GARNER PLAN FOR INCOME AND SURTAX RATES PASSED HOUSE SUBSTITUTE FOR MELLON PLAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Aid by a group of Republicans, most of them Democrats, House Democrats Tuesday eliminated from the Mellon income tax substitute the plan advanced by Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas, substituted.

The bill as amended fixes the maximum at 44 per cent, income in excess of $92,000 and 50 per cent on incomes exceeding $200,000 under existing law and 25 per cent on incomes of less than $100,000 as recommended by the treasury. It also reduces income rates to a greater extent than Mr. Mellon recommended and increases personal tax exemptions, a feature not in the Mellon bill.

House Yea. The bill was approved by the House by a vote of 222 to 196 with the aid of Republican insurgents, most of them Democrats, who voted with the Republicans.

Mr. Mellon's plan would have reduced the maximum rate to 35 per cent on incomes over $100,000 and 45 per cent on incomes over $200,000. It also would have increased the personal exemption to $1,000 and the dependent exemption to $500.

Senator Wheeler Says Daugherty's Friends Received Money From Oil Men For Influence With Attorney

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The attempt to drive Attorney General Daugherty from the cabinet was renewed from a new angle in the senate Tuesday after he had adopted an attitude of defiance toward his critics.

Senator Wheeler, Dem., Montana, not only charged on the senate floor that the attorney general's name was mixed in the oil scandal from the first, but he charged that Mr. Daugherty's personal friends had been accepting money in exchange for their influence with him and added that "if the attorney general has not actually got the money, he is a bigger fool than the people of the United States give him credit for being."

Only Small Portion. "This is only a small portion, an extremely small portion, of the money that will be produced," said Senator Wheeler, "showing beyond any question of doubt in my mind that the attorney general of the United States, instead of prosecuting crime, has been protecting crime and criminals."

The speech of the Montana senator was delivered in behalf of his resolution asking for a sweeping investigation of Mr. Daugherty's official record. He sought immediate action but consent was refused by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, because of Mr. Wheeler's proposal that he himself select the investigating committee.

Last night the attorney general not only maintained his determination against retiring from office under fire, but also refused to make any reply to the attacks upon him. There had been suggestion that Mr. Daugherty might make a statement after yesterday's cabinet meeting but he left the White House and went to his home to spend the remainder of the day without a word as to his intentions.

Prior to the cabinet session a belief had prevailed in some quarters that the question of Mr. Daugherty's remaining in office would be taken up in connection with a general discussion of the more recent disclosures in the oil inquiry. All of the members united in a statement after the meeting that the oil investigation was not discussed and later President Coolidge authorized the statement that not only had Mr. Daugherty not resigned but that there had been no discussion of him or his office in the cabinet either before or after the meeting.

OIL TRAIL LEFT BY COMMITTEE IN ITS INQUIRY

Committee Meeting Behind Closed Doors Examines Brokerage Records Where They Find Name of United States Senator, Withheld for Further Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Senator Elkins, Rep., West Virginia, said Wednesday that he had purchased stock of the States Consolidated Oil Company. He added he was perfectly willing to go before the senate oil committee and tell about it. His statement revealed he is the senator whose name appears on the records of Benard brokerage firm presented to the commission yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The trail of the oil inquiry, after devoted ramblings, led directly back Tuesday to the United States senate.

When the oil committee met behind closed doors to examine certain records of the Benard stock brokerage firm of New York, it found the name of a senator entered there.

Pending a more complete examination of all the records of the firm in New York, the name was withheld. While pledged to secrecy now, committee members declared that when the audit of the books for transactions in oil and other stocks by other government officials had been finished there would be no suppression of any of the facts unearthed.

To Seek More Data Today. Additional information with regard to stock transactions was sought by the committee Wednesday at another executive session at which it expects to examine Harry Payne Whitney, New York financier, who failed to appear yesterday in response to a subpoena. Mr. Whitney is hurrying to Washington from the South.

Hot Senate Debate. Before the committee had wound up its secret session, the oil scandal had become the subject of another lively debate on the senate floor, with Senator Harrison, Dem., Mississippi, defending, and Senator Moses, Rep., New Hampshire, assailing William G. McAdoo, a candidate for the democracy presidential nomination, in connection with his professional services to the Doheny interests.

Declaring that the country desired earnestly that "the government be purged of every one having a connection with the oil leases," Senator Harrison demanded that Assistant Secretary Roosevelt quit along with Denby.

Charging that some Republican party leaders were "defending" the Doheny and Sinclair leases, Senator Harrison referred to an editorial in the recent issue of the National Republican. He scored particularly a statement in the editorial that 95 per cent of the evidence before the oil committee was "junk."

George B. Lockwood, editor of the National Republican, issued a statement later in the day in which he said that "the statement that the National Republican has 'defended' the Sinclair-Doheny leases is shown by a reading of the text of the article, without garbling or misrepresentation, to be untrue."

Members of the Theodore Roosevelt Chapter of Spanish War Veterans are making elaborate preparations for a reception to be given in honor of Mrs. Florence Clark, president-general of the national organization, who will pay the local chapter a visit Thursday.

Crackers Shiver As Snow Falls At Madison Square Where Thousands New Yorkers Flock To See Exhibit

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Rain and sleet today turned the night's snowfall into slush which made brooks of the streets and sidewalks and impeded the elevated and surface car traffic. It was the most serious storm this winter for the metropolitan district.

Four hundred snow plows and 14,000 men are clearing the streets today. All trains are delayed. A severe blizzard is sweeping upper New York state.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—(Special.)—With the falling of what promises to be one of the heaviest snows this city has had this winter, New Yorkers are flocking in increasing numbers to the Florida state exposition at Madison Square Garden, where they are viewing with wonder and envy the evidences of summer weather, year-round sunshine, winter food production contained in the many displays brought here from the peninsular state.

More Than Doubled. It was apparent late Tuesday night that Monday's attendance of 10,000 persons would be more than doubled when gate receipts from the show's second day are

CITY FORMALLY ACQUIRES THE INGRAM TRACT

Site for Proposed Municipal Athletic Field Comes Into Possession of Sanford Saturday When Escrow Agreement Is Signed and Filed in Clerk's Office.

The Ingram Tract situated east of Sanford and fronting on Celery Avenue, which was recently purchased by the city commission as a site for the proposed municipal athletic field, formally came into possession of the city on Saturday when papers involving the transfer of the property were signed and filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court.

Because there is a cloud on the title at this time a deed giving clear title to the property was not given and instead an escrow agreement was passed between the parties. Provisions in the agreement, however, stated that John L. Ingram and wife, former owners of the property, within 30 days after the signing of this agreement are to hand over to George A. DeCottes, city attorney, a clear abstract.

The Seminole County Bank was designated as the place where the agreement was to remain pending the securing of the abstract. Just the same the legal impediment which hinders the passing of the title were not given out but it is said, that to secure the abstract, it will be necessary to institute a suit in chancery to settle the matter. In the meantime $500 of the purchase price is also held in escrow in the bank to defray the expenses of the suit including Mr. DeCottes' fee.

It is said that there is no danger in the way of the city not obtaining title to the land. It is also said that Mr. Ingram's right to the land as long as he owned it himself, was unquestioned, but in transferring to anyone else, it is necessary to clear the cloudy title.

Washington News

The agreement was signed by Forrest Lake as mayor of Sanford; L. R. Phillips as city clerk, George A. DeCottes as city attorney and by Mr. Ingram and his wife.

Prize Awarded For Best Essay Written On U.S. Constitution

Mrs. A. M. DeForest, regent of the Sallie Harrison Chapter of D. A. R., together with other members of the club, visited the colored school on Monday and presented to George Sheppard, a member of the 10th grade, the first prize of $10 as the winner of the essay contest that the chapter has been holding. The subject of the essay was "The Constitution of the United States, by whom it was written and its effect on the world today." In presenting the prize to the winner, Mrs. DeForest expressed gratification over the interest that had been manifested in the contests by the pupils. Following the presentation of the award, Mrs. DeForest gave a short but stirring patriotic address outlining to the pupils their duties as citizens of this republic. She appealed to them to always have the same interest in the constitution and for the things which it upholds, as has been manifested in the contest. Monday marked the opening of Constitution Week, which is being observed throughout the country by the various chapters. Other programs will be held by the local chapter during the week in the interest of the observance of this week. Those who accompanied Mrs. DeForest were: Mrs. A. T. Rosister, Mrs. J. N. Whitner, Mrs. John G. Leonard and Rev. A. R. Peck.

MINERS AGREE

(Continued from page 1) for a term of three years, and the operators generally, it is believed, will accede. Operators withdrew their demands for extension of machine loading of coal, and the miners withdrew their demands that internal differences be referred back to the districts for adjustment. Membership of the miners' advisory committee, which will take formal action on the three-year proposal tomorrow morning, includes the entire miners scale committee, the three international officials, the international executive board, and three representatives from each of the twenty outlying districts.

DAUGHERTY WILL

(Continued from page 1) Today he sent to the senate, in response to an inquiry, a record of the war frauds investigation which he said showed that actual material progress had been made despite great handicaps. Wheeler holds off a while. Senator Wheeler had expected to ask for senate action today on his investigation resolution, but he said tonight he had refrained from doing so at the personal request of Senator Willis, Rep., Ohio, who represents Mr. Daugherty's home state and who heretofore has defended him on the floor of the senate. It was Senator Willis to whom the attorney general addressed his letter asking for a public inquiry before there was any action on another resolution by Senator Wheeler, previously introduced, asking the President to request the resignation of Mr. Daugherty. Mr. Wheeler declared tonight he would press the measure authorizing an investigation tomorrow, and senate leaders are agreed that it will pass. It would give the investigating committee broad authority to go into aspects of the oil scandal, into Mr. Daugherty's delay in prosecuting those accused in the Veterans' Bureau investigations, into the war frauds prosecutions, and every other feature of work of the department of justice. An opportunity would be afforded among other things, for a revival of the charges on which Mr. Daugherty's impeachment was unsuccessfully attempted in the house more than a year ago.

VISIT SANFORD
F. W. Millican, Sr., banker and prominent resident of Valdez and P. S. McMaines, owner of what is said to be some of the finest pecan groves in this country, were visitors in Sanford Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Millican, who paid a short visit to his son, the junior member of the Griffith-Millican company of this city, was favorably impressed with Sanford as was Mr. McMaines.

JIGGS AND MAGGIE COMING

Traveling around various parts of the world with such celebrities as Jiggs Mahoney, Maggie, his terminant wife, Dixie Moore, the irrepressible and the charming Kitty Mahoney is a treat that very few people should care to miss. At any rate, the opportunity will be provided at the Milano theatre, Thursday, Feb. 23, matinee and night, where the latest musical comedy success, "Bringing Up Father on Broadway" will be conspicuously on view. Probably no cartoons have reached the popularity and fame as the George McManus comic and in the latest adventures of the beloved characters, whose doings and activities seem to be part of our national life, many novel twists and surprises will be in evidence. The new play which is by John P. Mulgrew, a well known writer of merry pieces, is in two acts and five scenes, running the gamut of action from a roof garden on Broadway to the business routine of sunny Italy. Once more Maggie aspires for social climbing. How she fares, her rebuffs and the attendant complications that ensue forms one of the merriest plots of a merry entertainment.

TEA POT DOME

Hints at Big Ones
There were hints that the names of some former as well as some present government officials might be linked in the oil scandal and the trail might lead to the senate itself. Moreover, it was asserted that the transactions sought to be disclosed were not confined wholly to oil. Specifically what is sought from Mr. Whitney and in the books of the Sinclair firm is information as to transactions by public officials in stock of the Sinclair oil companies prior to and subsequent to the lease of the Teapot Dome naval reserve to Harry E. Sinclair. Under the present plan the public hearings before the oil committee are to be resumed next Monday, but Chairman Lenroot and others said there might be developments which would call for earlier sessions. Mr. McLean probably will be among the first of the witnesses called to dispense with his testimony. There have been suggestions that if the committee is satisfied with the information he gives in private he may not be questioned in public. Until the senate met and the new development in the oil scandal was whispered about on the floor and in the cloak rooms, the Sunday conferences and the summoning of Mr. Whitney and the brokerage firm officers was shrouded in considerable mystery. Lenroot Silent. Chairman Lenroot declined to discuss the matter in any other way than to say that he had conferred with the president and that there was no intention at present of abandoning the ten days' recess program. He refused to say whether subpoenas had been issued, declaring he would be "directed" by his duty "to the committee and the public" to discuss that matter. Later in the day, however, after information had been received that Mr. Whitney and the brokerage firm officers would come to Washington tomorrow he announced that a call for an executive session of the committee for that time had been issued. Confirmation of Mr. Roberts' nomination by the senate makes it possible for the full machinery for institution of legal proceedings, will be minimal to be organized. Mr. Pomeroy and Mr. Roberts will organize a full staff and will have the cooperation of the department of justice and the interior and navy department. Mr. McLean's Statement. Mr. McLean issued the following statement tonight. "My attention has been called to a statement published in the evening newspapers to the effect that my attorney had furnished valuable information to members of the senate committee investigating the oil leases. The implication of this report is that I have valuable information which I have authorized my attorneys to impart to the committee. I have no such information and therefore could not authorize my attorney to impart it. The report in question is false in its entirety."

Tempting Bath Room Leads To Arrest Of German Woman Thief

By The Associated Press.
LANDSBURG, Prussia, Brantzenberg, Feb. 19.—Unable to resist the temptation of an inviting bath-tub while surveying the castle of Neuwedell preparatory to robbery recently, Frau Schamburg was caught by servants and turned over to the police. She told the police she had been married three times, but married life proved too tame for her and eventually she fell in with a band of Berlin thieves. The woman was assigned to Landsburg, she said, to make a survey of the castle which later was to have been robbed by her confederates. She had cultivated the acquaintance of a woman servant and used this to gain entrance to the building. While exploring the building she came upon the bath room and sold its wonderful appointments with steaming water, fluffy towels, and perfumed soaps fairly urged some one to use them and she could not resist.

Galloway of Sanford and Marcus Fogg of this city, in addition to Miss Skinner. The commission is authorized to codify and edit the laws of a general nature relating to children, and will make a report at the next legislature on their findings.

Money for First Venture in Oil Was Obtained From Insurance After Shooting Of Big Toe

PONCA CITY, Okla., Feb. 19.—Harry Sinclair, head of the Sinclair Oil Corporation, owner of Zev and around whom steams the Teapot lease proposition, has the distinction of having brought the first silk underwear to the old Cherokee Strip land, back in the early days of this century. He was a resident of Ponca City for a year or more, operating a string of brokerage offices, where could he be bought options on July wheat, May corn, September cotton, barrel pork and other such business. Oldtimers remember that Sinclair had been a drug store clerk at some time prior to coming to Ponca City, and there are those here who declare that he worked behind the counter while in this city. Early day druggists say he was a handy man to have around, for he could wait on trade if there happened to be a busy spell. Other oldtimers say that at least on one occasion, when there was no meat ticket in sight, Sinclair worked in a local restaurant for a time, thereby equaling the record of Edward J. Doherty in that line. Ponca City was just a cow town in those days, where everything went wide open. There were around 2,000 persons and 17 saloons, with no telling how many gambling houses. Wide-brimmed hat cowboys, spurred and each with a sixshooter on his hip, frequented the streets, with their ponies "hitched" in front of the various liquor sales places. Once ever so often some one shot out the lights but the boys spent all their money in town, the money ranches were the principal industry, and also people had become accustomed to the condition. Many of the oldtimers who were landmarks during the time that Harry Sinclair was a Ponca City business man have passed over, but there are still a number who remember him well and, in connection with him, the things that happened in which he participated. Sinclair Surprised Town "There is one way in which I always remember Sinclair," says a present-day business man here. "I always loafed around the laundry as a boy, and when the packages of clothing were opened I always helped. I remember that when we opened Harry Sinclair's bundle it had in it the first silk underwear—his own—that ever came to Ponca City and the Cherokee Strip country, and no doubt among the first that ever came to the state." Sinclair had a private wire into his brokerage office and kept open all day long. It happened to be one of the years when the farmers made good money on their wheat, and many of them traded with Sinclair. Throughout the city and community there was a gambling spirit permeating almost the entire citizenship—a spirit that perhaps still hovers around—and as a result Sinclair did a big business as far as numbers were concerned. "I have tried to get into the office several times," says one old-timer who is now a retired banker, "when there were so many people ahead of me that I could not." He admits he made several deals in wheat with Sinclair.

Education in Africa Will Be Studied By New England Experts

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Feb. 19.—An Anglo-American commission has left England to study the educational systems used in East, Central and South Africa and to draw up a report as to the best line on which the educational needs of Africa may be met. The expedition will visit Abyssinia, Aden, Kenya and Uganda, and then proceed to Belgian Africa. The expenses of the trip are being paid from American bequest funds, and by British Missionary societies. Hitherto 60 per cent of the educational work among native Africans has been through missionary enterprise, but this commission will work with the British government in order to allow the latter to assume control of native education in the future.

WOMEN KEEPING MEN OUT OF JOBS IN BRITISH CITIES

Occupy Positions in Every Trade and Profession and Give Men Good Run for Their Jobs.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Gone are the days when the number of trades or professions in which a woman might work and not lose caste thereby could be numbered on one hand. Today one would need a hundred fingers to tick off the positions which women are filling in this country, the greater majority of them hitherto exclusively "men's professions." There is scarcely a trade or profession throughout Britain which has not at least one woman blazing the way for the rest of her sex.

Women doctors, lawyers, preachers and, more recently, members of parliament now are almost commonplace; but there are lots of other jobs, the nature of which one would not have thought likely to attract the feminine sex which are being held down by women. Undertaking, for instance, is not exactly an ennobling profession for any girl to choose, yet London alone has 24 undertakers in petticoats. There must be some fascination about chimney sweeping, for six London citizenesses are earning their bread and butter by competing with the grimy men who come round once or twice each year to moisten houses here at 6 or 7 o'clock in the morning and proceed to push long brushes up chimneys and, incidentally, cover themselves and everything around them with a fine coating of sticky, clinging black stuff—London soot.

Some other strange occupations followed by British women are beer can making (there is one in London), cycle makers, saddlers, wheelwrights, dealers in birds and animals. Miss Gertrude Rosenberg has a little shop in the city where she breeds butterflies for sale to schoolboys, and makes quite a good thing out of it.

Figures can't be such terrible enemies to the feminine mind as Dickens, in his "David Copperfield," would have us believe. The Institute of Chartered Accountants now has several women members, fully qualified, and there are a number of girls who have passed their first examination and are working for their finals. The membership of the Institute of Actuaries of Staple Inn was made open to women three years ago, and the first two women to become qualified actuaries were made members of the institute recently, one of whom is working up for the exacting mathematical and law tests of the actuaries' examinations in her spare time.

There are 25 women barristers in Great Britain and more are being in for this exclusive profession. Exeter has one woman stock broker and London two. Exeter also has the distinction of possessing a woman glazier. She is Miss Daphne Drake, daughter of a well known Devonshire novelist and an authority on stained glass, and she has been appointed glazier to Exeter Cathedral. Her present work consists of restoring a rare 14th century panel stained glass found at Chelsea, claimed to be the oldest here except that in Westminster Abbey.

RECALL ELECTION MAR. 4 ORLANDO, Feb. 19.—Governor Hardee, it is understood here, will be asked to fix Mar. 4 as the date for an election to vote on the recall of Mayor Duckworth, along with Commissioners Manuel and Sutherland. The executives a few days ago designated that date when the qualified voters here may pass in the call of the two commissioners, and a petition is being circulated asking that the voters also be asked to determine whether or not to continue the mayor in office, according to authoritative reports here.

Willis Powell, secretary of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce, in an article in the Times-Union, tells of a huge citrus development in Lake county by O. C. Donahay of Carthage, Mo. The grove will be a mile square, though an additional 1,700 acres may be set out in the future. It will contain for the present 30,000 trees; Parson Brown, Pineapple and Valencia oranges; Dancy tangerines and Marsh seedless grapefruit.

Syndicate From New York Acquires Huge Track Georgia Land

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 19.—Two thousand additional acres of land, 1,000 being rice lands and 1,000 uplands, on Butler's Island and vicinity, near Brunswick, have been acquired by a New York syndicate of capitalists, operating through O. C. Lamp, according to reports received here by officers of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway.

This will make the holdings of the investors approximately 4,000 acres, and it is their purpose to secure more land, bringing up their holdings to 6,000 acres, it is stated. The property acquired is said by soil experts to be as fertile as those in the Valley of the Nile, and in which, with proper drainage can be grown a greater variety of truck than perhaps on any other lands in the South.

Plans of the company, it is stated, provide for scientifically drying all of the rice land property and dividing it into 10 and 20-acre farms on which will be built a farm house for each tenant. Grounds around each bungalow will be beautified by the planting of palm and olive trees.

Both a packing and a canning plant will be erected in Brunswick by the company which has acquired the property. It is also announced that many acres of the uplands bought by the New Yorkers will be devoted to the growing of satsuma oranges, for which it is said to be especially suitable.

"Forty-two new residences have been constructed in the city during the past month," says the Lakeland Star-Telegram. January found contractors and others very busy, and the new accommodations added will be appreciated. The total estimated value of building permits taken out during January was $143,650, and of the amount nearly $100,000 meant new dwellings and homes. Lakeland is growing in a most satisfactory way.

Other sections of the state are being covered by Dr. S. B. Rogers, secretary and treasurer of the state board of missions, who is working out of Tampa through South Florida; and Dr. C. M. Brittain, assistant secretary of missions, who is in the central part of the state. He was at Leesburg today, and will meet other associations during the week at Dade City, Gainesville, Lake City and other points.

These workers are carrying into the field their ideas and those of the state board for successfully

Monticello Boy First To Send Application Admission To Camp

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Feb. 19.—Charles Thomas Carroll, Jr., a senior in the Monticello high school, is the first boy in Florida to send in an application for admission to the Citizen's Military Training Camps, which will be held again this summer at Camp McClellan, Alabama; Fort Dragg, N. C., and Fort Barrancas, near Pensacola, Fla., from July 3 to August 2, inclusive.

Riley, civilian aide to the Secretary of War for the State of Florida.

Why Throw Away Money--

INTO THE MAW OF THE MAIL-ORDER HOUSE; WHY LET IT BE LURED FROM SANFORD BY THE DAZZLE OF DISTANT MERCHANDISE

Sanford merchants are the purchasing agents of our community. They are our own people; they live among us; they know our needs; they do their utmost to satisfy those needs; to give us helpful and conscientious service.

Our retail merchants have proved their confidence in this community by investing many thousands of dollars; by staking their all on Sanford's future.

THEY'RE ENTITLED TO A SQUARE DEAL

They deserve our whole-hearted support and patronage. And every fair-minded man and woman will concede that preference should be given to goods made in Sanford and that all trading should be done in Sanford shops.

BY TRADING AT HOME YOU NOT ONLY

show a proper civil spirit—You Serve YOUR OWN BEST INTERESTS. For it's a wise person who spends a dollar where he has a chance to get it back. A foolish person is the "penny-wise" mail order buyer who buys a "pig-in-a-poke" every time he patronizes one of these foreign enemies of the home merchant.

BE SQUARE WITH YOURSELF AND WITH YOUR NEIGHBOR, THE SANFORD MERCHANT WHO SERVES YOU FAITHFULLY, HONESTLY, INTELLIGENTLY.

OLDS CARS HAVE ENAMELED BODIES IN COLORS NOW

Automobile bodies enameled in colors, with all the resultant gloss and long wearing qualities characteristic of the common black enamel finish, are now for the first time made possible through the perfection of a new process by the Olds Motor Works, Lansing, Michigan.

The announcement of this important and advanced step in automobile manufacture was not made public by the Olds Motor Works until the success of the process had been assured. This followed several years of experiments and months of testing. For several months past Oldsmobile sport touring cars have been finished in weathered-bronze green baked enamel.

Black has maintained its place as the standard color for automobiles only because it could be baked so cheaply and quickly. The same enamel with color ingredients added would come out smoked and streaky after being exposed to the excessive temperatures of the baking oven. The only method of body finishing that would give a glossy finish in colors was the ordinary and familiar one of paint and varnish—a long and relatively expensive procedure.

This development of colored enamels that will withstand the heat of baking ovens has caused a revolution of thought and beliefs in the paint industry. At the beginning of the development, when officials of the Olds Motor Works made known their wants, both paint and varnish makers said it could not be done and it could not with the materials and ideas then in use.

AMERICAN CARS ARE DOMINATING FOREIGN MARKET

By H. S. Vance, Sales Manager The Studebaker Corporation.

The ability to produce quality cars on a quantity basis is the underlying reason why the United States leads the nations of the world in the manufacture of automobiles. American cars, with few exceptions, compete successfully with the automobiles of the country into which they are shipped, and even in one or two countries, where seriously handicapped by high import duties, many American cars are sold.

Nearly 84 per cent of all the motor vehicles registered in the world in 1922 were manufactured in this country. Although final figures are not yet available it is conservative to say that, with the large increase in American automobile production in 1923, approximately 90 per cent of all automobiles now registered in the world have been made in the United States.

American exports of motor vehicles in 1922 represented 40 per cent of the entire production of motor vehicles by all other countries in the world for the same year. American exports in that year were 78,234—more than doubling those of the previous year—and figures for 1923 will show a large increase over 1922.

American cars enjoy many advanced features of construction which make them more serviceable and satisfactory to operate.

American Service Simplified.

They are built along the same general lines, first of all, and can be easily understood and repaired by mechanics. European cars, on the other hand, do not conform with any basic standard, and as a result, "frank" cars appear on the foreign markets. This, of course, makes it difficult to obtain service.

European cars do not have as much reserve power as the average American automobile. Where the Studebaker Light-Six has an R. A. C. rating of 23.4 H. P. the greatest number of English and French cars have only from 5 to 15 H. P. Because of their small motors, the majority of European cars are equipped with four speeds forward, instead of three, with the result that the driver must shift from fourth to third speed in order to climb the most ordinary hill. This fact, and the added flexibility of American-made motors, add favor to American cars in the markets abroad.

"The pre-war dollar is worth today only 51.6 cents in clothing, 68.5 cents in food, 61.2 cents in rent, 45 cents in frame and 46.3 cents in brick buildings.

"The motor car industry has met the problem of higher labor, materials and tax expenditure by the economies of large scale production, reducing prices in confidence that the public would respond to the exceptional value. That the public has actually done so is a matter of automotive history."

NEW YORK SAYS "HOWDY"

President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge are shown photographed in front of the Women's National Republican Club headquarters, New York City. The executive came to Gotham to speak, and sounded the keynote of his campaign for re-election.

LAKE MARY

An enthusiastic meeting of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce was held Monday night at which time it was announced that A. E. Sjoblom of that city had donated to the Lake Mary School a four-acre tract of land adjoining the present grounds. This makes the school property over five acres now.

It was decided that as soon as possible a new school building would be erected to take the place of the present one. Frank Evans was chairman of the meeting, which was attended by about 75 members.

Among those present were Schelle Malmes and Fred R. Wilson of Sanford. Both men were called upon to make short talks. Mr. Malmes spoke on cooperation that should exist in the Chamber of Commerce. During his remarks he praised the work of that body and urged that its members continue their efforts toward making Lake Mary a live, progressive town.

At this meeting eight new members joined making the total of 60 enabling the association to join the state organization and national.

Twice each year the meetings are held at night so that the men can attend. After the meeting a program is given and refreshments served. The meetings are held each Friday of the month at 3:30 o'clock at the school house. Each department taking turns in furnishing the program. As a rule a health play is given.

There are quilts, bean bags, basketball, wands, tennis, high jump vaulting, slides, teether and a number of other games enjoyed by the children. A very pleasant sight out doors. There are at present 55 members paying dues. One entertainment each month has been given since the opening of school and no admission charged.

MRS. ENDOR CURLETT, President.

AUTO PRICES CHEAPER THAN IN YEAR 1923

"The motor car is one of the very few commodities that can be purchased today for less than in 1913, before the war.

"This fact has never been brought home to the public, yet it explains in great measure the sale of more than 4,000,000 vehicles in 1923, which is 50 per cent ahead of any preceding year," points out C. J. Nepler general sales manager of the Oakland Motor Car Company.

"The striking fact of the low price of automobiles today has been brought out through figures supplied by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, which show that automobiles, tires and gasoline actually cost less today than before the war.

"Today you can purchase 111 cents worth of automobile, 10.1 cents worth of gasoline and 123 cents worth of tires with your 1913 dollar, despite the fact that you can get only 61 cents worth of general necessities.

"Today you can purchase 140 cents worth of Oakland with the 1913 dollar, as the model we put out then were 40 per cent higher in price than the greatly improved new Oakland.

Type-B Sedan

A woman will usually admire one thing about a car and a man another, but there is one feature of the new Type-B Sedan which both admire equally and emphatically—its exceptional driving ease.

This is due to a combination of several important improvements—a roomier front compartment; a readier clutch response; a new steering wheel that offers a trim, firm grip, and control levers, that are ideally accessible, yet conveniently out of the way of robes and luggage.

The price is $1425 delivered.

Young people who are striving to fit themselves for the great responsibilities of life are given some good suggestions as to "qualifications" by a great industrial leader, who says that the man who gets ahead today is the man who thinks for his qualification which cannot help but give inspiration to those who read it.

Business geniuses, like men successful in statesmanship, are not taught. They are created. Every man of great achievement carries very far beyond anything which he ever learned except in the school of experience, added to Heaven-given endowment.

W. H. MULLINS, an important manufacturer of Salem, Ore., is expected by the entire state as was his father, James Mullins, before him, to have learned except in the school of experience, added to Heaven-given endowment.

That particular and not unnecessary scandal should be killed thoroughly, President Harding said in his newspaper to a man engaged in newspaper ownership in Ohio who he said it for less than it was worth.

Before concluding negotiations for the sale of President Harding talked to W. H. Hearst, of his determination to sell. There is no record about it. Hearst himself might have bought the newspaper, but he does not publish newspapers in Ohio as a matter of course.

The president made up his mind to sell, not because he was getting a big price or even a good price. The successful negotiator, instead of giving heed to mechanical and formulated directions, is working out his own problems, and he only succeeds by going further and accomplishing more than anybody who has ever prepared him in a like field of endeavor.

BALL FANS LOOK FOR TY COBB TO SLOW UP IN WORK

By The Associated Press
DETROIT, Feb. 20.—Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit Tigers, has been attracting the attention of baseball fans since his second year in the American League. That was back in 1906. He joined the Tigers the year before much the same as any recruit breaks into the big leagues, but it did not take the Georgia Peach long to demonstrate that he was quite different from the ordinary rookie.

During the 1905 season Cobb failed to hit in the 300 class. Since then he has not failed to hit in the select circle of hitters. Next spring the Tiger leader will begin his 20th season with the Detroit team and he is attracting nearly as much attention as he did when he was earning his reputation as the greatest all-round player in the game. However, the attention he now is attracting is a little different. Baseball fans have become accustomed to Cobb batting .300, but now they are asking: "Is Cobb slowing up?" "Will next season be Cobb's last as an active player?" To the first question the answer is "Yes," without qualification. Baseball players in the major leagues are regarded as old at 35. Few of them ever attain the age of 40 in the big show. Cobb is between those two figures, hence there is no doubt that he has slowed up considerably from the years when it was regarded an ordinary feat for him to steal not only second, but third base.

There is no reason why Cobb should not hit .300 next season. He has done it for 18 consecutive seasons and by doing it last year established himself as the only player in the history of the major leagues who has hit for .300 or better for 18 years in a row. The date Capt. A. C. Anson did it for 20 years, but there was a break of two years in each of which he fell below .300.

Whether the next campaign will be Cobb's last as an active player is up to Cobb himself. Judging from his physical condition, he should be able to play the outfield for at least three more years, barring accidents. He has threatened to retire as an active player, and whether he will carry out that threat at the close of next season's time only can tell.

Young Pitcher Of Pirates Expected To Show Up Good

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Although he never pitched a baseball game as a professional until July 1922, Emil Yde (pronounced E-dee) was called to the major league fold in the fall of 1923, a little more than a year later. He was obtained by the Pittsburgh club of the National League on the remarkable record he had made as a minor leaguer. Starting 47 games with Oklahoma City in the Western League last season, he won 28 and lost 12. He took part in a total of 90 games, having been used outside the box because of his prowess as a hitter, and compiled a batting average of .392. Yde won nine games in a row last year, losing the 10th by one run, because of a nerver behind him. In the winter months he is physical director of the Freeport, Ill. Y. M. C. A. He attended Illinois and Wisconsin universities. The Pirates expect him to prove a tower of strength to the pitching staff this year in spite of his lack of major league experience.

KEY WEST, Feb. 20.—A fund of $10,000 will be raised to advertise Key West next fall and winter. A committee of experienced business men has been appointed to attend to collection of the fund.

The strawberry shipments from Wauchula continue with an average output of 50 refrigerators a day. The recent cool weather has cut down the output, which has been greater had warm weather continued. The prevailing price range from 18 to 23 cents a quart, according to quality and the majority of the berries has been of good quality. Enough peas and peppers are the only vegetables that are being shipped. The commodities averaging around 50 cents a day. English peas are bringing a fancy price, the growers receiving $1.50 a hamper at the platform. Peppers are ranging from $1.50 to $1.75 a hamper.

Gene Sarazen (left), national golf champion and Walter Hagen (right) will be at Winter Park Thursday where they will meet Otis and Dow George, two local professionals on the Winter Park links. The match announced sometime ago has created a lot of local interest and many of the golf enthusiasts of this city are planning to witness the match.

SANFORD GOLFERS MEET SARAZEN AND HAGEN WINTER PARK THURSDAY

Dow and Otis George, Sanford's crack professional golfers, will journey to Winter Park Thursday to meet Gene Sarazen, the national champion, and Walter Hagen in what promises to be an exciting match.

Sarazen and Hagen, for the past few weeks have been touring the east coast where they have been putting on exhibition matches for the purpose of giving their many admirers an opportunity to see them in action.

Two weeks ago Sarazen paired with a Miami pro, was defeated by Hagen and another player of that city. Tomorrow the George brothers will pair off to meet the famous Sarazen-Hagen combination. Just when the match will begin was not announced but will probably start at 2:30 o'clock.

Many local golf enthusiasts are planning to go down to Winter Park to see the match. Because of the affair, the golf tournament which was to have been held at the Sanford links Thursday, has been postponed until Friday. This will enable those who have entered the tournament to see the match at Winter Park.

Meanwhile plans for the local tourney are complete, announced Otis George, who is in charge. Within a few days, he said, many golfers have signified their intention of entering the meet and it is expected that competition will be keen. Score cards have been handed in and handicaps have been arranged, he stated.

Bands Will Compete At Jacksonville Meet

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 20.—Forty bands from Florida and South Georgia cities will be brought here for the April Follies contest to be held in April, under plans suggested by St. Elmo Acosta, chairman of the band committee. Duval county was the second county in line for honors.

EASY SETTLEMENT

The problem of filling needs is easily settled on the principle of reciprocity, for what one has to sell the other wants to buy.

This is the great principle underlying Herald Want Ads and it has worked for years with such great success that this form of advertising has come to be very popular.

The needs of one are supplied by the needs of another.

This process simply is the getting of the buyer and seller together and Herald Want Ads do that to perfection. Try them and see.

To reach all the people effectively—leave your Want Ad at The Herald office. Phone us to send for it or phone it to the Want Ad Department.

DISTINCTIVELY MODELED

There is unmistakable style in this frock of navy blue tulle, with the Oriental interest supplied by a trimming of silk braid in Egyptian colors. The dress fastens at one side, the waist blousing slightly over a narrow belt of self-material. The sleeves are finished with bands of the braid and may be worn either long or short. This is a lovely model for the soft silks, crepes and satins. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards 39-inch material and 3 1/2 yards of braid. Pictorial Review Dress No. 1397. Sizes, 34 to 43 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

TO THE HOUSEWIFE:—

Doesn't matter what the prices were yesterday—

Doesn't matter what they are going to be tomorrow—
