

BIG PLANT FOR PACKING OUR MEATS

COULD WELL BE LOCATED IN SANFORD—READ RESULTS

The Herald has contended that the people of this section were overlooking a good bet in not taking advantage of a packing plant here in this city to take care of the pork, beef and mutton and the money on the by-products that would be left here. The people of Ocala have taken up this matter and last week formed a home company to establish a large packing plant in that city. They had John W. Greer, secretary and treasurer of the big plant at Milledgeville, Georgia to address them on the subject as the Milledgeville has been the wonder of the world in this section.

A packing plant sells its products all over the world, draws money from abundant distributers to the farmer in the vicinity of the plant. Its great value is in turning into cash the products that have no ready market in the south. In the products of the farm, it also includes the animals eat—corn, hay, sweet potatoes, peanuts, peas, beans, grasses, etc. It not only sells these products but in selling them through the animal they bring a higher price than if sold direct. Hence the packing house becomes the market for all products of the farm and therefore becomes the leading house of the farm.

With the market problem solved, diversification becomes a practical proposition. With practical diversification, the fortune of the southern farmer is insured, and with the prospect of the farmer comes the prospect of the business man, for the farmer is the original source of the money income. The one-crop system has made the southern farmer the poorest individual class in the United States. His income is only $147 a year, gross; he is growing poorer each year, is annually increasing his indebtedness on his farm, and has no possible chance for liberating his mortgage with the present system.

With the packing house convenient, the south will recoup and become the richest section on the continent. Fifteen years ago the west failed on the one-crop system, 75 per cent of the farms became mortgaged, land values went very low, packing houses were established and in five years the mortgages were paid off with hogs and cattle, and values went up from five to ten times what they were on wheat alone, the farmers became rich and the average income of the farmers in Minnesota and Iowa is $900 a year, $743 greater than the southern cotton farmer. The packing house will make the south a stock country and stock will make the south rich. It will pay its mortgages in less than five years, for the south can raise stock cheaper than the west.

Meat has made more millionaires in the United States than any other product. The profits in packing houses that have been successfully managed are from ten to fifty per cent. Fewer packing houses have failed than any other industrial enterprises.

There are many independent packing houses in the west. Minnesota has twenty-seven, Kansas has twenty-three, Iowa has eighteen, Illinois, Missouri and other western states have many, while there are at present only eleven packing houses in the south, and the south buys over three hundred million dollars worth of meat from the west every year.

One packing house in Georgia, Alabama, Florida, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Mississippi or other southern states would kill the business, while half a dozen or more will make the business a certainty in these states. One plant can inspire the farmers to raise more stock than it can take care of, and when that plant fails to buy stock offered it, the farmers will cease to raise it. If the farmer cannot sell it when ready he will not raise it, for he cannot hold it, like cotton, without expense. One packing plant is too frail a prospect for him to risk his efforts on, but many plants measure a market and competition in buying, and he is never afraid of raising too much.

Distribution of the capital stock in packing plants is desirable for two reasons. In the first place if the farmers and business men of a section have an interest in the plant it will guarantee sufficient live stock to keep it running. In the second place, if the people own a large interest in the plant, they will have representation on the board of directors and the management will be vastly more liberal in the purchase of live stock than it would be under private ownership. Private ownership could depress the price of hogs one-half cent, a terrify for the year and almost pay for the plant. That amount would come out of the pockets of the people who raise the hogs. If the people own the plant it is to the interest of the people who raise the hogs, and the people who raise the hogs are the people who raise the hogs.

Patting Up the Pack. Apropos of the article in Friday's Herald about the good policy and other vegetable packs in this section, W. H. Byers sent in a most interesting contribution.

Mr. Byers is a contractor on the packing of vegetables, making a specialty of celery and takes a great pride in his pack. It is a well known fact that celery, packed by W. H. Byers always brings more money than many other packs that are not up to the grade and he turns out nothing but the real article. If all the contractors and the growers who pack their own stuff would follow up this matter they would soon discover that the right kind of stuff packed right will more than pay them for the extra labor and time in packing. We are glad to see Mr. Byers take up the challenge so quietly and let that other packers will show that they concur in the idea advanced by this paper so many times.

A good pack means something to all of us in this section.

A Slight Misunderstanding.

When N. A. Colbert and George O'Brien went to Jacksonville last week they arrived in town somewhat hungry.

They wanted to dine in a good restaurant, but where could they find one, that was the question.

"I tell you what we will do," said O'Brien, "let's go to a news stand and buy a Times-Union and then we can see what restaurants advertise."

To a nearby news stand and asked for a late copy of the Times-Union.

The clerk misunderstanding their question answered, "We haven't got any copies of that paper for a week back."

"We don't want it for a week back," said Colbert, "we want it for a weak stomach."

Before they got the paper the clerk had fainted.—Moorehaven Times.

Oviedo Postoffice Robbed. Yeggmen dynamited the postoffice at Oviedo last night and robbed the safe of the contents. Postmaster Jones is checking up on receipts at this writing and has not learned the exact amount taken. The robbers have made good their escape and up to date have not been apprehended, although officers are on the trail.

CALL FOR RECRUITS

To Sanford Herald: Washington, D. C., March 25th.—The President last night signed an executive order directing that the authorized enlisted strength of the navy be increased to eighty-seven thousand. He was authorized by congress, in case of emergency, to direct such increase in enlistment. New ships and ships in reserve are being fully commissioned as rapidly as possible, and the need is imperative for a larger enlistment to man them. There has been a net increase of over six thousand five hundred in enlistment since congress recently authorized an increase but many more are needed, and needed now. Will you not emphasize this need by giving special prominence Monday on the first page of your paper, to the President's order, and also by making an Editorial appeal for new recruits for the navy. The navy offers exceptional advantages to young men of stuff and ambition to serve in the best line for national defense. In this emergency you have the opportunity and the privilege of performing this public service, and I am confidently appealing to you for your cordial and helpful cooperation. JOSEPH S. DANIELS.

RESOLUTIONS TO BENEFIT STATE ROADS

PASSED AT MEETING OF CENTRAL FLORIDA ASSOCIATION

The following report rendered by the committee on legislation at the meeting of the Central Florida Highway Association at Orlando in the city of Orlando, Florida, on the 22nd day of March, 1917, recommends and approves the enactment of laws at the coming session of the legislature:

1. Providing for the regulation of speed and dimming of lights on vehicles approaching other vehicles traveling in opposite directions on the public highway.

2. Providing for the carrying of light on all vehicles traveling on public highways for the protection against accidents.

3. Providing for the rigid regulation of traffic with reference to trucks to be hauled over paved highways.

4. Providing against closing public highways in any manner whatsoever, without posting proper notice of such closing and providing for negotiable detour, and providing for penalties against the violation of such law.

5. Providing for single license tax and tags on automobiles.

6. Providing for the employment of state convicts on the public highways to the fullest extent that is practicable.

7. Providing for state aid in the building of inter-county and interstate highways along the lines of federal aid now available.

8. Providing for the fixing of a standard of the quality of gasoline that may be sold in the state.

9. Your committee further recommends for the consideration of the members of this association and the public the advisability of enacting a law requiring all vehicles commonly used on the highways to be of the standard gauge in use in other states. Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to each member of the legislature and (Continued on Page 4)

Boston, March 27.—The committee on public safety, by means of first page advertisements in the newspapers today appealed for recruits for the National Guard. "We want," says the appeal, "men who believe in combining readiness to service with willingness to serve, and we want them now."

Navigation Committee Meets. Florida Navigation District Central committee held its second executive session in Orlando yesterday. C. R. Walker, chairman and E. T. Woodruff were in attendance from city. All members were present with exception of G. G. Ware of Leesburg, who wired that at the last moment he was prevented. A. L. White and A. A. Gillingham of Ft. Myers, P. A. Van Arman and M. A. Rivers of Jacksonville, J. T. Wood of Winter Park and R. H. Wood of Ocala were also present.

Notwithstanding war clouds and other conditions, it was unanimously agreed that the association inaugurated February last should go forward with all energy, as it will take time to perfect organization and be ready to undertake a program of construction and improvement. A committee was authorized to draft the bill which the coming legislature will be asked to enact into law, and plans were adopted to provide for the necessary initial funds. Names for county chairmen were submitted and to be early acted upon. Mr. Kilvert was instructed to notify the elected ones and supply them with letters of instruction.

The feeling was strong that instead of abating waterway improvements at this time, the very opposite to which we are involved should be a durable increase and accelerated national and local energy toward getting our navigation possibilities into better shape for utility, protection and defense.

Submarines Near Florida. Washington, D. C., March 26.—The sudden increase in federal insurance rates on ships engaged in commerce with the coast guard a few days ago, and the presence of German submarines in American waters, and expects them to commence sinking ships in the very near future.

This belief is confirmed by the statement attributed to Lieut. Jas. O. Porter, U. S. N., that submarines are known to be not far from these shores, and predicting attacks on Maine ports.

Some idea of where the submarine danger is believed to be greatest is given by the insurance rates fixed by officials of the war risk bureau. Rates fixed for ships plying between Atlantic ports and the Gulf of Mexico are three times as high as for ships in Atlantic coast traffic, and six times as high as for Pacific coast ships.

This is taken to mean German submarines are expected to have their bases on the Mexican coast. It is now suspected the ammunition plants the Germans are reported to have set up in Mexico are intended to supply submarines operating from those bases, rather than to equip any overland expedition across the border.

Eighty One Cars Today Celery. Today marks the epoch in shipping circles as there are eighty one cars on the track being loaded with celery. This is the high water mark for this season, although in former seasons they have shipped as high as one hundred cars a day. The hot weather has accelerated shipping of celery, as much of it is going bad and the growers are anxious to get it off and plant other crops.

CATTLE TICKS ELIMINATED OPEN RANGE

NO FENCE LAW HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH ERADICATION

The following letter from Dr. Nighbert, inspector in charge of the Bureau of Animal Industry Department of Agriculture will be interesting to Seminole stock men: "It has come to our attention that a few people think the Federal Government and State Live Stock Officials have something to do with the no fence law campaign, which is being agitated in some communities, in connection with tick eradication work.

The idea of this movement is to eradicate a serious cattle disease, known as splenic fever, or southern cattle fever, which has resulted in a quarantine of the affected territory for nearly 25 years.

Naturally a movement of such magnitude, originally affecting the whole or parts of fourteen states, seriously affects the people in their commerce with cattle.

Certain facts in connection with this disease, which is known to be transmitted by the cattle fever ticks, were almost unbelievable on the part of a number of persons in the early days.

Therefore, it was expected by the officials in charge of tick eradication work until such persons became informed and put aside all prejudice in the matter, they would form false notions and undertake to hinder the movement which is established to serve their own interests.

Experience during the past twelve years of tick eradication work has demonstrated that in completing the work in 141 counties in the states affected, opposition has arisen on the part of a few people.

However, a majority of those people who did show some opposition before the work was completed have graciously apologized for their ignorance and opposition.

When the work of tick eradication is established in a county it is so simple that the people are highly pleased, and when the work is completed, marked headway is made in improving the quality of cattle which can be marketed without the tick fever quarantine restrictions, to the satisfaction of all concerned.

A careful, unbiased study of this condition which is seriously affecting the cattle industry of Florida should convince every one that immediate eradication of the cattle ticks is desirable.

The tick eradication department of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, cooperating with the state and county officials, cattle owners and agricultural agencies, is interested only in the eradication of the cattle fever ticks. With peanuts one dollar and fifty cents per bushel, hogs forty dollars apiece and cows fifty dollars, cotton twenty cents per pound, why is not life in the land of the cypress and the pine and the orange and the magnolia, like a wild, glad song? Come south and help us enjoy the luxury of climate, fruit, flowers and foodstuffs.—Ocala Banner.

"Automobiles are now making the trip from Miami to Jacksonville in 9 hours and 35 minutes, the distance being 366 miles. So much for good roads," says the Clearwater Sun, which has a habit of saying pleasant things about Miami and the East Coast country. But this travel is done at the peril of the driver's life on a few stretches in Palm Beach and Brevard and Volusia counties, where slow improvement work still compels detours and inconvenience.—Miami Metropolis.

"Patria" Thrills Do Not Faze Mrs. Castle

In making the pictures for the romantic serial "Patria," the next chapter of which is to be shown at the Lyric Theatre on Tuesday, Mrs. Vernon Castle, who plays the title role is called upon to do things which a less intrepid or capable woman would have refused or been unable to do. The heroine of "Patria," produced for International and released by Pathe is an expert rider, swimmer, diver, diver, wrestler and dancer, equally at home in driving a motor car or a motor boat, and familiar with airplanes and all their ways.

she might break into a thousand pieces. Well, none of this delicate, fragile and ethereal personality has been lost in "Patria," and yet she does such hair-raising, breath-taking, soul gripping stunts in motion pictures as to fill the beholder with amazement that one so fragile, frail and altogether feminine could do them and survive.

"Employ a substitute for the dangerous stunts?" Not Mrs. Vernon Castle.

"Why, I couldn't bear to think of letting anybody do all those stunts for me," she said. "It would have broken my heart. I've loved every minute of all those thrilling things and I wouldn't have missed doing them for worlds."

She is thrown from the back of a galloping horse; she dives headlong from the deck of an ocean going steamer and swims to a motor boat into which she climbs unassisted; she is thrown from the upper deck of a sound steamer and in the water divests herself of her superfluous clothing; she climbs the mast of a burning ship with the flames licking the shrouds and falls with the mast into the water far below; she plunges over a waterfall into a whirlpool; she races her motor boat against a railroad car loaded with dynamite; she flies an aeroplane; she operates a machine gun and does many other strenuous things that make you gasp. But never for a moment does she lose her dainty, graceful, feminine charm that has made her famous on two continents. Above all she can act as her work in "Patria" amply proves.

"The Threads of Fate"

"Many of the strongest features in "Threads of Fate" the new Metro feature with Viola Dana as star, which will be seen at the Star Theatre on Tuesday were taken in the famous coal mining district around Wilkesbarre, Pa.

The scenes taken there depict the life of the coal miners and their struggle with capital. Before going to Wilkesbarre, Director Eugene Nowland, anticipated difficulty in obtaining permission to work around the mines. He went to one of the owners and told what he wanted.

"You say the pictures have Viola Dana as the star," asked the owner. "Why, she can have anything she wants here. She's our prime favorite. We'll blow up a mine for her if she wants it." When the company reached Wilkesbarre, Mrs. Dana was assigned to her duties. One of them was an old miner who told her there were fourteen children in his family and all of them, adored her and her screen work.

So enthusiastic were the Dana fans that the director had to be kept through with her work without being interrupted by a child with a basket of flowers for her or a man or woman who wanted to tell her how fine she was in her recent play, "The Gates of Eden."

But the Dana fans also proved of valuable assistance. They brought information as to the prettiest spot for scenic photography and clamored for the privilege of appearing as "supers" in "Threads of Fate."

This is a gripping story of the character growth of one of the beautiful flower sellers in the streets of Paris whose beauty loving soul has craved the dainties and luxuries of life while living in the most squalid slums of that great city.

It is little wonder that when the opportunity comes to gratify all her highest ambitions, to revel in what seems to her the fiery of a queen she sacrificed everything and thinks only of herself. As Caoudal's model she becomes one of the most talked of women of the times, and when later Daudet, the famous poet writes words to her both become still more famous and she is called the poet as she had Caoudal the sculptor, who had rescued her from her former miserable life.

From this point her life becomes a swift moving series of dramatic events and adventures, and it is not until one evening at a masked ball when she meets young Ben Gausin that she realizes that at last she has found the one man she really loves. He admits her deep hurt upon learning of her past life, leaves her and later marries a little girl from the provinces, leaving Sapho heart-broken.

Rather than return to her old life, however, Sapho becomes a Red Cross nurse, and it is as a nurse that she finishes her life, striving by good deeds and charity to redeem her former misdoings, which after all were those of ignorance rather than of real sin. The climax is a little different from those of the book, giving the production a happier ending than the original. This picture gives Pauline Frederick a splendid opportunity to display her marvelous scope, and her work in it is exceptionally fine.

Love's Lariat at Star Saturday

Moving pictures of the Wild West are numerous and it is an unfortunate fact that the public is beguiled into the belief that all of them are authentic and genuine in their various details. The scenery in a large number of instances shows vistas of the Jersey hills and dales and the "cow boys" are in many instances supernumeraries, from the equestrian academies of Greater New York.

But in presenting the Bluebird Photoplay, "Love's Lariat," at the Star Theatre on Saturday the producers back their assertion of genuineness in detail with certain definite statements that may readily be confirmed. The interior scenes are not purported to be distinctly New York views, but the exteriors were all made in California and the characters represent the leading cowboys in the various scenes are genuine "ropers" and riders of the far west.

Harry Carey is himself an experienced rider and the cowboy companions are here given by name: Bud Osborne, rider and steer bulldogger; Jor Rickson, champion Roman rider; Tommy Grimes, champion bucking horse rider; Pedro Leon, who can rope fifteen riders with his

Take the Children with You

Lariat; Neal Hart, former Wyoming sheriff and range rider, and Bill Gillis, Texas cowpuncher and all round rider of bucking horses and steers.

These typical westerners will demonstrate how their kind might be expected to act in real life, if dressed in evening clothes and introduced to society at a fashionable function; There is nothing burlesqued in their comedy, but their antics are decidedly productive of laughter without any descent to the ridiculous or farcical.

Besides these comedy elements in "Love's Lariat" there is an appeal to every emotion, climaxed in a "surprise" finish to an engaging love story. Mr. Carey will have Olive Fuller Golden as his leading lady and the original supporting actors will be William Quinn and Neal Hart.

"The Prison Without Walls"

Robert E. MacMartyr and Benah Dix, who prepared the script of "The Prison Without Walls" for the Lasky Company, which features Wallace Reid and Myrtle Stedman on the Paramount Program, supplied Mr. Reid with three good fights, in two of which he is supposed to get soundly beaten. It is contrary to Mr. Reid's principle to take a licking without protest and the two battles in which he is vanquished show that he did not submit without a struggle, as the three battling individuals who fought against him will also testify. Being a husky, two listed young person Mr. Reid sails into a film fight as strenuously as if it were a real one and expects his adversaries to do the same. At the Star Monday.

With Voda Sutton twisting air tight ball for Nashville, there was nothing to do but serve one over the plate, which he did, Bob connected and sent the ball sailing for the left field fence. At the crack of the bat Bay started for the flying sphere and before the ball had reached the fence, Bay not only ran on the fence and tagged the flying sphere taking the heart out of thousands of fans and causing the name of Harry Bay never to be forgotten by the Atlanta fans that had witnessed this game.

White of an Egg.
 The white of an egg is made up of little cells filled with albumen. By beating the white these cells are ruptured and oxygen from the air is inhaled, which gives the white and light appearance of beaten eggs. The white of a stale egg will not include as much oxygen, will not be as light and as easily digested as that of the fresh egg and is, of course, less valuable. The importance of beating the egg in cold, pure air is readily seen.—Exchange.

Buckeye Big Citrus Trees
Will Save Planters a Year

Buckeye Nurseries have in stock the best of these trees. These will fruit at least a year earlier than trees of ordinary size. For this reason it is economy to buy them, even at somewhat greater first cost.

Where trees must be replaced in groves, it is doubly important to plant the larger sizes, as the new trees may catch up with the older ones. If you wait until next season to replace your trees, you will lose a year's crop. Trees may be safely planted up to April 1st.

Leading Varieties, Healthy Stock
Order Now or You May Be Too Late

The Buckeye Nurseries are located in Citrus County, Florida, near the town of Citrus Springs. Our trees are grown in the best soil and under the most favorable conditions. We have a large stock of trees in all sizes and varieties. We will ship trees to any part of Florida and will guarantee their safe arrival.

Seminole brick roads will soon be finished.

Get in that special Easter Edition of the Sanford Herald.

Only a question of time before the people of Germany make Kaiser Bill get off his perch.

Orlando wants to bond for $20,000 to build a White Way and bond for another sum to purchase the public utilities. Great is Orlando and her citizens.

There is a hotel to build in Sanford this summer and it should be started as soon as possible. The people of the city can build it and they will be compelled to build it to take care of those who have been invited here.

The doubling over who joined the Board of Trade with fear and trembling are now courageously contending that a real bond for road and a paid secretary are just what this city had needed all along. The Board of Trade has certainly obtained results this winter.

We want Representative Woodruff to get us a good fish and game law on the statute books when he goes to Tallahassee next month and Mr. Woodruff knows what the county and the state needs in this respect. Our game and our fish need more protection if we would have any left in the years to come.

A CALL FOR LABOR

The government is advertising in all parts of the country for labor to engage in various kinds of work needed to prepare the nation for war. The labor is needed in munition plants, navy yards and elsewhere. Times are so prosperous in the country as a whole that there is great demand for labor aside from the government demand. It looks as if every one who wishes to work ought to be able to find employment.

The situation demands a closer investigation than ever of all applicants for charity. If they can work it ought not to be difficult for them to find employment. If they can work and will not they should be made to work. If they are not able to work they should be a charge on the communities in which they live. Provision is made for the indigent in every locality and they should accept it or not appeal for assistance. He who gives indiscriminately to men able to support themselves under present conditions is doing an unpatriotic as well as a foolish act. He is depriving the government of the assistance it needs.

If this call merely took away the surplus population capable of work but not finding it the result would be entirely beneficial but it is probable that it will take largely from the industrious classes of the south. If so we have no right to complain. No man should object to a loss by the community if it is necessitated by the interests of the country. The south has already lost a considerable amount of labor because of the war. Thousands have gone north to work in ammunition factories or other concerns having a larger demand for labor than the local market could supply or to take the places of men who had gone to work in these concerns. Some of the men who went north have returned but this new demand will start another stream northward and it will be more apt to be a stream of good workers already employed than of the unemployed seeking work.

Conditions are out of joint all over the world and we must make the best of things as they are, hoping that the return of peace and normal times will not be long delayed.—Times-Union.

GERMANY WILL FOLLOW RUSSIA

REVOLUTION AGAINST WARLORD WILL BE NEXT MOVE

New York, N. Y., March 22.—"I have not the slightest doubt that the revolution in Russia will lead to serious uprisings and momentous changes in Germany. The Kaiser must see the writing on the wall. Autocratic monarchies are doomed. That is the explanation for Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg's belated championing of political reforms. At all costs the Hohenzollerns must head off a German revolution."

This is the interpretation of Herman Bernstein, greatest authority in the United States on Russian affairs, of the recent happenings in Russia and Germany.

For 20 years Bernstein, editor of the American Hebrew and of the Day, has been fighting for the freedom of Russia. He was a friend of Count Tolstoi. He visited Russia in 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1911.

In 1912 he was barred from Russia because of his articles in the United States criticizing the Russian government's refusal to recognize the passports of American Russian Jews. Colonel Mayasovoff, who turned him back at the Russian German frontier, was hanged a few months ago for his part in a gigantic grafting scheme.

"I believe," continued Bernstein, "the men in German trenches led to believe they are fighting a defensive war will lead these uprisings in Germany. They will demand drastic changes and reforms in the junker government that has so wickedly misled them, and that has been responsible for the horrible catastrophe now facing the German people."

A well known writer told me when I was in Germany last year that he would not be at all surprised if a revolution were to break out in Germany at any time led by a man now fighting in the trenches.

"This war has brought many ills in its train. But it has brought one consolation—democratization in the ranks of armies everywhere. That is why we see Russian troops supporting Russian revolutionaries, the same troops that ten years ago helped crush the people."

"I believe the entire Russian revolution is due to the fact that the liberal element of the people believed a separate peace would win all immediate hopes for a democratic Russia. It knew Germany preferred a backward reactionary Russia to a neighbor, a Russia it would point to as more reactionary than itself." Bethmann-Hollweg and others of the Kaiser's ministers must have been unpleasantly surprised by the Russian revolution. They would have welcomed a revolution that would have split and weakened Russia and at the same time driven Russia into their hands.

"Real representatives of the Russian people have revolted, not along lines desired by the Germans, but along lines of real liberalism—and freedom."

"And another dream of the Kaiser has failed to come true."

London, England, March 21.—Ryuter's Amsterdam correspondent reports that it is rumored that serious riots have broken in Berlin in connection with the scarcity of food. A dispatch from Odessa, Holland, says "persistent rumors are current of great rioting in Berlin." The dispatch adds: "Frontier regiments are reported to have left for Berlin to maintain order."

WATERWAYS ARE NEEDED IN AMERICA

closed. But, if we are to judge the future by the past, nothing is more certain than that, whenever another River and Harbor bill shall be presented it will meet with violent opposition.

"Before the extra session convenes on April 16th, I urge all friends of waterways to call upon the senators and representatives to support appropriations for the Rivers and Harbors which are essential to our national prosperity and may be vital to our national safety."

HIGHWAYMEN HOLD UP ORLANDO CITY

prepared to do. It needs legislative action and the ways of getting this took-up much of the time.

It will ask the legislature to remedy this defect in the Florida laws and to make an appropriation as well.

The board will also ask the legislature to make provision for state aid. The state's trunk roads must be laid out so that they will jibe with those of other states. Sometimes it is found that counties are backward about road building, though, praise be, there are few of that type in Florida these days. Still, there do exist such counties and such road districts and the board would like power to stimulate such by saying to them, "We'll help you build that road if you'll do your share." There are some places where such power would aid wonderfully.

The board is planning two trunk roads, one east and west from Jacksonville to Palatka, the other north and south down the center of the south. The road is not definitely arranged, but it is probable it would pass through Live Oak, Gainesville and Ocala. Without the possibility of state aid and lacking the certainty of general federal aid, the board can take few definite steps, but it did tell the people of two West Florida counties that it would pay half the cost of a bridge across the Apalachicola river, hitherto an obstacle, if the two counties would do the rest. This would help make the old Spanish Trails road a reality.

Those are some of the problems the board wrestled with but they all dwindled to minor points beside the big one of what will the legislature do? If it will not give the board added power and appropriate the money to make it good, then there will be no federal aid for Florida.

Board of Trade

Don't knock or criticize the other fellow merely because you have a little something on him. Nine times out of ten he has something worse on you but is too much of a man to tell it.

What one dollar will do toward transportation:

It will carry 1 ton 4 miles over ordinary roads

It will carry 1 ton, 10 miles over improved roads

It will carry 1 ton 127 miles on a railroad

It will carry 1 ton 1250 miles on a waterway.

We congratulate the Tampa Board of Trade. It's re-election of Mr. W. C. Brorein as its president, indicates again the progressive spirit that has always been manifest. Mr. Brorein demonstrates "progressiveness" wherever he goes. He did it in Sanford. He practiced what he preached and the Sanford Board of Trade was the beneficiary. A few Brorein's schotters around and in a few years California would look like a naught with the rim rubbed off compared to Florida.

The Board of Trade yesterday enjoyed as a caller Mr. Geo. Ward Cook, president of the Meyrick Valley Improvement Association of Haverhill, Mass. Mr. Cook, without doubt is one of the best nationally posted men that we have met this season. He is a student graduate from the school of experience and is now enjoying the fruits of his labor. Yesterday was his first visit to Sanford, in twenty years and many times during his conversation he remarked at the wonderful growth of Sanford and added, "You have gone too far to quit, to stop now would be to leave a collective sin that would never be erased."

Among others, our new July membership cards will show the Birmingham, Ala. Chamber of Commerce on our reciprocal list. Sanford Board of Trade, through the "exchange" list feature will appear on the membership cards of over twenty five similar organizations and the names of these various Boards of Trade will appear on our new membership cards which means that the holder of a Sanford Board of Trade card has always an introduction to the best people and biggest business interests of twenty five other states. It shows your standing at home and it costs you nothing. Are you a member of your home Board of Trade?

Whether going or coming the tourists continue to call at the Board of Trade office. Our callers the past few days were:

J. R. Parker, Indianapolis, Geo. Ward Cook, Haverhill, Mass., L. D. Pierce, Providence, Joseph Lawton, Providence, W. F. Beayten, New Haven, R. L. Covington, Dallas, Tex., G. W. Gillman, Galveston, R. C. Dryer, Dayton, O., V. N. Stearns, Toledo, Mrs. G. W. Baker, Detroit, Miss. Mart L. Treen, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Fitts, Boston, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Groove, St. Louis, W. M. Christolm, Jersey City, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Temple, Grand Rapids and Stanley Wright, Oklahoma City.

Oh, yes, the fellow who does not and never did belong to the progressive organization of his city or county finds ample room for kicking. He will tell you that Sanford will never have a better hotel accommodations than there is no way to do it. Likely he judges from his vision of things and measures the price of effort as being greater than the realization of perfection. He would delight in the failure of plans made for the hotel and consider himself immensely repaid could he, at some future date, have the pleasure of saying "I told you so." This time however, he is doomed to disappointment. There will be a model hotel in Sanford and ready for the tourists the coming season. Our progressive wide awake men are at the helm and they have said "it must be" and it will.

Let's all help to make that Herald Easter Edition a success and thing of beauty. Advertise yourself your business. If you have nothing to advertise, write The Herald something and put yourself on record as advertising your county or your city. The Board of Trade will mail out at least three hundred copies to tourists all over the country and we want them to know just how progressive and up-to-date we are.

If B. P. O. E. stands for Best People On Earth, then according to the tourists we belong to the order. Sanford's bunch should have the laurels as they belong to the A1 class.

Lady: (In Yowell-Speer's) What are the prices of those skirts?
Arthur Yowell: Next table, madam, these are cape-collars.

Twenty-seven applications in yesterday's mail for Sanford and Seminole county literature. All orders promptly filled.

It's the progressive, public spirited man that is a members of a Board of Trade. You pay your dues and the money is used to advertise your city and your county. You want the stranger to be told of what you have, you want him to come back and bring others with him. There is only one way to reach the people and see them when they come and that is through a Board of Trade. The tourists know this, and one of the first things they do is to look up the Board of Trade. If they invest though even in a small way, knowing the Board of Trade is impartial they ask for your reference and so far the impression that has been created for you has been good. While you are busy with your own affairs the Board of Trade is looking after the community interest and that is yours.

Are you a member and have you paid your dues?

Germans will obtain economic advantage on the front and a gain of time by this move. The British, however, must again begin the preparation of their offensive. Their heavy artillery must be moved ahead with enormous pains. Roads and bridges must be reconstructed, often under hostile fire. Ammunition transports may move only in a very slow fashion. The condition of the evacuated territory makes each advance movement difficult, as it does the lodging and provisioning of the troops and observation work."

DEFENSE

In the trend which National affairs have taken, defense has become the watchword of our country. Used in any sense, the word implies protection against loss.

An account in the First National Bank provides a strong defense for the individual. It affords the best financial protection available in the face of the unexpected.

This Institution welcomes Savings Accounts.

Charming Luncheon In honor of Mrs. Edna Lewis, fifth vice president of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, the board of managers of the Woman's Club of Sanford gave a charming luncheon at Hotel Carnes on Tuesday.

The table was prettily adorned with red roses, the club flower and the place cards were lovely in the design and variety of spring flowers. A course luncheon was served at twenty thirty. Besides the guest of honor those at luncheon were the present officers and the new members of the club...

Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Loeks left on Wednesday for Dunedin. Mrs. J. G. McIvorn of Miami is expected today to visit her brother, Mr. Oscar Spear.

Mrs. E. B. Graddock of Jacksonville is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Tolar.

Mrs. Edna Lewis was the guest of Mrs. E. M. Galloway on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnes left the city on Wednesday. Mrs. Barnes goes to Pensacola for a visit to the home folks before joining Mr. Barnes in Beaufort, S. C.

We cordially invite the public to the following services next Sunday, 9:45 a. m. Sunday school. 11 a. m. Morning worship. Sermon subject, "The Searcher of Hearts."

7:30 p. m. Evening worship, Sermon subject, "Ashamed of Jesus."

Catholic Church Fourth Sunday in Lent: Passion Sunday: Low Mass at 7 a. m. and 10 a. m. Sermons from the Gospel. Choir will sing Kyrie, Sanctus and Agnus Dei. Classes for Christian Doctrine at 9:15. Benediction after last Mass.

Wager Walker Roy E. Chisholm of Detroit, representing Detroit Free Press was in the city yesterday. He is traveling from Detroit to Miami and other points on a wager. He must work his way and cannot pay his fare on the train. He will go to Tampa and from there to New York and thence to Detroit.

WEST GENEVA AVENUE We are having some awfully dry weather now. If we could only have one good rain how thankful we would be.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tyner and family were pleasant callers at Mrs. Jack Vaughn's on Sunday afternoon, all having a good time.

Mrs. Will Robinson and family have moved to Miami for the summer. Guess they will come back in the winter.

Mrs. Jack Vaughn certainly has a fine garden coming on now, if only the cold will stay away. There was a big frost Tuesday morning, but nothing was hurt to amount to anything.

The orange trees don't seem to be putting out much bloom since the cold killed them back. We think oranges will be scarce this year. May be they will bring a better price next winter.

In Memory of Mrs. Allen Boyd Another one has gone to rest. The faithful wife, the mother dear, Whose presence once did our home bless.

Has left us sad and lonely here Sleep on, dear mother, sleep, Your family mourn their loss, Around your silent grave we weep As we try to bear the heavy cross.

Your voice that was always soft and sweet, As you gentle guidance gave, Is now hushed in the silent grave, Your spirit returned to him who gave.

Oh, dear mother, how we miss you; There is none to take your place, But we know if we are faithful, We shall some day meet you face to face.

So farewell, dear mother, Farewell, precious one, We will submit to the divine One, And say, "Thy will be done", Trusting to Him who will our treasure keep.

Sleep on, dear mother, sleep —By Lena Lee

Funeral of Mrs. A. A. Boyd The funeral of Mrs. A. A. Boyd, who died on Tuesday morning, was conducted on Wednesday afternoon at the home. Rev. George Hyman officiating.

The deceased leaves a husband and five small children. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Egan of Zephyrhills, who attend the funeral.

The family want to express their thanks for kindness shown them in this sad hour.

Humphreys—Stenstrom At the Baptist parsonage, Dr. Hyman performing the ceremony, on March 15th, W. T. Humphreys and Mrs. Stenstrom were united in marriage.

The wedding ceremony was well timed in this section, where they have resided the greater part of their lives and the best wishes of their many friends go with them.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lord and resided near Lord's Station for many years and has a large circle of friends in the county and in this city.

The groom is one of the largest cattle owners in Seminole county and is well and favorably known in this part of the state where he has resided for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphreys will reside south of Sanford on the Sanford-Orlando road.

German Sailors Break Out Philadelphia, March 22 Notwithstanding the navy department's announcement that all the sailors of the German auxiliary cruisers interned at the Philadelphia navy yard who made a dash for liberty had been accounted for, the local police tonight were working on the theory that at least two of the Germans escaped.

Search of the waters around the yard for the bodies of Lieut. Chorgh and Hermon Schroder, machinist's mate, reported to have been drowned in the attempt to swim 300 yards to the mainland was discontinued late today.

Capt. Tate of the detective bureau detailed a squad of men to watch railroad terminals and all other exits from the city and "files" containing descriptions of Chorgh and Schroder were sent broadcast.

Electricians today strung wires over the meadows in the vicinity of the navy yard and erected high powered arc lights.

Mayor Smith announced that the interned crews, numbering about 750 men would be transferred to Forts Ord and MePherson early today. His announcement was made after communication with navy department officials at Washington.

If the Germans and Austrians will now follow the example set them by the Russian people, the war in Europe, destructive and bloody as it has been, will be worth its terrible cost. Kindly governments are a menace to civilization and should not be permitted longer to endure. In order to graft the whims and ambition of their rulers, the peace of the world will always be in jeopardy. They have continued quite long enough, and should be driven from power. The abdication of the Kaiser should follow quickly upon the heels of the czar.

The funniest thing is the mishap of a Deland gentleman whose wife pays the store bill. He has been in the habit of having his cigars charged as potatoes and the other day his wife took her pencil and began to reckon. She finally found that they had eaten more than ten car loads of potatoes and she didn't believe the account was right. The grocer, and the smoker are now up between the upper and the nether millstones, and it is hard to tell who will be pulverized the finest at the close.—Volusia County Record.

Tom Thumb Wedding

The very prettiest wedding that has taken place in Sanford in many years was that of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thumb at the Baptist Temple on Tuesday evening, when seventy-five of Sanford's attractive little people participated in the play wedding of tiny Evelyn Peabody and Master Wallace Phillips, both three years old.

with pink and having the regulation number of reef tandles. Seven streamers of pink and white reached to the edges of the table from the chandelier and a big basket tied with green maline, filled with pink flowers hung just above the table. Pink crocheted baskets ornamented with green maline bows filled with nuts and candies were at the places. The season was appropriately suggested by place cards in Easter designs.

Pinning the "ears on a rabbit" and the "tail of the donkey" were games much enjoyed by the little folks. In the former the first prize—a game—was won by Margaret Zachary and the booby by Margaret Berner. In the bunny contest the first prize was won by Rebecca Stevens and the booby by Elizabeth Whitner. While the children were grouped about the table a picture was taken of them. The attractive little hostess was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Elizabeth Rines, the maid of honor and Mary Harris Ezell, Helen Brinson and Bertie Murrell, the bridesmaids carried bouquets too. Katharine Meisch was the dainty little ring bearer and Fred Williams, Jr. was the best man. John Hyman, the father, Warner Seagran, the minister, Boyce Ezell and Snookie Wilson, the groomsmen, were all important characters. The ushers were Ed Dossy and Eldridge Duncan and Robt. Murrell, the rejected suitor was there also.

Clinton Rines and Thelma Godbee cleverly represented, the grandparents of the bride and rendered very sweetly "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" and "I Cannot Sing the Old Songs." Other songs in the sweet childish voices were "O Promise Me," Dorothy Rine's "I Love You Truly," Maudie Johnson's "When I Dream of You," Evelyn Biggers' "Silver Threads Among the Gold," Kermith Hurley's "I'd Love to Live in Loveland," Virgie Horne Hyman and Calvin McGagahin and a bright catchy little song of three old maids: "The Old Maids' Consolation" by Irene McGagahin, Ruby Rivers and Blanche Wray. Charming little flower girls were Ruth Clare Newton and Virginia Duncan. There were sixty guests who upon their arrival were announced as a prominent citizen or lady of Sanford which was an amusing feature of the entertainment. A charming reception was held after the wedding when the little bride and her attendants served ice cream and cake. Quantities of phlox and, palmettos adorned the church. The children were trained by Mrs. Pettie and Mrs. A. M. Phillips was the chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Cecilion Music Club

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Cecilion Music Club will be held at Mrs. Munson's studio Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Happy Walton and Margaret Neal, two of the younger pupils of Miss Gretchen Schultz will feature the special numbers on the program.

Easter Party

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mahoney celebrated in charming fashion the seventh birthday of their little daughter, Luella, on Wednesday afternoon with an attractive Easter party. The pretty rooms which were thrown ensuite were beautifully decorated with a profusion of spring flowers and asparagus fern. Pink and white crepe paper completed the pleasing effect. In the dining room where refreshments were served, the table was centered by the lovely white birthday cake ornamented

One may bring four pennies or a real bit of silver, a dime or a quarter, or maybe a whole dollar if one feels really generous. There is going to be a surprise too and this is going to be real also. Every member of the club will rejoice in it and will certainly want to know it but the only way to find out will be to attend that meeting on April fourth.

Personal Mention

Mrs. J. H. Cowan is expected home today from a visit to her mother, Mrs. J. Petersen, at Emporia.

Miss Olga Schultz and brother Mr. Carl Schultz motored over to DeLand on Wednesday for a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Haynes and little family and Mr. C. A. Haynes motored to Eustis on Sunday.

Miss Ruth Mettinger left on Saturday for Jacksonville enroute to Philadelphia where she will spend the summer. She was accompanied to Jacksonville by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Morgan who will be away for a week.

Mrs. Geo. Shipp left today for a week end visit with her sister, Mrs. Creary in Tampa.

Ralph Reumblatt is being cordially greeted by old friends. He is home on furlough from Jacksonville where he is stationed with the Florida Naval Reserves.

At the meeting of the Literature Department of the Woman's Club last Wednesday Mrs. Geo. H. Fernald will give an informal talk on her trip to Japan. The members of the department and their friends are looking forward with much interest to this event.

Samsula - Geiger

Married in DeLand, Fla., March 23, 1917, Miss Lydia Geiger of Geneva, N. Y., to Mr. Albert G. Samsula of Indian Springs, formerly of Pittsburg, Pa.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Geiger of Geneva, a lovely young lady, with a wide circle of friends who will learn with interest of her marriage and wish her every happiness. Mr. Samsula is a popular young business man with a host of friends who extend congratulations and best wishes. Following the ceremony the happy couple returned to Indian Springs where they are pleasantly located and at home to their many friends

New England Home Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith of Elmira, N. Y., Mrs. Allison and Dr. S. A. Bass and wife of Wichita, Kansas are still guests of the New England Home.

Not Hurt by Use

During his vacation a San Francisco lawyer met an old friend in the village, and their conversation drifted to a discussion of the natives. A young farmer came under his view. "He's a fine-looking young fellow," said the lawyer. "Yes," assented his friend dubiously. "Well, anyway, he has a mighty good head." "It ought to be good," was the reply. "That man's head is brand-new—he's never used it any."

It's a Good Idea

If you ever feel that life isn't worth living and that friends are untrue, just turn your attention to your liver and see whether by tuning it up according to the directions Mrs. Stines gives today you can't put a rosy line on life.
