AAA Offer Ends Two-Day Deadlock Returns Through Co-operation With Cannery Suggested

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Government today offered to buy 8,000,000 boxes of citrus fruit for relief distribution between Nov. 1 and July 1, 1939, leaving about 12,000,000 boxes as surplus to be disposed of by the industry.

The plan was outlined to the National Citrus Conference by F. R. Wiley, director of the AAA division of marketing and marketing agreements, who declared the industry must face the continuing necessity of reducing citrus handling costs.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY ways, even unto the end of the world.—Matt. 28:20.

General Motors is putting 15, 000 men back to work. Let's hope, after their long summer layoff, they don't now go out on strike.

Winston Churchill's suggestion that the U. S. join England in a war against dictators would come with more grace if England were not at the present time leading the movement to sell out to the dictators.

Secretary Ickes says Fascism is on the march in the United States.
So is communism, but the Secretary doesn't say anything about that. Maybe it was because he was ghony enough as it is. Wilson: "Across the seas a new dark age seems to be well on its way, more terrible than any in the past."

Gov. Cane comes out against the National Guard agreement to the State constitution. He believes that the appointment and suspension of National Guard officers should rest in the hands of political office holders rather than be subject to regular Army regulations. The Governor's argument illustrates the very point of the amendment, which is to take the National Guard out of politics.

The federal government has spent over 17 billion dollars of federal funds in the various states of the union since 1933.
Besides it has lent in addition nearly 11 1/2 billions to farmers, home owners, and various institutions. And besides all that it has insured other loans to the extent of over two billion dollars.
If government pump-priming can do any good we sure ought to be getting somewhere before long.

The Melbourne Times, pub-to make a strong appeal to the thousands of prospective winter gratulate both Mr. Berg and the bourne, on this fine edition.

Secretary Ickes while denouncing Fascism, or dictatorship, or totalitarianism, in one breath, says President Roosevelt, in another, may have to run for a third term. Now what is a dictatorship, we would like to know, if it is not the perpetuation of one supreme head in government office, and what does it matter whether that perpetuation is secured by the threat of bayonets at the polls, or the lure of government funds in a campaign?

The country is amazed at some of the details of the German spy plot now unfolding on the witness stand in a New York court room. A 32-year-old U. S.
Army deserter tells how President Roosevelt's name was forged to secure documents in order to get information wanted by the German Naval Intelligence, how an army officer was passed and kidnaped in the hope of securing other valuable information, of how German spies were tried in Germany with a public trial could not take place, and after the arrest of the defendants had been published in secret state chamber proceedings, they would be tried up against a wall and that the United States cannot afford to deal too lightly with spies.

New Army Rifle

Details of the United States Army's new Garand semiautomatic rifle, revealed in the current issue of Collier's Magazine, indicate that it will give the American doughboy a five-to-one advantage over any other soldier in the world, according to an article written by Frank D. Morris, associate editor of the magazine.

Describing the rifle as "the most important addition to our armory since the invention of the machine gun," Morris writes that it "will make every infantryman a walking machine gun nest and the equal of five men equipped only with bolt-action rifles." The Garand will replace the old Springfield rifle, standard equipment in the United States Army since 1903.

"Physically the new rifle resembles the old Springfield," Morris states. "It weighs nine pounds and is generally of the same dimensions as the Springfield. For a precision machine its action is comparatively simple. You insert a clip of eight cartridges and pull the trigger. A gas chamber opens, discharging its contents. This operation automatically ejects the empty cartridge, cocks the gun and carries a new bullet into place. Your trigger index controls all this; there is no cumbersome bolt to lift and slide before each shot as on the old Springfield."

The Garand rifle, perfected after a period of 13 year of intensive labor by John C. Garand of the government arsenal in Springfield, Mass., is rated as 12 to 31 percent more accurate than the old Springfield, which itself was regarded as the equal or superior of any foreign military rifle. The Garand fires five times as fast, and has a 10 to 13 percent less recoil. Its cost will be approximately the same.

Pointing out that in effect the new weapon quintuple the nation's infantry strength, Mr. Morris quotes Asst.
and Secretary of War Louis Johnson as telling Collier's that "since the doughboy with the rifle is still the backbone of the Army, whatever contributes to his greater effectiveness is bound to result in speedier and more certain victory in battle."

Equipment of the entire American Army with Gar-rands will cost approximately $10,000,000.

Americanism

As the evidence is increasingly made clear, partly through the work of the Dies Un-American Activities Committee, and partly through the spy trial now taking place in New York City, that many subversive influences are at work in this country, it would be well if everyone of us who is an American citizen at heart as well as in name would rededicate ourself to the fundamental principles of Americanism.

That in effect is what the United Spanish War Veterans did at their recent encampment at Portland, Ore., where they adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas the veterans of the Spanish-American War, the Philippine Insurrection, and the Boxer Rebellion, organized under the banner of the United Spanish War Veterans, are pledged 'to carry the same spirit of sacrifice and service exercised in time of war into the less spectacular walks of daily life; to battle increasingly for the right in civil affairs; to prepare for any service which we can render to our country in time of need'; 'to loyally to our country, reverence for its institutions, obedience to its laws and respect for its magistrates; to encourage honor and purity in public affairs and to discountenance whatever tends to weaken these sentiments among our people.'"

"To these principles our organization has ever stood steadfast.

"We sounded the call for a substantial and adequate national defense to protect and defend our country against the enemy from without.

"We have cried out to our Government and our people against the enemy in our midst.

"We have seen the organization of subversive groups on our soil; have listened to their traitorous insinuations at the heart of our form of government; and have been paralyzed before us the fact that millions of alien, unlucky in our country—are devoted to the teaching of incompetence of democracy; are bleeding the financial resources of American citizens through the relief rolls and made refugee jobs; all leading to the destruction of the American way of life, the precious true liberty of the individual citizens on a standard of living not equaled by any other people in the history of the world.

"We are tired of the whines of the destructive radicals that the objections to their nefarious propaganda and acts are 'Red baiting.'"

"That is the only defense they present and have, to their efforts to destroy our form of government.

"It is not even equal to the usual cry of the criminal when caught in the act of committing his crime—that he is innocent.

"We resent the sympathetic protection given these enemies of America by public officials who are prostituting their citizenship and contributing to the prospective destruction of the American home, church and school by such protection.

"That type of public officials prove themselves unworthy of public trust and citizenship in our United States.

"We have witnessed the attempt, made by some public officials and non-American groups to discredit the splendid work of the Congressional Committee investigating un-American activities in this country. Therefore:

"1. We demand that this committee be not hampered in any way in its efforts to secure and present to the Nation the truth relative to such attempts to sabotage our form of government.

"2. We pledge to Congressman Martin Dies, the chairman of that committee, and to those of its members who are honestly trying to carry out the purposes for which the committee was organized, our full support, and urge them to fearlessly and impartially carry on as patriotic citizens would.

"3. We continue our demand that Government officials, charged with the duty of keeping America free from the cancer of undesirable aliens unlawfully living in our country, and on its bounty, securing employment and holding jobs while thousands of our citizens are suffering from unemployment, enforce our laws or be removed from office.

"4. We demand the passage of legislation providing for the deportation of all aliens in this country who do not become naturalized after a minimum fixed time of residence here, and also all aliens on W. P. A. or relief rolls.

"5. America must not be made the dumping ground for the 'undesirables of the world!'

"6. America must ever be the home of a patriotic, industrious, intelligent and honest people, determined to perpetuate and protect our form of government, and secure for our posterity a life of peace, happiness and prosperity beyond that which we have enjoyed."

mated that the total cost to the

THE N. L. R. B. MAY GET A LITTLE BREATHING SPELL NOW

A BUBBLE BURSTS TAMPA TRIBUNE

Jacksonville has been having considerable commotion about its municipal finances. The Florida National Bank has been printing advertisements in the Jacksonville evening paper, attacking the city government for its proposed budget against increases in the city budget. The advertisements said that the proposed budget provided for additional jobs and salary raises amounting to $250, 000, for an increase in the tax rate from 19 mills for 1938 to 24 1/2 mills for 1939, an advance of 50 percent. The newspaper advertisements had effect, because it is noted that an amended budget has now been proposed, which cuts out many of the salary raises, but still leaves the tax rate higher than last year. In its advertisement the Florida National Bank stated that "Jacksonville's per capita cost of city government is among the very highest in America for cities of this size."

In the face of these facts and they must be facts else a reputable institution such as the Florida National Bank would not print them what becomes of the oft heard boast that the profits of the municipally owned utilities of that city are so great that they allow the taxpayers of nearly all of the cost of operating the city government?
We have heard that statement so frequently that we have been tempted to give it some degree of evidence; but these figures burst the bubble right in the face of the credulous public. With Jacksonville taxpayers forced to pay continuous increases in the tax rate, the claim that municipal utility profits are paying the major part of the cost of government and saving the taxpayers that cost simply can't be the truth or anywhere near the truth.
The latest figures we have at hand (U. S. Census Bureau, 1936) show that the total receipts of the city of Jacksonville were $4,323,000. The highest claim made for annual utility profits is $2,000,000. That leaves $2,323, 000 paid by the taxpayers for city government, over and above the maximum utility profits. For the same year, the total receipts for the city of Tampa were $1, 471,000. So, regardless of the boasted contribution of the municipal utilities, the taxpayers of Jacksonville were called upon to pay nearly $2,000,000 more for city government than were the taxpayers of Tampa, and they must be paying much more now, for we may judge from another cause in the tax rate.

Very yours,
R. Earl Kipp

 Roy Vermillion, and Chief Wooten's brother, Steve.
 They charged that contributions were demanded of WPA employees for political purposes, and that threats and intimidation had been employed to compel members to "join with the candidates" in their political activities.
 It was further charged that WPA employees were forced to vote according to political demands in a statewide election last September on amendments to the state constitution, and that discharge from work projects was the penalty for refusal to perform political services.
 The indictments stated that employees were required to join political clubs disguised as social organizations and to pay dues and purchase tickets to social functions.
 It was further alleged the defendants conspired to divert to personal use portions of WPA appropriations, services of WPA workers and WPA materials.
 After the jury reported, Judge Noblett ordered them held in recess despite the recommendation of the jurors they be discharged.
 The jurors declared that without questioning the aims of the WPA program, it was clear that many of those in positions of honor and trust have failed in creating and maintaining respect for themselves and the government which they are under oath to represent.

 "There seems to be less unemployment in the dictator-controlled countries of Europe than in Britain and the United States," he said, "but this is apparently due to the fact that they place their unemployed in the armies. We don't want to put anybody in a straight jacket and make him work where he doesn't want to."
 He related that at the peak of production in 1929, unemployment in the United States was four million whereas in 1936, with production only 5 percent below 1929, it was 12 million. Pepper indicated that the trouble was with machines replacing hand labor, and that the solution "must come from the heart of the American people."
 He said he is going to travel from community to community in Florida to see what people want and what they are thinking, "and make an honest effort to solve our challenging problems."

 Bohemian borders, the Czechoslovak government took action which was regarded as an added index of a turn toward the political right. In Prague the police outlawed the Communist party and suspended its newspapers in Bohemia, Moravia and Silesia. Previously Slovakia had outlawed the Communists. That left them integral as a party only in Ruthenia, the easternmost tip of the republic, and in that area they were considered distinctly weak.
 Prague also rounded up an unestimated number of Jews in an effort to meet the rising refugee problem. Former residents of Sudetenland by the thousands, fleeing sectors into which the German military marched after the "peace of Munich," have streamed into Bohemia.

Though the Czech general staff and DNB, the official German news agency, said a half dozen persons had been killed in disorders on the Sudeten-Bohemian border, the German administration in the newly-acquired areas prepared to take control from the hands of the military and give it to the civil authorities.
 In the squabbling in eastern Europe over the partitioning of Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary were seeking a common frontier.
 In Budapest the newspaper Vreme argued that Poland had a vital interest in Carpatho-Russia, or Ruthenia, to "check Germany's expansion into the Ukraine."
 Reliable reports indicated Poland had encountered no success in trying to enlist Rumania in a scheme to divide up Ruthenia.

 Wilcox made it clear the Government's offer was conditioned upon the industry's working out a program to handle the rest of the surplus. AAA representatives have insisted all shipments except those of first and second grade fruit should be eliminated. The industry group proposed to divide the Government money among citrus states on the basis of total production in each AAA men were said to have opposed such a division, explaining the federal agency should be free to make purchases wherever the market might need a boost.
 The industry delegates were to meet alone this afternoon to consider the Government's proposal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)

—The National Citrus Conference proposed today that government funds for the disposal of the citrus surplus be distributed on the basis of total production in the various areas.
 The group asked that part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's fund for this purpose—hinted to be $10,000,000—be used for subsidy payments to growers who diverted fruit from the normal channels of trade.
 Some doubt existed whether the AAA would consent to a fixed division among the producing states.
 Nevertheless, Florida delegates claimed both California and Texas support for percentage distribution.
 Delegates said they had a hint from AAA officials earlier in the day the government might spend $10,000,000 on relief purchases and diversion programs. Immediately, some delegates demanded that this amount be increased and set about to establish a system of dividing the money among the states.
 Floridians said California had consented to a proposal to divide the fund according to each state's citrus production.
 Meanwhile, however, the conference faced an assertion by AAA officials that any fixed division would defeat the purpose, because purchases should be made where the market needed them.

Publicity For State's Celery Again Talked

National Program Is Seen As Marketing Pact Substitute To Care For Surplus

Sarasotans Favor Advertising Plan

Control Committee To Meet To Liquidate Its Affairs

As the Florida celery industry's marketing agreement went out of existence last Saturday, vetoed by a narrow majority of votes, growers evidently are turning their attention to substitution of a national advertising program to care for the state's surplus celery.

Roy F. Symes, president of the Florida State Celery Growers Association, which was organized earlier in the year to make plans for a national program, says that this association has done nothing since the election of officers at a Lakeland meeting early in the summer but individual growers have been free to express their opinions for or against the proposed plan.

Loring Raoul, acting chairman of the Control Committee and a strong advocate of an advertising program, will be in Sanford Monday although the nature of his visit could not be definitely learned. It was understood that he would get an expression on the proposed publicity program from the growers.

Raoul is one of the officials of the Palmer Farms corporation of Sarasota which controls almost the entire 1,500 acre celery muckland tract in Sarasota county. In a recent news release, officials of this company expressed hope that the advertising project might be launched before the current crop is ready for harvest. The first cuttings are scheduled for late December.

The officials of this corporation expressed belief that a per cent levy of a few cents to raise funds for the advertising program would not work an undue hardship on any of the growers. Some advocates of the control committee in this section, however, have declared they would fight the proposed advertising program without control. To receive the greatest benefits from an advertising campaign, a form of control will be necessary, in their contention. Advertising in a "split" market has little effect on raising the price, they say. From the Control Committee office, today, H. F. Steele who is in charge, stated that a meeting of the Control Committee, which is acting as trustees to liquidate the affairs of the committee will be held soon. At this meeting the committee will also decide how much longer the local office will remain open. The Control Committee has a refund of approximately $8,000 to make to the growers. It will be made shortly after the completion of the federal audit which is now being made by two government auditors.

ROWBOAT DOCKS QUEEN MARY

Warping 83,000 tons of ocean liner like the Queen Mary safely into dock without the aid of a dozen tugboats was an unheard-of stunt—until the Mary's skipper did it. Commodore Robert P. Irving brought the big ship to New York only to find the harbor stripped of tugs due to a tugmen's strike. So holding in his hand a medal of St. Christopher, patron of travelers, and, aided by a tiny rowboat and calm water, he just docked her like a toyboat. In the photo above, the men in the rowboat at left are picking up the mooring lines. With these fast to the dock, Commodore Irving beached the ship in the usual 34 minutes.

Townsend Plan Adopted By Massachusetts Republicans

Discussing the progress made in the Townsend Plan, Secretary Arthur A. Kirschhoff of the local club today called attention to the fact that because of popular demand the Massachusetts Republican Convention has included as a plank in its campaign platform, the consideration of the General Welfare Act of 1937 during the next session of Congress. Mr. Kirschhoff quoted from the Oct. 17 issue of The Townsend National Weekly as follows: "Realizing that there are millions of thinking citizens throughout the nation who have studied and believe in the Townsend National Recovery Plan as embodied in a bill hearing the title of General Welfare Act of 1937, but more particularly known in discussions as the Townsend Plan, we pledge the entire Republican delegation in Congress from Massachusetts in a earnest effort to have the bill brought before the Congress for full discussion at the earliest possible moment."

Slot Ban Is Upheld In Federal Court

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Florida's anti-slot machine law, passed by the 1937 legislature with the avowed intent to put teeth in it, was upheld by a three-judge federal court yesterday, which dismissed a suit brought to enjoin the Volusia county sheriff from seizing marble games. The 1937 law makes it unlawful to operate or possess slot machines, and the decision of the three judges today put marble games in the same classification as slot machines. On the bench were Judge Samuel H. Sibley of the circuit court of appeals, New Orleans; Judge Strum, Jacksonville, and Judge Long, Pensacola. The judges reached a decision before the state had completed its argument. They also held that a three-judge court had jurisdiction over the case, thus opening the way for any appeal direct to the supreme court. The Florida supreme court recently made the same ruling after Governor Cohn had ordered all sheriffs to halt widespread use of coin-operated tables and games.

Many Lives Can Be Saved On Gridiron With Proper Treatment By Physicians

By HOWARD W. BLAKELINE NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Lives can be saved on football fields by letting injured players lie untouched until a physician can look them over. Evidence of discovery of a new abdominal disease was reported by Burrill H. Crohn, M. D., of New York. It is a trouble in the small intestine which he called "regional or terminal ileitis." Its effects are serious digestive troubles, ranging from nausea to discomfort, acute upsets and occasionally fever. The area in which it can occur is about 20 feet long. One of several short sections, Dr. Crohn said, may become inflamed or enlarged or undergo thickening of the walls. He reported six years' study to verify existence of the malady, supported by work of other surgeons. He said the cause is still unknown. The first treatment is a non-roughage diet. If that does not help, he said, operation to remove the affected sections is the only known relief. Little things like blisters on the heel are killing fewer persons because surgeons have learned when not to operate, "acute osteomyelitis" clinic concluded. The osteomyelitis is bone infection which comes from the blister or other superficial injury. Formerly the infected bones were removed by surgery immediately. It is far better, the clinic declared, to let the patient alone, until the infection has cleared out of his blood.

Death Sentence For Godwin Is Jury's Verdict

Youth Convicted Of Crime Committed In Freedom Break

GREENSBORO, N. C., Oct. 22.—(AP)—The superior court jury returned a death verdict for James Godwin, 19-year-old youth who is charged with fatally shooting Donald Moss, 14-year-old boy, a Lexington, Va., worker, a few hours after he escaped from a Lexington jail Oct. 1 with the aid of the jailer's daughter. A jury reported a first degree murder verdict, carrying a mandatory sentence of death in the state's gas chamber. The execution date was not set. Godwin did not testify. Donald Moss' principal witness was Bill Wilson who escaped with Godwin. Wilson said Moss was shot when Godwin tried to escape. Lulu Belle Kemel, 175-pound jailer's daughter, was given a suspended sentence for aiding prisoners to escape. She said she gave Godwin the keys to the cell because she believed he was innocent. She had "got religion" and she feared he would be put to death on a burglary charge.

Andrews Charges Closing Plants To Discredit Law

Says Majority To Operate In Enforcement Of Wages Act

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—(AP)—The state and local administration of employees of a small number of employers of shutting down their plants in an effort to discredit the new wages law and intimidate administrators, charged Andrews yesterday that the state would be enforcing the law and compelling. Andrews pointed out in a formal statement of the press that the law provided heavy penalties for violation and that he had no choice but to carry out the will of Congress. Declaring the willingness of the vast majority of employers to cooperate had reinforced his determination to enforce the state's uniformity, Andrews denounced those few who, he said, were claiming preposterous exemptions or shutting down their plants to avoid compliance. The new law, providing in general for a minimum wage of 2 cents an hour and a maximum work week of 44 hours in interstate commerce, goes into effect Monday. Some shutdowns which employers have attributed to the attitude have actually resulted from the completion of seasonal operations, the administrator said, and in some instances plants have been run at capacity for weeks to build up inventories "preparatory to a shutdown which would be blamed on the law."

Five In Family Die For Lack Of Oxygen

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 22.—(AP)—Five members of one family were found dead in a five-room flat and Deputy Police Chief John J. Underwood said they died of lack of oxygen. Underwood said Frank Cozzani, 31, and two young daughters were found in one bedroom while Nancy, 27, his wife, and another small daughter were found in an adjoining bedroom. Underwood said ambulance physicians explained the family died because a gas heater and two electric heaters had used up all the oxygen in the flat which had all the windows and doors tightly closed.

Seminoles Ask For Their First School

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—(AP)—The first school ever requested by the Florida Seminole Indians will be dedicated at Highton, Fla., by the Indian service, Nov. 16, the Indian bureau announced. Floyd La Roche, personal representative of Commissioner Culler, said the elementary school was being established at the request of the northern group of Seminoles. Heretofore the tribe has appeared reluctant to send their children to schools maintained by the whites or to teach them the white man's English and mathematics, La Roche said.

Cabinet Speeds Up France's Race For Arms

Stern Measures Approved Lengthening Work Hours In Defense Industries

Hankow's Fall Is Imminent

Japs Press Offensive Toward Provisional Chinese Capital

The fifteen-month-old war in China today rolled toward a new climax before Hankow and possibly a decisive Japanese stroke while a new storm of combat appeared to be gathering in the 24-month-old Spanish civil war. Europe proper rested a bit uneasily in a crisis born of the "Peace of Munich" meant while coming against the day when that peace might be shattered.

The French cabinet approved today measures to lengthen working hours in the national defense industries, particularly in airplane factories, and listened to a report on the progress of the French-German accord. Hundreds of thousands of Czechoslovak and Hungarian troops lined up along the zone where Hungary has demanded the surrender of territory in the manner of the Munich award of the Czechoslovak Sudetenland to Germany. Dr. Eduard Benes, resigned President and co-founder of the Czechoslovak republic, flew to London from Prague and went into retirement to rest. Germany sent up a total balloon to test the current of opinion in Britain and the United States on a three-party trade agreement to supply supplies under the projected Anglo-American pact.

ICC Opens Hearing On Citrus Weights

ORLANDO, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Officials of the Interstate Commerce Commission here yesterday opened the third of a series of hearings on the proposed estimated weight increase for boxes of citrus. The hearing is expected to last about 10 days. Similar meetings have been held in Harrison, Tex., and in California. At the conclusion of the testimony a hearing before the entire Interstate Commerce Commission will be called in Washington. Some time ago carriers obtained approval from the ICC to raise the estimated weight of citrus boxes from 90 pounds on all types of citrus to 100 pounds on oranges and grapefruit and 75 pounds on tangerines. The Growers and Shippers League of Orlando joined Texas and California citrus shipping organizations in protesting the increase and the ICC delayed the imposition of the increase until Feb. 1, 1939.
