CADY CHARGED WITH MURDER IN 2ND DEGREE

Orlando Resident Is Released Under Bond of $25,000 and Be Arraigned in County Court Monday Morning

Case Reverts Back To County Court

Special Grand Jury Makes Its Report at Session Monday; Interest Is Shown In Case

ORLANDO, Dec. 2.—Hal D. Cady was charged with murder in the second degree in an indictment returned early Monday evening by the special grand jury investigating the death of N. B. Broward, nephew of former Governor Broward of Florida, and son of Capt. Montclair Broward of Jacksonville, who was shot and killed at the Cady home one week ago Saturday morning.

Cady's bond of $25,000 was continued, pending his arraignment before Judge T. P. Warlow, at the opening of the term of the criminal court next Monday morning.

The case now passes from the hands of State's Attorney Raymer Maguire as only first degree murder cases are tried in the circuit court before Judge C. O. Andrews, to County Solicitor W. M. Murphy Jr., for prosecution in the criminal court, the indictment being certified by the clerk of the circuit court to the clerk of the criminal court.

There was an air of hushed expectancy among the few spectators present in the courtroom when the grand jurymen filed in, Judge Andrews had been summoned to receive the indictment. States Attorney Maguire was present. Cady was represented by Attorney C. P. Dickinson, S. V. Straley, foreman of the grand jury, handed the indictment to the clerk of the court who read it while a scribe on the bench noted it while the spectators listened.

The second degree murder indictment was apparently not expected by many, but rather one of manslaughter.

The remainder of the proceedings were of rather a perfunctory character. Attorney C. P. Dickinson asked that the present bond of $25,000 be continued which was done. The jurymen dispersed and the third stage of the tragedy at the Cady home was set for the term of the criminal court next week.

The grand jury heard the same witnesses that testified before the coroner's jury. The session had opened from the postponing of the jury at 10 o'clock Monday morning until the indictment was returned shortly after 5 o'clock last evening.

Witnesses, while waiting to be called before the jury, were sequestered in a small room on the second floor, adjacent to the courtroom. Cady sat in a circle of friends until he was called to testify. A deputy sheriff and a sergeant at arms guarded the jury from intrusion. Mrs. Cady was the last witness called. She was before the grand jury for about a half hour. Policeman Cassidy, who gave somewhat damaging testimony against Cady at the coroner's inquest, was among the witnesses.

Several large bottles containing liquor and a bundle of clothes, including the bathrobe said to have been worn by Mrs. Cady on the night of the shooting, were carried into the jury room. Shortly after 1 o'clock the States Attorney Maguire emerged from the jury room, having left the conference with the grand jury.

Rights Of Humble Pedestrian Are Upheld In Supreme Court Decision

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 2.—Things are brightening up a bit for the humble pedestrian; so much so, in fact that it now appears that he actually has a right to move around from place to place over the highways of Florida, although he has to foot it. He may get bruised up a bit by some unbelieving automobilist, but if the motorist insists on doing a complete job of the affair by killing him, the spirit "of the late departed" may at least have the pleasure of hovering over the state's rock piles and watch the reckless driver "do time" for the act.

No less an authority than the State Supreme Court has come, again to the defense of the walker by affirming another lower court judgment of conviction of manslaughter where the defendant was charged with killing another by negligent driving of an automobile on a highway. The decision was in the case of Joe Shaw, plaintiff in error, vs. The State from Jackson County. Shaw knew of the presence on

OPIUM PARLEY AT GENEVA ACCEPTS PROPOSAL OF U. S.

Influence Of Man Of Straws Lost on Delegates at Conference; Question of Opium Eating Is Now Left to India

GENEVA, Dec. 2.—What Representative Stephen G. Porter, head of the American opium conference, called "the man of straws" failed to influence the delegates, who are supporting the American proposal to limit the production of opium in the India region, to the same extent as in the other six states voted in favor of reducing the vote of the United States to the level of the other states.

India asserted that Mr. Porter had gone on record last year as opposed to interference in the domestic affairs of India or any other country and that he virtually had agreed not to raise the question of India's opium eating practice at the present conference.

Mr. Porter declared he had no intention of interfering in the internal affairs of any country, but simply wanted an opportunity to present the American proposal, which had been drawn up for the good of all, before the present committee.

He insisted the United States only wanted to help in the solution of a great world evil; thus she suggested that opium production be limited to medical and scientific needs.

Discussing the situation, Mr. Porter said this evening "The man of straw put up this thing that favor interference in domestic affairs."

President Zaldy, after ruling that the American proposal clearly was within the competency of the conference, appealed for collaboration and sacrifice in the interests of humanity. The conference then ratified the presidential ruling.

Now that the agenda has been straightened out, the conference is expected to get down to serious committee work. Despite today's adverse vote, India remains in the conference, although she has filed reservations and asks for time to communicate with the ten autonomous states composing the Indian empire before discussing officially India's custom of opium eating.

CONSPIRACY OF FORBES IS TOLD BY MORTIMER

Chief Witness for State Reveals Forbes Dealings With Contractors and Splitting Profits Made on Contracts

Testimony But Half Finished on Monday

Witness Tells How He Played Part Of "Go-Between" In Division Of Big Profits

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Elias H. Mortimer, of Philadelphia and Washington, the government's chief witness in the conspiracy trial of Charles R. Forbes and John W. Thompson, charged with defrauding the government, occupied the witness stand in federal court all day Monday describing the alleged agreements between the contractors and Forbes for splitting profits of the hospitals constructed for wounded servicemen.

Mortimer was about half way through his story when court adjourned for the day.

Introduction of letters and telegrams exchanged between Mortimer and Thompson and James W. Black relating to the awarding of hospital contracts strenuously were objected to by the defense, but they were overruled. One long document, purporting to describe the plans of the Colombian syndicate, a South American development project of Thompson and Black, his business associates, and other of which Forbes was believed to be chief engineer, was withheld from the jury for examination by the defense counsel.

Mortimer testified that Black, now dead, and Thompson, offered Forbes the position as chief engineer at $100,000 a year while Forbes was head of the veterans bureau and that he accepted.

The Colombian syndicate, Mortimer testified, had hopes of land in the United States and Forbes was to help in obtaining the same from Thompson and Black and other associates.

President-elect Espina was introduced by Forbes on a visit to New York. Mortimer testified, and the contractors told Forbes to use his influence to have President Harding speak in favor of Thompson and Black when President Espina was presented to the president.

Mortimer to Get Share. The firm of Thompson and Black had retained Mortimer, he testified, for 35 per cent of the net profits they made out of veterans hospital contracts. On a trip to Atlantic City in May, 1922, Mortimer testified he told Forbes he would give him half of the 35 per cent on all contracts. Forbes gave him this sum.

Forbes was to get one-third of a $100,000 contingent fee for using his influence to get a settlement of $700,000 for Thompson in the Bremer-Godshall case pending before the court of claims. Mortimer also testified, through lesser Smith, the friend of Attorney General Daugherty.

Several preliminary conferences concerning the awarding of hospital contracts took place in New York. Mortimer testified, between Forbes, Thompson, Black and Mortimer, after which Forbes gave Mortimer a list of the sites approved by President Harding on June 6, 1922. Mortimer said he showed this to Black and Thompson, but later it was taken from the room by Col. Forbes and Mrs. Mortimer.

Trist to some of these sites in the East were described by the witness and then the meeting in the Chicago hotel June 19, 1922, was related.

Mortimer testified Forbes had approached him asking a personal loan. Mortimer said he would try and get it from Thompson and Black in negotiating the loan he testified he got $10,000 for himself, besides the $5,000 which he obtained for Forbes and gave it to him that day. Later, Mortimer testified he got an additional $5,000 from Thompson and Black, because he received for himself only $10,000 for the $15,000 note he signed to Thompson and Black.

Nearly Four Billion To Be Spent In 1926 By U.S. Government

Every Department Reduced But One

Agriculture Bureau Receives Substantial Increase Over 1925

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The cost on running the federal government to the fiscal year 1926 was fixed by President Coolidge, in the annual budget sent to Congress today, at $3,729,519,846.48, or a reduction of $59,225,931.72 from the estimated expenditures of the current year.

The estimates of six major departments or other agencies of the government—Interior, Navy, War, Treasury, Shipping Board and Veterans Bureau—were reduced in the new budget while there was only one notable increase—that for the Department of Agriculture.

Practically all of the $26,000,000 reduction in the Interior Department total was due to the smaller allotment for the Pension Bureau. That Bureau's outlay was cut from $221,616,000 for the current year to $199,116,000 for next year, largely because of the decreasing pension roll resulting from the death of pensioners.

The cut of $23,000,000 in the Navy's total was scattered over many items of expenditure, but a large part of it was due to a reduction of the fund set aside under the heading of "Increase of the Navy." It is understood supplemental estimates for needed construction will go to Congress later. The budget director's report to the President declared that under the total allowed the Navy can continue at its present enlisted strength of 40,000 men; the Marine Corps will have provision for 18,000 men instead of the present 15,000; the naval reserve force will continue on practically the present basis; it will be possible to increase the average steaming range of battleships from 19,400 miles to 23,700; two more of the submarines authorized in 1916 can be laid down; new aircraft can be purchased; and it will be possible to continue work "at a normal rate of speed on all new ships under construction within the limitation of authorized cost."

There were scattered reductions totaling $8,000,000 in the War Department's allowance, but no particular branch of the military service was singled out for reduction of appropriations. Under the total authorized the Budget Bureau declared the regular army can continue on its present basis of 12,000 officers and at an average enlisted strength of 118,000; the number of reserve officers who can be trained will remain about the same; attendance at the children's training camps must be limited to 29,000 instead of 33,000 in the current year; and the Military Bureau will be able to maintain an average strength of 173,500, a reduction of 3,500 from the present authorization. The Air Service allotment was increased from $14,900,000 for the current year to $17,000,000 during the coming year to "enable the Air Service to make reasonable progress toward cutting down its present shortage in heavier than air craft and at the same time assist in keeping alive the air-craft industry for use in times of emergency." The total fixed for rivers and harbors improvement—$59,277,990—is practically the same as for the present year.

It was the Veterans Bureau estimate that the Budget Director made his biggest cut under. The figure submitted a year ago. A net total of $79,000,000 was lopped off, in spite of increases in some departments of the Bureau's activities. The factors which more than offset these increases included a drop from $83,000,000 to $33,000,000 for vocational rehabilitation, due to the decreasing necessity for giving vocational training to men wounded in the war; a reduction from $127,800,000 set aside a year ago for possible use in bonus (Continued on page 6)

GERMANS MAY ASK FOR WAGE INCREASE SOON

Continued Rise in Price Food and Clothing Causes Unrest in Ranks of Organized Workers Who Seek Better Living Conditions in Homes

BERLIN, Dec. 1.—It is now generally conceded that the Marx-Stressmann government has been unable to do anything to reduce the cost of living. Whatever may be the cause, the tendency of prices for articles of food and clothing is a rising one.

This fact is producing great uneasiness in the ranks of organized workers. The trade unions of every political shade have decided that they will fight along the line for an increase of wages. They declare that they do this with the greatest reluctance, not only because the promised reduction of prices has not taken place.

A few examples will illustrate what the industrial worker confronts. One of the best organizations is that of the railway workers. Its members are divided into four classes, skilled, semi-skilled, unskilled, and female workers. The average hourly wages paid are: skilled, 16 cents; semi-skilled, 13 cents; unskilled, 12 cents; and women, 9 cents. Again, a skilled metal worker receives 13 cents an hour, and an unskilled female worker 7 cents.

To bring these wages into relation with the cost of living, a few typical prices may be mentioned: butter, 65 cents a pound; eggs, 6 cents each; bread, 12 1/2 cents a loaf; sugar, 9 cents a pound; beef, 23 cents a pound; flour, 7 cents a pound.

This means that a skilled railway worker must work for four hours, or almost half a work-day, to be able to purchase a pound of butter. A female worker must work over seven hours for the same privilege. These figures do not take into account rent, light, heat, clothing, recreation, or the education of the worker's children. It is not difficult to perceive that many workers are absolutely unable to make both ends meet.

The struggle for higher wages will probably be carried out first in the railway industry.

The government hopes to be able to do something at the eleventh hour. It expects to raise the tax burden on at least one-third of the articles of food now prevented from importation. It will restrict the restrictions on foreign exchange in the hope that thereby money will become easier. It hopes, too, that two natural factors will operate in its favor. One, the fact that the potato crop this year is not of a kind that will make cornering or hoarding possible; the other, that the grain will have to be thrown upon the market rather hurriedly, because the most weather of the harvest weeks will make it impossible to hold back grain long for speculative purposes.

$300,000 Is Ready To Be Loaned on Sanford Improved Real Estate

The sum of $300,000 is available for loans on improved real estate in Sanford, according to information given by J. H. Jackson of this city who represents three firms which have furnished the money to lend to local property owners. Loans will be made on residences, business blocks and any kind of improved properties, Mr. Jackson stated. The Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company of Greenboro, N. C., the Calvert Mortgage Company of Baltimore and the Mortgage and Securities Company of New Orleans, the three corporations which Mr. Jackson represents, are ready to make loans in any amounts from $1,000 to $100,000 in periods from three to 10 years, he further said. Action of the three firms to make this money available for use here, comes as an indication of their faith in Sanford, he said. He said that Sanford will have a population of 30,000 by 1930, which is pressed by Mr. Jackson, who further stated there is every indication that the city will have a tremendous growth during the next five years.

WEEKS STRESSES IMPORTANCE OF ASSISTING ARMY

"Our entire effort since 1920 has been to apply the principles and provisions of the national defense act in such a way that we shall have more than a mere paper army, more than the imaginary organizations upon which the United States has always previously depended for its security. We should have major emergencies arise. "If future emergencies come to the United States, we shall have to create virtually our entire force after the declaration of war, which will be a tremendous task, however well conceived. Probably in no other army in the world, consequently, is it so important as in ours that organization, material, equipment, training, plans, and mobilization projects should be as simple as possible.

JACQUELINE LOGAN IN BLACK TWILL FROCK, TRIMMED IN ERMINE

THAT now the popular ensemble suit has been something very elaborate—with blouse or brocade, trimmed in fur, and combined with plaid, but rich materials; or exquisitely embroidered and headed blouse, with handsome plain material for the dress and drop and coat.

Or else the ensemble suit has gone to the other extreme, and found itself worked out in tweeds and other sports materials. In-between sort of thing—neither too formal, nor too informal—the ensemble suit of plaid and plain material is shown in the sketch above. The frock has a body of plaid, with a border top and bottom, and a panel down the center of plain goods. This same plaid goods fashions the cloak, and the plaid idea is carried out in the cloak by a broad strip at the bottom of the lining. This strip shows when the coat is opened even the slightest bit, when walking, or when worn loosely and unfastened at the restaurant or other places for indoor public gatherings.

Plaid has been a hard thing to manage. So often a frock wholly of plaid is too much of a good thing. And if the frock is a plaid and plain combination, it so often doesn't "go" with anything else. But when such a frock is complemented by a matching coat—the result is very satisfying and harmonious.

Over-plaids, in the wood shades, or in the grays, combined with beige-colored plain cloth and beaver fur, or black cloth and seal or squirrel fur, are very smart. Colorful Scotch plaids combined with deep greens or reds, matching a shade in the plaid itself, are most attractive.

Jacqueline Logan has selected one of these combinations to wear in Richard Dix's Paramount picture, "A Man Must Live." The plaid photographs well and is very becoming.

Another dress that she wears in this picture is the frock in which she is photographed above. This frock is all smartness. It has the newest short-length skirt, it is black with a black sateu drape; it is trimmed with black and bright red buttons. The accompanying hat is a small black felt cloche, trimmed with the fashionable brush at the side.

The hat that Miss Logan wears with her plaid and plain outfit is shown above. It is adapted from a French model a Rebourt. It is of black silk and has a new Tyrolan crown which is to be seen so much the coming year, we are told.

Much To Learn About Trees

Persons setting out trees for ornamental purposes will do well to ask the advice of a reliable horticulturist. Often a small tree with limbs branching near the ground is selected.

Write Them A "Thank You" Letter

It would be interesting to know to what extent appreciation is felt for well-kept store windows. The store, of course, that has attractive displays in its windows is a progressive store in other ways as well.

But how much appreciation does the buying public EXPRESS for the pretty windows? How often does the regular customer take time to praise the good looks of a window or a store?

Occasionally one sees dusty, shabby store-windows, heaped up with an accumulation of stuff that many suns have faded and the grime of many days have marred.

The dirty window and its hodge-podge display detracts not only from the attractiveness of the store to which it belongs, but it detracts from the good appearance of the street it looks out upon.

But as far as the other way, does the well-kept show window benefit a street and a town. Every morning when the up-to-date merchant dresses his windows, making them beautiful or unique, the day's business is improved for all his neighbors.

Sanford has some beautiful show windows. Some organization should write a thank you letter to the merchants who are adding so much to the good appearance of their city.

TAMPA TIMES

New York, Dec. 2.—A man in Port Washington, N. Y., who wants a federal law to prohibit the sale of Christmas trees, has been arrested.

Who but a dull-witted, stupid, ill-informed sentimentalist would have the country enter a League of scheming, selfish nations that would use this country to make themselves and their agents sons of a bitch?

They did that once when they agreed to give a grant of state lands to the U. S. to be used to destroy our battle ship and to weaken the nation by leaving our coast unprotected.

That is not all they ought to be doing but to give us a grant of state lands to be used to destroy our battle ship and to weaken the nation by leaving our coast unprotected.

FOURTY-NINE FOR THE YEAR. President Coolidge lives in this period, not in that of the Spanish War. His mind is not in the same state as it was in 1917.

It is his own indifference, his indifference to the preparation of his own mind, that has led to this state of affairs.

Natural and artificial methods of tree planting are being used in the United States. The artificial method is the use of electric light to stimulate the growth of the trees.

A LAWYER has been arrested in New York for trying to prevent the sale of Christmas trees. He is charged with trying to prevent the sale of Christmas trees.

IT WAS A terrible blow to the New York State family that the law was passed. The law was passed by the New York State Legislature.

IF MONEY were wisely used, it could perform a great service in the United States. It could be used to improve the education of our children.

FOR A few years past the use of electric light to stimulate the development of various plants has been known to American agricultural scientists.

Rollins College To Be Represented At College Gathering

WINTER PARK, Fla., Dec. 2.—Rollins College will be represented at the Twenty-Sixth annual meeting of the Association of Colleges and Secondary of the Southern States by President Weir who will leave Monday for Memphis where the meeting will be held. He will be accompanied by Supt. Sexton Johnson of Orlando, who is a member of one of the important committees of the Association, and by President Murphree of the University of Florida, who is a member of the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education.

President Weir will attend the meeting in support of the application of Rollins College for membership in the Association, which was filed four years ago. Before leaving the campus President Weir stated that according to his interpretations of the requirements of the Association Rollins College more than fulfills the regulations. The income producing endowment has gone considerably over the half million dollar mark and new equipment has been added to the library and laboratories so that the general assets of Rollins compare very favorably with the best institutions of higher learning in the South.

War Against Locusts Carried To Enemy's Home In Desert

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Dec. 2.—An expedition into the Kalahari desert has been organized by the South African government to discover the breeding places of the locusts that come forth in the summer and swarm over the farms of South Africa, destroying everything in their wake. It is hoped eventually to send a small army into this desert armed with sprayers and all the necessary equipment for killing the pest.

Some members of the expedition visited the kraal of the Barokene tribe, 200 miles within the desert, and were received by the native chief and his wife, both dressed in the European fashion and speaking English.

Among these natives they found a group of some 50 white men and women serving in menial capacities. They are the descendants of nomadic forerunners who trekked adventurously from the Cape, only to settle among the Barokene natives, whose workmen to all intents and purposes they have become.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY

To the Excellent High Priest and Companions of Monroe Chapter, No. 15, Royal Arch Masons.
Dear Companions:
Again the Supreme High Priest has called to one of our number to "come up higher". Again a place in our ranks has been vacated by Divine Command. Our beloved companion, Schelle Malnes, has answered the roll call from above. "His work was not finished, but his column is broken. His death was untimely and his brethren mourn." "We shall meet but we shall miss him. There will be one vacant chair," yet his genial smile and cheerful greeting comes back to us from the "shining shore," ever beckoning us onward in the path of duty and service. His conscientious life will ever be an object lesson to those who really knew Schelle as he was.
To his bereaved wife and family our hearts go out in deepest sympathy and we commend them to the loving care of our Great High Priest above.
Therefore, be it resolved, that a copy of this resolution be spread upon our minutes, a copy published in the Sanford Herald and a copy be sent to the family of our lamented companion.
Respectfully submitted,
L. R. PHILIPS,
W. M. HAYNES,
D. S. BABBITT,
Committee.
