jordan of Winter Springs were each awarded $1,000 scholarships to continue their studies at SCC in the 2000 fall GED graduation ceremony held earlier this month.

Toys for Tots

William Welborn, managing director for Brisson Funeral Home, 905 Laurel Avenue in Sanford, has announced that the funeral home has been added as a "Toys for Tots" drop-off point.

The annual toy drive is sponsored by the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve and extends through Dec. 18. Unwrapped toys for children of any age may be dropped off between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

The Way We Were: Who's who on the 1952 social scene

The following items were all on the Social and Personal Activities page of the January 25, 1952 edition of the Sanford Herald.

Mrs. Clause Hostess for Women's Fellowship
The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church had met the previous Monday evening at the home of Mrs. S.C. Clause. Mrs. R.W. Cassube led the devotional entitled "Ready Like Peter and Paul."

Grace Marie Stinecpher

The president, Mrs. W.H. Young, opened the meeting with prayer followed by the missionary lesson given by Mrs. John Golden. After a short business session, the meeting was closed with a missionary benediction. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. M.H. Billingsley. Those present were Mrs. Cassube, Mrs. Cren Carroll, Mrs. E.C. Dodson, Mrs. George Ellsworth, Mrs. P.G. Fox, Mrs. V.H. Grantham, Mrs. Charles Greime and Mrs. J.L. Horton.

Also Mrs. O.T. Pearson, Mrs. J.R. Richards, Miss Susan Williams and Mrs. W.H. Young.

Mrs. A.W. Lee Entertains
Mrs. A.W. Lee, Jr., entertained her Samba Club the previous Wednesday evening at her home on Laurel Avenue. Prizes for the games were won by Mrs. T. Bradford Byrd and Mrs. B.L. Perkins.

Roses and camillas were used in the party rooms and a dessert course was served at the conclusion of the Samba games.

Those present were Mrs. J.O. Laney, Mrs. R.R. Deas, Mrs. Byrd, Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Ralph Wight, Mrs. R.L. Cornell and Mrs. Ruth Scott.

Taffy Pull Enjoyed
The home of Mr. and Mrs. A.O. Von Herbulis was the scene of a taffy pull party for the Catholic Youth Club's monthly social

Outdoor games were enjoyed by the group around a large bonfire. Refreshments were then served after which the taffy was pulled.

Those present were Mrs. W.H. Kramer, Albert and Jeanne Kramer, Mrs. Claire Kendall, Dorothy Teslo, Claire Normand, Edna Michels, Betty Michels, Helen Michels, Lucille Normand, Sue Ann Radford, Margaret Von Herbulis and Patty Ratigan.

Also, Connie Durrand, Kay Ratigan, Isabel LeFils, Shirley Thomas, Rosemary Cullum, Patricia Burns, Dorothy Von Herbulis, Eugene Kendall, Floyd Campbell, Richard Young, Herb Tillis, Robert Durand, Bob Anthony, Ken Jones, Eugene Arnold, Jim Myers and Carl Von Herbulis.

Art Flynn and Family Visiting
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Flynn and daughter Noreen of New York City, accompanied by Mrs. Peter Hoffman, were spending a few weeks at the Mayfair Inn.

Mr. Flynn headed the advertising firm bearing his name and had for the past several years, handled the advertising campaign for the New York Giants as well as many other nationally known accounts.

Mrs. Hoffman's husband, Pete, was in charge of ticket sales at the Polo Grounds, New York City, home of the National League baseball champions, the New York Giants.

Birthday Party Held

Mrs. Charles Stafford of 2416 Summerlin Avenue had entertained recently to celebrate the birthdays of her daughters, Gertrude and Faye.

Numerous games were played after which hot chocolate and cake were served.

Those enjoying the occasion were Judy Carroll, Caroline Carroll, Carolyn Coleman, Susan Kaiser, Billy Stafford, Rickie Kaiser, Dan McCall, Emmett McCall, Billy Bower and Richard Feinberg.

Lake Monroe News

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Lake Monroe Baptist Church was to hold its monthly program meeting at the church on Monday evening. Miss Frances Eisensmith, a missionary in the Belgian Congo, would be the guest speaker. She would wear a native costume and would relate her experiences.

Mrs. Laura Priester and her son-in-law, Mr. K.G. Soderblom, who had the same birthday, were honored at a birthday tea on January 22. Among those who called during the afternoon were Mr. R.E. Soderblom and daughter Linda Gail, Mr. and Mrs. C.U. Soderblom and son Steve and Mrs. Hill.

The Lake Monroe road has been completely resurfaced with an asphalt and rock layer. Construction work was almost completed.

Geneva News

A farewell party was given in honor of Joyce Demmy, who had left for her home in Ohio. Those attending were Mrs. Paul Maxwell, Mrs. Lester Demmy, Ruth Maxwell, Harold Geiger, Fred Valeen, Addie Prevatt, Paul Braddy, Jack McGill, Rober Maxwell, Nadine and Imogene Bostick, Mary Oldham and John Anders.

Rev. and Mrs. Hill and their children ate Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Seig.

Fashion Show Stated

A fashion show sponsored by Yowell's Department Store and Ivey's Shoe Store was to be staged in the ballroom of the Mayfair Inn that evening for over 200 guests of the hotel.

Miss Dorothy Holloway, soprano, assisted by a group of young models would be featured under the direction of Marion Harmon of Radio WTRR.

Manager of the hotel was Charles G. Marian.

Personals

Bill Ludwig had left the previous day for Newport, R.I., where he would attend Officers Candidate School of the U.S. Navy.

Mrs. M.C. Stone had returned the previous day from New York City where she had gone on a buying trip for the B.C. Purcell Company.

Miss Ross Levy had returned from New York City where she had spent the past two weeks on a buying trip for Hollywood Shops.

Dr. and Mrs. James N. Robson were visiting Lt. Pearle Robson, U.S. Navy, in Miami. Before returning to Sanford, they would visit Mr. and Mrs. Claude Robson in Denia and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robson of West Palm Beach.

Word had been received that Mrs. Howard Whelchel had arrived safely in Bermuda, where she had gone to join her husband, Cpl. Whelchel, who was stationed there with the Army. Mrs. Whelchel had left on Tuesday by plane to Miami and from there flew to Bermuda.

Lions run Dogs out of own 'House'

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

DeLAND — The Oviedo boys basketball team sang a little different version of the Baha Men's popular song, "Who let the dogs out?" Tuesday night using a big second half to run previously undefeated DeLand out of its own beautiful new 5,000-seat gym, "The New Dog House," 79-56.

The Bulldogs (5-1 overall, 1-1 in district play) led early, 4-2, which ended up being the only time they would lead in the game, and trailed just 11-10 after the first quarter.

The Lions, who also came into the game unbeaten at 7-0, started to take control of the game in the second quarter, with the help of the Bulldogs' inability to convert from the free throw line (they missed 12 of their first 13 attempts), building a 29-22 lead at intermission.

But it was in the second half that Oviedo, ranked No. 3 in the state poll this week, turned the game into a rout, outscoring DeLand 50-34 in the final 16 minutes.

The victory avenged an embarrassing 67-47 loss at home to the Bulldogs in the District Championship Game last spring and stamped the Lions as the early favorites in the district race.

Junior scoring machine Shawn Witherspoon led Oviedo with 26 points, while senior Marcus Hayes was right behind with 17 points. Darrell Freeman was also in double figures with 10 points.

The Lions, who forced 29 turnovers and also grabbed 27 offensive rebounds in the game, are taking part in the prestigious Great Florida Shootout in Kissimmee this weekend.

Current Oviedo head coach Ed Kershner started the tournament, which now attracts teams from all over the country and also has The Sunshine Network televising some of the game, 20 years ago when he was coaching at Osceola.

In other big games from this week, Scott Bradley hit 5-of-8 from three-point range and scored 23 points and Brandon Grubbs chipped in with 20 points and 12 rebounds as Lake Brantley bounced back from a tough 46-44 loss to Boone on Tuesday with a 65-52 Seminole Athletic Conference victory over Lake Howell on Wednesday.

The Patriots improved to 5-3 overall and 3-1 in the SAC, while the Silver Hawks, who were led by Isaac Codrey's 11 points and 10 points from Tory Green, fell to 6-6.

On Tuesday, Crooms Academy equaled its record at 2-2 with an impressive 50-44 road victory over Taylor High School in Pierson.

Rams return to prominence

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

LAKE MARY — Round one to Lake Mary.

In the first of what could be many battles between the two Seminole Athletic Conference powers, the Rams, which had seen some of the luster of their program diminish with the emergence of Winter Springs, Seminole and Lyman the past two seasons, dominated the previously undefeated and two-time defending State Champion Bears, 56-42, at Lake Mary High School Tuesday night.

The game was close after the first period with the Rams leading just 13-12.

Lake Mary widened the gap to seven points at intermission, 31-24, then broke the game open with a 17-6 third quarter scoring advantage and coasted to the victory.

The Rams then became the first girls team in the county to win 10 games, easing past Lake Howell, 69-51, on the road

The Bears also got back into the win column on Thursday, building a 29-15 first half lead and holding off Oviedo at home, 51-42, to raise their record to 9-1.

The Silver Hawks and Lions had both picked up important home victories on Tuesday, with Lake Howell tripping Lake Brantley, 52-42, and Oviedo pouncing DeLand, 62-42.

Raider women romp to 10th win of season

SANFORD — A week off did the Seminole Community College women's basketball team a world of good.

After playing very poorly against a very good Tallahassee Community College team and seeing a long non-conference home winning streak come to an end, the Raiders returned to the Health and Physical Education Center floor on Wednesday after an 11-day layoff and rolled to an 83-52 drubbing of Hillsborough Community College from Tampa.

SCC got off to a fast start. See Women, Page 3B

CASSELBERRY — The undefeated and defending Class 6A State Champion Lake Howell girls soccer team found out Tuesday night that they will not have a cakewalk in trying to repeat as champs as Lake Brantley gave the Silver Hawks all they wanted before falling, 2-1, at home.

Lake Howell led 1-0 at half-time, but had the fight the Patriots to a second half stand-off to win its 10th game of the season.

Lindsay Rice and Piper Seaman scored the goals for the Silver Hawks, with Jill Rice adding an assist.

Aston scored on an assist from Delp for Lake Brantley, which fell to 6-2-1 on the season. See Preps, Page 3B

Unbeaten Tallahassee holds off SCC threat

SANFORD — The undefeated Tallahassee Community College men's basketball team found something it probably was not expecting Thursday night.

A battle. Two weeks ago, the Eagles had taken a 30 point lead at halftime and coasted to a 96-63 victory over Seminole Community College in the state capitol.

And while the final score was not much different this time, 94-72, it did not tell how competitive and hard-fought the game was at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

The Raiders took a 4-0 lead and basically stayed in the game the entire first half, trailing 46-34 at intermission.

After SCC's quick start, Tallahassee took a 10-point lead only to see the Raiders come battling back to within two points on several occasions and only a late run in the first half allowed the Eagles to take the 12-point halftime bulge. TCC came out of the locker-room on fire on defense and threatened to turn the game into a rout as it forced numerous SCC turnovers to build a 19-point lead.

But the Raiders refused to fold and started to come back behind freshmen guards Jason Currington (Leesburg) and Dennis Williams (Winter Park), cutting the lead back to 10 points with over 10 minutes left in the game.

SCC was able to cut into the lead on the strength of a seven-point trip down the court.

Currington hit a driving layup, then picked off a pass and hit a three-point shot as he was fouled.

He missed the free throw try, but Che Morgan gathered in the rebound and hit a follow.

The Raiders had several good looks at the basket to cut into the margin even further as their defense was starting to take control of the game, but the big shot would not fall.

The Eagles finally started to pull away in the final three minutes behind Baltimore's Marcus Hatten (16 second half points) and Chicago Simeon High

Also on Tuesday night, Jeanette Gurtis scored all three of Seminole's goals, two in the second half, as the Fighting Seminole held off Lyman, 3-2, to win their first game of the season at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

Kelly German and Thulasi Karunanidhi had assists for the Tribe, while Reilly and Antrelia scored second half goals for the Greyhounds.

In boys' action, Lake Mary stayed unbeaten at 6-0-1 with a 1-0 victory over Winter Springs at A. W. Epps Field Wednesday night.

Zolie Kesckes scored the game's only goal in the first half on an assist from Eric Gorden.

TARGET CLASSIC LAKE MARY - The 18th annual Target Soccer Classic takes place at four Seminole County schools starting Wednesday, December 20th.

Host Lake Mary, Lake Brantley, Winter Springs and Lyman high schools will hold games for the 16-team event that will run from the 20th through the 23rd (see schedule at right).

Tournament passes will be available at a cost of $12 and daily tickets are $4. Call Bill Eisele at 407-320-9672 for more information.

racing to a 12-0 lead behind freshmen Yolanda Johnson and Gabrielle Blankenfeld.

The Raiders could not maintain the fast start, however, as the Hawks battled back to within 23-19 near the 10-minute mark of the first half.

That's when coach Ken Patrick's charges decided enough was enough.

With Johnson, who was playing her first game after missing the previous two with a shoulder injury, leading the way and sophomore forward Sheketa "Kiki" Kindred starting to dominate the backboards, SCC went on a 23-0 run and took a 46-19 lead before Hillsborough finally scored with 10-seconds left in the half.

Kindred, who had eight first half points, answered at the buzzer and the hosts took a 48-21 lead into the lockerroom at intermission.

Johnson, a guard from Braddock, Pennsylvania, was the big scorer in the first half with 16 points, while Blankenfeld, a forward from Naperville, Illinois, had nine points in the first half.

With the game in hand, the Raiders worked on their pressing defense and getting the ball inside on offense, both of which worked exceptionally well.

Freshman center Brandi Davis from Buahnell, got loose inside to score 14 of her 18 points in the second half and Kindred, from Douglasville, Georgia, controlled the boards on both ends of the floor and also had several steals which she turned into layups which led to her scoring 10 of her 18 points in the final 20 minutes.

SCC also got good play from inside players Sue Gyrfas and Linda Cazeau.

Gyrfas, a 6-foot-9 sophomore center from Budapest, Hungary, and Cazeau, a 6-foot freshman from Eustis, came off the bench to only score six points, but both had several big rebounds and Gyrfas blocked several shots and assisted on several layups feeding players breaking for the goal from her high post position.

Hillsborough also played better in the second half, but not better the Raiders' first half score (48 points) until there was only one-minute left on the clock.

Kindred, who also had 20 rebounds, Johnson and Davis all had 18 points for SCC, while Blankenfeld was also in double figures with 10 points.

Also contributing for the locals were Erin Bradshaw (six points), Katrina Morame (five points), Cazeau (four points), and Gyrfas and Sheri Harrison (two points each). Point guard Nary Berggren and Ovidio's Shannon Cotton did not score, but Berggren ran the offense to perfection and had several assists and Cotton did a little bit of everything else, coming up with steals, pulling down rebounds, taking charges and dishing out assists.

School's Cameron Echols (10 second half points) to improve to 15-0 on the season.

Hatten led all scorers with 25 points, while New York's Bronski Dockery added 15 points and Echols 14 points. All told, 11 Eagles found the scoring column.

Currington continued his excellent play of late, hitting three 3-point shots during an 18-point second half and finishing with 24 points.

Also scoring for SCC were Morgan (12), Dennis Williams (11), Matt Story (eight), Jontue Johnson and Deltona's Joe Williams (five points each), Walter Green (four), Tim Morrison (two) and Cedric McHoney (one).

The Raiders were coming off a weekend split in the Manatee Community College Classic in Bradenton last week.

SCC had dropped the opening night's game, 110-79, to Chipola Junior College from Marianna despite 21 points from Story, 18 points from Currington and 10 points from Dennis Williams. Spurlock of Chipola hit seven of his team's 14 three-point shots and netted a game-high 27 points.

But it was Currington that put on the performance of the tournament, hitting seven of the Raiders' 12 three-pointers and scoring 36 points to lead the locals to a 78-71 victory over host Manatee.

Currington totaled 14 field goals all-together in the game and was the only SCC player in

Is 'Becker' actor really blind?

Q. On the TV show "Becker," there is a man named Jake. Is he really blind or does he just play that part? Either way, he does a great job. I do enjoy that show. - Mrs. E.M., Ridley Park, Pa.

A. Alex Desert, who plays Jake, has perfectly good eyesight. He is, simply, a fine actor.

Q. I have two questions regarding movies and the people in them. First, as a young boy, I saw a movie called "Tomorrow the World," which starred Skip Homeier. I thought he was perfectly cast as a Hitler youth. It made a big impression on me. What ever became of his career? There was a movie called "The Black Rose," which starred Genevieve Page in the female lead role. What ever became of her? - J.R.W., Merrimack, N.H.

A. After success as a child actor, Homeier had problems getting adult parts and spent most of his career in supporting roles. Mlle. Page - she wasn't in "The Black Rose," you are thinking of Cecile Aubry - had a few roles here, then went back to her native France.

Q. I'm interested in Vivian Vance and her TV husband, William - can't remember his last name. They played Lucy and Ricky's landlords on "I Love

Dick and Chick Kleiner

Ask Dick Kleiner

Q. Are they still alive? R.P., Morganton, N.J.

A. No, both Vance and William Frawley are long gone.

Q. Is the host of the show, "Soul Train" the same young man who plays Malcolm X in the movie "The Young and the Restless"? And what are some of his other credits? - W.L., Atlanta, Ga.

A. Yes, Sherman Moore is the young man you're referring to. Moore won a Daytime Emmy Award as Outstanding Supporting Actor in a Daytime Series in 1999 and received nominations in 1996 and 1997 as Outstanding Younger Actor in a Drama Series. He starred in the cable movie, "Tomb Raider" and was a guest star on

"Chicago Hope." He will star in the Fox TV movie, "How to Marry a Billionaire" on Monday, Dec. 10. He co-stars with John Stamos and Joshua Malina in three single friends who plot to land rich brides before Christmas. The movie is a take on the Marilyn Monroe film, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

Q. How many "Smoochy and the Bandit" movies were filmed? and what were the years they came out? I had Ray Charles was one of the stars. - L.L., Haverhill, Mass.

A. "Smoochy and the Bandit" was the first of the series and it was released in 1977. Its sequel, "Smoochy and the Bandit II," followed in 1979. The last film, "Smoochy and the Bandit 3," completed the series.

Q. How must be an actor by the name of Dale Robertson, who has done a lot of TV or in the movies in my area. Did he have a movie business or did he go to acting? - C.S., Joplin, Mo.

A. The actor, Robertson, was a country singer who is still performing.

Q. I'm interested in Jack D. Kleiner, who played the character, Generation 200 in the movie, "Mama Drama Family" and was a guest star on "I Love

Oviedo business offers finest in European sweets

By Nick Pfeiffert
Staff Writer

Shirley Crews is probably bias when she says, "Life's short, and people should eat dessert first."

Shirley and her husband, Randy, own and operate Olde World Chocolates Inc. — Seminole County's only chocolate factory that specializes in the finest European chocolates. The business is located at 19 East Broadway in the heart of downtown Oviedo.

"We had been located at an industrial development a short distance away," said Randy. "But we decided to put the business in the downtown area where customers would find us. So a year ago this past August, we moved to our present location."

Randy and Shirley, residents of Lake Mary, purchased the business about six years ago after spotting an ad in the newspaper's Classifieds section announcing that a chocolate factory was for sale. A Dutch man, Cor Van Es, decided to return to his native homeland but wanted his chocolate tradition to continue in Seminole County.

So, Shirley and Randy, who worked at a CPA business, and their two children, Kevin and Stephanie, became Van Es' apprentices and learned the art of chocolate making.

Basically, the chocolates are featured in a European style, with finely detailed molds from Europe. Randy cautions that some people say the chocolates are too attractive to eat.

The fillings are unique, based on age-old European recipes handed down from generation to generation. No preservatives, fillers, additives or artificial ingredients are ever added. Dark chocolate, which is derived directly from the cocoa bean is also free of cholesterol.

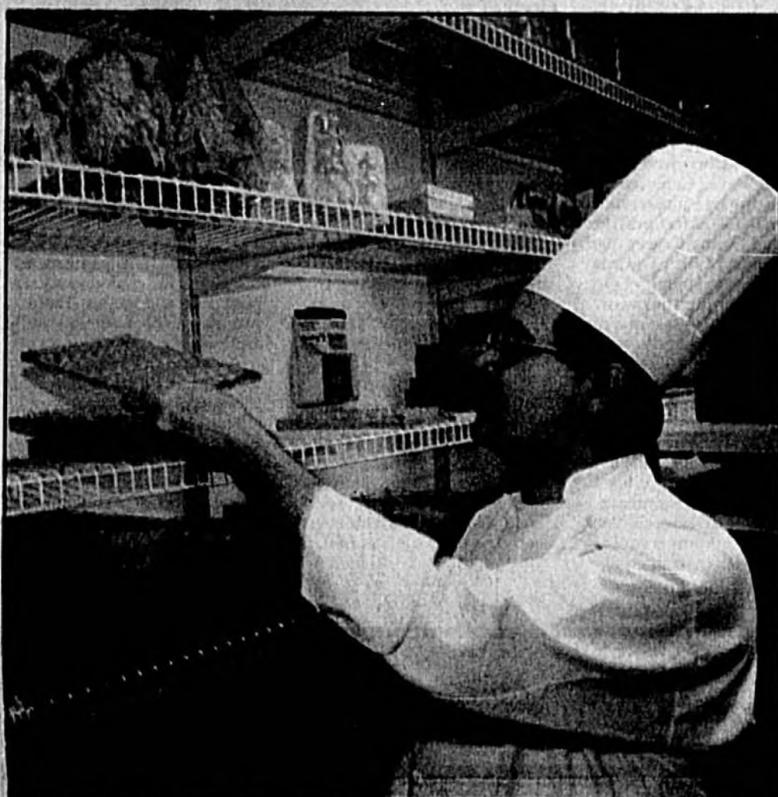

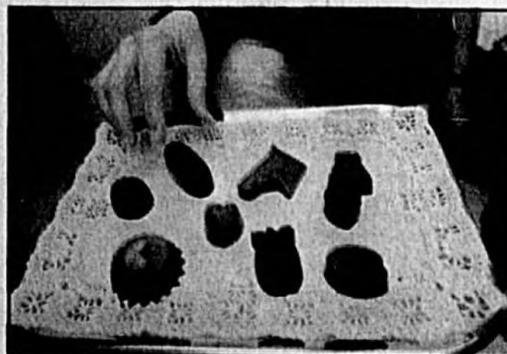

Each chocolate is hand made. The Renaissance collection, however, is particularly difficult.

First, each tray of molds is coated with a thin layer of carefully tempered chocolate. After being vibrated to remove any air bubbles, the trays are cooled at precise temperatures for 28 minutes. Various delicious fillings are then hand-piped into each chocolate mold. A final layer of chocolate is then poured to top off each piece, and they are again carefully cooled for another 28 minutes. Finally, the chocolates are released from their molds.

The Oviedo business now offers sugar free candies and creams for diabetics who would otherwise not be able to enjoy fine quality European chocolate. The chocolate factory also has a sales room where people can browse through various gift items and enjoy a cup of Barnie's gourmet coffee.

At left, Randy and his wife, Shirley, display just a few of the European chocolates offered at Olde World Chocolates. The couple learned their craft from Cor Van Es, a Dutch chocolate maker who returned to his native country after selling a chocolate factory to the Crews. Olde World Chocolates is now located in downtown Oviedo and offers an array of chocolate delights, including sugar-free chocolates.

Pet sense

Dr. Kirven offers advice on how to keep animals safe during the holidays

While the holiday season presents ample opportunity for celebration, good cheer and large family gatherings, it's a good idea to remember the festive occasion also presents seasonal dangers and anxious moments for our four-legged family members. Dr. Joe Kirven of the Lake Mary Veterinary Clinic talked with Herald staff writer Joe DeSantis this week, offering some common sense tips on how to provide a safer Christmas season for Fido and Fluffy.

Q: What are some of the common problems veterinarians deal with during the Christmas season?

A: The three biggest we see at this time of year are Christmas decorations, electrical cords, and unusual foods that don't necessarily mix well with cats and dogs. Cats, particularly kittens, seem to be fascinated with tree tinsel and small ornaments. If they eat the tinsel they run the risk of serious surgical problems because the tinsel becomes impacted and they can't digest it. Puppies are attracted to small ornaments and electrical cords and extension cords. They can be badly shocked and are at risk for burns to the mouth and lung damage from electrocution.

Q: You mentioned unusual foods, too.

A: The concern here is intestinal problems from holiday leftovers, particularly traditional meals like turkey and ham. Small bones in the meat can cause choking problems and the extra fat in those meats can contribute to pancreatitis.

vous when people who are strange to them enter their environment.

Q: Any pet problems associated with "real" Christmas trees and pets?

A: Very few pets are likely to have an allergic reaction to a Christmas tree. The biggest problem here is the stuff that goes on the tree. Last year during the Christmas season we had to treat a young Labrador pup who ate six or seven glass ornaments from the bottom of a tree.

Q: A lot of pet owners have relatives and friends over for holiday visits. Any helpful suggestions in this area?

A: Pets can suffer some genuine anxiety anytime there are a lot of new faces and new voices in the home. If you plan on having big family gatherings it can be helpful to confine the pet to a small room. Dogs in particular tend to get ner-

Q: What has been the strangest holiday pet incident you've handled?

A: Last year at News Year's a family was shooting off fireworks and rockets. Their dog caught a rocket that hadn't exploded yet in his mouth. Then it went off. We had a lot of repair work to do to the dog's mouth and particularly its tongue.

Q: A lot of people travel with their pets over the holiday season. What should they keep in mind.

A: If people are flying with their pets they need to make sure to check with airlines about their requirements depending on the size of the pet. Owners will also need to show the airlines a health certificate and proof of vaccinations. Some pets do better with a light sedative, kind of like doggie Dramamine, that can be prescribed by a veterinarian.

Historical Commission hosts elegant evening of festivities

Volunteers help make open house a success

It was a very elegant evening at the Lake Mary Historical Museum on Saturday night.

The Historical Commission held an open house for the community. The evening was a success thanks in large part to the volunteers who helped set up the building for the event. Clinton Rhodes volunteered his time as caterer. The food was exceptional, especially the delightful desserts.

Mary Rowell

Michael and Shelly Wroegeman provided poinsettias for decoration. They also provided the Christmas tree and decorated it. Centered on the stage, the tree looked like it would make a perfect postcard.

Dee and Danny Gracey also gave up most of their Saturday to run errands to help get the building set up for the event.

Dee Gracey also set up a display to let visitors know about the upcoming Smithsonian exhibit. "Yesterday's Tomorrows" is scheduled to arrive in Lake Mary in August 2001.

During the exhibit's stay, the museum will be open at least 25 hours a week. This means the Historical Commission is going to need volunteers. The volunteers will be trained as docents to give tours of and answer questions about the exhibit.

If you're interested in being a docent, you can call Dee at 407-324-3065.

Santa Claus Visits St. Peter's Pre-School

As he has for many years, Santa stopped by Lake Mary last Saturday for breakfast. St. Peter's annual Breakfast with Santa was a big hit with everyone, especially the children. In addition to breakfast, there was a sleigh ride, face painting, a train ride, three moonwalks, a pony ride and games. There was also a silent auction, raffle and cakewalk.

As with any event, it takes a lot of volunteers to make everything work.

Help for the breakfast came from St. Peter's teachers and staff, the church staff, the Santa's Breakfast Committee and volunteers from Sanford Middle School, St. Peter's Youth Group and Boy Scout Troop No. 507.

Son's name change is slap in face to family

DEAR ABBY: We just found out that one of our sons changed his last name. What a terrible blow to our family. We found out very painfully when his wife had a baby. We went to the hospital to see the newest member of our family and couldn't find a "Mrs. Barry Nofzinger."

However, there WAS a "Mrs. Barry Gibson." Barry had used the name "Gibson" before, when he was in sales. He said it was much easier to remember than Nofzinger. He never indicated that he was considering changing his name. When he remarried two years ago, he still used the name Nofzinger. As far as we know, the name change occurred prior to our grandson's birth.

When we asked why, he told us his current wife (Barry was married before) didn't want to be the "second" Mrs. Nofzinger. The funny thing is, Barry's first wife remarried long before our son met or married his current wife. She has used her present husband's name for years.

Barry contends that we're making too much of this. He expects his relationship with us will remain as it has always been. In fact, he expects his son to have the same kind of relationship with us that we have with our other grandchildren.

We have been good parents, Abby. We have given our love and support unconditionally to all our children. I pray that I can continue doing that, but right now, I'm so full of anger, pain and shame that I wonder if it wouldn't be best if I told our son we would prefer never to see him again.

Barry's father is very hurt, and his brothers are also upset. He's unable to understand why we feel this way.

Perhaps someday I won't feel like I have been slapped in the face every time I see "Gibson" instead of "Nofzinger" after his name. Please help me to let go of my anger.

Dear Abby

SEEING RED IN OREGON

DEAR SEEING RED: William Shakespeare was right when he said, "What's in a name? That which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet." It's no sin to change one's name — and your son's having done so is no reflection upon how he feels about his siblings and you. You're making a mountain out of a molehill.

You say you're wondering if it wouldn't be best to tell your son you'd prefer never to see him again. Be careful what you wish for.

DEAR ABBY: Would you please explain how women in high heels can walk with such elegance and grace, as though they are gliding when they walk?

NOT VERY GRACEFUL IN PROVO, UTAH

DEAR NOT VERY GRACEFUL: It's not easy. Stand up straight, balance a book on your head, and practice, practice, practice.

what they do in order to make a living. Just a brief conversation with Randy and Shirley, however, and you will immediately recognize the fact they are doing this because they love their work.

"It's just a fun kind of business," Shirley said. However, she said there is one negative aspect of being in the confection making industry.

"During the holidays, I sometimes want to be home baking cookies or getting ready for the season," she said. "But, we are so busy, we have to spend most of our time here."

"We work so hard, we can actually lose weight working in the chocolate business," Randy added.

Want some advice on eating his chocolate? Randy is quick to suggest it should be savored in the European manner.

He explains, "Each bite should be allowed to melt slowly on your tongue in order to experience the exquisite taste and smooth consistency in a manner similar to tasting a fine wine. Our chocolates are so rich, you will likely be satisfied eating just one or two pieces."

But rest assured, it will be difficult to stop there. With the holiday season upon us, Randy suggests a gift of European style chocolate is one people will long remember.

For individual purchases or gifts, Olde World Chocolates is available in 4 ounce boxes (eight selected pieces), or 8 or 16 ounce boxes. The business also offers different novelty confections, including chocolate champagne bottles for New Year's Eve and chocolate bunnies for Easter.

For additional information on Olde World Chocolates Inc., check the web site at www.oldeworldchocolates.com or call 407-359-5600 or 1-800-472-2648. The store is open Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Pioneers make ditty bags seniors

The Mailland Chapter of the AT&T Pioneers Life Member Club presented last Thursday 100 "Ditty Bags" to the Congregate Program of the Seminole County Better Living for Seniors organization. The ditty bags contained personal items, including tooth brushes, tooth paste, shampoo, soap, hand lotion, shaving cream, writing pads, envelopes, pens and playing cards. The Congregate Program provides hot lunches five days a week at seven sites throughout Seminole County. Pictured, from left, are Bea and Bill Johnston, Vice President Virginia Clark, Manager Pat McConnell, President John Dorff, Anne Dorff, Immediate Past President Bill Wood and Nancy Wood.

Women explore sights, sounds of holidays

Magical sights and sounds of the holiday season filled the Sanford Woman's Club at the December meeting.

Mindy Tooley introduced Dianne Wall of Winter Springs who was born with polio, became a teacher and musician, married an attorney and is the mother of a 14-year-old daughter. Vivacious Dianne treated the members to several musical selections. She played the guitar and sang, "I Have a Little Dreidl" in honor of Hanukkah and for Christmas,

Doris Dietrich

Dianne played and sang "What Child is This?" She later led a sing-a-long when members and guests participated.

The club supports Hacienda Girls Ranch at Melbourne, a 30-year-old facility for neglected and abandoned girls who have suffered abuse in their homes. Arriving from Melbourne to tell the women about the ranch was Rene Ledford, program director and a licensed clinical social worker.

Ledford told the women that the facility for 45 central Florida girls, ages 6 to 18, is funded by the state as well as organizations throughout Florida including women's clubs and the United Way. She added that the resources have increased since the ranch became a program of the Children's Home Society of Florida. She said that creating a positive self-image is of paramount importance to the girls, many of whom have suffered severe abuse and have been placed in foster homes.

While ranch residents, the girls attend public schools, participate in church and community volunteer projects and engage in programs such as hygiene, crafts and yoga. Ledford stressed that this ranch does not accept pregnant girls nor girls with drug or other problems.

At the conclusion of the program, the club presented Ledford with a gift of $491.00 for the ranch, a love offering from members and guests.

Further keeping with the spirit of the season, members brought gifts to the meeting for Safehouse of Seminole, a shelter for abused spouses and children, also supported by the club. The gifts have been delivered to the safehouse by DeLores Lash. Also, according to Linda Sparrow, Home Life Department chair, members collected $545.00 for the Salvation Army by manning the kettles on Dec. 3.

President Betty Jack presided over the business meeting and heard routine reports. Phyllis Hodge, chair of the Education Department, reported that the recent fashion show for education, netted $1,613.00 toward scholarships for deserving women to return to the classroom.

Mindy Tooley, left, introduced musician Dianne Wall to the membership of the Sanford Woman's Club.

Bettye D. Smith, Public Affairs Department chair, reminded the women that a project is under way to create an exhibit at Orlando Sanford International Airport showcasing the history of Sanford Naval Air Station. All hands in the community are needed to develop this historic exhibit. For information on contributions and helping, call 407-585-4610. Smith also reported that the projected World War II Veterans Memorial is currently on hold for possible expansion to include other war veterans.

The hostesses decorated the clubhouse in red and white using fluffy clouds of cotton enhanced with red poinsettias and other Christmas accents. During a recent vacation to a Virginia farm, luncheon co-hostess Polly Pezold worked on the adorable red satin snowmen gracing the tables. She invited each member to take a snowman home as a memento of the Millennium Christmas.

Officials gather for Castle Brewer Scholarship Day

The Castle Brewer Scholarship Day was observed at St. Paul Missionary Baptist Church, Sunday, Dec. 10 during the 11 a.m. worship service.

The scholarship fund was established in 1987 to assist young people who wished to continue their education after high school.

Named after the Rev. Castle Brewer, a former minister, pastor of St. Paul, educator and community leader who served this community from 1884 until 1936.

Under the Rev. Brewer's leadership he was a strong supporter of foreign mission and scholarship aid that helped a student continue and complete medical training at Meharry Medical School. Not only did he promote programs to advance his congregation he reached out to others beyond his community.

The Christian Education Committee of St. Paul continues to administer the funds of the scholarship to students of Seminole County high school seniors or college students.

The scholarships are for students who apply, and they are awarded according to academic merit and need. To this date, more than $20,000 have been awarded Seminole County students through the raising funds at the "Annual Prayer Breakfast" and "Castle Brewer Scholarship Day." Students desiring application forms for 2001 may call the church office at 407-323-1601.

In honor of the Rev. Castle Brewer Scholarship Day, the guest speaker was the Honorable Dr. Velma H. Williams of the Sanford City Commission, District 2. She was introduced by Sister Sherilyn J. Polk.

Williams spoke on the last will and testimony of a great educator, Dr. Mary McLoud Bethane, who many of the audience knew.

Dr. Williams selected three words to challenge the audience and young students assembled. With wisdom, love and faith, she reminded us to love our children, have faith in them and to be sure we see that they receive the best education, as parents, teachers, community leaders because we are responsible for our youth.

As African Americans, we are achievers, we are survivors, and children know who we are. Faith in yourself comes when you get into the word, students must believe in themselves all students must have a vision, a dream and a plan.

Students ask yourselves that all important question, "What will I do with my dream?" as it is important. As young people of today, stop and take a look at your life, do you have a vision, a plan or a goal?

As adults, we must be an advocate for our children, said Dr. Williams.

Truly this message gave for an awakening to parents, students and worshippers at this annual scholarship day. "Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser; teach a just man, and he will increase in learning." — Proverb 9:9

All of the students attending service were awarded a copy of "The Road To Success," which was presented by Chairman Sherilyn J. Polk. It was presented to the more than 20 youth workers who were present.

"The Road to Success is not straight. There is a curve called failure; a loop called confusion; speed bumps called friends; red lights called enemies; caution lights called family. You will have flats called jobs. But, if you have a spare called determination; an engine called persever-

How To Enjoy Your Own Holiday Party

(NAPSA)—Being a gracious host and creating an elegant meal often requires more planning than time, notes Chef Paul Bartolotta, James Beard Award winner, restaurateur and avid home entertainer.

Make-ahead dishes that can be reheated or finished just before guests arrive allow hosts to really enjoy their company rather than running around pulling the pieces together. The gathering of friends and family is the most important part of the get-together, he adds, so keeping things simple when it comes to the meal is key.

For Chef Paul, the quintessential home entertaining dish is lasagna. Its versatility, convenience and great taste help explain why the holidays are the height of the lasagna-making season, according to Barilla, the world's number one-selling pasta brand. In a recent nationwide survey of lasagna makers, over 40 percent choose to serve lasagna for holiday meals, parties and potlucks, with November to January seeing the most lasagna consumed from coast to coast, he adds. Chef Paul says lasagna made with Barilla Oven Ready noodles is a host's dream. Because it is oven-ready, it can be assembled in no time and there's no water to boil, no mess and it tastes fantastic! You can have a great-tasting lasagna ready from start to table in less than 30 minutes.

Jean Brady of L.A. Celebrations, caterer to many a Hollywood party, agrees that your-gut' image. He really likes Barilla Oven Ready lasagna noodles because they offer a lighter tasting alternative to the traditionally heavier, American-style brands. Made the way lasagna is made in Italy, delicate thin sheets of pasta absorb the flavors of the sauce without becoming too heavy.

For the perfect entertaining at-home meal, Chef Paul suggests starting with a refreshing crisp salad, made with flavorful greens such as arugula, endive and radicchio, with baskets of warm, crusty bread. Inexpensive, large white plates make a great backdrop for the lasagna squares. For dessert, a fresh berry soup spooned over a scoop of ice cream or frozen yogurt served in small bowls finishes the meal deliciously.

For more great-tasting recipes, visit <http://www.barilla.com>.

Other tips include, when possible, cook in the dishes you're serving from so the food can go from oven to table to fridge. Lasagna baked in a nice white porcelain dish served family-style makes a great main event, and can be made the night before so the morning is free for last minute details and relaxation. "It's hard to entertain when you're exhausted, so plan your party to start when you'll have more energy, like a late Sunday brunch or a mid-day weekend party," Brady suggests.

Around the holidays, guests will appreciate choosing from a selection that includes lighter foods as a reprieve from inevitable holiday overindulging.

But don't keep dishes like lasagna from your table, insists Chef Paul, because of its 'sit-in-

Plan Ahead
Wrapping, baking, decorating and entertaining is there time to get it all done? Definitely—if you plan ahead.

Start making lists now of what needs to be done, what is required to get the job done and when each step needs to be completed. Consult a calendar to schedule events and assign times for decorating, baking and gift-wrapping to help maximize your time. By distributing responsibilities among family members, you'll considerably reduce your stress level.

Get Organized
When all is said and done, get a head start on next year's festivities by color coordinating your storage containers. Green and red ornament and light boxes, and oversized storage totes will protect precious ornaments, lights and decorations by sealing out harmful moisture, bugs and dirt.

Church of the New Age hosts annual Congress

By Marva Hawkins
Herald Correspondent

Triumph, the Church of the New Age, recently held a mortgage-burning ceremony during the 76th annual Religious Congress Session.

The church is located at 1006 W. 6th St., with the Elder Gradey Roberson serving as Shepherd. The Congress was hosted by Triumph Elder Roberson and his church family.

The mortgage burning was held on Sunday, Dec. 3 at 11 a.m. New Age was established in 1983, 10 years after the church was built and the fellowship hall was added.

A mortgage was signed with SunBank, and Roberson and other church members said they give thanks to the Lord for the great work in paying off the mortgage in 17 years.

The service of Christian fellowship was presided over by Erika Tillman, and the devotional leaders set the tone for the spiritual praise celebration during the morning. The welcome was extended by Turner Davis, with a greeting and fellowship for all.

Sister Hope Tillman Sparrow led the congregation in the Responsive Reading, Psalm: 1-5.

The occasion was shared with the worshippers by Sister Ruth Brown. And, the Young Men Of Triumph rendered musical selections, with a solo by Sister Natasha Wright.

The message of the hour was brought by Bishop Mark Albert Peachey, senior bishop of the Church of the New Age, who resides in Newark, N.J.

Senior Bishop's words to the worshippers included, "don't look at the outside, but be sure you have it on the inside, and remember that the match for fire is the Bible, the word of God, which will set us all right.

"One must obey the shepherd, obey the word, give our offerings, and the Lord will open the windows of heaven and pour out the blessings."

The congregation, members and well-wishers rejoiced as the match was put to the mortgage document.

Elder Roberson and Senior Bishop Peachey performed the burning ceremony, as other churches, national and local leaders, church members and Christian friends rejoiced during the event.

Guests attending the event were from Atlanta, North Carolina, New York and New Jersey.

We must keep holy the Sabbath

Which of the Ten Commandments gets broken most often? Is it the one forbidding adultery? Stealing? Coveting? Lying? Swearing? Cheating?

How about the one that commands us to go to church? We don't ordinarily consider that one to be a serious sin, but there was a Lutheran pastor in Holt, Mich., a few years ago who told his congregation that missing church regularly was grounds for being sent to hell. It was "go to church or go to hell."

You might expect that such a harsh doctrine would be certain to empty the church of most of its members, but it had just the opposite effect. When Rev. William Richardt became pastor of St. Matthew Lutheran Church in a suburb of Lansing, there were 100 in the congregation. He built the membership to 1,600, making it the fastest-growing congregation in the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

In the first year of Richardt's pastorate, 60 members were excommunicated, most of them for nonattendance. But 25 "repented" and were granted reinstatement after agreeing to be regular churchgoers in the future.

George Plagenz

"We don't put a specific number on how many Sundays a person can miss before being excommunicated," Richardt said. "But we expect that if one is in town and isn't doing something that has a higher priority, he will be in church."

If someone was absent from worship two or three Sundays in a row, he was contacted by letter. If the absences continued five or six weeks running, someone would call to explain the seriousness of his sin. If that didn't work, excommunication was the next step. One couple and their teen-age son were excommunicated because they had attended services only four times in 41 weeks.

How is the hard-line approach working? The pastor says that since the letter went out, there has been a 56-percent increase in attendance. If you are having attendance problems, maybe you should try something like this at your church.

Indian Lore Reviewed

A program on Indian lore and artifacts was presented by Jimmy Peagler at the November meeting of the Sallie Harrison Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Known as "Jimmy Huff Blud," the speaker was "informative and entertaining," according to Virginia Powell. He commented that Indians were most impressed with the white man's talking pages ... books.

Julia Sartin, regent, welcomed other guests, Paul Erisman, Paula White, David Patterson and David Renfro.

Libby Boyd entered a request that the chapter write a letter of support for a grant for the historical building, Holy Cross Episcopal Church. A motion was made and passed in support of this request.

It was announced that Betty Bridgewater, former regent, transferred to a chapter in Fort Wayne, Ind., and Vanra Decker was scheduled to have surgery. The meeting adjourned with a benediction by Chaplain Mary Williams.

Outdoorsman Honored

Dr. Lovett E. Williams Jr. of Cedar Key, was named the "Francis S. Taylor Outdoorsman of the Year for 2000" at the 63rd Annual Conservation Awards banquet of the Florida Wildlife Federation. This award is considered the oldest and most prestigious conservation awards program in the state. Winners are selected from nominations made to the Federation's board of directors.

Williams is the son of Mrs. Lovett (Mary) Williams and the brother of Mary Anne Cleveland. Considered a sportsman and a conservationist, he is perhaps best known for his contributions to the biology, management and hunting of the wild turkey. He is the author of several books and numerous articles on every aspect of the wild bird.

He received degrees from Florida State University and Auburn University and a Ph.D. from the University of Florida. Williams became the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission's first full-time wildlife research biologist.

Thanksgiving Blessing

Susan Eckstein Gaines and Frederic Gaines III of Tampa, announce the birth of their first child, Elise Patricia, on Nov. 23. The cuddly Thanksgiving Day blessing weighed 4lbs., 14 ozs.

Maternal grandparents are Pat and Sanford City Commissioner Whitey Eckstein, and paternal grandparents are Ruth and Frederic Gaines Jr., all of Sanford.

Granny Ruth said, "She is a delightful little girl."

Smith Convalescing

A pillar of the Sanford Community and a former Sanford City Commissioner, Milton E. Smith is currently convalescing at Lakeview Nursing Center in Sanford. Milton has had two brain surgeries and it hasn't been easy. Friends are invited to visit him.

Dottie At Center

Longtime Sanfordites will remember Dottie Roumillat who moved from Sanford several years ago and then returned. According to Mona Walker, Dottie is now a resident of the Healthcare and Rehab Center, 950 Mellonville Ave., Room 118, Sanford.

Soup for thought

I believe that soup has always been essential to people's well being. It probably was first mentioned in the Bible.

According to the book of Genesis, it happened in the Middle East, when the entire course of Jewish history was altered by a bowl of soup. Isaac, the son of Abraham, had twin sons, Esau (the older of the two and "a hairy man") and Jacob (younger and smoother). In the normal course of events, Esau would have inherited everything on his father's death. But, one day Esau returned home from a failed day's hunting, distracted with hunger, to find Jacob preparing a particularly tempting soup. "Give me some of that red pottage, for I am famished," implored Esau. "Only if you sell me your birthright," said Jacob — or words to that effect. In his desperation, Esau agreed, and Jacob, not he, became the father of the Israelites.

In the second century AD, there were two sides of the world, and soup was starting to warm people's thoughts, bodies and souls. In Britain, the range of the ingredients available for the soup pot was vastly expanded by the arrival of goodies brought by the invading Romans, such as leeks, onions, garden carrot, garlic, fennel, mint, thyme, parsley and coriander. The Chinese were developing soup in a rather different direction, reflecting the belief that no distinction should be made between food and medicine.

Once the Romans departed from Britain, the soup was plugged into Dark Age obscurity. The only surviving soup recipes from the Anglo-Saxon period (no offense my English friends!) are for medicinal potages, such as of barley meal, shredded radish, herbs and salt stewed in butter for lung complaints. However, what is clear is that this was the period when soup's first cousin, porridge, took a firm hold, particularly in the colder and wetter upland zones of the British Isles. In the Highlands of Scotland, this took the familiar form of "brochan" (oats and milk), while the Lowlands version, based on a mixture of kale, wheat and rye, was known as "muslin kale."

Andrew Boorde, writing in 1598, describes something nearer to the modern version of soup, which he claimed was eaten throughout England: "Pottage is made of the liquor in which fessche is sodden in, with puttying to chopped herbs and oatmeal and salt." The appearance of meat in this description is an indication of the growth of prosperity during the Tudor and Elizabethan periods.

The Romanian "ciorbe" are soups with a characteristically tangy tart aroma and taste due to the addition of a souring agent. The word "ciorba" derives from corba, a Turkish word for soup, which in turn appears to be based on the Persian word shurba, composed of shur, meaning "salty brackish," and ba, a suffix indicating food.

Traditionally, a sour base called bors — not to be confused with the Russian borscht, which is a red beet soup — was used. Bors is made from fermented wheat bran and can be prepared at home. My mother still makes bors today by fermenting in a crock pot whole wheat flour, corn meal, wheat germs, oats, lots of fresh thyme and dill stems and seeds and hot water. After fermenting overnight the liquid comes to the top and is clear yellow and tart, full of aroma from the fresh thyme. Romanian women attribute their beautiful healthy white skin to drinking this liquid. In recent years, it is less frequently used due to the length of preparation time, so, lemon juice and sauerkraut juice is being used instead.

During the 17th Century, pottage's dominant position on the dining tables of Britain came under threat from a number of directions. First, a craze for cereal puddings baked in cloth and a new vogue for boiled and buttered vegetable side dishes enabled people to start getting their vitamins from other sources. Still, more worry was the growing popularity of a demonic new invention — the table fork. Before, food had needed to be spoonable by default. Now, this was no longer the case and all kinds of rival foods began to emerge. But just when soup was on its way out, a new thinner type of pottage became fashionable, saving the day. Borrowed from France, it had acquired the name "Soup" from the practice of placing a "sop" of bread in the bottom of bowls of pottage to soak up the juices.

The following century saw two momentous developments. The first was the invention of the first primitive stock cubes, like the "portable soup" Captain Cook took with him on his round the world voyage of 1772. Made by evaporating clarified broth until it reached the consistency of glue, it could be kept for years. Still more important, particularly from the Soup Works point of view, was the opening of Monsieur Boulanger's soup shop in Paris in 1765. This August establishment was nothing less than the world's first restaurant, and it only sold soup. The name derived from a sign hanging above the door, which read, "Boulanger vend les restaurants magiques" (Boulanger sells magic restoratives). I am sure it was referring to the power of the soup to restore your body energy. As they say, what goes around comes around.

The next big events in the history of soup were the inventions of ways of canning and powdering the stuff, both perfected by the turn of this century. These new technologies may not have done much for the palate, but they certainly made for convenience. Some of the manufactur-

- Borscht
- Ingredients
6 cups water
3/4 tablespoon salt
1/2 cup finely chopped carrots
1/4 cup chopped green bell pepper, divided
1/2 stalk celery, chopped
1 medium beet
1/2 cup diced tomatoes
3 potatoes, quartered
1/3 cup margarine
3 cups finely shredded cabbage
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
3/4 cup diced potatoes
1/4 cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon dried dill weed
Ground black pepper to taste

In a large pot over high heat combine the water, salt, carrots, green bell pepper, celery, beet, 1/2-cup tomatoes and the potatoes. Bring to a boil.

Meanwhile, in a separate skillet over medium heat, melt the butter and sauté the onions in the butter for five minutes. Add the 1 1/2 cups tomatoes, reduce heat to medium low and let simmer for 15 minutes. Take out 1/2 cup of this sauce and reserve for later. Add half the cabbage to the sauce and continue to simmer.

Discard beet from boiling mixture. Remove potatoes from pot. Mash and add 1 tablespoon butter and the cream. Mix well and set aside.

Add the 1/2 cup of reserved onion-tomato sauce to stock. Also add the diced potatoes. When diced potatoes are tender add remainder of cabbage (1 1/2 cups). Bring to the boiling point, but do not boil. Put tomato sauce mixture from frying pan into pot. Add mashed potato mixture. Add green pepper and a few shakes of black pepper.

- Cabbage Patch Soup
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
3 tablespoons bacon bits
1 onion, chopped

- 1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
3 (14.5 ounce) cans chicken broth
2 cups shredded cabbage
1 cup sliced carrots
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 bay leaf
1 cup frozen green peas
3/4 cup sour cream

Heat the oil in a large saucepan over medium heat. Sauté the bacon bits and onion in the oil for about five minutes, or until onion is tender. Stir in the flour to coat well, then quickly pour in the chicken broth. Stir constantly for 3 minutes, or until somewhat thickened.

Next, add the cabbage, carrots, salt, ground black pepper and bay leaf. Reduce heat to low and simmer for 90 minutes. Stir in the peas and sour cream one minute before serving. Allow heating through and remove bay leaf.

Crooms Academy Principal Connie Collins informed a group of Sanford citizens of the need for students to get their applications in by Dec. 19, 2000, if they wish to attend the new magnet school, Crooms Academy of Information Technology. The school will provide its students with a wide-range of educational choices. They will be able to graduate with a regular high school diploma, and every student will have the opportunity to select from a wide variety of industrial certifications, including Cisco and Microsoft. Every student will develop an electronic portfolio and produce a Senior Capstone Project Summary.

The Crooms Academy Technology Magnet school will provide both teaching and learning through a technology enriched academic environment that will be in demand by colleges or the technology labor market. Enrollment is now now, so call Crooms Academy at 407-320-5750 or Choices at 407-320-0458. Applications are available at Crooms, located at 2200 W. 13th St. in Sanford. The deadline again is Dec. 19.

There are flexible classes, from morning to late evenings and participate in summer or on-the-job training and internships, job-shadowing experiences. Call now!
