Louie Says Daugherty Morally Responsible for J. Smith's Suicide

Daugherty Investigating Committee Decides: Testimony Regarding F. J. Smith Who Made $55,000,000 in Five Days on Oil Stock is Irrelevant and Should Not Be Passed Further at Present.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—Louie Blinn was sworn in before the Senate committee by Paul Howland, Daugherty's attorney, and with an assertion that Daugherty was morally responsible for J. Smith's suicide. The committee then turned to the public sale of oil stock, which had netted $55,000,000 in five days on oil stock as a matter irrelevant to the subject matter.

Investigation into the administration of Attorney General Daugherty was continued on Wednesday. The committee, which had a hearing on the public sale of oil stock, which had netted $55,000,000 in five days on oil stock as a matter irrelevant to the subject matter.

The wire messages, some of them trivial and others obscure in nature and references, were signed by persons whose names in some cases have been heard, and in others unheard, during the trial of the $55,000,000 deal. Miss Stinson said she had been told by J. Smith, to whom she ascribed the statements that he and Mr. Daugherty were "in" because they were not "in on it."

Summed up, Miss Stinson's account drawn out by senators, was that Smith came to Washington with perhaps $140,000; that he had her "several thousand dollars" that he "lost heavily" in the oil market transactions; that he had his half share of $50,000 per day in living with Attorney General Daugherty; and that he died with $214,000 in assets listed by a probate court. Whether he died more at death, she said she did not know.

Miss Daugherty called at the White House twice during the day, but declined to discuss his visits with the justice department refrain from comment upon the day's proceedings.

Miss Stinson sometimes smiled and sometimes wept as she read the letters sent her by Smith during the two years before his death, some of which she said had contained checks, some drafts, and some $500 bills. He was, she said, nice about money, and his communications with her were personal and often affectionate.

Will Hays Testifies

Will Hays, former postmaster general and Republican National Chairman and now dictator of the movies, snapped in a characteristic pose as he testified before the Senate investigating committee regarding Sinclair's campaign contributions.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—Prediction that the revenue and soldier bonus bills would be reported to the senate by the finance committee within two weeks and that action on the measures would be speedily forthcoming was made Wednesday by Republican leaders as the committee proceeded with a study of both bills.

With the floor fight approaching, Democrats worked over the income tax schedules which they will offer as a substitute for the Mellon rates, leaders indicating some modifications would be made in the Garner scheme supported by the house Democrats. Some intimates of the maximum rate of 44 per cent in the Garner plan would be cut to 40 per cent, with a general revision of the brackets to which the various rates would apply.

The immediate attention of the committee was centered again Wednesday on the variance in estimates as to the cost of the house soldier bonus bill. The American Legion presented an estimate of $3,300,000,000 on the probable cost of the measure in comparison to the $4,850,000,000 estimate of Joseph McCarty, treasury secretary, and the estimate of $2,110,000,000 made by the house on the basis of a report of the Veterans' Bureau actuary, H. P. Brown.

The committee has called upon army and navy officials to present data on the exact number of veterans who would be entitled to the bonus of paid-up life insurance policies and on the average length of service of veterans, on which the actuary's disagee.

The other main point of difference between the actuary, as to whether the government will have to account for interest on the bonus which it must use to pay for the policies, will be worked out by the committee, which then will decide for itself, Chairman Smoot said, whether the interest cost of the bonus will be.

Pending completion of hearings on the bonus bill, the committee resumed work on the revenue measure, clearing up some of the remaining administrative provisions, after which the only other sections of the bill, the miscellaneous tax schedules, will be taken up.

BONUS AND TAX BILLS TO BE UP IN TWO WEEKS

Republican Leaders Predict Both Measures Will Be Reported to Senate by Finance Committee Within Two Weeks — Democrats Take Place of Mellon Schedule.

For the past few days dynamite has been brought into play in extracting a portion of the concrete wall which is necessary before the driving of piling begins. Pope Pius Bestows Mozettas and Birettas Upon Hayes and Mundelein Newly Created American Cardinals

ROME, Mar. 27.—Cardinals Mundelein and Hayes Wednesday advanced another step toward their heads the secular elevation as members of the highest council of the Roman Catholic church. The occasion was late Wednesday afternoon when they were consoled by the fact that "in our humble person you wished to give unmistakable proof of your fatherly consideration and benevolence, not only to the faithful of our prosperous diocese, but to all the Catholics in the United States who in their faith and devotion to the chair of St. Peter and their loyalty to the person of the Holy Father, count this as their greatest glory."

The final ceremonies in the elevation of the American churchmen to the purple will take place Thursday morning in the right transept of the basilica of St. Peter's, where they will receive at the hands of the pontiff the red hats symbolic of their new rank. This public consistory, which time he declared that America's "miracle of charity saved millions from starvation, just as the entry of the United States into the World War decided the fate of Europe and the world."

The pontiff's address was delivered as he sat on his sculptured throne, draped in purple, and in a melodious, though musically modulated tone. The pontiff spoke after Cardinal Mundelein, as secretary archbishop, delivered an address on behalf of himself and Cardinal Hayes.

The prospective union of the three churches in support of Rollins College as a Christian, non-denominational college, was the outcome of a long conference Wednesday between the Rollins board of trustees and the representatives of the Southern and Northern Presbyterian and the Congregational church bodies.

The above was the statement given out by one of the members of the church representation, but it was stated that some time during the day a prepared announcement would be issued by President Sprague relative to the action taken in the conference. However, it is almost certain that the school will be taken over by the three churches, in expressing confidence that the plan would be consummated, several members of the church and board of trustees, declared that it would be to the best interests of the school that it be fostered by religious organizations.

LEGION BUDDIES OFF TO MEET AT ST. PETERSBURG

ST. PETERSBURG, Mar. 27.—With the delegates present from every post in the state, the sixth annual convention of the Florida Department of the American Legion opened this morning. Festival States parades and annual tourist season closing will be staged this afternoon, following a new junior high school will be dedicated by Thurman Mann, national vice commander. This is the first time the legion has been called upon to dedicate a public school building.

Percy Mero, John Hintermeister, Joseph Chittenden, Reginald Holly, Robert Deane and Robert Coble left Wednesday for St. Petersburg, where they will attend the annual convention of the Florida American Legion posts, which convenes in the "Sunshine City" today for a three day gathering.

Accompanying the legion boys were Miss Mildred Holly, daughter of the late Senator Robert C. Holly, and Miss Holly, who will be the representative of the Campbell-Lossing Post in the bathing beauty contest, which will be a feature of the convention. Young ladies from all over the state will be entered in the contest representing the several posts.

Reports from St. Petersburg are to the effect that the city is filling up fast as the legion "buddies" continued to pour into the city throughout Wednesday and Wednesday night.

At 10 o'clock this morning J. T. Jenner, department chairman, opened the convention with the invocation which was followed by an address of welcome and response by Department Commander H. Niel Kirkman of Palatka.

Following various reports, Judge George B. Everson of Palatka, delivered a stirring memorial address on Woodrow Wilson.

BELIEVE FRENCH PREMIER RESUME OFFICE RESIGNED

PARIS, Mar. 27.—Premier Raymond Poincare, with his entire cabinet, resigned from office Wednesday and when he announced his resignation he declared his decision was final.

But Wednesday there is every reason to believe he will acquiesce Thursday in President Millerand's request that he resume office at the head of the ministry. M. Poincare's acceptance in principle of the president's earnest plea virtually ends the ministerial crisis, which has been comparatively serene conditions. M. Poincare's official acceptance of President Millerand's request is regarded as a foregone conclusion by the vast majority of those identified with French political affairs.

The advice emphatically tendered by President Millerand by both M. Dumeneux and M. Peret, presidents of the senate and chamber, respectively, that M. Poincare was indispensable as premier in the continuation of the work undertaken in the past two years, and the conviction of M. Millerand himself that the "surprise" vote in the chamber did not reflect lack of confidence of the parliament in the premier personally, caused the president to dispense with the usual consultations in such cases with other prominent statesmen, and send for M. Poincare immediately and ask him to carry on.

The defeat of the government in the chamber was on a question of minor importance. The premier himself was not present, being engaged at the time with the foreign affairs committee, and there were few deputies in the chamber. The vote against the government was 271 to 294, many of the votes being cast by proxy.

In the conference President Millerand had with M. Doumergue and M. Peret all agreed that public opinion, overwhelmingly expressed by a great majority of the press made it impossible for any other leader to assume power at this time. M. Poincare declared to the press that he did not consider that the Poincare cabinet had been placed in a minority. No other French statesman was even considered at this conference as a successor to M. Poincare.

The conference between the president of the republic and the premier was a touching scene. M. Millerand is reported to have greeted M. Poincare effusively as he earnestly impressed upon him that it was a public duty and a matter of patriotism that he continue his "magnificent work to its conclusion for France."

Jennings Says That Harding Nomination Cost Million Dollars

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—At Jennings told the oil committee today that Jake Hamon told him at the Chicago convention that it cost Hamon a million dollars. Of this sum a quarter million went to the late Senator Jennings, Jennings said Hamon told him and $25,000 to Daugherty, and $5,000 to Will Hays.

He quoted Hamon as saying he was to be interior secretary and share in the public lands. He said Hamon boasted "I am going to be the biggest man in the United States before I close my eyes," Jennings quoted Hamon as saying that Jennings' Oklahoma for Harding cost him a half million.

He testified that Hamon dined Leonard Wood because he was "to be impregnated with the damned fool hofesty of Roosevelt."

The contempt case of Harry F. Sinclair, lessee of Teapot Dome, who refused to answer questions before the oil committee, is to be presented Thursday to the District of Columbia Supreme court. The treasury accepted the resignation of Clarence C. Chase, collector of customs at El Paso, Texas, but the house judiciary committee failed to act on the senate resolution contemplating impeachment proceedings as a result of his refusal to respond to questions before the oil committee.

President Coolidge was assaulted in the senate Wednesday by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, the oil prosecutor, because he did not "ignominiously dismiss Chase from office immediately after the testimony of Felix M. Kinley that the customs collector had sought to have him agree to say he had loaned Fall $100,000.

At Jennings, anti-oil train robber, but now an evangelist and politician, arrived in Washington and announced he would have a "warble of a story" to tell the oil investigators tomorrow concerning an alleged "oil deal" at the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1920.

A subpoena was issued for William Bybee Thompson of New York, formerly chairman of the senate committee of the Republican national committee, who is to be questioned about the methods of wiping out the $1,000,000 deficit the national committee had after the 1920 campaign.

Will Begin Driving Concrete Piling On Boat Basin Today

With approximately 400 concrete pilings poured ready to be driven and with the huge pile driver, said to be one of the largest in the state, on the job, prospects for rushing the construction work on the new boat basin are particularly bright at this time according to Superintendent Alvarez.

Another thing in favor of the contractors is the prospects for continued good weather, the lack of which during the past few weeks has proven to be a serious handicap to Mr. Alvarez in his operations.

For the past few days dynamite has been brought into play in extracting a portion of the concrete wall which is necessary before the driving of piling begins. It is planned to get started on the latter work either today or Friday and if conditions are favorable the piling will be driven at the rate of 10 to 20 each day.

MARKET FIRM'S DIRECTORS MEET LAKELAND TODAY

Directors of Florida Vegetable Corporation Meet With Managers Representative to Discuss Resignation of F. F. Dutton.

As a further development in the action of the Florida Vegetable Corporation in asking for the resignation of F. F. Dutton as general sales manager of the organization, it was learned Thursday that all of the members of the board of directors with the exception of John Meisch, are in Lakeland where they will meet with representatives of the Finance Committee of the organization, to discuss the recent action of the local board of directors.

Mr. Meisch was prevented from making the trip because of weakness resulting from a recent operation. When approached Thursday and asked for any further developments in the matter, Mr. Meisch declared that so far as he knew that the directors could stick by their decision adopted on Monday night when they asked Mr. Dutton to resign.

Asked what had been the reason for the board's action, Mr. Meisch said it was because of certain irregularities that had been occurring in the business of the corporation for which Mr. Dutton as head of the sales organization.

"It has come to the attention of the directors that Mr. Dutton has not been playing fair with the organization," said Mr. Meisch. Pressed for further details, Mr. Meisch said that it had been discovered that Mr. Dutton had sold the colony of some members of the corporation under the market price or at least the returns showed that he had.

The director related how it was learned that Mr. Dutton had been supplying a certain Pennsylvania concern with one or two cars a week and one day shipped two cars to the firm at below market price. It was alleged that the colony was sold for $2 per crate but that when the returns were received by the grower, it was shown to have been sold for $1.75.

Other actions of the former sales manager characterized as "suspicious," were given as further reasons for asking for his resignation. Mr. Meisch said that personally, he had never been in favor of Mr. Dutton for the position which he formerly occupied, but that he was overruled by a majority of the members of the board.

REDUCTION of TAXATION

FISCAL SAFETY IS ESSENTIAL

Copyright, 1924, by National Budget Committee

JOHN T. PRATT
Chairman
National Budget Committee

Tax reduction for the people of the United States is now in the compromise stage. Any hope there may have been that Congress, responding to the indisputable sentiment of the Nation, would drop politics long enough to meet a judiciously conceived, non-partisan measure which would afford the utmost relief consistent with fiscal safety, has been given up. Tax reduction there will be, but only after the fullest consideration has been given to the political possibilities of the several proposals.

Nevertheless, there are one or two purely economic phases of the situation which the country must not ignore. Whichever plan of tax reduction is finally adopted, it is essential that the fiscal integrity of the Government shall be maintained. There is no disputing the position of Secretary Mellon that this is the paramount consideration. The Government must always be assured that taxes will not be so far reduced as to deprive the Treasury of sufficient revenue to run its business and to take care of the public debt. He framed his proposals on the principle, therefore, that tax reduction must come out of surplus, the amount by which the income of the Government exceeds its expenditures.

The prospective surplus for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, is $395,681,634. Under the Mellon plan, as modified in conference with him by the Ways and Means Committee, the reduction in revenue during the calendar year 1925 because of income tax changes would be $233,000,000, and because of the repeal of special taxes and other changes, $108,040,000, a total of $341,040,000. Setting off the reduction of $341,040,000 against the surplus of $395,681,634 leaves a balance of $54,641,634 to be returned to the general fund of the Treasury. Considered solely from the point of view of the Treasury's obligation to meet the running charges of the Government and to meet the requirements of the public debt, the Administration proposal would appear to be strongly on the side of fiscal safety.

According to the Government Actuary's computations the bill sponsored in the House by Mr. Garner, and which was tentatively adopted, would have resulted in a loss of $511,977,000 in income taxes alone. Adding to this the loss of $108,040,000 on account of repealing special taxes, the total reduction in Government revenue would be $620,017,000. The House finally compromised on a proposal submitted by Mr. Longworth and the Government Actuary figures that the revenue loss under its provisions will be $446,270,000.

When the Senate begins its deliberations there will be before it three definite plans, the Mellon plan, the Garner plan, and the Longworth compromise, with the probability that the Finance Committee may report still another. The Senatorial product is likely to be an amalgam with a strong political flavor. That may be inevitable and twofolded, and twofolded may displease to their heart's content as to whether it is more Republican than Democratic or more Democratic than Republican. The fact remains that so far the original Mellon proposals are the only ones which come within the principle of fiscal safety and in reducing taxes that principle must be adhered to or the proffered remedy is only a delusion.

LAKE MARY

One of the saddest funerals ever attended at this place was that of R. W. Stokes on Monday afternoon. Mr. Stokes was instantly killed Saturday afternoon at Barberville by train No. 85, when his car stalled on the crossing.

He came here about a year ago from Palatka and made his home with his son, J. L. Stokes and family, and worked as a carpenter. He had been at work at Barberville for about two months and had finished his week's labor and had started for Lake Mary to spend the week-end as usual when he was killed. He joined the Methodist church here about eight months ago.

Mr. Stokes was born at St. Stephens, S. C., but has spent greater part of his life in Florida.

He is mourned by three sons, R. E. Stokes of Apopka, Ga.; G. L. Stokes of Waveross, Ga.; and J. L. Stokes of Lake Mary; three daughters, Mrs. P. R. Gilchrist, Mrs. W. H. Yates, Mrs. D. F. Taylor, all of Whigham, Ga.; one brother, J. F. Stokes and two sisters, Mrs. P. A. Bradzell and Mrs. T. N. Wadford of St. Stephens, S. C., and one sister, Mrs. H. J. Rush of Barberville.

Undertaker Allen of DeLand, prepared the body for burial and funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. E. Wainright of Sanford, and the body was laid to rest in Lake Mary cemetery at 1 o'clock.

Suwannee (Miss Rouse): Gave three all-day millinery schools this week. Farm Bureau and business men are giving scholarships to club short course.

The Man With The Hoe Says

A hotbed is a miniature greenhouse hatched by the natural fermentation of horse manure, furnishing the easiest and least expensive means of securing a two months' advantage or more in the growth of vegetables and flowers requiring a long season to produce full crops. These plants, for the most part, are too tender to be planted in the open ground before the first of May at the earliest.

The two months' growing start they receive through planting the seed in March permits them to begin bearing two months earlier after they have been transplanted into the open ground than if the seed planting had been delayed until the absence of frosts made it safe to plant in seed-beds in the open. Not only is the hotbed an excellent device for getting such early plants as are too tender to plant in the open before May going, but it gives a great advantage in starting hardier plants which will stand considerable frost well into their development. Of the tender plants usually sown in a hotbed are the tomatoes, eggplants and peppers.

Cabbage and celery are examples of hardier vegetables, while all of the hardy annuals which transplant readily may be in shape to set into blooming quarters, bringing their first flowering in late May and early June instead of waiting the usual course of development until July.

The hotbed also will give earliest crops of radishes and lettuce by planting these hardy vegetables in the hotbed in March and allowing them to develop there until usable. This, however, is the least important of the uses of the home garden frame.

IT DRIVES OUT WORMS

The surest sign of worms in children is paleness, lack of interest in play, fretfulness, variable appetite, picking at the nose and sudden starting in sleep. When these symptoms appear it is time to give White's Cream Vermifuge. A few doses drives out the worms and puts the little one on the road to health again. White's Cream Vermifuge has a record of fifty years of successful use. Price 35c. Sold by all leading druggists.

“A Paradise in the Making”

MR. L. BRACKETT BISHOP, prominent capitalist, insurance man and art dilettante, and one of the leading visitors which Miami has entertained this season, said before leaving for his home last week, that the only term which accurately described Coral Gables was “a paradise in the making.”

Omar Khayyam's paradise, we are sure; not Milton's Visitors who behold for the first time the finished beauty of Coral Gables, often say that it is “heavenly.” For ourselves we are well content with the very human task of building a fine suburb, where the best people will find real homes and enjoy themselves—and will not wait until they are thinking of heavenly things before beginning the enjoyment!

Hundreds of homes in the most beautiful settings which this wonderful tropical country boasts of—homes of colorful native stone or stucco, roofs of Spanish tile, surrounded by cloistered walls, or plazas, or the greenery of fairway or grove. Advantages of enjoying golf, tennis, saddle pony riding, or other healthful and wholesome outdoor sports. Broad boulevards and spacious lawns that invite one with ample breathing spaces and charming vistas.

The things that good folks hold priceless in home-surroundings are here at Coral Gables. Also the opportunity to enjoy them without extravagant expenditure. That both are true is evidenced not only by the fine things which people worth while say about Coral Gables, but also in the way that people worth while are investing at Coral Gables.

Thousands of visitors will take home with them memories of a visit here this season as souvenirs of a most enjoyable winter vacation. But the man or woman who has a far better remembrance to cherish is the one who, acting upon the urge of better judgment, has made an investment in home or plot at Coral Gables.

Too many so-called heavenly things have little or no earthly meaning. Not so with Coral Gables. It has a real, potential, compelling significance for everyone who values the higher things of home life, and values them most highly when they are within everyone's power to attain.

Come to Coral Gables and see the paradise in the making. Make your reservation at the local office for the free sightseeing trip aboard a de luxe pullman bus and take advantage of the opportunity offered.

WHY BANKS?

LESSON VI

By J. H. PUELICHER, Chairman
Committee on Public Education, American Bankers Association

We hear of bank capital, surplus and stockholders. What economic services do they render the community?

J. H. Puelicher

BANK CAPITAL—The money necessary to engage in the business of rendering banking services to the community.

SURPLUS—A part of a bank's earnings not paid out as dividends to stockholders but reserved for possible losses or to expand activities as needed by growing business.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS—Protection to depositors, because if trouble arises depositors must be paid in full out of these funds if necessary before stockholders are paid anything.

BANK STOCKHOLDER—Anyone able and willing to buy stock in a bank and to assume the risk of the business. A share of stock represents a fraction of ownership in the whole, and with ownership go responsibilities and liabilities. In smaller communities those who usually organize banks interest successful farmers, successful merchants and successful manufacturers because of the influence they bring.

DOUBLE LIABILITY—The obligation under the law that rests on a bank stockholder, in case his bank fails and the assets are not enough to pay depositors, to pay an amount equal to his bank stock, in addition to losing his original investment. This is not the case in corporations other than banks. Example: If a man owned $1,000 in bank stock and the bank failed, and after the assets had been used, the bank still owed money to depositors, the stockholders would be required to pay up to another $1,000 if necessary to meet the obligations to stockholders.

Thus it is seen that bank capital and bank stockholders perform real economic services.
