Seminole Economic Growth Continues; Unemployment Down

Despite increasing reports of an impending recession, the finance, insurance and real estate sector where employment Central Florida area maintains signs of economic growth. The Florida Department of Labor reports that the long-term unemployment trend in Orange, Seminole and Osceola counties has been steadily downward.

Figures released this week from the department indicate that from May 1978 to May 1979, the number of unemployed workers in the three-county area declined by 1,000, from 19,300 the previous year to 18.300 this year. In addition, figures show that the employed civilian labor force trend of unemployment is concerned." The department reports that from May 1978 to May 1979, retail trade employment was boosted by 3,000 new jobs in eating and drinking places. The highest gain, figures showed, came in the increased 12.6 percent over May of 1978. The department reports 2,000 new jobs in the three-county area have been created in finance. real estate and insurance fields.

The number of manufacturing jobs increased by 3,500 over 1978. an 11.3 percent increase, according to the department. In those manufacturing jobs, the average weekly earnings actually dropped by about $3. The department reports an average worker took home $216.94 in April of 1978 compared to a weekly earnings of $213.98 in April of this year. A reason cited for the decline was the shorter work week. Statistics provided to the department by employers indicate that the average worker spent 41.4 hours a week on his job last year as compared to an average of 39.7 hours of work per week this year. Department labor analysts state that figures from June and July have not been calculated yet, but those months are usually high employment months. There is expected to be a slight increase in unemployment by the end of the summer season, according to the analysts.

One negative indicator comes from the federal bankruptcy court, middle Florida division. Court records there reveal that the number of persons filing for bankruptcy during the first seven months of 1979 increased slightly over the same period of 1978. The bankruptcy court reports 497 filings through July of this year as compared to 482 filings last year. The court serves Orange Osceola, Brevard, Volusia and Seminole counties. - GEOF FREY POUNDS.

Frees 268 Somozans

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI) - Nicaragua's new provisional government freed 268 former soldiers of ousted dictator Anastasio Somoza's national guard Sunday, the first act of mass clemency since the government assumed power nearly a month ago.

The soldiers had been held as prisoners in the Morelo Jail in Tipitapa, 12 miles north of the captal. "We will give liberty to thousands more," Minister of the Interior Commander Tomas Borge told the soldiers upon their release. "We trust that you will return to your homes and begin to work."

"You have two choices," Borge said, "to go back to being Somoza followers and take up arms against the people, or to serve the country and work the land."

Doomsday Predictions On Oil Slick Just Talk

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (UPI) - Scientists, politicians and reporters drawn to the Texas coast by doomsday predictions are still waiting for a black tide to ay waste to an ecological wonderland. But so far, it is just Early last week, tar balls from a blown-out offshore oil well began washing up on Texas beaches, forcing the Coast Guard to pull floating barriers across the entrances of the Laguna Madre - a 113-mile-long unique wildlife waterway between South Padre Island and the mainland. Environmentalists fear that if floating pancakes of crude reach fragile spawning areas, the preserve could be destroyed for years. So far, rare Ridley turtles that hatched successfully have been airlifted away from the oil.

The Coast Guard said Sunday, however, despite its efforts light particles of oil suspended about 4 feet below the suface had drifted past the booms and into the waterway.

Cloak-And-Dagger Data

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A new book describing cloakand-dagger intrigues in the Middle East says there are strong indications the Soviet Union was responsible for the mysterious 1968 disappearance of an Israeli submarine with 64 people aboard.

If so, it says, the Israelis got revenge two years later when eight of their U.S.-supplied Phantom jets shot down five Russian MiG-21s in a dogfight over the Suez Canal. The Israeli victory was due to an intimate knowledge of the MiG-21 gained through study and flights in planes flown to them by defecting pilots, the book said.

The English-language edition of "The Untold History of Israel" by Jacques Derogy and Hesi Carmel is permeated by the intrigue behind the hits and misses of Intelligence agencies in Middle East: the American CIA, Soviet KGV, Israeli Massad, Egyptian and French Intelligence, Britain's MI-6 and others.

Stalinism Lives In East Germany

We doubt if many steins of beer were raised in East Germany to toast the fourth anniversary of the signing of the so-called Helsinki Accords. It was on Aug. 1, 1975, that leaders of 35 nations from East and West met in the Finnish capital to issue a declaration pledging, among other things, great respect for human rights, more freedom to travel and the free exchange of information.

For the East Germans, the road from Helsinki has been downhill all the way. A sort of "spring" had occurred in 1973-74, when Bonn and East Berlin exchanged diplomatic recognition and the West Germans were granted more privileges to visit East Germany.

But it was a short spring. The Berlin Wall remains as a reminder that East Germans - except for a privileged few - are still locked in. And their Communist government is now trying harder than before Helsinki to fend off Western influences, especially the notion of intellectual freedom.

The East Berlin government was among those pledging at Helsinki to "facilitate the freer and wider dissemination of information of all kinds, to encourage cooperation in the field of information and the exchange of information with other countries, and to improve the conditions under which journalists from one participating state exercise their profession in another participating state."

Last April that same government put foreign journalists on notice that they must obtain official permission to interview any of East Germany's 17 million inhabitants. They cannot travel outside East Berlin without stating the purpose of their trip and identifying the individuals with whom they are to meet. But this was only a prelude to a fierce crackdown on the East Germans themselves.

Effective, ironically, Aug. 1, on the anniversary of Helsinki, an East German can go to prison for up to 12 years for making statements to foreigners that might reflect adversely on the government. The same goes for anyone who writes of the West. Anyone who takes part in an anti-government demonstration can go to jail for two years. For organizing such a protest, the term is eight years. "This is a revival of Stalinism." the East German novelist Stefan Heym told a reporter, before such a remark became a criminal offense. He was right in more ways than one. Josef Stalin not only saw to it that dissidents in the Soviet Union promptly disappeared, but he had only contempt for documents like the Helsinki agreements.

The Soviet constitution announced by the Bolsheviks after the revolution of 1917 promised former subjects of the czar that they would henceforth enjoy "freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of assembly and meetings, and freedom of street parades and demonstrations."

When a foreign visitor to Moscow many years later pointed out that these promises had never been fulfilled, Stalin shrugged the matter off. "After all," he said, "those are only words on

The good news is that the Health, Education and Welfare Department has simplified the form you have to fill out to get federal money to go to college.

The bad news is that the new form won't be available before mid-December.

Until then you'll have to struggle with old forms to get a chunk of the $2.44 billion HEW has for Basic Education Opportunity Grants - Bogs, r short.

Now is the time to get those grants, which range from $200 to $1,800 per academic year and can be used to help pay the cost of attending more than 5,000 colleges and universities across the country.

In the 1950s and 1960s, college tuition was low enough so that many families sending youngsters to college paid the bills out of their own pockets.

But today, with college costs ranging upward BUSINESS WORLD to more than $8,000 a year, it's no longer just tudents from poor families who need help Students from middle-income - and uppermiddle income - families must have financial

Was it the friendly ghost whom I had heard about beckoning me? Whatever, it was a good feeling. But before heading out for work that morning, and in the throes of some backyard contracting, 1 called a pest control company (no, not to exterminate the friendly ghost) to pre-spray an area under construction - for the Seminole County building code.

"The inspector will be here this morning," I told the office clerk when I telephoned, "and I would appreciate it if someone could come out at the earliest possible convenience."

She made no promises. But these days, many services are beyond poor - they're lousv. It seemed like just a few seconds later that I heard the truck outside- and the invoice was taped to the door as I requested.

What a pleasant surprise.

Things were going well this morning. I was thinking how competent the company was when I glanced up from my desk to look straight into the eyes of the Seminole Countain who has the distinction of being labeled "Old Man River-" Jim Crowe. Jim's fist was in a ball (no, I didn't dodge as if he planned to let me have it). He explained that he had a "round tuit" for me. I graciously accepted the small round blue bead he offered and waited.

Jim can be full of surprises. He just stood there grinning while I was calmly thinking that he was off his rocker this time. Then he explained that if anyone promised favors when he could get "around to it - "just hand

It's Off To Houston For Victorious Pony All-Stars

The Seminole Pony League all-star squad fought back from the brink of elimination to win three consecutive contests and a trip to Pasadena. Texas for the Southwestern Championships.

The team, comprised of players 13 and 14 years old, leaves for Texas Tuesday morning and a win there would catapult them into the Pony League World Series at Davenport, Iowa.

Delbert Wilks, vice president of the league, said this is the furthest a Seminole team has advanced in league competition since the league's inception in 1974. The Seminole squad were hosts of the regional doubleelimination tournament they won.

After being rained out two days last week, Seminole meet the team from Vestavia, Ala. on Saturday morning in Winter Park. Both teams had one loss each Seminole having lost to the Alabama squad in their opening contest. But, Seminole avenged the loss with a 3-2 win in a well-

Citing the drastic revision of the reserve clause as the primary reason, the Montreal Expos' manager said it's virtually im-possible for any manager to control a player's conduct any longer.

Like everyone else, Williams was subjected to discipline when he first broke in as a player with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1961 and generally speaking, he feels the erosion of player discipline takes something away from the game.

"I think discipline is important," he said. "If you don't learn it when you're young, you won't accept it later. receiver in Steve Largent: two big, tough running backs in Sherman Smith, David Sims. Kids like Tom Lynch, Steve August lead charge up front. What's needed mostly is tight end; rookie Mark Bell offers hope. Patera would also welcome backup running strength. Biggest battle is at right guard between incumbent Bob Newton, returning Rod Coder. Place-kicking threat is nicely handled by Efren. Herrera. Rating: B Patera's big search is for pass rush. That's why Seahawks drafted Manu Tulasosopo No. 1. All his experience is at nose guard, but he has quickness to give inside tackle rush. Steve Niehaus might finally pan out, too. Got big lift at ends from retreads Ernie Price (ex-Detroit), Bill Gregory (ex-Dallas). Linebacking is tough: Terry Beeson in middle, Keith Butter and Sammy Green on outside. Draft depth coming from Joe Norman, Michael Jackson. Secondary, led by Cornell Webster and Dave Brown at corners, is solid and deep — with such as Keith Simpson. Punting, however, is wide open. "Whichever team did a little extra tonight was going to win and Detroit did a little extra. That doesn't concern me as far as Wednesday's game goes. The character of our team is to do what it has to do."

Tampa Bay was playing without four starters who will fly to Detroit in time for the playoff opener. Even Detroit coach Ken Furphy wasn't getting overly excited about his team's first win in two seasons over the Rowdies. "There's still the question of whether we can contain their high scoring attack," Furphy said. "We'll have to make sure it's blunted if we're to win again. "You also can't compare a game here with playing on their home field," Furphy said. "It's a grass field with 35,000 screaming fans in the stands." Tampa Bay, which hosts the second game of the playoffs on Sunday afternoon, beat Detroit 5-2 on its home field in an earlier meeting. That was the only win in the last six matches for the Rowdies, who won the American about dethroning Chinaglia but promised even better things in the future. Ford Sees Grandchild By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Former President Gerald R. Ford finally has gotten around to seeing his granddaughter. Ford joined his wife Betty in Pittsburgh during the weekend to visit son Michael - who is on assignment in Pittsburgh while studying for the Presbyterian ministry - daughter-in-law Gayle, and only grandchild Sarah

It was the former President's first glimpse of Sarah, born April 22. Sarah's grandfather took a few minutes to talk politics.

He said he believes any of the current major Republican presidential candidates could defeat President Carter next year, adding the Carter presidency is "very vulnerable." Asked whether he'd like to be the nation's chief executive again, Ford said, "I haven't given it that much thought.

Wallpapering Within Your Powers

NEW YORK (NEA) -Venetian canal scenes, that's what this room needs, so you're going to put up wallpaper.

A snap, say industry experts. First multiply the width of each wall by the eight. Then divide by 30. What you come up with is how many rolls of wall covering you need.

Some covering is prepasted, some isn't, but in both cases read the directions. And keep in mind before buying that dry stripable paper - prepasted or not - can be removed just by pulling in case the gondolas start to get on your nerves.

Next, cover the floor and prepare the walls with some kind words and a good going over. If there's flaking paint or bits of old paper on it, sand the wall down. Then use a primer or wallsize, which is a powder or liquid that "seals" the wall and makes it irresistable to covering. Now find the most ininspicuous corner in the room to start from. Where the long wall communicates with the short wall this side of the closet is ood. By the time you aper around the room, your gondolas will stop matching there but who'll measuring. For one thing, each sheet should be 3 inches longer than the wall for spillover at the ceiling and the baseboard. Now, assume your wall covering is 27 inches wide. Measure 26 inches onto the long wall from the corner and mark it with a pencil. That's where you'll drop a plumb line. You want the extra inch of paper to spill into the corner onto the short

The plumb line ritual goes as follows: Call in Harry. Take a piece of string as long as the wall is high, put a weight on one end, chalk the string, climb the ladder at the pencil mark, hold the string and let the weight drop straight down from the ceiling along the wall. When the string stops jiggling, tell Harry to pull it taut and snap it. The chalk will leave a straight line against the wall.

That line is where you align your first sheet of covering, so paste that area if you must or take your sheet of wet wall covering and climb up the ladder again. You're going to work from top to bottom Align the sheet along the plumb line (on your left if you're righthanded) and pat it onto the wall down to the floor. Not the whole sheet, just that margin. Then, take your smoothing brush and again, working from top to bottom, smooth

'Police Brutality' Cited U.S. Vs. Philadelphia

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The U.S. Justice Department has decided to file a police brutality suit against Philadelphia, sources

2B-Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl.

The unprecedented civil suit was expected to charge Philadelphia's police department with systematically condoning brutality and other civil rights abuses by not punishing offending officers, sources said Sunday night.

Justice Department spokesman Terrance Adamson confirmed that a request for an injunction will be filed in U.S. District Court in Philadelphia, culminating eight months of study. "Papers will be filed in Philadelphia tomorrow morning,"

Adamson told UPI. Many observers consider the police brutality problem in Philadelphia the worst of any city in the country. Sources said Attorney General Griffin Bell personally approved the lawsuit that will attempt to force changes in the practices and procedures of Philadephia's police department and other agen-In Philadelphia, Deputy Mayor Tony Zecca quoted Mayor

Frank Rizzo as saying of the suit, "We welcome it."

Zecca declined comment for himself, other than to call the suit "ludicrous." Rizzo was not available for direct comment. A number of violent incidents last summer, including shootings of individuals by police officers, provoked Bell's personal interest in the problem. Bell met with citizens' groups from Philadelphia and later with
