(Several years ago, before the star of Nikita Khrushchev began its decline in the Soviet firmament, we used to listen to, occasionally, on conversations in the Khrushchev home. Now that Mr. K. is a famous author, it might be fun to listen to again.)

MRS. KHRUSHCHEV — Hello, Nikki. In the mail today is a letter from Life magazine. It might be fun to listen to it to subscribe?

MRS. KHRUSHCHEV — No, Ma. Ma. It probably is a check. Life magazine is printing piece called "Khrushchev. Remember," and really payment is over due.

MRS. K. — Quiet, Nikki. In Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is no royalty, only protestant. But when did you have time to write a book? You've said you have been too busy to chop wood for hand- some new cooking stove.

MRS. K. — I did not write book. Mama. Is complete fabrication.

MRS. K. — So is story about you being busy. What is book about?

MRS. K. — It is about great men who have known Khrushchev.

MRS. K. — Why not publish it in Pravda instead of in capitalist Life magazine?

MRS. K. — Only in Life magazine does Khrushchev get opportunity to tell American people that Dulles was a cur and Nixon is a dirty name. On American newstands is no Pravda. Also, Life pays better than Pravda.

MRS. K. — Maybe now it's grateful Russians will appreciate my Nikki.

MRS. K. — It book is magnificent account of Soviet Union's glorious victory over America in Cuba, and full story of architectural masterpiece, Berlin Wall.

MRS. K. — Is Stalin in book?

MRS. K. — It truth about Stalin. And the other no-goodniks, like Beria and Malenkov and Bulganin and Zhukov and the others.

MRS. K. — Is no here?

MRS. K. — Here is Khrushchev.

MRS. K. — You write had things about Americans and you also write had things about Russians? Who will buy book?

MRS. K. — Everybody in America. Nobody in bourgeois United States will pay to read good things about Russians.

MRS. K. — Is not Stockholm Prize is only railroad ticket.

MRS. K. — Always have I wanted to go to Stockholm.

MRS. K. — Is not Stockholm. Mama. Is ticket to Siberia. One way.

MRS. K. — Is money prize?

MRS. K. — Is many rubles, but only if winner collects in person. Sweden will not deliver to Siberia.

Chamber Opens Members Drive

Turn Toward Tomorrow!

With this theme the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce will gather its membership teams at the Civic Center for a Jan. 19 breakfast "kick-off" of a one-day drive for members.

Headed by Garnett White, chairman, and Martin Neiswander and Wayne Albert, division chairmen, a "blitz" of area businesses and individuals are planned in a concentrated effort designed to bring at least 250 additional business memberships into the chamber.

A team captain meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday, according to John Krider, Chamber manager.

Selected for captains are Gordon Bradley, James Willette, Peter Payton, Dorothy Powell and David Berrien and all are placed under Neiswander, their division chairman.

Captains under chairman Albert include Cecile Heard, James Rowe, William Fraasa, James Grant and Michael Caples.

The first work on each team to bring in memberships for all his cards will receive a $25 savings bond; first worker who brings in five or more memberships within a three-day period will receive a $25 savings bond.

The division bringing in the greatest number of memberships, all prize winners and wives, will be treated to a steak cookout.

Krider said corporate and individual memberships are available.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

Shades of the days of Hedda Hopper, and her way of teasing you with . . . "did you hear about so-and-so getting clobbered by Big Mike X?"

"And, Jane D. was seen with Mike Q. the other nite . . . while Mike's Missus was with Jane's hubby — 'D'."

Use to drive me crazy trying to figure it out . . . so, the shoe's on the other foot. Let's drive you batty for a while with . . .

What neophyte reporter got decked, flattened, a fistful of knuckles for laying a hand on the son of a six-foot-four father . . . who just happened to be there and saw this reporter?? Man-handling his 600?

Speaking of "tips" . . . just gotta get with Sheriff Polk. Bitterest one, being whispered to us, is that there's a red carpet out for him in Tallahassee . . . on a permanent basis? "Humm . . . gets interesting and interesting, eh?"

Repercussions on the proposal by the School Board to evict Middle School students next year and house them in portables in order to make more room for Lyman High School and eliminate double session are being heard. Milwee parents have called a special PTA meeting at 7:30 Tuesday to protest the move.

Had a mother call me the other day . . . told me the story of how her son volunteered for the service. He was shipped to Germany, and while there, put in at least five separate requests to serve part of his hitch in 'Nam.

He got his wish . . . and an enemy bullet, too. Fortunately, he recovered after a long recuperative period, only to be shipped back to Germany.

But, here's where the story gets a little amusing. He only has 14 more months to go to complete his enlistment, and guess where he has been ordered to serve the final 12 months of it . . . IN VIETNAM, brother . . . in Vietnam. Some duck bullets and bombs twice, while others hide behind "interceptive rainings" of our illustrious, but slow moving Supreme Court.

It has a way of slipping up on you . . . before you know what's happening.

Like the flu epidemic down in neighboring Ft. Lauderdale. That's not an overstatement, nor is it intended to scare you. Simply a word of precaution, that's all.

However, there are 18 deaths reported and 13,000 case of influenza in ONE WEEK.

The life that is unexamined is not worth living. Plato

Joyce Murder Trial Is Slated

26 Other Cases Listed On Lengthy Docket

By MARION BETHA

Henry Porter Joyce, charged with first degree murder in the Sept. 25 slaying of Maynard G. Powell, will be tried in Circuit Court in trials scheduled for the weeks of Jan. 11 and Jan. 18. Twenty six other defendants are listed on the lengthy docket.

Joyce, 30-year-old Baltimore truck driver, was arrested Sept. 27 at a motel near Duland. He testified at a hearing on motions of his attorney, Ned Julian, to suppress evidence, that he was intimate with the wife of the deceased, former Sanford waitress Sylvia Tolia Powell, on the day preceding and the day following the victim's demise. Charges against her were dropped Nov. 25.

Judge Roger Dykes denied the motion to suppress evidence. Powell, 32-year-old Lake Monroe resident, was found dead in the rear of his home within a week after filing discovery proceedings against his wife.

Also on the trial docket, is the case of Rose A. Anderson, charged on two counts of possession of drugs. The 26-year-old diminutive ash blonde is a former Winter Park High School teacher. Charges stem from a raid on her home, 224 Carriage Hill Drive, Casselberry, on Sept. 16, when six Casselberry policemen uncovered a cache of drugs reportedly worth $2,000 which included 500 miniature tablets, marijuana, hashish and two pipes. Her trial has been delayed, and Powell, will be tried in Circuit Court in trials scheduled for the weeks of Jan. 11 and Jan. 18. (Continued on Page 3A, Col. 5)

All Was 'Go' At Ball For Reubin, Donna Lou

By DORIS WILLIAMS

In a space age setting, under a galaxy of twinkling satellites, some 2,000 Central Florida earth people orbited into Melbourne Civic Center last night for the regional inaugural ball.

As the countdown hour reached 2:00, the head of state, the executive Cabinet and other State VIP's were introduced, and circled around the launch pad with their favorite first ladies, starting the grand ball rolling to the tune of "People."

Leading the Seminole County delegation was Askew Adams campaign manager, Sheriff John Polk and his wife. The county was allotted only 50 double invitations to the exclusive affair. The engraved invitations read formal . . . and that's how it was . . . the dignity of a royal introduction.

Yes, indeed, Sanford and Seminole County can really blast-off, not only for claiming Donna Lou Askew, but during the course of the exciting evening, Jack Turner and his wife, Peg, were inadvertently mistaken for the governor and first lady.

The Governor further explained that during the infancy of his campaign, he had the complete support of South Volusia and Brevard County Democrats, who backed him wholeheartedly to victory. This was the deciding factor for selecting Melbourne as the Central Florida ball site.

Seated on the stage with her husband and Lt. Gov. Adams, Florida's First Lady, Sanford's own Donna Lou, was as poised and regal as a queen in a formal white gown accented with a diamond of jewels at the waistline.

Resident in a traditional tuxedo and flashing a broad smile, Gov. Reubin Askew made a brief commentary expressing his gratitude to the people of Florida for awarding him the great honor. His ambition is aimed toward a better government for all Florida.

The Governor further explained that

Succumbs To Burns Father Gives Life For Tots

By LARRY NEELY

OVIEDO — Two young Oviedo tots owe their lives to their father, whose devotion to them caused him to make the ultimate sacrifice. Herbert Boston, 29, died yesterday in Winter Park Hospital as the result of burns he received when he heroically rescued his son, Herbert Jr., 8 months, and his daughter, Evie, 2½, from their burning home on New Year's Day.

According to the report filed by Police Chief Ken P. Triplet, young Boston apparently was making some adjustments to their oil heater when it caught fire. Boston picked up the burning heater and carried it outside of the house but the frame already had caught to the frame dwelling.

When Boston realized his two children were still in the house, he ran inside to rescue them. While he was in the burning building, his clothing, which had become soaked with fuel oil, burst into flames. A nearby neighbor took Boston to the hospital before police or fire officials arrived on the scene.

The fire, which destroyed the family's South Central Avenue home, left the two children and their mother with nothing and now they are fatherless as well. The two children also were slightly burned and are now recovering in Winter Park hospital.

The development contradicted the forecasts of administration officials who had contended that joblessness, which hit 3.5 per cent of the labor force in November, would diminish when the auto strikers returned to their plants.

William Schafner Heads Seminole Republicans

By ANN RILEY

Seminole County Republican executive committee members last night elected William Schafner, of Altamonte Springs, as chairman over Robert Brunner, of Longwood.

Schafner is chairman of the Seminole Junior College board of trustees and Brunner served as co-chairman of the Cramer campaign in Seminole County during the last election. Vote was by secret ballot.

Thomas Gibbs, of Altamonte Springs, won 35-20 the post of Seminole County Republican state committee member over surprise candidate former State Rep. Leonard Wood. Wood lost his bid for U.S. Congress in the November election. Gibbs headed the Seminole campaign and patronage committees for Gov. Claude Kirk.

Elected to other offices were Patsy Wagner, Altamonte Springs, vice chairman; Helen Thompson, Casselberry, secretary; and Robert Mosley, Sanford, treasurer. All were opposed.

The 65 members of the Republican executive committee were either present for the meeting or represented by proxy.

The committee members agreed to continue renting the house now in use as County GOP headquarters on SR 436 in Altamonte Springs until Feb. 21, when a decision will be made on future action. A part-time secretary is employed by the committee.

The GOP came out of the elections in the black and now has a balance of $34.98.

Security In 1970s

By LESLIE H. MANSILL

Special Lake Evening-Day Advertiser Column

Recently Newsweek magazine carried a full-color cover picture of the world depicted as a round bomb with a fuse burning at one end — minutes away from explosion! Many are saying the 70s will be the most eventful years in history. Certainly we are seeking rapid changes in religion, in morals, and in the peace of the world. To have survived the 60s with its period of revolution and new morality presents the 70s with new challenges to the church as we enter this new decade.

Another popular magazine Look, in the January, 1970, edition, quotes: "Not that the world will end by 1980, but unless we turn around some basic values, by 1980 mankind will be on the last gasp to rescue." It continues: "In the 70s, we can't keep trying to correct evil as it is at a time... We want something positive to live for."

Christianity now has its best chance to become a light that will glow for the whole world, just as the apostolic church changed the entire stream of public opinion in ages past. We must lift our vision beyond the earthly happenings of today, to the ingredients of love as expressed by the Apostle Paul in the book of Romans: "Don't let the world around you see you are up to its own neck; but let God re-mould your minds from within, so that you may prove in practice that the plan of God for you is good, meets all his demands and moves toward the goal of true maturity." (Philippi translation.)

The present time is of the greatest importance. It is time to wake up to reality. When the Apostle Paul came here to face with his Lord, he cried out: "Lord, what will thou have me to do?" Just so, as an individual becomes a true steward of the possessions God has given us: time, talent, money, we will increase our confidence and trust in eternal life. My greatest burden will be not how much I can keep back for myself, but how much can I give for God's cause to see the gospel story given to a perishing world. How much of my heart really belongs to Christ, or how much has the world squeezed me into its mould?

Friend, the 70s may well be mankind's last, best chance. The words of our blessed Lord, as recorded in the gospel of Matthew, contains a promise that can buoy the hopes of every man, woman and young person, in these crisis hours of earth's history: "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me... I go to prepare a place for you, and if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also."

Lack Of Educational $ Hurts Catholic Schools

Editor's Note: Educational costs are increasing everywhere. Among those hit the hardest are the Roman Catholic schools, causing major changes and cutbacks. This is the first of two articles on the financial figures based on a computerized analysis of 156 Catholic dioceses.

A recent survey by the National Catholic Education Association — the only comprehensive study ever undertaken by computer — shows a decrease of 87 in the number of schools, from 12,814 to 11,937, in the last three years. The same statistics showed elementary enrollment down 2,607,186, or by a half million, as of 1969-70, while high school enrollment dropped by 42,000 to 1,050,000.

There are some basic reasons for the financial plight of Catholic schools, which constitute 95 per cent of nonpublic elementary and secondary institutions in America. "No. 1: Catholic educators are being squeezed out of the public schools at an increasing rate of closure."

Startling New Facts Concerning Legal Abortions

By LOUIS CASSELL, UPI Religion Writer. A report from the New York City Health Department brings into sharp focus the moral issue involved in legalized abortion laws. Scientists Of Deltona Hear Famed Lecturer

By ELLA MAY FRAZER, DELTONA. — An inspired crowd of 428 heard the lecture on Christian Science delivered in Deltona Community Center on Sunday afternoon. William Milford Correll of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship spoke on the subject: "Your Thinking Determines Your Experience." Several copies of authenticated hand-amps through application of Christian Science were sold, each one showing how a person's thinking affects his bodily functions or his outward experience, and how a change of thinking in line with the teachings of Christ Jesus, developed in the Text Book of Christian Science, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, leads the malfunction of the disease or even a structural malformation.

Land Use And Zoning Highlights City Meet

By HILL SCOTT. Land use and zoning highlighted last night's Sanford Zoning and Planning Board meeting. City Planners Gerald Dike and Martin Gaines.

A special work session aimed at going over a proposed new land use city map prepared by Duke was set for 7 p.m. Jan. 21 after Daks explained his reasoning for seeking changes in present city zoning, which has not been updated since 1960.

Planner Dike in explaining his proposed land use and zoning map of the city, which worked readily with the consultation of David Farr, county planner, forecast Sanford as a compact high density city, and suggested some zoning changes which would incorporate his ideas.

Federal Funds For Local Governments Visible

There is every indication that the challenge of spending tax moneys in a manner which will have real meaning to every taxpayer will confront local governments in the near future.

Of course, this is not new. But it does have new meaning when it is understood that the "Father-Knows-Best" attitude of the federal government is now undergoing hard-headed appraisal by the Nixon administration in its San Clemente Western White House.

It is also supported by the words of Governor Askew who broke down the federal-state relationship with this comment: "Inherent in our commitment to action in our belief that state government can no longer wait for the federal government to solve our problems."

"It is now obvious that the inadequacies of our society are matters properly dealt with by government. . . . If there is anything which has become certain in the last decade, it is that even the most well-intentioned federal program is too many miles and too many administrators away from implementation.

Applying this reasoning to the state-county and the county-city relationships and a train of thought is started which leads to a common sense handling of tax dollars which is revolutionary in the best sense of that abused word.

President Nixon understands the gravity of the fiscal debacle which lies in wait for many states, counties and cities if a wiser use of the billions of dollars which the federal government collects (largely by income taxation) is not made.

Hence his "State of the Nation" message is awaited with more than usual trepidation by governors from coast to coast. Word is that the original $1 billion has been hiked to $5 billion for federal sharing of income tax revenues with states, counties and municipalities has leaked from the Nixon discussions along the Pacific Coast.

While on the Atlantic Coast there is Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, starting his history making fourth term as chief executive of the Empire State, whose "State of the State" message called for "massive federal aid" to prevent a "disastrous break-down of basic services."

It may seem like a mirage to many of our local officials, yet it may and probably will happen. It really will federal income tax dollars coming back into state houses, county courthouses and city halls in a lump sum with no guide-lines or hampering regulations attached in Washington.

Thus we may add to the already long list of obligations which rest on the shoulders of our local elected officials, the need to do some advance thinking and some prior planning so that when such funds are available they be spent with effectiveness in terms of the individual taxpayer.

By-products of such a change would be realized in a probable quickening of the individual citizen's attitude towards government.

One of the shames of our governmental process is the sapping away of the personal interest in the democratic process as shown in an unbelievable low registration of eligible voters and — even more astonding — a voting percentage which had been hanging around Sanford after the recent city commissioner election.

Voters are different from everyone. They want to believe that what or whom they choose to cast ballots for has meaning and that this meaning can be seen or experienced.

Cutting through the maze of governmental tape which binds all federal programs or by-passing the horde of paper-shuffling administrators surely would open the way for a closer and meaningful relationship.

These federal funds that are being talked about should be understood as what they truly are: our dollars, collected by the federal government and not belong to any administration or Congress or legislature.

They should be spent for the functions of government at every level. The move now contemplated by the Nixon administration is long overdue. It is urgent. The spending of these funds wisely, when they arrive, is equally so!

Vets Need Jobs

Returning Vietnam war veterans are having an increasingly hard time finding jobs in the slumping economy and the U. S. Labor Department says the situation is likely to get worse as more troops are returned home.

Of some three million Vietnam veterans in the labor force, about 200,000 or 6.5 per cent were jobless in mid-1970, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. This compares with a national jobless rate of 5 per cent at that time.

The national government has been making some small attempts to ease the veterans' return to civilian life in the way of job training and other steps. However, it is obvious that this has not been enough, and as the flow of the troops back home increases the job situation could become critical for them.

Everyone expected that return of the troops would affect the overall unemployment rate to a certain extent. But it will be hard for the men and their families to understand why the unemployment rate among veterans should be higher than it is in the general work force — Nashville (Tenn.) Tennessean

Sieving Out Fond Memories

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a strange sieve.

It nets and keeps the glory of past days; it tends to muffle or diminish the hurt and terrors of yesterday. That is why people with good memories are usually optimists. The more memories they have, the more they appreciate the varied wonders of life.

Your own life is undoubtedly more interesting if you can look back and remember when you were a child. People said of a state jail, "That had whiskers on it when Hector was a pup."

An Irishman, an Italian and a Scotsman—John McCormack, Enrico Caruso and Sir Harry Lauder—were the most popular visiting foreign singers who were coming to a deeply religious household.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Among the bills that slid quietly through Congress during the adjournment rush last week was one in which the lawmakers have allocated what little power they still had over the federal payroll.

Henceforth the salaries of Civil Service workers and members of the armed forces will be fixed by administrative action within the executive branch of government.

The President will have the final say, as he does—at least theoretically—in all executive branch decisions. But he will have to rely on studies and recommendations made by federal employees.

Thus a crucial role in the pay-setting process will be played by civil servants whose salaries will be affected.

The only guideline laid down by Congress is that federal pay scales should be "comparable

Public Housing

By ROBERT WISCHMEYER
Communities across the nation which have experienced controversy and frustration in attempting to alleviate low and moderate-income housing shortages may profit from observing Dayton, Ohio, as that five-county metropolitan area tries a new attack on its housing problem.

Under a plan originated by the Miami Valley Planning Commission, 29 municipalities in the five counties will attempt to provide 14,000 dwelling units, many of them public housing. These will be dispersed among 53 planning units according to quotas worked out under a mathematical formula taking into account population density, the amount of existing housing for low income families and other factors.

A firm federal policy supporting the plan as it reaches its implementation stage is needed. If it is to succeed, should the Dayton plan fail because federal backing is not forthcoming, such housing will result: a setback to smaller numbers in more limited time frames.

The Friendly Season

By: Fred Van Pelt

Politicians are a strange people. . . . a breed unto themselves. Usually they are co-operative with newspaper people, wanting to present a "clean" image to the voters. Some times, however, they are unco-operative . . . especially when they are leaving office.

John Alexander left office Tuesday with a rather significant record of accomplishment behind him . . . but on a sour note, as far as the news people were concerned.

It is not uncommon for news people, to beat a deadline, to "set up" an event in advance, especially for photographs, before the event actually occurs. This was the case Tuesday.

The Herald news desk, well assured that Greg Drummond would succeed Alexander as County Commission chairman, requested of Drummond that a picture of the new Commission be set up before the reorganizational meeting "in order to save time." Drummond agreed.

Ideas To Beautify City

Editor, Herald:

Still brooded off with the city commissioners that are still on commission—

Why don't they fence Melville Park and lease it out for a cow and pig lot? As it is now that's the best use that could be made of it.

It has been the City Commission's custom to place one of its members on the board of the Sanford Industrial Commission. Early last year the City Commission voted its member, Thomas McDonald, to the industrial board. . . . on a night when Meyer was absent. On his return, Meyer questioned, and the newspapers, why the action was taken when he was absent. (He didn't come right out and say he wanted to be named to the board.)

The other commissioners were waiting for him at the next meeting. McDonald resigned from the industrial board. Dr. W. Vincent Roberts' motion to place McDonald on the board was approved. And Meyer was present.

That's the background. Last Tuesday the City Commission voted to replace McDonald on the Industrial Commission. Since McDonald now is out of office, succeeded on the City Commission by Julian Stenstrom.

Stenstrom moved for Meyer's appointment to the Industrial Commission. His motion died for lack of second. No one was named.

With this action it is apparent the City Commission will be lined up 3-2 for the next year: Lee Moore, Roberts and Jimmy Crapps on one side; Meyer and Stenstrom on the other.

Crapps and Roberts' terms expire at the end of this year. It is common gossip Roberts will not seek re-election. He very likely will come out the following year, 1972, for the mayor-commission post, since it seems to be agreed Moore will not seek re-election. But if they don't know it, they should know it now: Meyer intends to run for mayor-commissioner, too.

As to keeping it up—there are plenty of prisoners in city jail that need air and exercise. They can mow the lawn and keep it up perfect everyday, and why they haven't kept the job clean is beyond me—or are they too good to earn their bread and water while in the cooler.

Keep that job as close to Sanford as it is if possible and try this way to pay the cost.

Insurance Boost On Autos Asked

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Racked by all sorts of snags, insurance lobbyists Tom Johnson and Steve Martin pleaded with the Senate Select Committee on Transportation today for a 20 per cent rate increase on what they called insufficient auto insurance rates.

To demonstrate the plight of the industry, anchormen Johnson and Martin turned the show over to Sam Rogers, a consultant formerly with the Florida Department rate analysts.

Rogers said three companies — Allstate, Liberty Mutual and Hartford — which raised rates last fall lost $13 million on auto insurance in the last three years.

He said they will lose $11 million this year if the Legislature continues to prevent them from implementing the rate increase.

Shortly after the increase was announced the Legislature passed a 10-day moratorium. It is probable another year, per se, will be required for the Legislature to pass the rate increase.

"The fact is that unless rate relief is forthcoming and forthwith, the market will dry out and out of retaliation against the public and the Legislature but out of sheer economic necessity," Rogers said.

Florida Abortion Law Criticized By Senator

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Called to "its illogical extreme" Florida's abortion law would require that every fetus be aborted for the health of the mother, a liberalized abortion law supporter said Thursday.

Sen. Kenneth Myers, D-Miami, said the law dates to 1886 and was designed to protect the health of mothers from an operation that was then highly dangerous.

"Indeed," he said, "Dr. Roberts' bill would allow a woman to abort a fetus at any time in the pregnancy, for the simple reason that now a woman is 10 times more likely to die from pregnancy or childbirth than from a hospital abortion."

Myers said the law is "illogical extreme, that is, it requires the termination of every fetus, for the simple reason that now a woman is 10 times more likely to die from pregnancy or childbirth than from a hospital abortion."

Little Girl With Big Heart Hurt

MIAMI (AP) — Dade County Constable Ivan Nachman has filed assault charges against four teenagers he says have gathered almost daily outside Mary Perkins' home to shout "bigger lover" at the little girl who shared her Christmas with others.

Mary's parents received no gifts from their 11-year-old daughter on Christmas morning. Instead, the little girl had spent the $10 she had saved to buy gifts for four homeless Negro children.

"All she was trying to do," said her mother, "was to help people who had fallen on bad times."

Mary went bike riding outside her Sweetwater home on Christmas and, according to her mother, returned crying, her clothes soiled and her mouth bloody.

She told her mom two older girls chanting "bigger lover" had jumped her.

Since that day, Mrs. Perkins said, Mary has been taunted and humiliated outside the home daily shouting "bigger lover" and hurling obscenities.

After hearing of Mary's plight and taking an affidavit, Nachman and Sweetwater City Atty. Ed Moore said he notified the parents of the teenagers in an effort to stop the harassment.

Valley Forge

The only news from Valley Forge this week seems from a hole-in-one which was recorded by Bill Green. Bill scored the hole by using a nine-iron on the distance of 110 yards.

Mid-Florida

Charlie Johnson at Mid-Florida this week. Playing on the point system, the two-scored a plus one for top money. Bob Hillman, a Florida winter resident from Franklin Hill Country Hills, Mich., has been the "Hot" of the game. He has a record of 40 holes in one. He has also played golf for much longer. However, Bob had to travel around 1,600 miles to record his first hole-in-one. He did it at the 150 yard fifth hole by using a six iron.

Mayfair

A mixed two-ball, best-ball tournament was held at Mayfair last Sunday. A slightly different twist in the event was used in as much as both partners teed off, then hit each other drive for the second shot. After this, the partners then decided which ball would be used to finish out the hole. Prizes were awarded for low gross and four places for low net.

"A" Flight was won by Betty Daniel with a 34. "B" Flight money went to Ruth Herron with a 32. "C" Flight was taken by Helen Wolfe with a 33. "D" Flight was captured by Joanne Alanus who recorded a 30.

In the absence of an over-abundance of news this week, I have an item that is rather important to me. The eagle bear recorded an eagle at the 14th hole a couple of weeks ago while playing with Mitch Money and a couple of our friends from Orlando. He used a driver, a three wood, then holed out a 30-yard wedge for his three.

Rolling Hills

Bill Norman has taken over a difficult task as chairman of the golf committee at Rolling Hills. This also means that Bill will be the new publicity director. Knowing Bill, I believe that the Longwood and Rolling Hills residents' golf newspaper can all look forward to reading the results of many golfing events and special feats worthy of reporting. My thanks to John Franklin, who has done a great job in helping to bring this information to you previously.

Game Cooper - No. 4 hole - using a driver, a three wood and seven iron.

Artis Catson - No. 14 hole - Driver, a three wood and a seven iron.

Fred Mitchell - No. 4 hole - Driver, four wood, 4T, putter, Joe Swan - No. 13 hole - A driver and a nine iron.

On the Tour

The 1971 Professional tour gets under way this week with the $100,000.00 Los Angeles Open. Billy Casper is the defending champion. Big names of the game such as Arnold Palmer, Lee Trevino, Jack Nicklaus and Dave Hill will be trying to dethrone Casper. For those of you who are members of the "Arnie Army" and may not have heard, the big better failed for the first time in 15 straight years on the tour to win a major tournament. However, he did finish up in the top ten money winners list.

Tampa Names Fulcher

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Bill Fulcher, new University of Tampa football coach, isn't wasting any time getting down to business. He plans to have his coaching staff lined up by the middle of next week.

In mid-May baseball coach Jay Bergman signed Dick Brink, Mike Coombs and Eddie McColm, all of Edgewater and Gary Joseph of Colonial. A fact that just goes to show how attractive the sports program is at SJC when they can sign players away from neighboring colleges.

Also about the same time it was announced that Roger Thomas was leaving SJC for Western Carolina University. Thomas took the position of track coach and assistant professor of physical education.

On June 21 Murray Arnold announced that he wasn't coming back to Lyman High School as varsity basketball coach. Arnold, a former coach at Lyman had gone up to collegiate coaching but was coming back to replace Jim Harper as the head coach but Arnold, instead, took a position at Birmingham Southern University.

Early in June Mike Leary won the Jayvex Golf Tournament after a sudden death play-off with Bubba Baker. Leary, a member of the American Little-Major League title with a 7-5 win over Florida State Bank.

On May 22 Sanford Naval Academy finished eight out of 20 at the National Schooling League All-Stars regatta at Princeton, New Jersey. They were the state champion.

The close of the month of May was highlighted by the inter-quad games marking the finale of the spring football at the county high schools.

On May 30 Oviedo High School held its All-Sports Banquet. The game with Florida Military Academy, originally set for tomorrow night, has been canceled.

The Sanford Naval Academy Bluejackets will be back on the basketball court tonight, as they play Florida Military Academy. The Middle's record so far this year is 2-3. If the Bluejackets can get it together tonight they can even their record and possibly turn the trend toward a winning season.

Last week the middies suffered a bad defeat at the hands of Mt. Dora 72-29. This defeat may have had something to do with two weeks of no practice for the Middies over the holidays. There were three 40-point games in that game, all with 10 points.

The Middies are looking good for their encounter with Florida Military tonight. Last year the Bluejackets defeated this team in both varsity and junior varsity games.

The starting five for tonight are: Robin Yates, forward; Frank Leary, guard; David Leary, guard; Fred Crismond, forward; and Charles Ziegler, center. That's what it stands for tonight.

Moore Paces Victory

Connie Moore's 105-420 led Abie Ben-All to three wins over Fantasy Drug Store to hold onto the lead in the Friday Morning Bowling League.

Mary Smith's 100-454 was best for Fig. 'N' Women as they scored three wins over Spence. Cross Thompson's 106-414 steered Country Club Alliance to three wins in the match against G & R Tennis.

Pal Douette was Queen of the 5-7-10. Gene Thompson picked up the 5-7-10 and Herman Van Dyne felled the 5-6-10. The 2-7 fell for Doria Bacon and Shirley Simas converted the 5-3-6.

At Jai-Alai Fronton Handicap Features A Big Payoff

A $4 perfecta, paying $156.00, was the highlight to the finish of game seven, the Sanford Chamber of Commerce Handicap at the Orlando-Seminole Jai-Alai Fronton Thursday night.

It was a thriller to the end and it boiled down to a real battle between Solana and Ruben in post five and Maruri and Garcia in post six. Solana put the game on ice with a high bounce shot that Garcia couldn't handle.

John Krider, executive manager of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, was on hand to present each of the winners with a beautiful trophy and a cash award of $50.

This was Ruben's first handicap win and Solana's second. His first being the Orange County Handicap last Dec. 17.

In action prior to game seven Arellano continued his winning way in singles competition by taking the first game of first evening. He triggered the start of the early daily double, a 7-1 combo returning 21 happy fans, $18.20 each.

Arellano was the leading singles play winner in December and tonight victory put him in undoubted possession of first place for the entire season thus far.

The big quinela on games three and four again provided three lucky patrons with a giant size payoff of $93.00 for each $2 ticket winner. The winning combination was the 1-8 and 2-4.

General manager, Gordon Hulbert, announced that Tuesday, Jan. 12, the fronton will donate all proceeds of that night's performance to Seminole Junior College, to help needy and deserving students get an education. He urged all to attend and help in this worthy cause.

By FRANK EDWARDS
Herald Sports Staff

The Sanford Naval Academy Bluejackets will be back on the basketball court tonight, as they play Florida Military Academy. The Middies' record so far this year is 2-3. If the Bluejackets can get it together tonight they can even their record and possibly turn the trend toward a winning season.

Last week the middies suffered a bad defeat at the hands of Mt. Dora 72-29. This defeat may have had something to do with two weeks of no practice for the Middies over the holidays.

The Middies are looking good for their encounter with Florida Military tonight. Last year the Bluejackets defeated this team in both varsity and junior varsity games.

The starting five for tonight are: Robin Yates, forward; Frank Leary, guard; David Leary, guard; Fred Crismond, forward; and Charles Ziegler, center. That's what it stands for tonight.

Casper Is Tied For LA Golf Lead

Associated Press Golf Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Billy Casper had a share of the lead, Arnold Palmer had a mental lapse and three players had yet to finish in the first round of the $100,000 Glen Campbell Los Angeles Open golf tournament.

Casper, battling a heavy cold and hand-numbing chill, fired a five-under par 66. Thursday tied a pair of 28-year-old blondes - Tom Shaw and Bob Smith - for the top spot in the opening round of the first tournament on the 63-stop tour this year.

He pulled his drive into the left rough near a tree with the ball resting against a beer can. He finished with a 71, well back in the pack.

Bob Payne was one stroke off the lead at 67 and eight others at 68. They are George Archer, Ray Floyd, Jerry Barber, Dale Douglas, Bob Lunn, John Schroeder, J.C. Sneed and Bert Green.

U.S. Open champion Tom Jacklin had a 69 and PGA title holder Dave Stockton a 72. "I've been making some good swings at it," said Casper, 1970 Arca Player of the Year and Masters champion. "I go about as much out of the round as I could."

Glittering space-age inspired decorations lavishly decorated the Melbourne Civic Auditorium as Askew-Adams supporters joined the inaugural party for the official State function.

Seminole County was represented with about 40 of the invited guests attending the Central Florida formal fete, encompassing ten counties.

Another interesting note on the local level was JOHN KADER delivering DONNA LOU (HARPER) ASKEW a "house warming" gift to her new home, the governor's mansion, when it was bombarded by thousands in the late afternoon at the public open house.

John's gift to the pretty brunette First Lady from Sanford was a Lenox China pitcher... anyhow John's interest in Donna Lou goes back to the

The A. C. Maddens Honored At Golden Anniversary Fete

By DORIS WILLIAMS

Saturday afternoon, Dec. 28, was a memorable date for Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Madden of Sanford, who celebrated 50 years of marriage. They were honored guests at a golden wedding anniversary reception in Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church.

Hosts and hostesses for the festive celebration were their four children, and their spouses: Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Madden of Sanford; Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Madden of Greensboro, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dickson, Birmingham, Ala.; and Maj. and Mrs. C. E. Madden of Darmstadt, Germany.

For the occasion, Mrs. Madden chose a gold crape dress fashioned along the slim silhouette, complemented with a white carnation corsage tied with gold ribbons. Mr. Madden wore a white carnation boutonniere on the lapel of his dark business suit.

The refreshment table, overlaid in crisp white linen, with crystal appointments, was centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums, yellow germs and fern. Highlighting the picturesque table was a four-tiered wedding cake, beautifully embossed in white and gold, and topped with a gold "50" encircled by white satin. Golden punch was poured from a crystal bowl and assorted toasted nuts and butter mints were also served.

Forming the receiving line at the door were the honored couple and Mrs. H. T. Madden. The guest book was kept by Misses Gina Elizabeth Madden, Jean Louise Madden and Myra Ann Dickson, granddaughters of the honor guests. Mrs. R. T. Madden cut and served the cake and Miss Pamela Anne Madden, another granddaughter, poured the punch. Seeing the guests to the door was Mrs. W. L. Dickson.

The Maddens were married Nov. 7, 1920 in Hartwell, Ga. They have lived in Sanford since 1935, are members of First Baptist Church and have four children and eight grandchildren. A retired postal clerk, Mr. Madden is also active in the Sanford Tourist Club. Mrs. Madden has always been a homemaker with many hobbies. A host of friends and relatives called during the reception hours.

Wounded Mate 'Fair'; Wife Held

Lawrence Wimberly Jr., 26-year-old Sanford man, is listed in "fair" condition today in the Seminole Memorial Hospital's intensive care unit where he was taken Saturday after having been shot three times by Leola Wimberly, his wife.

According to Sanford police reports, the wounded man, who resides in Apartment 30, Higgins Terrace, was shot on East Third Street as he ran from the woman near the Goodwill Store.

Lt. Charles Fagan arrested Mrs. Wimberly just moments after the incident and charged her with discharging a firearm within the city limits and carrying a concealed weapon. She was jailed in lieu of $500 bond.

According to police reports the shooting was witnessed by several persons in the area.

In county reports, an Orlando student was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Jay Leman early Sunday on four charges, including possession of marijuana, faulty car equipment, expired inspection sticker and improper tag.

Raymond Edward Hurd, 17, of 1021 San Luis Avenue, was placed in the county jail in lieu of $1,100 bond after Deputy Leman stopped the youth's car on Howell Branch Road near the Plantation Apartments.

Stella and John Woodhouse couldn't have been more hospitable, while hosting Washington VIP and Number 2 Democrat Nicholas Kostopoulos... one of the sharpest and most candid political minds I've ever met.

As smart as this party really is... wonder how come they almost... almost, that is... got tied into a convention outside the limits of this country. (Wish I could elaborate more on this... folks.)

A tip from a little fish to both parties... if at the next election we're not completely out of that mess in Indo-China, neither one of 'em is going to get my vote, nor that of a lot of other people, I'll betcha.

Maybe it was because it was the first golf tourney of the season that I didn't fall asleep... and I really do like Glen Campbell's singing and his TV show, BUT... he made some of the most assinine sports comments I've ever heard on the boob-tube. "Yeah, that Tournament of Champions is a pretty good tournament."

Only the best golfers in the world competing, and he thinks it's a pretty good event, eh? (Keep that up, Glen, and we're Linemen" to string it around your mouth...)

Still hearing nice things about that Governor's Ball over in Melbourne (and the "fair" way that The Herald covered the event compared with others... especially so about the brevity of the speeches and that no one was around putting the bite on you for filling the depleted coffers...)

NOW I'VE HEARD IT ALL... a deputy in Palmdale, California, after a 3-year-old boy climbed a fence and was mauled by a dog:

"Everything was legal. There was a six-foot fence and signs warning of the dog, but 3 year-olds can't read."

About that accident this past Saturday where a car veered off I-4, down to SR 46 rather than hit some cattle that had been turned loose as a result of an earlier accident... credit Beth Shomaker, Debbie Hunt and Terry Rhiner who were on horseback with "capturing" a registered 1,300-lb. bull and some of the cows.

You think this is something to do with the women's "lib" movement... As the gardener, by severe pruning, forced the sap out of the tree into one or two vigorous limbs, so should you stop off your miscellaneous activities and concentrate your force on one or a few points.

Orphanage At Base?

By BILL SCOTT
The Sanford Herald has learned that an Orlando welfare agency has visited the Sanford Airport and expressed interest in leasing Building 210, a former Navy barracks, to house homeless children. Sanford Industrial Commission Director David F. Kelley today confirmed a report to The Herald that a representative from an Orange County agency toured the airport facility last Tuesday and indicated a liking for the airport building, now being mentioned for lease to the state for housing a police training academy. Kelley said he did not make the airport tour with the interested prospect and suggested more information could be obtained by contacting Airport Manager J. S. (Red) Cleveland but Cleveland had been selected for jury duty and was not available. Herschell Freeman, assistant superintendent for the Orange County parent home, advised he had toured the airport facilities after receiving a call from Jack McNeill, San. William Gusters' aide, telling him of the available space. Freeman said the home is "very interested" in airport building 210 and envisioned a parental home to be established here to house children from "three or four" counties, including Orange and Seminole. "We need more bed space at the Orange County facility," Freeman stated. The airport structure previously had been mentioned as a possible site for locating a minimum security prison to relieve the present overcrowding at Ralston but the city commissioners had indicated an unwillingness to locate the prison at the airport in leased facilities.

Fog Delays Joyce Murder Trial; Victim's Wife Present In Court

By MARION BETHEA
As veniremen and witnesses waited, obviously impatient, the trial of Henry Porter Joyce had not gotten underway as of press time today. Reason for the postponement was due to the fact that presiding Judge Roger Dykes was delayed due to the intense fog.

The courtroom was filled to capacity, even after Bailiff Alfred Kirschstein told all those who were not concerned with the Joyce case to retire to the state attorney's office in the Masonic building. Approximately 100 persons remained, and of these possibly 10 were women.

The atmosphere in the courtroom was reminiscent of the Mabel Thompson trial with a decided air of expectancy.

Joyce, 30-year-old Baltimore truck driver, is charged with first degree murder in the Sept. 25

Turner Heads Up Academy

LAWRENCE TURNER

A newcomer to Sanford and the Sanford Naval Academy is Lawrence G. Turner, who came here from Washington, D.C., to become academy superintendent replacing Adm. Harry Smith.

Turner is single and previously served as dean of Stowell Friends, a Quaker co-educational school at the nation's capital.

A Detroit native, Turner has been in the South most of the time since leaving high school; having graduated from Virginia University with a BA degree in 1960, and later with his MA in 1965.

In addition to his Washington post, Turner taught at Randolph-Macon Academy at Front Royal, Va., and served six months as a member of the U.S. Army reserve.

City To Receive Opinion

Sanford City Attorney W. C. Hutchison is due to report to the City Commission at tonight's 8 p.m. meeting on the legalities involved with appointing members to the Sanford Industrial Commission (SIC).

The interpretation of placing members of the commission on the city's industry recruiting board was a requested after Commissioner Gordon Meyer was stymied a week ago in an effort to be seated on the SIC in place of retiring City Commissioner Thomas McDonald.

Previously, city policy has been to appoint a commissioner on the industrial board and Commissioners W. Vincent Roberts, Mayor Lee P. Moore and McDonald all served as the commission's "watch man" on the SIC's actions.

New Commissioner Julian Stenstrom tried without success at last Tuesday's reorganizational meeting to put Meyer's name in nomination for McDonald's spot but his motion failed for lack of a second.

County Commission Faces Lengthy Agenda

County Commissioners, following a brief respite from lengthy sessions last week, resume the possible all-day conducting of business tomorrow if the lengthy agenda is any indication.

Scheduled is a report by Road Supt. J. C. Lavender on Barton Street.

Also upon the agenda are appointments to various boards and committees within the county which was held in abeyance last week due to more recommendations. These include Precinct six fire control district, historical commission, emergency resources management committee, agricultural advisory committee, Fred R. Wilson memorial law library, highway safety advisory committee, Seminole Community Action and East Central Florida Regional Planning Council.

County Attorney Harold Johnson will report on the change order procedure for the construction of the new courthouse. Also to be reported by Johnson is the lease for the branch office of the courthouse, and in another matter a report on alleged utility violations in Meredith Manor.

Public hearings include a continued hearing upon vacating and abandoning road rights-of-way in Rest Haven on Lake Harmony; re zoning from A1 to C-2 property on the north side of west SR 46; rezoning from R-2 to R-3 a portion of Eastbrook subdivision; adoption of an ordinance prohibiting large trucks from parking in residential districts; adoption of an amendment to zoning ordinances governing use of C-2, M-1 and M-2A, and extension of certificates for water and sewer service area for Casselberry and south Seminole Utility Company will report on the change

No. 2 Demo Expounds On Party Hopefuls

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI
Does the name Nicholas P. Kostopoulos Sr. mean anything to you?

Up until Saturday evening, my response was probably the same as yours, "Is that a foreign food or a disease?"

However, if you were to sprackle the names of Ted Kennedy, or Edmund Muskie or Hubert Humphrey, and be told that he not only knows each of these men well... as well as any other prominent Democrat, the pieces of puzzle start to drop into place.

Kostopoulos is the assistant to the chairman of the national Democratic committee, Larry O'Brien, and a visitor to Sanford as the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. John Woodhouse, of Idylwild.

Unless you are a national reporter, there's very little likelihood that you'll ever meet any, much less all, of the top political members of either national party. So, when the invitation was extended to meet the "No. 2" man in the Demo ranks and have the opportunity of asking unrestrictive questions about these people and the aims of the party, I jumped at the chance.

All of the visitor's answers were direct with the exception of which candidate he would personally pick for heading the Democratic ticket. "We're impartial and try to help all of 'em."

The only time he betrayed this attitude was when the conversation drifted to Hubert Humphrey, for whom he campaigned in the last election. His eyes brightened in relating the remark attributed to President Nixon, who was campaigning in Detroit a day prior to Humphrey's visit. Through a close association with the press aides of the then campaigning Nixon, Kostopoulos did have breakfast with the Nixon group

Kennedy — "People do have short memories... and maybe they'll forget about the incidents leading up to the Chap-paquiddick tragedy. And you can't overlook the tremendous machine which the Kennedy's can muster."

McGovern — "Now that he's officially announced, he'll make dramatic impressions on the people."
