FIRST DEVELOPMENT TODAY IN WALL STREET SUSPENSION BY NEW YORK CURB MARKET

BENJAMIN ALEXANDER IS EXPELLED AND MORLEY WAS SUSPENDED

ALEXANDER WITH The House of Schneck and Many Houses Will Close Their Doors

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 21.—The first development in Wall Street today was suspension for a year by New York curb market of one member and expulsion of another. Benjamin Alexander was the member expelled. A. B. Mobley of A. M. Mobley and Company was suspended. Alexander was expelled for "act inconsistent with curbs principles of trading." Mobley was suspended for "act detrimental to the best interests of the exchange." Alexander was connected with the house of J. Schneck.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Definite steps to close the doors of many stock brokerage houses, against which complaints have been received, will be taken in the supreme court today. It was announced last night by Deputy Attorney General John Dwyer. Injunctions against various brokers will be asked, he said.

Mr. Dwyer said he would act under the Martin act, passed recently by the state legislature which authorized the attorney general to investigate brokers and suspend them by injunction in case fraudulent practices were disclosed. The deputy attorney general has been conducting his investigation quietly since the passage of the bill, he said.

Dwyer refused to name the brokers against whom he would ask injunctions or to tell the number that would come under his fire.

Conferences were held yesterday with representatives of the New York Stock Exchange, the Consolidated Stock Exchange and the Curb Market. Mr. Dwyer said nine out of every ten brokers under investigation by his office had refused to sign waivers of immunity. The exchanges had passed resolutions requiring their members to submit to examination by the attorney general but these resolutions were criticized recently by District Attorney Banon as having no "teeth" in them. Mr. Dwyer said he was loath to continue his investigation unless the brokers could be made to sign waivers.

As for that matter, however, President Harding hopes to cut some ice on routes before he gets to Alaska.—Associated Standard.

Mortgage Loan Co. Has Great Success in Selling the Stock

AND NOW HAVE MONEY FOR BUILDING AND SMALL LOANS.

Officers of the Sanford Mortgage Loan Company state that as a result of the rapid progress made in disposing of the unsold portion of their capital stock, the company is now in a position to furnish funds in considerable amounts for local home building operations. It is stated they are also prepared to handle a large volume of small loans through their department maintained for the purpose of financing those in need of immediate funds.

From the foregoing and judging by street corner conversation, it is evident that the people of Sanford and Seminole county have awakened to the need which has so long existed here for a strong home-building and financing corporation, of this character.

There are always surplus funds available here for investment in sound home enterprises offered by local men. On the other hand the people of Sanford and Seminole county have the reputation of being slow to interest themselves in outside or foreign investments which do not contribute to the development of their own community and in which their funds are controlled by strangers of unknown integrity and ability.

Plan Construction of Drainage Canals

Work in the Melbourne-Tillman Drainage District Will Begin Within Sixty Days.

JACKSONVILLE, June 21.—Actual construction of canals in the Melbourne-Tillman drainage district will begin within sixty days, George B. Hills, chief engineer for the project, and A. J. Shea of Memphis, representing the canal construction company, contractors, announced yesterday.

The board of supervisors of the district returned this week from Toledo and Chicago, where the $1,850,000 bond issue with which the district is to be financed were sold. Members of the board of supervisors are W. G. Tamm, president; Ernest H. Every, secretary; F. C. Powell and F. L. Hills.

Sixty-three thousand acres of land lying between Melbourne and the headwaters of the St. Johns river are to be drained. Dredges and other mechanical equipment of the Canal Construction Company are now in transit, and construction operations are to begin within thirty to sixty days.

Mr. Shea is in Jacksonville consulting with Engineer Hills of the George B. Hills Company relative to the work, and they are anticipating completion within record time. Mr. Shea has recently visited the district to be drained and preliminary work on the grounds has been completed. The plot to be drained has been surveyed and the canal routes laid off.

Attention is called to the fact that the contract for the drainage of 66,000 acres is the largest ever let in Florida, and, probably, one of the largest in the United States. Contracts for the North St. Lucie river drainage district, although covering a greater acreage, were let in sections. The Canal Construction Company also was in charge of this work.

Proceedings relative to the voting and issuance of the bond issue were validated by a special local bill passed at the recent session of the Florida legislature, and the sale of the bonds completes preparations for the actual construction.

When they see by wireless, as a scientist predicts, what will become of the nice old business conference held around the "kitty"?—New York Sun and Globe.

Labor League is Now Political Voice of Oklahoma People

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 21.—The Farmer-Labor Reconstruction League stood strongly entrenched today as "the political voice" of Oklahoma's Farmer Labor movement, following a conference here of the executives of the principal farm and union labor organizations of the state, who met at the call of Gov. J. C. Walton.

A suggestion from the governor that the executives constitute a non-partisan "council of 12" to direct the farmer-labor movement was side-stepped when a majority of the invited guests made it plain that their allegiance lay with the Reconstruction League as the political organization of the organized toilers of the farms and cities. In a statement issued at the conclusion of the conference it was pointed out no organization was formed and that those attending the conference had no mandate from their organizations to take any action.

The executives of the Commodity Marketing Association present were prohibited from affiliating with other than co-operative marketing associations, the statement declared. Six of the eleven officials present reiterated allegiance to the Reconstruction League, however. Resolutions asked that every farmer in the state become a member of the co-operative marketing association as well as "some class organization of farmers as some laboring men join trade unions to make their force felt."

SAVANNAH IS QUIET TODAY AFTER RIOT

(By The Associated Press)
SAVANNAH, June 21.—This city was quiet last night, with state troops guarding the Chatham county jail where early yesterday an unsuccessful attempt was made to take Walter Lee, negro, charged with attacking a young married white woman in West Savannah.

Following the issuance of a proclamation by Governor Hardwick of Atlanta, declaring Savannah in a state of insurrection, Brig. Gen. R. J. Travis, commanding officer of the 118th field artillery, was designated by Adjutant General Lewis T. Pope, to take charge of the situation here. As a result of a conference between General Travis and Mayor Seabrook, it was decided to keep the soldiers on duty, probably for several days.

It was stated that General Travis has approximately 45 officers and 325 men under his command here, and it is not considered probable that other troops will be asked in the emergency.

Orders were issued early in the day prohibiting the sale of all fire arms in the city, automobiles were forbidden to use Habersham street, in the vicinity of the jail, and no gatherings were permitted on the streets. Around the jail itself, temporary breastworks have been built by the soldiers, behind which are mounted several machine guns.

Charles Matthews Killed by West Palm Beach Officer

A wire received here early this morning by A. J. Lossing stated that C. A. Matthews had died in that city but no particulars were given other than he was an Odd Fellow and the lodge there wanted to know about him. Later dispatches gave the name as Walter Matthews and said:

"Walter A. Matthews, until three weeks ago a plain-clothes man on the West Palm Beach police force last night was shot and killed by Police Sergeant H. L. Stubbs, when, according to witnesses Matthews reached to his hip pocket as if to draw a gun, when he was asked to get out of an automobile and submit to arrest. Four shots were fired by Stubbs.

"Complaint had been made against Matthews that he had assaulted D. W. Maddox, of 516 Polinetta street and Motorcycle Policeman Warden who sought Matthews to arrest him. Stubbs joined Warden on Banhan St. where Matthews was found seated in an automobile with two friends.

"Matthews is said to have refused to get out of the car at the command of Warden. Warden then requested Stubbs to go to the other side of the car and as Warden opened the door on the side near him to pull Matthews out, as he explained it, witnesses say that Matthews leaned back and made a threatening motion to his pocket whereupon Stubbs fired four shots. Three of the shots took effect in Matthews' stomach. After a slight pause, witnesses say, according to the police, Stubbs fired a fourth shot, which struck Matthews' right hand.

"Matthews gasped, police say, remarked "that's all right," and fell back dead."

If the Walter Matthews is Charles Matthews, formerly of this city, he was well known here where he served for some time on the police force and was in the real estate business and other lines. He resided here for several years and at one time was an employee of the Atlantic Coast Line.

Governor Hardee Will Take Vacation After Arduous Duties

MAY GO TO MINNEAPOLIS AND COME BACK BY WAY OF GREEK RIVER.

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., June 21.—Governor Hardee has returned his thoughts to the matter of summer vacation but that is about as far as he has gotten. He has made up his mind yet as to either the destination or the time. Of the former, Prof. L. B. Edwards, his secretary, thins the mountains of North Carolina, with promise of trout darning about in clear, cooling streams, would do him good. The executive spent his "two weeks" last summer with Mrs. Hardee at Clearwater Beach, but it is believed his contemplations run in other directions for this summer's outing.

He plans to leave here the latter part of this week, probably Saturday for quite a little trip that has for its primary purpose the delivering of an address June 27 in Chicago at the international convention of the Moose organization. Governor Hardee, according to the program of the meeting, will also assist officials of that organization in presenting the report of the progress and management of the home for the aged established last year near Jacksonville and called Moose Haven.

He plans to stop either going or coming, at Atlanta to visit his sister and while there will probably take a peek in at the Georgia legislature which will be in session, and which according to advance notices will be trying to abolish its tax equalizer. In that event, Florida's chief executive could tell them how it is NOT done, if he chose to do so. He also plans to visit his other sister living in Minneapolis before his return home. Altogether, it is expected he will be absent from the capital 10 days or maybe two weeks.

Chaplin's "Pilgrim" Proves a Riot at Pre-View

The vociferous evidences of approval on the part of two unsuspecting audiences—one on the Atlantic and the other on the Pacific coast—left no doubt in the minds of reviewers present that "The Pilgrim," the First National attraction that will be shown again tonight at the Princess Theatre for the last time will be a close rival of "The Kid" for first honors among all of Charles Chaplin's productions.

In theatrical parlance, "The Pilgrim" was given unannounced previews recently at the Gotham Theatre, New York, and at another theatre in Los Angeles to "try it on the dog." More than 2,000 persons saw it at the Gotham. The spontaneous enthusiasm with which it was received in the East and West indicated that Chaplin had turned out a new classic.

"The Pilgrim," in which Chaplin plays the role of an escaped convict who, much against his will, is forced to pose as a preacher, is in feature length, being four reels, and, it is claimed, that story, direction, acting and comedy elements life it far above anything yet made in the comedy line for the screen.

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT ANNOUNCE COURSE TO BE PURSUED

SHIPS TO TEST

New Ruling and Will Have the Liquor Under Seal Going and Coming

(By The Associated Press)
SOUTHAMPTON, June 21.—A showdown over the question of whether British ships can satisfy the first of their passengers on trips from dry America to wet England, therefore seems likely to come sooner than had been expected. The first challenge will probably be thrown down tomorrow when Berengaria is due to pass statue Liberty.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Plans of customs authorities for meeting the challenge by the Cunard line of treas- ury department's ship liquor ruling by bringing it on the Berengaria to- morrow under governmental seal liquor for use on the return trip were concealed behind close drawn curtain of silence today. Collector Eiting was officially "out" to callers and Assistant Collector Stuart was reported in important conference and was be- lieved to be in touch with Washing- ton. A big official, who refused to be quoted, said his idea was liquor should be seized but that "nobody could tell what would happen next in prohibition mixup."

(By The Associated Press)
SOUTHAMPTON, June 21.—The Cunard liner Berengaria, which sailed for New York last Saturday, carried sufficient alcoholic liquor for her return voyage under same lock and seal as that employed by the White Star liner Olympic, which sailed yesterday, it was learned today.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Actual entry into American territorial waters of foreign ships with sealed stores of beverage liquor aboard probably will be awaited by the United States government before announcement is made to any course to be taken on its part. New development in the liquor tangle is the apparent determination by some foreign schooners to test the strength of the ruling.

It was stated officially that a series of conferences undoubtedly would be held before Secretary Mellon leaves Saturday for an extended trip to Europe. Both Mr. Mellon and Secretary Hughes are out of the city, but are expected to be back here today.

In the absence of the secretaries, the subordinates were reluctant to discuss the plans of the White Star liner Olympic and the French ship Paris and Rochambeau, to bring sealed liquor stores into New York harbor. Many speculative suggestions were put forward and interest in the whole situation again became keen for it was generally recognized that the action of the foreign shipping interests undoubtedly would bring matters to a head.

Treasury officials said they did not expect a policy could be framed in advance of Secretary Mellon's departure for Europe.

It was pointed out, however, that there is ground for belief that the American government could seize such beverage liquors as its agents might find aboard foreign vessels inside the three mile limit.

On the other hand, some officials at the treasury were in a quandary as to what would be the outcome if an American agent broke an official seal of a foreign government such as protect the special stores of the Olympic.

NEW YORK, June 21.—"In my opinion," said this official, "only proper thing to do is to search Berengaria and seize any liquor found aboard not required for medical purposes. Do not know whether the state department has taken cognizance of situation and recommended some course in interests of international comity."

LAW FAVORS BOOTLEGGERS.

Says the Lakeland Star-Telegram: "That was a pretty slick one the liquor forces pulled in the last session when they had the new search warrant law passed. It was hard enough for the enforcement officers as it was and now there is not much use to make the attempt. It is going to do one thing, however, and that is make the hauling of liquor by night and transferring it from place to place in the dark a regular professional business as automobiles will become regular high class traveling saloons. Where was the temperance organization while this law was being slipped through the legislature?"

A GREAT SECTION.

"The Tampa Sunday Tribune's development section this week is an interesting display of Seminole County's present and possible productivity and attractiveness. Sanford with 3,000 acres of truck land developed is the world's largest celery shipping point and the world's largest initial icing point. When they develop the other 1,000 acres of the same soil that are waiting thereabouts we'll have to go to some big planet than the earth it seems to find proper comparisons."—Tavares Citizen.

The showing of Seminole County's resources and of the remarkable trucking development in the vicinity of Sanford as made in the Tribune development-section has proved an eye-opener to thousands of readers, who had no idea that Florida contained a town entitled to rank as the greatest celery shipping point and the largest initial icing point in the entire world.

The facts about Sanford and Seminole County as brought out by the Tribune are calling for general comment and they are merely a part of the extensive and systematic program of this paper for bringing the advantages and resources of all Florida to the attention of the outside world.—Tampa Tribune.

We fail to see why the big howl about the Leviathan being fitted out and given a trial trip to the Bermudas. To our notion it is the finest bit of advertising that the American Shipping Board has had in many moons. Are the two parties composed of men so unpatriotic that they do not want to see a good ship like the Leviathan fitted out and launched and give the proper publicity?

"A REAL MAN."

Under the above heading, the Apopka Chief prints an interesting editorial sketch of Hon. Charles D. Haines, of Altamonte Springs, one of the notable men from other states who have located in Florida, and who are contributing so largely to the growth and prosperity of the state. The Chief says:

"The Chief today prints on its first page a fine picture of one of its family of readers and friends—Former Representative in Congress Charles D. Haines, of Altamonte Springs, one whose hospitality the people of Apopka have enjoyed on more than one occasion. Frequently it has been their privilege to journey to the snug little theater on his fine estate and enjoy entertainment there provided, always free to all, and usually prepared for neighboring communities. This sort of genuine community service, unique in its way, has caused all the people herabouts to look upon Congressman Haines as their friend and benefactor, even though they have never come to know him personally. His big estate is just over the Orange county line, in Seminole county, and so Apopka is not only proud to call him friend, but neighbor. And this feeling is characteristic of all Florida, for he is one of the state's biggest men, who has deemed to put aside the highest political honors that he might serve his fellowman in a manner that has seemed to him most fitting.

"Accompanying the picture on our first page today is a simple story of this man's life. It tells how he made his own way in the world until he came to be a builder of railroads and other public enterprises, how he became master of finance, a banker and a national figure of great prominence along many lines. He could have been a candidate, had he said the word for the highest office within the gift of the American people. He probably could be the candidate of the Democratic party next year for Vice-President if he would let his friends have their way. He is not likely to do this, much as his Florida friends and others throughout the nation might wish it. Congressman Haines is a man of unusual parts, clean as a hound's tooth, Godfearing, courteous, generous to a fault, always cheerfully giving aid to every worthy cause, a loyal, cultured, high-minded big American. Is it any wonder that Florida is proud of him and that the Chief is proud to number him as a member of its tribe?"

"Just at present the people of South Florida are reaching out to this man who does things, and who, like the Master, spends himself in the service of others, asking his aid in the movement to nationalize the development of the Everglades. He endeared himself to them the other day when he journeyed to Moore Haven and delivered a brilliant address before the Chamber of Commerce in which he pledged to give personal effort to the movement to gain Federal aid in opening up what he termed a 'huge mine of diamonds which will enrich the state and nation.' At the conclusion of the meeting the Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously to tender Congressman Haines the leadership in this movement, but he modestly declined, declaring that he preferred to work as a private in the ranks, but agreeing to go to Washington at the next session of Congress and use his personal influence to the desired end.

"Of late years Mr. Haines has devoted much of his time, energy and money, to that great American-Protestant organization known as The Pilgrims, of which he is the supreme head. He has seen the danger to American institutions and the government itself in the avalanche of foreign-inspired propaganda directed against a Protestant America, and he has thrown himself into the leadership of a wonderful movement calculated to curb the activities of these enemies of our public schools and our religion. In a recent issue of the Chief we told something of this work and published a brief note of warning recently addressed by Congressman Haines to his fellow countrymen on this question. We republish this address today, in connection with the sketch referred to in the foregoing, in order that our readers, now that they know more of the man who stands in the breach between the Anti-Christ element and Christian America, may pursue it again.

"Once more, we rejoice that Charles D. Haines is a citizen of Florida and that he is our neighbor and friend."

ELECTRICAL POWER AVAILABLE

In an address at the commencement exercises of Lehigh university recently William S. Murray, chairman of the super power survey commission of the United States geological survey, the waste of coal where electrical power, secured through the use of great water courses, could be used, was deplored. Mr. Murray depicted a new era in which electrical power will be distributed from great central companies for the various uses of industry and utility in this country. Mr. Murray, emphatic in his protest against government ownership and operation of utilities of this or other kinds, is quoted as having said:

"God protect the prosperity of our country if we do not fight to the last drop of our blood these political propagandists who, under the guise of that misleading term 'public ownership' or 'power at cost,' advocate that we turn over the electric utilities of the nation to the government. Government was never meant to own or operate or to control business. The fourth stage of electric utility expansion is ahead. The electric utilities will go out of the power production business and receive wholesale electric energy from the great power companies which will be entirely outside of their corporate existence, thus leaving the function of the electric utilities only to distribute the energy so received to the customers within their franchised territorial limits."

Mr. Murray believes that the force wasted in the St. Lawrence and Niagara rivers equals more than one hundred and fifty million tons of coal, and his ideas of harnessing the big streams and supply the "super power section" with electric energy are interesting. The super power zone is explained to mean territory between Boston and Washington and inland from the coast one hundred and fifty miles. The section mentioned is always interested in saving coal—more so than some other sections of the country, but everywhere there is demand for power at low rates.

The South needs hydro-electric power to develop her industries and while lacking some of the force of the rivers mentioned has possibilities unmeasured as yet. Slowly the opportunity offered in sections where bold streams could be harnessed to produce electricity is being exploited. The South does not demand the great amount of coal that is required for heating and industrial and other purposes in the North, but coal is higher—and the expense of getting it hampers progress in industry at least to a degree.

Florida has an enormous amount of water power going to waste at this time and industries hesitating to embark in this state because of the high cost of power. Some day the enterprising and ambitious will win over sufficient capital to harness more of our bold streams, and with offers of hydro-electricity at low cost there will be factories and shops springing up here and there. It is merely a matter of time when this feature of our resources will be appreciated.—Times-Union.

And the Ocklawha river and the Econlockhatchee Creek are all right for water power for this part of Florida.

Old Mount Aetna has buried eleven towns says late dispatches. Wish we could hire the old girl to bury some of the mistakes we see walking round various cities at various times kicking about everything under the sun.

ADVERTISE THE STATE OF FLORIDA.

When the Sanford Kiwanians came home from the national meeting at Atlanta they said the one thing that stood out above all others at the convention was the manner in which California people advertised California—not by cities or sections but the whole state stood together. It was not Los Angeles or San Francisco or Sacramento but CALIFORNIA. The Shriners in Washington found the same thing and we suppose our Rotarians at St. Louis will see the same thing demonstrated and will bring back the same story. It is time that Florida advertised FLORIDA and not Sanford or Orlando, or Jacksonville or Tampa. The Jacksonville Journal says:

"Californians Inc., the organization formed for the purpose of advertising California, completes its first year of advertising this month. It has been so successful already that other states are preparing to follow the example. There is now a Georgians Inc., launched to promote the industrial development of Georgia. Washington, Oregon, Utah and Colorado are said to be studying the Californians' movement with particular interest.

"According to railroad officials, a 20 per cent increase in tourist travel during the winter months and record-breaking travel to California already under way for the summer are largely attributable to the advertising of the organization. More than 115,000 inquiries have been made in response to its attractive publicity. The number is expected to reach 140,000 this month.

"All of which shows that good advertising brings results. There is another fact to be considered by the advertiser. Profit from such a campaign will be in proportion to ability to back up ads with all the good things promised.

"What an opportunity for a Floridian Inc.!

"What state can gain more by advertising the state as a whole?"

"We produce better oranges than California, and yet at the Shrine convention in Washington, D. C., it was the California orange that received the advertising.

"California gave away six or seven carloads of oranges, each bearing a wrapper labeled California. California had an entire floor in a leading hotel to carry on their advertising. They brought sixteen beautiful young women stenographers to mail to any address requested a beautiful book on California.

"Floridians did their advertising by yuppies. They have their rivalries in California, too, the various cities in that state. But when it comes to national advertising, they forget rivalries. They boost for California as a whole, and their advertising gets the results. It isn't scattered shot. It has big buying effect.

"It is significant that several hundred thousands visited California headquarters at the Shrine convention.

"How many outsiders visited Florida headquarters?"

"Floridians of course did a lot of good advertising at the Shrine convention. They do a lot of good advertising in many other ways.

"But it is hardly as well organized as it should be.

"We need the Floridians Inc., Inc."

ADVERTISING PAYS.

W. H. McMillan a few weeks ago placed an ad in the News giving a description of a small piece of property he had listed for sale. A few days ago he received a letter from a party in Galveston, Texas, asking about the place and a subsequent letter indicates that a sale is going to be made and that a new settler for this section has been obtained.

Advertising in real newspaper mediums brings results and sometimes from places where one may least expect it. Only a few days ago a DeLandite returning from Miami cited how big realty developments had been put over successfully in the Magic City and the main wedge used was newspaper advertising. Miami and St. Petersburg undoubtedly carry more realty advertising in their daily press than any other cities in the South and the census tells the story.—DeLand News.

"AUTO OWNERS MUST POSSESS CERTIFICATES"

That is the title of an article in the Fort Myers Press. All right. Every auto owner who has paid his 1923 license fee has his certificate. It came to him with his tag. There is nothing more due until the first of the coming year.

If one rents a house for a year at a stipulated price and the rent is paid in advance, what legal right has the owner to tell the occupant to at once pay him an additional ten per cent—or even five per cent? The man occupying the home would flout his lease in his face, and tell him precisely where to get off. The measure could not be retroactive, but it may be figured as retrograding, if the request alone. If the legislature had desired to do anything in this line the members should have made the additional thievery to begin with the commencement of the 1924 license. The law is a foolish one, and can not be enforced; and those who voted it did so on the impulse of the moment, or were gaily misled.—Palatka News.

WHERE HAPPINESS IS.

Ed Lambright, associate editor of the Tampa Tribune, is a word painter. We have just been reading a pen picture of his which makes us feel almost glad we are poor. Nothing has ever been written which we regard as more beautiful than this: "It is not likely if one were sent out to discover a perfect example of happiness he would seek it in surroundings of magnificence. And it is still more unlikely that he would find it there if he did. Towers and domes, stateliness and splendor, are not always evidence of happiness within. It does not necessarily seek the architecture of Sir Christopher Wren, nor the paintings of Michel Angelo, nor the sculpture of Phidias. It is more often found under the humble roof of the poor than in the mansion of the aristocrat, more often in the cottage of the peasant than in the palace of the king. Its home is in the heart where love is, where it is not crowded out by other things, for without love for humanity there is no happiness. The mines of the world might be robbed of their jewels, landed possessions without limit might be held, the 'applause of listening Senates' might be heard, and all the glories of pomp and circumstance be a part of one's everyday experience, yet without the greatest of all possessions, love and humility, true happiness is impossible."

What truly seems to be finding out is that while an able statesman may wear a black shirt not every black shirt contains an able statesman.—Worcester Telegram.

PIG'S SNOUT PUT TO WORK BY FARM LABOR SHORTAGE

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, June 20.—The snout of the pig has been put to work by the farm labor shortage, and the saying that everything of the pig is used but his squeal no longer holds entirely good, says the National Institute of Progressive Farming. The pig now drinks at automatic waters and manipulates self-feeders with his snout, which he formerly used to root up pastures and emit loud squeals. He need no longer root the ground or squeal when hungry, the incentive having been removed. A certain amount of time and labor also was eliminated by the more simplified way of feeding and watering. The consumer, the Institute says, benefits materially with better pork products the more general use of sanitary concrete wallows or baths and automatic hog-oilers which tend to decrease hog diseases formerly contracted in the traditional wallows. In fact the hogs readily take to the "concrete bath," in preference to the old mud paddies.

Another item which makes for a healthier and more profitable pig, says the Institute, is the more general advantage taken of the process whereby the hogs are turned into the corn fields and allowed to harvest while feeding themselves. Thousands of acres of grain are harvested in this way instead of carrying feed to penned up pigs. This also serves to reduce the farm labor problem.

Where this process is used, hogs are planted with the corn to permit the pig to harvest a balanced ration to give a finer ham sandwich to the consumer.

Definite action in the Evans case is expected Wednesday. Eleven of the fifteen members of the grand council are reported to be favoring the exonerating of the imperial wizard. Emperor Simmons and Dr. Ridley, imperial kludd, and two other members of the grand council, who are said to be insisting that the Evans administration be condemned are reported to have bolted the session shortly after its convened.

Hatching Season is Spring and Summer

HATCHING SEASON 14
 Hens Eggs Fertile Then—Decline With Mating—Other Conditions.
 By BETH W. SHOEMAKER,
 Director, The School of Agriculture,
 International Correspondence, Schools, Scranton, Pa.

In poultry the reproductive process is accomplished in two stages. The egg is first produced, developed, fertilized, within the body of the hen and laid. Then the egg is subjected to a certain temperature (100° F. or a little higher) for about twenty-one days, during which time the embryo develops and hatches out of the shell as a chick.

The process of developing the embryo within the egg by means of heat is called incubation. When this is carried on by a hen it is known as natural incubation; when incubation is accomplished by means of a machine, oven or other device it is known as artificial incubation.

Man has little control over the reproductive process in its first stages except so far as the selection of the breeders is concerned. In the second stage, however, if artificial incubation is practiced, he can, by his methods of conducting the process, greatly influence the development and future well-being of the chick.

When Fertile
 In order that eggs shall be fertile the hen that lays them must have been mated with the male. Hatchable eggs are those that are fertilized and have vitality enough to insure the production of a living chick. Eggs are usually fertile up to and including those laid the ninth day after the hens are separated from the males. Fertilization is impossible after the sexes have been separated for twelve days or more. Eggs may safely be counted as fertile after the males have been with the hens for nine days or more.

The eggs of all kinds of fowls are more apt to be fertile during the spring and early summer than at any other time. Fertility begins to decline with the commencement of molting, and during the fall and winter

One Death Followed Coal Chute Collapse at Waycross Shops

WAYCROSS, Ga., June 21.—The death of one man, a negro laborer, out of the five who were pinned beneath tons of wreckage Tuesday night when a giant coal chute fell on a locomotive tender and coal gondola at the local shops, was the outstanding fact in the cast today.

A report from the Atlantic Coast Line hospital said that Engineer Clett had undergone an operation for the amputation of his right leg at the knee, as the result of his injuries received Tuesday night in the coal chute crash at the local shops.

Charlie Bleckley, negro, is reported to have died about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Bleckley, who was the last man to be extricated from the debris of the collapsed chute, received fatal injuries. All the other victims of the unfortunate occurrence are reported to be resting as well as could be reasonably expected.

The production of fertile eggs is at the minimum. The average production occurs in January or soon after.

LOOK BEFORE YOU SWIM SAYS STATE BOARD OF HEALTH BATHE BEFORE YOU GO IN

Wear Something Over Your Ears and Avoid Any Trouble

JACKSONVILLE, June 21.—Take a general look at the old swimming hole before you plunge, adjures Geo. W. Simons, chief sanitary engineer of the state board of health, in admitting that the swimming season is here. If you go in an artificial pool common decency should cause you to take a bath first, Mr. Simons says, and if you find such a pool without the accompany shower or some means of bathing before entering the pool, you will confer a favor on the health board by letting it know.

There is another thing, too, that bathers generally omit, but which would eliminate a lot of trouble in many cases, according to Mr. Simons and that is the wearing of a head piece while in swimming. It will save many an ear infection, he declares.

"Few people stop to consider the sanitary qualities of any given bathing water," Mr. Simons says. "The average bather doesn't know or seem to care whether he is bathing in a reasonably clean and safe water or one diluted with sewage. Yet, a casual talk with a family physician or with an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist discloses that eye and ear infections and others, painful and disagreeable, make their appearance during the bathing season."

"Bathers should use those establishments operated in a cleanly manner, places whose owners or operators have some sense of cleanliness. Bathers should not tolerate filthy, unsanitary conditions in the water or its surroundings. Dirt and filth are frequently carried into the water on feet from unkempt surroundings. Every bather should have a feeling of regard for his fellow bather and not contribute uncleanness to water in any manner."

Don't stay in the water too long, Mr. Simons warns. According to him some experts place the time at 30 minutes. "That is long enough—certainly 40 minutes is ample." The state is rich in its watering places, Mr. Simons points out. The greater part of it is supplied with water from the deep underground water-bearing layers. The water in some areas is self flowing at the ground surface and in others must be raised. The deep seated waters are hard, being objectionable to the boiler operator and the house-wife, the latter, because it darkens her silver and hardens her hair. From a hygienic standpoint, however, these waters are pure and safe. A number of cities in the state have within the past few years installed softening plants, the first being installed at Daytona several years ago.

MANAGER OF VETERANS BUREAU AT LAKE CITY CONFERS WITH HINES

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—Dr. Roderick W. Brown, manager of the Veterans' Bureau hospital at Lake City is in Washington in attendance upon a conference called by Director Hines of the Veterans' Bureau for the purpose of discussing certain matters pertaining to the care and welfare of former world war men.

AVOID THESE SYMPTOMS
 "I was weak and nervous, had headaches all the time, and my back hurt so bad I could hardly stoop," writes Frank Richardson, Perry, Georgia. "Tried Foley Kidney Pills and got relief." Backache, rheumatic pains, tired feeling, dull headache, too frequent urination, discolored or strong odor are symptoms of Kidney and Bladder disorders and demand prompt treatment. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief. Refuse substitutes. Insist upon Foley's. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

A marvelous increase in distribution of Sealdsweet Florida Citrus Fruits

This season Sealdsweet Florida grapefruit and oranges have been sold in twenty-five per cent more carlot markets than last year.

Sealdsweet fruits now are distributed in twice as many carlot markets as five years ago; in several times as many as ten years ago.

This increase in our distributing capacity shows that we, the growers who cooperate in the Florida Citrus Exchange, have been fully awake to the importance of expanding markets to take care of increasing production.

First we developed consumer demand for Sealdsweet grapefruit and oranges by aggressive advertising of the food and health values—for years and years carrying on this essential educational effort altogether by ourselves.

Next we gradually enlarged our sales force to properly cover the sections of the United States wherein we found potential demand for Florida citrus fruits. Today we are in position to sell in every portion of the country which affords a profitable outlet.

All this has been accomplished in the face of destructive competition from Florida growers who market through non-cooperative channels. We have sold Sealdsweet for more money than other Florida marketing agencies got for fruits of comparable grade, pack and quality.

We regard our work as little less than marvelous in view of the facts as explained herein. Obviously, however, as the Florida crop of grapefruit and oranges increases in volume, there must be even greater progress in enlarging consumption and extending distribution.

Let us suggest a few of the many uses to you. Write for booklet. Full directions in each can. Be sure and buy only the genuine RED SEAL Lye.

Points Out Way To Exterminate Labor Troubles
(By The Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, June 20.—If employers would spend half as much time cultivating the friendship, respect and good will of labor as they do fighting labor organizations there would not be a labor problem, Sherman Rogers, of New York, today told the delegates to the fourteenth annual convention of Rotary International here.

"We waste too much time talking about the labor agitator," the speaker said. "He can only be recognized as the logical friend of the worker where the management has refused to extend its friendship."
"I was in the Seattle shipyards working as a helper in 1917 when Charles M. Schwab made his tour of the American shipbuilding institutions. We'd heard he was a labor hater.

"The first instant the great steel man looked us over it was apparent to every man in the bunch that Mr. Schwab really liked him. He stepped on that platform Charles M. Schwab, autocrat, millionaire magnate. He stepped off that platform 30 minutes later friend Charles. In that short 30 minutes he had destroyed the hatred that agitators had been building for 15 years.

"The world is built on ideals. Labor wants to be square. If labor follows the wrong leader it is not because they want to misunderstand but because the right leader has been asleep at the switch and hasn't given the men a chance to understand him.

"There are three sides to every question—your side, the other fellow's and the right side. I don't believe there was ever a question in either modern or ancient history where either side to the dispute was 100 per cent right.

"Ninety-five per cent of men, whether they wear broadcloth or overalls, want to play the game square. Lack of contact means lack of understanding.

"The employer has spent a lot of time selling his honesty, his fairness and personality to the banker, the wholesale, the retailer and the public. How much has he spent trying to sell that same personality, honesty and fairness to his workmen? Solving a labor trouble is not a mysterious affair. It is simply a proposition of using common horse sense."

PRESIDENT ORDERS
RELEASE OF SCORE FEDERAL PRISONERS

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Immediate release of more than a score of federal prisoners convicted of violating war laws, but with continued detention of almost as many more was ordered yesterday by President Harding before leaving on his western trip.

The president acted on 158 pardons, and commutation cases, a record breaking number in the opinion of department of justice officials. He granted 30 conditional and 14 unconditional commutations, one full pardon, restored civil rights to 27 former prisoners, and denied 84 applications for pardons or commutations. He also ordered remission of fines in two cases.

Life is about equally divided between wishing for something you can afford and wishing you hadn't spent so much last month.—Binghamton Sun.

DR. HYMAN VISITING IN WEST FLORIDA

Dr. George Hyman, a noted Baptist minister of Tampa, is a visitor in the city this week, leaving tomorrow with the Pensacola delegation for DeFuniak to attend the Baptist Assembly which will be held from June 20-27.

Dr. Hyman is organizing and leading the enlargement work of the First Baptist church of Tampa which is probably the largest church in the state claiming enrollment of 1,800 members. He is a Chaplain of the American Legion and was a delegate to the recent convention.

A course of lectures by Dr. Hyman will feature the program for the Baptist Assembly at DeFuniak. Sunday week, he expects to leave for Philadelphia where he will preach for Dr. Russell H. Conwell of the First Baptist church of that city, who is to be a delegate at the World Baptist Alliance to be held in Stockholm. Dr. Hyman is the guest of the San Carlos.—Pensacola Journal.

LEVIATHAN IS PERFECT
SAYS CAPT. HARTLEY

ABOARD THE STEAMSHIP LEVIATHAN, June 21.—(By Wireless to the Associated Press)—The Leviathan "is sure to be the smoothest thing afloat," it was declared last night by Captain Herbert Hartley, after the big liner had been steaming along on her trial trip to West Indian waters for more than twenty-four hours.

Despite a heavy fog that kept the skipper on the bridge for eight hours last night, he said the ship was as "perfect as if she had been running twenty years." Captain Hartley said last night's fog was so heavy he could see but one of the vessel's three towering funnels and was the thickest and wettest he had ever encountered.

Speed has been increased every ten hours. The ship started out conservatively nineteen knots an hour, but last night was sliding through the water at the rate of twenty-two knots. Tests have been made on many pieces of machinery, and thus far all were reported to have been satisfactory.

Captain Hartley, interviewed by newspaper men aboard the Leviathan, has answered all questions frankly. Last night he disclosed the fact that the ship has an unlimited mascot in the form of a black cat which turned up on deck yesterday. The creature slipped by the guards after the Leviathan sailed from Boston and was twice put off by the superstitious seamen. Casting superstition to the breeze, the crew has named the cat "Levi" (the doughboys' name for the Leviathan) and it has been accepted as a good omen.

Asked whether any more "stow-aways" were aboard, Captain Hartley said he figured "there were about 500." This reference to the guests invited by Captain Lasker of the shipping board brought laughter from the captain's listeners. Captain Hartley exchanged greetings yesterday by wireless with the chief officer of the Mauretania, but he evaded answering a question as to whether he had challenged her skipper to a speed contest. He smiled at a suggestion that he was after bigger game.

The guests have voiced high praise for the spirit of the officers and crew and their apparent pride in the reconditioned American ship. It was pointed out that one-third of the crew, including stewards, is made up of American-born citizens. Another third is composed of naturalized citizens, while the final third possesses first naturalization papers.

Captain Hartley said he expected to pass Cape Hatteras some time last night. The sea was smooth as glass.
