However, Encouragement Is Seen From Reports Revealing Improved Business

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The last day of the week has seen the page cuts taking effect, and the administration has fresh evidence on that question as well as fresh conditions and unemployment.

Some encouragement was drawn from indications of business improvement, helping to offset the steady state of the economy. Reports of the Federal Reserve bank of New York, however, are not so optimistic.

Businesses Report Optimistic Gloom For Fall

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(A.P.)—Businessmen in various lines of business were optimistic in their outlook for the fall season.

The Federal Reserve bank of New York reported that the volume of business in the country had increased during the first nine months of the year.

In Alabama and Tennessee, however, the volume of business was reported to have decreased during the first nine months of the year.

The volume of business in the United States was reported to have increased during the first nine months of the year.

Bacteria Count Of Sanford Milk Has Exceptional Rating

Although the Sanford City Commissioners have not, after several discussions, made the United States Standard Milk Act a city ordinance, a recent test made by a local bacteriologist of milk taken from the dairies supplying this city indicates that in point of bacteria count, although many strict requirements are not in effect, local dairies are near and under the 50,000 bacteria count required by the national law.

Dairy	Fat %	Bacteria count
Baker's	5.1	22,000
Benson's	4	44,000
Fisher's	4	41,000
Collin's	3.9	22,000
Hamill's	3.9	20,000
Lyle's	4.4	40,000
Barber's	4.4	50,000
Benjamin Creamery (pasteurized)	4.4	6,400
Spencer's	4.3	8,200
Stevens	4	22,000

In the sedimentation test all dairies were deemed "Class" in the best for preservatives all dairies were rated "A" as showing "None" and in the test for H. tuberculosis culture, all dairies reported "Negative."

ONLY FEW MARKS BROKEN BY BALL LEAGUES IN 1931

Gehrig And Earl Webb Win Batting Honors In American League

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—(A.P.)—In contrast to the record-breaking spree staged in the major leagues last year, only a few marks of any importance fell during the 1931 campaign. And to make the contrast more sharp, all of the three big individual records which were broken were smashed by American League players, while the National Leaguers, who sent one mark after another tumbling in 1930 failed to connect with the less lively ball this year for a single new record.

In the batting end, Lou Gehrig, of the New York Yankees, and Earl Webb, of the Boston Red Sox, were the leading record smashers. Gehrig, according to the final unofficial records, batted in 182 runs during the season which closed Sunday, seven more than his 1927 total which set an American League mark. Webb broke the major league record for two-base hits set by George Burns in 1926 when he clouted 87 doubles. Burns' record was 64.

Bob Grove, ace of the Philadelphia Athletics, had no difficulty finishing the season with the highest percentage in games won and lost made by a major league pitcher since 1900. He finished the season with 31 victories and four defeats for an average of .886. The former record was .872, set in 1917, when Smokey Joe Wood won 84 games and lost five for the Boston Red Sox.

The close battle for the National League batting championship would up in something like a new tie according to the unofficial averages and the winner probably will not be known until the official figures are released next winter. As they appear now, Chick Hafey, of the St. Louis Cardinals, has a fractional margin over Bill Terry, of the New York Giants, and Jim Bottomley, of the Cardinals. Al Simmons scored a clear-cut victory in the American League batting race with an unofficial average of .300, 17 points ahead of Babe Ruth.

Ruth regained a half share in the role of home run king, tying with Lou Gehrig with a total of 44 for the year when Gehrig clouted one in the last game Sunday. It was the tenth season in which the Babe has hit 40 or more homers.

Attempt To Loot Bank Thwarted By Warned Citizens

Eliot dropped, Mercer had thrown the money into their automobile but before he could get into it himself citizens had overpowered him.

H. F. Williams, the cashier, yesterday evening told of the robbery.
"The two came in the bank drawing their guns as they entered," he said. "They had on wigs, and their faces were disguised with strips of adhesive plaster and their fingers were taped up so as to leave no fingerprints."

"One closed the door as the other told us 'stick 'em up. We've come after your money.' Both Miss Myra McCauley, the bookkeeper, and myself obeyed. They made us lie down on the floor while they pulled down all the window shades. We had an idea they'd get it as they left, because none of the businessmen had taken their guns home after bringing them down Saturday and felt that the shades being down would warn passersby something was happening. We didn't know they had been seen by the youngsters."
Mercer scooped up all the cash on the counter in the teller's cage and asked where the rest of the money was. To gain time, I told him of some silver in the vault, but did not tell him where to find several thousand in paper money we had there also. They got the silver.

"All the loot went into a big bag and they started out, warning us that an alarm meant death. As the door closed behind them we heard the firing and before we could get out it was all over."

Gerry, who fired the first shot, told of the one-sided battle. He stepped out of the arcade across the street just before the two came out of the bank. As they opened the door and turned toward their car, he bided away. Almost at the same moment Donnan started shooting.

Donnan was fired last night at 8:50. No action was taken until the bank was closed.

BIG WAGE CUTS ARE PLACED IN EFFECT TODAY

That was a climactic argument as the prolonged hearings ended. How soon the commission will decide the case is indefinite.

The labor department disclosed that a month ago employment in manufacturing industries was 12.5 percent less and payroll totals 20.8 percent less than at the end of August, 1930.

Very little change occurred in the industrial employment situation during August, as compared with July. The department reported some expansion in seasonal activities, giving work to thousands of men and women in various sections.

Curtailed operation schedules were noticed particularly in automobile, iron, steel and radio plants. Improvement took place in New England textile mills, as well as silk mills in the middle Atlantic districts.

The bulletin giving this information also said metal and coal mining remained on a greatly curtailed basis, with numbers of workers idle.

Awake to the extent of the wage slashes effective today, the administration held to a course of silent watchfulness. Aside from Secretary Donk's assertion, "It is deplorable but apparently it could not be avoided," no position has been taken.

An eye will be kept on the American federation of labor convention impending at Vancouver, B. C. Its president, William Green, has attacked the steel corporations action on ethical and economic grounds.

Combat was promised by labor on any systematic drive against existent wage standards.

The first of October was the date set not only by the United States Steel corporation for its 10 percent wage reduction, but also by numbers of the others who have followed. News dispatches in days just past show the steel industry already largely on the lower pay side, with company from motors, rubber, copper, aluminum and some others.

Dixie Retail Trade Reveals Increase In Monthly Review

ATLANTA, Oct. 1.—(A.P.)—Retail trade, cotton consumption and production of coal in Alabama and Tennessee showed gains in the monthly business review of the sixth reserve district issued yesterday by the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank.

The report showed department store sales were 9.4 per cent greater in August than in July and averaged 9.6 per cent less in actual dollar volume than in August, 1930.

August was the fourth month to show increased production of cotton cloth by reporting mills of the district, compared with the same month of last year while he Nation's consumption was also greater.

Coal output in Alabama and Tennessee increased seasonally but was less than a year ago. Pig iron production was on the down grade at the lowest level of any month since February, 1922.

Textile mill orders booked were greater than in July or in August, 1930 and unfilled orders of yarn mills were 31.2 per cent larger than a year ago. The number of cotton mill workers employed showed a small increase during August.

Reporting cities showed a small decline in building permits but there was a larger decrease throughout the district. Lakeland, Fla., showed the largest gain in total building permits with 51.2 per cent. Tampa also had a gain of 10.6 per cent.

No change was shown in the condition of Florida citrus during August with oranges 74 per cent of normal Sept. 1, as compared with 84 per cent a year ago and grapefruit 66 per cent of normal as against 80 per cent in 1930.

Captain Of Georgia Is Declared Eligible

ATLANTA, Oct. 1.—(A.P.)—The executive committee of the Southern conference meeting here yesterday ruled Austin Downs, captain and quarterback of the University of Georgia, eligible for participation in football this year.

There had been some question as to whether he was eligible under the five-year playing rule. Jack Wilson, Tulane player, was ruled ineligible. It was found that he was a graduate of a senior college in California. Wilson and Tulane authorities had believed the California school was only a junior college and so that Wilson would have been eligible.

Roosevelt Handed Great Welcome On Arrival In Georgia

ATLANTA, Oct. 1.—(A.P.)—Georgia extended an enthusiastic welcome to Governor Roosevelt of New York as he reached here yesterday enroute to Warm Springs, Ga., where he will take a two-weeks' vacation.

In the welcoming committee here were Governor Russell, Maj. John S. Cohen, Democratic national committeeman, Clark Howell, former national committeeman, Mayor Key of Atlanta and Lawrence Camp, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee.

Harles Branch, Washington correspondent of the Atlanta Journal, informed Governor Roosevelt that a survey undertaken by the Journal in Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Florida indicated the anti-Smith leaders there largely were for Roosevelt for the Democratic presidential nomination. All four were carried by President Hoover over former Governor Smith in 1928.

Branch said the survey among governors, United States senators, congressmen, national committeemen, state chairmen and lesser leaders showed a strong belief that all of the southern states would be back in the Democratic column next year. A majority of the party chiefs interviewed favored Roosevelt for the nomination. Branch said the Journal's survey has not been completed.

PLANT CITY—Plant City Public Service Co., changed name to Tampa Electric Co.

"All we need is sound common sense and a will to work," he said in emphasizing that he saw no cause for alarm in present conditions.

"Now is the time to build for the future, for a better opportunity never existed."

Returning to a discussion of silver, he said: "As a direct result of economic disturbances all over the world and the suspension of the gold standard in most European countries, I believe silver will come into its own. It is necessary and most countries, including Great Britain, are beginning to realize its importance in value."

Stolen Sanford Bonds Offered At Bear Prices

The bonds mentioned were part of a collection of bonds stolen early last April.

Bearing a postmark dated Sept. 15, hundreds of postcards were received in Sanford from the J. S. Todd and Co. investment concern at Cincinnati. They bore the information that $3000 in City of Sanford Bonds, Series A, dated Jan. 1, 1928, were for sale at a price of 25 flat.

John F. Pearson of this city telegraphed the Todd concern that he would purchase the bonds, asking telegraphic confirmation of the sale. The Todd firm answered that the three bonds had been purchased from a Chicago dealer a few days before, together with three other bonds. The bonds were offered at a price of 25 flat. The Todd firm also stated that after an investigation into the status of the bonds they were led to believe that they were valid, and that they were sending them to Sanford with draft attached.

Mr. Pearson had in the meantime visited the City Hall where he sought information concerning the serial of bonds mentioned on the postcard. There he learned that last April the W. S. Deiby City Manufacturing Co. of Kansas City, had written Frank S. Lawson, city clerk, that three Sanford bonds of the series mentioned had been stolen.

Mr. Pearson immediately wired the Todd firm asking the number of the bonds they held, discovered that they were the same bonds stolen, again wired the Todd firm telling of his discovery and asked that the bonds be held for further investigation. Mr. Pearson also wired the Deiby firm, asking the number of the bonds they held. Mr. Pearson also wired the Deiby firm, asking the number of the bonds they held. Mr. Pearson also wired the Deiby firm, asking the number of the bonds they held.

U.S. Navy To Build Only Six Of Eleven Authorized Ships

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. — The navy yesterday sent six of its 11 paper destroyers. Secretary Adams announced the award of contracts for four vessels of this type. One destroyer already had been awarded to the New York navy yard.

It was not possible, a statement by the secretary said, to place orders for the six others because of the necessity for limiting expenditures during the current fiscal year.

Those who received contracts yesterday were one each to the Bethlehem Works corporation, Bethlehem; the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation, Quincy, Mass.; and the Boston and Puget Sound navy yards.

Destroyers had been authorized by Congress and $10,000,000 has been appropriated for building work.

Adams would not comment on whether the department would submit a new construction program to the president aside from saying that none has been definitely submitted thus far.

Walker Regime Is Handed Black Eye In Cop's Testimony

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. — (A.P.) — A police captain, widely known for his gambling raids on political clubs yesterday told the Hofstadter legislative committee that his friend and supporter, the late Police Commissioner Joseph A. Warren, was dismissed without being allowed "even the privilege of protesting conditions in the department he considered deserved criticism."

Describing interference with his work as a gambling raider and head of a secret study of vice conditions, Capt. Lewis J. Valentine testified Warren had resigned on Dec. 26, 1926, with a letter containing bitter criticism of police methods and political pressure.

Mayor Walker refused to accept the letter, Valentine told the legislative committee investigating the municipal government.

Captain Valentine's testimony included the statement that he had been demoted by Warren's successor, Grover Whalen, without notice, learning of his lowered grade and loss of $1200 a year salary from some friendly reporters.

Two days after Whalen took office, Valentine asserted, he was stepped down three grades, sent to a Queens "goat pasture" and the records of his investigations into vice, narcotics and gambling were sealed up and stored away. His squad was abolished.

CITY'S BUDGET FOR 1931-32 IS BEING PLANNED

the much of their time to a discussion of the proposed milk ordinance, sponsored by a group of local dairymen, representatives of whom spoke in favor of the measure. The Commissioners did not take final action on the matter at that time.

Forrest Gatchel, local merchant, speaking on behalf of the Independent Merchants Association, made the City a present of one of the sign boards, which his organization had constructed as a tourist guide to Sanford. At one time it was located at the corner of West First Street and the Monroe Road on a copy land, but a nearby farmer, objecting to its erection, removed it, and it is now to be again inside the City limits on West First Street.

H. M. Papworth appeared before the Commissioners to ask that the City make a small appropriation toward the relief of patients who may enter this city during the winter months. The sum of $50 was ordered turned over to an Emergency Transient Relief committee, to be used in purchasing meals for indigent travelers who are actually in need. Local residents are not included in the amount of any part of the money of the food which it purchases.

Mr. Papworth was appointed chairman of the committee.

He also appeared in behalf of the owners of the canning factory who seek permission to construct a steam boiler on part of a now unused alley near their plant on West Thirteenth Street. Permission was granted for the use of a portion of the alley.

For the third time, Mr. Papworth appeared in behalf of the Sanford Diamond Ball league seeking assistance in paying for electrical illumination at games played on the lake front field. The matter was tabled to be taken under advisement.

Fletcher Reveals Status Of Soldier Home At St. Pete

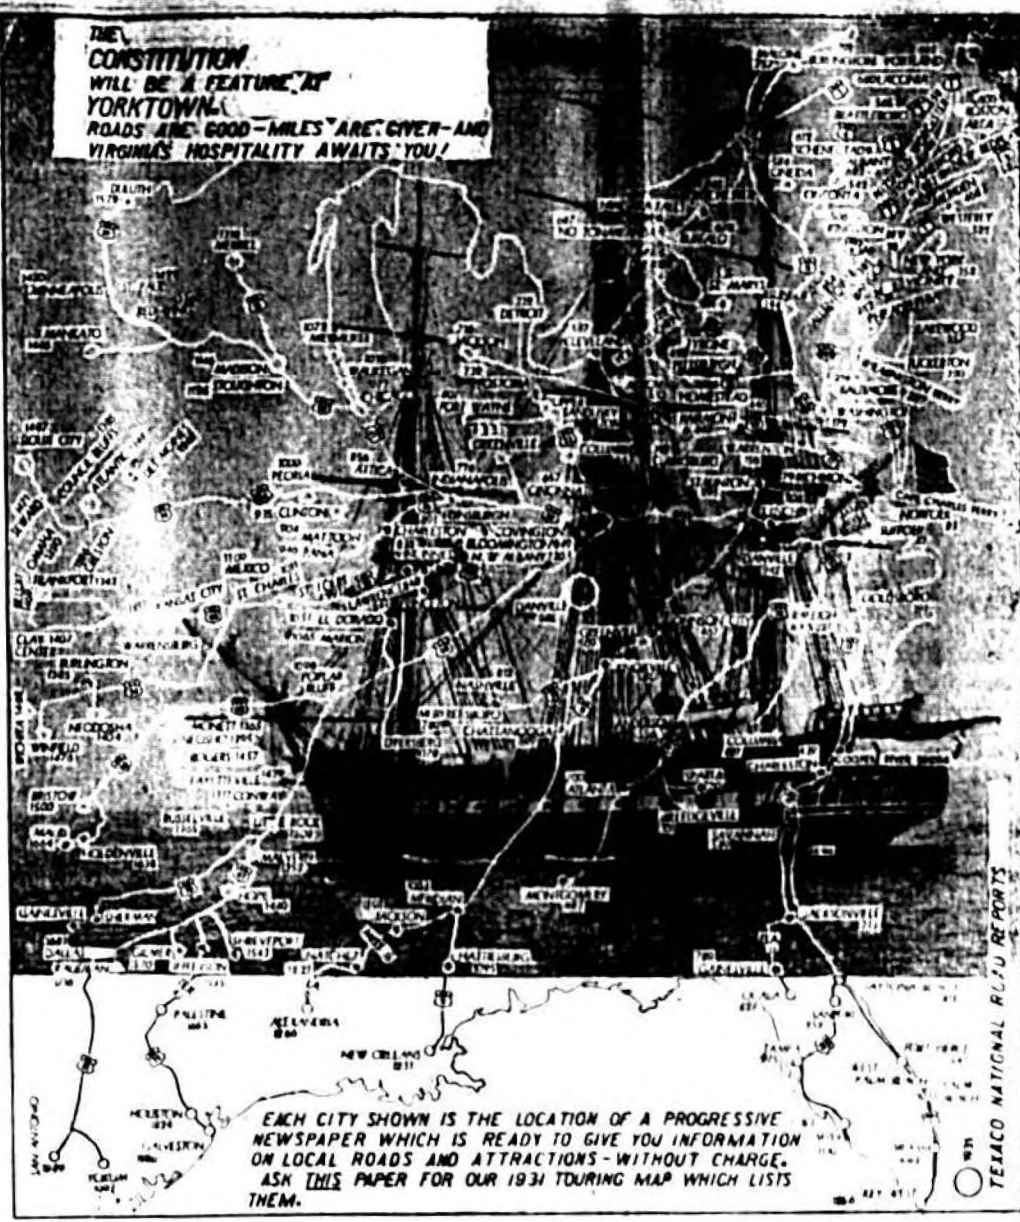

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. — (A.P.) — Replying to a letter from Senator Duncan U. Fletcher requesting to be advised regarding the present status of plans for a branch of the National Soldiers' Home at St. Petersburg, and whether it has been definitely decided to use brick or tile construction, L. H. Tripp, director of construction, veterans administration, yesterday said:

"Plans for the construction of this home are progressing rapidly and it is hoped that this work will be on the market for bids by the latter part of Nov. It is contemplated that the construction to be adopted will be reinforced concrete skeleton frame with the use of hollow tile and stucco exterior walls and hollow tile interior partitions. In this connection a considerable amount of brick will be employed for arches and other features requiring greater strength."

For the improvement program at St. Petersburg adopted by Congress something over $900,000 is available. Additional buildings and such other improvements as roads and walkways will be provided by Congress as occasion requires.

MILK COOLER FOR KING GEORGE

WASHINGTON—For the service of H. M., the King, this new type of milk-cooler is being installed at Sandringham, where it will make it possible to drink bacteria-free milk almost immediately after it has been obtained from the cow. William H. Priest, amateur golf champ and an expert coopersmith, is shown with the patented cooler he has had the honor of making specially for use in the royal dairies. The apparatus reduces the temperature of new milk to that of water and simultaneously eliminates all chance of infection.
