

FIRST BIG GUN FIRED HERE BY S. J. CATTS

NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR ADDRESSED BIG CROWD FRIDAY NIGHT

The opening gun of the fall campaign for governor opened here last Friday night when Hon. Sidney J. Catts spoke here to a large crowd. Hon. Forrest Lake acted as chairman of the meeting held on First street at the corner of Park avenue and introduced Col. James Alexander of DeLand who made a stirring appeal to the voters to elect Mr. Catts for governor. Col. Alexander is no stranger in Sanford where he has many friends and admirers. Mr. Lake then introduced Judge Isaac Stewart of DeLand who followed with a history of the political horoscope of Volusia and those present were impressed with the similitude of the late campaign in Volusia when Alex and Ikey were stumpng the county. It seems that Col. Jim and Judge Isaac are warm friends of Mr. Catts and promised him all the support they can give him in his race for governor, hence their willingness to come so far from their native heath to tell the people of Sanford just what to do in the November election. They made good their promise to him, but the people here do not need any particular advice on the subject and will vote for the Democratic nominee regardless of the kindly ministrations of the big guns from Volusia.

Chairman Lake introduced Mr. Catts after Judge Stewart had finished and the next forty-five minutes were filled to overflowing with all kinds of ballot box scandals, slush funds, power of the pope, etc. Mr. Catts is a fluent talker and his bright sallies kept the audience in good humor all the time. He called upon a lot of those who had voted for him in the primary and expected to vote for him in November to hold up their hands and there was only one lone voter. He then called upon all those who had voted for Catts in June and expected to vote for him in November to hold up their hands and the air was full of hands, demonstrating to Mr. Catts that he was already elected by those who were present.

He did not make the kind of speech that he made in other cities, no doubt tempering his speeches to the environment of the different cities and his address here was all that could be desired from every standpoint. He failed to tell about the high school girls, a feature in some of his speeches that has called for much condemnation in Florida and stated at the outset of his talk that he never made such an allusion about the school girls and any man who so states was a liar. Albert Williamson and other newspaper men who heard him make this speech can now call him about it. Had Mr. Catts made any such allusion here about our high school girls he would have been called to account in a proper manner and all those who were present were glad that he changed his tactics and confined himself to the attack on Knott and the Supreme Court. In fact those who attended the meeting expecting something sensational were disappointed, for Mr. Catts made a very calm and ladylike speech as he realized that he had an intelligent audience and that he would have to show them by facts and while some of his statements were sweeping, covering all the sins of omission and commission of the opposition he made his claims in a manner that impressed the hearers and he was frequently applauded. He stated plainly that he was the only nominee of the Democratic party, that had received the certificate of nomination and would not surrender it even if he had to go to jail until after the November election when the doors of the jail would be opened and he would walk out as the governor of Florida.

Mr. Catts impresses one as a man who thinks he is right and is fighting for his rights and this very fact will gain him many new votes in November. For this reason and also for the fact that he has many staunch admirers in the state he will be a force to be reckoned with and it will be no great surprise if Sidney J. Catts is elected governor unless W. V. Knott can make a campaign over the state and discount the line of palaver handed out by Catts. The majority of the Democrats of Florida are heartily tired of the whole affair and will be glad when the idea of November settles the election.

Nix—Rossetter

The following from the Commerce, Georgia, Observer will be interesting to Sanford people:

Tuesday at high noon the home of Mrs. Dillmas M. Nix at Apple Valley was the scene of a beautiful wedding when her youngest daughter, Miss Elizabeth Nix, became the bride of Mr. Allen Kent Rossetter of Sanford, Florida.

The ceremony took place before an improvised altar of ferns, white clematis and pink geraniums and was performed by the bride's pastor, Dr. Gilbert Dobbs of Commerce. The ring ceremony was used.

Preceding the ceremony, Drala's "Souvenir" was very beautifully rendered on the violin by Miss Annie Belle Brock of Jefferson; following this selection Mrs. Sidney J. Nix sang "I Love You." The bridal party entered the dimly lighted parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Lorraine Williamson of Jefferson. The bride wore a very modish traveling suit of navy blue broadcloth, with a black velvet hat and other accessories to match. She wore a courage bouquet of bride roses. Miss Katherine Shirley of Apple Valley was maid of honor. She wore a dress of white organdie with a pale pink girdle and carried a huge arm bouquet of pink roses.

"Melody of Love" was very softly rendered during the ceremony.

The color scheme of pink and white was used in the decorations throughout the entire lower floor of the home.

Light refreshments were served immediately after the ceremony by two of the bride's nieces, Misses Immogene and Evelyn Nix of Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. Rossetter left on the one fifty-five train for a ten days tour of southern cities. They will be at home in Sanford, Fla., after September 14th.

Only the immediate relatives of the bride were present.

Celebration of "Founder's Day"

The Eastern Stars of Sanford concluded to do two successful things on Aug. 31st, which they carried out to a perfect detail.

Regardless of rain the Stars in a body, going by jitney, automobile and on foot surprised the Robbins on the West Side, where they have but very recently migrated. They being among the oldest members of the order the Sisters planned to surprise Sister and Brother and at the same time celebrate Robert Morris' birthday, Aug. 31st, which by general orders from all Grand Chapters is recognized as "Founder's Day."

Mrs. Robbins was reminded of her pioneer days when she looked at her small rooms and the large body of company but their happy faces covered all embarrassment.

Master Stemper had a smile for every one, as a future Worthy Patron and was at his best.

All wished Brother Robert Morris was present with us to enjoy the delicious ice cream and cake (and by the way, this same delicious refreshment was about to be deposited at another number when it was timely discovered "Stars shown near or by." Many subjects were discussed, especially the strike.

When it came to clapping hands and saying good-bye the sun was down and all felt it had been a complete surprise as well as celebrating in a body "Founder's Day."

This organization of Eastern Stars in Sanford numbers 77 members in good standing and are recognized for their many deeds of charity.

All who have seen his Star in the East that live in or near Sanford, and also visitors within the city please remember you are courteously invited to the regular meetings, September 5th, 1916.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sayre and little daughter and Mrs. Strickland, all of Tampa spent several hours in the city Sunday, the guests of Mrs. E. B. Brown at Comfort Cottage. They were enroute to Jacksonville for several days' visit.

THE ENTENTE CITY COUNCIL TAKE CHARGE HAD IMPORTANT MEETING OF GREECE

ARE RUNNING GOVERNMENT ACCORDING TO THEIR OWN IDEAS

London, England, Sept. 4.—The Greek government at Athens have accepted the demands of the entente powers in their entirety and agents of the French and British governments are today taking over the control of postal and telegraphic communication.

British and French ministers at Athens presented Sunday a note to the Greek government demanding control of the posts, telegraphs and wireless system on the ground that they were being used by enemies of the entente; demanded that agents of the Teutonic allies employed in corruption and espionage must immediately leave Greece and that measures must be taken against Greek subjects guilty of complicity therein.

Athens, Greece, Sept. 3.—(Via London, Sept. 4.)—Baron von Schenk, director of the German propaganda in Greece has been arrested and taken on board a cruiser of the entente allies. Sixteen additional warships of the entente powers have arrived at Paraeus.

Diplomats of the entente allies had demanded that Baron von Schenk and sixty co-workers be expelled from Greece. It was reported that he had barricaded himself in his house in Athens and surrounded it with a score of armed guards and his friends to protect him.

Bucharest, Sept. 3 (via London, Sept. 4).—The war office announced today that Rumanian troops have occupied Borszek and Selek in Transylvania. The Teutonic Bulgarian allies have been repulsed at Basardjik in Dubrudja, but elsewhere continue their attack along the whole frontier between Dubrudja and Bulgaria.

A raid by three hostile hydro-aeroplanes in the city of Constanza, on the Rumanian coast of the Black sea, with the wounding of several citizens and children is announced. The official statement says:

"On our northern and north-western fronts, after somewhat lively fighting we occupied the locality of Borszek, and the heights west of that town. We captured four officers and 150 men and entirely occupied the inhabited region of Selek (Sz Lelak), in Haromszek.

"On the southern front the enemy attacked along the whole Dobrudja frontier south of Basardjik but was repulsed. On the remainder of the front the fighting continues. The enemy bombarded Islack and Kalafat.

"Three hostile hydro-aeroplanes dropped bombs on Constanza. Several children and civilians were wounded."

The towns of Borszek and Sex Lelek are in the extreme eastern portion of Transylvania and the first named is the most frequented water place in that province and is situated in a romantic valley of the eastern Carpathians. It exports great quantities of mineral water and has a population of 1,500. Basardjik is a fortified town in the extreme southeastern portion of the Dobudjan district of Rumania while Islack and Kalafat are Rumanian frontier towns on the Danube river.

Noted Ball Player Here

Paul Snyder, catcher of the St. Louis Nationals is in the city spending an enforced vacation made necessary by an injury to his right foot sustained in a play. Mr. Snyder led his team in batting and leads the league in average as catcher and is prominent in ballroom. Mr. Snyder expects to spend several weeks here and is greatly enjoying the ball games between the Orlando and Sanford teams.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Roberts and family have returned from a delightful trip to Daytona Beach made in their Maxwell car. Mr. Roberts is back on the job of city clerk and looks like he had enjoyed the salt breezes.

TROLLEY LINE IS ASSURED THIS SECTION

LINE FROM SANFORD TO KISSIMMEE NOW SEEMS POSSIBLE

One of the forerunners of prosperity in this section of Florida is the proposed traction line between this city and Kissimmee that will open up one of the richest parts of Florida and be built through one of the most populous parts of the state.

Messrs. Hill, Alyea, Carlson and others of St. Cloud, together with President Dutton of the Sanford Board of Trade appeared before the city council last night relative to the granting of a franchise and right of way through the city.

The matter will be taken under consideration by the council and there is no doubt but what this city will be found extending the glad hand to the new line that promises so much in the future development of this city and country.

The matter is in the embryo as yet, the right of way being the important question to settle and after that the capital can easily be found to finance the project. The men back of the traction line are men of means and they are in touch with the big capitalists of the east. Since there is plenty of money now for investments the traction line can almost be said to have already started well on the way.

Brown's in Town

E. B. Brown arrived in the city Saturday from Tampa joining Mrs. Brown at Winter Park while she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lyman at Forest City and morning in Sanford. Mrs. Brown has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. J. Holly for the past week and accompanied Mr. Brown to their home in Tampa last night. The many friends here of Mr. Brown will be glad to hear of his success in Tampa in the fertilizer business as he is now one of the officials and is also general sales manager of the Gulf Fertilizer Co., being recognized as one of the most experienced fertilizer men in south Florida. He was formerly local manager here of the Virginia Carolina Chemical Co., but left two years ago to accept a better position with the Gulf Fertilizer Co.

J. B. Johnson and family have returned from a trip to the mountains of Tennessee where they sojourn every summer. Mr. Johnson is one of the successful growers of the Monroe section and has a summer home in the mountains near Knoxville, Tennessee.

Wire, or other material that may damage passing vehicles.

It was moved and seconded that the millage for 1916 be placed at 14 mills. Carried.

It was moved and seconded such carried that the following budget for the year 1917 be adopted:

Expenditure items include Sinking Fund, Interest on Bonds, Police Department, Fire Department, City Council, Streets & Bridges, Lighting Streets, San. & St. Cleaning, Municipal Salaries, Pauper Account, Sewers, Water Supply, Printing and Stationery, Miscellaneous, Bulkhead. Receipts items include Police Department, Sanitary, License, Pound & Dog Tax, Taxes, Road & Pers'l., Co. Road & Bridge.

City Tax Assessor was here instructed to cancel the assessment of the Sanford Traction Company. Council adjourned.

AMONG THE THEATRES

Chit-Chat of the Play Houses in Sanford

At the Star Theatre

Sussie Hayakawa, the noted Japanese actor, who will be seen at the Star on Monday in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Honorable Friend," written especially for him by Elizabeth McGaffey and prepared for the screen by Eva Unsell has long been considered by his fellow dramatic artists as one of the greatest actors on the screen. It was only recently, however, that he attracted the attention of the theatre going public. This was accomplished when he was seen in support of Fannie Ward in the Lasky production of "The Cheat." Shortly after that, in answer to popular demand he was starred in a Japanese story, "Allen Soula" and again repeated his success of the former production. In "The Honorable Friend," he has the role of a young Japanese in America, and it is said to be one of the most unusual in which he has appeared.

Hawakawa is surrounded by a cast of unusual excellence including such distinguished artists as Tauri Aoki, Raymond Hatton and Bill Elmer.

Marsh and Marshall in Drama of Paris Apaches

In "A Child of the Paris Streets" to be shown at the Lyric Theatre, Mlle. Dufrane, queen of the Apaches pleads with a judge of the French court to spare her son, who is arraigned before him; but he is deaf to her entreaties and sentences the youth to the gallows. The old woman vows revenge. Her opportunity comes soon after and she kidnaps the judge's little daughter, Julie.

Julie is reared as an Apache. She is taught to commit all the crimes peculiar to the Paris gangsters. But heredity tells and she rebels against her tutors. She is threatened with death by strangulation unless she obeys; but she succeeds in running away.

She finds shelter in the studio of a young American who is studying art in the Latin Quarter. He finds her there, and falls in love with her. She earns her living by posing as a model for him. From this time on, he attempts to protect her and safeguard her; but one day when she has ventured forth alone into the streets she is captured by the gangsters and carried back to the old life.

The artist learns of her danger, but cannot locate her. However, Julie's old nurse, who has been reduced to selling trinkets on the street sees Julie being carried away to the Apache den. She gives the alarm to the judge, and the police are sent to the spot. There is a thrilling fight between police and gangsters, while Julie is rescued from strangulation. The actual rescue is accomplished by her artist lover; so later, when he asks her hand in marriage, their union has the father's blessing.

Mae Marsh and Tully Marshall have the leading roles. Wednesday, at Lyric.

MAE MARSH, IN NEW TRIANGLE PLAY, "A CHILD OF THE PARIS STREETS."

At Lyric Theatre Wednesday.

"The Honorable Friend"

That a woman's crowning glory shall be her hair is the first commandment of all Japanese maidens, and the splendid head dress worn by Tauri Aoki, the beautiful Japanese actress, in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Honorable Friend" which will be seen at the Star on Monday, is a sample of the painstaking care these young ladies take in arranging their raven tresses. Arranging her hair in this fashion took Miss Aoki's two maids two hours. Her "crowning glory" had to be combed, oiled, and then moulded into shape so that each particular hair would remain in its designated position in spite of any movement its wearer might make, or of any mischief that some vagrant breeze might attempt to do.

A Girl With Too Much Money Her Problem

OWEN MOORE, IN THE NEW TRIANGLE PLAY, "SUSAN ROCKS THE BOAT."

At the Lyric To-night.

No woman can fail to be interested in the play, "Susan Rocks the Boat," by Dorothy Gish.

In these days of woman's place in the broader fields of the world's work, the note struck in the opening scenes of the new Triangle play, "Susan Rocks the Boat," with Dorothy Gish in the leading role has peculiar significance.

Susan is a girl raised without a responsibility to her name. She has a fortune of her very own home, servants, horses, automobiles and all that is part of a life of luxury. Yet she already has begun to feel the desire to be up and doing. It so happens that Susan has the wherewithal to rock the old family boat and create a little excitement for herself; so hers is an ideal situation.

Most young women think that marriage is going to free them from monotonous life of the old family circle, only to find that they have entered upon a treadmill vastly more onerous, from which there is no escape. Susan has that opportunity to marry with a brainless little society top as candidate for her hand; but fortunately she takes her fling before and finds a red blooded man who knows how to handle himself when necessary.

So, underlying the pleasant humor of little Susan's story there is visualized what twenty million women want, to help themselves to help the nation. It's a "big idea," worth thinking about.

Lyric, Friday.

Lionel Barrymore in Metro Wonderplay

"The Quitter," a stirring story with a big star and a strong cast.

Lionel Barrymore, one of the most popular and versatile artists of the screen will be seen here at the Star on Tuesday in the starring role of "The Quitter," a five part Metro wonderplay—produced by Rolfe Photoplays Inc. Marguerite

At the Star Saturday.

Stirvin, a charming and talented young woman, new to the Metro program will be seen in support of Mr. Barrymore. There is a strong supporting cast which includes Paul Everton, Edward Brennan, Charles Prince, Julius D. Cowles and other well known stage and screen artists.

The story of "The Quitter" is laid in a southwestern mining town, where scores of thrilling scenes are enacted. It was originally planned to photograph the scenes on the American Mexican border, but when the company of players went there they were advised to leave on account of the disturbance in that quarter. Director Charles Moran was obliged to bring his company back up north and seek a suitable location. He found exactly what he wanted near Delaware Water Gap, Penn., and there he constructed an entire mining town.

Among some of the interesting and picturesque scenes in "The Quitter" are the "Three Cheers" saloon and a typical western courtroom, with a big trial in progress. Mr. Moran used many real western types, including Indians, cow boys, half breeds and Chinese. These genuine types were brought out of the southwest by the director. Mr. Barrymore has one of the best parts of his career in "The Quitter."

Owen Moore, starred with Dorothy Gish in "Susan Rocks the Boat" a new Triangle feature, has a beautiful Irish fight therein that will make Douglas Fairbanks of the Ince studios look to his laurels. Lyric, Friday.

THINGS WENT WRONG

Miss Edith took the keen interest in things and people—particularly people—that young ladies of eighteen often do. So that accounted for her going down into the basement where Thomas Watts was clearing away the ashes from the furnace and making his acquaintance.

Thomas was a sort of odd-job man, of English birth, almost elderly and of a squat figure. He had made his appearance on the street early in the summer with a little push-cart, a sickle and a rake and he trimmed the lawns (which are not large) on the street for a minimum consideration of fifteen cents.

When the subject of wages he asked such of his patrons as had furnaces to allow him to tend them—shake down and feed in the morning, feed and bank at night, seventy-five cents per week, and ashes removed an extra twenty-five cents. Miss Edith's papa engaged him for the full program and Miss Edith at the first sound of shoveling went down and interviewed him.

She asked him a fine variety of questions. He did "fairish to middlin," as you might say—with his furnace.

"No, miss, I ain't married, o' course," he said in response to the next question. "Not as yet. I 'ope to be, but I'm not well enough off. Hi've got a lydy back in the hold country as I walked 'out with, but she es to me, she ses: 'Thomas, wen I marry I'm goin' to stop takin' in manglin'. Hi'm goin' to 'ave a 'ouse o' me hown an' a 'ushan' as 'as got 'is bit o' money in the bank.' So I come hover 'ere, but some'ow I never seem to 'ave no luck."

For some weeks the family heard little else from Miss Edith than accounts of Watts and his touching romance. "Her name is Sarah Jane 'iggins and she 'as carroty 'air," said Miss Edith. "Isn't it perfectly lovely? And they have been engaged now for more than seven years—as long as Jacob worked for what's-her-name."

She did help him according to her poor little means.

"Thankee kindly, miss," he would say, as he pocketed her donations. "It shows your feeling 'art an' hovery little 'elps, as the sayin' is. Hi'm-a goin' to tell Sarah Jane about this."

"Don't mind about that, Thomas," said Miss Edith. "But you might give her my love and tell her that I think you are—a nice man and that she ought not to insist upon a house of her own if you could take her to a nice little flat."

"No fear, miss. Hi'll tell 'er that," said Thomas.

One day a very rich man came to Miss Edith's house. He was so rich that he owned an entire flat building all by himself. Miss Edith told him about Thomas in her enthusiastic way, and he seemed interested and when she had finished he said: "Well, my janitor is going to leave me at the end of the week and I wouldn't wonder if this friend of yours suited me, very well, my dear. He would have a nice cozy little set of rooms in the basement, big enough for Sarah Jane and him, and he ought to save enough out of his wage, to put a bit in the bank. Send him around to see me."

Of course, when Thomas became the janitor of the Arethusas he could not attend to Edith's father's furnace any more and Miss Edith had to go to see him about Sarah Jane. For some time Thomas talked to her very freely, but he said that he would have to wait and put by a bit o' money before he sent for his sweetheart. Then as time passed it seemed to Miss Edith that Thomas rather avoided her. He was evasive in his replies when she did see him. She taxed him with his unkindness and he protested fervently that it was imaginary on her part.

"You see, miss," he said, "owso-never I might wish to 'ave a bit of a chack 'ave got a job o' work to do an' the work 'as to be done. How'n' to your kind recommendation I've got this situation han' I've got to show as 'ow I deserve it."

Miss Edith thought that was very nice of Thomas, but she was not sure that it explained why he was so reticent about Sarah Jane. The explanation of that came one morning when passing the Arethusas she saw Thomas coming out clad in a new suit of glossy black, stiff new hat and a necktie as big as his eyes. On seeing Miss Edith his face instantly became as red as the brick in the cottages opposite.

"Why Thomas, how smart you are this morning!" exclaimed Miss Edith. "You can't be working. You look almost as if you were to be married."

Thomas grew still redder in the face. "Well, miss," he stammered at last, "that there is my hintonations."

"Why, has Sarah Jane come? Oh, why didn't you tell me!" said Miss Edith.

"Well, now, miss," said Thomas, "not to deceive you, it ain't Sarah Jane. It's a young lydy Hi've been walkin' 'out with 'ere, 'er name bein' 'Lida Stromberg."

"Thomas," said Miss Edith, solemnly and reproachfully, "I'll never speak to you again."

"Why, I thought as 'ow you wanted me to marry, miss," said Thomas.

"I did," said Miss Edith, "but I wanted you to marry Sarah Jane, poor thing! How could you be so faithless!"

Thomas hung his head in guilty confusion. "Sarah Jane got married first," he said at last. "She married a— a 'bordasher on Nowington causeway."

"I don't believe you are telling me the truth, Thomas," said Miss Edith, severely.

OSCAR STANAGO IS VALUABLE

Billy Sullivan Ranks Tiger Catcher Next to Ray Schalk—is Patient With His Pitchers.

High-grade praise has come to Oscar Stanago. Billy Sullivan regards the Californian as ranking next to Ray Schalk as the best catcher in the American league.

"I do not know but that Stanago is a more valuable man to the Tigers than Schalk would be," says Sullivan. Schalk is a high-strung fellow and he shows to best advantage with a good pitching staff. Stanago, on the other hand, is patient and more likely to get good work from an uncertain staff than Schalk, next to Eddie Foster of the Nationals, is the hit and run batter in the American league. He stands at the top because of his uncanny ability to shove the ball through either side of the infield when the runner from first is going down.

"If the White Sox had Foster they would have the pennant won by the first of June," says Jennings. "Personally, I believe Foster is a much better second baseman than third, and I wouldn't be surprised if Jennings thought the same way. Foster is not only a fine fielder, but a dangerous batter and a good man on the bases."

The Sanford Herald heralds forth the news that in Florida the gasoline is "growing poorer." Maybe so, Whadder you reckon? Every time they knock a cent off it they add a cent to it—or what is it? I'd always supposed that it was all alike—except that some of it was better than the rest. Don't you mean that those who use it for medicinal purposes are "growing poorer?"—Palm Beach Post.

The state press welcomes Mrs. Jack Lawes back to the fold. Mrs. Lawes, who was formerly Mrs. Pauline Browne Hazen for many years was the society editor of the Tampa Tribune and her good work on that paper was greatly appreciated by the readers. She has again taken up her work for the Tribune and we give her the glad hand. Nay, nay, Pauline, you cannot quit the game once you have ink on your fingers.

Bob Holly is being twitted with plagiarism because he answers Catts' threat to swallow his certificate, by saying that in this event, Catts "would have more brains in his stomach than he ever had in his head. It seems another Bol—one Mr. Toombs—beat Holly to this saying. But, then the charge of plagiarism is not so bad. Indeed, it seems to be rather helpful to a politician than otherwise.—Lakeland Telegram.

Bob Toombs didn't say this about Catts and consequently there is no plagiarism. Toombs said this some fifty years ago about a man who was opposed to him for office and we were not there to hear him and were absolutely unaware of his saying it until the morning Catterwaul of Tampa called attention to it.

THAT FARCE OF A LIBEL LAW
Because it criticized the work of a detective named Cash the Ocala Star, one of Florida's most outspoken newspapers is being sued for $5,000, suit having been filed in circuit court last week.

Editor Benjamin treats the matter as a joke, and it is not believed that the complainant will recover a penny of damages. Inauguration of the suit, however, recalls the fact that the libel law that afflicts the statute books of Florida is one of the most iniquitous and truth-throttling ever passed by a legislature, and makes it more evident that newspaper publishers and citizens generally should demand that it be repealed and another enacted in its place.

Under the provisions of this law a newspaper cannot print the truth about any man or interest without being subject to suit, and they find protection alone in the spirit of fairness that dominates those who serve on juries. In many instances jury verdicts are of the joke variety, but jurors generally stand for the freedom of expression in the press, and as a result it is seldom that a verdict is rendered against a newspaper in a damage suit.

Florida newspapers should be free to state facts about conditions and men, which they cannot do without fear of prosecution as long as the present politician championed law is in force. Therefore one of the first duties of the next legislature is to repeal this law and enact one under which justice will be done.—Tampa Times.

IF THE STRIKE COMES
Many are hoping against hope that the threatened railroad strike will not materialize, that some means of arbitration will be found to settle the question amicably and satisfactorily to all parties concerned. In case the strike does come next Monday Sanford will probably be in a better position than any other city in the United States.

While there will be much suffering should the strike last any length of time and while our growers would be unable to ship their perishable products as formerly, the people themselves would not face actual starvation as they would at other points. Sanford is at the head of navigation on the St. Johns river and this great artery of trade would be alive with boats if the railroads are tied up. Sanford is on a direct route with all the eastern markets and the warehouses of Jacksonville and other cities on the Atlantic seaboard are filled with goods at this time. Having difficulty in transporting them to other points inland the river would give them an outlet, supplemented by the Atlantic Ocean.

We could get supplies for many months and together with all that could be raised here in the way of fruits and vegetables Sanford could keep the wolf from the door and virtually live within ourselves. We deplore this strike and hope it will never come to pass for Sanford is a railroad center and many of our citizens are employees of the railroad and the reduction of wages and curtailment of train service would work a great hardship in this city in many ways, but Sanford would still be on the map in large letters even if the worst came.

This is just one of the many strong points in favor of this city over any other in the United States.

RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT

The National Campaign committee have appointed the following Sanford citizens as the campaign committee: F. L. Woodruff, A. T. Rossetter, L. P. Hagan, J. N. Whittier, B. W. Herndon, R. J. Holly, A. P. Connelly and P. M. Elder and this committee will solicit funds and otherwise assist in the campaign for the re-election of Woodrow Wilson. In this campaign it is well to enumerate some of the big things achieved by the Democratic party during the present administration, a record in every way most worthy of a continuance in office.

The Democratic party has been found in control of the government for nearly four years, and in that time it has written more of constructive legislation than any other administration in the nation's history and guided the ship of state safely through crises more numerous and more grave than had arisen in the preceding fifty years of our diplomacy.

The Democratic administration has kept the country out of war, while preserving its honor unsullied and unscathed.

It has provided for adequate preparedness against aggression by any foe.

It has preserved that strict neutrality which Washington declared should always be the policy of the United States.

It has followed in Mexico the policy of Lincoln, who asserted the right of that unhappy people to order their own government.

It has established prosperity more general and genuine than all the people ever enjoyed before, so that every dinner pail is full, every factory working, every man employed and the average of wages higher.

It has given the nation a system of banking and finance that shielded it from panic and depression when the whole structure of European credit was destroyed by war, and which overwhelmed other neutral nations whose statesmen lacked the foresight and capacity of America's Democratic statesmen.

It has amended the anti-trust laws making guilt personal, defining what constitutes restraint of trade, and preventing trade monopoly with prohibition of interlocking directorates; and has set up in the Federal Trade Commission a court of business.

It has taken labor out of the classification of commodity, and bid it aspire to the higher things it rationally craves without fear of punishment for doing so.

It has afforded the farmer easier credit and diminished the burden of interest he must carry.

It has opened new avenues of business, created new markets for the products of American factory, field and farm, charted new routes of commerce and is in way of establishing an American merchant marine which will put the Stars and Stripes in every harbor in the world.

It has forever taken the tariff out of politics by the creation of a non-partisan commission. It has served the humanities in denying to goods produced by child-labor the right to shipment in interstate commerce and conserved childhood in the Children's Bureau law. It has laid the ground work for a national system of good roads, guarding against extravagance in use of the people's money with a provision that every dollar appropriated by the federal government the states must appropriate another dollar.

It has kindled anew the fires of patriotism, reminding men and women of the meaning of Americanism, awakening the nation to lively sense of its perils, its powers, its weakness, its mission, and quickening the pulse with fervor of devotion to the flag and all its symbolisms.

There are only some of the larger achievements of the Democratic administration, accomplished not only without disturbance to business, but with acceleration of business.

"The ring of the anvil, not the rattle of the sabre; the song of the reaper, not the shriek of the soldier; the clatter of the shuttle, not the crack of the rifle, have won us the place we occupy today in the councils of the world."

ORLANDO WINS FIRST GAME THURSDAY IN A DOUBLE HEADER

Orlando defeated Sanford yesterday afternoon in the first game of a double header by the score of 6 to 0. Huey Sikes was in the points for the Orioles, while Robinson was selected to work for the Sanfordites. Sikes was almost invincible, only three scattered hits being secured off his delivery. His club gave him airtight support and it was hard for the locals to do anything with his delivery, for if ever he had anything on the ball he had something yesterday. Saunders led the hitters in the first game with three hits, one being a double. Brinson's one hand catch also featured. On account of the bad weather there was not quite as large a crowd as was expected, though even at that quite a good sized audience witnessed the games. Chambers three base hits and Dillinger's double paved the way for the first runs which were made by the Orlando club. Chambers also played a great game in the field. Below is the box score:

Second Game

The second game was another pitchers' battle between those two favorite pitchers, Palmer and Decatur. Both were pitching great ball. Decatur allowed six hits while Palmer gave up seven. In the first inning was where Decatur was a little off the Sanford players securing three hits off his delivery and scored the only run. From then on he allowed three more hits though they were scattered, he never being in danger. Palmer pulled out several good holes. More than once the Orlando boys had a man on third, but the necessary wallop was not there. Saunders again secured two hits, making a total of five hits for the afternoon's work. The Orlando club played a great game behind Decatur and the Sanford boys were fairly well supporting Palmer but the support could have been a little better. The strike outs were three for Palmer and six for Decatur. A little mention of Dillinger's work on the first cushion, must not be overlooked. This boy sure played a great game around the initial sack. Dill has been one of the steadiest players on the Orlando club day in and day out. His fielding has been of the highest type. Chambers, Brinson and Crowell starred in the field, all three pulling down hard chances. Orlando scored in the first inning Weiler walked, was sacrificed to second by Spitznagle, scoring on Crowell's hit to right center. A little argument arose as to whether Weiler was entitled to home plate, as the umpire ruled that Burdick interfered with the runner. The writer doesn't know any more about the play. Though if Burdick interfered with the runner he was entitled to home plate and if he didn't interfere it cost a run. There never will be satisfaction as long as the inexperienced men are umpiring. LaRoque, who has been umpiring is very badly needed again. The writer has never known just why he was let out. He always gave the decisions as he saw them. And the people are now complaining about the ragged umpiring on both sides. When Robinson and Decatur umpired down at Orlando last Monday several boasts were received about the way they handled the indicator. The following Tuesday, both of the same players umpired again. It happened to be the misfortune of two home plate decisions had to fall on Decatur to handle. There was no question of a doubt about either of the decisions. But again a kick was registered about the players couldn't umpire and be fair. Now, if an experienced man can be secured things will run all right. If not something is going to happen that is going to hurt the game in the two counties. SO LET'S GET LAROCQUE BACK.

Following is the line-up for game on Wednesday in which the score was 7 to 9 in favor of the Sanford boys:

Catcher—Laurence Smith. Pitcher—Horace Hudson. First—Leo Peck. Second—Harvey Parrish. Short—Leonard McLucas. Third—Pewee Tillis. Left—Frank Purdon. Right—Delwin Hurley. Center—Ed. Moye. Errors, 8. Hits, 12. Runs, 9.

Butt—Sligh The following from the Times-Union will be interesting to the Sanford friends of Nixon Butt who resided here for many years:

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Sligh have announced the marriage of their daughter, Alice Pauline, to Mr. James Nixon Butt, the wedding having taken place in Saluda, N. C., last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sligh and family have been summering in North Carolina.

The announcement will come as a surprise to the many friends of the couple, who will unite in wishing them happiness in their married life.

The bride, who is a member of the younger set is a charming and attractive young woman and will be cordially welcomed on her return to Jacksonville.

Mr. Butt is a well known young business man of this city, being one of the owners of the S'abut Tire and Supply Company. He has a wide circle of both business and social friends and acquaintances, who will extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Butt, after a brief wedding trip will return to their city to reside.

The following announcements are being received:

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Kibler Sligh announce the marriage of their daughter, Alice Pauline to Mr. James Nixon Butt on Saturday, August, the twentieth, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen Saluda, North Carolina

A NOONDAY ROMANCE

By ELSIE SEE

"Something's wrong with Bessie Moore, sure as anything," said Mrs. Ferrell to herself as she removed the breakfast dishes from the long board-ing-housed table. "She's eaten scarcely any breakfast for a week. It can't be money, for she gets a fine salary at the government offices, and pays her board regular as the months come around. So it must be worry."

"Reckon she ain't grievin' over that Mr. Bartle's leavin'?" asked black Martha, who mistook the colloquy for a remark addressed to her.

"No, I guess not," opined Mrs. Ferrell.

A short time afterward, Mrs. Ferrell darkened the dining room for the day and was about to sit down to telephone her grocer when the door bell rang. She opened the door and was surprised to be greeted by the very Mr. Bartle of whom she had been thinking in connection with Bessie Moore's despondency.

"I've only a moment, Mrs. Ferrell," said the young man in a pleasant voice. "I'm just in town for the day, and I dropped in to leave your latch-key that I carried off with me. How's everybody?"

"All well, I believe, though Miss Moore does seem a bit off color since the warm weather set in." Mrs. Ferrell's motherly solicitude was genuine.

"I think there's something on her mind," Mrs. Ferrell ventured. "She never once mentioned her family to me, but when Mrs. Marmaduke brought her to me, she told me to be good to her, for she was true blue blood and was carrying a big load and making a brave fight."

"You can't mean Mrs. Stanley Marmaduke, the prominent clubwoman?" "Yes, we come from the same little town up state, and she has been a mighty good friend to me more than once in my life, Mr. Bartle."

"Why, she and my mother were schoolgirl chums, and she has visited our home often. I've still got a little time on my hands today, though, and I think I'll run around to see her." That day at luncheon time, when Bessie Moore came down the elevator and stopped into the dingy lobby of the subtreasury building and Harry Bartle stepped from the opposite side of the corridor and smilingly advanced to greet her, the expression that overspread her face was like spring sunshine after rain.

Before she had time to frame any excuses, Harry gained the acquiescence in a prearranged plan for a tete-a-tete luncheon in one of the little sun-parlor alcoves of a popular restaurant. When they were settled at the table and their order had been given, he took a small pink rose from the cluster that filled a low bowl in the center of their table and tossed it to her.

"In a public restaurant I can't throw myself at your feet," he began, "and you've forbidden me to do that anyhow, but I throw you a rose as a symbol, for I've something to say which must be said here and now."

"Really, Mr. Bartle," protested Bessie, "please don't spoil this lovely day. Things that you do not dream of make it impossible for me to listen to what you want to say."

"Bessie, I do not dream of anything except the happiness that will be ours if you will care for me as I've cared for you for many months, but I do know about the things which have caused you to keep me from telling you how much I care. The question is, dear, do you care, too?"

"It's because I do care that it hurts to mention what can never be. Do you mean that you've learned about my—the debts?"

"Yes, I called on my mother's old friend, Mrs. Marmaduke, today, and almost used force to drag your story from her. You are a wonderful girl."

"Not wonderful, at all, Harry, I should have been inhuman had I allowed the knowledge of those outstanding notes to reach my mother in her depressed and broken condition after father's sudden death. She felt secure with the snug little life insurance he left her; my brother had his wife and babies to look after; my sister was more capable than I to look after mother's actual physical needs, and so my only real service to her lay in paying off those notes without ever letting her know of their existence. That was possible because old Mr. Parker presented them to me when none of the others was present, and I secured his promise to let me pay them off personally without letting the others know. A thousand dollars of the debt remains, and until all is paid I cannot consider my own happiness."

He saw their waitress approaching a serving table with a covered tray, and he bent forward eagerly and said very rapidly: "This is the queerest proposal of marriage that ever was, Bessie, but what they sent me to town today for was to employ a private secretary to go with me into the mountains where I'm to have charge of the Scalan mines. There would be no objection to my secretary being also my wife, and a few months of mountain life would do you a world of good. In less than a year, you could pay off that thousand from your salary, and in the meantime the world would be ours. Will you come?"

For answer, she lifted the rose to her lips and smiled into his eager eyes (Copyright by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Judges and Jurors.

The judge pronounced the law in the case, the jury looks after, and acts upon, the facts. The verdict of the jury is supposed to be a conclusion from the facts. If it should happen to be a verdict disregard of the facts, the judge may (and sometimes does) rebuke the jury. He may even go so far as to order a new trial of the case.

Successful Dance

Last Tuesday night at Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodruff's beautiful home on Oak avenue was the scene of a most successful dance, given in honor of their two boys, Frank and J. D. Woodruff who are going off to school. It was a vfarwell dance and everyone who attended was more than satisfied. Refreshments were served and plenty of good music was furnished for the occasion. Mrs. Frank Woodruff and Mrs. John Brady were the hostesses for the dance and every one was well received. Both ladies proved to be most charming entertainers. The ball room was packed with young people and beautiful evening gowns were in great numbers.

WEST GENEVA AVENUE NOTES

Mr. Seth Woodruff called at the home of Mrs. Jack Vaughn Tuesday on business interests.

Mrs. Jim Platten, a resident of the Miller grove received quite a fright Monday evening. Hearing a noise at the back door went to investigate and found a supposed tramp, but I guess he was as frightened as she was as he made himself scarce as quickly as possible. I guess the weather is too hot to work!

Mrs. Jim Platten was the guest of Mrs. Will Robinson Tuesday, spending a very pleasant day.

Miss Gladys Robinson spent the day with Miss Edna Thompson Tuesday.

Every one enjoys the cool breeze in the evening after the dry, hot days.

Quite a crowd gathered at the home of Mrs. Tom Tyner Monday, in honor of the seventy-seventh birthday of her mother. Birthday refreshments of coffee, cake and lemonade were served. The many friends there all enjoyed a pleasant time.

GRAPEVILLE AND UPSALA

Rev. G. V. Albertson delivered one of his fine Bibles at Mr. Tyner's home and called at Mr. Ballinger's last week.

Mr. Stedt was nearly overcome by the heat last week and is still poorly.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Fry came up from Windemere Sunday, bringing with them Mrs. Bengston and Miss Mabel Tyner. Mrs. Bengston will remain with Mrs. Tyner for a short visit.

We were all sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Charley Lundquist which occurred at her home in Upsala last Saturday at nine o'clock. She had been in very feeble health for some time. The interment was in the Lutheran cemetery. Dr. Hyman of Sanford conducting the services. A large number of relatives and friends attended.

Mr. Roy Lee of the West Side was a visitor Friday at Mr. Thompson's and his brother Jessie visited at Mr. Stedt's Sunday.

Mr. J. A. Thompson happened to a painful little accident Wednesday caused by running a nail in his hand.

Mrs. Adam Karr and four children of DeLand came last Saturday to visit her mother, Mrs. Bertelson and sisters, Mrs. Borell, Mrs. Magnuson and Mrs. Ericson for a couple of weeks.

Rev. Ericson preaches at Conway next Sabbath and at Pine Castle on the last. Mr. Ericson is marketing some fine honey from his apiary.

Mr. and Mrs. Nils Swanson, Miss Frances McDougal and Mr. Norman Swanson were guests at Mr. and Mrs. Magnuson's on a recent Sunday.

A number of ladies young and old gathered at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lundquist to welcome their mother, Mrs. Bergquist of Fort Meade to Upsala. She has been visiting her children here, stopping on her way home from the sanitarium where she went in search of health. We found her a very genial and cheerful soul in spite of her sick body and all hope she will prolong her stay with us as long as possible. Those who called were Mrs. Borell, Mrs. Stedt and daughter, Ebba, Mrs. Tyner and daughter, Miss Mabel, Mrs. Bengston, Miss Edna Thompson, Mrs. Karr, Mrs. E. F. Lundquist and children and Mrs. Ballinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tyner planned a pleasant surprise on her mother, Mrs. Bengston last Monday at their home last Monday, it being her 77th birthday. It was a happy surprise on the aged lady, she having spent the most of her life in this community and so was pleased at the visit of her old neighbors and with happy talk and good music the time soon passed. We gathered about the table where delicious cakes and coffee were served. One very pretty birthday cake was trimmed in white and chocolate by her grand daughter, Miss Mabel Tyner. In all twelve cakes were cut. Those present to enjoy the party were Mesdames Bertelson, Borell, Karr, Ericson, Mrs. John Lundquist, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lundquist and children, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lundquist and children, Mrs. Jack Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson and children, Gladys Roberson and Mrs. Ballinger.

Wedding bells are in the air and we believe if all could go that would like to no house in town would hold the crowd.

Christian Endeavor Notes
Some nice Endeavor things keep going on in Sanford and thereabouts which we are not able to report in press department space in the Herald. Why?
This is our last article in August. September means the approach of fall in northern states. Here it is usually one of the most summery we have. So there is yet need of warm weather, keeping at it religion.

Many pastors are returning from well deserved vacations. Among them has been Rev. Smith of the United Brethren of Tampa, bringing with him financial support from friends in the north, so that their new church building will soon be commenced. This item we got from the Tampa Times.

How many read the article, "Looking Death in the Face," by Dr. Clark, in the last Christian Endeavor or World? Let us rejoice that he is able to write for us again.

Interlachen, in Northeastern District, is again trying the have-a-society plan. Mrs. Blachoff is president; Miss Clarence Fraser, treasurer; Mr. Wm. Zern, recording secretary and "your humble servant" corresponding secretary. Rev. R. C. Driske, who is filling the Congregational pulpit this summer is an ardent worker.

This bright idea is just in from our press reporter, Miss Elizabeth D. Burleigh of the Congregational society of Tavares: "Last Wednesday evening we had a transparency as an object lesson. A large C. E.

monogram was cut out of the bottom of a paste board box, then covered with red tissue paper. This was covered with a heavy dark paper and stood on a table with a strong light behind it. As each member took part a strip of the heavy paper was torn off, so that at the close of the meeting the whole C. E. was lighted from within. We used the topic, "True Beauty and How to Get It," so it was a good illustration." This item is especially good, for it shows how to make the illustration, and thus others can "sit up and take notice." The Tavares society holds Wednesday evenings instead of prayer meeting.

Visiting other societies is a very popular fellowship plan this summer. It would be a good one for all the year, only in winter folks seem to be too busy at home for cultivating the exchange plan of ~~the~~ Recently the DeLand Endeavorers, of East-Central District visited Orlando Presbyterian. And the latter enjoyed it so much that they began right away planning to go to Sanford and see how they were getting along.

Plans were all made for organization of a Christian Endeavor society and the Sunday before the organization was effected the Baptists started a B. Y. P. U., and as there was but enough for one society this ended the interdenominational work of ours getting a hold in that small community. This is the report from one of the districts recently.

Here is a fine item, Mr. Lehmann sent. Christian Endeavor societies with nearly 250 members have recantly been formed among the young men of the National Guard in camp in South Carolina and Georgia. Why not at the Florida encampment grounds, Black Point? Grace A. Townsend. Interlachen, Fla., Aug. 28.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO AUTO OWNERS

You can get double the mileage out of your tires at a comparative small cost, if you will have them retreaded as soon as the tread is worn to the fabric, or as soon as the fabric begins to show. The brick roads grind off the tread before the walls of the tire are damaged and a new tread will make the tire practically as good as new. Have all cuts and punctures in tires repaired as soon as possible thereby preventing moisture entering tire and decaying the fabric, thus saving a Blow-Out and serious damage to tire and tube laret son.

We have special facilities for repairing tires and tubes. Send your work to us or phone. All work guaranteed and tires and tubes insured against loss from fire while on hand.

DRINK GOOD HOPE MINERAL WATER

In Thirty Days Note The Difference in Health and Vitality

SCIENCE
Science has proven that 90 per cent of chronic troubles are caused by improper diet and drinking impure water.

GOOD HOPE MINERAL WATER is a pure, natural, medicinal water, flowing from a subterranean spring, nearly one thousand feet deep. This water is never treated or doctored in any way, but is bottled direct from the mineral wells to the container, retaining all its natural gases and medicinal properties.

$500.00 REWARD
on proof and conviction of any one representing themselves as Good Hope Agents, unless duly authorized by the company, or any one selling Good Hope containers and selling spurious water as Good Hope Mineral Water, or that the Good Hope Water Company ever offers free water, except that which comes direct from the Good Hope Mineral Wells. Also, if the Good Hope Water Company or its associates ever doctored or treated this water in any shape, manner or form, we will give the above reward.

ANOTHER $500.00
is offered in any case challenged, where we fail to prove that Good Hope Mineral Water has been very efficacious in many chronic troubles, such as stomach kidney, bladder troubles and rheumatism.

TRY IT
We solicit the patronage of Good Hope Mineral Water on its merits, and in any case where the user does not admit it is one of the best waters he ever used, we will gladly refund money.

FLORIDA WILL BE THE CORN STATE
 ONE HUNDRED BUSHELS OF CORN TO THE ACRE GROWN ON THE RECLAIMED LANDS OF FLORIDA

The corn states of the middle west can no longer lay claim to that title for the rich alluvial lands of Florida that are now being drained will eclipse any thing in the history of the world and where the 1100 acres told of in the article below are only a small percentage of the good lands that will soon be opened for farming. For instance the thousands of acres of land that will soon be drained in the upper St. Johns river section above this city will offer to the world the greatest corn growing sections in the United States. Read the results from the drained lands in the Ocklawaha section near Ocala:

In May, 1912, the writer visited a land reclamation operated some ten or fifteen miles from Ocala, Fla., where the course of a river was straightened and 5,000 acres of land which ordinarily were under water were being drained. The plan was an attractive one, and even at the date gave promise of remarkable success. Land which had been under water waist deep had even then been reclaimed in part and some of it put under cultivation. This development gave promise of showing what could be done in reclamation work.

The success of this enterprise is now told in a letter to the Manufacturer's Record, from Mr. Edgar A. Wright, editor of the Florida Grower, who writes:

"Ocala, a town of 5,000 or 6,000 progressive citizens, is very properly termed the center of the agricultural and stock raising section in Florida.

"What is without doubt the richest body of land in America under cultivation is located about fifteen miles southeast of Ocala, in the abandoned river bed of the Ocklawaha river. This property is known as the Young & Ford farm, personally owned by Messrs. Young & Ford, and is for the first time this year planted on a large scale to corn. An elbow in the course of the river has made it possible for this tract of land to be drained. A canal has been cut from each point of the elbow and the river course diverted into this canal. The old river course now serves as a drainage for these lands, and the lateral ditches are drained into the old river bed. A dike is formed at one end, and not only drainage obtained, but by the manipulation of the dike during dry weather water can be placed back on the land for irrigation purposes.

"The soil is simply the decayed vegetation of centuries. It ranges from twenty to forty feet deep of solid muck. When drained it is accessible for cultivation with either mules and plows or tractors, and it is sufficiently porous to take off rainfall without discomfort or interference with the crops.

"Last year from four and one-half acres planted to corn an average yield of 142 bushels of corn per acre was obtained without the application of any fertilizer. This year 1,100 acres is solidly planted to corn which averages over the entire acreage better than 100 bushels to the acre, all without any commercial fertilizer. It is a sight to behold! The corn stalks stand in almost solid mass from 12 to 15 feet in height, and the quality of the corn is all that could be desired.

"Receding back from this vast acreage of fertile soil the sand soil with the yellow pine growth gradually occurs. It is the purpose of the promoters to engage in the live stock industry extensively, and the higher lands adjoining afford excellent pasturage; and the corn taken from this land will, of course, be fed to the hogs and cattle that are raised thereon. The famous cornfields of Illinois and Iowa, about which the American farmer has heard for a generation, fade into insignificance as compared to the wonderful production of such land as is to be had in the bed of the Ocklawaha river.

The Young & Ford farm is the first commercial drainage project which has been carried through to a successful conclusion in this river bed. There are thousands of acres of just as good land for a distance of 15 or 20 miles south of this farm and contained in this same river bed, which require only the necessary amount expended to accomplish adequate drainage. Investors in this part of Florida are just coming to a full realization of the possibilities of these rich lands, and in a comparatively short space of time the Ocklawaha river bed from Silver Springs to Leesburg, in Lake county, will be a veritable gold mine, producing staple crops in almost unbelievable quantities per acre.

With 1,100 acres in a solid body yielding an average of more than 100 bushels to the acre, Iowa and other western states will have to admit that they have met their match, and that Florida, the state which by many has been supposed to be given over mainly to citrus fruits and vegetables has corn-raising possibilities which give promise of making that state one of the rich corn-growing regions of the country.—Ocala Daily Banner.

BLEASE WINS OUT

Will Go Into Second Primary With Manning

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 1.—With nearly complete returns from Tuesday's Democratic primary tabulated, the results are as forecast from early returns—Cole L. Blease, the leader in the first primary will make the second race for governor against Richard L. Manning, the incumbent. The results in the six congressional races, in doubt last night were cleared up by returns which came in today. Of the six congressmen who had opposition five have gone in on the first primary, according to almost complete though unofficial returns, and the sixth will make the second race.

In the first district R. S. Whaley, the incumbent has an assured lead over J. G. Padgett, his only opponent, and his nomination is sure. James F. Byrnes, incumbent in the Second district, has swept the field, carrying every county against his opponent, Alvin Etheridge. In the Third district, Wyatt Alken, the incumbent, must make a second race against F. H. Dominick, who has a lead of about 1,000 votes over Mr. Allen. In the Fourth district, Sam J. Nichols, incumbent has piled up an enormous majority over his two competitors, A. H. Miller and D. B. Traxler. In the Fifth district D. E. Finley, incumbent, has a safe lead for reelection over W. F. Stevenson. In the Sixth district J. Willard Ragsdale, the incumbent, has been renominated over both his opponents, James D. Evans and J. S. McInnes.

A. F. Lever, congressman from the Seventh had no opposition.

Latest figures from the gubernatorial race made the result more certain, as indicated in the early returns. The tabulation of votes as made tonight showed: Cole L. Blease 57,610. Richard I. Manning, incumbent, 37,750. Robert A. Cooper 28,203. M. Deschamps 283, J. T. Duncan, 249.

For other state offices the later returns only increased the lead of the victors, Andrew J. Bethia being renominated for lieutenant governor and Sam T. Carter for state treasurer. William Banks Dove has been nominated for secretary of state. James Canaler and Albert S. Fant will make the second race for railroad commissioner. McDuffie Hampton, the incumbent, having run third to these two. Other state officers were renominated without opposition.

The second primary will be held September 12.

WILL MEET IN TAMPA

Important Meeting of South Florida Chamber of Commerce
 Orlando, Florida,
 To the Organizations Comprising the South Florida Chamber of Commerce.
 Gentlemen:—
 Acting upon instructions from President W. F. Miller and with the approval of the executive committee I am herewith transmitting to you a call for a meeting of the South Florida Chamber of Commerce to be held in the city of Tampa Thursday, Sept. 7th at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. An important meeting of the executive committee will be held in the morning at ten o'clock.

A rate bureau of benefit to the entire state will be taken up for action at this meeting. President Miller has gone into this matter very thoroughly. It is of the utmost importance to the people of the state and especially of South Florida. It is extremely important that your organization be represented by a strong delegation both in numbers and in personnel and I wish you would advise by return mail that such will be the case. Please urge also that any shippers of any commodity in your territory attend as the question is one of vital to their interest.

Other important matters will be submitted for the action of the members by the executive committee.

If your organization is not yet fully affiliated with the South Florida Chamber of Commerce send a strong delegation anyhow and find out how important the work is to your community.

Yours for South Florida,
 Fred M. Allen,
 Secretary.

It Always Helps
 says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.
 I wish every suffering woman would give

"The soil is simply the decayed vegetation of centuries. It ranges from twenty to forty feet deep of solid muck. When drained it is accessible for cultivation with either mules and plows or tractors, and it is sufficiently porous to take off rainfall without discomfort or interference with the crops.

"Last year from four and one-half acres planted to corn an average yield of 142 bushels of corn per acre was obtained without the application of any fertilizer. This year 1,100 acres is solidly planted to corn which averages over the entire acreage better than 100 bushels to the acre, all without any commercial fertilizer. It is a sight to behold! The corn stalks stand in almost solid mass from 12 to 15 feet in height, and the quality of the corn is all that could be desired.

"Receding back from this vast acreage of fertile soil the sand soil with the yellow pine growth gradually occurs. It is the purpose of the promoters to engage in the live stock industry extensively, and the higher lands adjoining afford excellent pasturage; and the corn taken from this land will, of course, be
