$90,000 Grant Marked For Midway Projects

A $90,000 grant award for a drainage project in Midway, membership on an interim committee designed to ultimately construct a regional sewer facility for Sanford, Lake Mary and the county and $3,000 needed to halt sewage overflow into homes near a lift station in South Seminole were on the agenda today of the Seminole County Commission. Commissioners awarded a contract to Schweizer Associates, Inc. to begin work on the Midway paving and drainage project. The amount of the contract award was $7,000. County planner Bill Kercher said the county has $32,000 budgeted for drainage of a six-acre site in Midway - a predominately black area east of Sanford. Kercher said engineering of the drainage. project will require about three months.

Also included in a $90,000 grant is about $58,000 to pave broken substandard roads in the Midway

Kercher said Midway is a "blighted" area. He said when the water rises, septic tanks overflow and send effluent to the top. The effluent, Kercher said, represents a health hazard and is a breeding ground for mosquitoes, which sometimes transmit Kercher said the paving portion of the grant is scheduled to begin sometime next year. He said dirt roads to be paved have not yet been decided upon. Commissioners were also informed by executive assistant Roger Neiswender that an interim Committee was to propose inter-local agreement for establishment of a regional sewer facility which has been agreed upon. A goal of the committee, Neiswender said, is to draw up contracts, recommend funding formulas and assist the cities of Lake Mary and Sanford and Seminole County as they attempt to win federal funds for construction of the multi-million dollar

The executive assistant said plans are to apply for federal funds by March of next year, thus the commission needs to approve the make-up of the whether or not they approve the makeup and intent of the interim committee. Neiswender said he needs direction before the next regional facility meeting, scheduled on Dec. 15.

County commissioners today also instructed the 5-A Office of Management Analysis and Evaluation 1-B (OMAE) to find $3,000 to repair a lift station in the Indian Hills area. The lift station according to utility manager Craig Batterson, malfunctions and causes sewage to flow into homes of nearby residents. Batterson said about $3,000 is required to repair

> County officials said about three major cleaning bills were paid after homes near the lift stations were inundated from sewage after a malfunction.

Air Bag Decision Praised

DETROIT (AP) - The nation's biggest auto companies praised the federal government's decision not to require air bags in new cars. Ralph Nader, a specialist in auto safety, criticized the decision. Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman Jr. announced Monday that passive restraint devices - of which air bags are the best known - would not be mandatory until the 1981 model year at the earliest. Nader said the decision "will doom thousands of Americans to needless death and injury on the highway." General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., and Chrysler Corp. agreed with Coleman that the air bag requirements should be put off for further

Court Quashes Busing Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has pulled the reins in on federal courts in a decision that could drastically affect the pace and scope of school integration in major cities across the nation. The high court Monday struck down an order of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals designed to desegregate Austin. Tex., schools by busing up to 25,000 students. Justice Lewis F. Brantley: Rules Inconsistent TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Senate President Lew Brantley, being challenged by dissidents to give up some of his power, says many of the rules being proposed are inconsistent and would fail to broaden the leadership base.

The Rules debate came as senators convened in Tallahassee for three days of interim committee hearings.

Nation Is Moving Towards Its Dream

You could say that the decision of the congregation of the Plains Baptist Church didn't mean as much as it appeared to mean.

The Rev. Clennon King, who had applied for membership in the church, is not even a resident of Plains. He is a self-styled minister who is a former mental patient and an ex-convict. He applied for membership only to test the congregation's 1965 rule excluding "Negroes and civil rights agitators" from membership

The congregation's decision, by a vote of 124 to 66, opened the doors of church membership to "all people who want to worship Jesus Christ," subject to screening of applicants by a "watchcare committee" composed of the pastor and four deacons.

King probably won't try to join. If he does, he probably won't be admitted. Local blacks probably won't try to join either. They have their own black

The 124 to 66 vote probably does not indicate that there is a majority in the congregation in favor of real change. Minds probably haven't changed that much. Publicity and the fact that Presidentelect Jimmy Carter is a member of the church probably distorted the result.

But the vote is still significant. The racial lockout rule has been changed. To Northerners it may seem to have been an outlandish rule but it was on the books. It had to be removed before any progress toward brotherhood could be made.

The change has been made by the people themselves under the leadership of one of their own not imposed by Yankees or the National Guard. The participants saw it as a significant event.

weeping as she left the Plains church in the rain. The nation is moving, slowly and reluctantly to be sure, toward fulfillment of our national ideals. The deeply divided congregation of the Plains Baptist church has taken one significant step toward that fulfillment.

Muffling Jet Noise

The order by Transportation Secretary William Coleman for U.S. airlines to initiate procedures to cut jet noises by up to 50 per cent by 1985 is encouraging to neighbors of airports. But some industry spokesmen are skeptical.

The retrofitted or new engines mandated by Coleman, they say, will have an effect noticeable only to "a very discerning ear." And the modifications in engines and in landing and takeoff procedures designed to reduce noise will be expensive. The estimated $8 billion total cost presumably will be paid by airline passengers, although Coleman put off until Dec. 1 a hearing to consider methods of meeting the bill. Despite the doubts, Coleman's action is a positive step forward. President Ford had pledged during the recent election campaign to move against airport noise, acknowledging the emotional complaints of people under traffic patterns. Mr. Ford and his administration are limited during the votes for Wright in return for Wright's leadership role in winning congressional support of mass transit money and New York City aid. Other mayors, including Chicago's Richard Daley, urged Wright's election largely for his leadership in boosting funds for mass transit in the nation's cities. Although O'Neill declared strict neutrality in the four-man fight for Democratic leader, congressmen close to him and other candidates circulated word that O'Neill could accept anyone except Burton, his reputed rival for power. Wright was chairman of the task force that created House Democrats' jobs program in the last Congress. After his election

Top House Taxwriter Balks CALENDAR At Effectiveness Of Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) - President-elect Carter says he wants to stimulating investment consult with congressional leaders before deciding on any tax cut to simulate the economy, but one of those legislators is already saying that such a measure would not be enough.

Carter, meeting briefly with reporters in Plains, Ga., on Monday, took pains to keep open all his options for stimulating the economy. He disagreed with the Sunday statement by his designated director of the Office of Management and Budget, Thomas H. "Bert" Lance, who called a tax cut "almost a cer-

Lance, meanwhile, was showing that he had quickly discovered who sets the policy in the Carter administration. On Sunday, in addition to saying that the tax cut was almost certain to be the means chosen for spurring the economy, he also expressed doubt that unemployment could be reduced by 1.5 per cent. After hearing what Carter had to say in Plains Monday morning, Lance quickly revised his opinions for an appearance before a business group in New York. The tax cut was only a "leading option," and not almost a certainty, he said. He also changed his view about the lowering of unemployment levels to coincide with Carter's determination to drop them from the current 8.1 per cent to 6.6 per cent in 1977. "I think the goal can be attained," he said. Lance said there was no doubt that the economic slump has become another recession. As he said that, the Commerce Department released some figures giving little hope for im-

Jimmy: 'I Think I Cost Billy The Election...'

Carter said.

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) - Without Billy Carter as mayor, says Billy Carter, the little crossroads town of Plains "is going straight to hell."

Billy Carter lost Monday in his second bid to become mayor of this little but now farnous village, and his brother, the President-elect of the United States, worried, "I think I cost him the election." Brother Billy was beaten 90 to 71 in Monday's election, losing to A.L. Blanton, the incumbent mayor. Blanton also is an air traffic controller in nearby Albany and is Plains' parttime barber. "People of Plains probably think they've got enough Carters winning elections," said the President-elect as he arrived at a win-or-lose beer party celebration. The win-or-lose celebration, which turned out to be a lose celebration, was held at Billy's service station, next to city hall where the votes were counted. "We've got a state senator (Hugh Carter Sr.,) and a esident and I think that the folks just thought that a mayor on top of all that would be too much," Jimmy

"I think it's tough to win with a brother who's president. I think I cost him the election. He would have made a Billy lost to Blanton by four votes for the $50-a-month job two years ago. Whatever the campaign issues were then, brother Billy campaigned this time on a platform that promised to try to preserve Plains' character and protect it from too much commercialization caused by brother Jimmy's success. The President-elect's brother was not noticeably gracious in defeat. Now, says Billy Carter, without Billy Carter as mayor, the defeated candidate may build a house in the woods outside town to escape the peering tourists and creeping urban congestion.

"I see Plains going straight to hell," Billy Carter said in the glare of television lights. "With everything that's going on here, I surely do."

Flickering Christmas candles and glittering Christmas trees decking the walls shed light on the 12th Annual Champagne Ball Saturday night at Sanford Civic Center. Putting their best feet forward in furs, feathers. flambouyant tuxedos and business suits, revelers were greeted by the ball chairman, Mrs. Wilfred (Peggy) Conrad, and her husband, and Mrs. Robert J. (Bettye) Smith, president of Seminole Mutual Concert Association. and her husband.

Ball patrons socialized and sipped champagne from 8-9 p.m. when Jack Drummond struck up the band for an evening of dancing to a variety of favorite tunes - both old and new. It was eat, drink and be merry during the entire evening when a continuous buffet was served for merrymakers to retreat to between dances.

At least one minor calamity occurred during the glittering gala. Lois Dycus lost a portion of her slim black gown - the thread holding the hem! But Nora Gordon came to the rescue with old-faithful, fool-proof safety pins to secure the sagging skirt. One ball patron was concerned that at the last minute she hemmed her exquisite gown, designed with a voluminous chiffon skirt, on a 25-year-old sewing machine. But nobody noticed the hem, nor the runner in her stocking resulting from dancing sans slippers. Gowns ran the gamut from sophisticated simplicity to elegant ball creations. Showing up in shades of Christmas

Bewitching black gowns were worn by Polly Smith, Jean Contz, Liz Mathieux, Patti Brantley, Jerri Kirk, Hilda Garay, Elizabeth Mebane, Cathy Bauerle, June Lormann, Peggy Deere and Bernie Morris.
