5 Killed In Chicago; Medicine Removed From Local Shelves

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Consumers won't be able to find Tylenol extra-strength capsules on the shelves of Sanford drug stores for a while and it may be quite some time before sales of the headache remedy return to normal, local pharmacists predict.

Area stores began removing the product from their shelves Thursday night when accounts from Chicago revealed that several people had died from taking capsules laced with cyanide. As of this morning, five people were dead and a sixth hovered near death from cyanide poisoning.

McNeil Laboratories, Inc., of Fort Washington, Pa., has recalled Tylenol extra-strength capsules in lots MC2880 and MD1910. Local pharmacists said they don't believe those lots were distributed in Florida. But pharmacists are taking no chances. They've taken all the capsules off the shelves, pending notification that other batches of the pain killer are not contaminated.

"We removed it from the shelves yesterday," Duane Zigler at Walgreen's in Sanford said. "We will keep it off until we know for certain it's safe."

Aubrey Moran, owner of Lake Mary Pharmacy, said he has taken all the capsules off the shelves.

Other stores reported they have taken the product off their shelves and are uncertain how long it will remain off.

"It's probably going to be a month or so until the scare is over," said Bob Burns of Super X in Sanford.

But even if the product is returned to the shelves, Burns said people probably won't buy it for a while. "The word Tylenol is poison to their minds right now."

Todd Winchester, pharmacist at Tru-Value Drugs in Sanford, said sales of Tylenol may be slowed for a year or more.

"I think it depends on how long it takes to clear this thing up," he said.

But he warned customers, "Don't take them until you know for sure."

Surprisingly, few people have called the drug stores for information about the tainted capsules. The most any pharmacist reported receiving was five at Faust's. Other pharmacists said they have received one or two calls.

Most said they believe people are just throwing their pills away to be sure.

Store owners in 31 states pulled a 93,000-bottle lot of Extra-Strength Tylenol labeled MC2880 off their shelves, fearful they may have some of the cyanide-laced capsules.

Early today, the Du Page County (Illinois) coroner's office confirmed cyanide was also found in a capsule taken from a bottle with the lot number MD1910. The bottle was found in the

Boy Killed; Driver Charged With DUI

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A 13-year-old Longwood boy is dead following a collision between a van and his bicycle at midnight Thursday and the driver of the vehicle has been charged with drunk driving with additional charges pending.

Anthony Gerald Farnam of 515 Pasadena Ave. was pronounced dead at 2:20 a.m. today by Florida Hospital-Altamonte officials as a result of injuries received in a collision with a Chevrolet van while peddling his bicycle along State Road 436 near Lake Howell Road, Casselberry police said.

Hospital officials said the young boy suffered head injuries and multiple scrapes and bruises in the crash.

Meanwhile, police have charged Joe Roger Blankenship, 32, of 1649 Redbird Lane in Apopka with driving under the influence of alcoholic beverages in connection with the fatal accident. Blankenship was being held in the Seminole County jail on $500 bond, jail officials said.

"Our investigators are continuing their probe of the accident to determine what other charges will be filed against Blankenship, if any," said Casselberry police Chief Fred McGowan. "We have to determine if the boy was negligent in any way and if he contributed to the accident by, for example, not having proper lights mounted on the bicycle or by riding the bicycle in the path of the vehicle. We just don't have those answers right now."

McGowan said the boy had been returning home after visiting his girlfriend's home when the accident occurred.

Police said that when they arrived on the scene, sheriff's deputies were attending to the injured boy who was lying in a ditch alongside the westbound lane of State Road 436. The boy's bicycle was lying in the grass beside the roadway with a broken bike pedal lying in the road, police said.

No injuries to Blankenship, a construction laborer, as a result of the crash were reported by police.

Young Farnam's death marks the 24th traffic fatality in Seminole County this year, according to the Florida Highway Patrol.

Sanford Man Saves Swiss Woman's Life

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford man serving on a work release program from prison may receive his freedom early because he saved a woman's life by using a procedure he had seen on television.

Edward O'Neal Ware, 21, on work release from the Orlando Community Correctional Center in Pine Hills, as a bus boy at the Quality Inn on International Drive, Orlando, used the Heimlich maneuver Thursday to save the life of a woman, choking on a piece of grapefruit.

"I was busing tables and heard her coughing. I could see she was choking. She was trying to drink water and couldn't swallow it," Ware said today.

"I had seen the Heimlich maneuver demonstrated on television, put pressure just below her ribs and squeezed twice and up came the chunk of grapefruit," he said.

Although the French-speaking woman, Evelyn Suter, a tourist from Geneva, Switzerland apparently tried to thank Ware afterwards, he could not understand her words nor could other employees there.

Mrs. Suter and her husband were having breakfast at the motel before leaving on a bus tour for New York.

Garritt Toohy, motel general manager, said he has had good luck with prisoners on work release. He said his dining room supervisor works closely with officials in charge of the program at the correctional facility.

As for Ware, Toohy said he is an excellent employee and has received one promotion during the four to five months he has been working at the motel.

"He started in the kitchen as a dishwasher and was promoted to bus-person," Toohy said. And Ware can keep the job when he is released from prison and goes on probation if he chooses to, Toohy said.

Prisoners on work release at the Quality Inn on International Drive get paid the same wages, get raises and receive promotions just like any other employee, Toohy said.

Meanwhile, Terry Dowd, chief counselor at the Orlando Community Correctional Center in Pine Hills, said Ware arrived at the center from the Appalachian Correctional Institution in Snead March 29 and began working at the Quality Inn April 18.

Ware had served a year in state prison before being sent on to the Orlando facility where prisoners with good records and with less than a year left to serve are given the opportunity for work-release.

Ware is scheduled for parole on Dec. 8, but may receive earlier release because of his action Thursday.

Dowd said counselors and other officials at the Pine Hills center are considering recommending that the state grant release for probation earlier because of Ware's "meritorious act." His release could be moved

Shark Attacks Longwood Man

After freeing himself from the jaws of a shark, a 19-year-old Longwood man ran 50 yards across the beach at Daytona Shores to a lifeguard station before collapsing in a pool of blood.

Lifeguard Capt. Joe Wooden said Dave Wagonson of 215 Albrighton Court was swimming in chest-deep water about 12:30 p.m. when a shark grabbed his ankle and pulled him under. Wagonson tried to get away and the shark bit his right foot, Wooden said.

After receiving first aid from the Daytona

Beach Shores Rescue Squad, Wagonson was taken to the Halifax Hospital Medical Center where he was treated for six severe cuts and released.

Wooden said there had been quite a few sightings of schools of bait fish swimming close to shore in the area and apparently the shark was feeding on mullet and bit Wagonson by accident.

Wooden said there have been quite a few shark attacks so far this year with approximately 10 such incidents on Volusia County beaches since January.

Lake Mary Blvd. Ideas Set

Panel Backs 6-Lane Plan

Acquisition of property for widening of Lake Mary Boulevard should begin as soon as possible, a citizens advisory committee recommended Thursday.

The panel accepted a consultant's report on the Lake Mary corridor and recommended right-of-way acquisition begin immediately for the project which is expected to take 20 years to complete and cost from $40 million to $50 million.

Funds to purchase rights-of-way from property owners are not available at this time but Seminole County, Lake Mary and Sanford officials should work together with developers to provide the necessary footage, committee members said.

Larry Dale, chairman of a subcommittee on right-of-ways, recommended voluntary or mandatory acquisition of the property.

"I'm a big one for land use but if someone is going to develop land it might be in their best interest to dedicate the right-of-way," he said.

Most of the corridor is planned as a six-lane urban highway requiring 123 feet of right-of-way. Current rights-of-way along Lake Mary Boulevard range from 50 feet to more than 100 feet.

M. Russell Davidson, chairman of a subcommittee on government cooperation, also recommended planners from the three entities draw up compatible comprehensive plans which would set uniform rights-of-way along the corridor from U.S. 17-92 to Interstate 4.

Dale said the corridor will be a local access road and most development along the highway will be commercial. Residential development such as along State Road 434 also is compatible with the highway plan. Because of limited sewage capacity in the area, most of the commercial and residential developments will be served by septic tanks.

Devere Foxworth, the Georgia consultant who drew up the plans, said, "The plan, we feel, meets the needs and desires of people who live and work in the corridor."

He said the plan will function through the year 2000. Figures used for construction, population and employment projections are conservative estimates, Foxworth said, but the six-lane road should exceed the traffic volume in 2000 by 20 to 30 percent.

Foxworth recommended construction of the first four-lane portion of the road begin when the traffic count reaches 12,000 cars per day. At several spots along the road near I-4, more than 12,000 cars already use the highway.

When a two-mile stretch of the road begins to receive that kind of use construction should begin, Foxworth said.

Gib Edmonds, chairman of a subcommittee on funding, said numerous funding sources will be required for construction of the highway. Most of those sources require state or federal approval, he said.

Edmonds suggested an increase in the state gasoline tax with funds earmarked for road construction could be a viable source.

An increase in drivers' license and license plate fees, an optional one-penny sales tax and a special tax on residents in the district are other alternatives, Edmonds said.

He recommended the implementation of a Seminole County Expressway Authority to explore various funding alternatives.

Several people who live along Lake Mary Boulevard complained the committee was proceeding with plans for the widening of the road under the assumption the project is necessary.

They said growth is not a foregone conclusion in the area.

Price said development of the area already is underway. He cited The Crossings, a 5,000-unit planned unit development, and Heathrow, a 4,000 unit development, as projects which already have been approved.

Dick Fess said the committee explored the "do-nothing" alternative. "That's the most expensive of all the options."

Fess said the loss of development, employment and commercial expansion, as well as the congestion that would be created, would be far greater than the costs of the project.

"The alternative to having this corridor is not being able to get on the road in its present condition," Dale said.

Paramedic Question Back On The Agenda

The Advanced Life Saving ordinance will be back on the agenda when the Casselberry City Council meets at 7:30 p.m. Monday in City Hall, 95 Lake Triplett Drive.

The ordinance, which calls for a referendum to be held Dec. 7 on a proposed fire department paramedic program, was not voted on at last Monday's meeting because of a few minor changes that were needed.

If passed by the voters, the paramedic program would not be implemented for another year. It would be financed with a special tax levy of $1.25 per $1,000 assessed property valuation for two years.

The $3,586,207 general fund budget for 1982-83 and the $6,834,474 utility fund budget were given final approval at Monday night's council meeting and the tax rate was set at $1.12 per $1,000 assessed valuation. The commission declined to include funds for the paramedics in the budget.

Other items on the agenda Monday night will include:

—Designating Oct. 22-Nov. 3 as the qualifying period for candidates to run for the council seats now held by James Lavigne, Frank Schutte, and Bill Grier. The election is Dec. 7.

—Appointing Frank Kruppenbacher of Winter Springs as special counsel to Mayor Owen Sheppard and Ned Julian, the city's negotiator with the police union, when they represent the city at a Public Employees Relations Commission hearing scheduled for 9 a.m. Oct. 6 at the Casselberry City Hall. The Orange County Police Benevolent Association (PBA), which represents the city's patrolmen and detectives, has brought charges of unfair labor practices against the city which the PBA says has not been bargaining in good faith.

—A proposed change in the Senior Citizens Multipurpose Center by-laws to change the number of members on the board of directors from 5 to 7.

—An ordinance prohibiting bicyclists from wearing headsets.

Lyman Boys, Howell Girls Take Freshman-Sophomore Meet

Trinity Prep's Adrienne Politowicz and Bishop Moore's Richard McKenna ran away from the field Thursday to post impressive victories in the Third Annual Freshman-Sophomore meet at Lyman High School.

Cross Country

Lyman's Silver Hawks packed two more runners in the top 10 (Angie Smith, 6th, 13:06 and Debbie Van Orden, 10th, 13:27) to edge Trinity to team honors, 37-43. Lake Mary was third.

In the boys matchup, McKenna blistered to a 15:50 record run, but it wasn't enough to keep coach David Huggins Lyman harriers from upsetting the Hornets.

Sophomores Carl Schmalmaack (4th, 16:57), Wayne Straw (5th, 17:02), Steve Howe (7th, 17:14) and freshman Pat Bell (9th, 17:21) jammed the top nine to give Lyman a 25-34 victory. Lake Brantley was third.

"It was an excellent meet," said coordinator Joe Laughlin, who coaches the Lyman girls. "We had 17 girls break 14 minutes and 12 boys break 18 minutes."

"The past few years only eight have done it in each group."

Tombros' Seminole girls were without Vera Rammassar who injured herself riding a bicycle from Crooms to Seminole prior to the meet.

"We could have moved up a couple of spots with Vera," said Tombros who didn't have enough girls to register a team score because of Rammassar's absence. Only four performers were scored instead of the five.

Lisa Grant finished 20th (14:12) and Tanny Chaudoin (15:43) was 29th for Seminole. Tanya Payne was 39th (17:12).

For the boys, Billy Penick, a Crooms freshman, demolished the freshman record with an 18:19 clocking for 14th place. His previous best was 19:05. Eric Jackson (30th, 19:20), Gary Barnett (46th, 20:56) and Steve Chung (47th, 21:23) were the next 'Noles in line.

The next big meet on tap for varsity teams in the Daytona Beach Seabreeze Invitational which will be run on the beach Saturday morning.

Burgess Leads Tribe Victory

Chuck Burgess set two school records while leading the Seminole High boys swimmers to their first victory in over two years Thursday, 58-45, over Apopka at the Sanford Bath and Tennis Club.

Burgess, a sophomore transfer from Lyman, zipped to a 2:10.9 clocking in the 200 intermediate and a 5:06 time in the 500 free. The first clocking broke the old mark of Frank Rowe's (1980) by over five seconds. His second time nipped his old mark by 1.3 seconds.

The blond-haired 10th grader also anchored the 200 medley relay team of Bruce Nelson, Tim Dycus and Howard Harrison to first place in 2:05.2.

Nelson added top spots in the 50 free (:25) and the 100 back (1:09). John Dubois topped the 200 free in 3:06 and Greg Carter won the diving with 1:20.15 points.

The Seminole girls also won Thursday, dropping DeLand, 81-38, to capture their second win in five meets.

Lisa Polgar, Dana Ray and Bridget Deere led the onslaught. Polgar won the 200 free (2:24.1) and the 100 free (1:03.9). Ray took the 50 free (:29) and the 100 back (1:20.5). Polgar and Ray then joined Gigi Hunt and Susie Porter to capture the 400 free relay (4:38.7).

Deere took the diving competition with 84.99 points and the 100 breast with a time of 1:24.5.

Alison McCall (200 IM, 3:04), Susan Madn (100 fly, 1:25.4) and Porter (500 free, 7:04.8) also registered first places.

"We had a couple of tough meets (Mainland and Lyman), but we had to have them to be pushed," said coach Donalyn Knight.

Polgar (100 free), Deere (100 breast), Ray (50 free), Nelson (50 free) and Burgess (200 breast, 100 back, 500 free and 200 IM) have all qualified for the prestigious Gator Invitational at the University of Florida Oct. 23 which draws all of the top swimmers in the state.

In other action Thursday, Lyman tripped DeLand. The boys won, 67-59, and the girls won, 69-47.

Laura Cook paced the girls effort with first places in the 500 free and 100 breast. Brian Thayer (100 fly and 100 breast) teamed with Johan Niklasson (100 and 200 free) to lead the boys with two top spots each.

wood, scored the touchdown that broke the Fightin' Seminoles. Underwood bulled his way for 10 yards to the end zone, and kicked the extra point, making it 14-6.

Lake Mary ended up blocking a punt, and eating up most of the fourth quarter clock to seal its third victory, which lowered the Tribe to 1-2.

Oct. 7 will see the Rams put their undefeated record on the line against the Blue-Darters at Apopka, while the Seminoles will try to get back on the winning track by playing the Lyman Greyhounds at Seminole.

Dunn's Grab Beats Howell

In other JV action Thursday, Brad Dunn made a diving grab of a tipped pass in the end zone to give Lake Brantley a 6-0 overtime victory over Lake Howell at Lake Howell.

After a scoreless two halves, Howell began the overtime on the Brantley

10. A procedure penalty set the Hawks back to the 15 and Brantley's Tony Wise then picked off a pass to end the threat.

After two plays gained nothing for the Patriots from the 10, quarterback Bobby Garrison let fly with a pass, which was tipped by a Silver Hawk, but grabbed in the end zone by Dunn.

Brantley, 2-2, hosts DeLand Thursday at 7:30 p.m. The Silver Hawks next game is Oct. 14 at Oviedo.

Smith Runs For 320 Yards As Lions Trample Osceola

A total of 320 yards rushing in something most running backs would love to have after three or maybe even four games. But that statistic, 320 yards, is what Oviedo freshman Andrew Smith compiled in just one game.

Smith ran crazy on the Osceola freshman defense and scored three touchdowns as Oviedo raised its record to 2-1 with a 28-16 rout of the Kowboys Wednesday night at Oviedo.

"He (Smith) already looks a little better than Marvin McClenon (ex-Oviedo standout running back)," Lions coach Don Gustafson said.

Oviedo's first score came in the opening quarter when Smith took the ball on a reverse and darted 64 yards for a TD after Osceola had taken an 8-0 lead. Dave Wood kicked the extra point to make it 8-7.

In the second period, Smith settled under a punt and returned it 76 yards for the freshman Lions' second TD. Smith caught a pass from Cory Batoon for the two point conversion and a 15-8 Oviedo lead.

Batoon bootlegged for five yards and the Lions' third TD, the kick was blocked but Oviedo led, 21-8.

Oviedo put the game out of reach when Smith scampered 20 yards for his third touchdown. Woods' kick made it 28-8. Osceola scored again but it was too little, too late.

Oviedo's defensive effort was led by Craig Duncan, eight tackles and two assists and Rick Beckstrom, six tackles, six assists and a fumble recovery. Jeremy Missaud also recovered a fumble.

Lions Net Win; Rams Lose

Eustis trimmed Lake Mary, 15-3, 15-17, 15-2, in 3A varsity volleyball action Thursday at Lake Mary.

"We're playing very up and down," said Ram coach Cindy Henry. "Amy Kantarjian hit the winning serve in the set we won." The Rams scrambled back for a 13-7 deficit in that set.

Elsewhere, Oviedo manhandled Leesburg, 15-6, 15-3, as Lion coach Anita Carlson flooded the floor with reserves in the second set.

Mary Lokers hit the final five points in the first-set win. Oviedo travels to Lake Mary Tuesday for a junior varsity and varsity match beginning at 4 p.m.

In junior varsity action, coach Cindy Frank captured her first victory of her career when Lake Howell ripped Lyman, 15-1, 15-11.

Melissa Schneider hit 10 straight points in set one, while Kim Newell broke a 10-10 tie in set two and Kim Montegny capped the win with the final three points.

No Progress In NFL Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If NFL defenses were as impenetrable on the field as both sides have been at the negotiating table, nobody would ever score.

Representatives of the NFL Players Association and the NFL Management Council recessed late Thursday night after meeting for 10 hours in a Washington hotel. Both sides said little has changed since the on-and-off talks began in February.

"We'll meet tomorrow (Friday) at 11:30 (a.m. EDT) and that's all that was agreed upon," said Los Angeles Raiders' guard Gene Upshaw, president of the players union, which has been on strike since Sept. 21.

Aside from that, Upshaw and Jack Donlan, the management council's executive director, agreed on almost nothing.

"No progress was made," said Donlan. "We talk money and the union talks control. They describe us as insensitive because we won't buy proposals we consider outrageous."

"They reminded us several times that they are on strike. We reminded them we know they are serious about their demands. They should also realize, though, we won't accede to their proposals. We just aren't going to dump a working system."

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Saturday, October 2, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY
October 2, 1982
This coming year you are likely to form a number of new alliances. Some will fizzle, but two will be with unusual persons and the bonds will hold.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Basically, you're very cooperative, and you appreciate the benefits of making a compromise, but today you may only bend up to a point — and no further. Predictions of what's in store for you in the seasons following your birthday and where to look for your luck and opportunities are in your Astro-Graph, Mail #1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
A proposal may be offered you today which will contain a number of advantages but if you analyze it carefully you may find too many strings attached.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Have an alternative social plan ready today, just in case what you've planned with friends falls through. There is a chance that it might.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Do something quiet today with a few select pals, or just your family. If you attempt to mix career or business contacts into the happening, it will fizzle.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
Try to keep touchy subjects, politics or religion out of conversations with close chums today. There's a possibility somebody may say something which could offend another.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Your potential for acquiring goods or money is better than usual today. By the same token, foolish moves either by you or another could offset your advantages.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
You'll feel more comfortable today in activities where you can call your own shots, rather than in a situation which calls for a team effort.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Those who are in a position to be helpful to you today may back off if they think you are not prepared to do anything for them in return.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
This could be a rather unusual day socially, in that you might feel completely at ease with strangers, but uncomfortable with close friends.

CANCER (June 21-July 21)
Your objectives today will be the right ones. Unfortunately, you may permit others to dissuade you from them.

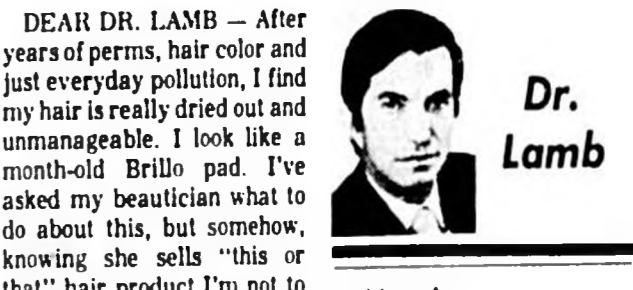

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
If you permit your pride to get in the way today it will work to your disadvantage in competitive situations. Don't give your opposition this edge.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Joint ventures offer promise today, but there's also the possibility their benefits will not be fairly proportioned. You might come out on the short end.

Tips On Treating Dried Out Hair

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — After years of perms, hair color and just everyday pollution, I find my hair is really dried out and unmanageable. I look like a month-old Brillo pad. I've asked my beautician what to do about this, but somehow, knowing she sells "this or that" hair product I'm not to sure she gives me the true low-down.

I need to know just what to use to restore my hair to its former condition. I am a female, 39 and in good health; I eat a fairly balanced diet and take no medication.

How can I find out which hair products are good and which to stay away from? How often should I use conditioners? I've heard you can use too much too often. Is that right?

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would appreciate any information you can give me on a heart pill called digoxin. My father takes this pill and we would like to know the side effects it has. I've been told it can cause diarrhea.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Digoxin, also marketed as Lanoxin, is one of a group of drugs called digitalis. Originally the medicine was obtained from the foxglove plant and has an unusual history. It was first used as an herbal tea to help people who accumulated water from heart failure to eliminate the water.

DEAR READER — Keep in mind that the hair shaft itself is not living tissue. It is like a piece of dead wood. If it is abused by chemicals and physical factors such as sun and wind it begins to look like weather-beaten old boards. You may still have perfectly healthy hair follicles that will grow healthy new hair shafts. If you leave it alone long enough the undamaged new hair shaft grows out and you can cut off the old "Brillo pad." While the new hair is growing out from its roots you must refrain from damaging it, too. That means stopping the perms, hair color and exposure to wind and sun. To put it plainly, "leave it alone."

Treat the dried out hair shaft like a dried out piece of wood furniture. Don't dry it out even more. Wash it when needed with a gentle shampoo. You might use a drop or two of oil to the point the hair soaks it up but is not excessively oily. Cover your hair when outside in the sun and wind. Of course, if you have an oily scalp your natural oils will be enough. Hair conditioners vary.

Avoid hair preparations that contain ANY alcohol. Alcohol dries out hair and scalp. You would probably be better off with a few drops of oil and unusual to reach some of the contracts his declarer arrives at, but that is one of the perils faced by composers of problems in play.

In any event South is in six spades with little hope of making his contract after West's seven of clubs opening.

There is a key play at trick one. South must play a low club from dummy. East plays his ace. South ruffs and runs off the rest of his trumps while discarding four clubs and two diamonds from dummy.

East will feel a lot of pressure. He will have to make four discards. They will be two diamonds and two clubs since he will see the need to keep all his hearts.

Now South leads a heart to dummy's ace and leads the jack of clubs to squeeze East out of either his heart guard or a diamond honor. South will make the appropriate discard after East and score his slam.

He was lucky to find East with both diamond picture cards and the heart protection, but he gave the cards a chance and they behaved for him.

Gardening

Juniper Low Maintenance Ornamental

Homeowners usually desire ornamental plants adapted to a wide variety of environmental conditions, requiring little maintenance and having few pest problems. If this is the type plant you want, then consider Junipers.

Desmond Hastings
Urban Horticulturist
323-2500
Ext. 181

A number of Juniperus species are currently in use by nurserymen and homeowners, however, those commonly seen represent only a few of many varieties. The Juniperus genus contains about forty species and many named varieties from these species. Junipers range in size from the very dwarf types, four to six inches tall, which can be as ground covers to large trees like our Southern red cedar which is really a juniper.

This tremendous size range and almost never ending array of growth forms make junipers outstanding specimens for use in landscaping. Their versatility and adaptability to a wide range of soils and climates, combined with their relatively easy maintenance make the junipers outstanding ornamentals. They certainly deserve more recognition than they have received in the past.

Junipers have excellent tolerance to salt spray and salty soils. Shore juniper has been used extensively for seaside plantings but other varieties could also be used.

Junipers grow from Alaska to the southwest, tolerating extremes in temperatures. There should be no where in Florida where these plants couldn't be grown.

They respond well to fertilization so growth rate can be speeded up if necessary.

Another advantage to junipers is their excellent drought tolerance. Tolerance to desert-like conditions is very important for plantings in urban situations such as cities, along streets, parking lots, and also around some homes. Junipers require irrigation only under extreme conditions.

Unfortunately, junipers are not trouble free as many people believe. They can be severely damaged by spider mites. The hotter and drier the growing conditions, the greater the mite problems.

Mites can be controlled however. The second pest problem is a disease called juniper or twig blight. During moist seasons in areas having high humidity, juniper blight can be a real problem. Tips of branches turn brown and eventually the entire branch will die back. If not sprayed the entire plant may die.

One final cultural requirement should be stressed. Junipers are full sun plants. This should be kept in mind when using these plants in the landscape. Plant junipers are where they will receive at least full sun for half a day, such as on the east or west side of a building. In heavy shade junipers grow little and are more susceptible to disease.

Check your local nurseries for varieties of junipers. These plants, if used properly, will make an excellent addition to your home grounds.

All Extension Programs are open to anyone regardless of race, color, sex or national origin.

In And Around Geneva

Open Forum Set Monday By Citizens Association

One of the most important meetings of the year for the Geneva Citizens Association will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the community hall.

Candidates campaigning for county office have been invited to meet the citizens of our community in an open forum. If you want to know who stands for what, now is the time to be asking questions.

Final plans for the PAPI (People Against Power Intrusion) trip to Tallahassee will also be discussed at this meeting. At the present time, according to Sid Kraftsow, coordinator of the trip, the chartered buses will depart at 6 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 6, in front of the Florida Power and Light offices in downtown Sanford.

The purpose of the PAPI excursion to the state's capitol is to attend the final meeting of the governor and his cabinet before they decide the fate of Geneva and other communities regarding the one mile wide corridor of proposed power towers.

The PAPI representatives will be presenting their last appeal to the State to either move the corridor or bury some of the lines. They plan in reiterating the continued strong opposition and concern generated in Geneva over this issue.

In the past few months, Geneva citizens have been actively involved in a

Lou Childers
Geneva Correspondent

mail campaign to inform various government officials of their research, findings, and facts involving the effects of the huge power towers on humans.

Over 70 students in the fourth and fifth grades at Geneva Elementary School wrote letters to the governor this week expressing their feelings and concerns.

Several individuals have had personal replies from Governor Graham, including Mrs. Nancy McNamara, principal. Plans are being formulated at this time for several students from the fifth grade class to represent the school at the cabinet meeting next Wednesday.

One thing can be said of Geneva, whether it's a Fourth of July celebration, a sick child whose parents have no insurance, or a power line that threatens the community, patriotism and a spirit of unity still exist among the citizens of our quaint country village.

If you have not made reservations for the Tallahassee bus trip, it is not too late. Mr. Kraftsow said, "If people want to go on this trip and have not made advance reservations by paying the $15 roundtrip cost, they may bring their money to the site of the bus Wednesday morning and still go on a first come, first served basis."

The Women's Ministries of the Chuluota First Assembly of God church will host a luncheon in the fellowship hall Saturday, Oct. 2. The church is located on highway 419, two blocks South of Lake Mills Road.

Mrs. Lillie Simpkins, president of the WM's says, "Women of all Christian faiths are invited to join the WM group for this luncheon for fellowship and prayer."

It was announced last Monday at Oviedo High School that a course on "How To Prepare for the Scholastic Aptitude Test" would be offered. A maximum of 25 students was set. By Wednesday evening when the program started, 25 students had paid their $30.30 fees to participate.

According to Mrs. Williams in the guidance office at the high school the course will be offered again beginning Oct. 25, on a "first come, first served basis". This second session will be in preparation for the tests to be given Dec. 4 and Jan. 22.

For information call the school office, 365-5671.

Cafe Is Not A Rest Stop

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I own a small cafe in an area that caters to summer tourists.

We have two nice, clean rest rooms for the convenience of our customers, but because so many people stop in only to use our rest rooms, we decided to put up a sign:

"If you are not a customer, we charge 50 cents for using our rest rooms."

Abby, I wish you could have heard some of the names we've been called by people who have come in only to use the rest room! Some have caused terrible scenes, saying they have never heard of anything so cheap, and they will never set foot in our place again if they are starving!

Don't these people realize that we have to pay for the toilet paper, soap, towels, water (hot and cold), air-freshener, plus the electricity for the lights and the fan that provides ventilation while they are in there? All these things add up.

Abby, do you think we're out of line to charge non-customers 50 cents for the use of our rest rooms?

BAD-MOUTHED IN CASCADE, COLO.

DEAR BAD-MOUTHED: Has the revenue collected since posting the sign compensated for the bad-mouthed and noisy scenes it's created? If not, take down the sign. The tourists will be relieved. And so will you.

DEAR ABBY: While shopping at a very nice supermarket, I came upon something I'd never seen before and wonder if anyone else has ever encountered a similar experience.

I saw a woman take a bottle of ketchup from the shelf, remove the lid, extend her finger down into the bottle, then lick the ketchup from her finger! She continued to do this with several different brands of ketchup, then chose a small bottle that she hadn't opened. I was shocked and a little sick to my stomach thinking that someone was going to buy a bottle of ketchup that this woman had stuck her finger into. She looked to be about 80, was very well dressed, and I doubt that she was hungry.

Needless to say, I don't shop in that store anymore. What would you have done, Abby? HOLD THE KETCHUP IN HONAKER, VA.

DEAR HOLD: I would have quietly reported the lady to the management.

DEAR ABBY: There's a problem in our neighborhood, but maybe if you print this, it will give the guilty ones something to think about. We are stuck with this nuisance because we've let it go for so long that nobody wants to tell a nice young man that he has been disturbing our peace for 10 years. Except for this younger couple, everyone in our neighborhood is retired.

Our young neighbor leaves for work at 8:45, backs his car out into the street and honks his horn with a little "beep beep" as he drives away. At first we all thought it was rather sweet of him to bid his wife a second goodbye, but some of us older people do not sleep well at night, and once we're awakened it's impossible to go back to sleep again.

Retired folks have had to get up early for many years, and we think we've finally earned the right to stay up late and sleep in the morning.

Please remind people that unnecessary horn-honking is necessary horn-honking (and dog-barking and lawn-mowing and kid-calling) is inconsiderate. So let all you guilty ones out there repent, and sin no more.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Bill Filed To Raise Drinking Age To 21

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A bill to raise Florida's legal drinking age from 19 to 21 already has drawn five co-sponsors in the House and the lawmaker who introduced it says she expects many more.

Rep. Fran Carlton, who prefiled the bill Thursday, said hundreds of lives have been saved since Florida raised its legal drinking age from 18 to 19 two years ago.

Rep. Carlton noted that a majority of the House favored her bill raising the drinking age to 21 in 1980 but it was amended to 19 in a compromise with the Senate.

Pot Protected By Fence

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A recent federal ruling has forced the Florida Supreme Court to reverse itself and decide that police unlawfully seized a patch of home-grown marijuana without a warrant because it was shielded by a fence.

A neighbor informed police of marijuana allegedly growing in William Rickard's Polk County backyard and a police detective later said he could plainly see it from about 50 feet away from an orange grove to the rear of Rickard's trailer home.

Acting without a warrant, police later arrested Rickard and seized the alleged marijuana.

Rickard argued that the warrantless seizure was illegal because he had demonstrated a "reasonable expectation of privacy" by erecting a plywood partition between the plants and his neighbor. The state Supreme Court decided in its new ruling that Rickard was correct based on the recent federal case.

Winn-Dixie Head Buried

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Funeral services were scheduled today for Bert L. Thomas, president of Winn-Dixie Stores, who died Wednesday.

Thomas, 64, had been president and chief executive officer of the Jacksonville-based grocery chain since 1965. Winn-Dixie, the sunbelt's largest supermarket firm, operates 1,229 stores in 13 states and 11 stores in the Bahama Islands.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Schmidt Is Replaced With Kohl In Germany

BONN, West Germany (UPI) — The West German parliament today ended Helmut Schmidt's 8-year chancellorship, ousting him in a no-confidence vote and electing Christian Democratic leader Helmut Kohl the nation's sixth chancellor.

The conservative Christian Democrats and the small but pivotal Free Democrats rejected Schmidt despite a savage attack by the outgoing chancellor in which he disputed their "moral right" to end his minority Social Democratic government without immediately holding new national elections.

The two parties promised to hold new elections March 6.

Did U.S. Bomb Kill Marine?

United Press International

The explosive device that accidentally killed a U.S. Marine and wounded three others — one seriously — at the Beirut airport may have been a U.S.-made cluster bomb, used by Israel in Lebanon against the wishes of the Reagan administration.

U.S. Marine Cpl. David L. Reagan, 21, of Chesapeake, Va., died Thursday during surgery aboard the USS Guam helicopter carrier and Pfc. Leslie R. Norris, 19, of Pasadena, Calif., was reported in serious but stable condition. The two less-seriously wounded men in the accident, which occurred while they were clearing minefields, were identified as Cpl. Anthony D. Noran, 21, of Macon, Ga., and Lance Cpl. George Washington, 19, of Elgin, Ill.

Israel used cluster bombs during its June 6 invasion of Lebanon.

Amerasian Kids To U.S.

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Eleven Vietnamese children fathered by American soldiers and civilians during the Vietnam War picked up their new passports today, enabling them to fly to new homes in the United States this weekend.

It was the largest group of Amerasian children ever to leave Vietnam. Later in the day, they arrived in Bangkok and U.S. Embassy officials worked long hours to cut through red tape and issue their passports today.

The children — 7 to 15 — were scheduled to fly Saturday to their new homes in Washington, Oregon, California, Georgia, Texas, Arizona and Washington, D.C. They were scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles Sunday.

Only 23 other Amerasian children have been recognized by their fathers and allowed to leave Vietnam previously. The Vietnamese government estimates there are 15,000 to 20,000 such children in the non-communist country.

The U.S. embassy in Bangkok said it had on record the names of at least 77 more Amerasian children who qualified for U.S. citizenship and were eligible for immediate entry into the United States.

The only father on hand to greet his child in Bangkok was Gary Tanous, 42, of Camas, Wash., who quit his job three years ago to devote his efforts to finding his daughter in Vietnam.

"It's been a long, hard road, but it's been worth it," he said as he embraced his daughter, Jean-Marie, 15. "If I felt any better I couldn't stand it."

Some of the children clutched faded photographs of their fathers, all of whom have recognized the children.

The children were to be accompanied by nine relatives also going to the United States. One family group of three children, a grandparent and two aunts was headed for San Diego, Calif.

Dirty Rat Bites Reporter

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The county's "adopt-a-rat" program — designed to find homes for 53 rodents captured in a run-down apartment two weeks ago — has been stalled because a reporter was bitten by one of the potential pets.

The startled newsman, Mike Botuiva of KTLA-TV, jerked his hand away and the rat fell back into the cage, where it could not be distinguished from the others.

Officials quarantined the rats at least 20 days to check for strange behavior.

"I shudder to think of a family adopting one of these critters and having it attack a child."

The rats were turned over to the Los Angeles County Health Department Sept. 16 when their owner, Robert Ehman, 57, a retired security guard, was arrested for creating a health hazard by allowing the rodents to roam free through his apartment.

Officials decided it would be nice if they could sell the rats as pets for $2.13 each.

Artis "Fat" Hardy of Sanford enjoys barbecuing, even for upwards to 70 people. Hardy fires up one of his barbecue pits at least twice a week.

1 Man's Guide To Gourmet Barbecuing

By JOE HOEDDINGHAUS
Herald News Editor

Everybody can do it. It's that easy.
All you need is a little wood or charcoal, a grill and your favorite meat.

And the chances of failure are almost nil.
Open pit cooking is, for those who have learned to make the most of it, a simple delight.

But, like everything else, some do not have the knack.
And others dislike the time required or the mess that can be involved.

Some have come to resort to gas-fed pits to bypass the grime that has been associated with open pit cooking. Others have resorted to cooking food in a stove for a while to reduce the time spent grilling the food over an open fire.

Those, however, are not the ways of a true connoisseur barbecuer.

Take "Fat" Hardy of 718 Willow Ave., Sanford. He's recognized as a master.

Artis "Fat" Hardy derives personal satisfaction from barbecuing for his family, or for 60-70 people.

He barbecues regularly and has attained some notoriety for his culinary expertise. He is invited at least once a week by a large group, such as a church organization, to barbecue a special meal for them.

Hardy's popularity may be due to his steadfast refusal to compromise. But he has not remained stuck in his ways.

For those wishing to benefit from Hardy's vast ex-

Not too long ago, John Cougar was just another average guy in Bloomington, Ind. Now, he's a major rock star. But he says he tries to keep life simple, avoiding life in the fast lane. Page 2.

China and tv

The Chinese are fast entering the electronic age and they're being led in part by television. The tube is enjoying the same success in China that it did in the U.S. in the 1950s. Page 7.

Beauty and brains

Beauty and brains, if you hadn't noticed, are not mutually exclusive. Take Celeste Yarnall, for example. Once a Hollywood starlet, she now runs her own real estate office in L.A. Page 8.

Stallone Dedicated 'Rocky' To Manager

DEAR DICK: My family and I have seen all three "Rocky" films and we have a question about the last two. At the end of both, the films are dedicated to a Jane Oliver. Is this Jane Oliver, the singer, or someone else? Why are the films dedicated to her? MRS. J.D.J., Beverly Shores, Ind.

No, it's not Jane Oliver, the singer. It's another Jane Oliver, a lady who was Sylvester Stallone's manager. She died while he was filming "FIST," and it was a blow to him, and he dedicated the two "Rockys" to her out of respect to her memory.

DEAR DICK: Could you please tell me what the name of the hospital is that's shown on "General Hospital" each day? Also, where is the hospital, and where is the show taped? GENERAL HOSPITAL FAN, Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada

That's USC County Medical Center, in Los Angeles, and the show is taped at the old Columbia studio in Hollywood.

DEAR DICK: I know Dinah Shore was married to George Montgomery. Did she have any children and, if so, where are they now? D.S. Albuquerque, N.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery have two children. Melissa, known to one and all as Missy, is a married lady now. And John is presently a law school student.

DEAR DICK: In a 1979 TV movie, based on Barbara Cartland's novel, called "The Flame Is Love," what was the name of the character played by Linda Purl? L.M., Blytheville, Ark.

Linda played a pearl named Vada.

DEAR DICK: I think the theme music to "Dynasty" is beautiful. As a trumpet player, I would like to get my hands on the music. Can you tell me its name and whether it's available in sheet music? F.S., Trenton, N.J.

You'll have to vamp until it's ready. The piece has no name—it's just the "Dynasty" theme—and it is not yet available. For your information, it was written by Bill Conti.

Ask Dick Kleiner

DEAR DICK: I was in California in April 1970. They were filming a movie on Broadway, starring Jason Robards and Katharine Ross. Could you please tell me the name of the movie, and what happened to it? Please tell me the story line and what year it came out. Z.B., Pleasanton, Kan.

It was called "Fools," and it came and went very quickly, because it wasn't very good.

DEAR DICK: Please tell me what you can about the movie "The Third Man." Did Michael Rennie and Claude Rains star in it? Please tell me the story line and what year it came out. A.B., Pleasanton, Kan.

"The Third Man," a great one, was about an American writer who went back to Vienna, after World War II, to find an old friend named Harry Lime. The 1949 movie starred Joseph Cotten, Trevor Howard and Orson Welles. Michael Rennie played Harry Lime in the 1959 TV series based on the movie, which is how you associate his name with it.

DEAR DICK: Has Doris Day ever been married to a black man? A friend and I have a bet on this. B.S., Quincy, Ill.

No. For a time, there were rumors about her being friendly with a black baseball player, which may or may not have been true, but certainly no marriage.

DEAR DICK: We see a man named Harvey Best on "The Dukes of Hazzard." When he was a young boy, did he live in Owen, Wis., with his mother? We knew a youngster there who moved away so we don't know what happened to him ILN., Marshfield, Wis.

Wrong person. The Best on "Dukes" is James, not Harvey, and, anyhow, our Best spent his boyhood in Kentucky and Indiana.

DEAR DICK: Ever since I saw "On Golden Pond" I've been bugged by the memory of the same movie seen many, many years ago. I even seem to remember Gregory Peck in it, but I may be mistaken. I'm guessing that Ingrid Bergman was in it, too, but I'm probably wrong. The main thing is I'm positive I've seen the movie before. Can you confirm my memory? S.R., East Windsor, N.J.

No, I don't think so. Of course, supposedly there is no new plot in this world and everything is merely a new twist on an old theme. But this particular story is based on a play by Ernest Thompson that was only written a few years ago. So, if you saw something years ago, it may have had the same general theme, but it was certainly not the identical story or characters.

DEAR DICK: Was there or was there not a fourth brother named Eugene on "The Big Valley"? Rumor has it that the Barkley family sent him away to college throughout the entire series. If there was, who played the role and in how many episodes did he appear? H.W., Bloomington, Ind.

Yes, kid brother Eugene—played by Charles Briles—did appear in a few episodes early on. But he soon vanished.

John Cougar Is A Simple Rock Star

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Not all rock stars dye their hair purple and bite the heads off porcupines between numbers. There are a few who are normal folks, give or take a quirk.

On such is billed as John Cougar—his name being one of the aforementioned quirks. Really, he's plain old John Mellencamp from Bloomington, Ind.—"me and Hoagy Carmichael are the only people who came from Bloomington"—and he still lives back home in Indiana, despite his fame and fortune.

"I stay home and try to be normal," says Cougar. "I try to stay away from the rock 'n roll life style."

He separates his music-making from the rest of his life. They are two distinct parts of his world. He enjoys them both, but they don't mix.

"There is a time to work," he says, "and a time to live."

His singing and performing constitute his job. And he does his job well, but that's all it is—a job. It is not to be confused with his life.

He says he grew up with a song on his lips—but never really thought that he could make a living that way. To understand that, he says, you have to understand how a kid from Bloomington, Ind., would look at the world of entertainment stars.

"When I was a kid," he

says, "I thought movie stars and record stars were from outer space. I grew up in a town that was like the town in 'Last Picture Show.' My idols when I was growing up were the high school football stars. I couldn't identify with the rock stars—they had nothing to do with us."

He sang with a soul band when he was a teen-ager, but he says that was "basically to get girls." He went on and got a degree in communications from Vincennes University.

"I never studied music," he says, "because I've got a theory—a guy who has a degree in something can't do it. A guy who has a degree in literature can't write a book. Education has stifled him. But the uneducated know no bounds. My favorite singers are untrained. My favorite playwright—Tennessee Williams—is untrained. And so I didn't train, either."

The one thing he may study, however, is the business end of the music industry. He says there may come a day when he decides he doesn't want to sing anymore, but he thinks on that day he'll simply segue into the behind-the-scenes area of music. And he wants to be trained for that day.

"I lost $13,000 last week," Cougar says. "That was because it costs me so much to stage my show on the road. But off the record I've got going for me now, I'd probably not have to work again—if I'm smart. And I'm planning to be smart."

That record is his Riva album, "American Fool," and the hit singles, "Hurts So Good" and "Jack and Diane." He's had hit records before—singles and albums—but nothing to approach the magnitude of these.

Cougar's trademark is the earthy, everyman simplicity of his lyrics. As he puts it, "I write songs about the real insignificant parts of life, like just walking around."

"To say that I'm a writer," he says "would be pretentious. I really don't have anything much to say."

And, when he performs, he follows through on that message, or lack of message.

"In person," he says, "I want my audience to have a good time and go home as tired as I am. I run around and dance and laugh and cuss 'em. My biggest fear is that some day I'll get thrown in jail for cussing on stage."

So he is a singer-performer without delusions of grandeur, which is a distinct novelty act in show biz these days.

"I'm a simple guy for simple people," says John Cougar.

The first movie to use scent was "Behind the Great Wall," a travelogue of modern China shown in December, 1959. The scent was forced through ceiling vents in the theater.

...Barbecuing

perience, the old ways as the best ways.

For example, Hardy uses a natural fire built with charcoal and often oak chips. Occasionally, he uses hickory chips, but usually oak. He says water-soaked oak chips are good in the fire because they help make a hotter fire and because they smoke up more, adding to the flavor of the meat.

Hardy also recommends barbecue enthusiasts develop their own style and that they avoid cutting corners.

He'd never think of pre-cooking meat in an oven for 30 minutes or so to reduce the time over an open pit.

"I can tell when I go to a restaurant when they don't cook the food on an open fire," Hardy claims. He said the flavor is affected.

He also recommends closed-lid barbecuing.

"It adds to the flavor," he points out.

And the conscientious barbecuer should use a sauce to frequently baste the meat.

"It keeps the juices in and keeps the meat or fish from drying out," he explains.

Hardy should know. He's been cooking since he was 8 and barbecuing almost as long.

Hardy's father died when he was a boy and he helped his mother with the chores. At a young age, he began watching his mother cooking meals for the family. He got the job of helping mom in the kitchen because he was the oldest.

And barbecuing "just came along" with that.

Today, Hardy would rather barbecue a meal than cook one in the kitchen.

"I don't know why; I just like it better," he says.

Hardy, 51, is not your average barbecuer.

He has three portable 50-gallon half-drum barbecue pits which he uses for catering large groups.

He became known in the area some time ago because of the occasional meals he prepared for needy youngsters.

And he dislikes store-bought sauces. Hardy, although a traditionalist when it comes to open pit barbecuing, does experiment. It took him several years of trial and error before he developed his popular Fat Hardy's Natural Taste Barbecue Sauce.

And, he claims, it has become his secret to success.

He recommends backyard barbecuers do the same — experiment with vinegar, butter and whatever ingredients they prefer until just the right tasting mix is found.

The proper sauce is very important to good barbecuing, Hardy emphasizes. First, the proper sauce spices up the desired flavor and second it helps to lock in the flavorful juices of the meat or fish.

Mediterranean Kingdom And Telekinetic Teens

Seven is the magic number on CBS and ABC; at NBC, it's 11 — they try harder. That's how many new series each network is premiering this week.

On CBS, the most promising sit-com is "Square Pegs," promising because it's written and produced by "Saturday Night Live" and "National Lampoon" writer Anne Beatts. The comedy features two high-school freshmen, the "square pegs," who find it difficult to fit into the high-school cliques they desire.

Other CBS series include "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers," an hour-long drama that includes musical numbers; "Newhart," starring Bob Newhart as a happily married man who buys a Vermont inn; "Bring 'Em Back Alive," a "Raiders of the Lost Ark"-type adventure, starring Bruce Boxleitner as a big-game trapper; "Tucker's Witch," starring Tim Matheson and Catherine Hicks; "Gloria," starring Sally Struthers and Burgess Meredith; and "Filthy Rich," a "Dallas"-style spoof.

The big seven at ABC are "Star of the Family," about an ambitious pop singer (Kathy Malsnik) and her not-so-thrilled father (Brian Dennehy); "The New Odd Couple," with Ron Glass and Demond Wilson as Felix and Oscar; "Tales of the Gold Monkey," another "Raiders"-type adventure show; "The Quest," about battling heirs to a Mediterranean kingdom; "Matt Houston," about the exploits of a man-about-town millionaire; and "Ripley's Believe It or Not!," new but true stories of the incredible.

The most appealing show on ABC appears to be "It Takes 'Two," starring Richard Crenna and Patty Duke Astin as a physician and his assistant D.A. wife, which was created by Susan Harris of "Soap" fame.

And at NBC: "Family Ties," a role reversal story about liberal parents and conservative kids, starring Meredith Baxter-Birney and Michael Gross; "Silver Spoons," another reversal, about a mature child and his childlike dad, starring Ricky Schroder and Joel Higgins; "Gavilan," starring Robert Ulrich as a former CIA operative who still lives staff at a Boston hospital.

"Voyagers" is a time-travel fantasy for youngsters; "Remington Steele," about a female private investigator; "The Powers of Matthew Star," featuring a teen-ager with telekinetic powers; "Knight Rider," about a crime-fighter with an indestructible black car; "The Devil Connection," starring Rock Hudson as a former detective lured back to the work.

The big winner here could be "Cheers," which stars Shelley Long and Ted Danson and is set in a Boston bar.

Ernie Kovacs On Showtime

NEW YORK (UPI) — Edie Adams, who divides her time these days between almonds and acting, has one central mission — to resurrect the comedic genius of her late husband, Ernie Kovacs, for television.

But first she had to rescue clips from shows they did together between 1952 and 1962 from a network determined to cannibalize them to the last dollar sign.

Thanks to John Barbour, cohost of NBC's "Real People," the resurrection will occur on Showtime cable Oct. 10 in a 90-minute pilot Miss Adams hopes eventually will grow into a series.

She said Barbour, long a Kovacs fan, has put together segments from her late husband's days as king of video comedy, not only from his regular CBS series but from a show called "Take a Good Look" — a parody Kovacs did of "What's My Line."

It involved burlesque-style blackouts as "clues," but when contestants jumped the gun and gave the right answer before getting their clues, Kovacs found himself stuck with footage he never could use again. As a result, when the Showtime special uses them they will be seen by the public for the first time.

The special will feature the best of Kovacs with such former Kovacs cohorts and colleagues as Jack Lemmon, Steve Allen and Miss Adams herself handling the narration.

Following Kovacs' death 20 years ago in a traffic accident, videotapes from the old shows — some of the first in the business — were stored in a warehouse where Miss Adams' own production crew discovered they were systematically being used to dub other material.

"The guys on the crew said the network was using the tapes, since he (Kovacs) owed the network a lot of money," she said. "So I said, 'No — you can't do that,' and I took the insurance money and paid the network off and put the tapes away."

"I have 200-some-odd hours of something, but I don't know what is there ... They were using them for the weather and the news and all that stuff."

PEKING (UPI) — The Chinese may not know who shot J.R. yet, but more and more of them are becoming addicted to television — a development that offers both promise and problems for China's leadership.

Armed with marching orders to go forth and "enrich the cultural life of the masses," the television industry has been at the forefront of China's effort to shrug off the legacy of the chaotic Cultural Revolution and merge into the modern world.

There are now an estimated 16 million TV sets in China reaching 400 million people — 40 percent of China's population and nearly twice the population of the United States.

Production of TV sets — still mostly small black-and-white models — increased from 3,000 sets in 1968 to 4.8 million in 1981.

A 12-inch black-and-white set, at $210, is fast becoming standard equipment in urban households. A top-of-the-line, 20-inch color TV is a status symbol whose $1,100 price tag, equal to three years salary for the average worker, apparently is no deterrent to the new Chinese consumer.

China's one national channel and its 29 regional stations each broadcast about 30 hours per week. "Television is coming along very, very rapidly here," a Western diplomat said. "It's now about where it was in the 1950s in the United States."

The major limitation now is programming which, for technological and ideological reasons, still lags far behind the demand it has created.

General programming in the evenings and on Sundays is still dominated by a handful of "proletarian" dramas whose predictable plots have been run and rerun ad nauseam.

"They show the same shows over and over and I already know what's going to happen," confided one Chinese viewer, who requested anonymity because revolutionary inspiration in China is not supposed to be boring.

Maybe because of this, the most popular program in China is the nightly news, 30 minutes of local, national and international reportage. The news in China is one of the few programs that's always changing, which helps account for its appeal.

Faced with increasing demand, officials are expanding production of made-for-TV dramas and looking abroad for foreign fare.

The Chinese recently concluded an agreement for 24 National Geographic specials and a delegation is going to the United States this October to talk to serial distributors.

"The problem," one Western diplomat said, "is that up to now the Chinese have been unwilling to pay the going rate."

They are only just coming to accept they must part with some of their foreign exchange for the likes of "Kramer Vs. Kramer," a film they have expressed an interest in.

Ex-Starlet Relocates To L.A. Real Estate World

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Did you ever wonder what happens to starlets after the bloom is off the rose?

Perhaps the only thing that is of less value than a used starlet is a second-hand chocolate éclair. Mostly, the poor things either go back home to Podunk to marry the box boy in the supermarket or hand around here, working as extras and telling stories about how close they came to stardom.

Every once in a while, however, you run into an exception.

Meet the most beautiful and successful exception in Southern California, a sliver of blond loveliness called Celeste Yarnall.

She was once a Starlet To Be Reckoned With. She had been the last Miss Rheingold — a big, heftily promoted contest that picked the prettiest model and made her queen-for-a-month — and she had come to Hollywood and been in a few movies and had a lot of publicity and posed for so many pictures the Kodak people declared her an asset.

She was thin, blond, beautiful. She looked like Morgan Fairchild only wishes she looked. (Still does, as a matter of fact, but that's getting ahead of the story).

"Ten years ago," says Celeste Yarnall, "I had a 2-year-old daughter and I'd been divorced and I had a lot of bills to pay. And I wondered what I was going to do. I liked acting. It was OK, but it was a very chancey career."

Many of her friends kept telling her she should go into real estate. They said she had the personality for it.

She liked — maybe even loved — people. She could talk forever about nothing in particular, and that's the stuff of which salespeople are made. And, obviously, she made a smashing appearance.

"So I got to know some real estate people," she says. "And, at one big firm, they said they would hire me, but which division did I want to work in — industrial, retail, investment, office?"

She wasn't even sure which division did what. When they patiently explained, she said that industrial was out — "I couldn't see myself roaming around machine shops in my Gucci shoes" — and retail was out — "I didn't want to spend my life finding spots for 7-11s or McDonald's" — and investment was out —

"It sounded kind of dull."

So, through elimination, she went to work in the office division of the company. They told her that the average new employee makes $600 in the first year. She made a deal within 90 days and her first year's take was in six figures.

Today, she has her own company — Celeste Yarnall & Associates — which is one of L.A.'s top office real-estate firms. There is a penthouse office. A lot of people working for her. And an income that is, certainly, hefty.

Besides, she is now a recognized authority in the field of office real estate. An educational publisher recently came to her and asked her to write a book on the office condominium. She is now in the process of doing just that. She writes a column, "The Real Estate Market," for a local Century City newspaper.

She is considering branching out into other things. She is a health nut — "I ride my stationary bike 30 minutes every morning" — and is mulling over ways and means to move into the health market. She may start a spa or some sort of fitness spot.

CELESTE YARNALL.

She was recently named to a group of young millionaires — people who made their million before they were 35. She was the only woman in the group.

Still, the show-biz bug is tough to exterminate. She does an occasional TV commercial. And she probably would do more if anybody asked.

"I'll never get it out of my system," she says. "I started when I was 12 and, by the time I was a teen-ager, I was already a top model. It's hard to forget something that meant so much to you."

Given a choice — a big movie role or a million-dollar real-estate deal — which would she pick?

"I wish I had that choice," she says. "Please don't ask me which I'd choose. My clients would hate me."

'Bare Essence': First Novel Success

By DEBRA MORGENSTERN KATZ

First novels rarely make it past the author's typewriter; occasionally they go all the way to a publisher; and sometimes actually onto the shelves of a bookstore — where they're promptly forgotten.

What first novels almost never do is make it to a bestseller list — or to a TV producer to become a four-and-a-half-hour mini-series. Ask Meredith Rich.

She was so sure her first novel would find its way into obscurity that she used a pen name — Meredith Rich — lest her other businesses and nonfiction writing be adversely affected.

"That way," she says, "if the novel didn't work out I could always go back to Claudia Jessup and no one would know!"

Miss Jessup, a.k.a. Miss Rich, has no need to return to her former — albeit, real — name. "Bare Essence" is the title of her first novel and the name of a best-seller, and a four-hour TV mini-series on CBS this week.

"Bare Essence," starring Linda Evans, Donna Mills, Gene Francis, Bruce Boxleitner, Lee Grant and John Dehner, airs Monday, Oct. 4, and Tuesday, Oct. 5.

"I'm still slightly dumb-founded," she says. "It's extraordinary — the odds of one's first novel becoming a TV mini-series. I kept saying to myself, 'Don't get excited. Don't get excited.' Now I'm at the point where I can get excited."

Miss Rich says she didn't imagine her book as a movie all along but, "it does have all the ingredients." The story centers on the worldwide perfume business, taking place in New York, Paris and Hollywood, with rich, world-weary jet-setters as its characters. It is, according to CBS, a story of "wealth, power, intrigue and romance."
